NUMBER 297

DEATH AND RUIN IN PATH OF STORM IN FIVE STATES

CYCLONE BELT EXTENDS OVER MISSISSIPPI, LOUISIANA, ALABAMA, GEORGIA AND TENNESSEE.

THOUSANDS ARE INJURED

Late Reports Indicate That Total Number of Dead Will Reach Four Hundred.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., April 25.—The incomplete list of the dead and injured in yesterday's storm, made up from telegraphic reports received here from various points throughout the Gulf States, places the number of the killed at 287, and the injured at 1,091. No estimates have been made of the killed and injured in Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Georgia and other sections visited by the storm.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., April 25.—The storm which swept over Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama yesterday proved to have been the most disastrous that has occurred in a number of years.

From twenty-five to fifty people are reported to have been killed at Amite, La., and twenty-five at Purvis, Miss.

Sixty are known to be dead in the path of a storm extending from Vidalia, La., across three counties.

Albertville, Ala., was almost wiped out of existence and thirty were killed.

It is estimated that 225 people have been killed in these three States.

Amite, La., was so badly damaged that the mayor has placed the town under martial law.

The storm struck there at about noon and killed two white persons and three negroes, injuring many others, mostly negroes. The path of the tornado was about two miles wide when it passed over Amite.

Around Natchez in Concordia parish, La., thirteen lives were lost.

Twenty-five persons were killed in Adams county, Miss., and twenty-five in Jefferson county, Miss.

Five Persons Killed at Griffin, Ga.

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., April 25.—Reports received here today say that a severe storm struck Griffin, Ga., during the night, wrecking a part of the town, killing five persons and injuring at least fifteen others. The report declares that the cotton mill and other business houses were blown down.

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Chappel were killed outright in their homes and Mrs. Harris and son died since at 10 o'clock.

The storm cut a path a hundred yards wide through the city, destroying twenty-five houses, besides the Baptist church and several other public buildings.

A number of persons were injured and are being cared for at the hospitals today.

Twelve Killed at McCallum.

By Associated Press.

Mobile, Ala., April 25.—A report from McCallum, Miss., says that probably twelve people were killed and several injured in yesterday's storm. The McCallum-trestle and four hundred feet of track were blown off the high of way.

Eight Dead at Cleveland, Tennessee.

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, Tenn., April 25.—A tornado last night nine miles east of here blew down five houses and barns and eight persons are reported killed or injured. At Sweetwater, Tennessee, considerable damage was done.

Twenty Dead at Cedartown, Ga.

By Associated Press.

Rome, Ga., April 25.—A report has reached here that between twenty and thirty persons had been killed by a terrific storm between Cedartown and Cave Springs, Ga.

The Storm in Georgia.

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., April 25.—Telephone messages from the path of the severe storm report fatalities at Shipley, Harris City, McDonough and Locust Grove, Georgia. It is reported here that a number of persons were killed at these towns.

Bring Stories of Destruction.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., April 25.—Trains coming into New Orleans on various railroads report heavy damages all along the lines and it is believed that the death list of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama will reach several hundred.

Scores Killed Around Purvis.

By Associated Press.

Purvis, Miss., April 25.—An air of death and desolation marks Purvis today. The total death list in this section now reaches sixty-two and it is believed that further particulars from the surrounding country, which are now lacking, will add materially to these figures.

Fort Deposit Wiped Out of Existence.

By Associated Press.

Mobile, Ala., April 25.—Reports received today state that the town of Fort Deposit, Ala., has been almost wiped out of existence.

Four Dead Near Big Sandy.

Big Sandy, Tex., April 24.—In the storm which passed over this place last night at Stagner, a village in Wood county, four were killed. The dead: WILLIAM H. ROBBINS.

MRS. ROBBINS.

TWO DAUGHTERS OF MRS. MYERS.

The Robbins family attempted to take refuge in a storm cellar, but was caught in the building. The store house of W. H. Robbins was wrecked and the goods scattered all over the village.

Friendship Baptist church in that community, was wrecked. A farmer who spent the night at the town came in this morning and says that the path of the storm was about a half mile wide, and that a large body of virgin pine timber belonging to the Ponke Lumber Company was completely wrecked, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. The community is so isolated, the roads being impassable by timbers, the outside community could not reach the stricken settlement, except on foot. The telephone wires are all out of service. Other barns and houses are reported wrecked.

Three Killed Near DeQueen.

DeQueen Ark., April 24.—A terrific cyclone passed over the southern and eastern portion of this county late yesterday afternoon, traveling in a northeasterly direction. Eleven miles south of DeQueen, a daughter of Judge Beauchamp was killed. Eighteen miles east Jack Alexander and a child belonging to John Teague were killed.

Many houses in the track of the storm were demolished or blown away. Stumps three feet in diameter were blown out of the ground and stones were blown into the tree trunks. Large clouds of twigs, leaves and branches of trees passed over DeQueen in an upper current of air, some falling.

John Fleming had the misfortune to get his leg broken just above the ankle last Saturday. He was hauling telegraph poles, and while driving along at a slow gait the reach broke and threw him forward, and his leg was caught, breaking pretty badly both bones. Being a man upwards of 50 years old, it sets hard with him and it will be some time before he gets to be himself again.—Iowa Park Register.

A Strong Sermon.

Dr. J. W. Caldwell delivered a strong sermon last evening on the subject of "Retribution" to one of the best audiences of the week. He showed that this question was a vital one from both a psychological and biblical standpoint.

There will be a sermon by Dr. Caldwell tonight at 8 o'clock. Go-out and hear him.

Ladies free Monday night at Wichita theatre. Seats at Ralph Darnell's.

High Railroad Officials Here

The special train carrying the officials of the Colorado and Southern and the Fort Worth and Denver officials was stopped here a few minutes this morning, while the officials made a hurried inspection of the offices.

The train reached here at about 11 o'clock, coming from Quench and resumed its journey to Fort Worth.

In the party aboard the special were Frank Trumbull, president of the two railroads; Gen. J. N. Dodge, chairman of the board of directors; A. D. Parker, vice president of the Colorado and Southern; C. F. Wellington, general traffic manager of the Colorado and Southern; J. D. Welch, general superintendent of the Colorado and Southern; D. B. Keeler, vice president and general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver; G. F. Cotter, general superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver, and W. F. Sterley and H. A. Gausewitz, general freight agent and superintendent of the Denver.

Jerome Stone, a member of the junior high school class, was treated to a pleasant surprise last evening by his classmates calling in a body at his home. A pleasant evening was spent by the young people, and later in the evening the senior high school orchestra called and dispensed some excellent music for the entertainment of the juniors.

HOLD UP MAN IS BOUND OVER

J. T. Kelly, the man who was arrested at Bowie yesterday morning charged with slugging and robbing W. W. Diehl, of Burkburnett in this city Thursday night, was brought back from Bowie last night by constable Randolph and was taken before Justice Brothers for a preliminary hearing this morning.

The prisoner waived the right of a preliminary examination and was bound over to the action of the grand jury. In default of bond which was placed at $750 the prisoner was remanded to jail.

W. W. Diehl, the victim of the robbery testified that he was accosted by Kelly in the railroad yards near the Wichita Mills at about nine o'clock Thursday night and that Kelly demanded him to hand over his money striking him a blow in the face at almost the same instant and that when he recovered consciousness his money, railroad ticket, keys and watch and some checks he carried were missing.

R. B. Hurt who runs a saloon at the crossing of the Wichita Valley and Katy tracks testified that the prisoner had been in his place of business during the day Thursday and had pretended to be deaf and dumb. That the prisoner was again in his saloon during the evening, leaving between 9 and ten o'clock to return at about two o'clock when he displayed a watch, purse, and some money saying "I got that fellow, but I believe he's going to squeal." After this Hurt testified that the prisoner left the saloon and that he notified his officers.

J. T. Kelly, as the prisoner gives his name, is a stranger here, and nobody remembers having seen him before Thursday.

He is a little above medium height has brown hair and a brown mustache. He is a shrewd and shifty looking person and the officers believe that he is wanted elsewhere.

Some of the circumstances reported in connection with the robbery indicate that he may have had assistance in the robbery and that local characters may be implicated in the affair.

Republican Boss Upheld.

Austin, Tex., April 25.—The attorney general's department today upheld Cecil Lyon, boss of the Texas republicans, in removing Will White from the chairmanship of this congressional district. It was declared that the congressional chairman must be a county chairman, under the law.

Hail Punctured Iron Roof.

Hail fell at Windthorst Tuesday larger than goose eggs, although the damage done was not as much as would be expected.

Luke Zihlman was over today from Windthorst and said the hail went through an iron roofed barn of his, putting probably 1,000 holes in it.—Archer City Dispatch.

THREE SCHOOL CHILDREN DROWN NEAR SPRINGTOWN

THEY SOUGHT SHELTER IN DUG-OUT BUT WERE DRIVEN OUT.

ENGULFED IN TORRENT

Older Sister Made Heroic Effort to Save Their Lives, But all Three Perished.

Weatherford, Tex., April 24.—Information reached this city this morning of the drowning of three little daughters of J. L. Lovelace, near Springtown late Wednesday afternoon, under very unusual circumstances. The dead: BELLA LOVELACE, aged 14;

CARRIE LOVELACE, aged 9;

DONNA LOVELACE, aged 7.

Mr. Lovelace formerly lived at Peaster, but now resides about three miles northeast of Springtown in what is known as the Terrapin Neck community, and his children attended the public school in Springtown, taught by Prof. Johnson, brother of County Superintendent J. N. Johnson of this city. Wednesday afternoon about the time school was dismissed—a heavy black cloud came up and all the pupils made quick time in the direction of home in order to avoid what seemed to be an inevitable drenching. The three little girls, Bertha, Carrie and Donna, were walking and were accompanied by a little brother, Harvie. As the great cloud seemed to settle down on them and the big rain drops began to patter down in the road about them, they became frightened and sought safety in a dugout or storm cellar on the place of Ben Wylie, a short distance out of Springtown.

After reaching the dugout and encircling themselves beneath its friendly shelter, the children rested in fancied security while the storm king held high revel outside. The storm had broken over that section with all the fury of a veritable water-pot; and the thoroughly frightened children huddled in the dugout until the water began to pour into the entrance in a perfect sheet. Believing that they would be drowned if they remained in the dugout, which was fast filling with water, the four wretched and thoroughly frightened children made a rush for the outside and out into the pitiless storm they went, with no shelter to protect them from its fury. Now thoroughly demoralized, the four children next took refuge in a deep gully that had been washed beside the public road by the waters of many previous rains, and it was here that death came to the three little girls.

As they crouched shivering in the gully and the rain beat upon them with all the fury of the passing tempest, a great rush of angry storm waters swept down upon them and in a moment they were completely engulfed. There was no opportunity for the older girl, Bertha, to escape. She was larger and stronger than her two little sisters; and when the flood swept them off their feet and they were floundering in the turbid depths, the older sister nobly went to their rescue, and lost her own life with them. She could not save them, but she could and did give her own noble young life in the effort and death never claimed a truer or grander heroine.

The alarm was given and a searching party was organized and the bodies of the three little girls were recovered and yesterday they were all tenderly laid to rest in the same grave in the Springtown cemetery.

As they found death together, so will they rest and arise when the great day comes.

GREAT CROWDS EXPECTED.

Railroads Make Low Rates for Bailey and Anti-Bailey Meeting at Dallas.

Dallas, Tex., April 25.—The railroads today announced that they would make round trip rates of one and one-third fares for the Bailey speech Tuesday night and Cone Johnson's address on Wednesday night. Thousands of visitors are expected.

EARTHQUAKE AT SAN FRANCISCO

Slight Shock Felt Today, But No Damage Was Done.

San Francisco, Cal., April 25.—Alexander McAdee, in charge of the United States weather bureau, reports that a moderate earthquake shock was felt here early today. No damage was done.

C. W. Butler is lying at the point of death at the home of his brother-in-law, Burt Bean, in this city. For over forty-eight hours Mr. Butler has been unconscious and there is no hope that he can survive.

Farmers' Union Picnic.

The Wichita Falls and Northwestern and the Wichita Falls and Southern railroads will run excursions from Frederick, Oklahoma, to Lake Wichita and from Olney to the same place on May 15th, the occasion being the Farmers' Union picnic.

Arrangements have been made to have a part of the national officers and all of the State officers of the Farmers' Union here on that occasion. Among the speakers will be Hon. Harry Webb of Baylor county, known as the "plow-boy orator of West Texas."

The picnic promises to be the biggest affair that has ever been pulled off in this section of the State.

A program for the occasion will be published later.

No Frosty at Vernon.

We are informed that the parties who thought of putting in a frosty a week or so ago have abandoned the enterprise and will seek other fields where the objection from the people is not so strong. The Record never did believe that these boys intended to go directly contrary to the wishes of the people of Vernon and we are indeed glad that they have acted on good judgment in the matter. This is the true American spirit and the Record cannot help commending the boys for thus recognizing the sovereign rights of the people. And, too, the citizens of Vernon have clearly demonstrated the fact that they will not tolerate any form of corruption to remain long in their midst.—Vernon Record.

The Score Was 9 to 1.

The B. O. W. ball team played all around the Henrietta team at the latter place yesterday, winning by a score of nine to one.

The feature of the game on Henrietta's part was the sensational fielding of Peters. For Wichita Fans, the pitching of Filgo was the feature, the play of the B. O. W. boys being characterized by good team work.

The batteries were Nebolt and Neville for Henrietta and Filgo and Brown for Wichita Falls.

Shipped 4,900 Steers.

The Club Cattle Company founded up their cattle shipments on last Wednesday. In all they shipped 4,900 head of three-year-old steers. This will probably be the largest cattle shipment ever made from this point by one outfit.

All these steers were shipped to Oklahoma, where they will be grassed for about 90 days, and then re-shipped to the St. Louis market.—Archer City Dispatch.

The Hollingsworth Twins show, which will end a week's engagement here tonight, has met with such flattering success that it has decided to remain over for another week and therefore will show at the same place from Monday until Saturday night of next week.

Republican County Convention.

Charles Van Horn, chairman of the Wichita county republican committee, has issued a call for a county convention to be held at Iowa Park Saturday afternoon, May 2nd, to select delegates to the State, congressional and judicial conventions.

Men's Meeting.

The Men's Union Gospel Meeting will be held in the Christian church tomorrow at 3 p. m. The subject is "What is Essential for our Spiritual Growth." The leaders are Joe Barnett, Joe Erwin and W. L. Robertson.

GET YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT

NOW--and have the Pleasure of Wearing it the whole season

Last year's clothes won't do, however fine the woollens. They look their part. Lines are wrong, seams wrong, lapels wrong, stitching wrong, pockets wrong, sleeves wrong. The general appearance is very different from the new fashion plates, and the colors are passe. The art of tailoring is steadily progressing--this season's clothes are not only different--they are more pleasing.

The picture shows one of the newest and most fashionable models. The "LONDON"--a graceful, handsome Suit with a distinctive style that's all its own. Especially made for the swell "Young Men's" trade by that peerless Master Tailors and Designers, Schloss Bros. & Co. of Baltimore and New York.

All the latest shades and colorings here--new Greys, Olives, Browns, Blues and the fancy "Elephant" tones--in smart mixtures, plaids and pencil-stripes. Come in and see these beautiful suits--special offerings at $15, $18 and $20

SQUARE DEAL FOR WOMEN.

At Least One Sewing Machine Agent Repents Sharp Deal.

New York Times.
For a sewing machine agent to sell a whole consignment of another company's goods is something unusual," said the young man who smokes, "but that is what I have just done. I did it through the machinations of Mrs. John Potter. Mrs. Potter is honest. She lives up to her word. When she came down to see me about getting a machine she said some of the most astonishing things you ever heard come out of a woman's mouth.

"I don't want to rent a machine," she said, "neither do I want to buy one. I simply want to have one sent in for two or three weeks so I can get my spring sewing done. And I don't want to pay anything for it. I have spent all my money for material for new clothes and I have no money left to pay for a machine to make them on. I thought you might let me have one on trial."

"Mrs. Potter's extraordinary candor almost floored me.

"It is the usual supposition," I replied cautiously, "that when we leave a machine at a house on trial, the party intends to buy it eventually."

"I know it is," retorted Mrs. Potter, "but you have been in the business long enough to know by this time that half the people who get machines on those terms don't really intend to do any such thing. They simply wish to get the use of a machine a few weeks free of cost and then send it back on the ground that it is unsatisfactory. The difference between those people and me is that I tell you the truth and they don't. I don't want to buy, and say so; they don't want to buy, and say they do."

"I told Mrs. Potter that I appreciated her flat-footed honesty.

"But I can't see," said I, "where we come in. What do we get out of the deal?"

"Oh, as to that," said Mrs. Potter, "I intend to try to sell a machine for you. The woman in the flat across the hall is going to buy; and if you will send one of your machines around to the house this afternoon, so I can start right in sewing and show what excellent work it does, I am quite sure I can persuade her to buy of you."

"As soon as Mrs. Potter got through talking I went back and told the manager and his assistants what she had said. We all agreed that Mrs. Potter was a curiosity, but we didn't know what to do with her.

"It is my opinion," said I, "that we ought to let her have a machine as a reward for her unparalleled truthfulness. Of course, I don't take any stock in that yarn of hers about trying to sell a machine for the use of her own; nevertheless I think we ought to accommodate her merely as an encouragement of veracity."

"At last I talked the manager around to my way of thinking.

"But don't let her have one of our machines," he said. "Put her off with a renter. She will never know the difference."

"The manager's suggestion fired my brain with a brilliant idea.

"What's the matter," said I, "with letting her have that second-hand affair made by the A B C company that we got the other day in trade? We will never be able to do anything with it, and even if Mrs. Potter should smash it all to pieces we wouldn't be out anything."

"All right," said the manager. "It is your funeral. Fix her out any way you please."

"So Mrs. Potter got her machine.

"We heard nothing from her for weeks. Then one day she came into the office. She brought seven women with her, and the way they all bowed and scraped and smiled at me actually made me dizzy.

"That machine you sent me is a treasure," said Mrs. Potter. "It does the loveliest work you ever saw in your life. All these ladies say they never saw such tucking and hemming and stitching, and they have decided to sell their old machines and buy new ones just like it. In fact, I am so pleased with it that I am going to buy one myself, although I don't see how I can afford it just now. We all live in the same building, and would like eight machines sent up to that address this afternoon."

"Mrs. Potter's wholesale order surprised me into an honesty that was outdone only by her own.

"But we do not handle that make of machine," I confessed. "We merely happened to have one on hand. But we can sell you our own machine at the same price."

"Mrs. Potter looked at the other women collectively and individually, and the whole bunch of them shook their heads.

"No, thank you," said Mrs. Potter. "We have set our hearts on that style of machine. If you don't handle them we will look up somebody who does, much as we would like to deal with you."

"And, then, before I could put in another word in favor of our own stock, Mrs. Potter and her seven neighbors had marched out, bound for the headquarters of the rival concern. The manager had been standing near by and had overheard the whole conversation. As soon as he caught his breath, he did a little figuring for my benefit.

"There's eight machines at $65 each gone up the spout," he said. "That comes of your idiotic plan of fooling a customer with a machine made by another company."

"Of course, being only an agent, I couldn't sass back, but I did a mighty lot of thinking, and I made up my mind then that hereafter I would strike no bargains with a woman who deals on the square. I don't know how to take her. I'll look up the tricky ones every time. Better fifty of them than one like Mrs. John Potter, because I am used to them and know how to manage them."

BIRDS AS THEY SLEEP.

Quail Form a Dense Circle With All Heads Facing Out.

The nightcap preparations of the clubby little quail are very interesting. Each evening they form in a new place, and this selection of the spot entails serious efforts. Bobwhite never quite loses remembrance of the many dangers which make his life in a wild state one of great fear. A white-throated male with soft clucks calls together a dozen of his comrades, and for a few minutes they all huddle together, but soon from the farther end of the aviary a clear "Whew-hobwhite" rings out, and off scurry the whole band, this time perhaps to settle for the night in the new place—a dense circle of little forms, heads all facing out, just as in their native stubble they rest facing in every direction, so that at the first hint of danger from any point of the compass the covey may explode and go booming off in safety. Poor little fellows, their wild life is strenuous indeed! Well for their race that every nest holds from ten to eighteen eggs instead of three or four!

The woodpeckers sleep resting upon their tails, even the flickers invariably following this custom, although during the day the flickers spend much of their time perching in passerine manner, crosswise upon a twig. Small birds, such as thrushes and warblers, sleep usually upon some small twig, with heads tucked behind wings in orthodox bird fashion, but they occasionally vary this in a remarkable way by clinging all night to the vertical wires of their cages, sleeping apparently as soundly in this as in the usual position of rest. A bluebird in a small cage slept thus about one or two nights out of each week. Any explanation of this voluntary and widespread habit among perching birds would be difficult to suggest.

The little hanging parakeets derive their name from their custom of sleeping always in a reversed position, and when distributed over their roosting tree they resemble some strange, pendant, green fruit rather than sleeping birds.—Outing Magazine.

Pleasant Anticipation.

The Rev. Dr. C. M. Lamson, once president of the American board of foreign missions, was called as a pastor over a parish and was undergoing examination before a council when the question was asked him, "Do you believe in a hell?"

The retiring clergyman of the parish sat beside him and, giving him a nudge, said: "Tell them yes. If you don't now you will before you have been here six months."—Argonaut.

Another week and the Bailey matter will be settled—for a time at least. Next Saturday, May 2nd, the voting takes place and in this election votes are supposed to settle the contest. Wichita county is about evenly divided on the matter and so far as this paper can judge from its exchanges, published in different sections of the State, the contest is one that will be exceedingly close. Senator Bailey is making from one to three speeches daily and drawing large crowds wherever he appears. Mr. Johnson, not being a United States senator, is not so great an attraction, but he is drawing fairly good crowds wherever he speaks. Senator Bailey never fails to advertise the Dallas News in his speeches, and that paper is reaping a harvest. It is not only sought for by the Bailey people, but is eagerly read by the anti-Bailey people. The News is opposed to Senator Bailey editorially, and is fighting him hard, but the news has not lost its business sense and whether Bailey wins or not, the paper will be more widely read than ever. The News seems to be one of those papers which does not live to graze on the briars thistles which grow in the corners of the fence, but rather prefers to wade out into the middle of the field, where the grass grows tall and luxuriant, and graze to its heart's content. But by being editorially against Bailey, it has gained the good wishes together with the patronage of the anti-Baileites, and by using its news columns to report the speeches of Senator Bailey as they fall from his lips, makes the paper popular with the supporters of the junior senator. Financially speaking, the News is the biggest success of any newspaper enterprise in the Southwest.

The Mineral Wells Index has installed a type setting machine and tells about it in the following:

Today the Index puts on a new dress, the work of our new type setting machine. Just eight years ago the Index started in a small way. We have kept adding machinery as our business grew until our equipment now includes a folder, four presses and a Linotype machine, the latter involving an expenditure of some $3,500, including freight, motor, and the installation of same. It is the intention to keep a little in advance of the procession and from now on we propose to show what we can do towards printing a newspaper. We are going to feed that machine all the copy it can eat and if one operator cannot grind it out fast enough we will work the thing overtime. In other words, the machine is a costly affair and we are going to try and make it pay for its whistle. The machine is not a circus, but any one who desires to see iron, brass and steel fairly talk, are invited to call and see it run.

The Times favors Bryan for the Democratic presidential nomination, but realizes that there are democrats who prefer Johnson or some other good democrat, and therefore it has published matter sent out by the campaign managers of all the men who have been favorably mentioned as suitable democratic timber. In today's paper will be found an article which is sent out by the campaign managers of Mr. Johnson, which will be found in another place in this paper.

President Harive Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association has a plan to help the grower of the fleecy staple. The plan is not unique, neither is it new. But it is a plan, nevertheless, that will serve to put money into the pockets of the cotton grower of the South. A press dispatch from Atlanta, Georgia, gives the idea of President Jordan in a nutshell. It is that he has, in connection with the Farmers' Union, completed arrangements to hold the remnant of the 1907 cotton crop. The Farmers' Union cotton companies, the statement says, in Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama have already perfected arrangements with bankers in those states to finance every bale now held in Farmers' Union warehouses. Similar results are being secured for cotton held by the members of the Southern Cotton Association by the central headquarters and State divisions, and at the larger centralized points. President Jordan continues his statement as follows:

"I cannot too freely emphasize again the imperative importance of cutting down the cotton acreage and preventing a serious crisis next winter. It is a legitimate way of doing things. The products of the farm should not be dumped on the market until there is a demand for them—a sufficient demand to pay the grower for his work in the premises. If bankers advance a sufficient sum to pay the debts against the cotton, should any exist, there can be no objection to the plan proposed and those who are interested in the South's prosperity will heartily commend it.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Watch Neglect!
Do most people neglect their timepieces?
Yes, both watches and clocks are usually allowed to run until they will run no longer.
How does this affect them?
It unduly wears the more delicate parts.
This must surely injure them?
It does. The time-keeping qualities of a watch or clock depend upon the treatment it receives.
Where can one get good, skilful repairing?
At Fonville's Jewelry Store.
Besides good work, what else do they promise?
Promptness and fairness of their charges.

Did It Ever Occur to You?
 That your husband will admire your prowess in making a good cake as much as your deftness in dressing your hair in the latest fashion?
 That eight men out of ten are uncritical as to the cut of their wife's new frock, but are extremely critical as to the composition of the soup at dinner?
 That anecdotes of the children's sayings and doings may possibly pall on your visitors with frequent repetition?

 That the oftener we make a determined effort to control temper, the easier does the task become?
 That to talk depreciatingly of one's self is sometimes just as foolish as to talk boastfully?
 That ill humor, especially in children and delicate people, is often merely an indication of fatigue, or of indisposition?
 That over-fatigue is a frequent cause of naughtiness in children?
 That a good deal of time is wasted, and money, too, in obliging children to learn things for which they have no aptitude?
 That candor, though an excellent virtue, can sometimes, if used without tact, cause a great deal of pain, and wound the feelings past cure?
 That there is no virtue in telling every one exactly what you think of them?

CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE.
 All Religions and Churches Fight the Saloon.

The following is from Arthur Brisbane's remarkable contribution, "The Fight Against Alcohol," appearing in the April number of the Cosmopolitan:
 "No matter which way he rolls his eye, the Demon Rum sees his former friends deserting, territory torn away and eager statesmen rushing to give him vigorous, advertised kicks. He has fallen upon dry and evil days. The fatal handwriting 'to let' is written upon many saloon walls.
 "The story of bitter fighting against alcohol spreads through all the nation. Even summarized, the whole story would be too long. Legislators everywhere are joining in the contest. The fight is popular and gaining daily. All religions and churches fight the saloon.
 "Pages might be filled with the list of prohibition victories throughout the union. Only England, getting her daily list of defeats during the Boer war, can imagine how King Alcohol must feel as the news keeps coming in.
 "Taxation has fallen more heavily upon drink than upon any other of man's necessities, pleasures or vices. The tax that would have been refused on bread—even at the risk of life—has been paid on drink willingly. The tax on drink builds hospitals in which drunkards die, and prisons in which they rust. It builds public schools, and more than any other it helps to support the government.
 "Count Witte of Russia told this writer that the Russian government's monopoly of spirits, which he brought about, yields a profit about equal to the cost of the national killing machine, the Russian army.
 "A nice and appropriate balance.
 "Jails have been filled by drunkenness, gallows have been built to punish crimes born of drunkenness. Poor houses are drunkards' homes and every other grave in the potter's fields might appropriately have a bottle for a headstone.
 "Prohibition laws in 1860 affected three millions and a half of our population.
 "Now the figure has grown to more than thirty-three millions.
 "Thirty-three millions of America's people today live under prohibition laws, these taking chiefly the form of local option. While our population has been multiplied by two and a half the number affected by prohibition has been multiplied by ten. At that rate enforced temperance for the nation seems not so far off.
 "There is on foot a rebellion against alcohol as powerful, vindictive and thorough as any that ever dethroned a king of flesh and blood. The broken-hearted women and children who thought their lot beyond hope and their cries unheard, find whole populations, cities and States coming over to their side, making of their enemy the common enemy."

The first excursion on the Southwestern railway went out yesterday evening. District Attorney Martin and a gentleman named Keel who hails from Gainesville went to Hallsell to discuss Baileyotomy, accompanied by quite a party, who "went along." The same two gentlemen divided time at Blue Grove Wednesday night before a good audience.—Henrietta Review.

NEED OF COUNTRY

TRIUMPH OF DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES IS IMPERATIVE.

THE MAN AND THE HOUR.

With the Nomination of John A. Johnson, Progressive Democrat of Integrity, Ability and Achievement, Success is Assured.

Wearied of 12 years of overwhelming defeat in national elections, during which time the party has lost national political control of every northern state and has witnessed devastating inroads even on the southern states, hundreds of thousands of Democratic voters have in the last few months asked: "Who is the man who can lead the party to victory?"

The best of armies, military or political, require some measure of success to maintain their spirit and efficiency. Continuous and overwhelming defeat, even in the worthiest of causes, disheartens the strongest men.

Conditions are such in this year 1908, that a united Democracy, supporting a strong presidential nominee, can win the presidential office and open the way for a return of the Democratic party to power. Not only do the best interests of the Democratic party call for a victory this year, but so also do the best interests of the nation. Twelve years of almost unopposed government of the republic by one party, and for eight of those years practically by one man, have brought about conditions that are repugnant to the efficient and satisfactory administration of a government supposedly of the people.

Principle with Victory.

Victory can be achieved this year, without sacrificing one iota of the stand for principle that has been made with so much sacrifice by the Democratic party of the United States for the last dozen years. It is merely a question of changing leadership. Three times in succession our party has gone to defeat, because its leadership has not been able to inspire confidence in the masses of the voters, patriotic, progressive and sincere as that leadership has unquestionably been. The party is greater than its individual membership and greater than its leaders. The time has come when it should name its leader in a presidential campaign and no longer permit itself to be defeated by a sentimental, though heroic, devotion to a great name that has dominated it for a dozen years.

If in the ranks of the party there is a man whose principles, whose party fealty, whose success in political battles, whose actual achievements in legislation and statesmanship—and a man holding a commanding political situation—are such that victory under his leadership, is indicated, is it not the duty of reasonable, thoughtful, devoted Democrats, desiring the success of their party, to turn to him?

Johnson the Man.

The friends of Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota, who have watched his remarkable career in recent years, as well as impartial observers and journalists throughout the country, believe that he is the man of the hour, the man in every way equipped to make a successful campaign, and afterward to be a chief executive of the highest order. Let us briefly review his career.

John A. Johnson was born in St. Peter, Nicollet county, Minnesota, July 28, 1861, of Swedish parents. His childhood and youth were passed in great poverty. At 13 years of age, he was compelled to leave the public schools of his native city, in order to support himself and the parental family. Though his formal education was thus early cut short, his self-education never stopped. A student at all times, a wide reader and a thoughtful one, Mr. Johnson, after some years of obscure toil as a drug and grocery clerk and railway time-keeper, became at the age of 24 editor of the St. Peter Herald. He soon became known as one of the ablest of Minnesota journalists and was recognized as one of the leaders of journalism in a state remarkable for the number, vigor and influence of its periodical press. As a country editor, he was gradually drawn into politics and in 1898 was elected a member of the senate of the Minnesota legislature, and his first public political work was as a member of that body. From the first, he was identified with various reform measures, which have since become law in Minnesota.

Wherever Gov. Johnson has gone, he has impressed men as being a man of the Lincoln type. He has the faculty of making many friends and few enemies.

Gov. Johnson's Legislative Results.

The governor recommended a permanent tax commission. The legislature gave it to him and the ink was hardly dry on the document before he appointed a commission so strong in its personnel that the Republican senate resolved by a rising vote to confirm the appointments without delay, while the equally Republican house, though without the power of confirma-

Meat Prices are High--These Will Take Their Place

If you can't afford to eat meat at the price now prevailing we suggest either one or both of the following.

SALMON. We have two grades or qualities. Monarch brand, which is the best that grows, being the solid, red, juicy kind that comes from the clear cold water of the Columbia river.

1 lb cans, either tall or flat, 25c.

YACHT CLUB is second only to Monarch and is an excellent bargain at the price.

1 lb cans 20c, 4 lb cans 12c.

CHIPPED BEEF put up in glass under the Monarch, it is of excellent quality; tender and carefully smoked so as not to be rank in flavor. The glass keeps it moist and clean and retains the flavor. Per glass 20c.

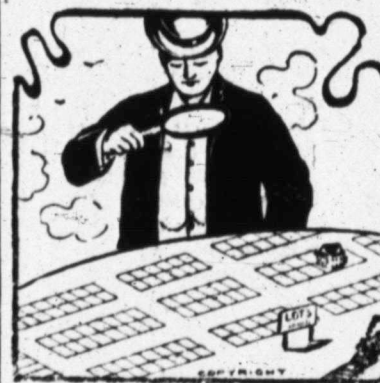

If you think these prices seem high remember two things: The quality is the best—nothing better, and the best only is good enough.

Then too remember there is absolutely no waste in either the salmon or chipped beef.

tion, expressed by a rising vote its appreciation of the excellence of the governor's appointments.

In northern Minnesota are the greatest iron ore fields in the world. The state of Minnesota owns extensive areas of these lands. By leases they were largely in the hands of the United States Steel Corporation and the state was receiving only an insignificant income from its royalties. The governor advised the withdrawal of all such lands from mineral leases and the legislature concurred.

Minnesota has enjoyed but scant income from the wealth of the privately owned iron mines. The governor recommended a royalty tax on the output of these mines. He did not get it, but the United States Steel Corporation bound itself as a substitute to establish a $20,000,000 steel plant at Duluth.

The newly created tax commission, together with the state board of equalization, which preceded it (the members of which were appointed by Governor Johnson), have in the four years of Governor Johnson's administration increased the assessed valuation of the steel corporation's iron ore holdings in Minnesota from $32,000,000 to $190,000,000.

The sleeping-car companies of Minnesota had never paid taxes in Minnesota in proportion to their earnings. The governor recommended a change in the system of taxing these companies and a satisfactory law was enacted. Similarly, a rational law as to mortgage taxation was enacted.

Railway Regulation

Taking up freight rates, Governor Johnson in a powerful speech so exhaustively and conclusively bared existing unequal and exorbitant rates that the railway companies voluntarily made a reduction of ten per cent. on grain rates on their lines in northern Minnesota. By order of the railway commission, reinforced by subsequent legislation, this voluntary reduction was followed by a horizontal reduction in maximum freight rates of about 13 per cent., and there was created a new class of merchandise tariff in which the rates were reduced about 20 per cent. The railways took these reductions into the United States courts, by enjoining the attorney general of Minnesota from enforcing the law. This action has opened up some of the most important litigation involving constitutional interpretation that has come before the supreme court in this generation.

The Two-Cent Law

The enactment of the two-cent passenger tariff law was an example of Governor Johnson's celerity of action. Invited to address the Minnesota Editorial association, instead of making the usual platitudinous address on such occasions, "he exploded the two-cent bomb" and urged that an end be put to the giving of passes. He talked on the same subject to a convention of commercial travelers. Immediately the state was aflame with this innovation in railway legislation. When the legislature met, he asked for a law embodying this idea and the legislature quickly responded. Neighboring states followed with reductions, and now throughout the middle northwest the two-cent rate prevails.

About the time Governor Johnson came into office there was a widespread agitation for reciprocal demurrage laws, which would compel railways to allow shippers demurrage charges for failure to deliver cars on time. Governor Johnson, ever abreast of popular progress, recommended such a law and got it.

Thanks to his initiative, the orders of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission are now immediately effective, pending appeal.

In Defense of Labor

Governor Johnson, in consonance with his thorough democracy, and believing in equal rights, has not been neglectful of the interests of labor. He desired a free state employment bureau designed to eliminate the many abuses that have marked private employment bureaus in the great labor centers of Minnesota. Such a bureau was created and has been thoroughly helpful and widely efficient.

Since time immemorial, that relic of feudalism, the common law doctrine of non-liability of employer to employe for injuries occurring through the negligence of a fellow-servant has prevailed in Minnesota, as well as in many other states. "This ancient rule of the common law," said Gov. Johnson, "coupled with the other rule generally referred to as the doctrine of the assumption of risk by employes, has cast upon the individual laborer a risk and responsibility out of proportion to the wages he receives."

During his term of office Gov. Johnson has had to deal with one great conflict between labor and capital, namely, the strike of the miners on the Minnesota iron ranges. By direct personal intervention, by advice to the employers on the one hand and the strikers on the other, the governor succeeded, without the use of state troops, in preventing violence and bloodshed.

In the forests and prairies of northern Minnesota are great extents of fertile land, which, owing to lack of drainage, have not been available for cultivation. Thanks to Gov. Johnson additional legislation on this subject was secured, and hundreds of thousands of acres of fertile land will be added to the rolls of the state's wealth.

Gov. Johnson believes in the municipal ownership of public utilities, and, following his suggestion, a modified form of the Illinois Mueller law was adopted by the Minnesota legislature. Under its provisions a municipality may bond its street railways or other public utilities to pay the cost of the purchase and operation of the same.

Minnesota, a leading agricultural state, has long had to contend with the cordage trust, which has a practical monopoly of the binding twine used in harvesting. For many years the state has had a twine plant in which prison labor was employed. The trust erected a factory in Minnesota to compete with the state-made twine, and Gov. Johnson's answer was, with the consent of the legislature, authorization for the state twine plant to sell its product outside as well as within the state. The cordage trust will now have to fight the cheap Minnesota state-made twine in other states as well as at home.

The Man Who Told the Tale.
It happened on a Pullman car between New York and Chicago. Dinner having been finished, the gentlemen assembled in the smoking room to enjoy their cigars.

"During the time I was in the war," said the quiet man, "I saw a very wonderful thing in the line of surgical operations. A friend of mine was shot through the right breast, the bullet passing clear through him. The presence of mind of his companion undoubtedly saved his life. He wrapped his handkerchief around the ramrod of his gun and, pushing it through the path made by the bullet, cleared the wound of all poisonous lead. I know it is hard to believe, but gentlemen, the man still lives to tell the tale."

"Which man?" inquired the slim passenger on the other seat quietly.

"The wounded one, of course," exclaimed the old soldier scornfully.

"Oh, I beg your pardon. I thought it might be the other."

SETTLING BASIN TOO SMALL.

Otherwise Kansas City Method of Clarifying Water is Satisfactory.

While a member of the city council Dr. J. F. Reed last month addressed a letter to the mayor of Kansas City, making inquiry as to the satisfaction given by the settling basins used there in the city water works, the process used in Kansas City being the same as that the local water company propose to install.

A few days ago he received the following reply to his inquiry:

Kansas City, Mo., April 17, 1908.
Mr. J. Fleetwood Reed, M. D., Wichita Falls, Texas:

Dear Sir:

Referring to your favor of the 29th ult., addressed to the mayor, which has remained so long unanswered, I have to say in reply:

1st. Settling basins are not entirely satisfactory to the people generally, owing chiefly to the fact that they are too small.

2nd. The water is not in any way contaminated by the coagulated substances, so as to render it unpalatable or injurious to the health.

3rd. The chemical analysis shows that no alum appears nor could appear in the water, because there still remains as much as one hundred and twenty parts per million by weight of temporary hardness in the water. Very truly yours,

O. P. BLOSS, Secretary.

of all the Christian people of the town and confidently expect a great meeting. Our people have recently closed a meeting in Lexington, Ky., with over nine hundred additions to our congregations in that city, and the organization of a new congregation in the best residence portion of the city. Still another in Frankfort, Ind., with over 800, also Palestine, Texas, with 171; and a union meeting at Temple with over 500 conversions. So why may we not confidently expect a great meeting in our city? May the Lord give us a great victory.

AT THE CHURCHES

Christian Tent Meeting.
Closing services at the Christian tent meeting, corner Seventh street and Scott avenue. Subjects: tonight—"How I Know I am a Christian." Sunday—"Type and Anti-Type," at 11 a. m. Special service at 3:30 p. m. "Make it as Sure as You Can," 8:30 p. m.
A Church of Christ is organized here and a house of worship is to be built, we trust soon, on a beautiful lot on Ninth street.

We therefore urge all those who still respect and will go by New Testament precept and precedent to come and take a stand with us and help us in our fight for true work and pure worship. Our earnest aim is that we shall be simply and only Christians, members of the Church of God, and that we shall preach and practice nothing but what Christians preached and practiced under the leadership of inspired men. God requires this and He requires no more.
