BY BILL ELLIS

WE HOPE THAT every one of the readers of the Blade has by now "sprung forward," and has gotten in tune with good ole Daylight Savings Time.

Mothers, who now have to get up an hour earlier to get the urchins off to school, are no doubt wondering just exactly how this is supposed to save energy, especially when you have to burn your headlights on the way to school.

But don't argue with Uncle Sam. If he says Daylight Savings Time will save on our rapidly-depleting energy pile, then you'd better bet your bottom dollar it will. We just haven't figured out how, as yet.

At any rate, we have to grin and bear DST for another eight months.

FOR A WHILE THERE, we thought we weren't going to have any winter, but we blew it. We wouldn't make it as a weather forecaster (although neither would some of the fellows we see on the video tube).

This past Friday night's storm should serve as a reminder that this area's weather is changeable at best, and that you shouldn't ever make book on what the weather is going to do.

However, columnist Wes Izzard said Monday that last weekend's blizzard might have come in the nick of time.

"It came at a time when a brake was needed on the premature sprouting of growing things," Izzard commented in his daily column. That's a pretty good point. We had been expecting our fruit trees to begin to put out buds any time, what with the false spring weather we have been having.

According to some farmers, we weren't too needful of any additional moisture. Apparently the underground moisture is considerably above the same time a year ago.

However, we belong to the school that says a snow, even a blizzard, is better than a sandstorm any day.

In fact, it could be that the more sandstorms we get in February, the less sandstorms we'll have in March.

We don't guarantee that formula, but it's worth a try.

IT WAS HARD to believe that while this area was digging out of snowdrifts, the fringes of our area was hit by damaging tornadoes.

LAST SATURDAY'S BLIZZARD played havoc with everything that was scheduled in the area that day.

Locally, the Jaycees' Community Auction was postponed. The Production Credit Assn.'s annual meeting in Plainview also was postponed.

Teams and their fans who were in Lubbock and Levelland for the girls regional basketball tournament found themselves unable to return home on Saturday, and had to stay awhile longer than they had planned.

LOU NUTTALL had planned (along with a bunch of others) to go to the boys state tournament this year, in which we had hoped to be seeing the Friona boys back in action—but no such luck.

Determined to see a state tournament—Lou and Pat Read went to Portales Sunday afternoon to see the New Mexico girls state finals, between Clovis and Albuquerque Eldorado.

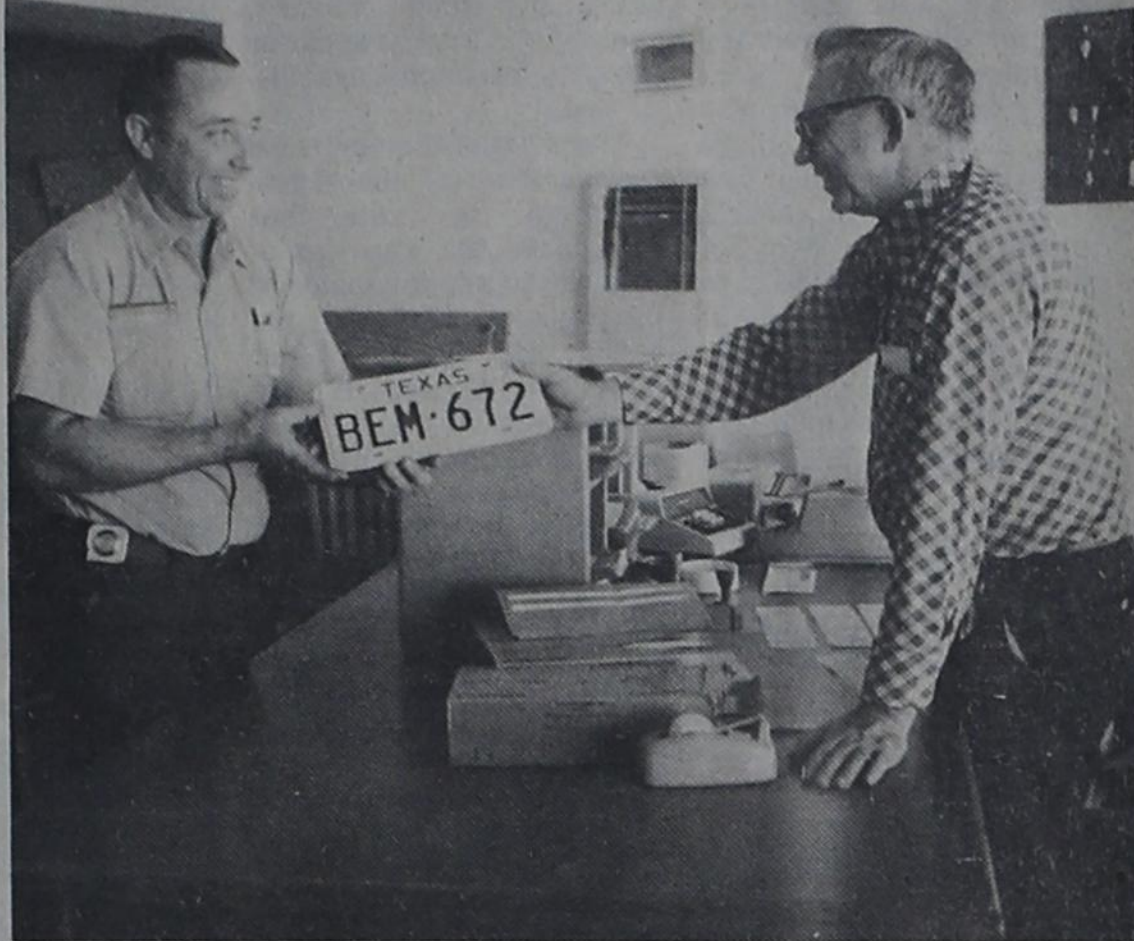

But on the way home, they had a weather-related accident, which played havoc with Lou's car. Lou's beginning to think something is against her going to state tournaments.

If there is a recession in Parmer County, it isn't a very bad one.

The sale totals at the 27th annual Parmer County Junior Livestock Show came within $200 of beating the all-time mark established at the 1974 show.

Prize animals sold for a total of $60,195.78 last Saturday, compared to $60,387.33 the previous year.

At the 1974 sale, buyers donated an additional $11,820 to the show barn building fund. Jerry Hinkle said that around $400 was donated this year.

BUYS NEW TAGS....Dudley Hughes, left, took advantage of Parmer County Tax Assessor-Collector Hugh Moseley's visit to Bovina Monday and Tuesday to purchase his new five-year Texas vehicle license plates. Moseley said about 340 of the new tags, which are black and white, were sold in Bovina the two days here. Deadline for displaying the '75 tags is midnight, April 1. The new tags are distinguishable from the old style by the three-letter prefixes and the absence of the year on the tag. In the future, small metal tags will be purchased to be affixed on the tags purchased this year.

School Sets Events For PS Week

Bovina Schools will join other schools across the state in observing Texas Public Schools Week March 3-7 with an invitation to school district patrons to visit the school and to have lunch in the school cafeteria Wednesday.

No additional plans have been made to observe the special week, according to Superintendent L.F. Jacobs.

The Texas Public School System was founded 121 years ago on the premise that the more education the individual has, the more likely he is to become a good citizen.

date forced postponement of the event.

The sale will be at Bovina Gin yard with Bartlett and Potts Auction Service of Bovina calling the sale.

Over 100 items have been consigned to the sale, however, only about 60 items are listed on the sale bill. The remainder were consigned after the sale bill had been printed. Jones reminds residents of the community they may bring items to the gin yard the day of the sale. "We want to make this a big, community-wide event, so we would appreciate any and all items you would care to sell," he said this week.

OVER WEEKEND

Swirling Snow Stalls City

Blasted by heavy snow and winds gusting to 50 miles per hour, Bovina, along with the remainder of the Panhandle area and Eastern New Mexico, was in virtual isolation Saturday and part of Sunday with motorists caught in the storm stranded on highways throughout the area.

Drifts surpassing four and five foot in depth closed roads throughout the area and shut down all activity here and elsewhere.

The February storm began Friday afternoon with rain falling intermittently throughout the afternoon, turning into snow that night. The beautiful, huge white flakes had turned into a raging, full-scale blizzard before morning, however. The chill factor in the 19 degree temperature was computed to be 18 degrees below zero with winds averaging 20-30 miles per hour.

Although travel was discouraged Friday night, numerous cars and trucks were stranded in ditches along all highways and thousands of cattle, drifting with the wind, created an additional hazard on the roads.

By mid-morning Saturday, all roads in this portion of the state and all highways leading to and from Clovis had been closed by the respective highway departments.

Although no figures were available on livestock loss here, deaths caused by the storm were expected to be light. However, the chore of sorting through the thousands of cattle which drifted as much as 17 miles in the blizzard was expected to take a number of days.

In the Clovis area, large numbers of cattle were reported killed when struck by trains during the night of the blizzard. Some 40 dead cattle were counted on the tracks between Clovis and Melrose.

Although the skies cleared by Sunday morning and the snow began melting, area highways remained in hazardous condition because of isolated snow and ice patches on the roads. Several accidents were reported in Parmer County with no major injuries sustained, according to reports.

A three-car collision was reported near Parmerton Hill, northeast of Bovina Monday morning with a freak three-vehicle accident occurring near Wisley Switch southwest of Bovina late Sunday afternoon.

Voting Ends Friday For 5 Directors

Tickets, priced at $6 each, for the chamber's annual banquet the third Thursday in March were placed on sale today, according to Mrs. Daryl Kirkpatrick, secretary. Tickets may be purchased from any current director or at First State Bank of Bovina.

Sausage Dinner Sunday

The 14th Annual German Sausage Dinner, sponsored by organizations of St. Ann's Catholic Church, will be held at the parish hall of the church Sunday, according to a member of the planning committee.

Featured on the menu will be homemade German sausage and sauerkraut, home-grown green beans, creamed potatoes and gravy, gelatin salad, chocolate cake, coffee and tea.

PCA Meet Postponed, To Be Re-Set

The 41st annual meeting of Plainview Production Credit Assn., scheduled for last Saturday, February 22 in Plainview, was cancelled due to the blizzard which raked the Panhandle-South Plains that day.

Darrell Simpson, manager of the Friona office of PCA, says the meeting probably will be rescheduled for sometime in March. Announcement of the new date will be made later.

FARWELL STUDENT

Michael Boling Wins County Spelling Bee

Michael Boling, a seventh grade student at Farwell Junior High, won out over contestants from two other county schools Tuesday morning in the Parmer County Spelling Bee held at Bovina Schools auditorium. Boling was the junior division champion last year.

Eight other contestants from Bovina and Farwell were entered in the senior division. Rodney Robertson, an eighth grade student at Farwell Junior High, was the runner-up in the match.

Winning the junior division of the county match was Pam Perez, a sixth grade student at Friona Junior High. Eight other contestants competed in the junior division. Runner-up in that division was Kipli Fleming, a sixth grade student at Friona Junior High.

Boling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boling of Farwell, survived 105 rounds and 328 words to win the event, one of the longest spell-downs in recent years. He won on the words, apogee and apollo. "The last two contestants were head and head before apogee was missed," said Jim Noyes, Bovina Junior High principal and director of the match. Miss Perez won out over the other eight contestants in the junior division in 27 rounds and 127 words. She won on the words, jeer and jewel. Miss Perez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Perez of Friona.

Robertson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robertson of Farwell. Fleming's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean Fleming of Friona.

Contestants in the senior division included Alicia Spring, Ben Roach and Gwen Powell of Bovina, Blaine Buchenau of Farwell and Brenda Schilling, Sonya Gore and Janet Russell of Friona.

Other contestants in the junior division were Miss Powell, Arlene Smith and Isidoro Garcia of Bovina, Rickey Bentley of Friona and Gary White, Janie Cantu and Charlie Rose of Farwell.

Judges were Doris White, language arts teacher at Farwell Junior High School; Cecil Maddox, junior high principal at Friona; and Wilson DiCuffa, elementary principal at Bovina.

Current Comments From . . .

BEN EZZELL in The Canadian Record: It's 11 a.m.—do you know where your children are?

That question was put in an editorial in Boston's Christian Science Monitor, one of the country's most responsible newspapers, a few weeks ago. It's applicable in Canadian, Texas, too.

Most American parents, asked that question, would say their children are in school. The sobering fact is that a lot of them aren't. Nationwide some 2 million American children between the ages of 7 and 17 are not attending school...and in addition, during one recent school year, 1,012,347 children were suspended at least once.

These statistics indicate that far too many school principals are using the weapon of suspension to rid themselves of students who are troublesome, for one reason or another, instead of doing what every truly professional and dedicated educator ought to be doing...everything possible to keep these young people in the classroom where their education can be continued. And far too many boards of education are letting them do it.

Canadian high school is no exception. Far too many high school youths have been forced to leave school, or have been kept in school at the price of rebellion and alienation, in recent years for the pettiest of reasons...not because they are hard-core disciplinary problems, or even because they are poor students (in many cases some of the top students have been forced out of classes) but because their personal hair style does not meet the taste of the high school principal or of the school board members.

Nothing has changed since this madness began four or five years ago. We had evidence of it again Tuesday afternoon when the school board, in all its solemn dignity, upheld the suspension of a high school junior whom the principal himself declared had been no disciplinary problem at all but, on the contrary, "has been doing his best work this year."

Both the principal and the board members affirmed their personal prejudices against long hair on boys, and the high school superintendent even proudly proclaimed his willingness to become a personal barber for his students...a high order of dedication to the cause of education.

So one more student bites the educational dust, another educational sacrifice to the principles of his Principal and the determined tough-mindedness of the School Board members who have proved once more that they are running the school, no matter who they have to run out.

We have an old-fashioned idea that the purpose of the American public school system should be to offer the best possible education to our young people...not to dictate to them any uniform style of dressing or hair-dressing, and especially not at the expense of their schooling. Obviously it is not an idea that is shared in Canadian, or this particular brand of idiocy would not be continuing.

H.M. BAGGARLY in The Tulla Herald: Edward Decourcy of Newport, N.M., asserts in an editorial last week that "the new year may not be what we hope it will. It is more likely to be what we make it."

Most people since the end of World War II have been coasting. Many merchants, particularly in small towns, stuck out their shingle and waited for the trade to come and get it!

Not only have many merchants in the towns of America failed to promote their business but some have lost their aggressiveness. They have lost their accommodation. If they didn't have what the prospective customer wanted, they made no effort to get it for him. The customer's wants were not studied.

Little if any effort has been made by many merchants across America to compete with the more aggressive competition in nearby communities in price, in selection, in service.

Many merchants in the small towns of America have been able to survive on accidental business, the overflow, that which was almost forced upon them. They survived regardless of their unattractive stores, their indifferent service, their poor stocks, their non-competitive prices.

There was just so much business that there was no way to go broke. Prosperity rained on the just and unjust alike!

But those days are leaving if not already gone. From now on it's going to be the survival of the fittest.

The inefficient merchant is on his way out.

The inefficient farmer is on his way out.

The inefficient laborer hopefully is on his way out.

Among the casualties in the days ahead will be the drifters in the labor force; those manufacturers and suppliers who have been pushing merchants around for the past three

Moore Gets AF Medal In England

TSgt. Owen Kenneth Moore was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious service recently at ceremonies at Mildenhall RAF Station in England.

He received the award for service from July 1970 to May 1974 when he was crew chief in the KC-135 Jet Engine Intermediate Maintenance Section of the 509th Field Maintenance Squadron at Pease Air Force Base in New Hampshire.

Sgt. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore of West Lebanon, N.H. He is married to the former Miss Margaret Jo Venable of Bovina. The couple has one son, Neil.

decades; many people engaged in the various service occupations, plumbers, electricians, carpenters, who have seemed to have the people over a barrel; and those merchants who took their business and patronage for granted, who in recent years have been able to live off accidental business.

All communities have problems. Some, with the right kind of leadership, will ride out the storm. Others will turn up their toes and die, unable to cope with any problem more difficult than post war prosperity.

SPEEDY NIEMAN in The Hereford Brand: There is still some optimism in the cattle feeding business, and still some opportunities to realize a good return on your investment. That's the message given to stockholders here Thursday night when Southwest and Champion feedyards held a membership meeting. Officials explained a way in which feeders can practically lock in a return on their investment by hedging cattle on the futures commodities.

"It's a whole new ball game in cattle feeding," according to one spokesman. It is something that might interest local investors in going to their feedyard manager and talking to him about the opportunities that exist. And, it could help the feedyard industry if more activity is created.

Letter To Editor

To The Editor, Bovina Blade

With another school board election coming up, and in view of the recently displayed interest in the public school system, I would like to offer the following remarks to your esteemed readers.

In our system of government, which is that of a representative democracy as opposed to a direct democracy, the citizen who votes elects one or more spokesmen to represent him through a specific board, council, or other body of elected officials. In the case of a school board election it is our privilege as well as our duty to choose someone who will represent us wisely as a trustee on this school board.

Let us look at the chief function of the elected board of trustees. Their main role is that of policy-making and appraising the efficiency of the school system in accordance with laws and provisions made by the Texas Education Agency. The policies that are initiated by the board and govern the school are made available to all school employees and the public. The board meetings are open to the public except when personnel matters, real estate transactions, or security problems are discussed.

The relationship between the trustees and the superintendent is one that recognizes the superintendent as the administrator of the policies made by the board. He is the Chief Executive Officer of the board. Administrative policies are made by the superintendent and then submitted to the board for approval. Thus, there is a clear line between the policy-making and appraisal functions of the board of trustees, and the administrative functions of the superintendent.

Let us think about these principles as we go to the polls. Too many times we take a local election lightly, yet it is probably one of the few elections left where we are at least somewhat acquainted with the candidates. We all owe it to ourselves and our children to preserve our democratic way of life, and we affirm this conviction by trying to make as wise a choice as possible in every election, and by going to the voting places.

Sincerely,
Anne Corn

Reflections From The Blade

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—FEBRUARY 24, 1960

Construction began Monday morning on the new building for First Baptist Church. Construction is expected to take about four and one-half months.

After dropping a heart-breaker, 42-43, at Lazbuddie Tuesday night, Bovina's Mustangs saw their last chance for championship glory slip away Thursday night as the Longhorns won, 46-37. Lazbuddie was scheduled to play Monday night in Olton to determine the bi-district champion.

TEN YEARS AGO—FEBRUARY 24, 1965

Bovina's Fillies, District 5-B basketball champions, meet Cotton Center in first round of regional playoffs Monday night at Littlefield.

This will be the first playoff game since '59 for the Fillies who are in their first season of playing under the direction of Coach Milt Fitts.

Eight candidates have been petitioned to run for three positions on Bovina Independent School District board of trustees. Those petitioned as candidates are Leon Grissom, Billy Marshall, Lloyd Gober, Johnie Horn, Vernon Estes, Paul Jones, Leslie McCain and Eddie G. Steelman.

Bovina school district has purchased six acres of land a block west of the present school property from George McKinney. The property was purchased for future use by the school.

Annual outsiders volleyball tournament at Williford Gymnasium is scheduled for April 1-2-3.

FIVE YEARS AGO—FEBRUARY 25, 1970

"March 8—I'll Be One of 1,000" is the slogan appearing in Bovina this week after hat bands and tags were distributed to organizations in a kick-off meeting. Final plans for conducting a church attendance campaign were formulated last week by Mayor Bedford Caldwell, representatives from city and school organizations and Bovina churches.

Two Bovina Schools coaches submitted their resignations last week, effective at the end of the school year. Truck Lusk, head basketball coach and assistant football coach, and Bill Nitcholas, high school girls basketball coach and junior high football coach, have resigned their positions here.

One name has been filed for candidate for mayor of Bovina and one for councilman, but none have filed for trustees of Bovina school district.

By noon Tuesday, Charles Flynn had filed his name as a candidate for mayor and Dolph Moten had filed for a position on the city council.

"Mask Magic" was theme of the annual FHA Sweetheart Banquet Saturday night in Bovina Schools cafeteria. Highlighting the evening was crowning the King and Queen, Jackie Hall and Betty Kesler.

Bovina Band Parents announce enough money has been raised to send the high school band to the Enid Band Festival April 29-May 2.

Mrs. Chuck Stallings, president of the organization, says several projects this year have provided the necessary funds to pay the cost of the trip—$2,759 for 68 people. These include band members, sponsors and bus drivers.

FHA To Provide Emergency Loans

Farmers and ranchers in Farmer County, Texas, who sustained production losses and physical losses as a result of drought to be from October 1973 to August 15, 1974 and to add cold and wet weather August 16 to October 31 and hailstorms June 2, July 25, August 8 and October 4, 1974, may be eligible to receive an emergency loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

Those who have not received an emergency loan to assist them in recovering from their loss may apply for such a loan at the Farmers Home Administration county office at 207 Avenue D., P.O. Box 196, Farwell, Texas, before close of business April 21, 1975 for physical losses and November 20, 1975 for production losses.

These loan applications will be taken under the terms of a new law (P.L. 93-237) enacted January 2, 1974. Individual examination will be made of each application to determine date of the disaster occurrence and emergency loan benefits for which the applicant is eligible.

Loans based on qualifying production losses may include funds to reimburse applicants for production expenses which went into damaged or destroyed crop and livestock enterprises, but not to produce new crops during 1975. Payment terms depend on the purposes for which the loan is used and the applicant's payment ability. No loan may exceed the actual loss sustained. The interest rate for these loans is five per cent and there will be no principal cancellation. These loans must be secured by crops, livestock, farm machinery, or real estate. For further information call Bill R. Boling, telephone number 806-481-3888.

Bookmobile Schedule

FOR EYE BANK

Lions Clubs Slate Annual Donor Drive

Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed March Eye Bank Month in Texas, and added: "The Eye Banks of our State--an exemplified by the Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1, Inc. that serves the Panhandle area--have done much to help combat the problems of sight in Texas by research and assistance in eye surgery."

To the thousands of blind individuals in America today, the best thing that life could offer is the ability to see again. "Would you mind if, after your death, your eyes were used to give some totally blind person the precious gift of sight... making it possible for one or more persons to emerge from constant darkness?" comments Vernon Willard, president of the Bovina Lions Club.

The gift is made possible by the 72 Lions Clubs in the Panhandle of Texas by the organization of the Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1, Inc. Not a drive for financial donations, the eye bank is sponsored and supported by the Lions Clubs in the Panhandle. The drive is inaugurated by the eye bank to obtain eye donors so that physicians may be provided with the needed eye tissue to restore vision through corneal transplant surgery.

The quality of the donor's vision makes no difference. If the cornea, sclera and vitreous are not diseased, the tissue can be used. Actually, six people can be helped by one pair of eyes, said Willard. Two corneal transplants can be performed, two sclera (white part of the eye) can be utilized for ruptures, and vitreous (fluid in the eye) can be used for two vitreous implants.

It is not possible to buy or sell eyes. They must be donated by some person to be used at his death. The eyes are furnished to the ophthalmologist and his patient free. There is the usual hospital charges, and the surgeon will charge his usual fee.

More than 30,000 persons in the U.S. remain on physicians waiting list for donated eyes. Many of them will become totally blind unless the needed tissue can be provided.

Since July 1, 1974, the Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1 has helped with 17 corneal transplants. Since 1961, 263 persons have regained their vision as a result of our assistance. We have more than 6200 eye donor pledges on file, commented the Lion Boss.

"Remember, it cost you nothing to give your fellow person your eyes after death," he concluded.

REV. TWEEDLE, D.D.

"Think you can make it another day, oh great solver-of-everyone-else's-problems?"

WHERE TROUBLE CAN'T HURT US

Without Jesus we couldn't understand the 23rd psalm. He faced the worst the world could dish out. The Son of God, and they called him a traitor. The Son of God, and they called him an enemy of God. The Son of God, and they called him a blasphemer.

Disowned! Despised! Rejected! "A man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief," is the way Isaiah described him (Isaiah 53:3). They badgered and battered him. But they didn't destroy him. Never were they able to push him into an unrighteous mood. As a final assault they nailed him on a cross to be done with him. That very cross became the symbol of our salvation. "I FEAR NO EVIL; FOR THOU ART WITH ME." Jesus brings fresh breath to those words. He lived that way to show us how to do it.

That is why we can live victoriously in a world piled high with trouble. "I fear no evil; thou art with me." You have to dive deep for that kind of faith. Many face surgery with a smile with calm assurance, "THOU ART WITH ME."

In Psalm 23 David speaks of walking "THROUGH THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH"....and of being in "THE PRESENCE OF MY ENEMIES." How can we account for this chapter being used more than any other to bring comfort and build faith? Here's the answer. The first verse affirms, "THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD." The last verse shouts, "I SHALL DWELL IN THE HOUSE OF THE LORD FOREVER."

When one is assured of the Lord's presence and guidance in this life--it really makes little difference what troubles come--he is where trouble can't hurt him.

Bovina Youth Wins Contest

The Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District is pleased to announce the conservation essay winners for this year.

The winners are: First—Richard Rejino, Bovina; Second—Carol Ann Bavousett, Friona; Third—Susan Elaine Berggren, Bovina; and Fourth—Jyl Gromowsky, Bovina.

Conservation—Key to the Future By Richard Rejino

In Paradise Lost, Book I, John Milton states, "The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven." Let us take Milton's quote and apply it to the theme, Conservation-Key to the Future, and see how well it expresses a philosophy of conservation.

When God created the earth he created a type of heaven for us to live in. He gave us an abundance of natural resources and fertile land to grow what we needed in order to survive. What he has given to us in abundance we have used in abundance, and as a result we are having to face severe shortages of many things that people and nations need to survive. If we do not begin to use the little we have left wisely we can very easily and rapidly make a "hell of heaven." We have polluted our waters, our air, and abused the soil. As a result of foolish and senseless slayings we have brought many species of our wild animals to complete or near extinction.

Certainly we know that steps are being taken to conserve the little we have left but it is not possible to conserve without people realizing how important these natural resources are to our country. The news media supplies cold facts to what will happen if we do not become conservative. Unfortunately, many only view the possibilities and do not recognize that this heaven that we are living in, with resources that keep this country going, are decreasing at a rapid rate. For the sake of future generations we must conserve; to give them the comfort of living we have experienced, and to keep this heaven that it was created to be.

By Carol Ann Bavousett

What are you planning to do with your life? That question evokes a lot of different perspectives—perspectives as an individual, as a family member, or a member of the world community. What is there to work with? We have our own potential creativity and talents, but our potential for growth, as earth's, is limited. Conservation is a word that frightens some people because they don't realize its meaning. Conservation is limitation, but it is also sensible limitation—preservation for enjoyment and providing for all of our people. Because our reserves of necessities won't be able to take care of the present world population forever, conservation is an integral part of keeping this world livable.

Our energy future includes a search for energy sources other than petroleum and a way to use what we have more efficiently. The recent energy scare points up to the fact that although it might have been a manipulation by large companies to make a profit, soon there won't be any reserves to manipulate. Our food future includes finding a way farmers can sell their stored crops to hungry nations in a free market situation, finding new areas of cultivation like the sea, taking care of farm lands we now have so that they will be able to produce continually, and finding ways to get more nutrition out of what we eat. Our environmental future includes preservation of a wildlife balance, and preservation of grass and trees in order to make this world livable.

Conservation is the key to our survival. If we start to seriously consider and implement conservation measures now, survival will be pleasant and worthwhile. Getting our world conservation minded will require three steps: first, all of man's ingenuity will be needed to come up with new sources of energy and food; second, we must learn to live with each other. We will be forced to think more universally—as a world instead of nations; and finally, a realignment of values will be required. There can be no more unlimited "gimme, gimme, gimme." These measures will give us so much more. They will give us a future.

By Elaine Berggren

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the sweet earth's flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer
wear
A nest of roliens in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain.
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools
like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Joyce Kilmer

Pioneers often planted the seed of trees as soon as they planted their gardens and fields. Trees made the simple houses more beautiful. In summer they gave welcome shade. In winter the trees broke the force of the wind. Their fruit added variety to the pioneers diet.

Most people love trees for their beauty, but trees are valuable in many practical ways too. Their wood provides fuel and lumber for houses, furniture and tools. From wood pulp are made rayon textiles, paper and many different plastics. Trees provide the most important fruits and nearly all the nuts. They also help preserve the land and plant and animal life.

The roots of trees keep soil from washing or blowing away. Leaf mold adds richness to soil. Thick mats of leaves and roots on the ground soak up rain, water and keep it from draining rapidly into streams and rivers.

With the disappearance of virgin forest people have learned they cannot "mine" trees the way one would do coal. Trees must be treated like any other crop harvested and replaced each year. The wise owner of timberland uses logging methods that assure him a sustained yield, a balance between growth and cutting. This is only one resource that is important to us in America. But it points to the fact that Conservation is important. It is true that only God can make a tree, and an animal, and a river, and a .....

By Jyl Gromowsky

Interdependence means dependence on each other. Society is based on the principle of serving one another. This is seen in one of the simplest forms of society—the family. The father carries on one kind of work, the mother another kind, and perhaps the children contribute their kinds of services. All of the kinds of work are necessary to family life, and all members of the family are dependent on one another for special services. When one kind of work or service stops for long, the family life is crippled. What is true of the family is also true, in a more complicated manner, of larger societies. In ancient writings it was said, "We are all members one of another." In the same sense that each member of the family depends on each other so is it that agriculture depends upon our working hand in hand with the conservation of our resources.

With the constant shortages of so many things, we must stop and think of ways in which we can continue to have an abundant supply of resources not only for our generation today but also for those to come.

During this day and time, we have become dependent on all the things that we believe necessities. But there may come a time when we will no longer be able to enjoy some of the real comforts that we have today. Today's world depends upon all of the resources that are disappearing. We sometimes think that even though there is a shortage of something that we may continue to use it as we have been and that the only reason for the shortage is that of companies wanting to raise their prices. We must come to realize that if we do not take steps to stop these shortages and inflation, that someday in the near future we may be faced with a worldwide crisis. In order to live in the same way and do the same things that we are enjoying today, we must all take the time to really help conserve our resources, because without them, there will be nothing.

CowBelles Discuss Upcoming Projects

Consideration of several new projects was on the agenda of the Feb. 10 meeting of Bovina CowBelles at Community Room of First State Bank of Bovina. The CowBelles voted to cooperate with other civic organizations in the city in an effort to erect signs promoting area agriculture on U.S. Highway 60 east and west of the city limits. The group also discussed the possibility of printing cattle brand placemats for use at Bovina Restaurant.

Additional details on the project must be worked out before any definite decision can be made, said Mrs. C.C. Naegle, CowBelle president. Mrs. Naegle reported that $2050 in beef gift certificates were purchased through First State Bank of Bovina during the Christmas holidays. "We were especially pleased that the beef gift certificate idea for Christmas was so well received here," said Mrs. Naegle. The CowBelle president also reported that the organization donated $25 to assist in purchasing project animals of Bovina 4-H and FFA members during the recent stock shows in Parmer County. Mrs. Naegle reported that the state CowBelle convention would be held the latter part of March in Austin with a delegation from Bovina planning to attend. Two beeves were donated to Girlstown through the Bovina CowBelles at the recent Parmer County Junior Livestock Show.

Portales, N.M. Miss Williams and the Wilsons will be showing the Quarter Horse at halter and Western and English Pleasure classes.

Lezli, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Williams, is a sophomore student at Bovina High School. Active in 4-H, FFA and sports, Miss Williams is the 1974 Bull Town Days Queen and 1974-'75 FFA Sweetheart.

Denero, purchased in 1974 from Jack Templer of Dimmitt, is now in training at the Earnest Wilson Training Stable northeast of

A list of those who provided financial assistance is as follows: Riverside Chemical Co., Bovina Pump Co., The Browsabout, Inc., Southside Motor Supply, Hawkins and Read

Sables, Bovina Roping Club, Mustang Drive In, Bovina CowBelles, Corbin Trailers, Bovina Fire Department, Calaway Corn Seed, Agri-Sprayers, Inc., Don's Medicine Chest, Hutto Drt Moving, Bovina Supermarket, Sherrill Lumber Co., Bandy Baling Co., Bovina Recreation Hall, Bovina Restaurant, Bartlett and Potts Auction Service, Spears Handi-Stop, Dudley's Auto Parts, Isaac Department Store, Bovina Gin Co., Parmer County Cattle Co., Bovina Jaycees, Sudderth Contractors, Williams Seed Dealer and Davies Baling Co.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

The monthly men's Christian prayer breakfast and fellowship will be at 6:30 a.m. Monday in Fellowship Hall of Bovina's First United Methodist Church, according to Stanley Klimak, chairman of the breakfast committee.

County Judge Paul Foreberry of Friona will be guest speaker.

All men of the community are invited to attend the non-denominational breakfast.

The Senior Bovina 4-H Club will travel to Clovis for a bowling party at 2 p.m. Sunday, according to Rocky Bartlett, president of the organization. Members of the club are asked to meet at the parking lot of First State Bank at 1:30 p.m. to leave for Clovis.

Your eyes, donated on death, can be used to bring sight to a blind person through a corneal transplant operation. For a pledge card, contact any Lions Club member, or the Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1, Inc., P.O. Box 1110, Amarillo, Texas 79105.

Little Dribbler Signees Lag

"The Jaycee-Ettes are having problems 'getting the ball to bounce' for the girls' Little Dribbler program here," says Mrs. Greg Bell, chairman of the project. "Not enough girls have signed up for Little Dribblers in the 9-10 and 11-12 divisions to operate the program," Mrs. Bell commented.

Under the rules of the Little Dribbler Association, each division must consist of four teams with at least seven members on each team. In order for Bovina to comply with the rules, 16 girls in the 9-10 and five girls in the 11-12 division are needed to sign up in order to begin the program here, Mrs. Bell said. Coaches for each team have been designated.

Any girl interested in playing basketball who has not signed up at this time may contact Mrs. Cindy Carthel, who has a supply of registration forms at the Bovina Schools. Girls may also contact Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Ronnie Sudderth or Mrs. Dwight Cox.

"If the necessary number of girls have not registered before the deadline set by the national association, the program in Bovina will have to be cancelled," Mrs. Bell warned.

Eyes, like hearts and kidneys, can live twice through the donation of corneal tissue from human eyes, on death, to Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1, Inc.

Between 5 per cent and 10 per cent of all those who are blind can be given restored sight through transplants of corneal tissue from the eyes of a recently deceased person.
