By Dolph Moten

EUREKA

Farmers, who have become dissatisfied with producing grain sorghum and have been looking for another crop with which to supplement their income, need look no further.

The weather, which even The Blade's weather columnist, Willie Williams, seems to have lost control of, has provided the answer. If the rain continues and farmers continue to get more and more unhappy and down in the mouth, we can convert to rice as a principal crop and everybody can make plenty of money!

Frankly, I don't know anything about rice except that it has to have boocoo of water and makes pretty poor eating. Too, it is grown where there's a high annual rainfall.

It looks like the coming crop for this country.

The Chinese are getting by on it... feel sure that Farmer County farmers will be able to produce it as well.

So, quit worrying about your crop that's bogged down in rich, wet High Plains soil, let's get some rice equipment, turn this crop under and start competing with the Chinese.

All's not lost... not by a long shot.

WILLIE WAS RIGHT

Weatherman Willie is gone on a trip. Therefore, it seems only right that this column should brag a little for him. His weather prediction in last week's issue mentioned something about more rain coming. Then, if as an afterthought, Willie added, "Looks like a cinch."

Was glad to see that he so successfully met and passed his first weather prediction test in his new weather column.

Will be among the first to doubt, however, that Willie really thought it was going to rain as long and as much. Too, this department is pretty much afraid that he was concentrating on that trip he was about to embark on when he made this week's prediction. But I'm going to believe every word of it until it's proven wrong, nonetheless.

THANKS, BUCK

Even though Buck Ellison is a brother of my arguing pal, Hubert Ellison, he's sure a nice fellow. He, as is his wife, Mable, is also a very good deer hunter. They returned just a few days ago from a hunting trip in Colorado. The venison they presented to yours truly makes me almost ashamed about the comments I made here last week about deer hunters.

I won't ever do it again. I promise.

YONDER IT WENT

Russia's sputnik, which hit the headlines and started spinning around the world about the same time Lew Burdette was making the mighty New York Yankees look like Little Leagueers, could be seen from Bovina a week ago tonight—last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Myrtle Marot called Thursday morning to say that she and some friends had seen it about 6:48 Wednesday evening. She wondered if any other local people had been looking for it or had seen it.

Mrs. Marot and the people watching with her were equipped with a telescope and field glasses. She reported the much-publicized object was in view for about a minute. It was spotted as it moved across, or in front of, a star.

Though it was more red in color, it looked something like a moving star, she said.

It wasn't by accident that the group saw it. They had been informed that it was going to be visible from here and made plans to look it over.

Mrs. Marot seemed to be under the impression that even though it belongs to the Russians, it is still interesting to watch and hear about.

ALREADY

Unless you're a parent of one of the players, you'll probably be as surprised as I was to learn that basketball season, for girls at least, is underway.

The junior high team played its first game Monday afternoon with the freshmen, B and A teams scheduled to follow suit Thursday night at Lazbuddie.

Charles Don Smith is beginning his first season as coach of the local girls. R. E. Everett, of course, served in that capacity for several years until this one and compiled an enviable record. He had his team up near the top of district standings almost every year.

Probably shouldn't put Coach Smith on the spot before the season even gets underway good, but he inherited some good material from last year's team. On the other hand, he's apt to be bothered by the same trouble that last season's team

Deputy Roberts Resigns

Jim Roberts, city-county deputy sheriff here for the past six months has announced his resignation. He has asked the city commission to accept his resignation effective November 1.

Roberts, who has done much to correct Bovina's traffic problem during the time he has been here, will accept a full-time county job with headquarters in Friona.

No arrangements have been made in regard to a replacement for Roberts, but he will be replaced, a member of the city commission reports.

Roberts, who owns a home in Friona, expressed appreciation for the cooperation received from the people of the community during the time he was here and said, "I've certainly enjoyed working with these people, but I felt like I couldn't turn down the opportunity to go to work for the county full-time and move back to my home."

"Until a Bovina deputy is appointed, I will be in and out of Bovina," Roberts says.

As deputy here, Roberts received half his salary from the county and half from the city. The same arrangement is expected to be followed with the replacement.

He was the first full-time peace officer to work here.

In Hospitals Last Week

Admitted to Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona last week with flu were Joe Don Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Stevens; Galen Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carson; Miss Lillian Fisher, Eddie Dwayne Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Webb; and Sammy Webb, son of Mrs. Bessie Webb. Mrs. Webb was admitted following a traffic accident. All had been released by the first of this week.

Joe Jones, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, was admitted to an Amarillo Hospital Friday. He underwent surgery on his knee that afternoon. Joe's knee was injured in a junior high football game October 8. He was released Monday.

Miss Lottie Riley, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley, is reported by hospital authorities to be doing as well as can be expected. She is in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo and had surgery October 9 on her spine.

"About November 1"

New Business To Open In Bovina

Lou Marot, who operates The Great Western Co., a general merchandise wholesale firm, has announced plans for opening a retail outlet here in the next few weeks.

Marot's company, which serves retailers throughout Texas, handles such merchandise as jewelry, diamonds, watches, luggage, small appliances, and specialty items.

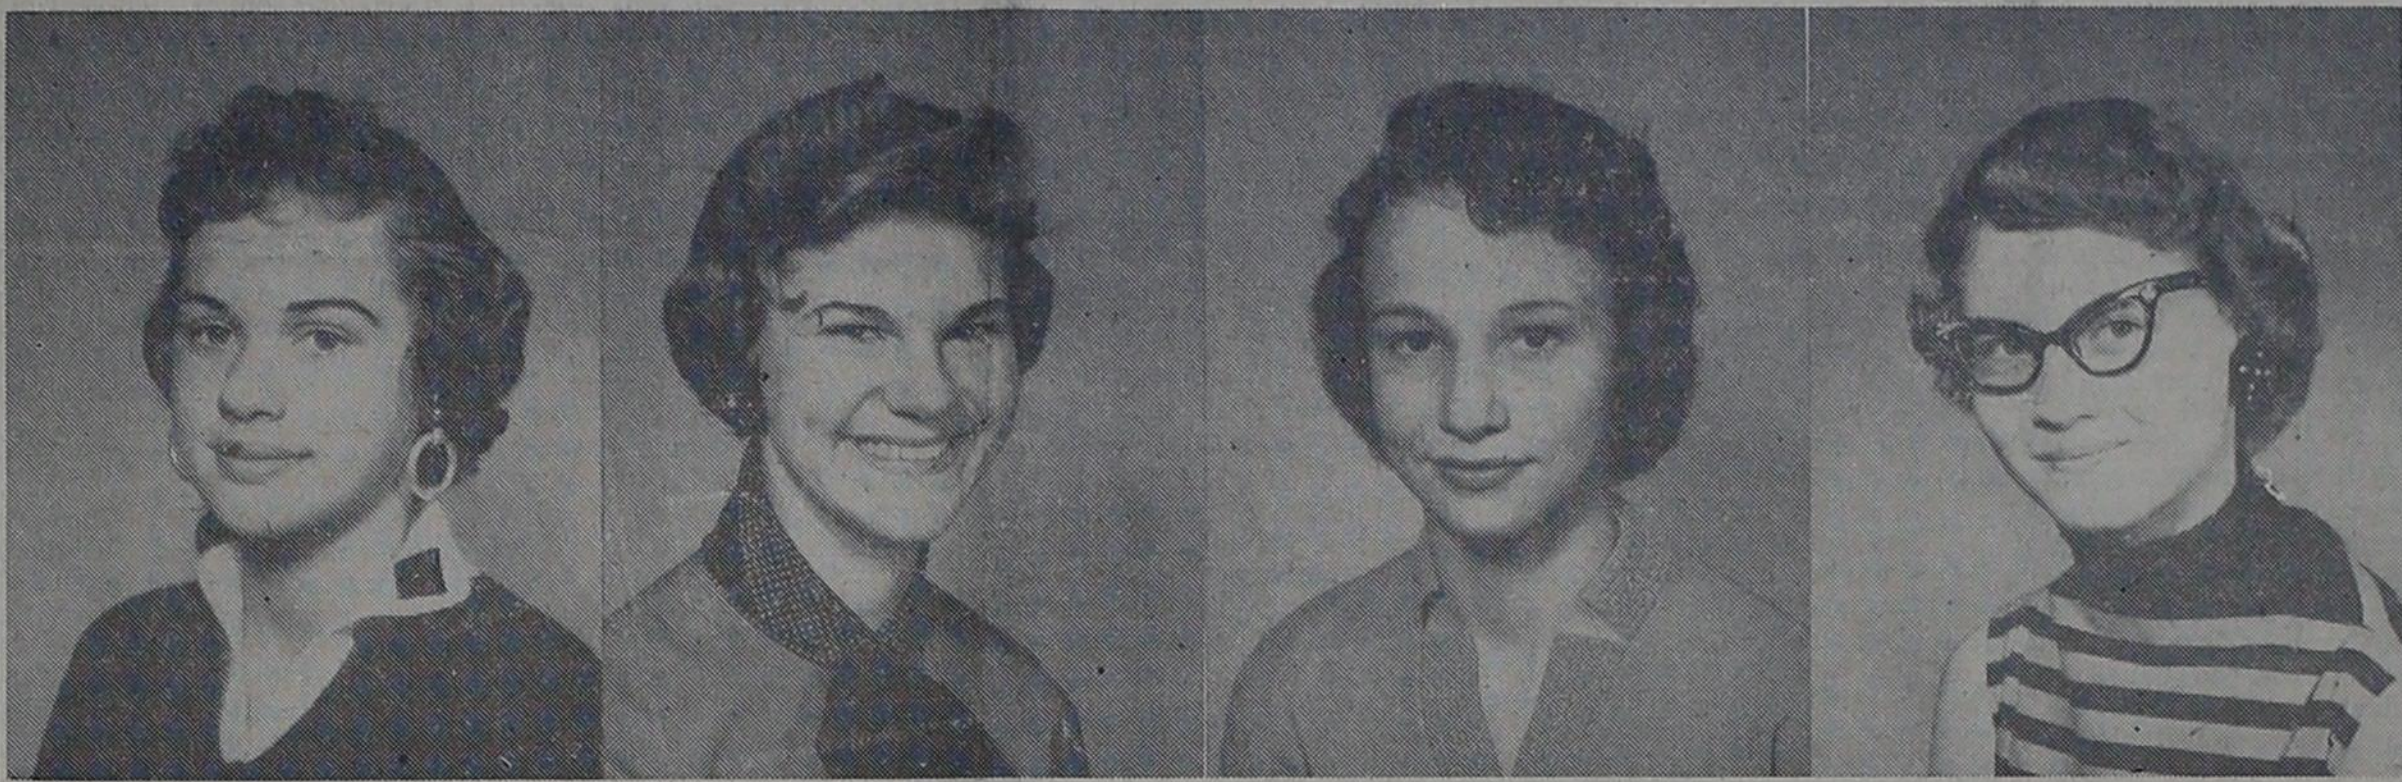

The new business, which Marot hopes to have open by November 1, will be located at the northeast corner of the intersection of North and Third Streets in the building formerly occupied by Parmer County Farm Supply.

Opal Venable will be in charge of the business. The building will be remodeled, Marot says, and fixtures and showcases will be installed.

"Wholesale prices will prevail at all times," Marot says, "nothing will carry the full retail markup." Too, he does not plan to stock any merchandise that is currently being carried by present merchants. "My purpose in opening a business here isn't to go into competition with anyone," he says.

Also, the retired army major will do repair work on watches and jewelry.

The business here will also serve as a receiving and shipping point for the mail order

Scouts Snare Spotlight Soon

Local Troop To Be Host For Camporee

Weather permitting, Bovina Boy Scouts will play hosts this weekend to some 200 Scouts from five different area towns.

Troops which will be represented include Clovis, Texico, Grady, Melrose, and Portales. The "camporee" will begin Friday afternoon and will end following the noon meal Saturday, Billie Sudderth, assistant scoutmaster, says.

Site of the camp-out will be the Jack Dunn pasture south of the highway park west of town.

Scouts will bring their own food to the two-day affair and will also cook for themselves. Wood for campfires will be furnished by the local troop. A water tank, to supply the group with water needs, will be furnished by Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis.

Scoutmasters from the various troops will attend the outing with their boys and will assist with the program, Sudderth says.

Contests will be held, games will be played, and various awards will be presented to deserving Scouts.

"The public is invited to come out and visit the camp at any time during the two days," Sudderth points out.

Drunk Fined

B. R. Stedham represented the only arrest made by Parmer County law officers over the past weekend. He was picked up by Deputy Jim Roberts in Bovina Friday night and was charged with drunkenness. He was fined $26.55 in J. R. Thornton's justice of peace court Monday.

NEW SPORT—Jimmy Charles, left, model airplane fan, has created a new interest in the noisy sport among teen age boys here. Charles has spent several afternoons at the baseball field teaching boys how to fly model airplanes. Several have purchased planes of their own and though wet weather has slowed enthusiasm the buzzing of model airplanes can probably be heard here for some time to come. Denny Queen is helping Charles get this gaily decorated plane started.

After Flu Epidemic—

School Returns To Near Normal

After being dismissed for four days because of a flu epidemic that swept through the student body, Bovina Schools started classes again Monday morning under "near normal" conditions.

A total of 95 students were absent Monday, but that figure dropped to 66 Tuesday morning. However, Warren Morton, superintendent, explained that a large percentage of those absent were from the first three grades. Morton felt bad weather and muddy roads were the main reasons for the absenteeism. "I think the worst of the flu is over," Morton says.

When school was dismissed

Monday, plans were to resume again on Friday. However, no signs of a letup in the number of cases of flu postponed the re-opening day until Monday.

The days missed because of the flu will be made up at the end of school, Morton points out. Original plans were for school to end for the year May 16. "Now it looks like it will be May 21 if nothing else happens," he says.

Too, a shorter-than-usual Christmas-New Year holiday period is scheduled. The school will be out December 21-29 for Christmas with one day off in observance of the New Year holiday.

Tuesday's attendance indicated that the flu epidemic was over. There was 100 per cent attendance in the sixth grade and only six students were absent in high school.

Plans For MYF CROP Project Almost Complete

Plans for the annual "Trick or Treat" project of the young people of the community are "almost complete" says Rev. W. R. Beard, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The project, in the form of a drive for donations for a milk fund of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), will be held Thursday night, October 31.

Young people of the community will meet at the Methodist Church at 7:30 and will canvass the town. The house to house calls will be completed by 9, says Rev. Beard.

Donations by the citizens of Bovina will provide milk for undernourished children throughout the world. It is a non-denominational project and has been sponsored in Bovina for the past four years by the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Plans for blocking off the town into sections to be "worked" by the youngsters will be completed this week. The canvass will be under the direction of Mrs. Bedford Caldwell and Dean Hastings.

WEATHER by WILLIE

This week's weather will be typical Panhandle fall weather.

Ponies To Play Kress

Homecoming for ex-students of Bovina High School and Parmer's Night will be observed at Friday night's District 3-B football game between Bovina's Mustangs and the Kress Kangaroos.

Highlights of the occasion will be the crowning of the football queen and hero and the presentation of the junior high team's queen and hero.

The ceremonies will take place at halftime. Gametime is 8 p. m.

A guest book, for ex-students to sign, will be located at a convenient place during the game. The student council will be in charge of it.

Parents of football players will sit together in a special section of the stands and will wear placards with numbers corresponding to those of their sons.

Queen candidates selected by varsity players are Avis Williams, junior; Nicki Woelfel, junior; Celia Berry, sophomore; and Judy Roach, sophomore.

Junior high candidates are Marilyn Brandon, Dixie Hartzog, Sherri Langer, Carol Hastings, and Virginia Rea. The winners will not be known until the time of the ceremony.

The varsity queen will be crowned by the captains, Billy Burnam, Dick Horn, and Terry Adams.

The game itself will pit the powerful, experienced Kangaroos against Coach Bob Wills' Mustangs, who will be out for their second victory of the season. They have lost four.

Once favored to win District 3-B this year, the visitors were knocked from their pedestal by the Happy Cowboys. Score of that game was 19-0. Happy bumped Bovina, 34-0.

With 11 seniors on the squad, the Kangaroos are probably the most experienced team the Ponies will meet this season. Too, Kress will have a weight advantage of some 20 pounds per man.

For another comparative score, the Swisher County team won over the Hart Longhorns, 6-0. Bovina lost to the Longhorns, 20-13.

After sitting out last week's scheduled contest with Friona's Class A Chiefs because of the flu epidemic, the Willsmen are expected to be at full strength, though some of them "still have colds," the coach says.

Jerry Burnett, hard-running Mustang back, who missed the Happy game because of a twisted ankle, is expected to be back in the lineup and will offer a boost to the Bovina running attack.

Bad weather has hampered practice this week. The team worked out in the gym both Monday and Tuesday to avoid rain and a muddy practice field that would have made it almost impossible to get in any serious practice.

Aside from Burnett, the lineup is expected to be the same as it was for the Happy game.

Financial Drive Gets Underway Here Tuesday

Annual financial drive for Boy Scouts will get underway in Bovina Tuesday morning at 6:30 with a breakfast in Bovina Restaurant.

Attending the breakfast will be members of the Lions Club and the American Legion.

Gene Ezell, chairman of the drive for Bovina, says each member of the two organizations will be given cards with the names of "four or five" people. The member will contact the individuals on his list in regard to making a contribution to the Scouting program.

The breakfast will be free to all members and, needless to say, Chairman Ezell hopes to have a large group on hand.

"We plan to complete the drive Tuesday," Ezell says. "The 6:30 breakfast will give us a good, early start and we feel the drive will be a greater success if an effort is made to complete it in one day."

Details as to how to solicit donations, where to turn the money in, etc. will be explained during the Tuesday morning breakfast.

This will be the first financial drive for Scouting conducted here in recent years. No total goal has been set in figures.

Hunters Return From Colorado

Returning home over the weekend from successful deer hunting trips were several local people. D. C. Looney, Reagan Looney, Aubrey Brock, Bill Bradshaw and Perry Looney, who hunted as a party in the Colorado mountains near Dolores, returned home Sunday night. They bagged five deer between them.

Warren Morton, Al Kerby and H. J. Charles returned home Saturday morning. They brought with them five deer, also; four of which were killed by Kerby. The fifth, killed by Morton, was a 16-point buck, the largest yet brought home by local hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Kuckel and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison arrived home Monday morning. They had downed six deer between them.

Depending On Weather—

Warehouse To Be Ready In 3 Weeks

"We expect to have it complete in about three weeks, depending on the weather, of course," Thurston Bower, representative of Western Warehouses, builders of a cotton warehouse in Bovina on Highway 60 west, said this week.

Pay No Poll Tax If Over 60

Lee Thompson, Parmer County assessor-collector, has called attention to the fact that this newspaper erroneously reported persons over 65 would be the only ones eligible for exemption from poll tax payments as a requirement of voter qualification.

The age limit is 60, he reminds, and those over that age need not pay tax or apply for an exemption to retain their eligibility to vote.

Persons having reached their 21st birthday may obtain a receipt without paying the tax.

As required by the state fire insurance commission, is being installed. It will feature a 125,000 gallon storage tank complete with pumps and lines to protect the setup from fire. Water from the city's supply will be used.

An office for the business will be included in the warehouse, Bower says.

Construction, which is being done by a Western Warehouses crew, began last week. When complete, the building will have a storage capacity of 7500 bales.

NEW MINISTER—Alfred White, former minister of the Church of Christ at Canadian, has been named minister of the local Church. He assumed his duties last week and he and his wife and three children have moved here. White succeeds James C. Hartsell.

Ketch-all Kerner

By Sally Whitesides

The nip that has been in the air for the past couple of weeks has made almost every housewife in Bovina jumpy about a frost. So, many of them are busy moving their plants back into the house after a summer in the outdoor sunshine. Among the plants that do exceptionally well outside in the summer are geraniums, coleus, Christmas cactus and many types of jew. We, mother and I, usually move ours outside about the middle of June and bring them back in about now. We plant them in a secluded spot out-of-doors, usually on the east side where the sun isn't so hot and where they are partially protected from the wind. I brought my coleus and jew in the other day. Some of them, I dug up, root and all, and brought inside, but there were others that had grown too rangy for my limited space. These, I took cuttings from, put them in water and will pot in a few weeks. Talked to Amy Hromas Saturday and she suggested that, with these too large plants, you may cut off choice limbs or cuttings and root in water. She says that the cutting should have at least one "joint" below the water line of your jar, as this is where the roots will sprout.

Incidentally, Amy tells me that there is a time to and times not to try to transplant geraniums. Maybe that is my trouble. Through the years, it has become a procedure around my house that if I can keep a geranium through the winter, I lose it during the summer. If not then, surely I'll lose it when I bring it back into the house. So if anyone has an idea as to the likes and dislikes of this particular plant, Amy and I would like to know.

But back to transplanting and how it is done. Amy tells me that she usually starts the rooting process in water, but most plants will do equally well if planted directly in soil. The main thing to watch for is, keep the new plants pretty moist for at least the first several weeks. Also, Mrs. Hromas uses no special plant food for her transplants, but a small amount of hyponex or other commercial plant food will assist them to get over the "shock" of moving and pruning.

Was talking to June Rhodes the other day and she is proud, and justifiably so, I would say, of her young cousin, He, Scott Wilson, has spent the past year in Paris, France, attending a university. He is majoring in fashion designing and has already had one of his originals used as an illustration in this month's Vogue magazine. The dress, June says, is a short formal with "yards and yards of skirt." To top it off, Scott is only 20 years old; there's no telling what he will do in his chosen profession by the time he reaches the age when most designers begin to hit the magazines.

By the way, the dress is under the name of Scott's designer-illustrator, Ricci, in Vogue.

Speaking of styles, I watched with horrified fascination the other day, a fashion show on television. We would all like to have some semblance of fashion about us, but what is to happen to us who, at the very least, would look like balloons in these new bulky, baggy dresses and coats, with the finishing touch being shoes that you could pick your teeth with. Is there no way that dress designers can be kind to us? I move that we of Bovina delegate June to intercede for us with the fashion world.

But then, I was one of millions who swore they wouldn't drop the hemline to the calf ten years ago, too.

Janet Morton caught me in the drug store the other day and asked me to put all the recipes I could find for preparing venison in this column. To be perfectly frank, I always cook deer meat with a "pinch of this and a pinch of that." So if anyone has a favorite recipe for cooking this wild meat, please contact me, as well as our other wives of deer hunters in and around Bovina.

The main thing to remember, I believe, in preparing venison for cooking, is to remove all fat and as much of the bone as possible. This should be done at the time of butchering. Do not freeze the fat with the meat. The bone, as well as the fat, is what gives the meat that gamey flavor. Replace it, where necessary, with pork or beef drippings. Get your recipes in this week and we'll have a collection come the 30th of October.

I maintain that most people who dislike venison have not eaten properly prepared venison. Said that to Jody Horton recently and she answered, "Yeah, but you even like limburger cheese." I stand as accused.

Have you ever noticed how people in general will say they aren't superstitious, but do confide to you that one little thing after another "always happens" as a result of different acts? Take, for instance, Helen Wylie. She told me Thursday morning that it would rain again during the day, because drops of water were hanging from the clothes line. I hooted at her all day. She was proven wrong, not by me, but by the weather. It didn't rain again, and the drops finally fell off of their own accord. I'm not superstitious either, but no one can convince me that dreams don't mean anything. To be perfectly honest, I have several "pet" superstitions that I wouldn't print—too many people would hoot at me. But still, we all vow that we aren't hooked.

Speaking of superstitions, a black cat in this country signifies very bad luck, but in England, he is tops. The black cat is to the English, something like the rabbit's foot is to Americans. A choice symbol of the best of luck. They even have a black cat painted into many of their calendar pictures. Thirteen is also a very lucky number.

This talk about black cats brings to mind the approach of Halloween. This year, on October 31, the youngsters of Bovina will make a house to house drive for donations to CROP. Make sure you are at home and answer their knock. Most of all, give to this worthy cause.

Members of the Widows' club had a novel idea for their October meeting. They made up a newspaper Friday afternoon, complete with a column, stories, society news, advertisements and all. These women certainly enjoy their club and their fellowship together. More power to them. One thing for sure, their unique paper for a day served them many a laugh.

Popcorn time is here again, and your presto cooker is ideal for popping popovers. Be sure, though, to invert your lid so that the heat won't ruin the rubber seal on it. By the way, you use it just like any other popper; the heat won't break it.

Can anyone tell me when "Asiatic flu" became Asian Flu? Was it another case of incorrect English, or what?

With Glasscocks

Visiting over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Glasscock and sons were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Glasscock of Greenville. The guests were accompanied by their son, Gerald Ray, who is a senior at Texas Tech.

Local Men Are Elected At Tulia Meeting

Two men from the local Baptist Brotherhood were elected to posts Thursday evening at an Associational Brotherhood Meeting in Tulia.

Rev. Virgil Goodwin, of the First Baptist Church of Bovina, was named Associational Royal Ambassador Leader and Glenn Kelley was put in charge of awarding banners of merit. Banners include recognition for attendance, percentage and mileage to associational meetings. J. D. Kirkpatrick served on the nominating committee.

Main speaker for the evening was Tom Parrish, assistant to the president of Wayland College in Plainview. He spoke on "Filled with the Holy Spirit." Each church represented at the meeting was recognized and the local church received the Attendance Banner, for having more men present than any other Brotherhood.

Those attending were Rev. Goodwin, Lynn Hudson, Alva Hudson, Earl Roberts, Hodge Rigdon, Grady Sorley, Kirkpatrick, Homer Kelley, Eddie Ray Hutto, Henry Minter, Arnold Hromas, H. N. Turner, Charles Hawkins, Charlie Owens, Don Murphy, Wayne Garth and Roy Fuller.

Visit Brother

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lloyd and Mrs. G. E. Free visited last week in Alvarado with their brother, John Lloyd. He has been ill. Also making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wilkerson. Leaving Thursday, the local people returned home Sunday evening.

Brotherhood Has Study Monday

Members of the Brotherhood of First Baptist Church met Monday evening in the church annex for a regular meeting. J. D. Kirkpatrick, president, presided. Alfred Moody led the singing and Earl Roberts played the piano. "Freedom of Religion" was the title of the evening's program. Roy Fuller led the first section of the study, "Roman Catholic Church and Public Funds."

Rev. Virgil Goodwin spoke on "The Roman Catholic Goal for America" and Don Murphy gave the third part, "Persecution in the Twentieth Century."

Alva J. Hudson gave "The Baptist Answer."

A tape recording of two talks given in the Laymen's Conference in Oklahoma were played by Kirkpatrick, who attended the conference. He was accompanied by Grady Sorley.

Other men present were Boye Taylor, Ovid Lawlis, H. N. Turner, James Taylor, R. N. Willford, Homer Kelley, P. A. Adams, Roy Whisler, Charles Hawkins and Glenn Kelley.

Refreshments of soup, pie, coffee and tea were served. The closing prayer was given by Rev. Goodwin.

Skating Party Held Friday For Carla Meacham

Carla Meacham, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sparks, was honored at a birthday party Friday afternoon. Linda Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnston, was hostess to the social.

The guests gathered in the Johnston home for punch and birthday cake and Carla opened her gifts. Afterwards, they, accompanied by several mothers, went to Clovis for an afternoon of skating.

Adults attending were Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes, Mrs. Clarence Gaunt and Mrs. Hodge Rigdon. Youngsters present included Wanda Thomas, Judy Meacham, Gwendolyn Christian, Carolyn Damron, Cindy Gaunt, Margaret Jo and Radford Venable, Jerry Rigdon, Timmy Rhodes, the hostess and the honoree.

Doc Reter asked Ez Tike how well he sleeps. Ez claims he sleeps purty good nights and mornings, but afternoons he just seems to twist and turn.

UNITY

Many honest and sincere seekers for truth wonder if it is possible to unite all people into one religious body and eliminate the religious division that plagues the religious world? There is but one answer to such a question and that answer is "Yes." If it were not possible for all men to be united and speak the same thing, why did the Lord pray that "they might all be one" (Jn. 17:21)? Why did the Lord say "There shall be one shepherd and one flock" (Jn. 10:16)? Again, why the prophecy, "But that also He should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad" (Jn. 11:52)? It is not only possible for all of the people to speak the same thing and worship the same; it is ungodly and wrong not to. I say this with love but with firmness. Hear Paul, an apostle of Jesus, "For ye are yet carnal; for whereas there is among you envying and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?" (1 Cor. 3:3) To be carnally minded is death (Rom. 8:6) so there must be unity to please God. But the question is asked: "Where can we begin to be united and upon what ground can unity be obtained?" Peter has the answer in these words, "If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth; that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen." (1 Peter 4:11) By speaking only as we have a "thus sayeth the Lord" and practice in worship and life only what we can find in the will of Christ, can be the common ground for unity. Anything more or less is too much or too little. It is essential that all men speak the same thing, as Paul stated "But though we, or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." (Gal. 1:8) Yes, beloved, no one must preach anything more or less than that found in the oracles of God.

Unity can prevail over all mankind when traditions and commandments of men are discarded. Until that time, all who worship contrary to the will of Christ must bear the guilt of division. Peace, unity, and love can prevail when God's word is recognized as the only authority in faith and practice.

We of the Church of Christ desire unity and we invite you to stand for this noble cause yourself.

Mrs. Caldwell Has Program At Marzie Lynn Circle

Mrs. Bedford Caldwell was in charge of a program for members of the Marzie Lynn Circle Tuesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Caldwell spoke in the place of Mrs. L. H. Pesch, who was out of town.

The meeting was held in the parlor of the Methodist Church and five members were present for the pre-service prayer meeting. Mrs. Warren Morton gave the devotional. She spoke on "How to Come About in Race Relations." Mrs. Caldwell gave a chapter, titled "The Kingdom Beyond Caste," from the study, "Christ, the Church and Race."

Following the program, a business meeting was held. Mrs. Morton, circle president, presided. Plans were made for the annual World Day of Prayer services. The local church will have special services Monday, October 28, for this purpose. The local meeting will be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Each woman is asked to bring a sack lunch.

It was also announced that the nursery will be open for youngsters. Mrs. Earl Ware, Marzie Lynn Circle reporter, extends a cordial invitation to all women of the community to attend.

Announcement of the District Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting for Thursday, October 31, was also made. The Trinity Methodist Church of Plainview will be the site of the all-day meeting. Those attending are asked to carry a sack lunch.

Those attending the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. L. M. Grissom, Mrs. Frank Hastings, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. Ware, Mrs. R. G. Barron, Mrs. Wilbur Charles, Mrs. Billie Sudderth, Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Caldwell.

Widows' Club Has Meeting Friday

Members of Bovina Widows' Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. Esther Glover for an all-day meeting. The meeting had been postponed from Thursday because of bad weather.

The ladies gathered at 11:30 for a covered dish luncheon and during the afternoon, a program was held.

Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, program chairman, was in charge. She instructed the members in the preparation of a comic newspaper. Each member submitted material for the various departments. Household hints and choice recipes were "published" as well.

Those attending were Mrs.

Lillian Wheeler, Mrs. Minnie McCutchan, Mrs. Della Ezell, Mrs. Eva Gaines, Mrs. Maidee Brown, Miss Loula Smith, Miss Ellen Remmsneider, Miss Rita Caldwell and Mrs. Bessie Caldwell.

Others were Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Mrs. Pearl Osborn, Mrs. Pearl Hastings and the hostess, One guest, Mrs. Lorena Brock, was also present.

The annual Thanksgiving celebration and meeting will be Thursday, November 21, in the home of Mrs. J. Sam Gaines. Mrs. Pearl Hastings will be in charge of the program.

In Hospital

Mrs. Sammie Sudderth reported last week that her mother, Mrs. Fred Roberts of South Dakota, was to have been admitted to St. Mary Hospital in Pierre, S. D., Monday morning. She was to have major surgery Tuesday morning. As she will be hospitalized for some time, Mrs. Sudderth requests that Mrs. Roberts' friends here write to her. Address correspondence to Mrs. Fred Roberts, St. Mary Hospital, Pierre, S. D.

Attend Reunion In El Paso

Four local men left Sunday for El Paso. They are attending the semi-annual Scottish Rites Reunion there.

Taking the Scottish Rites are W. Wayne Stevens and Lee Thompson, Farwell. Also making the trip are W. E. Williams and Art Mast. Others, who had planned to make the trip, were unable to because of flu and other illnesses.

The Masons will return home Friday.

MYF Makes Plans For Social Tuesday

A Halloween party for members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will be held Tuesday evening of next week. The social, in the form of a masquerade, will be in the fellowship hall of the church. Young people attending are asked to wear costumes and masks. Games will be played and refreshments served.

In charge of plans are Janice Richards, Nita Beth Estes, Barbara Rea and Lexie Stevenson.

Low Temperatures, More Wet Weather Puts ? on Crops

More wet weather—plenty of it—has put a big question mark over crops of the High Plains during the past week. The soggy days returned last Thursday, and soupy weather closed in for almost six straight days before breaking temporarily Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Coming with the dreary days were low-hanging clouds that produced an almost continual mist. Rain fell, too, although gently, and most points got their second round of showers in as many weeks. During the period, rainfall measured up to and slightly over one inch generally.

Farmers, already edgy with late crops, weren't happy over the weather that was no good for anything but wheat and ducks. They are exceedingly anxious to proceed with their often-interrupted harvest. Millions of dollars of grain sorghum is standing in the field, awaiting reaping.

Other millions are at stake in the cotton crop, which could be a good one or a very poor one, just depending on what the weather does in the next few weeks.

County Agent Joe Jones reports that the rain is damaging cotton some. "But it's too early to tell just how much we're being hurt, and it will depend on how the weather turns out," he says.

Cotton that is open is staying too wet to pull, and the moisture is believed to be hurting grade some, as reports of staining have been heard. Also, the rain and fog is keeping plants green and sappy, delaying late-season maturity, and yet the weather is too cool for the plants to go ahead with their normal boll-opening activity.

No frosts have been reported, and for this cotton farmers are glad. Some of the fields are beginning to pass the crucial stage where a freeze would be very damaging, but still, the bulk of the crop needs warm, dry, sunny weather worse than anything else.

Grain sorghum producers are complaining about the rain primarily because of the fear that a sudden freeze might send portions of the crop to the ground. A freeze that would kill the plant and weaken the stalk might easily let the big heads fall over and be impossible to recover with a combine.

This is especially true in the case of this type of weather where icing and high moisture content would add weight to what the stalk has to bear already, and also because sudden squally winds might increase the threat of falling.

Then too, prolonged wet weather always brings with it the threat of pre-germination—sprouting of the grain in the head. That would really be hard for farmers to take. However, the coolness of the weather may preclude this eventuality.

Wet heads are usually more susceptible to diseases, also, and farmers recall 1955 when serious infestation of a fungus-type disease affected the yields of late-season feed. The fungus was especially troublesome in the "green head" varieties that mature later and carry a high moisture content. Light grain was the result of this trouble.

One other worry of continuing rain at this stage is that of causing discoloration to the grain itself. Color is one determinant of the grade of the grain and is reflected in the price it brings on the market.

All the news is not bad, though. Farmers having sowed wheat are excited about early prospects for this crop. Fall-planted wheat is getting its best start in years on the High Plains, and the crop looks as if it knows it.

Prospects for much early-season pasture are good, and are already showing up in the price of calves and yearlings that will be due to hit the range within coming weeks. Most farmers believe that goes off as fast as it has this year is almost necessary to protect against a serious freeze that might turn rank wheat back in the late winter or early spring.

Dryland wheat for the first time since 1949 is looking the equal of wheat that has been either pre-irrigated or watered up, producers declare.

Hartzog Attends Meeting

Directors of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association held their meeting this week in Amarillo. Seventeen directors and committeemen were present from 12 of the 17 counties in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

R. G. Peeler, Hereford, President, and Frank Moore, Plainview, legislative representative, reported to the board on the recent commodity group meetings in Washington which they attended. Peeler indicated that another conference of the commodity groups would be held in Omaha in November.

The Association is supporting a "Surplus Reduction Farm Plan" which in general calls for a uniform level of support for all commodities; government programs for all commodities to have a uniform expiration date; and, a percentage of cultivated acres to be retired from production.

Bill Nelson, executive vice-president, indicated that farmer interest in a series of county organizational meetings had been very encouraging with 250 attending in one county, and the average attendance being near 75. One-hundred-two local grain elevator operators are cooperating with the grain producers by deducting two pounds per thousand from farmer deliveries and depositing it to the Association in support of a program of research, legislation, and market development.

Arlin Hartzog of Parmer County attended. A man has a tough time ever convincing a woman that even a bargain costs money.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Those in charge of the Farm Bureau parade float for Maize Days wish to express their appreciation to Jonnie Hand for her willingness to substitute for Wilma Norton as Farm Bureau queen. Miss Norton and her entire family were down with the flu. Miss Hand, second place winner in the queen contest, represented Farm Bureau in the parade, and promptly came down with the flu that night. We hope both of these girls are feeling better by now.

A recent publication in a nearby weekly paper quoted some farmers who had visited Washington as commending some of our legislators for having allowed 80 per cent loan value on farm commodities that must be temporarily stored in the open because of shortage of storage space approved by USDA.

The fact of the matter is that Texas Farm Bureau requested and got approval for open storage at a critical time four or five years ago when some elevator operators would buy, but would not store, commodities during harvest periods.

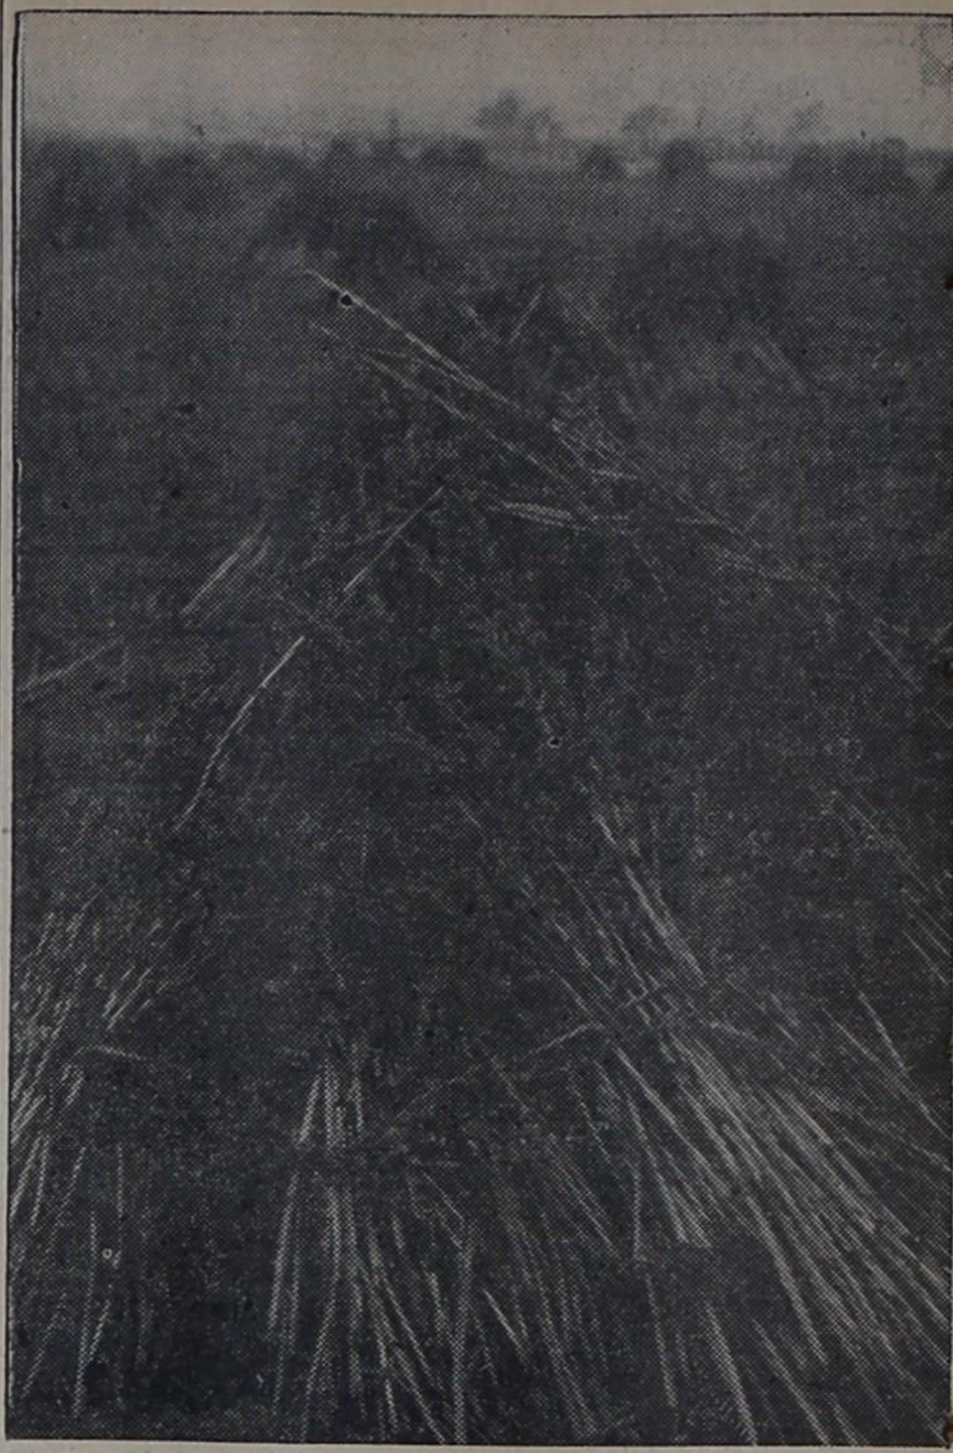

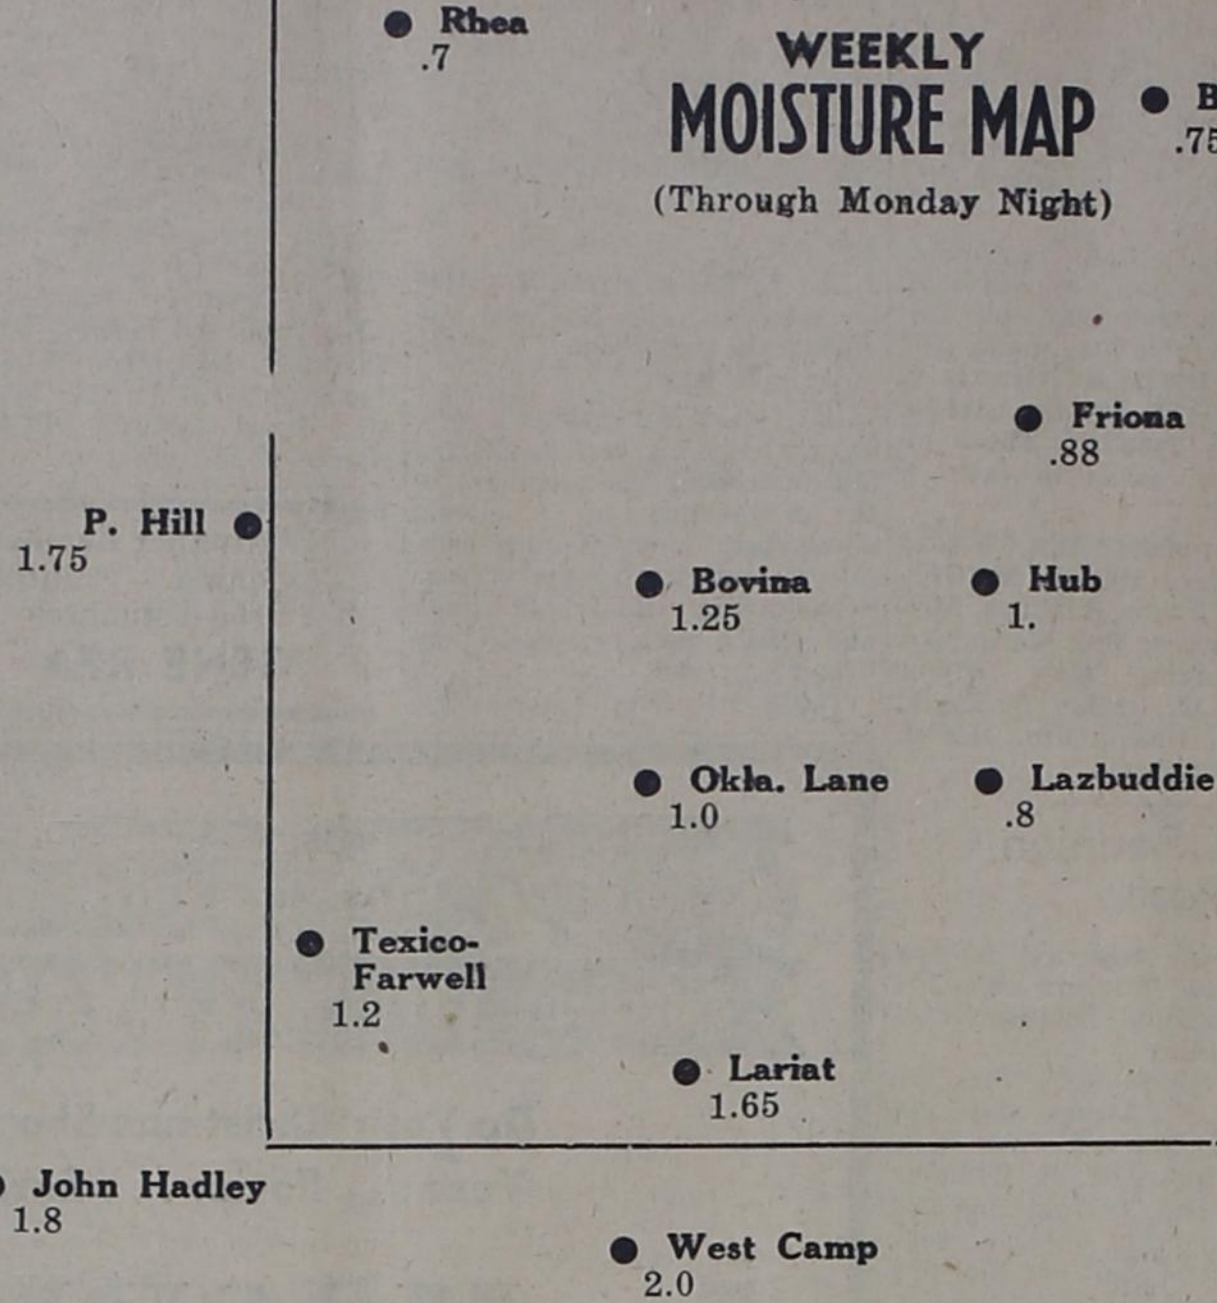

The provision, obtained by TFB President Walter Hammond, directly through then-President Harry Truman within a twenty-four-hour period, in many cases opened storage facilities to the farmer. It has since, by Farm Bureau resolution, been requested and obtained each harvest season.

Beginning November 1, $1 will be charged non-Farm Bureau members for handling farm-used tractor gas refund papers. It has been 50 cents for non-members heretofore, and will continue to be 10 cents for members, which amount covers actual postal costs for the service. This filing and notification service is one of the most exacting operations of the office, and requires a complete review of the files at least every 15 days, to determine whether you have responded to your first notice.

We believe the new charge is very nominal, considering the time and relative expense of rendering the service. The charge will be made whether the papers are executed in the office or not, as there is no charge for the notary service. Consider this: He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination. Proverbs 28:9.

WEEKLY MOISTURE MAP

(Through Monday Night)

What will happen to this sesame that is getting drenched in the shock? That's what sesame farmers are wondering as their oilseed crop sits in the field, awaiting fair weather that will dry it and make way for threshing.

Expect Large Yields

Larger yields than had been expected are believed to be in store for most grain sorghum growers this year. High Plains Farm and Home reports this as the opinion that seems to be showing up in the few, scattered, early reports of harvest.

Wet weather has stopped the harvest cold in its tracks, but on the sidewalks and in the coffee shops there is considerable talk that indicates farmers who have checked their early cuttings are surprised and encouraged with the yields.

More poor weather could change the picture drastically (see story on rain), but so far, it looks as if the Parmer County area will set a new record this year in per-acre average yield. Better farming, more favorable weather through the growing season, and hybrids are primarily responsible.

County 4-H Party To Be At Hub

The Hub community building will be the scene of a county-wide 4-H Club party on Saturday evening, October 26, starting at 7:30.

All 4-H Club members in the county who are 12 years of age and over and their parents are invited. Each member may also invite a guest to the party. Each girl is asked to bring three sandwiches for the refreshments and each boy is asked to bring 20 cents to help pay for pops.

Work "breaks" are as important to farmers as city workers. They'll reduce possibility of accidents and improve work efficiency, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. GRAHAM JR.

While we haven't received anything of a documentary nature from the Water District office in Lubbock on the subject of deep-lying fresh water fields, the subject hasn't been idle in our minds. Over the weekend we got a chance to visit a wildcat oil test on location, and although we were clumsy in drawing from our limited knowledge of oilfield jargon to intelligently converse with the drillers, we obtained what was to us at least some interesting information.

This test is 11 miles north of Silverton, at the foot of the Caprock country, and is in a canyon southwest of Palo Duro Park. The rig had drilled to a depth of about 6,000 feet and was testing for oil and gas when we arrived on the scene.

Understandably, the drillers were pretty vague about progress on their test in a zone they hoped would produce oil or gas or both, but they made no attempt to hold back anything they knew about the first few thousand feet down.

Actually, it was a surprise to us to know that they often pay little or no attention to what they drill through or into as they are going down. They don't really get interested until they get to the area in which they think a strike is possible.

In other words, it is completely possible for a crew to drill through a fresh water zone of considerable strength and not even be aware of it. The geologist in charge of the testing said cuttings of formations passed through were better indicators of whether water was present than anything else.

Upon questioning, he did recall passing through a fresh water strata "at about 3,300 feet," but because the men were interested in probing much deeper—they did not stop to check on the pressure, if any, of the strata.

The man said the water he checked was not highly mineralized as is much water from such depths and that he believed it would be entirely satisfactory for domestic or irrigation use should there be enough of it.

He also told us that he knows of one instance of a well near Wink where water from about the same depth was tapped in a well unsuited for oil production, and that the owner sold the water, which flowed artesian, to oilfield rigs and also used some for irrigation. With his hands, he indicated that the stream of water from this well was about six inches in diameter.

Now, don't jump at conclusions. We don't mean to reverse our opinion that very little water, if any, is available for practical development from such depths.

But, on the basis of this story we encountered, and on the basis of others going around, it wouldn't hurt to look into things a bit further before we write off as hogwash the theory of other reservoirs besides our prolific Ogallala.

A deferred grazing system with properly used supplemental pastures is essential for maximum range recovery, advises A. H. Walker, extension range specialist. Perennial grasses are slow to recover and heavy grazing can hurt more now than during the drought periods, says the specialist. His advice... breed back into the livestock business instead of restocking by buying back. This method will give good range plants an opportunity to come back.

Our Check-R-Mixer and Check-R-Mixer Service Can Help You

Save  grain time money

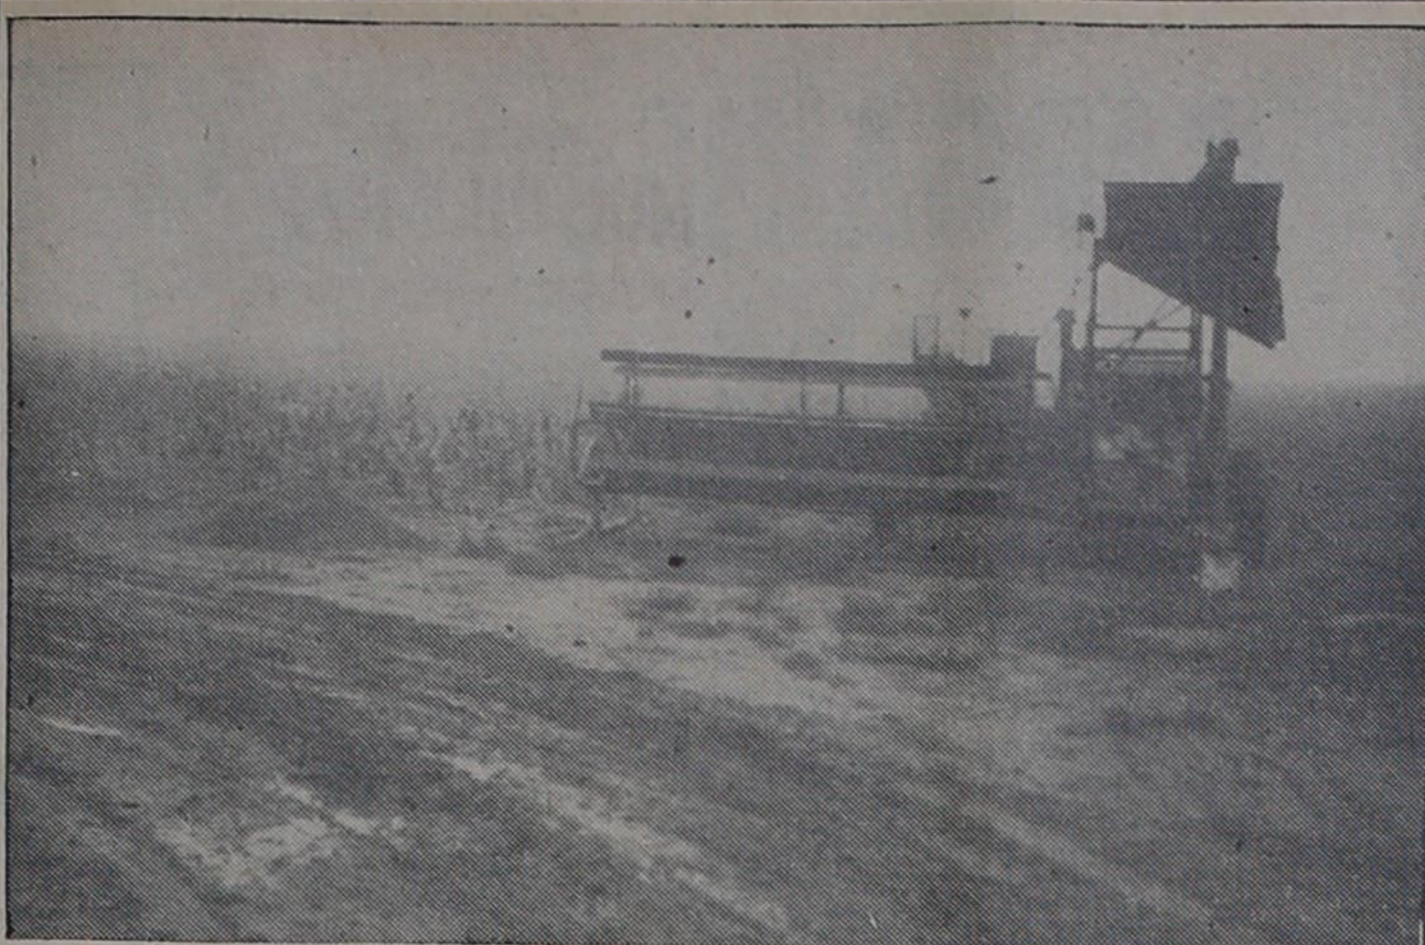

Our Check-R-Mixer and NEW Check-R-Mix Service are a profit making team. Check-R-Mixer tells us the exact amount of Purina Concentrate to add to whatever amount of grain you bring in. The Check-R-Mix Service combines the concentrate and grain into a ration that is best suited for your feeding operation.

The Check-R-Mixer makes it possible for us to follow the very latest grain and time-saving formulas which are complicated to figure in other ways, helping you get all the meat, milk, and eggs your grain can deliver.

COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU HOW OUR CHECK-R-MIXER WORKS!

CUMMINGS FARM STORE

Phone 2032 Friona, Texas

Mute evidence of what the weatherman's "soup" has done to farming this fall, at just the time when activity should be at its highest, is this silent combine. The water filled road leading into the turn-row and the heavy fog that shroud this picture are graphic reminders of why the combine isn't running. The picture was made on a farm atop Parmerton hill.

convenience especially in shallow and wide closets.

On your rod or rods, hang garments by sections according to lengths—blouses to the back or end, then suits and skirts and lastly, dresses. Under the short pieces you will have storage room for boxes of out-of-season garments.

If your closet still is too stuffed, take a good look at your wardrobe. A garment you haven't worn in months probably isn't so valuable to you as the closet room.

Good closet accessories will help keep your wardrobe in good condition. You can make your own shoe bags, hat boxes, glove boxes and dress covers. Directions are given in a new extension bulletin, "FACTS ABOUT CLOTHING CARE." Copies are available from your county home demonstration agent's office.

HD Council Meet To Be Monday

Regular meeting of the Parmer County Home Demonstration Council will be held at the Hub community building on Monday afternoon, October 28, at 2:30.

All council members are asked to be present for the meeting.

The $15 CARE fishing gear kit that provides a livelihood for refugees who have fled to Hong Kong from Communist China represents five weeks' pay to a working fisherman. Contributions to the CARE Self-Help Program, 660 First Ave., New York City, may be marked specifically for this package.

For the first time in their lives, many villagers in Mexico are eating and sleeping above the dirt floors of their homes, because the village workshop has been equipped with a CARE woodworking tool kit to make tables, chairs and beds. A $25 donation to the CARE Self-Help Program, 660 First Ave., New York City, sends this kit wherever most needed in Latin America, Asia, Europe or the Middle East.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

For a very different and tasty meat dish, try this recipe for Bacon Burgers. They may be served with vegetables, salad, and dessert of your choice at noon or in the evening.

Bacon Burgers

- 1 lb. ground beef
  - 1 cup bread crumbs
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 1/3 cup catsup
  - 1 cup grated cheese
  - 1/4 cup diced green pepper
  - 2 tablespoons minced onion
  - 1/2 cup lemon juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 12 slices bacon
- Combine all ingredients, except bacon, and shape into 12 patties. Use 1/3 cup of mixture for each. Wrap each meat patty with a slice of bacon and fasten with a toothpick. Bake in shallow pan in hot oven for 45 minutes. Serve piping hot.

A new item, which will soon be on the market in most variety and hardware stores, is an ironing caddy. Every homemaker should have one or more. They can be used for hanging freshly ironed clothes or for drying garments made from drip dry fabrics. These caddies are made of lightweight aluminum and fold for storing.

There is space for 20 garments on each caddy. Besides being used as aids in the laundry, they can be used when you have guests as a clothes valet. The nationally advertised selling price will be about $3.

For creamy fudge for Christmas gifts for service men or women, children attending school, or family eating, try this recipe. It is foolproof. There is no cooking to a hard crack or soft ball stage, or any other "loophole" whereby it might not turn out just right.

Don't keep waiting for oil to be discovered on your land—join us in buying royalties under land that is now producing oil. PRODUCING ROYALTIES, INC., Great Plains Bldg., Lubbock.

Place 1/4 pound oleo, 4 cups of sugar, and one tall can evaporated milk in heavy saucepan. Bring to boil, then cook nine minutes. Turn out fire and stir in one pint marshmallow cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and one 12 oz. package chocolate chips.

Stir until the marshmallow cream and chocolate chips have completely dissolved and pour into buttered dish. Place in refrigerator and cut into desired size pieces before it has completely hardened. Nuts may be added with the chips, cream, and flavoring.

A picture in a recent issue of a Household magazine showed a pretty doorway greeting fashioned around two ears of corn. Why do we limit our doorway greetings to the Christmas season? The recent Maize Days celebration in Friona was an example of what can be done with locally grown products.

Why not take a little time, imagination, and ingenuity and fashion your own doorway greeting? Some of the things which can be used for beautiful fall arrangements are cotton burrs, maize heads, stalks of soy beans, of guar, okra pods, and weed seed pods of different kinds.

These can be used in their natural color or can be sprayed with color paint. Cockle-burrs would probably make pretty additions, too. Then there are all different kinds and colors of leaves. There is really no need for your greeting to be a carbon copy of any other.

Did any of you homemakers, who are farmers' wives, take time to study the displays in the window of Hurst's Department Store and Bi-Wize Drug in Friona over the weekend? There was a wonderful opportunity for you to learn how your husband can tell when driving by a field of maize what variety it is.

A careful observation of the size, shape, and growth characteristics of the heads clearly indicated which variety each of the group of heads was.

The Bi-Wize window display was a short course in the production of hybrid maize seed. A little time spent in studying these two displays would have cleared up a lot of the "fog" most of us go through when the men start talking about the different varieties of maize being grown locally.

ACCIDENT, CALL THE DOCTOR
 This is a cry that may not be heard so often 20 years from now because of a survey which has been made by the World Health Organization of the U. N. It was found that accidents cause more deaths among children and adolescents than do communicable diseases.

A farmer in Pakistan would have to spend his entire earnings for six months to buy the modern plow Americans can provide with a contribution of just $11 to the CARE Self-Help Program, 660 First Ave., New York 16, N. Y.

Maid Of Cotton Entries Sought

Wanted: A maid of cotton. For the eighth consecutive year, the South Plains Maid of Cotton committee, in cooperation with the National Cotton Council, is conducting a search for a young lady who likes to travel, meet people, and to win friends at home and abroad for the American cotton industry. George Brassell, Jr., chairman of the 1958 South Plains Maid of Cotton committee, in announcing the opening of this year's contest, stated, "This is by no means a beauty contest. The Maid of Cotton, as a representative of the 13 million people in the American cotton industry, has a tremendously important public relations job to do, and is chosen on the basis of poise, personality and background, as well as appearance." Among the qualifications required of an applicant for South Plains Maid of Cotton, she must be between the ages of 19 and 25; at least 5 feet 6 inches tall; never have been married; not wear glasses, and have been born in a cotton-producing state. In addition, the South Plains Maid of Cotton must have a home residence in one of the following South Plains Counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Farmer, Swisher, Terry, and Yoakum. Applications together with photograph, must be submitted to the South Plains Maid of Cotton committee, P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, not later than 12:00 noon, Monday, November 11, 1957. Official entry blank may be obtained at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, 902 Texas Avenue or through directors of Plains Cotton Growers Association. This year the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest will cover two days, November 18 and 19, 1957. The South Plains contestants will take part in a program which will include coffee, luncheon, a parade, the Cotton Ball at the Lubbock Country Club on Monday, November 18, and the glittering finals on Tuesday evening, November 19, at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. The young lady selected as the South Plains Maid of Cotton becomes an automatic finalist in the National Maid of Cotton contest in Memphis on January 2 and 3. She will be presented a $1,000 cotton wardrobe and receive an all-expense-paid trip to Memphis for herself and the chaperon of her choice. The winner of the national contest will be flown to New York City for a month's stay in preparation for her role as fashion and good will envoy for the cotton industry. She will receive good-grooming and modeling tips from experts in these fields and again be completely outfitted with an all-cotton wardrobe. This wardrobe will include some 40 garments created expressly for her by leading American designers.

Where'd it come from? That's what area grain sorghum growers wonder about this and other tank cars that occasionally pass through as part of Santa Fe trains. "American Maize Products Company" reads the label on the car, but High Plains Farm & Home hasn't found anyone who has ever heard of the company, or where they are, or what products they manufacture.

Irrigation Meet Set At Lubbock

An irrigation conference of interest to farmers, agricultural leaders and the irrigation equipment industry has been scheduled November 14-15 at the Lubbock Hotel in Lubbock. This conference is being sponsored by the newly-formed Texas Inter-industry Irrigation Council and irrigation specialists from throughout the nation will be on the program. Jack Z. Anderson, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, will highlight the conference. He will talk on "Irrigation Farming—a Key to Better Living." Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas Tech; Dr. W. N. Williamson, assistant director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station; and C. L. Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., Amarillo, will preside over the conference sessions. Other noted authorities on irrigation included on the program will be Guy Woodward, educational director of the Sprinkler Irrigation Association, Salt Lake City; Dr. Ivan D. Wood, irrigation consultant, Denver; Dr. Moyle Williams, chief agricultural economist, National Plant Food Institute, Washington; E. V. Dignan, vice president of the U. S. National Bank in Denver; Dr. T. R. Timm, head of department of agricultural economics and sociology, Texas A&M College; Dr. Robert Hagan, chairman, department of irrigation, University of California; Dr. Marlowe Thorne, head of agronomy department, Oklahoma State University; J. W. Pruitt, irrigation farmer, Inverness, Miss.; and other officials from leading irrigation equipment companies.

Farm Program Hi-Lights—Wool

Sheep raisers who have marketed wool or unshorn lambs during the 1957 marketing year may make application for an incentive payment due them under the National Wool Act by bringing their sales receipts to the ASC office.

1957-CCC Loans

Grain producers are reminded that landlords and other lien holders are required by law to release all liens before a CCC Loan can be approved in the local ASC office. Lien waiver forms are available at the elevators in the county and the ASC office for the convenience of the farmers, that they may pick up and have signed by the lien holders to save delay in processing the loan after they have received the warehouse receipt.

Large Supplies of Grain

It is estimated that about 418 million bushels of grain sorghum will be harvested this year. This is more than double last year's crop and is 72 per cent more than the record crop of 1955. The production of corn is average. The oat crop is 20 per cent larger than last year, and the barley crop is 17 per cent larger than last year. As a result, we can expect lower feed prices during the feeding year of 1957-58.

Leaflet Available On White-Seeded Sorghum Hybrid

A white-seeded sorghum hybrid, showing a favorable performance when compared with the other hybrids, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA. Seed will be available in limited quantity for the 1958 crop.

This new hybrid, RS 630, is the first white-seeded hybrid released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In 25 tests in nine states, it yielded 67 bushels per acre—higher than any of the other hybrids tested. It is a medium-early grain sorghum hybrid that matures in 90 to 100 days after planting. The head is well above the upper leaf and dries readily, thereby permitting harvesting soon after the grain is mature.

A recently released leaflet, L-362, gives detailed information on this new hybrid. It contains sections on parentage, yield record, production of certified seed and gives a complete description. This leaflet may be obtained from the agricultural information office, College Station, Texas.

In Panama, it costs $42.20 to buy the contents of the woodworking tool kit CARE buys, packs and delivers to carpentry apprentices and needy craftsmen at a total contribution price of $25.

Corn Risks Rise

Corn growers, who have the cussedly dry and hot summers of the High Plains, in addition to ear worms and corn borers to worry about, are getting more grief from nature this week.

Their crop, although it's a good one, likes a lot of being in the bag. Over 75 percent of it is standing out in the field getting drenched, and until a dry spell comes, there's no way of getting it out. The moisture isn't expected to damage the grain to amount to anything, but the tall stalks could easily be toppled in the present condition, and farmers are understandably impatient to get their pullers in operation. Yields are believed to be promising—but no one really knows, yet.

Sunbeams Meet To Study Africa
Six small children attended the regular Wednesday evening Sunbeam services last week. They, with their counselor, Mrs. Eddie Ray Hutto, met in the church annex and began a series of studies on Africa. Through work with modeling clay, poetry, pictures and stories, the youngsters learned about the people of Africa, how they live and how they can be helped by American children.
Those present were Rex Cumpston, Galen Hromas, Johnnie Hugh Horn, Debra Whisler, Martha Adams and Beth Hutto.

WMU Begins New African Study

Members of the Women's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church met in circles last week to begin a new study of Africa. The book from which the talks are taken is "Continents in Commotion."
Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Blanch Grove Circle met that day for the study. Mrs. Allen Cumpston was in charge and others present were Mrs. P. A. Adams, Mrs. R. N. Willford, Mrs. J. O. Combs, Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. Vernon Ward and Mrs. Don Murphy.
The same study was the theme of the Wednesday evening meeting of the Rea Buster

Congratulations

Circle. Mrs. Wallace Rogers spoke to the members on past and present conditions in Africa and about the mission work of the Baptist Church in the area.
This study will be continued for about three months, with one meeting a month devoted to the study of Africa.
Attending were Mrs. E. H. Moody, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Travis Lloyd, Mrs. Bobby Englant, Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. Hodge Rigdon and Mrs. Arnold Hromas.

Congratulations

Mrs. D. C. Looney and sons, R. D. and Craton, spent two days last week in Lorenzo. They were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cherry.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. James Sherrill became parents of a daughter, Sylvia Ann, Monday, October 14, in Clovis Memorial Hospital. The new baby, the first for the local couple, weighed 7 pounds, 14 ounces.
Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sherrill; maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ramirez, all of Bovina.

In Rhodes Home

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rhodes were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Sims and children of Happy. Also spending the weekend with the local family was a friend, Charlie Serrel of Amarillo. The guests returned to their homes Monday.
