"If a man had half as much insight, as he has hindsight, he would have twice as much foresight"

Fr. Zumaya Honored By Cultural Institute

Fr. David G. Zumaya was honored by the graduates of the Drama School Academy of The Cultural Institute Cabanas of Guadalajara, Mexico.

The ceremony was held July 31, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in the Tolsa Chapel of the Cultural Institute of Cabanas for the Generation 90 - 92.

Upon the graduation of a student of the theater, they choose a special sponsor and recognize the career and status of that sponsor.

Fr. David began his career in the theater in 1955. He is actor, director, teacher, dancer, writer of show business. He has had experience in movies and theater in Canada, Spain, Mexico and the United States.

In 1977 he was ordained a Catholic priest for the Diocese of San Antonio and is presently pastor of St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church in Brackettville, Texas.

Library Card Sign-up Month 55% in Kinney County Have Cards

Library aide Maria Woodson, Librarian Cynthia Lockwood, and Library Volunteers Earline Thurber and Dena Scott make using the library easy and enjoyable with their day to day service.

September is Library Card Sign Up Month. Kinney County is blessed with one of the best libraries for its population in Texas. The new addition is expected to be open in the last part of October. This building will house books of Texana, local History, and Genealogy, including the 660 books donated by Sterling C. Evens.

In 1991, Kinney County residents using the library everyday numbered 55, and 275 a week.

In 1992, an average of 57 people use the library every day, and 285 per week, an increase of 4%.

A total of 1715 library cards have been issued in the county, with 241 new cards so far this year. Fifty-five percent of Kinney County citizens have a library card. Each day 15 paperbacks and 4 magazines are checked out. Eighteen videos are taken out each day, 16% of these are Spanish videos.

Sixty-seven books are checked out each day.

One of the services that is rendered by the staff and volunteers is assistance given to 10 reference requests each day.

There are about 15,000 public libraries in the United States. Of these, about 40% are branch libraries of a city, county, or regional library system. No matter what their size or where they are located, all public libraries have the same goal - to be of maximum service to their community. The Kinney County Library certainly provides that service and then some.

Students Learn School Bus Safety

Jones Elementary School is meeting a state mandate that all children learn to load and unload on a school bus correctly.

Students on the bus are their own monitors. It does not matter who sits on the front or back two seats, these people - K or 12 - are monitors for that bus.

Monitors are the people who lead other children out of the bus safely and they know how, and where, to go for safety.

Brackett has a good school bus riding record and we would like to keep it that way on our school systems.

The new mandate calls for evacuation of the bus through all exits that are used for an emergency evacuation.

Ten rules for bus safety are:

1. Be on time.
2. Never run to or from the bus.
3. Stand back from the curb.
4. Don't push or shove.
5. Stay in your seat.
6. Don't yell or shout.
7. Always obey the driver.
8. Wait for the driver's signal before crossing.
9. Always cross at least 10 feet in front of the bus.
10. Never crawl under a school bus.

Coach David Burton, right, is teaching Jones Elementary School students proper procedures of safely boarding a school bus. The exercise included escaping from the bus in the event of an accident. This bus has two escape exits on the top, and two windows on each side that open outward.

Washtub Jerry Brings Unique Bass To Cowboy Cauldron

Washtub Jerry approaches the washtub bass as a unique and self motivating skill, something which must be actually experienced to be fully appreciated. He even plays duets with a tenor ukulele simultaneously!

Washtub Jerry has performed with hundreds of lead musicians. His ability to match their style and mood greatly enhances the musical presentation. Part of the appeal of "Jerry's sound" is that he produces huge bass notes an octave lower than other basses.

Washtub Jerry makes this music on a galvanized steel #6 Cubetas Mexican washtub the string of which is a clutch cable for a Porsche 914. Onto a number 56PV "pole" he fastens the cable with two collars with set screws at the pole end and a wingnut from French laser and a large washer to the tub end. He wears a White Mule 229 Large glove on his "playing hand."

Of course, he always wears a Resistol OBIG UN hat and the height of the Tub + Jerry + Hat is 7 feet, 3/4 inches. Their performance capacity is solo, ensemble, jazz, fairs, festivals, recording studios, TV studios, parks, curbs, campfires, cattle round-ups, deserts, house boats, white water river float trips. When not playing, Jerry can fill the tub with 26 gallons of Escondido sand.

Washtub Jerry has performed multiple years at the following annual events: Western Music Association Festival, Tucson; Lubbock International Cowboy Symposium; Silver Dollar City, Branson; Texas Cowboy Poetry, Alpine; New Orleans Jazz Festival; Heart of Texas Fair, Waco; Carl Tipon TV Show, Nashville - and now he is adding the Kinney County Cowboy Cauldron to his credits.

Don't miss this show! That's September 12. During the day admission will be "pay at the door." Tickets are on sale for the night performance from Chamber of Commerce Board Members...or they can be purchased at the door.

Sheriff's Corner

By Sheriff Norman H. Hooten

The Allendale County, South Carolina, Sheriff's Department has advised that their Chief Deputy, a 36 year old male with 11 years law enforcement service was killed on August 24, 1992 while investigating a narcotics trafficking case involving a Haitian born black male. Shortly before 11:00 am on the date of his death he received a phone call informing him of the location where the suspect had been observed. At 11:00 am two persons found victim officer's patrol car and Chief Deputy dead in the back seat. The victim officer's Smith & Wesson 9 millimeter service weapon was missing and he had been shot in the head at least 8 times. Shortly, thereafter, the Haitian suspect was observed breaking into a local motel. The motel was surrounded by law enforcement officers but suspect escaped by jumping through rear window. He exchanged fire with officers and fled into nearby swamp. The suspect was located by a South Carolina Law Enforcement Division Dog Tracking Team who killed the suspect in a gunfight. The victim officer's weapon was found with the dead suspect and interviews with suspect's acquaintances revealed that the suspect had bragged prior to the incident that he would kill the victim officer.

than 3,300 fugitives in over 40 cities. One such fugitive arrested in Kinney County during the operation was James "Blue Thunder" Wilkinson, a bank robber and parole violator. Wilkinson was arrested in a cooperative operation between U.S. Marshals out of Del Rio, local Border Patrol agents and the Sheriff's Department. Wilkinson was apprehended after information was received by the U.S. Marshals Service that he might be in this area.

Attorney General Barr was quoted stating, "The apprehension and incapacitation of violent criminals, such as the thousands arrested through Operation Gunsmoke, is the most effective way in the short term for preventing violent crime." "This effort represents another way that federal law enforcement can have a substantial impact on violent crime."

Barr said that Operation Gunsmoke resulted in the arrests of 3,313 dangerous criminals - including 224 charged with or previously convicted of murder - and the seizure of $1.9 million in cash and property. Guns, drugs, and other contraband valued at approximately $4.1 million were also seized. Those arrested included 751 federal fugitives and 2,562 wanted on state charges; 365 of those captured were armed at the time of their arrest.

THAT'S ALL!

LETTER TO EDITOR

Bill Clinton's first major promise was that he was going to raise taxes on the rich. This sounds good for those of you that think this is not going to affect you, of course, you don't realize that when you raise the baker and grocer's taxes, the price of a loaf of bread and groceries is going to go up, along with all other products. People can't understand that taxes affect everything that people buy and that the people that buy the products are the ones that will eventually pay the taxes. It may not be called "taxes" but they are going to pay.

I prepare quite a lot of tax returns and I can tell you that the low income taxpayers got a much better tax break out of Reagan's reform than most of the so called rich taxpayers.

If you want to put the blame where it belongs, let's look at congress, the President really has very little power, other than recommend or veto. A Quote from The National Public Accountant by Dorothea Barr, Legislative Representative.

Line-Item Veto

Without the line-item veto, the President cannot be held accountable for the growing deficit, particularly as he plays a relatively small role in drafting the budget and submitting it to the Congress who ultimately produces the budget. Once the Congress has produced a budget, the President has the option only of signing or vetoing all 13 appropriations bill which make up the budget.

Without participating in the production of the budget, the President cannot be held accountable for the state of the budget or deficit thereof. A line-item veto would allow for the elimination of individual projects without the ultimate destruction of the entire package undergoing review and thus allow the President to assume responsibility for the state of the nation.

Some examples: The passive loss provision and repeal of the capital gains deduction aimed at increasing taxes on sale property, couldn't pay mortgages, banks and savings and loans failed because they had to repossess property that was worth much less than the loans. Again, you and I (the average taxpayer) paid and are still paying the cost of the failed banks and savings and loans. True there were some cases of mismanagement, but the majority were the result of a very poor tax law.

Another example: The luxury tax on autos, boats and airplanes. The people who could afford these quit buying because of the additional tax. Result: the companies making the products went broke, or moved their business overseas, and the U. S. lost not only the taxes, but the employees were out of work, couldn't pay their taxes and went on welfare.

Want to hear more? President Bush is blamed for the bad economy. Just look back at another attempt of Congress to collect taxes without raising taxes. The phase out of the Interest Deduction. People used to buy almost anything when the monthly payment was low enough and they could deduct the interest. Now that interest is no longer deductible, people think a little while before buying things on credit.

If you really want to see some changes, it is time to replace everyone in Congress. If you look at their record you can see that every bill they pass in some way affects their chances of re-election without any real concern about the cost to the taxpayers. When they come with some thing that is really going to cost, they have the old sugar coating effect that makes it look like someone else is going to pay the cost. What do you think causes the increased cost of living? A big part is the interest on the huge national debt that keeps growing because they want to spend more without collecting more, (afraid of upsetting voters), another way of just putting off till another time.

A very simple and easy way of cutting down on waste and government spending is to put an incentive on all persons in charge of spending budgeted money. Instead of rewarding them for spending it all, merely reward them by paying them a percent of any money turned back at the end of the fiscal period.

If any one who reads this thinks that I am writing this because I am rich, I invite you to come by and look at a copy of my Tax Return.

Between Us

By Joe Townsend

With every government grant we see why the Federal government is so deeply in debt.

The recent report of a grant to repair streets in Brackettville is a good case in point. The money had to be channeled (or at least it was) through a localized bureaucracy.

This is the same organization that established and controls the "911" debacle. Every telephone user pays on his telephone bill every month a tribute to a worse than useless bureaucracy. Nothing has changed.

Emergency service goes through the same channel we've always had. There is no quicker response but because of pressure from the perpetrators the Commissioners Court reversed a sensible stand and bowed to government bureaucracy.

Now through the same bigoted organization Brackettville has been bequeathed tax payers money to repair streets that had they received proper care would not demand the expenditure of money taken from tax-payers.

Had the city not taken funds budgeted for street repair and given it to fight Tex-Cor some substantial street repair could have been done. It seems it's too much to expect integrity from elected officials. But I digress.

The point to be made is that the tax payers have been taken for $85,000. The city can brag about receiving a grant of $85,000. The bureaucracy can claim they gave Brackettville $85,000. The final truth is out. Brackettville received viable funds of $55,000 to $60,000.

Engineering and administration costs have already eaten up $25,000 to $30,000. This means the people hired by the city to engineer the grant have claimed about 35% of the grant funds.

This means there is no one at City Hall capable of obtaining such a grant even though represented on the dispensing body.

This high-lights the fallacy of such grants. Entirely too much of the money goes into the pockets of vultures feeding off of the taxpayers who receive nothing substantial for their tax dollars.

If the American people would wake up they'd know that if they kept their tax dollars at home they could accomplish so very much more. When it goes to Washington or Austin and trickles down to the taxpayer the waste is tremendous and the accomplishments minuscule.

It's too bad taxpayers are forced by their elected representatives to throw so much money down a rat hole to accomplish so little for the ones who have the money taken from their pocketbooks. It's too bad City Hall could not realize such grants are available without having to feed the monkey 35%.

Days Past

by Dorothy Payne

September 1, 1871 - Abraham Wood, commander of the English Fort Henry, sent an expedition led by Thomas Batts and Robert Fallam to learn about the rivers and other features that lie beyond the Blue Ridge mountains. They discovered a stream that joined the Kanawha River and then into the Ohio, and then into the Mississippi.

September 3, 1709 - The proprietors of Carolina granted a total of 13,500 acres to two new groups of immigrants who were Germans from the Palatinate, and Swiss from Berne. With the success of these first two groups, others from Switzerland and Germany soon followed to settle in the Carolinas.

September 22, 1711 - Tascorara Indians massacred a settlement of North Carolinians in the first clash of the Tuscarora War, which continued until 1713. South Carolina came to the aid of North Carolina. Finally the entire Tuscarora Tribe was moved to New York State, where some members still live near Niagara Falls.

September 14, 1712 - Sieur Antoine Crozat gained a 15-year monopoly of the fur trade in an enormous territory, extending from the Carolinas to New Mexico. The first governor of the territory was de Mothe Cadillac, founder of Detroit.

September 10, 1753 - The Delaware and Iroquois Indians, at the Winchester Conference, revoked the year-old Treaty of Logstown and threw in their lot with the French, to support their claim to the Ohio Territory.

September 18, 1758 - Abercromby, like his predecessor Loudoun, was replaced as supreme commander after his defeat by Montcalm at Fort Ticonderoga; then Amherst took over.

September 12-13, 1759 - Wolfe stealthily brought his men across the River, scaled the cliffs and ranged his troops in the Plains of Abraham, where the English and French joined battle. Both Wolfe and Montcalm were killed, but the English won the Battle of Quebec.

September 18, 1759 - The French formally surrendered Quebec to the English; never again would the French presence be as strong. Gradually the French claim on the West weakened before the vigorous onslaught of the Spanish and the English.

Caring Lady Diverts Possible Disaster

To the parent of a young girl, and a younger boy, who were left alone and unattended in a parked car with the keys in the ignition on September 1, 1992, in front of Super S.

Your son tried to start your car, sir or madam, and I want you to know that I am the stranger who pulled the keys out of the ignition and threw them on the dashboard.

I think you ought to be more careful with your children and don't underestimate what they might be capable of doing.

My sister was nearly killed when my father made the same mistake.

She was lucky. But, she drove the truck nearly a block before my father caught up with her and she wasn't driving on the street, she went through residential yards.

After having such a wet winter and spring, you can bet the game animal and bird populations will be up for this year's hunting season. September means the opening of the hunting season and the library has prepared a display of books for the occasion and a few tips to get you started.

The first lesson of hunting is to have something to hunt with. The library has several books on guns and their uses. Check out The Gunner's Bible by Bill Riviere, The Speer Manual For Reloading Ammunition: Rifles, Pistols, and Shotguns, and The Gun Owner's Book of Care, Repair and Improvement by Roy F. Dunlap. Hold your breath then squeeze the trigger.

The second lesson for the hunting season is to have something to hunt. Some of our game books are Great Whitetails of North America by Robert Rogers, Big Rack by Larry Darnell, The Hunter's Field Guide To The Game Birds And Animals Of North America by Robert Elman, and The Complete Guide To Game Animals by Leonard Lee Rue III. Remember, it's the big thing with horns.

The third lesson is to learn how to hunt without killing yourself. Hunting In America by Charles F. Waterman, Hunting The American Wild Turkey by Dave Harbours, and All-Season Hunting: A Guide To Early Season, Late Season, And Winter Hunting by Bob Gilsvik provide information on both the history and technique of hunting.

Lastly, what do you do if you actually manage to kill something? The Home Book Of Taxidermy And Tanning by Gerald J. Grantz can show you a few examples of what to do and how to do it. With the books that the library has to offer, even I could hunt something...Not!

We also have Elmore Leonard's latest Rum Punch.

The Library will be closed on Monday, September 7, for the Labor Day holiday.

Many thanks to those who donated books and magazines to the library this past week.

As always, we invite you to visit the friendliest little library in Kinney County.

Beyond The Horizon

By Dorothy Payne

On July 4, 1883, a group of cowboys got together and held a rodeo on the Alkalia Flat in front of the Pecos, Texas, courthouse. Prizes were given in roping and steer wrestling. The prizes were what we would now call entry fees.

What a day that must have been with everyone coming from the surrounding ranches, bringing their lunches. Trav Windham won the first money. Henry Slack, a boy of 18, rode and was doing pretty good when his rope broke, putting him out of the running. Uncle Henry Slack took part in all the rodeo's until he was over 90 yrs. old. The straight tall old man led every parade.

Trav Windham tied his steer in 22 seconds flat that day. Other contestants included Morgan and Jim Livingston, Billy Coolson, Charlie Goedike, Jeff Chism and Pete Beard. This was the world's first rodeo, in the Encyclopedia Britannica it is stated; "Most authorities agree that the first public contest for prizes for bronc riding and steer roping was held in an open field."

Pecos has a unique history and was the home of many interesting characters. Here, one of the most famous early western sheriffs, Bud Frazer, lived and was killed in the line of duty. It was one of the stops on the Butterfield Stage line and end of the track.

Clay Allison was buried there when the town was on the river bank and called Pecos City.

It was the nearest supply town for the "W" Ranch which stretched along the Pecos River for 30 miles and covered three counties. At one time or another all the cowboys in the area rode for the "W", including the "Hashknife" Ranch whose cowboys came to town to whoop it up at the 4th of July Rodeo.

In later years, in my time, a cowboy named Fritz Steigler was a legend. He was a bronc buster by trade and could ride anything with hoofs and hair. He eared a bronc down with teeth while he climbed on and the fun would begin. In his younger days on one 4th of July, he put on his rodeo shirt which was always red, shined up his boots and went to town. When he was first noticed he was racing down main street on a wall eyed horse, hat low on his head and whipping his pony at every jump. Then when he got close enough the spectators could see he was whipping his pony with a live rattlesnake. He had the snake right behind the head. I'd have given my eye teeth to have seen him.

I first met Fritz at a 4th of July Rodeo Dance in 1936. He was all dressed up in a red shirt and fancy boots. When I danced with him, he was as graceful as a ballet dancer.

The only time Fritz came to town to celebrate was on the 4th of July when he was a rodeo contestant and made the Rodeo Dance so he had to store up enough hell-raising to last until the next 4th of July.

THANK YOU

A very special thanks to all the dear folks who donated food, gifts, and money.

A big "Mucho Gracias" for all who played in the band. It was delightful.

This book, thanks to the generosity of Mr. Sterling Evans, is now a part of the local library Texana Collection.

It provides both a factual and entertaining collage of the various artesian geothermal wells within the state of Texas.

This author gives us excerpts of fact, legend, and "Snake Doctor" promotional information dating back to the discovery of these "miracles" of nature.

Whether you read for information or entertainment, give this book an opportunity. It's great!

EXTENSION LIVESTOCK & RANGE COMMITTEE MEETING
Extension Livestock & Range Committee members are reminded of a meeting on Thursday, September 3, 1992 at noon at the Fort Clark Golf Club restaurant. Please make every effort to attend this very important meeting.

4-H NEWS
September is the time of year we generally re-enroll old 4-H members and enroll new ones. Watch for a county 4-H meeting soon to take care of new 4-H year's business.

4-H is keyed to the development of individual boys and girls so that they may become productive, contributing citizens. 4-H lays a broad and firm base for a lifetime of personal growth.

The purpose of 4-H is to develop young people through the involvement of parents, other adults and volunteers who organize and conduct learning experiences in a community setting. The focus is an interaction designed to develop skills, abilities and understandings in youth and adults as participating and influential members of their community. The central aim is for youth to acquire a set of skills for perceiving and responding to life's significant events.

Through 4-H, boys and girls discover an active method of turning their time into productive projects, identify with others their own age and other ages, acquire an interest and understanding of the private enterprise system, participate in meaningful and often physical work, and build strong family relationships.

4-H is effective because its educational services relate to youth's needs. Through informal, practical, learning-by-doing programs, 4-H helps boys and girls establish real-life goals and skills and become competent, productive citizens. The home, local club and the community are the training grounds in which 4-H participants develop knowledge, skills and attitudes.

4-H, as an ever-renewing movement, takes pride in its contributions to American society for more than 75 years. It is not easy for a youngster to develop a realistic sense of his own individuality and yet have an awareness of his social role and responsibilities.

Youth who participate in 4-H will develop some capacity to function as generalists, no matter how they may later choose to specialize. A pattern of success built upon hard work spawns inner resources which permit young people to cope with unforeseen challenges and to survive as versatile, capable individuals in an unpredictable world.

Participation in the 4-H program is voluntary and open to all interested boys and girls regardless of race, color, creed, national origin or handicap who are between the ages of 9 (or in the third grade in school) and 19.

If you are interested in joining the 4-H program in Kinney County, contact the Kinney County Extension office at 563-2442 or come by the county courthouse on the 2nd floor.

Tigerettes Win Tournament

"We're The Team To Beat"

By LYNN FLOYD
Brackett News School Reporter

Coach Tammy Coggins' Tigerettes went into the Del Rio volleyball tournament with high spirits after winning their first district game last week at Natalia.

They faced Laredo United South in their first match up. With the game over in less than an hour and a score of 15-0 in both games the Tigerettes would be the team to beat in this tournament.

In the second round they defeated Crystal City in three tough games. Brackett then advanced to the finals to meet up against the hometown Queens who defeated Comstock and La Pryor to get to the championship game.

The Terrazas duo, Theresa and Jennifer, combined for ten points together giving the Tigerettes a one-game lead.

They then established a quick seven-point lead on three aces from Ida Aguilar and four kills from Wendy McDaniel.

The Del Rio Queens then made a remarkable come back to tie the game at 12 a piece and then going on to win the game.

With the match evened up at 1-1 Del Rio came out firing with a quick 4-0 lead in the final game. But sophomore Kim Ahrens quieted down the Del Rio crowd with eight straight service points. That gave the Tigerettes the momentum as Theresa Terrazas scored on two aces. With the two teams fighting it out back and forth, Ahrens put the game away in grand fashion with one more ace.

Junior Amanda Davis earned most valuable player in this tournament. With her consistent serves and aggressive play at the net she caught the eye of her opponents coaches. Congratulations Amanda and the Tigerettes on their victory.

Brackett's record now moves up to 4-0 and 1-0 in district.

BRACKETT INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT SPECIAL MEETING TO ADOPT 1992-93 TAX RATE

The Brackett Independent School District Board of Trustees will hold a special meeting on Friday, September 4, 1992, at 5:30 p.m. for the purpose of adopting a property tax rate.

The Brackett ISD does not expect to exceed last year's effective rate of twenty-nine cents ($.29) per $100 of property value. It is expected that the County Education District Board will adopt a rate much higher than last year's rate of $.7425. Taxes on local property may rise in spite of local board efforts to keep the rate low.

The total rate for the Brackett ISD/CED last year was $1.04. This is twelve cents ($.12) below the state average in 1991 of $1.16. Fluctuations in school finance law caused most local districts to radically increase taxes last year.

Tigers Show Aggressive Defense Have Offense Game Also

Pictures by Beth Ann Smith

For the second week in a row the Tiger football team has shown the signs of what could be a winning season.

The Tigers traveled to Crystal City to take on the Javelinas for a scrimmage.

Crystal City ran their offense first. On their eighth play out of twenty, the Javelinas scored on a pass from 45 yards out. That would be all the scoring the aggressive Tiger defense would allow.

It didn't take Brackett very long to retaliate on their first offensive series. On the sixth play quarterback Lynn Floyd threw a sixty yard pass to Frank Guarjardo. Four plays later fullback Angel Jaso bulldozed his way across the goal line from five yards out.

Adrian Pena then scored in the final offensive series on a beautiful open field run from seventy yards out.

Brackett won last week's scrimmage as well 2-1 against Leakey. Defensive Coordinator Carrol Petrosky was impressed with the way his defense played. But there is always room for improvement.

The Tigers open up the season against Sabinal at home Friday, September 4. The Yellow Jackets are coming off a 6-4 fourth place finish in their district. Sabinal edged by the Tigers last year 6-0. Look for the intensity to be flying high Friday night.

Commissioners Holding Line On "No Tax Increase"

The Kinney County Commissioners Court met in special session Monday, August 31, 1992, for a budget hearing, workshop, consideration and adoption of proposed budget for 1992-93.

Judge Tim Ward presided with Commissioners Freddie Frerich, Plunker Sheedy, and Alvin McClure present.

Several concerned citizens attended the morning session but very few returned in the afternoon.

Faced with reducing expenditures by $100,000 just to remain at the present tax rate, the court had another stressful day of developing possible solutions some as drastic as reducing employees' work week by a day, at least one of those to 1/2 day status, and even eliminating a few positions.

Librarian Cynthia Lockhart reminded the court that the library's electric bill would likely increase when the new addition was opened. Dena Scott encouraged the court to provide adequate funding and personnel at the library. She also questioned the validity of adjusting the proposed budget after it had been filed. Judge Ward assured her it was legal.

When the court informed Jack "Bubba" Whitworth that the Trapping Club's budget was slated for a $2500 cut, Mr. Whitworth answered by saying they would live with it, and still provide service.

City Council Ralph Gonzalez requested the court to increase funding for the Volunteer Fire Department but was told the money just wasn't available and pointed out the fire department receives funding from the county, the city and Fort Clark while the county alone supports the ambulance service and library. The ambulance service is charged for but the county is now holding approximately $16,000 in bills they have been unable to collect.

Mayor Carmen Berlanga joined in supporting an increase for the Fire Department. City Secretary Cordelia Mendeke suggested that the commissioners set an example by cutting their own salaries in half to free money for other needs. Commissioner Sheedy responded by suggesting the City Secretary was attending the meeting while on city payroll. She questioned his right to question her right to attend the meeting as a private citizen.

Mayor Berlanga questioned the court's stated goal of "no new taxes" when they proposed a sales tax proposition on the November ballot. Judge Ward explained that the county could legally adopt, with voter approval, a county-wide sales tax just as the city is already collecting the same amount of tax. In the case of the county, 1/2 of the revenue would go to support the EMS service, and the other half would, by law, be used to reduce ad valorem tax reduction.

The court favorably reviewed a proposal from New York Life Insurance for employee health insurance with a much lower rate than the current policy with Blue Cross.

Judge Ward informed the court that Judge Thurmond had dismissed the lawsuit against the county by former Judge Tommy Seargeant because he saw no legitimate claim against Kinney County thus relieving the county of one possible liability.

County Attorney Tully Shahan told the court that Lee Lawson's attorney had requested a meeting in his suit against the county and that the entire court must be present when the meeting took place.

The court reconvened at 3 p.m. to a touch of humor (??) when they returned to find a hangman's noose suspended from the ceiling over Commissioner McClure's end of the work table.

Justice of the Peace Alvin Hall discussed at length possible means of increasing revenue in his department through warrant collections, and his work load.

Natasha's Stars

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're on a continued high from last week thanks to your problem-solving abilities. However, don't let that optimism blind you to yet another problem lurking at work. The weekend looks good for relaxation and leisure.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your decision to be more gregarious will pay off this week, and you'll find yourself in the spotlight. This spills over into your social life as well. Don't be surprised when someone who had been avoiding you offers a hand in friendship.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Much to your dismay, you'll find yourself embroiled in an unpleasant confrontation on the job front. Be careful when choosing sides as you must weigh everything carefully. This may be a good time for you to go over some travel literature and plan a much-needed trip.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You may have some trouble this week shaking off a pesky admirer who just refuses to stop following you around. Take a firm stand on this. You'll find that this person is more needy than you can take right now. Rest up this weekend.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Now that the bulk of your decision-making at work is out of the way, you can set your sights on some recreation time. Talk over possible travel plans with loved ones. Their insights and feedback will prove very helpful and pleasurable in the long run.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) This is a good week for you to take a much-needed breather from the hustle and bustle of past weeks. Don't be afraid to be totally self-indulgent. However, do beware of credit card risks. If you must buy, pay cash and use discretion.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Your energy will be on the wane this week, so do be sure to retire early. If you don't, you'll find yourself falling down on the job, much to the irritation of higher-ups. While you can normally do several things at one time, this isn't the week to attempt it.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) It's time for a reality check. All the recent celebrating has you too apt to daydream, which doesn't bode well for the tasks at hand. It's roll-up-your-sleeves time. Get to it, and you'll be ready for a pleasant weekend break.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) A loved one continues to be supportive and willing to compromise. Take advantage of this to foster better communications. You'll find yourselves renewing your bond and enjoying each other more. The weekend looks good for a romantic getaway.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Your tendency toward introspection isn't a good thing to indulge this week. Others look to you for decisions, and you must be ready to make them. However, stop and smell the roses this weekend. You deserve the break.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Ever the social animal, you'll find yourself paying the price this week, both in lost energy and lack of focus. Get some more rest at night so you'll be able to deal with the important matters at hand. Turn down invitations.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) While you usually want things done NOW, it would be better to relax a bit and just enjoy some peace and quiet. You've been working much too hard, and you need some time off. This is a good time to take it.

Have A Safe Labor Day

Meditations

Someone sent the following article to syndicated columnist Ann Landers last year. Maybe it's good medicine for today. Here is that "No-excuse" Sunday.

Cots will be furnished for those who say, "Sunday is my only day for sleeping in."

Eye drops will be available for those whose eyes are tired from watching TV too late on Saturday night.

Steel helmets are furnished for those who believe the roof will cave in if they show up for services.

Blankets are in the closet for those who think the building is too cold. Fans will be available for those who say it's too hot.

Hearing aids will be near by for those who say, "The pastor doesn't talk loud enough." Cotton will be furnished for those who are disturbed by the preacher's screams.

Score cards may be found in the hymn book racks for those who want to count the hypocrites.

A few relatives or other friends will be present for those who like to visit on Sunday.

TV dinners will be in the kitchen for those who can't go to church and cook.

One area will have a blue-print drawing of trees and grass for those who see God in nature, especially on the golf course.

Christmas poinsettias and Easter lilies will be in the sanctuary for those who've never seen church without them.

So come on and join us! We're preparing a place for you! And don't worry, we'll place chairs in the aisle so all late comers will not have to stand.

And, now seriously, welcome to God's House where all of us admit our faults and need help from the Eternal Lord.

Frontier Baptist Church

By Joe Townsend

Sunday will truly be a special day at Frontier Baptist Church. It is Birthday Celebration.

Sunday is the regular time to observe The Lord's Supper to be followed by the Fellowship Dinner.

At the dinner there will be a birthday cake to celebrate the nineteenth year in the life of Frontier Baptist Church.

There will be the regular pre-service fellowship. Then the worship service will be an opportunity to worship God in a warm hearted fellowship. Songs will be familiar hymns. Prayers will be pointed and in earnest. The sermon will be from the Bible by the pastor, Joe R. Townsend. It will be a fine opportunity to worship God in Spirit and in Truth.

Come and see.

The Bible Says

"For everything there is a reason, and a time for every matter under heaven."

God recognizes the problem man has in appropriating his time. So many things cry out for attention and time that it seems there just isn't enough time.

The truth of the matter is each of us chooses how he will spend his time. If we assign the proper priorities we can find the time to do what needs to be done.

Unfortunately we often forget to take time for the basic and fundamental needs of life.

Many go to church and worship only when it is convenient and they just don't have time. Thus they compound their problems. There truly is a time to worship. Any who do not appropriate the time and opportunity penalize themselves heavily.

To say we have no time to go to church and worship is a cop-out as phony as a three dollar bill.

"For everything is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven." Ecc 3.

BETA SIGMA PHI

On Sunday, August 30, 1992, Beta Sigma Phi chapters Theta Sigma and Beta Epsilon Omicron celebrated "Beginning Day."

The meeting was held at the Fort Clark Swim Park at 7:00 and was called to order by Shirley Hadsell of Theta Sigma and she led the beginning ritual.

Members were then introduced to Delores Gaston who is transferring her membership from Ruidoso, New Mexico to the Beta Epsilon Omicron.

Marge Geeze was welcomed as a representative of the Iota Epsilon chapter which she serves as president. The Yearbook committee, Nancy Frerich and Sue Sims, gave each member a copy of the 1992-93 Yearbook. Pat Callan presented the schedule of the new year's programs and meeting places.

Plans were discussed for attending the Beta Sigma Phi Area Convention which will be in Lubbock on October 9, 10 and 11.

The Social Committee, Dee Curry and Pat McKelvy, served homemade ice cream and cake. Those attending were Pat Parks, Dee Gaston, Sue Sims, Shirley Hadsell, Lou Green, Pat McKelvy, Dee Curry, Nancy Frerich, Marty Isenberg, Luella Gilliland, Opal Groce, Marge Geeze and Pat Callan.

The Beta Sigma Phi chapters are trying to locate other members of Beta Sigma Phi in our community that have not affiliated at this time. Please contact Shirley Hadsell or Pat Callan, or any Beta member if you are a former Beta Sigma Phi.

First Baptist Church

During the morning worship service on Sunday, August 30, Paul Causseaux was recognized with a Certificate of Appreciation for his years of service to the church. He was first ordained a deacon November 14, 1949, in San Antonio.

When he and Mrs. Causseaux moved to Fort Clark Springs in January, 1977, they immediately united with the First Baptist Church of Brackettville, where they continued to be active members.

Mr. Causseaux still serves as a deacon and through the years has served in many leadership capacities including church clerk and treasurer.

At 1:30 p.m., Sunday, August 30, the church hosted a Singing Celebration for the community. Tim Ward led congregational singing with Steve Mills and Lynn McNew at the instruments.

Featured performers included soloists Gil Ash, Annie Ash, and Lynn McNew. Gil and Annie Ash brought a duet, and a trio composed of Jason Ash, Leilani Williams and Guy Williams delighted the audience with five numbers.

The very talented Praise Team from Christ Bible Fellowship, Del Rio, composed of J. C. Crisp, Libby Taylor, Johnny Day, John Garenfio, and Kirk Klink rendered several numbers.

The church has made tentative plans to host such a celebration of music for the community each fifth Sunday.

Sunday evening the trio of Leilani Williams, Guy Williams and Jason Ash performed at the Northside Baptist Church in Del Rio. They were escorted to Del Rio by Annie Ash.
