

Board Awards Personnel Contracts

Lingo Sandoval, Gloria Garcia, Jim McDaniel, Jewel Robinson, and Stan Conoly were present when president Jimmy Bader called the BISD school board meeting to order at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 14. 1994. Minutes of the February 14 and March 3 meetings were approved as printed.

Cindy Brandt administered the oath of office to newly appointed board member Pat Melancon.

The board adopted the 1994-95 school calendar.

President Bader called for an election of school trustees for May 7, 1994, and the board approved Jean Faulkenberry as election judge, Gloria Benacci as school election official, and Beth Ann Smith, Candy Hobbs and Cindy Brandt as absentee election clerks.

The board discussed establishing a procedure for filling vacancies that occur on the board. Superintendent Steve Mills had contacted TASB for guidance and learned that no school district in the state had filed a policy on replacement with them. The board compiled a suggested procedure of announcing the vacancy, accepting applications of interest, choosing a person or rejecting all applicants in favor of another qualified individual. This will be an April agenda item.

The board discussed the cost of operating the county swimming pool providing a softball field. No ac-

Bus routes for 1994-95 were approved. Ballots were voted for Region 20 directors.

The textbook committee recommendation of a blank adoption of all textbooks was accepted.

Action on a summer lunch program was deferred until a representative from the Southwest Texas Community Council met with the board.

Gloria Benacci discussed the financial statement: 93.70% of 1993-94 taxes have been collected; revenues to date is 64.39% of budget; expenditures are 61.88% of budget; a very stable report.

Jones Elementary Carl Glass reported an enrollment of 336 compared to 275 this time last year; Super-S cash register receipts submitted total $300,000; students will be going to UIL contest Monday.

Middle School Principal Stoney Burks reported completion of TAAS 8th grade writing; UIL competition Monday and Saturday; students will attend a Community Concert March 28; and a pilot program of selling refreshments tied to responsibility during study hall period.

High School Principal Don Sims reported an enrollment of 269 students; JTPA will fund PLATO lab for the summer; UIL contests; four explusion hearings - 1 expelled, 3 homebound.

board training and parenting seminars; and discussed a Middle School survey done by the school which indicated the vast majority of students in middle school felt safe at school.

The board entered into a closed session to discuss personnel. Back in open session, personnel contracts were renewed.

Shahan's Win Includes New Trailer

Thursday, March 10, 1994, will long be remembered by Brackett FFA Member Wil Shahan. That's the day his Fine Wool Lamb was judged the Grand Champion at the San Angelo Livestock Exposition. The lamb sold for $4500.00, top dollar for this year's show. Added to that, Easley Trailer Company's San Angelo distributor presented Shahan with a 20'x6' Easley stock trailer, double deck, state-of-the line, even guaranteed not to rattle! The trailer is to be used by Wil's sponsor for one year; however, Shahan insisted that the trailer was to be used by both the Brackett FFA and the Kinney County 4-H Club. Shahan showed under the 4-H sponsorship prior to showing under the FFA ban-tion was taken.

The board voted to approve Kinney County Chief Appraiser Marcus Tidwell's recommendation to dispose of two lots in Spofford and one in Brackett (these are the same lots as reported in report from Commisisoners Court).

Suggestions of names for the "new library" were made. No action was taken.

City Awards Paving Contract To Cor

At 6 p.m., Tuesday, March 15, 1994, Mayor Carmen Berlanga presided over the Brackettville City Council meeting with Council Members Larry Moore, Jean Seargeant, Mary Flores, Julia Fuentes Molano, and Ralph Gonzalez present.

After the mintues were approved, Mayor Berlanga read resolutions awarding a paving contract to Cor Construction and amending the grant application to include the additonal streets. The council approved both items.

The council considered a request for placement of a sidewalk on city property at the Filippone Building and parking spaces on El Paso and James Streets. Evaluating the inspection done by David Martinez, the council approved the installations on El Paso Street but deemed the James Street space as too near the street for safety.

Mayor Berlanga appointed Allen Kreiger, Jr. election judge and Zulema Wilson assistant judge for the May 7, 1994, city election.

At 6:14 p.m. the council entered into executive session to discuss the employment contract of City Secretary/Manager David G. Luna. At 6:32 p.m., the council reconvened in open session and voted to accept the contract with Luna as printed. (Prior to this, the city had not extended a contract to Luna).

Financial statements were reviewed and accepted. Julie Molano drew the name for Random Drug Testing.

Mr. Luna presented a letter he had received from the Texas Resource verifying that the closure of the landfill, previously operated by the city, as per requirements. The area is being monitored and will continue to be monitored for five years as required by law.

The meeting adjourned at 6:36 p.m.

Curriculum Director Taylor Stephenson presented detailed information on curriculum development. Superintendent Steve Mills distributed a sample family medical leave policy to be studied for April/May agendas; reported an improved location of teachers' lounge; announced 1-act play presentation scheduled for Thursday at 7 p.m.; reminded board of

It's Now Safe To Drive Across Pinto Creek on Gaebler Road

At 9 a.m. Monday, March 14, 1994, Judge Tim Ward called the Kinney County Commissioners Court into regular session with Commissioners Freddie Frerich. Plunker Sheedy, Cordelia Mendeke and Alvin McClure present. Jean Faulkenberry spoke the invocation and the pledge of allegiance was quoted in unison.

Minutes of the February 14 meeting had been approved on February 28 so only minutes of February 28 needed to be read and they were approved as read.

Road Supervisor Cliff Fritter proudly displayed pictures pre/during/completed - of the bridge over Pinto Creek on Gaebler Road. He also reported additional maintenance activity on county roads. He reported delivering county-owned voting booths to Precincts 1 and 3 to be used in the Democratic Primary election, and preparing for the March 19 county auction of surplus equipment.

Judge Ward read recommendations from Kinney County Chief Tax Appraiser Marcus Tidwell to: 1) transfer title of two lots, held in trust, in Spofford to the Spofford Youth Organization for the sum of $1 with a stipulation they would revert to the "held in trust" status if used for any other purpose. County Attorney Tully Shahan was asked to research the non-profit/tax emempt status to determine the legality; and 2) sell Lot 7, Block L, corner of Thomas and Rock in Brackettville, held in trust, for $453. The court was agreeable to the sale but favored advertising the sale. "Held in trust" is a term for property taken for unpaid taxes and all taxing entities involved must agree to the disposal).

Stuart requested to delay presenting a report to the court until April because he had large tour groups at the Park this week.

Judge Ward reported on the Civic Center parking lot - pot poles had been patched but no seal coating. He had reminded the contractor that a penalty of $200 per day since the targeted completion date of February 25 was being assessed. Painting of the Civic Center should be completed this week.

The court agreed to start clean-up and repair of the watershed dams as soon as the Civic Center project was completed. The dam project will be done jointly with the city.

Commissioner McClure requested release as Hazard Control officer and Commissioner Mendeke was appointed to replace him, and to work with County Auditor Cordelia Barlow in meeting the reporting deadline, and the court approved the $75 annual filing fee.

Bob Hogan made a presenation to the court pertaining to applying for E.D.A.P. (Economic Distressed Area Program) grant funds to do an engineering survey exploring methods of providing water to Spofford. The engineering fee would be $50,000. Spofford Mayor J.B. Herndon and Spofford City Council members Tootsie Herndon and Joe Cruz, along with MRGDC Grant specialist Anna Hernandez heard the presentation. At the request of Judge Ward, they met together to evaluate the presentation later reported to the court that Mrs. Hernandez would research the proposal and notify Judge Ward of their interest.

Aileen Reed and Marsha Harrell, representing the county

Kickapoo Park Ranger David employees, stated that the employees met, as planned, and identified several concerns: 1) consider letting sick leave accumulate; 2) requested memo on health insurance status; 3) training for staff to do grant applications; 4) compensation for use of personal vehicles when running errands for county. All departments had been represented at the meeting except library. nutrition center, and sheriff's depar> tment. Bills were reviewed and approved for payment.

> Wayne Long, Land Date Computer representative, appeared before the court in regards to the computer system in the county clerk's office. He proposed a software maintenance agreement at $87.50 per month and a hardware maintenance of $450 per month which would upgrade and maintain the sytem. The clerk's budget will take care of the software and the hardware expenditures would be paid from fees.

Paul Ponebshek and Bob Cowell, both of San Antonio, planners of the June NSS Convention in Kinney County, enthusiastically shared a progress report on the convention. They said one of the reasons Kinney County was chosen by the site selection committee was the cooperation and warm welcome they received in their preliminary visits. They also said they looked forward to their state Cavers Convention at Fort Clark April 20-23, 1994...the second consecutive year to meet at Fort Clark.

Sheriff Norman Hooten appeared before the court with information that the Amistad Narcotic Task Force was near dissolving due to withdrawal of several entities. He had been approached to ask Kinney County to become the grantee. He was uncertain of his desire to do so but would be doing additional research. An emergency meeting of the Kinney County Commissioners Court, properly posted, was scheduled for 2 p.m.

Attorney Shahan reminded the court that no lease agreement between Kinney County and the Little League Association had been signed for use of the Little League ball park. Reportedly, Woody Massingill had resigned as Little League president.

The court recessed until 2 p.m. for the Emergency meeting.

Kinney County Signs Resolution To Become Amistad Narcotic Task Force Grantee

At 2 p.m., Monday, March 14, 1994, Judge Tim Ward called the Kinney County Commissioners Court into emergency session. Commissioners Frerich, Sheedy, and McClure were present.

Kinney County Sheriff Norman Hooten presented Project Director Steve Woollen, DEA Agent Bill McDonald, and Administrative Aide Alicia Rush.

Mr. Woollen explained to the court the position the Task Force was in and a lengthy discussion ensued. The court voted to sign a resolution for Kinney County to become the grantee of the Task Force. Full details are available, but basically they are:

1. Kinney County will not be financially responsible for the operation;

2. Steven Woollen and Alicia Rush will be absorbed into Kinney County personnel but reimbursement for their salaries will come from the Task Force:

3. The task force has assets of approximately of $91,815 (this amount fluctuates):

4. The task force provides community services not available anywhere else;

5. The task force has put 495 people in jail for drug offenses in the past 2 years;

6. Real, Edwards and Kinney Countyies plan to remain components of the Task Force;

7. The task force will have three officials: the Kinney County judge; the Kinney County auditor; and the Project Manager;

8. At least for the time being, task force headquarters will remain in its present location in Del Rio:

9. Should the task force dissolve at a future date, Kinney County will suffer no financial loss.

March 17, 1994

The Kinney County Commissioners Court passed a resolution in favor of submitting an application to Austin for the continued funding of the Amistad Area Narcotics Task Force at an emergency meeting of the court called for that purpose at 2:00 p.m. Monday, March 14, 1994.

The grant, which must first be approved by the Texas Narcotics Control Program, a division of the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office, was presented to the Commissioners Court by representatives of the task force which included Kinney County Sheriff Norman H. Hooten (a Control Board Member), Mr. Steve Woolen, Project Director, Bill Mc-Donald, Field Commander, and Alicia Rush, Secretary/Clerk.

The grant application, which had to be in Austin by Tuesday, March 15th, was passed unanimously by the four members of the Kinney County Commissioners Court present at the time, one commissioner was absent. The grant asks for $217,892.00 in federal grant funds through the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office with a cash match pledge from participating agencies in the amount of $72,631.00. At the present time it is anticipated that the drug task force will have participation from the following agencies: 1) Kinney County Sheriff's Department; 2) Edwards County Sheriff's Department, 3) Real County Sheriff's Department; 4) the City of Del Rio Police Department; 5) U.S. Border Patrol; 6) Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA); and possible future participation from the counties of Terrell (Sanderson), and Kimble (Junction).

The primary participating counties and agencies required to pledge cash match resolutions at the present time are: 1) Kinney County (grantee) $39,949.00; 2) Edwards County $10,894.00; 3) Real County $10,894.00; and the City of Del Rio $10,894.00. At the present time the drug task force provides jobs for 17 personnel including drug agents, a special prosecutor with the District Attorney's Office, and clerical personnel. More positions will be made available if and when other agencies and/or counties come on board.

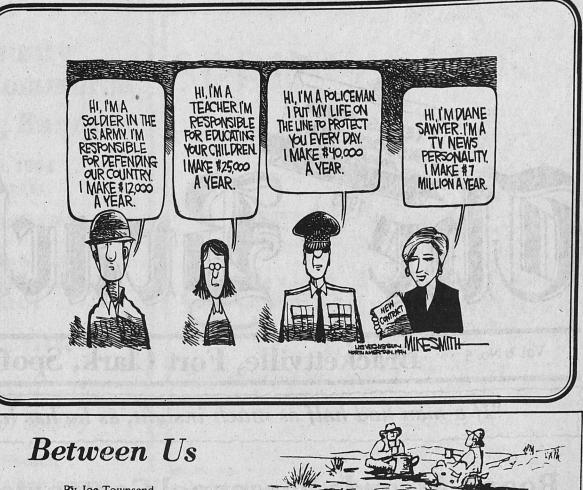

If approved by the CJD and the TNCP, as it is expected to be, the grant will become effective June 1, 1994, and run through May 31, 1995. The current grant in operation at this time will run through May 31st of this year.

The application approved by the Kinney County Commissioners Court became necessary in order to keep the drug task force in operation due to actions (or lack of) by the Val Verde County Commissioners Court on Monday, March 7, 1994. On that date the VVCCC held a special meeting reference the drug task force and when called upon to approve/disapprove a grant application resolution required to fund the task force for the time period of June 1, 1994 through May 31, 1995, the court was split by a 2-2 vote. With one commissioner absent because of illness the court was deadlocked and therefore could not take action one way or the other. This, in effect, killed the issue and the task force was in danger of dying on the vine at the conclusion of May 31, 1994.

The drug task force was first formed in 1987 with the City of Del Rio (police department) as grantee. It was first known as the Tri-County Drug Task Force with the name changed shortly therafter to the Del Rio Narcotics Trafficking Task Force. Del Rio and the Del Rio Police Department dropped out in 1991 after continued disagreements with the task force and the Board of Governors over seized and forfeited cash and property. The task force was then reorganized in February 1992 with Val Verde County and the Val Verde County Sheriff's Department as grantees. The name was changed once again, this time to the Amistad Area Narcotics Task Force, with headquarters in Del Rio.

Since it was first formed in 1987 the drug task force has been very effective in drug interdiction and enforcement in spite of its problems with inter-departmental squabbles and territorial jealousies. Numerous arrests of drug dealers, users, and smugglers have been made with a very high conviction rate with numerous convicted drug dealers and users receiving stiff prison terms. Hundreds of thousands of dollars in cash and property has been seized and forfeited to the task force, in effect causing the drug dealers to finance the battle being waged against them. It is this effectiveness in combating the continuing drug problem in our area and along the Texas-Mexico border that was the deciding issue in my decision to try and keep the task force alive and well and working on our benall After being advised by Val Verde County Sheriff J.R. Koog that his. Commissioners Court had failed to take affirmative action in regards to renewing their grant application I immediately started making calls tothe other remaining counties and agencies in an attempt to see how they felt about trying to keep the task force in effect. I received overwhelming support from all those contacted, including Sheriff Koog, who regretted his county's failure to continue in support of the task force. I then contacted Mr. Jimmy Wilburn, Executive Director of the Texas Narcotics Control Program in Austin. The TNCP works under and in cooperation with the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. Mr. Wilburn was highly supportive of our desires to keep the task force in effect and working and stayed in constant contact with me daily during that period of time that I was attempting to gain support from other agencies and counties in our efforts.

By Joe Townsend,

In today's world there is often no correlation between the name of an organization and the action. Annually, a dissident organization called "Pastors for Peace" rears its ugly head. The basic motivation of the organization is to defy the law.

The head of the organization first was in Nicaraugua and was wounded. He was in an area where he was daring anything to happen. He

The continued support and encouragement expressed by Mr. Wilburn, the TNCP, and the other participating counties and agencies finally made up my mind to request the support of the Kinney County Commisisoners Court by passing a resolution in favor of filing the grant application.

An emergency meeting was called and set for 2 p.m. Monday afternoon, March 14, 1994, and AANTF Project Director Steve Woolen, Field Commander Bill McDonald, and Secretary/Clerk Alicia Rush were asked to come to the meeting couldn't defang the Contras as he wanted to do so he espoused a new radical cause.

The deadline of March 15, 1994, for having the grant application on Mr. Wilburn's desk in Austin was winding down and we were running out of time. I had been in contact with County Judge Tim Ward and the County Commissioners in regards to our efforts relating to the task force and found them to be highly supportive and they complimented me with vowing their full support in whatever my final decision came to be.

As late as Monday, March 14th I was still unsure as to what our best option was. I did not want to put Kinney County in danger of assuming a cash liability that we could not afford and also did not want to see the drug task force cease to be. So I got back on the phone and contacted all the participants once again, including the DEA, the City of Del Rio, Sheriff Koog, and the sheriffs of Edwards and Real coun-

I then contacted Jimmy Wilburn again and received assurance from him that should the task force get into trouble financially at sometime in the future he would personally see to it that none of the participating counties or agencies would be caught short and caused to come up with money they could not afford. We discussed the existing cash and and present the application to the court and answer any questions related to the grant application and the task force, including the liability of the county financially.

The meeting was very positive and I commend County Judge Tim Ward, and County Commissioners Freddie Frerich, Plunker Sheedy, and Alvin McClure for their vision and support of this issue. Comto the task force they may do so by contacting the Kinney County Sheriff's office or the drug task force directly. Your name and all information will be kept confidential. Let's all work together to help keep Kinney County and our surrounding area as drug free as possible and a safer, happier place in which to live and work! That's All!

> Seven easy steps to building yourown compost heap.

1. The Location An area with equal sunlight and shade. Make the pile freestanding or enclosed, 3 to 5 square feet.

2. The Base A 3 to 6 inch layer of old tree branches for aeration.

3. The First Layer 6 to 8 inches of leaves, grass clippings, sawdust, or kitchen scraps (fruit and vegetable only).

4. The Second Layer 1 to 2 inches of garden soil, manure, or a compost activator.

5. Successive Layers Repeat steps 3 and 4 until your pile is 4 to 5 feet high.

6. Keep it moist Like a wrung-out sponge.

7. Turn it

The more compact, the more often vou turn ir (once a week to once a month). It's ready when it'scrumbly and a uniform brown.

Composting. A simple way to save a pile.

Composting saves you and your community money. It's an easy way to convert yard wastes into a nutrient-rich soil additive. Used on your lawn and garden, it can save water, improve soil quality and cut down on the amount of expensive fertilizers, peat moss, and mulch you buy. Plus, yard waste takes up as much as 20% of what we dump. So, composting can make your landfill last longer. That could mean lower sanitation fees and a savings of tax dollars to you. So heap it up! Compost and save. For more information visit or call: City Hall of Brackettville 210-563-2412

Library Hours Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday

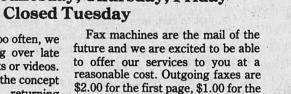

Occasionally but not too often, we hear a patron grumbling over late charges on overdue books or videos. Most people understand the concept of borrowing and returning materials on time, but wonder what the late fee money is used for.

If you have sent any faxes lately with our new fax machine, made copies from our copier, or checked out juvenile or young adult paperbacks from our new paperback bookshelves, you know where the fine money is being spent. The money the library collects through fines and copies & fax charges are all deposited into one account. When the copier needs service or supplies, we pay for it out of this account. The same is true for the fax machine or the library's computer.

We purchase books, office supplies, and anything else we need to keep the library running smoothly also from this account.

In a sense, that 10¢ late charge just paid might end up paying for the cover page of the next novel you check out from us. Think of late charges as a donation to your library that ends up benefiting everyone.

As a reminder, overdue library books are 10¢ per day including weekends and holidays, and overdue videos are $1.00 a day not including weekends and holidays. The reason for the distinction being that you can leave overdue books in the bookdrop but not videos. I believe that this slight change in policy makes more sense and is also more reasonable.

Virginia's News Release

Well, old Virginia Sities made a rather impressive speech. She informed every one that was at the little news release announcing gathering just how things was fixing to be.

Yep, she made it very clear that she knew that the citizens were getting tired of a meat diet and the only way to control the whole mess was to enforce the wishes of the Kortman County Manager and all of the commissioners. And she was going to start by closing down the little diner in the court house basement until they could come up with a veggie menu that suited her and the fearless leaders of the county.

She also mentioned that any kid caught trying to skip out of a nutritious lunch would be punished to the full extent of the law.

That's when old Buckshot made his appearance and backed her completely. He informed every one that with his new price hikes on the leases for county lands and her new system for controlling meat intake the county was going to be so much better off. After all, the way he figured it, the good people of Kortman County was just too stupid to take care of their dietary needs and their own farms and ranches without the help of a very politically correct group of government people helping them.

I think it was the statement about every one being stupid that got the next little wreck going.

Word spread like wild fire about the almost communist regime that had some how gotten elected to run our little corner of the world and the pert-near militant old bat that was put in charge of enforcing old Hortense's new veggie plan.

Of course in Querecho Flats, we had our own way of handling situations that we aren't happy about. And Garlan, Karl, Juan and myself got started pretty quick on a plan that just might be the end of old B.B., Buckshot, Boo Boo, Hortense and good old cuddly Virginia Sities.

We didn't tell any of the good ladies in our fair community about our little idea, we just let them get involved in old Virginia's plan just like they thought she was doing all the good.

This little party has at least six kinds of meats and all the pies and sweets you can imagine as well as some pretty good egg nog.

Well, the good ladies of the Better Than Thou Club seemed to think we would get into a lot of trouble if we served any kind of meat in a county owned building. After all, the new truant officer as well as the new county dietary manager had very plainly stated the new laws.

Garlan informed the semi-well meaning ladies (?) that we as citizens had the right to eat anything we wanted when we wanted it and where we wanted it. And if they didn't like the menu, they could just go tell our new little gestapo agent and all of her bosses. But when they did tell 'em, they had better tell 'em that they sure needed to leave us plumb to hell alone or things could get some what out of hand.

He also mentioned that should the good ladies (?) of Querecho Flats stick their busy little noses in where they didn't long, all hell would break loose.

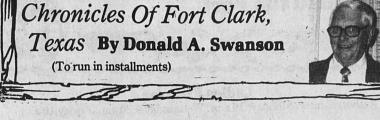

That was a guaranteed way to get the message to old Virginia.

As you all know, all the ladies (?) in our fair village don't take orders worth a damn and they are prone to get involved in things that they really don't know all that much about.

We didn't use the conventional methods of getting a message to old Virginia and Hortense, nope, we left the telegraph and telephone and televison systems plumb alone. We used the old tell a woman trick. And I'm here to tell you "it worked." Actually, we told all eight of the leaders of the Better Than Thou Club.

What we told 'em was pretty simple. We just mentioned that we had been storing beef, pork, chicken, deer and four different kinds of game birds in the deep freeze down at the community center and we were going to serve meat at our little gathering no matter what Old Virginia and Hortense or Buckshot had to say about it.

Well, them old bats figured this was their chance to get in good with the county leaders and they broke all

After the Civil War, the U.S. Army's Indian Forts of Texas were in a deplorable condition. The federal government needed to rebuild all A fifty-five foot porch (some screened by the army since construction) ran across the front. The front main support beam for the porch roof on most of these houses are grooved for tongue and groove construction which indicates these beams were salvaged from Fort Inge (Uvalde) Texas in 1870.3 The kitchen in these plans is a one story structure separated from the house by a latticed porch for fire protection.

The roof for the two story structure was a peaked shingle roof with four dormer windows in front and four dormer windows in the rear. The later addition by the army in 1885 necessitated the removal of two of the rear dormer windows for entrances to the added upstairs over the kitchen. The roofing material for the porch and the kitchen was also shingles and removed by the army in later years.

The wood shingles were replaced by asphalt shingles evidently to reduce fire hazards. The limestone used in the initial construction due to the size of the blocks and the hardness of the rock indicates it most probably was quarried at the U.S. Government Quarry on the Devil's River and hauled by wagon some 44 miles.4 All the local areas of that period were more of an Austin stone and lacked hardness for weight bearing and durability. This was revealed in the early stone construction of 1856-1857 at Fort Clark.

The 1885 Congressional Appropriation granted remodeling and updating funds for these quarters. This remodeling plan changed the house from a rectangular to a teeshaped plan. The original construction plan was altered by the removal of the lattice porch between the kitchen and hall. In the place of the lattice porch was added a vestibule room with a second set of stairs and three small rooms upstairs. Between each duplex there was the full dividing wall in this addition. A sixth chimney having a flue in the kitchen for a wood range and another flue in the added upstairs hall for stove heating in each duplex. These additions were also load bearing but smaller quarried blocks and a much softer stone, more like softer quality stones from local quarries.

Automobile Slugs

Oh, just to run, lean and trim, like a young deer jumping the brook, crashing through the thick brush and bouncing up the steep hills -feeling like true creatures of the earth, not just soft, gasping-for-breath automobile slugs.

Sometimes when I go up certain steep rises and return tired, I wonder what it would be like not to grow weak and tired. I believe we resist age and deterioration (if that's what it is that distinguishes the way we feel now from the way we used to feel). Resisting sometimes seems to be a stressful battle that encourages the very conditions we resist.

I admire the strength and beauty I associate with youth. I also respect the fine strength and beauty that accompanies people with experience and knowledge of their own capabilities, who continue daily in hope and enthusiasm.

(Older deer gracefully step into the coolness of the brook and pause to sip the elixir of mixed brewing and then sniff the air and notice its direction and safe innocence then proceed through the thick brush joyfully sampling the abundant browse until they step gracefully out into the high meadow and bright sunlight).

These true creatures of the earth also teach this soft, gasping-for-air automobile slug that life is to be taken with joy and that there is not supposed to be a time when the air is too thick and the body too soft to go to the wonderful earth.

The way I see it, I have broken the natural laws and have become less fit. It is I who made all the choices that have removed me from the true order of things.

When natural laws have been broken, then spiritual laws will also be broken. Someday, all we will be able to see will glide by us like a movie from behind the glass windows of our automobiles.

Stafford Entertains Sigma Phi With Fort Clark Folklore

Monday evening, March 14, Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Evelyn Whitely with president Pat Callnan presiding. Following the opening ritual and roll call, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Whitely. The treasurer's report was given by Pat Callnan in the absence of treasurer Barbara Miller. Announcements were made concerning the Founders Day dinner and program scheduled for April 3, 6:30 p.m., Las Moras Inn.

Plans were finalized for the March 19 bake sale, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the Arts and Crafts Show at the Service Club. Helen Lynch, Barbara Miller, Betty Mathison, and Evelyn Whitely volunteered to help. Easter centerpieces were collected and will be taken to the Aging Services Center.

Members were reminded that election of officers was upcoming. Program Chairman Flo Stafford

Tax Deferral Is Available For Elderly Homeowners

Texans age 65 or older can postpone paying delinquent and current property taxes on their homes. They can take advantage of a tax option called "over-65 deferral" by signing an affidavit at the Kinney County Appraisal District office.

This special form of tax relief also can halt a lawsuit filed to collect delinquent property taxes on an older Texan's home, according to Marcus Tidwell, chief appraiser of the Kinney County Apraisal District. "To stop a delinquent tax suit," Chief Tidwell said, "the over-65 homeowner files the deferral affidavit with the court in which the suit is pending."

"If the affidavit is on file, an older homeowner cannot lose a homestead because of delinquent taxes," Chief Tidwell said.

Once a homeowner files an over-65 tax deferral affidavit with the appraisal district, no taxing unit can start or continue a lawsuit for delinquent taxes as long as that person owns and lives in that home. Chief Tidwell stressed that tax deferral for the elderly only postpones paying delinquent taxes on the home; it does not cancel them. During the deferral time, taxes and interest of 8% continue to add up he said. "When the elderly taxpayer no longer owns and lives in the home, the taxes become due. Taxing units can then sue to collect all the deferred taxes and interest." There is no penalty on the delinquent taxes during the deferral time. However, filing the deferral affidavit will not forgive penalties that were already due. Also, if the taxes remain delinquent more than 90 days after the deferral ends, a taxing unit may charge an added penalty if the account goes to a delinquent tax attorney. Tax deferral forms are available at the appraisal district office. "The homeowner should fill out the form and have the signature witnessed by a notary public," Chief Tidwell said.

You see, every year just before world red Christmas we had a little gettogether at the community building

limestone walls are footed on a ground level concrete foundation. To eliminate the moisture and ventilate under each of the ground level rooms are concrete troughs which runs the width of the room and it is vented to the outside in a brick "doghouse."

The "doghouse" is a four-sided brick structure approximately 30"x14" with a peaked brick cover making the "doghouse" some 12" high. The brick work is plastered in order to blend with adjoining wall. Each end of the peaked cover is open for ventilation and there is screen mesh installed internally to prevent bugs and varmits from getting into the concrete trough. Some of the houses have since had the "doghouses" removed which accelerated deterioration of the hardwood floors.

Each duplex has three rooms on each floor with two fireplaces, one in the parlor and one in the dining room. Each of the chimneys have flues in each of the two upstairs bedrooms for stove heating. There is also a dual chimney in the center

In 1890, a central wood water tank was installed at Fort Clark. This gravity fed water supply called for plumbing to be installed in these houses some 15 years after the fact. This required "jury rigging" on the part of the plumbers and variances in the duplexes as to which room, or rooms, were to be designated bath rooms (some have two upstairs, others only one).

Another construction addition was the building of servant quarters of a one story, ½ bath (some had servant quarters with full bath wood framed) attached to the back of each kitchen. These additions were not designed by army engineers but rather on local plans because all eight houses have variances in the sizes of the rooms.

In 1918 Central Power and Light Company was awarded the contract by the army for electricity and once again these quarters had another after-the-fact modification, this time to wire and add lamps.

At some undetermined time since, a concrete patio floor was poured adjacent to outside wall of the vestibule and kitchen. Some time later these patios were covered with roof and screened. Since private ownership has taken over the control of these duplexes (1974), the conservation of energy and livability standards have been improved over the spartan army standards. The individual owners have purchased these duplexes because of their historic background and each owner appears to have a determined conviction to preserve the historic external appearance as can best be determined from many army modifications over the extended period of years.

FORT CLARK GUN CLUB REACTIVATED by Bill Haenn

A good crowd of Fort Clark's shooting and marksmanship enthusiasts gathered in the Adult Center February 9th to reactivate the Fort Clark Gun Club, on hiatus now for almost ten years. The impetus for this gathering was the untimely death of Dick Schroeder who had been preparing to again set in motion his dream of a quality shooting facility for Fort Clark. It was Dick who helped form the original Gun Club for Association members. In 1984, through his efforts, the Board of Directors set aside a portion of the "400 acres" for use by the fledgling gun club. Curiously enough the site is part of the Army's original 1000 yard rifle range used to teach thousands of Fort Clarks' soldiers rifle marksmanship from the turn of the century until World War II. Through donated labor and monetary contributions, it was Dick and the other original members who built the existing 50 yard and 100 yard ranges enclosed by high dirt bermes adjacent to the road. That first Gun Club, for some reason, never really got going, much to Mr. Schroeder's frustration. As the years passed Dick and a few remaining stalwarts, like Bob Conrey, endured while their dream shooting facility deteriorated and suffered the abuse of irresponsible shooters with their litter and indiscriminate destruction of target holders and the site. Only the Border Patrol, who shares the range, has been able to keep their portion presentable.

The new Gun Club is proceeding cautiously yet deliberately to establish an organization which will last. At our first meeting it was unanimously agreed to begin by cleaning up the range and when it reopens to name it for Dick Schroeder, its strongest patron. The club will be a National Rifle Association affiliated club provided the majority of members are NRA members, this status will also help secure affordable insurance from the NRA. The purpose of the Fort Clark Gun Club will be to create and maintain for the use of its members and their guests, a safe, controlled, first class modern shooting facility we can all be proud of . To that end a successful cleanup of the 50 yard pistol range took place on Saturday, February 12th, followed by a second general membership meeting on 23 February. The Brackettville Fire Department has been contacted to assist in the burning of brush on the 100 yard range in the near future. Club membership will be open to all persons, however Fort Clark Springs Association members will enjoy a lower annual membership fee of $25.00. All funds not expended for insurance coverage will be directed to range improvements and expansion to include future facilities for trap, skeet, archery, and black powder shooting. The Gun Club will present a detailed plan to the new FCS Board of Directors in April and, upon their approval, hopes to begin Wednesday and Saturday operations shortly thereafter. To date, eight dues paying charter members, including several NRA certified instructors, have formed the nucleus of the club. Responsible, safety conscious shooters wanting to become part of an organization which plans on making a difference for its members, the Association, and the community, should contact the Gun Club by writing P.O. Box 1816, Brackettville, TX, or attending the next scheduled meeting on Wednesday, March 23rd, at 7 P.M. in the Adult Center.

EPA Aims To Prohibit Lead & Zinc Sinkers

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is proposing a rule to curtail the use of small fishing sinkers made of lead or zinc in hopes it will prevent water bird, wildlife and human lead poisoning.

If the rule is finalized as proposed, it would prohibit all persons from manufacturing, processing, distributing (selling) and importing any fishing sinker containing lead or zinc (including brass) that is oneinch or smaller in diameter. This includes sinkers in any dimension, regardless of the type of shape (split shot and non-split shot would be prohibited by the rule). The manufacturing prohibition includes these kinds of sinkers made at home.

In 1993, the Environmental Defense Fund filed a civil lawsuit to require the EPA to address any problems caused by the introduction of lead fishing sinkers into the environment. This action followed a 1992 petition from the same group to EPA indicating that water birds were dying from ingestion of lead fishing sinkers.

When feeding, the EPA said, water birds can ingest smaller fishing sinkers that are lost or discarded in the environment. Sinkers may look like food items, small stones or pieces of grit that aid in digestion. Once lead- or zinccontaining sinkers are ingested, birds may suffer from lead or zinc poisoning and die within two to three weeks.

EPA also is concerned about exposures from lead fumes or dust when melting or pouring lead to adults and children when lead fishing sinkers are made at home. Exposure to lead can produce learning disabilities and other problems

"Aid To Farmers" Announced By Graham

Kinney County Included

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm announced that farmers in Zavala County are eligible to apply for lowinterest emergency loans to help recover from crop losses caused by drought which occurred between January 1 and December 1, 1993.

For those who cannot obtain credit through normal channels, the U.S. Farmers Home Administration will make loans available at belowmarket interest rates to family farmers.

In addition to the above counties, seven Texas counties have been named as contiguous counties and therefore are eligible for assistance. Counties affected by drought are Dimmit, Frio, Kinney, LaSalle, Maverick, Medina and Uvalde. Gramm said farmers have eight months to apply for the loans to help cover part of their actual losses.

The FmHA, which supervises the loan program, is charged with providing aid to the farmers and ranchers in order to assist their economic recovery from natural disasters.

Protect your rights! "Render" your taxable property by April 14th.

A "rendition" is a report to the appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you owned or controlled on January 1st of this year. The rendition form is available at your local appraisal district office... or you may draft a similar form.

Who must file a rendition?

You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property that is used to produce income—such as the inventory and equipment used by a business.

Are there any advantages to you?

The advantages of filing a rendition are:

You give your opinion of your property's value. If the appraisal district believes the value is higher, it must notify you in writing of the higher value and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.

You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address. If your bill is mailed to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or paying extra charges for late payments.

You can also file a "report of decreased value" to notify the appraisal district of significant depreciation of the value of your property in 1993. The district will look at your property before assigning a value in 1994.

What's the deadline?

The last day for filing or postmarking 1994 renditions is Thursday, April 14. You can get an extra 15 days if you ask for it in writing by the April 14 deadline.

Where do you file?

File renditions with your local appraisal district at:

Once the final rule is approved, anglers may continue using lead- or zinc-containing sinkers they now own. The EPA does not have the authority under the Toxic Substances Control Act to prohibit the use of these sinkers, but the agency encourages anglers to switch over to less toxic sinkers.

The prohibition would not take effect until after the public has had 60 days to comment on the proposal and the final rule is published. The prohibitions would be phased in over a one-to-two year period.

To receive additional information and a copy of the proposed rule, contact the Toxic Substances Control Act Assistance Information Service at 202-554-1404. For information about human exposures to lead, contact the Lead Information Hotline at 1-800-LEADFYI (532-3394).

Comments on the proposal should be submitted no later than 60 days after publication in the Federal Register to TSCA Docket Receipt (Attention Docket Number 62134), Office of Pollution Prevention and Toxics, Environmental Protection Agency, Room E-G99, 401 M St. SW, Washington DC 20460.

Karate Class Will Get "Crash Pad"

The Fort Clark Springs Community Council met in regular session Saturday morning, March 12. The council voted to purchase a "crash pad", 6'x12'x8" at a cost of $596.00 for the Karate Class that Larry Kaminiski teaches weekly at no cost to the students.

The council authorized $1500 to purchase a commercial-quality grill and provide upfront expense money to set up a food-operation in the Service Club during the "Spelunkers" June convention. Approval was given to provide $500 of the $1500 needed for materials to replace the footbridge over Las Moras Creek at the Rock Manor apartments.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President - Les Roper; First Vice President - Jerry O'Brien; Second Vice President - George Post; Treasurer - Hollis Graham. A secretary will be elected at the April meeting and officers will be installed at that time.

Deadline for entries April 1, 1994

Las Moras Invitational Golf Tournament Fort Clark Springs Golf Course March 12 - 13, 1994

Six two-man golf teams flighted into six flights for a total of seventytwo players participated in the Las Moras Golf Tournament this past weekend. The term "successful" is an understatement when one considers how professionally the tournament was conducted. Much of that credit goes to Tournament Co-ordinators Allen and Clara McCord; they will be the first to state that they had a great deal of excellence assistance from golf club members - both men and women - and others interested in seeing a "job well done."

Championship Flight

Placing second in the championship flight were Joe O'Neill - Laughlin AFB, and Art Terrazas - San Antonio. Terrazas said he had gone to school in Brackettville and later had brought Little League teams here to play and had long dreamed of "coming back and showing the 'home-town boys' how to do it." Milt Wiebush - Uvalde, and James Nall - Del Rio placed first in the Championship Flight; Cary Spurgeon - Uvalde, and Vick Tucker - Uvalde placed third.

First and second place teams scored 60 but the Wiebush-Nall team had the best score on the back 9 for a tie-breaker. Third place score was 61.

First place score was 60, second place was 62, and third place was 63.

Forty-five players showed up for competition and at the end of the nine holes three teams were tied at 2 under par 25 for first place: Steve Sdodlenka, Ruth Theis, Alfred Pena, Ruben Martinez, Gerald Gallion; Bill Woolston, Darlene Sandwitch, Solame Green, Ken TeGrothenhus, Ernie Hall; Harrell Floyd, Patty Barnett, Micky Braun, Don Young, Mac McCandless. Sdodlenka, TeGrothenhus and Young chipped and placed their teams Young - first, TeGrothenhus second and Sdodlenka third.

At 1 under par 26 and placing fourth was the team of Bill Koons, G. Young, Ed Theis, Wally Warm, Edith Palmer, and Jim Palmer.

Three teams finished at even par 27: Ken Bell, Mary Butler, Ted Thacher, Gerald Ivy, Ken Weaver; Fay Gooch, Ruth Pack, Lyle Neal, Ray Entrikin, Don Herron.

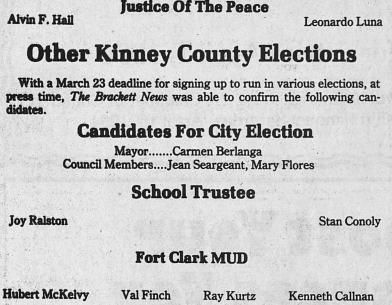

At 1 over par 28 were the teams of P.M. Moore, Camile Neal, Dave Yates, Keith Pickle, Ed Boyko; Chuck Endris, Margo Kenrich, Edith Palmer, Dale Kenrich, and Don Sandwitch.

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $45,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owned a home on January 1st (and used it as their primary residence on that date) is entitled to a $5,000 homestead exemption to lower their school taxes this year... and it doesn't matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. (Counties, cities and special taxing districts may also offer homestead exemptions.)

Are other exemptions available?

If you're disabled—or if you're 65 years old or older—you are entitled to an additional $10,000 school tax exemption on your home. And if you qualify for the over-65 exemption, you're also entitled to a permanent, locked-in "ceiling" on the school property taxes on your home. (The ceiling does not apply to county or city property taxes, and those entities may offer other exemptions.)

Do I have to apply each year?

No. If you had a homestead exemption on your home in 1993, you won't need to reapply for 1994 unless your chief appraiser requires it. However, if you haven't received an exemption on your present home—or if you've moved to a new home—you'll need to file for an exemption for 1994. And if you turned 65 or became disabled during 1993, you need to file for the additional exemptions.

When and where should I file?

File applications by April 30 at your appraisal district office. If you need more time, contact us at:

School Nutrition Month

School lunches are healthy, well balanced meals that model food choices for children, right? Maybe so. But maybe not. Recent studies show that many school lunch menus leave a lot of room for improvement.

The American Cancer Society wants to help those changes come about. That's why the Society is spotlighting its nutrition program, Changing the Course, during Nutrition Awareness Month in March. "There is strong evidence linking diet to certain health problems, in-

Mobley suggests food service personnel can make simple changes that will affect children's health for the rest of their lives: for example. provide fresh fruit as an alternative to cake or brownies or cookies for dessert; broil, grill, bake, steam or poach meat instead of frying.

The American Cancer Society offers the following tips for healthy eating:

*Avoid obesity, which has been linked to increased risk for uterine, gall bladder, kidney, stomach, treat children unfairly. Many times, they are not the easist going folks around, but they are always fair.

Great teachers work to be better teachers every day. They constantly look for ways to learn more about teaching and about the discipline that they teach. A few great ones that I have known thought that they learned it all, and they quickly fell out of the category of being a great teacher. There is always someone out there with an idea that can help get the job done better. When we quit listening, we lose our effectiveness.

Great teachers know their students as human beings with feelings and "ups & downs" as they ride life's in the top 1% of all the great teachers that I have watched. Justice didn't prevail! We lost a great one this week! Our world is a little less bright today because of this senseless death. Folks, I want to say two things. Number one, if you know great teachers tell them you appreciate the job that they are doing. Financially, it won't ever be a picnic for educators. Their finest moments come from a sincere thanks for a job well done. I wish that they didn't have to do two jobs to survive, but they do. Remember that teachers are human. They feel. They have good days and tough days just like the rest of the world. Believe in them, support them.

Kay Schooler, M.A., R.D. Question: Lately I have been trying to eat healthier - but it seems like I just keep falling back into my old habits. Is there anything I can do that will help me change my eating habits?

Answer: Since March is National Nutrition Month, there's no better time than the present to make some changes in your eating habits. Even though habits develop over time - old habits can be replaced with new ones. Sticking to a new, healthier diet is merely a matter of following a few simple steps until they become second na-Set your sights on making ture. just one or two changes now, such as eliminating the butter on your toast or using low-fat mayonnaise. Small successes will motivate you to try more challenging changes later on. "mini-goals," keep a journal to help turn your goals into habits. For at least two weeks, keep a detailed record of what you eat,

To stay on track, it's essential that you continue setting realistic goals, keeping records and developing effective strategies. It may also help to surround yourself with people who sup-port your efforts. Finally, pay attention to your successes, be patient and you'll find yourself able to stick with it.

cluding cancer, obesity, high blood pressure, heart disease and diabetes," said Connie Mobley PhD, RD, LD, chair of the Society's Nutrition Committee. "By learning early to eat wisely, children can prevent these problems from occuring later in their lives."

"As part of the March promotion, the American Cancer Society is asking school administrators to implement the Changing the Course program," Mobley said.

Changing the Course, developed by the Society and the National Cancer Institute, consists of two parts: training manual for food service personnel and an educational curriculum teachers can use in the classroom. Ideally, both parts of the program will be used. In the classroom, students can learn about healthy eating and then practice it in the cafeteria.

breast, colon and other cancers. *Cut down on fat intake. A high-fat diet increases the risk of developing breast, colon and prostate cancers. *Include a variety of vegetables and fruit in the daily diet. Foods rich in vitamins A and C are especially important. Cruciferous, or cabbage family, vegetables also play a leading role in fighting cancer.

*Eat more high-fiber foods, such as whole grain cereals, vegetables and fruits. A high-fiber diet might reduce the risk of developing colon cancer. High-fiber foods are wholesome substitutes for fatty foods.

*Limit consumption of salt-cured, smoked and nitrite-cured foods. Cancers of the stomach and esophagus are more common among people who consume large quantities of these foods.

roller coaster. If adults have bad days, so do the kids. Their bad days are more difficult sometimes because they just have not had the experience to deal with the tough times. Great teachers help kids through the tough times.

Great teachers know their subject well. They constantly read and seek out other great teaches to help them know more about their teaching and about their subject matter.

Great teachers work very hard at their jobs. They spend as much time as it takes to get the job done.

This week I was saddened to learn of the death of Allen Carter, one of the greatest teachers that I have ever seen teach. I hired Allen in 1971 in Clayton, New Mexico. He taught English and Journalism. One of his major contributions for 21

The thought of good people being killed by people that are not is sickening. Not a day goes by that we don't hear or read about violence and its effect on good folks. In this great nation, it just should not happen. I don't have an answer. I do have lots of questions. We should not stop to rest until we find answers to senseless violence like this. This need transcends politics and should be addressed by our lawmakers. To those great teachers wherever they might be, I say teach us so that we can make things better. To the rest of us, I issue a challenge to work together to make this a better world that is safe for our kids and grandkids, spouses and brothers and sisters. My heart aches because of this tragedy. Vaya con Dios, Allen! Thanks for being a great teacher.

Fort Clark Springs and Brackett SD were hosts to the First Tigerette Invitational Golf Tournament Monday, March 14, 1994. Six teams participated in this inaugural event. First place was earned by the Eagle Pass "A" team with a team score of 376 followed by the Uvalde Loboettes at 403.

The Brackett Tigerettes placed fourth with a personal team best of 434.

"The girls team is still young with two juniors, one sophomore, and two beginning freshmen," said Coach McNew. "We should continue to improve every tournament. We are indebted to the personal instruction Karl Chism and Alvin Mc-Cord have provided to the teams. We can't thank them enough."

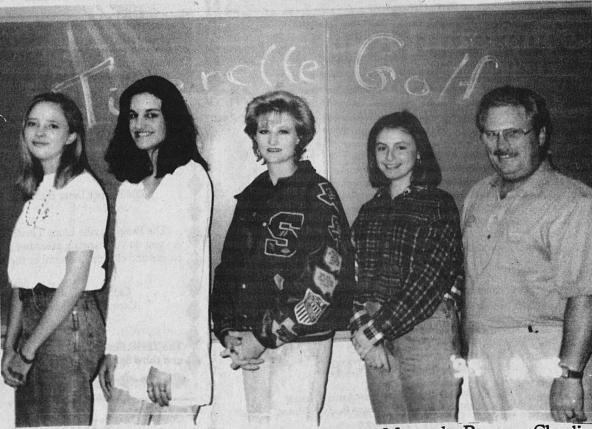

Karla (Charlie) Hall was the Tigerette medalist with a personal best of 100.

Both the Tiger and Tigerette teams wish to thank Fort Clark Springs Golf Club members, employees, and particularly Jim Sweeney for the use of the club. Special thanks to Ruben Martinez and Harold Miller, and so many others, for their donation of practice balls.

Karla (Charlie) Hall was the Tigerette Medalist with a personal best of 100. She was followed by Katie Hall (106), Lisa Dalton (107), Brandy Meeks (121) and Randy Rogers (128).

Other teams participating were Devine with a score of 412, Eagle Pass "B" at 442, and Medina Valley who did not field a full team.

First Baptist Church Rev. Gil Ash, Pastor

The Pastor's Pen"

In the past few weeks one of the adult Bible classes was doing a study on "Everyday Ethics." Out of that study one of the topics dealt with what our needs are versus what our wants are. A few days later I encountered an item written by John Holland that deals with that matter in the subject of the most common criticism of the Church.

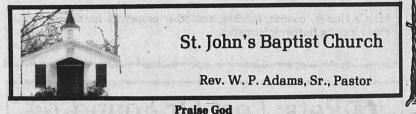

"One of the most, if not the most, often raised criticism against the church today is that it does not meet 'my needs'. The criticism is not justified, as what they are really saying is that the church does not meet 'their wants'." Recall that what we once called our luxuries are now in this age called our needs.

Every 16-year-old upon getting a driving permit suddenly needs a car. They do not consider it a want, it is positively a need. So, a want becomes a need. The list could go on and on. I need a new suit. I need a vacation. I need a new house.

What we need to recognize is that we often do not know what we need. We need a Savior. Jesus is that Savior. We need an example to show us the way. He is that example. We need to be loved. He loves us. We need to be a part, to belong. He adds us to His church wherein we can enjoy fellowship with others.

We need to work. In the church we can work together to serve as He directs. Yes, the Lord and His church does meet everyone's needs,but does not not cater to any mortal's wants.

We must grow out of this childish whim, and we, the church, must never try to meet wants, only needs! AMEN and AMEN.

Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

By whom also we have access by faith into this grace in which we stand and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience, and patience, experience; and experience, hope;

And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit who is given to us. Romans 5:1-5 Praise the Lord, oh, Praise the Lord

Frontier Baptist Church Rev. Joe Townsend, Pastor

The clearest example of how to be saved was demonstrated by the thief on the cross. Being crucified with his partner in crime and Jesus, he and the other malefactor taunted Jesus

Finally, this malefactor changed his attitude. He had read the sign above the head of Jesus saying, This is lesus, the King of the Jews." He had heard Jesus pray, "Father forgive them, they know not what they do." He had heard him commit his mother to John to care for her. He had seen him refuse an opiate to kill the pain. He had heard Jesus say, "It is finished" referring to his task of dying for sin. So impressed was he with Jesus he turned to his partner in sin and said, "Don't you fear God? We justly die for our crime, we are guilty; but this man has done nothing amiss." Then turning to Jesus he said, "When you come into your kingdom, remember me." Jesus turned to him and said, "Today thou shalt be with me in Paradise." The thief had recognized he was a sinner. He admitted it openly. He recognized Jesus as the one who could save him for all eternity. He exhibited his faith by pleading for Jesus to take him into His kingdom. All that is necessary to be redeemed had been done. It was amply demonstrated when Jesus assured him he would be with Him for all eternity.

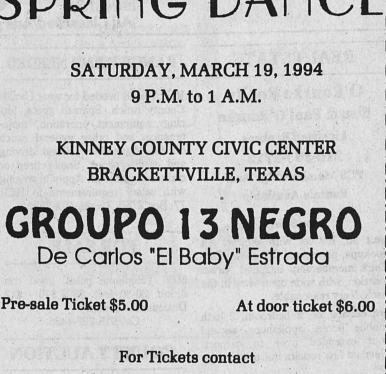

If it were necessary to belong to a church the thief could not have been saved. If it were required to spend long hours in prayer, the man could not have met the requirements. If a period of teaching and confirmation was a part of the salvation experience, he could not have been with Jesus in the hereafter. If baptism or any other rite was a necessity, he could have never been saved. When he was welcomed into the family of God by Jesus, he didn't shout, he didn't wave his hands, he didn't speak in an "unknown" gibberish, he didn't jump up and down; he couldn't, he was nailed to a cross.

Anyone who wants to be redeemed for now and eternity and to spend that eternity with God in heaven needs simply to recognize he is a sinner, repent of and turn from that sin.

He simply needs to recognize that Jesus died to pay for his sin and in faith turn to Jesus to commit himself to Christ and salvation comes immediately.

There was no period of waiting, no approval by any human being, no examination; he was immediately redeemed.

What happened to the thief on the cross can happen to anyone who does what he did. "By grace are you saved through faith" says the Bible.

Next Sunday there will be another message from the Bible by Joe R. Townsend, pastor, at Frontier Baptist Church. Come and see.
