Buying Orders.

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 7.—There was great animation in the stock market today and buying orders poured in on the brokers in a deluge. New York Central rose five points and United States steel reached 55 1/2. The highest price ever touched by that stock. Many other prominent stocks rose from one to two points over last night's close.

ANOTHER GI BURNED.

Third Plant Goes Up in Flames—Night
Riders are Blamed.

Special to the Times.
Athens, Tex., Nov. 7.—The McLaughlin at Eustice was burned early this morning. The loss is $4,000. This makes the third gin burned in this county recently and the authorities say they have proof that all are of incendiary origin.

It is believed that the night riders fired them. No arrests have been made so far.

EXHIBITED GAME.

Negro and White Man Charged With Game Law Violation.

Special to the Times.
Austin, Tex., Nov. 7.—Complaints were filed today against two white men and one negro, charging them with exhibiting game, an offense now punishable by a penitentiary sentence.
The complaints grew out of the killing of Wallace Dyer by a negro, while dealing in a game several nights ago.

NEGRO WAS FRUSTRATED.

Girl's Screams Attracted Interference,
But Would-Be Rapist Escapes.

Special to the Times.
Beaumont, Tex., Nov. 7.—Emma Norris, aged 17 years, was attacked by a burly negro at her home early this morning, but her screams attracted a neighbor and the black fled. A shot was fired, but failed to hit him. The girl was injured only slightly.

COUNT BERNSDORFF.

Reported That He Will Be New Ambassador to the United States.

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Germany, Nov. 7.—Count Bernhard Bernsdorff has been selected by the emperor to succeed the late Baron von Sternberg as ambassador to the United States. The appointment has not yet been officially announced, but it is understood that an official announcement will be made in two or three days.

Burnet Merchants Were Victimized.

Special to the Times.
Burnet, Tex., Nov. 7.—Several merchants today reported to the authorities that they were victimized by a gang of counterfeiters who raised $20 bills to $30. Six bogus bills were passed here and so well was the counterfeit executed that it required close inspection to note the difference. Two strangers who registered at the hotel as being from Chicago are believed to be the guilty parties. They are now missing.

The Denver "Roasted." In commenting on an article which recently appeared in the Amarillo Panhandle regarding the "Denver" road and the splendid patronage that concern is enjoying, the Childress Index has the following to say:

Yet there is a reason for this roast from the Daily Panhandle. The passenger department of the Denver road has ignored the newspapers along its route during the past year and a half.
While other roads in the State have patronized the newspapers on their lines with advertising, the Denver road has refused to give out any advertising matter except to the daily press in the larger cities of the State. The office of the general passenger agent has sent out much matter of advantage to the road, asking free insertions, and in some instances the papers along the line have seen fit to publish the same, yet if a special excursion was to be run the management has refused to spend a dollar with the local press. As an instance, only a few weeks ago there was advertised in the daily papers that there was to be run a special train from the Panhandle to some entertainment at Fort Worth, but the company sold only nineteen tickets.

The excursion of last week was the largest that the road has ever conducted and its success is due to a large extent to the advertising which was given it by the papers of the Panhandle. For one, the Index regretted to say anything of the excursion, but was requested by the members of the Childress Board of Trade and others interested here, and therefore did so.

A few months ago a traveling passenger agent of the road came to Childress to advertise by circulars a cheap excursion to some point down the State, and while in the city tried to induce one of the employes at the depot to bring the circular to the Index office with a request that it be printed as a news item, but the employe refused to do so, and the Index would have refused to print the same had the request been made. This in a manner shows what the passenger department of the road is doing to help boost the country through which the road runs.
Also how short sighted some people can be. The Index, in common with the papers of this section of the State, has refused to mention any cheap rates and intends to continue that policy so long as the passenger department of the road continues its present policy toward the press along its route. The press of the Panhandle is spending time and money to build up the territory along the line of the Denver road, yet is receiving but little encouragement from the road.

The Index hopes to see the Denver road take a change next year and try to treat the newspapers of this section as they deserve.

PIERCE IN ST. LOUIS ENROUTE TO TEXAS

Special to the Times.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—H. Clay Pierce arrived in this city this morning in his private car from New York via the Big Four road. He arrived a day sooner than his attorney expected. It is now said that the oil magnate will be able to reach Austin for trial on the perjury charges Monday, the day set for the trial. He will leave tonight at 8:32 in his private car, which will be attached to the M. K. and T. train.
He will enter Texas at Denison. It is reported that the officers will be on the watch there to place the multimillionaire oil magnate in custody, but Pierce scoffed at arrest today. He said to a Texas News Service correspondent today that he expects to clear himself if the courts will give him a chance.

Tobacco Company is Held Illegal.

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 7.—The government's contention that the American Tobacco company was a trust operating in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was sustained in the decisions handed down by Judges Lacombe, Cox, Noyes and Ward in the United States circuit court here today. Judge Ward dissented from the opinion of his fellows.

Democrats Claim Entire State Ticket in Ohio.

By Associated Press.
Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 7.—National Committee Chairman Garber and State Chairman Finley claim today that the entire State democratic ticket has been elected. They base their claims on the returns received during the night. It is claimed that both Supreme Court Judges Shauck and Price have been defeated.

J. H. Newman today refused to concede the election of Thompson, republican, for secretary of State.

MILLS IN ENGLAND TO OPEN ON MONDAY

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 7.—The dispute which has been going on for nearly two months between the cotton operatives of Manchester and their employees was settled today, the employees having compromised on a reduction of wages in March instead of in January.

The mills will reopen Nov. 9. They have been closed seven weeks and much distress has resulted.

GATES IN DEAL TO FURNISH GAS

TO FURNISH FORT WORTH AND DALLAS AT FIFTY CENTS
IS THE RUMOR.

FROM PETROLIA FIELD

It is Announced Multimillionaire Will Build a Pipe Line to Furnish Light and Heat.

Special to the Times.
Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 7.—It was announced here today that John W.
Gates, the New York millionaire, who recently became a citizen of Port Arthur, Texas, is financing the project to pipe natural gas from the Petrolia fields to Dallas and Fort Worth and will reduce the price to 50 cents per thousand cubic feet.

It is regarded here as not at all improbable that Gates may be contemplating the project named above. The Navarro Refining Company, which has control of the big gas wells at Petrolia is said to be a subsidiary concern of the Standard Oil Company in which Gates has interests and these facts tend to give some complexion to the rumor.

An Official Announcement.

It is announced officially by M. W.
Bahan, leading operator in the oil and gas fields sixteen miles east of Wichita Falls, and owner of the franchise to pipe gas into Wichita Falls, that the survey into this city has been completed, right of way secured, the material ordered and that gas will be supplied to Wichita Falls in forty-five days. The news has created great enthusiasm in Wichita Falls and means that with its advantage of location, six railroads and other facilities, that a large manufacturing center will be built up and household conveniences supplied.

MARYLAND ELECTION PROBLEM.

Taft Has Popular Vote, But Bryan Gets Six Electoral Votes.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 6.—With all returns in and the official canvass tonight declaring Taft has carried Maryland by 664 plurality and that six of the electoral delegates are for Bryan and two for Taft, those who made wagers on the outcome are puzzled with a question worse than "How old is Ann?" A bet that Taft will carry Maryland.
B bets that Bryan will carry Maryland.

Who wins?
Bryan gets six electoral votes, but the two Taft electors get more popular votes than all of the Bryan electors.
Bryan has a majority in the electoral college, but Taft has a majority of the popular vote. The same condition came up in 1904, when Roosevelt got one of the electors and a majority of the popular vote, while Parker had seven electoral votes.

Here is where the mutuality of affirmation comes in. A says that Taft will carry the State. B does not bet negatively that Taft will not carry the State, but bets affirmatively that Bryan will. Thus both bettors wager their money on a positive claim, and if this view is to be taken of wagers made in the recent election, settlements to be on electoral votes secured, it might be asserted that neither won, because Taft got only two-eighths of the electoral representation and Bryan got only six-eighths.

WILLIAM CORNISH DEAD.

Second Vice President of Union Pacific Succumbs to Heart Disease.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—William Cornish of New York, second vice president of the Union Pacific railroad and a director in many other corporations, was found dead in his bed in the An-derton Annex here today. His death was apparently due to heart disease.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT AT VIRGINIA HEALTH RESORT.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 7.—Presidentdred guests from the hotels were at the come.

in the latter's airship.

ON A SLOW TRAIN IN BIG PASTURE

WICHITA EXCURSIONISTS SPEND MUCH OF THE DAY AT STA-TION OF "DEAD STOP."

THEY MAKE BEST OF IT

However, and Good Humor and Jokes Made the Situation Easier to Endure.

Between sixty-five and seventy Wichitaites full of spirit (not plural) and anticipation of a day's outing with the natives along the Northwestern line to Frederick left on the Business Men's Excursion yesterday morning promptly at 7:30, the conductor having a hunch that he would not be so prompt in returning and that he had better make good at the only opportunity he could see.

The party occupied seats in a hand new coach made especially for the excursion, some riding on the observation end of it and others on top of a box car, there being several cars of freight and then some.

Burkhardt was the first stop and last chance, so due justice was done to this enterprising and growing community. During a stay of one hour at Devol, in which the train crew took strenuous exercise with commodities shipped from the Falls, the members of the party went up town and inspected the coming metropolis of the Big Pasture. This town is new, even to a Federal building, which covers 23 square feet of an acre. A new bank started there four weeks ago, having deposits to date of $19,000. There being only twenty-five people in the town it is apparent that their pro rata deposits exceed even the record of Wichita Falls. This town also claims to ship more agricultural products than any station on the Northwestern line except Frederick. Another feature is their sanitary hotel methods. Every morning after the transients leave their open beds of new mown hay in the open air hotel, the proprietor burns the beds (and perhaps a number of unwell-come guests) and provides a fresh supply for the next man. A real hotel is being erected, however, minus the fire treatment.

Grandfield was arrived at and en-cared by the excursionists. A committee of three Grandfield citizens met the train and accompanied the party from Devol and gave them the high sign to pass among the late Kellians and Es-chillians. More evidences of quarter section farming, lots of business and keen eyes and close companionship with anyone carrying a grip was manifested here.

Harrison was visited after some hours of riding, waiting and walking.
There must have been some interesting business condition needing investigation there, as Messrs. J. W. Pond and F. H. Gohlke did not hear the departing whistle and had to sprint some hundred yards to catch the train. Mr.
Pond showing early precocities of riding the beams as he swung on a box car with the ease of a trained master of the ties, but being out of practice, he lost his hat.

Frederick, a real little city with a bump of prosperity attached to it, was royal in its entertainment. A band of music and conveyances were at the depot to meet the excursion at 1 o'clock but as the train did not arrive until after 2 the crowd dispersed to assemble again with the conveyances, minus the band. The excursionists were parceled out to the restaurant and given a good meal and then driven over the city.
After extending the Frederick business men an invitation to visit Wichita Falls and be given a good time, the trip home was begun on the "fast freight" at 5 o'clock.

Dead Horse station was dedicated at 8:20 p. m. on the outskirts of Grand-field, a horse having accommodated the crowd by dying on the side of the track to furnish pasture for the arguments. After a while the train arrived at Dead Stop and it is surmised that a number of the party think this station was passed several times. The suggest members of the Chamber of Commerce were then seen going through corn fields to reach Grandfield, where chicken dumplin (all dumplings) was served.

Considerable hilarity was infused by Vic Stampfl, who seemed some $100 worth of good advertising with two bits worth of bad bread. Alex Kahn got his ticket's worth by finding a customer who had bought trousers too short and another who owed him for a pair of shoes.

A court was organized by Jim Marlow in the smoking compartment and various offenses punished. Vic Stamp-fl was fined the cigars, lemonade and cookies at the Chamber of Commerce monthly membership meeting next Tuesday night for selling bread with evidences of being made out of cement.
He tried to escape judgment by claiming the cement was first class material.

C. L. Fontaine was arrested on a charge of working the train crew over 16 hours on one shift, but won his defense by claiming the crew had rested four hours at the way station. Another charge of exceeding the speed limit was preferred against him, as President Bean was compelled to make a run after the train when it left Devol and came very near catching it.
Evidence proved, however, that the train did not make over 4 1/2 miles an hour, which was a close shave on the proposed big locks in the Panama canal at Gatun and as a result there will be a delay of several years in the completion of the canal and a much larger outlay of money than was at first anticipated. According to the reports the discovery of the lake has been kept a secret. The engineers declined to discuss the matter during the absence of Colonel Goethals in the United States.

But good things can't last forever and the first semi-annual excursion to Frederick came to an end, arriving back at 11:00 p. m., many of the party making toward Wylie Wyatt's excavation in the hopes of the five-story building being completed during their sojourn from the city.

COUNCIL PRODS SEWER BUILDERS

The failure on the part of Derr & Early, the sewer contractors, to push the sewer construction to an early completion may result in the city taking charge of the work and completing the laying of the sewers.

At a special session of the council yesterday afternoon the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, by the city council, that on account of the unsatisfactory condition of the work on the sewer construction being done by Messrs. Derr & Early, that the engineer be ordered and directed to place a competent engineer in charge of the work as the engineer's representative, under clause 79, page 23, of the contract, until said contract shall be terminated as hereinafter provided.

Second, That on account of said Derr & Early failing to execute the contract in accordance with the plans and specifications to the satisfaction of the engineer, and on account of their failure to proceed with said work as rapidly as possible, as directed, it is resolved that the city secretary notify the said Derr & Early by written notice for three days that it is the intention of said council to cancel said contract and to proceed therewith in accordance with article 86 of said contract, to the completion of said work.

By Associated Press.

effect that a subterranean lake had been found under the site of one of the proposed big locks in the Panama canal

INSANITY CASES ARE INCREASING

RATIO IS GREATER THAN INCREASE IN THE POPULATION.

SUPT. GREGORY'S REPORT

Recommends Establishment of Independent Colony for Negro Patients. Might Be Self-Sustaining

Austin, Texas, Nov. 5.—"The ratio of insanity of Texas is increasing in proportion faster than the population. If the same ratio continues to exist the next ten years as it has the past ten, we will need ten asylums to care for our insane, which will require the expenditure of $3,500,000 or $4,000,000 to maintain these institutions," says Superintendent C. L. Gregory of the North Texas hospital for the insane at Terrell in his annual report to Governor Campbell received today.

Since the inauguration of the institution in 1885 there have been 7,599 patients admitted, of which number 5,554 have either been discharged, transferred or died, leaving 2,045 patients now in the asylum. And in discussing the cause of insanity, in connection with the great increase, Superintendent Gregory attributed it chiefly to heredity and alcoholism. The superintendent suggests in his reports that it would be more economical for the state if the purchasing of food and supplies for the institution was left to the asylum authorities.

One recommendation which he makes is considered good because it would solve the question of more accommodations for the white insane of the state, and he adds that the next legislature will be called upon to provide more room. His recommendation is the establishment by the state of an independent colony for the colored insane. He believes the establishment and maintenance of such a colony would be more self-sustaining than any other eleemosynary department of the state because he believes that the negro is out of his element when confined in comparative idleness, and to provide sufficient farming lands in connection with such an institution would assist the state in their care and provide beneficial employment for the patient and thus also create more room in the institutions for white patients.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

To Make Lace Look Old.
Real old lace is supposed to look its part, and when it doesn't there are numerous tricks resorted to to give it an old appearance. An exchange tells us of a method of "aging" it that is the secret of a Southern woman. She asserts that the whole art lies in a newspaper. Cut strips of newspaper a trifle wider than the lace to be tinted and carefully sew the edges of the lace to the paper. Then make a roll of newspaper about as thick as an ordinary mailing tube, and roll the lace trimmed newspaper strips around this with perfect smoothness. Next wrap the whole in blue paper and seal up the ends. In the course of two or three months the lace will have the most perfect "old" look one could desire. A hundred years couldn't bring any better results than a newspaper properly put on.

When Your Feet are Tired.
Tired feet are the peculiar heritage of women. May be the shoemaker is responsible; maybe the woman uses poor judgment; maybe she is required to be on her feet overmuch; but, however you will, nine women out of ten will complain of tired feet quicker than anything else.

Now this is a simple little remedy for feet that are tired, whether from overwork, long standing, or from a tight and poorly fitting shoe. And it's a remedy that any woman may use without much trouble.

Put a quarter of a pound of bicarbonate of soda into a gallon of water, stir in a footbath or a pail. Have the water cool, not cold, but just comfortably cool. Soak the feet for a quarter of an hour. Twenty minutes is not too long. It will drive some of the blood from them and rest the nerves. It will draw out the inflammation if there be any and the cold water will not cause the swelling warm water would produce. Fresh hosiery and slippers should be put on afterward.

Pineapple and Milk.
The up-to-date housewife has long since learned the value of the various rennet preparations now on the market under the various trade names of "Junket," "Rennen," etc., by which sweet milk may be curdled to form a palatable dessert with a minimum of trouble and expense.

One of the most delicious and dainty dishes may be prepared for an emergency as follows: Prepare the milk pudding with the junket in the ordinary way and pour it into individual dishes in which it will be served. When it has "set," place it in the ice chest until time to serve. In the meantime open a can of good sliced pineapples and when about to send to the table pour over the preparation a portion of the juice and place a divided slice of the fruit with each portion. The result is a dessert that is most delicious and will appeal to the most fastidious taste. Pineapple and sweet milk almost always form a good combination, a digestive principle in the fruit acting on the milk in a most pleasing manner.

An Unequal Distribution.
A few years ago we heard quite a great deal about the need of the man for the manless land in the West, but that demand has been satisfied and now the cry is for the man for the manless maid who remains at home. Men are needed in the ballrooms, the drawing rooms and the opera. Some writer upon the activities of the smart set in Washington says:

For it seems that the demand for the "dancing man" and the theater going man, and even the dining man is so much in excess of the supply that the only requirement for eligibility is two legs in the case of the dancing man and two theater tickets in the case of the theater man, with the ability to distinguish the functions of the knife and fork in the case of the dining man.

According to a Washington correspondent the only manner in which the maid may capture the man is by taking him by surprise over the telephone and extorting a verbal promise that he will take her to the ball if she will send a nice upholstered carriage for him, and "a girl feels that she should offer car fare to the youth who has been so good as to put himself to the trouble of calling upon her."

A 216-BARREL OIL WELL.

Test Made in New Well at Petrolia Indicates Big Production.

Petrolia Round-Up.
There is scarcely an issue of the Round-Up but what an account of new developments are mentioned in our oil and gas field; and as the new developments come to light we are pleased to state that they are always superior to the preceding ones and that our field is on the increase instead of decreasing.

We have lately made mention of the drillers bringing in wells producing from 100 to 150 barrels of oil per day, but we now come to the latest as well as the largest well that has been brought in was this week by managers Moss & Sutherland of the Kerwin Drilling Company, for the Navarro Refining Company on the Perkins lease. Under a pumping test of twenty-four hours this well made a showing of 9 barrels of oil per hour, making a daily output of 216 barrels.

In this well another good producer is added to our fields and with its strong flow means more oil to be shipped from Petrolia. Oil men claim that good pump wells are preferred to gushers and with this in view and the establishment of a few more wells equally as good as the latest developments, along with the high quality of oil obtained, the Petrolia field will be a favorable one among the oil people of this nation.

MEDALS PRESENTED TO WILBUR WRIGHT

THE AMERICAN AERONAUT IS GUEST OF HONOR AT BANQUET.

NOTABLES ARE PRESENT

Representative of French Government Congratulates Aeronautist for His Pluck and Perseverance.

Paris, Nov. 5.—French aeronauts united this evening in honoring Wilbur Wright, the American aeronautist whose remarkable achievements during the past few months in this country have placed him in the forefront of men who have been solving the problem of navigating the air.—Mr. Wright was the guest of honor at the dinner of the Aero Club of France, at which M. Jean Barthou, the minister of public works, presided, and the occasion was made more memorable by the presentation by him of the Aero Club gold medal and the special medal of the Academy of Sports.

Among the 200 guests were practically all the experts and scientists interested in aviation; M. de la Grange Bleriot and Santos-Dumont, St. Arch-deon, the republican nationalist deputy Henry Deutsch de la Meurthe, noted as a patron of all sports; Count Henry de la Vaulx, M. Esnault-Pelterie, Marquis de Dion, president of the Aero Club; Due de Causs and General Dalstein, military governor of Paris.

Henry Farman sent a message regretting his inability to be present. Mr. Wright received a perfect ovation when the presentation of the medals was warmly eulogized by M. Barthou, who, in a hearty speech of congratulation, said that the French government desired officially to associate itself with the homage done Wilbur and Orville Wright for their perseverance, pluck and intelligence, and their names should be inscribed in the annals of time.

Mr. Wright's reply aroused intense enthusiasm. Very modestly and in simple words, he accepted the honor not as a personal tribute to himself and brother, but to the realization of the dream of flying, which has fascinated the minds of men for ages.

"Ten years ago," he said, "the world ridiculed the idea. As late as 1901 I told my brother that men would not fly for fifty years, but two years later we flew."
Mr. Wright spoke feelingly of his splendid reception in France, saying that if he had been a native Frenchman he could not have been shown more consideration. He concluded with a tribute to the wonderful genius of France and declared that future avia-

Entered at the Postoffice at Wichita Falls as second-class mail matter.
Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 7th, 1908.

The Bonham Daily Herald has suspended, and in making its retiring bow has this to say:

"I am convinced that the change will not only result in my own gain, but it will result in a saving to the patrons of the newspapers who are burdened when they attempt to support two papers where only one should exist. The favorite will hereafter reach practically the same number of readers that both papers have heretofore reached, and the merchants can increase the amount of their patronage to it and at the same time not spend as much as they have been spending with the two papers."

In nearly every town the size of Bonham there is, or should be, at least, sufficient enterprise to support one good daily paper, but just about the time that it is demonstrated that a small daily can exist and perhaps carry a reasonable interest on the money invested, a bunch of "town knockers" get together and offer inducements to another paper. That is what happened at Bonham and the result, after a year's trial was that both the papers (judging from their appearance) failed to make expenses, and perhaps lost a good part of their capital.

The Commercial Secretaries' Association, an aggregation of windjammers with headquarters at Fort Worth, has sent out an article to the newspapers on factory taxes in Texas, in which the claim is made that Texas offers no inducements to factories because a tax is levied on factories at the same rate it is levied on other property. It seems that the taxes for the support of the government should be levied solely on the property of the farmers who sweat in the fields and on the accumulation of those who toil in other lines. It is the advocacy of just such things as this which promote anarchy and socialism, and destroys the confidence of the people in those who hold vast amounts of property. It is the worst doctrine which can be taught in any country. Taxes should be equal and uniform on every person, according to the property he has, and no man should ask for or expect more than this.—N. Palsani Times-Review.

The Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association is an organization that is doing a great work for Texas. It occasionally sends out "matter" to the press that should never be given space. Every good citizen is expected to support loyally the city, county, State and National governments by paying taxes in proportion to his worth, and an enterprise that cannot earn sufficient dividends on its capital stock without being exempted from paying its full share of taxes is not worth having.

Value of a Good Reputation.

Clarksville News.
There are many things in life worth the living. When an individual is born into the world, it is either a blessing or a hindrance. When a person lives so as to be helpful in citizenship and is not a drawback to society, he has been useful. A reputation is not made in a day. It takes years of ceaseless toil and earnest effort to fix an immortal reputation. But when such a reputation is once thoroughly established, a few attacks from people of questionable morals cannot phase the good name of a good man or woman.

The man who is noted for meeting his every obligation to the full satisfaction of his creditors has accomplished much for himself. The shiftless spendthrift who runs in debt himself and allows members of his family to heap debt upon him by extravagance is on the road to ruin. People cannot trust a man long who lives above his means. In a short time he is refused credit for the smallest amounts and public sentiment will undermine his standing. In only a short time, the public withdraws its confidence and the man's reputation for honesty is gone.

Young men should be exceedingly careful of credit. Their whole business lives depend upon this debt paying quality. Show me a man who guards his word in business relations and I will point to a business success. We call a business success the man who meets his obligations.

Debt paying is only one of the many virtues one must have to merit an enviable reputation. Sentiment of the country as regards the character of an individual should always be a good index of a person's reputation. When citizens know a man's character to be bad, or his word unworthy to be relied upon, the fact should not be withheld from the world if it becomes necessary for the truth of the matter to become known.

A man's character and his reputation should be made to be identical or as nearly so as can be determined. Our people should put such a premium on straight dealing so as to make public sentiment condemn crookedness in all the relations of life. Every person ought to be made to feel that a good reputation is something to be greatly sought after. We are quick to forget or condone flagrant acts of bad conduct, because we want to be generous to our neighbors.

Nothing has such allurements to right thinking people as the thought that the country looks upon them as honest, upright and truthful. I had rather have a good name among all the people with whom I associate than to have all the wealth possible to accumulate. Many account that self-consciousness of having done right is worth all other rewards, but when he has lived so as to have that self-consciousness, he also will have a good reputation.

Possibilities of Corn Production in Texas.

In 1907 there were 7,400,000 acres cultivated in corn in Texas. The average yield was 21 bushels per acre. This was low. In 1867 the average was 28.2 per acre; in 1869, 29 bushels, in 1896, 36.4 bushels. These were favorable years. Under equally favorable conditions the yield now should be greater since the varieties of corn are much improved.

With best systems of soil building, conservation, manuring, seed selection and cultivation it would be possible to make the average yield as high as 49 bushels per acre. Crops have been grown where the yield was immensely greater. As much as 156 bushels have been produced, and a whole crop of nearly 100 acres has averaged approximately 100 bushels. An average for the whole State of 49 bushels while not large for special crops under special cultivation, would be large for the entire State. And moreover, it would be immensely profitable.

This would be 149,771,000 bushels added to the present production with the same acreage. The cost of this additional production would be far less than double the present cost of our corn crop. In fact the increase of nearly 100 per cent might be made by

DECLARES—ELECTION RESULTS
REFLECTS MONEY MAKING MATERIALISM.

MR. BRYAN IS TOO LOFTY
And Was Obstructed by Insurmountable Corruption, But Went Down With Clean Hands.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Henry Watterson will say in tomorrow's Courier-Journal reviewing Tuesday's election:

"The results of Tuesday's election shows conclusively that a great majority of the people of the controlling section of the Union are well content with things as they are that it is better to endure the conceded shortcomings of the party in power than to embark upon sea of continuous agitation. That Bryan meant this whilst Taft meant rest; in short, that a dollar though talented, in hand is worth a bush full of patriotic abstractions.

"The idiosyncrasy of the time is commerce. As in the last century it was liberty reaching out after institutional freedom and measurably attaining it—this now materialism reaches out after markets. The average voter of better education and intelligence takes no thought of the hereafter, and is even more different than heretofore. He is completely engrossed by the present. That which Bacon calls the wisdom of our ancestors makes as little appeal to his reverence for reason, as that which Burns calls 'light from heaven' makes to his imagination. He would not exchange the different crop reports with a rising price list for all the books that were written upon political economy. He either carries the fool of the vicinage with him or else raises enough dust to blind his eyes and disarm his suffrage.

"The result shows that we oversize the spiritual and undersize the material in the hearts and minds of the people. They were deaf alike to precedents, to reason and to eloquence, for nothing could surpass, as nothing has ever equaled the personal canvass for Mr. Bryan, its wondrous lucidity and power of statement, its splendid intellectual and physical endurance, its unanswerable argument. Nor did Ignatius of Loyola sweep through a world of incarnate evil bearing the cross of Jesus to triumph with greater force of inspiration and truth than did the heroic son of Nebraska traverse a land gaping with curiosity, but too busy over its work and play to consider any danger to the immortal soul of its constitutional fabric.

"There is something yet better than being President of the United States, and that is being the real sense of duty done. Tilden will live in history when Hayes is forgotten or execrated. History will say of Bryan that in three great popular movements, clouded sometimes by errors of judgment and obstructed always by corruption—as we now know by insurmountable corruption—he led sublimely; that he set before his countrymen the standards alike of God and truth, and that he went down beaten with clean hands and high repute, carrying with him the homage of patriotic men."

Bryan Defended.

Editor Times—As a democrat and a believer in the great Commoner, W. J. Bryan, I wish to object to the editorial in the Fort Worth Telegram of the 5th inst., in which the editor attempts to lay the blame of defeat on Mr. Bryan. I have been a close reader of the Daily Telegram through the past campaign and I must confess I have doubted the democracy of that paper all the

Management

The success of a bank and the safety of the funds intrusted to it depend upon a judicious administration of its affairs.

Every officer of The First National Bank is a practical banker of life-long experience.

Its directors are all well known men selected for their business ability and financial standing.

The strength of this bank lies not alone in its large capital, surplus and resources, but in the character and financial responsibility of the men who conduct its affairs.

while, and this editorial confirms my doubt. I do not believe, under the circumstances, any other man could have done as well as Mr. Bryan. What had he to contend with? Thousands of office holders under the "big stick," commanded to vote for Taft or lose their jobs. Then the manufacturers' threat to the laboring men that if they did not vote for Taft their wages would be cut down.

The laboring men in the North today are in a worse condition than the slave ever was in the South. They dare not vote for the man of their choice.

Besides the coercion of the laboring men, millions of dollars were turned loose in the doubtful States, contributed by the trusts, and those they could not compel by threat, they bought. They even traded their candidates for governors for votes for Taft. I believe that if the people had voted for the man of their choice, W. J. Bryan would today be president of the United States. The republicans knew that if Bryan was elected it would be their death-knell; that he would make such a great president that they would be doomed forever.

And I believe that a large majority of the common people believe as I do, that W. J. Bryan is today the greatest living statesman in America.

MRS TAFT IS WELL QUALIFIED

Personally Mrs. Taft is Quite an Attractive Woman and has Made a Fine Home for the Future President.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—No woman ever called upon to fill the difficult and exacting position of mistress of the White House was better prepared and equipped for her task than Mrs. Helen H. Taft, the wife of President-elect Taft. She is a woman of culture and refinement and of many accomplishments, possesses usual tact, special finish, and, above all, a large measure of sound, common sense. For a number of years she has lived in Washington as one of the most distinguished women of the official circle and the training which she has received during that time will undoubtedly prove of great value to her as mistress of the White House.

Personally, Mrs. Taft is quite attractive, as she is from an intellectual point of view. She is fair, slender and, girlish looking and no one would suspect from her appearance that she has a son old enough to be in college. She is frank and vivacious, unpretentious, and yet possessed of marked dignity of bearing and the self-poise so necessary to a woman of her exalted position. She is always cordial, a rare accomplishment among society women and possesses an excellent memory for persons and names, an invaluable gift for the wife of a political leader.

The new mistress of the White House was Miss Helen Herron, daughter of the law partner of the late President Hayes, when she married William H. Taft in Cincinnati in 1866. She was a bright and talented girl with a perfect passion for music. In all her future life music has ever been her favorite recreation. She is not only an accomplished pianist, but possesses a thorough knowledge of the theory of music and an extensive acquaintance with the best works of music literature. But, notwithstanding her great love of music and her ardent devotion to it, she has never allowed it to become an all-absorbing passion, or even a fad to the extent of interfering with her duties to her husband and family.

Although probably better equipped for a high social position than most women holding important positions in American society, Mrs. Taft is by no means a typical "society woman." For that she is too intelligent, sensible and well balanced. Ever since her husband entered official life in Washington and even before that, when he was still holding a judgeship in Ohio, Mrs. Taft has made it her study and aim to fill to the best of her ability the position in society to which she was entitled by virtue of her husband's official rank. Her natural talent and the intellectual training of her girlhood days made the task easier for her and her inborn tact helped her to avoid the pitfalls so disastrous to the inexperienced and but indifferently equipped women in official society.

Nowhere is the new mistress of the White House seen to greater advantage than in her home circle, the supreme test for the sterling qualities of any woman, no matter what her position in society. She is devoted to her husband and her children, takes interest in everything pertaining to her domestic establishment and is considered a model housekeeper. She does not consider it below her dignity to attend to her household duties and devotes great personal care to the proper conduct of her domestic establishment. No woman in Washington society ever knew better than Mrs. Taft to add a wholesome and refreshing domestic charm to her social entertainments. No matter how formal the function may be, Mrs. Taft as the hostess makes all her guests feel that they are received at her home, not in a hotel parlor or a public hall, without vulgarizing the tone dominant of her hospitable board.

Mrs. Taft is an accomplished musician and has great love for her art, but she never obtrudes the subject of music in conversation nor does she ever bore her guests with inane accounts of the pretty tribulations to which every woman at the head of a large domestic establishment is more or less exposed. She speaks with well bred discretion and sparingly, while she shows remarkable skill and tact in drawing out her visitors by manifesting sympathetic interest in their affairs. Her home, wherever she may be, is always filled with that intangible charm which springs from the intellectual, refinement and exquisite artistic taste of the hostess. Mrs. Taft, like her daughter, Helen, now studying at Bryn Mawr, is an Episcopalian, but she is broad-minded enough not to allow religious differences of a serious nature to arise between her and her husband, who belongs to the Unitarian church, although he frequently attends services at the Episcopal church with his wife.

Miss Mildred MacClosky, a recent graduate of Vassar, recently, at Pittsburg, performed the tasking of "blowing in" the last group of the furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company, limited. The furnaces had been idle for some months.

At Altoona, Pa., just as Jacob Akers, a hotel man, let fall the ax which was intended to cut off the head of a hen, his prize fox terrier sprang at the chicken and received the blow across the nose, all-but cutting it off.

UP TO THE RAILWAYS.

The Houston Chronicle has a very pertinent editorial on the lack of tact shown by the railroads in their dealings with the public, giving it as one of the chief reasons why there are so many folks, especially jurists, who are willing and anxious to "soak" the railroads whenever they get a chance. Defrauding a railroad is just as dishonest as defrauding an individual, so general is the "grouch" against them that very few but believe they have done a good deed whenever they can get ahead of the companies. The red tape the apparently useless delay, and in many cases the bulldozing tactics used by claim agents in settling honest and just claims against the companies are, as the Chronicle points out, responsible for the feeling entertained by citizens in regard to the railroads—a feeling entertained against no other corporation.

"When, for instance, a citizen delivers his trunk to a railroad and gets a receipt," says our Houston contemporary, "but when he reaches the end of his journey some other trunk or no trunk is delivered, it is a poor consolation to the traveler, and a fine way to make enemies, to be shown a lot of 'trailers' and letters and memoranda at the end of six months, and to see the same bundle a few months later much-enlarged during its travels, but no trunk and no pay for it. The Chronicle is advised of one case in Houston where the trunk or grip of an honest old colored 'uncle' was lost going sixty miles, and though it was filled with articles of value given her by her white friends, she was only made claim for $20 and it took twelve months to obtain that."

The Chronicle admits that there are dishonest people ready to swindle the road by false claims, backed by lying, yet very properly urges that the roads ought to be able to tell when an honest claim is made.

"One fruitful cause of damage suits" it continues, "is the tendency of railroad managers to suspect every claimant for damages of faking and malingering, and often so charge him. They often accept the statements of their own employees who are interested in shielding themselves, and on such statements refuse to settle, when a little impartial outside investigation would often prove the claim and liability clear. When two trains come together head on, as sometimes happens, and a lot of people are injured, some of them crippled for life, yet at the end of a year the road refuses to admit liability—and there are such cases—it is not surprising that when the injured party is forced to sue heavy verdicts are recovered. Delay is often necessary in order to get at the facts to determine whether liability exists, but there are cases where liability from which there is no escape is manifest. The roads are right to fight every claim which full investigation shows to be even doubtful, but when they lose a man's property or injure his person under circumstances which fix their liability they ought to pay proper compensation promptly. It is not only just to do so, but it is in every way politic. A poor man whose household goods and trunks are lost in shipment is damaged far more than their mere 'market value,' and delay in paying him becomes very near being a mortal wrong.

"Every man who seeks by fraud and lying to cheat a railroad should be sent to prison; but when a man has an honest claim it ought to be paid, without keeping him waiting (all a list of letters and waybills as long as his leg are sent to and fro between stations for six months. Every man so treated becomes an enemy of all railroads, and he preaches a propaganda against them result often being seen in verdicts which cannot be otherwise explained. What is needed is more consideration for the rights of their patrons, more tact, more common sense, and a keener sense of right and justice. Much prejudice if of their own begetting."—Denton Record and Chronicle.

Railway managers are continually harping upon drastic state legislation, adverse public sentiment and big damage awards by juries, and all the time they are inviting just such procedure.

When the average man has any dealings with the railway company operating in his vicinity he is treated with suspicion, and if he has claims pending for damages from any cause he is hardly ever the recipient of even common civility. It is all right for the railways to destroy and ruin this man's property, and it is criminal almost for him to seek redress.

It is constant knowledge of these things, coupled with the interminable delays in adjusting such things that keeps the mind of the public in an evil condition when it contemplates the average railway.

The best thing that railway managers can do in dealing with the public is to just simply come down off the high horses and get on a man to man plane. The average citizen is fully aware of the fact that railway managers and all railway employees and subordinates are only human. It does no good but infinite harm to spread on the red tape and treat patrons like they were criminals. The harm comes too often, in the verdicts that are rendered against the railways in the courts of the country. When a man is carrying a feeling of injustice in his own heart toward the railways he is very apt to catch the ends of justice as far as possible in the direction of some other mere man who has also been the recipient of injustice at the hands of the offending corporation. The thing for the railways of this country to do is to get on closer terms with the people. They cannot do this by employing ambassadors like Joseph D. Safer, but by getting down to the common level and treating all men just like they were recognized as humans. —Weatherford Herald.

Beyond Their Reach.

Sherman's march through Georgia to the sea has become mere history now, and the sting of bitterness has faded out from those little personal episodes which our mothers and grandmothers used to relate with so much feeling. Yet the flavor of humor in some of the stories can never be wholly lost.

In our own family, they tell to this day how an "uncle" of mine, then a quaint child of 5 years, solved the problem of the household migration to some safe spot when the invading army was known to be marching down toward the beautiful plantation home.

A hasty and anxious council of women, boys and decrepit gray heads had been called in grandmother's big sitting room. Immediate flight was to be made by the helpless group; but the burning question was—whither? Place after place was proposed, and rejected. Aunt Kate's was too far; they could never reach it with their insufficient teams. Cousin Dora's was too near—the "Tankee" soldiers might reach out-long arms and capture all together. Grandmama's was in the possible line of march. And so it went with every place proposed.

When finally a moment of despairing silence had settled upon the little group, the piping of a small voice was heard, that of the curly-headed boy, the pet of all, who had crept in, unnoticed, and listened to the anxious counseling. He was saying with such an air of absolute decision as encouraged everybody present:

"Let's all go to God's—they won't be no Yankees there!"—Brooklyn Life.

Wilbur Bowser, living near Pittsburg, has constructed a frame house, built in sections, which he has moved in a freight car with all his household goods to Wyoming, where he has acquired a section of 10 acres of land. Even his cattle were taken along.

A Costly Campaign.

Memphis Commercial Appeal. They have a law in Georgia now that requires every candidate to file a schedule of his expenses in running for a nomination or an office. A candidate in the recent primaries, therefore, publishes the following list of his expenditures:

"Lost four months and 23 days campaigning; 1349 hours thinking about the election; 5 acres of cotton; 23 acres of corn; a whole sweet potato crop; 4 sheep; 5 goats and 1 beef given to a barbecue; 2 front teeth and a considerable quantity of hair in a personal skirmish; gave 97 pieces of tobacco; 7 Sunday school books; 2 pairs of suspenders, 4 calico dresses, 7 dolls and 13 baby rattles.

"Told 2839 lies; shook hands 23,473 times; talked enough to have made in print 1000 large volumes size of patent office reports; kissed 126 babies; kindled 14 kitchen fires; cut 3 cords of wood; pulled 474 bundles of fodder; picked 774 pounds of cotton; helped pull 7 loads of corn; dug 14 bushels of potatoes; tated 27 baskets of winter-potatoes; put up 7 stoves; was dog-bit 4 times; watch broken by a baby, cost $3 to have repaired.

"Loaded out 3 barrels of flour, 50 pounds of meal, 150 pounds of bacon, 37 pounds of butter, 12 dozen eggs, 3 umbrellas, 13 lead pencils, 1 Bible dictionary, 1 mow blade, 2 hoes, 1 overcoat, 5 boxes paper collars, one of which have been returned.

"Called my opponent a perambulating liar—doctor's bill, $10. Had five arguments with my wife—result: One flower vase smashed, 1 broom handle broken, 1 dish of hash knocked off the table, 1 shirt-bosom ruined, 2 handfuls of whiskers pulled out, 10 cents worth of sticking plaster bought, besides spending $1768."

This is the doctrine of publicity vindicated in the most ample manner.

GLOBE TROTTER'S VIEW OF WASTFUL AMERICANS

A "globe trotter" is given credit for these remarks:

"Well, I've been pretty much over the world in my time, and I've seen quite a bit. But I know I shall astonish you when I say that the thing that has impressed me most is the economy of food abroad and the waste of food at home. Understand all this statement implies. Absolutely nothing is thrown away or wasted in continental Europe. And the economy of food is more marked in China, Japan and the Asiatic countries. There is no doubt in my mind but that we in the United States waste more food in a year than is consumed in France in the same time. What a single New York servant girl slams into the garbage barrel every week would support a dozen Chinese families. And yet our people are always complaining of hard times, and we are always making wry faces about getting along in the world. This waste begins at the very foundations of our society and business and runs all the way up. The American 'farmer' is a man who has burned up great tracts of valuable timber, worth five times the land on which it grew, to raise grain, to burn for firewood. That land today is but half tilled, taking the fields of Germany and other European countries into the comparison. Until very recently all the refuse about mills and factories was destroyed; now many of them turn their slabs into furniture and their sawdust into fuel. Again, as to food. Anybody who has traveled much and knows what sort of food one gets in the South and West—anywhere outside of the big eastern cities—will appreciate it when I say that at least one-half of the food is wasted. This partly through bad cookery and partly through mere wasteful management. All food not assimilated is wasted—worse than wasted, for it wears the system out to no purpose. The common hotel and family cookery makes assimilation practically impossible. So much for what is eaten. That which is actually thrown away would feed millions. If it could be diverted into the proper channels, it would make human suffering from want of food impossible in this country. More—the waste would feed the indigent hungry of the world! There is something actually criminal in all this. But I presume it can't be helped until the American nature shall have undergone a change."

When something of real value is advertised—something unusual—you will not be the only one to see the ad., or to investigate the offer.

REAL SERVICE TO YOU

IF, BY some persistency in giving advice, this newspaper can convince every merchant of the wisdom of telling you all of his store-news that is important—of using enough space in which to do it, and of telling as much of his store-news in every issue as you would be interested in knowing—and—

If, at the risk of over-iteration, this newspaper should convince you that this same store-news is of real, live, palpitating importance to you, as fully worthy of your attention as politics, or base ball, or Crowned Heads, or elopements, murders, riots, fashions or functions of the rich—and—

If it should follow that the merchants should prosper in exact ratio to their energy in advertising and that you should thrive in proportion to your intelligence in spending your income—then this newspaper will feel that it has accomplished so real a public service that this city will be a better place in which to live and to do business

YOU COULDN'T BE FOUND ANY OTHER WAY

So the man concluded to advertise for you. He had hoped you would happen to come around to see him of your own accord—or, that somebody would tell you about what he has to tell you—or, that necessity would drive you to search for him.

But, you didn't come—you didn't "happen" to hear, or to see. His message for you wasn't delivered. His offer—the offer that is really more to your liking and to your interest than any you've had for months—is, at last (as it should have been at first) put into the form of an ad., and awaits you in these columns. J. W. Herron, a prosperous farmer from near Byers, was in the city today on his return from Hobart, Oklahoma, where he had been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Williams of Connecticut and Mr. Seeley Conover of Amsterdam, N. Y., are expected to arrive here tonight. They will spend the winter with Mr. W. D. Conover and Mrs. M. E. Carey.

Mrs. Virginia Jett of Frankfort, Kentucky, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William McGregor of this city, left this afternoon for Holliday to visit relatives. She will also visit relatives at Abilene, Fort Worth and Dallas before returning home.

A large number of friends of the late Milton Terhune, including his associates in the First National bank of this city, where he held the position of assistant cashier, went up to Iowa Park yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral. The funeral is said to have been the most largely attended of any ever held in Iowa Park.

Miss Walker Entertains.
The Wednesday Night Forty-Two Club spent a most delightful evening with Miss Dot Walker this week at her home on Scott avenue. Lunch was served during the evening and after the games the guests were treated to a most excellent salad course. At a late hour the merry party broke up, wishing Miss Walker many happy returns of the evening to meet with Miss Anderson next week.

Twenty-Eight Bales From 30 Acres.
J. J. Bates, living on Stearns & Elliott's farm of 160 acres 1 1/2 miles northwest of Wichita Falls, reports that he is getting a yield of twenty-eight bales from thirty acres of cotton. The seed, he says was a mixture and not as good as he wanted, nor up to the average.

Mr. R. E. Huff has resigned as president of the First National bank and is succeeded by Mr. C. B. McHugh. Geo. E. McHugh has been elected vice president, with E. H. Archer remaining as cashier. Frederick Leader.

New Century Club.

An outlook might have presumed that our club had become politically inclined by the animated discussions so freely indulged in. At our last meeting our program called for current matter, and while our ideals are pointing to the highest marks, we naturally had an eye on the two men who had just finished the bloodless fight on life's arena, and while all our women wore signs of a sleepless night of watching, a smile of resignation akin to one of victory told the tale of good fellowship—whose key to the New Century's door is kept neatly polished by a little gentile called love.

Mrs. Tom Reese gave a beautiful character sketch of Mrs. W. J. Bryan, bringing in many little details of her courtship, her intellectual attainments, as well as her domestic accomplishments.

Our hostess, Mrs. Campbell, had just returned from our State fair, and while we partook of her kind hospitality she gave us a minute description of the educated "flea," with many points from the demonstration of that dreaded plague—tuberculosis. XXX.

The Largest Shop Force.
The Denver road is now working the largest shop force in its history at Childress. Monday of this week 520 men were at work in the mechanical departments. This does not include yard men, office men, foremen, trainmen or engineers. The total number of railroad men in Childress is about 800. One can readily see by these figures that Childress has stepped forward as one of the best shop towns in the State or the Southwest. It is not likely that the present shop force will be cut, as the company has a great deal of repair work on hand and especially so in the car department. New men are being given employment every day.—Childress Index.
