TOO PROSE INCREASE

CULBERSON, MAYFIELD AND POLLARD ARE GOING TO WASHINGTON TO OPPOSE ADVANCE.

OTHER STATES WILL JOIN

Interstate Commerce Commission Will Be Asked Not to Authorize Advance in Freight Rates.

Special to the Times. Austin, Tex., July 31.—It was decided today to send Assistant Attorney General Pollard with Commissioner Mayfield and Senator Culberson to Washington, where they will ask the interstate commerce commission to prevent the increase in freight rates, scheduled to go into effect on August 10.

While Senator Culberson had urgent business in Dallas he said that he felt it was his duty to the people of Texas whom he serves to make the trip and use his efforts to stay the advance in rates.

It is understood that Chairman Mayfield of the commission yesterday communicated with other railroad commissioners in the Southwest, especially the Oklahoma commission, and urged that they send delegations to aid the Texas delegation in prevailing upon the interstate commerce commission to stay the taking effect of the rates proposed by the railroads. It is understood here that Senator Gore of Oklahoma will be a member of the Oklahoma party.

The proposed advance in rates has aroused the shippers of all classes in Texas, the hardware men especially having urged a protest against the advance and having appealed to the commission. So earnest was the protest that the railroad commission decided to send the delegation to Washington, and Senator Culberson was at once called upon and will go as stated. The hearing will probably come up the middle of next week.

Houston was selected as the next place of meeting for the twelfth biennial session of 1910. Corpus Christi was the only other contestant.

Few of the laws governing the order were changed by the present grand lodge. No change was made in the insurance assessments or annual dues.

EXPRESS STRIKES AUTO TWO WERE KILLED.

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, Pa., July 31.—While driving in a touring car across the Reading railway tracks in the northern section of the city, in front of an express train late last night, Charles Humphreys, chief clerk of the bureau of police, and Harry Bromley, a prominent merchant, were run down by the train and instantly killed.

BRYAN'S NOTIFICATION WILL BE NON-PARTISAN.

QUANAHTES BUILDING BIG DAM FOR WATER RESERVOIR.

Quannah Tribune-Chief. One of the largest and most comprehensive undertakings in this country is found two miles west of Quannah where a company of Quanahtes is tearing up the earth in great style.

The big Lakeview dam is nearing completion, and it will only take a couple more weeks before the dam proper is finished.

The dam, eleven hundred feet in length, thirty feet wide at the top, and 113 feet wide at the foot, seemed about finished, save the center, where the remaining gap is being filled rapidly.

The dam is already considerably higher than the railroad dump near by, but we learned that it is to be raised four feet more yet. The wings of the dam are ripped apart for some distance, as it is intended to use both ends for wasteways, and not utilize the wasteways blasted through the rock west of the dam, except during unusually high water.

When filled, the lake will hold twenty-five feet of water near the dam, and cover in the neighborhood of 150 acres of land.

NAN PATTERSON IN NEW LOVE AFFAIR

Pittsburg, Pa., July 30.—It developed today that Nan Patterson, who was tried three times in New York City for the murder of Caesar Young and who was recently reported to have been murdered at Reno, Nev., was arrested at noon Saturday by Detectives Neff and Mollay and ordered to leave the city.

The famous chorus girl left Pittsburg Sunday night. She was informed that if she came here again she would be sent to the workhouse. Last week the wife of a well known man whose name the detectives refused to disclose complained that Nan Patterson was enticing her husband from her and from his home. She said her husband was infatuated with the chorus girl and she no longer had any influence over her husband.

ELECT A SECRETARY.

Board of Directors of Chamber of Commerce Hold Meeting.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce held in the new offices of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern Railway offices this morning, the matter of employing a secretary was taken up and acted upon.

There were several applications for this responsible position, and all were given due and careful consideration, after which it was decided to accept the proposition of Mr. F. H. Gohlke of Los Angeles, Cal., at a salary of $150 per month, and a telegram notifying him of the action of the Board of Directors was ordered sent, which order was complied with by the secretary of the board, Mr. G. D. Anderson.

Mr. Gohlke was formerly secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Spokane, Washington, and presented strong letters of recommendation from the business people of that thriving city.

STRIKE BREAKERS REACH DENTON

Special to the Times. Denton, Tex., July 31.—Strike breakers from Fort Worth today took the places of the striking motormen and conductors of the Denton street car system and service on all lines has been resumed. A demonstration was threatened, but none took place and this morning everything was quiet here.

The strikers quit work three days ago.

The Midnight Musicales

To the Times:—This letter was sent as the address shows. Whether there was any attention paid to it we do not know. But the ice factory whistle has stopped:

Wichita Falls, Tex., June 27, 1908. To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:—

As a prelude:—In olden days when people lived long distances apart, the actions of anyone seldom disturbed the peace of others. When we began to crowd into communities it became necessary to restrict ourselves and respect the rights of our neighbors. Most cities have seen fit to restrict noises.

Can we not call ourselves a city? We may state that we are over-supplied with whistles or with ambitious engineers who take pride in giving us a calceptic musicale. For instance, there is a certain ice plant in this town which at 4:30 a. m. gives us a long fog horn siren, not one, but three times, loud and long, so long and loud that the dogs in our neighborhood get up and howl, either in exultating pain or sheer delight; we don't know which, for we have never asked them.

In the event of this company not being able to, we will cheerfully supply their employes with a sufficient number of alarm clocks to awaken them at any given hour, provided we are allowed to shoal Wichita river with that megaphone.

Again, there are any number of trains that come in each night that blow long and loud for each and every crossing. Every engineer seems to play a tune that is peculiar to himself, each one a little more discordant than the other. We cannot see why they do it, unless it is to allow their sweet-hearts and wives to know they are coming. Could you not appropriate a sufficient amount of money in the interest of suffering humanity to notify them by messengers that they are coming. You might then prevail upon them to practice their musical scales some ten miles out of town. There are some several hundred engines taking coal at night, whistling for the number of tons wanted. Each one takes about seventy-five tons; we know, because we have counted. Could you not, gentlemen, in your power and wisdom, make some requests that would tend to alleviate some of your suffering constituents? Yours truly,

JOHN LINGUIST,
JOE A. BRASFIELD,
FRED SOLOSTH,
T. R. BARBEE,
G. HORTON,
And other boarders of the Mansion Hotel.

Contractor, the electrical wiring contractor, was tried yesterday before a jury in the corporation court on a charge of leaving his horse unhitched on the street, in violation of the city ordinances.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty after being out only a few minutes.

The defendant introduced testimony to show that the ordinance had not been enforced for a number of years and that it was violated a hundred times every day in plain view of the city hall.

Dr. Iri Dycus, Whose Death is Surrounded by a Mystery, Which Has So Far Baffled Explanation.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS TODAY

No new developments have been made public in the investigation of the death of young Dr. Dycus.

The inquiry, which was conducted in the strictest secrecy yesterday, took a recess yesterday afternoon, and up until 1 o'clock this afternoon had not been reconvened.

The Fort Worth and Denver special agent, who was at work on the case yesterday, was not seen today as it is believed he has gone out of the city to follow up some clue that he has discovered.

The results of yesterday's secret inquiry are not known, but it is intimated by one of the officials in attendance that evidence of some importance was laid before the inquest. Whether this new evidence would strengthen or weaken the circumstances tending to connect Robison and Norwood with the killing of Dr. Dycus, the officer would not state.

As yet neither of the two men under arrest have made any effort to employ an attorney or to apply for a writ of habeas corpus.

Both County Attorney Greenwood and District Attorney Martin stated that they did not know when Norwood and Robison would be given examining trials.

Speaking of the prospect of a bountiful crop throughout the nation, the Dallas News says:

"When all is said and done, when the tumult and the shouting die, it is left to the farmer to support the nation. A total crop failure embracing the whole country would entail such a panic upon commerce and industry as never was seen on earth. And a bumper crop the world over will have the opposite effect. When the universal pantry is full, business is business."

Judge Taft Plays Golf.

Hot Springs, Va., July 31.—Judge Taft today was entirely free from political cares. A game of golf in the morning and a drive with General Corbin in the afternoon were his plans for the day.

The citizens of Denton want a sewerage system and at a mass meeting Wednesday evening a report from a ways and means committee, appointed at a previous meeting was adopted.

FRACTURED SKULL.

Small Child Fell Sixteen Feet and Hit On Its Head.

Frederick, Okla., July 30.—While Mrs. J. R. Chandler was assisting her daughter in her preparation to attend a party in the neighborhood, Little Marie, aged 3, slipped from her mother's lap out on the portico and climbed on the railing. She fell to the ground, a distance of about sixteen feet, her head striking on a rock, fracturing her skull on the left side.

From all accounts the little girl is getting along nicely and will soon be around again. That she was not instantly killed was a miracle. An older person injured in the same manner would probably have never recovered consciousness.

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE OR LOSE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

There is no good reason for any "summer dullness" in the stores of this city. That's a strong statement—but it's not nearly so strong as the one to follow. ¶ No store in this city ever suffered from summer dullness that was not directly traceable to its advertising policy—that was not inevitable on account of its advertising policy. This is a strong statement—but not so strong as the one to follow. ¶ You—if you who read this are a merchant in this city—have the absolute power to decide whether, during this summer, your store shall lag and lose ground, through encouraging the non-buying habit in the people—or shall keep as busy as in the so-called "busy seasons." You decide the matter one way or the other when you decide on how much or how little you will ADVERTISE during these summer months. ? ? ? ? ?

TO REALLY "GAIN GROUND" AT A TIME WHEN SOME STORES ARE LAGGING AND FALLING BACK IS NOT ONLY POSSIBLE—IT IS AN ASPIRATION WORTHY OF AN ENERGETIC MERCHANT WHO HAS THE HABIT OF ACCOMPLISHING HIS PURPOSE.

The Monogram Fad.
 Milwaukee Sentinel.
 Girls have gone monogram mad, might be thought by the way initials are in evidence! The background may be silk, satin or wash material; it may be leather or metal; in some way or another the owner's monogram is introduced and by no means inconspicuously either.

On purses the letters are governed entirely by the size of the portmanteau, but as a rule the initials are detached rather than being run together.

Traveling bags for girls who will move about this summer are not considered equipped until the owner's initials are put on. For this the letters are as plain as those in the alphabet of a child, and each is separate. They are placed quite near the top, at the middle of the side. Occasionally they are to be seen on the end, but this is regarded as a freak. Brass letters are preferred to those of nickel.

The newest key rings that girls may have for themselves or use as gifts end in a single initial letter. The plain cushion for hammocks or lounging chairs are embellished in huge initials, sometimes of brass. In the latter case they are thin, though wide, and when on a tan leather background are certainly decorative.

Wash blouses show the monogram done, preferably in small letters, on the left side of the front; hostery has a single letter on the instep.

When Riding.
 No one thinks nowadays of torturing herself with a heavy cloth skirt and top hat when riding in summer, especially along country roads. The white or natural colored linen skirt and tailored waist is all that is necessary and is cool and comfortable.

There is but one danger, that of taking cold or perspiring through. This can be overcome by wearing light wool or wool and silk next to the skin.

"Too hot," says the woman who races.

Try it and see. It is a well known fact that perspiration that is absorbed is not only less injurious but is much less felt.
 If wool seems out of the question, at least wear the combination suits of woven cotton. Get the kind with long sleeves, but coming just to the knees. This absorbs the perspiration almost as well as wool and is now generally worn by women who have ridden enough to know the discomfort of chilling when they dismount.

Wants Man for President Who is President in His Own Right.

Mr. Taft recently visited Mr. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and newspaper dispatches said that he went there for the purpose of having Mr. Roosevelt look over his speech of acceptance. These reports moved the Omaha World-Herald to say: "Mr. Taft has trekked across a wide expanse of country to take his speech of acceptance to the president of the United States, lay it before him, and ask his assistance in rounding it into shape. It is told that Mr. Taft reached the conclusion to go to the president and get his help at the rather unusual hour of four in the morning, after an interchange of telegrams with Mr. Roosevelt. We take it, therefore, that Judge Taft was up all night wrestling with the problem whether to depend on himself for his own letter of acceptance, or to take it to god-father. Finally, however, he decided to take it to god-father. The Associated Press dispatch which carries the interesting news says, rightly enough, that it is regarded as having a number of significant features from a political viewpoint. It has, sure enough! It probably means that, having finished with the speech of acceptance, President Roosevelt will take up his protegee's letter of acceptance and help him round that into shape. The more important speeches that Judge Taft may be called on to make, in the course of the campaign, will also most likely be submitted for the presidential scrutiny and revision. The question naturally arises, will Taft, if elected, be able to write his own messages and state papers? What if there should be a message to send to congress while Mr. Roosevelt was away killing tigers in Darkest Africa? This thing of having a hand-made president might conceivably have discrepancies. Teddy is a first-class adviser, we grant, but he can't always be hanging 'round. It wouldn't do to make him a regent, exactly, and keep him constantly in hailing distance of the White House. He'll be away at least part of the time, therefore, and an emergency might arise while he was gone. What would Mr. Taft do then? It is easy to see that contingencies might arise when it would be advantageous to have a president who was president in his own right."

OVER AT CUMBY.

Over at the quiet little town of Cumby in Hopkins county, the mocking birds are singing in the blackjack groves quite as sweetly as they warbled before July 25. The people are proceeding on their quiet, even way. The Katy train gets in every morning at 11 o'clock, bringing the papers with fresh returns from the election. After the papers are read the town settles down to its accustomed stillness.

The least disturbed man in Cumby when the papers get in, telling of a few hundred more votes for Governor Campbell, is R. R. Williams, who was Governor Campbell's opponent. The result of the election hasn't disturbed the even tenor of his way to the slightest degree.

Somehow "Democratic Bob" Williams comes out of the primary contest a little stronger than he went in. He issued no pro-election claims telling the majority by which he expected to win. He has made no post-election statements telling what conspiracies prevented his defeat. Governor Campbell, commenting on his victory, makes his customary reference to "the agencies of corrupt and sinister interests," but Williams is silent. It is not a pouting silence, but a dignified one. There is a good deal of dignity about "Democratic Bob."

Williams is grateful to the friends who helped him. As he finds time he is writing courteous little notes telling them so, but he is making no more fuss over his defeat than he did over his announcement.

Perhaps the only net result of his campaign is that a good many more people in Texas than ever before now know him as Hopkins county has known him for over thirty years, a plain, kindly, honest man.

He suffered a good deal from misguided friends or rather supporters. His real friends made no attempt to represent him as he wasn't. There was a good deal of fuss about a paragraph which pictured him with a high wool hat and untrimmed beard. The supporters preferred a picture showing a carefully trimmed beard, no hat, and a scholarly pair of glasses. But as a matter of fact the hat picture showed him as he really looked during the last days of the campaign. It was quite a good enough picture for "Democratic Bob," who is not an adept at posing before the camera. In fact, he is not adept at posing in any way. He takes life as he finds it and lets the world take him as it finds him. He is 69 years old and is not likely to again be an aspirant for high political honors.

It is quiet over at Cumby now, but the town owes at least a little debt of gratitude to "Democratic Bob" Williams, who put it on the map.—Fort Worth Telegram.

In every live, wide-awake growing city, there is always lots of noise—more, in fact, than is necessary sometimes, and in many of the larger cities the papers are having a great deal to say in advocacy of suppressing what they term the "noise nuisance." Persons residing near the railroad yards in this city and some who reside a great way from the yards, but who are not sound sleepers, complain that whistles of incoming and outgoing engines interrupt their slumbers, and to get relief have petitioned our city council to pass an ordinance to prohibit all unnecessary blowing of whistles. The petition appears elsewhere in this paper. Speaking of "the noise nuisance" a New York paper says:

"What is everybody's business is notoriously nobody's business. That there are so many municipal authorities that could stop the needless torturing city noises seems to be the chief reason why none of them does stop it," says the New York Herald, and this leads one to doubt seriously the efficiency of a system under which two or three separate authorities or governments are charged with the very same duty. In time the people will understand fully the great American method of multiplying governments and officers while at the same time and by the same means shifting and evading responsibility. The time is coming when one set of public officials must carry the responsibility with the authority and power, and when it comes to pass that this must be done a statute providing punishment for disturbance of the peace will be fairly enforced, and an ordinance against steam whistles will be something better than a dead letter."

Talking about democrats all voting one way, here are returns from Duval county, which shows pretty clearly that the vote was as nearly unanymous as it could well be, considering the fact that all the candidates were democrats:

Campbell, 2; Williams, 421.
Davidson, 2; Wynne, 421.
Stone, 2; Robison, 421.
Alderice, 2; Cousins, 421.
For congress—Garner, 421; Durman, 0.
For submission, 21; against, 421.
For local option, 421; against, 0.
The next day six boxes show the following result:
Davidson, 0; Wynne, 626.
For submission, 0; against, 626.
For local option, 626; against, 0.

Isn't it getting about time for the Chamber of Commerce to announce the offer of a bonus for the first bale of cotton brought to market in Wichita Falls? The offer ought to be a liberal one—larger than any given by any city in Northwest Texas, and it should be well advertised so that every farmer within a radius of thirty miles should know about it. The crop is now promising a big yield and if the proper inducements are made 20,000 bales of cotton can be brought to market here. Now is the time for the merchants and the cotton buyers to be getting ready

He does not carry it now. The orders are things of the past. He brought out his list of polices in the following orders:

United States Reserve Fund Associates.	Relief Fund Certificate.	United States Benevolent Fraternity.

These were the standard assessment orders of 25 years ago. Today their polices only represent WASTED MONEY!

But They Forgot It.
The New York Tribune says: "Mr. Bryan is not fortunate in his efforts to create political capital out of the reasonable popular desire for publicity in respect to campaign receipts and expenditures. A few weeks ago, while both the nominees were still in a position of candidates for the nomination, Mr. Bryan, in what he conceived to be a master stroke of adroitness, invited Mr. Taft to express an opinion as to the propriety of shedding full light on the funds employed in a contest for the presidency, their sources, amounts and distribution. Thereupon Mr. Taft, who had hesitated to assume an authority not yet bestowed upon him, caused the fact to be made known that he had already declared in writing for complete publicity, which left Mr. Bryan in a somewhat less comfortable position than he had supposed himself to be assured of when he addressed his complacent suggestion to the prospective republican candidate."
But several important facts are to be remembered in this connection. Chairman Burrows forgot to tell the convention about the "publicity letter" he had received from Mr. Taft.
The republican congress forgot to pass a law providing for publicity.
The republican national convention, which nominated Mr. Taft, defeated by a vote of 880 nays to 94 yeas, the LaFollette plank providing for publicity.
And the best the republican party is willing to do on this line is the promise that "AFTER the election" republican managers will take the people into their confidence.—The Commoner.

PASSENGER TRAIN LEAVES THE TRACK

The Amarillo Panhandle of Thursday gives the following account of the wreck of Fort Worth and Denver passenger No. 8 near that place Wednesday evening:

The Fort Worth and Denver passenger train No. 8 met with an accident yesterday evening 34 miles north of Amarillo, and as a result thereof one passenger, Mrs. L. R. Ogle, is staying over in Amarillo, a very much shaken up woman, and Baggage-master H. Daniels has been carried on to his home in Fort Worth, where his injuries, which are at present of an uncertain nature, will receive attention.

The train, which was in charge of Conductor Thomas Huggins, comprised a baggage coach, mail coach, two day coaches, a Pullman and a cafe coach, and being about an hour late was speeding along to make up time and when immediately south of the Rock Spur section house just this side of Tascosa, the engine tank slipped the track on a curve and the baggage car, mail car and one of the day coaches were also derailed.

There was a fairly large number of passengers aboard, when the bumping and jarring was felt and considerable excitement was occasioned. None of the coaches turned completely over, but were at a discomforting angle when brought to a standstill.

The passengers generally made a wild rush to get out of the wrecked coach, and in the melee which followed Mrs. Ogle, who was with her daughter, Mrs. Cleo Morgan, on her way to Hereford, was considerably buffeted and jammed with some force against the back of a seat, inflicting painful contusions to her right breast and back.

The other injured party, the baggage-master, was not seen, but railroad officials are authority for the statement that he is suffering only from a heavy shaking up.

Most of the passengers received more or less shaking, but no one is reported mortally injured.

The passengers from the disabled train reached Amarillo at 8:45 this morning, they, with the passengers of the also belated morning train—due here at 2:30 a. m.—having been transferred to No. 1, which went north to the scene of the wreck early this morning and returned with the passengers of both trains, while the second southbound train retraced its trip north.

On reaching Amarillo Mrs. Ogle was taken to the Mason hotel, where she is receiving what attention and care she is in need of.

Mrs. Cleo Morgan, daughter of the injured woman, says she and her mother, who is 57 years old, boarded the train at Dalhart and everything went well until about 5 o'clock last evening, when they felt an awful jarring and bumping. The coach was immediately thrown into an awful state of excitement and confusion—women were screaming, and men, women and children alike made one mad rush for the exits and many got through the windows. It was during this period that her mother received injuries which may necessitate their staying in Amarillo some little time.

ODD THINGS IN A DAY'S NEWS.

Clement W. Kirkpatrick, aged 26, of Springfield, Mass., married his step-mother, three years his senior.

A hen said to have been thirteen years old died near West Plains, Mo., after having, it is said, laid more than 2,000 eggs.

A pet collic of Jay R. Worst of West Chester, Pa., suffering from distemper, lies in a white crib and is fed with ice cream.

Edward F. Pauley of Tipton, Pa., wore a pair of tight shoes at his wedding the other day, which caused gangrene, and death followed.

A pet squirrel made a journey of eight miles from Columbus, Ohio, to the home of John McKay, who had cared for the animal for years.

When a stranger asked at the Union station in St. Louis when a train left for Texas the clerk handed him out pamphlets of sixty-eight railroad companies.

Lewis Jones of Jenkintown, Pa., chose a time when a piano was being played to rob the house of Hollowell

Irwin but was captured half an hour later and confessed.

A conductor on a Philadelphia street car, told that a pickpocket was aboard, in searching for him put his hand in his own pocket and found there another hand feeling around for silver cash fares.

The body of the pet bull terrier of Miss Edith M. Clark of Asbury Park was embalmed, incased in a fine coffin and buried by an undertaker in Mount Prospect cemetery. The dog's mistress offered a physician $500 to save the animal's life.

When Rolla Burnham, a scenic artist working in a hotel in Mechanicsburg, Ohio, fell into a large aquarium belonging to the house a 160-pound turtle attacked him and would have chewed him up had not help arrived.

Campbell Grateful to Texas Democrats.

Austin, Tex., July 29.—Governor Thomas Mitchell Campbell, nominated for reelection at the democratic primary, this afternoon issues the following:

To the Democrats of Texas:

Personally, I am profoundly gratified at the large vote registered by the democrats of Texas for my nomination for a second term at the primaries of last Saturday. In view of the desperate effort put forth by selfish interests and the fact that good men were misled and deceived as to the real issues and conditions, the emphatic and overwhelming majority in my favor is peculiarly significant. It means that the laws enacted by the last legislature and the great reforms wrought under this administration in behalf of the great masses of the people of Texas have come to stay. Changes and modifications in matters of detail may become necessary, and if experience develops that good government can be promoted by changes in any of these laws the people will approve such changes, but in spirit and in substance they will stand, because they are just and right and ought to stand.

Laws Will Be Corrected By Friends.

As I have repeatedly stated, they will be changed, if changed at all, by the friends of the laws, and not by the enemies of good government. It has been strikingly demonstrated that the agencies of corrupt and sinister special interests can not dominate and control in Texas, and that the patriotism of our people and the freedom of speech which obtains in Texas make it certain that her incorruptible electorate can safely be trusted to rally to the support of the public official who keeps the faith and redeems the pledges upon which he was elected.

I am especially gratified that my re-nomination by a decisive majority has come without the semblance of compromise or apology on my part for the things done and accomplished in behalf of the people by the Thirtieth legislature. These measures and policies upon which the opposition to me was based were demanded by the people and are in the interest of justice, equality and good government, and have wrought no harm to any legitimate business enterprise, corporate or individual, within the borders of this State, and the fact will be generally recognized as soon as sufficient time has elapsed for them to be fairly tested, but much remains to be done.

Pledges Self to People's Cause.

By the vote registered on last Saturday the great office of governor has again been placed in my hands by the patriotic and militant democracy of Texas. I owe my position and all the power it gives to that, and I now and here again consecrate myself and all that lies within my power to the people's cause, to their services, to our great State. It is my earnest desire that the history of my second term will record many honorable achievements and good things done in the interests of all the people of Texas, and to this end I need and hope to have the aid and encouragement of every good democrat and every good citizen in Texas.

Party Strife Should Cease.

Many bitter things have been said and written during the campaign just closed and I now call upon our people everywhere to forget the bitterness and animosities of this and other recent contests and elections, and forgetting the things which are behind, devote their attention and efforts to the future. Let us forget the differences of the past and look to the future that we may conceive wisely, act bravely and so bear ourselves that Texas' government and Texas' laws may be pointed to as just and wise, and as challenging admiration of all the sisterhood of States.

Party strife and differences between democrats should now cease. Party integrity and democratic supremacy in State and nation demand this of all true democrats.

The county conventions at which the delegates from the various counties of the State to the State convention will be selected, will assemble on next Saturday, and with no spirit of dictation, but with the view solely to the promotion of the best interests of the people and the State I wish to impress upon all the importance of sending to the State convention not only their best men, but those whose views upon the issues and matters which will be the subject of future legislation are in accord with the people. Proscribe no man for what he has done, but if my election is to mean anything in results accomplished, county conventions should by appropriate resolutions reaffirm the will of the people as registered at the ballot box last Saturday, and the State convention must take and hold strong grounds on matters of vital concern.

At this time no backward step should be taken. We are just entering upon a great national campaign, and the democratic State convention should, and I am sure it will, ratify and approve the nominations of Bryan and Kern and express our approval of the national platform adopted at Denver. And furthermore, we must go on record in favor of validating all bonds issued by the independent school districts; repudiation of a public debt must never find welcome nor secure lodgment in Texas.

We must make adequate arrangements for the care, comfort and support of the indigent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers. We must secure necessary reforms in both our civil and criminal procedure, to the end that economy in public expense may be promoted and the administration of justice be made more secure and speedy.

We must provide by law a plan of guaranteeing and insuring the safety of bank deposits. It may be a severe test of statesmanship to do this, but if my hands are upheld it can and will be done.

My recent campaign was made upon these issues, as well as upon my previous office record. I call not only upon my friends, but all good democrats, to bring these matters to the attention of the various county conventions and secure instructions that these measures be indorsed in the party platform to be adopted in San Antonio. These propositions were indorsed by an unparalleled majority of the voters last Saturday, and the will of the people should be obeyed. I wish to express my undying gratitude to the democracy of Texas and my sense of personal obligation to the loyal friends in every section who have made my cause their own in the recent contest, and in recognition of their devotion I again renew my pledge of fidelity to the interests of all the people of this State.

To the Lovers of Good Coffee

THIS IS THE MILL THAT CUTS THE COFFEE

THE MOST UP-TO-DATE MILL IN THE WORLD.

O. W. Bean & Son

It yields readily all its Caffeone, but the result is a muddy infusion which will not settle, and muddy coffee is condemned on sight on account of its appearance, its disagreeable sensation in the mouth, and even more because of the injurious effect of taking into the stomach the small insoluble particles held in suspension in the liquid. These are the reasons why the use of pulverized coffee is being discontinued. So with the old Mill that crushes the Coffee.

It is impossible to make a perfect drink from Coffee ground in the old way, where dust and coffee are mixed with particles of all sizes, large and small. The same principle of boiling or baking potatoes—the small ones are cooked too much before the large ones are half done. The Caffeone is all extracted from the small particles before the large have yielded their full strength. As soon as the Caffeone is extracted, the grounds are of no value as a food product, and if you continue the boiling, that causes the unpleasant woody taste which destroys the pure coffee flavor. To get the greatest efficiency from each particle of coffee all must be of nearly the same size. This is what the Royal Electric Mill does for you, by a new cutting process which accomplishes the purpose completely, leaving nothing more to be desired.

The lover of good coffee finds here a richness of flavor never found in coffee ground in the ordinary way at any price. This is the first element of real goodness, but in addition it will appeal to all who have the management of the household on the score of economy and health. When the prudent housewife stops to figure the cost, she will buy Royal Electric cut coffee, because it is granulated into very fine, clean particles all of the same size, which give their full strength uniformly, and because of the absence of other flavors to be overcome. This is no idle boast. The general rule in making coffee is to use six parts of water to one of ground coffee; by having your coffee cut in the New Royal Electric Mill the same strength is obtained by using one part of coffee to nine parts of water. This is where you get your ten to twelve cups more of coffee to the pound.

ROYAL ELECTRIC CUT COFFEE is especially adapted for percolators or French drip coffee pots. Without attempting to be technical, we will give you some reasons why this is true: Raw coffee is chemically changed in the roasting. The most important chemical change is the formation of an oil known as Caffeone, produced from the elements in the original state. It is this oil which gives the rich and appetizing flavor to the roasted coffee. Scientific experiments have established the fact that the only way to extract the Caffeone satisfactorily is to bring the infusion to the boiling point, and allow it to simmer for a few minutes—according to the degree of fineness to which the particles have been granulated. The method of simply pouring boiling water through pulverized coffee fails to extract a large part of the coffee strength. When you boil this pulverized or powdered coffee,
