WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

In Society

THE MODERN WAY.

It does not shy at papers as they blow along the street.
It cuts no silly capers on the dashboard with its feet;
It does not paw up the sod all around the hitching-post.
It does not scare at shadows as a man would at a ghost;
It does not gnaw the manger, it does not waste the hay,
Nor put you into danger when the band begins to play.

It makes no wild endeavor to switch away the flies,
It sheds no hair whatever to get in mouth and eyes;
It speeds along the highways and never looks around.
For things that it may scare at, and spill you on the ground;
It does not mind the circus—it's not at all afraid,
And does not overwork us when the elephants parade.

It does not rear and quiver when the train goes rushing by.
It does not stand and shiver when the little snowflakes fly;
It does not mind the thunder nor the lightning's blinding flash,
It does not keep you chirping and connecting with the lash,
When you chance to pass its stable, you do not have to care.

Or cluck for a while you're able to keep from stopping there;
There's no one to arrest you if you do not treat it right—
It will work all through the daytime and still be fresh at night.

It's a thing of proper manners which it shows in various ways,
So that all men and women are saying now-a-days.

'T may once have been the thing to hitch your wagon to a star;
But now to be quite in the swim, you must hitch to a motor car.

—The Waverley Poet.

Mrs. Walker Entertains.

Mrs. Dr. Walker was hostess to the Young Ladies' Club on Wednesday afternoon at her pretty home, 709 Scott avenue.

After being delightfully welcomed, the guests were invited to play "42," which game they enjoyed for several hours. An ice course was served which closed the afternoon's pleasure. Those present were Misses Minnie Young, Vella Raney, Irene Raney, Sibyl, Jewel and Flora Kemp, Sadie and Willie May Kell, Lottie Orth, Lucile Brooks, Katie Lou Avis, Dot Walker, Fan Earl Robertson, Miss Wilson, Miss Moore of Houston and Mesdames McGregor and Woods.

Little Children's Party.

A pleasant and happy afternoon was spent by the little friends of Howard Heath Thursday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock. The afternoon was spent in playing various games. Delicious refreshments were served. The children present were: Mary and Pittie Hursh, Grace and Allene Anderson, Wilbur and Annie Lea, Louise Groves and Willie Christensen.

A Pleasant Affair.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church entertained the members and friends of that congregation Friday evening from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. About 150 responded to the invitations sent out. The time was pleasantly spent in social conversation, music and readings. The musical program was as follows:

Organ voluntary—Miss Mary Ruth Ingram.

Vocal Solo—Miss Avis.
Violin Solo—Mrs. Greenwood.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Walker.
Reading—Mrs. Felder.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Roberts.

At the conclusion of the musical program a short business session was held, Judge Carrigan and W. Y. McCune delivering short addresses. Cream and cake were served.

Cahill-Cramer.

A wide circle of friends in Wichita Falls, where the bride spent much of her girlhood days, will read with interest the happy marriage of Miss Faye Odessa Cahill to Dr. Samuel E. Cramer, which event took place on Wednesday morning, June 16th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. A. Fisher, at Day Station, Rev. J. A. Cahill of Port Arthur, father of the bride, performing the ceremony. The groom is one of Electra's leading physicians, at which place the newly married couple will make their home.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

An interesting and important business meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the Baptist church on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Dr. Jones was added to the membership.

On next Thursday, the monthly "Mothers' Meeting" will be held, at which time the superintendent, Mrs. J. A. Kemp, will preside. We earnestly solicit a good attendance for this meeting. Mrs. Kemp is an interesting leader and all will be benefitted by hearing her.

Bandmaster Cox Now Located.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity: Tonight and Sunday, generally fair.

Pending the introduction of the aeroplane in Wichita Falls, on with the paved streets and the improved county roads.

The theatrical profession is losing its class. An actress was recently robbed in New York of jewels worth only $2500.

With a revival on one side of the street and a carnival on the other, things have been pretty lively in the evenings near the city hall.

It's a great consolation to those States that have recreated United States senators to know that at any rate they aren't as bad off as Illinois is.

Ananias and Baron Munchausen can shell down the corn. A packing house drummer gave out an interview saying that "Wichita Falls crops are a total failure."

What's going to happen. It's been almost a week since anybody gave out a letter announcing his candidacy for governor. Don't let time slip by you. Do it now.

That was a mistake about those Panhandle hailstones being as large as watermelons, but they were as large as Wichita Falls hen eggs, which accounts for the damage they did.

It now develops that Castro has $60,000,000 in the bank. Wichita Falls doesn't care for "Cas" as a citizen, but we can show him the best city in seven States to invest his money in.

Legislators will legislate, preachers will preach, philosophers will philosophize, but there'll be just as many eyeless, fingerless and hairless children after this year's Fourth as there ever were.

A new comet recently discovered has a caudal appendage of two hundred million miles and several astronomers are claiming to have seen it first. It's getting perfectly disgraceful the way those things are flying around.

The senate has reduced the duty on cigar bands and hereafter smokers may expect four cents worth of band with one cent's worth of smoke, instead of three cents' worth of band and two cents of smoke. 'Rah for protection!'

Vernon is getting busy now building sidewalks and the Record says that the result will be that Vernon will be better supplied with concrete walks than any town in the Panhandle, Wichita Falls not excepted. That is rather a high compliment to pay Vernon. At the present writing Wichita Falls has more miles of concrete sidewalks than any town of twice its population in the State, and if Vernon takes this honor from her she will have to get in a hurry.

A MUTUAL SURPRISE.

The Meeting Between an Ambitious Hunter and His First Grizzly.

In "Sketches of Life in the Golden State" Colonel Albert S. Evans tells an amusing anecdote of an ambitious hunter who met his first grizzly bear—in procession. The incident occurred in the woods near the site of the present town of Monterey.

The hunter sat down to rest in the shade of a tree and unwittingly went to sleep. When he woke it was near sunset, and he sat up, rubbing his eyes and contemplating a return to his hotel, several miles distant.

Just then a rustling and crackling noise from a clump of chaparral about 100 yards away attracted his attention. Out walked a grizzly bear, a monarch of his kind. He yawned, licked his jaws and then advanced toward the tree where our hunter sat, but evidently was unconscious of his presence.

His grizzly majesty had proceeded about twenty paces when a female bear followed him, and an instant later a third grizzly followed her at a slow, shambling pace.

The hunter sat spellbound with terror as the procession came toward him until the forward grizzly was within thirty yards. Then, scarcely realizing what he did, he sprang to his feet and uttered a frenzied yell—yell upon yell!

The effect was magical. The foremost bear sprang into the air, turned sharply about, knocked the female down, rolled over her, gathered himself up and bolted "like forty cart loads of rock going down a chute" straight for the chaparral again, the other two bears close at his heels and never turning to see what had frightened them.

The hunter, seeing the enemy retreating, sprang to his feet and fled at top speed for the hotel, leaving hat and gun behind. The truth of his wild and startling tale was proved the next day by the numerous bear tracks of different sizes found in the marshy ground near by. But the three bears had gone off beyond pursuit.

THE NEW ORE.

One of Andrew Carnegie's Early Iron Experiences.

Andrew Carnegie once stated that a short time after the starting of his first plant in Pittsburg he had an odd experience with iron ore.

"I was offered some ore that sampled about the usual grade, so far as I was able to judge from appearances, at a reduced price," he said. "I bought several thousand tons—a big order for those days. The second day after we commenced to run it the foreman came to the office and told me the new ore was of no account, that it did not flow and that the furnaces were so choked they would have to be dumped unless some remedy was found. Those fires were built to last two years, and to dump them at this time would mean so heavy a loss as to practically put me out of business. A young chemist had called on me a few weeks before, and, while I had not paid much attention to him, I had kept his card. It occurred to me that he might possibly be of some help, though I confess I did not then see what chemistry had to do with the iron business. But I sent for him, and he came at once. First he examined the new ore and then the old that we had been running without difficulty, and finally he looked at the furnaces. To avoid delay he made a little test of the two ores right there. I had told him when he arrived that I felt sure the new ore was worthless and admitted my mistake in buying it. Of course I did this as I did not want him to think I was ignorant of the business. You can imagine my surprise, then, when at the conclusion of his test he quietly informed us that the new ore was so good we did not know how to run it. The fact was that the new ore contained 20 per cent more iron than the old, and all that it was necessary to do was to add a proportionate increase of flux to bring about reduction."

The Prayer He Didn't Make.

In a certain parish near Dunfermlie a newly-made elder was summoned to the sickbed of a parishioner. Being naturally a bashful man, he was in great anxiety as to the "prayer he was to say" and wished to avoid going altogether. At length he was persuaded by his wife and started on his errand. On his return his wife greeted him with the query: "And how did ye get on, William?" "Oh, grand! He was dead."—Dundee

TWO SALOONS WILL HAVE TO CLOSE UP

UNDER NEW LIQUOR LICENSE LAW THIS CITY CAN HAVE ONLY SEVENTEEN.

TWO FOR EACH THOUSAND

Population is Computed on Basis of School Census—Wichita Now Has Nineteen Places.

Under the new state saloon license law which is effective in August Wichita Falls will be allowed about seventeen saloons, or two less than are now in operation in this city. The new law allows one saloon to every five hundred of population. Population, under this law, is computed by the scholastic census, at a ratio of six to one, that is, allowing a population of six for every child that is enrolled.

Under the school census as taken by the regular enumerator this city would have been allowed only fifteen saloons as the population calculated on the figures he submitted was only about 7700. If the additional figures being turned in now are allowed to count, which is somewhat doubtful, the population can be figured at about $500. This would permit the licensing of seventeen saloons.

The new law provides that the first to take out license get the "call" and the first seventeen saloon men to go through with the requirements, such as filing bond, making affidavits, paying licenses and taxes and the like, will be the lucky ones.

In this connection, most of the larger cities of the State will see many of their saloons go out of business. About one-third of San Antonio's saloons will have to close and from one-fourth and lower in the other larger cities, Galveston will have to close a number of others and all of the larger cities as well as most of the smaller ones will have to be content with fewer saloons than heretofore under the law recently passed, which is effective in August.

A BUCKET OF WATER.

In Right Place When Needed It Will Prevent a Conflagration.

A single bucket of water—even a cupful—thrown on a blaze at its start often does more good than a reservoir full ten minutes later. And yet in not one out of a thousand American homes is a single bucket of water dedicated to fire protection. The only excuses for this negligence are ignorance, carelessness, total disregard of property and life. Poverty may explain the absence of structural protection, but no one who has a home is too poor to afford a bucket of water. Even 25 cents spent for fire pails will measurably increase for years the safety of a house and that of its inmates. And the only attention this very effective fire apparatus will need is an occasional refilling from the pump or tap.

The virtue of the bucket of water kept exclusively for fire purposes is that it is always there when you look for it and always full of water. There is, to be sure, lots of water around the house (except when the pipe or pump has frozen), but by the time one can find a bucket, take it to the tap or pump, wait for it to fill and then take it back to the fire not one bucket—but ten are needed. If, however, you can dash into the hall, seize a ready filled bucket and pour the blazing contents, all within twenty seconds, one bucket generally will be more than enough, as good as a whole fire department and far less destructive than its superfluous water.

The family that cares anything at all for its belongings should keep at least one bucket of water on a little bracket in the hall on each floor and another bucket in the garret. Down cellar there should be a barrel of water and a bucket—not far from the furnace. The water in the garret or cellar may be kept from freezing in cold weather by adding common salt.—Exchange.

In the Interest of Good Eyes.

A noted oculist advises against using the eyes immediately after waking; therefore the habit of many young girls of reading or studying in bed is injurious. It is harmful to use the eyes when sleepy, as it is a great strain upon the muscles. If one must read or write when drowsy, rise occasionally and bathe the eyes with hot or cold water. Remember that a quick change from a dark room to a brilliant light is a strain upon the eyes.—New York Press.

The second day after we commenced to run it the foreman came to the office and told me the new ore was of no account, that it did not flow and that the furnaces were so choked they would have to be dumped unless some remedy was found. Those fires were built to last two years, and to dump them at this time would mean so heavy a loss as to practically put me out of business. A young chemist had called on me a few weeks before, and, while I had not paid much attention to him, I had kept his card. It occurred to me that he might possibly be of some help, though I confess I did not then see what chemistry had to do with the iron business. But I sent for him, and he came at once. First he examined the new ore and then the old that we had been running without difficulty, and finally he looked at the furnaces. To avoid delay he made a little test of the two ores right there. I had told him when he arrived that I felt sure the new ore was worthless and admitted my mistake in buying it. Of course I did this as I did not want him to think I was ignorant of the business. You can imagine my surprise, then, when at the conclusion of his test he quietly informed us that the new ore was so good we did not know how to run it. The fact was that the new ore contained 20 per cent more iron than the old, and all that it was necessary to do was to add a proportionate increase of flux to bring about reduction."—American Industries.

The Prayer He Didn't Make.

In a certain parish near Dumfries a newly made-eider was summoned to the sickbed of a parishioner. Being naturally a bashful man, he was in great anxiety as to the "prayer he was to make" and wished to avoid going altogether. At length he was persuaded by his wife and started on his errand. On his return his wife greeted him with the query: "And how did ye get on, William?" "Oh, grand! He was dead!"—Dundee

TWO SALOONS WILL HAVE TO CLOSE UP

UNDER NEW LIQUOR LICENSE LAW THIS CITY CAN HAVE ONLY SEVENTEEN.

TWO FOR EACH THOUSAND

Population is Computed on Basis of School Census—Wichita Now Has Nineteen Places.

Under the new state saloon license law which is effective in August Wichita Falls will be allowed about seventeen saloons, or two less than are now in operation in this city. The new law allows one saloon to every five hundred of population. Population, under this law, is computed by the scholastic census, at a ratio of six to one, that is, allowing a population of six for every child that is enrolled.

Under the school census as taken by the regular enumerator this city would have been allowed only fifteen saloons as the population calculated on the figures he submitted was only about 7700. If the additional figures being turned in now are allowed to count, which is somewhat doubtful, the population can be figured at about 8500. This would permit the licensing of seventeen saloons.

The new law provides that the first to take out license get the "call" and the first seventeen saloon men to go through with the requirements, such as filing bond, making affidavits, paying licenses and taxes and the like, will be the lucky ones.

In this connection, most of the larger cities of the State will see many of their saloons go out of business. About one-third of San Antonio's saloons will have to close and from one-fourth and lower in the other larger cities, Galveston will have to close a number of others and all of the larger cities as well as most of the smaller ones will have to be content with fewer saloons than heretofore under the law recently passed, which is effective in August.

A BUCKET OF WATER.

In Right Place When Needed It Will Prevent a Conflagration.

A single bucket of water—even a cupful—thrown on a blaze at its start often does more good than a reservoir full ten minutes later. And yet in not one out of a thousand American homes is a single bucket of water dedicated to fire protection. The only excuses for this negligence are ignorance, carelessness, total disregard of property and life. Poverty may explain the absence of structural protection, but no one who has a home is too poor to afford a bucket of water. Even 25 cents spent for fire pails will measurably increase for years the safety of a house and that of its inmates. And the only attention this very effective fire apparatus will need is an occasional refilling from the pump or tap.

The virtue of the bucket of water kept exclusively for fire purposes is that it is always there when you look for it and always full of water. There is, to be sure, lots of water around the house (except when the pipe or pump has frozen), but by the time one can find a bucket, take it to the tap or pump, wait for it to fill and then take it back to the fire not one bucket but ten are needed. If, however, you can dash into the hall, seize a ready filled bucket and souse the blazing curtain, all within twenty seconds, one bucket generally will be more than enough, as good as a whole fire department and far less destructive than its superfluous water.

The family that cares anything at all for its belongings should keep at least one bucket of water on a little bracket in the hall on each floor and another bucket in the garret. Down cellar there should be a barrel of water and a bucket not far from the furnace. The water in the garret or cellar may be kept from freezing in cold weather by adding common salt.—Exchange.

In the Interest of Good Eyes.

A noted oculist advises against using the eyes immediately after waking; therefore the habit of many young girls of reading or studying in bed is injurious. It is harmful to use the eyes when sleepy, as it is a great strain upon the muscles. If one must read or write when drowsy, rise occasionally and bathe the eyes with hot or cold water. Remember that a quick change from a dark room to a brilliant light is a strain upon the eyes.—New York Press.

How to Prevent and How to Cure Consumption, Or Tuberculosis

TUBERCULOSIS is a COMMUNICABLE disease.

TUBERCULOSIS is a PREVENTABLE disease.

TUBERCULOSIS is a CURABLE disease.

If you have a steady cough, go to a doctor. Don't waste your money on reputed cures.

Don't give consumption to others.

Don't let others give Consumption to you.

Don't spit on sidewalks; it spreads disease.

Don't spit on the floor of your shop.

When you spit, spit in the gutters, or into a spittoon.

Have your own spittoons half full of water and clean them out at least once a day with hot water.

Don't cough without holding a handkerchief or your hand over your mouth.

Don't live in rooms where there is no fresh air.

*Health
Rules
Given by the National Association for the Prevention and Cure
of Tuberculosis*

Don't work in rooms where there is no fresh air.

Keep at least one window open in your bedroom day and night.

Fresh air helps to kill the Consumption germ.

Fresh air helps to keep you strong and healthy.

Don't eat with soiled hands; wash them first.

Don't drink intoxicating drinks; they will do you no good, but will make it harder for you to get well.

Don't sleep in the same bed with anyone else and, if possible, not in the same room.

Good food, fresh air and rest are the best cures. Keep in the sunshine as much as possible and keep your windows open, winter and summer, night and day. Fresh air night and day is good for you.

Go to a hospital while you can and before it is too late. There you can get the best treatment, all the rest, all the fresh air and all the food you need.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

In this design I present something which is in great favor on the coast, and, though only the first floor is finished, there is ample room on the second floor for a couple of small rooms. Because of its simplicity it should also prove to be an economical house to build. The rooms are all of generous size. The size over all is 27 feet by 38 feet. The basement is seven feet high and the first floor nine feet. Either a large or small basement can be had, at the option of the builder. The exterior is sided, though either shingles or plaster would look well. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $1,700.

News Forecast for the Coming Week.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—The week holds forth small promise in the way of big news events, and unless something unexpected should occur either at home or abroad, college commencements, June weddings, and assemblies of various sorts will enjoy a monopoly of the news columns. Washington seems to have succumbed prematurely to the dullness of summer, and no news of importance is promised from the capital excepting that ground out by the congressional mill, which is still engaged in hammering the tariff measure into shape.

A fight that will probably attract wide attention is promised in the State of Washington, where the legislature has been called to assemble next Wednesday in extraordinary session. The recent arrest of the adjutant general of the State militia on a charge of embezzlement and reports that public funds have been misappropriated in other departments of the State government have aroused the people to a keen pitch and a legislative investigation is demanded. Two factions of the republican party are engaged in the controversy and a bitter fight is in prospect. The opposition has even gone so far as to prepare a resolution asking for the impeachment of Governor Hay for misconduct in office and it is expected the resolution will be introduced as soon as the legislature meets.

A skirmish over the prohibition law is expected in the Georgia legislature, which will assemble for its regular session Wednesday. The prohibition law which has been in operation in Georgia for more than a year has not proved as satisfactory as was expected but any effort to change it, either one way or the other, will, it is assured, provoke a bitter struggle. American delegates will take prominent parts in the celebration of the Darwin centenary, which is to begin at Cambridge University Tuesday. Two other events abroad in which the United States will be officially represented are the international conference of meteorologists in London and the international arts and literary congress in Copenhagen.

Following forty-three years of active service in the navy Rear Admiral Edwin K. Moore will be retired for age Thursday. His retirement will result in the promotion of Capt. Thomas S. Phelps, the present commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, to the rank of rear admiral.

One of the notable gatherings of the week will be the annual meeting of the Northern Baptist convention, which is to begin its sessions Friday in Portland, Ore. An attendance of two thousand delegates is expected and among them will be many divines, educators and other persons of wide prominence.

The marketing of the 1926 cotton and wheat crops will be considered in Atlanta at a meeting of State representatives and other prominent members of the National Farmers' Union. The third annual meeting of the National Cotton Congress will be held at Mont Ne, Arkansas, the sessions beginning Monday and continuing through the week. John D. Walker of Georgia will make the principal address.

Jubilee of Lake Erie College.

Painesville, Ohio, June 19.—Alumnae and friends of Lake Erie College have gathered here in large number for the annual commencement exercises, which will also mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Bishop James H. Thoburn will preach the baccalaureate sermon tomorrow. Monday evening the Coburn Players of New York will present "The Canterbury Pilgrims." Tuesday will be alumnae day. There will be conferences on educational topics and social service on Wednesday, followed by an outdoor procession and tableaux. Dr. Frank W. Gunsalus of Chicago will be the commencement speaker, and President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College will give the address of congratulation in behalf of the college.

TEXAS MAN MAY HEAD IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Spokane, Wash., June 19.—San Francisco is the latest bidder for the National Irrigation Congress in 1910, with five other active candidates in the field, as follows: Pueblo, Colo., Chicago, St. Louis, Charleston, S. C., and Rochester, N. Y. These cities will send representative delegations to the seventeenth sessions in Spokane, August 9 to 14, when a lively battle is expected, as each is backed by an influential commercial club and has a large following among the delegates.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon George Eames Barstow of Texas, president, and other officers of the national association, also R. Insinger, chairman, and members of the local board of control, to take the eighteenth sessions east of the Missouri river. The chief argument advanced is that one congress in the east would do more to impress upon the people there the real value of irrigation to the country than any other half dozen similar gatherings in the west, where science is known and practiced.

Mr. Insinger has added these speakers to the general program: Rufus P. Jennings, chairman of the California Promotion Committee; "The United Pacific States;" United States Senator W. B. Heyburn of Idaho; "The General Purposes of the Irrigation Congress;" Prof. W. D. Lyman of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.; "Deep Waterways for the Inland Empire;" Clarence T. Johnson, State engineer of Wyoming; "Some Fundamental Principles of the Irrigation Law;" Dr. Enoch A. Bryan, president of the Washington State College; "The Irrigation Situation in Washington;" also John H. Lewis, State engineer of Oregon; Samuel H. Lea, State engineer of South Dakota; Prof. O. L. Waller, Washington State College.

There will also be addresses by Jav. J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway Company; Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States forest service; United States Senator Cummins of Iowa; Governor Wilson of Kentucky; Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific Railway Company; Frederick H. Newell, director of the United States Reclamation Service; United States Senator Jones of Washington; Governor Spry of Utah; Governor Benson of Oregon; Governor Brady of Idaho; Governor Hay of Washington; Governor Norris of Montana; John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of American republics; United States Senator Perkins of California and N. W. Harris of Chicago.

"President Barstow will be in Spokane in a few days, when we shall go over the preliminary program and other matters," said Mr. Insinger, "and it is likely that the names of several prominent men will be added. We also expect acceptances from a number of experts on deep waterways, drainage, good roads and home-making."

"Frank C. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, M. O. Leighton, chief of the hydrographic survey; Albert J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company; E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific; J. S. Dennis, chief of irrigation for the Canadian Pacific Railway company, and other notable men will also have places on the program. Mr. Harriman has assured us he will come if he can arrange his affairs for that time."

"Probably there is as much interest in the coming congress in many parts of the Northwest in general and the Inland Empire in particular as there is support for its success right here in Spokane. Then, too, we have many 'booster' friends in California, Nevada, Arizona, Texas, New Mexico, the Dakotas, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska and other States where irrigation is practiced, also the hearty co-operation of the eastern, middle western and southern States, where people are intensely interested in forestry, good roads, drainage, deep waterway and home building."

Greater Wichita Falls.
 The office of the Floral Heights Realty Company has been moved to 617 Eighth street. The managers, Charles W. Bean and A. L. Huey, have fitted up a beautiful office in the new Anderson & Bean building, formerly known as the Commercial hotel, and will now exert every effort to make Floral Heights the most beautiful and attractive residence section of the city. They are getting out some of the most expensive and beautiful literature ever gotten out in the State of Texas and in the next sixty days Floral Heights will be advertised all over Texas and Oklahoma. Those who desire to purchase beautiful residence lots on the car line at a nominal cost had better get busy, as all the choice lots will be sold within the next ninety days. When this addition is advertised lots will sell rapidly to non-residents who never saw Wichita Falls, as they have heard and read enough about it to know that it is going to make a great city. Several lots have been sold already to parties who were never in the State, but who intend to move to Wichita Falls and build beautiful homes.

If you desire to buy a beautiful lot on the car line cheap call at the office of the Floral Heights Realty Company where conveyance will be furnished you to inspect this property. All active real estate agents in the city who desire to handle this addition on a commission can secure plat and price list by calling at our office.

COOK WITH GAS

Besides, hotter days are coming--be prepared. So let us sell you a Detroit Jewel Stove or Range. THE PERFECT BAKER

Clarinda and Belinda were two old-time darkey cooks, one knew just all the other knew without your cookery books. Of evenings you might see them in confab now and then Kind o' talking old times over and the ways of their old men.

Well, things were so for quite a while till one day it was seen In harmony the two were not as once these cooks had been; T'was plain Clarinda took on airs--Belinda could not say Hdw, just or why it came about--that things went that away.

Girl, said Clarinda, "You hear me, I'se sorter spising you, As your folks don't live in the stile de way my white folks do; Sure as youse born I's mighty proud, and so will you be, lass, When your white folks say, "Belinda--like Clarinda--cook with gas."

And prouder still you'll be if your white folks don't act de fool and buy some old cheap gas stove instead of a Detroit Jewel.

A SMALL BLIND TUBE

The Vermiform Appendix and its Probable Function.

PROBLEM OF APPENDICITIS.

The Causes of the Disease and the Methods of Fighting It--The Way the Operation of Removal is Performed--Disease as Old as Mankind.

Appendicitis is not a disease of modern times, though its nature and methods of treatment are the result of careful observation by one of our well known modern surgeons while engaged in postmortem work.

It may be safe to say that appendicitis is as old as mankind, for in studying very old histories wherein are given the diagnoses of the physicians we read of cases of inflammation of the bowels, intestinal disorders and like ailments the symptoms of which prove that they must have been appendicitis.

Appendicitis is inflammation of the vermiform appendix, a small blind tube, averaging two and a half inches in length, and a quarter of an inch in diameter, attached to the caecum at its inner and posterior part. It is made of a very sensitive mucous membrane containing several glands.

The appendix is part of the digestive tract, its function, it is believed, being to lubricate that part of the intestines, though as yet there is no absolute proof of this. Careful study of a child from whom the colon has been removed until he reaches the age of manhood has revealed no irregularities of any nature.

The causes of this disease, may be grouped under four heads--stenosis, which means closing up; impaction, the entrance of foreign bodies, not necessarily seeds; exposure and injury.

In fighting this disease nature takes three methods of disposing of the toxic materials--discharging them into the peritoneal cavity, sending them into the bowels and discharging them through an external wound.

In the first, if the discharge be not too rapid while the peritoneum is taking them up, nature again makes an effort to ward off the threatened danger by walling the poisonous matters in, thus localizing them and so aiding the physician or surgeon in his work. If, however, the discharge be sudden, as is the case when the mass bursts, the whole of the peritoneum becomes involved, which is called septic peritonitis, and this is generally fatal.

After the diagnosis has revealed the disease the doctor decides whether the case be one for medicine or external treatment or for separation. In the latter case the greatest of care is demanded, as sometimes an immediate operation is necessary, while at other times it must be delayed, often for hours, until the condition of the patient has been brought to that point at which the surgeon can feel it is safe to go ahead.

The operation determined upon, the most careful arrangements to secure perfect antisepsis are made, and the patient is placed in a full state of anaesthesia.

The operating surgeon then draws an imaginary line from the navel to the anterior superior spine of the right hip bone, dividing that line into three parts. Under the inner side of the middle third the appendix in normal cases will be found, though in rare cases it has been found on the left side and in extremely rare cases otherwise displaced.

Having satisfied himself of the exact spot under which it will be found, an incision from two to five inches long is made in the skin. (Some of the best surgeons pride themselves on the smallness of their incisions in this operation.) The fatty tissues are then cut through, the small blood vessels are secured, and then the muscular walls of the abdomen are separated, bringing into view the peritoneum. This is a serous secretive lining composed of two layers. On cutting through this the edges of both layers are clamped so as to enable the surgeon to reunite them when the operation shall have been completed.

The intestines are now visible, and the affected section is very tenderly drawn through the opening, where the nature and extent of the infection are made known. Hot towels moistened with salt water are kept applied to the intestine while it is exposed. The word "tenderly" characterizes the whole of this operation, as the surgeon must be more than careful to prevent any rupture of the appendix, for should this happen while he is operating the pus would be quickly taken up by the peritoneum and other mucous membranes, and the resulting complications would make the outcome very uncertain.

The mesentery, a large vessel adjoining the appendix, is next ligated, and then the colon is tied off, after which the diseased organ is cut away. The stump is pushed back into the intestine and the ligature is tightly drawn, this to prevent the forming of a pouch.

The removal safely accomplished, the intestine is replaced, the edges of the peritoneum are carefully approximated and the muscular walls, fatty tissue and skin are brought together by subcutaneous and cutaneous sutures.

In the majority of cases, no complications ensuing, the patient is ready for discharge in two weeks.--James M. Smyth, M. D., in New York World.

There is a proper dignity and proportion to be observed in the performance of every act of life.--Aurelius.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Wichita Falls is the first city in the State to take up through its commercial club, an organized fight on tuberculosis, according to a letter received today from the State health department. At the last directors' meeting, the distribution of anti-consumption circulars was approved and seventeen hundred have been sent here. In its letter, the department congratulates the Chamber of Commerce for its enterprise in this respect.

These circulars will be put into every home in Wichita Falls and following on the heels of the tuberculosis exhibit will serve to further impress people with the necessity of using precautionary and preventive measures at every opportunity.

The Chamber of Commerce has been notified of the meeting of the Pan-handle Bankers' Association at Memphis on July 13th and an effort will be made to secure a delegation from this city.

"We are very much interested in what you folks are doing out there in the wilderness," says the editor of the Progress department of the Washington Herald. Through Secretary Gohlke the Herald is kept supplied with information regarding this city and section of the State and in this way Wichita Falls gets considerable advertising. The Herald is publishing full reports of the meetings of the commercial clubs of this section.
