WOULD INCREASE THE DIRECTORY

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS MAY NUMBER FIFTEEN INSTEAD OF ONLY TEN.

TO COME UP THURSDAY

Plan to Secure More General Representation on Board Will Be Up to Members.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce membership on Thursday night, a plan to increase the number of directors from ten to fifteen will come up for consideration. It has been felt for some time that the present arrangement did not permit of representation on the board of the different interests of the city and there is little doubt that the idea of five more directors will meet with favor. The additional five will include a merchant or two, at least one farmer, and some other interests.

This matter was brought up at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning and received the endorsement of those present, all saying the five more would be more than welcome if they would only attend the directors' meetings.

The West Texas normal and the packing house plans were under discussion by the directors this morning and the plans for securing both of these desirable institutions, if a packing house can be compared to a normal as an institution, were formulated. Without going into details as to the methods of procedure, it is enough to say that Wichita Falls will be in at the finish for both.

The shoe factory proposition recently received did not meet with the directors' favor, as it wanted them to put up more than half the money needed for the factory, whereas one-third is considered a reasonable proposition. A glove and overalls factory proposition was viewed with favor and Wichita stands a good chance to land an enterprise of this sort.

Myles O'Reilly appeared before the directors and urged them to keep the natural gas field from invasion by outsiders, but it was argued that this could hardly be done, on account of the amount of unoccupied land around Wichita Falls.

GOVERNOR CAN'T ESCHEW POLITICS

TALKS ABOUT SEVERAL THINGS IN ADDRESS BEFORE DALLAS PRESS CLUB.

LAUDS BANK GUARANTY

Criticizes Bond Feature, However. Usual Rap Taken at Those Commercial Secretaries.

Dallas, Tex., June 8.—It was hardly to be expected that Governor Campbell would eschew politics altogether in his address to the Dallas Press Club yesterday, and he didn't. It was his first public appearance since the legislature's adjournment and he just couldn't keep quiet about the Commercial Secretaries and the bank guaranty law. After remarking that he was glad there were no politicians present, he devoted his remarks very largely to political topics. He criticized the bond feature of the bank guaranty law and lauded the assessment plan highly.

J. H. Lowery, the sage of Honey Grove was present and the governor took occasion to explain, for his benefit that he hadn't said some of the things they said he said about the newspaper's right of contract.

The address was replete with good nature. He taffied the ladies present, handed out several bouquets to the Dallas newspaper bunch and made himself agreeable generally.

He goes from here to Mineral Wells for a short stay.

Parable of the Ten Virgins. (Matt. 25.)
Then shall the kingdom of heaven be like to ten virgins, who taking their lamps went out to meet the bridegroom and the bride. And five of them were foolish and five wise. But the five foolish took not oil with them. The bridegroom tarrying, they all slumbered and slept. At midnight there was a cry made: 'Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye forth to meet him.' Then all the virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. Then the foolish said to the wise: 'Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out.' The wise ones answered: 'Least perhaps there be not enough for us and for you, go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.'

Now, whilst they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage and the door was shut. At last came also the other virgins, saying: 'Lord, Lord, open to us.' But he answered, said: 'Amen, I say to you, I know you not.'

EXHIBIT IS NOW OPEN TO PUBLIC

TUBERCULOSIS DISPLAY ARRIVES AFTER DELAY AND OPENED THIS AFTERNOON.

IS WELL WORTH SEEING

Practically Every Phase of Situation is Portrayed and All Should Attend.

Two days late, but with not one whit of its interest and instruction lost in the interval, the Texas Tuberculosis Exhibit opened up at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will remain here for three days. The exhibit is directly underneath the new Elks' hall and the entrance is but a few feet up the alley between Indiana and Ohio avenues on Eighth street. Dr. Peck and Dudley Miller are in charge. The delay was caused by missing the train at Big Springs. Arriving this morning, it was quickly placed in order and thrown open at 2 o'clock.

There will be four lectures daily—at 10 a. m., 2, 4 and 8:30 p. m.—Dr. Peck will conduct these lectures.

Contrary to the opinion of many, there is nothing repulsive or sanguinary about the exhibit. While some phases of the situation may not seem particularly pleasant, it must be remembered that frankness pays in handling a subject of this kind.

Surrounding the upper part of the room's walls appear long posters. The first of these depicts a graveyard and the accompanying figures tell of a million and a half deaths annually from consumption in the entire world, one hundred and eighty thousand in this country and over ten thousand in New York State.

The second shows how the disease is spread; by association with tubercular patients who are careless in their habits and spit on the floor and otherwise cause the spread of the disease, is portrayed vividly and effectively.

The third shows the allies of consumption. The principal ones are intemperance, sleeping in closed rooms, overwork, smoke and dust, breathing with open mouth and others.

The methods of curing the disease are presented in the next poster, showing medical treatment, sunlight, fresh air, good food and rest.

The habits of a consumptive who has some regard for his fellow-creatures are depicted in the fifth poster, showing care in spitting, sleeping, eating and working.

Then there are numerous smaller posters. One shows the extent of the disease, telling of 5812 deaths in Texas from smallpox, this being one-third of last year as compared with twenty deaths from all causes. The nature of the disease is also shown, with a picture of the elongated, red-striped germ. How it may be communicated through a dirty clothes pressing clove or through a bakery is shown. The way in which flies and similar insects may spread the disease is also portrayed. As factors in the prevention of disease, there are shown fumigation, vacuum sweeping, exercise, screens fresh air and other things.

Wax fac-similes of parts of an infected body are shown and there are also exhibits in alcohol showing how fearful the disease may become. Miniature model houses and tents are also a part of the exhibit.
One can gain but a faulty idea of the exhibit by reading a description of it and it behooves every man, woman and child to see it for himself and not a one will go away without having learned something. Anyone failing to see it is neglecting his duty, not only to himself, but his fellow man.

COMMENCEMENT AT STATE UNIVERSITY

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN RECEIVE DIPLOMAS TODAY.

ADDRESS BY R. E. COFER

Leading Oration is By Gainesville Senator—Closing Festivities Held. Final Ball Tonight.

Austin, Tex., June 8.—One hundred and eighty-one young men and women of Texas, radiant with the happiness of work well done, yet half sad at the thought of the college pleasures left behind, this morning received their diplomas from the hands of President Mezes in the University Auditorium. The twenty-fifth commencement exercises were featured by the largest graduating class the university has yet had and an immense throng gathered in the auditorium to attend the ceremonies.

Of the graduates, one hundred and one were awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts, one the degree of Bachelor of Science, two the degree of Engineer of Mines, seven the degree of Electrical Engineer, fifty-four the degree of Bachelor of Laws, and ten the degree of Master of Arts. Eliminating duplicates, there are one hundred and eighty-eight graduates, fifty-seven of these being young women. There are no Wichitans among the graduates this year.

State Senator R. E. Cofer of Gainesville delivered the commencement address this morning, his speech being a masterly one.

The school year ends tonight with the closing function, the much advertised Final Ball. The grand march was led by W. Currie McCutcheon of Dallas with Miss Sallie Joe Nalle of Austin, there being over a hundred couples in line.

CAB CHARGES FIXED BY CITY ORDINANCE

The passage of the paving bond ordinance and of another ordinance, fixing cab rates in this city, were the only features of last night's session of the City Council. The latter ordinance was passed as a result of the recent action of the local livery stables in advancing the rates to fifty cents. Under the ordinance, they may charge fifty cents for any trip taking them beyond Brook street, and only twenty-five cents for trips on this side of that thoroughfare. This ordinance was the subject of quite an animated discussion before it was finally passed.

The claim of J. C. Ward, that he was being assessed for taxes already paid, was brought up, but action postponed. The request of Mr. Etheridge for a correction of the tax rolls listing his property was upon motion granted. Messrs. Mahaffey, McClellan and Crowell, electricians, filed their bonds, which were approved, and the usual bills ordered paid.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the issuance of the street paving bonds.

PLENTY OF STOCK CARS BUT NO MOTIVE POWER

Fort Worth, Tex., June 8.—Cattle suffering and dying on the ranges and in pens because the railroads failed to furnish motive power to move shipments was pictured by witnesses in the cattle rate hearing today before Master in Chancery Seddon.

A. L. Chesbir, inspector for the Cattle Raisers' Association at Pecos, was a star witness. He testified that the railroads furnished plenty of cars, but no engines to move them. He said that because of the drought this season the desire to ship was unusually urgent and that great loss had resulted from the failure of the railroads to furnish sufficient motive power.

Other witnesses today were John Moore, Z. E. Baldrige and A. M. White.

How to Prevent and How to Cure Consumption, Or Tuberculosis

TUBERCULOSIS is a COMMUNICABLE disease.

TUBERCULOSIS is a PREVENTABLE disease.

TUBERCULOSIS is a CURABLE disease.

INTERVIEW OF MUCH INTEREST

R. A. THOMPSON MAKES PREDICTION REGARDING THE NORTHWESTERN.

GOVERNOR'S VETO HURT

He Blames Campbell for Forcing Postponement of Extensions to Distant Points.

The following interview, published in yesterday's Dallas News under an Austin date line, is of more than passing interest as an outline of the prospective policies of the "Wichita Falls Route":

The Wichita Falls route, or system, contemplates broad expansion, according to R. A. Thompson, who was chief engineer of that group, and left it to become an attaché of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Thompson is here securing data for the Interstate Commerce Commission from the records of the Railroad Commission of Texas, of which he was once chief engineer. According to Mr. Thompson, the veto of the consolidation bill halted the Texas plan, but the company is active in its work in Oklahoma. The line now in operation from Wichita Falls to Frederick, Okla., fifty-one miles, is being pushed to Altus, twenty-seven miles further, and the deal has practically been closed for an extension from Altus to Elk City, sixty miles, and on which work will begin when Altus is reached. Extra attractive inducements have been offered for the extension. A further projection is beyond Elk City via Woodward to some point in Western Kansas, a total distance of about 250 miles from Wichita Falls and traversing one of the greatest grain sections of the world, besides intersecting numerous important lines, such as the Frisco, Rock Island, Santa Fe and others.

Mr. Thompson says enterprising citizens of Wichita Falls, who are owners of the railroad, propose to concentrate a great grain business into and through Wichita Falls, making it the grain market for Western Oklahoma and Kansas. Mr. Kell, general manager of the road, is one of the largest grain buyers in Texas and Oklahoma. The road has made favorable traffic agreements with its connections and is an unusual property in that its owners control the principal tonnage of the territory in which the road operates, thereby insuring it plenty of business.

According to Mr. Thompson, the Wichita Falls and Southern end of the system will be extended into South Texas as soon as favorable legislation is had. At present the road operates from Wichita Falls south to the coal fields on the Brazos at Newcastle, in Young county, and is to be extended to a connection with the Texas Central and Pacific at Cisco, and also to a connection with the Frisco and Santa Fe at Brownwood, which would give it a most favorable outlet to the Gulf for its immense grain tonnage from Northwest Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma. It would be able to make the very best traffic agreements with its Gulf connections.

A further plan, stated Mr. Thompson, is to continue the line south of Brownwood to a connection with the Houston and Texas Central at Llano, going via San Saba, and the logical destination would be San Antonio, with a line through unoccupied territory. The Llano line would put Colorado and Newcastle coal into the Llano iron fields on a short haul and furnish the needed fuel for the development of the great iron deposit.

Discussing the matter of the Texas situation, the engineer said: "The consolidation bill which passed the last legislature was vetoed, seriously interfering with the plans for Texas construction, for arrangements had been practically completed for financing the consolidated lines with a view of beginning work in Texas immediately. In fact, J. A. Kemp, president of the road, guaranteed the governor that if the consolidation bill was allowed to become a law he would construct not less than fifty miles within the succeeding twelve months, which meant the completion of the road to Cisco. The people in this part of the State were very much disappointed over the action of the governor in vetoing the bill, particularly at Cisco, Brownwood and Llano; for their chief hope for a direct north and south line, badly needed in this section of the State, lies in the Wichita Falls road."

Mr. Thompson spoke enthusiastically of the push and enterprise of the people of Wichita Falls and that section of Texas.

WEATHER FORECAST.
For Wichita Falls and vicinity
—Tonight and Wednesday, partly cloudy weather.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 8th, 1909.

"To arms, women!" is the new suffragette slogan. It would sound better coming from the men.—Bonham Favorite.

Judging from the way some of the Texas papers are crying over the expenditure of the Waters-Pierce money one would be led to think it was these newspapers' own funds. And from some there comes a tearing sob every time they think of the money that went to Brady.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

A Jacksboro man advertises that he will grind old-fashioned corn meal at his mill. This man will fill a long-felt want if he does. The meal we get nowadays is nothing more or less than pulverized starch. We would deprecate improved machinery, but have always thought the modern corn mill was overdoing the thing.—Mineral Wells Index.

In the twenty-sixth annual readjustment of salaries for Texas postmasters that of the Wichita Falls postmaster is raised from $2,500 per year to $2,600; Vernon from $2,100 to $2,200; Seymour from $1,700 to $1,800; Henrietta from $1,800 to $1,900; Graham from $1,700 to $1,800; Decatur from $1,800 to $1,900; Crowell from $1,100 to $1,200; Childress from $2,300 to $2,400; Amarillo from $2,800 to $3,000.

In the year 1895 Governor Culbertson took a firm stand to prevent the pulling off in Texas of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, and in order to do this called an extraordinary session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting a law against prize fighting. In the face of this law the press dispatches tell us of an affair pulled off at the State capital the other night which was witnessed by five officials of Travis county (including the sheriff, a police sergeant and three State Rangers). The result of the fight was that one of the contestants was knocked over the ropes in the eleventh round and died early the next morning from the effects of the terrific drubbing which he received in the prize ring within plain view of officers of the law, who certainly knew that the law was being violated. Under circumstances like that, should a county officer whose duty it is to see that our laws are enforced, be allowed to hold a commission as such?

Mr. J. L. Moore, Wichita's old reliable plumber, has sold his business to the Wichita Hardware Co., and has accepted a position in the plumbing department of that firm. 22-1tc

Grandfield Secures Good Officer.
R. T. Pickett, who for years has been a peace officer and night watchman in this city, has been appointed by the city council of Grandfield, Oklahoma, to the position of city marshal of that town. In addition to the marshal's job, Mr. Pickett has also been commissioned a deputy sheriff.
He will leave for Grandfield to accept his new position.
Before leaving the city Mr. Pickett called at the Times office and asked for space to express a word of thanks to his friends who have stood by him so nobly since his residence in this city, which dates back to 1882.
Mr. Pickett has been one of the most efficient peace officers the county and city has ever had, or ever will have, and the Times is glad to know that he has secured the position at Grandfield.

Wheat harvest is progressing nicely. Most every one will finish this week.
The Children's Day program that was given yesterday at Friberg was pronounced a decided success by all present.

The Clothes of a Gentleman

STYLE IS AN EASY MATTER TO the men and women of wealth, who in their leisure order it by the exercise of their good taste and open purses.

TO US—TO YOU—Who must spend at least the major portion of our time earning a living, it is a much more important matter. It is a genuine necessity that you should be a fashionably, if conservatively, dressed man, as men of the world view style.

KUPPENHEIMER'S have always taken the professional and business man's style requirements seriously. They meet them. For they show you clothes to fit the measure of each individual type of American man—in taste, in size, in pocketbook.

Just a Few Jars of Those Preserves Are Left

The price we made on those fine Heinz preserves are moving them fast and there are only a few jars left, but you will be in time to get one if you hurry, although we suggest that you phone your order to make sure.

We said in our last ad that we were making the price of 75c per jar to sell them for immediate use, as they would not keep well during the hot weather. That does not mean that they won't last for several weeks, but what we did mean was that they would not keep well if we carried them over till fall.

Remember, they are perfect in every way and the highest quality of preserves that are put up.

We have peach, strawberry, raspberry and cherry, the regular price was 90c and $1.00, but to close them out this week we make the price

75c per 3 lb. jar

TEXAS EDITORS WILL BE AT SPOKANE GATHERING.

Spokane, Wash., June 8.—When the officers and Eastern and Southern delegates of the National Editorial Association of the United States arrive in Spokane, June 17, on their way to attend the annual meeting, they will forget, for the two days at least, there are such things as blue pencils, scissors, pastepots and office cats, or worries of the "Constant Reader" type and the chase for elusive news items and snew-supplying ads. Even political affairs will be cut out.

The officers of the association, most of whom are expected to accompany the delegates, are: President, Henry Bronson Varner, Dispatch, Lexington, N. C.; First-Vice President, Will H. Mayes, Bulletin, Brownwood, Texas; Second Vice-President, A. Nevin Pomroy, Repository, Chambersburg, Pa.; Third Vice-President, R. E. Dowell, Advocate, Artesian, S. D.; Corresponding Secretary, W. F. Parott, Reporter, Waterloo, Iowa; Recording Secretary, J. W. Cockrum, Journal, Oakland City, Ind.; Treasurer, William A. Steele, Nome Daily News, Seattle; Poet Laureate, W. E. Pabor, Florida Agriculturist, Avon Park, Fla.; Flag Custodian, G. F. Lehmann, Herald, Hallettsville, Texas.

RICH RED BLOOD

Means Rosy Cheeks, Clear Complexion, Bright Eyes and Plenty of Energy.

What does rich, red blood mean? It means brains, vitality, ambition, hopefulness, persistency, and everything worth living for.

But you can't have rich, red blood if your digestion is imperfect; and your digestion is certainly imperfect if you have sour stomach, bad taste in mouth, lump of lead after eating, belching of gas and nervous unrest. So far reaching is the effect of indigestion, that many times the eyesight is affected.

If you have indigestion or any symptoms of stomach distress or agony, MATER-MAGNER DRUG CO. will sell you a mighty remedy for 50 cents, and guarantee it to cure or money back.

The remedy is called Mi-o-na. Its powerful, reconstructive action on the stomach is little short of marvelous. It tones up, strengthens and puts new-life and energy into the worn out stomach in a few days. It cures by removing the cause. If you are a sufferer, try a large 50 cent box. It's a small price to pay for banishing indigestion. Mi-o-na is sold by MATER-MAGNER DRUG CO. for 50 cents a box.

HYOMEI

Curec catarrh or money back. Just breathe it in. Complete outfit, including inhaler $1. Extra bottles 50c. Druggists.

"BOUND FOR TEXAS" IS MINNESOTANS' SLOGAN

Saint Paul, Minn., June 8.—"Bound for Texas"—this is the slogan of several hundred farm families that have rendezvoused in Saint Paul during the past sixty days for a pilgrimage to far-off Texas, and the number and quality of the farmers who have been interested in the far-off lands of that state is beginning to arouse considerable comment and activity among Minnesotans who have been brought face to face during the past year with the fact that although Minnesota has gained heavily in population by incomers from other States, it has also lost heavily to other states wide areas of fertile farm lands.

The Texas movement has several peculiar characteristics which differentiate it from movements during the past several years to other sections of the continent. Texas does not lie in the natural path of immigration from the northwestern states. In climate it is somewhat similar to Minnesota, but in many other important characteristics it is quite different. There was no interest in Texas in the farm districts of Minnesota until eighteen months ago, when land firms, many of them located in Saint Paul, became interested in Texas and began to promote the movement of able Minnesota farmers to that state.

The Texas movement is therefore the direct result of advertising and the success of advertising is best illustrated in the fact that a single train leaving Saint Paul within six weeks carried 160 families out of Minnesota to become settlers on the new lands in Texas. This is a fair example of Minnesota's contribution to the development of that state and could be duplicated perhaps not frequently in such marked fashion, in many other instances.

Texas has successfully appealed to older portions of Minnesota, which began to become important agriculturally as early as the years immediately preceding the Civil war. In these districts lands have become very valuable. The far communities have filled up until the soil is generally tilled. Families have increased and the grown sons and married daughters have found it impossible to secure adequate tracts adjacent to the family home and have been forced to consider locations elsewhere. With such a situation the appeals of other states having large areas of wild land, have fallen upon receptive minds and instances have multiplied themselves where father and sons and married daughters have decided to move in toto to districts where the old folks and the young folks can secure adjacent farms and start new. The sale of valuable Minnesota farm lands, this being true principally in the older districts of Minnesota, has netted comfortable sums, entirely sufficient for the purchase of large areas elsewhere, with a surplus left over in the bank.

Minnesota has an area of 56,000 square miles and offers tremendous opportunities for settlement, but for farmers who come to the state when it was chiefly famous for its broad, undeveloped plains, undeveloped wheat plains, the lure of the wild prairie has overbalanced all other considerations. These men have not seemed willing to leave prairie country to engage in breaking up the lands in the hardwood country of northern central and northern Minnesota. The appeal of the Texas plains, and plains of Alberta and Saskatchewan and the new valleys of the Pacific country has been especially strong to these men who love the open country and know open-country farming better probably than any men in the United States.

will prove of the utmost value to that state. The men who have gathered in Saint Paul for their journeys to new homes are experienced, hard-headed, practical farmers who know the business of agriculture and how to make money at it. Their farm implements and household gods have gone by freight and constitute an admirable and wholly adequate equipment for their new work. Minnesota has taught these men how to raise cereal crops to advantage, and has given them exceedingly valuable practical experience in stock raising, especially in the raising of hogs for profit, and as well has taught them how to develop and successfully maintain the dairy industry. The section from which the bulk of the southwestern movement has come is one which led the entire United States in the development of co-operative creameries, successfully carrying them through the early stages of their existence, when many causes were conspiring to sap the confidence of the farmers in the practicability of the plan. In this particular section of Minnesota there is no creamery industry in the world except that of Denmark which turns out a better product, or which is turning back into the pockets of the farmers greater net profits. These farmers farmers therefore know the details of the successful organization and operation of such products.

Minnesota has also lost to Canada during the past five years, and a large number of the men who are breaking up the Saskatchewan valley and turning it into a great wheat granary were those who broke the virgin soil of Southern and Western Minnesota some years ago. The Canadian immigration is waning and has not in all respects been a successful venture for many of the men who ventured their hopes of success so far north. Some have returned again and are very content with their home state, while other men, it is fair to say, have met fortunate opportunities and have become valuable agents in the development of these regions.

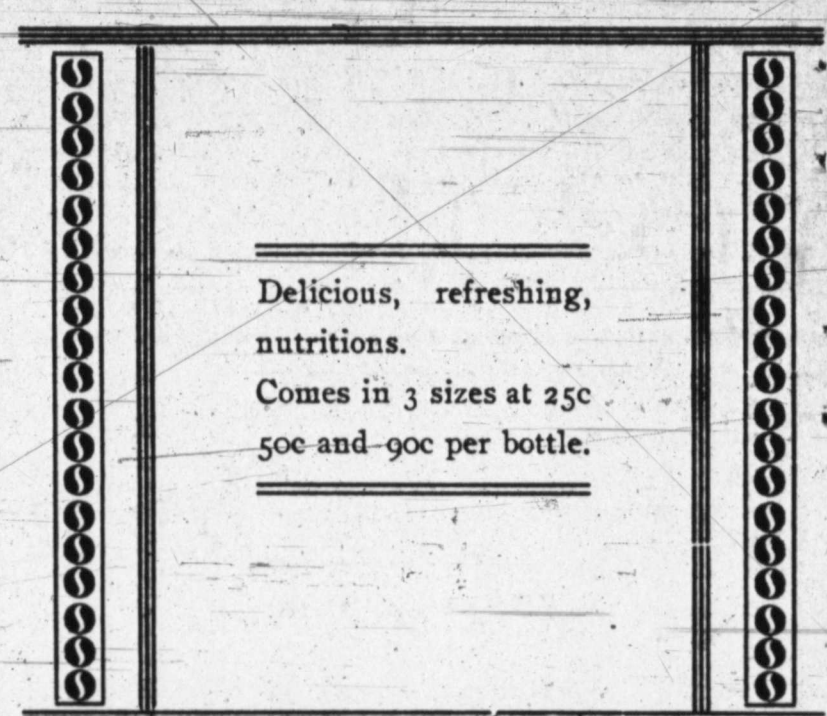

Although this State has contributed heavily to the new farm districts of all America it has still gained steadily in agricultural population and especially in the western and northern half, which have both shown a marked increase in the areas of wild land annually broken up and brought under the plow. This work is being very greatly assisted by the Minnesota Federation of Commercial Clubs, a state-wide organization for development purposes which is receiving the effective and energetic support and backing of the State immigration bureau, which with direct appropriations from the legislature for advertising purposes is maintaining not only in the United States but in foreign countries, machinery for the handling of new settlers for Minnesota. The old pine forest areas; the states great hardwood belt and the remaining undeveloped lands of the western border have profited largely by these efforts and promise to receive the benefits during the coming two years, of a "movement" from the central and eastern states, similar to that which Texas is enjoying and that which has made a farming country out of the flat and desolate plains of the Canadian west.

COOK WITH GAS

Besides, hotter days are coming—be prepared. So let us sell you a Detroit Jewel Stove or Range THE PERFECT BAKER

Clarinda and Belinda were two old-time darkey cooks, one knew just all the other knew without your cookery books. Of evenings you might see them in confab now and then kind o' talking old times over and the ways of their old men.

Well, things were so for quite a while till one day it was seen in a harmony the two were not as once these cooks had been; 'T' was plain Clarinda took on airs—Belinda could not say How, just or why it came about—that things went that away.

Girl, said Clarinda, 'You hear me, I'se sorter spising you, As your folks don't live in the stile de way my white folks do; Sure as youse born I's mighty proud, and so will you be, lass, When your white folks say, 'Belinda—like Clarinda—cook with gas.'

And prouder still you'll be if your white folks don't act de fool and buy some old cheap gas stove instead of a Detroit Jewel.

The Decline of Alcoholic Liquors in Medical Practice.

The marked decline during the past few years in the prescription of alcoholic liquors by the medical profession is an interesting and important subject which has not been commented upon by the public press, but to which attention has been called by Mrs. Martha M. Allen, superintendent of the department of medical temperance of the world's and national W. G. T. U.

"It is not more than two decades since heroic doses of brandy and wine were thought absolutely essential to recovery in typhoid and other fevers, and not much over one decade since diphtheria, la grippe and pneumonia were somewhat similarly treated by many physicians, indeed, there was scarcely a diseased condition of the body where whiskey or some other form of alcoholic liquor was not thought a necessary adjunct to other remedies, or a cure in itself.

"Today a marked change of practice may be readily noted by those sufficiently interested to study and observe. Many of the most successful physicians, not only of America, but also of England and continental Europe, have ceased to prescribe any form of alcoholic liquor and some of them are outspoken against such practice.

"Some of the influences that have been instrumental in effecting so radical a change in so brief a time may be attributed to the firm refusal of alcohol as a medicine by some reformed men and so-called 'temperance fanatics,' who preferred possible death to recovery with an entailment of the liquor appetite. The rapid return to health of such persons in cholera and fevers, compared with patients well dosed with brandy, caused a few unprejudiced and thoughtful physicians here and there to distrust prevailing opinions of alcoholic treatment. As some of the men adopting non-alcoholic views were connected with medical colleges and hospitals, they had opportunity to make the opinions of many young physicians, who, as they took their part in the world, influenced others in the profession to adopt their views.

"Scientific research has been another important factor in bringing about these conditions. In the great laboratories scientists have been carefully studying the effects of alcoholic liquors upon the various organs of the body, to the conclusion of very many that alcohol is not a necessary part of their outfit.

"Scientific research, not content in convincing many that the nourishing and strengthening properties formerly ascribed to alcohols existed only in the imagination, has superseded alcohol by supplying the profession with a great array of new drugs and old drugs in new forms, and shown that their properties can be extracted and kept in a dry state, so that alcohol is not even needed as a preservative, as it undoubtedly was needed formerly."

"A lawful occupation of yesterday may become a criminal occupation of today by reason of the progress of government to a higher standard of public morality and virtue."—U. S. Supreme Court decision.

What "Marion Harland" Thinks of COTTOLINE.

New York, December 15th, 1908. The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs: Many years ago discontinued the use of lard in my kitchen and substituted for it—as an experiment—COTTOLINE, then comparatively a new product. Since my first trial of it, I can truly say that it has given complete satisfaction whether it is used alone, as "shortening," or in combination with butter in pastry, biscuits, etc., or in frying; it has never disappointed me. I honestly believe it to be the very best thing of its kind ever offered to the American housekeeper, and I am glad of the opportunity to make my conviction public.

Yours truly, "Marion Harland."

FAVORITE GAS RANGES Are made with scrupulous care, Of selected material, By the best class of mechanics. In the most complete plant of its kind in the world. They are durable and operate properly, and are made in the largest variety of styles and sizes, and this is why we sell them as our leading line of Gas Ranges. There are many cheap, poorly made ranges on the market, but the difference in the price between a good Gas Range and a cheap one the same size and style is not over two or three dollars, which it does not pay to save in buying a Range, as a cheap, poorly made Range is not desirable at any price, and many of them will not operate satisfactorily. WILSON HARDWARE CO., Corner 8th Street and Ohio Avenue.
