

BORAH IS ON TRIAL

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD THE GOVERNMENT.

MANY OTHERS INVOLVED

Trial Excites Intense Interest—Case Has Features of Haywood Trial.

By Associated Press.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 23.—The case of United States Senator William E. Borah, charged with a conspiracy to defraud the government of valuable timber lands, was called today before Judge Edward Whitson in the United States District Court. Borah's prominence and popularity and the leading part he took in the prosecution of William D. Haywood, who was charged with the murder of Governor Steunenberg, and the fact that over a hundred well known residents of South Idaho are alleged to be involved with him in the so-called conspiracy, have combined to attract interest to the proceedings against him, practically equal to that which marked the first of the Western Federation trials here. The district court room was crowded to overflowing.

An Imposing Array of Counsel.

The array of counsel on either side is imposing. The government, whose representatives here freely predict a hearing of sensational interest, has practically taken its case out of the hands of the local district attorney, Norman E. Ruck, against whom charges of improper conduct before the jury have been filed and has assigned the matter to special attorneys, trained in timber land law and fresh from successful prosecutions in other Western States. These include M. C. Burch of Detroit, and S. N. Rush of Omaha, special assistants of the attorney general, and United States District Attorney Timothy F. Burke of Wyoming. Among Borah's attorneys is James H. Hawley, senior counsel for the State in the Haywood case. The indictment against Borah alleges that he, with twelve co-defendants, conspired to defraud the government of many thousands of acres of timber lands in Boise county. It is alleged that one hundred and eight residents of Boise took out timber claims and swore in doing so that they were acting solely in their own interests, whereas they had entered into agreements to turn the lands over to three selected men who were in turn to transfer them to the Barber Lumber Company.

All the men indicted except Borah have filed pleas of abatement on the ground of the misconduct of the district attorney, it being alleged that he made an argument before the grand jury. Borah's trial coming on, with the pleas of abatement undecided, lends new complications to the matter. In the beginning, the work of empanelling a jury to try him, District Attorney Ruck announced that former Governor Steunenberg was one of the men indicted with Borah, being represented in the indictment as John Doe.

Developments in Ruck Case.

In a hearing of the charges against Ruck it developed in the testimony of the secretary of the grand jury that the names "John Doe" and "Richard Roe" appearing in indictments were not on the list of names given him to be voted upon. It also developed that Ruck made extended remarks to the jury, but there is a difference of opinion as to whether he confined himself to the law, or reviewed the evidence and summed up as he would before a trial jury. It was also developed that Ruck told the jurors that he thought the evidence warranted an indictment and that he was acting under direct orders from Washington. Ruck is yet to be heard in his own defense.

The Indictment.

The indictment against Senator Borah and others was returned by the federal grand jury last April, and charges conspiracy to defraud the national government in connection with securing valuable timber lands by the Barber Lumber Company, for which Senator Borah was attorney at the time of the transaction.

Other Officials Indicted.

In addition to Borah, the indictment of the grand jury includes Frank Martin, attorney general of Idaho under Governor Steunenberg's administration; J. T. Barber and Sumner G. Moon, millionaire stockholders of the Barber Lumber Company, residing in Wisconsin; J. I. Wells, P. H. Downs, John Kinkaid, L. M. Pritchard, William Sweet, Albert M. Palmer, and H. S. Rand. The names of John Doe and Richard Roe, defendants unknown to the grand jury, also appear in the indictment. The charge is that these persons entered into unlawful conspiracy in September, 1901, and at various other times to secure by fraudulent entry timber lands in Boise county, Idaho.

Rumor of State's Evidence.

It is alleged that William Sweet, one of the men indicted, has turned state's evidence on promises of immunity and that it is on his testimony that the government attorneys largely rely to secure a conviction. Friends of the other indicted men declare that the confession of Sweet is false and was Lodz, Russia, Sept. 23.—Seven workmen and two girls were executed here today by shooting without trial for participating in the murder of Marius Silberstein, the owner of a large cotton mill, who was killed by his employees on September 13th, because he refused to pay them for the time they were on a strike. The police and troops on September 20th made a sudden descent on the mill and arrested 600 employees.

LONG RAILROAD CAREER.

Ended in the Death of Samuel Sloan—Had Joined Forces With Prominent Financiers.

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 23.—Samuel Sloan, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and ex-president of that road, who just died at his summer home at Garrison on the Hudson, spent fifty of his eighty-nine years of life in active railroad work and only ceased being engaged in it a short time before his death. In his long career he joined forces at one time or another with many men whose names were conspicuous in the financial history of New York. He was intimately associated with Jay Gould, Russell Sage, Commodore Vanderbilt, and he outlived them all. Sloan's interests were many and large. He built up the Lackawanna, which was relatively an unimportant road when he became its head, until its stock sold higher than that of any other railroad in the country. During his administration he did not permit Sunday trains to be run on the Lackawanna. Sloan was loyal to Ireland, his native land, all his life, and was delighted four years ago when he was elected a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Marshal Gwinn received a postal card Sunday from Mrs. John Prest of Taylor, Texas, making inquiry concerning her husband who mysteriously disappeared about two weeks ago. From the description given it is believed that the unknown man whose body was found in the railroad tank may have been the man inquired about.

John Prest was a tailor by trade and his description and the clothing he wore are almost identical with the body found in the tank here. An account of the finding of the body and its description have been sent to Mrs. Prest.

KELLOGG HAS IMPORTANT EVIDENCE AGAINST STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS

Have Been Summoned to Back Up Evidence Concerning Rebates.

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 23.—It is understood that Frank B. Kellogg, the government's counsel in its suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has important evidence in his possession bearing on the alleged relationship between railroad rates and the profits in that corporation in the last eight years. It is said that this phase of the case is being reserved until the line of questioning pursued last week is finished. To back his reported evidence as to rebates, Kellogg has had subpoenaes served upon several Pennsylvania and New York Central railroad officials.

The Alton Rebate Case.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 23.—A special grand jury assembled by Judge Landis at Chicago to hear evidence involving the granting of rebates by the Chicago and Alton railroad to the Standard Oil Company, is to reassemble on Tuesday, when Attorney General Bonaparte, Judge Landis and District Attorney Sims may decide whether to prosecute the case or withhold action on the ground that the railroad company was promised immunity when its employees furnished evidence which helped to convict the Standard Oil Company.

Tilford Testifies Again.

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 23.—W. H. Tilford, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company, gave further testimony today in the government's action against the company. Tilford testified that the Manhattan Oil Company of Ohio had sold to the Standard Company 754,000 shares between 1899 and 1901. The purchase was made for the Standard by a subsidiary company, the Union Tank Line. Tilford could not say if the Standard had made any contract to supply certain gas companies with oil when it took over the Manhattan company.

"As a matter of fact, don't you know the Standard made a contract with the Indianapolis Gas Light and Coke Company of Chicago?"

"Yes, such a contract was made in 1899."

"And was not that contract made because E. C. Benedict and Anthony Brady would not sell the Manhattan Oil Company unless the gas companies were guaranteed a supply of oil for ten years?"

"I don't know the contract was made for that reason," answered Tilford, "I know the contract was made for two years."

Work Appreciated.

E. B. McHam, chief of the Wichita Falls Fire Company, today received for the company a check for five dollars from J. L. Mears as an appreciation of the work of the company in preventing a conflagration at the coal sheds of the J. L. Mears Co. several weeks ago.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL

"PRIMITIVE CHRISTIANITY" AND "BAPTISM" WERE SUBJECTS OF YESTERDAY'S SERMONS.

GREAT THROG AT NIGHT

Over One Thousand Heard Exposition of Baptism—Services Will Continue This Week.

The services on yesterday were well attended and the interest good. The sermon on "Primitive Christianity" at 11 a. m. was fine. The preacher's position was that primitive Christianity was that taught in the new testament of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. All things necessary to life and Godliness had been given therein and hence no human creed or rules of government were necessary. The divine creed is "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God," and his teachings as given by the Holy Spirit was all sufficient for man's salvation, present and eternal.

Just how to become Christians and how to live Christians that we may all get home to heaven at last is clearly given in the scriptures. That it was presumption for any church council or association of men, however wise, to presume to make a plainer or more concise statement of doctrines for the church than our Father had made by the Holy Spirit.

Brother Lockhart closed by showing that the Bible was complete in doctrine, reproof and a complete guide in life and that surely the name for his people given for the church in the Bible was correct.

Referring to the sixty-second chapter of Isaiah, he showed that prophet had foretold this "when the Gentiles should hear of His glory," and referring to Acts 11-26, after the Gentiles had been received into the church, then the disciples were called "Christians." This name had never been used before, nor is there any other name given after this that had not been used before. So this must be the fulfillment of Isaiah 61-2. Besides this, Christian is the only name broad enough and catholic enough for all of God's children.

The sermon on "Baptism" at night was more in the nature of a Bible-reading. Ninety-seven passages of the scripture were read and examined. This embraced all that was said on the subject of baptism, and as this is a Bible subject, when we have all the Bible says about it we have all we can know about it. Man's speculations and conjectures should not be taken instead of the plain statements of the Bible. The conclusion from all this array of scripture was that those who believe in Jesus as the Christ, God's own son, and who truly repent of all their sins are proper subjects for baptism, and that immersion is the act performed. John the Baptist baptized in the river of Jordan. Jesus came up out of the water when baptized. The Ethiopian (Acts 8) went down into the water and was baptized, then came up out of the water. Romans 6-4; Col. 2-12 says "We are buried by baptism or in baptism and raised up with Christ." The preacher closed with an earnest exhortation to the large audience to obey the Saviour and be saved.

We had the largest audience of the meeting last night. The services will continue throughout the week. The subject for tonight is "What Church Shall I Join." Come and bring your friends. Thirty-four have come into the church since we began. We are hoping for many others. Come to the morning services at 10 o'clock.

The following are the subjects for the week:

Monday evening—"How I Know I am a child of God."

Tuesday evening—"The World's Crucified Redeemer."

Wednesday evening—"The Vine and Its Branches."

Thursday evening—"Why I am a Member of the Christian Church."

Friday evening—"Conversion of the Best Man Known in the New Testament Outside of the Church."

Saturday evening—"Sin and Its Cure."

Lord's Day, 11 a. m.—"Points of Agreement With Our Religious Neighbors."

Lord's Day, 7:30 p. m.—"Points of Difference."

Special readings and investigations each morning at 10 o'clock.

The song service conducted by Prof. L. D. Parnell is a special feature of this work and will begin each evening at 7:45.

You are especially invited to attend all services. A. J. BUSH.

Lunatics in the Jails.

The Fort Worth Telegram informs us that there are on file applications for the admission of 130 negroes to the North Texas Hospital for the Insane and that there are no accommodations for them. For the time being, therefore, these negroes will be kept confined in the various jails of the State as if they had committed felonies. The Telegram observes: "The truth about the ill-treatment of these insane will never be known, but under the most favorable conditions and assuming that every jail guard under whose care they are placed gives them all the care and attention possible, the mere fact of their confinement is inhuman and cruel, but cannot be escaped or avoided. An investigation of a similar condition in Illinois several years ago revealed the fact that old women who were hopelessly insane, but entirely harmless, had been kept in solitary confinement in stone cells for as long a time as nine years. There is no evidence that such abuses as this exist in Texas, but they are possible and the fact that they are possible brings shame to the State."

These 130 negroes are not all. There are insane white men and women in the Texas jails. They were "tried" and found "guilty" of being insane and into the lousy jails they went along with rapists, burglars, murderers, thieves and other moral degenerates. It is no consolation to those who boast a touch of humanity in their natures that other States may be as derelict as Texas in their duty to the insane. So long as this unspeakably brutal and inhuman practice is tolerated, just so long will our civilization be blotched and drabbed.

The truth is, the people do not desire such conditions to exist. They are not indifferent to these unfortunate people nor do they wish to inflict upon them the horrors of the Texas jail. The legislatures have simply been neglectful of their plain duty—a duty that the people expected them to discharge. There was no justification of the neglect on the ground that there was a deficit. What the legislature should have done in the face of such conditions was to raise the revenue and provide for these people, even if required doubling the tax rate.

It is not more brutal to jail a woman for having been crushed in a railroad wreck than to place a man in a vermin haunted cell because he has suffered the misfortune to lose his mind. Insanity is as much of a disease as typhoid fever or appendicitis, only that in many instances it is infinitely worse. It is the policy of the State to humanely care for and treat these unfortunate and it is the duty of the legislature to provide the facilities. And statesmanship that is worth three pinches of pine sawdust will in a State like Texas comprehend the simple fact that a State with a growing population will constantly need additional facilities to meet the demands of this unfortunate class of people, and a few ounces of common sense ought to suggest to the legislators that the State ought to have a surplus of facilities rather than a deficit to meet the growing necessities of the insane.

A single lunatic thrown in the average jail of Texas is a disgrace that ought to bring the blush of shame to every citizen of the State.

ALL ARE FOR HUGHES

NEW YORKERS HATE ROOSEVELT AND SAY SO.

WANT THEIR GOVERNOR

The Opposition to the President is Not Confined Entirely to Wall Street, But Among all Classes.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Several government officers who have visited New York recently bring back reports that New Yorkers are greatly excited over the political situation, and that the "business interests" of the metropolis are hard at work laying their plans for the presidential campaign of next year. Newspaper correspondents and those administration officers who have spent the summer in Washington had about come to the conclusion that there was no political situation, but New York appears to have discovered one, and to be taking it seriously.

"The most striking phase of the New York attitude," said one government officer today, "is the terrific hatred of Theodore Roosevelt. This hatred is not confined to Wall street, as is generally believed elsewhere in the country. It extends all over the metropolis, from Wall street magnates down to the chambermaids and bellboys in the hotels. Of course, it is natural that Wall street should dislike the president, but why the rank and file do is a mystery. You may ask the man in the street and he cannot tell you, but the hatred is there just the same. It is a case of anybody but Roosevelt."

The plan of the conservative republicans of New York appears to be to pit Hughes against Roosevelt when the time comes to fight for the control of the New York delegation to the republican National convention. The governor has gained strength since his election to the office he now holds, and he has the confidence of the "safe and sane." If the presidential bee can be turned loose in Governor Hughes' bonnet, Mr. Roosevelt's enemies will be happy. Mr. Hughes is reported to be sitting up and taking notice, and it is said that he has already a good strong backing for the nomination.

The choice of Governor Hughes does not appear to be a bad one to those who are accustomed to view the passing political show from Washington, but when the governor's supporters name the man they have picked out for Mr. Hughes' running mate, Washingtonians laugh, for Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana is the man.

Ira L. Wills, president of the automobile company which bears his name, is in the city for the purpose of showing people how easy it is to drive the machines and, incidentally, to show them why they should own machines and enjoy driving them.

Mr. Wills is a pleasant gentleman and has shown his Buicks to a number of people; with the result that several have ordered machines. He has agreed to teach all buyers how to drive the cars and care for them, and can also guarantee satisfaction with the Buick, as it thoroughly reliable and is also a handsome machine.—Gainesville Messenger.

OFFICE IS ABOLISHED.

Resident Engineer of Denver Road to Look After Building.

The office of superintendent of bridges and buildings of the Denver road, made vacant by the death of A. M. Mullenix, has been abolished and hereafter the work will be supervised by R. C. Gowdy, resident engineer. Announcement of this action on the part of General Superintendent George F. Cotter was made public yesterday afternoon by Card G. Elliot, chief clerk.—Fort Worth Record.

No Lack of Amusement.

The good people of Wichita Falls are not going to suffer from any lack of amusements this fall. There are now located in the city two electric theaters. The Cole Younger Amusement Company is here for a week's engagement. On September 30th the Wichita Theater will open with Whitman's Comedians as the opening attraction. Sunday excursions are also being run to Lake Wichita, so that there can be no ground for complaint that the town is lacking in bright, clean amusement enterprises.

WHO ARE GRAFTERS AND BRIBERS.

The following excerpt taken from an article written by a staff correspondent of the Dallas News and dated at San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17th, furnishes food for thought:

"As long as Schmitz and Rueff and their associates were alone in evidence as bootlickers and bribe-takers there was no difference of opinion in San Francisco as to their guilt and what should be done to them to fit their desert. Outside of the coterie of friends and beneficiaries and of that section of the labor union who propose to stand by Schmitz through thick and thin, innocent or guilty, the public was a unit in its indignation and determination to let no guilty man escape. But the moment it was proposed to reach the bribers, the men 'higher up,' the big financiers and social leaders who profited by the prevailing corruption to push their schemes or maintain their monopolies; as soon as these men were actually indicted, then public opinion split itself up into factions, with a considerable body of apologists instead of a unit for the prosecution. Then it was that the ties of social intercourse, the camaraderie of the club, the subtle influence of community of interests in financial operations, overcame the sense of loyalty to the public good in a large number of otherwise excellent people. 'What if these men,' it was alleged, 'did resort to bribery under peculiar circumstances? They are gentlemen, so devoted to their families, such a strong element of intellectual and social refinement, of liberality and public spirit, spending their money and their companies' money freely among the people.' Moreover, it was urged, if these men were compelled to resort to bribery, the fault was not theirs. It was altogether the fault of the corrupt politicians who held them up."

Those who have read the evidence introduced in the trial of Schmitz and Rueff, the San Francisco grafters, can come to no other conclusion than that they are guilty. But what about Cortelyou? If what the New York World charges him with is true, is he not as guilty of "grafting" as Schmitz and Rueff? And if so, then is not through his method of levying tribute on protected interests that the Republican party owes its two last victories? Instead of punishing "grafters" of the Cortelyou stripe, they are given positions of honor, and yet but one of the great and influential papers of the country has had the courage to condemn grafting of this nature when it was resorted to in order to keep the Republican party in power. Schmitz and Rueff were guilty of running a municipal corporation by graft methods, Cortelyou, the campaign manager of the Republican party, is charged with doing the same thing in order to keep the Republican party in power. Instead of being punished or condemned as he should be, the Cortelyou method of grafting has received the endorsement of the Republican party and as a reward for his work he has been given a cabinet position.

IT PAYS TO IRRIGATE COTTON

There is a very noticeable difference in cotton which has been irrigated this year and that which has not been irrigated. Those who wish to convince themselves that it pays to irrigate cotton can do so by visiting the Luther Thompson farm, about one and a half miles east of this city. The yield of his entire crop, it is conservatively estimated, will be more than a bale per acre this year, while cotton in the same neighborhood, which has been just as well cultivated, perhaps, but not irrigated, will not make a yield of more than half that much. Mr. Thompson did not plant his cotton until June and many thought at that date it was too late. At the present price of cotton, this would indicate that irrigated crops of the fleecy staple pay at least $25 per acre more than crops of cotton which have not been irrigated. This should be all the argument necessary in favor of irrigation. Irrigable lands cost more, but in dry seasons like the present, the farmer is assured of a good crop, provided he turns the water on and cultivates properly.

The editor of the Baylor County Banner, that excellent sheet published by Harrison & Norwood at Seymour, the hamlet on the banks of the more or less turbulent Brazos, where the sand is thirty-five feet deep and where a man isn't considered much of a man if he hasn't a heart as big as a wash tub, is to be married soon; that is, one of the editors will be married. According to his own statement, Mr. Harrison is getting considerably the best of the deal, and he probably is. Anyway, we extend congratulations and best wishes.—Clarendon Banner-Stockman.

Pat McClure, a well known white character, was arrested Saturday on a charge of stealing money from the person of Thomas Foster. The case was set for a preliminary hearing before Justice Brothers this morning, but was continued until Friday on account of the absence of some important witnesses. McClure has been arrested several times on similar charges, but has never been convicted.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Mrs. Ella Day and H. A. Gould.

What your tailor?

THE style, fit and quality of a man's clothes often mark his standing in the business and social world, and this can only be achieved by having your clothes made for you.

You owe it to yourself, your business and your friends to dress well. That means more than the selection of goods, either made up or in bulk. If your clothes are not made right, fine fabrics will not avail.

Ed. V. Price & Co., whom we represent, make clothes expressly for you that are rightly built over your form after we have carefully measured you for them.

The care and skill they bestow in the making means clothes that wear and hold shape as long as they are used, and this is the beginning and end of good clothes making.

Come in now while the line of Fall woolsens is complete—don't put it off for even a day.

This store is noted for its extraordinary Fall Opening and this year we are going to break all previous records. Our 1907 Fall Opening will be the talk of the town for years to come. Every salesman and every saleslady, and everyone connected with the store, will try to make all your visits with us pleasant ones at all times, and to better serve you during this season we will have extra salespeople in all departments so that there will be no long tedious waits and so that you can have every attention. This year we will have more and better souvenirs and more and better music for our visitors than ever before in the history of this company. It will be a pleasure to have you with us.

There are too many different goods and too many different prices to tire you by quoting them. There are new goods arriving every day. It is to your interest to see them.

Our Shoe Department, like it is every season, is way ahead of every shoe department in town. One reason for this is because we buy from high class manufacturers that know how to make good shoes. BORAH ON TRIAL.

secured through threats. In this respect the case against Borah closely resembles the one he recently prosecuted against Haywood, and in which he attempted to secure a conviction on the strength of the confession of an alleged accomplice.

Intense Local Interest.

Intense interest in the trial is manifested by the people of Boise and Idaho, and the case will undoubtedly attract more local attention than the famous Haywood trial, to which it is, in effect, a sequel. Senator Borah is immensely popular and public sentiment is largely in his favor. His failure to secure the conviction of Haywood, after the State had spent huge sums of money to attain that end, has slightly dimmed his fame, however, and should the coming trial result in Borah's conviction the senator's political career will probably come to an abrupt end.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 23.—In his brief filed in court today at Omaha, in resistance to the application of the railroads for a temporary injunction against the railroad commission's grain rate, Attorney General Thompson sets out that fixing rates is essentially legislative in its character and that the railroads are trying to enjoin legislative discretion in their fight against the new grain rates. It is beyond the power of a court of equity to enjoin such discretion, the brief declares.

Happenings at Byers.

Special to the Times.

Byers, Tex., Sept. 21.—Quite a good deal of moving is now going on. John Brady's family moved from here to Hunt county this week and Mr. Williams and family moved in from Hunt county to Byers.

Lon Brannon and Joe Doufitt of Riverland were in Byers Saturday transacting business.

Prof. R. R. Hill of Petrolia has been in Byers several days assisting the district deputy in organizing a Camp of the M. W. A. Twenty-seven names have been secured to date.

Mr. Austin Grogan is now in college at Georgetown, where he entered last week. Austin completed the high school course here last year.

The high school, under the management of Prof. E. P. Haney, is doing excellent work. One hundred and sixty-two have already enrolled and all the societies have been reorganized and are now down to business.

The school enjoyed very much a talk by Rev. J. L. Simpson, who is 90 years old, but enthused with the spirit of school work. He was a teacher fifty years ago. Prof. Haney is planning for a rally at an early date. Don't forget that Haney makes things move.

Poetic Prose.

Equinoctial days! Fades the glorious Texas summer into the unreturning past, leaving memories sweet to illuminate the coming years! Comes the gusty autumn with her gold and crimson leaves and air like wine! The perfumed zephyrs are lost in the swelling music of orchestral winds which toss the billows of the sea and moan the summer's requiem amid the sighing pines! The bleating flocks are gamboling upon empurpled hills and herds of lowing kine feed leisurely upon verdant stretches of the horizontal plains! The Bob White's liquid notes come soft and low from the fields of rustling corn! In whitepied cotton fields the happy pickers sing their songs of joy and mirth and roguish echoes catch and waft the music to the distant dells! Grand old Texas! The land where every season is a joy! Whether garmented in the verdure and blossom of the smiling spring or bathed in the kindly warmth of the summer sun, or radiant in the flaming beauty of autumn time or mantled in the drifted snows, she is the same matchless, munificent, militant, melodious, miraculous, magnetiferous, magnanimous, macrocosmic, millennial, multiloquent old Texas!—Houston Post.

STOCKDALE RECAPTURED BY U. S. DEPUTY AT RYAN, I. T.

A telephone message was received here Saturday night by Deputy City Marshal Tom Pickett from a deputy United States marshal at Ryan, I. T., saying that W. C. Stockdale, one of the prisoners who escaped from the county jail here several months ago, had been recaptured at that place and was being held there for orders from the officers here. Sheriff Davis left for Ryan this morning.

After his escape from the jail here, Stockdale was once recaptured at Burkburnett, but escaped before the officers from this place could get there to take him in charge. He was again captured in Montague county and again escaped.

When captured at Ryan Saturday night it is reported that he made a gun play and defied the officers, but a couple of shots caused his surrender.

Doings at Burkburnett.

Kell & Wigham unloaded one of the largest corn shellers ever shipped to Western Texas Wednesday morning and began shelling corn Thursday for H. A. Dodson on the Hardin farm. Thousands of bushels of corn will be shelled by this big machine.

G. H. Roper, F. J. Graves and Miss Bonita Akers and Miss Carrie Little drove over to the new town, Randlett, in the Big Pasture Sunday evening. Randlett is building fast, and now that they have raised the bonus to induce the railroad that will be built from Lawton to Burkburnett to pass through its confines, the town is bound to prosper.

The town of Kell across the river in the Big Pasture now has a post-office. Another rap on Eschitt.—Burkburnett Star.

Palmistry is not what a great many people imagine it to be, a species of fortune-telling; but it is an exact science, as has been proven over and over again. All well informed people now-a-days admit this fact, and many of them consult palmists frequently. In every person's life there are several courses which he or she may pursue, many of which lead only to failure and few to success. By consulting a skillful and reputable palmist, it is possible to ascertain beyond the question of a doubt which of the several paths opening before you lead to the best and brightest success. If you have ever been crossed in love, if interferences have broken your dearest and tenderest ties, in every affair it is wise to consult this gifted woman. Office Hours 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A TRANSPOSITION.

It Mangled the Salutation, but the King Controlled His Face.

An American who years ago served as our minister to Spain was fond of telling the following joke upon himself:

Shortly after he had become settled in his new home he was bidden to a state ceremonial, where he was to be presented to the king. His knowledge of languages was limited to English and French, and being desirous of addressing the sovereign in his own tongue he took pains to "coach" for the occasion. Several phrases were rehearsed until he felt that he had mastered them. When the critical moment arrived, he saluted the king with great dignity, spoke a few words in Spanish and passed on.

"What did you say?" asked an English gentleman.

"I spoke in Spanish," was the rejoinder. "I said, 'I cast myself at your feet,' which, I am told, is the most respectful form of salutation."

"Ah, no," corrected a Spaniard, who had been observed to smile at the ambassador's greeting. "You are mistaken. You transposed your words and quite altered the meaning."

"What did I say?" asked the diplomat.

With a twinkle in his eye the Spaniard made answer, "What you really said was, 'I throw my heels at your head.'"

But the king had not betrayed by so much as the fluttering of an eyelid that anything unusual had occurred.

THE GREEK MYRMEX.

It Was the Deadliest Weapon of the Ancient Pugilist.

The four ounce glove was unknown to the ancient pugilist. When the boxers and fighters came together in the old days of Greece they wore up on their hands the cestus, which was in itself a terrible adjunct to any fighter. But Dr. Daniel G. Briton discovered that there was sometimes attached to the cestus a deadlier weapon, consisting of a three pronged fork of bronze.

This was known as the myrmex, and Dr. Briton, who found this specimen, gave it to the museum of archaeology in the University of Pennsylvania. Classical literature has frequent references to the myrmex, which is described as the deadliest weapon of the ancient pugilist. The right hand was swathed in tough hide, bound in place with thongs and supplemented by small knobs of lead or iron, to which was affixed the myrmex. Dr. Briton made his discovery in Paris by examining the Greek and Roman marbles in the Louvre. One of these groups represented a fighter bearing on his right fist the cestus and myrmex.

Combats in those days were much more brutal and dangerous than those of the modern prize ring. It is easily seen that a single blow of the myrmex might cause death or permanent injury.

The Gallfly.

By the laws of England and of France, legal documents are required to be written in ink made from galls, such ink having proved to be practically indelible. The mixture is of bruised galls with sulphate of iron and gum arabic. This legal ink, at once the best and oldest in existence, entirely depends on a disease to which the oak tree is subject and which is caused by a fly known as the gallfly. The gallfly belongs to the same order as the bees and wasps, and when it is ready to lay its egg it cuts away the outer bark of an oak tree twig and deposits its eggs in the hole. From some unknown cause the tree immediately begins to enlarge about the egg, and a gall, or oak apple, as it is usually called, is formed. It is this gall which contains the tannic acid from which the ink is made.

Protoplasm.

Protoplasm is a living, transparent, viscid substance of proteid character, containing 70 per cent of water. It coagulates with heat at 130 degrees and dies when the body is raised to this temperature. As only dead protoplasm can be subjected to chemical analysis it is difficult to determine its chemical nature. Its nearest allies are to be found in the albuminoids, of which the white of an egg is a good example. Of the real nature of protoplasm there is, of course, absolutely nothing known.—New York American.

A Lost Warning.

"It is imprudent to leave loaded guns within your son's reach like this."

"Oh, he doesn't even know they are guns; he was using them for stilts the other day."—Ilele Mele.

Making Sure.

Lodger—I have decided to take a room that has a piano in it. Landlady—But you do not play, sir. Lodger—No, but if it is in my room then nobody else can.—Rife.

It is not enough to aim; you must hit.—Italian Proverb.

Our Attitude Toward the Indian

By FRANCIS E. LEUPP, United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE GOVERNMENT TOWARD THE AMERICAN INDIAN IS NO LONGER ONE OF PATERNALISM. IT IS SEEKING TO PLACE THE INDIAN IN A POSITION WHERE HE CAN BECOME A CITIZEN, A WORKER.

President Roosevelt has made a long study of the Indian question, and it has been his opinion that THE INDIANS HAVE RECEIVED TOO MUCH NURSING. They have been herded into corrals, so to speak, and penned in reservations; have been fed and clothed at government expense. That such action was necessary in the early pioneer days there is no doubt. Today this seems no longer necessary.

In round numbers there are 100,000 Indians in the United States at the present time. We have about 5,000 agents and representatives looking after them. By degrees we are selecting Indians for INDEPENDENT methods of living. We say to them: "Here is a plot of ground. Here are garden seeds, implements and supplies. On your own exertions will depend your future."

This establishes a child of nature as a tiller of the soil. An Indian makes one of the BEST of laborers. The railroads can testify to that fact. But take a white man and give him all he needs. HOW MANY OF THEM WOULD WORK HARD IF SOME ONE WAS PROVIDING FOR THEM? This is the position of the Indian. We have cared for him and protected him and allowed him to depend on the agent for practically everything he needed.

This plan is being done away with. It will be a GRADUAL process. It will not be done in this year or the next. But the policy is being consistently followed out, and the list of absolutely dependent Indians is being decreased every year.

And the work is being done systematically. A WATCH IS EXERCISED OVER ALL OF OUR WARDS. When one is found sufficiently advanced to look after himself, he is expected to do so.

WE WANT TO MAKE THE WAY EASY FOR THE INDIAN. HELP HIM TO ASSERT HIS MANHOOD; HELP HIM TO BECOME AN AMERICAN CITIZEN. MANY UNDERESTIMATE THE ABILITY AND POWER OF DEVELOPMENT INHERENT IN AN INDIAN. ALL HE NEEDS IS A CHANCE.
