

Road Hardsurfacing Contract to be Let May the 24th

The contract for widening and hardsurfacing with asphalt the highway from Spur to Dickens, a distance of nine and nine-tenths miles, will be let by the State Highway Department May 24th.

This work will commence at the "Y" one mile this side of Dickens, the present highway being followed to the S. R. Bowman place where the roadway will be changed to cut through his place, a new two-way bridge to be constructed over Duck Creek, and to intersect the roadway one mile east and just north of the "brick farm house" two miles north of Spur.

The County Commissioners have been working to the end of having this asphalt hardsurfacing extended east from Spur to the Kent county line, and assurance is given that the Highway Department will cooperate with the commissioners, and it is very probable that the work of hardsurfacing will be continued without interruption from Spur on to the Kent county line. The only possibility of delay in continuing the work will be in securing the 100 foot right-of-way along the route selected by the highway engineers—since we understand that there is a possibility that the route east may be changed for a distance of several miles. However, little delay in this is anticipated, since every land owner would appreciate a hardsurface roadway along his land lines.

The members of the Commissioners Court are entitled to high commendation for their efforts and cooperation in the building of this and other highways throughout the county. It means much to the country and the people. Good roads are no longer a luxury but a necessity and a saving to the people and tax payers.

Quite a Number Now Spending the Time With Reel and Rod

Among the number of Spur citizens who have been fishing the past week are O. B. Bowman, Cecil Hix, Lee and Bill Brown, who spent several days at Lake Kemp.

Dr. Zachry, Eric Ousley, Fred Hisey, Jack Rector, and C. R. Edwards and C. W. Dortch returned the first of the week from a fishing trip on the Concho near San Angelo and the Devils River where they report having had a real old time outing and fishing. They not only caught plenty fish but killed squirrels and had a most pleasant outing.

Dr. Brannen, G. A. Sloan, J. M. Hahn and M. E. Tree, H. P. Shrimsher, Ellis Draper and Boley Williams have just returned from Lake Kemp where they, too, had a most enjoyable occasion, fishing and outing. They admit that Judge Tree proved the champion polly wog catcher of the entire party of recognized expert fishermen.

Rankin Boy Fell From Mulberry Tree and Broke His Leg

This week County Commissioner H. O. Albin purchased of A. C. Buchanan of Galveston, two business lots on the east side of Burlington in the north business section of the city, the consideration being $550.00 each.

It is very probable that within a short time Mr. Albin will have a double brick business house going up on these lots.

Watch Spur grow.

Windham has accepted the agency in Spur for the sale of Hupmobiles, and now has a car load of these cars on display at the Sunshine Service Station where he is temporarily located awaiting the completion of the new Masonic Lodge Hall across the street on Burlington Avenue. Upon the completion of this building Mr. Windham will occupy the lower floor with his sales and show rooms for the Hupmobile cars.

Million Dollar Rain Covers the Entire Spur Territory

Saturday night and Sunday a "million dollar" rain fell over the Spur country and practically all of West Texas, breaking a "drouth" of several months duration, and placing the country as a whole in ideal crop condition at the present time.

In Spur the rainfall amounted to one and a quarter inches, which was probably the average over the entire territory, while Afton and McAdoo are reported to have had two and two and one-half inches. The rainfall was lighter at Dry Lake and to the east of Spur.

As a result of the rain farmers in every community have been and are now busy planting with the expectation of bountiful harvests from the present good season.

A total of only five inches of rain has fallen in the Spur territory the past eight months, this being three inches below the average rain fall.

Again Wednesday local rains fell both to the east and the west of Spur, a rain fall of two or more inches being reported on the Plains in the Crosbyton and Ralls territory. Between Paducah and Quanah seven inches of rain is reported.

While many "new comers" as well as "old timers" were becoming anxious concerning the protracted dry weather, yet the rain came in plenty time for crop planting needs and was sufficient to abundantly meet the present needs. In fact the prospect now is that the biggest crops of years will be produced.

D. D. Dunwoody Purchased the Spur Tailor Shop in the City

Wednesday of this week D. D. Dunwoody, of Anson, purchased the Spur Tailor Shop of Newberry and Watson, at a consideration of approximately $3,500.00.

Mr. Dunwoody was formerly of Spur, having lived here several years, engaged as tailor and in other lines of business. He now has charge of the tailoring business, and we are glad to welcome him back to Spur as a resident citizen and also in connection with the business interests of the city.

Statement To The Public

Having been in the city of Spur one month we wish to thank the citizens for their patronage of our theatres thus far.

And we would not forget our farmer friends. We realize that upon you the prosperity of our city depends, and we sincerely appreciate every visit you pay our programs.

By buying pictures from the large companies, even though it be at a greater cost to us, we are enabled to give you the best and latest pictures on the market, and you deserve the best.

We are entering upon a building campaign that will give Spur a 900 seat theatre as good as you will find in cities much larger than this, it is to be equipped with talkies, thus giving you the opportunity to see and hear the same programs that you could in the larger cities.

We wish you to know that at all times we are for Spur, and Spur territory, and with you and your help we can give programs that you will be happy that you have seen and heard.

E. M. REMINGTON, Manager
Spur Theatres.

The New East Ward School Building is Dedicated Friday

Dedication ceremonies were held Friday evening of last week in the big auditorium for the new East Ward school building just recently completed, Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Tech College at Lubbock, making the principal address, for the occasion, W. B. Lee, of the school board, recounted the beginning of the Spur Public Schools, its progress, accomplishments and its needs and possibilities of the future.

Following the dedication ceremonies a community program of songs, recitations and music was given to the pleasure and entertainment of every individual in the audience, the auditorium being filled to its capacity and overflowing. The "four big boys" of the graduating class, and the "Ukelele Girls" captivated the audience and brought forth unreserved encores.

The new East Ward School building has ten class rooms and large auditorium, handsomely furnished, modernly constructed of faced brick, and with the three other school buildings gives the school district adequate facilities to meet present and future needs.

Dr. Nichols Lets Contract to Build Brick Business House

Dr. P. C. Nichols this week let a contract to W. P. Nugent & Son for the construction of a brick business house on his lot next to the Nichols Sanitarium.

The building progress of Spur, in both business and residence sections, continues most substantially and uninterruptedly. Spur is surely and steadily building and developing into a real metropolitan city—as we predicted twenty years ago.

Hardin Purchased the Texaco Oil Station in City of Spur

Recently Geo. W. Williamson sold the Texaco wholesale oil station in Spur to Mr. Hardin of Jayton who now has possession and is managing and conducting the business.

Mr. Williamson moved to Anson where he is now engaged in another line of business.

Truck Farming is a Proven Success in the Spur Territory

Jas. English, of several miles west of Spur, was here Monday with garden truck to sell. It has been said that truck farming here would be a failure. Mr. English has one acre on which he is now growing corn, cucumbers, radishes turnips and greens, squashes, water melons, musk melons beans, peas and possibly cabbage and onions. He has not watered his truck garden which is subirrigated. He stated that he would soon have enough truck to supply the whole neighborhood. This does not look like truck farming would be a failure here. The soils of the Spur country will grow stuff in as great variety and abundance as any other country in the world. All that is needed is for some body to start the ball to rolling.

Ben Holly Building a Modern 5-Room Bungalow in West Spur

Ben Holly is having a handsome and modern 5-room bungalow residence constructed in the West Addition to Spur. The home will soon be completed and ready for occupancy.

It has been only a few months since the West Addition to Spur was occupied by mesquites, while at the present time more than twenty modern homes have been constructed—and the addition building continues uninterruptedly.

Paddle Ranch Sold for $9 an Acre to Sieber of Crosby

The Paddle Ranch in Kent county, owned by the Cairns brothers of Texas, England and Scotland, was sold last week to Mr. Sieber, of Crosbyton, for a cash consideration of nine dollars per acre.

The Paddle Ranch consists of thirty thousand acres, the total sum of the sale amounting to two hundred and seventy thousand dollars.

It will be remembered that in the earlier days before the establishment of Spur, the Cairns interests established the Paddle Ranch, E. J. Cairns being manager until the cattle depression of a few years ago when the cattle interests were sold and the ranch property leased. This is a fine ranch property, and we understand that Mr. Sieber will further develop and improve the property and stock it with thoroughbred cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Cochran and little child, of Abilene, visited last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clay.

Elmer Wood, of Floydada, is now with C. E. Stone Co. of Spur, with Ralph Jackson as local manager.

College, arrived in Spur Wednesday and will spend the summer here studying insects of West Texas, with particular reference to the cotton boll worm. He is located at the Experiment Station and will be glad to have reports of any insects that are damaging cotton.

5,000 Acre Webb Place Sold for Sum of $12.50 an Acre

The Robt. Webb place consisting of five thousand acres of land in the northwest corner of Dickens county, on the Plains, sold this past week to Curtis Martin of Matador for a consideration of $12.50 per acre.

Bishop Seamon is broad and liberal in his educational and religious views and expressions, and his address to the class and others was well received and will be of benefit to those who heard it.

THE SPUR NATIONAL BANK

Capital and Surplus, $125,000.00
SPUR, TEXAS

Dear Customers:

A few weeks ago, we read an article in a local paper, entitled, "One Cow vs. One Dozen," which, we believe, is worth re-reading and remembering as a guide to building up our farm dairy herds. The article is as follows:

"Why milk twelve poor cows when one good cow will do the work of the twelve," says the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. It declares that analysis of more than 100,000 individual yearly records from cows on test in dairy herd improvement associations indicate that on an average Cows that produced 100 lbs. butterfat a year returned $14.00 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 200 lbs. butterfat a year returned $54.00 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 300 lbs. butterfat a year returned $96.00 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 400 lbs. butterfat a year returned $138.00 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 500 lbs. butterfat a year returned $178.00 each over feed cost;

In other words, one 500 pound producer will return $10.00 more over feed cost than twelve 100 pound producers. This does not take into account either the added labor of milking and caring for the larger herd or the greater expense of providing stable room for a dozen instead of a single animal. The figures are based on farm prices from all parts of the country." It will pay you to remember these figures when you go to select your dairy cow.

Most of us are enjoying fairly good health. At least, we are not in the dairy business solely for our health. The thing we want to do is to either raise or buy the very best dairy cows that we can get so that we may realize the greatest possible profits possible from our efforts.

The first item of importance in building up a profitable dairy herd is either breeding or selecting good producing cows. Next in importance is proper care, cheap pasturage and a balanced ration of home grown feed for our cows.

Now that we have had a splendid rain, let us not overlook planting a good Sudan pasture for summer and fall grazing. Then, be sure and plant plenty of feed for the dairy cows this winter. This is a good time to sow more alfalfa.

We are sure that you have been reading Mr. Tanner's splendid articles, appearing in our local papers from week to week, and have, therefore, noticed that he is now planning to organize a cow testing association for Dickens County. The fees for this service have been reduced to the minimum, and, if you have not considered going into this association, it might be well to see Mr. Tanner and talk with him about the value and importance of this line up. It is the only way to weed out the boarder cows and build your dairy herd to a high standard.

With the increased cream checks that are sure to follow careful culling and proper feeding and the assurance from our local grocery stores that the minimum price of infertile eggs through the summer months will be 20c per dozen, the farmers of Dickens County should soon be on velvet.

Nine Turkey Hens
 Make $205.50 Profit
 And Save Cuke Crop

Observing a few years ago that an old turkey hen and a few poults caught lots of insects in his cucumber field, W. A. Stein, of San Patricio county, invested in nine hens last year. In giving his results to the county agent, P. Donald, it is disclosed that the turkeys not only kept Mr. Stein's spring cuke crop practically free from insects but made a total net profit of $205.50, besides. From the sale of sixty three birds came a revenue of $185.20 and there are now twenty six turkeys on hand valued at $50. The only feed consumed was home grown consisting of one and one half tons kaffir valued at $30. Mr. Stein is so enthused that he now proposes to fence his entire farm turkey proof and cash in still further on his insect destroyers.—Ex.

POLITICS

The only doctor in Scrapville decided he would like to be mayor, so he came out in the Scrapville Times with the following notice: "Fellow-citizens, I am running for mayor. I have no particular platform, no reforms to make, nothing to say against my opponent; I merely desire to be mayor of this town before I die. I know every man, woman and child in this town. I have been present at every birth, marriage or death in Scrapville for the past forty years. If not elected I am going to leave the town. But before I go I am going to tell all I know about each one of you."

For the first time in the history of the town everyone of legal age turned out. When the ballots were counted the old doctor had received all but one vote, and that was cast by a man who had just moved to town.—Los Angeles Times.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Davis were among the number here from McAdoo on Trades Day. Mr. Davis has become a 'believer' in the dairy business and within a short time expects to have a small dairy herd and engage in dairying to a limited extent. He has long recognized the value of good poultry and with the addition of dairying and a few pigs on the side, he is laying the foundation for prosperity in the future. The 'one crop' farmer's now only a memory of the past, giving place to real and lasting diversified farming—and in so doing the day of general prosperity is dawning.

TAX GASOLINE WITH CARE
 Fear is expressed from many authoritative quarters that gasoline taxing may be overdone. Since 1919, when the first of such taxes was levied, there has been steady increases in the rate, until today the tax equals 10 to 30 per cent of the retail price of gas in the various states.

A reasonable tax, with all receipts applied to highway building and maintenance, is probably the best way of solving the demand for good roads. But when the funds are applied to other state expense, the motorist has cause for complaint.

Opinions of newspaper editors throughout the United States show that a number of them oppose exhorbitant gas taxes because they encourage extravagant spending, represent class legislation, tax a necessity instead of a luxury, are increasing too fast, harm business by discouraging consumption and cause other difficulties.

In an article in the New York Times, Dr. F. G. Crawford of Syracuse University, said that "legislatures may go too far with increases and bring about a reaction to a most successful tax."

Last year the gasoline tax averaged about $15.00 per car, or a total of $300,000,000. It would seem that this sum, with the other available funds, if used intelligently for highway purposes, would provide necessary paved or rock roads. To use gas tax money for other purposes is an imposition on the motorist.

Missouri, realizing the danger of an exhorbitant tax, has fixed the rate at two cents per gallon for ten years. Sensible legislation is a success, oppressive taxation benefits no one and discourages progress.—The Manufacturer.

period. I was so weak I was practically exhausted. Then neuritis came on, and I had those pains, as well as sufferings of constipation.

"My blood became impoverished my color ashy, my circulation was poor, and the sight of food almost sickened me. My nights were restless and my days misery. I lost weight rapidly. I tried medicines, and took several treatments from the best specialists. They did me practically no good.

"In just a few days after I started taking Sargon I felt better than in years. The neuritis and malaria have left me, my digestion is perfect I have a wonderful appetite, my complexion is clear and healthy, and I feel like I have been made all over again. I am full of new strength and energy. I have regained my lost weight."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Lucille Hayden, of 1200 Gulf Street, Beaumont. Mrs. Hayden is a member of the Methodist church, belongs to the Eastern Star and is highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

Matador Youths Drown Saturday In Lake Kemp

The bodies of L. B. Groves, 15, and Nenian Birchfield, 14, of Matador, who were drowned Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock at Lake Kemp, were found Sunday morning about 10 o'clock by a party of Wichita Falls fishermen under the direction of John Crawford chief game warden at Lake Kemp. The bodies were located after several hours of dragging in the waters of the lake.

The two youths were with a large party from Matador which was spending the week end at Lake Kemp. They had left the party and had rowed out on the lake with two other youths, Elmo Winter and Hardy Williams.

According to information of the accident received by Mr. Crawford, the youths had pulled out of a cove in the skiff with only a light paddle and were unable to keep the boat from drifting when they got out on the main waters where the waves were six or eight feet high.

Becoming alarmed at the high wind and waves and their rapid drifting, the youths leaped from the boat and attempted to swim for the shore which was about 35 yards away. Hardy and Williams reached the bank in safety but did not discover that the other two boys were not following them until it was too late to save them.

Neither of the lads could swim, Mr. Crawford said, and both bodies were raised near the spot where the boys jumped from the boat.

The remainder of the party was 300 or 400 yards away from the scene of the accident.

A searching party composed of Mr. Crawford, J. R. Jones, Eugene Sherrod of Wichita Falls, Vance Turner of the state comptroller's office, and C. A. Remington, of the water improvement district, dragged for the two bodies until late Saturday night when the waves forced them to abandon their search. They renewed the hunt at dawn Sunday morning and raised the two bodies about 10 o'clock.

The bodies were found by dragging from a motor boat with large fishing hooks attached to the end of gas pipes. The water in which they were found was between 12 and 16 feet deep, Mr. Crawford said.

The bodies were taken in charge by the Underwood Funeral home in Vernon and will be forwarded to Matador for burial. The fathers of the two boys, G. M. Birchfield and J. A. Groves, will accompany the bodies back to Matador.

A. C. Berguson, wife and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Flournoy spent last week fishing and outing down on the Concho River.

THERE ARE THOSE WHO SAY
"IT'S A LOT OF BALONEY"

Almost every honest endeavor to induce people to DO something for their community is branded by certain types of individuals as hot air, bunk, hooey, and "It's all a lot of baloney." The fellow who starts whispering "Tie it outside", when thinking residents talk about the value of "boosting" is usually the fellow who goes outside the record regarding truth when making conversation about himself. Such people are so engrossed in their own littleness that they cannot grasp the bigness of collective thinking.

The greatest service anyone can do for his community is to think about it. Let everyone think a community is good and it will be—not over night—not in a month—nor perhaps in a year. But thinking it is good will create and cause action that will gradually and surely make it good. On the other hand, think your town is no good and it will be just that and nothing different!

Thinking about those things that will improve your community is not a duty—it's business; therefore, it isn't a question of why you should but why shouldn't you be a booster.

A booster is one who supports his town enthusiastically—one who gets behind and pushes vigorously, consistently and persistently. The other fellow gets in front and leans backward, or gets in the road, making it tough going for the pushers.

A booster is an optimist and a joy-maker; he is not a cynic or a crepe hanger.

A booster cheers; he never jeers, sneers or hisses.

A booster sticks up for his community, he never sticks up his nose at it.

A booster gives every fellow a "break"; he never "dishes the dirt." A booster says, "I'll do it for the good of the community;" not "what do I get out of it,"

A booster admires success; he never infers, "there must be something crooked about it."

A booster says, "Yo bet this is a good town;" he never says, "Oh, yes, it's all right if you like it."

A booster is for anything that is good; a kicker objects to everything good or bad.

A booster is a positive quantity; a kicker is a negative minus.

A booster pushes and goes ahead; a kicker balks, stands still and never gets anywhere.

A booster, instead of saying "It's all a lot of baloney," says "There may be something in that," and then thinks about it.

You are the one to decide on which side of the fence you are going to be. Choose the side you think is for your own best interests and then stand up for what you think.—Colorado Record.

A COMMUNITY IS DEFENSELESS

The citizens of a community can mistreat it and deny it their good will and their trade. They can go to the larger city and do their shopping and deprive their local merchants of the trade necessary to reduce stock carried and employ less help.

Every citizen of the town can carry on this sort of warfare against home institutions and the community can not resist it. It can not plead its own case: it is defenseless.

But the time comes when everyone knows that the community is losing out. The stores look a little more shabby and a little more ragged. Stocks aren't so good or so large. Less clerks are employed, less taxes paid, less income earned, and still the community does not rebel—it goes down and down until the people wake up and realize that this thing called "Our Community" is after all their community and the only way to build it up and keep its institutions prosperous and thriving is to be loyal to them and support them generously and whole heartedly.

The Texas Spur is soliciting and bidding for your trade and support, with the thought that through generous and undivided patronage we will be in position to render a public service of greater and more benefits.

THE ACTUAL COST OF DRIVING CARS OVER DIFFERENT ROADS

(By E. E. Duffy)

The motorist who drives a light six over first class pavements rather than over low type roads does so at a saving of 2.37 cents a mile. Travel over intermediate road types costs approximately 1.13 cents more a mile than over good pavement.

These are conclusions of Professor T. R. Agg and other research workers at Iowa State College, just made public. All items of expense were considered and properly balanced with the final figures based on year 'round travel.

Reports from commercial car operators all over the United States were compiled in making these studies. It is believed that the results of the observations indicate quite accurately the greater cost of low type roads, for the reports cover cars operated under all sorts of conditions through urban and rural traffic, under diverse climatic conditions and by drivers of varying degrees of skill and efficiency.

Considering all items of car operation expense, such as gasoline, oil, depreciation and so on, the per mile cost of a light six cylinder car is 8.62 cents over low type roads, 7.38 cents over intermediate types, and 6.25 cents over first class pavement.

Car operation costs, of course, vary with the size of the car. For example, the cost of operating a medium four on low type roads is 7.5 cents per mile, on intermediate types 6.42 cents a mile, and on high type pavement 5.44 cents.

From the collected data, it was determined that if the composite "average" automobile were to be operated entirely over pavement rather than over low type roads, the saving per mile would be 2.06 cents. Intermediate types when changed to high type highways would save the average driver approximately one cent per mile.

The motorist himself may then calculate just how much it costs him to drive over roads not of first quality. But since only 80,000 miles of high type rural highways, most motoring is still over inferior highways.

Motor taxes, such as the gasoline tax and the license fee, do not compare with the bad roads tax, which may insidiously collect a $200 toll from the traveler whose yearly mileage is 10,000. Motor taxes are actually good roads taxes and when properly levied and expended they lessen the tariff of mud, tractive resistance and discomfort.

Story of My Living Room Improvement

(By Mrs. D. F. Christopher, Winner In The County Contest)

My living room was an old room with streaked walls, caused from rain leaking through. It was very hard to keep clean because the open places in the walls and floor would let the sand blow in. It was arranged very inconveniently as I had to go through my bed room or kitchen to get to my living room. I resolved to enter the living room contest and have me a living room, one that would not leak, and one that would not be covered with dust from those West Texas sandstorms.

The only place I had to make a living room was from an unceiled screened porch with an outset closet opening out on the porch, and opening window from the kitchen, and very rough shiplap floor. The first thing we did to remodel it was to box in the two sides using the window from the kitchen and buying one more and one door, using the old screen to make screens for the room. We used the 2 by 4 material the old screen was tacked to in making a trailer for the car. We removed the closet to the bedroom, put sheetrock overhead which made a fine ceiling. I pasted fifteen layers of newspapers on the floor, letting a few layers lap upon the wall. This would insure keeping the dust out. Then I covered the floor with a tan background linoleum square and a rug border letting it come upon the wall. In my old living room as I have said before the walls were streaked caused from the rain coming under the strips I filled the cracks with cotton, then pasted oil cloth over this. I had a wall then that would not leak. I had three old mattresses made over and I had the old tickings left. I washed these old tickings and used them for canvas. I papered with tan paper letting it and the canvas come to the edge of the window to keep out the sand. For baseboards I used scrap lumber found around the place. The woodwork was full of cracks and nail holes because it had been an outside exposure. I filled the cracks and holes with a 9c filler. I wanted a light woodwork and I had part of a can of white paint and some walnut varnish, so I bought a can of buff paint and mixed the three and had the color I wanted. Before using the paint I sandpapered the woodwork good to get as smooth a finish as possible. After applying two coats of the paint I found that the filler and sandpapering had been very successful in hiding the cracks and old wood.

For living room furniture I had nothing I could use but an old scarred walnut piano. I removed the varnish with a weak lye solution going over it rapidly and following with a vinegar water. Then I used a crack filler to fill the cracks and sandpapered lightly over it. I used three coats of varnish and stain sandpapering over it each time. It was hard to recognize my old piano after I finished. I had to either make my other furniture or buy it, and as funds were low I proceeded to make the furniture out of anything I could get around the place. I saw a book cabinet at town that I wanted very much but it cost $12.00, so I went home and told my husband about it and he made me one. I had a place for my books, a writing desk, a place for business papers, magazines, and papers when the case was finished. He made it out of the lumber and after sandpapering and applying coats of walnut varnish until I had the right finish, and putting a colored stencil at the top I felt that I had a very good looking cabinet for only $2.75. I needed a center for games, so I placed my card table over in one corner and above it I placed a wall rack which was used for game supplies. I made the wall rack out of an apple crate and stained it walnut.

I made a day bed out of an old steel cot. I made a mattress for it first, then covered it with a predominating tan and mulberry cretonne. I made two pillows out of crash material using the green for one and red for the other. I remodeled a smoking stand, adding a place for tobacco, and an individual tray, refinishing the stand in green and gold. I made the shade I wanted by adding a bottle of yellow paint to a dark green paint. I also finished a flower stand and pots with the same shade of green and gold. To add more color I made a door prop out of a brick, painting it tan with a raised rose made of putty which I tinted red. I made a vase out of a mustard jar by painting it blue and tinting flowers on it. This I placed on my console table which I bought and I keep flowers in it all of the time. The lace and embroidery on my piano scarf was worn out so I embroidered the scarf and put new lace on it. I learned one lesson on that, that is never to put cotton embroidery or lace on linen material. My lamp shade was white so I tinted flowers on it. I bought a second hand oil heater for my stove.

I used a tri-color scheme using the curtains made of mulberry with the ceru soren for glass curtains. The day bed cover is of mulberry and tan. The paper is tan. The conglom rug is predominating tan with a little green and mulberry. I have the green smoking stand, green floor pillow. Blue vase and the red floor pillow adds a touch of color. I have one oblong picture over my piano and a long picture by the front door. I used the long mirror over my console table. I bought two rockers with the tan and mulberry upholstery. I use the gasoline lamp which hangs from the ceiling and gives an excellent light.

The following shows a total cost of my living room improvement:

Two rockers	$24.00
Console table and mirror	7.50
Floor coverings	10.50
Material for book cabinet	2.75
Curtains and shades	6.30
Day bed and pillows	2.00
Card table	1.50
Varnish, paint, etc.	2.50
Oil heater	1.50
Total	58.55

Cat Fish Man Still Law Abiding Citizen Of Kent County

Mat Howell, of Cat Fish, was on the streets the first of the week. Mat is one among the oldest citizens and settlers of the country—and until recently was recognized by everyone as a law-abiding citizen—a court trial being required to prove that he is still law-abiding. He and about twenty other leading citizens of Kent county were recently indicted on a charge of enforcing the removal of parties from a community—the evidence showing that they 'did the community a service' and possibly the parties of a kindness and accommodation. It is very probable that the other charges will be dismissed to save further governmental expense.

WHEN EGG-MAKERS GO ON A STRIKE

In a recent radio talk, Raymond Hitchcock stated that even though he had called all his hens together and scolded them severely, they still refused to lay any eggs for him. Not many people would employ the famous comedian's method for trying to get eggs but many of the ways used to break hens of broodiness are just as ridiculously ineffective. It is really important that better ways of overcoming broodiness should be known. A broody hen is an unprofitable hen especially where incubators do all the hatching. Consequently the sooner her broodiness can be broken up the sooner she can begin once more to earn her board and lodging.

It is a mistake to frighten a broody hen by tying red ribbons to her tail, plunging her into cold water, or confining her in a closed box without food, water or light. Such methods belong to the dark ages of poultry raising. They do not actually cure broodiness but only put the hen in poor flesh and health. The only way to get a hen out of this condition is to get her mind off the subject, so to speak, so she will once more begin eating and drinking in normal fashion. One good way to accomplish this is to confine one or more broody hens in a small coop with a vigorous male.

Broodiness can also be easily and humanely overcome through the use of broody coops. The important thing in using such a coop is to get the broody hen into it the very first day she shows any sign of that condition. If this is done she will forget her broodiness in less than half the time that will be needed if she is allowed to stay on the nest, two three or four days. The longer broodiness is allowed to continue the harder it is to overcome and the greater will be the loss of egg production. I shall describe two broody coops that I have found exceptionally effective.

For just one hen, make a coop 2 by 2 by 2 feet. The sides are to be of slats for ventilation, and the top solid for protection. Using a center of the top, hang this coop single rope or wire fastened to the from any convenient rafter or branch of a tree. Such a coop will sway with every gust of wind and with every step the hen takes. That will keep her so busy trying to regain her balance that she soon forgets her broodiness.

The second form of broody coop I wish to describe may be used with good effect, when a number of hens all decide to go on a strike at about the same time. This coop should be 3 by 4 or 4 by 5 feet and two feet deep. The sides should be made of slats or poultry netting and the floor either slatted or solid. A good roof should be provided and should extend far enough on each side to give good protection from the rain. This coop should be at least 2 by 3 feet off the ground to allow for good circulation of air all around the hens. This is very important, as broody hens should be kept cool. From three to six hens may be placed in this coop and kept in it day and night. It should be put in a cool, shady spot instead of the sun.

Plenty of good feed and clean water should be kept within easy reach of broody hens the whole time they are confined in a broody coop. This is very important and should not be neglected under any circumstances.

Hens so confined constantly fuss among themselves, which tends to make them forget their broodiness. Seeing other fowls at liberty also helps considerably to speed up the end of broody spells. This method should have the desired effect in from three to five days. It is a particularly good method not only because of its effectiveness but because it is absolutely humane.

Better than any method of curing broodiness is the plan of eliminating it, now being successfully used by many poultry raisers. With careful breeding it is possible to develop a strain of non-sitters or hens that will not go broody. Only hens that do not go broody should be used for breeding and if care is used in selecting just the right hens, broodiness can be practically eliminated in a few generations.

A broody hen, unless needed for hatching eggs, is simply a nuisance and an unnecessary nuisance at that. It is so easy to break up the habit there is no reason why it should be tolerated and a great many reasons that every poultry raiser knows well why it should not be tolerated. But to be successful, one must not make the mistake of using the harsh methods once so much in vogue.

The cheapest and best. That is why I recommend sane, humane methods of curing broodiness. They work along scientific lines by not trying to scare the hen out of her broodiness, but by replacing the brooding idea with something else. This method brings 100 per cent success because it leaves the hen in excellent physical condition ready and willing to resume her profitable job of laying eggs. Diplomacy and gentle methods are just as superior to force when dealing with feathered strikers as they usually are with the human variety. Copyright 1929.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN

In his preachments Elbert Hubbard reflects: "I am not sure just what the unpardonable sin is, but I believe it is the disposition to postpone and evade the payment of small bills." How vast is the army of workers' for her fellowman who can say amen to that little sermon!

Perhaps there are sins more unpardonable than the "postponement and evasion of bill paying," but at least it cannot be said that there is a sin more frequent in commission. Tradespeople, professional men and other public servants will attest to the latter as a declaration of fact.

To be sure no one would place the brand "dead beat" upon all those who are slow in paying. There are extenuating circumstances in all phases of life and financial reverses poverty and ill fortune are visited upon most members of the human family some time during their worldly existence. Toward such the creditor world gladly shows patience. But Hubbard remarks that curiously enough, the people who are almost most given to this sort of sin are not the poor or illiterate.

Hubbard might have mused over the matter further and found that the "postponers and evaders of payment of small bills," may be divided into two groups: Those who must gratify the mania for buying, knowing they have not the wherewithal or their extravagances, and those who, without any perverted intent to defraud or cheat, have allowed themselves to acquire the habit of loose credit, but the latter lose the respect of their fellowman, which is greater than credit. Make a bargain and keep it. Every man is and if you... his title to his "pay" for the service...

"THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW"

There is a great deal of talk about the need for law enforcement and respect for laws. Civilization cannot be maintained without general observance of the restrictions society has created to protect itself.

But something equally important and less considered, is that there is also a crying need for laws worthy of respect.

A tremendous per centage of persons now in prison are there because of "crimes" that twenty five years ago were not illegal. The life and liberty of the American citizen is hemmed in by legal structures.

Law making bodies have gone on orgies of legislation. Apparently nothing is too tyrannical or too absurd to place on the statute books. Instead of well ordered scientific legal code such as was contemplated by the fathers of this country, we have thousands of petty, conflicting ordinances whose enforcement is hopelessly befogged by miles of red tape and bureaucracy.

It is no wonder that many self-respecting Americans are beginning to look with a cynical eye on all laws. Despotism and illogical laws breed contempt for legislation. It is not freedom that creates anarchists, but tyranny.

Constitutional rights are disregarded by law makers. Personal liberty is becoming little more than a pleasant echo from the past. Millions of good Americans are technically criminals.

There are hopeful signs that this modern "there ought to be a law" age of government will pass. No law can long survive the contempt of great bodies of people. As a nation we would do well to uphold our constitutional rights instead of permitting them to be smothered by beau-enterprise. The majority of our people are well disposed and honest and not such morons as the politicians seem to believe.—The Manufacturer.

WE MAKE AND SPEND

We make our money in our home town and here is where we ought to spend it, since Abraham Lincoln once said, "When we buy away from home we get the goods and lose the money; when we buy at home we have both the goods and the money."

This principle ought to apply not only in trading in home stores but also favoring those products which are manufactured in the home town or wholesaled under the home town label. Here again the home town needs both the goods and the money out of everything we can use of what we can make, all the way from a box of matches to a ton of steel.

And this principle applies as logically to the employment of home town labor. When we hire labor from some other town we get the labor and lose the money paid out in wages. When we hire labor at home we get both the labor and the wages which will be spent by the home man in the home town.—Duluth (Minn.) Tribune.

Advertising in the hands of a wide awake business man is not only a builder of confidence and a promoter of sales but it is the most useful tool in the modern business kit to change unanticipated reverses into successful operations. It is as flexible as a combination screwdriver, monkeywrench and nail file and much more efficient. The man who looks upon advertising as a cumbersome business practice misses a large part of its value. True, it is the heavy artillery which after due consideration lays down a great barrage

TEXAN BREAKS WORLD'S HOG PRODUCTION RECORD

The ration used by A. T. Quicksall of Ames, the county farmer who has broken the world's record for highest average weight of a 180-day old litter of pigs, consisted of protein supplement as recommended by the A. & M. Extension Service, combined with four parts corn meal and one part finely ground barley. This was mixed with enough milk to wet the feed. The grain feed was supplemented by a sudan grass pasture to which the litter of seven pigs had access at all times.

This litter of registered Poland Chinas fed by Mr. Quicksall under the direction of county agent E. T. Nagle, weighed an average of 390 and four sevenths pounds at six months of age, smashing completely the former record of 360 pounds held by a Kentuckian. The cost of production per pound of pork was 7.6 cents.—Ex. Service Farm News.

STATE LEADERS SEE REVOLT IN POLITICS

The following is an excerpt from a communication from the Austin correspondent, appearing in a recent issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, and it certainly has the right ring and will meet with a hearty response from the people of the state generally:

"A peaceful revolt in Texas politics has been launched by a group of state leaders, many of whom were in Fort Worth over the week end after touring the various sections to determine needs and remedies, the trip taking a score or more of Legislators throughout West Texas, into the Panhandle, into East Texas and Oklahoma City.

These leaders have decided that for Texas to set its house in order and to develop its resources properly it is necessary to put in the background shopworn issues that have distracted the state, that have prevented adequate legislation in the way of sound economics, and that Texas has all the potentiality of becoming riveted to the real issues that mean progressiveness.

The edict is, and practically all of them so agreed, that Texas shall pigeon-hole the Smith-Hoover scrap in Texas; prohibition, the ancient Klan and anti-Klan contest; Fergusonism and its varied hues. Further, that it is about time that the people of the state departments and the Legislature shall take off their coats, roll up their sleeves and go to work to solve the problems on land validation, water priority, tax equality, transportation, industrial and agricultural aid, development of all the resources, adequate support of the state colleges."—Rusk Cherokeean.

RED TOP CLUB NEWS

The Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Howell on May 6th. There were several new members present but not many old ones as this was First Monday and some of the ladies felt like they would be lucky and get the cow. Mrs. Fugua, our president, is in Hot Springs, New Mexico for her health. We hope she soon returns and that her trip will be of great benefit to her. The lesson was on Children's Clothes, and those present learned how to select patterns, material and decorations suitable for children. Children's clothes should be simple and of washable material and should allow them plenty of freedom. Miss Osborne informed us that Dickens County was to have the Appropriate Dress contest also. These dresses that the ladies make are to be of sheer material such as voile, batiste or swiss and are to be judged the latter part of June when the girls have their contest. The winner receives a trip to Short Course. So buy your dress lady club members and see if you can win.—Reporter.

DRY LAKE CLUB NEWS

The women of the Dry Lake club met Friday, May 10 at 2 p. m. There were ten members present and one new member. Each member answered the roll call with a suitable finish for children's clothes. The usual program was rendered. 1st. Mrs. Calvert gave an interesting discussion on "Reasons Why Children Should Not Have Fussy Clothes." 2nd. Mrs. Millard Smith discussed the topic, "Types of Clothing for the Children which are healthful, attractive and Easily Laundered." 3rd. Mrs. J. L. Hutto gave an interesting discussion on "How ter." 4th. Mrs. Sandlin gave an interesting discussion on "How Children May be Taught to Care for Their Own Clothing." Miss Osborn also gave a very interesting demonstration on selecting patterns, material and simple decorations for children's clothing. We got some good ideas from hearing these topics discussed by these women. Our next meeting will be on May 24th at the school building. Subject of our next lesson will be "Color in the Home." All of you old members come and bring some one with you.—Reporter.

Dogie Putman is here this week from Pecos, visiting W. E. Putman and family and other relatives and friends of the Spur country.

Miss Mae Dell Martin, Lovie Crook and Dick and John A. Davis, of Tech College, spent Saturday and Sunday in Spur with Mrs. Nellie Davis.

Bob Westerman was among those who last week attended the big wolf hunt in Haskell county, carrying his dogs with him to participate in the hunts and runs. Bob has a number of fine wolf hounds, well trained, we understand, since he has been hunting and killing wolves here the past several years. Poley Williams and wife, of Cross Plains were here recently visiting with their friends, and also looking after farm property interests. Mr. Williams having some time ago purchased a fine farm in the Spur section of country. Mr. Williams and family no doubt will eventually move to this section.

Quality and Advertising

The business men of this country are learning that the value of advertising cannot be measured merely by the effect it has on the public. A man begins by advertising a product, and as his program grows he has to study it to discover its advantages. Before long he discovers, inevitably, its disadvantages—the shortcomings of quality or service—subconsciously noted by the consumer—and in order to get the business he improves the product. This is, after all, the final field of competition—the constant effort to improve product and service and to lower cost—which has made the United States the economic wonder of the world. It is an ideal competition in that it does not bring profit to one at the expense of another, except as the other may fall behind the times. In the long run the determining factor in success is value—what the seller gets depending on what he gives.

Having sown the wind in China, the Soviets are now reaping the whirlwind. The pupils who so diligently learned the lesson from Russian lips that China should drive out the foreigners have turned on their teachers and are forcing them to withdraw, says the New York Times. The Nationalists, who less than a year ago were under the inspiration of Russian advisers, are following the example of the northerners, who expelled Russian agents and exposed the anti-Chinese activities of the communists several months ago. Slowly the leaders of the Chinese people have come to realize that Russia has been playing a hypocritical role and that her professions of friendship for China have masked a desire to use China for her selfish aims elsewhere.

Whoever is annoyed by city noises can look with hope to the Association of German Engineers, which offers a prize for the most practical scheme for overcoming them. One awaits eagerly the announcement of some new substance which in street car wheels will not squeak on curves or clatter at cross-overs, motor car bodies will not rattle on rough streets and motor horns will emit a gentle and soothing note! But probably this is too much to expect. Indeed, a good start would be to eliminate unnecessary noises, but to do that means reforming human nature and, as yet, this cannot be done mechanically.

A Scotchman has purchased Bobbie Burns' home farm and stipulated in his deed of trust that it should be perpetually leased for agricultural purposes, the income to be used as the trustees saw fit for a memorial to the poet. He particularly prohibited the conversion of any part of the farm into a green for any kind of sports. The object of the donor evidently was to preserve the atmosphere of the place where Bobbie lived and wrote; and it cannot be denied that there is an element of artistic fidelity in the sentiment that inspired his gift.

Most parents and teachers are doing all they can to educate children in safety measures. Only parents and teachers can realize the immensity of the task. The child mind is susceptible enough but its retentiveness suffers because children are slaves of impulse to a greater degree than adults. The safety lesson which has been drilled into a child's mind may be forgotten in brisk play. Blanket rules cannot be made; each parent and each teacher must use the method best suited to each case. The greater responsibility rests on the automobile driver.

Accidents, sickness and preventable deaths are estimated to cost the people of the United States $15,000,000,000 a year. Isn't it up to the chaps who view with alarm to point out that this is more money than we spend for something or other—chewing gum, for example.

It appears that it would be impossible for a horned toad to remain alive in the cornerstone of a courthouse for thirty years, but it also appears that one horned toad did it. There is also the case of the client who couldn't be put in jail, yet was found there by his lawyer.

Perhaps there are no such things as common colds and rheumatism, but the diseases that used to bear those names are just as troublesome and disagreeable as ever.

"An error of some quintillions of tons is said to have been found in the accepted weight of the earth." We must ask Atlas whether he has noticed any difference.

Another excellent thing is so to arrange your economic program through life that you won't have to open a wild forward-passing game late in the fourth period.

Perhaps it's just as well from a humanitarian standpoint that no device has been invented whereby the radio talent can hear its own voice through a receiving set.
