Influenza Is Preventable

AUSTIN-Do these symptoms sound familiar? Sore throat, coughing, fever, weakness, loss of appetite, aching of the head, arms and legs.

They describe influenza, a contagious respiratory disease which, combined with pneumonia, ranks as the sixth leading cause of death in the United States. In Texas last year, more than 12,000 people died from flu and pneumonia. But, according to the American Lung Association of Texas--the Christmas Seal People--influenza is a serious but preventable disease.

With flu season arriving in late fall and persisting throughout the winter months, the American Lung Association of Texas recommends that high risk individuals consult their physician or local health department about getting immunized preferably between October 15 through November 15. This allows sufficient time for antibodies in the body to build up before the peak of the winter flu

"Anyone can get the flu," said Gary Harris, M.D., chairman of the American Lung Association of Texas. "This is especially true during an epidemic year when the disease is widespread throughout the com-

of the flu are the following groups: adults and children with chronic disorders of the heart and lungs, including children with asthma; residents of nursing homes or other chronic-care facilities; and otherwise healthy people who are 65 or older. Physicians, nurses, and other personnel who have contact with high risk patients, and providers of home care to high risk persons such as visiting nurses, as well as all household members, including children also need to be vaccinated because they can transmit influenza to high risk

Other groups who should consider immunization are: the general population--anyone who wishes to reduce the chance of acquiring influenza infection; persons infected with HIV, and foreign travelers.

To be protected, the American Lung Association of Texas and the Texas Department of Health recommend that high risk individuals get their flu shot now. "Influenza kills each year, despite the fact that it is a preventable disease," said Harris.

"With the availability of effective vaccines, the number of deaths caused by the flu can be substantially decreased." Vaccinations may be obtained by calling your physician or ocal health department.

For further information about influenza, call the American Lung Association of Texas at 1-800-252-

The American Lung Association of Texas flu and pneumonia prevention campaign is just one of many activites supported by donations to Christmas Seals.

IMPORTANT FLU FACTS:

1. Flu or influenza is a major illness with potential life-threatening complications. More than 12,000 Texans died from flu and pneumonia in 1989-90. Each year, many older persons, or persons with major illnesses, simply do not recover from influenza

2. Flu is highly contagious. In 1990, 314,372 cases of flu were reported in Texas. What's more, you are most contagious (most likely to give it to others) before you even know you are

3. The flu shot does not make your other medicines stop working nor does it make your current illnesses

4. Flu vaccine is safe and effective. The vaccine does not include active flu viruses, so it cannot cause

5. The Texas Department of Health, the American Lung Association of Texas and most doctors strongly recommend that you get a flu shot if you are 65 years or older, or if you have chronic lung disease. Flu shots will be given at the Kinney County Health Fair, Satur-

Sheriff's Corner

By Sheriff Norman H. Hooten

Thirteen years ago (July 3, 1978) the skeletal remains of a white male were discovered in Kinney County approx. 5 miles west of Brackettville off Highway 90. Evidence recovered at the scene by the primary investigators at that time, Kinney County Sheriff Johnny Sheedy and Del Rio based Texas Ranger Tol Dawson, indicated that the remains were those of an unidentified murder victim. A state and nation wide law enforcement bullentin was released in an attempt to obtain information to the perpetrator. The original bulletin appeared as follows:

ITEM # 11 - INDEN-TIFICATION DESIRED:

On July 3, 1978, the body of an unidentified white male was found five miles west of Brackettville, Texas on U.S. 90. The victim has been dead from one to three months, however, a San Antonio Light newspaper with blood on it was found near the body and was dated June 20, 1978. The victim died from a .38 or .357 gunshot wound in the back of the head. He is described as 30 to 40 years old, 5'5", 130 pounds, reddish blond hair, has red devil tattooed on upper right arm, full dentures which appear to be rather expensive, possibly two years old and made by an experienced person. The Victim's left leg had been broken at one time above the knee and he could have walked with a limp. He was wearing Levis, size 32x27 and jockey shorts. Any information notify Sheriff, Brackettville, Texas; Texas Rangers, Del

Several leads investigated by Sheriff Sheedy and Ranger Dawson in the years following the grisly discovery and prior to their retirement led no where and upon their retirement they passed the case investigation on to myself as Sheriff of Kinney County and Texas Ranger Johnny Allen of Del Rio, Texas who replaced Tol Dawson. Ranger Allen and I had discussed this case on occasion and had reluctantly decided that it would most likely be one of those cases that would remain unsolved. We came to this conclusion due to the lack of evidence turned up over the years and the growing length of time since the murder occured.

On September 5, 1991 the following bulletin appeared in a law enforcement publication.

ITEM # 1 - CALIFORNIA POSSIBLE HOMOCIDE:

The picture shown (photo was above) is of a possible homocide victim whose body has not been recovered. The victim is identified as JAMES DEWITT ROBINSON. Sometimes in 1977 or 1978, Robinson was traveling with James Curry and a female witness from the Corcoran, California area enroute to Dallas, Texas. In southwest Texas, approximately 300 miles southwest of Dallas, Curry shot and killed Robinson. The witness, fearing for her life, assisted Curry in moving the body and removing clothing and identification. Curry then tossed the body into a vertical shaft, possibly a well or mine shaft. Curry and the witness then flew back to California-Curry was later charged with three homocides in the San Jose/Santa Clara, California area. Curry committed sucide by hanging while in custody. At this time the body of Robinson has not been recovered. His body can be identifed by metal pins and/or plates located in his left leg at and below the knee from a 1975 motorcycle accident. It is most likely that the body is located in an old mine or well shaft off I-20 in the Midland/Odessa area, possibly in Martin, Howard or one of the other surrounding counties. Any information notify Sgt. D.W. Frost, Police Department, Corcoran, California.

I wish I had the space to tell you the complete story involved in this case as it is a classic murder mystery and as the old saying goes, "truth is stranger than fiction". But, due to limited time and space I can only brief you on the details of the solving of this old murder case.

During July, 1991 the Fresno, California Police Department was conducting an investigation into the murders of several Fresno area prostitutes and during an interview of one prostitute by a homocide detective in that city the prostitute stated that she had knowledge of another prostitute in custody who claimed to have witnessed a homocide in Texas in the late 70's. She said the victim had been from the Corcoran, California area, was a locksmith, and went by the name of Jim. The Fresno detective immediately called Concoran investigators and relayed the information to them, suggesting they check out missing persons reports for that time. Sure enough, investigation by the Corcoran P.D. determined that there had indeed been a locksmith in Corcoran in the late 70's by the name of Jim Robinson. A business license had been issued to him in the name of J & M Locksmithing. Further investigation determined that Robinson had left the area and his business suddenly in 1978 after a violet argument with his girlfriend and a subsequent separation of the two. He had not been seen or heard from since and a check on his Social Security records indicated no activity since 1978. In a very strange twist in the investigation, Corcoran detectives talked to a Waukena. California Post Master by the name of Ana Curry in an attempt to determine a forwarding address for Robinson. During the interview with Ms. Curry she stated that her son, James Curry, and Robinson had been very close friends and that after Robinson left the area for Texas in 1978 he even called her to ask that she tell her son James to pick up his (Robinson's) car in Dallas where it had been recovered as stolen vehicle. Ms. Curry related that Robinson told her that her son could sell the car as he (Robinson) was not going to need it. James Curry evidently flew to Dallas and drove the car back to California and sold it. It is now believed that the caller was Curry, disguising his voice.

Ms. Curry related to investigators that her son, James Curry, was now deceased after hanging himself while in custody after committing three homocides in San Jose and Santa Clara, California. This was verified by investigators. While this investigation was being conducted by Corcoran detectives, a related investigation was being conducted by Fresno investigators with an interview with the prostitute who had allegedly witnessed the murder of Robinson. The witness was a 38 year old black female with a long police record involving prostitution, drugs, and other crimes. She had recently received a one year jail sentence and had "found the Lord" and wanted to cleanse her soul of the guilt associated with her heretofore undisclosed knowledge of the mur-

She then stated that Curry stuck his head inwith no sleep for days. She said problems with his driving and that he and Curry had argued several Curry wanted her to come across the fence and help him hide the body in times over Robinson's refusal to

to some length to describe her further travels with Curry and the following years of fear that he would come back to silence her.

The California investigators completed their work and then placed the bulletin in the law enforcement publication and contacted the Martin County, Texas Sheriff's Department. Further investigation by a Martin County deputy sheriff led to his discovery of the old 1978 bullentin put out after the finding of the body and that deputy then contacted yours truly and put me in touch with the California authorities. We (myself, Texas Ranger Johnny Allen, and the California authorities) are now exchanging information and evidence and have come to an agreed conclusion that from all the evidence collected and the statement of the eyewitness that the remains located in Kinney County in 1978 were indeed those of James Dewitt Robinson thereby clearing up a Missing Persons report in Corcoran, California and a suspected homocide in Kinney County. Another example of the accomplishments that can be reached by working together and never, never giving up on an investigation.

Now comes PETA.

There are always some unthinking people who can't seem to tell the difference between human beings and animals. The Sierra Club has largely run its course and save a few dying gasps is largely negated.

When time comes next year to review The Endangered Species Act, the ridiculous position of the fatal results of the disappearance of a species breaking the ecological chain will be discarded. It has never had vailidity but the Sierra Club and minor groups convinced politicians there was merit in saving of the snail darter, the spotted owl (one class of the species) and others at the expense of human beings; they have gone to such extremes, they are self-destructing.

Sensing this demise a new group is now claiming headlines. The news media is quick to cater to such idiocy and oblige with front page pictures.

Suddenly it is a moral wrong and illegal to have a full blown Mexican rodeo. Last year they tried to kill the American rodeo.

Now, they want to put G.M.C. out of business for using animals (mostly rats) for safety testing of automobiles.

They break into medical facilities and destroy experiments and property with impunity. They want man to quit eating meat because it is cruel to animals.

When a charge of "Cruelty to Animals" is claimed because a horse is accidentally killed in a rodeo and some irresponsible prosecutor accepts the charge, there is a sick situation.

The next time a race horse stumbles in a race and has to be put to

If they think the snail darter is more important than electricity why don't they cultivate the darter and do without electricity

If a sub-species of the spotted owl is more important than timber, why don't they do without wood and wood products. Unthinking people contribute their money on the basis of emotional and crocodile tears and hence promote the idiocy.

The tear jerking stories about the poor dolphins have drawn headlines and political support while the dolphins multiply at an alarming rate - so much so that nature steps in and thins them out.

The ridiculous extremes to which these enthusiasts go may make it a crime to kill fire ants and "killer bees.

They've already made it almost impossible to kill the predators (coyotes and eagles) and now want to introduce the Mexican Wolf to West Texas for no good reason.

The American people face tremendous pressure just to protect themselves against such rabble rousers as PETA.

Between the ages of 5 and 14 the average American child witnesses on television the violent destruction of 13,000 human beings. In some societies children are taught the violence of hatred and prejudice, and the violence of war. But does any other society teach its children that violence is a form of entertainment? What's going to happen to a generation raised upon such an idea? We don't know yet, because today's children are guinea pigs. Library Notes

Don't forget! The library will be closed Monday, October 7, as we will have begun the new hours. Remember, too, to come in and complete an application to be included in the Kinney County Public Library Service Directory.

Ladies and Gentlemen, your library served well over 1200 patrons the month of September. With numbers like that, documented by signatures, dates, and time of visits, it seems safe to say that this facility provides a much needed and desired service to this county.

Your Library Advisory Board, appointed by the Commissioner's Court, will be evaluating the use of the library, the new hours, and will make recommendations as to what hours offer the best service to the largest number of people.

If you have specific needs regarding library hours, we would suggest you contact one of the board members. They are Marge Batchelor, Ralph Gonzalez, Sandi Miears, Dena Scott, and Earlene Thurber.

A memorial fund has been established at the library in memory of Glenn Deason. All money received will be used to purchase books marked in memory of Min Deason.

The book market is being flooded with new releases from best seller authors. Your library has these books on order and a waiting list has already been started for several. Please feel free to come in and place your name on the list for books by such authors as: Barbara Taylor Bradford, Ken Follett, Victoria Holt, Stephen King, Daniell Steele, Thomas Cook, Collene McCullough, Elliott Roosevelt, Lawrence Black, Piers Anthony, Dean R. Koontz, and Lawrence Saunders. We also have our order in for the sequel to Gone With The Wind by Alexandra Ripley.

We wish to thank Clara Laman, Marjorie Moore, John and Patricia Garberick, Evelyn and Harlan Hunter, and Marjorie Clonce for their donations of books to your library during this past week.

The life cycle has always fascinated me, simply because it really isn't a cycle, it's a circus.

Since I have lived in Querecho Flats, there has been several of the old timers pass on to that great oil field in the sky or the greater quilting clubs in the clouds. But it seems as though that death is accepted with a lonesomeness for a few days or weeks and then things kinda get back to normal, that is if you can call Querecho Flats normal.

There is a counter act for the death syndrome though, it's called birth. And a birth is celebrated in Querecho Flats like it is the first of its kind ever.

It doesn't matter that some little kid was brought into this world just a few weeks before, or even a few days before, the event is treated special.

All the local crazies, grouches, wine heads, ranchers and oilies for just a short time are actually concerned about the new arrival.

This unnatural act of human kindness is of true concern and genuine relief. And here is the reason why.

Most everyone knows that a pregnant woman can get a little snarly. And if the pregnancy is extended into the summer, they can iget damn snarly.

I have seen pregnant women come tee totally unhitched at the least little thing, like their husbands want to go fishing, roping, visiting or just away from the house for a couple of minutes.

Once at the Mostly General Store, I saw a woman that was at least 14 months gone blow smooth up because her husband bought him a soda pop and her a peanut bar of

Her reply was "How the hell do you think I'm doing, can't you see I'm pregnant, it's 108 degreees outside and you ask me how I'm doing. Mind your own damn business."

Of course all the men folks around here have learned to stay plumb out of the way of the women that's in the family way, but even after being treated like coyotes they still show some concern. I know this for a fact because I've heard some of their

She asked me why I thought that hauling her around would work, and I told her it always worked on my brood mares.

Never let the thought cross your mind that a pregnant woman has a sense of humor. They don't. And I found out that they take being compared to brood mares personal.

The colonists also recklessly wasted the soil, forest and water. To the immigrants the New World was the land of milk and honey. Land was so plentiful and cheap the farmers expected to use it until it wore out and then move on. The pioneer farmer was always

Golf News By Vicki Nichols

The weather this past week has been a golfer's delight. Its pure perfection in temperature, breeze, sunshine, and we even have a healthy carpet of grass.

Last Saturday the course was packed. This was partly due to the Brackettville School Group The Fort Clark Board of Directors has given permission to the school coach for 40 students to use the Fort's facilities. I only hope these students and their coach will realize how lucky they are.

Hopefully, they will respect our course and observe golf etiquette. They need to start observing the 90 degree rule, repairing ball marks, replacing divots, and raking sand traps to mention a few they neglected to follow.

These details may not be as much fun as hitting the ball but they are a part of the game. And, after all, these students are getting for free, what members are paying dearly

Postscript

Pat Barnett has cut out golf tips and rules from the Golf Digest. They are stapled together in the Green Room. Also, there is a PGA rule book available if anyone needs to refer to it. Knowing the rules sure beats having to take penalty strokes during a tournament. The page on Sticky Situations was particularly interesting to me. Please leave these publications for others to read.

Jack Legg has turned the Green Room into a comfortable lounge and reading room. Its a big improvement that he was able to accomplish at no cost but a lot of ingenuity and shrews scrounging. Thanks Jack!

Camouflage has become the hot- rifle hunter shooting from 200 yards test thing going in outdoor circles recently. A quick glance through any of the fall sporting goods catalogues reveals pages of items designed to hide humans anywhere from the Artic to the Amazon.

Camouflage is the current rage. It's literally become a fashion statement. I'm not sure how many patterns there are on the market now, but it's well over 30. For years, the only source of clothing for the well-dressed hunter was the army surplus store. World War II vintage attire was about the only choice. The Vietam War ushered in a new style, commonly called the "tiger stripe." Still, the choices were limited. About five years ago, though, the "camo" business took a giant leap. Now we see every conceivable pattern designed to make you fit into any landscape you can think of.

We see patterns on everything from gloves to underwear. Today's hunters are very gadget-oriented. It's true that a certain level of camouflage is useful if you're out hunting, but there's a lot of truth to the old saying that more fishing plugs are sold to catch fisherman than to catch fish.

For years, it was thought that deer, like many animals, were color blind. Recent studies revealed that deer do have some degree of color vision. For years we thought we were really hiding from them. THINK ABOUT OUR FITURE ENVIRONMENT halves - After you've eaten, or juiced, half an orange or grapefruit, use the skin as a "pot" for germinating seedlings. Scoop out the remaining pulp and fill the half with soil, then plant your seeds.

When ready to put them in the ground, plant them, citrus half and all. The citrus will decay adding nutrients to the soil.

Recycle orange or grapefruit Grated Orange Peel - sometimes difficult to find so make your own. Each time you use an orange, wash it, take off the ends and any bad spots, peel the rind into long strips. Let the strips dry on a paper towel before crushing them in the blender.

Place grated peel in a jar, use on breads, salads, or other dishes as a delightful seasoning.

Brackett Homecoming 1991

The 1991 Brackett Homecoming Celebration formally began at 2:30 p.m., Friday, September 27, when a parade formed at the High School and made its way down Ann Street to the intersection of Ann and Spring Streets. And, it was there that the Pep Rally was held with Coach Greg Nowlin as the speaker.

Students Should Consider Physical Therapy Career

New York -- As high school and college seniors return to the classroom--many of them for the last time--most are apprehensive about the transition to the "real world" and agonize over choosing the right career path. One of this summer's blockbuster movies--"Regarding Henry"--may provide a much welcomed clue.

The real hero of this movie is not superstar Harrison Ford, but the actor who portrays a caring, innovative and skilled physical therapist (PT) who is responsible for Ford's rehabilitation after he is shot in the head during a hold-up. The physical therapist not only helps Ford (Henry) regain his motor skills but is instrumental in enhancing the character's appreciation of life. This "hands on" involvement with a patient is typical of the profession. While the movie character diverges from reality in some areas-the majority of PTs are female rather than male and not prone to the stereotypical "male bonding" language used in the film-the therapy skills he exhibits are for the most part accurate in demonstrating the slow, painful work involved in rehabilitation.

FLEXIBILITY IN PHYSICAL THERAPY

Real life and the movies do part ways in another aspect. "Regarding Henry' focuses only on PT specialty --neurology-- while there are any number of others to choose from: cardiopulmonary, sports medicine, pediatrics, geriatrics and orthopedics to name a few. Additionally, the profession offers flexibility. One can practice in a hospital-based unit or in private practice. Physical therapists can also take their careers on the road-as PTs working with sports teams or in home health settings.

And in real life, physical therapy is one of the 10 fastest growing professions. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics projects an expected 57% increase of people working in the field by the year 2000.

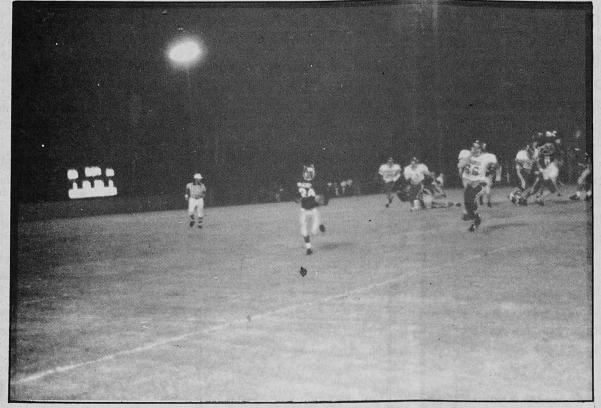

The growth of the over-65 population coupled with the rise of workplace and sports-related injuries make PTs even more valuable Those considering their career options should find the 42% projected increase in the number of physical therapy openings by 1995 a heartening statistic in an era of high unemployment rates.

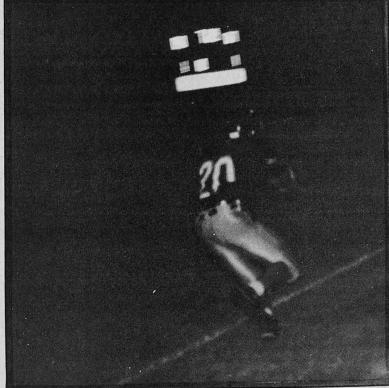

PARTNER IN

HEALTHCARE DELIVERY Typically, physical therapists evaluate individuals and design and implement a distinctive program tailored to his or her special needs. Whether a therapist is working with premature infants helping them to breath, assisting cancer patients to cope with chemotherapy side effects, or helping an elderly individual recover from a broken hip, PTs are a critical link in healthcare delivery and patient recovery.

For those interested in learning more about a career in physical therapy, the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) has information regarding all accredited bachelor, certificate, masters degree and assistant programs. The Tigers ran the kick-off back to their own 26, but failed to make a 1st down. They kicked on 4th and John Davis ran it back all the way for 6. The PA pass was intercepted by J. J. Sandoval. Angoras 26 -

BACK-TO-SCHOOL TIPS FOR PARENTS

Constance Fournier, Ph.D.

Department of Psychiatry at Scott & White Hospital and Clinic and Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, at Texas A&M University College of Medicine

My 6-year-old child wakes up with stomach aches and says he does not want to go to school, What can I do to alleviate this problem?

A: In dealing with a child with stomach aches, a three part plan might be helpful. First, the child should see his regular doctor to eliminate any physical causes for the stomachs

Secondly, once any physical causes for the stomach aches have been eliminated, it would be important to investigate what stresses might be contributing to the stomach aches. Ask yourself if there have been any changes at home in the last few months. This may include positive as well as negative changes, such as: a new sibling, a move, parental divorce or marriage, financial changes, a death in the family, or even the gain or loss of a pet. Any of these types of changes could be stressful for a child.

It would also be helpful to talk with your child's teacher to see if there are any stresses at school. These problems might range from something as simple as forgetting where the bathroom is, to more difficult problems such as being picked on by bullies. It might be helpful to keep a chart of good and bad days since often a pattern can be noticed and intervention can begin at that level. If a stress pattern is noted, talk with your child about his or her feelings and provide reassurance

Finally, your child must go to school. You may want to establish a rule that your child may not miss school unless he has a fever or a doctor's permission. If the child does stay home from school and is not sick, you should treat it like a school day by making your child study or read during school hours and forbidding television or play during that time. Generally children become quite bored with this and become more ready to go to school.

If the stomach aches persist after you have tried some of these basic interventions, it would be wise to seek psychological consultation. The child may be dealing with some hidden issues or may need assistance in identifying and talking about feel-

In general we find that if the child is encouraged to go to school and the stomach aches are ignored, he or she tends to do well.

Month Of October

October, the tenth month in the Gregorian calender, gets its name from the Latin numeral "octo", meaning eight, because in the days of the old Roman Calender it was the eighth month.

October gave its name to one of the best known German Fall Festivals. The event was started on October 17, 1810, and called "Oktoberfest," celebrating the wedding day of King Ludwig # 1.

The flowers for October are the Calendula and the Cosmas. The birthstones are the opal and the tour-

On October 8, 1871 the Chicago fire that claimed the lives of 200 people and destroyed a great part of that city was headline news. The same year at Green Bay, Wisconsin another fire cost the lives of 1,000 people and few ever heard about it.

The Gospel in a nutshell. If a person knew nothing about nor had access to any more of the Word of God there is enough here for a person to be saved and become a child of God.

The greatest fact in all the world; God so loved the world, not this planet, but the people of the world is the target of God's love. God loves every single person in the world.

His love is so great and intense that He sent His Son, Jesus, into the
