HEAVY SNOWFALL IN THE PANHANDLE

MONTH OF MARCH GOES OUT AF-TER ITS PROVERBIAL
FASHION.

FALL HEAVIEST OF YEAR

Ten Inches Reported at Childress.
Snow at Amarillo Prevents Bryan Demonstration.

The month of March came in like a goat with chin whiskers and is going out like the proverbial roaring lion.
Reports from along the Fort Worth & Denver received this morning indicate that snow is falling all the way from Amarillo to the Wichita country line.

About Amarillo the snow in some places is a foot deep. All of the Panhandle has been covered by rain and snow during the past twenty-four hours and the precipitation has been the heaviest during the past five months. The temperature took a decided drop in Wichita Falls and a cold rain fell intermittently during the morning.

The weather forecast indicates a lower temperature tonight which may be followed by rain tomorrow.

fall today is the heaviest of the year.

of ten inches and is still falling. Mat-

Culberson's View of Taft's Policy.
Washington, D. C., Mar. 30.—In regard to the impression that has gained currency in the South that President Taft is going to turn to Southern Senators in the matter of making appointments in the South, Senator Culberson said today:

"I have received a number of letters in the past few days from Texas which indicate that there is a misapprehension as to what President Taft will probably do with reference to appointments in the Southern States. From the letters it appears that the idea prevails that what is known as the reference system in the South will be abolished and that Southern Senators will be consulted with reference to all appointments in those States.

"It may be that the reference system will be abolished. So far as I have any information, however, President Taft does not expect that Southern Democratic senators will interest themselves actively in contests for appointments to political offices in these States. My opinion is that generally he will consult the republican political organizations in these States with reference to such appointments, as an original matter, and that he does not expect Southern Senators to take the initiative in making recommendations for these appointments. I believe he will in exceptional and emergency cases consult Southern Senators, but I do not think he expects to cast upon them the responsibility of taking part in each contest for appointment to political offices."

appointed to look after the various details.

Mrs. Bruce Smith were appointed a committee to district the city and appoint additional ladies to the committee to solicit eatables for the dinner.

LOOK AFTER NECESSARY UTENSILS; MRS. J. W. LEE AND MRS. M. M. ADDICKES WILL ARRANGE FOR DISHES; MRS. FRANK KELL AND MRS. W. F. JOURDAN THE TABLES AND MRS. R. M. MOORE AND MRS. WYATT THE MAKING OF COFFEE.

Co. will donate ice cream for the oc-day were Mrs. J. A. Richolt, Mrs. B. J.

Bean, Mrs. J. A. Kemp, Mrs. Frank Kell, Mrs. H. M. Moore, Mrs. J. T. A.

Mrs. Richolt presided over the meeting and Mrs. Goraline acted as secretary.

The meeting was characterized by intense interest in the civic effort of the citizens of Wichita Falls and the interest manifested is indicative of the success of their plans.

The committee in charge of the solicitation of eatables reported a completed list of their committee today.
Those added are Mrs. V. E. Stampfli, Mrs. P. C. Maricle, Mrs. J. F. Elliott,

ner, Mrs. M. M. Addickes, Mrs. Wiley Blair, Mrs. Mina Butler, Mrs. T. M.
Smyre, Mrs. R. E. Huff and Mrs. Ralph Robertson.

These ladies will be notified by the districting committee what territory they have been assigned to and the particulars of their work. Contrary to the general timidity of ladies to solicit, an occasion like this should remove any inclination to reject the appointment, inasmuch as the civic spirit of the entire city has been aroused and all are gladly co-operating in the work.
The prominent part many of the ladies and business men of Wichita Falls are taking in other leading movements is all the more reason that they should lead in this and in doing so they will spur all classes on to a greater pride in civic improvements.

WHERE SHALL WE BUILD HIGH SCHOOL?

SCHOOL BOARD ASKS ADVICE OF PATRONS ON IMPORTANT MATTER.

QUESTION IS URGENT ONE

Increasing Scholastic Population May Make Two Buildings a Necessity.

Editor Times:—
The school board at their meeting on yesterday instructed me to submit through the columns of your paper for the earnest consideration of the people some things that we deem important in reference to the public schools for another year.

By a special act of the legislature, just passed, an independent district is organized according to the metes and bounds of the old original district. All past acts are validated and we are now on solid ground and ready to look to the future.

The time has come when we need and must have a modern high school building in this city. We want a building centrally located, large enough to meet our requirements for the future and one that will be a credit to the community. Where will we build it is the question. Some think our present Tenth street grounds the proper place, while others say this is too near the business district and that the ground is no large enough. The size of this property is 150 feet square. Shall we sell this property and purchase ground somewhere else? Shall we build on the ground where the Tenth street school now stands, or shall we use the property we now have, as we are at present and buy a new location outright for the high school? Is there any one who is willing to trade good property well located and of suitable size for our Tenth street grounds?

Our schools are very much overcrowded now and if the scholastic census shows the increase that we think it will we may need two buildings next year. If the high school building is placed on the Tenth street grounds, lots could be bought elsewhere and the building that is now there moved on the same and used as a ward school.
And again, the brick building at Thirteenth street needs considerable overhauling. It needs new floors in some rooms and metal ceilings and new furniture in others, besides other repairs. It will take considerable money to do all these things. If a new location is purchased for the high school, it will be necessary, we think, to issue bonds for $50,000 or $60,000 to properly do all the work required.

There is no time to lose and if new buildings are to be erected in time for next year (and we are bound to have at least one) we must get to work at once.

The present school board, and I am sure their successors who are to be elected on April 6th, would like to have suggestions and advice on all these matters from the people of the district. These are problems that are worthy of the careful consideration of every citizen. We are all vitally interested in good schools and to meet conditions we must act now.

We earnestly ask every patron of the schools to give us their views through the press or otherwise on these matters as we are anxious to meet the wishes of the people of the district. There is no time to lose? What shall we do?
Where shall we build and equip the high school? Very truly,

DISCUSS GUARANTY BILL

Likely That Measure Will Pass in the House Today—Opposition in the Senate.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., Mar. 31.—The bank deposit guaranty bill was taken up in the house this morning and Jenkins spoke in its favor and opposed Nickel's substitute. The former measure, which was introduced by Cureton and known as the administration bill, will pass the house with but little if any changes, were the indications today. When it reaches the senate it will meet a stum-prepared by Senter and which is regarded with favor.

bills to establish experimental stations in the twenty-seventh and thirty-first holding a two-months racing meet during the fall months. Already promises have been received for approximately 300 horses whose owners will place them on the turf in the entire series of race meets, and the local manager, F. M. Patterson, who is an ex-today that fully 500 of the best horses in the South will participate. Eleven jockeys from Los Angeles, Cal., have already signed agreements to ride the

POPULAR FALLACIES EXPLODED.

Those Relating to the Bible are the Most Prevalent.

Weatherford Herald.
Of popular fallacies those relating to the Bible are perhaps the most widely current. It is commonly stated that after the flood Noah's Ark rested on Mount Ararat. But what the Bible says in the Book of Genesis is that it rested "on the mountains of Ararat." Ararat being the name of a district which included the elevation on which the ark came to rest. This is not quite so bad as the man who said that he was glad he had gone to church on a certain Sunday, for he learned that Sodom and Gomorrah were cities and he had always supposed they were man and wife.

It is a popular belief that the fruit which Eve and Adam ate in the garden "eastward in Eden" was an apple, but there is no authority for this. It is simply called the fruit of the tree of Knowledge of good and evil: "And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her: and he did eat." The fallacy that the fruit was an apple has been carried so far that the legend seems that the "apple" stuck in Adam's throat; hence the name "Adam's Apple" for the thyroid cartilage of the larynx, which is more prominent in a man's throat than in a woman's.

So also it is a fallacy that our first parents were punished by being excluded from the garden of Eden for eating the forbidden fruit. Several punishments were imposed on both of them for disobedience of the command of the Lord God, but the reason for their exclusion is as follows: "And the Lord God said, 'Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil; and, now lest he put his hand and take also of the tree of life and eat and live forever,' therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden to till the ground from which he was taken." Another popular misconception in regard to the human race, which has grown up from the book of Genesis, is that man has one less rib than a woman, based on the account that the Lord God took a rib from Adam while he slept. "And of the rib which the Lord God had taken from made, made he woman, and brought her unto the man." But the examination of the skeletons of both sexes show the same number of ribs in each.

There are several popular quotations almost invariably attributed to the Bible. "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" is from Sterne's "Sentimental Journey to Italy." In the midst of life we are in death" is in the burial service and came originally from Luther. "The merciful man is merciful to his beast" is the popular corruption of "A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast," as found in Proverbs. "Money is the root of all evil" is twisted from St. Paul's utterance, "The love of money is the root of all evil." "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" instead of being in the Bible, was used by John Wesley in a sermon on dress. "Little children, love one another," is not found in the Bible, but is attributed by Eusebius to St. John in his old age.

The name of the rich man in the parable of the rich man and Lazarus is popularly supposed to be Dives and it is frequently so used, but the word Dives is not found in the English version of the gospel of St. Luke, in which the parable appears. The "certain rich man," appears in the vulgate, and came to be used on paintings of the scenes in mediæval times, the Latin inscription frequently being "Dives et Lazarus," but had the order of the words been reversed it would have been "Lazarus et Dives," the latter word not being capitalized. The common quotation, "The tongue is an unruly member," as it appears in the epistle of St. James is, "The tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil." The saying "The truth is mighty and will prevail," as it appears in the first book of Edras in the Apocrypha, reads "Great is truth and mighty above all things."

The phrase in II Corinthians "Not to think of men above that which is written" is usually quoted "To be wise above that which is written."

LONG DELAYED PROPOSAL

How it Waited Many Years in an Old Desk.

One of the longest delayed proposals on record is related in the Baltimore American of a shy young subaltern who was ordered away to the wars. Not daring to speak, he sent a nosegay of yellow roses to the girl he loved, with a little note inside begging her, if she returned his love, to wear one of the flowers in her breast that night at the ball. She appeared without it and he went away broken-hearted.

Years afterward, when he was a lame old general, he again met his old love, now a white-haired widow. One day his old sweet heart gently asked him why he had never married. "Madam, you ought to know best. If you had not refused to answer that note in the bouquet of yellow roses I might have been a happier man." "The note in the bouquet?" she repeated, growing pale.

She opened an old cabinet and took out from a drawer a shriveled bouquet of what had been yellow roses, among whose leafless stalks lurked a scrap of paper yellow with age. "See! I never had your note," she said, holding the bouquet up. "If I had I would not have answered it as you fancied." "Then answer it now," said the gallant old soldier. And the long delayed proposal was accepted.

is Harriman After the Rock Island? Is the Wizard of Wall street about to acquire control of the Rock Island Frisco system, with the view of connecting by this means his Southern Pacific and Union Pacific?

Texas railroad officials—not merely employees, but men in authority—admit that to hear of Harriman's purchase of the Moore interests would not be a surprise to them.

The acquisition of either or both of these lines would give the Harriman interests a connecting link between the Union Pacific in Missouri and Kansas and the Southern Pacific in Texas. Fort Worth and Denison would be the points of contact.

For some time rumors of Southern Pacific extensions from Texas into Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri have been afloat. Harriman, it is reported, is concentrating building material at one or two points on his Union Pacific line to start a branch to Denison or Fort Worth to connect with the Houston and Texas Central and therefore give them a north and south line through the west.

It is pointed out that the purchase of the Frisco or the Rock Island would obviate the necessity of building. Either of them would supply the link between his Southern Pacific and his Union Pacific.

This would also put Harriman in a position to handle the heavy seaboard freight business which is routed via New York and Galveston to Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. He would also secure a practically parallel line to Hill in the Southwest.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity
Tonight and Thursday, unsettled weather. Rain tonight or Thursday. Colder tonight.

The appointment by Governor Campbell of ex-Senator Horace Chilton to the vacancy on the railway commission should receive the endorsement of a great majority of the people of Texas, including those who have railway interests. He is an able man, and a better selection by Governor Campbell, the whole State to pick from, would have been difficult. Mr. Chilton is now enjoying a lucrative law practice at Dallas, but has decided to accept the appointment, which was tendered unsought by him.

Poisoning Prairie Dogs.
It is prairie dog poisoning time and for the benefit of ranchmen who do not want to hire the work done, The Stockman-Journal reprints two of the methods used in getting rid of the pest, reserving, however, any guarantee that the dogs will eat poison after it has been prepared.

Method No. 1—Purchase a sufficient quantity of carbon bisulphide (liquid) and a roll of absorbent cotton. Pour a little of the liquid on a small ball of cotton and drop the latter down the mouth of each dog burrow. This is quicker and quite as effective as the usual way of using two pans, one small and another large. The evaporated gas from the liquid will not come up out of the hole, but will descend, being heavier than air, until it suffocates the dog inside the burrow.

Method No. 2—Make a thin syrup of sugar and water and add, say, 25 cents worth of strychnine to each half gallon. When thoroughly mixed pour while hot into a tin bucket three quarters full of wheat or corn, stirring with a stick thoroughly until every grain has been coated with the syrup. When the syrup cools scatter a few of the grains about each hole. Instead of this the strychnine crystals may be placed in slices of potatoes or turnips.

Some prefer cyanide of potassium as a poison, instead of strychnine. After the grass has begun to get green practically no poison will be effective, as the dogs seem to prefer eating grass roots to anything else, and not even branched peaches or cantaloupe pickles will tempt them to leave their steady diet.

The carbon bisulphide plan is independent of the prairie dog's appetite and the deadly gas keeps after him until it gets him if he happens to be at home.—Texas Stockman-Journal.

Byers Concert Band.
The Byers Cornet Band has secured the services of J. W. Smathers, an excellent band master, and are now progressing nicely under his construction. The members of the band are determined and are working every night with great zeal. Below we give a list of members with their assigned parts:
E. P. Haney, president, clarinet; T. H. Harrison, secretary and treasurer, drum; W. J. Moore, tuba; Lofton Heriva, cornet; A. J. Moore, cornet; Claud Cummings, cornet; Chas. Parker, cornet; Fred Kestley, baritone; Clyde Haney, slide trombone; Luther Brannan, melophone; Lester Haney, snare drum; Sam Roberts, melophone; Herod Simpson, melophone.—Byers Searchlight.

The legislature costs the people about $200 per hour. The other day each house spent about $100 listening to the actor, Louis Mann, who told them Texas men were courteous to women and then told them "a couple of funny stories." We don't know what the solons thought about the stories, but there was certainly no news in the assertion that Texas men are courteous to women. Oddly enough, Mr. Mann is starring in the play entitled "The Man Who Stood Still."

T. S. McDOWELL TRANSFERRED.

Change Made in Katy Operating Department Temporarily.
On account of the health of T. S. McDowell, general superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, J. W. Walton, superintendent of transportation, will assume the title of acting general superintendent and Mr. McDowell will become acting superintendent of transportation. This change becomes effective April 1st, according to an official announcement made by A. D. Bethard, assistant general manager, and approved by A. A. Allen, vice president and general manager.
It will be remembered that Mr. McDowell submitted to an operation several months ago, and for a time his condition was considered serious. Lately he has been much improved, but unable for the present to make long inspection tours and subject himself to the strenuous duties of a general superintendent. It has been decided that Mr. McDowell conduct the office of superintendent of transportation, with headquarters at Denison, as this position will not require him to take trips over the line.—Dallas News.

The publisher of a newspaper has one thing to sell and one thing to rent. He has his newspaper to sell and the space in his columns to rent. Can anyone inform us why he should be expected to give away either the one or the other? He can if he chooses and he does as a matter of fact, furnish a great deal of space rent free. But it does not follow that he should be expected to do so. It ought to be recognized as a contribution, exactly as would be the giving away of sugar or coffee by a grocer. But, strange to say, it is not looked upon in that light; and yet everybody knows that the existence of a newspaper depends upon the rent of its space and the sale of the paper, just the same as a merchant's success depends on selling his goods instead of giving them away.—Bonham Favorite.

The Circle A of the Methodist church will serve a chicken pie dinner at the Jordan corner the day Bryan lectures at the opera house, Thursday, April 1st.

Remember that the 10th is the last day of grace to pay your water and light rentals. 277-6t

That's why we have it always in stock. We like to have uncommon things to please our customers and we make a specialty of good butter.
The chief difference in butter is care in milking, care in making, and care after it is made. We make a point of knowing about our butter from the cow to us—and then caring for it so you get it fresh and pure. This doesn't mean our butter is "expensive"—only that it's good and costs no more than any other really good butter.

Rich and Miserable.

Those who lack wealth do not take much stock in the time-worn phrase that 'riches cannot buy happiness.' We would all prefer to try the experiment before accepting the statement as a fact, and deep down in our hearts the majority of us think that we, at least, could buy happiness if we had the price.

But in the absence of personal experience, the testimony of those who have great wealth and are still miserable must be accepted as good and sufficient evidence that wealth and happiness are not closely allied.

Mrs. Hetty Green, worth $50,000,000, declares: 'I am the loneliest woman in the world.'

There is a depth of pathos in this saying of the richest woman in the world which makes it almost tragic. Her children have left her for homes of their own, her only friend is the janitor who keeps her lodgings, and her only interest in life is her money. She is the most remarkable example of a miser on record. Money has been everything to her, and in her old age it has left her desolate. Had she had the wisdom to live as Helen Gould is doing, she would have no need to make the pathetic complaint that she is the loneliest woman in the world.

In truth, money brings no measure of joy. Often it is a mockery, always it is disappointing, never is it satisfying.—Jonesboro (Ark) Daily News.

STYLISH SPRING SUITS WORSTEDS AND LINENS

The new shades of light weight worsteds in Spring suits are extremely delicate and very pleasing to even the most critical.

They are especially well suited to the prevailing styles of tailoring and makes it possible for even the lighter and darker complexions and slight and plump figures to secure not only a highly attractive and becoming shade but also a design that is most becoming.

The lines will be fully as popular too and the new weaves are going to induce many women who have never used linens before to use them this Spring and Summer.

We want you to call and see our Spring suit display for we have by all odds the largest most complete and—better than that—the most attractive line of suits at moderate prices while we also have the more expensive weaves also.

Better call soon for the extremely attractive display is producing rapid sales even now, and before long the selection will be broken.

JUDGE RYE'S BOOK WILL SOON BE READY FOR THE PRESS.

After several unavoidable delays, Judge Edgar Rye has received the first 115 page proofs of his book, 'The Quirt and the Spur,' and the publishers announce that the remaining pages will be mailed as fast as the composition is put in type.

When issued in book form there will be 350 reading pages and eleven illustrations.

To give some idea of the incidents and scenes that will appear in the narratives set forth in the volume, the Times reproduces the first paragraph of the opening chapter:

The Tenderfoot.

Tread cautiously as you advance West; He who observes most will fare best. Far out into this vast expanse of country known as Northwest Texas, in the early days of the frontier, when unrestrained nature played with the ambitions and passions of men—far out beyond the confines of civilization—beyond the reach of the strong arm of the law—beyond the Christianizing influences of the church—beyond the gentle touch of a woman's hand—far out where daring men took possession of the hunting grounds of the Indian and killed herds of buffalo to make a small profit in pelts, leaving the carcasses to rot and bones to bleach on the prairies—far out where cattlemen disputed over the possession of mavericks, and the branding iron was the only evidence of ownership—far out where a cool head backed the deadly six-shooter, and the man behind the gun, with a steady aim and a quick trigger, won out in the game where life was staked upon the issue—far out where the distant landscape melted into the blue horizon, and a beautiful mirage was painted on the sky line—far out where the weary, thirsty traveler camped over night near a deep water hole, while near by in the green valley a herd of wild horses grazed unrestrained by man's authority—far out where the coyote wolves yelped in unison as they chased a jack rabbit in a circle of death, then fought over his remains in a bloody feast—far out where the gray lobo wail and the mountain lion stalked their prey, killed and gorged their fill until the light in the East warned them to seek cover in their mountain lairs—far out where bands of red warriors raided the lonely ranch houses, killing, burning and pillaging, leaving a trail of blood and ashes behind them as a sad warning to the white man to beware of the Indian's revenge—far out into this wonderful country of great possibilities, where the sun looked down upon a scene of rare beauty, brilliant, gorgeous and fascinating, appealing to sentiment, awakening love of romance and sending man's thoughts soaring on wings of his imagination—far out into this storehouse of nature, where the luxuriant mesquite grass, like an emerald carpet of velvet, covered the hills and valleys, furnishing unlimited pasture for the great herds of cattle turned loose on the open range—far out where the McKinzie trail crossed the Clear Fork of the Brazos river, near the confluence of Collins creek, Maj. George H. Thomas established an army post on the top of a low, flat hill, and named it Fort Griffin.

MAKE NEW SCHEDULE.

Some "Windies."
 Yes, the wind was pretty disagreeable, but it did not blow trains from the track, as it did on the Rock Island in Kansas, nor do the destruction in property and life it did in several counties below the cross timbers—Clarendon Chronicle.

Speaking of hard winds brings to mind an incident which is said to have happened on the Orient railroad last week, which is vouched for by a drummer travelling out of this city who is also a Sunday school teacher. He was a passenger on a mixed or local freight train on that road which was making its way into Chillicothe, and among the string of box cars were two which were very old, but before they reached Chillicothe these two cars were made to look more like flat cars than anything else. The high wind had literally stripped them of tops, sides and ends, and the prairie between the starting and stopping point was literally sprinkled with material out of which box cars are made. These March winds are terrible, and there is no use denying the fact.

Some Startling Figures.

Talking about fires, fire protection and the conservation of the timber supply, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram gives some startling figures.
 "How can we conserve the timber that is growing as long as we burn up annually half the timber that is cut and put into buildings? The annual fire loss in the United States is such as to astonish even those who realize that the waste in this direction is heavy. In 1908 losses by fire amounted to $2.72 per capita. We might be disposed to consider this nothing extraordinary, but when compared with losses from the same cause it shows an almost criminal carelessness in our people as a nation, or a glaring deficiency of preventive caution in the large cities, which, of course, contribute the major part of the grand total of destruction. In 1905 the fire losses per capita in France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria and Denmark combined were only 33 cents. In Germany, this item of waste sometimes runs as low as 12 cents per capita. Get this: Some striking figures bearing on this subject are presented by an insurance expert in the Popular Science Monthly. According to his statistics, the new buildings erected, together with improvements and repairs to old ones in the United States during the year 1908 cost $510,000,000, while buildings destroyed by fire in the same period were valued at $218,000,000. The maintenance of fire departments, high-pressure apparatus, etc., for the year cost $300,000,000. In the country at large during the month of January, 1908, the outlay for new buildings and improvements on old ones amounted to $16,000,000, while the losses on buildings destroyed by fire aggregated more than $4,000,000. There were, in round numbers, 14,000 fires in the city of New York in the year 1908, making a loss of $7,250,000; while the maintenance of the fire department cost $7,000,000. In St. Louis there were 3,200 fires, involving losses of $1,298,000, and the cost of the fire department was $1,018,000. To compare these with foreign conditions we may take the city of Rome, which, with a population approximately that of St. Louis, had 270 fires in 1908, with a total loss of $56,000, and a charge of only $50,000 for the fire department. These figures indicate that a government year book treating of mice in the matches and hasty cooks in conjunction with the kerosene can might possibly have done more substantial good than Mr. Roosevelt's uplift commission. What makes the insurance expert's figures more startling is the fact that they are probably too small rather than excessive, for it is safe to say that even in this day of telegraphs and newspapers there are thousands of small fires in isolated places that are never published or only locally published, and are, therefore, extra of the damaging statistics which prove us the most wasteful among civilized nations. The national conservation crusade that is throwing its protecting arms around every green and growing thing could possibly check forest destruction by printing and circulating repeated, precautionary advice and instructions for guarding against fires."
