Kinney County Sheriff's Department Receives Certificate Of Recognition

Sheriff Norman H. Hooten and the Kinney County Sheriff's Department recently received a "Certificate Of Recognition" from the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill and the Public Citizen's Health Research Group for Sheriff Hooten's participation in a nationwide research study of mentally ill persons in jails.

The present study is a continuation in a series of reports on the treatment of seriously mentally ill individuals carried out by the Public Citizen's Health Research Group and the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill. The study focuses exclusively on jails and does not include prisons. There are 3,353 jails in the United States, mostly run by counties or cities although in six states the jails are administered by state government (Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Rhode Island and Vermont.).

The National Alliance for the Mentally Ill states, "We wish to extend our grateful appreciation to Sheriff Hooten and other jail administrators who responded to our survey with extremely useful information despite their extremely busy schedules. The information collected from these professional criminal law enforcement administrators, on a national basis, has never been previously collected and demonstrates the difficulties faced by this group when dealing with mentally ill persons who have committed crimes.

Jail is no place for seriously menill individuals. Their tally psychiatric and medical problems often deteriorate without timely access to treatment. Despite the best efforts of some jail officials, many mentally ill persons are cruelly abused by other inmates, enduring torment, beatings, and rape. Others are exposed to deadly diseases, including tuberculosis and AIDS. Some mentally ill inmates even end their own lives rather than continue to suffer.

The PCHRG and the NAMI groups have prepared a list of recommendations, based on the information received from jail administrators, that will hopefully lead to steps to guarantee basic rights and humane treatment for seriously mentally ill individuals in jail. Efforts are being stepped up to see that

Of course, this is an exaggeration and the nationwide drug problem is far more severe than problems with a spoiled child. The way to control a spoiled child is simple: Set rules and regulations, educate that child as to the reasons for those rules; strictly enforce those rules and administer punishment when those rules are violated. The same policy should be (and in most cases is) administered in most of our law enforcement situations. The idea of ceasing our attempts at drug enforcement is deeply disturbing to most law enforcement officers, educators, parents, and for now, most of the general population.

We must keep up the fight against crime, and most especially against drugs. Without education and rules, regulations, and laws our society would soon revert to the law of the jungle where the biggest, strongest, and meanest would dominate and civilized society would cease to be.

We need, desperately need, to educate our children, their parents, and the general public as to the dangers of illegal drug use and abuse, including alcohol. But we also, somehow, need to educate our judges and lawmakers of the criminal justice system and somehow convince them to take a harder stand in support of law enforcement in general and drug enforcement in particular. Each cog in the wheel of criminal justice must be heat-treated and hardened to stand up under tremenous pressure, it must do it's part or the wheel slowly grinds to a halt. We must not let that happen!

Ironically we see judges and lawmakers take extremely hardcore stands on emotional crimes such as a deranged person going into a school with a rifle and killing and wounding for the general law-abiding public to own guns similar to that used by the killer. These emotional actions do not really affect the criminal element of our society nor do they really have any effect on those who would perform such an act. What these irrational acts by judges and lawmakers do accomplish is to satisfy the judges and lawmakers, and in some degrees, the general public that something is being done. this is by no means the answer to the problem. Making and passing laws that in actuality make "outlaws" out of already law-abiding citizens in order to soothe the outrage of the public against heinous crimes is like sticking your head in the sand and hoping it will all go away. We already have strict laws so why place further restrictions on them? Why not go after the criminal that uses a firearm in the commission of his crime and bury him or put him in prison for the rest of his life so as to prevent his committing another similar crime? How in the name of common decency can judges set up there in their ivory towers and turn loose drug dealers, murderers, and other criminals on some vague technicality or because their "rights" have been violated? Rights? How about the rights of hundreds of victims who die or have their lives ruined each year at the hands of criminals? How about the hundreds of law enforcement officers wounded or killed in action by criminals each year? Yes, we do grow confused, and yes, we do grow weary of it all sometimes. And yes, in the still of the night we sometimes lie there, staring into the darkness and ask ourselves "What is the use?" But we always, somehow, reach way down inside and find the courage and the will to rise up with the dawn to try "just one more time." We must not waver, and we must not weaken. Society as we know it needs us. Don't they?

By Joe Townsend

Last week there were two typographical errors in this column. "Are we supposed to pass out roses to the mayor for what she says will be done in 1992?" This 1992 should read 1995.

Another: "How can you justify a councilman living in one of the four bedroom houses at $961 a month?" The $961 should read $96 per month

Seems I struck a nerve as seen by the salacious letter of Mr. Gustavo Garcia. If this youngster ever becomes a journalist he has much to learn.

Just a little information: I've forgotten more about the Fire Department than you know Gus. As far as "guts," I've not seen a fire inthis county in 25 years that required an abundance of guts.

Before I came to Brackettville I was an officer in a Volunteer Fire Department. It was truly a "volunteer" department. No hospital insurance, no pension rights, no money spent in fancy schools, and no games.

It was strictly a "fire department." We fought fires like you've never seen. Gus.

I recall one cotton gin fire where I finished preaching in the morning service, took off my coat and tie and fought with others all afternoon.

Time for the evening service I washed my face, combed my hair, put on my coat and tie and preached, smelling loudly of smoke. At the close of the service, off came the coat and tie and back to fire fighting until 2:00 in the morning. No boots, no bunkers, no hard hats, just guts enough to fight fire.

So, Gus, you should know before you pop off. When I came to Brackettville before you were even a gleam in your father's eye, I tried to join the fire department and couldn't because they meet on Wednesday night.

Before Brackettville every place I've ever been Wednesday was considered "church night," but not

I went to a few fires with four or five firemen responding but was let know I not only was not needed but not wanted.

So, Gus, if you want to know about the Fire Department, I can fill you in with a lot you don't know; then you won't face such embarrassing revelations of your youthful arrogance and ignorance. By the way, how long have you been a member of the Fire Department and how many fires have you fought?

Brackettville has always been a small family like community. The Seminoles and other Afro

This has been true of the Hispanic community. There have always been a few radical racists who would stir antagonism but basically they have been disavowed by their own culture.

Recently there has been and is being a racist campaign seeking to divide the community. Pressure is being put on people because they evidence support for one not of their culture.

The police chief is stopping people with his red light to pressure them to change their support to him because they ought to support "their people." The word is being passed 'You should support your people" meaning Hispanic, simply because of race.

A certain amount of racism is required by law and judicial decree. To desire gerrymandering political lines to be sure to elect one of a particular race says two things.

It says a person elected of another race is dishonest and will not honestly represent his clientele. It further says the election of one of the favored racial group will be dishonest and represent in a biased way. This is evident anytime political lines are drawn.

However, to try to divide a community along racial lines shows a total lack of integrity. Anyone running on a racist pattern should be soundly trounced at the polls. By doing this the politican is saying, "I don't have qualifications for the office so vote for me because I'm of the same race as you." It's regretable that some decent people fall into this trap. Racial polarization does no good for anyone and is harmful to the good relations in the community. One should be completely color blind when voting; vote should be cast for the most qualified candidate. It is hoped that those pushing this type of schism in the community will be so heavily trounced that it will be apparent Brackettville and Kinney County want to be a friendly and racially compatible community. Racism led to the holocaust. There is no way to justify racism. It's as wrong to vote for a person because of his race as it is to vote against a person because of his race. Every part of the U.S. is a place I further stated that Areas I and for all to live in harmony. It is III would be almost all completed in regrettable that this bias is spreading to include one's religion and church affiliation. It's generally true when one's facts and argument are weak an attack along religious lines is called into play. America was founded on the idea that a person has the right to worship in any way he chooses. The lowest form of chicanery is to make snide remarks about one's religion been filled since 1989. # NRA CRIMESTRIKE AIDS CRIME VICTIMS - HALTS

ATTACKER'S PAROLE!

WASHINGTON, D.C. -A dangerous offender has been denied parole, thanks to a program called CrimeStrike and the Texas members of the National Rifle Association of America.

Bruton Charles Edward physcially assaulted Susan Bromberg, shot at her three times, and victimized her 11-year-old daughter in one of the worst cases of sexual assault in Dallas County. When she learned he was up for parole after serving three years of two ten-year sentences, she called CrimeStrike for help. A division of NRA, CrimeStrike placed special advertising in NRA magazines destined for Texas members, and they responded.

Hundreds called and wrote the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles. On September 14, Bruton's parole was denied.

Stephen J. Twist, Special Counsel to CrimeStrike pointed out that only 27% of first time rapists go to prison in Texas, with a medium sentence length of less than three years.

The only way to protect Texans from the Charles Edward Brutons of the world is to build more prisons, not lower ranges of punishment," Twist said. "Halting the parole of this one violent offender is a victory. But an average of another 150 offenders were released on the same day Bruton's parole was denied. This is just one small step in turning back the tide of violence in this great state."

Twist urged Texans to support the Texas CrimeStrike Initiative; (1) tough, honest sentencing for violent and repeat offenders and overhaul of the Texas habitual offenders provision; (2) prison construction, return-to-custody especially facilities to deter parole violators; (3) juvenile justice reform; (4) invigorated state victims rights laws; and (5) citizen involvement.

Americans have been favorably considered and treated as a loyal part of the community.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,

Joe Townsend is absolutely 100% correct, it is better to keep one's mouth shut and be thought ignorant than to open it and remove all doubt. So many times in the past he has done just that, removed all doubts.

He has deliberatley disorted and misquoted my statements. There is much to clarify, but he will not or can not understand.

My statement was grants are allocated, we still have to procure them. Never once did I use the word "impossible". Of course, I did not address consultant's fees, instead I invited his expertise and still do. What do I get? More criticism on the already critized.

1993. Nothing was stated about 1992. So where are my roses?

City applies in 1992 for 1993; County applies in 1993 for 1994, really very simple. We all realize that there are no guarantees in life, half pies or otherwise.

I am not supposed to appoint a Housing Director. It is still a one person part-time position that has am legally required to oversee, and faith. without compensation, the administration of the Public Housing Authority. Nothing more and nothing less. Everybody knows that.

Joe Townsend's last two paragraphs of his article are complete falsehoods and very obvious hearsay.

Thank you, Gus, for stating it most aptly, either Joe Townsend has been under a rock or in his own world.

For sure, if anything goes out with my name on, it says what I think, not what somebody else tells me to think.

So be it. Respectfully,

/s/Carmen M. Berlanga Mayor, City of Brackettville

On August 1, 1992, we had a fire in a utility building here on the ranch. We called 9-1-1.

In a few minutes, the Brackettville Volunteer Fire Department arrived.

The little building was already lost when we discovered the fire, but it sat directly behind one of our houses. The volunteers quickly put out the fire which threatened the house and the pastures around it.

We admire the professionalism demonstrated by this well organized group of firefighters, and wish to thank them publicly.

Library Hours Mon., Tue., Thu., Fri. 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Wed. 10 :00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Since the time I announced in the paper and posted flyers stating that beginning on September 30th the library hours would be changing, I have been flooded with concerned questions about how this has come to pass and what exactly does it mean. Today I will answer some of the more popular questions that have been asked thus far.

First of all, for those of you who do not know, beginning September 30, 1992, the library will be closed on Tuesdays. Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays the library will be open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. Yes, that means we will only be open four days a week and yes that means Maria and I both take a 20% pay cut. The closing of the library for a day will indeed drop our budget below the limit for us to keep getting our San Antonio freebies. It is proposed that the county will do the long awaited repairs to the library and add that money to our budget total to keep us above the limit.

No, the idea of closing the library one day a week was not my idea nor was I, the Librarian, consulted about the matter before it was proposed at the county commissioners meeting on September 8th. The final budget cuts were made and approved that day. I sin-

By Martha Grimes

Remember the Old Contemptible? Well, she has done it again.

Martha Grimes has done what authors hope for and few accomplish. She has provided the reader with a wonderful story line, marvelous characters, and a murderer no one can identify.

I would personally wish to meet the reader who says they know who the murderer is before the last few pages.

There are no gory scenes, no strong language, no unneeded characters. A strong story line, indeed, surrealism to its zenith, and yet, so gripping, so involving ... well, just read it.

Then, recommend it to your friends!

James B. Fraser used four models of the symbols of his design of the Buffalo Nickel. Minted in 1913, this coin issue ran for twenty-five years and is the only coin collected, bought, sold and recorded by the name of the reverse rather than the obverse side like other coins.

About the only possible reason (and that's a weak one) is that the reverse side of this coin was changed twice in design in 1913 when the name "Buffalo Nickel" was probably picked up. The head, or obverse, side of this nickel is a composite of three Indian chiefs: John Big Tree, Two Moons, and Iron Tail. The buffalo or bison was modeled from "Black Diamond," a resident of Central Park Zoo in New York City.

Perhaps the most interesting of the three chiefs was Big Tree. He was a war chief of the Kiowas, captured on a raid, and sent to prison. On the way, he struck down a guard and escaped, but was recaptured and sentenced to hang. His sentence was finally changed to life in Huntsville, Texas. Petitions for his release poured into Washington.

After two years of imprisonment, he was released in 1873 and warned to stay on the reservation. Big Tree eventually left the reservation and

There were 8,362,000 nickels minted in Denver in 1918 and just how many were struck over the 1917 issue is anyone's guess. If you have one, hang onto it, the value is rising everyday. This situation came up again in striking the 1938D nickel. This was the last year the Buffalo Nickel was minted and dies prepared in San Francisco were sent to Denver to be used. A mint employee tried to save a little time by dropping a "D" over the letter "S" in one of the working dies, but it was not discovered until a few years later. In 1967, a coin with a "D" over the "S" would bring $6.00 in good condition and $35.00 for uncirculation. No one knows how many are around, if any nor what the coin would bring today.

On Monday evening, September 21, a "Back To School" rush party was held in the Sabre Room at Fort Clark. Chapters Beta Epsilon Omicron and Theta Sigma sponsored the rush party. The room was decorated with school bulletin boards, chalk board, and student handwork.

8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by Shirley Hadsell and a short business meeting was held before Shirley turned the meeting over to Sue Sims who was program chairperson.

Her program theme was "getting better acquainted." Sue interviewed each of the chapter presidents and asked them to tell ancedotes that would give an insight into their personalities.

Sue then read a poem written by a Beta Sigma Phi member which described the attributes and faults one might expect to find in members who were born under certain signs of the Zodiac. The poem was amusing and quite accurate at time.

Then Pat Callnan acted as teacher of the evening and had each rushee introduce herself and tell what she had done during the summer. After all had been introduced, the group was divided into two teams and a spelling bee was held. It was a very short spelling bee and ended in a tie.

Sue Sims and Evelyn Whitely were the last standing spellers.

Pam Melancon was chosen to be teacher's pet and was asked to give each person a shiny red apple.

The entire group was then lined up and taken to the kitchen where they each received a brown paper bag with a sandwich, fruit and cupcake. They were allowed to trade sandwiches if they wished. The favorite sandwich of the evening was peanut butter and jelly.

A social time ended the evening. Rushees were Laura Phillips, Regina Marshall, Evelyn Whitely, Florence Stafford, Lynn McNew, Dawn Hudson, Robin Glass, Liz Frerich, Pam Melancon, Nina Batson, and Leslie Houk. an and a second second

Double Standard Or What?

There is a scandal in the county. One of the Kortman county leaders got caught doing something that just didn't seem right to some of the citizens in our area. All of his money and all of his crooked connections couldn't keep it quiet.

I think it's great.

Otis Hasyacash, Kortman county's mainest watchdog (self proclaimed) for the prevention of financial wrong doings has been taking money from three different state and county retirement funds.

He claims that he is entitled to all three retirement funds even though he has never worked for any of the agencies that is paying him.

Yep, he's drawing $300.00 a month from the State Office for The Advancement of Tourism. $235.67 a month from the County Road Department and $67.98 a month from the State Bureau of Livestock and Janitorial Control.

We figure the only reason he was turned in was because his mother-inlaw tried to retire early from the Women's Correctional Institute where she was the head cook and maintenance person for more than 18 years. And he told her that if she took a cut in income she would have to move out.

That proves he's not too smart. Hell, even I know you don't go around making your mother-in-law mad.

But the situation is this.

The other board members are gonna hang 'im unless he can figure a way for them to get the same retirement benefits.

Fishing Report

He feels he is justified because he has worked with each of these agencies on various occasions in the consulting capacity.

He had made several trips to Juarez for consultation with one or two of the board members with the tourist bureau. And his name is on the list showing that he was there. So he feels that he should be considered an employee.

As for the Road Department, he has worked with them for over 15 years advising them on just how much gravel and blacktop to put down on his roads around all his rent houses and ranch land.

So far, we haven't figured out just how he's gonna explain the Livestock and Janitorial check, but we feel reasonably sure he will find a

Some of the people think he should repay all the money he has received from his multiple retirement situation, while some others think he should resign. I think he should do both, then do time. After all, he is the one that fired the head dog catcher for accepting money for doing away with unwanted dogs and cats.

But time will tell. I just hope he doesn't figure a way to get all the other board members on retirement before the real citizens can get him.

As much money as them guys make on the side, I'm thinking pretty serious about running for county commissioner. No more than they do, and for all the money they make, that job is the highest hourly wage in the United States.

Kinney County lies in district 2 which contains the countries of: Bandera, Kerr, Edwards, Kimble, Mason, Medina, Menard, Real, Shleicher, Tom Green, Uvalde and Zavala.

Ballots will indicate: First, whether or not the voting producer is interested in supporting a referendum dedicated to area-wide predator control, which would be additional control on predation to any program now in place and second, producers will vote for three directors to represent their district on the commodity producers' board, provided the referendum passes.

Prospective board member candidates must contact the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association office for the necessary paper work. They also need ten producer names on a petition to be listed on the ballot.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will conduct the election with local county extension offices serving as the voting sites in each of the designated counties.

If you want more information on the Sheep and Goat Referendum, contact the Texas and Goat Raisers office or the Kinney County Extension office.

The AHB has had more than enough time to set up colonies in vacant hunting camps.

The Brackett Hews.

An Africanized honey bee colony at a hunting lease can remain undetected for a long time because often human activity is low in this area of the ranch except during hunting season

Cracks in walls and foundations allow the bees to build hives in vacant hunting cabins or underneath mobile homes or steps. Vehicles that have not been driven since last hunting season, old spare tires, deer feeders, or appliances such as refrigerators or water heaters provide an attractive local for nests. Hunters should check hunting blinds for bees as well. A 55 gallon drum used to store feed may have a large enough opening to provide a home for bees.

The Africanized honey bee, more commonly known as the "killer bee" is spreading through most of South Texas and may be found in the Texas Hill Country by the end of the year. Migrating into Texas from Mexico, the bee was first found in the Lower Rio Grande Valley in October, 1990. Colonies are usually discovered sooner in urban areas because of the relatively high concentration of people. Colonies in rural areas, however, may exist undisturbed for months or years.

West Texas Trail Walkers

Big Bend Park, October 10 & 11

The West Texas Trail Walkers will sponsor three Volksmarches (walks) in the Big Bend National Park, October 10 and 11, 1992. All area residents are invited to participate in these events.

Beautiful and scenic trails have been mapped for the enjoyment of the walkers. Included on Saturday are Blue Creek Ranch and Blue Creek Trail, Red Rocks Canyon area on the 10 Kilometer (6.2 miles) trail and encompassing other scenic trails for those walkers opting for the 15K or 21K trails. Sunday walks, 11K each, include the Lost Mine Trail, Chisos Basin Loop Trail and the Window Trail. A variety of grasslands, woodlands, desert plant zones, and spectacular scenery await the walkers.

Tom Spencer, President of the West Texas Trail Walkers, explains that a Volksmarch is a trail walk which follows a designated route. It is a family sport which is noncompetitive with participants encouraged to take each walk at his or her own individual pace and endurance. Anyone completing the walk is a winner.

The aim of Volkssporting is to promote good health and is designed to appeal to people of all ages. You will find young, and old, and in between on the trails. Volkssporting began in Germany and literally translates into "sport of the people". Volkssports events are free to safety awareness on America's farms and ranches, the week of Sept. 20-26 has been proclaimed National Farm Safety Week. "This year's theme, 'Take Charge of Your Safety and Health,' emphasizes that safety and health begin with each of us,' Perry said.

More than 70 fatalities and approximately 70,000 injuries were recorded on Texas farms and ranches during 1990, the latest year for which data are available.

Tractors and farm equipment accounted for 44 percent of the fatalities and injuries. Tractors are a basic piece of equipment on most farms, and overturns claimed 15 lives during 1990. Many of these could have been prevented by using rollbars or seat belts.

Combines, cotton pickers, shredders and hay balers present additional risks, and many injuries and

The Act had two parts (the result of a compromise among various members of Congress). "Preemption" referred to the original Preemption Act of 1830, which allowed settlers who had already cultivated public land to pre-empt it by purchasing up to 160 acres at 1.25 per acre; this became permanent law. "Distribution" referred to the fact that 500,000 acres of public land in the western territories would be distributed to each new state for the internal improvements which would throw open new lands of the west for settlers.

"hidden hazards" that many agricultural workers overlook

Respiratory problems from inhaling dust from moldy hay, straw or grain can create an allergic reaction called Farmer's Lung. And prolonged exposure to the noise from tractors, combines or even chainsaws can cause permanent hearing loss.

In addition, agricultural workers should always use protective clothing and equipment when handling any chemicals. All clothing should be washed daily with soap and water, separately from other clothing.

"The health of all our agricultural workers is a vital resource to Texas. Accidents represent economic losses -- not only from medical costs and damage to equipment but from the loss of valuable knowledge and skills inherent in the agricultural work force," Perry said.

You would have this option of "blocking" your name/number on each call free of charge. There would be no need to subscribe to this service. All customers would have this capability when Caller ID is introduced in their area.

If you want to block your name or number, you need only press *67 on your touch-tone pad (or dial 1167 from a rotary phone) before dialing the telephone number. The person you're calling would see displayed a message such as "private" or "anonymous" on their Caller ID display unit.

Tigerettes Second In District

Tigers Blank Panthers

By LYNN FLOYD Brackett News Writer

The Tigerettes battled it out last Tuesday with Lytle to determine who would remain undefeated and in first place in District 29-AA.

The Lady Pirates took a quick 5-0 lead in the first game of the match, then went ahead later 12-2. But the Tigerettes wouldn't give up as they scored eight unanswered points. That wouldn't be enough for Brackett as they lost 15-13.

Sophomore Kim Ahrens scored six straight points in the second game to give the Tigerettes the momentum they needed to win game two 15-11.

It was all Lytle in the third and deciding game as they won 15-1. Lytle is now in first place with a perfect 4-0 record as the Tigerettes move down to second place with a 3-1 district record and a 6-3 overall record after losing to Carrizo Springs Saturday afternoon.

Angel Jaso (42) makes the first down keeping the game winning drive alive.

The Tigers battled it out at home against the Nueces Canyon Panthers last Friday night. What looked very well like a scoreless game turned into Brackett's first victory.

The Tigers first drive took them down to the Nueces ten-yard line but they couldn't convert any points. Brackett then threatened later in the second quarter but still had no luck.

It wasn't until the fourth quarter with under three minutes to play in the game that Quarterback Lynn Floyd pitched the ball to Tailback John Ingram who scampered 57 yards for the game's only score. Angel Jaso missed the extra-point kick

The Panthers then took over with time running out. Their drive was cut short when Jesse Terrazas intecepted a pass which iced the game for the Tigers with a 6-0 score.

Every teacher in the state of Texas knows what the essential elements are for the subject that the teacher teaches. The exit test for grade 11 which will be given at the end of October is important because students may not receive diplomas unless they pass the test. If the test is not passed in grade 11, the student may come back and take the test in grade 12. If the test is still not passed by the student, former students may come back and take the test by checking with their guidance counselor or high school principal.

Those folks that are still reading can easily see why school districts place very heavy emphasis on the essential elements and on TAAS test. The results of the TAAS are school district's effectiveness.

It is important that students at all Texas schools learn the essential elements. All courses taught in Texas have essential elements even though tests have not been developed except for language arts, students at Brackett ISD. All students in grades 3 and 7 will take the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test (TAAS). The test is a very important one for each student and for the Brackett School District.

The test is criterion driven meaning that each test item is selected from essential elements that are taught to all Texas students as a result of Texas Education Agency mandates.

An essential element is simply a concept that must be learned by students such as in grade two being able to tell time on traditional clocks or in grade four recalling multiplication facts or solving division problem related to multiplication facts.

So you see that although we do not know exactly what form the questions will take, we do know what facts and processes will be used to determine the questions. These facts and processes are called the criteria; thus we have a criterion referenced test.

This week is a busy one for the tly being developed for science, physical education and social studies.

> A student in grade seven should have learned "the how to" (essential elements) in grades kindergarten through seventh grade. Every grade level is important, and each teacher that the child has works diligently on a daily basis to make sure that essential elements have been learned.

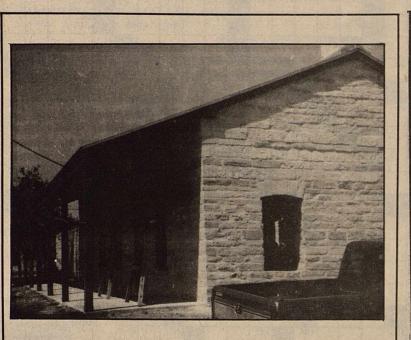

> It is very much like watching a great relay team at the state track meet...the baton is passed from grade level to grade level. If the child arrives without the basic essential elements, the teacher in the next grade must do her best to help the child catch up.

> Essential elements are mentioned and outlined in the textbooks, but teachers must have more assurance than the textbook offers to make sure that essential elements are known by children. For instance, each day in the Brackett Schools we have approximately seventeen teachers who are teaching math. It is absolutely essential that these teachers have written curriculum that is built on the essential elements in math and that each teacher has a basic knowledge of what math skills are being acquired elsewhere in the school district curriculum.

> Because of the importance of the TAAS test and because Brackett ISD cares about its children, my job is to involve educators in writing a new curriculum for each subject that insures that our children will continue to receive the best. It's a new job, a new challenge, and a new era for the Brackett Schools. Our district belongs to a Curriculum Network which includes curriculum directors in Asherton, Crystal City, Dilley, LaPryor and Brackettville.

The directors have similar challenges in each of these schools, and the school districts have chosen to work together as a network to provide curriculum direction for their individual schools. In joining the network, the Brackett School Board and School Administration are trying to meet the needs of our students well into the 21st century.

Brackett ISD students will be the

JOURNALISM CLASS NEEDS YOUR HELP

The 1991-92 yearbooks are still on sale for $22.00. There are only 20 left so get them while you can. Contact Mrs. Sims at 563-2491 or the following journalism students at BHS:

Lynn Floyd Editor-In-Chief Assistant Editor Manuel Ramon Miro Martinez Business Manager Jessica Taylor Computer Operator Class Editor Detra Hale Zoila Herrera Club/Sports Editor Adrian O. Pena Head Photographer Advertisements for the 1992-1993 yearbook are on sale during the month of October so local businesses are asked to contribute. Journalism students will contact all local business men and women to request ads.

Due to the increase in publishing fees, the cost of the ads have unfortunately gone up, too. The costs are as follows: 1/16...$15; 1/8...$25; 1/4...$50; 1/2...$80; fullpage...$150. Ads will be placed on activity pages again this year so that everyone will read the ads as they enjoy reading the yearbook.

You may contact Mrs. Sims or any journalism student for more information. Your support will be greatly appreciated as it will keep the memories alive.

The 1992-1993 yearbook will go on sale October 1 and will also be sold by journalism students. The price will remain at $22.00. We're planning an excellent book and hope you will buy one!

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A lot is out of your control this week. Don't worry, though, because even if it doesn't look like it, partners do have matters well in hand. So when you finally DO get the explanations this weekend, you'll feel adored because of how it all went down.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Humor, my dear Bull, helps you deal with all the changes of the week. Your role as the stable, easygoing nurturer is definitely needed. A loved one falls in love with you all over again because of your superb control.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It'll be hard to put a halt to all the socializing you've been doing, but you need to concentrate on more serious matters. Expenses should be kept to a minimum, so watch your wallet. Use the weekend for some quiet reflection. You need to reassess your goals.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Most situations are rolling along exactly as you want, so enjoy your success. Be aware, though, by week's end, there may be a fly in the ointment. Take this in stride. Everything will work out well ultimately.

LEO (July 23-August 22) The beginning of the week finds you "paying for playing." However, by midweek, you're back in stride. Don't procrastinate with tasks at hand. They will only come back to haunt you.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Now that all is once again harmonious on the home front, it may be a good time for you to consider a weekend getaway together. In fact, the upcoming weekend seems perfect. Make plans now.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Since you've found how pleasant light. SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Since a meeting of the minds has occurred between you and your mate, spend some time just enjoying each other's company. Romance is highly favored this week, so take advantage of it. The weekend is good for having friends over

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) It's time to roll up your sleeves and get to work on those tasks you've been putting aside for a while. Once they're done, and the week is over, you will feel energized and productive. Spend the weekend with relatives

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) It's a good time for you to start thinking about physical fitness. Adopt an exercise regimen you know you can stick to, and get to it. This is no time to sit around as pounds may add up.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) You often find yourself getting sidetracked by your socializing. However, you need to spend some time this week re-evaluating your goals. The important question for you is, can you continue to be Peter Pan?

PISCES (February 19-March 20) All is right in your little kingdom, so feel free to relax and enjoy. In order to do this, you need to stop being so intense. Work will still be there when you decide to buckle down once again. Children require extra attention. ©1992 by King Features Synd.

The name of Arturo Toscanini has an elevated place among the great musicians of the world. That Italian conductor of symphonies died in his native Italy in 1957.

Brazil learned of the notable musician and invited Toscanini to visit them. He electrified the audiences with his cellist talents. In fact, the Rio de Janeiro opera orchestra engaged Toscanini to remain the rest of the season during his visit and lead their orchestra.

Toscanini demanded perfection from his musicians. It's noteworthy that he inspired all his players with his supernatural energy.

One big weakness in the life of Toscanini was his temper. At times he would erupt like a volcano!

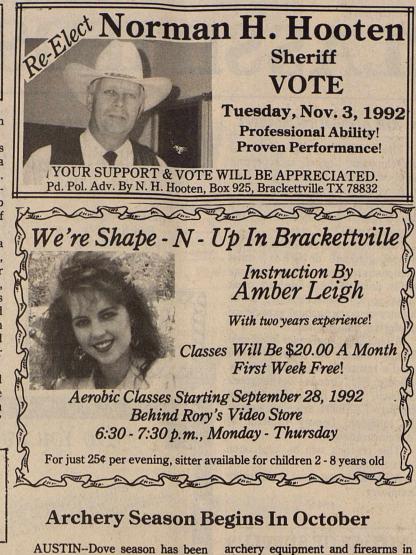

During one performance a musician produced a "flat note." The gifted Toscanini yanked off his valuable watch and smashed it on the floor!

The next week the conductor's devoted musicians gave him a velvet-lined box with two watches. One was expensive; the other, inexpensive. On the back of the cheap one were the words, "For Times Of Anger."

Most everyone has thrown a "temper tantrum." The Bible says, "Don't let the sun go down on your wrath." Again, the Bible declares, 'Be angry, and sin not." Now that is a tough assignment! And yet, God provides the resources so we can meet life at its most trying times and win without coming apart or "blowing up."

God's patience, wisdom, and peace is the medicine we can use whenever it's needed. Have you checked your "medicine cabinet" lately?

The next step in the fall chain of hunting events begins in October with the archery only season for deer and turkey and several other game seasons.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission approved adding one day to the end of the archery deer and turkey season, giving bowhunters five complete weekends in the woods. The season will run Oct. 1-Nov. 1. This regulation is applicable only in 1992.

The commission also clarified the rule allowing hunters to posses both

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for optional Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone service, effective March 15, 1993, unless otherwise determined by the PUC.

These proposed rates will not increase or decrease the Company's overall revenues; the net effect will be neutral to the Company's annual revenues

The Company proposes to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service for residential customers from $1.00 to 68 cents, and also to reduce the Touch-tone rates for business customers from $1.75 to $1.70. In addition, the Touch-tone rates for business PBX trunks will be reduced from $3.15 to $2.18.

This proposal to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service does not change the commitment that the Company made in the Docket No. 8585 Stipulation to reduce the rates for Touch-tone service in 1993.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 and Speed Calling-30. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

	Residence		Business

Most of the Company's residence and business customers who subscribe to Custom Calling Features and Touch-tone service will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring.

It is expected that the restructuring of Custom Calling Features will result in a rate increase for approximately 2.9 million residence customers and 280.000 business customers. The reduction in rates for certain Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone Service will affect approximately 4.3 million residence customers and 1.7 million business customers

This rate restructuring is expected to have a "revenue-neutral" effect on the Company's annual revenues. The proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million; while the reduction in Touch-tone rates will decrease the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11382. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 30, 1992. A request to intervene. participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. train about 50 Hawaiian Baptists who have been enlisted to staff the emergency food service operation on the hard-hit resort island of Kauai.

One week earlier, Texas Baptists airlifted 20 tons of food, clothing, child care supplies, medical equipment and building tools to Nicaragua to aid survivors of a massive tidal wave that hit the country's Pacific coast.

Meanwhile, in southern Louisiana, Texas Baptists prepared about 100,000 meals in two weeks for victims of Hurricane Andrew as part of a Southern Baptist effort involving volunteers from six states.

And after learning about a community of needy Haitians in south Florida who were suffering in Andrew's aftermath, Texas Baptists sent them 50,000 pounds of rice.

Southern Baptist volunteers from 10 states have staffed 13 disaster relief mobile units stationed in south Florida, serving up to 80,000 meals a day.

FC Historical Society Slide Show And Talk "Mexican Big Bend"

"Following the path of a party of forty-niners through the mountains of northern Mexico" will be the subject of a talk and slide presentation by Ben Pingenot at the monthly meeting of the Fort Clark Historical Society on Saturday, September 26. 1992, at 10:00 a.m. in the Saber Room

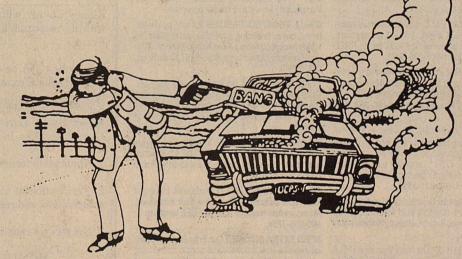

In 1849, following the discovery of gold in California, a group of men from Ohio journeyed to Texas and crossed into Mexico enroute to California. Instead of following the main route taken by most Argonauts, the Ohio group elected to take a wilderness shortcut across the mountains of northern Mexico.

Pingenot's slide presentation follows the journal kept by one of these forty-niners and reveals recently discovered evidence of their trek more than 120 years later.

Old Fort Clark's connection with this scenic tour is the fact that cavalrymen under Colonels Mackenzie and Shafter made numerous expeditions into these mountains in the late 1870s in pursuit of hostile Lipan and Mescalero Apache Indians.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and slide presentation.
