WHITTLIN

By DOLPH MOTEN ***************

For the first time since being elevated to the Class A ranks in Texas' University Interscholastic League, the Bovina Mustangs are making a run at the district championship flag. We're not, may we quickly point out, counting our chickens before they're hatched. The '72 BHS football team hasn't won the championship yet, and we don't mean to imply that it has.

Two big games remain on the regular schedule . . . . with Springlake-Earth here this week and with Hart there the following

A loss in either of those games would let quite a bit of wind out of the Mustangs' high-flying sails. However, one loss in either of the games would leave them in a position of being tied for the district championship.

With wins in the final two tilts. the Mustangs could take the title outright as Bovina is the only undefeated team remaining in the league. That's the way we hope things turn out. Then, we have no argument about who is the district representative in the play-

The district rules say, we understand, that in the event of a two-way tie for the title, the team which defeats the other, with which it is tied, is the district representative.

There's a possibility of a twoway tie between Bovina and Hart, for instance. The Hart team has one loss, to Kress, and only has Bovina remaining on its schedule. Should Bovina win over Springlake-Earth and lose to Hart, Bovina and Hart would be tied for the top. But, Hart would be the district representative because of the win over Bovina, the team with which it's tied. That for-instance is assuming that Kress, which also has only one loss at this point, loses another game and doesn't figure into the tie picture. On the other hand, a three-way tie could result. If Kress wins its final two games and the Mustangs win over Springlake-Earth, but lose to Hart, then three teams have identical won-loss records.

In that case, the district representative in the playoffs is decided by the "flipping of coins." That's a poor way to win a district championship . . . but better than no way at all.

The possibility exists, too, that Bovina and Kress could come out in a two-way tie. For that to happen, the Kangaroos would have to win their final two games with Vega and Sudan, and the Mustangs would have to lose to Springlake-Earth and win over Hart. In that case, the Mustangs would be the 3-A representative because of the win over Kress.

Whatever happens in these final two games, the Mustangs are having a good year. As we said in the beginning, it's the best since we've been competing on this lass A level.

Like most football fans, we enjoy the game. That enjoyment is joy the game. That enjoyment is team. * * * * * *

Happiness is voting Democratic when it isn't the popular thing to do.

Mention in this space last week about Bovina people being somewhat disappointed in their cable television service has brought forth additional comments in agreements.

It sez here that the service needs to be improved or the people convinced that it's good a'plenty. Public services get

If people like you, they'll put up with some faults. If they get down on you, it's difficult to do anything to please them, even if it's right . . . and good.

In last week's football contest pickings, we hit seven out of 10. That's not good enough to attract much attention. We would have gotten one more game right had the A&M vs. Arkansas tilt been on the contest, however. This is about the time in the football contest period ---- four weeks remaining ---- when the number of entries begins to slump. While we realize this is the case, we've never understood why it happens. When you figure there are some 222 contestants with serious intentions of making a run for the grand prize, you have to figure your odds are extremely slim for winning it anyway. That leaves the weekly money to shoot for and it's the same now as it was earlier in the contest period.

But, we also realize some don't even expect to win the weekly prize money. The thing that makes the contest interesting is the competition and conversation it creates. Those two things should be as important now as they were early.

Voter Turnout Disappointing Here

In Ridgelea Addition --

Church To Build New Parsonage

Construction of a three-bedroom, two-bath parsonage for First Baptist Church of Bovina began about two weeks ago at 802 Ridglea Drive in the Ridgelea Addition of Bovina, announces Rev. Larry Heard, pastor.

The brick veneer house will contain about 2200 square feet, plus a two-car garage. Charlie Hromas of Farwell is the builder. Construction is expected to be completed early in February.

Members of the parsonage committee are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Sorley, J. B. Barrett, Keith Garner, Mrs. Jim Heard, Mrs. Allen Cumpton and Mrs. Larry Heard. Sorley is chairman of the committee.

In Bank Story --

It Was 'Just' A Million $ Goof

It was only two digits. However, the error in those two digits was a one million dollar goof.

In last week's issue of The Blade, we reported that deposits at First State Bank of Bovina were up $30,254,89 from the same period a year ago (Sept. 30, 1971).

It should have read $1,030,254,99. Deposits as of Sept. 30 at the bank totaled $4,505,540.17 and in Sept. 1971, the total was $3,475,275.18.

The bank's official statement of condition appeared in the Oct. 25 issue of The Blade. The Blade's apologies to First State Bank for the error.

ELECTION DAY --- A. J. Barton of Bovina drops his ballot in the box after voting in Tuesday's general election. A steady stream of voters early Tuesday morning gave an indication of recordsetting numbers going to the polls, but that failed to materialize. This year marked the first time

Cecil Bunch Winner On Tiebreaker Pick

WINS FIRST PLACE --- Cecil Bunch admires the $5 check for first place in the ninth week of Bovina Businesses Dallas Cowboy Football Contest and says it is the "first thing I 've ever won." Bunch, with 10 correct predictions, edged Donna Jester on the tiebreaker prediction to take first place. He was 12 points off the actual score while Mrs. Jester was 17 points away. She won the $3 second place money.

Cecil Bunch and Mrs. Donna | the number of points away from Jester were the only two contestants out of 171 to have 10 of 10 correct predictions in last week's Bovina Businesses Dallas Cowboy Football Contest, placing first and second, respectively.

Bunch picked Bovina to defeat Kress, 12-7, 12 points off the actual 17-0 score. Mrs. Jester picked the score at 7-7, 17 points away from the actual score. Bunch was awarded $5 prize money and Mrs. Jester

Determining the third place winner took more time than usual as 42 contestants had nine correct predictions. Paula Whitecotton picked up the $1 third place prize money with her tiebreaker guess of 20-6, nine points off the score, Mrs. Whitecotton missed the outcome of the TCU-Baylor game, as did the majority of contestants. #### THE FINE ART OF GRATITUDE

Thank you! My, what a simple phrase. Just two little words, but they convey the gratitude of mankind. We use them in matters of simple courtesy.

Two great lessons can be learned from our efforts in telling people, "Thank you." First, we are blessed with special priviledges, gifts, and attention almost continually. As we count our blessings one by one, we are constantly reminded that a life cannot be complete without gratitude. Secondly, it helps us to overcome murmuring, envy, greed and pride. These things do not come from the same heart as gratitude. It is impossible to be grateful and have these traits in our heart. Gratitude may be produced by joyful experience, or it may come from some difficult circumstance. It is not external circumstances that determine gratefulness but the attitudes of the individual as he handles each event in his life. Giving thanks is a course from which we should never graduate. Unfailing gratitude makes a human magnet out of a common personality. Gratitude is the memory of the heart. If you have nothing to be thankful for, make up your mind that there is something wrong with you. Does a neighbor help a little,

As along the way you go --Help to make your burden lighter? Then why not tell him so! Does a handclasp seem to life you From the depth of grief and woe, When an old friend shares your sorrow? Then why not tell him so! Cecil Bunch, Minister,

The two teams were undefeated going into the fray and were the only 3-A aggregations with unblemished district marks. The win left the Mustangs in the driver's seat for the district championship with two games remaining on the schedule. With wins in the final two games, the Mustangs could sew up the flag. With a loss in the two games, they could come out tied for the title.

Area prognosticators had given the host team the edge in Friday's tilt, but somebody failed to convince the Bovina boys of how the outcome was supposed to be.

The Mustangs, continuing their ball control offense which has worked to near perfection from the straight T formation since being installed two games ago, put 10 points on the scoreboard in the second quarter and added seven more in the final frame.

A stubborn Bovina defense kept the Kangaroos at bay during most of the tilt. The Kressers had one scoring threat. That came in the third period and was originated by the interception of a Mustang aerial which gave the Kangaroos possession on the Bovina 41. They moved to the Mustang eight yard line in five plays and itappeared they would narrow the scorc. but a fumble at the eight, which was recovered by the Mustangs, halted the drive.

The Mustangs began their | which moved the ball back to the domination of the football and of the game early. On their first possession, after a Kress punt, they put the ball in play on their own 11 and marched to the KK 28 before losing the ball via the fumble route. The drive was made in nine plays and included a five yard penalty against Kress.

On their second possession, 45 where the tough defense the Mustangs climaxed an 88yard drive with a touchdown and an extra point which turned out to be enough for the win. That drive started on the Bovina 12, where a Kress punt was killed. With the Maroons' three running backs taking turns at the ballcarrying duties and the line clearing the way with sharp blocks, the Mustangs moved in for the tally in 18 plays. The score came on a fourth down effort on the three yard line. After running plays had moved the ball to that point, Quarterback Kim Rundell tossed into the endzone to End Ben McCain for the TD.

Rundell's kick made the count

That drive began in the first quarter and ended with 8:49 remaining in the second.

The Ponies put together another sustained drive late in the second period which netted a field goal after a touchdown 357 was nullified by a penalty.

On the second drive, the Mustangs started on their own 22. Seventeen plays later they had marched in for the score with Rundell going the final yard

Mustangs of the Week

MUSTANGS OF THE WEEK --- Cited by the Mustang coaching staff for their play following the 17-0 shutout over Kress Friday night were Kim Rundell, Jeff McCormick and Ronnie Nuttall. Rundell and McCormick were named backs of the week while Nuttall was named lineman of the week. Head Coach Roger Ezell pointed out that it was difficult to single out one of the four backfield men for the honors. McCormick paced the ballcarriers with 145 yards and one TD. Rundell booted two extra points, was successful on a 23-yard field goal attempt on the last play of the first half, completed a TD pass and toted the ball 36 yards. Ezell said Nuttall was the highest
