

JURY EMPANELLED

MEN WHO ARE TO DECIDE FATE OF MRS. BRADLEY HAVE BEEN SELECTED.

DEEP INTEREST IN CASE

Tragic Circumstances Attract Wide Spread Attention—Trial Recalls Famous Beauniane Case.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—The jury in the Bradley case was completed at 11:15 a. m. Assistant District Attorney Turner immediately began the presentation of the case for the government.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—When the trial of Mrs. Bradley on a charge of murdering ex-United States Senator Brown was resumed today eleven men were in the jury box. The attorneys of both sides seem well satisfied with most of the jurymen and the opinion is quite general that the proceedings will soon result in the completion of the jury which is to determine the fate of the woman whose life is at stake.

Mrs. Bradley appeared more composed today than at the beginning of yesterday's session of the court.

No murder case here in years, none in fact since the famous murder trial of Mrs. Beauniane nearly a decade ago, has excited such deep interest as has been excited in the trial that has now commenced. The wealth and prominence of the victim and the double romance of his life are responsible in a large measure for the public interest in the case. The dragging in of the name of Mrs. Annie Adams, mother of Maude Adams, the actress, has also whetted the public appetite for further details of the case. Mrs. Adams is expected to be one of the principal witnesses. She has told friends that she is anxious to testify if for no other reason than to clear the name of the dead senator, to whom it is said she was engaged. She admitted as much when she came here to see the body of the senator after the tragedy, before it was taken west by his children for burial. It is said that Mrs. Bradley first learned of the engagement between the senator and Mrs. Adams a few days before the killing.

It is now nearly a year since the tragedy occurred in the Hotel Raleigh, where the senator was shot in his apartments by Mrs. Bradley after a stormy interview. At the emergency hospital, where he lingered between life and death for several days, Senator Brown steadfastly refused to talk and refused all the opportunities of the police to make a statement of the affair.

Senator Brown's relations with Mrs. Bradley had extended over many years and were one of the causes that led to the separation from his first wife. Senator Brown came to Washington early last December on business. He registered at the Hotel Raleigh. Mrs. Bradley followed him a few days later and registered at the same hotel. She was assigned to a room on the same floor. Late in the afternoon of her arrival, after learning which was the senator's room, she went to it and rapped. After a short conversation, one of the wounded men brought the hotel employes to the room.

Mrs. Bradley admitted she had shot the senator and declared she believed she was justified in doing so. She denied that she had come to Washington for the purpose of killing the senator.

Mrs. Bradley claims to have found letters in Senator Brown's apartments showing that he had an appointment to meet Mrs. Adams in New York. Whether this entered as a motive in the tragedy will not be known until the evidence is brought out at the trial, although at the time of the murder, Mrs. Adams expressed deep sympathy for Mrs. Bradley and declared that if only she could have met her before the tragedy she might have helped to prevent it.

SHORT AND SHARP.

Will Be Local Option Campaign in Tom Green County.

San Angelo, Tex., Nov. 13.—The local option campaign in Tom Green county will be short and sharp and whether decisive must be determined by the votes. Prohibitionists asked the commissioners court to settle date of the election for Dec. 7th, but that body named Nov. 27th on the ground that the sooner the struggle is over the less bickering and strife there will be. The sheriff's force will be pushed to get the notices out in time and to deliver the required orders to the several election officers of the county.

WALSH SHARPLY ARRAIGNED BY DIST. ATTORNEY DOBYNS.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 14.—Assistant District Attorney Dobyns continued his arraignment of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, when the trial was resumed today. He criticized the action of the banker in unmeasured terms and was frequently interrupted by the attorneys for the defense with objections to his statements. Judge Anderson, in the main, sided in his rulings with Mr. Dobyns, insisting that they reserve their objections until the assistant district attorney finished his statement and not interrupt him in the middle of his sentences.

In his statement yesterday Mr. Dobyns declared that Walsh obtained the ownership of various large properties without cost to himself by using the funds of the bank. He said:

"Watered stock to the probable amount of $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 was issued. Mr. Walsh, through his employes, voted the stock to himself; he then sold this stock to the banks, taking the money to build up his private enterprise. All of the stock sold by Mr. Walsh was practically valueless. It was the practice of Mr. Walsh to make loans to one of his companions and then sell the bonds of that company to the bank. These bonds were practically worthless."

The assistant attorney then stated to the jury how Mr. Walsh had induced various people to sign "accommodation" notes for the bank. "Then," said Mr. Dobyns, "he signed the names of people to notes. Checks were made out payable to bearer and credited to the personal account of Mr. Walsh. Bonds were made out to the same dummies whose names were on the notes and the credits were made to Mr. Walsh's account."

"In 1903 Mr. Walsh was told by the bank examiner that the Chicago National bank was being loaded down with the securities of Mr. Walsh's personal enterprises. The examiner ordered him to take these securities out and he promised to do so."

"In 1904 the bank was in the same condition, warning was repeated and again Mr. Walsh promised to remove the securities. Another examination showed that the bank was in worse condition than ever and it was then ordered closed."

"The government will show that Walsh's method was to buy from himself, fix his own price and put the money in his pocket."

THE FARMERS UNION GROWING STEADILY

That the Texas Farmers' Union is increasing at the rate of 500 new members a day during past few weeks is the declaration made by Secretary C. Smith. An average of about six or seven new locals is being organized every day now, and from every section of the State additions are reported. As an instance of the increase, Mr. Smith cites the showing of his own local at Downing. A short two weeks ago the local numbered fifteen. Its membership now runs over fifty.

President Neill and Secretary Smith are now engaged in the work of counting the vote on amendments proposed to the union constitution and hope to complete this work by the end of the week.—Fort Worth Record.

SURPRISE IS SPRUNG IN POWERS TRIAL

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 14.—When the Powers trial was resumed this morning the defense sprung a surprise by tendering in court a letter written by the defendant Powers to W. C. Warring, sheriff of Scott county, whose duty it is to summon the jury from Harrison county. The letter begs Sheriff Warring to be especially cautious in selecting jurors for his case, stating that he believes the juries were packed against him in previous cases. While the court refused to permit the letter to be made a part of the court records, it was allowed to be tendered to Sheriff Warring, but was not read in open court. The commonwealth was not ready with its counter avowal this morning and asked further time, which was granted.

OVER THE NEW ROAD

SIXTY BUSINESS MEN

Will Be Invited to Make the Trip on The First Through Train Between the Two Cities.

General Passenger Agent C. L. Fontaine of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern Railway announces that the line is now open for traffic into Frederick and that a special train carrying about fifty or sixty invited guests, representative business men of the city, will be run from Wichita Falls to Frederick and return on Saturday, November 16th.

The special will leave Wichita Falls at about 7:30 a. m. and will return Saturday afternoon, arriving at about 6 p. m. The special will make stops at Burkburnett and at Kell to give the excursionists an opportunity to get better acquainted with the hustling business men of those towns.

From Wichita Falls to Frederick the new railroad passes through fifty miles of as fine an agricultural country as can be found anywhere in the State of Texas and the new State of Oklahoma.

The Times acknowledges with pleasure an invitation to make the trip.

The special, it may be stated, will be the first through passenger train to run between Wichita Falls and Frederick.

SEE "THE CLANSMAN."

If you are a lover of good plays, do not fail to go to see "The Clansman" or its return for a farewell engagement at the Greenwall Opera House, Fort Worth, Texas, November 21, 22 and 23, with Saturday matinee. Of all the many offerings at this theatre, this is undoubtedly the greatest and grandest of the whole season. Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina advised every man and woman, especially those of the younger generation, to witness it, and hundreds of other leaders of Southern public opinion say the same thing. Crowded audiences and enormous enthusiasm mark the progress of "The Clansman" everywhere.

Until this play was written many persons supposed that the South had no answer to make to the innumerable libels and calumnies heaped upon her by Northern writers. But "The Clansman" set in fierce white light the exact truth about the doings of the Ku Klux Klan and the Reconstruction struggle of forty years ago. It opened the eyes of both the South and the North. It showed that what the Southern people really did was to save a white civilization from barbarism and anarchy; that the South would have been weltering in negroid mongrelism, but for the heroic work of the Ku Klux Klan. Aside from its political features, "The Clansman" is a most beautiful and thrilling drama. The ladies enjoy it as much, or even more than the men because of its engrossing love story. The hero of the play is a South Carolinian and a Ku Klux Klan leader. He falls in love with the pretty daughter of a Northern fanatic, who has come South to organize the negroes against their white superiors. Ben Cameron courts the daughter and firmly opposes every move of the deluded and miserable father. In the end he wins the girl's hand and saves them both from the clutches of the negro lieutenant governor of the State. Under Ben's leadership the Ku Klux Klan drive the carpetbaggers and bad negroes out of the State and restore the old regime.

Thrills, tears and laughter are wonderfully commingled in this master play. The darkey comedy is rich, and the loves of Uncle Nelse and Aunt Eve and the thieving propensities and gullibility of Eleck, the negro high sheriff of the county, convulse the audience.

A word should be said about the appearance of the Ku Klux Klan in this play. Every detail is historically accurate. The ghostly costumes, weird ritual and white-robed steeds of the order, are reproduced exactly as they were in the year 1867. The Ku Klux Klan cavalry dash across the stage with stirring realism. The High Court of the Klan sentences a self-confessed criminal to death. Those who attend the play next week will see the original company of forty people direct from New York city and a splendid new production with magnificent scenery, costumes and electrical effects. Patrons are advised to send in their orders for seats, accompanied by remittance, to Manager Phil Greenwall, Opera House, Fort Worth, Texas, and tickets of the kind desired will be promptly forwarded. The prices of seats range from 50 cents to $1.50 at the evening performances, and are 50c, 75c and $1.00 at the matinee.

PASSING OF A TEAPOT TEMPEST.

While the money skies are clearing it is becoming plainer every day that the clouds were no more substantial than Wall Street hysteria.

A long crusade of calamity howling by Wall Street operators and organs made the town nervous on the money question, and when the Heinze corner in copper stocks got his bank into trouble depositors became distrustful of other banks.

There was nothing really the matter with Wall Street except its own foolish pretense that it was persecuted. The few financial institutions which suspended were, it seems, solvent, and will resume. The success with which banks in all parts of the country have resisted the artificial and unnecessary strain proves that they have been well managed and are strong.

The banks of St. Louis and other Western and Southwestern centers have proven themselves as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar. Before the end of the year they will be doing business placidly in the quiet, old routine way and the teapot tempest will have been forgotten.

Heavy importations of gold and the coinings of gold that was hoarded in the mints will go far toward doing away with the scarcity of money during the rest of the crop moving season. Good prices for farm products are already making money plentiful in all the territory commercially contiguous to St. Louis. On the 1st of January the city will enter upon another record-breaking year of trade and industry.

It is hoped that congress may find some means of preventing a repetition of the passing inconvenience at seasons of the year when all the existing money is needed for legitimate uses. But in the session immediately preceding a presidential election congress is not likely to make any very great change in the present currency system.

For the present, at least, the remedy seems more likely to come from the irrepressible prosperity of the country and the prudent management of financial agencies and officers.—St. Louis Republic.

The 1907 harvest of Texas alone is conservatively estimated at $450,000,000, the greater part of which has not yet been sold. When this is done, things in a financial way are bound to ease up a bit. Texas is solvent and prosperous, and it will require something more than a Wall Street money panic to tie up her business for a great length of time.

PREDICTS LOWER COTTON.

Cotton Mill Man Says Manufacturing is Being Restricted all Over World. Weatherford Herald.

Will cotton advance until it brings the price demanded by the farmers—15 cents per pound, or will it fall much below the present value?

In view of the fact that a considerable quantity of cotton is now being sold at different points in the State by the producers who declare they will not sell it for less than 10 cents per pound, the probability of the future constitutes a very interesting study.

Col. G. M. Bowie, president of the Weatherford Yarn Mills, and vice president of the First National bank of this city, gives it as his unqualified opinion that cotton is going to speedily decline to the level of at least eight cents, and his advice to the farmers of Parker county is to sell their cotton while values are higher than they will be in the future.

Col. Bowie says cotton would have perhaps gone to 20 cents per pound this season but for the financial flurry that has spread all over the country, but this financial trouble is operating in such a manner that cotton is bound to decline in spite of the efforts of all those who are now engaged in bulling the market.

Merchants all over the country are countermanding the orders given for cotton goods, and the spinners are countermanding orders placed for cotton. Many cotton mills have already shut down on account of the wholesale countermanding of orders, and others will follow. On this account a cotton crop that promised to be about 1,000,000 bales short at the beginning of the season, is going to be converted into a big surplus, and under such conditions it can but be expected that the price of the staple will continue to decline.

Col. Bowie says his mill is buying but little cotton now. His advice to the farmers of Parker county is to sell their cotton.

More About the Modern Woodmen of America.

They have already missed three assessments this year.

I will show you twelve reasons why you should join this order:

1st. Because it furnishes you sound protection at absolute cost.

2nd. It is a representative co-operative plan of insurance.

3rd. Your certificate is worth face value when delivered to you.

4th. It will save you money. You can carry $3,000 in this Order for the same you pay for $2,000 elsewhere.

5th. The careful selection of members and territories lessens our mortality rate 30 per cent. The mortality rate regulates the cost of all life insurance. The Modern Woodmen of America is confined only to healthy portions of America, and does not take in the fever districts.

6th. Because it is the giant of the fraternal world. It has withstood calamities and competition and yet has more members than the three next largest fraternal beneficiary societies of the world.

7th. You do not have to die to win in the Modern Woodmen of America. It affords good, reliable protection for its members when misfortunes knock at their doors.

8th. Because it does not try to tear down the membership of any other Order.

9th. Because it has the most economical management and government of any Order in the National Fraternal Congress.

10th. Its expense of management is provided for by a per capita tax. Not one cent of assessments go for anything except death loss.

11th. When you hold a certificate in the Modern Woodmen of America, you have established an estate that no ill wind can deprive your beneficiaries of.

12th. It is establishing a self-supporting sanitarium for the protection of its members and those dependent upon them.

"Keep your protection in the Modern Woodmen.

They guard its interests well; And see that mortals yet unborn May stand beside your lowly grave; While time its records keep, they guard the sacred spot Where Modern Woodmen sleep."

Flour Prices are Sky Rocketing. Buy Now and Save Money

In all of the northern wheat states the price of spring wheat has made sensational advances; of course there is going to be some reaction, but the average price is going to remain around or above a dollar per bushel.

That naturally means that flour goes up with it and some expert flour men even go so far as to predict that the finest grades of flour will sell at $7.00 per bbl. at the mills before next spring.

If you are wise—and of course you are—you will see the wisdom of laying in a supply of flour now for the winter.

We offer the following:

- Albatross, finest Missouri Red Winter Wheat, per 48 lb. sack $1.75
- Queen Bee, per 48 lb. sack, $1.60
- Belle of Wichita, per 48 lb. sack, $1.65

If you're having any trouble with your flour, phone 232. We can please you.

Little Spot Cotton On the Market.

The bulls and the Farmers' Union are factors that are now expected to make advances in the price of cotton. The traders have found out that there is little cotton moving and those who have sold short on December and January delivery may find trouble in securing the cotton to deliver if actual delivery is demanded.

The farmers appear to be holding together better than was expected, and the financial stringency becoming less acute, the bulls are becoming very active.

The demand for spot cotton is growing, according to advices received by the Times and what little is offered is being snapped up at once. An early wire today says that the market was unchanged from yesterday at the opening and there was no material change in the local market.

The Finest of Furs.

The furs are very lovely this season and seem likely to be more than ever in request, no matter what the state of the temperature may be.

Ermine, both with or without the little black tails, will be chosen for richest evening wraps, and once again we shall have the pleasure of seeing short ermine coats worn with white cloth skirts and made with long sleeves. These ermine coats are softened a little in front with trimmings or and cascaded jabots of real lace.

Black broad-tail although it is now so costly, partly on account of its increasing rarity, is being used very largely for the making of quite tight-fitting coats of a long three-quarter length. These coats are lined with ivory white satin, bordered inside with gold or silver galleon, and arranged with roll collars and gauntlet cuffs in iris-purple or jade-green velvet, braided lightly at the edge in a mixture of purple or green with black and silver.

Russian bale silks of very fine quality, and mink also, carefully worked to give the always becoming effect of stripes running downward from throat to feet, will be used for gorgeous wraps, suitable alike for day and evening wear, while other beautiful coats, whose prices are less prohibitive, are made entirely in moleskin, with the fur very cunningly contrived so that it gives the effect of a number of chevron stripes.

Silver fox stoles arranged in a new way, fitting closely to the figure back and front with a bolero effect, will be among the successes of the season, and will look particularly well when they are accompanied by huge granny muffs of the same fur, made of two skins, with the heads of the foxes at the one end and the brushes at the other.

FRANTZ WON'T SHARE IN THE INAUGURAL

Guthrie, Ok., Nov. 12.—Governor Frank Frantz put a new phase on the tangle over the inaugural arrangement tonight by positively refusing not only to ride in the carriage with Governor-elect Haskell on inauguration day, but to take any part whatever in the ceremonies.

The committee had expected Frantz to take part in the inauguration, even if a hitch did occur in connection with the carriage proposition.

"Under the circumstances I shall take no part whatever in the inauguration," said the Rough Rider Governor. "I do not believe that my position will be misconstrued."

Denies He Will Walk.

Haskell today positively denied that he had made any such refusal as was credited to him or that he would do so. He stated whatever he might think of Frantz, he would not allow it to interfere with the arrangements for the inaugural ceremonies.

Frantz's position in the matter is considered to be due to the fact that Haskell, personally, at Shawnee, during the State campaign, attacked Frantz's personal character.

WEATHERFORD MAN FINDS DEPOSIT OF FULLER'S EARTH.

Weatherford Herald.

Mr. L. W. Christian has recently made a very important discovery that may mean a whole lot to him from a financial point of view.

A peculiar kind of clay found on the hill where he has his residence has been passed upon by an authority on such matters and pronounced a very fine quality of Fuller's earth.

Mr. Christian recently sent samples of this earth to Austin and asked for an analysis, but owing to the fact that the State has no appropriation available for such work, the sample was returned to him without being analyzed. He has had Dr. Charles MacNelly examine his specimen, however, and that gentleman reports it of fully as good quality as the Fuller's earth handled by the various drug stores.

Mr. Christian found this valuable earth while digging a well on his place and says the deposit is 50 feet in thickness. It also comes to the surface at another point where the hill has been cut down, and as the hill covers five or more acres, he believes he has it in almost limitless quantities.

Fuller's earth is a very valuable commodity, from the fact it is said to be very scarce in this country, and the major portion of that used for domestic purposes has to be imported. Packing houses use large quantities of this material, and Mr. Christian thinks of submitting specimens of his find to the big packing houses at Fort Worth in the hope of finding a market for his product.

Mr. Christian is one of Weatherford's oldest and most generally esteemed citizens. He has been identified with the town from the earliest days, and has done much for its progress and development. In the evening of his life a good revenue from this source would come in most acceptably, and his host of friends in this city unite in the hope that he has really "struck it rich."

We are engaged in banking at Stephenville. Local option has not in any way injured our business. Our deposits are larger than ever before, our merchants are prosperous, our town is growing, new buildings are to be seen on every hand. Local option has decreased crime greatly. Our freedom from crime is remarkable. The idea that prohibition hurts business is folly. It will hurt the liquor business and help all other business. Insurance Expert on Fire Rules.

The following is the platform, boiled down to common sense, of the big fire insurance companies after years of study of the question. Read it and take warning:

The danger of fire loss is 40 per cent greater in the winter months than in the summer.

Even if you carry full insurance, fire loss means heavy loss to you—loss of time, loss of good trade.

Everyone is certain of his own carefulness, but are we careful? For instance do you use safety matches? Any other kind is prohibited by law in the State of New York.

The fire marshal of Ohio says that the "parlor" match is responsible for a greater loss of property than any other single invention of man, and he adds: "Burnings of buildings by carelessness with these matches is a continuous performance, the average time between each fire being eight hours."

Investigation showed that out of 1,396 fires in New York, 439 were attributed to matches.

Statistics showing the cause of fires best teach what to guard against:

1. Use only safety matches.
2. Ashes should be kept in metal receptacles.
3. Rubbish of any kind should never be allowed to accumulate anywhere about the building.
4. Oily rags or waste paper, damp sawdust for sweeping should be deposited in metal waste cans and burned each night.
5. Spittons or receptacles for oil dripping should be of metal and never contain sawdust.
6. Electricity causes many fires by wires getting out of order. Installation should be inspected at least once a year by an electrician.
7. Every insurer should have conveniently at hand some reliable fire extinguisher to be used in an emergency.
