City Sales Tax Election Set Saturday

Voters Cast Ballots Here

Saturday is the day, a headline and story in this week's paper say, when the voters of Bovina decide whether they are for or against a one per cent city sales tax.

We think it deserves to be passed with the overwhelming support of the voters. The city government needs the money if it is to provide the services that its citizens deserve and need. The city's financial position at present is such that it can barely "stay ahead of the books."

With the indebtedness that past progress has brought about and the interest payments which must be made, not to mention the principal, there's a definite need for more revenue. This can be provided, painlessly, with the city sales tax. This tax is one which most of our neighboring towns have already seen fit to provide themselves with and one which we will be proud of in months and years to come as the results of the tax become visible in the form of a better community.

Details of the proposal appear in the aforementioned story and in an advertisement. These two bits of information plus that which has previously been published pretty well answer all the questions we know of in regard to the tax. But, just for the record, let us again point out here that the tax, if the voters favor it, will apply only to those items which are presently taxed by the state and this does NOT include most grocery items or farm products or medicines, for instance.

There will be no increased burden on the businesspeople who collect the tax as they are already collecting the tax for the state as it is now. If the election carries, the businesses will just collect an additional one per cent city tax and forward the entire amount to the state comptroller's office in Austin. The city's portion of the collected tax is then sent back to the city by the state on a quarterly basis. A reasonable two per cent collection fee is charged by the state for handling the money. That's a heap cheaper than it could be handled locally even if it were legal to do it that way.

From here it appears that the proposal is much more appealing if you look at it from the standpoint that it will make for a better community for you and yours. Cities which have voted the tax in find, according to reports we've read, that is has a tendency to stimulate business because the city governments are in better financial position to provide services which make a town attractive. Towns which have kept themselves exempt from the tax have not enjoyed any increased business because of the lack of it.

People in this area who have shopped elsewhere have paid such a tax in Clovis, for instance, for years without thinking anything about it, or helping their own town any in the process. Lubbock and Amarillo, to name two more examples, both have the tax as do most other towns in our area.

If we assume for the sake of argument that the city needs additional revenue, then there's possibly a question of what's the best way for this to be obtained. The sales tax or an increase in property taxes?

Frankly, the money can be raised with either method. As a rule, in places where the city sales tax has been voted in, the property owners have been of the opinion that they would rather pay their part of a sales tax than to have an increased tax on their property. This is looked at in the light that there are a number of people, who have the advantages of city services, fire and police protection, water, paving, trash hauling, etc. who pay no city taxes because they own no taxable property.

Promoters of the sales tax issue figure it is much more "fair" than putting the entire, and an increased, burden on the property owner who must pay county and state and school taxes on that property as well as city taxes.

If the election fails to carry, it can't be called again for two years, according to our understanding.

That's another reason that we think the voters of Bovina should take a progressive step Saturday and vote for the one per cent sales tax.

Additional progress is knocking on Bovina's door. We can open that door and let it in when we go to the polls Saturday.

Legion Holds Auction Sale

Members of American Legion Post in Bovina were disappointed in the results of the consignment auction held here Thursday night.

When all expenses were paid, the post realized little profit from the sale.

However, those attending were pleased with the bargains purchased at the auction, since most objects went for prices below their value. The bidding was spirited on several items, but because of a small attendance, this occurred only occasionally.

TEN YEARS AGO
 June 1, 1960

Local, district and state contenders for Democratic nominations will spar again Saturday in the second or run-off primary. Plans for a donkey softball game to be in connection with Bovina's Fourth of July celebration were discussed at a regular meeting of Bovina Lions Thursday noon.

A site for Bovina's second produce processing shed has not yet been selected.

Approximately 1500 braceros are expected to be employed as farm hands here this summer.

Pete Davies, manager of Panhandle Growers Labor Association, estimates this will be the number needed at the peak of the busy season ahead.

Duane Rea cleared the first hurdle toward the coveted American Farmer Degree recently. His entry now goes to state judging.

A county-wide mosquito control meeting and the insect's relation to sleeping sickness will be the subject of a meeting to be held in Friona Thursday night at 8 p.m., announces Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer.

Miss Ellen Remmsnider presented a program on Alaska to Widows Club Thursday at the regular meeting.

Following church services Sunday evening, Young Married Couples Class of Bovina Church of Christ was entertained with a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Boardman.

Hosting a monthly salad luncheon for Friendly Circle of First Baptist Church Tuesday were Mrs. Jim Russell and Mrs. Jesse Sisco.

Verna Marie Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Estes, will be installed as Worthy Advisor of Bovina Assembly of Rainbow for girls Friday in Masonic Hall.

SIX YEARS AGO
 June 3, 1964

A benefit dinner, to raise funds for boys baseball program here this summer, has been scheduled for Sunday, June 21, by Bovina Lions Club.

"New Bovina" received another shot in the arm at a meeting of directors of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Thursday noon.

Approximately 100 people participated in working of Bovina Cemetery Saturday, Memorial Day. About half of this total met at Fellowship Hall of Church of Christ for a basket lunch at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cockerham had open house Sunday afternoon at their home five miles north of Bovina.

Mrs. Bob McMeans entertained several women with a bridge luncheon Wednesday at her home.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Donaldson are invited to attend a reception in their home marking their 25th anniversary Sunday, June 7.

A decision on altering plans and the starting date for Bovina Schools expansion program is scheduled to be made at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

Texas cattle numbers are the highest in history. More than 10 million head were on hand on Jan. 1. However, Texas A&M University's livestock marketing specialist, Ed Uvacek, believes

By Vern Sanford

Texas needs to buy another quarter of a million acres of land for its wildlife program before prices get out of reach.

This word comes from the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Today the State of Texas already owns 146,000 acres of land, scattered around in various ecological areas. It is estimated that the 233,000 acres needed under the proposed program would cost approximately $23,000,000, to be paid for with $7,000,000 in funds now on hand and the remainder from unappropriated Federal funds, which must be used within a two-year period.

Federal funds are a part of the excise tax on hunting and fishing equipment, which reverts to Texas and other states each year.

This proposed purchase is for wildlife only. It does not include the more than 100,000 acres needed for park and recreation development within the state.

Funds for the wildlife purchase come from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

Park funds come from the general revenue, use fees and concessions.

Space problem is growing. A half-century ago, with only 4,000,000 population, wildlife had been greatly reduced in the state because of over-kills, illegal slaughter and lack of game management.

Today Texas has nearly 12,000,000 population . . . but more deer and turkey than any other state. Deer are so plentiful in many areas, the bag limit is three. This liberal bag has been set to improve the ratio and keep the deer herds in balance.

This year deer and turkey face serious depredation problems. There is a severe food problem. Today, most of the ranchers who charge a fee for hunting must feed the wildlife on their property.

Wildlife range has been continuously reduced. Texas reservoirs of more than 2,000 acres each have taken 680,000 acres of land that might otherwise have been wildlife habitat. Of course, these lakes provide fishing and other recreational features. It is estimated that the new lakes now under construction and planned before 1990 will cover another 1,000,000 acres of land.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Dolph Moten, Editor
 Dear Dolph:

Usually we agree on issues of public interests, especially when our community is concerned. However, we have different opinions on the City sales tax value.

Since the City has not published a budget for 1970 the people will be hard-put, for a good reason for raising taxes. This makes it very important that we take a good, long, hard look at the City sales tax support, especially since this kind of tax will impose an undue hardship on so many people who are least able to pay it.

While the great wealth of our City gets a free pass, it just might be best to postpone this tax until we can get a good, sound, well-planned program for using this extra money. However, I sure hope that we voters will not be complacent on June 6, since it is our coveted privilege to go out and vote yes or no on any question.

Sincerely yours,
 O. W. Rhinehart

May 28, 1970
 To the editor:

As a student of the University of Kansas and a resident of the community I feel that it is necessary to explain the activities at the University during the past few weeks. We as students of the University of Kansas, feeling it imperative that the students of this university be given the opportunity to express their opposition to the war in IndoChina, have decided to allow students to discontinue classes, if they so desire, or to engage in activities designed to secure an end to the war and to protest the senseless death of four students at Kent State University.

Contrary to news reports, students are remaining on campus not only for classes, but to work toward an end of the war. Please support the McGovern and Cooper-Church Bills.

Sincerely,
 Francisca Sierra

Great peace has those who love thy law.

—(Psalms 119:165).

Most of us want peace more than everything else in the world. We yearn for peace of mind, heart and home, peace on our jobs, with our friends, in the world. To attain a just and lasting peace we must open up our minds to God's guidance and direction.

Technological Progress Offers New Help For Hard Of Hearing

Technological progress by Beltone Electronics Corporation of Chicago, Illinois, offers new help for the hard of hearing. The result of this latest technology is the Prelude, the smallest, most light-weight, behind-the-ear hearing aid produced by Beltone, world leader in hearing aids. The instrument was especially designed for the hard of hearing suffering from hearing impairments in both the mild and serious categories.

The Prelude is capable of amplifying sound up to more than 200 times its original level and offers dual adjustable power and tone settings that actually make the instrument "four hearing aids in one."

The instrument weighs approximately 1/6 ounce, measures about 1/4 cubic inch and is available in either flesh color or flesh-brown color cases made of Lexan — the material the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has specified for the face plates worn by U. S. astronauts during space exploration flights. The Prelude will fit either the right or left ear. It fits comfortably Compactness and high performance make the Beltone Prelude an outstanding example of technological progress in bringing help to the hard of hearing. The instrument is the smallest and most light-weight, behind-the-ear hearing aid produced by Beltone Electronics Corporation.

to the space behind the top of the "average" ear. The Prelude, along with the company's complete line of other behind-the-ear, in-the-ear, body-worn and eyeglass hearing aids, is available through a network of approximately 350 authorized Beltone dealers located throughout the U. S. and Canada.

"MARDI GRAS FOR EVERYONE"

Many people think that those last golden moments of social conviviality and celebration before Lent starts belong to the New Orleans Mardi Gras. Yet millions of people in South America, the Caribbean and Europe have their own celebrations which precede this period of sober self denial.

No matter where you live, why not have a Mardi Gras celebration of your very own? It's a sparkling party idea and one which will lift everyone's spirits in the middle of this grey and bleak February.

Traditionally, Mardi Gras begins two weeks before Ash Wednesday — this year it falls on February 18th — but the real festivities run from the 14th through midnight on the 17th. This gives hostesses any number of dates around which to plan a new and exciting party.

Color and music are the watchwords. Masks, confetti and ticker tape can out rival even the gayest of New Year's Eves. Balloons and flowers are the hallmarks of one of the brightest times of the year.

February is the month which offers the first bright spring blossoms, so the experienced party giver will visit her local FTD florist to work out the motif for her party. There is something about the lilt of the daffodil, jonquil, hyacinth and crocus with their true clear colors that can set the tone for a center piece. Regal tulips in all their long stemmed glory are magnificent in simple containers.

With the help of your Florists' Transworld Delivery designer, match the colors of balloons, flowers tablecloths and napkins plus colored tapes and other party favors. A little preplanning before the party date will make all of these details fall into line with a minimum of trouble.

Mardi Gras time can be celebrated by everyone, everywhere. And you'll find yourself the unique hostess who thought of a novel party idea to spark those February dol-drum.

Cook's Corner

MRS. J. T. HAMMONDS

One of the most unusual kitchens in Bovina can be found in the new home of the J. T. Hammonds in Ridgevale Addition. Mrs. Hammonds says it is designed for "one person only," but that is the way she enjoys cooking. At first glance, the kitchen appears to be "U" shaped, but further inspection reveals it takes off to the right at the vicinity of the double sink and has almost as much counter top area in that portion, that many times is gobbled up in wasted space. Myrna, as she is known by her friends, enjoys cooking. She many times entertains the couple's families for get-togethers. Born the daughter of a Methodist minister in Indian Creek, Texas, she has lived nearly all over the state at one time or another. She graduated from high school at Meadwell and entered McMurry College in Abilene. While a student there, her father, Rev. J. N. Hester, was sent to Bovina. During her senior year at McMurry, she met J. T. Hammonds while home on a visit. She had gone to Cranfill's Grocery on Main Street for her mother and was introduced to one of the employees, who was later to become her husband. Following graduation, Myrna applied for a teaching position in high school at Bovina. Because of her youth, she was assigned to elementary school. Her first contract, which she has in a scrapbook with many mementos, stipulates that she must not marry during her first year of teaching.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sapp of Scottsdale, Ariz. and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Moody of Mesa, Ariz., and formerly of Bovina.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK TURNER

Frank Turners Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner will be honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 7, in the Community Room of First State Bank of Bovina. Their children will be hosts and hostesses for the event, Mr. and Mrs. Olan Turner of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner of League City, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Barron of Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dickerson of Stamford.

The Turners were married June 6, 1920 in Roby. Mrs. Turner, the former Miss Hattie Holland, was born at Mt. Pleasant but spent most of her growing years near Roby, where her parents were stock farmers. She attended the Roby schools. Mr. Turner was born at Sweetwater and lived in that area until an adult, attending school at Roscoe. He moved to Sylvester where his father was engaged in farming and ranching. It was in Sylvester the couple met in 1918 at a social event. They were married two years later. Sylvester was their home for 31 years, where their children were born and reared. Turner continued his work as a farmer and rancher. They moved to Bovina in 1951, when there were only a few irrigation wells in the area. "It was the irrigation that attracted us to Bovina," the Turners say. They farmed their land at Hub until Turner retired. Their son, Olan, now farms the Turner land. The couple make their home at Zapata now most of the time, where they pursue a hobby of fishing at Falcon Lake. The Turners own a mobile home at Lake Front Resort, hit recently by a tornado. The couple had left for the Panhandle when the storm hit the resort. Upon hearing the news on Sunday afternoon, May 24, they returned to Zapata to find their home was one of three that received damage. However, five surrounding homes were completely destroyed. They love living at Falcon Lake. However, more of their time is spent in their new boat than in their mobile home. Friends and relatives are invited to attend the Golden Anniversary observance here Sunday. However, request is made that no gifts be brought. In addition to their children who will be here to host the occasion, the Turners also expect their eight grandchildren, seven girls and one boy.

Scoopin' By Pat Jacobs

Some of the boys who know say wheat harvest is about 10 days away -- give or take a few. The harvest crews, from this area at least, took off in a southerly direction a week, or more ago. There are quite a few custom rigs around these parts. At least one we know of -- the J. T. Jones -- follows the harvest almost to the northern border of the U.S. Several others are also well known. Having been raised in cotton country -- wheat harvest has always been fascinating. First, the crop itself is green when things are supposed to be brown, and golden when things are supposed to be green. Coffee-talk says the wheat crop will only be about "average" this year -- or maybe slightly below. Dry weather and dry winds haven't been the most conducive elements to a bumper crop. Then the price ain't nothing to neigh about, neither. Spent a couple'a summers at harvest -- way back when trying to make enough green to continue college another year. Guess things haven't changed much -- in some areas at least. The men are still tired and dusty -- and the women (who are not driving trucks) still cooking enough for a log rolling. Don't know if they still do, but then the farmer's wife fed the entire harvest crew three meals a day. That was about the time a new dirty word was entering a farmer's vocabulary -- allotment. A better one was soon to become familiar -- irrigation. My, how those two have changed life on the farm. Don't know the connection, but wheat harvest always brings to mind a cooling box in the kitchen window full of butter and milk. But it's been more years than allotments and irrigation since those were familiar sights. And remember drinking cool windmill water from a gourd dipper? -- Wonder whatever happened to all those gourds, anyway. And sitting on damp, cool ground beneath a willow tree on a hot day -- splashing bare feet in a tank? Remember catching lightning bugs after dark and putting them in a jar? -- or tying strings on the back feet of June bugs? -- or digging up the holes of lady bugs to find what was inside? It sure beat work.

Wendol Christians Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wendol Christian were honored Sunday afternoon with a reception observing their 25th wedding anniversary. Registering for the occasion, held in their home at Oklahoma Lane, were 148 friends and relatives. Hostesses for the observance were their four daughters, Mrs. Eddie (Gwen) Corn, Misses Lanelle, Loy and Tammy Christian. The couple exchanged wedding vows on June 6, 1945 at the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church. The minister who read the vows called the couple at the exact time Sunday of their wedding 25 years ago. Mrs. Christian's attendant, Mrs. Jim Nunley of Odessa, was present for the occasion. Miss Doris White of Farwell and Miss Zella Donaldson, nieces of Mrs. Christian, sang a medley of songs popular in the middle 1940's. They also sang the ones sung at the wedding. Miss Karen Smith of Grady, N.M., also a niece, was dressed in Mrs. Christian's wedding dress and Harold Carpenter, a brother-in-law, wore Mr. Christian's wedding suit. The serving table was laid with a silver and white cutwork cloth over pink. A pink and white floral arrangement in a silver two-tiered bowl bearing the numbers "25" centered the table. A three-tiered wedding cake adorned with silver bells, strawberry slush and pink and white mints were served from crystal appointments.

Members Sign Up, Art Center Reality

"Galley Alley," Bovina's art center, officially got underway last week as memberships were sold and plans made to occupy a building on Third Street. Tuesday night, the group held its first meeting in the J. T. Jones building, where the art center will be located. Hopes are that Galley Alley will be open to the public by July 1. The organization has a twofold purpose, to provide a place for members to work, and to sell enough retail items to be self-sustaining. The center plans to have a stock of art supplies for sale. In addition, paintings and other art work will be offered for sale on a consignment basis. Eight have either verbally or officially "signed up" as members. Several others may in the near future, according to Mrs. Neal Mager, president. Individual memberships are $100. Family memberships are $150.

Rules were discussed after being presented last week by Billy Whitecotton, chairman of the rules committee. These will be available to members in the near future. The center will be open during the week from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. with members taking their turns there. In addition to having a place to work, Dean Merritt of Clovis will conduct his art lessons there once each week. It is hoped other art teachers will also hold classes there.

ARE YOU A FAILURE?

"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Matt. 16:26.

Americans are so addicted to materialism that they have little patience with that person who is a failure. Everyone wants to be successful. To be labeled as a failure is considered an insult. Most Americans rarely consider the value of spiritual success; in fact, they quite freely acknowledge Biblical ignorance and spiritual failure and seem to think this a mark of intellectualism.

Material success will amount to very little when we stand before the judgement of Christ. All the money in the world will not purchase the mercy of God, or a mansion in heaven. All the political power can never force an entrance into the city of God.

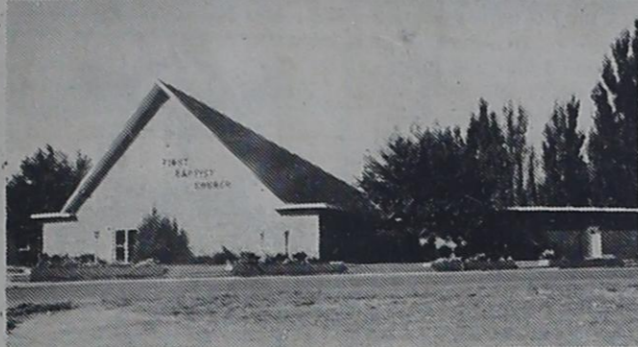

In spite of this, many people continue to devote themselves to the affairs of this life in an effort to gain success, and do this at the expense of losing their souls. They are spiritual failures! They lose all they have gained in life, and they lose the treasures they could have gained for eternity.

ventional post card with a spot for message and for address. That means you can plan, create, and produce on-the-spot picture postcards showing "the folks back home" the high points of your trip. The results are bound to be far more delightful than any standard postcard could possibly be.

The people you meet in your vacation are invariably friendly and usually flattered to be of help; so don't be afraid to ask someone to shoot a picture of both of you enjoying your trip.

If every postcard featuring a statue of a local hero on horseback were to be laid end to end, they'd reach around the world.

This year you can add some pizzazz to your vacation correspondence with postcards of YOU (standing in front of the local statue, if you must). This bright idea came from the Polaroid people, who created the ingeniously simple "Postcarder." It's just what it sounds like—an attractive white cardboard frame into which you slip your instant photo. The reverse side is just like a con-

LIGHT makes a difference
by Nancy Evans Residential Lighting Specialist General Electric, Nela Park

Mushroom units illuminate the flower beds, and floodlights bring out the beauty of the trees, making outdoor patio pleasant setting for entertaining in the cool evening hours.

Cooking, dining, and entertaining outdoors in the evening hours are popular activities among families having patios, terraces, porches and swimming pools. These activities become as pleasurable outdoors as in the home when imaginative lighting treatment is given to the areas involved. Lighting should be adjusted to the various demands of the visual activities. It can vary in character from the strictly functional to the purely decorative.

Relatively high lighting levels are called for in such places as the food preparation area, game table, and the sports and game area. Ideally these seeing centers should be surrounded by fill-in light of low intensity for less sight-demanding pursuits — conversation, dancing, relaxing.

Patios and porches also can be places from which to view other lighted exterior vistas. Dimming equipment or high-low switches can be used to lower the immediate illumination level so that the scene beyond can be enjoyed.

Your lighting design naturally will change with the location, size and character of the area. Among the first pieces of equipment to consider for use on porches and covered patios are portable table and floor lamps.

For open areas functional lighting can be provided by 150-watt PAR-38 flood lamps, mounted on the house, garage, poles or trees. These should be housed in fixtures located 12 to 20 feet above the ground and about 20 feet away from the area being lighted. They should be aimed in such a manner that the light sources themselves are not directly visible. Use at least two flood-lamps, and aim them from different directions to soften shadows.

The same types of lamps also can be effective in decorative lighting. Here they are used for bringing out the beauty of trees, shrubbery, and other landscape features. Low-level "mushroom" fixtures are ideal for lighting flower beds.

You'll enjoy experimenting with color effects in lighting for after-dark outdoor living. White light alone displays nature's colors in your garden picture, but subtle and fascinating effects can be attained with touches of colored light if used in combination with white light.

Want to know more about lighting for outdoor living? Write for "Light Makes a Difference" . . . In Outdoor Living." Single copies are available free from the Inquiry Bureau, Dept. 230-5525, General Electric Company, Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio 44112.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

GREENBUG GETTING OFF TO EARLY START IN GRAIN

Greenbugs, those little green aphids which have been attacking grain sorghum on the Texas High Plains for the past few years, have recently been observed infesting small grain sorghum in several counties in the area.

Area Extension Entomologists Dr. Don R. Rummel and Dr. Bill C. Clymer report that greenbugs have been found in some fields in Oldham, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro and Bailey counties. "At present, infestations appear to be scattered and spotty," they point out.

"The main thing for producers to do right now is to keep a close check on their fields. Small grain sorghum up to about six inches in height is much more susceptible to greenbug injury than larger plants. Only a few greenbugs per plant may be necessary to damage small grain sorghum and damage in the seedlings state may result in stand loss."

The entomologists point out that the extent of greenbug damage depends on greenbug numbers, plant size, stage of growth, plant vigor, moisture conditions and the presence or absence of parasites and predators. Parasites and predators are generally still in low numbers but should increase rapidly as greenbug numbers increase.

"Be sure that greenbugs are present in damaging numbers before starting a spray program," caution Rummel and Clymer. "Several other species of aphids, such as the corn leaf aphid, commonly infest grain sorghum but seldom cause economic damage."

Insecticides recommended for controlling greenbugs include carbophenothion (Tri-thion), demeton (Systox), diazinon, disulfoton (Di-Syston), malathion and parathion. Disulfoton should not be applied as a foliar spray more than twice per crop season or as a granular application more than once per season. Malathion is recommended for ground application only. Methyl parathion should not be substituted for parathion.

AVOID THESE GARDENING GOOFS! BY MAXWELL SMART

Security Leaks
When securely inside your hose, water goes where you want it. But a leak here and there, fellow operatives, can spell trouble. And the trouble can be spelled s-u-f-f-o-c-a-t-i-o-n.

Roots get oxygen-starved and suffocated by too much water. And root growth is retarded when the sun cannot warm the water-logged ground to a comfortable heat.

A jet-type leak can wash away top-soil and seeds.

But a motor-driven ride to the hardware store can save you trouble by putting you in an excellent position to pick up that good new kind of hose with a gold stripe. You not only avoid leaks, but also make unlikely such an unkind comment from a neighbor as: "See you later, suffocator!"

WHERE DO TEMPERATURES SOMETIMES REACH 170° IN THE SAHARA DESERT.

LAWN TENDING DO'S AND DON'TS!

If you want to look from your window upon a lawn that will turn your neighbors green with envy, cultivate these do's and don'ts suggested by scientists.

Do water a new lawn lightly and often until it is established.

Do soak an established lawn to a depth of three to six inches but don't water again till the soil becomes dry and crumbly.

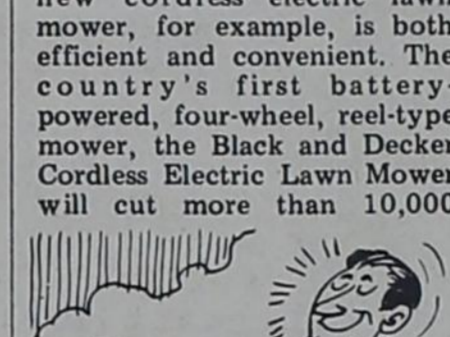

Don't mow a newly planted lawn until it is three inches high. Then keep it at one and a half or two inches.

Do use a quality seed mixture instead of a bargain-basement mixture; it will prove an economy in the long run.

Do follow instructions on the fertilizer package very carefully.

Don't apply lime, fertilizer or anything else except with a properly adjusted spreader.

Do use a sharp mower. Dull blades split tops of the grass, causing them to turn brown. A new cordless electric lawn mower, for example, is both efficient and convenient. The country's first battery-powered, four-wheel, reel-type mower, the Black and Decker Cordless Electric Lawn Mower will cut more than 10,000 square feet of average lawn on one battery charge. It can be recharged automatically by connecting it to the recharging unit which operates on regular household current.

Do utilize the many other features of this modern mower. They include a leak-proof battery that carries a three-year warranty, a quiet permanent magnet motor, a contact safety switch, safety lock and deep set blades, self-sharpening ability, six adjustable cutting heights, four-wheel construction and a shock absorbing clutch.

At Home In Parmer County

By Janice Miller
County HD Agent

Summer time means lots of 4-H activities. This week Deborah Harding, Darwin Green, and Steven and Kevin Kaltwasser will be going to College Station to compete in state 4-H contests.

Next Monday morning, June 8, county 4-H members will be leaving for county 4-H camp. Camp will be in Palo Duro Canyon and will continue through Wednesday morning. This is just the beginning of summer so there'll be many more activities to come.

June is known as Dairy Month and milk and dairy products are listed on the USDA Plentiful Foods List. Here are some ways of using dairy products that you may not have tried before.

Add 1/4 cup dairy sour cream to every 1-pound can of BAKED BEANS in tomato sauce. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and garlic salt. Top each serving with a spoonful of sour cream. To take away from home, tightly cover baking dish and wrap in newspapers to keep the beans hot until serving time.

Try NO BAKE CHEESE CAKE for dessert. Combine in top of double boiler:

2 envelopes of unflavored gelatin
6 tablespoons sugar

dash of salt
Beat together and add to gelatin:

1 1/2 cups skim milk
3 egg yolks

Stir constantly while cooking over boiling water, until gelatin dissolves and milk thickens (about 6 minutes). Remove from heat -- add 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, then chill. Whip 3 cups creamed cottage cheese into billowing lightness (3 minutes at high speed of electric mixer). Stir in -- 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Fold cottage cheese mixture in thickened gelatin.

Beat 3 egg whites until stiff. Add 6 tablespoons sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed.

Fold egg whites into gelatin mixture and spoon into an 8-inch spring-form pan. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs on top and chill until firm.

Yields 12 servings.

Other foods listed on the Plentiful Foods List are: honey, eggs and canned applesauce.

It makes good cents to vote FOR the 1% city sales tax Saturday

Why Is The Sales Tax Needed?
It's needed to provide the income necessary to make Bovina a better, more progressive community -- a city that gives the best opportunity to ALL its citizens, one that will attract industry, be able to give the services its citizens want, and in general, be a better place to live.

Why Can't The City Get By On The Money It Has?
It can -- but not if the people of Bovina want a first-class city. Costs of providing services have risen drastically, along with the demand for these services. If Bovina continues to grow, the demands on the city government will grow right along with it. Bovina simply does not have the revenue to meet the problems of a growing city or even a status quo. The only answer would be a cutback in services -- and a step backward for Bovina.

Why Not Raise Property Taxes To Get The Needed Revenue?
One of the pleasant things about living in Bovina has been the relatively low ad valorem tax rate the city collects from all property owners. To get an equivalent amount of revenue, it would be necessary to RAISE property taxes a minimum of 27% per hundred dollar valuation. This would mean an increased tax on a $10,000 home of about $27.00 per year.

As A Business Man, Why Favor A Sales Tax?
A run down city runs down business. Experience in other cities in Texas has shown that a sales tax does NOT hurt retail business. A better, safer, more attractive city on the other hand will attract more industry and people. This means better business not less. Some 85% of all people living in Texas live in a city which already has a city sales tax. On the vast majority of purchases made by the buying public, the amount of the sales tax is so insignificant, it would not discourage people from making the purchase, or encourage them to buy elsewhere.

As An Average Citizen, Why Favor A Sales Tax?
Because it means Bovina will be a better place to live. It means better parks, streets, and playgrounds, better police and fire protection. All these things will insure a continued growth for Bovina. These services are the best investments you can make for your family.

Why Does The City Need More Money?
For the same reason it costs more to run a business or industry than it did five or ten years ago. Labor costs have gone up. Materials are higher. Equipment costs more. The city's population has steadily grown. The people are demanding more services than they did in the past and the city is responding with more services. Bovina's revenue has not kept pace with the city's growth and demand for more services.

Can The City Increase The Amount Of Sales Tax?
NO -- the amount of sales tax is 1¢ and this is set by state law. The city does not have the right to change this amount. Items taxed will be exactly the same as items taxed by the state sales tax, and exemptions will be the same under the state sales tax.

When Would The Tax Go Into Effect?
The city sales tax would go into effect on October 1, 1970, with the city getting its first revenue from the tax on January 1, 1971.

Why Is A Sales Tax The Best Way?
A sales tax means that everyone pays at least something toward the cost of running their city. It also means that people living outside Bovina would contribute to the cost of city government. This is only fair since visitors also use city facilities. Also a sales tax is paid in very small installments, spread over an entire year. This makes it almost unnoticeable.

Who Will Collect The Tax?
The tax will be collected by the state in exactly the same manner the state sales tax is collected. Allowing the state to collect the tax will make it simpler and more convenient for business firms, who will have only one report to file with the state.

How Much Will The Sales Tax Raise?
Certainly this depends on the amount of retail sales in Bovina. The State Comptroller's Office in Austin has estimated that a city sales tax will produce a minimum of $10,000.00 annually and that this figure could be as high as $20,000.00 for a city the size of Bovina.

The Question Is Not Whether Additional Revenue Is Needed But How It Is To Be Raised. Sales Tax or Property Tax? Where, When and Who?
The election will be held at the City Hall Saturday, June 6, 1970. The polls will be open to every qualified voter in Bovina. The hours will be from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.
