WHITTLEN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Whether it's a good or bad omen, we aren't sure, but we've never seen the people in general so unanimously in agreement about the bright future of the beef cattle business in this area.

All natural tendencies point in this direction and we're in agreement with Mr. Average Citizen that it is a great area for cattle feeding.

It seems strange, though, that it was so long in coming here. We'd say this new, expanding industry was some 15 years behind schedule. By that we mean we had all the advantages then that we have now and feeding cattle here back in the Fifties, say, was the farthest thing from the mind of the same Mr. A. Citizen.

But nevermind why it was overdue, it was probably the greatest thing to happen to the High Plains area in the Sixties and the ultimate potential won't be reached, the experts think, until the next decade.

Not more than two years ago, if you mentioned in a coffee shop or other public place that there was a possibility that this county, for instance, might some day feed as much grain sorghum as it produced, you would have been laughed at and forced to pay for the coffee. And that hasn't happened yet, of course, as this county still grows much more milo than is used in feeding operations, but it's much easier to visualize now that this could someday come about.

Deaf Smith County, just to the north of us, has already reached its capacity from the standpoint of feeding as much grain as it grows. There's more feeding going on there and there's less milo production so the gap was "easier" to close than it will be in Parmer County or Castro County.

At the present rate of expansion, though, the day is coming when there will be a local feeding demand for all the locally produced milo.

If we were a grain sorghum producer, we'd be looking to the future with renewed confidence and encouraging cattle feeding to the best of our ability.

The cattle business has somewhat of a reputation for its ups and downs, we understand, and one of those "downs" could sharply dim the brightness of the present picture. By that we don't mean to imply that the cattle business is a soft bed of roses now. But it could be worse, those in the business tell us.

The price of fat cattle could be less than the present cost of gain, to cite a revolting example.

The cattle feeding business probably does more for the communities involved indirectly than directly. People are required to operate the feedlots and this means an expanded payroll and population. Industry, in other words. And that's the thing for all forward-looking little towns and most large ones are seeking.

The development of cattle feeding in the area is the greatest thing to come along since irrigation, we'd guess. Another good thing about it is that it hasn't yet reached its peak. The best may be yet to come.

An agreement has been reached at our house. Yes, after all these years we've come up with a deal that is completely satisfactory with both sides of the household. Like all good and beneficial deals it's a simple one. So simple, in fact, that it seems strange it didn't come about long before now: She isn't to eat chili and we won't eat anymore rice or cooked carrots.

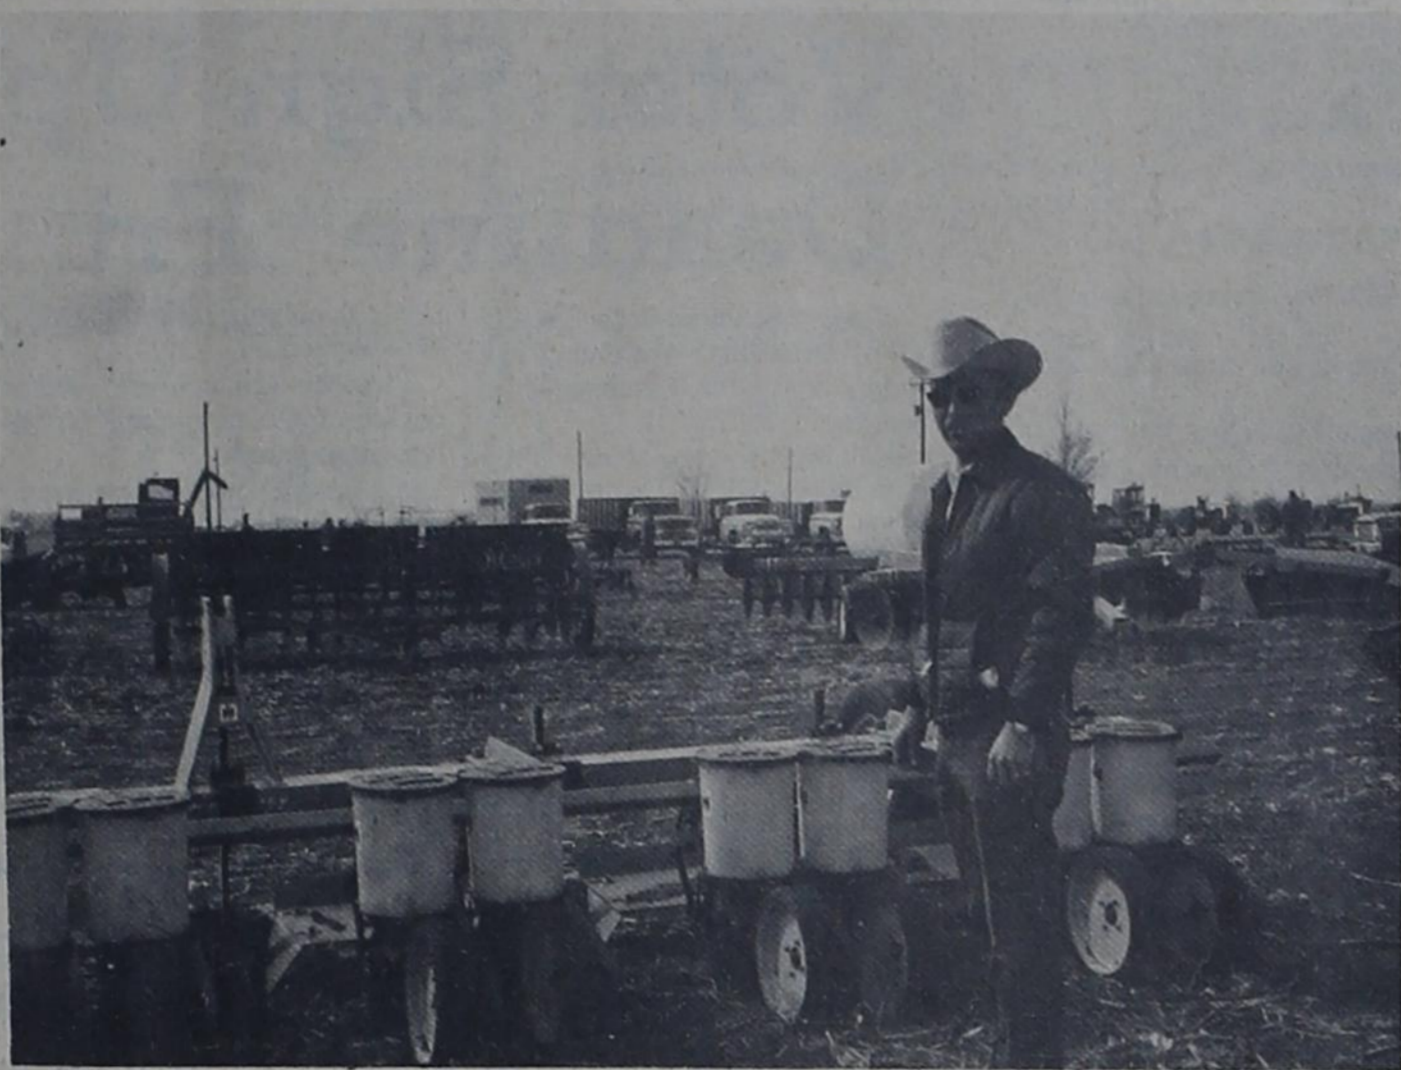

Ah, we'll never have another argumentative day.

Don't look now, but you-know-who is leading the Southwest Conference basketball race.

Like a good man, it's hard to keep a good school down.

If Weatherman Willie will pardon us for doing so, we'll point out that this drought business is going to get serious if moisture doesn't come soon. Dry spells we're used to, but this is getting ridiculous.

COMMUNITY AUCTION -- Houston Bartlett, auctioneer, looked over row after row of farm equipment consigned here Tuesday for the sale conducted by Bartlett and Potts Auction Service. Machinery, tractors, trucks, combines and other equipment covered a large area a block north of Highway 60.

Civic Representatives --

Scholarship Program Discussed By Group

A representative group from Bovina civic clubs met Tuesday night of last week in Community Room of First State Bank to discuss the Grace Paul Scholarship Fund.

No decisions were made at the meeting, but several possibilities of operating the fund will be investigated, according to Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, who served as recorder at the meeting.

The citizens were called to the meeting by Mrs. Jesse Walling, chairman of the Community Improvement Program. Mrs. Arnold Hromas, president of Bovina Woman's Study Club, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Corn explained various pros and cons of affiliating with the Opportunity Program under direction of Milton (Buff) Morris of Canyon.

A temporary board was elected, composed of Mrs. Corn, chairman, J. W. Sherrill and Mrs. Walling.

The group agreed to investigate a similar memorial fund in Muleshoe that is coordinated with the Opportunity Program.

Earlier this month the Study

Club heard Morris speak on the subject and also agreed to investigate its possibilities.

Approximately $2,000 would be required for the fund to operate effectively, Mrs. Corn said, either with the Opportunity Program or on a local basis. It would provide a loan system for students to attend college or take some kind of vocational training.

Attending the civic-wide meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Barraza, representing the Mexican Committee; Mr. and Mrs. Rouel Barron, Bovina Roping Club; Mrs. Hromas, Study Club; Doris Corn, National Honor Society; Gary Carson, Student Council; J. E. Sherrill, Bovina Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. James Roach, Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture; Mrs. Earl Stevenson, Study Club; and Mrs. Lawlis, Study Club.

The Grace Paul Scholarship Fund was set up in Miss Paul's memory last fall. It now has approximately $250.

Recommendations have been made that the fund be invested. The interest drawn would be used for the student loans, which would be paid back. Students receiving the loans would be selected by a designated group, or board, and would not necessarily be the top scholastic students. They would be selected on the basis of other factors as well, including need and desire for an education.

In Friona --

M. B. Buchanan Rites Tuesday

M. B. Buchanan, 79, long-time Parmer County farmer and rancher, died at 2 a.m. Monday in Parmer County Community Hospital. He had been hospitalized two weeks.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Friona United Methodist Church with Rev. James Price, pastor, and Rev. Paul Mohr, pastor of Friona Union Congregational Church, officiating. Graveside Masonic rites were held in Friona cemetery. Burial was under direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

Mr. Buchanan came to Parmer County in 1921 from Hale County. He was a well-known rancher and farmer in the area and lived eight miles east and one and one-half miles north of Hub.

A member of the Methodist Church, Mr. Buchanan was a long-time member of the Farwell Masonic Lodge in Bovina and the Khiva Temple.

Survivors include his wife, Opal; one brother, J. D. Buchanan of Plainview; one sister, Mrs. Edgar Ramey of Dimmitt; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jo Buchanan of Friona; and three grandchildren, Bill, Mike and Lisa Buchanan.

Specialists Say --

Area Potential Great For Cattle Feeding

"This area is feeding only one-half its capacity of cattle," said Bill Stalls, head cattle buyer for Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., at a meeting of Parmer cattlemen Thursday night in Bovina Schools auditorium.

He was among a group of specialists speaking to over 100 men on various phases of the cattle industry in Parmer County.

The meeting was arranged by County Agent Ronny McNutt.

In talking on the subject, "Need for Cattle Feeding in the 70's," Stalls said the natural question is, "Can we sell it?"

With the growth in population in the nation and the fact that more people are eating more beef because they have more money to spend, he feels that the demand will increase.

The buyer has been in the cattle business in many sections of the country and says this is the best place he has found to feed cattle. There are three reasons, he continued, first, because of the excellent feed supply; second, the available feeder cattle in the two seasons that produce them from wheat and grass; and third, because of the excellent climate, low humidity and little mud.

Stalls participated in the program in the absence of Gene Frye, president of the packing company.

Dr. Lowell Schake of Lubbock, area livestock specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, talked on different preparations of grain for feeding.

He told the group he is confident that "what we'll do in the future will be different than what we're doing now."

Early harvest of grain with 30 per cent moisture content may be the answer to replacing the expensive steam-flaking method of treating grain sorghum for cattle feeding, Dr. Schake said.

He explained that starched granules in grain are surrounded by protein walls and steam-flaking helps break down the walls and allows the starch granules to be converted into simple sugar.

However, the sealing of early-harvested grain into airtight containers tends to make the protein walls more digestible to cattle, he said, and would be far less expensive.

Cattle futures trading was discussed by Foster Whaley, county agent of Gray County. He stated that cattle raisers have been unable to "hedge" a profit for the past 12 months in futures trading, but they should use the futures when it's advantageous.

Dr. R. O. Dull, supervisory veterinarian, eat omslector, USDA Consumer and Marketing Service of Hereford, said only a small portion of a fraction of meat inspected is condemned.

However, he told cattlemen they should reevaluate their programs for controlling grubs.

The problem of mishandling cattle is enormous, he continued. Buyers can't bid as high because of this, Dr. Dull stated. The loss of meat because of bruises, etc. is tremendous and buyers always take this into consideration when bidding.

Co-Op Sets Annual Meet

The 15th annual meeting of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. is scheduled to be held Thursday, Feb. 6, in the Community Center in Hereford at 7:30 p.m.

On the agenda will be the election of directors for the exchanges of Frio and Oklahoma Lane, also with various reports from the officers of the cooperative. A proposed change in the By-Laws will also be presented to the membership.

All members of the cooperative are invited to attend their annual meeting.

The board of the cooperative now consist of James Dixon, Parmer exchange; James Enson, Oklahoma Lane; Keith Brock, Hub; Edwin Morrison Sr., Westway; V. J. Owens, Dawn; Jimmie Cockerham, Tharp; and George Olson, Frio exchange.

Here Thursday --

Parmer School Officials Meet

The Governor's Committee on Public School Education's recommendations will be the topic of discussion at 8 p.m. Thursday in Bovina Schools cafeteria, when school officials from over the county convene.

School administrators and school boards from Farwell, Frons, Lezhuddie and Bovina, plus county school officials and the county school board will attend the meeting. All newspapers in the county are also invited.

The committee's recommendations are for consolidation of districts into one county district, or for an ADA of 2600 students per district.

Refreshments will be served.

Ward Pickup Turns Over

Vernon Ward escaped injury Monday afternoon when his pickup turned over west of Bovina on the Pleasant Hill road near the Amos Steelman home.

He was returning to Bovina with an irrigation engine loaded on the back of his pickup when the left rear tire blew out. The weight of the engine turned the pickup over.

The vehicle was totally wrecked, but Ward said he only received a "scratch on his shoulder." He was able to get out of the pickup through the broken windshield.

TEN YEARS AGO
Jan. 28, 1959

Rev. Leon Hill, retired Baptist minister from Amarillo, entertained some 100 people with a speech at the annual Lions Club football banquet Thursday night in school cafeteria.

First Baptist Church members approved plans for a new church plant at a recent group meeting.

A petition endorsing six candidates for two posts on Bovina city commission has been filed at the city hall.

Three new teachers assumed their duties in Bovina Schools Monday morning. They are Mrs. Dorothy Sims Morton, Norris Samuelson and James McLeRoy.

A March of Dimes Telethon is planned for Saturday night on KICA, channel 12, Clovis. The telethon, reports Bovina MOD chairman, Roy Whisler, will be a cooperative project of Curry and Parmer Counties and talent from the area will participate.

A local of Texas Farmers Union has been organized at Bovina.

Warren Morton, superintendent of Bovina Schools, reports this week that "well over 400" students have been contacted through the school census plan this year. He expects at least 100 more, which will make Bovina School registration above 500 for the first time in history.

Otto Hammonds was re-elected chief of Bovina Volunteer Fire Department at a regular meeting at the fire station Monday night.

Three new members have been appointed to City of Bovina's planning board, Billie Sudderth, D. R. Brandon and O. W. Rhinehart. They replace Bedford Caldwell, L. M. Grissom and George Trimble.

Jack Jeter, pastor of First Baptist Church, attended a two-day conference at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview the first of the week.

SIX YEARS AGO

After an absence of two years, a band program will become a part of the curriculum of Bovina Schools beginning next week.

Band instructor will be Edra Hudson, who will receive his degree in music education this week from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

Poll tax may be obtained in Bovina again this year, Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary, announces.

Many Parmer County elevators will soon be officially designated as civil defense fall-out shelters.

That announcement was made last week by Wilfred Quickel of Farwell, civil defense director of Parmer County.

Father Claver Gible, S.A., assumed duties of priest of St. Ann's Parish in Bovina Monday.

"It wasn't cold; it just got down to 10 below," was the comment of one winter-weary Bovina citizen in regard to a freezing weather blast which blew in Friday night.

Weather by Willie -- "Winter will break up by this weekend."

Parmer County youths, led by the Lazbuddie FFA chapter, did right well for themselves at the 17th annual Hereford Junior Livestock show last weekend.

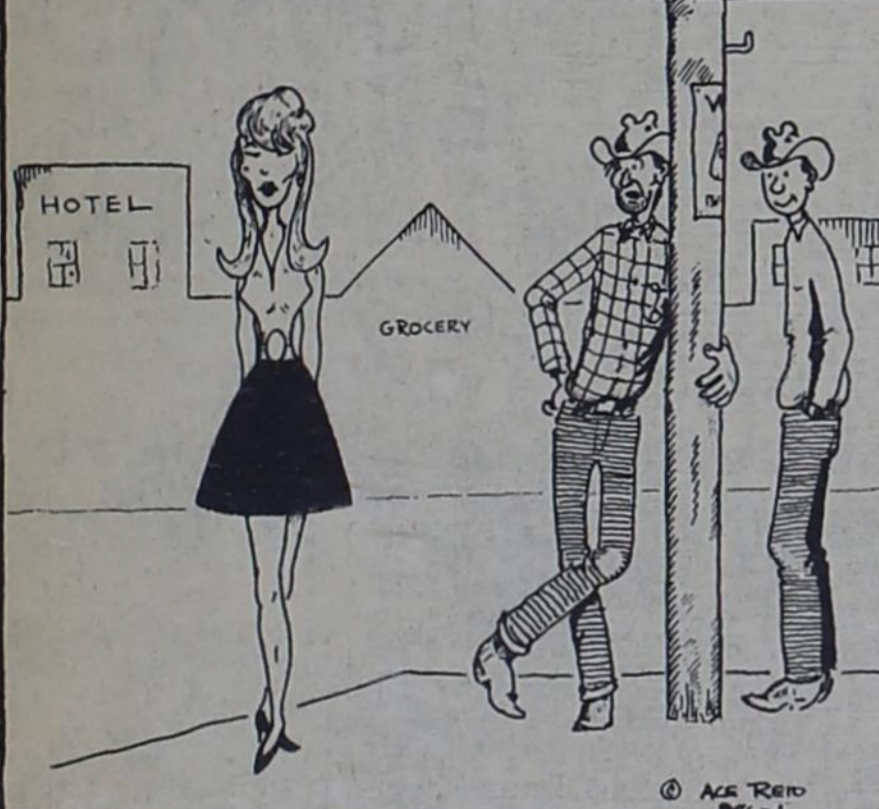

Quiz games, riddles and a sing-song highlighted the program at Widow's Club Friday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Caldwell.

Sunday, March 3, has been set for the mass administration of Type III Sabin Oral polio vaccine in Parmer County.

What was once a hobby for Mrs. Bill Tritsch has grown into a new business for Bovina. That business is flowers, as well as other plants. Name of the new business is Laura's Greenhouse.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Dolph:
I am sending another year's subscription for the Blade and, will you please change our address.

You'll never know how much I enjoy the Blade it helps to keep me informed on the many friends I left in Bovina.

I really get a kick out of Willie's weather, I can't remember if I told you but, we did a tour on Okinawa a couple years ago and we were all so homesick for the states then one day in our local island paper they had a weather forecast by Willie from the Bovina Blade and that really did it!

Thank you for a job well done and keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

Dear Dolph,
I am enclosing a check for another year's subscription to the Blade.

We missed seeing all our friends in the area this Christmas, but we certainly are enjoying our reason for not being there. We are anxious to have the Texans meet our son, in case anyone might be interested, his name was misspelled in the Blade. It is Corey JuDon rather than Cory Gudon.

May you all have a good year in 1969.

Sincerely,

The need for moisture is becoming so acute that we're almost ashamed to brag about and discuss all this nice, warm spring-like weather we're having in January.

Most farmers would, we're sure, rather have it cold and wet than so dry and warm.

It's old news now --- but Possum Richards is well on his way to recovery after his encounter with a pig.

Those who know Possum realize the difficulty in getting in the last word --- and it took a pig to do it. Guess the animal decided to be the aggressor for a change.

In case you haven't heard, the pig kicked and rammed a butcher knife into the artery of Possum's arm. After some confusion and loss of blood, the latter will be okay.

Don't know about the pig. It has probably had its last word.

O. W. Rhinehart was about the wildest-dressed man in Bovina Monday.

He was difficult to miss in a bright red print shirt and a brighter yellow tie.

After receiving a few jibes about his attire, Mr. Rhinehart explained. They were Christmas gifts from his daughter and son-in-law, who had a bet for the "car for a day" that Mr. Rhinehart wouldn't wear them to town.

The boss was a little worried about raising the subscription rates to The Blade.

Don't know why he gave it a second thought. In fact, at the rate they've been coming in, we probably won't need to send out notices for the next year or two.

This all proves one thing --- with rising inflation, everyone is cutting every possible corner --- including saving a dollar on the paper.

The rates go up Saturday.

Sad, but true --- many of us never turn loose of the rail and walk alone.

"Marvelous! And it looks as if you've stuffed it well, too."

"Stuffed it? Why this one wasn't hollow."

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN
by Vern Sanford

- REMOVES RUST—Automotive valve compound is excellent for removing rust or corrosion from fishing tackle. Unlike sandpaper or steel wool, valve compound will not scar or scratch the metal. It is excellent for cleaning rod ferrules that stick.
- ROD STORAGE—Never store fiberglass fishing rods in a room or closed car where the heat is likely to climb excessively high. Heat will cause the rod to take a "set".
- DEFLATE TIRES FOR TRACTION—When driving down the beach to surf fish, carry along a hand pump or inflation cartridge. If you get stuck in soft sand, let most of the air out of the rear tires. Extra traction will get you out. Then, of course, you'll have to use that pump or cartridge to bring tire pressure back to the normal driving level.

Sixth Defeated --
Eighth Beats Walcott

Eighth grade basketball teams won two games from Walcott here Monday night, the boys coming from behind to win 47-42 and the girls winning 23-16. Sixth grade boys lost 33-13.

Walcott sprinted ahead 22-6 in the first quarter of the boys game, and prospects looked dim for Bovina eighth graders. In the second stanza they closed the gap and Walcott held a 29-24 lead. Third period saw Walcott still ahead 36-32, but in the fourth Bovina came alive and spurred ahead to win 47-42.

Kim Rundell and Benny McCain racked up totals of 22 and 19. Jeff McCormick, Widdy Gromowsky and Eddie Pesch added two each.

For 1969 --
Voter Sign-Up Deadline Fri.

Voter registration is "pretty slow" said Hugh Moseley, Parmer County tax assessor-collector.

Deadline for registering for opportunity to vote in 1969 elections is Friday.

Moseley said 1776 residents of Parmer County had registered Tuesday morning. This is a low figure in comparison to the past two years.

In 1968, a presidential election year, about 3200 qualified themselves to vote. Even in 1967, an off year, election-wise, 2700 signed up.

"People are not yet used to registering every year," Moseley commented.

Application blanks are available at Bovina City Hall, Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary, said.

These may be filled out and mailed to the tax assessor's office in Farwell and the 1969 registration mailed in return.

Moseley also announced that vehicle license plates will go on sale Feb. 1.

Debbie Sorley hit the basket for 12 points, Nancy Hutto made six and Darla Hawkins five. Bovina was ahead 6-5 the first quarter of the sixth grade boys game, but the visitors took over in the second period 13-9 and continued to hold a 25-11 third quarter lead. Final score was 33-13.

Lupe Espinosa paced Bovina with six points. Making two points each were Manuel Chagoya, Joe Steelman and Alton McCormick.

The show is held here each year to give the boys experience in showing their animals in preparation for the county and other shows.

For Meetings --

5-Man Team On Europe Trip

The U. S. Feed Grains Council is sending a five-man team of grain specialists to Europe in January to discuss European agricultural policies that are being developed and to share with the European buyer and users the latest information on U. S. corn and grain sorghum. The team departed January 7 with stops scheduled for England, Germany, Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Spain and Portugal. They will participate in meetings with grain shippers, importers, feed manufacturers and other users of feed ingredients. The trip will last approximately three weeks.

Team members include: Herman T. Holmes, President of the U. S. Feed Grains Council who is associated with the P-A-G Division of W. R. Grace & Company, Monroe, Iowa; Clayton W. Johnson, Council Secretary and Manager of Mid-States Terminals, Inc., Toledo, Ohio; D. G. "Bill" Nelson, Council Director and Executive Vice President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Amarillo, Tex.; Samuel H. Sabin, immediate Past-President of the Council and Vice President of Continental Grain Company, Washington, D.C.; and John A. Browning, chairman of the Board of Appeals and Review, grain inspection Branch, USDA, Beltsville, Maryland. Also accompanying the group in Europe will be Allen W. Golberg, European Director for the Council, Clarence Palmy, Executive Vice President of the Council, was a member of the team originally. However, after Palmy's appointment as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Sabin was named to replace him on the team.

In Washington, Holmes, who will be the team leader, spelled out the underlying role of the team's visit to Europe at this time.

"The Common Market Commission is preparing proposals for a basic overhaul of the EEC farm policy. The outcome of this overhaul will have a significant bearing upon exports of U. S. feed grains and other agricultural sales."

"The EEC is presently faced with costly farm subsidies and increasing food surpluses," Holmes said, "a situation that has led to $2-billion a year in price guarantees for inefficient farmers and export subsidies to move surpluses abroad."

"What is more worrisome is that the forces for further price increases in Europe have not been fully satisfied and will continue to push for further upward adjustments again this year."

"Our concern is this," Holmes said, "The higher the grain support price for EEC producers, the higher the levy on imported cereals and the greater the trade impediment. In trade circles, we often state that the Common Market buyers pay for five bushels of corn and receive only three. In reality, this is a true statement because the two bushels out of five that are not received constitute the variable import levies or the payment made by EEC consumers to maintain internal grain prices at levels nearly double U. S. prices."

Holmes went on to say that much the same story can be told regarding grain pricing policy in other European countries. He added that high guarantee prices also act as an incentive to increase internal grain production. "The agricultural policy that is developing in the Common Market isolates the feed grain market from the world, and the extreme high prices are established without recognition of world grain prices," Holmes said, "It is inconceivable that such unilateral policies can continue without discriminatory actions on the part of other trading countries, particularly buyers of European industrial items."

Holmes said that one of the points the team will emphasize is that of convincing the Europeans that they cannot separate the issues of further price increases in the agricultural sector from the issues of foreign trade and industrial items. "The matter of the desirability of increased trade and exports," Holmes said, "must be sold as being to the advantage of all member countries in the trading community." Holmes said the team members would also discuss the U. S. corn and grain sorghum situation and presentations will be made on new developments in plant breeding, grain processing and utilization, pricing, marketing and U. S. grain standards.

Of Interest To ★ THE WOMEN ★

DISPLAYS RESULTS -- The bottles sitting atop the kiln, left, and those on a shelf at right are only a few that Mrs. Earl Derrick has produced through the process of stretching. At the time, four large instant tea jars were being stretched inside the oven.

Mrs. Derrick Stays Occupied With Interesting Hobbies

By Pat Jacobs
What began as a hobby has become almost a full-time job for Mrs. Earl Derrick at her home on Third Street.

A bottle collector for several years, Mrs. Derrick became interested in another phase when "stretched" bottles began turning up in towns of the area.

Last fall, she bought a kiln and began her new interest of stretching every one she could lay hands on. Her purpose at the time was to stretch them for herself, neighbors and friends.

Soon, however, others began wanting "stretched bottles," mostly in pairs—and Mrs. Derrick opened her kiln to the town, used for minimal fee to cover expenses.

She sold many of the bottles as well preceding the Christmas holidays that among her own collection.

In fact, Mrs. Derrick was "snowed." She began running her kiln day and night, processing four bottles at a time. Before Christmas arrived, she had stretched from 500 to 600 bottles.

Some of them have turned out as freaks, caused by accidents in the processing, but these are among the best.

Most popular colors are olive green, blue, amber and even the clear fruit juice bottles. Those Mrs. Derrick considers the best types are the half gallon cooking oil, prune juice and wine bottles.

The clear bottles have been antiqued by some women who have visited Mrs. Derrick's workshop, presenting even more interesting effects.

She points out in explaining the processing, that a bottle must have a lip on which to fasten a wire. The bottle is hung in the kiln, and as it heats, stretches until it reaches the bottom of the oven.

Probably the prettiest one she has done was a freak. A cobalt blue, the bottle fell from its hanging while in the oven. The neck fell downward giving a swan-like effect.

A lover of hobbies, Mrs. Derrick has already embarked on another. She, Mrs. Robert Harris and Mrs. S. N. Teague are now making poodles from cockleburs.

Last year she was involved in making paper flowers, but the hobby that has extended through the years has been the collection of fossils and rocks.

At any rate, like so many other Bovina women, she stays busy, in doing so, and keeps her life a little more exciting.

Anniversary Tea Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe will be honored by their children on their 50th wedding anniversary with a tea and open house Sunday, Feb. 9, in their home.

Friends are invited to attend between 2:30 and 5 p.m.

Hosts and hostesses for the event are Dr. and Mrs. John B. Coleman of Portales, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mayben of Naperville, Ill.

SECOND OF A SERIES -- Dr. Loyd Shackelford of Friona expanded on the method of using hypnosis in dentistry and medicine at a meeting of Bovina Woman's Study Club Thursday afternoon. He spoke to the women last year on the same topic.

Guadalupe Society Visits Catholic Children's Home

Five members of Guadalupe Society of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina made the annual trip to the Catholic Children's home in Panhandle Jan. 20.

Rev. Richard Roth accompanied the women, including Mrs. Manuel Hernandez, Mrs. Pete DeLeon, Mrs. Joe Gonzales, Mrs. Joe Mesa and Mrs. Ben Rejino.

The group was guided on a tour of the home by Sister Margarita. They also toured the home for the aged and a new addition to the Children's Home, a hobby shop, where the children exercise their talents.

The Bovina women spent most of their time helping with the cores of the home.

Before returning home, Mrs. Rejino presented Sister M. Valentina, director of the home, with a check for $50 as a donation from the Guadalupe Society and a check for $25, a donation from the Sacred Heart Society of St. Ann's, which she was also asked to deliver.

Sister Valentina reported the home has 35 children, 29 of which are school age ranging from six to 14 years of age, Mrs. Rejino said.

Becky Webb Has Party

Becky Webb, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Webb, was honored Tuesday night with a birthday party in her home.

Attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Marion and Kimberly, Mrs. Bobby Englant, Carissa and Bobby Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Moody, Elyse and Robbie, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Lloyd, Mrs. Julia Lloyd, Miss June Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lloyd.

Refreshments included homemade ice cream and cake.

CHILDREN VISITED -- Destination of a trip to Panhandle by members of Guadalupe Society was the Catholic Children's Home. Left to right are Sister Teresa, Rev. Richard Roth, Mrs. Joe Gonzalez, Mrs. Joe Meza, Mrs. Pete DeLeon, Mrs. Manuel Hernandez and Sister M. Valentina, director of the home. Mrs. Ben Rejino also accompanied the group. All children are of the home.

Dentist Tells Use Of Hypnosis Do Woman's Study Club

Dr. Loyd Shackelford of Friona spoke on hypnosis at a meeting of Bovina Woman's Study Club Thursday afternoon. Members made several decisions during a business meeting.

Hypnosis occurs in the subconscious mind, Dr. Shackelford said, which is as big as a room. Most of the things people do is subconscious, such as crossing legs, etc.

He said pain is one of the most wonderful things given to human beings because it tells when something is wrong. This, too comes from the subconscious. He pointed out that everyone undergoes auto-hypnosis, whether or not they realize it while driving along a highway.

Children made the best material for accepting hypnosis, as well as those who readily accept other things. Poor subjects are those who are normally "doubting Thomases."

There are three stages of hypnosis, Dr. Shackelford continued. He uses the first two stages in his practice as a dentist. The third stage, or deep hypnosis, is used for professional shows.

In answer to the question is hypnosis dangerous, Dr. Shackelford said he had never known of anyone who was not brought out of the state.

Not only do 94 per cent of all headaches come from the subconscious mind, but the subconscious even controls bleeding.

People should condition their subconscious mind, he said. Things to think about are trust, faith and creative relaxation.

One can intelligently plan the condition of the subconscious, he continued, to accept the gift of love. This can only be done with God's help.

During a business session, the club voted to send $6 to Girls Town to plant a tree in the beautification program there.

Also decided was to discontinue the rummage sale until March 1.

Mrs. Earl Stevenson gave a report on a civic group meeting on the Grace Paul Scholarship Fund and further investigation will be made.

A committee was appointed to investigate costs for remodeling the club house and the club voted to transfer $600 into the building fund.

Refreshments of orange fruit cups, cookies, nuts, tea and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Leslie McCain, Mrs. Ronald Minyen and Mrs. I. W. Quickel.

Others attending were Mmes. Arnold Hromas, Tom Ware, Jimmie Clements, Billie Sud-derth, Clarence Jones, C. A. Ross, Ovid Lawlis, Earl Stevenson, J. R. Caldwell, Henry Ivy, Buck Ellison, H. D. Bradshaw, Floyd Damron, Roy Dodson, Earl Whitten, James Clayton and O. H. Jones.

Bridge Set At Farwell

A bridge get-together at Farwell Country Club will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 2.

Everyone who enjoys playing bridge is invited, according to Mrs. Lowell Boozer.

Give Thanks

Let your hearts overflow with thankfulness. —Colossians 2:6 NRS.

I will give thanks to the Lord— for the glory of the expanding universe, its vastness and its grandeur; for the beauty in little things: the symmetry of a spider web, the endless variety in the delicate crystals of snowflakes.

I will give thanks to the Lord— for the warmth of human love; for the challenge of work; for the refreshing restoration of rest and sleep.

I will give thanks to the Lord— for yesterday and its memories; for today and its opportunities; for tomorrow and its dreams.

I will give thanks to the Lord— that in the darkest night the stars shine brightest; so in the deepest sorrow his love holds firmest.

Prayer:

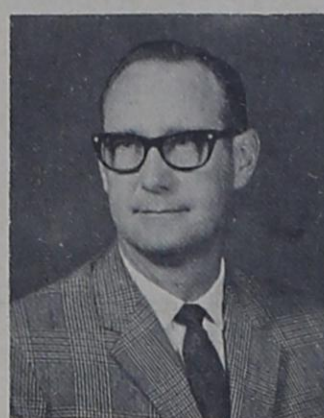

Our Father, forgive us when we forget to say thanks. Make us aware of our many blessings. Help us to show our gratitude in the way we live. AMEN.

BIG SUCCESS

The Beef Cattle meeting sponsored by Palmer County Livestock Committee and Palmer County Extension Service was very successful. This meeting was held in Bovina High School auditorium on Jan. 23 with some 115 people attending.

Dr. Lowell Schake, Extension Service Livestock Specialist, presented information on the latest research conducted on preparation of grain sorghum for feeding. He discussed and showed results of a feeding trial conducted at Tullia in which 450 steers were involved. Steers in this test received grain sorghum for feeding. He discussed and showed results of a feeding trial conducted at Tullia in which 450 steers were involved. The results of the performance of these steers were presented.

Steers in this test received grain sorghum that was processed in the following methods:

1. steam flaked 2. whole reconstituted and steam flaked 3. ground reconstituted. Results indicated that in this trial the whole reconstituted method of preparation resulted in approximately a seven per cent savings in feed over the other two methods.

The last topic discussed was "The Need for Cattle Feeding in the 1970's." Bill Stalls, head cattle buyer for Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., spoke in place of Gene Frye, president of Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. who was ill. Stalls indicated that the cattle feeding future in this area is very bright for the next ten years. Three major reasons are excellent climate, abundant grain supply, and accessibility to supply of cattle, according to Stalls.

CATTLE FEEDING CAREER PROGRAM TO START

Texas A&M University's Animal Science Department will start a new program this spring which will prepare students for careers in the expanding cattle feeding industry. It will be the first of its kind in the United States.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Animal Science Department, said the project will train graduates to manage large commercial feedlots, or service this growing industry as feed company representatives, consultants, or in other roles. This new program will start with the 1969 semester.

Students will receive at least one and one-half years' intensive training beyond the B.S. level in nutrition, beef production, marketing, accounting and financial management together with engineering courses to prepare them for mechanical feedlots.

Also emphasized will be animal health disease prevention, grain chemistry and environmental control.

Butler said, "A unique approach will be a work study requirement, with the student spending at least one semester working in commercial feedlots. Here, he will get the feel of management and the problems involved."

What price Electricity... and progress?

When you stop and think about it, it's a real bargain!

A MESSAGE FROM ROY TOLK, PRESIDENT SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

I'm sure the figures on the right will surprise you as much as they did me. Being in the electric industry, I knew that the manufacturers, as well as the people in our Company were doing a magnificent job in holding down costs in spite of the run-a-way inflation we've all been experiencing... but no one had previously published the appliance cost comparisons.

In our own Company, by careful handling and attention to costs, coupled with advances in technology and prudent investment in plant and equipment, we have not only stayed ahead of your electricity needs but have been able to reduce the average cost per kilowatt hour of the electricity used in your home.

In 1948 the average cost of your electricity was 3.89 CENTS per kilowatt hour and today it has dropped to 2.74 CENTS, a reduction of 29.56 PERCENT. Certainly most of us have larger bills today because we use electricity for so many labor saving chores as well as comforts and conveniences. But, without the dedicated efforts of our employees in holding our costs down, your dollar cost would be way, way up. In fact, the current CONSUMER PRICE INDEX, the measure of how much we all spend as a group on the things we buy, indicated that we're paying 1/2 again as much for most things today as we were paying in 1948. Yet, the average kilowatt hour cost of electricity that you buy from us for your family's use is down 29.56%.

This coming year to keep you fully supplied with electric power and to keep electric service as efficient and economical as possible, we shall invest nearly 16 million dollars in required new equipment.

You may rest assured that your electric service will continue to be modern, dependable and brought to you at the lowest possible price. Reddy Kilowatt, and his fellow workers will see to it.

Despite inflation, the electric industry has kept costs low...

How about these price differences over the past 20 years?

- A DISPOSER

was $119.50 in '48, now it's $78.50 and there have been over 100 external and internal improvements made.
- A DISHWASHER

costing $339.95 in '48 is $299.95 now and it offers more cycles, better styling, more setting space.
- AN AIR CONDITIONER

at $425 in '48 averages $175 today and it looks better, works better, and is cheaper to operate.
- ELECTRIC DRYERS

at $299 in '48 now range from $249 to $299 with electronic dampness controls, many cycles, end-of-cycle signals, permanent press controls -- and some models for as little as $100.
- A REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER

in '48 at a cost of $31 per cubic foot is now $22 per cubic foot and you get no-frost, throat wall insulation, ice-makers, decorator fronts and colors.
- AN ELECTRIC RANGE

which was $343 in '48 is $350 today. And that's with all the modern sophisticated controls and self-cleaning thrown in for good measure.
