Herbert Hoover Nominated by Republicans for President

A radio message from the Republican National Convention at Kansas City, states that Herbert Hoover was favored Thursday with the nomination for President. A boney-dry platform was rejected, and the large delegation of farmers clamoring for anybody but Hoover because of his opposition to the McNary-Haugen far relief bill, were not admitted to the convention hall.

The political line-up is now assumed to be either Herbert Hoover or Al Smith—and with reference to prohibition they are on a par.

CANDIDATES FOR STATE OFFICES

The following list of candidates for state offices were certified at a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee held Monday:

United States Senator—Tom L. Blanton, Taylor county; Tom Connally, Falls county; Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Walker county; Earle B. Mayfield, Bosque county; Jeff McLemore, Webb county; Alvin Owsley, Dallas county.

Governor—W. E. Hawkins, Stephens county; Dan Moody, Williamson county; Louis J. Wardlaw, Tarrant county; Edith E. Williams, of Dallas county.

Lieutenant Governor—H. L. Darwin, Lamar county; Tom B. Love, Dallas county; John D. McCall, Jefferson county; Barry Miller, Dallas county; J. D. Parnell, Wichita county.

Attorney General—Claude Pollard of Harris county.

State Comptroller of Public Accounts—J. D. Jones, Travis county; S. H. Terrell, McLennan county.

State Treasurer—Grover C. Harris and W. Gregory Hatcher, both of Dallas county.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction—H. P. Davis, Travis county; W. F. Garner, Nacogdoches county; W. E. James, Travis county.

Commissioner of Agriculture—George B. Terrell, Cherokee County.

Commissioner of the General Land Office—A. J. Britton, Wood county; E. I. Flynt, Hardeman county; J. T. Robison, Morris county; Otis Terrell, Travis county.

Railroad Commissioner—Jefferson Smith and Lon A. Smith, both of Travis county.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court—T. B. Greenwood, Anderson county.

Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals—W. C. Morrow, Hill county; Lee P. Pierson, Dallas county.

At the committee meeting a motion was made, seconded and tabled to refuse to certify the name of Tom B. Love for Lieutenant Governor, because of his alleged statement that he would not support the nominee of the party. The committee conclusion was that it had the lawful right to determine who should participate in a primary election, but not the right to determine the qualifications of any candidate to be certified.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

"Resolved that all white Democrats who are qualified voters under the Constitution and laws of Texas, and who subscribe to the statutory pledge as provided in Article 3110, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and no other, be allowed to participate in the primary elections to be held on July 28th and August 25th."

It is very evident that the State Democratic Organization does not propose to permit "would-be-bolters" or any others except "stand-pats" Democrats to participate in the coming primary elections—and in that event (judging by the last state election) democratic candidates may count on receiving approximately 250 votes less than the usual total democratic voting strength in the Spur voting boxes.

Miss Nell Higgins will present three of her pupils in a Graduation Recital of Expression on Friday evening at 8:00 P. M. in the High School auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Surveys Being Made on Changing and Widening Dickens-Spur Highway Route

Surveyors for the State Highway Department are now engaged in making surveys preliminary to the work of widening, regrading and placing an asphalt topping on the Spur-Dickens section of the state highway. The highway will be made eighty feet wide, a double bridge constructed over Duck Creek and the roadway changed and straightened.

In making changes from the present routing as well as widening the roadbed, we understand, delay is being encountered in securing right-of-way, therefore several routes are being surveyed directly from Spur to Dickens. Also the surveyors will consider the new roadway just opened through the old Putnam ranch directly to the Plains, and also the north loop of the old highway by way of Espuela to the Plains route.

The money is already appropriated for this work, but under the circumstances the commissioners court is fearful that the delays encountered may cause a delay until next year before the work is consummated.

The Dickens highway is traveled more than any other roadway in the county, and it is hoped that all delays will be overcome immediately and the road rebuilt as planned without further delay.

Eighteen Cars Carry Spur Boy Scouts to Carlsbad Caverns

Eighteen cars accompanied the Spur Boy Scouts to Carlsbad Caverns, leaving Spur Monday and returning Wednesday night.

The party went through the caverns Tuesday, starting at nine o'clock and returning at five in the afternoon, the trip through requiring about eight hours.

Among the Boy Scouts in the party were Luther Garner, Adrian Rickles, Morris Lane, Walter Dunn, William Rodgers, C. W. Barrett, Jack Senning, Loren Maples, Marion Christal, Melvin Ensey, Robert Glasgow, Dudley Wooten, Truman Moore, Eldin Rawlings, Larry Boothe, Edwin Golding, there being a total of 113 boys in the party.

Among the number accompanying the boys were Scout Master A. G. Abbott, R. F. Rodgers, Mrs. W. W. Sample, Mrs. B. F. Hale and Ben Murray. Mrs. Kate Senning and Mrs. Carol Cobb, M. E. Manning, Homer Boothe, Mrs. R. E. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Link, W. S. Campbell and family, M. C. Golding and family, S. H. Twaddell and family, Mrs. L. H. Perry and James Hill Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hogan. Three days were required in making the trip and giving the boys an opportunity to go through the cave. It requires approximately 8 hours to go through the caverns, and the cave is becoming almost as notified as the Mammoth Cave.

A One-Inch Rain Fell in Spur and Surrounding Country Sunday

Sunday night rain to the amount of .95 inches fell in Spur, extending over the country in greater and less amounts in the various communities.

The rainfall to the west and south west was greater, while to the east and northeast it was light.

The rain was of benefit to cotton just planted and coming up. In fact the rainfall in every community has been sufficient to bring up all plantings and the stands everywhere are excellent and crops growing most satisfactorily.

Sand storms have been doing some damage in the sandy land belts and many acres of cotton are being replanted, but under very favorable conditions.

The indications are that this will be a most favorable and productive agricultural year.

Wooten Wholesale Grocery Opening This Week in Spur

The H. O. Wooten Wholesale Grocery Company is this week opening and establishing a wholesale business in Spur, being located in the D. H. Sullivan brick building formerly occupied by the Spur Bakery, east of the postoffice on Harris Street.

J. W. Fulps, formerly of Graham, Texas, and formerly with the Carter Grocery Company of Fort Worth, will be manager of the business in Spur, with J. W. Henry, of Abilene, Texas, as assistant. These gentlemen will later move their families to Spur and become personally identified with the citizenship socially as well as in a business way.

The H. O. Wooten Wholesale Grocery Company is one of the strongest wholesale concerns doing business in the state, and their coming to Spur will be an asset to the business interests, as well as promote the interests of the trade territory.

J. J. Albin Stocking Ranch With Fine Two Year Old Heifers

Last week J. J. Albin returned from a trip to Fort Worth where he purchased 110 head of high grade, two-year old white face heifers with which to stock his ranch to the north west of Dickens.

Mr. Albin also reports the sale of several cows and calves from his ranch to John Daniels of Jayton, at a price of eighty dollars a round.

Cattlemen and cattle interests are now most optimistic of continued prosperity, high prices and good conditions. In fact, it is said by those in position to know, that there is no probability of a decline in prices until the packers and other big interests decide to make wholesale purchases in replenishing their reserve stocks—therefore the "little" man is encouraged to continue operating with the view of making profits.

Spur Grocersmen Award $150 to Rural Schools in Contest

The several grocersmen of Spur who sponsored a contest between the rural schools of the county, this week awarded first prize of $100.00 to Dry Lake School, and second prize of $50.00 to Croton School District, the prizes to be used for the benefit of the athletic departments of the schools.

The object in instituting the contest on the part of Spur grocersmen, was not merely to stimulate and encourage trading in Spur, but to further develop athletics in the schools, as stated, both for the reason of its great need in balancing the physical and mental in students and because it has a powerful influence in promoting community and school spirit.

L. P. (Kit) Carson Purchases Interest in Spur Creamery and Bottling Works

L. P. (Kit) Carson, of Abilene, last week purchased an interest in the Spur Creamery and Bottling Works, and will hereafter be personally identified with Roy Stovall in the conduct and management of the business.

Hargrove Calls Gin Meeting of Farmers at Dickens Saturday

As will be noted by an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue, M. Hargrove has called a meeting of the cotton growers of the Dickens territory to meet with him Saturday on the court house lawn, in order to determine whether or not he should go ahead and construct a gin at Dickens—in view of the fact that it has been said that the farmers of that section contemplated building a co-operative gin. Hargrove is a real gin man, is strictly business, and it will be up to the cotton producers of that territory as to whether or not he puts in a gin at Dickens for the fall business.

Heavy Wind Storms and Tornadoes in Sections of Country

Brownwood, June 11 (AP).—Several houses were blown from their foundations and approximately $100,000 damage done to crops and buildings by a tornado which struck two communities near Ballinger Monday morning.

At Leaday, eighteen miles southeast of Ballinger, the wind demolished the home of H. E. Wireman, luckily, the entire family had taken to the storm cellar and none was injured.

Miles, twenty miles west of Ballinger, reported 3,000 acres of cotton destroyed.

The tornado was accompanied by rain and hail.

Longworth, Fisher Co., Texas, June 11.—A heavy windstorm and tornado swept through this section late Sunday, unroofed houses and barns, twisted the limbs from trees and did great damage to crops. No deaths have been reported. The gale lifted the roof from the barn of S. E. Knox and threw it into his house, caving in the roof and walls. Knox and his family escaped uninjured. About one and a half miles from there Walter Dunn and family were overtaken by the twister while making a run for their cellar and Mr. Dunn suffered a broken hand and their small baby a broken arm. There were many persons who barely escaped death or injury.

Candidates Must File Names With County Chairman Saturday

All candidates for county and precinct offices must file their names with County Chairman W. D. Wilson not later than next Saturday, June 16th, to get their names printed on the official democratic ballot for the July Primary election.

Blanks for this purpose may be had by calling on County Chairman Wilson or at the Texas Spur office. The application must be sworn to before a notary public.

It is hoped by the Texas Spur that not a single candidate will overlook getting his name printed on the ticket, therefore this last warning.

Farmers Gin Association Closing Deal for the Hargrove Gin

The Farmers Co-Operative Gin Association recently organized in Spur, is this week closing up the deal with M. Hargrove in the purchase of his gin plant in Spur. The purchase price of the plant, we understand, was $35,000, and J. W. Carlisle will be manager of the business. The plant is one of the best in the country, is in ideal shape and ready for ginning.

M. Hargrove has purchased a site at Dickens and contemplates building an up-to-date gin plant there for the fall trade.

Political Party Civil War Predicted by Correspondent

(By William P. Helm, Jr., Washington Correspondent of the Aspermont Star)

Washington.—The chief development of the political situation in the United States during the past week lies far below the surface of current events, and, told here for the first time, is this:

Political civil war within the Democratic party appears to be swiftly approaching as the coming national convention at Houston brings near the almost certain nomination of Al Smith. A movement is well under way, your correspondent is reliably informed, looking to the formation of an independent wing of the Democratic party which will bolt the Smith nomination and set up a ticket of its own.

This movement is confined, at present, wholly to the Democratic party and is captained by Democratic drags.

Back of it is reported to be the Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League, of which Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson of Chevy Chase, Maryland, is President. This organization, numbering more than 75,000 women voters in its membership, all Democrats, has served notice on the party that it will not support Al Smith for the Presidency.

The League is an out-and-out dry organization. Mrs. Nicholson is one of six dry leaders selected by the united dry organizations of the United States to appear before the resolutions committee of the Democratic National Convention at Houston to plead for a "dry platform and a dry candidate." They want both, and will not be content, Mrs. Nicholson asserts, with a dry platform and a wet nominee. It is reliably reported that the organization in the event of the Smith nomination, will sound a call for an independent Democratic gathering to name a dry candidate for the Presidency.

"We do not think it would be wise to disclose now just what our course will be in the event of Governor Smith's nomination," Mrs. Nicholson told your correspondent. "We do not concede that Smith will be nominated. I, personally, don't think he has a ghost of a chance. But if he should be, we will not support him and we will take appropriate action after the Houston convention."

Allied with Mrs. Nicholson's organization are thirty other dry associations which are working vigorously to head off the Smith boom. They haven't been able, apparently, to do so, or even to make any great headway toward doing so. None of these organizations has come out flatly with a declaration that it would seek to split the Democratic party if Smith is the nominee—not as yet. The Anti-Saloon League, Smith's bitter and relentless foe, and the most formidable of the lot, has announced, however, that it would campaign against a wet.

The head of the League's affairs is a Virginian and a Democrat, Bishop James Cannon of Richmond. Bishop Cannon will make the opening prayer at Houston convention.

He will not support the nominee of that convention, if the nominee be Smith, and this he has declared vigorously on several occasions. He has gone further and asserted that he will go out into his field and work against Smith. His field is the South.

TEXAS INVESTORS ASLEEP

Nathan Adams is a Dallas banker. He has been in the financial headlines as well as the newspaper headlines for many years. His viewpoint is that Texas investors seem to be afraid of anything that smacks of development of Texas industry, "but they will invest in experimental stock that have never paid a dividend."

President of a big Dallas bank, Mr. Adams has been to Corpus Christi, where he addressed the Cottonseed Crushers association convention. He is chairman of the Texas State Farming association and regrets that Texas is asleep to its possibilities in the financing and marketing of live stock and farm products as well as in developing the state industrially. Speaking of cotton he said:

"Many people think of the 4,000,000 bales of line cotton Texas produces every year, but not of the lint and the value of the seed as food for man and beast. As a matter of fact, we produce 250,000,000 gallons of crude cottonseed oil a year. This oil is used as cooking compounds, salad oil, in cosmetics, soaps, emulsions for medical purposes, washing powder, candles, composition roofing, artificial leather for upholstery, linoleum, oil cloth, and water proofing and book binding, and many other articles for the needs of mankind. About 1,000,000 bales of linters cut from the ordinary seed are used in mattresses, upholstery, comforts, cushions, horse collars, carpets, twine rope and felt, cellulose in the production of varnishes, celluloid, rayon, films, paint, and pyralin articles."

As a banker and citizen, he devotes further use of government credit or production and marketing as a solution of farm problems and that the passage of the McNary-Haugen bill would have been a bad thing for the country. He believes however, that red tape should be removed from the use of government credit. He is quoted as having said, "We do not need any more government bureaus on supervision but think of the value of an intermediate credit association representing Texas as a whole with $3,000,000 capital which could loan to the live stock interests of the state $30,000,000 on long time credit and at low interest."

Speaking of cotton and those who are indirectly as well as directly concerned in the production and the price paid for the fleecy staple, he said, "If the government, which is authorized to give production credit, has the courage to loan to produce, it certainly should have the courage to put imperishable cotton under a shed, insure and hold it for market need. That is all there is to the marketing situation. Safe farming with facilitating of that credit would put farmers on easy street."

This Texas banker is not in favor

Hundreds of dry Democratic leaders in the South and West have been approached quietly and confidentially within the past six weeks by the anti-Smith Democratic workers with the idea of forming a coalition among Western and Southern States to prevent the nomination of Smith at Houston or, if that cannot be done, to prevent his election. Several well-known Democrats, among them Hiram Vrooman of California, a brother of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of Agriculture in the Wilson administration, have been engaged in sounding coalition anti-Smith sentiment.

Mr. Vrooman is said to have traveled over much of the section where the prospective Democratic split is contemplated.

Notwithstanding those rumblings of discontent and rebellion beneath the surface, the Smith candidacy swept steadily onward during the week, so far as surface events indicated, and indications multiplied that the New York Governor would be the nominee, probably on the first ballot.—Aspermont Star.

Election to Locate the School Building to be Held Saturday

An election will be held Saturday to permit the property tax paying voters and patrons of Spur Independent School District to determine whether the new school building for which $45,000.00 in bonds have been voted, shall be located on the East or the West Side of Spur.

In determining the location of the new school building, there is not and should not be any consideration of personal enhancement of property values and benefits, but only the advantages and benefits to school and educational interests of patrons and pupils as a whole in meeting future as well as present needs and requirements.

In view of the approaching election and the difference of opinions expressed, and the "puerile" assertions and factional statements made, we recently had an interview with Superintendent Cluck and members of the School Board, each of whom expressed themselves fully, freely and unreservedly.

Superintendent Cluck, stated that while he had no personal interest or preference as to the location of the school building, that whether it be located on the East Side or the West Side would in no wise effect the efficiency of the school work, the superintendents duties nor the expenses incurred in the maintenance, management and operation of the schools.

Members of the School Board with whom we talked were of the opinion that now is the opportune time to lay the foundation for "ward schools" in meeting future needs and requirements of educational advancement of a growing, progressive, developing town and community.

The Texas Spur has no personal interest in view, no 'axe to grind,' nor a desire to encourage factional fights and differences, but, like members of the school board and other school patrons who expressed themselves, we have a vision of the future for Spur, not merely as a village of 'grouped schools' and centralized educational facilities, but of a broader educational system of schools covering every section and including every class of a metropolitan city composed of a highly educated and liberal minded citizenship, and in view of the fact that our school funds and bond issue possibilities are limited, now is the opportune time to lay the foundation for future demands sure to develop. We deem the time especially propitious, in that we now have the necessary funds to lay a solid foundation for a future system of ward schools—at no extra expense and which in no wise will detract from present efficiency, funds, or operation and maintenance of our schools or sectional advantages.

It is a fact, considering the East and West Sides from a factional standpoint, that the West Side at the present time has a greater voting strength and can easily vote down any proposition of a factional nature desired by East Side citizens, but we know that the East Side and the West Side citizenship will cooperate and vote as a unit in the advancement and furtherance of community school interests and advancement in this instance in so far as their judgment coincides for the betterment of educational facilities—and without regard to sectional and factional interests and differences.

Let Spur Grow!

Spur is fast assuming big town proportions—and always will be the best town between Stamford and Lubbock—will always be sought as a residence for people having children to educate—can be made and doubtless will grow into an educational center. Any one observing the commercial growth of Spur, must see that we must plan to take care of a rapidly increasing school population. The convenience of children and their safety in going distances across town must be considered—hence the ward schools. As has been the experience of all other towns of any size, the school buildings have had to be placed according to convenience of school patrons. Let Spur expand. Her good schools will do more toward her future growth and prosperity than all other things combined.

LET SPUR GROW!

T. S. Lambert, of east of Dickens, was here one day during the week, buying supplies of the wholesalers, for his business at old Draper.

Consider the Future Before Locating the School Building

The question now uppermost in the minds of the voting public is that of locating the new school building.

As far as convenience of the general superintendent is concerned, in all schools some teacher is made superintendent of the schools, in which he teaches. However, if it becomes necessary for the general superintendent to visit the ward schools, he usually has a good car at his door.

The fine feature that was mentioned in one of our papers, about the peevish parent and child, is very misleading and so absurd that it hardly deserves mention. However, we do ask the voters to weigh this argument with a level mind.

Before we start this building, we must plan for the future. Spur Independent School District has at present about one thousand scholars. If Spur grows in the next five years as it has in the past five, which we have every reason to believe she will do, we will then stand sorely in need of ward school buildings.

With that thought in view, let us build for the future, and when the time comes our building will have been put in the right place for a ward school building.

Our present bond issue is near the maximum, and should we be obliged to build another ward school next year we would have one located in the right place if this building goes on the east side. However, if it doesn't, then we will have to build one, if not two more. Then the bond issue would be inadequate to take care of these buildings.

The thought has gone out that this building is to be a ward school, which is not the case, but if properly located could be turned into a ward school building at any time by the vote of the school board.

We feel that with this explanation every voter in Spur will have ALL of Spur at heart, not only for the PRESENT but for the FUTURE, and vote for the location in the proper place—THE EAST SIDE.—A Voter.

H. J. Parks, of west of Spur, was on the streets during the week meeting friends and furthering his campaign for sheriff.

Newt Cravey, of Red Mud, was in town trading Wednesday of this week.

Carrying Power to West Texas

Beyond the pavement's end, beyond the sewers and sidewalks and water mains and other conveniences of the city, the lines of this company "carry on"—the unbroken string of "wooden soldiers" which carry electric power to 102 communities in the heart of West Texas.

Important items in the forward march of West Texas are these wooden poles and their connecting ties of copper. They carry light to more than 50,000 customers, operate countless tons of industrial machinery, and perform those many-fold duties which only electricity, the "Perfect Servant," can perform perfectly. Too, they give to the smaller communities in which this company operates the same high class electric service that is given metropolitan centers.

Today this company has in operation more than 1,850 miles of high lines similar to that shown above—tremendous investments it has made and upon which it is paying city, county, state and federal taxes. Month after month the mileage is being increased, carrying electric service into new towns, to new industries, and into less thickly populated localities that they, too, might have the benefits of electric service.

The West Texas Utilities Company is making these extensions, not because it is required to do so, but in order that it might do its part in the upbuilding of West Texas and in making these communities, however small, better places in which to live.

L. D. Davis, of the McAdoo section of country, was in Spur Tuesday and Wednesday, looking after business matters. Mr. Davis stated that he had cultivators going over his cotton which was up to a good stand and growing very satisfactorily, aided and abetted by an ideal season and growing conditions. He has a hundred odd acres and from which he hopes and expects to pick more than fifty bales this fall—and if he does, and the price remains anywhere around twenty cents, we expect to celebrate in a fitting manner. Mr. Davis is not depending solely on a cotton crop. He has incubators going, raising chickens for both home consumption and the market, produces his own milk and butter and has fattening hogs in the pen.

W. A. Craddock, of southwest of Spur, was in the city Tuesday. While he did not have on his campaigning clothes, he incidentally did a little campaigning. Mr. Craddock opened his campaign Saturday in Spur, by entertaining the crowds with an old time fiddlers program. The program attracted attention and the crowds—and if everybody who responds to the fiddling programs contemplated also votes for Mr. Craddock there will be no question of his election to the office sought.

Will Walker and family, of the new oil town of Pyote, spent several days here this week visiting with Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, and other relatives and friends of the Spur country. Mr. Walker came especially to attend district court as a witness in the damage suit against the Austin Bridge Company in connection with the injuries to parties when two cars ran over the Duck Creek embankment two years ago when the bridge was washed away. Will and Jim Walker have been trucking in the several oil fields of Western Texas the past few years. They are now among the biggest oil field operators, having approximately sixty thousand dollars invested in trucks and hauling equipments. In loading and other operations the work is now being done altogether by machinery, except that of driving cars to and from points of loading and unloading.

Sheriff Bob Goodall was in Spur the first of the week to buy cotton seed for himself and farmer neighbors of the Jayton country who were "blown out" and hailed out during this and the past week. Hundreds of acres of cotton in the Jayton section were hailed out last week while hundreds more acres were "blown out" this week by the high winds and moving sands. Sheriff Goodall had to replant about eighty acres of cotton on account of the wind, he having escaped the hail damage of last week. The high winds of the first of this week did much damage in many sections of the sandy lands belts.

—Diversify—
J. B. Morrison was in the city Wednesday from his farm and ranch to the southwest of Spur. Bud states that the winds did considerable damage to crops in his section of the country, he having lost about thirty acres of cotton blown out by the drifting sands. The blowing sands during this and the past week did much damage over the country, especially in the sandy land belts.

Cunningham states that a great convention was held there being representatives from over five states present and many ministers ordained. He further states that crops all down the line from here to Ft. Worth are in fine shape and indicate a bumper yield this fall.

Joe Salem Writes from Potter Co. Jail

To Readers of Texas Spur: No doubt the gossip now in Spur is partly about "Joe Salem." Of course I am being condemned by many and praised by others. There is also an intermediate element wondering can Joe Salem be guilty or is he really innocent. Dear friends, there is no question about my innocence. You know that Jesus Christ as perfect as He is, was condemned, crucified and put to death because He was the Son of God and trying to save the people. There is not a person on earth that can please everybody regardless of his perfection.

Well, Mr. Salem, if you are so innocent, then why were you sentenced to sixty days in jail after being given a trial before the U. S. Federal Court of Justice? Dear readers, if I was truly guilty, two years in the penitentiary would not have been a sufficient sentence for penalty of the offense, if any possible guilt could have been derived. And if his honor, the Judge would have previously known me, or if he would have given me time to explain my story when only a mere introduction was stressed, the sentence would have been a minimum.

He had enough previous experience and conceived sufficient information to know that if a fine had been imposed I could not have re-deemed it as the Court knew I walked out of my business clean handed and broke. So this is why the jail sentence was his decided resolution.

Friends, the fall of the year was creeping so near as the first glimpse of dawn when the sun first shows a peep of its face on a clear, bright morning and my purpose of mailing out exaggerated statements was only for the sole reason of showing a better credit standing so that I might be able to continue operating my business through the fall, which looked as prosperous to me as that bright morning, and the face of the sun was gradually increasing in size as the nearing of my business to prosperity at time when I had to give up my store in October. Thinking I could have made enough profits that fall to have paid up my creditors the first of the year, and no one would have been hurt. Then I could have rechecked my statements accurately. If sufficient profits could not have been made as explained, at least I could have liquidated my stock, paid up and quit without having to go broke. It was ridiculously hard for me to give up my store business right at the prime of my manly years especially after a hard struggle through life to make what little I had saved up. My father died when I was eleven years old, leaving us nothing. I have been father of the family all those years, worked my way through school, helped care for myself and for part of my folks support. So near the hour of distress, my brother, sister and I, all three of us, fought, suffered, worked hard and I sacrificed, making those statements which later proved fatal because of the several judgements for commercial debts pending against us, thinking I would sail it through, pay up and would not have to give up my name which for a long time I worked so hard to build. But conditions rotate against us as they have and can't be helped now.

Everyone who was acquainted with me, intimately or otherwise, knew me as well as I know myself and that I never will beat anybody out of anything but instead, I will try to help them. God knows we walked out broke in Dallas. I had to sell two old suits of clothes to pay for one weeks board when I first ventured into this new regeneration of business infancy. One time I was so moneyless I had to pawn my watch and other things which were lost and not redeemed because of lack of money. A broach pin my sister received for a present even had to be pawned that we might be able to get by on for that being. I sold a trumpet to Mr. Smith of this city, bought from Aults of Ft. Worth, which cost $115.00 for only $20. I needed money so badly, I even had to borrow money from my brother to buy my girl a Christmas present. In what other more honorable manner could any one have given up their business?

And now for all these sacrifices, I am solemnly sitting on my bunk behind the bars with other prisoners and criminals writing this truth to be published to explain to the world why I am here. Maybe the Lord is punishing me so to test my endurance and see how much I can stand. Well, if the other inmates can stand it I can. I do not mind the confinement and it is not myself, only the idea of being in jail to outside sentiment and my folks and my dearest friends. After all, I am paying some kind of a penalty for what I have done, as I did disobey the law, even though it was an honest mistake, and I pleaded guilty to it. Maybe my imprisonment will not be in vain. Once in my life I will be able to do a little missionary work. I am young to try to make better men and citizens out of some of these brothers in this same cell with me. Also to satisfy myself of what I did, as I have promised my creditors, I am going to pay them up to the last dollar if it takes me the rest of my life to do it. This I hope I will be able to do.

Well, sixty days in jail will pass away quickly. The more complications I get into the more enthusiastic and determined I become. I always fight to a finish. I hope my future will be a better success than in the past. I deserve it.

I will keep you posted from week to week with news occurring in our cell. Next week I will explain to you what we have to eat and what our "kangaroo rules" are. We actually have a court of our own, imposing law and order in the cell.

Jennie brought me some cake today. I let my companions help me eat it. It sure tasted good in here.

A further seal and bond to my statement of innocence is view a good image of my looks. Do I have an honest looking face on me or not?—Respectfully, JOE T. SALEM.

 R. E. Slough, of Dickens, was in Spur Thursday morning, and while here was a pleasant caller at the Texas Spur office. Mr. Slough said that he never saw prettier crops than is now growing between Spur and Dickens, there being perfect stands growing nicely and under most favorable conditions. Only a calamity will prevent bumper crop productions here this year.

—Plant Plenty Feed—
 H. P. Edwards, leading merchant, farmer and business man of McAdoo, was transacting business in Spur Wednesday. Mr. Edwards stated that the high winds did damage to crops in the McAdoo territory during this and the past week.

A. V. Lester, a prominent citizen and successful diversified farmer of the Afton country, was a recent business visitor in Spur. Mr. Lester was one of the very first farmers of the county to begin raising chickens for the markets, having several years ago, appreciating the trend of business farming, moved to a more suitable farm for raising poultry and pushing further his dairy interests in connection with producing field crops. Mr. and Mrs. Lester made their chickens, eggs and butter not only make their living, pay all farm expenses but also cleared a profit having their field crops also as clear profit.

—Diversify—
 Albert Power, of the Afton section of country, was in Spur recently meeting with his friends. Mr. Power has not yet sold his last year's cotton crop, having the entire production stored in Galveston for future markets. Here is hoping he secures the desired price.

—Plant Plenty Feed—
 M. L. Blakley, of the Elton community, north of Dickens, was in Spur the past week, purchasing material from the lumber firms with which to make improvements on his home place. Mr. Blakley reported everything in fine shape in the north part of the county.

—Plant Plenty Feed—
 Mrs. Byron Haney, who recently underwent an operation at the Nichols Sanitarium, is now sufficiently recovered to be removed to her home at Afton.

—Plant Plenty Feed—
 R. L. Edgar, of the Afton country, was a recent business visitor in Spur, reporting everything in the finest shape throughout the north part of Dickens county.

A LETTER TO THE FARMERS IN AND AROUND DICKENS, TEXAS—

Some time ago I bought a gin site in the South-west part of the town of Dickens and put a sign up saying I would build a gin there in time for the coming crop. I was serious at the time and am still anxious to build this gin, but since I bought this property there, I understand there has been a party, or parties, in that community seeking to organize a Co-Operative Gin Company. This, of course, is a right any community has, and if the farmers wish to so organize, I bid them God speed.

But, of course, if a great majority of the farmers go into this organization, then I would not feel like building on my lot. But if I can be assured by those who raise the cotton that comes to and through Dickens, that you are not going to build a gin of your own, I am ready to start at once building a gin that you will be glad to haul your cotton to.

I will be glad to have as many of you as can meet me on the Court House lawn, Saturday morning, June 16th., between 10 and 12 o'clock and talk the matter over. Tell me whether you want me to build or not.
