

EXCURSION TRAIN TO BE ESTABLISHED

WHEN CAR LINE IS COMPLETED THIS CITY WILL BE SUNDAY MECCA.

ACTION BY DIRECTORS

Will Try to Secure Cheap Gas For a Large Brick Plant Which Wants to Locate in Wichita.

The Chamber of Commerce directors this morning authorized the taking of steps to bring Sunday excursions to this city and as soon as the car line is completed, which will be in about a month, Sunday visitors will be brought here not only over the Katy, as suggested yesterday, but over the Denver, Wichita Valley, Northwestern and the Southern if possible.

Secretary Gohlke has been instructed to arrange the necessary details for these excursions. It is stated that there will be plenty to entertain the excursionists when they get here as the lake alone will furnish ample amusement. If the first excursions are a success this city may be made a regular excursion point. It is not believed there will be any objection raised locally.

The brick plant question was also taken up today, a letter being read from the Kansas parties saying they would establish a plant here if they could get four cent gas as they would use over a million feet a day. Secretary Gohlke has instructed to make them a proposition along this line. It is believed that four cent gas can be secured for large consumers like this.

The directors appropriated twenty dollars for exhibit space at the Dallas Fair next fall and attended to one or two other minor matters.

BUYS BUILDING AT ALTUS.

C. L. & B. Co. Preparing to Establish Branch House in Oklahoma.

The new rock and brick building being constructed by B. R. Kimbell southwest of the square, opposite the postoffice, has been sold by him to the Coleman-Lysaght-Blair Co. of Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. Kimbell was erecting the building for his own use, but after purchasing the Humphrey store on the south side he decided to sell and found a ready buyer in the above mentioned wholesale house of Wichita Falls. When wholesale houses of the large cities begin to invest, the outlook of a town must seem pretty good. Altus has a future.

No man doubts it after once beholding the activity. These are the kind of investments we are all glad to see. They give the tone of stability to the music of the saw and hammer.—Altus Daily Democrat.

ONE THOUSAND ADDITIONAL FOR WICHITA POSTOFFICE.

As a result of the greatly increased business at the Wichita Falls postoffice salaries here have been increased by the Department at Washington and a thousand dollars additional in salaries is to be paid annually. ## OLD MAIDS AND WIDOWS TO PLAY BALL FRIDAY

What promises to be one of the most entertaining stunts ever pulled off in this city, from a standpoint both of comedy and sport, will be witnessed at the baseball park Friday afternoon, when the Old Maids will play the Widows at baseball.

This game is gotten up to defray the expenses of new suits for the regular Wichita team and also to pay for making needed improvements at the baseball grounds.

Both teams will be composed of good players and while they will be arrayed in costumes appropriate to the names given them, there will be nothing fantastic about the playing. It will be a game for blood and not for fun.

About one hundred and fifty dollars is needed for new suits and for the needed park repairs. It ought to embarrass every loyal Wichitan to have visitors come here and see not only the team playing in nondescript and dirty suits, but the battered fence and grandstand and other things not as they should be.

If you think these conditions ought to be remedied come out on Friday and help to change things up. Come and bring the children.

IDENTITY CANNOT BE ESTABLISHED

CHINAMAN ARRESTED AT SCHENECTADY IS NOT LEON AND HAS BEEN RELEASED.

OTHER CAPTURES MADE

Arrested Men Resemble Leon, But They Are Not He—Story Getting Very Interesting.

By Associated Press. New York, June 22.—The Sigel murder mystery still lacks a solution, but new developments are rapid. It has been established that the girl's supposed interest in Chinese home missions was but a blind for other transactions of a different sort. That she was infatuated with Leon is shown by the letters. There is another Chinaman with whom she consorted and of whom Leon, according to the tone of the letters, was intensely jealous. These facts constitute the framework upon which the truth is slowly being built.

Reginald Sigel cannot identify the Chinaman arrested at Schenectady as Leon and the man wanted is undoubtedly still at large. Another Chinaman suspect was arrested at Pittsburg, and one or two others at other points. All fit the description closely, but none close enough.

The Oriental Club of this city has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the murderer of Elsie Sigel.

STATE SENATORS TO HAVE BEEN INVITED

BASCOM THOMAS AND SENTER WERE TO HAVE BEEN ROCKWALL'S GUESTS.

AFRAID OF A FISTICUFF

Committee Withdraws Invitations, Saying It Feared Clash—They Aren't Exactly Friends.

Texas News Service Special. Sulphur Springs, Tex., June 22.—Fearing that a personal clash would follow the meeting of the two senators, the committee in charge of the July Fourth celebration at Rockwall has withdrawn the invitations it extended to Senators Senter and Thomas. Rockwall will celebrate Independence day on July 3 and it had been planned to have both the State senators present. The committee feared, however, that unpleasantness might arise and withdraw the invitations. Senator Senter took a leading part in the proceedings of the State senate which resulted in the expulsion of Thomas last spring. While fears of a fistcuff are perhaps ill grounded, there is no doubt that a debate between the two would be fraught with more than passing interest.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THE FUND FOR TUBERCULOSIS EXHIBIT.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS SITTING AS EQUALIZATION BOARD.

The county commissioners yesterday began their sessions as a board of equalization and for several weeks they will be busy with this feature of their work, fixing county valuations. None of the members of the board were able to make any predictions as to the increase for this year, but it was stated that reductions in value would be few. After last year's one hundred per cent increase, it is not thought that the gains for 1909 will be very material.

FINE HOME GROWN PEACHES RAISED HERE BY E. B. SNYDER.

WEATHERFORD-WICHITA SANTA FE EXTENSION

President Huff of the Chamber of Commerce wrote recently to the mayor of Weatherford, suggesting that that city take up the question of a Santa Fe extension to this city. Weatherford was very much interested not long ago in the report that the Wichita Falls and Southern contemplated building to Fort Worth and in his letter Mr. Huff denied that such was the Southern's intention. That Wichita Falls would be in line for such an extension of the Santa Fe, Mr. Huff stated as a matter of course. This extension would be about a hundred miles in length and would traverse a virgin country. While no overtures have been made to the Santa Fe people along this line, Wichita Falls and Weatherford combined could make things very interesting for the road if it is in line for such an extension.

Cab Lines Have Gone to Work.

For the past several days the cab lines have refused to work, owing to the fact that the city council passed an ordinance regulating charges for carrying passengers and this caused considerable talk and quite an inconvenience to those who had been accustomed to patronizing cabs when leaving the city or returning home. Those who were not aware of the 'strike' and who returned home on the night trains with the expectation of finding a cab at the station were disappointed, and there was nothing left for them to do but walk home. In several instances ladies without escorts were compelled to do this. Today, however, the cabs are again running, and are charging fares as fixed by the two lines. It is understood the proprietors have decided to defy the city and will take the matter into the courts.

DENIAL IS FILED BY DENTON PAPER

RECORD AND CHRONICLE TAKES ISSUE WITH THE TIMES ON WHEAT PRICE QUESTION.

DOLLAR-SIXTY WAS PAID

But It Was Paid as a Premium and Prices Have Been Dropping Very Steadily Since Then.

The Times is in receipt of the following telegram: Denton, Tex., June 22.—Boosting Wichita Falls wheat market should not be done at Denton's expense. The wheat market here opened at $1.50 and many Denton farmers got that price. I dropped then to $1.45, at which it stood several days, then to $1.40, then $1.35, then $1.30. Affidavits from mill men can be furnished to this effect if desired. $1.57 and $1.60 were paid in several instances in the nature of a premium. We publish no fake market reports and send none to the press of the State.

'RECORD AND CHRONICLE.' 'We indorse the above.' 'ALLIANCE MILLING CO., J. N. Raysor, President.'

So much for Denton's side. The Times begs to make the following observations on the above:

First. Assuming that the Denton paper states the prices correctly, and there is no reason to believe that it does not; it does not controvert what the Times has said—that the reports of such prices as $1.50 and $1.60 were erroneous. Such reports were published up to a few days ago. The Record and Chronicle states plainly in the above telegram that the prices have been dropping since the season opened, and dropping at a fairly rapid rate, too. It seems, further, from the telegram, that the much-vaunted dollar-sixty was not paid save in a few instances and then in the nature of a premium.

Second. The Times has never said that the Record and Chronicle was responsible for the erroneous impression that has existed regarding Denton prices, and has not accused that paper of faking at all. But the Times did say, and says now, that some Denton correspondent sent out reports of wheat prices that weren't borne out by the facts. There has been no reason to assume that the Record and Chronicle was directly or indirectly responsible for the reports and any such statement by the Times would be gladly retracted in the face of the above facts.

Third. Denton is paying $1.25 today and Wichita is paying five cents less. Wichita gets more wheat than Denton, which accounts for the difference.

Fourth. If Denton mills bought all the wheat offered them, they even then would not have enough to run a month on. Wichita mills run full time all the year around.

HOPE FOR LARGE CROWD AT MANGUM

OTHER COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS EXPECT THIS CITY TO BE WELL REPRESENTED.

BIG TEXAS DELEGATION

Clubs From Northwest Part of This State Will Contribute Large Portion of Attendance.

Much importance is being attached to the coming meeting of the district association of commercial clubs recently organized at Wichita Falls. The Wichita Falls delegation will leave for Mangum Thursday morning at 2:15 a. m. via Quanah where a special car will leave at 6:00 a. m., arriving at Mangum about 10:00 a. m. and returning the same night. Quanah is sending 45 delegates to Mangum.

In an interview with President R. E. Huff of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Huff said: "If Wichita Falls does not send a strong delegation to Mangum to the district meeting the excellent results attendant to our organization meeting May 27th will have been, in a measure, in vain. The fact that Wichita Falls originated the movement and largely outlined the plans of organization it is imperative that we give it every encouragement. But aside from the pride which we should feel in keeping up a strong interest in the association there is a feature of the organization which is more important to the development of our country than our own Chamber of Commerce can bring about and that is the result of a combination of forces in keeping men in the middle states rounding up prospectors and arranging for special excursions into our territory. This cannot be done, owing to the expense, by any one club and for the comparatively small investment which our pro rata share would be I am very much concerned in the matter of giving it our hearty support."

"At the last meeting I appointed twenty delegates to the Mangum meeting and each man should feel it a duty to make the trip. I wish to urge members other than those appointed that they should not be backward in making the trip and every one that can possibly arrange to go should do so. This meeting will determine the working plans of the organization and is even more important than the initial convention."

"Our secretary being also secretary of the district association, and in a larger measure responsible for the organization than anyone else, should have the backing of a strong delegation as I feel confident he will inject the same energy into the district association as has been done in our Chamber of Commerce."

Secretary Gohlke made the following statement to the Times on the forthcoming meeting: "There is a healthy sentiment for organization and pull together in the district association as I ever encountered and the critical stage is just before us. The Mangum meeting will ratify the plans tentatively outlined at organization meeting in Wichita Falls and unless a strong delegation from Wichita Falls goes to Mangum our past efforts will be looked upon as a hot air movement to boost Wichita Falls alone. We can not hope to get as much result in settler immigration from local work as can be secured from the district association for the simple reason that twenty to thirty towns writing and hammering away on one prospector will land him somewhere in our territory or get him started here, while the work of one town alone does not put the germ to working on him like twenty will do. On the other hand the prorata cost of getting one settler in Wichita Falls and Wichita County would be far less than when done by individual work. This district association means more in my judgment to the settlement of farm lands in this territory than any movement the finances of our Chamber of Commerce will permit and I earnestly appeal to every member who can possibly make the trip to let me know Tuesday or Wednesday morning at the latest. All I can say is Wichita Falls must live up to her unchallenged reputation for doing things."

Notice.

Owing to the advance in the price of feed stuffs, we are forced to advance the charge for cab fares from 25c to 50c. These rates will apply to day as well as night work. These rates are effective on and after June 1, 1909. JOHN G. GILBERT, 17-eod-12t E. B. MORRIS.

SHOOTING WHALES.

Modern Whalers Use a Cannon and an Explosive Harpoon.

Whaling with modern methods in Alaskan waters is an exciting game, especially for those who are new to the business. The modern whaling steamer is a little vessel almost round on the bottom, which enables it to be turned and managed with the greatest ease. Mounted at the bow is a small cannon that shoots a harpoon weighing more than 100 pounds and having an explosive head, called the bomb.

If the shot is good and the harpoon is planted squarely behind the fin, the bomb crashes into the lungs, killing instantly; if not, the struggle may last for several hours.

After a whale has been killed the carcass is brought alongside the boat and inflated so that it will float. A long coil of rubber hose, one end of which is attached to a pump and the other to a hollow spear pointed tube of steel, with perforations along its entire length, is used for this purpose.

The spear is thrust well down into the whale's side, the air pump started and the body slowly filled with air. When inflated enough to keep it afloat the tube is withdrawn, the incision plugged with oakum and the carcass cast off. A buoy with a flag is attached to the body, and it is then set adrift to be picked up at the end of the day's hunting.

The whaling station is a group of buildings situated in a bay or cove near enough to the feeding grounds to allow the steamer to come in each night with the day's catch. The whales are anchored at a buoy in front of a long, inclined platform, upon which they are drawn, tall first, by means of a steam winch.

The saying that every part of the pig but the squeal is now of market value is also a fact with the whale. Not a particle of the animal is wasted. After the skeleton is stripped of flesh it is disarticulated and the bones chopped in pieces.

The blubber is tried out for oil, and the meat and bones are boiled for the same purpose. Later the flesh is artificially dried and sifted, making a fine guano, and the bones are ground up for fertilizer. Even the blood is boiled and dried with the flesh, and the water in which the blubber has been tried out makes excellent glue. The fins and tail, after being sliced into thin strips, are salted and barreled and shipped to Japan as an article of food.—World's Work.

How He Kept His Clothes Dry.

Among a large shooting party on a northern grouse moor was a certain elderly professor whose skill with his gun was hardly equal to the profundity of his intellect. Suddenly a heavy storm of rain came on, and as there was no shelter on the moor the shooters got thoroughly drenched through. At least, all but one suffered—the professor. He had mysteriously disappeared when the rain came on, and he did not rejoin the party until the sun was shining once more. To the amazement of the others the erudite one was as dry as a bone. The others, drenched and disgusted, inquired of him how it was he had escaped a wetting. "Directly the rain came on," replied the professor, "I went off by myself, stripped off my clothing and sat on them until the storm was over."—London Telegraph.

In Bed With a Snake.

For one thing East Africa must have credit; snakes are not numerous, as they are in the south—at least I never have seen many. There are pythons, but they do not appear to be dangerous. I shall never forget how, down in South Africa during the war, I once awoke and found a black mamba in bed with me. The snake is absolutely deadly. It frightened me so that after the whole thing was over I went out and was sick. Fortunately I was quite ignorant of the fact that it was under the blankets with me and rolled out unconcernedly. Had I known it was there in all probability it would have struck me.—Forest and Stream.

Women in Japan.

Like most oriental races, the Japanese regard women as the inferior sex, and the Japanese woman cheerfully indorses the doctrine. "I once," said a globe trotter, "sat down to dinner at a hotel in Vancouver where there was a Japanese waitress. With me at the table were two Canadian women; but, to my surprise, the waitress not only gave me priority in serving the meal, but was very particular in seeing that I had the largest portion of everything. I was rather puzzled until I remembered that in Japanese eyes I was, as a man, regarded as far more important than a woman and treated accordingly."

A Simple Reason.

Scientific Parent (on a stroll)—You see out there in the street, my son, a simple illustration of a principle in mechanics. The man with that cart pushes it in front of him. Can you guess the reason why? Probably not. I will ask him. Note his answer, my son. (To the coster) My good man, why do you push that cart instead of pulling it?
Coster—Cause I ain't a boss, yer old thickhead.—London Express.

Word of Caution.

"Never propose to a girl by letter."
"Why not?"
"I did it once, and she stuck the letter in a book she was reading and lent it to my other girl."

There are about twelve generations of flies a year, the sexes about equally divided, each female laying about 1,000 eggs.

The Proof of Our Fidelity.

This is an age in which every phase of commercial activity is progressing. Yet each day we are reminded most forcibly of our transitory relation with it, and our life compared with the ages past, and no doubt with those to come is only ephemeral. The recent meeting of the old Confederate Veterans at Memphis, is a strong reminder that we as a whole Nation are fast falling out of ranks; each day death claims some one that is near and dear to our hearts. Our daily and weekly papers and magazines tell often of the erecting of some beautiful monument to perpetuate the memory of some ennobling character, or some notable event. Its common proof of our fidelity to our countrymen, our history, our friends, and to our God.

Monuments are erected to our national heroes, our private citizens, our Union soldiers, and to our Confederate dead, for time with its onward flight claims all from the greatest to the least. We go East, North or South, across the rugged mountains beyond the Sea and still we see the same inexorable law, the strong reminders on every hand, in every country on this rolling sphere we see cemeteries, some of them dilapidated, neglected and seemingly forgotten, others beautiful, artistic and grandly imposing with their marble and granite monuments engraved with tender expressions of love and affection, of hope and remembrance. What man or woman so paganistic, so dwarfed by worldly and ambitious frailty, that will not bow in reverence before these sacred memorials of a mother's love, a father's devotion, a wife and children's silent supplication to the all wise God that the entered may rest in peace. Who is so void of sympathy that they fail to feel some little emotion when viewing such sacred spots? Who so thoughtless and hard hearted that they can pass a neglected grave, a forgotten mound, without shedding a tear of sympathy for the poor form that in life was perhaps as good as circumstances and environments would permit? Who is it that cannot forget the faults and say that they were a loving companion, a heart to heart friend, and who is it that is not forgiving enough, that death and the silent shroud does not cover even the faults of our enemies with a mantle of sweet charity?

Have you heretofore been careless and negligent concerning your duty towards your loved ones? Do you realize that the public eyes in your community city or hamlet in which you live are watching you and your attitude towards those that in life were near and dear and perhaps made many sacrifices for you? and do you know that this attitude of yours is determining your character in the minds of your friends, your relatives, and the public at large? We beg of you to relieve yourself of this last sad duty (but not the least), you owe your loved ones. Call or phone us, we will be glad to assist you in any way possible. We are in our new location now across the tracks from the Denver passenger station, and are in a better position to serve you. All our work is guaranteed to be as good as the best and at prices that speak for themselves.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity
—Tonight and Wednesday, partly cloudy weather.

Governor Campbell has not yet attached Travis county to Wichita for judicial purposes.

Wichita's wheat crop is a little short this year, but the June bride crop is heavier than ever before.

Those West Texas towns whose prayers for rain were granted might try to get some railroads the same way.

"A. and M. boys are well satisfied with living in tents," says President Milner, "they don't care about dormitory life." There's a reason.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world. A Texas ex-convict writes to the papers that the Texas penal institutions are everything that they should be.

The State Health Department says that South Texas cattle are merely suffering from uncinariasis instead of ankylostomiasis, as at first reported. What a relief.

The Austin Statesman commends Harry Thaw's persistence as a news source, but it's safe to say that the head liner that Harry wants to see hasn't appeared yet.

The ratio of births to deaths in Texas last month was three to one. Under such circumstances a man can afford to die when he knows three are on hand to take his place.

Senators Weinert and Willacy are trying to get engaged in a controversy on the penitentiary question, but the public refuses to get interested in any side line games. Everybody's watching the big show.

The Duvals Tonight

In an entire change of program, at the Auditorium. They are one of the best vaudeville teams on the western circuit. Hear W. T. Cox, the cornetist, a fine program. 34-11

Some lively debates are anticipated in the Washington legislature, which meets in extraordinary session this week to consider the situation arising from the alleged mismanagement of certain departments of the State government.

Twist Optimist and Pessimist, The difference is small. The Optimist sees the doughnut, The Pessimist sees the hole.

Some would say the best way to turn an optimist into a pessimist would be to feed him the doughnuts, and this would be true if the doughnuts are fried in lard. Lard is certainly indigestible and many people are deprived of the pleasure of eating doughnuts and other dainties just because of this fact. However, there is a cooking fat—COTTLENE—which can be used in any way and every way that lard can, and yet makes light, rich, delicious food that the most delicate stomach can digest with ease. COTTLENE is making the world cheerier and brighter for thousands who were formerly suffering from the curse of lard-soaked food.

Look Who's Here at the Majestic

The noted Densmore Sisters. Those dainty little queens pronounced by all the most rigid critics as the best, neatest and most refined in their line. They come with the highest recommendations from all the managers of the best houses on the vaudeville circuit. Their dainty way of appearing before the public, children as they are, has given them a world-wide reputation. The Majestic assures their patrons this little team will please. All their songs and dances appeal to the most refined audiences that can be had in any city. Yours to please, 33-2tc THE MAJESTIC.

THE RECORDING ANGEL.

With apologies to the New York Sun.

"Well, Jim," said the Recording Angel as he returned from lunch.

"What's doing?"

"Oh, considerable," said the clerk; a "farmer living fifteen miles from Denton, Texas, saw in the paper that they were paying a dollar-sixty for wheat there and hitched up his teams and drove to town with several hundred bushels. When he reached the mill he found it was all a mistake and that they were paying only a dollar-thirty. And he said—"

"Hush," said the Recording Angel, "You mustn't repeat it."

"So I put down a black mark against his name," said the clerk.

"Well, cross it out quick," said the Recording Angel.

"Then there was a bunch of fellows from Stamford, continued the clerk, and they went down to Austin to try to land the West Texas Normal and when they got there they found Wichita Falls had it cinched. And they said—"

"Don't repeat such language around here," said the Recording Angel.

"And I put down a black mark against each of their names," said the clerk.

"Rub 'em out," said the Recording Angel. "What else?"

"A committee of Wichita Falls business men were out raising a bonus for a railroad," said the clerk, and they went to a rich guy for a subscription. And he said: "Sorry, gentlemen, would like to help you, but I am hard up just now." And as soon as they got outside they said—"

"Never mind what they said," said the Recording Angel.

"And I put down a black mark against each of them," said the clerk.

"Rub those marks out at once," said the Recording Angel.

"Well, there was a country news paper man down in Texas," went on the clerk, and a banker's daughter in his town got married and he gave her a swell write up, telling about her distinguished father, and so on, and then he went down to the postoffice and saw the banker sending to Fort Worth to get some printing done. And the things he said—"

"Don't reiterate his remarks," said the Recording Angel.

"Well, I put a black mark down against his name," said the clerk.

"Erase it instantly," said the Recording Angel, "there are some times on earth when no man can be expected to abstain from profanity."

Wichita Falls Lodge No. 1105 B. P. O. Elks will meet in regular session in their new club rooms Tuesday evening, June 22nd. ### A Great Treat in Store.

Local talent in large numbers will present "Scenes in the Union Station" in the Auditorium Monday night. The cast, with specialties, consists of one hundred performers.

Monday night at the Auditorium there will be fun and entertainment galore. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, assisted by Mr. D. V. Bush, who is a specialist in this line, will give a very elaborate musical entertainment, together with the side splitting farce comedy, "Scenes in the Union Station." The presentation of "The Union Station" has met with great success in the various cities of the south and west. Wichita will draw largely on the ranks of her talented amateurs in rendering this mirth provoking and thoroughly enjoyable performance.

In addition to the comedy there are other pleasures in store for the evening. One of the most enjoyable and beautiful parts of the program will be the rendition of drills, marches and choruses by a large and well drilled number of children and young ladies. The performance of the tots alone will be worth the price of admission. In all, the participants in the performance will number one hundred. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church. The very best talent obtainable will be seen in the program. It will be bright, catchy, attractive, entertaining, not a dull moment during the evening.

Wichita will not only welcome the opportunity to show its appreciation of local talent, but will fill the auditorium with such a crowd as will inspire the performers to do their utmost to make the occasion the success it deserves to be. 34-1tc

On account of the warm weather, Mr. and Mrs. Bregant, the little couple who are at Miller's drug store in this city for a few days for the purpose of advertising Woodward's candies, will appear at the store from 7 to 10 in the evening, as well as from 1 to 6 in the afternoon. ### SMALLEST COUPLE DISPENSES SWEETS

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Bregant, the smallest married couple in the world, were dispensers of sweetness at Miller's drug store yesterday afternoon and throughout the afternoon hundreds called at the store and purchased the candy they had for sale. The tiny pair dispensed candy and smiles impartially and made a complete hit with everyone who called. They sold Woodward's Real Butter Scotch and Pure Stick Candy, selling hundreds of packages to young and old during the afternoon. Many children called at the store and their admiration of the couple was unstinted. The good nature and pleasantness of the couple won them many friends and they impressed everyone as a thoroughly lovable pair.

Mr. Bregant is 36 years of age, weighs sixty-seven pounds and is forty-six inches high. He is a native of Austria and was for fifteen years a vaudeville favorite on the continent, coming to this country to accept a position at Coney Island, later entering the sales field as more agreeable to his temperament.

Mrs. Bregant is forty-two inches high, weighs 42 pounds and is 20 years of age. She is a native of Denver and is proud of it. Like her husband, she spent several years on the stage, meeting Mr. Bregant in "Dreamland." They were married in 1905. The parents of both are ordinarily sized people.

Mr. and Mrs. Bregant will be at Miller's drug store again this afternoon and all who have not already met this handsome little couple should take advantage of their chance to do so today.

As to "Lo" in Low Comedy

An American Indian employed in scenes and situations of comic grotesquerie, is an important character in "Lo" the musical comedy in preparation by Franklin P. Adams and Q. Henry, as to libretto, and A. Baldwin Sloane, as to music. His being a college-bred Indian recalls the first and only previous attempt to use the type for comic purposes by a native playwright—a light opera called "Big Pony, the Gentlemanly Savage," produced in 1887 in New York City by N. C. Goodwin. Among that actor's advertising devices are frames of photographs showing him in various roles of the past, and one pictures Goodwin as Big Pony, attired in faultless evening clothes—and moccasins! The work was far ahead of its time, as to its satirical aspect, and failed, though Goodwin has never been funnier than in his role of the "reclaimed" red-skin. A. C. Wheeler was the librettist. He was at the time the most widely read of our drama-critics, not excepting even William Winter. He wrote of the stage under the name of "Nym Crinkle," and, years after he had supposedly retired to private life, he emerged as a writer on nature topics under the name of "Mobray."

W. S. Gilbert had preceded Wheeler in the use of the low-comedy Indian in light opera; but Gilbert's Indians—there were three of them—were undiluted savages. The work was "Princess Toto," now well-nigh forgotten. It was written some time previously to Gilbert's union with Sullivan, and had a very pretty score by Fred Clay. Gilbert and Clay quarreled when the piece was at the height of its popularity; and the former, in a characteristic outbreak of temper, took legal means to prohibit the further performance of the work in Great Britain, and to make assurance surer, sought to destroy every copy of the work then extant. Some copies had, however, found their way to this country, where there was not at the time Federal protection to foreign authors, so that "Princess Toto" was from time to time the subject of revival. Two of the three Indians were respectively named Pish-Tush and Pooch-Bah—names that Gilbert afterward employed for two of the Titipu noblemen in "The Mikado," in the belief that his previous use of them had been forgotten.

As a serious or sentimental comic-opera figure the Indian has been more liberally employed. The Bostonians, when at the height of the great vogue that was their lot through the popularity of "Robin Hood," produced not fewer than three ambitious operas in which our aborigines figured conspicuously. One was "Priscilla," which made employment of the legend of John Alden and his vicarious wooing of the puritan maid; another was known as both "In Mexico" and "A War-Time Wedding;" and the third was called "The Ogallallas." None of the three was successful.

Indeed, American play-goers have shown very little sentimental interest in the Indian as a stage figure, and "Strongheart" stands out from a long list of plays as the only one to succeed with an Indian hero. A notable failure among attempts to stage the Indian was "The Redskin," in which all the characters were aborigines. As subsidiary or incidental figures, the Indian has often served well, both pictorially and dramatically, as in "The Octoroon," "The Squaw Man" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me." Paul Armstrong's "The Renegade" was a recent Chicago attempt to give the red man sentimental value in the drama. A much better play than either "The Renegade" or "Strongheart," of cognate theme, called "Northern Lights," failed a decade before "Strongheart" was tried.—Frederick Donaghey in the Chicago Evening Post.

W. C. T. U. DEPARTMENT

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opened June 1st at Seattle, Wash., is unique in several respects, not the least of which is the fact that it is strictly a prohibition World's Fair. The exposition grounds are a part of the campus of the University of Washington, which is prohibition territory, and is surrounded by a prohibition zone of two miles.

The State W. C. T. U. has a space of 30x14 feet in the east balcony of the manufactures building. Here a rest room will be maintained throughout the exposition, with the president of the Seattle Federation of Unions, Mrs. E. C. Trimble, in charge. Miss Mary Brown, State superintendent of purity, has also been engaged to look after girls on the grounds and see that they are not led astray.

July 28th is designated on the official program as W. C. T. U. Day. This will be followed by a general temperance congress on the 29th, participated in by the Prohibition party. The anti-saloon league, the I. O. G. F. and the W. C. T. U. On the 30th a purity conference will be held.

At a recent meeting of the American Medical Society for the study of alcohol, T. Alexander McNicholl, M. D., secretary of the New York State Medical Alliance, read a paper in which he reported the results of his examination of thirty thousand New York school children. He asserted that 58 per cent of that number drink some form of alcoholic liquors occasionally or regularly. Of the total 37 per cent drink from one glass of beer a week to five glasses of beer a day and 21 per cent drink wine or spirits.

Dr. McNicholl further stated he found 46 per cent of these school children are backward in their studies.

The efforts made by both educators and the New York board of health to combat mental failure through secular schools have failed to keep pace with the growth of inefficiency. He also made the startling statement that of the children whose parents are addicted to the use of alcohol 71 per cent are afflicted with functional or organic disorders directly traceable to their inheritance from their alcoholic parents. He asserted, too, that when the best physicians failed to find any visible results of the use of liquor in parents, results are found in their children and grand children.

An Atlanta blind tiger keeper was fined $1000 with the alternative of twelve months in jail for violation of the prohibition law of Georgia.

The United States Steel Corporation has posted notices in all its plants forbidding the custom of going out to get drinks on the part of its workmen.

The druggists of Gratiot county, Michigan, adopted resolutions at their annual meeting pledging the members of their association not to sell liquor, even upon a prescription, after the 30th of June of the present year.

Clarinda and Belinda were two old-time darkey cooks. One knew just all the other knew without your cookery books. Of evenings you might see them in confab now and then. Kind o' talking old times over and the ways of their den.

Well, things were so for quite a while till one day it was seen in harmony the two were not as once these cooks had been; 'T' was plain Clarinda took on airs—Belinda could not say. How, just or why it came about—that things went that away.

Girl, said Clarinda, "You hear me, I'se sorter splicing you. As your folks don't live in the sttle de way my white folks do; Sure as youse born I's mighty proud, and so will you be, lass. When your white folks say, 'Belinda—like Clarinda—cook with gas.'"

LUDLOW STREET JAIL

The Sheriff's Famous Prison in New York City.

ITS GUESTS WELL TREATED.

The inmates wear no uniform and have many privileges—the discipline is quite gentle and the surroundings peaceful and homelike.

Walking through the streets of the squalid, noisy east side, the visitor in New York is quite unprepared for the peace and clean homeliness which greet him in the sheriff's prison in Ludlow street. Flanked by public school and police court on two sides, the brick building, ornamented with antique iron grill over long windows, resembles a village church or old fashioned hall of learning. The outer clamor does not penetrate its cool cloisters. The struggle for existence is halted at the threshold. But it is not so easy to enter the sheriff's rest establishment. The guard who opens the front door in response to the electric bell eyes the visitor suspiciously, as if the latter might be trying to break into the county haven without proper credentials. The only persons entitled to the privileges of the Ludlow tavern are those in contempt of surrogates and certain other courts, federal bankrupts, delinquent militiamen, execution and judgment debtors and breach of promise and alimony men.

However, the visitor who can prove that he has no sinister purpose is ushered into a cozy parlor fitted with rugs, pictures and piano. Here he meets the warden, who talks freely and simply about his guests. He admits he has never read Lombroso or any other criminologist. What's the use? They don't send felons to this place. The learned observations of penologists do not apply to the inmates of Ludlow tavern. Methods of discipline and reform are superfluous. There are just a few rules, such as obtain in any well regulated hostelry. A guest on arrival has his pedigree taken at the office, is shown up to his sleeping chamber, gets introduced to the gentlemen in the sitting room and is left to his own devices—no uniform, no hair cut, none of the unpleasant features of a common prison. There is, indeed, a genteel search for sharp instruments, keys and knives, as forbidden articles, but there is no confiscation of any other private possessions. A man may bring in all the books, writing material, tobacco, clothes, toilet articles and bric-a-brac that he pleases.

The rising bell rings at 6:30 a. m., and the guests have a chance to wash, shave and make their beds before breakfast, at 8 o'clock. The regular breakfast consists of coffee and rolls, but guests may supplement it with eggs cooked at the hot water tap or may order, at their own expense, an elaborate meal from the menu card of a nearby restaurant. The morning newspapers are at hand, so that guests, while sipping their coffee, may scan headlines and note the progress of events.

After breakfast every one goes into the yard for an hour's exercise. The high brick walls do not bar the sunshine from the yard, which is about sixty feet square and stone flagged around a central grass-plot. After the exercise hour the guests repair to a large sitting room and read, study or play penuche, checkers, dominos and chess. There is a small library of books and magazines. Those who have private stocks of literature exchange their books in a fraternal spirit.

The dinner bell rings at noon. A wholesome stew, a boiled dinner or a plate of fish and potatoes is provided. If this seems too frugal even for cloister life, there is the restaurant menu to fall back on. As a rule, though, the inmates are satisfied with the regular fare. Another hour in the yard, an afternoon spent in the sitting room, after the style of the morning session, and then a supper of bread and tea at 6 o'clock. Two hours later the guests retire to their chambers for the night. They are locked in, it is true, but the obliging guard will open on any reasonable request. There is no rule against talking, and guests may read or write by the light of their own candles until they feel disposed to go to bed.

A gentle routine it is. No one is overcrowded, for, while there are accommodations for a hundred persons, the number of guests is seldom anything like that. The disagreeable monotony of seeing the same faces and hearing the same anecdotes, complained of by arctic travelers, is obviated by the coming and going of inmates. The comfort of guests is pretty well assured by a staff of nine guards and three or four cooks and attendants.

Letters to guests are not opened before delivery, as in common penal institutions. Three days a week are set aside for visitors, but no member of the Alimony club is compelled to see his wife. Once in a long while, however, a member of the fair sex enters the portals as a guest. There was one woman brought to the office in contempt proceedings subsequent on a supplementary inquiry, but the referee held a hearing on the spot, and the woman was discharged with consent of counsel. In former days a male guest charged with breach of promise won freedom by marrying the woman of his choice in the hotel office.—New York Tribune.

What we obtain too cheap we esteem too lightly.—Palme.
