By

CONGRESS IS SET to debate President Reagan's tax plan this week, as the president's efforts to provide a tax cut for the American people faces its first stiff test.

Residents of this area should be extremely proud, since the President's bi-partisan tax plan was co-authored by none other than Representative Kent Hance.

Hance may only be in his second term in Congress, but he is no political novice, and has jumped into the legislative process with both feet. If he can steer the Conable-Hance bill through the congress, it would go a long way to making a name for the Dimmitt and Lubbock lawmaker.

After watching and listening to President Reagan on Monday, it appears that the issue is going to be a close one when it comes up for a vote in the House of Representatives. Apparently, that is why the president went on national television, and urged the voters to contact their representatives urging passage of the bi-partisan tax package.

Naturally, the Democratic liberals, led by House Speaker Tip O'Neill, have tried to throw up a road-block, and claim that the president's program will mainly benefit those making in excess of $50,000 per year.

Before you believe all of that hullabaloo, you might consider this statement by Kenneth Duberstein, head of the administration's liaison team with the House of Representatives. Duberstein said it came down to a basic choice:

"Do you trust Ronald Reagan, or do you trust Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill?"

According to a news release this week from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the president's tax bill is one which would most benefit small businesses, pointing out that the Ways and Means bill (the Democrats' opposition bill) would eliminate the Investment Tax Credit, which is one of the main tax credits small business has today.

President Reagan said in his Monday speech that his tax plan would attempt to save the family farm and small businesses, helping assure that families could retain ownership of their farms and businesses, also offering a help in the reduction of estate taxes.

It's a very important vote, which might come as early as Wednesday.

Since our representative is author of the president's bill, it isn't likely that he needs a call or a telegram to urge his support, but it would be nice if residents would communicate just the same, to congratulate him and urge his continued good work in the Congress.

SINCE THIS WEEK is National Farm Safety Week, it gives us an opportunity to urge those who work not only on farms, but in industrial or other types of jobs, to exercise safety measures in all phases of their jobs.

Just this week it was announced that the West Texas area, served by the Lubbock office of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) had the highest rate of industrial fatalities than any other area of the state.

During the past year, 53 job fatalities were reported in West Texas, from an estimated 250,000 workers. This compared to 57 fatalities in the Houston area, which has a work force of approximately 600,000 people.

Follow safety regulations, whatever your job or occupation. We don't have a single reader we'd like to lose.

Theme Set For Parade; Seek Entries

Bull Town parade chairwoman, Suezy Smith, has announced that "Small Town USA" will be the theme of this year's parade. This will allow participants to model floats which will depict things which are associated with a small town.

Mrs. Smith announced this recently and also said that there have already been some entrants for this year's parade but that the designation of spots in the parade will come later after most of the entrants have been processed.

The committee in charge of coordinating the parade will have a meeting at a later date at which time they will discuss the parade plans.

Some of the parade performers who have agreed to come include the Portales Car Club, Antique Club of Canyon and the Cannon A.F.B. Color Guard, which will lead off the parade.

As yet, the parade coordinators have not found a musical organization but they are still in hopes of locating a group to perform at the parade.

The persons or organizations who are interested in preparing a float or performing in the parade should contact Mrs. Smith, Norma Whitten, or Virgie Cary.

The parade float deadline is August 1 according to Mrs. Smith.

School Activities

There are several notes concerning the starting of school which local students and parents, as well as teachers, should be aware of.

First off, school at Bovina I.S.D. will begin at 8:20 a.m. on August 25 and teachers will report at the school on August 21 and August 24 prior to the start of school in order to observe a work day on August 21 and a teacher's in-service on August 24.

Coach Paul Toppliff has also announced that his first team meeting will be held on Saturday, August 8 at 7 p.m. in the Field House. Shoes and socks will be issued at this time and all prospective football players should be at this meeting.

Two-a-days will begin on August

10 with the backs working out from 9 a.m. until 10 a.m. and the linemen working out from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m., then the team will observe a total team work out at 7:30 p.m. each night. The schedule for the backs and linemen work outs will rotate each day.

The meeting for the school's Board of Equalization, which was held Friday at Ridgelea School, was recessed without the business being finished. There will be a meeting at a later date in which to finish all the business.

The Bovina Schools are still looking for a band director and a junior high social studies teacher. According to Supt. Bob Owens, these are the only two positions left to fill at Bovina Schools.

Style Show To Be Held On August 14

In conjunction with Bull Town Days, Furne Harris of the Brownsabout has announced that there will be a Fall and Back to School Style Show, sponsored by the Brownsabout on August 14 in the Senior Citizens Building.

The annual affair will give local patrons a look at fall and back to school fashions and will begin at 6 p.m. on that Friday.

Mrs. Harris said there will be admission charged, but it will be taken by the Senior Citizens organization, who will be furnishing pie and coffee at the show.

At intermission there will be a program given by the Bovina Young Homemakers and all persons are urged to come out and enjoy the show.

Door prizes will be awarded. Mark this down on the calendar.

City Board Meets Here

The Board of Equalization for the City of Bovina, Texas will meet Wednesday, August 29 in the Bovina City Hall.

All citizens having business with the Board are asked to be present at the meeting.

DURING "SAFETY WEEK"

Uncovered Wells Danger Is Cited

With the recent near-tragedy in this area when young Jared Ortho of Hereford was rescued from an irrigation well which was being filled, residents are reminded to locate and cover open wells.

The week of July 25-31 is National Farm Safety Week.

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District reminded its members this week of the importance of locating and capping abandoned wells within its 15-county service area.

The organization pointed out that since 1970, 61 abandoned wells had been located in Parmer County. Forty-seven of these have been covered, but 14 still remain uncovered—the second highest number in the district.

District rules and state law require landowners or operators to properly cover any well, cistern or hole that is more than ten inches and less than six feet in diameter. The covering must be permanent and withstand a 400 pound weight. The law also requires that any abandoned well or hole ten or more feet deep be completely filled or capped at the ten foot depth with a permanent plug and filled from the plug to the surface.

In the water district service area in excess of 11 hundred abandoned or uncovered wells have been closed since 1951. Over half that number were discovered and closed since 1978. District engineer technician, Obbie Goolsby, was recently commended by the Board of Directors for his lead responsibility and diligence in locating and in getting covered more than 550 open wells in the past three years.

The search intensified in 1970 when the district completed a survey of Parmer County to locate all existing and abandoned wells. It took nine years for district staff to completely drive out the service area of each of the 15 counties to identify abandoned well sites, or to locate them in conjunction with other programs of the district.

The table below lists a record of open hole investigations for each county since 1970. It indicates vigilance is still needed to remind landowners of their responsibility to protect human and animal life. Pollution of the aquifer is also a serious potential threat which can occur through these abandoned well holes.

The staff will continue its surveillance with the help of topographic maps, replacement well permit records and visual clues. They will monitor those remaining identified and uncapped wells, and keep an eye out for new ones.

"We've learned to spot the tell-tale signs of an abandoned well site," says Obbie. "They generally tell you a farmer's got something he can't plow. A good example is a heavy clump of weeds in a field, particularly if they're thriving at a high point on the land. That usually means an abandoned well. Another landmark which stands, left over from the good ol' days of plentiful water, is the big old tree which farmers planted near their wells. It generally still stands and is the last testament to an abandoned well."

Considering the density of irrigation wells in the High Plains area and the tremendous number of abandoned well holes already located, the district is proud of the fact that no one has fallen into a well and no deaths in the area have resulted from an uncovered or unused well.

Schedule Is Announced

Officials at Bovina I.S.D. have set the schedule for the upcoming school year.

August 21 and August 24 will be designated as a workday, and in-service day, with the first day of class to be August 25.

September 7 there will be no school as the district will observe Labor Day at that time.

October 5 will be set aside as a teacher in-service day and November 6 will also be used for a teacher in-service day.

Thanksgiving will be observed November 26 and 27 and there will be a teacher in-service day on the following Monday, November 30 with classes resuming on Tuesday at their normal time.

December 23 through January 1 will be Christmas holidays for the Bovina I.S.D., and classes will get back into session on January 2 at their regular time.

January 15 will be a teacher's workday and on February 19 there will be a day of in-service scheduled for the Bovina teachers.

March 1-5 will be Spring Break and Easter holidays will be observed by the school system on April 9 and 12.

The last day of class for Bovina School students will be on May 27 with High School Commencement on May 28. Teachers will have a work day on May 28 also.

TAKING A SNOOZE....A shaggy, four footed friend was resting under a trampoline to keep cool when this shot was taken. Even the local animals seem to be searching for a cool spot.

Commissioners Have 'Routine' Business

Mostly routine business was conducted by the Parmer County Commissioners Court, at the court's meeting July 13.

A motion was passed to pay the court's annual dues of $350 to the Ninth Administrative Judicial District of Texas.

Motion was passed to pay boarding care bills for Dora Fields in the amount of $270, which will be reimbursed, and for Bella Cantu for $24.00.

Dr. Paul L. Spring of Friona was reappointed as County Health Officer for a two-year period starting September 1, 1981.

The court approved reimbursing a family in the amount of $125 for an emergency care bill on a foster child, because the doctor would not accept Medicaid.

Bills on indigent children were approved in the total amount of $78.50, for various doctor bills.

County Tax Assessor Hugh Moseley explained an error on a tax certificate amounting to $15.48 on some property in Friona. The corrected certificate was re-issued.

County Agent Seth Ralston reported on various 4-H activities, including the electric camp which Extension Agent Laura Jacobs was attending, and the district horse show. Ralston also reported on a record book workshop.

Soil Conservation work was approved for the Sonny Roach property, by county equipment, when the machines are not demanded for use on county roads.

At 5 p.m. that day, a Board of Equalization convened to hear property owners with objections to values placed on their property, but no taxpayers appeared.

Man Has Accident

A.L. Kerby has not had what would be considered a good summer. First, he had a piece of steel fall on his foot and break his left toe, then he developed a bone spur. But, his most recent malady was when he received a broken bone in his leg while working with some horses recently.

Sheriff's Report

Arrests made the past week: July 24, Jerry Ortiz, 24 of Texico, was arrested for theft by worthless check, was fined $1 plus court costs and had to make restitutions for the check.

July 27, Steve Madrigal, 25 of Bovina, original charge was DWI, and driving while license was suspended but was picked up on outstanding traffic violation which totaled $363 in fines and court costs and he is still in jail.

In calls to the office, Oakley Stevenson reported a 400 pound steer strayed from his property. It has an SS brand on the left side and a yellow ear tag on its left ear. Was reported July 24 but had strayed sometime within four or five days prior.

On July 24, Wy Haragan of Lovington, N.M. had her 1970 Buick vandalized while she was at the Farwell Country Club. A large rock was thrown through the rear window of the car and there was a scratch mark on the entire right side of the car.

July 26, Triple M. Industries reported that a pickup truck was stolen one mile east of Lariat. It was a red Ford, with license 1 BM 683. Also at the same place, eight tires and wheels were taken from a 1963 Chevrolet truck.

On July 27, Ramiro Garza of Mission, Texas reported that his two ton truck was stolen from two miles south of Lazbuddie. The truck was a 1973 Dodge, yellow in color, with two black lightening bolts on either of the front fenders. License plate was DW 4065.

Police Report

Chief of Police John Detten reported the following incidences: Steve Madrigal was arrested by Bovina Police for violation of probation out of Hereford, two counts of fleeing from a police officer in Bovina and DWI and driving while license was suspended from Parmer County Sheriff's Office. Madrigal is being held in jail.

He was arrested at Allsup's at approximately 1:30 a.m. Monday morning.

Detten also said there have been several residents who have been running stop signs in Bovina and the local law enforcement officers are going to start cracking down on that. They wrote up several tickets the past week for that traffic violation and are likely to write up several more this week.

In other news, Detten said that there are several bike riders whose bicycles are not marked well for night riding and this should be taken care of. This is for the rider's safety as much as it is for the driver's safety who also share the streets of Bovina. Get those bikes marked for night riding.

Blade's Edge

Commentary From The Editor

By Janet Wilke

We were proud to hear of the Tex Mex's team victorious season. Soon, they will be going to the finals and we are hoping they come home to their respective communities with a resounding victory. This team is made up of players from Bovina, Farwell, Texico and Clovis, and I am sure each of the towns are very pleased and proud of their players' accomplishments.

From Bovina, we have players Richard and Ricky Shepherd, Dennis Willard, Ronnie Cary, Mike Spears and player-coach A.L. Nuttall and coach Wayne Spears. We wish them a lot of success.

condolences to the Spring family.

Also in memory, we express sympathy to the family of Tressie Sparks who had several relatives in the area, including two sisters in Bovina.

Eddie Ross, a former Bovina man, also passed away recently and we were saddened to hear this news. Anytime a longtime area resident passes on, we lose a part of the way things used to be. They made a better world for all of us through their sacrifices and persistence. They were the pioneers who built this county, state and nation.

We here at the Blade have cut the weeds on our property, getting ready for the Bull Town Days celebration. We have noticed that there are several other businesses and private citizens who need to check into getting a mow job done on their property as well. I hope they will follow suit.

I spoke with Mac Glasscock recently and he said that unless someone in town knows of a talent act or group which might perform at BTDD, there will probably not be any form of talent show or entertainment.

Mac said he had spoken to several persons concerning being in the talent show and he was either turned down because they were not interested, or because they were going to be out of town at the time of the show, which as you well know, is in conjunction with Bull Town Days.

It seems as though lack of interest and a lack of participation will force Bovina to cancel plans for a talent show during Bull Town Days. Maybe next year. If any of you know of a talent act or group who would perform, give Mac a call.

Don Springs

Host Cook-Out

Members of the Bovina Ambulance Service were hosted by the Don Spring family to a cook-out on Friday night. They enjoyed burgers and all the fixings and then, following the meal, a short business session was held.

Barbara Lowe has indicated to the Blade that school will start on August 25 with teachers reporting on August 21. You know, sometimes, I wonder if it might not be better for the students to report for workdays instead of the teachers. That way, the students would already have the devilmint out of their systems before the teachers ever got back and the teachers could take a little longer rest break before having to start back to the old Salt Mine. Might be worth a try....

Bull Town Days celebration is not too far into the future, and we want to take this opportunity to say that we feel that the folks who are getting this thing together are doing a pretty good job.

It takes a lot of planning, organization and civic duty to put together an event such as Bull Town Days, and this year I expect that it will be about the best ever.

If any of you should see those citizens who are working on the various committees, please say a word of thanks or give a little support to their cause. They have worked very hard to make all of the citizens of Bovina proud on this most special of occasions.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Don Spring's father. The Spring family has devoted a lifetime of service to this area and when any of our community folks die, it leaves a void. We offer our sincere

HELPFUL HINTS:

Before you ever wear a new pair of hose they should be frozen first. No kidding, they will last longer if you wet them thoroughly, ring them out gently, place in a plastic bag and toss in the freezer. Once frozen, thaw in bathtub and then hang to dry. It's a wild and crazy hint, but it's true.

Never oil vinyls because oil will make the vinyl hard. If this happens it is almost impossible to soften it again. For proper cleaning, sprinkle baking soda or vinegar on a rough damp cloth. Then, wash with a very mild dishwashing soap. Body oil will cause vinyl to become hard so it should be cleaned once in a while.

Don't forget--Shugart's Studios will be taking pictures Friday, July 31 at the Blade building. Still a good deal!!

Have another rainy week and thank you for helping with Scoops....

Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Braden

Melinda Bell, Dewayne Braden United In Church Ceremony

Melinda Kay Bell became the bride of Dewayne Braden on July 18 at 2 p.m. in the Crestview Baptist Church of Midland.

Mrs. Braden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merket of Lazbuddie and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bell of Graham.

Braden is the son of Gene Braden and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kuykendall of Midland.

The Rev. Darrell Patterson, a cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony, which was a double ring wedding.

The church was decorated with spring colors and the decorations were also carried out in the bridesmaid's dresses, which the bride designed and made.

Maid of honor was Sheri Dewbre of Graham. Bridal attendants were Kathy Bell, Amy Young, Debra Decker, Loretta Bellinghausen and Debby Hooker.

Misty Kenedy of Midland was the flower girl and ring bearer was Keith Bell, brother of the bride.

Best man was Kenneth Bell, brother of the bride and groomsmen were Mark Bellinghausen, Russell Reynolds, Douglas Mitchell, Bucky Decker and Terry Hooker.

The couple said their vows under an archway of greenery, which was adorned with a rainbow of colors carried out through the use of carnations. Two doves centered the archway and there was a pair of spiraling candelabras decorating the altar. The couple lit a unity candle to signify their "oneness" and they knelt together on a brass and white kneeling bench.

Joey Miller of Graham acted as candlelighter for the service.

Providing the music for the wedding were Sandy Patterson and Terry Warlick sang "The Rose," "Wedding Song," "Stand By Me," "We've Only Just Begun" and Rev. Derrell Patterson sang "The Lord's Prayer" for the benediction.

Tamrar Darby provided music at the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown which featured a sweetheart neckline, a Queen Anne collar, Victorian sleeves and a high contoured waistline, dipping low in the back. Galloon lace covered the entire bodice of the dress with galloon lace appliques on the tulle sleeves. Seed pearls decorated the rose designed galloon lace. The front of the skirt had a design of re-embroidered lace, seed pearls and galloon lace. The hem was trimmed with re-embroidered lace. Her train was decorated with six rows of pleated lace and the veil was a chapel length creation with a blusher made of tulle and re-embroidered lace on the headpiece, which was also adorned with seed pearls and lace.

The dress was designed by the bride and made by the bride's mother.

Her bouquet consisted of white silk roses, carnations, daisies and baby's breath with pale colors of pink, blue, orchid and mint green. Streamers fell from the bouquet and touched the floor.

Dressed in floor-length gowns of spring time colors, the bridal attendants wore empire waisted creations, which featured a pleated dress with a yoke and ruffle for accents. The skirt had a wide ruffle of pleated lace. They carried arrangements of silk flowers which included roses, carnations, alyssam, gardenias and sweet peas, all of spring colors.

Serving as ushers were James Honeycutt, Rick Reynolds, Bobby Kuykendall and Terry Kuykendall.

A reception followed the ceremony, and the guests were received in the Fellowship Hall of the church, where the houseparty consisted of the bride's and groom's parents, and the attendants.

Decorations for the reception included a candelabra and the wedding cake which featured a fountain flowing apricot punch. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with rainbow colored flowers and small bells. A staircase led to two smaller cakes.

A chocolate sheet cake was served from the groom's table.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Debra Kennedy, Mrs. Donna Adams, Mrs. Denise Marston, and providing the music for the reception was Connie Oates and Sandy Patterson.

Following the ceremony, the couple traveled to Ruidoso, N.M. and will return to Midland to make their home.

Registering the guests was Lisa Bellinghausen.

Methodists Plan Events

Members of the First Methodist Church will be traveling to Ceta Canyon for their annual church wide picnic on August 30.

Members who attend the function should bring their lunches and wear something cool and some shoes for walking.

The morning worship service will be conducted at Ceta Canyon and following the picnic there will be several activities planned such as swimming, volleyball and hiking.

According to Mary Richards, there will be transportation provided for those who do not plan on taking their personal vehicles, but these arrangements should be made with the church ahead of time.

The United Methodist Women visited Prairie Acres Nursing Home yesterday and then in September there will be the annual Family Night in which the local school teachers will be honored guests. A time and the final details are not yet set for this but Rev. Dick Richards said he will give all of the details when they make the final arrangements.

Bovina Couple Shares Alaskan Experiences

Gene and Edna Scott have recently returned from a two week trip to Alaska, where they saw many sights and enjoyed the rugged beauty of the northlands.

S. McNamara To Be Honored At Shower

Sabina McNamara, bride-elect of Terry Schilling, will be honored at a bridal shower in the Community Room of the First State Bank of Bovina, August 5 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Her selections are at the Browsabout and Kirkpatrick's. Hostesses for the event are Joyce Read, Kay Williams, Skeet Caldwell, Helen Mazurek, Rene Kuper, Laura Bartlett, Tommie Lou Boeckman, Eunice Schilling, Dorothy Sorley, Brenda Jesko, Pat Read, Vernie Schacher and Lupe DeLeon.

The Scotts began their journey from Riverside, California, where they were joined on the trip by Bobbie and Bud Rossamano who is Edna's sister and her husband. Then the foursome left from Seattle and flew to Anchorage, Alaska where they visited Matanuska Valley, glaciers, and several ski areas.

In Matanuska Valley, which is a farming area and is located 50 miles north of Anchorage, they enjoyed the scenic area and then proceeded with their tour to Willow, which is proposed to be the new capital of Alaska whenever the legislature gets around to changing the location. This is being decided on in the Alaskan legislature because the people of Alaska would like to have their capitol closer to the more populated areas.

According to Gene, Anchorage is a city of 200,000 which constitutes about one-half of Alaska's population.

Next, they visited Mt. McKinley and saw the wonders of the National Park and the Wildlife Preserve there.

Fairbanks provided them with an opportunity to ride a paddle wheel boat down the largest glacial river in existence, which is the Tanana River. This took six hours.

Then, the group flew to Point Barrow, which is the most northern point on the North American continent, and they were hosted there by an Eskimo family, who shared with them the cultural and native experiences of the people of the northland.

Then, back in Fairbanks, they took the Richardson Highway to Delta Junction, where the highways merged to become the Alaskan Highway. Then they travelled to the Yukon territory, where the roads became a gravelled affair, and where they decided they were fortunate to have highways such as we know in Texas.

From the Yukon territory, the four travelled to beautiful Skagway, where they picked up the "Fair Weather," an Alaskan motor vessel, which took them to the Lynn Canal and on to Juneau, the capitol of Alaska.

In Juneau, they visited several places including the awesome Mendenhall Glacier.

It was while they were in Juneau, that they boarded the SS Rotterdam, which took them back to Glacier Bay and by Sitka, where Gene says, "It is a world by itself." From there they continued on to Vancouver.

Throughout the entire trip, the Scotts and their travelling companions took several pictures and were taken by the picturesque beauty of the land which most of us know little about.

When they arrived in Vancouver, they then boarded a plane and came back to Texas, which, I suspect, was a vast change from the loveliness of the area from which they recently came.

But, home is home, and I imagine the Gene Scotts have many memories of their trip which will never fade away.

They got back home on July 4.
