MCDONALD IS WROTH

REGENTS CRITICISM OF BROWNSVILLE PAPER CONCERNING HIS ACTS IN RIOT.

FEAR OF NEGRO SOLDIERS

He Declares Gave Citizens Nervous Prostration—Misrepresentation Prevented Punishment.

Special to the Times.
Austin, Tex., Sept. 15.—Bill McDonald, former captain of the State rangers, today addressed a hot letter to a Brownsville paper which recently condemned McDonald's conduct in the Brownsville affair and criticized the Pearson Magazine article concerning him. McDonald hurled a charge headlong at Brownsville citizens and the officers of the negro regiment. He declares that Penrose fooled the government "like you people fooled our governor, and Penrose finally charged you people with shooting up the town yourselves." McDonald adds that if it had not been for Brownsville's misrepresentations he would have kept the troops there and found the guilty parties. He declares that Penrose knew the guilty, but shielded them. He concludes that the Brownsville citizens had nervous prostration and were afraid of the "nigger" soldiers and aided the Cameron county sheriff in fooling the governor.

DELAY IS ORDERED.

Printing of Ballots Held Up Until the Status of Independent League Ticket is Determined.

Special to the Times.
Austin, Tex., Sept. 15.—Secretary of State Davie today notified all the county judges to delay the printing of the official ballots pending the decision as to whether the independence league party is entitled to a place on the ticket. Davie will wait a few days for the certificate of nomination and then refer the matter to the attorney general.

Urges Delegates to Attend.

Special to the Times.
Wharton, Tex., Sept. 15.—J. H. Andrews, vice president of the State Health Officers' Association, today sent out an appeal to all members to attend the International Congress on Tuberculosis at Washington on September 21st to October 12th. He says a special train will carry the Texans making stopovers in the large cities. Andrews expects over one hundred from Texas to attend.

Directors' Meeting.

At the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting this morning the cotton market committee reported $900 as being raised on the $1000 fund to date. The first $100 will be given away October 7th. The secretary was instructed to arrange to have posters setting forth the prize plan in small distributed in all tributary territory, especially at cotton gins.

The monthly membership meeting will be postponed until the next regular date in October, owing to the Air dome having been in use on the regular meeting date last week and the uncertainty of available lights tonight, when it was expected to be held.

During the session an inquiry was made by phone of Manager Malone of the water and light company as to the progress for better lighting service. Mr. Malone reported to the meeting in person that the supply of coils had become exhausted lately before new ones arrived and the plant was on a three-fifths service, but would be under normal conditions perhaps today. The new generator is expected to arrive shortly, when it will be installed and a good standard of light furnished to the patrons.

Exception was taken by the directors to the cutting off of the water supply last Sunday and the danger from fire as a consequence. Mr. Malone explained that this resulted from the tapping of a main, but said that in case of fire pressure could have been put on in a few minutes.

The filtering plant is ready for cement lining and should be completed in four weeks.

Routine matters of business were disposed of as is customary with the regular weekly session.

EL PASO BOYS RELEASED.

Youths Who Crossed Border With Target Rifle Given Freedom.

Special to the Times.
El Paso, Tex., Sept. 15.—Robert Rechy, Catarino Lopez, Frank Medina and Harry Aguirre, the four El Paso boys who were arrested by the Mexican authorities for crossing the Rio Grande with a target rifle while fishing, were released from jail this morning after a final hearing. They had been held ten days.

Hear Mr. Leach tonight at the Majestic, sing that beautiful western song "Montana."

DEMOCRATS MAKE GAINS IN MAINE

By Associated Press.
Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—Additional and revised returns made early today from the State election show that the majority of Fernald, the republican candidate, over Gardner exceeds seven thousand with about twenty-five small towns and twenty-six plantations to report.

The feature of the election was the increase of the democratic vote throughout the State.

Surprise to Republicans.

The result, which was much closer than the republicans had anticipated, showed not only the warmth of the contest, but the popularity of Mr. Gardner throughout the State. The republicans were on the defensive throughout the campaign, seeking to hold the State by the usual plurality by answering the various democratic arguments which were mainly for re-submission of the prohibitory law, taxation of the wild lands and reform in the administration. But little was said of the national issues, although the republicans through outside speakers sought at various points to bring such subjects to the attention of the people. The result of the hard work by the party managers and speakers on both sides was a large increase in the turnout of voters, nearly 140,000 going to the polls, a number which was within a few thousand of the record of the State.

The democrats gained over four years ago in nearly every town and city, although some of the municipalities, which went democratic two years ago, returned to the republican fold today, notably Auburn, Augusta, Belfast, Ellsworth, Portland and South Portland.

Maine Results Please Bryan.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 14.—Upon his return from the Fifth regiment armory tonight, where he delivered a political speech, W. J. Bryan was shown the Associated Press bulletins regarding the results of the Maine election. He was elated over the great democratic gain and said:

"I am very much gratified at the returns from Maine. They indicate the trend toward the democratic party extends over the whole country; they encourage democrats to believe that victory in November is certain."

Mr. Bryan immediately telegraphed National Chairman Sloan of Maine, tendering his congratulations.

Taft Would Make No Comment.

By Associated Press.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Judge Taft made two speeches to visiting delegations and held a conference with Senator Crane of Massachusetts, and Representative Burton of Cleveland on his fifty-first birthday. No comment on the Maine election will be made here until after the full returns are received.

Democrats Win in Arkansas by 50,000.

By Associated Press.
Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 15.—Returns received up to noon today from yesterday's election indicate the election of Donaghey (dem.) for governor by a majority of 50,000 over Worthington (rep.). The republicans lost representation in both branches of the legislature.

$300,000 FIRE IN MAINE TOWNS

By Associated Press.
Biddeford, Me., Sept. 15.—Fire today caused a loss estimated at $300,000, destroying fifteen acres of lumber yards, a score of tenement buildings and several factories and some railroad property on both sides of the Saco river in the cities of Saco and Biddeford. More than forty families are homeless.

Anti-Hughes Forces May Nominate German Ambassador if Roosevelt Doesn't Interfere.

By Associated Press.
BULLETIN—Saratoga, N. Y.—Governor Hughes was renominated in the first ballot.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 15.—An hour's development might absolutely change the status of affairs with reference to the nomination for governor to be made today by the State republican convention. A conference of the State leaders representing both the Hughes and anti-Hughes wings of the convention adjourned at an early hour this morning after a protracted discussion of the condition. Herbert Pearson, leader of the New York county delegation, said, "I am still of the opinion that Hughes will be renominated and think it will be on the first ballot."

Dr. David Hill, ambassador to Germany, is the man whom the anti-Hughes leaders have decided upon as a candidate for governor to defeat the renomination of Governor Hughes, unless there is irresistible interference from national quarters.

Lively Times Ahead for Democrats.

By Associated Press.
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 15.—With the question of the gubernatorial nomination unsettled, but narrowing down to a choice of one among three or four men and with the prospect of lively sessions ahead, involving a fight between Murphy, the leader of Tammany Hall, and Senator McCarran of Brooklyn over contested seats in Kings county, the democratic State convention will meet here today at noon.

McCarran made official threats to bolt the convention if any of his delegates are unseated.

Lieutenant Governor Chanler remains to all outward appearances the leading candidate for the head of the ticket. Tammany Leader Murphy's expression in favor of Supreme Court Justice Gerrard became public this morning for the first time.

AT RISK OF OWN LIFE.

Groesbeck Attorney Saves Child From Burning House.

Special to the Times.
Groesbeck, Tex., Sept. 15.—Fire early today destroyed the home of Albert G. Martin. The flames were discovered while the family was asleep and they had a narrow escape from death. Mr. Martin rushed through a sheet of flames and grabbed his 3-year-old son, Albert, from a couch, saving the baby, but receiving painful burns. The fire started by the overturning of a lamp. The loss is $4,000. Martin is a well known attorney.

Hundred Delegates Named.

Special to the Times.
Dallas, Tex., Sept. 15.—Judge H. F. Lively, president of the county judges' association, today named one hundred Texas delegates to attend the International Tuberculosis Congress.

Pay Respects to Irvin's Memory.

Special to the Times.
Dallas, Tex., Sept. 15.—The funeral of Frank Irvin, a well known citizen who died a few days ago, was held today and was the largest attended funeral in the history of the city.

Funeral of Miss Robertson.

At 10 o'clock this morning the funeral of Miss Elizabeth Robertson took place from the home of Mrs. R. Robertson, 1302 Eighth street, being attended by quite a number of sorrowing relatives and friends of the deceased.

Rev. Mr. Fry, pastor of the First Baptist church, read from the scripture, and made a very touching and impressive talk, going over the life of deceased from childhood days up to the time of her death. Members of the Baptist and Presbyterian choirs rendered two or three hymns and a solo, "Goodnight," was sung by Mr. Krueger. At the conclusion of the service at the Robertson home, the remains were followed to Riverside cemetery by a large number of friends and there laid to rest.

There were many beautiful floral offerings.

BOND ISSUES CARRY

PROPOSITION FOR ADDITIONAL SEWERAGE AND CITY HALL BONDS APPROVED.

SCHOOL TAX AUTHORIZED

The Vote Was Not Heavy, But Nearly All Votes Cast Favored all Three Propositions.

Although a light vote was cast in the elections yesterday, the propositions for the issuance of $12,000 sewerage bonds, $3,500 additional city hall bonds and the proposition to levy a special school tax of 50 cents on the hundred dollars assessed valuation in the newly organized Wichita Falls independent school district, carried by substantial majorities.

The result of the balloting was as follows: City Hall bonds—For, 83; against, 12. Sewerage bonds—For, 81; against, 11. School tax—For, 84; against, 7.

ARRIVES TOO LATE.

Federal Officer With Injunction Order to Prevent Removal of Buildings Reaches Eschitt Too Late.

The report became current the latter part of last week that an injunction was to be issued against the people of Eschitt, restraining them from moving from the townsite. This story had the effect of making a large-sized scramble by many to get away before the writ could be served upon them and consequently Sunday was a very busy day, there being no less than six traction engines engaged in the work of hauling buildings, besides several smaller outfits by horses. By Monday morning Eschitt appeared as though a real twister had gotten in its work of devastation, and out of a community of about one hundred buildings there remained seventeen business houses, including one church and ten dwellings.—Eschitt Banner.

Chapman Drug Company Stopped.

The federal officer arrived Monday afternoon with notices for the Eschitt business men of the temporary injunction which had been granted, restraining them from moving their buildings until the lots on which they were located had been paid for. Dr. A. D. Chapman was the only man upon whom service could be obtained, the rest of the business men having already removed their stores and residences to Grandfield. This ties up the Chapman building until the trial, September 17th, and perhaps longer.

Dr. Chapman immediately let the contract for a 24x60 foot two-story frame building in Grandfield and a dozen men are now busily engaged in rushing the building to an early completion. The large stock of drugs will be moved over within ten days, by which time the building will be completed.—Grandfield Enterprise.

SAYS REPORT WAS BEARISH.

President Neill Scores New Agricultural Commissioner.

Special to the Times.
Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 15.—President Neill of the Texas Farmers' Union and other officials expressed indignation today over the publication of a letter from a Belgium cotton operator to R. T. Miller, former agricultural commissioner, which was given out by his successor, E. R. Kone. Neill said that the department must be abolished if it gives out bearish reports to the public. He declared that the letter was misleading on crop conditions.

SCENERY BOUGHT FOR OPERA HOUSE

The Wichita Falls opera house company this morning contracted with the Kansas City Scenic Company, represented by F. R. Mezan, for complete scenic equipment for the new opera house.

The equipment comprises a drop curtain, a second asbestos drop curtain, an outside advertising curtain, garden scene, parlor scene, street scene, kitchen scene, prison scene and other scenic equipment for a modern and up-to-date theater.

Although splendid progress is now being made on the building, it is not believed that it can be gotten ready for the opening before the latter part of November.

Special to the Times.
Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 15.—C. N. Bagley, aged 45 years, received a fatal injury today when a large scythe fell from a nail where he had just hung it, cutting a deep gash in his head. Ten stitches were taken in the wound, but the point of the blade had touched his brain and he died. He leaves a wife and a family of children.

MISTOOK HUSBAND FOR BURGLAR

Special to the Times.
Houston, Tex., Sept. 15.—Mrs. S. H. Cranfills early this morning accidentally shot and seriously wounded her husband, mistaking him for a robber. Cranfills arose at about 4 o'clock to get a drink and hearing the noise, his wife fired in his direction, the bullet entering his side. His wife is prostrated. The husband will recover.

BRYAN'S HOT RETORT

"TAFT KNOWS AS LITTLE ABOUT MY RECORD AS HE DOES ABOUT PUBLIC QUESTIONS HE ATTEMPTS TO DISCUSS."

TAFT EVADES THE ISSUE

Declares the Nebraskan and Makes Mistake of $114,000,000 in the Cost of Imperialism.

By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 15.—In an interview today William J. Bryan made a hot retort to Taft's statement yesterday. He accuses Taft of dodging the issues and says that "Taft knows as little about my record as he does about the public questions which he is attempting to discuss." Mr. Bryan denies that he wants government ownership of railroads, but says he wants regulation. He charges also that Taft made a mistake of one hundred and fourteen million dollars in his estimate of the cost of imperialism.

Yesterday at Cincinnati Taft, in discussing an utterance of Mr. Bryan, said:

"He always says he favors a more rigid regulation of the railroads. In 1896 he expressed the view that the railroads could not be regulated, because the railroads would own the regulators appointed by law and therefore he was in favor of government ownership. We hear nothing from him on this subject. He has attempted to give bond to keep the peace with respect to government ownership, which by its mere announcement showed its lack of vote-catching qualities."

Bryan Reaches Philadelphia.

By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 15.—When William J. Bryan arrived here this afternoon there was a crowd at the station to greet him and after acknowledging greetings, he entered an auto and was driven to the Dooopers Hotel, headquarters for the Bryan League of Pennsylvania. Later Bryan was escorted to the office of the Philadelphia Record, where he spoke to a large crowd, standing on a small platform in front of a baseball score board.

Dispensary Decision Affirmed.

By Associated Press.
Richmond, Va., Sept. 15.—In the South Carolina dispensary cases today the decision of the lower court was affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals. The general grounds for the affirmation seem to be that the State cannot enter private business.

TEXAS RANGERS FEW

BUT THEY COVER VAST TERRITORY AND DO GREAT WORK AS PEACE OFFICERS.

THE GOVERNOR DIRECTS

Their Movements and if Local Officers Fail State Soldiers Soon Have Situation in Hand.

Frank H. Bushick in Houston Post. Austin, Tex., Sept. 12.—Assistant Adjutant General Phelps is in receipt of advices from Ranger Captain Frank Johnson, in the field with his force at Amarillo, reporting progress in the suppression of certain forms of lawlessness which prevail there, with work enough in sight to keep his men engaged in that vicinity all winter.

Amarillo is the bustling metropolis of the Panhandle, with 15,000 cosmopolitan people. Though its population is of a high order and lawabiding character as a whole, they found it hard to make a success of county prohibition when it was voted upon them not so long ago. It is a railroad town in a boom country, with a big floating population and plenty doing.

Illicit booze joints and other dives sprang up like toadstools. "Uno" and "Ino" were first introduced, and this evasion of the law seemed so easy that the thirst cure emporiums gradually got to selling beer and whiskey almost openly. Opium smoking was added to the variety of diversions. For some reason the local authorities seemed powerless to enforce the law.

Several murders and lesser crimes grew out of these conditions, until the district judge notified the governor and asked that the rangers be stationed there to assist the local authorities in enforcing the law and cleaning up the town. Captain Johnson reports that his men have been kept busy almost day and night, and the citizens give them credit for having done some wonderful work.

The Matador Ranch in Motley county has applied to Captain Johnson for two men to assist its special officer, but Captain Johnson can't spare the men because of the amount of work now in hand, besides being in court part of the time and assisting in running down evidence in recent murder cases.

This is a sample of the character of work which the State rangers are doing all the time. It is probably the most useful body of constabulary in the world for its numbers. Though under the direction of the adjutant general's office, it is not a part of the national guard. Under the Dick law, the national guard draws its sustenance largely from the federal treasury and is virtually a second line reserve of the federal army.

Not so with the rangers. They are the Texas standing army proper, the successors of the citizen-volunteer companies who fought back the Mexicans and Indians in early days. Later they became a regularly enlisted and paid force. When the Mexicans and Indians didn't need attention they put in their time running down cattle thieves and desperadoes. They've done more than any other agency to stamp out the killing and thievery which once gave Texas a hard name.

However, there is still lots of hard work for the rangers. Texas is a big State, with lots of remaining frontier and sparsely settled country. Even in the thickly populated portions conditions frequently arise beyond the power of the local officers to handle. Sometimes the local officers "stand in," and in other cases political considerations interfere with the proper discharge of duty.

Despite the great usefulness of the rangers and the constant call for their services, the force has been whittled down to four captains, four sergeants and sixteen men. Altogether they cost the State but $25,000 annually. The item is ridiculously small, considering what the rangers accomplish every year in the way of protecting property and preventing crime.

Adjutant General Newton in his next report will urge upon Governor Campbell and the legislature the importance of enlarging the force and paying better salaries. General Newton says the requests for rangers are too numerous to be granted, and that there is work enough to keep 100 or more busy all the time.

The diminution of the force and the small pay have been largely due to the parsimony of the legislators from the northern and eastern parts of the State who fancied they had no need of the rangers and objected to being taxed to help protect the west and the Rio Grande country. Several times of late years, however, calls for the rangers have been made from North and East Texas.

Sometimes it is to help suppress riots, sometimes to reinforce a sheriff who has found himself overmatched by conditions he could not control.

Only a few years ago such a state of affairs, growing out of a local feud, arose in San Saba county. Captain Bill McDonald was sent to the rescue. With two sets of armed partisans eyeing him in sullen hostility, McDonald's business required as much courage as Blockson imputed to him by saying McDonald would "charge hell with a bucket of water."

As an incident of this service it is told that one of the bad men at San Saba sought to catch McDonald at a disadvantage by making a show of friendship and offering him a slice of watermelon. Suspecting the melon was poisoned, McDonald refused to eat it and in turn covered the man and commanded him to eat it himself. The desperado begged, and McDonald let him off, but jalled him and later worked up enough evidence to send him to the penitentiary for life.

The present assignment of rangers is as follows:

Company A, Captain Frank Johnson and five men, stationed at Weatherford.

Company B, Captain Tom M. Ross and five men, at Alice.

Company C, Captain J. H. Rogers

and five men, at Austin. Company D, Captain J. H. Hughes and five men, at Ysleta.

Captain Ross' company operates mostly in the lower Rio Grande country, while Captain Hughes' men look after the upper Rio Grande country in the vicinity of the Big Bend, where thieves from Mexico are much given to marauding and driving off cattle and horses. Captain Rogers' men at Austin are held in reserve to answer hurry calls made on the governor from any part of the State.

While rangers have general jurisdiction as peace officers all over the State, it has so far been the policy of the governor and his predecessors not to send them out on special duty in settled communities unless a call is made for them by the officers or citizens of that community. However, Governor Campbell says he would not hesitate to order the rangers to enforce the law anywhere in the State where it was being ignored or defied by the local officers in collusion with the law-breakers.

The reason a ranger can go into a strange place and do so much more than the local officers is because he is backed by the authority of the whole State government and is not afraid of losing his election popularity. Another reason is that the rangers are fighters, every man jack of them, and are not afraid to shoot. Their daring feuds and desperate encounters with desperadoes and bandits would fill many books with exploits and adventures more thrilling and romantic than the dime novel series.

The term "ranger" first originated with the colonial militia raised by Austin and the early Impresarios to repel Indian attacks and maintain order in the colonies. After the revolution the Texas republic maintained such companies to fight against the Indians, and distinguished services were rendered by such captains as Burleson, Highsmith, the McCullochs, Caldwell, Ford, Ross and others.

During the Mexican war Texas mounted volunteers in the United States service, commanded by such leaders as Walker, Hays and Gillespie, were known as Texas Rangers. Terry's Texas Rangers also achieved undying fame in the Confederate service. Some of these ranger companies were maintained by the federal government for border protection against the Indians, and these have lately been brought within the benefits of the national pension law.

The State police, which operated under the authority of the E. J. Davis administration, was an entirely different character of men and their lawlessness soon put them in bad odor all over the State. They were the unscrupulous tools of the radical administration and committed many political murders.

After democratic administration was restored in the seventies, the frontier battalion was reorganized for the protection of the frontier and the suppression of lawlessness. Among the captains who achieved note in this service are McNelly, Hall, Jones, Baylor, Oglesby, McKinney, Caldwell, McMurray, McDonald, Sheeley, Nevill, Nevill, Armstrong, Scott, McNeill, Brooks, Seiker and others.

The serviceable nature of the Texas rangers has spread their fame to other States, and Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and Nevada have established similar bodies known as the State constabulary.

With the increased demand for the services of the rangers, the next legislature will very likely pay more attention than its immediate predecessors have to the recommendation that the force be enlarged and that the men be paid better salaries. The present pay of a private is only forty dollars a month. Those who stay in the service now do so only for the love of it. They easily step from the ranks to better places, and as a result the personnel is always changing.

Ballasting Still Goes On. Fort Worth Telegram.

The first ballast train on the Fort Worth and Denver road reached North Fort Worth Monday morning and from now on the work of ballasting south of Decatur will continue without abatement. With the starting of this ballast train on the south end, the Denver is now operating its ballasting work in three divisions. One division works on the extreme northern end, ballasting southward; one is working out of Decatur from the Mayville quarry, ballasting northward and one is operating from the Hermann quarry, ballasting from North Fort Worth northward.

The Denver is making a strenuous effort to get the entire line ballasted for next fall's movement and in the meantime a special effort is being made to get enough track ballasted to permit passenger train schedules being cut two hours to Amarillo and four hours or more to Denver.

Illustrated Write-Up of Wichita Falls.

In the October number of the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine, published at Nashville, Tennessee, will appear an illustrated write-up of Wichita Falls and the Wichita Falls country by Hugh L. Taylor, the brother of Senator Bob Taylor, who is editor-in-chief of the magazine.

It is expected that it will be a spicy, up-to-date and readable piece of literature, telling the world at large of the advantages and opportunities of our young city and the surrounding country for good investments and the reward of labor.

The prime object of such a write-up is to bring more people here to swell the population of our town and country and by their industry or invested capital to create more wealth and make more business in all lines.

There is a most hurtful error, one which hinders the progress of any town, existing in the minds of many people, even intelligent business men, which causes them to take the view that advertising of this kind would be of no benefit to them in their business. If they would only consider the truth of the proposition that the more people we have to live here the greater will be the human wants and needs to be supplied, then they can easily see they will come into the deal.

This will be an exceedingly interesting and beautiful issue of the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine to send to your friends everywhere. All who want extra copies of the Wichita Falls number or their friends should give their orders at once to Mr. Hugh L. Taylor at the St. James hotel. We are informed that, these copies are ten cents each, or 7 1/2 cents for a large number. They will be mailed to you or your friends if you wish, postage paid, and no payment required till magazines are received.

Mr. Hugh Taylor will also receive your subscription to the magazine if you desire to become a subscriber.

We are advised that there will appear some very rich articles from the pen of Senator Bob Taylor in several of the numbers of the near future.

The Taylor-Trotwood Publishing Co. has recently been reorganized and a plan for general improvement of the magazine's art and literature has been inaugurated.

If you want to subscribe, you had better do so now and get it for $1 per year, for after October 1st the price will be $1.50 per year.

Do you want to sell your property? If so, list with us and we will put same in our monthly bulletin of city property bargains. Keiper & Jackson, next door to postoffice. Phone 444. 106-tfc

It is always easier to take both good things than to make an invidious distinction and leave one.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." This is a reminder that the Times is still clinging campaign contributions to Bryan campaign fund.

Wheat is opening slowly, but the look for an abundant yield is good.
Wichita Falls is prepared to handle that will come to this market, and producer can feel assured that staple will bring the top of the lot.

Although more than a hundred residences have been constructed in Wichita Falls during the past eight or nine months, the demand for them is greater than ever. Money investment confidence property in this city, judging by what such property is renting brings from 15 to 20 per cent increase annually.

Politically, things are brightening up what for the democrats. Both in New York and Kansas the republicans divided, which gives additional weight to the electoral vote of those States will go to the democrats year. There is also a chance that Ohio and Indiana will go democratic in November election, by reason of large labor vote in those two States, which the democratic party,
through the influence of labor leaders,
is to secure.

Northwest Texas was never in a prosperous condition than now,
no county or town in Northwest Texas is growing more rapidly in both population and population than Wichita Falls and Wichita Falls. To the managing a home Wichita county offers inducements than can be found here. Her soil is productive and grows anything, and produce just eat a yield per acre as the highland lands in the black-waxy belt of Texas, and farmers who have been in lands in other parts of the State are coming to Wichita county to buy farms of their own. During the past twelve months the scholarship population of Wichita county increased 40 per cent, which is, probably, the largest increase in line made by any county in the State during the same period.

Over $900 Already Raised.
The $900 of the fund of $1000 to be distributed among the farmers who opted in Wichita Falls this year has already been subscribed and remainder will be subscribed before the end of the week.

United States attorney at Dallas asked for an opinion last week whether it would be unlawful to distribute through the mails giving details of the manner of distribution of money and advised that it is against the rules of the postoffice to do so.
"Never, no law of the State will prevent it and it is believed that the act of distributing the money has been pretty thoroughly advertised all over the country around Wichita Falls for the Times!

Some Delicious Yet Inexpensive Fish Dishes

SALMON is always a favorite any time and any where. Always ready, no waste, and serve it any way you like—hot or cold, with or without a relish, alone in a salad or in patties, or in combination with other foods. The number of ways in which it can be served is almost unlimited; but no matter how you serve it, Salmon is always popular.

Our Monarch and Yacht Club brands of genuine Columbia River Salmon are the finest that are put up. Solid, Sweet Meat in big steaks or chunks, whichever way you prefer.

Try our Yacht Club Salad Dressing on a can of this. It makes a dish that delights some mighty particular people.

ART TRIUMPHANT OVER NATURE. STOUT LADIES NOW REBUILT BY ORDER.

New York, Sept. 14.—"Art triumphant Over Nature" was the subject of a discourse delivered by Miss Elizabeth A. C. White to 500 members of the Dressmakers' Union in convention at the Masonic Temple. When the lecture began the speaker was the only living model visible to the audience.

"I will show you the effect first," she announced as she glided across the stage with a languid, undulating motion that displayed to best advantage every line and fold and curve of the lace and spangled confection which she described as a princess frock with a directoire movement, "and then I will bring in some young ladies who will demonstrate to you the cause."

"In the first," Miss White's soft Southern accents assumed a severer tone, "if you want to look smart you must get rid of your hips. Mind, I didn't say reduce them. I said do away with them entirely."

"Can One Who—"
 "But how, began a short-waisted woman in the third row, "can one who—"
 "Have I any hips?" demanded the lecturer with withering scorn.

"No," stammered the out of town delegate, "but—"
 "But me no buts," retorted Miss White. "As I told you before, you see in me the effect of proper corseting. The process will be explained to you presently. Lillian," turning to an auburn-tressed young woman in a severe black frock, "tell the young ladies to come in."

And then the 500 delegates lifted up their voices in a giggle, which not one of them made the slightest effort to suppress. But they weren't laughing at Miss White. O, no, indeed; they were moved to mirth by the sudden entrance of a generously built damsel for whose architecture nature alone was responsible. The rue de la paix had not a thing to do with either the designing or the modeling.

"She has hips," "Well, just to show that she had, a tape measure was produced and after a moment of solemn silence Lillian murmured, "Fifty-eight."

"Fifty-eight!" repeated Miss White. "Fifty-eight!" echoed the delegates in various parts of the room.

"Now," said Miss White, "bring me model 239."

A girl in a pale blue frock obeyed her at once. The plump damsel sighed. Miss White frowned.

Hips are Gone!
 "I should think," she said, "that you would be the happiest girl in the world. I am sure that I would be if I were going to be transformed from a dowdy to a woman of fashion. Now Lillian and Eliza, hurry and get her into it."

Lillian fastened some hooks and Eliza pulled some pink strings and the plump one groaned.

"There!" said Miss White at length, with a triumphant gesture in the direction of the plump one.

"Where," asked Miss White, socratically, "are her hips?"

There was no reply.

Then Miss White took the tape measure and measured the plump one.

"Would you believe it, forty-eight and seven-eighths, and not a bit more," she announced.

And the hall shook with applause.

Colors for Autumn.
 Chicago Daily News.

The new pistache shade indicates the tone of the shell, a dull, soft willow green with a faint yellowish cast in the lighter tones, while the darker ones are more on the order of sage and moss green, all uncommonly subdued, yet expressive.

Flowers have had their beautiful hues imitated in the new colors. There is, for instance, the beautiful nasturtium in its gorgeous tints of rich, golden apricot and warm brownish copper, all of which are shown in beane, one of the most beautiful shades of the season. They are exceptionally deep and expressive, and are also sometimes called giroflee, as they resemble the colors of the wall flower.

The beautiful hue of the lapis lazuli is signified by the dark and medium tones of siren—a warm, opaque blue with just the very faintest touch of gray-green underlying it. The lighter tones are gorgeous in their rich, clear brilliancy.

Among the neutral shades there are two lovely new grays—vapeur and elephant. The former is on the pearl-gray color, only bluish instead of pinkish and exceedingly clear and delicate in all of the three tones. As the name implies, it is exactly the cloudy, fragile color of vapor, while the latter is a beautiful deep gunmetal gray, almost black in the darkest tone, unlike the real color of the elephant, which is a dusty, muddy gray.

Rouen blue ranges toward tapestry and Tokyo blue tones, with a tinge of steel gray very noticeable, particularly in the lightest of the three tones. The darker ones bear some likeness to the perfect dove color and are extremely rich despite their subdued softness.

There are two new shades of tan: Isabelle, the one composed of six tones, of which the darkest are extremely dull, almost a blackish brown, while the medium ones are more on the order of fawn color and the lightest are a decided pinkish beige, very delicate and smart, and particularly suitable for being blended with other colors.

IN

NEWCASTLE, TEXAS, YOUNG COUNTY

Newcastle is the terminus of the Wichita Falls & Southern R. R. It is 55 miles south of Wichita Falls in the heart of the great coal field in Texas. Coal of the best quality in the State of Texas and in the greatest quantities in the Southwest. We have a 53-inch vein of high grade bituminous coal adjoining the townsite. It is open for your inspection. Anybody can go down in the shaft and see for himself. Millions and millions of tons of coal in every direction from Newcastle. The Coal Company is beginning the developments of this extraordinary coal field on an extensive scale. Their plans are to push the output with the utmost diligence until they are mining more coal than any other group of mines in the Southwest. This development alone insures the making and permanency of Newcastle. Think of her vast possibilities as a manufacturing center! Cheap fuel at her door; thousands and thousands of bales of cotton are there to be had without a penny freight. Cotton factories, knitting mills! Was there ever a place that nature has done more for than Newcastle? Newcastle has the farming country surrounding her to support a town of 5,000 people when fully settled, which is being done very rapidly. With a farming country to support a town of 5,000 people and in the midst of the greatest coal field of the Southwest, with possibilities too great to hazard a guess, surely Newcastle will be the best town in Northwest Texas.

The location of Newcastle is on a high broad mesquite prairie overlooking the whole surrounding country. Only a mile from the Brazos river, drainage perfect, a more healthy place you cannot find in the State. Surely the Almighty in His infinite wisdom must have decreed that this location should be the location for one of the best towns in Texas. The location is almost faultless and besides she has many other natural advantages. Her possibilities are greater than any other town in the Southwest.

Notice the way the town is laid off. No street in the town is narrower than 60 feet. The main thoroughfares are 100 feet wide, the balance of the east and west streets are 80 feet wide.

COME TO THE BIRMINGHAM OF THE SOUTHWEST

While the coal company is planning and developing this mighty coal field—they are not even considering engaging in the mercantile business and so there will be no company stores. Everything for the merchants of Newcastle. Wide open, fair competition for one and all. Surely this feature alone makes it a wonderful proposition from a merchant's standpoint. Cash money all the time and lots of it from the hundreds and hundreds of miners, which the town will surely have in a very short time.

You may never again have such an opportunity as this presents for investment. Buy when the town starts. Make your investments in Newcastle lots and watch them grow. No man ever made a fortune or even a competency working for wages. Investment is the gate through which all must enter to reach the golden castle. The surest of all sure ways is Real Estate investments. Read and learn of the future of Newcastle. Do not hesitate—act quickly.

On Tuesday, Sept. 22d, we will have a big auction sale of residence and business lots. The highest bid gets the lot. The sale will be held by Mr. J. B. Queen, the auctioneer who sold the lots in the new towns in Oklahoma for Uncle Sam.

Mr. Queen is regarded as one of the fairest and most competent auctioneers in the South.
