NUMBER 52

IS EXPLAINED

WOOD ON THE WITNESS STAND.

WOOD HOLDS HIS OWN

Senator Borah in the Cross Examination—Testimony Unshaken.

Idaho, July 12.—Dominick Haywood trial, was recalled by the witness when the case opened this morning and was asked as to a conference he had with Daniel Ganery in Idaho, in 1899. The question was evidently asked for the purpose of impeachment.

Haywood left the stand Haywood testified and the direct examination continued. Haywood said that he had been at his house three or four times. Most of the members of the union called there when they were in Denver, he declared. He declared he had anything to do with the purchase of a horse and buggy for the purpose of going on his killing expedition. He said that one day Orchard came to the union headquarters in a buggy with a colored man and Pettibone wanted to know if he would trade the rig for a gray mare the Federation owned, the mare being one of nineteen horses which were used in distributing relief in the Cripple Creek district. Pettibone wanted to get the mare for use in delivery wagons. The witness testified positively that he ever talked with Orchard or planned with him the purchase of Sherman Bell, Governor Peabody Hearn, David Moffatt or Goddard or Gabbert. He declared that Orchard's story on the witness stand was the first he had heard of the matter. Haywood first met Adams in 1902. He said that he sent Adams at Ogden as his (Haywood's) money. Adams had been prospecting and had stated that he would locate Haywood in Denver that if he struck gold he would locate Haywood in Idaho to the letter he wrote Orchard's wife on November 18, 1905, and said that his note was in the name of Mrs. Orchard, in the name of her husband's whereabouts. He told her all he knew about the matter. He had no way of knowing where Orchard was, except as the latter told him his plans for going to the Cripple Creek district. Haywood did not care to return to her. Haywood declared that he knew absolutely nothing of the plot against Governor Peabody. The first that Haywood learned of the assassination was in the name of the crime which claimed that the crime was the culmination of the troubles of the Couer d'Alenes. The papers reported that a union card had been found among the effects of Thomas Hogan, who had been arrested on the charge of being a member of the union. At the miners' headquarters there was considerable question as to whether Hogan was, the consensus of opinion being that it was Orchard who had used the name in leaving the Cripple Creek to seek employment there. Haywood's explanation of the movement of Simpkin's draft was on December 12th, 1905, was as follows:

"I came to Denver early in the month of December to attend a meeting of the miners' board. He drew $231.50 per month for traveling expenses while in cashing his checks for this amount. Haywood $100 and asked him to forward it to Spokane some time before Christmas. He said he was going on a trip and did not want to take so much money with him."

Borah examined Haywood regarding the attitude of the Federation toward Steunenberg. The witness admitted that the Federation had come to think of the Governor as a pronounced opponent of organized labor, although at one time he was an honorary member of a local union. Haywood was asked if the Miners' Magazine reflected his views as well as the organization and replied, "Sometimes." In some instances it did not. In regard to what it said about Steunenberg he said:

"I did not regard him in any other light than I do you, Senator, or Bartlett Sinclair, or any others who were concerned."

"I have understood that," replied Borah.

The witness was taken through a long line of questioning to break his testimony, but nothing was developed that had not been published before. In regard to the notices posted in the Cripple Creek district in 1901, to the effect that anyone working in mines, mills or power plant of the Cripple Creek district after September 15th of that year who were unable to produce a union card would be regarded as an enemy to the community and be treated as such, Haywood explained that there was a move on foot to reduce wages throughout the district.

"So," said Senator Borah, "the Western Federation had a permanent system of its own and none could work where it was in control unless he had a union card?"

"No, sir. A man could go to work anywhere without the card, but we expected him to join the union if he wanted any of the benefits which accrued from membership in it."

Haywood was closely questioned as to his appearance before the committee of the State Senate in Denver to argue the eight-hour law. Haywood said he spoke his mind freely to representatives of the capitalistic class, who were present, including Frank J. Hearn of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, and ex-Governor Grant. "I compared the palace in which Governor Grant lived to huts of some of the smeltermen and I did it so vividly that tears ran down Governor Grant's cheeks and he said he was going to leave the State. I told the men present that it was such influences as they represented that corrupted legislatures and courts."

"And you referred to the court of which Judges Gabbert and Goddard were members?"

"I referred to the Supreme Court."

"And you regarded Judges Gabbert and Goddard as representatives of corrupt corporation influence?"

"I would not like to say that personally."

Borah complained at one point in the examination that the witness was endeavoring to evade a direct answer. Haywood disclaimed this and declared that he was ready to answer any and all questions to the best of his ability.

At 11:30 luncheon recess was taken and Borah announced that he would probably resume the cross-examination this afternoon.

Rained Out.

There was no game yesterday at Abilene yesterday on account of a heavy rain which made playing impossible. Abilene and Wichita are contesting for honors on the diamond this afternoon. Both teams are about evenly matched and a close score is expected by local fans.

DINED WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Admiral Yamamoto and Viscount Aoki Were Visitors to Oyster Bay.

By Associated Press.
New York, July 12.—A peace conference of hardly less importance to the United States and Japan than that now in session at the Hague, was held today when Admiral Yamamoto of Japan and Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, paid an official visit to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. They were entertained at luncheon by the president and his wife. Representative Parsons of New York, assistant secretary of state Bacon and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Morgan of New York assisted in entertaining the distinguished guests.

Wright's Farewell Audience.

By Associated Press.
Tokio, Japan, July 12.—Luke E. Wright, the American ambassador, was received in a farewell audience today by the emperor. His departure is generally regretted here. He will be succeeded by Thomas J. O'Brien, until recently minister to Denmark.

Want Statistics About Immigrants.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., July 12.—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads have been asked by Secretary of Labor and Commerce Straus to furnish him with data as to the number of Japanese they have carried during the past eighteen months from points in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona near the Mexican border. For many months the bureau of immigration has had inspectors in Mexico watching the Japanese immigrants.

THE UNWRITTEN LAW

ADEQUATE DEFENSE FOR MRS. BOWIE AND SON.

A VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL

Was Returned Within Five Minutes and They Were Held Justified For Killing Posey.

La Plata, Md., July 12.—After being out only five minutes today a verdict of acquittal was returned by the jury in the case of Mrs. Bowie and her son, who were tried for the murder of Hubert Posey.

Congressman Sidney E. Mudd of the counsel for the defense in his address to the jury, disclaimed any belief in the insanity of Mrs. Bowie or her son, though he declared that under the circumstances, they should not be held responsible for the killing of Posey, when he refused to marry Mrs. Bowie's daughter, after betraying her. In conclusion he said: "I confidently claim the protection of what I have called 'The Unwritten Law' as an adequate defense for these defendants."

The suit of the McAlester Fuel Co. against P. C. Maricle for $900 on a disputed account has occupied the attention of the district court for the past two days. The case will likely go to the jury late this afternoon. Attorney Montgomery is representing the plaintiff, while Attorney Mathis is looking after the interests of the defendant.

Mrs. H. C. Covington died at her home at Charlie this morning after an illness with stomach troubles. The funeral arrangements could not be learned this morning.

AT THEIR OWN RISK

Chicago Packers Will Buy Live Stock.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., July 12.—The "sealed package" system of buying cattle at the Chicago stock yards was adopted as a compromise at a meeting between the representatives of the Chicago live stock exchange and the packers yesterday. Under this agreement the packing house buyers will make purchases at their own risk after having made examination and selection.

Wreck Delays Denver Passenger.

The Denver passenger No. 7, due here northbound at 2:35 this morning was delayed in Fort Worth on account of the wreck of a Frisco passenger and did not reach this city until about 9:30 this morning.

An empty Frisco passenger ran through a switch in the Fort Worth yards last night, overturning a chair car and a Pullman in such a manner as to block the tracks so that the Denver passenger could not get out of the yards. Passenger No. 7 is a mail train and this accident caused Wichita Falls people to receive their mail several hours late this morning.

Moved Back the Fence.

J. H. Savage says that it is a mistake about the wind blowing down the east ball park fence and accuses Big John Harris and Catcher Scott of being responsible for the damage that was done between the two suns. It is alleged that the players received a tip on the ability of the Wichita Falls aggregation with the stick and fearing that the fence might prove an obstacle in fielding the ball in the game scheduled for today they undertook to see that it was removed. When it comes to precautionary measures you will not find Harris and Scott overlooking an opportunity.—Abilene Reporter.

BIG RAIN IN ARCHER

EIGHT INCHES RAINFALL IN THIRTY-SIX HOURS.

GRADE IS WASHED AWAY

Small Streams Turned Into Raging Rivers, But Damage is Not Great.

Archer City, July 11.—(Special)—It is estimated that at least eight inches of rain fell in Archer county during the last thirty-six hours and the rivers and creeks are higher than was ever known. It is reported that about one mile of the Wichita Falls and Southern railway grade in the Little Wichita river bottom is washed away. The cotton and forage crops throughout the county are looking extra well, and the many cotton farmers think the outlook for cotton is equally as good as last year when the average yield of the county was one bale per acre.

Much land is changing hands and in twelve months the large pastures that have retarded the growth of the county will be taken up by the man with the hoe. A few good houses are going up in this little city and hundreds are under contemplation. They only await the completion of the railway when the lumber and material can be laid down more cheaply than at present. Archer City certainly needs new businesses and the door is open in most any line that one could enter. It needs badly a furniture store, a good implement house, a good lumber yard, and an up-to-date bootmaker, in fact most everything that a new country needs. One hundred houses could be rented now for residence purposes and any new business that might open would do well from the beginning.

The railroad grade will soon be completed and the rails and ties will be laid at once, and every preparation is being made for the railroad to be operation to this place by Nov. 1.

A new newspaper will come out this week under the head of the Archer County Reporter, edited by M. A. Forges, a newspaper man from Ringgold, Texas. An up to date cotton gin is under headway and still another is preparing to commence building to take care of the cotton crops tributary to Archer City.

The commissioners court is in session this week as a board of equalization and the total valuation of Archer county on about one-half its cash value will amount to something like $4,500,000, an increase over last year of over $1,000,000.

Lumber Yard Burns at Munday.

Munday, Tex., July 11.—(Special)—Just after a severe wind, rain and electrical storm last night the big lumber sheds of William Cameron & Co., of this place, caught fire and were consumed. The office building and lumber stacked on the outside of the sheds were saved after several hours of hard work by the citizens.

It is not known how the fire originated. It is thought, however, that it was either ignited by the lime stored under the sheds, which came in contact with water, or was struck by the lightning.

The fire was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning and is still burning late this evening. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

Our State University.

An institution which is the pride of the people of Texas is our State university. It was founded to meet the needs and promote the welfare of our people. The facilities which it affords are being appreciated as evidenced by the constantly increasing attendance from year to year. There is no reason why the young men and women of Texas should go out of the State to obtain a first class education; and we are glad to say that the trend is no longer in that direction. Being an institution of commonwealth, the University of Texas prepares men and women for service to the State, and it believes that practical, common-sense knowledge makes a good and useful citizen. In its several departments, it is admirably equipped for meeting the educational needs of Texans. If any of our readers are interested in the work of our university, let them write for a catalogue to Wilson Williams, registrar, Austin.

OLD SETTLER.

Whether conscience is always a safe guide, depends largely on early training and education. Especially is this true if you eliminate the fear of punishment.

That reminds me, of a funny incident connected with the attempt to enforce the Bell Punch law in Texas, back in the 70's.

The law was an abortive attempt to collect revenue by means of a mechanical contrivance, like a gas meter screwed down upon a saloon counter. The regulations required the barkeeper to turn a crank that rang a bell and registered, before a customer took a drink. Once a month the tax collector came around and secured the amount registered and collected the occupation taxes.

Of course, arrangements depending upon customer and dealer for its enforcement could be nothing less than failure.

Consequently, through either neglect or design the States revenue fell far short of coming up to the expectations of the law makers who passed the bill, much less the collecting officers.

Like all duties that can be put off until the day of reckoning, proprietors of saloons, waited until the last of the month, a few days before the collector came around, and then turn the crank of the register and make some kind of a showing.

Uncle Billy Wilson, who ran a beer saloon on Griffin avenue, often neglected to wind up the register the night before the day of reckoning.

On one occasion he was busily at work at 11 p. m, when the County Attorney stopped in the doorway and watched the proceedings.

Uncle Billy was methodically turning the crank, and the bell was making a ceaseless noise.

What are you doing, Uncle Billy? asked the attorney.

Although taken by surprise, and a little dismayed at being caught, he replied:

"Now, do you see, yer-honer, I'm getting a little old and near-sighted and, by the same laws of nature may be forgetful. And, as I'm an honest man, and would not cheat the State of Texas out of a cent, I thought I would ring up a bit for good measure."

And, as the Attorney walked on, the buzz of the register could be heard a block from the saloon.

BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY.

Jack Clements, a City Prisoner, is Charged With Complicity in Jail Delivery.

Jack Clements, a prisoner committed by the City court on a charge of public intoxication, was given a preliminary hearing in Justice Brothers court yesterday afternoon on a charge of aiding the escape of four prisoners from the county jail last Sunday night and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

Prisoner Dalton, who was one of those who escaped but was recaptured, swore that Clements placed an iron bar in the padlock and twisted it off in that manner.

Prisoner Hughes, who was recaptured after his escape in his testimony at the preliminary trial said that Clements had nothing to do with his escape and, that he himself, broke the lock by means of a strip of iron from the air shaft in the cell.

Panhandle Hotel at Vernon Sold to C. C. Neims and Charles Gramm of Caldwell.

Messrs. C. C. Neims and Charles Gramm of Caldwell, Texas, were in the city Friday closing up a deal for the Panhandle Hotel property, located on the corner of Main and Wilbarger. This piece of property has on it a two-story brick building 40x100, also a one-story frame annex on the south. It has a frontage of 100 feet on Wilbarger and 70 feet on Main. We understand the annex is to be replaced with a two-story brick, covering all the ground owned on Main street, and the present brick will be remodeled and the front used for banking purposes. A new State bank, which is now being organized, will open for business in the building. The price paid for the property is in the neighborhood of $10,000. This is one of the most desirable corners in town, and is cheap for the money.—Vernon Hornet.

A Correction.

A few days since the Times, in giving a list of the principal taxpayers of the city, made it appear that the W. F. Jourdan Furniture Company had the smallest stock of furniture in the county on Jan. 1st, 1907, which was not the fact, but to the contrary they had the largest stock of furniture in Wichita county, as show by the sworn statements to the county assessor. We are sorry the mistake occurred and cheerfully correct same.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 12th, 1907.

The recent rains have caused portions of the main business streets to get in a very bad condition. Especially is this the case on Indiana avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets. In front of the Robertson-Russell Hardware Company and P. H. Pennington Company, the gutter is filled with mud and filth which causes a stench to arise and fill the air with an odor not pleasant to those passing by, let alone those who are forced to look upon the sight from morning until night. A half day's work with the city street force would cure this evil.

The price of whiskey never makes any difference to the man who wants it. If flour goes up he will squall like a burnt pup.—Beerville Be.

BUY COWS STRAIGHT.

Stock in Fort Worth Market Not Subject to Packers Rule.

"Buy cows straight." This was the order quietly given by the head cattle buyer of one of the packing firms at Fort Worth that put an end to the buying of cows and heifers subject to post-mortem examination on this market.

In fact the order above quoted was hardly necessary. The agreement of the packers to buy cows 'subject' has been very little regarded on this market. The local packer has so far disregarded the spirit of the agreement that no claim of rebate on account of post-mortem rejection has come from his office. None of the outside packers purchasing on this market has ever tried to enforce the rule, all purchases have been made in effect, "straight." In respect to the other local packing firms, the claims under the "subject" rule since it went into effect have probably not exceeded 25 and if these had been covered by the "Diamond J." rule would probably not have exceeded a dozen.

In fact, the cows and heifers brought to this market are hardly amenable to the rule. They come from the open range where tuberculosis is a thing as yet unknown, and where actinomycosis finds its occasional victim, the ravages of the disorder are so outwardly apparent that a simple tagging of the animal under the "Diamond J." practice is sufficient to call the attention of the inspectors to the case, and secure a satisfactory ruling to all concerned.

"We Sell IT For Less"

Remember
 The

The commission men on the Fort Worth market have made but little noise about the enforcement of the rule the packers promulgated. Less than one-fourth of 1 per cent of the cattle sold on this market have come under the operation of the rule, and this number has not been sufficient to arouse much adverse criticism. The commission men of Fort Worth have naturally sympathized with their brethren at other markets where conditions are such as to work a hardship to the owners of female cattle brought there for sale, but in other respects the rule has hardly created a ripple of excitement after the flurry following its first announcement had passed.

Now that it is all over the cattlemen of Texas will rejoice, not so much over the abrogation of the rule itself as over the ending of the possibilities it might have evoked had it been submitted to without protest.—Ft. Worth Record.

THE CROWD SENT UP A HEARTY ENGLISH CHEER FOR THE BEAUTY OF BATH.

CHAPTER III

T WAS well agreed by the fashion of Bath that M. le Duc de Chateaurien was a person of sensibility and haut ton, that his retinue and equipage surpassed in elegance, that his person was exquisite, his manner engaging. In the company of gentlemen his ease was slightly tinged with graciousness (his single equal in Bath being his grace of Winterset), but it was remarked that when he bowed over a lady's hand his air bespoke only a gay and tender reverence.

He was the idol of the dowagers within a week after his appearance. Matrons warmed to him. Young belles looked sweetly on him, while the gentlemen were won to admiration or envy. He was of prodigious wealth. Old Mr. Bicksit, who dared not, for his fame's sake, fail to have seen all things, had visited Chateaurien under the present duke's father and descended to the curious upon its grandeurs. The young noble had one fault. He was so poor a gambler. He cared nothing for the hazards of a die or the turn of a card. Gayly admitting that he had been born with no spirit of adventure in him, he was sure, he declared, that he failed of much happiness by his lack of taste in such matters.

But he was not long wanting the occasion to prove his taste in the matter of handling a weapon. A certain led-captain, Rohrer by name, notorious, among other things, for bearing a dexterous and blood-thirsty blade, came to Bath post-haste one night and jostled heartily against him in the pump room on the following morning. M. de Chateaurien bowed and turned aside without offense, continuing a conversation with some gentlemen near by. Captain Rohrer jostled against him a second time. M. de Chateaurien looked him in the eye and apologized pleasantly for being so much in the way. Thereupon Rohrer procured an introduction to him and made some observations derogatory to the valor and virtue of the French.

There was current a curious piece of gossip of the French court: A prince of the blood royal, grandson of the late regent and second in the line of succession to the throne of France, had rebelled against the authority of Louis XV., who had commanded him to marry the Princess Henrietta, cousin to both of them. The princess was reported to be openly devoted to the cousin who refused to accept her hand at the bidding of the king, and, as rumor ran, the prince's caprice elected in preference the discipline of Vincennes, to which re-

NEW PLAN ADVANCED

ROOSEVELT IS SAID TO BE CONSIDERING RADICAL COURSE IN RAILROAD CONTROL.

PARTIAL OWNERSHIP

By the Government Through the Actual Purchase of Stocks is One of the Propositions Which May Be Used to Bring Railroads To Time.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., July 12.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says:

"An entirely new and extremely radical proposition for the control of railroads has been advanced for the consideration of President Roosevelt. It involves the partial government ownership of transportation lines by the actual purchase of stock. Whether President Roosevelt would adopt the scheme, which is so nearly socialistic in its development, may well be doubted. It has been stated, however, that he is actually considering such a recommendation and that it is a part of the proposition to bring railroads to time by securing receivers for them."

Old Settler.

The brain of an average Irishman is set on a hairspring and is liable to act on the slightest provocation. And, neither insult, accident nor surprise prevents his native wit from sharpening his tongue.

A striking example of this characteristic came to light a few days past, when a son of the Emerald Isle, sailing with a full cargo of booze, turned the corner of the street in front of a pair of horses pulling a hack at a brisk trot. The end of the tongue struck Pat in the breast and he went down like a log of wood, and, fortunately the team ran over him without injury. As he arose to a sitting posture a bystander who saw the accident exclaimed, "Lookout!" Pat turned his head quickly and yelled, "Holy Mither! Is the son-of-a-gun coming back?"

Deaths.

Thirteen Bankers in One Pen.

Thirteen rich ex-bankers locked up in a jail. Such is the spectacle presented at Leavenworth, Kan., where the United States penitentiary draws interesting recruits from various commonwealths. The high financiers conspicuous on the Leavenworth rolls dressed in the prison grey, wearing each his penitentiary number and getting no privileges for his accomplishments in money matters, are these:

John P. Cooper, of McGregor, Texas, who loaned the First National bank money over the limit to cotton speculators.

Justus L. Broderick, Wilson C. Collins, Walter Brown, formerly president, cashier and director respectively of the First National Bank, Elkhart, Ind.

Alfred C. Parker, ex-cashier of the First National Bank, Bedford, Ind.

Cyrus E. McCrady, ex-cashier of the First National Bank, Seymour, Ind., an excellent man at the Bertillon measurements.

Robert B. Taylor, bank forger, from Missouri, transferred from Jefferson City.

James H. Wood, another former cashier from Indiana.

Frank G. Bigelow, former president of the First National Bank of Milwaukee, who used $3,000,000 not exactly his own.

Henry G. Goll, ex-cashier of said Bigelow bank, will be released in 1913, a year after his superior.

George A. Conzman, president of the Vigo county (Indiana) National Bank, who violated the banking laws.

Hermann Haas, transferred from Joliet, Ill., a Chicago banker who led the detectives a chase to South Africa.

Francis B. Wright, formerly national banker in Kane county, Ill.

These financiers are employed in various clerkships about the penitentiary. Their sole distinction in prison treatment lies in their being so placed in the dining room that prisoners from the shops shall not rub against them, imparting such grime of toil as might afterward be transferred to the prison books the bankers keep.—New York World.
