STATE ENDS EVIDENCE AGAINST W. D. HAYWOOD

DEFENSE TAKES LEAD

PRESENTS MOTION FOR IN-STRUCTED VERDICT FOR THE PRISONER.

IMPORTANT WITNESSES

Ready for the Prosecution at the Chase and Corroborate Orchard's Story.

By Associated Press.

Idaho, June 21.—The state this morning made its last tender of evidence against Haywood and the defense, which this afternoon ask for instructed verdict for the prisoner. Important pieces of testimony were offered this morning. Chas. B. Kingsley, a hand writing expert, testified that the writing of letters on the money telegram from Pettibone's store in Denver in name of "J. Wolff," "P. Bone," to "L. Green" in San Francisco, were done by the same hand that penned Pettibone's letter to John L. Stearns. Jim Seaborn, a colored horse dealer of Denver, testified to the sale of a horse and buggy to Haywood in Denver and identified Haywood as the purchaser. Orchard had testified as to the sale of a team to Haywood and that the team was needed to go west while in their work in various undertakings. Seaborn said Orchard came to him and with him drove to Pettibone's place of business and Pettibone drove with them to the headquarters of the Western Federation. There Haywood was called out and struck a bargain for the outfit. This is the first direct connection of Haywood with Orchard and the strong corroboration of his story. The stipulation by the defense admitting the fact that Haywood telegraphed money to Steve Adams at Ogden in 1903 and the ruling by the court denying the dissenting opinion in Moyer's habeas corpus case in Colorado, cleared the direct work of the prosecution and opened the way for the case of the defense. Court adjourned until this afternoon.

Baylor County Deals in Dirt.

R. H. Charles has sold 768 acres southwest of town to Mr. Guthrie and sons, of Lavaca county. This is known as the old McLarty place and is a fine piece of land and well improved. Lem Guthrie has been living on E. L. Craddock's place and his father and brother have recently moved here. All three will occupy the place and do a lot more improvement on it.

S. Gorman has sold to Dr. Young of Wichita Falls 320 acres near Holliday. Mr. Gorman bought this land in the spring and has made some good money on it.—Seymour Banner.

WRECK ON DENVER

TENDER AND TWO BAGGAGE CARS
DERAILED NEAR GIPSON.

TRAFFIC IS DELAYED

Tie-Up Results From Inability to Clear
Wreck By Usual Methods.

The engine, tender and two baggage cars of the north bound Denver train No. 7 were derailed at a late hour last night between this place and Childress, four miles north of Gipson. No serious damage was done and no one was hurt.

Though the wreck is of comparatively little consequence, service has not yet been restored and it will likely be late this evening before the track will be in a passable condition. This is due to the fact that the wreck occurred in a cut and prevented the use of the common emergency method of laying a track around the wreck.

Ordinarily, service would have been delayed only a few hours, but the recent heavy rains in that vicinity and the consequent soft condition of the earth make the clearing of the wreck extremely difficult and slow.

We have had no trains from the north since yesterday evening. No. 8 and this morning's plug are standing back of the wreck. The north bound plug today went on its way, but will not be able to reach Childress until the wreck is cleared. No. 1 followed later, so that there are two passenger trains on each side of the wreck.

The Times is authorized to announce that there will be no services at the First M. E. church either in the morning or at night.

You will find nice cream cheese all the time at King & White's. 34-tf

STRIKE MAY BE CALLED.

San Francisco Telegraph Operators
May Walk Out.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., June 21.—The telegraph operators in the employ of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies in San Francisco and Oakland will probably strike at 1 p. m. today. The strike will be purely local and will not affect the eastern offices. President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union said that the calling of the strike depends upon the treatment accorded the union committee by the telegraph officials here. If the companies will give the men a satisfactory statement or agree to arbitrate, there will be no strike. If they decline to receive the committee the men will walk out.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

IS DEMANDED BY FRENCH PREMIER UPON THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTION.

FIERCE ATTACKS MADE

By the Opposition—Speaker Declared
"Bloody Riot of Today Will Be Revolution of Tomorrow."

By Associated Press.
Paris, France, June 21.—The Government was interpellated in the Chamber of Deputies today upon the measures which it proposes to take in order to restore order in the south. Premier Clemenceau, in the course of his reply, said that over a hundred soldiers were wounded in fighting with the rioters yesterday at Narbonne. He then fully confirmed the Associated Press dispatches in regard to the mutiny of the battalion of the 17th Infantry at Agde and its march to Beziers and said that he could not listen to any proposition for the conditional surrender of the mutineers. He concluded by demanding a vote of confidence. The opposition deputies fiercely attacked the government, saying that cuirassiers acted like Cossacks, that women and children had been slaughtered and that the release of Ferroul, ex-Mayor of Narbonne, alone would restore order. Otherwise, according to one speaker, "the bloody riot of today will be the revolution of tomorrow."

Mutineers Surrender.

By Associated Press.
Beziers, France, June 21.—General Bailoud arrived here this afternoon and after an interview with the mutineers of the Seventeenth infantry, the latter decided to return to their regiments.

SOLDIERS JOIN INSURGENTS.

Authorities Demand Their Unconditional Surrender—Situation Grave.

By Associated Press.
Paris, France, June 21.—The battalion of Infantry stationed at Agde, with their arms and ammunition, have joined the insurgent wine growers at Beziers. They camped in the principal square of the town and stacked arms. They demanded to be allowed to occupy their former barracks at Beziers. The authorities demand their unconditional surrender.

REVOLT IS THREATENED THROUGHOUT RUSSIA

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

IMPERIAL PROCLAMATION GIVES
GOVERNORS OF PROVINCES
EXTRAORDINARY POWERS.

TO PREVENT DISORDERS

Russian Government Resorts to Stern
Measures to Counteract Revolutionary Manifesto.

By Associated Press.

St. Petersburg, Russia, June 21.—An imperial ukase has been issued to the governors of practically all the provinces of Russia, where some form of martial law is not already proclaimed, according to them special powers and empowering them to suspend newspapers, disperse meetings, banish undesirable persons and take other measures for the maintenance of public security by administrative process, without having to resort to the courts and to inflict punishment up to three months imprisonment and a $500 fine. This step was taken to head off the Aggregrian disorders, the possibility of which is believed to have been greatly increased by the determination of the social democrats and social revolutionists and members of the group of toll to issue a joint manifesto to the nation, urging the people not to accept the "aristocratic regime contemplated under the new election law," but to defend the edict of popular representation by force.

AOKI IS RETAINED.

Japanese Ambassador to America Will Not Be Recalled.

By Associated Press.
New York, June 21.—The formal announcement by Viscount Hayashi, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, in a Tokio dispatch published today, that Ambassador Aoki is to be retained at Washington is regarded here as clearly establishing the fact that the present Japanese ministry, headed by Marquis Selenji, has assured itself of the support of both the unionist and conservative parties in its present attitude toward America.

TIN WORKERS WILL NOT STRIKE.

Demanded Wage Increase, But Accepted
Last Year's Wage Scale.

By Associated Press.
Pittsburg, Pa., June 21.—No strike will follow the refusal of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company to concede an increase of from six to sixteen per cent in the wages of its employes. After conferences, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers agreed to accept last year's scale. The decision affects about 15,000 men.

FORTY HAVE BEEN SHOT.

Court Martial Acts Promptly and Without Mercy on Russian Mutineers.

By Associated Press.
Kiev, Russia, June 21.—Court martial convened to try mutinous sappers at Samora camp at Bancevka, is said to have acted promptly. It is reported that forty-eight mutineers have already been condemned and shot.

Five Million Club Booster.

Capt. J. E. Labatt of Fort Worth was in the city today in the interest of the Texas Five Million Club. Capt. Labatt left this afternoon for Amarillo and other points on the Denver, where he will make short speeches to interest the people in the movement. He will return to Wichita Falls the latter part of next week and will deliver an address at a public meeting here. Capt. Labatt is very enthusiastic over the movement and of course is an ardent supporter of the proposition to hold the exposition of 1910 at a point between Fort Worth and Dallas. Due notice will be given of the meeting here next week.

An Exclusive Shoe Store.

Mr. K. A. White, late of the firm of Jourdan-White Furniture Company, informs the Times that he had made arrangements with the Wichita Falls Development Company to build for him a building in which he will conduct a first class shoe store. Mr. White says he will put in a $10,000 or $12,000 stock and expects to open up for business as soon as the building can be completed.

Mr. White will have the only exclusive shoe store in Wichita Falls.

DEBATE IS ENDED

PUBLIC LANDS CONVENTION HAS CLOSED, AFTER ADOPTING RESOLUTIONS.

STAMP OF DISAPPROVAL

is Placed Upon Roosevelt's Land Policy, But Tone of Resolutions is Rather Mild.

By Associated Press.
Denver, Colo., June 21.—The Public Lands convention, after a three days debate, came to an end last night with a series of resolutions which, while they stamped with disapproval the land policy of President Roosevelt in most of its phases, were moderate in tone, although firm in the demand for the modification of the administration's policy. In speaking of the convention, Secretary of the Interior Garfield, who attended every session, said today that the Federal officials who attended the convention, had learned much from hearing at first hand the complaints of the people of the west. He added: "What we ourselves had to say was of secondary importance, but we are glad to hear and consider honest differences of opinions. Until something better is offered, however, I shall favor leasing on the permit system for grazing on public lands, but no system is perfect, and as we can find the way for betterments from time to time they will be gladly accepted. As to the irrigation of your San Luis valley lands, it may be possible to modify the government's policy, but further investigation will be required. Already the government has reserved from filing large areas and in the coal land properties, so that the service is on a pretty good basis. But the nation is bigger than any state and its interests must be considered first."

TAFT IS OUT OF IT

SECRETARY OF WAR WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

HIS BOOM HANDICAPPED

Whenever He is Offered the Cry is for Roosevelt Again—Bad Politics Mixed With First Move

Washington, D. C. June 21.—While friends of Secretary Taft will not admit it, there is reason to believe that the secretary of war is seriously thinking of withdrawing from the presidential race. That they are not encouraged by recent developments is confessed by Taft's friends.

Poor health, determined efforts at reducing weight, and Taft's general disinclination to become a party to the rough and tumble strenuousness of a big fight, are two of the reasons assigned for the secretary's discouragement with the canvass.

Secretary Taft was willing enough to be the administration's candidate for the succession, if it moved off easily and smoothly; but the development of a nasty fight in Ohio and the discovery that the best Roosevelt people largely opposed the idea of the president designating his own successor, discouraged him.

The Ohio Contest.

The prospect, especially of a long and bitter contest in Ohio, is said to have been viewed with anything but satisfaction by Mr. Taft. Announcements of the last forty-eight hours seem to put an end to the last possibility of compromise and harmony in the Buckeye State, and Senator Foraker goes to Ohio avowedly prepared to force the fighting for his own seat. He has announced himself a candidate for Ohio's delegation in the national convention, which makes it certain that Taft will not be able to secure better than divided support in his home State.

Beyond these things, however, the fact most discouraging to Taft people, who lately have been decidedly in the dumps, is that wherever anything is started in the way of organizing Taft strength the politicians reply by shouting for Roosevelt, and the Taft movement is promptly drowned out.

Taft Boom Weakens.

The politicians, including a large proportion who are not for Roosevelt by any means, and including others who are honestly for another term of Rooseveltism, are able to unite at this point. Neither group is for Taft. With entirely different motives, both groups are declaring for Roosevelt.

Taft is left with a big fight on his hands in his home State, with the growing Roosevelt movement completely overshadowing his boom, with the favorite son movements fundamentally hostile to him by reason of the feeling that he is the administration's favorite. It is not a comfortable situation.

All reports agree that the secretary's Western trip has been productive of small advantage to him in a political way. The Iowa management of his movement was put in the hands of an enemy of Cummins, and today Cummins declares unequivocally for Roosevelt, which means Cummins will control the delegation from that State.

Bad Politics.

In South Dakota and Wisconsin bad political moves started the Taft enterprise in the wrong direction, and from the Middle and Far West, according to all accounts, every move for Taft is followed by increasing chorus for the demand of Roosevelt.

Senator Foraker has gone to Ohio to remain until congress meets. His friends have advised him that about a dozen counties only, out of a total of eighty-three have declared for Taft, and in some of these resolutions of endorsement were passed by fewer than a majority of the entire membership.

Senator Foraker on Thursday will deliver an address at Wilberforce University, a negro educational institution. In his speech he will handle the question of the responsibility for the Brownsville affray. On Friday he will speak on railroad legislation before the national convention of freight traffic agents at Put-In-Bay.

"LET THE PEOPLE RULE."

So Says Bryan to the Oklahoma Democratic Convention.

At the Democratic State convention held at Oklahoma City on the 18th, W. J. Bryan was the principal speaker of the day, and among other things he spoke of were the laws of Oklahoma, which he pronounced the best in the Union.

Mr. Bryan was given an ovation. He said in the course of his speech, which was wildly cheered:

"You have the best constitution today of any State in the Union, and a better constitution than the constitution of the United States. This is no extravagant praise. All the other States have stood as your models. Let me suggest that you take as your campaign keynote, 'Let the people rule.'"

"I want to see it in your campaign and in the National campaign. Corporations have been dominating the politics of the nation. The nearer you get a government to the people the better it will be. Don't be afraid of the people. I prefer to risk the many rather than the few. You have a constitution here that you can control."

"The last thing in your constitution is the initiative and referendum. It permits the people to make their Constitution what they wish it to be. For that reason I don't see how any Republican can vote against it."

Livery Stable Will Be Moved.

Arrangements are being made today for the removal of the Fashion livery stable from its present location on Indiana avenue to the Jourdan yard on Ohio avenue. It is said that an attempt will be made to move the building entire. While the moving is being done the livery will have temporary quarters in the old broom factory warehouse.

It is understood that a substantial brick business block is to be erected on the site of the stable.

YOURS TO PLEASE,

W. E. Skeen

FRIDAY, THE 13th
By Thomas W. Lawson

"Jim, you gave me an awful scare," he said brokenly. "Don't ever do it again. I have little left to live for. To be sure I have some feeling for mother, Fred, and sisters. But for you I have a love second only to that I should have felt for Beulah had I been allowed to have her. The thought, Jim, that I had wrecked your life, with all you have to live for, would have been the last straw. My life is purgatory. Beulah is only an ever-present curse to me—a ghost that reads my heart and soul, one minute with a blind frenzy to revenge her wrongs, the next with an icy remorse that I have not already done so. If I did not have her, perhaps in time I could forget; perhaps I might lay out some scheme to help poor devils whose poverty makes life unendurable, and with the millions I have taken from the main shaft of hell I might do things that would at least bring quiet to my soul; but it is impossible with the living corpse of Beulah Bands before me every minute and that devil machinery whirling in my brain all the time the song, 'Revenge her and her father, revenge yourself.' It is impossible to give it up, Jim. I must have revenge. I must stop this machinery that is smashing up more American hearts and souls each year than all the rest of earth's grinders combined. Every day I delay I become more fiendish in my desires. Jim, don't think I do not know that I have literally turned into a fiend. Whenever of late I see myself in the mirror, I shudder. When I think of what I was when your father stood us up in his office and started us in this heart-shrivelling, soul-calculating business, and what I am now, I cannot keep the madness down except with rum. You know what it means for me to say this, me who started with all the pride of a Brownley; but it is so, Jim. The other night I went home with my soul frozen with thoughts of the past and with my brain ablaze with rum, intending to end it all. I got out my revolver, and woke Beulah, but as I said, 'Bob is going to kill Beulah and himself,' she laughed that sweet child's laugh and clapping her hands said, 'Bob is so good to play with Beulah,' and then I thought of that devil Reinhart and the other fiends of the 'System' being left to continue their work unhindered and I could not do it. I must have revenge; I must smash that heart-crushing machinery. Then I can go, and take Beulah with me. Now, Jim, let us have it clearly understood once and for all."

Remorse and softness were past; he was the Indian again. "I am going to wreck that hell-annex some day, and that some day will be the next time I start in. Don't argue with me, don't misunderstand me. To-day you stopped me. I don't know whether you meant what you threatened; I don't care now. It is just as well that I stopped, for the 'System's' machine will be there whenever I start in again. It loses nothing of its fiendishness, none of its destructive powers by grinding, but on the contrary, as you know, it increases its speed every day it runs. Now, Jim Randolph, I want to tell you that you must get yours and the house's affairs in such shape that you won't be hurt when I go into that human rat-pit the next time, for when I come from it the New York Stock Exchange and the 'System' will have had their spines unjointed. Yes, and I'll have their hearts out, too. Neither will ever be able to take from the American people their savings and their manhood and womanhood and give them in exchange unadulterated torment. I am going to be fair with you, Jim; this is the last time I will discuss the subject. After this you must take your chance with the rest of those who have to do with the cursed business. When I strike again, none will be spared. I will wreck 'the Street,' and the innocent will go down with the guilty, if they have any stocks on hand at that time."

"My power, Jim, is unlimited; nothing can stay it. I am not going to explain any further. You have seen me work. You must know that my power is greater than the 'System's,' and you and I and 'the Street' have always known that the 'System' is more powerful than the government, more powerful than the courts, legislatures, congress, and the president of the United States combined, that it absolutely controls the foundation on which they rest—the money of the nation. But my power is greater, a thousand, yes, a million times greater than theirs. Jim, they say that I have made more money than any man in the world. They say that I have five hundred millions of dollars, but the fools don't keep track of my movements. They only know that I have pulled five hundred millions from my open whirls, the ones they have had an opportunity to keep tab on. But I tell you that I have made even more in my secret deals than the amount they have seen me take. I have had my agents with my capital in every deal, every steal the 'System' has rigged up. The world has been throwing up its hands in horror because Carnegie, the blacksmith of Pittsburgh, pulled off three hundred millions of swag in the Steel hold-up—yes, swag, Jim. Don't scowl as though you wanted to read me a lecture on the coarseness of my language. I have learned to call this game of ours by its right name. It is not business enterprise with earned profits as results, but pulled-off tricks with bags of loot—black-jack swag—for their end.

"I got away with three hundred millions when Steel slumped from 105 to 50 and from 50 to 8, and no one knew I'd made a dollar. You and 'the Street' read every morning last year the 'guesses' as to who could be rounding up hundreds of millions on the slump. The papers and the market letters one morning said it was Standard Oil; the next, that it was Morgan; then it was Frick, Schwab, Gates, and so on down through the list. Of course, none of them denied; it is capital to all these knights of the road to be making millions in the minds of the world, even though they never get any of the money. Dick Turpin and Jonathan Wild never were fonder of having the daring hold-ups than other highwaymen perpetrated laid to their doors, than are these modern bandits of being credited with ruthless deeds, that they did not commit. But Jim, 'twas I who sold Pennsylvania every morning for a year, while the selling was explained by the press as 'Cassatt cutting down Gould's telegraph poles. Gould and old man Rockefeller selling Pennsylvania to get even.' Jim Randolph, I have to-day a billion dollars, not the Rockefeller or Carnegie kind, but a real billion. If I had no other power but the power to call to-morrow for that billion in cash, it would be sufficient to lay in waste the financial world before to-morrow night. You are welcome, Jim, to any part of that billion, and the more you take the happier you will make me, but when I strike in again, don't attempt to stay me, for it will do no good."

Shortly after this talk Bob left for Europe with Beulah. A great German expert on brain disorders had held out hope that a six month's treatment at his sanitarium in Berlin might aid in restoring her mind. They returned the following August. The trip had been fruitless. It was plain to me that Bob was the same hopelessly desperate man as when he left, more hopeless, more desperate if anything than when he warned me of his determination.

When he left for Europe "the Street" breathed more freely, and as time went by and there was no sign of his confidence-disturbing influence in the market, the "System" began to bring out its deferred deals. Times were ripe for setting up the most wildly inflated stock lamb-shearing traps. It had been advertised throughout the world that Tom Reinhart, now a two-hundred-time millionaire, was to consolidate his and many other enterprises into one gigantic trust with twelve billions of capital. His Union and Southern Pacific railroads, his Southern lines, together with his steamship company and lead, iron, and copper mines, were to be merged with the steel, traction, gas, and other enterprises he owned jointly with "Standard Oil." Some of the railroads owned by Rockefeller and his pals, in which Reinhart had no part, were to go in, too, and with these was to unite that mother hog of them all, "Standard Oil" itself. The trust was to be an enormous company, the like of which had until then not even been dreamed of by the most daring stock manipulators. The "System's" banks, as well as trust and insurance companies throughout the country, had for a long time been getting into shape by concentrating the money of the country for this monster trust. It was newspaper and news bureau gossip that Reinhart and his crowd had bought millions of shares of the different stocks involved in the deal, and it was common knowledge that upon its successful completion Reinhart's fortune would be in the neighborhood of a billion dollars.

Scenes of Activity With Fifteen Machines Digging Oil Wells.

R. R. Lowdon of Fort Worth has returned from Petrolia, where he went to investigate property interests held by his firm. Mr. Lowdon reports great activity in the oil fields of this town.

Fifteen rotary machines for drilling oil wells are in operation and some good wells have been brought in. Quite a number of these wells are producing from 75 to 100 barrels of oil daily and many others are flowing at a rate of 20 barrels per day. Oil men from Pennsylvania, Ohio and other states have become interested in the new fields and the town is enjoying a boom of some importance.

Many buildings are being erected and the prosperity of the new town appears likely to become permanent.—Fort Worth Telegram.

HOW THE GOVERNOR GOT EVEN WITH BRYAN.

Mr. Bryan tells the following good one on himself:

Several years ago, during the progress of a heated campaign in Nebraska for the governorship, he was one of the Democratic stump speakers, and in addressing his audiences he was pretty severe in his criticism of the governor of the State, who was a Republican and a candidate for re-election. The governor, however, in making his addresses, would never mention the name of Bryan or reply to these criticisms. It happened, however, that on one occasion, after the election, an opportunity presented itself for the governor to get even with Bryan and he did it in good shape. Both the governor and Mr. Bryan were invited to deliver addresses from the same platform, and it happened that the duty of introducing the speakers of the day fell upon the governor. When it came time to introduce Bryan to the large audience, the governor stepped to the front of the platform and said: "Ladies and Gentlemen: I now have the pleasure of introducing to you Mr. W. J. Bryan, who—" and pausing lowered his voice at this point and inquired of Mr. Bryan in a tone loud enough to be heard by all on the platform, "Are you down for a song or a speech?"

Being informed that it was a speech he was going to deliver, the governor turned to the audience and finished the introduction by adding, "who will now address you on the issues of the day."

APPLIES TO TOWNS AS WELL.

The truth ought to be seared in the minds of the newspaper men. We have had entirely too much of sectional jealousy. We have been retarded by it. The East Texas newspaper is sometime disposed to declare the West is a place unfit to live in. The West Texas newspaper is disposed to reply in kind. If the suggestion is made that a river be improved, sections which are not adjacent to such rivers scoff at it and do what they can to discourage the project. If the people of Texas had acted in common on the subject of inland investigation in the state we would now have had several rivers in navigable condition. But they have not done this. Every time a proposition has been made to secure appropriations for the improvement of rivers it has been answered by Texans that such improvement will only redound to the benefit of a town or locality. There is a strength in unity and disaster in contention.—Dallas News.

WOULD EUROPEANIZE STATES.

Nobody is speechless with amazement at finding Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, "tailing on" behind President Roosevelt in the fanatics' crusade to reduce to nothingness the State governments of this Union. Mr. Beveridge has not in the Senate the reputation of possessing profound wisdom and knowledge of the constitutional principles underlying our system of government. He is, rather an ardent partisan who delights to jump into the party band wagon and shout enthusiastically as the procession moves on.

It is this enthusiasm which prompts him to follow his leader in grossly exaggerating the magnitude of the child-labor evil in this country, and in demanding that the National Government deprive the states of the right to control and regulate the education of its children, each in its own way.

It is not true, as Senator Beveridge declaims, that child labor is our most shameful national evil, and it is still less true that the public sentiment is nearly unanimous in demanding that the evil be corrected by national law. The truth is that nearly all the States in which there are factories have efficient laws for keeping children out of them. The pumber so employed is small, and it tends to diminish partly by reason of better state laws and the desire of American parents to educate their children rather than send them to work at a tender age.

And yet President Roosevelt, with the hearty approval of Beveridge, demands that congress pass a law under which inspectors, appointed in Washington, would meddle with industry in every factory in the United States. In order to exclude from interstate commerce the infinitesimal products of child labor which are shipped from one state into another, they would strain the constitution to the breaking point and make the Federal Government the spy and overseer of all industry from one end of the country to the other.

Copying the oppressive Governments of Europe, President Roosevelt, with the hearty approval of Beveridge, would rob the states of the revenues which they now derive from taxes on inheritances, and turn those revenues into the Treasury at Washington to swell the extravagances of a centralized government.

Europe does it, but we are not Europe. Under our own system, devised in wisdom and strengthened by experience, we are so much better off than Europe that her impoverished children come to us by the million to share the blessings which we have made for ourselves.

Let Roosevelt and Beveridge carry out their work of destruction, and those of us who can get away will be migrating to Europe or to Asia in search of the blessings that have been lost at home.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WORM HAS TURNED.

The recent experiences of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in Texas and the numerous convictions of the Standard in the various jurisdictions afford a sure sign that the time has come when the people of the whole country are going to insist that combinations of capital shall obey the law just like the common people are required to do. The trust is no longer able to buy immunity from punishment and its promoters are now being treated just like other men are treated.

Not only is this so, but it is a patent and a very satisfactory fact that the grafters are now being punished in the courts as well as in the forum of public opinion. Men high in politics have been brought low by the power of the law and millionaires now find their way to the penitentiary just like common mortals guilty of crime.

All over the country there is a healthy spirit of law enforcement and

Why Do You Like COFFEE?

We take it for granted that you do, but it is very likely that you cannot tell off-hand why you like it, except that it is good.

Just why it is good may puzzle you somewhat, but to assist you in selecting the kind you want the following information may be of interest to you.

The looks of the coffee has very little to do with the quality of it, for it is not the bean itself that satisfies your coffee appetite.

The bean is composed of a large number of little cells, invisible to the naked eye, but which contain the essential oil.

Before the coffee is roasted these little cells are not worth anything, but they contain the oil, that after being roasted to a certain point produces the flavor which makes coffee a delightful drink. There are therefore, two things which must be watched in buying coffee:

1st. To get a blend of growths which shall contain just the right kind of oil, and second, to have that blend so roasted so as to make the rich mellow flavor which you like so well our Spurrs Concord is especially recommended to suit your taste, packed in 1 pound bags at 25 cents per pound. Or better still, Spurrs Revere Mocha and Java in two pound tins at 75c per can. All we ask is a trial of either, the coffee will do the rest.

His "Right" Name.
 From queer names and descriptions of things there follow as a natural sequence queer names and descriptions of people. Among a number of racy instances is one quoted by Mr. Fox-Davies, the well known authority on nomenclature, from Blackwood's Magazine, of April, 1842. "In one of the Buchan fishing villages a stranger had occasion to call on a fisherman the name of Alexander White. Meeting a girl, he asked, 'Can ye tell me fa'r Sanny Fite lives?' 'Filk Sanny Fite?' quoth she. 'Muckle Sanny Fite?' said he. 'Filk muckle Sanny Fite?' 'Muckle lang Sanny Fite?' 'Filk muckle lang Sanny Fite?' 'Muckle lang, gleyed Sanny Fite?' 'Muckle lang, gleyed man.' 'Oh, it's Goup-the-Lift ye're seeking,' answered the girl, 'and fat the de'il for dinna ye speer for the mou by his richt name at ance?'"

High Game and Fools.
 "Never eat game high," said an antiquary. "People will tell you that high game is tenderer. What rot! Of course it is tenderer, but would you want your steak or your chop spoiled in order that it might be a little softer to the teeth? No, never! Highness in game is an anachronism, a relic of the past, a relic of the days of stage coaches. In those days it was impossible to deliver game to the cities fresh—transit was too slow. All game was high, and men ate it high because otherwise they couldn't eat it at all; hence to eat game high nowadays, when there is no necessity for it, is to be a fool."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Buddha's Six Essentials.
 Buddha, who reformed the Hindoo religion more than 500 years before Christ, established for men six essentials of perfection—first, knowledge, used to distinguish the true from the false; second, energy, which is used to fight against the evils of the flesh; third, purity; fourth, patience; fifth, charity (i. e., loving kindness); sixth, almsgiving.

Plover Should be Protected.

The Texas State Game Protective Association issued an appeal to all sportsman in the state to refrain from killing plover this spring. There is no law to protect the bird, but the association believes that it is only necessary to appeal to the sportsmanship of local hunters to protect them.

The plover are on their way to their breeding grounds in the North now and are lighting in great numbers. The association desires that they be spared now so that they may return in greater numbers in the fall, when they may be shot.

"We can only appeal to sportsmanship," said John J. Stephens, president of the association, "but we feel sure that all good sportsmen will heed our appeal."

It is interesting to note the migratory habits of this bird which comes in the spring from Central America on its way to the western provinces in Canada. Thence it goes to Alaska, it crosses to Labrador, where it becomes very fat on a species of berry.

Leaving Labrador in the early winter the plover flies straight south across the Atlantic, 1800 miles without stopping, to South America. After resting for awhile it goes on to the south as far as Patagonia. Thence it makes its way by spring northward again to Central America ready for the flight across the Gulf of Mexico into the Southern states, coming in May, and remaining only a short time on the way to the northern breeding grounds once more. A few return through the gulf coast states in the fall, but the main route is as indicated by far the longest migration of any bird known.

THE CAUSE OF ADVANCE.

Secretary Wilson Says People Are Eating More Meat, and Farmers Raising Fewer Cattle.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—In the opinion of Secretary of Agriculture, Wilson, the price of meats is due to the fact that the people being prosperous, are eating more meat and farmers are not raising as many cattle as formerly. In his opinion the claim that the packers of Chicago have advanced prices in order to meet their losses as a result of meat inspection is incorrect. "New York and the East have buyers at Chicago," said Wilson. "And they compete too sharply for Chicago alone to fix the prices."

A splendid rain fell in the Wichita country this morning. The rain was a good soaking one and was not accompanied by hail or wind. The precipitation, while not badly needed, will be of much benefit to growing crops. During the past week there has been a marked improvement in the condition of cotton and all other crops. The plants now have a good start and the farmers have been able to cultivate the land and rid the ground of weeds. Late planted cotton is germinating nicely and the indications are favorable for a good yield.

Graham Wants Another Road.

The Graham Leader has the following to say regarding a recent visit of two prominent Henrietta railway promoters to that city:

On last Thursday Messrs. Featherstone and Stokes, of Henrietta, both of whom are interested in the Henrietta Southern Railway, now building from Henrietta to Goose Lake, Archer county, were in Graham and while here they discussed with our business men the feasibility of a route from Goose Lake South by way of Graham and up the Clear Fork valley to Abilene, their objective point. Quite a large number of the business and professional men of Graham met Messrs. Featherstone and Stokes in the Beckham building and a conference lasting some three or four hours was held. No definite propositions were made on either side, but, after conferring about the route and discussing the prospects for future development of the country, the gentlemen expressed great interest in the matter and said that it would be carefully considered. On the other hand they were assured by the Graham people present that they would be treated right in way of right of way and bonus along this line all through Young county.

As the Leader said a few weeks ago, there is no doubt at all of the proposition that such a route would be the best paying one from Henrietta to either Abilene or Cisco and if either of these towns is the ultimate terminus of the road Graham, South Bend and Ellasville ought to get the connection and will get it if we "go after it" in the proper way.

MORNING, NOON, EVENING AND NIGHT.

(WRITTEN FOR THE TIMES.)

When the sunrise gilds with glory
Every wood and vale and hill;
When with joyful song and story
We express Thy wondrous will,
Then be near us gracious Master,
Consecrate us all anew;
Keep us from each dire disaster;
In all things help us be true.

When the noontide bells are ringing,
Calling us to stop and rest,
May we go still sweetly singing,
May we feel the morning blest.
May we bravely bear its sorrow,
May we sanctify its joy
To a better fairer morrow,
Free from sin or base alloy.

When the shadows of the night-time
Tell us that our work is done,
May the bells within our hearts chime;
May we feel that we have won
Confidence and trust, and heart-love
From our fellow-man below;
Then will ring heaven's bells above;
Then true happiness we'll know.

When the holy hour of midnight
Sounds upon a sleeping world,
Then it is that faith and not sight
Flies the flag but half unfurled.
Then we hallow hopes immortal;
Then we kneel and kiss the rod;
Then we see the open portal
Leading to the throne of God.

—Alice Brown.

OLD SETTLER.

It is well known that the pride of the Kentuckians who come from the Blue Grass region is second only to the descendants of the first families of Virginia. Especially is this true when travelling among strangers. The very idea that anything good can come out of the mountain district is, to say the least, questionable.

That reminds me of a funny situation in a sleeper on the Iron Mountain road between St. Louis and Texas.

An estimable old lady from the Blue Grass district of Kentucky was on her way to Texas to visit her son. In the adjoining section was a mischievous young man who came from the same town in the old state and when a boy knew the old lady, but she now failed to recognize him.

With a twinkle in his eye, the young man introduced himself as Johnson of New York, on his way to Texas prospecting. Incidentally, he remarked he had stopped over a few days in Kentucky, purposely mentioning the old lady's home town and without giving her time to interrupt him, the young man gave an exaggerated description of the people, how they lived in their little log huts, picked blackberries and dug gin-sang, fished, hunted and made moonshine whiskey, without either the fear of God or the revenue officers.

The old lady's eyes began to admit a few sparks of fire and her cheeks flushed with anger, as the young man kept up his ceaseless chatter. Finally, the safety valve of self-control could no longer stand the strain and the Scotch-Irish blood of the good Blue Grass dame was warmed to fighting heat, as she grasped her parasol and rapped the offender over the head and exclaimed, angrily:

"Oh, you impudent young rascal! How dare you speak so falsely about my neighbors and friends? I'll let you know I live in the town of — and you would not be tolerated five minutes, much less be allowed to live there."

And, notwithstanding that the young man introduced himself and was profuse with his apologies, it was some time before the old lady cooled down and forgave him.

Prisoner Had a Saw.

The mystery as to how prisoner Hughes managed to sever the padlocks on his cell door was solved last night by Sheriff Davis. The sheriff went into Hughes' cell and announced to the prisoner that he would be kept under watch until it was discovered how he managed to saw the lock. Hughes, believing that it was only a question of time until his secret would be discovered, then produced a small diamond steel saw, which he had secreted in the cell.

Sheriff Davis is not fully satisfied that is the only saw that the prisoners had in their possession and will see that a close watch is kept on his wards and that they be given no chance to escape.

Henrietta's Oil Mill.

Progress on the cotton seed oil mill is being retarded to some extent by the inability to get shipments of materials through, but the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The excavations have been completed and foundations laid, and the walls are rising as fast as seven expert brick layers can do the work. Twenty carloads of brick have been received on the company's spur track from the Katy, and more are promised as soon as the makers can secure their transportation here.—Henrietta Review.

The Denver is improving the condition of its roadbed in the yards here. A large force is at work surfacing and lining up the track and some new steel and frogs are to be put in on the main line. The road also has a large force at work on its telegraph wires in the city. A new cement cinder pit has recently been finished at the round house and work on the new turntable is progressing rapidly. It is also to be laid in cement.

INQUIRY ABOUT HOUSES.

Stamford Man Asks About Houses and Rentals.

The Times received the following communication today:

Stamford, Tex., June 20, 1907.

Editor Times:—

Daer Sir—Please find enclosed 25c in stamps for three months subscription to the Weekly Times, and if it is not free advertising, I would be glad to know how houses rent in your town.

Rents are very high here. I see in the sample copies sent me that several new houses are being built, some for sale and some for rent, but not a word as to prices. I am a laboring man and would like to live where I can make my labor go farthest.

Very Respectfully,
E. R. HICKS.

We regret that we are compelled to inform our correspondent that it is not so much a question of price as it is whether a house could be secured at all. A number of houses are now under course of construction and more are to be built, so that the situation may become better. However, we can assure Mr. Hicks that if he will come to Wichita Falls he can find ready employment at good wages.

The young ladies of the B. Y. P. U. will have a market at Mrs. Hardesty's store Saturday afternoon from 2 till 4 o'clock. Those who would like something nice for their Sunday dinner please call, and the young ladies will gladly wait on you.

The Denver ditching crew now has its headquarters in this city and is working out of this place. The ditching machine is a gigantic double scraper and will dig a ditch on both sides of the track at the same time. Engine 209 is pulling the machinery today.
