PLURALITY IS 60,000

INCOMPLETE RETURNS INDICATE THAT CAMPBELL HAS WON BY A GOOD VOTE.

DEFENSE IS DEFEATED

Defense Apparently Renounced for Attorney General by Plurality of Twenty-five Thousand.

By Associated Press. Dallas July 27.—Partial returns from the Democratic state primaries Saturday indicate the victory of Gov. Campbell by a plurality of 60,000. The prohibition submission amendment appears to be defeated. Attorney General Davidson it appears has won by twenty-five thousand over his opponent, Col. R. M. Wynne.

Actual Count of Later Figures Show that Submission is Leading Special to the Times.

Special Worth July 27.—Additional returns from Saturday's primaries wired today show that Campbell has received 78,670 and Williams 42,274, giving Campbell a majority of 36,396 for governor. This is the actual majority complete returns not yet being in and it is estimated Campbell will receive a majority of 50,000 anyway. In the attorney generals race, Davidson at noon had 58,314 and Wynne 50,202, giving Davidson a majority of 8,112. Late returns reverse the submission situation, the proposition for state wide prohibition now being slightly in the lead. Submission has now 38,254 and against 35,659, giving submission a majority of 2,595. The closeness of these later figures may be charged when all returns are in but it is doubtful if the antis can overcome the dry lead.

The Dallas News this morning says: The returns this morning give Campbell a vote of 105,049 and Williams 62,023. This indicates, as was stated yesterday morning, that Campbell's majority will be in the neighborhood of 75,000. The count is still slow, many of the judges having refused to work yesterday, and it will undoubtedly be several days before all of the returns are in.

The most surprising and perhaps the most notable feature of the returns this morning is that they show a slight majority against the proposition to submit a prohibition amendment. The exact figures are: For submission, 58,290; against, 60,020. It will undoubtedly require very nearly complete returns to make it certain what has been the outcome of this contest.

Stephens has a lead of 3,000 over Barker for Controller, they being the leaders in this race.

Robison for Land Commissioner has a lead of 6,000 over Stone.

In the contest for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Cousins has nearly 30,000 more votes than Alderdice.

Davidson has about 18,000 more than Lettmore in the race for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

These returns indicate that Stephens for Controller, Robison for Land Commissioner, Cousins for Superintendent of Public Instruction and Davidson for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals have been nominated. In fact, it may be regarded as almost a certainty with respect to all of them except Stephens.

For Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals in the Second, for the one race that was the subject of contest, the returns give the following totals: Dunklin 10,262; Kirby 8,102; Carswell 6,854.

CONVENTION OF INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE OPENED TODAY.

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 27.—Delegates continued to arrive today for the national convention of the Independence party which shall be called to order at 8 o'clock in the Orchestra hall. Wm. R. Hearst will act as temporary chairman and will make the keynote speech. Thomas Higin of Mass., and Milton Howard of Alabama seem to be the leading candidates for presidential nomination. Charles Walsh of Iowa for a number of years secretary of the Democratic national committee will be permanent chairman and it is probable that Clarence S. Hearn of New York will be chairman of the committee on resolutions.

By special request we are putting on at the Majestic tonight in addition to our regular program The Great Picture "Nero or the Burning of Rome."

BRYAN STOPS IN DES MOINES TO SEE GEN. WEAVER

By Associated Press. Des Moines, July 27.—Wm. J. Bryan held a conference with General Weaver of Iowa, who was the populist candidate for president in 1892. General Weaver some time ago identified himself with the Democratic party and is now a strong friend of Bryan. At Newton, Iowa this morning a large crowd gathered and cheered Mr. Bryan. He made no address.

Texas Pleasure Seekers in Bad Wreck. Quite a number of Wichita Falls people were in the wreck on the Cripple Creek Short Line railway which occurred Friday morning twelve miles out from Colorado Springs. There were five coaches to the train, and all of them were filled with pleasure seekers going from Colorado Springs to Cripple Creek. In rounding a sharp curve, two of the coaches turned over and nearly all passengers in them were injured in some way or other. Quite a number sustained broken limbs.

Among those from this city who were passengers on the wrecked train were Mrs. Frank Kell, Mrs. Shumate and daughter Mrs. Gaffney, Mrs. Ed. Howard, Mrs. Bertha Mae Kemp. None of them, however happened to be in the coaches which left the tarmac and turned over.

Two physicians, (both of them from Texas), were among the excursionists, looked after the injured until a relief train from Colorado Springs was run to the scene of the wreck to pick up the injured and convey them to a hospital at Colorado Springs.

Among those injured was a Mrs. Adams of Galveston, who passed through this city Saturday.

WARDROBE RAGS.

Old cotton sheets make very good bags for inclosing gowns and coats in the wardrobe, one large being sufficient for two wardrobe bags. An oil sheet will cut up into several slips for use on the pillows over the ticking.

SEES BROTHER DROWN.

Falls in Faint and Moans "Fred is Dying. He Calls Me."

St. Louis, Mo., July 26.—While her twin brother, Fred was being sucked to death in the quicksands of Long Lake, near Mitchell, Ill., today Merle Huber 17 years old, who was twelve miles away in Granite City, at home alone, shrieked and fell to the front porch in a faint. Neighbors ran to her assistance and revived her.

"Fred is dying; I can hear him calling to me. He is drowning. Let me go to him," moaned the girl.

Merle made frantic efforts to leave the house, but was held back by friends, who assured her that Fred was alright. The girl could not be quieted. Five minutes later a message came from Mitchell that Fred Huber had been drowned. When the news reached his sister she again fainted, and up to a late hour tonight was in a critical condition.

The Huber boy was a student at the Granite High School and was spending his vacation with friends on a farm near Mitchell, Ill. Today, accompanied by two of the farm hands, Heary Stoval and Jesse Collins, he went to Long Lake to take a swim. When the trio arrived at the body of water the men decided that it was too cold to swim. Huber swam out several yards into the lake and then started to return. He got about half way to the shore, when he threw up his hands and fell back.

An hour later the boy's body was taken from the lake. A rope was tied about his shoulders and he was dragged out of the sands. It required five men to extricate him.

A comparison of time showed that the girl had fallen into a faint at the exact moment when Fred became entangled in the quicksands.

SAYS HE WAS DRUGGED.

Traveler on the F. W. & D. Met Four Very Agreeable Young Man.

G. R. McCamy, of Ballinger, Texas arrived in Amarillo yesterday a very much broken up man, both in spirit and in physique.

He was en route to his ranch three miles west of Roswell, and after leaving Fort Worth, he became "chummy" with three nice appearing smooth talking young men on the Fort Worth & Denver. At their request he partook of a liquid they had and immediately afterward was asleep. He doesn't know how long he slept, but on awakening he reached for his watch to ascertain the time and that being gone he became alarmed. He then took his pocketbook from an inside pocket and found that he had been relieved of $150 in currency and a check for $150 payable to bearer and drawn on the First National Bank of Temple, Texas. Other papers of minor importance were also taken, as was his W. O. W. pin.

He says he immediately acquainted the conductor of the facts in the case and together they went through the train but failed to find any trace of the suspects. At Wichita Falls, the bank of Temple was communicated with and by a singular coincidence McCamy could give the numbers of the four gold certificates, which were included in his loss. Their numbers he gives as 4480, 3496, 2783 and 4562.

Two of them were crisp and apparently new and the other two in all likelihood had been in circulation for some time.

McCamy placed the matter in an Amarillo attorney's hands last night.—Amarillo Panhandle.

BRYAN SPEAKS AT POLE RAISING AND JOINS SECRET ORDER.

By Associated Press. Omaha, Neb., July 27.—W. J. Bryan arrived here today at two o'clock. This afternoon he will speak at the raising of flag pole by the Creighton Marketing club. Tonight he will be initiated into membership in the Knights of Ben Hur.

A Black Gown.

A dress of black crepe de chine was made quite plainly except for a panel of black Spanish lace, which was lined with a dull soft silk in white and extended down the front. It was quite a startling costume, but, as it was worn by a tall and rather stately elderly woman, it looked very well.

BIDS OPENED FOR NEW CITY HALL

The city council met in special session at ten o'clock this morning to open bids for the construction of the new city hall building for which bonds to the amount of $15,000 have issued and sold.

Bids were received from Brown and Cramer, Salash and Martin, S. W. Bolton and F. W. Snyder, but the amount of their bids were not given out for publication.

After the opening of the bids council adjourned until four o'clock this afternoon when they will probably award the contract.

WOULD NO TREDUCE DENVER'S ASSESSMENT.

Representatives of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad appeared before the county board of equalization today to object to the assessment of $10,000 per mile made upon the railroad's trackage in this county, and asked that the valuation be lowered to $9,000 per mile. Their protest was unavailing, the board ordering that the assessment remain unchanged.

Mr. E. J. Nicholson, the young man who came on a visit to his sister, Mrs. W. F. Jourdan, a few days since—ja very low with typhoid fever at the Wichita Falls sanitarium. Mr. Nicholson contracted the fever in Mississippi and became worse after reaching here. He remained at the home of his sister two weeks and then he and the family decided it was best for him to go to the sanitarium under a trained nurse.

MRS. CHARLES TOWNE DIES AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS.

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 27.—Mrs. Charles A. Towne, of New York, whose husband was prominently mentioned for the Democratic vice presidency, died here today after a short illness.

WANTED—Contributors for the Times

ASPHALT IN TEXAS

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY IS INVESTIGATING ASPHALT BEARING OILS IN THIS STATE.

MAKES GOOD HIGHWAYS

Some Carry Thirty-five Per Cent Asphalt and Can Be Sprinkled on the Roads—Interesting Statement.

The controversy between the United States and Venezuela in which American owners of asphalt properties have figured prominently has given rise to the impression that this country depends entirely upon Venezuela for its asphalt.

It is true that we buy abroad large quantities of this paving material, and that more than half of the imports now come from the island of Trinidad, but our own production greatly exceeds the total imports, and although the increase in our consumption of the material is rapid, the growth in the proportion of home production over imports is even more marked. In 1907 the United States produced 225,000 tons of asphalt, valued at $2,826,000, against imports of 160,000 tons, valued at $648,000.

A bulletin just issued by the United States Geological Survey says: "Deposits of the various forms of asphalt are found in Oklahoma, Utah, California, Texas, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri and West Virginia. The location, character and general features of these deposits are described in an advance chapter from mineral resources of the United States, calendar year 1907, on the production of asphalt and bituminous rock, by J. A. Taff, now ready for free distribution by the survey."

Some of these deposits are located in Young, Palo Pinto, Jack and Stephens counties, and it is probable that the extension of the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway will tap the section in which these deposits exist and that a new industry will be developed.

In further discussing the subject of asphalt the survey's bulletin says: "Although asphalt is used chiefly in street paving, it is also applied to many other purposes, such as for water-proofing materials, papers and fabrics, for preserving wood, in brick-making and in concrete construction."

"The hardest test of asphalt manufacture is said to be in providing pavement for a climate having extreme variations of temperature. If made of a consistency to withstand great heat in summer without melting or becoming so soft as to be useless it is likely to become extremely brittle in freezing weather and to chip and crack. Thus in the Philippines heat may be intense but where the cold need not be considered, asphalt pavement can be made which will stand climatic conditions and endure wear better than in many temperate climates, such, for instance, as that of Washington."

"In connection with paving, or rather 'good roads' work, an interesting use is being made of the asphalt residuum of petroleum whose base is asphalt, including most of the oils of the Far West. Some of the California and Texas oils, which carry a very large percentage of asphalt—as much as 35 per cent—when sprinkled over road surfaces, made ideal 'good roads' in Southern California particularly thousands of miles of heavy, sandy roads, over which it was formerly impossible to trot a horse hitched to a light buggy, have been rendered solid and speedy by a single sprinkling of oil, and the houses along the roadside have been freed from the blowing sand and dust which is, along natural roads, a great discomfort to the inhabitants of arid or semi-arid regions. The Eastern petroleum, which have a paraffine base, can not be satisfactorily used for this purpose. These heavy oils of the Southwest are less expensive than the best Eastern oil and it may be possible and desirable to use them for the improvement of some Eastern roads."

The County Commissioners convened as the Board of Equalization this morning to hear complaints from property owners against the assessments made upon their property. After these complaints are disposed of the assessments will be placed upon the tax collector's rolls.

ODD THINGS IN A DAY'S NEWS.

Mary Averbach, 14 months old, fell four stories at Pittsburg and escaped with only a few bruises. She struck a telephone wire, was bounced up and fell in long grass.

Thomas Davis and wife, who had been at odds for six months, became reconciled in court at Cleveland when the husband proposed to buy his wife a glass of soda water.

Harry Brown of Lafayette, Pa., fell asleep on the banks of a river when the fish failed to bite and was waked up by a muskrat which was trying to gnaw off his hand.

Claire Still of Harrisburg was taken to a hospital for treatment for ulcerated neck caused by a whalebone in a Merry Widow collar.

Mrs. John Dietz of Wisconsin says she was cured of an attack of appendicitis by fasting fifty-six days.

After hunting three months for a thief supposed to be stealing flowers and flags from the graves in Woodlawn cemetery in Boston, detectives saw a black spaniel, owned by an Italian sneak over to a grave, grab a bunch of flowers and run.

In order to foil a curious crowd, Justice Smedes at Cincinnati turned out the lights at midnight while he was marrying a couple in his office.

A Simple Summer Dress.
 A frock of violet and white pin-striped voile was adorned with bands of real torchon insertion. The dress consisted merely of a blouse and skirt, but a broad, pliant violet satin sash loosely tied at the left side added a touch which proved the frock to be a recent creation.

The costume was completed by a white chip hat trimmed with great clouds of violet and white tulle, which extended around the crown, and was finished with a chou in front, supporting a single white egret.

Cotton Dresses.
 Percales and gingham are popular, and one of the former was recently seen with a tiny pinhead dot of red. It was plainly designed but the blouse was trimmed with narrow insertion of real cluny lace. With it was a big cabbage bog of white satin ribbon placed at the left of the back.

See Benson for signs and Boyle for house painting. 20-17

A Magnificent Dress.

Lingerie dresses grow more and more handsome, but one that outshone all others was of sheer Japanese linen heavily—one might almost say massively—embroidered with Oriental chrysanthemums and trailing gay-looking dragons. It was made in a simple princess style, for such a gorgeous costume needed no trimming. The gump of filet net was embroidered in the same eastern design which appeared on the dress. With it was carried a white-sunshade of Japanese silk, also embroidered with dragons.

At this writing the indications are that Campbell has defeated Williams for the governorship by a majority of at least 60,000. It is safe to say that at least that many democrats though opposed to Campbell, voted for him because they did not know Williams, or if they knew him, did not know who, in reality would be the governor for the next two years in the event Williams received the nomination. It is also pretty safe to make the assertion that there are in Texas at least a half hundred able men, capable of filling with credit to both themselves and their state the office of governor, who could have won the nomination had Campbell been their only opponent. In the attorney generals race it seems that Davidson has won over Wynne by about 25,000 votes,—which is about equal to the majority the democrats gave Bailey for delegate at large to the Democratic convention.

This is significant within itself, and clearly indicates that had not Senator Bailey made the assertion that no man who took a prominent part in the war waged on him should ever after be elected to public office, that Davidson would have been snowed under. The people—the democrats of Texas, by the re-nomination of Davidson for attorney general, have said to Senator Bailey that, while they are willing to have him represent them in the United States Senate, they do not propose for any one man to dictate to them who shall, and who shall not hold public office in this state.

Clean Oil Paintings.
To clean an oil painting that is covered with dirt and fly specks wipe all the dust from the painting with a soft cloth. Put a little linseed oil in a saucer, and dipping a finger in the oil, rub the painting gently. It will require time and patience, but the effect will repay you. Artists say that in cleaning a painting nothing but the fingers dipped in oil or in water should be used.

To Clean Silk Gloves.
Silk gloves can be washed like any ordinary material, though it is best to soak colored ones in salt water before washing them, especially if the colors are not substantial. After rising the gloves, turn them wrong side out and hang them in a shady place to dry. Do not sprinkle them before ironing, but dampen a towel, roll them in it and leave for an hour or two.
Iron the gloves on the wrong side, as it raises the thread on the right side.
When perfectly dry, turn them and you will be surprised at the result.

A Polonaise of Rajah.
A costume which suggested the sheath style was of gray rajah. It was really on the order of a polonaise, for there was an overdress which fitted very tightly to the figure, but which was split to the hip line on either side to show a full wide skirt of the same material. The overdress was elaborately trimmed with narrow gray silk soutache, which also finished the line of decollette, for the dress was worn over a gümpe and sleeves of baby Irish.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL OF GALVESTON
MORA C. CLARK, General Agent. Present Address, Wichita Falls, Texas

Never Lose Sight of This.
A legal reserve insurance company which faithfully accumulates, securely invests and honestly handles the mathematical reserve contemplated by its plan of organization and required by the insurance laws of the several States, cannot fail.

It cannot fail because the system upon which it is founded is mathematically correct, sure in its operation as the multiplication table itself.

It is as certain to fulfill its contracts to the last as that two and two are four; as certain as that an accumulation of one hundred cents will settle an obligation of one dollar.

If a legal reserve company has failed at any time in the past, it was not because of any defect of the legal reserve system, but because it had departed in some vital particular from the requirements of that system—a thing practically impossible under the new legal reserve laws of New York,
the most exacting ever enacted.

An assesment company, whether a fraternal society or a private association, which conducts its business economically and efficiently, which faithfully accounts for all receipts and honestly disburses the same, and which securely invests the meager emergency fund accumulated in its earlier years, is nevertheless bound ultimately to fail.

It is bound to fail because the system upon which it is founded is mathematically wrong.

It is bound to fail because two and two are four and not seven; because the requirements of the multiplication table are inexorable as death itself; because the rates are too low, to permit of the accumulation, when members are young, of a fund sufficient to provide for the higher mortality that must come with increasing age.

Though its business be managed economically and its affairs administered honestly, it is nevertheless bound to fail ultimately, because it is not possible for even honesty and economy and upright purpose to pay an obligation of one dollar with an accumulation of thirty cents.—Mutual Interests.

Samoa's Talking Man.
Samoa's talking man, or totafall, is a character. All the affairs of state of the village in which he holds office are carried upon his shoulders. In ordinary he is the chief adviser, persuader, convincer and restrainer of the leading chiefs. Having the gift of eloquence, he makes the most of it. He enjoys immunity from many things. He cannot be spoken of in ordinary terms. If it should be necessary to speak of his eyes or his mouth or his limbs, special honorable words must be used, words which attach to him alone and have never been applied to the personal parts of ordinary men. As he stands to deliver his soft, persuasive, mellifluous oratory, with staff of office in his hand, any one can see that he is a man of great importance, or if this is not apparent from his attitude it may be gathered from the attention paid to his utterances by gray haired chiefs and by youth and maidens. If the talking man is a clever fellow and understands his business, he is the chief ruling power in his tribe, although the nominal headship is always vested in a chief or patriarchal figurehead.

How Wyckoff Was Revealed.
The late Professor Walter A. Wyckoff of Princeton had a passion for knowledge at first hand and will be best remembered as the college professor who studied labor conditions by becoming himself a laborer. Starting in 1891 in Connecticut with no money and with a suit of overalls, he worked his way through nearly every state in the Union after the fashion of the floating laborers of this country, so many of whom ultimately become tramps. Wherever there was a possibility of work he applied for it, whether it were digging ditches, wrecking houses or factory work. For awhile his incognito usually worked well, but as soon as his fellow laborers saw him at table they at once began to suspect him. His manner of eating, his way of holding knife and fork, at once set them speculating. Once he was seen drinking tea at a fellow laborer's house in Chicago. He lifted the saucer from the table, held it in his hand and forgot himself so far as to drink without noise. "I knowed then," his host afterward said, "that he was a swell masquerading."—Harper's Weekly.

The Most Beautiful Flag.
In a village school in the Acadian region of Nova Scotia the young lady teacher, who was from a portion of Canada more remote from the United States than the section she was in, was on one occasion preparing for a little celebration of empire day. Calling one of the boys, she gave him a coin and said to him:

"Take this, please, and go out and get us the prettiest flag you can find."

She had no idea, of course, of his procuring anything else than a British flag, and her astonishment was great, therefore, when the boy came back with a small edition of the stars and stripes.

"What have you there?" the teacher asked sharply. "Did you suppose I sent you for anything else than the flag of your country?"

"Why," answered the boy, "you told me to get the prettiest flag I could find, and there was nothing else so pretty as this!"

The boy's judgment was unprejudiced, at any rate, for he was a Canadian.

Oh, Wait Till He Returns.

"Why, my dear," exclaimed the good friend on finding Mrs. Newed in floods of tears, "what is the matter?"

The young wife, wiped her eyes and tried to compose herself and be inhumanly calm.

"Well," she began, with folded hands, "you know John is away for a week."

"Yes, dear," helped the lady friend.

"Well, he writes to me regularly, and in his—his last letter he tells me he gets my photo out and kisses it every day."

"But that is nothing for you to cry about!" exclaimed the good friend.

"Yes, it is," cried Mrs. Newed, bursting into tears afresh, "because I took my picture out of his bag before he started just for a j-o-k-e and put one of mo-mo-mother's in its place!"

Why They Don't Desert.

"Instances of desertion from the army in Mexico are very rare and for the best of reasons," said Senor Jose de Minaledes of Nueva Leon.

"The reason lies in the almost sure capture of the fugitive and the certainty that he will get not one but numerous floggings on his bare back. These lashings are done in the presence of the comrades of the deserter, and when the men see how great is the suffering of the miserable wretch who tried in vain to quit his military obligations they are forced to conclude that it is better to stick to the army than to undergo such a terrible ordeal."—Baltimore American.

Audiences Have Changed.

"They don't write comic operas like they used to," said Mr. Stormington Barnes. "They used to have jokes when that made people laugh."

"Yes," answered the manager, "but you must remember that in those days they had audiences who could be made to laugh."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Not Deluded.

"Do you want employment?" "Lady," answered Plodding Pete, "you means well, but you can't make work sound any more invitin' by usin' words of three syllables."—Washington Star.

Brave actions never want a trumpet.—Italian Proverb.

THE PORT OF MISSING MEN

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON.

Author of "The House of a Thousand Candles"

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

The baron looked at the key; he touched the silver box; his hand rested for a moment on the sword.

"It is a marvelous story—it is wonderful! Can it be true—can it be true?" murmured the ambassador.

"The documents will be the best evidence. We can settle the matter in twenty-four hours," said Judge Clalborne.

"You will pardon me for seeming incredulous, sir," said the baron, "but it is all so extraordinary. And these men, these prisoners—"

"They have pursued me under the impression that I am Frederick Augustus. Oddly enough, I, too, am Frederick Augustus," and Armitage smiled.

"I was within a few months of his age, and I had a little brush with Chauvenet and Durand in Genoa in which they captured my cigarette case—it had belonged to Frederick, and the archduke gave it to me—and my troubles began. The emperor-king was old and ill. The disorders in Hungary were to cloak the assassination of his successor. Then the Archduke Francis, Karl's reputed son, was to be installed upon the throne."

"Yes; there has been a conspiracy. I—"

"And there have been conspirators? Two of them are safely behind that door, and, somewhat through my efforts, their chief, Winkelried, should now be under arrest in Vienna. I had reasons, besides my pledge to Archduke Karl, for taking an active part in these affairs. A year ago I gave Karl's repudiation of his second son to Count Ferdinand von Stroebel, the prime minister. The statement was stolen from him for the Winkelried conspirators by these men we now have locked up in this house."

The ambassador's eyes blazed with excitement as these statements fell one by one from Armitage's lips, but Armitage went on:

"I trust that my plan for handling these men will meet with your approval. They have chartered the George W. Custer, a fruit carrying steamer lying at Morgan's wharf in Baltimore, in which they expected to make off after they had finished with me. At one time they had some idea of kidnaping me, and it isn't my fault they failed at that game. But I leave it to you, gentlemen, to deal with them. I will suggest, however, that the presence just now in the West Indies of the cruiser Sophia Margaret, flying the flag of Austria-Hungary, may be suggestive."

He smiled at the quick glance that passed between the ambassador and Judge Clalborne.

Then Baron von Marhof blurted out the question that was uppermost in the minds of all.

"Who are you, John Armitage?"

And Armitage answered, quite simply and in the quiet tone that he had used throughout:

"I am Frederick Augustus von Stroebel, the son of your sister and of the Count Ferdinand von Stroebel. The archduke's son and I were school fellows and playmates. You remember as well as I my father's place near the royal lands. The archduke talked much of democracy and the new world and used to joke about the divine right of kings. Let me make my story short. I found out their plan of flight and slipped away with them. It was believed that I had been carried away by gypsies."

"Yes, that is true; it is all true! And you never saw your father—you never went to him?"

"I was only thirteen when I ran away with Karl. When I appeared before my father in Paris last year he would have sent me away in anger if it had not been that I knew matters of importance to Austria—Austria, always Austria."

"Yes; that was quite like him," said the ambassador. "He served his country with a passionate devotion. He hated America. He distrusted the whole democratic idea. It was that which pointed his anger against you—that you should have chosen to live here."

"Then when I saw him at Geneva—that last interview—he told me that Karl's statement had been stolen and he had his spies abroad looking for the thieves. He was very bitter against me. It was only a few hours before he was killed as a part of the Winkelried conspiracy. He had given his life for Austria. He told me never to see him again, never to claim my own name, until I had done something for Austria. And I went to Vienna and no one knew me, and it hurt me, oh, it hurt me, to know that he had grieved for me; that he had wasted a son to carry on his work, while I had grown away from the whole idea of such labor as his. And now—"

He faltered, his hoarse voice broke with stress of feeling, and his pallor deepened.

"It was not my fault. It was really not my fault. I did the best I could, and, by God, I've got them in the room there where they can't do any harm! And, Dick Clalborne, you are the finest fellow in the world and the squarest and bravest, and I want to take your hand before I go to sleep, for I'm sick—yes, I'm sick—and sleepy, and you'd better haul down that flag over the door. It's treason, I tell you! And if you see Shirley, tell her I'm John Armitage; tell her I'm John Armitage, John Arm—"

The room and its figures rushed before his eyes, and as he tried to stand erect his knees crumpled under him, and before they could reach him he sank to the floor, with a moan. As they crowded about he stirred slightly, sighed deeply and lay perfectly still.

NATURAL SOAP.

The Querc Fruit of a Tree That Grows in Algeria.

Soap grows on trees in Algeria. The soap tree is ornamental and reaches a height of fifty feet. It begins to bear fruit when six years old. The wood is close grained, takes a good polish and is admirably suited for furniture. The average income from a tree is $10 to $20 a year. The composition of the fruit consists of a nut shaped hull in which is a seed. In the hull exists the soapy matter in the proportion of 30 to 40 per cent of the bulk of the hull. The soap principle is set free by the shredding of the hull and using it with water just as if it were a piece of soap. A beautiful lather is the result, and the cleansing qualities are such that there is no soap made by human process that can compare with them. For toilet purposes the same applies. The hull can be made into a powder and the powder into a cake, so as to make the use of it easier. It can also be made into a liquid for hair wash, dentifrice and various other preparations. Seeds of the Algerian soap tree have been imported to the United States, and soap trees have been discovered in Florida indigenous to the soil. The seed has a kernel which contains a fixed oil in every respect preferable to the best imported olive oil, either for eating or culinary purposes, and also for all kinds of industrial products in which the olive oil is used. The yield in oil is twice that of the olive fruit.—Baltimore American.

The Human Touch.

"Janie had a doll that would say 'Papa' and 'Mamma'."

"What became of it?"

"Jane's mother is an advanced person, and she said the doll was an inexcusably childish reminder of a grossly benighted period."

"And what did she do?"

"She threw it in a dark closet where Janie didn't dare to go. And then a day or two later she happened to step on it in the dark and it shrieked 'Mamma' so naturally that she fell over in a faint and bumped her head and had two buckets of water poured over her before she recovered consciousness."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WARM WEATHER

At this season every housekeeper is racking her brain to think of something appetizing and easy to serve; the following suggestions may be of value.

TEA

Our Fancy Mixed Tea
Especially recommended for iced tea.
This is a pleasing combination, the proportions seem to be exactly right, for the users of this popular blend are constantly increasing.

GRAPE JUICE

Absolutely pure unfermented grape juice. Refreshing and healthful.

Maraschino Cherries

The addition of a Maraschino Cherry to a glass of lemonade makes it decidedly more inviting. Desirable too for ices.

OLIVES

We have the largest and hand-somest Olives packed.
Each one is perfect both in looks and flavor.

Also smaller and cheaper ones and a full line of stuffed Manzanillas.

Lobster and Shrimp

Both ready for the appetizing dish of salad.
No trouble.

Merely add the dressing.
And it's not necessary to make the mayonnaise at home.

The more critical you are, the better pleased you will be with our salad dressing.

JELL-O

The daintiest and handiest desert article put on the market, as well as one of the most delicious. It is just the thing for this season of the year—so easily prepared—absolutely no trouble—add warm water and set aside to cool. It is capable of being made into more different, dainty, beautiful and toothsome desserts, with practically no work or trouble, by the addition of nuts, sliced fruits, wine, etc., than any dessert you can find. It comes in the seven popular flavors. We always keep a fresh supply on hand.

MACK TO BE CHAIRMAN.

Buffalo Publisher is Chosen to Manage Campaign for National Democracy.

At a meeting in Chicago on Saturday the following officers were chosen by the Democratic National committee.

Chairman, Norman E. Mack, Buffalo, N. Y.

Vice chairman, L. P. Hall, Nebraska. Treasurer, Governor C. N. Haskell, Oklahoma.

Sergeant at arms, John I. Martin, Missouri.

Secretary, Urey Woodson, Kentucky.

So pleased was Mr. Bryan that he gave out a statement in which he openly announces that the appointment is a recognition of the Eastern democracy, and that a fight will be made to carry New York. The statement follows:

Recognition of the East.

"The action of the committee in its selection of officers is very satisfactory. Mr. Mack is a member of the committee and it has been felt all the time that the chairman should be taken from the committee unless there was some weighty reason for going outside, and no such reason appearing. Mr. Mack's appointment is a recognition of the Eastern democracy and an announcement that we expect to fight for New York. He is in harmony with our platform and I can say of him personally that he has been a close friend in my two former campaigns. One of the strongest arguments in his favor was that he is a successful business man. Beginning at the bottom of the ladder, he has built up a business that amounts to more than a half million dollars a year, and the executive ability that he has shown in his work commended him to the committee that made the selection."

"Mr. Hall is chairman of the Democratic committee of Nebraska and head of one of our large banks, and is thoroughly acquainted with both politics and business. I need not add that his selection to this position is very pleasing to me. We have worked together in politics ever since I went to Nebraska."

"Why Haskell is suitable. Governor Haskell, the treasurer, is one of the new men, but he has made good as a leading member of the constitutional convention of Oklahoma and as governor. His organizing ability will be valuable to the committee. His selection as treasurer is especially appropriate because he comes from the only state in which depositors are absolutely secured, and the democratic platform has also a plank advocating the adoption of a National system similar to that now in operation in Oklahoma. We do not know how much our campaign fund will be, but we know it will not be lost by any bank failure."

"This last statement led everyone present to inquire if the campaign funds were to be all deposited in Oklahoma, but his only response was a hearty laugh."

Mr. Bryan also spoke in the highest terms of Urey Woodson and John I. Martin, both of whom he said had rendered conspicuous service to the party.

Dainty Spring Trimming is Made From Narrow Bands of Silk.

From the Washington Times.

A dainty hand-made trimming for the new spring frock may be made from narrow, bias bands of silk or satin, with a fringed border of drops in the same material.

The bands should not be made more than a quarter of an inch wide finished, and the whole trimming, dots and all, should measure about an inch.

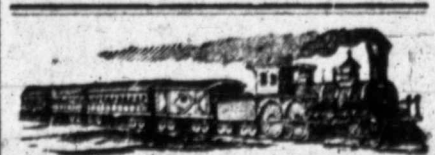

Cut the bands a true bias and inch wide, fold it in the center, then turn in each edge so it meets in the middle. Bindstitch the outer edges together.

The balls are made from tiny round pieces of silk less than an inch in diameter. A thread is run around the outside and the edge is shirred up over a bit of cotton.

These drops are attached to the bands by short threads of twisted embroidery silk in the same shade, the joinings being neatly hidden in the edge of the band.

In buying smoked bacon, call for Ajax brand. It's "something better."

Cool, Attractive Summer Fixings for the House.

From the Boston Traveler.
The most up-to-date houses are not only cleaner after house-cleaning, but they look different. Houses have their winter and summer clothing as well as people, and the skilful housewife has learned that it is easier to take care of a house which is properly dressed for the season.

In the chambers heavy rugs are changed for strips of matting or cotton rag rugs, which have been revived recently. Since the time for keeping windows open, when the dust will sift over everything, is near, all elaborate bureau and table covers are changed for plain linen. Some housekeepers make covers of crepe paper. With a pad of cotton wadding underneath they last a long time and are quite inexpensive. As the hot sun burns muslin curtains, many housekeepers take them down for the summer, while others replace them with the fishnet draperies.

In the parlor lace curtains are changed for more simple ones of net or old-fashioned flowered chintz. One woman who stays in town all summer covers her parlor carpet completely with straw matting. Instead of ugly call-co covers, which many people put over upholstered furniture in the summer, she has made hers of chintz, so that the chairs can still be used.

One woman who finds her carpet hard to take care of has made a large rug for it by painting the back of an old Brussels carpet with dull green house paint. Similar rugs for the dining room and living room are useful during the dusty season.

In the parlors of many houses mantle draperies are removed for the summer and plush or tapestry table and piano covers are replaced with linen or cotton. The plush drapery on the book case is replaced with a plain one of turkey red or unbleached cotton. Some women who have upholstered chairs send them up to the attic for the summer when they clean the house and keep the piazza chairs for the living room. Later, when the family live on the piazzas, there is so much less furniture to be taken care of.

Swift's Premium nams are excellent for breakfast. We have some nice ones.

A New Use for a Lace Shawl.

A charming evening wrap was made of a triangular black lace shawl, lined with a white liberty satin. The two short sides of a triangle were bound with a broad bias band of black satin, while the edge of the lace finished the third side.

The broad angle formed the back of the neck and the other two angles were brought around under the arms and fastened to the shawl at the top of the shoulders. This made large armholes like a kimono, and as the wrap naturally curved sharply away from the front, the long straight line at the sides was procured by a scarf of black Spanish lace hung from the shoulders.

It was a beautiful thing, not too warm for summer weather, yet handsome enough to go with any gown.

It was worn over a semi-evening frock of black chiffon cloth, heavily trimmed with dull jet paillettes around the V-shaped Dutch neck and over the shoulders.

The only reason that you should use Chase & Sanborn's teas is, they're the best.
