

MERRY CHRISTMAS

BANKER'S BABIES--These three tiny tykes posed under the Christmas tree at Bovina's First Bank are children of the bank's employees. They are (left to right) Scott, one year old son of Jeff and Kristi Steelman; Patrick Lee, four month old son of Albert and Leonor Espinoza; and Chase, two year old son of Chris and Jill Timms.

VISIT TO SANTA--The children of Tony and Angela Englant visited with Santa at the City Hall when he stopped in Bovina last week. Sitting on Santa's lap are Sherri, age 4, and Mark Anthony, age 21 months. They said they had been about as good as possible during the past year.

THE NATIVITY--Hand painted wooden cutouts of the Nativity scene and the animals of the stable are featured in the yard of the Owen Pattons this Christmas season. A star on the roof lights the front porch of the home.

SANTA'S SLEIGH--Plus his reindeer can be seen on the front lawn of the Thomas Rhodes home in Bovina. A lighted walkway lined with candy canes completes the exterior Christmas decorations of the home.

NOTICE . . .

Continuing a custom of recent years, the Bovina Blade will not publish an edition during New Year's Week in order to give our employees time to visit with their families during the holidays. The next issue will be Jan. 9, 1993.

CHRISTMAS DECOR--An inviting front porch and lighted roof top are the featured decorations at the Nora Rivera home in Bovina.

MANGER SCENE--A lighted manger scene depicting the birth of the Christ Child holds the place of honor under the Christmas tree at the home of Roberto and Rosa Tienda. See the feature article on this family on page 6.

LINDA MARSHALL

Christmas is only three days away and I want to wish all of my readers a Merry, Merry Christmas and may you have a prosperous New Year!

Keep on reading the paper and you will never know what you might find out. It could be something that you really need to know or something that could just brighten up your life.

I want to ask you to help me make the Blade your paper and a better paper in 1993 by turning in the news you might have and being forgiving when there are mistakes in the paper. You know that no one is perfect and it is hard to catch every little typo.

Bill and Carol Ellis hosted a Christmas party and dinner for

BILL DENNEY

B. Denney's Rites Are Held Thurs.

Memorial services for Howard R. (Bill) Denney, 71, of Amarillo were conducted Thursday morning at St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina.

Denney died early Tuesday, December 22. He had suffered a stroke about a week earlier, which resulted in a blood clot that proved fatal, according to a spokesman for the family.

Denney was born in Bovina. He married Esther Dowd in 1946 in California. He began his career in law enforcement in Bovina in 1962, and moved to the Friona Police Department in 1967. He served as the Chief of Police at Friona for 14 years, retiring in May of 1983.

He served four years in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II.

Survivors include his wife Esther of the home; two sons, James Denney of Guam and H.R. Denney of Friona; three daughters, Cecilia Coffey of Amarillo, Rose Lissy of Chandler, Arizona and Darlene Sumpter of Fritch; two sisters, Dottie Ward of Bovina and Edna Nunn of Kimberling City, Missouri; and a brother, Burnett Denney of Hawthorne, California.

Thirteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

The family suggests memorials to Prairie Acres Nursing Home in Friona, or to a favorite charity.

employees of the Bovina Blade and Friona Star last Sunday evening.

The group enjoyed a brisket meal with all the trimmings, exchanged gifts and played games of 'chickenfoot'. Everyone had a good time and the decorations were so pretty!

Herman and Edna Estes are here for the holidays and would enjoy your visits.

Homer Kelly, the father of Irma Jo, is doing real good after his surgery.

I talked with Robert Fowler and he said that his dad was in good spirits and would enjoy a visit from any of his friends. He is at the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo.

Charles Steele had surgery on Monday and came home on Wednesday of last week. Virginia said they got a real good report and that Charles was doing just great.

The Roy Lee Stowers family went to Lubbock Sunday to pick up their daughter and grandson, Robbie and Brent Mersiosky.

They will be here for the holidays and Mike, Robbie's husband, will be here for Christmas. Dorothy said she was really enjoying her grandson.

The Couples and Career class from the First Baptist church had a Christmas party on the 18th at the Ricky Jamerson's home. They had 17 present and enjoyed a "Chinese Christmas."

The young couples from the Bovina Church of Christ had their annual Christmas party on Friday the 11th. It was hosted by Joe and Kim Black. The Couples had dinner, played games, and exchanged gifts.

Since I have become a grandmother I am no longer considered young so we were not included in this special event.

Amanda Prather is still in the hospital and is not improving as we had hoped she would. You can send her a card at University Medical Center Room 236A. Please let's all remember this young family in our thoughts daily.

A Christmas breakfast at Elton and Marie's Flea Market was held Saturday, December 19 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Biscuits, bacon, sausage, ham, gravy, scrambled eggs, jelly, orange juice and coffee were served to Jay Sherrill, Jean Wiseman, Earl and Norma Whitten, Helen Blaylock, Harry Johnson, Kenneth Johnson, Radford, Kay, Rusty and Amy Venable, Dennis Thomas of Friona, Howard Looney of Clovis, Joe Looney, Pete and Ruby Davies, J.T. Hammonds, Charlie Gilbreath, Lester and Flossie Rhinehart, Donoleta Hawkins, Carry Melear, Anita Guest, Kenny Guest of Oklahoma City, Owen and Margaret Moore of Lubbock, Bret and Megan Whitten, Glenn and Florence Ritchie, Bud and Lori Venable, the host and hostess, Elton and Marie.

Marie said they appreciated everyone that came and they wish everyone a Merry Christmas.

Lula White is now residing at Prairie Acres Nursing Home, so if you happen to be in Friona, you might go by and see her.

Jim and Anita Guest have had company and are still having more company coming. Ken and Margi Guest from Oklahoma City came last Thursday and stayed until Sunday; Dr. and Mrs. Jim Guest, Jr. from Tucumcari, came Saturday and left Sunday; Ginger and Stefanie Bowman from San Diego came Saturday and will stay until after Christmas.

If all goes as planned, Keith, Paula, Kristopher and Mathew Guest from Oklahoma City will be coming on Wednesday of this week. Steve Guest from Austin, Bob Bowman, Ginger's husband from San Diego, and his family from Denver will be coming on Wednesday and staying for the holidays.

We want to extend our deepest sympathies to the Bill Denney family. The Denneys are former residents of Bovina.

As the old year closes and the new year begins let us all count our blessings and remember that you could have been born in Somalia.

All of you know about my famous little poems that I am always quoting, in so here goes another one for my young readers.

Whistling At Their Work

Wilma Willett Fuchs

Santa is a busy fellow, as busy as can be, Were you with him at the North Pole

I'm sure you would agree. And his helpers in his workshop Are very busy, too, For Christmas Eve will soon be here

And there is much to do. With hammer, nails and paint and glue

And paper steel and wool, They can make the grandest toys Anyone ever could.

If you could go to visit them On any working day, You'd find them whistling at their work,

For work to them is play. The reason they are happy folks Is all because of you,

In helping make your Christmas bright,

It makes them happy, too.

LUCKY WINNER--Brenda Wilson was the winner of 100 gallons of gasoline from Charles Oil and Gas Inc. this past week. She is pictured here with Charles Oil employee Clay Dutton, who also just happens to be a former student of Mrs. Wilson.

Dear Santa,
I would like a motorcycle, and some boots, and some spurs, and a saddle, and some chaps. I also want a pet snake, and an airplane, and a knife. I would like some weights, and a cowboy hat and some shirts and a horse.

Your friend, Austin Clayton
*****

Dear Santa,
I would like a racetrack, and then I would like a super soccer 20C, and the ninja turtles. Then I would like new chaps, and new spurs. Then I would like new boots, and a new hat. Then I would like a new race car and a horse whip, chaps and new spurs. Then I would like more pants and I want fake guns. Merry Christmas.

*****
Love, Taffanie

Dear Santa,
I would like a hat and some gloves for Sherri and a tape for Sherri. I would like some boots. I love you Santa Claus.

*****
Love, Courtney

Dear Santa,
I want some fast tracks and a remote control airplane and a walky talky and Gack and a b-b-gun. I also want air pro hocky and a trapooline and a radio.

Your friend, Derek
*****

Dear Santa,
How are you and Mrs. Claus? I'm at school and will have a fun day today at school. For Christmas, I'd like a baby bear for my baby brother and a watch for my dad one for my brother. My mom would like pans for cooking. I would like a Huffy bike and would like everything to be made by elves. One reason I need a Huffy is because I can out run my brother with a Huffy. He has a ten speed and I can beat him with a Huffy. And I'd like a 49er t shirt

*****
Silvino Silva

Dear Santa,
How are you doing? Is Rudolph okay? How about Dancer and Prancer? Well what I want for Christmas is a basketball goal and if you have enough time I would like a four-ten shotgun and some four-ten shotgun shells. I know I asked for a lot but I need those things. The reason I need a basketball goal is so I can get in shape for Little Dribblers and the reason I need a four-ten shotgun and four-ten shotgun shells is so I can shoot pheasant and quail. Thank you very much!

*****
Jonathn Cordova

Dear Santa,
This is what I would like for Christmas. I would like to see your reindeer Rudolph, Prancer, Dancer, Comet, Blitszon and all the other reindeer. I would like to see Mrs. Clause and your elves. I would like to ride on your sleigh and help you deliver presents to the children. I need some new clothes, a couple of Barbies, a puzzle of the United States and a Magic Copier. I would also like the game, Don't Wake Daddy. I want some books and so many scholarships as I can get. I want to be the smartest kid in the classroom. I want to try harder to make good grades. I would like some money. I would like everything but I already have enough stuff. I live in a white and purple house with 3 cars and one blue pickup. You might have to come in at the front door!

*****
Love, Christen Stowers

Dear Santa,
I would like to go and visit you at the mall in Clovis. It is going to be fun. When it is Christmas, I am going to get a puppy and a cat. Could you get a troll and a book and a shirt and a light and Christmas trees and a Christmas shirt?

Merry Christmas, Teresa
*****

Dear Santa,
I would like a Dallas Cowboy suite and a Dallas Cowboy sweater for Christmas. I would also like a Dallas Cowboy football and a Dallas Cowboy blanket for Christmas and a Dallas Cowboy hat for Christmas and I want everything of Dallas Cowboys.

Your friend, Claude
*****

Dear Santa,
I want a train, a bike, a gun, a basketball, and a truck pulling a car, a monster truck and bear truck, a dog truck, a football and little trucks and a whole bunch of cars.

I love you, Juan
*****

Dear Santa,
You are so nice to me. I like you. I would like a trampoline, and a dress coat. And I also want some boots. And I want some dress shoes. And I also want telephone. And a toy pole. And a purse. And I also want a camera.

*****
Love, Courtney

Dear Santa,
I would like a tournament table. These are the toys I want: the 3 in one tournament table, and the claw and the animal dog truck.

*****
Love you, Ruben

Dear Santa,
I want rollerblades and clothes and a radio and a T.V. I also want a telephone and Baby all Gone and baby face and a cat.

*****
Love, Christine

Dear Santa,
I would like a car, and a wheel chair, and a hat, and a sled, and a bike, and a pair of shoes, and a pair of boots, and a pair of gloves, and a fish tank, and a fish. I love you Santa.

*****
Your friend, Joaquin

Dear Santa,
I would like for you to bring me air pro hocky, roller blades, Mario World 2 for game boy.

*****
Love, Josh Kerby

Dear Santa,
I would like a monster face and a nintendo and 48 crayons and toys and a play house. I would like 5 stickers and all ninja gang and the bad guys and batman and X men and a punching bag.

*****
Love, Adolfo

Dear Santa,
I want a big trole. I want a stereo. I want a gold fish. I want a Barbie.

Winter Salad Recipes

By CARLA McKEOWN

Just because the weather's turned cooler doesn't mean you have to scratch salads off your menus. Add hot salads to your list that includes stew, chili, soup and other tummy-warming foods.

The term salad generally brings to mind visions of a bed of lettuce greens topped with fresh tomatoes, cucumbers, green onions, radishes, mushrooms, etc. However, if you replace the summer vegetables with autumn and winter vegetables, meat and hot dressing, salads become a hearty entree.

Consider the following salad toppers:

- *Leftover turkey, shredded and heated;
- *Sweet potatoes or winter squash, cooked and chopped into bite-sized pieces;
- *Heated Italian or oil and vinegar dressing;
- *Chunks of cooked pork or chicken;
- *Toasted almonds;
- *Boiled eggs;
- *Broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, brussel sprouts, etc., cooked just until tender;
- *Spicy pinto beans.

Mix and match those toppings and others with your favorite salad greens or try the following recipes:

BAKED CHEESE-POTATO SALAD

Dressing:

- 2 tablespoons white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon celery seeds
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- 4 cups diced cooked potatoes, warm
- 6 ounces (1-1/2 cups) cheddar cheese, diced
- 4 ounces (6 thin slices) bacon, cooked crisp and crumbled
- 1/4 cup pecans, chopped

Grease a shallow 1-1/2 quart baking dish. Mix all dressing ingredients in a large bowl. Add potatoes and cheese; toss to mix. Turn mixture into prepared baking dish; sprinkle with bacon and pecans. Bake for 30 minutes at 325 degrees. Makes 4 servings.

HOLIDAY HARVEST SALAD

- 1 bunch broccoli, cut into florets
- 1 head cauliflower, cut into florets
- 3 medium carrots, peeled and cut into julienne strips
- 1 medium butternut squash, peeled and cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1 cup cooked peas
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Grated zest of 1 lemon
- Mustard Vinaigrette

In boiling water, blanch broccoli, cauliflower and carrots for 1 minute; drain and plunge into iced water for a few seconds. Pat vegetables dry with paper towels. In a bowl, combine broccoli, cauliflower, carrots, squash, peas, parsley and lemon zest. Just before serving, toss gently with Mustard Vinaigrette. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

MUSTARD VINAIGRETTE

- 1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard
  - 3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
  - 1 teaspoon dried tarragon
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
  - 1/3 cup olive oil
  - 2 tablespoons safflower oil
- Place mustard in a bowl. Whisk in vinegar, tarragon, salt and pepper. Slowly drizzle in oils, whisking constantly until dressing becomes creamy.

WARM DIJON-PORK SALAD

- 1-1/2 pounds pork tenderloin, sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 9 cups torn assorted salad greens
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 2 avocados, peeled and sliced
- 2 cups halved cherry tomatoes
- 1/3 cup olive oil, divided
- 1 tablespoon minced shallots
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

- 1/3 cup red wine vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/3 cup crumbled blue cheese

Arrange salad greens, eggs, avocados and cherry tomatoes on large individual salad plates. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in a large skillet. Brown and cook pork with shallots over medium-high heat for 5 minutes; sprinkle with salt. Remove pork; arrange on salad greens. Add remaining olive oil, vinegar, mustard and sugar to skillet. Cook and stir constantly until dressing comes to a boil. Drizzle over salads; sprinkle with cheese. Makes 6 servings.

CANTONESE CHICKEN SALAD

- 1 large head iceberg lettuce, shredded
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1 small can chow mein noodles
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 4 boneless and skinless chicken breast halves, cut into 2" x 1/2

- inch strips
- 1/4 pound fresh snow peas, tipped, strings removed and cut in half
- 7 ounce can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon curry powder
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 garlic clove, minced or pressed
- 1/2 teaspoon minced fresh ginger root
- 1-1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 4 green onions, minced,

for garnish
1/4 cup chopped cashews or peanuts
In large salad bowl, toss together lettuce, celery and parsley; sprinkle with chow mein noodles on top and set aside. In a small bowl, mix together the lemon juice, sugar, curry powder, soy sauce, garlic and ginger root. Add the mayonnaise and stir until smooth; set aside while preparing chicken. Heat oil in wok or large skillet until very hot; add chicken and stir-fry until golden. Add snow peas and water chestnuts and stir-fry another minute or until heated through. Remove with a slotted spoon to the lettuce bowl. Add 1 cup dressing and toss to coat. Garnish with onions and nuts. Serve immediately and with the remaining dressing on the side. Makes 6 servings.

Origin Of Xmas Cards

Sending Christmas cards has been a part of American holiday tradition for generations, but the practice originated in Victorian England, where personal "visiting cards" were embellished with the seasonal designs for Christmas and New Year's.

The first Christmas card was created in 1843, when Sir Henry Cole commissioned artist, John Horsley, to design illustrated holiday postcards for conveying seasonal greetings to his many acquaintances.

Apparently the idea was warmly embraced; approximately 1,000 of the newly-designed postcards were sold for one shilling each.

SPECIAL GUEST.....Bob Izzard of Amarillo, author of the book, "Texas Trails of the Red River War," was a guest of the Friona Evening Lions Club recently. He discussed the Plains Indian Battles of the Panhandle Area. Looking on are Boss Lion Ron Davenport (left) and Wendell Gresham (right).

Producers Had Challenge In "Leap Of Faith" Movie

Turning the town of Groom and the city of Plainview, Texas, into the fictional town of Rustwater, Kansas, for Steve Martin's newest motion picture, "A Leap of Faith," was a matter of simple movie magic: some road signs, billboards and made-over storefronts.

But turning lush, green roadsides, pastures and a cornfield into drought-stricken movie sets for only four weeks took some scientific sleight-of-hand and feverish work by two faculty members at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Amarillo.

"How can I make my cornfield show stress and turn brown?" is just the opposite of the type of question they usually get, said Dr. Brent Bean, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. Clay Salisbury, plant physiologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. But that was just what the visitors from the Texas Film Commission and Paramount Pictures needed.

"About February, a location manager (from the studio) came by and wanted to know what (crop) conditions would be like in April," Bean recalled. "We told them up front we'd be looking brown unless we got record rains," Salisbury said. Normally the Texas Panhandle has lower rainfall than other parts of the Midwest, he noted.

The plot of Martin's movie, in which he portrays a traveling evangelist, called for parched, brown countryside. But before shooting began, the counties where the studio had arranged to film this summer had experienced one of their wettest springs in many years. Everything around was lush and green.

"We told them that if we did get unusual rains, they'd better be prepared to artificially create the conditions they needed," Salisbury added. At the request of the film commission, Bean and Salisbury undertook that task.

The studio was thinking about filming wheat under stress, but shooting schedules were delayed past wheat harvest and cornfields were substituted. Bean and Salisbury suggested several possible locations, from which fields at Groom were selected.

"We had no information on how to deliberately make things look bad," Salisbury said. "You rarely find a (chemical) compound that's designed to make a cornfield or pasture look bad."

So he and Bean put out some demonstration plots using various combinations of herbicides on the different turf and crop situations.

Bean said they tried 70 plots in corn, 70 sorghum, 12 in pasture and 12 on turf.

The profect offered its share of challenges, the crop scientist said. All the chemicals had to be properly registered by the Environmental Protection Agency for use on the particular crop.

"We had to get the look they wanted, it had to stay that way during the time they'd be shooting the crop and revival tent scenes, and then as soon as (the film crews) left, the fields had to recover so they wouldn't have to pay the farmer for a lost crop," Bean recalled, chuckling.

"Of course, the studio wanted to hold filming cost down. And they didn't want to have to buy the farmer's field, or the fields around it, for years on end," Salisbury said.

The two scientists wanted to get a realistic effect with their treatments. "In drought stress, you always have some areas where there is moisture," Salisbury said. "You don't have everthing dead, so you should have green intermixed with brown" on the pastures and roadsides.

In the cornfields, the trick was to make the bottoms of the plants brown, get the bright green out of the tops, and create more wilt, they explained. It took them until July to come up with the right combinations for each situation.

Once they had the chemical combinations identified and the proper application times determined, one more concern bothered the pair. Everthing was based upon shooting the critical field scenes during a particular four-week span in July. The chemicals had to be applied the proper number of days before each scene was shot.

If bad weather or other conditions upset that schedule, the fields couldn't be re-treated with proper results. The scientists wanted an emergency plan that would give a drought appearance within one to two days, even if it destroyed a small amount of the crop.

As an "insurance policy," Bean and Salisbury didn't chemically treat a few rows along the back side of the cornfield. They had found in their experiments the proper appearance could be obtained in 48 hours by cutting off a stalk, then standing it in place by inserting a small metal rod, such as a welding rod, into the severed stalk and its stump.

With the proper camera angle, a few rows of the severed corn would suffice in an emergency, they decided.

Fortunately, they never had to resort to that. The film crew, the cast... and the crops... all performed on cue.

Amarillo Author Publishes Booklet On Indian Wars

The entire Texas Panhandle was once a battlefield on which raged seven fierce battles that changed the course of United States history. The events of this national military campaign, what happened and where the battles were located are outlined in the book, "Texas Trails of the Red River War," written by Amarillo author Bob Izzard.

For five dollars you may purchase the book at any of the Amarillo Public Library outlets.

While speaking to civic groups across the Panhandle, Izzard realized that many people were not aware of the famous Indian Scout Billy Dixon and of the various monuments dotting the Texas Panhandle in tribute to the men who fought in the Red River War.

At work on the biography of Billy Dixon, Izzard took time out to organize maps of the battle sites (already produced by his son for the Dixon book), included highway information and a brief outline of the war and his "Texas Trails" book came into being.

And why was the war important to the United States? The time was 1874. The Civil War was over. The East Coast was settled and developed and thanks to the Gold Rush, so was the West Coast. The problem was that in between was a vast land inhabited by unfriendly Indians.

Trade and transportation routes across this area were perilous. Izzard reports that some people were so intimidated by the dangers of the journey that they actually went to Boston, got on a ship and sailed into the Gulf of Mexico in an effort to reach the West.

Izzard's interest in local history stems from his early childhood. Growing up in Amarillo in the 30's, Izzard formed a friendship with Mrs. Olive Dixon who wrote an "old-timers" column for the Amarillo paper. Her book, "The Life of Billy Dixon," and interviews of Izzard's father, Wes, have contributed to the information in his "Texas Trails" book.

When Izzard returned from World War II, his friendship with Mrs. Dixon deepened because he had been in combat and so had her husband. "She more or less adopted me," says Izzard.

On the anniversary dates of the battles of the Red River War, he and Mrs. Dixon would go out to the sites and she would recount her husband's stories of that particular battle. In this manner, Izzard traveled all across the Panhandle and learned a great many things about Dixon.

Indian Scout Billy Dixon was awarded two Congressional Medals of Honor during the Red River War—one of five civilians ever to receive the award.

During the 1920's, the U.S. government chose to rescind these awards, feeling such an honor should be reserved for those in the military. However, in 1989, Congress restored the awards and commissioned bronze plaques to be placed on the headstones where these men are buried.

On Sunday afternoon, November 8, a caravan traveled to Adobe Walls north of Borger, where Dixon is buried and a bronze plaque was placed on his grave.

Favorite Recipes For Food Served During Hanukkah

By CARLA MCKEOWN

Latkes, dreidels and menorahs are unfamiliar terms for most people in this area of the country. However, for the small Jewish population in the South Plains region, the words are especially familiar at this time of the year.

The first day of Hanukkah, an eight-day celebration, is December 20, this year. The holiday marks a miracle that happened more than 2,000 years ago.

After years of peace under Alexander the Great, Persia fell into the hands of Antiochus IV of Syria. While Alexander the Great had allowed the Jews to freely practice their religion, Antiochus desecrated their temple and tried to force them to worship the Greek gods.

A small army of Jews rebelled and conquered the great Greek army. After the victory, the Jews went to rededicate their temple. Only one small jar of oil was left to light the everlasting light in the temple. It would take eight days to obtain more oil.

However once lit, the light lasted for eight nights until additional oil was obtained.

It is this story on which Hanukkah—the Festival of Lights—is based. The celebration lasts eight days; and the menorah features eight candles. Each night of Hanukkah, a new candle is lit, until, on the last night, all eight candles are burning.

The festive holiday includes games such as dreidels, four-sided tops. On each side of the dreidel is a Hebrew letter. The letters stand for the phrase, "(A) Great Miracle Happened Here."

Potato latkes, fried potato pancakes typically served during Hanukkah, also are symbolic of the 2,000-year-old miracle. The oil that the potato pancakes are fried in symbolizes the oil that lasted eight days. The latkes also symbolize the food that was quickly prepared for the Jewish army as they prepared to face the Greeks.

Try the following recipes for potato latkes and other Hanukkah recipes:

POTATO LATKES

- 1 pound grated potatoes
- 1/2 pound grated onions
- 4 tablespoons matzo meal or flour
- 1 large beaten egg
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 1-2 teaspoons seasoned salt
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4-1/2 cup vegetable oil

Drain the potatoes and onions. Add meal or flour and seasonings to potatoes and onions. Add egg and mix well. In a heavy skillet, place oil to measure about 1/4-inch deep, and heat to frying temperature. Drop the potato mixture by the tablespoonfuls into the oil and flatten with a spatula. Cook on medium high heat until they are golden, turning once. Drain on paper towels and serve with applesauce or sour cream.

HOMESTYLE APPLESAUCE

- 4 pounds apples
- 1 lemon
- 2 cinnamon sticks
- 1/2 cup apple juice, cider or water
- Honey, brown sugar or maple sugar to taste

Quarter the apples and the lemon, and place in a heavy pot with the cinnamon sticks. Add apple juice, cider or water. Cover the pot and bring to a boil; simmer over low heat, stirring occasionally to turn the apples and make sure they don't stick. Add more liquid if necessary. Cook for about 20 minutes or until the apples are soft. Put the sauce through a food mill and adjust the seasoning by adding honey, brown sugar or maple syrup. Makes about 1 quart.

TEIGLACH (HONEY BALLS)

- 1-2/3 cup plus 1 teaspoon all-purpose flour, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 3 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 3/4 cup golden raisins, soaked in warm water and well drained
- 1-1/2 ounces chopped walnuts
- 6 maraschino cherries, cut into eights
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

In a large mixing bowl, combine 1-1/2 cups flour and the baking powder; add eggs and oil and mix until mixture forms a smooth but sticky dough. On a work surface, sprinkle remaining flour and lightly coat hands. Remove the dough from the bowl and divide into 4 equal portions. Shape each portion into a rope about 15 inches long and 1/2 inch wide. Cut each rope into 3/4-inch long pieces and arrange on a non-stick baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees until golden, 15-20 minutes. Set aside and let cool. Transfer to a large mixing bowl; add raisins, nuts and cherries. In a small heavy saucepan, combine sugar, honey and ginger; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until the mixture comes to a boil. Continuing to stir, let boil for 5 minutes (mixture will form a thick syrup). Pour honey mixture over fruit mixture and, using two wooden spoons, toss vigorously until thoroughly coated. Set aside and let cool. Wet hands in cold water and shape fruit-covered pieces into 6 equal balls. Place each ball in a foil baking cup.

FRIED NOODLE PUDDING

- 1/2 pound egg noodles
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1 large onion, diced
- 6 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 eggs, beaten
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cook noodles according to the directions on the package and drain. Transfer to a large bowl and add margarine, blending well. Set aside. Sauté the onion in 2 tablespoons vegetable oil until golden. Add the sautéed onion to the noodles. Add the eggs, salt and pepper to the noodles. Mix all ingredients well. Heat the remaining 4 tablespoons oil in a large, heavy frying pan. Add the noodle mixture to the hot oil and let brown on the bottom and sides, taking care not to burn. When browned on one side, place large plate over the skillet and remove the noodles from the pan. Then, slide the noodles back into the skillet and brown the other side.

NFIB Decries Workers-Comp Recommendation

The state's largest small-business advocacy group recently took a sharp exception to a surprise recommendation from the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission that all employers be required to purchase workers-comp insurance.

"The Commission completely blind-sided us," said Robert Howden, director of the 40,000-member state chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB). "The recommendation (for mandatory coverage) came from out of the blue, without fact-finding, without public discussion, without even a hint that it was under consideration."

Howden noted that the Commission has yet to complete its survey of Texas employers to determine how many firms are not currently providing workers-comp insurance. And Texas A&M University has not finished its study, initiated by the Commission, of why some businesses do not provide the coverage.

"It's cart-before-the-horse policymaking," Howden said. "The Commission should stick to recommendations that are based on research findings rather than organized labor's legislative wish-list."

Howden noted that one survey has been completed. Last December, NFIB Texas surveyed its membership and found that while 53 per cent carried workers-comp insurance, 80 per cent opposed making coverage mandatory. Virtually all of those not providing coverage employed fewer than six workers.

"The reason so many small firms don't carry workers-comp is that it's just too expensive. And many who now carry it don't want it made mandatory because they're afraid they won't be able to afford it in the future," Howden said.

Workers-comp costs have more than tripled since 1980, forcing many small firms to drop their coverage. An NFIB Texas survey conducted in December 1987 found 71 per cent carried the insurance then.

"From December 1987 to December 1991, workers-comp rates rose 81 per cent. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out why the percentage of small firms providing coverage fell by a fourth during that time," Howden said.

The small-business advocate called this year's 15 per cent cut in rates by a state-backed insurance fund "a welcome development," but said it was "too early to declare the cost problem licked."

"The rate cut is certainly no justification for making workers-comp coverage mandatory," Howden said. "Everyone would like a new car, and everyone would like to see sticker prices drop 15 per cent. But if the Mercedes dealers dropped their prices once, not all of us would want the Legislature to pass a law requiring us to buy a Mercedes each year."

Waseca, Minnesota, he stays in touch with adults (including Senior Citizens) from countries like England and France, as well as more obscure parts of the world like Milawai and newly formed Eastern European nations.

Men and women are writing him asking him to help them become Pen Pals with adults living here in the United States. Robert Mishek is recognized as the world's most experienced Pen Pal.

Fifty-eight years ago, Mr. Mishek established the Student Letter Exchange for students who wanted to write to other students in foreign countries. As he approached his 85th birthday and still very involved with the world of Pen Pals and letter writing, he envisioned a Pen Pal program for adults...especially Senior Citizens. All his life his very favorite thing to do each day has been to open his mail.

Writing and receiving mail has been his passion. And, so last May, he began to write letters....and within a few weeks he had written letters to over 4,000 friends and contacts in over 100 different countries.

Now his mailbox is deluged each day with requests from every continent....from adults between the ages of 50 and 90 years old...asking him to help them find Pen Pals in the United States. And so, at 85, he has begun the important work of helping people....one by one.... have the opportunity to exchange letters. He knows, from experience, that the basis for world understanding stems from the personal contacts made by individuals. World understanding has no age limit.

Mr. Mishek has begun a search here in the United States, for adults who would like to write letters to

BUSIEST PEN PAL....Robert Mishek of Waseca, Minnesota, has the reputation of being called the "World's Busiest Pen Pal." other adults in foreign countries. He is anxious to start filling his mailbox with mail from the United States....from other adults who would be interested in writing someone in another country. He can be reached by writing: R.C. Mishek, RR 3, Box 220, Waseca, Minnesota, 56093. He'll send free details.

Help Is Available For Compulsive Gamblers

For the compulsive gambler, the excitement of the big win is as addictive as alcohol or drugs.

"It usually begins with a big winning streak, perhaps half a year's salary or more, and the person thinks maybe he can win a fortune," said Dr. Lauren Pate, assistant professor of psychiatry at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"These gamblers experience a high during the action of gambling which ultimately becomes addicting."

The activities preferred by compulsive gamblers are horse and dog races, cards, casinos, sports betting, slot machines and the lottery.

Compulsive gamblers think they have a way to beat the system, Pate says.

"They spend time, money and energy perfecting their winning technique, but inevitably it fails."

Pate cites the following danger signals of problem gambling:

- Neglect of personal, family or job responsibilities in order to gamble.
- Depletion of finances.
- Need for increasingly larger stakes to achieve excitement.
- Gambling to win losses back.
- Frequent attempts to quit or cut down.
- Not being accountable for periods of time.

"People experiencing these problems can get help through treatment programs and support groups like Gamblers Anonymous," Pate said.

These programs help gamblers rebuild self esteem and avoid involvement in substitute addictive behaviors like alcoholism and drug abuse.

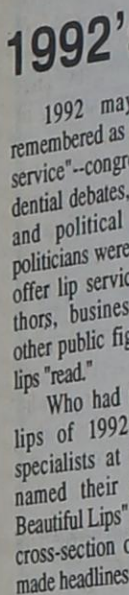

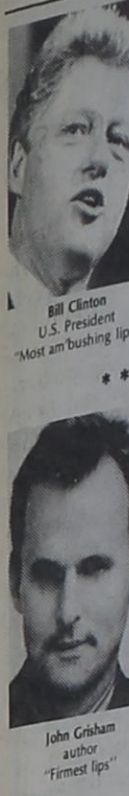

"Participants get a better understanding of addiction and how it affects relationships," she said.

Through treatment, the compulsive gambler can gain the tools needed to build satisfying relationships and begin gradual debt repayment.

"Research in this area is limited," Pate said. "But we do know that more men seek treatment than women. While the problem often begins in the mid-twenties, treatment is seldom sought until age 40 or 50."

During early recovery, a person is able to abstain from gambling, see himself as a gambler and accept that identity. This stage can last from a few months to a year or more.

"Some people are able to move past being a recovering gambler and see themselves as a person who used to have that problem," Pate said. "But for many, recovery is a lifelong process."

1992 may be remembered as the "most ambitious lips" - congressional debates, political and political politicians weren't offer lip service thors, business other public figure lips read." Who had the lips of 1992? specialists at B named their Beautiful Lips" p cross-section of made headlines t

1992's "Most Beautiful Lips" Announced

1992 may very well be remembered as the year of the "lip service"—congressional and presidential debates, campaign rhetoric and political promises. But politicians weren't the only ones to offer lip service. This year, authors, businessmen, actors and other public figures also had their lips "read."

Who had the most beautiful lips of 1992? The lip care specialists at Blistex, Inc. have named their annual 13 "Most Beautiful Lips" picks chosen from a cross-section of newsmakers who made headlines throughout the year.

Leading the list of awardees is President-elect Bill Clinton for his "most ambushing lips." Clinton soared in the polls against President George Bush and will land in the White House, the first Democratic president in 12 years.

Also hoping to "get the job done" was Texas billionaire, Ross Perot, who confused Americans with his "most in...out...in...lips." Perot's on-off-on again campaign for the White House alternately confused, angered, disappointed and excited the public.

Actor and comedian, Jerry Seinfeld, was named "lip schtick" for his popular stand-up comic routines and hit television comedy series that bears his name.

Automotive tycoon, Lee Iacocca, earned the title of "most retiring lips." This year, Iacocca leaves the helm of Chrysler Corporation after 14 years of service.

Actress and famous feline, Michelle Pfeiffer, pranced onto the list with her "most purrfect lips." Pfeiffer made headlines as the vixenish Cat Woman in the hit movie, "Batman Returns."

Outrageous laughs gave Mike Myers' and Dana Carvey's characters, Wayne and Garth, a "totally cool" chance of making the list with their "most excellent lips...not!" Wayne and Garth are best known for their blockbuster movie, "Wayne's World," and comedy sketches on "Saturday Night Live."

Author John Grisham was named "firmist lips" for his best selling novel released earlier this year, "The Firm." Grisham piqued the interest of millions with this chilling tale of a lawyer trying to make it to the top at a mysterious law firm.

Country music catapulted in the U.S. this year and so did Billy Ray Cyrus' "achiest, breakiest lips." Cyrus topped the charts with his country hit, "Achy Breaky Heart."

Major League Baseball's Deputy Commissioner Fay Vincent received "most out of commission lips" in 1992 when he voluntarily resigned due to pressure from Major League owners.

Astronaut Mae C. Jemison earned cosmic fame this year with her "most adventurous lips." Jemison is the first African American woman to travel in space.

That man walking down the street with long, black sideburns and a white fringe, bell-bottom jumpsuit may not only look like Elvis, he may in fact be Elvis. This legend has been "seen" in numerous places since his death in 1977 and will appear 300 million times on a commemorative United States stamp, winning him the title "most sighted lips" of 1992.

Heere's...the last, but certainly not least, Johnny Carson's "most missed lips." Carson left "The Tonight Show" after 30 years as America's favorite evening talk show host and television icon.

"You don't have to be famous to have beautiful lips," says Richard K. Green, president of Blistex, Inc., the leading manufacturer of medicated lip care products. "Our lips are constantly in the public eye, so it's important to keep them properly protected and conditioned all year 'round."

Clarendon's Bar H Ranch Is Panhandle Success Story

Some folks called Frank Hommel crazy in the summer of 1991 when he started talking about turning the family's working cattle ranch into a resort for would-be cowboys and cowgirls.

But with the same determination that marked his pioneer forebears, Frank enlisted the help of his wife Terri, and began cutting brush and clearing land for his project. A huge open-pit barbecue took shape near a pretty picnic spot surrounded by centuries-old cottonwood trees. A covered dining pavilion was built and areas were marked off and groomed for volleyball games and horseshoe-pitching contest. Wagons were built and construction began on a bunkhouse with room to sleep 25 overnight guests.

On October 8, 1991, Frank welcomed a supportive crowd to the ranch homesteaded by his grandfather for a ribbon-cutting ceremony. By October, 1992, Frank and Terri could look back over their first full year of operation and count it a success.

During its first year of operation, the BAR-H was visited by almost 5,000 people. They came from 23 states, including New York, Maine, Ohio, Georgia, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan and Florida.

"One family was just passing through and they told me they just wanted to stay one night," Hommel said. "They didn't leave until a week later."

The ranch also is proving popular with foreign visitors intrigued by the lure of the Old West. Visitors from Austria, England, Germany, China, Mexico, Italy, Switzerland and Japan also spent time at the ranch.

In addition to almost 600 overnight guests, more than 4,000 people ate from the BAR-H chuckwagon last year. "We hosted all kinds of special events and activities here at the ranch," Hommel explained. "Folks came out here for weddings and rehearsal dinners, family reunions, church outings, senior trips, business meetings and retreats. Sometimes we had two or three groups scheduled during the same time. It kept us pretty busy and made my wife a little nervous sometimes, but we took care of everyone."

The BAR-H offers visitors an opportunity to enjoy life on a working cattle ranch. Guests have the option of actively participating, or just watching the cowboys work. Horseback rides over some of the Panhandle's most scenic terrain are geared to accommodate both novice and expert riders. For individuals too weary to sit a saddle, custom-built wagons transport them on tours of the ranch. A swimming pool has been installed to relieve the heat of summer afternoons and a stocked-fishing pond is located on the ranch.

Wildlife is abundant on the ranch and the Hommels cater to hunters in season. The BAR-H is licensed by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and hunters are welcomed for a day or a week. Some of the best bird hunting in the Panhandle can be found on BAR-H land. The courteous hosts will even clean, wrap and freeze your game for you.

Chuckwagon cooking is a specialty at the BAR-H. The sweet smell of campfire coffee and sizzling sausage greets visitors in the morning and mesquite-grilled steaks topped off with peach cobbler put them in the mood for campfires, starlit evenings and a good night's sleep.

But the Hommels are not resting on the success of their first season. "We're getting ready to put up a second bunkhouse," Hommel said, "and next year we'll be able to accommodate 50 overnight guests. We want to keep improving and to give our guests something special when they visit the BAR-H."

He acknowledges that the movie "City Slickers" provided a boost to business. "After the movie came out, we had all sorts of calls from people who were looking for that kind of ranch experience."

An orphaned calf named Stormy steals the hearts of guests at the BAR-H, just like "Norman" did in "City Slickers."

"Her mother got caught in the river last spring so we brought Stormy up to headquarters. She's a pet and, sometimes, a pest. But our guests love her."

The BAR-H is located at Clarendon, Texas, down FM 3257 off U.S. Highway 287. The facility is open year around, but reservations are required. Individuals, families and groups are welcomed. Activities and prices are customized to suit individual tastes and budgets.

For more information, call 1-800-627-9871.

*Christmas is the time we're near
To those we love and hold so dear.
For laughter, tears, hugs and kisses,
Year after year, it never misses.
And so, our friends, we wish for you,
And everyone in your family, too,
A magical holiday filled with mirth,
As we celebrate His wondrous birth.*

"JEERING AND GIBING"--THE ANCIENT ART OF "PSYCHING YOUR OPPONENT OUT!"

WHAT WITH COUNTLESS BOOKS WRITTEN ON THE SUBJECT OF PSYCHOLOGY, ITS USE IN DAILY LIFE, AND ITS RESULTING EFFECTS ON OUR FELLOW MAN, IT MIGHT SEEM THIS SCHOOL OF THOUGHT WAS INVENTED IN THE LAST HUNDRED YEARS. NOT SO! THE ANCIENT BIBLICAL ARMIES JEERED THEIR OPPONENTS AS THEY APPROACHED IN BATTLE FORMATION, HURLING THE MOST HORRIBLE INSULTS THEIR TONGUES COULD CONTRIVE! WHEN THE EMISSARIES OF THE KING OF ASSYRIA STOOD BEFORE THE WALLS OF JERUSALEM AND SHOUTED AND JEERED AT THE INHABITANTS OF THE BESIEGED CITY, BOASTING OF THEIR POWER TO MAKE JERUSALEM A PILE OF RUBBLE, THE PROPHET ISAIAH STANDING ON THE BATTLEMENTS OF THE WALL GAVE THEM AS GOOD AS HE GOT WHEN IT CAME TO INSULTS! WHEN THE PHILISTINE ARMIES CONFRONTED KING SAUL AND DEMANDED THE ISRAELITES SEND A CHAMPION TO GIVE COMBAT TO THEIR FEROCIOUS GIANT GOLIATH, THIS PROPOSAL WAS ACCOMPANIED BY A CHORUS OF TAUNTS AND THREATS! SO THE NEXT TIME YOUR OPPONENT ON THE GOLF COURSE OR TENNIS COURT TRIES A LITTLE "PSYCHING OUT" TO GET YOU OFF YOUR GAME JUST REMEMBER HE IS ONLY PRACTICING A VERY ANCIENT ART!

Mustangs Topple Tahoka

Bovina's Mustang basketballers played Tahoka at Anton Monday night, and came up with a 38-35 win. That left the team with a 6-4 season record.

Bovina ran up a 15-point first half lead, but held on for the win. Darren Hromas scored 16 points and Rusty Venable 12 to account for most of Bovina's scoring.

"The kids played a good first half, and sort of fell asleep in the second half, blowing the big lead. But when it came down to WINNING, they did it," said Coach Bobby Ventura.

I want a remote control car and shoes, stereo, bike, football, and boombox, drums, two slap, turbo hammer, banding and a B-B gun and an underground swimming pool that has a slide and a diving board and it goes up to 15 ft.
Eddie Garcia
*****

Dear Santa,
All I want for Christmas is a set of drums, a stereo, remote control car, keyboard, shoes, Super Nintendo, guitar, and a swimming pool, dirt bike. I hope you bring it.
Jeremy Ortiz
*****

Dear Santa,
I want a doll. I want a car girls.
Thank you, Jessica Amgaran
*****

Dear Santa,
I want a tatro. I want a dady cri. I want a car girls.
Thank you, Wendy
*****

Dear Santa,
How are you in the North Pole? I hope all your reindeers are o.k. so you can come to people's houses to bring them gifts. Is Rudolph still o.k.? Please say hi to Mrs. Claus. I know four of your reindeers names Prancer, Dancer, Comet and Doner. My favorite holiday is Christmas. Santa, I would like to have a very nice white Christmas. But no snow next Thanksgiving. I would like a letter back from you. Tell all your elves to fill up the bag all the way to the top. Please come to my house first. I would like a doll. Mrs. Claus will you be kind to Mr. Claus o.k.? Santa are you going to ride your sleigh?
Paula Chavez

Dear Santa,
Are you going to come on Christmas Eve? I've been waiting for Christmas for a longtime now. It has nine more days til it comes. Elves are making toys for children all over the world before Christmas. On Christmas Eve, Rudolph will lead the sleigh with his bright shiny nose. I want a jam box, guitar, batteries, club house, three feet junk bag and a go kart. I could hear music with the jam box. I would put the batteries in the jam box. I'd play the guitar in my spare time. I would use the club house for a secret place I would play games with my friends and talk about things I would get the bag and the go kart and catch a rabbit.
David Garcia
*****

Dear Santa,
I would like you to bring me a nice present. I want two xl for Christmas. That's all I want for Christmas. I like all of your reindeer. I think Comit is the best and Rudolph. Is Dasher a fast reindeer? Do you have a lot of blizzards? If I could get everwhere in one night I could see Dallas. Is your real name Saint Nicholas? How many reindeer do you have? I wish my cousins and I could be elves. I want a Hubby bike also.
Stephen Olivarez
*****

Dear Santa,
I would like a mitt for Christmas and a sled. I like Rudolph, Prancer and Dancer and you Santa. Santa your elves are so good at making toys, bikes, trysicels and scats. I like your elves and your reindeer. I like Mrs. Claus to.
Timothy Martinez
*****

Dear Santa,
Does Rudolph really have a red nose? I am waiting for Christmas Eve and Christmas. I am ready to open my presents! Christmas is a fun holiday and you get to open your presents. We have to go to church to. I like church. I would like to visit the North all by myself. I even want to see the elves too. Tell the elves not to work hard. Santa don't get sick because it would not be a Christmas Eve without you. If you get sick, let Mrs. Claus do the work for you.
Stephanie Tamez
*****

Dear Santa,
How is Pranta and Dancer? Is it snowing at the North Pole? Can you bring me a doll for Christmas this year? How many reindeer do you have Santa? How is Rudolph? I want a Barbie and ten dollars too. I also want a dictionary.
Love, Fidelfa Saucedo
*****

Dear Santa,
Christmas is coming and I want you to put my toys on the tree now. Santa I like all your elves and reindeers. Santa I wish I could see the elves and the reindeers and especially you. I like Rudolph because his nose is red. Santa do you know that I am nrves because I really want my toys. Santa, I would like a van for my doll it turns into a car and house and two Barbies, a man and a women and clothes for them.
Love, Alejandra Aguillon
*****

Dear Santa,
Is Mrs. Claus coming with you? Would you give us a lot of present? Because we don't have any under our tree. I hope you have a lot of presents for us in your sleigh. I hope Dancer and Prancer and Blitzen and Rudolph are coming with you. I hope you got a lot of presents for me.
Sammy Espinoza
*****

Dear Santa,

R. Tiendas Observe Traditional Holiday

By LINDA MARSHALL
Bovina Blade Editor

Roberto and Rosa Tienda live at 901 Eighth Street in Bovina and have lived in Bovina 26 years.

They have a son, Roberto Tienda, Jr., who is married to Josefina and they live in Bovina.

They also have one daughter, Celia, who still lives at home and is employed at Kirkpatrick's Floral and Gift Gallery.

The Tiendas got married in 1955 and moved to Elsa, Texas because of the opportunity in the job market. They then moved to Littlefield and lived for ten years and then moved to Bovina.

Although the Tiendas have lived in Texas all their married life they still celebrate Christmas with an "Old Mexico" flair.

Roberto decorates the tree and all of the things that go around it and under it. He always tries to do this the first week in December.

To the left of the tree is a village that is set up to represent the town of Bethlehem and in the middle of the tree is an angel.

Underneath the tree to the right is the nativity scene that represents the stable where Jesus was born.

On a table in their home they have a full set-up of the nativity scene with the wise men and shepherds. The manger scene under the tree is 29 years old and was bought in Mexico. Roberto said that he was going home with the manger scene when he had a wreck, however, not one piece was broken.

Christmas for the Tiendas is a very religious time of the year. They have friends that are Godparents for the baby Jesus and they come on the 24th to help celebrate his birth.

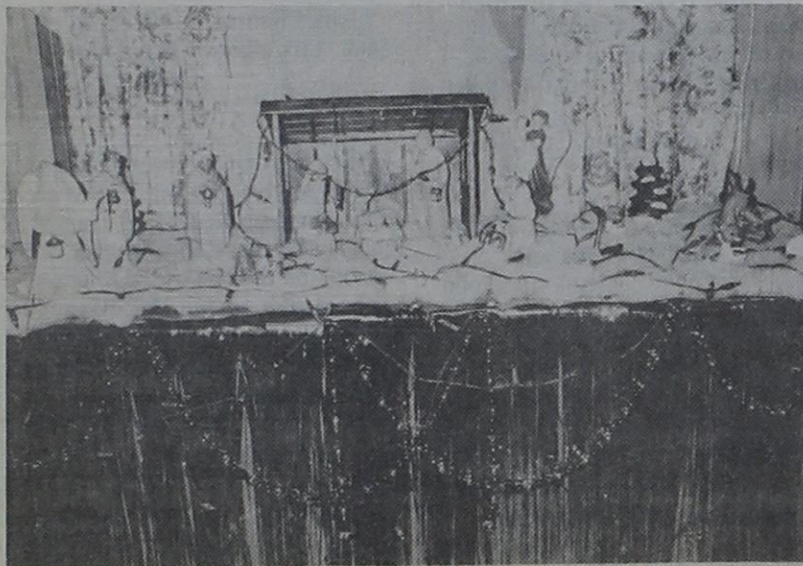

They celebrate Christmas on the 24th with a rosary. Friends come to their home and for the rosary they celebrate the birth of Jesus, have prayer for peace on earth and thank God for all he has blessed them with.

They also sing songs and after the rosary they have dinner. Their meal consists of tamales, Mexican dishes of all kinds, and a lot of sweets. The Tiendas will attend midnight mass on the 24th.

Celia said that they open their gifts on the 25th. On January 6th the Tiendas have another rosary that represents the coming of the wise men. It is celebrated just like the first one with prayer and singing. Celia said that they do not have the traditional pinata because the weather is usually too cold for them to have it outside.

TIENDAS PLAN HOLIDAYS.....The home of Roberto and Rosa Tienda is always decorated with an "Old Mexico" flair. They are shown here with their daughter, Celia. The couple also has a son and daughter-in-law, Josefina and Roberto Tienda, Jr., who also live in Bovina.

NATIVITY SCENE....The nativity scene is a customary decoration around the Roberto Tienda home during the Christmas holidays, as Christmas is a very religious time of the year for the Bovina family.

CHRISTMAS VILLAGE....A village scene, representing the town of Bethlehem, is always placed to the left of the Christmas tree in the home of Roberto and Rosa Tienda.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

May our sincere holiday wishes ring true for you now and throughout the year. To all of you who've been so kind, we say, "thank you for being there!" We greatly appreciate your business and your support. Hope your holiday is a bell-ringer!

Christmas is the time we're near
To those we love and hold so dear.
For laughter, tears, hugs and kisses,
Year after year, it never misses.
And so, our friends, we wish for you,
And everyone in your family, too,
A magical holiday filled with mirth,
As we celebrate His wondrous birth.

Looking Up!

By RICHARD L. GRISHAM

Probably the best known of all the titles given to the coming Messiah by Isaiah the prophet is "Prince of Peace" (Isaiah 9:6). Jesus promises internal spiritual peace unto all that call upon Him. At His birth the angels proclaimed, "Peace on earth, good will to men" (Luke 2:14). Jesus promised to His disciples, "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you, but not in the way which the world gives, give I to you. So do not let your heart be troubled, neither be afraid" (John 14:27). Even amidst the conflict and chaos of a broken, sinful world, Jesus says we can experience His peace of soul.

Some day, when Jesus returns to earth again, the Bible indicates that there will be a universal peace throughout the world. Even nature itself will be at peace, as Isaiah describes in 11:6-9. Look it up and read of this blessed hope for world peace which Christ shall usher in someday, perhaps sooner than we realize! Truly Jesus is already for those who have faith, and shall be forever, the "Prince of Peace."

The following poem, by Amos R. Wells, expresses the names of Jesus. May our Lord bring you Holiday blessings and a wonderful New Year.

The Name of Christ is Wonderful, for wonderful is He:
The marvel of all marvels in earth and sky and sea.
The splendor of the ages, creation's final crown,
The Father's loving triumph and eternity's renown!

The Name of Christ is Counselor, for He is ever wise,
All-fertile in His planning, all-prudent to devise,
Unfailing in His guidance, unending fount of lore--

Ah, what a royal privilege such wisdom to explore!

The Name of Christ is Mighty God, for He is nothing less;
No cramping limitations can His majesty express;

No bonds of time can hold Him, no fetterings of space,
Supreme in power and splendor and glorious in grace!

The Everlasting Father--oh, hail the Saviour's Name!

His high co-equal deity through all the world acclaim,

With God in the creation, without Him nothing made,
And through unceasing acons His majesty displayed!

The Name of Christ is Prince of Peace, the Lord of perfect love,
The Son of Man united with the Son of God above;

God's mercy framed in human form, God's mercy sacrificed;

Our living peace, our peace with God, and our atoning Christ!

Oh, Name of names, ineffable, no other name is given

Among the myriad names of earth, the myriad names of heaven;

No other name on pearly gates immutably engraved;

No other high redeeming name whereby we must be saved.

CHRISTINA ELAINE LEICHTNER and DENVER RIDDLE....Wayne and Betty Leichner of Powell, Wyoming, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Christina Elaine, to Denver Riddle of Bovina. He is the son of Jon Lin and Brenda Riddle. The couple will exchange wedding vows in a private ceremony on Tuesday, December 29 at 3 p.m. at the home of his parents. The bride-elect is a graduate of Powell High School and will be employed by S.C.B. Farms in the spring. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Bovina High School and is employed by S.C.B. Farms.

Happy Birthday

J.H. Boys In Muleshoe Tournament

The Bovina Junior High boys competed in the Muleshoe tournament December 10-12, finishing second in the consolation bracket.

The team fell to Friona in the first round, 56-35, but bounced back to down Dimmitt's B team, 42-36 in the second round. In the consolation finals, Springlake-Earth edged the Colts, 38-32.

Adan Perez and Hector Larrea each scored 29 points in the tournament; Jerry Rocha scored 26; Albert Larrea 17, and Tony Beauchamp 14. Also making the trip were Joey Rackley, Juan Martinez, Erik Galvan, John Saucedo and Roberto Perez.

"I was very proud of the effort which our guys made at the tournament. We went up against some pretty good competition and we played with everything we had," said Coach Robert Perez.

January 1--Jody Wilburn, David Murphy.
January 3--Jerry Ward.
January 4--Judy Hromas, Brad Hromas, Peter Vanegas, Sandra Cockerham, Clifford Leake, Joe Black, Sr.
January 5--Nora Fuentes, Charlsie Eubanks, Ricky Jamerson.
January 6--Don Teague.
January 7--Wayne McClaran.
January 8--Belinda Dale, Ruben Serna.
January 9--Ricky Morgan, Galen Carson, Ruby Davies, Aaron Ramon.
January 10--Rocky Bartlett.
