GIVE SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT

CITY'S FRATERNAL ORDERS GIVE
'WARMING' IN HANDEOME
NEW HALL.

From Tuesday's Dall.

Nearly seven hundred guests enjoyed the entertainment given at the Odd Fellows hall in the new Roberts-Stampff building last night jointly by Panhandle Lodge No. 341 I. O. O. F.; the Rebekah Degree; Lone Star Camp No. 4108 Royal Neighbors; Wichita Falls Camp No. 12006, M. W. A.; Wichita Falls Tent No. 85, K. O. T. M.; Wichita Falls Hive No. 61, Ladies of the Maccabees Panhandle Lodge No. 499, B. of R. T.; Wichita Falls Lodge No. 652, B. of L. F. and E., and Texas-Oklia Lodge No. 515, O. R. C.

The handsome new hall was appropriately decorated with the emblems and colors of the fraternities participating in the entertainment and when the program was begun the hall was filled to its capacity.

John T. Roberts acted as chairman and a splendid program of speeches, recitations, music and drills was rendered, following which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and an informal dance was held.

Although the program was of considerable length, the numbers were of such merit that the interest of the audience was held throughout and the entertainment was pronounced one of the most successful ever given in Wichita Falls. The drills by the several ladies' organizations were exceptionally fine.

The entertainment was characterized throughout by a friendly, fraternal spirit and was a signal display of the growth of fraternalism in Wichita Falls.

SAN JACINTO DAY IN THE BURKBURNETT SCHOOLS.

On the 21st inst. it was our pleasure to visit the Burk Burnett schools. It being San Jacinto Day, the regular exercises were dispensed with, and in their stead was substituted those more appropriate to the occasion. Prof. John Finney, Miss Alida Roberts, Miss Annie Staley and Miss Ella Powell are the teachers in charge.

Before leaving the car, we observed at a distance a United States flag floating above a certain building and immediately below said flag another, a Lone Star flag. These were sufficient to pilot us to the school house. The neat appearance of the building in the center of a four-acre grass lawn gave one a favorable opinion of the location, especially so when considering the beves of happy school children in holiday attire, scattered here and there on the lawn, playing as only school children can play. Entering the building, which contains four large rooms and a hall, with porches at either end, we found the teachers and some pupils busily completing preparation for the afternoon exercises. We observed on the inside that the walls of the rooms were beautifully decorated with pictures and appropriate mottoes, and that the entire furniture of the building, although having been in constant use for seven months, showed but little wear, evidencing the fact that the government of the school had been good. At the noon hour, we were invited out to the play ground to partake, with the teachers and pupils of a most bountiful feast. This feast, it seemed, was the joint production of teachers, children and parents and we could not have failed to note the beautiful harmony that existed between them. Each class speaking well of the other and each bent on adding to the pleasure of all others. Not a discordant note did I hear. We could not help but think how significant for good to the town would be the keeping up of this fraternal interest of good will between teacher and pupil and between both teacher and pupil and parents, as manifested on this occasion. The element of discord has no place in the right relation of these classes of persons, then how anxious we should all be to nip in the bud the growth of anything that disturbs this proper relation.

After enjoying to the full said feast, all parties repaired to the building to hear the rendition of patriotic class songs, recitations and speeches. It is enough to say that all were highly entertained, that the expectations of the teachers were fully met, and that there were many happy surprises for the parents. They could not help but note how sensitive the feelings of children are to the touch that comes from an author of teacher whose brain is illumined by the thoughts of love of country. It is well for the child, good for the town and better for the State, to have developed in each one proper sentiments of patriotism. The teachers of Burk Burnett comprehend the duty that rests upon them in this particular, and are not shirking that duty. The school officers of this same town deserve praise for their judicious selection of teachers. M. F. YEAGER.

NEW LAW LIMITS NUMBER SALOONS

LICENSES CANNOT BE ISSUED IN GREATER NUMBER THAN ONE TO EACH 500 INHABITANTS.

16 FOR WICHITA FALLS

No New Licenses Can Be Issued Before August, if Then, and Some Licenses May Be Revoked.

The governor has signed the Robertson-Fitzhugh liquor bill and it is now in effect. By the terms of this law neither the county judge or the comptroller can issue permits for saloons to a greater number than one for each five hundred inhabitants in a city, town or justice precinct, but such as were in existence on February 20, 1909, may continue in business for the time paid for.

The law itself fixes as the method for estimating the population, the rate of six persons for each one of the scholastic census.

By the terms of this bill there cannot be over sixteen saloons in Wichita Falls prior to the time of the next scholastic census, and as this number has already been exceeded, there cannot be any new saloons put in in Wichita Falls before August and probably not then, as it will require a considerable increase in population to justify the number already here.

By the terms of this law, a person taking out a license must swear that he is not disqualified under the laws from engaging in the saloon business, and that no other person or corporation is in any manner interested or to be interested in the said business. It also provides that if any one is guilty of false swearing in taking said affidavit, or if they sell on Sunday, or to minors, or to students, or to habitual drunkards after having been forbidden, or in any manner violate the liquor laws of the State, that the license may be cancelled. And it is made the duty of the county judge and comptroller at any time on affidavit to notify the owner of said license to show cause why his said license should not be forfeited or cancelled.

The law requires that the person must have lived in the State and in the county two years before asking for the license, as it is charged that some have gotten into the saloon business who were disqualified under the terms of this law. If the fact is proved the license shall be cancelled and they are disqualified from entering into this business for five years.

Moreover, as the affidavit is made for the purpose of being acted upon by the comptroller of the State, we understand that the courts of Travis county will have jurisdiction to punish any person making false affidavit for perjury.

The law is very stringent and will undoubtedly call to halt the rapid increase of saloons.

Too Much for the Bonham Editor.

Bonham has been claiming to be the banner Sunday school town of America. but Blue Mountain, Miss., has us skinned several country blocks—that is unless the biggest liar on earth had been sending out dispatches from there. Out of a total population of one thousand, seven hundred are regular Sunday school attendants, and on a recent special occasion 885 registered present. The one thing that puts a doubt in my mind concerning this report is that the teller thereof goes on till he goes too far. He adds that on a late date a circus came to that town and advertised over the country before it arrived. It set up its tents for business, had the band play, gave a street parade, but with all this less than 200 people attended either of the two performances night and morning. I can believe that 700 out of 1000 people in a town belong to a Sunday school; I can conceive of the possibility of getting 885 of that thousand to attend a special service, but when it comes to asking me to believe that less than 200 of that thousand attended a circus that pitched its tents right in the middle of the town, I positively refuse. The whole thing looks like the work of a liar who doesn't know when he has told a good story.—Bonham News.

NEW SULTAN GIVES AN INTERVIEW

London, Eng., April 29.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Chronicle was received in audience by Mehmed Rached at the moment the assembly was considering the fate of Abdul Hamid. The correspondent describes Mehmed as not unimposing, although his face has a bloated appearance owing to good living and lack of exercise. The new sultan bears a remarkable resemblance to his deposed brother. His lips are thick and slightly protruding; he has the same curve to the nose and his hair is tinged with gray. He wore a heavy frock coat and trousers of the cut fashionable fifteen years ago.

The prince said: "You English have always been my friends. You are the first European to whom I have given an audience in thirty-three years."

"This moment is portentous to the whole Turkish nation. My enemies have slandered me. They said I was a mad man bordering on imbecility and they shut me up for years. But Allah so willed it. Now, in his merciful bounty, he has been pleased to call me to fulfill my destiny and rule over Islam. I wish to send a message to Europe and the entire world. I have ever been an ardent supporter of the cause of enlightenment, liberty and progress. If it is Allah's will that I mount the Ottoman throne, I shall enter upon that important office fully realizing its duties and responsibilities, fully conscious that a heavy burden will fall upon my shoulders. But by the help of Allah I shall follow unwaveringly the path of duty, seeking to act justly and honorably by all men, be they Glouors or true believers."

"My voice has been silent for thirty-three years, but the voice of conscience has never been stilled. Although shut up here, I have contrived, feebly perhaps, to keep in touch with the march of progress in the outside world. A few partisans loyal to me through the days of adversity know that from the earliest years, while faithful to the teachings of the Koran, I have been an advocate of constitutional charter and parliamentary institutions. From this opinion I have never deviated. I hold it as strongly today as I did when a young man, seeking to imbibe knowledge of Western civilization and methods. I am a firm supporter of the policy of the Young Turks. With the full enjoyment of political freedom, I see nothing incompatible with the Mohammedan sacred law."
