centuries swathed in the bands of obscurity, but we are glad that we can congratulate her now as the sun of prosperity is reflecting his rays upon her and inspiring a spirit of progression which will elevate her to a position in the sisterhood of the distinguished cities of the South.
We, the old citizens and our progeny of the city and county of Nacogdoches should cherish sacred reverence for the old town, for it was the temporary home of some, the permanent home of others, the place of rendezvous and retreat of the illustrious dead, the pioneers, the heroes, the martyrs who gave their zealous efforts, their blood and their lives to secure to us and to you Texans whose eyes may behold this writing, the blessed liberty, privileges and independence which we now enjoy.
In another view we hold Nacogdoches sacred in memory. In memory we go back through lapse of years, a past checked with varied vicissitudes to our youth and early manhood, when time had not frosted the locks which adorn our head, nor distorted our brow with a frown of care, nor paled the bloom of youth that mantled our cheek, nor blighted the smile of joy and contentment that wreathed our lips.

These goods are decorated in rich colored flowers and gold bands. With every five dollars worth of goods bought from us we will give a plain white granite cup, saucer and plate. This applies to our retail trade and will run until January 1, 1901. This is an opportunity to get some nice tableware without a cent cost, as we propose to keep our well known habit of selling big lumps for little money. You do not have to buy the whole $5 or $10 worth of goods at one time, as we will give you a ticket for every nickel's worth of goods you buy, and when you get enough of these receipts you can return them and get the free goods. See that you get a ticket for the amount you buy.

Obituary.
Miss Fannie Williamson died September 13 at 12 o'clock p. m. A sweet girl just blossoming into womanhood. Fannie was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson, living near New Friendship, and in her death the community loses a kind friend and her parents a loving and affectionate daughter, whose place none can fill.
Sometimes it pleases the dear Father to gather into his own immortal garden the purest and fairest of earth's flowers ere they are trampled on and withered by the blasts of temptation and earthly struggles.
From the last hours of Fannie's life we feel assured she is singing around "The great white throne."

Rho Garrison, of Garrison, is in the city on a business visit. Bro. Garrison is postmaster at Garrison, now, but there was a time when he was down on a level with us newspaper fellows. He used to be the editor of the Garrison Signal, and he made that old paper hum while he had hold of it too. We still hold a fraternal feeling toward him and are always delighted when he honors our sanctum with a visit.
Sam Brown, of Martinsville, is in the city. He reports the death of a child of J. C. Judd, living near Martinsville, which occurred last night.

THE Texas Tobacco Growers' association was awarded a prize at the Paris exposition. Six prizes altogether were awarded to Texas exhibits.

THE Galveston News has not yet resumed publication since the terrible flood and storm tore up its building and damaged its machinery almost beyond repair.

THE office of the Daily Press at Houston was completely swept away during the tornado last week. The building and plant were valued at over five thousand dollars and are a total loss.

THE Catholic Orphans Home in Galveston was completely demolished in the storm and every living thing connected with it was killed. Not a soul left to tell the tale. Eleven sisters and ninety-three orphans were lost. One sister was found with nine little children tied around her for their protection, all dead.

IN addition to the vandalism that existed in Galveston there were a set of conscienceless scoundrels going about over the island with kodaks taking pictures of nude women. Thank the Lord two of the heathish scamps were shot to death, which taught the survivors a severe lesson and put an end to their dastardly work.

FRUIT AND TRUCK GROWING.

The distinguished horticulturists who recently passed through our country as guests of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co., have made most favorable reports of our soils' adaptability to fruit and truck growing.

It is plain to any observant mind that this system of farming is the most remunerative and should be encouraged among our people. Mr. F. T. Ramsey at Austin cleared $200 per acre on his plums. Prof. V. T. Munson of Denison says that his books show from $100 to $125 per acre on grapes. Mr. J. S. Kerr of Sherman cleared $140 per acre on peaches and apples. C. W. Wood, of Swan, Texas, reports $100 per acre clear on 50 acres of peaches. C. Faulkner at Waco made this year about $7,000 clear profit on his orchard. Mr. T. J. Wilson at Pauli made $116 per acre on tomatoes and $91 per acre on plums.

If you will ask our local growers you will find that they cleared all the way from $50 to $150 per acre on their crops. Why then can any one defer tree planting? Nothing will develop our waste places quicker; nothing pay so handsomely.

The H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co., through its passenger and immigration department is especially encouraging these industries. If you want any special information regarding these matters address that department and full information will be given.

Prof. F. W. Mally, College Station, state entomologist of the A. & M. College, is making arrangements to settle somewhere on the line of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. to engage in fruit growing and truck planting on a commercial scale. He is an up to date horticulturist and will prove quite an acquisition to our section.

Recently Mr. Mally visited Nacogdoches and made a tour out in the country some distance with the view of selecting a tract of land for an extensive orchard, but by some touch of magic or other sudden influence the price of land took such a leap upward in price as to almost bluff him off entirely. There is no person who could do more to inspire the people here with a spirit of progress and enterprise in this direction than Prof. Mally and we sincerely trust that he will come back and make at least another effort to secure the land he wants here.

THE SENTINEL recently received the handsome souvenir catalogue of the Peacock school of San Antonio, which is one of the handsomest school catalogues that has reached this office, and many are received annually. The beautiful embossing and designing of the cover, the superior excellence of the photographs, the lights and shadows of the half tone plates, the extravagant display in the use of silk, and the quality of the paper, the artistic merit displayed in the distribution of printers' ink, and the excellent arrangement of the composite whole, makes the book a real gem, worthy of a place on the center table of an artist's studio. Peacock's school is recognized as one of the best in the South for boys.

R. CROKER, ESQ., is putting up his boodle on Bryan's election. He put up $20,000 against a republican "blow hard's" $50,000, and will be $50,000 better off after the election.

AFTER all the Belgian hare will prove a failure. It is susceptible to so many epidemics and infectious diseases, to say nothing of "wolves," that it cannot be raised successfully. No matter. We never did like rabbit no how.

THE Houston Post has been taxed beyond the capacity of its presses since the terrible disaster at Galveston, and many a person hungering and thirsting for information has been forced to do without reading matter.

A NEW party has launched itself on the sea of politics. It is a weak craft—is christened the National party and has as captain and mate Donaldson Caffrey of Louisiana and A. M. Howe of Massachusetts. Its main plank declares that public opinion is ruining the country.

THE population of the United States has passed the 75,000,000 point and is well on the way to the next mile board. It is beyond the power of tongue or pen aided by the most ardent imagination, to tell of the wonderful progress made by this country upon the broad highway of achievement in the last decade.

THE expected joint debate between Howard (populist) of Alabama and M. M. Crane (democrat) of Dallas, at Eastland last Saturday did not come off because Howard could not meet the appointment. There would have been plenty of bear sign, "blood, hair and the ground tore up," if he had shown up and he knew it.—Comanche Chief.

Perhaps Mr. Howard had hearn tell of Mr. Crane before and was unavoidably hindered from meeting his appointment.

THE H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. will issue an edition of 50,000 folders in a few days, containing descriptive matter pertaining to East Texas. Mr. Sam H. Dixon has devoted all summer to getting up matter for this publication, and as he is an enthusiast in speaking the praises of this section, we may rest assured that East Texas has been fairly treated in his publication. This edition will be distributed throughout the old states with the view to inducing immigration to the section of East Texas tributary to the H. E. & W. T.

GALVESTON CATASTROPHE.

Mayor Jones, of Galveston, estimates that five thousand people have been drowned or killed by the recent storm and flood on Galveston island. He has issued an appeal to the people of the United States for aid for the sufferers. One third of the residence portion of the city has been swept away, and thousands of women and children are homeless and destitute. Thousands of dollars have already been contributed from many sections of the state, and aid has been extended both from the state and national government, yet these amounts are inadequate of the demands. Hundreds of people are sick and injured and must have medical attention, nurses and homes where they may be cared for. People who are not familiar with the scenes of such a terrible calamity cannot conceive of its horrors, and many who are able to extend financial aid are slow in offering a helping hand who would be the first do so could they but realize the real situation and the horrible condition of the sufferers. Nacogdoches has responded promptly but rather feebly. Less than one hundred and fifty dollars was sent from here, when it would have been no burden to us to have made the amount three times that much.

An appeal has been sent out from the little town of Alvin, where hundreds of homes were destroyed and a number of people drowned or killed. The loss in the vicinity of Alvin is estimated at over $300,000.

The loss at Galveston will reach away up into millions. The shirt waist is a good thing. It saves the expense of a coat. The newspaper man ought to welcome the new style—that is if his pants are not too threadbare.

ROOSEVELT was terribly cut down at Chicago where he expected to receive a great ovation by being hissed out of town by the laboring people of that city, who had not forgotten his cruel talk to the strikers in that city a few years ago.

THE Palestine Weekly Advocate has changed hands, Hon. W. M. Imboden retiring as editor and proprietor, and Chas. E. Young becoming owner and editor of the paper. Mr. Young for some time past has been associated with Mr. Imboden as editor, and is recognized as a newspaper man of ability. The Advocate is the oldest and one of the very best papers in East Texas and at present is enjoying popularity and prosperity that very few papers attain.

THE merchants of Nacogdoches should keep an eye out in every direction for business. By some good fortune we have got up the reputation of paying the highest price for cotton of any East Texas market and of course it is easy enough for us to compete with our neighbors in the price of goods. But there are some drawbacks that may keep a good lot of trade from coming here. There are streams to be crossed in order to reach Nacogdoches from Angelina, Cherokee, Rusk, Shelby, San Augustine and Sabine counties and some of these streams have poor ferries and sorrier bridges. The bridges must be repaired, and instead of ferries free bridges ought to be built. A move ought to be set on foot to at least put the bridges in better order. Adjoining counties are not disposed to chip in for the building of bridges or even repairing old ones in the interest of Nacogdoches; so those most interested had as well make up their minds to foot the bills for these necessary expenditures. The bridge across the Attoyac on the Martinsville road is badly in need of repair now, and Nacogdoches is called upon for the amount of sixty dollars to put it in passable condition and unless the money is forthcoming a big lot of trade will be diverted from Nacogdoches.

TOM NAPIER, of Wood county, who has received the democratic nomination for reelection to the legislature, sprang a little sensation in his speech of acceptance by asserting that he would not vote for Joe Bailey for United States senator if it could be proved that Bailey received a fee as counsel for the Waters-Pierce Oil Co., in securing its re-permit to do business in Texas, all of which he has since retracted. If it could be proven that he did accept a fee in this transaction in the face of his most emphatic and persistent denial, Bailey ought to be branded as the biggest rascal unhung. But why should a lot of "goody goody's" persist in washing Bailey's dirty linen? He has already been elected U. S. Senator at the hands of the people of Texas, and all the legislature can do is to ratify his election. There is no way to defeat him now, and all this side play is out of place and useless. If the democracy of Napier's district has instructed for Bailey, Mr. Napier should not have asked for the nomination. But after all he may have been following a precedent established by Mr. Bailey himself. There may be "fundamental principles" underlying his opposition to Mr. Bailey which may be removed by Mr. Bailey conforming himself to Mr. Napier's views.

THE railroads are generously transporting all storm victims away from Galveston who are unable to pay their fare. All who are able to pay fare are only charged half price.

THE latest estimate of the dead at Galveston places the number at eight thousand.

A Handsome Compliment.

Tom C. Clark, connected with the dry goods business of Longview since 1881, when the writer first made his acquaintance while he was the manager for Dock & Oliver Pegues, was a guest at the Jennings Tuesday night en route for Nacogdoches, to take a position with the dry goods house of Kaplan & Brother. Tom certainly knows his business, and seems to know intuitively how to please those he is brought in contact with, and that he will be liked by the people of Nacogdoches goes without saying. He was accompanied by his wife and their two little boys. If there is anything in this notice that speaks in praise of Mr. Tom it can be more than doubled when spoken of Mrs. Clark. The entire family is an acquisition to our sister city.—Timpson Herald.

Center Clippings.

From the Champion: Last Wednesday night the building known as the Crawford place was burned to the ground. No one was living there at the time. It is not known how the fire originated. The house was a total loss but was covered by insurance.

Some one burglarized Ashbury Chapel one night last week, broke the locks on two doors, the lamp chimney, marked the walls and benches with chalk, some of it not very chaste language. There is talk of employing a detective to work it up.

The editor left yesterday evening for La Porte, as his wife and baby was there during the storm of Saturday night and he couldn't hear from them, so he decided to go and see them and bring them home if he could get there, as there was no passing of trains when he left.

At the Opera House.

About two hundred people, adults and children, congregated at the opera house last night to hear Forest Cruse and Bro. Sonfield talk about the storm at Galveston. The door receipts amounted to about seventy five dollars, every cent of which, except $2.50 expenses, has been forwarded to the Galveston sufferers. Forest Cruse spoke first detailing his personal experience and relating an account of the miraculous escape of himself and family, his remarks being confined chiefly to his individual experience. Mr. Sonfield spoke in general, and gave an account of the terrible disaster as he gathered it from personal observation. Mr. Sonfield's talk was very entertaining, and he held the most respectful attention of his auditors, as also did Mr. Cruse.

COTTON SEED

TO THE FARMERS:

We are again in the market for your cotton seed at top prices. You have advocated for years home manufactories for home products. The Nacogdoches Oil Mill is the first move in that direction. We leave you to judge if it has not proven itself to be beneficial to the producer. When you sell your cotton seed to this mill you encourage home manufactories and advocate the establishment of more factories for home products. Therefore bring us your seed. We don't ask you to sell to us below the market, but we do ask you to give us the preference at market prices. Our street buyers are George Meisenheimer, Jesse Bruton and Frank Gaston. Our scales are in charge of W. B. Pearson. We extend to all an invitation to visit the mill when in town and witness the process of making oil.

Yours Respectfully,

Merchants & Farmers Cotton Oil Co.

Thursday's Locals.

Mrs. C. D. Stinson and the children are visiting relatives in Tyler.

H. L. Austin is pushing the work on the new story being added to his brick buildings on South side East Main street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Graham this morning. This is their No. 10, and they seem to be as proud of it as if it was their first.

J. H. Haltom, Sr., who lives out on Cordova prairie, says the cotton worms are damaging late cotton considerably.

News was received this morning of the death of the little three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker, of Chireno.

Mr. E. C. Murdock, of Martinsville is in the city selling cotton.

Jno. W. Hill, of Appleby is in the city. He had three bales of cotton for sale and the last we saw of him had 10 1-4 cents all around bid on them.

Mrs. W. P. Mims and children, Otto and Bernice, have returned from a visit to North Texas. They came by Longview and spent a few days with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tucker have moved to their new home on Mound street.

Miss Lizzie Bowler has secured the music room in connection with West Nacogdoches Institute and will teach a class in music during the present session.

Mrs. Jno. B. Nelson and Miss Deedie Hoya are making an extensive tour in West Texas on a visit to relatives and friends.

W. F. Price is at home for a few days rest after a month's absence, during which time he made the round of his territory as a knight of the grip.

E. N. Seale, of Melrose is in the city.

A. W. Hunt of Appleby is in the city.

George and Ellis Barham,

Guy Blount and Phil Sanders left several days ago for College Station where they will attend the A. & M. College. They were delayed 24 hours at Houston on account of the storm, but a letter from them this morning says they arrived safely at College Station and have entered upon their studies.

Dr. N. C. Berry and wife return tonight for their home in Lake City, Fla. Dr. Berry came here with the view to locating, but owing to non-improvement in his wife's health he thought it best to return to Florida.

S. Wilkins, of Angelina, spent yesterday in Nacogdoches on a business visit.

J. F. Burnes returned yesterday from Geneva, Sabine county, where he spent the past month. He had a spell of sickness which caused him to return home earlier than he expected.

Arch Price, a farmer, living four miles East from Nacogdoches, sold a bale of cotton in Nacogdoches yesterday, together with the seed that came out of it, for the snug sum of $74.70.

Misses Julia and Anna Clark returned yesterday from a visit to Longview.

George Ashford, a negro barber, who has been working at the Opera Barber Shop skipped for parts unknown last week. He jumped the town between two suns, taking with him such valuables as he could borrow and leaving a wife and infant babe. He also left a lot of other folks in the lurch for all he could get into them for. One firm, we learn will remember him forty dollars worth, and Horace Scott, proprietor of the barber shop, is minus a fine pistol and a number of razors.

Friday's Locals.

Miss Nona Kennard will leave tonight for her home at Longview, after a protracted visit to her brother, H. G. Kennard, of this city.

Mr. Schweers, the cemetery sexton, is at home sick and anyone wishing to see him will please visit him at his home, as he is unable to get out.

Mr. Kuhne, the cotton buyer, mentioned in yesterday's SENTINEL, was not in Galveston during the storm. He has been heard from and was safe, high and dry at Mexia. He will probably be in Nacogdoches in a few days.

Sid Dorman is very sick at his home five miles from town on the marion road.

J. D. Rudd, of Libby, was in the city yesterday. He is arranging to move nearer to Nacogdoches, and will live on the old Rusk place out on the Logansport road next year.

W. W. Walker, of Swift, was in the city yesterday and paid this office a friendly call.

Dave Muckleroy, of Melrose, was in town yesterday on a short business visit.

Uncle Bill Collins, of Sterne, was in the city today, and paid the SENTINEL office a friendly call. He reports a distressing amount of sickness and several deaths in his section of the country.

Hon. Wm. A. Skillern and wife of LaNana were in the city on a trading trip today.

M. H. Case, of Appleby, in the city today selling cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Seale, of Melrose, are visiting friends in the city. They are talking of moving closer to town.

Prof. Geo. M. Hale, of Swift, spent last night with his daughter, Mrs. O. F. Murphy in this city. The closing exercises of Prof. Hale's school at Swift will be given next Monday. Judge Middlebrook is scheduled for an address to the school on that occasion.

A good deal of cotton has been brought in to-day and is selling at about the same price it was yesterday, though the market reports say it is off a few points.

H. A. Bickham, of Melrose was in the city today. He brought up a couple of bales of cotton and sold it at a satisfactory price.

Cotton seed sold at $12.65 per ton in Nacogdoches today. This is about 65 cents more than the price quoted from Houston.

Mrs. E. M. Dotson, who is now visiting in Monroe, Ga., writes that the cotton mills have doubled the population of that place within the past few years. She has visited the cotton mills there and was delighted with the pleasing sights she witnessed. She is now an enthusiastic advocate of the establishment of cotton mills at Nacogdoches, and we'll bet she'll have her "old man" talking cotton mills in dead earnest after she comes back home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hall have heard from their daughter and son-in-law in Galveston. They are safe and were very slightly damaged comparatively. They will leave as soon as possible and will come back to Nacogdoches. Nothing as yet has been heard from the son and daughter of Mr. Gus Roberts.

Cason, Richardson & Co. have transformed their store into one of the noblest and neatest hardware and furniture establishments in Texas. These people are leaders. They stay at the front. A visit to their establishment will convince any one of this fact. Go down and see for yourself. We haven't time nor space to describe their magnificent establishment.

Grandma Smith, mother of Gillum Smith, died at Appleby Wednesday and was buried yesterday. She was one of the old landmarks of that community and her death is deeply regretted by all who knew her.

Miss Fannie Williamson daughter of Mr. John Williamson, of Flower Mountain, died last night of malarial fever after an illness of fourteen days. She was one of the brightest young ladies of the community, was quite a belle and was universally beloved. Her death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

J. H. Brantley, of Chireno, was in the city this morning.

Tobe Thrash, of Martinsville, was here this morning.

G. L. Crawford, of Martinsville, was in the city last night. He says everything is quiet down about Martinsville.

Misses Julia and Anna Clark, of Nacogdoches, who had been spending a number of days with friends and relatives in Longview, returned Tuesday in company with their cousin T. C. Clark and family.—Timpson Herald.

Dr. and Mrs. Mayfield arrived from Galveston this morning and greatly to the surprise and gratification of their friends are looking exceedingly well considering the ordeal they have undergone. It is remarkable how Dr. Mayfield stood the terrible calamity. His condition of health does not seem to have been materially impaired, although he showed signs this morning of fatigue as the result of his trip home.—They were delayed all day yesterday in Houston, besides having made an awful trip from Galveston to Houston. THE SENTINEL man interviewed Dr. Mayfield this morning, but he did not attempt to describe the horrors of the situation. The friends of the Doctor and Mrs. Mayfield, which means every man woman and child in this vicinity are delighted to welcome them safely back home.

Mr. John Schmidt was the only person out of the crowd that went down from Nacogdoches that was permitted to go on to Galveston, and he went down a day ahead of all the others. Mr. Schmidt was permitted to cross over in a barge and was allowed only three hours to get his daughter and report back to the barge to return to this side of the bay. He says he had to stand on a flat car at Houston nearly all day in order to get down to Texas City, from whence he crossed the bay in a barge. Like all others who viewed the terrible scene of wreck and carnage, he says it is beyond the power of tongue or pen to describe.

Robt. Scott, of Melrose, was in the city this morning.

Dave Greer, of Appleby, who was in Galveston during the storm, returned home this morning.

Saturday's Locals.

The telephone crew are at work changing the line running up South Fredonia Hill today.

T. K. Cureton, of Swift, was in the city a few hours today on business.

The little three year old child of W. J. Harris living near Attoyac, died yesterday.

Rev. S. F. Baucom, of Linn Flat, was in the city this morning, and as usual, paid THE SENTINEL a friendly call.

Our neighbor W. N. Bailey seems to be enjoying his share of business from the way he continues to widen out his establishment.

M. G. Hazle has concluded not to build a two story brick on the site now occupied by his store this year, and instead has added a fruit stand with glass walls on the corner in front of his building.

There has been quite a large crowd in town all day from the country. Many of the farmers brought cotton and business has been unusually good for Saturday.

The farmers say the present extremely hot weather is making cotton pop open like popcorn. It won't take much of this kind of weather to make the patches white.

Beeman Strong, who has been laid up with fever several days, is out again.

Blanche Mast, of Melrose, was in the city this morning.

Dr. H. A. Hardeman, of Melrose, is in the city.

Of course THE SENTINEL office is a good place to get circulars printed—any kind of old circulars.

The school at Palestine will begin on the 5th, of November to continue four months. We expect every body to get ready and send their children on the first day.

Miss Mary McCary, Teacher, J. Y. Baugh, W. S. Denman, S. N. L. Wisner, Trustees.

George Burton left yesterday morning for Carthage where he will open a store at once.

H. L. Austin will begin work on the Roberts building on corner of Fredonia and Pillar streets as soon as he finishes up the second story on his building on East Main street.

Jesse Millard ginned thirteen bales of cotton on a sixty-saw gin last Thursday. This is considered a record breaker.

Elario Cordova has recovered from his wound and is again a familiar figure on the streets.

E. A. Blount and Frank Sharp went to Huntington yesterday on a flying business visit. They made a trip in a buggy and say the road is almost impassable. The new depot at Huntington has been completed and is a beauty.

Luther Swift, of Melrose, is in the city today.

Tobe Thrash and Jim Brantley have moved their families up from Chireno and are occupying the Stack place on North Fredonia street.

E. B. Willis, of Denton, came in yesterday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Robt. Lindsey. Mrs. Willis has been here a week.

Charley Blake, the fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Blake, died at their home six miles northeast from town yesterday evening. His funeral will take place in the cemetery in this city at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The many friends of the family deeply sympathize with them in the loss of an obedient son and beloved brother.

Mr. J. R. Faircloth, of Lufkin, has been in the city several days and will locate here. He will move his family up here as soon as he can secure a residence.

Mrs. Buchanan, wife of Hiram Buchanan who had been ill for some time, died early Tuesday morning. Mrs. Buchanan had made many friends among our people in the comparatively short time she had lived here, and they were sorry to hear of her demise.—Lufkin Press.

C. C. Gallaway has returned from Shreveport.

The compressed cotton is making a good run every few days. It will soon be in competition.

The wagon yards are doing a good business these days.

Mr. C. C. Wright, of San Augustine county, was here yesterday.

Wright is a progressive man and a gentleman who believes in keeping posted, hence he becomes a regular reader of the Weekly SENTINEL.

Hon. W. M. Imboden returned to his home at Palestine Thursday night after spending several days with his friends in Nacogdoches. We soter thought he might be figuring on moving to Nacogdoches, but he never made any such intimation while here.

Ed Smith, of San Augustine who was in Galveston during the storm has returned home, greatly to the relief of his family and friends.

Rev. J. A. Harvey, of Melrose, was in the city yesterday, and while here subscribed for the best paper on earth—THE WEEKLY SENTINEL.

Andy Legg, of Douglass, was in the city on a business trip yesterday.

The dust is getting bad again.

The Nacogdoches Oil Mill doesn't get all the cotton seed that comes to town, but it gets a full share of it. Competition is lively, and the farmers got the benefit of it. If any one-company had the field to itself seed would go begging at a low price.

Mrs. Kate Woodall, of Henderson, is visiting Mrs. R. O. Woodall in this city.

WE WANT TO AND WILL BUY YOUR TEN CENT COTTON!

THE cotton crop of East Texas is short this year, but as good luck has it the price is large enough to make up an average.

EVERY body is complimenting THE SENTINEL these days and if the editor appears to be "puffed up," that's the cause of it.

It is thought that the Santa Fe bridge across the bay leading into Galveston, will be rebuilt and trains will be running over it by Sunday night.

The Merchants and Planters Oil Mill at Houston has been destroyed by fire. As a consequence the local buyer, R. H. Hall, has been wired to withdraw from the market until further notice.

THE estimated loss to property from the storms at Galveston is between fifteen and twenty million dollars, with practically no insurance. People rarely ever insure against storms.

THE Galveston News has not suspended publication as was stated, but has got everything in shape again and is greeting its friends and patrons daily looking perfectly natural in spite of the ordeal it has passed through.

Tuesday's Locals.

Bud Sublitt and Tom Roberts, of San Augustine, were in the city this morning on a freighting expedition.

Charley Thomas, of Douglas, was in the city today on a buying and selling expedition.

H. V. Fall, Esq., of Chireno is in attendance at District court.

H. P. Fall Esq., of Chireno is in the city.

G. P. Evans, of Appleby, is in town today on business, and paid the SENTINEL a pleasant call.

The cotton yards are showing signs of improvement.

I. M. Shepherd, of Garrison is in the city. He is looking mainly after the interest of the oil mill just now, and is hustling around lively.

Bob Lindsey, of Chireno, is in town.

A. P. Traweck, of Lufkin, is in the city on a business trip. He came up on horse back and he says the heat nearly got the best of him, and he is about to be sick.

C. B. Linthicum and wife, of Libby, are in the city. Cash has just got out from a bad spell of sickness and is looking quite thin.

John B. Power returned this morning from the coast county where he has been sojourning the past week. He reports F. M. Wilson and family safe, and says he met Col. Jennings while down there—in fact was at his house Saturday. The Col. lost all his stock except one horse but aside from the loss of his stock he came through the storm uninjured. His residence stood firm and the occupants kept safely within doors.

A box car on the South bound freight jumped the track this side of Lola last night, delaying the North bound passenger an hour or so this morning.

Watt Day, of Chireno spent last night in the city. He has rented a residence on South Fredonia Hill and will move his family to Nacogdoches about December 1st. He contemplates running a dairy here.

Mrs. Dotson writes her "old man" from Monroe, Ga. that the price of cotton in that place is about 11 c, all on account of the local cotton mills there, and that she is thoroughly imbued with the idea that Nacogdoches can't do without a cotton mill much longer.

Tom Gillis and Miss Georgia Ramin were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Ramin, near Stoker on Wednesday night of last week. The bride and groom are popular and worthy young people and have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends. May love, prosperity and happiness every attend them.

J. B. Paine, of Linn Flat was in the city today with cotton. He sold it at 10. cents.

W. T. Weaver of Shady Grove was in the city today and sold some cotton at ten cents. Mr. Weaver will leave for Terrell tonight to see his wife, who has been an inmate in the asylum there for some time past. He goes in answer to a letter from the management of the asylum stating that Mrs. Weaver is much improved, and that probably she may be released temporarily to pay a visit to her home folks.

GEO. H. DAVIDSON, Est.

Nacogdoches, Texas.

H. Staber, of Houston, arrived this morning and will buy cotton in Nacogdoches this season. He spent last season here.

W. M. Vaught, of Looneyville, is in the city today.

C. B. Cloyd of Linn Flat was in the city this morning on a short business visit.

Mr. Robert Brewer, of Nat, is among the visitors to the hub to-day.

THE missing links in the populist ticket have been supplied. The sages met last Saturday and after mature and thoughtful deliberation placed

W. H. Dial, Esq., on the ticket for county attorney, vice R. Lee Brown, resigned, and Wirt Boynton of Swift was put on to fill the vacancy for county clerk, caused by the withdrawal of R. J. Cranford, whose health will not permit him to make the race. The change in the ticket will make it neither stronger nor weaker than it was, and neither will it be better or worse, from a democratic point of view.

Miss Joe Weaver has returned from Rusk. She has not been to Burk as was stated a few days ago.

I Have Just Received a Car of OWENSBORO WAGONS

I have known these wagons for years and can recommend them as one of the best wagons made. There is not a wagon on the market that has the finish that they have. When you look at other wagons here, and see their best points, come and see mine, and if I can't show you all the good points that you have seen in other wagons and then show you several other good points in mine than the other haven't I will make you a present of one. When it comes to a wagon, I think I know just what it takes to complete a wagon, or at least ought to know as I wagoned it on the road for five years and have tried all kinds of wagons, and had these wagons made just to suit me, and I know what suits me suits other folks. At least I can't keep anything I get.

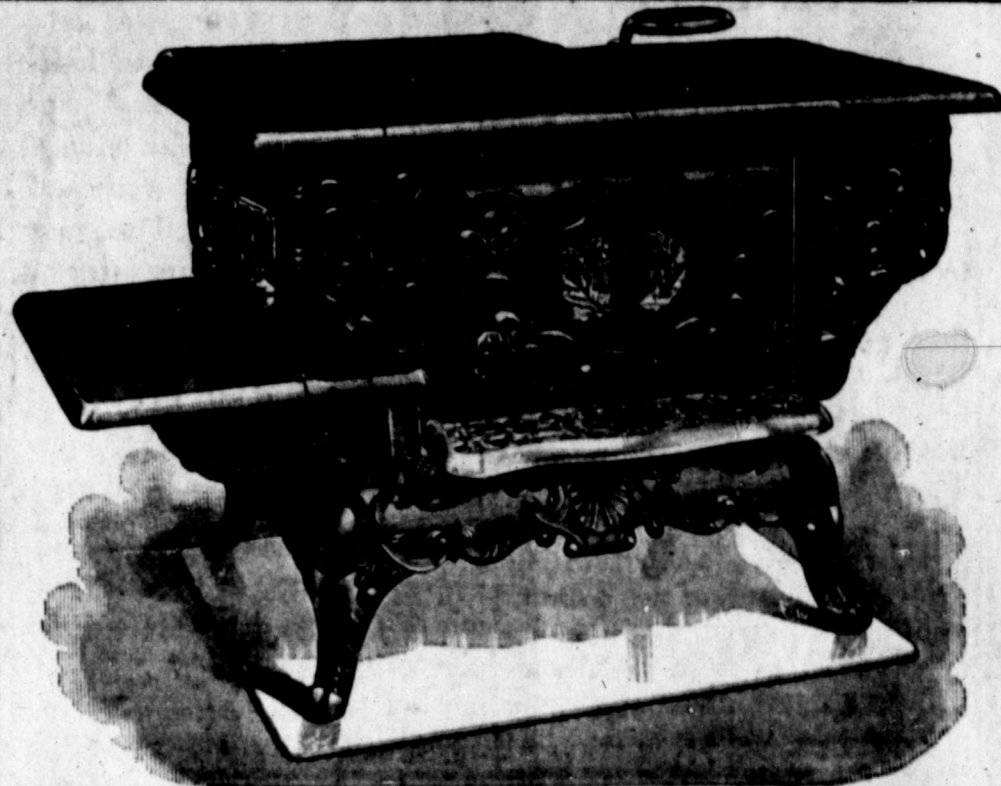

Anyway, Don't Fail to See My Wagons.

I Carry a Full Stock of The Royal Charter Oak

Cooking Stoves, which competitors can't look at you and say anything against, as they know they are the best stoves made. Settlements where the Charter Oak Stove has been used it don't take any song and dance to sell them—they sell themselves. You will have other stove dealers tell you that their stove is just as good as the Charter Oak, but don't think you will have any of them to tell you their stove is better. If they do, just give them the horse laugh and they will understand that you know a few things. Carry extra hollow ware, stove pipe, elbows and caps.

How About Sewing Machines?

Let's see what can be done to make the sewing machine trade lively. I will sell from this date as long as I can get them, a real nice 5 drawer machine with a five year guarantee for $12.50. I have other grades at $13.50, $15.00, $17.50, $20.00 and $25. I don't expect to be beat on prices on sewing machines. I know the ladies through the country appreciate a good machine for a small amount of money and I expect to give them the advantage of it. Be sure and see my machines.

Now Comes My Buggies and Surreys.

I have just received a car of surreys. These surreys are made according to order—have 12 farmers' surreys that are nice; all arched axles, big wheels. No trouble to get over stumps. They are made by one of the best factories in the East and every one is fully guaranteed. Any kind of buggy you want at almost any price you want to pay. Extra tops, shafts, cushions and hubs.

My Line of Furniture

Now when it comes to a general line of furniture, I am strictly in it. I have the goods and the prices, and of course the prices will sell them. Some may claim your trade because they have sold you something on time during the summer. Of course if they sell you goods as cheap, all o. k., but they don't, don't you feel that they have lost anything on you, that is if you paid them up. I guarantee that they are all o. k. So feel that you have the liberty to trade where you can get the most goods and the best goods for the least money. If you do I will get your trade.

Mattings, Rugs and Pictures are extremely cheap.

China, Glass and Crockery.

When it comes down to cups and saucers, pitchers, dishes and all kinds of glassware, queens-ware, tinware, I will certainly give you bargains.

Clocks. I hardly know what to say about them. I am a good mind to say that I will give away four or five dozen. They are too cheap to advertise.

I have a beautiful line of pictures from 20c to $2.50. If you want a picture framed I can do it.

Of Course Rocking Chairs

Are included in the furniture line, but I have so many of them—bought them in the summer while everything was dull and got a bargain. I will sell you a large size, strong enough for 250 pounds for $1.50. I have them from this price up, any shape, any kind of bottom. Now when it comes to children's rockers, I will sell them to you for 25c, 35c, 50c and 60c. I have bought too many chairs and am going to sell them and don't you forget it.

Now, I will say to my friends and customers and to the public generally, I am no new man just sprung up. I have been here 12 years. Have been in this business one year., have sold a whole lot of good all over Houston, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, San Augustine, Shelby, Sabine and Angelina counties, and have sold everything with a guarantee, and if you can see a man who has bought anything from me that will tell you I have not carried out my word and guarantee just bring him in and receive a nice reward. I expect to get a good trade this fall and I expect to get it by low prices and fair and square dealings.

W. N. BAILEY.

Nacogdoches, Texas

Your Shoe Bill This Fall

Will be a considerable item, and it will pay you to place it with people who make this line a specialty. We don't handle anything but shoes; we sell the best in this line. Shoes that we recommend we guarantee to give good service, and our guarantee is good.

If you have never before tried the Shoe Store now is the time to do it. You can't lose anything by the experiment, and you may gain something.

Hundreds of satisfied customers are ready to testify that "buying shoes from the Shoe Store saves money."

Our stock is complete at all times. We carry better shoes and a better assortment than you can get elsewhere.

Douglass Doings.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

Douglass, Tex. Sept. 17.—The sun shines so that people are not getting out their cotton very fast.

Sickness around Douglass

is giving away some. A few are having light fevers. In Looneyville neighborhood sickness seems to be on the increase. Several small children have died in the last three or four days. Mrs. T. M. Campbell is reported dangerously sick.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McMillen will be buried at Douglass today.

Rev. W. S. Neel preached at Douglass at 11 o'clock yesterday.

Rev. G. W. C. Self was in Douglass trading this morning.

Tom Hart and J. F. Bigham are jurors for this week.

We just learned that J. M. Long and C. C. Rogers went to their respective homes yesterday on account of being sick. Several out of school this morning because of fever.

R. W. M.

San Augustine to the Front.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

San Augustine, Tex., Sept. 14.—San Augustine made up sixty eight dollars for the Galveston sufferers which was sent to Mayor Brashear of Houston today.

The Masonic Lodge also made a donation.

Respectfully,

GEO. L. CROCKETT.

Sid Dorman Dead.

The sad news of the death of S. A. Dorman, which occurred at 8 o'clock this morning at his home five miles Southeast from Nacogdoches, was received with surprise in town. He had been seriously sick for a week or more, but his condition was not thought dangerous by his friends and acquaintances here. For several years past Sid Dorman has been a prominent figure in the upbuilding of Nacogdoches, and through his energy and enterprise a number of brick buildings and other improvements have been added to the business and residence portions of the city. His death is deeply regretted by all who know him. He leaves a wife and several small children.

The Weekly Sentinel.

HALTOM & HARRIS, Publishers.
R. W. HALTOM, Editor.

THE Platedealer must be getting labor very cheap, as it intimates that it costs more to run plate matter than it does to get the type set.

THE Platedealer comes out 24 hours later than the Weekly SENTINEL and yet the Weekly SENTINEL reported Dr. Mayfield found while the Platedealer reported him missing. That's "scooping" with a vengeance.

It has been demonstrated beyond controversy that it is impossible to keep up a system of good public roads on five days labor. Many overseers are talking of memorializing the 27th legislature to increase the number of days required for road service.

MARK HANNA let his tongue slip a while back and said that the republican party proposed to make McKinley's administration perpetual. He has been trying to explain that his remark had no significance ever since the incident occurred but there is so much truth in the expression that his explanations won't explain. Imperialism and republicanism is one and the same thing.

We have got the editor of the Platedealer in the hip and morning. He knows we will trip that will break

McNeil Chaffin is so far at sea in moving the controversy that he can't see the very best he can do to squirt nastiness extensive in his teeth. If we had will keep our self respect as latest and to have done, we styles. Take notice of such

THE summary justice dealt to the human vultures who have been robbing the dead at Galveston met with practical unanimous approval in Houston and possibly everywhere. Next to these beasts of prey are the loafers and hoodlums who get in the way of the relief work, attempt to crowd on the trains and refuse to aid in the work of burial if they chance to get to the scene of disaster. They need a little summary justice also.—Houston Post.

If any republican tells you at the trust is a good thing, ask him why the republican platform denounces the trusts, and if the republican says the trust is bad, you ask him why the republican administration allowed more trusts to be organized during the last three years than had been organized in all the history of the country before that time. It does not matter which side the republican takes, you can confront him with a question he cannot answer, for if he desires to denounce the trusts you can point to the republican platform adopted at Philadelphia, which denounces the trusts, and if he dares to denounce the trusts you can point to the record of his administration, which has failed to destroy the trusts.—W. J. Bryan.

BRYAN'S OAT CROP.

The republican newspapers have been talking a great deal about Bryan's oat crop of late, and the statement has been made that Mr. Bryan had made more money out of the oat crop raised on his Lincoln farm the present season than the entire farm had cost him, putting the result at $1400 on 120 acres of land. Commenting upon this statement, Mr. Bryan said:

"The entire farm contains only thirty acres and cost me nearly $4000, although the land is not worth that much today. Instead of having 120 acres in oats, I had only five acres in oats, and the oats have not yet been thrashed. They will hardly yield 40 bushels to the acre. Oats, instead of being 30 cents in Nebraska, are worth 21 cents in Chicago. My oat crop will not bring me over $40. The five acres upon which the oats were cost me a little more than $100 an acre, so that the gross income this year will be less than 8 per cent on the original investment. After taking out the cost of the seed, cultivation, harvesting and thrashing, the income will be less than 5 per cent. The republican newspapers use my farm to illustrate prosperous condition of the farmer. If my experience is a fair illustration of what is going on in the country, it is not strange that the republican party is losing ground among the agricultural class. The republicans point to the farmer when his crop is good, but make no mention of the fact that when his crop fails he not only loses his income, but loses the money put into the crop."

THE Shreveport Typographical union has responded nobly to the relief of the printers in Galveston.

A MAN who walked from Galveston to Houston says he counted over two hundred dead human bodies lodged against barbed wire, fences along the road he traveled.

BRO. SKILLERN is doing a plenty to the frisky editor of the Platedealer. But still Mr. Skillern hasn't changed anybody's opinion of the reputation of the Platedealer editor for truth and veracity.

THE papers have already printed a list of the dead that have been identified at Galveston, running up into thousands. The most conservative estimate, it is conceded now, cannot fall short of five thousand.

A CONSTANT noise is being made over the political conduct of the Dallas News. It seems to us that the News should be granted the privilege of expressing its view about matters political without being condemned by papers themselves covered over with short comings. The News is practically clear of criticizing the conduct of other papers in this state in the belief we presume, that each publication has a right under our customs and laws to conduct itself as its judgment dictates.—Tyler Courier.

The News is a "free lance" that has always commanded the respect of all. Nothing is expected of the News that is not seen, while the profuse protestations of loyalty to democracy and the constant self-praise and self-constituted superiority of some "great" papers lead us to expect too much of them. It is the latter class that disappoint us most when they fall short of our expectations.

THE editor of this paper has been criticised and "cussed" by a few men in Timpson because we recently declined to carry a saloon ad. for one of our young men who is going to work for a Nacogdoches house. Personally, we like the young man offering the ad., but cannot conscientiously advertise the business in which he proposes to engage. The whiskey business is a curse to our country, and we do not propose to advertise it in the columns of the Times. While the paper derives its chief revenue from its advertising columns, that space is not for sale to promote immoral interests. We are happy to keep the paper filled with good, clean business cards, and believe the people of Timpson will appreciate our efforts to give them a clean paper containing all the local happenings.—Timpson Times.

The editor of the Times is here guilty of a gross inconsistency. Led on by the temptation to parade his individual "goodness" he has given the saloon man more advertising for nothing than probably he would have had to give him if he had let him pay for it. If a paper does not wish to sell its space to this class of advertisers, it should not give it to them.

CONGRESS will meet again in December, which nowadays is cause for universal regret. There was a time in the long ago when honesty was the rule rather than the exception, that the people looked forward to the assembling of congress with approving interest; but since the members of that body, with now and then an exception, are on the side with the most money the people have ceased to look to congress for any benefits.—Tyler Courier.

We often wonder if such remarks are made with sincerity or for the purpose of playing upon a popular chord that unfortunately predominates all ways and everywhere. Why should the meeting of congress be cause for unusual regret any more today than it ever was. It is a bigger body, more unweildy, has more conflicting interests and is slower to act than it used to be, but we doubt if there ever was a time when "honesty was the rule rather than the exception" any more than it is today.

THE newspaper champions of the coast country will be a long time in starting up the boom in that country again. They had it all going one way awhile back, but the recent calamity has paralyzed everything. With the deepest sympathy for the storm-ridden section and with due consideration for the feelings of our brethren of the coast, we advise people to stop about 200 miles this side of the coast, —along about Nacogdoches—when in search of the Eldorado of Texas.

Jerked From a Car.

Early Monday morning a man by the name of Arthur Martin was killed where the the tram of the Angelina County Lumber company crosses the H. E. & W. T. road. The train of log cars was going to the front, and Mr. Martin with other employes of the mill were riding on the log cars. When they came to the crossing a telephone wire had become loose from one of the poles, and was hanging down far enough to catch Mr. Martin and jerk him off the cars. The man died within two hours after he was hurt. He was a new employe and was on his way to his work.—Lufkin Press.

News from Douglass.

EDITOR SENTINEL:
Douglass, Tex., Sept. 14.—News came in this morning of the death of Miss Fannie, daughter of John Williamson, which occurred last night at her fathers home, on Flowery Mountain. She was sick but a few days.

C. M. Walters residence was reported on fire this morning which caused a stampede. But for the timely aid of Charley Watkins, the entire premises might have been destroyed. But little damage was done.

Yours Respectfully,
R. W. M.

No Damage at Hallettsville.

Editor Lehman of the Hallettsville Herald is in the city and left at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Galveston. Mr. Lehman goes to Galveston to look after a sister and her five children, who lost everything in the storm except their lives. Mr. Lehman received a message since he has been in the city, saying that his sister is quite sick, and this made him more anxious to hurry on. Mr. Lehman came in on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway, and he says there was no damage along that road west of Eagle Lake. The little hamlet of Dairy, just west of this city was blown away.—Houston Post.

Jaw Broken.

J. E. Ennis (the old man Ennis,) had the misfortune to get his jaw broken yesterday at his farm near Martinsville. He was prizing at a log when the handspike broke, or was wrenched out of his hand, and one end struck him on the side of the face, breaking his jaw.

MR. SKILLERN'S circular letter No. 2 is out.

THE pops are inclined to make sport of Bro. Skillern's literature, but it gives 'em the dry grins, all the same.

JACKSONVILLE is about to establish a cigar factory, or rather is about to secure the one already in operation at Rusk.

THE Platedealer hasn't sent around for a copy of Mr. Skillern's circular. Suppose it is depending on some democrat to fetch it one.

DISTRICT court has adjourned at San Augustine, and Nacogdoches will be next on the circuit. Court will open here Monday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., contributed ten thousand dollars in money for the relief of the Galveston sufferers. This liberal response is the promptings of gratitude, Galveston having in the past extended liberal aid to Louisville when she was in distress.

THE SENTINEL was in error in stating editorially that the price of a certain tract of land was suddenly raised to an exorbitant degree with the probable result that Prof. Mally, the nurseryman, would change his mind about coming to Nacogdoches. Judge Middlebrook informs that the price and terms were all satisfactory to Mr. Mally, and that recent letters from him and Mr. Dixon indicate that he will be back soon and will enter into definite arrangements.

If the state would be secure in the future it must educate those upon whose shoulders will ere long rest the responsibility of government. Every community contains the leaven of its own degradation or advancement.—Nacogdoches SENTINEL.

THE fathers of the future are the boys of today. This position and condition in life will be determined by the extent and character of training they have as children. If they be not educated we soon will have an ignorant and narrow-minded citizenry. The government, once in such hands, must fall. The preventative is education. Education cannot be had without a local tax. The local tax shows a people to be progressive and trying to make headway. Center has just voted it. Do we want to fall behind in the onward march? If not, vote the local tax.—Teneha New Era.

IT has been twenty-five years since the south experienced such a storm as that of Saturday and Saturday night. Reports have it that Galveston was overflowed and that hundreds of lives were lost. Port Arthur, Sabine Pass and other places suffered greatly but not as much as Galveston where hundreds of dwellings were demolished and a number of business houses wrecked.—Livingston Local.

THE South has never experienced such a storm. In fact no calamity has ever occurred in the history of the United States so horrible and disastrous as the recent Galveston storm.

A man went into a store and asked if he could rest a few hours. The proprietor who was just removing a nest of new born mice from a coffee grinder, told him he could, and then asked him why he didn't go to a hotel. The man replied: I am suffering from nervous prostration, and the doctor said to get a quiet place to rest, and as I see you do not advertise, I knew that I could not find a quieter place." and with that he settled back in his chair and watched the swallows build their nests in the cheese case.—Ex.

If those gumps who are continually talking of getting a look at the books, would look at the spelling book they would be benefitted.

Mrs. F. E. McDavid is fast recovering from a serious case of typhoid fever contracted in Nacogdoches.—Logansport Journal.

The idea of any one living in Logansport contracting typhoid fever in Nacogdoches! We shall enter proceedings at once against the Journal for slander.

SKILLERN'S open letter No. 2 is about ready for distribution, and by permission of Mr. Skillern we are authorized to say to the Platedealer that he can have the very first copy that comes from the press if he will send around for it.

HELP is needed by all the coast towns that were in the track of the recent storm. Many of them are almost totally wrecked, and no town between Port Arthur and Aransas Pass escaped great damage. A number of towns forty or fifty miles inland suffered terrible loss to property, and occasionally a life was lost.

THE SENTINEL regrets deeply the loss of D. B. Hatch and family, who went down in the terrible catastrophe at Galveston. Mr. Hatch was traveling representative of the Scarff and O'Connor Co., and it was through him we bought the splendid new plant of THE SENTINEL, and who put our press in motion. He was a jolly spirit, a whole souled young man, full of energy and hustle, and while the press of Texas loses a friend, the firm for which he worked loses a faithful and most useful employee. Mr. Hatch was under 30 years of age and had a wife and one child, all of whom are now among the "great majority."

THE Galveston news has suspended publication for the present, on account of not being able to get water to run its boilers.

AN APPEAL FOR AID.

Mayor Jones of Galveston Issues a Statement to the People of the United States.

Galveston, Tex. Sept. 11.—It is my opinion, based on personal information, that 5000 people have lost their lives here. Approximately one-third of the residence portion of the city has been swept away. There are several thousand people who are homeless and destitute; how many, there is no way of finding out. Arrangements are now being made to have the women and children sent to Houston and other places, but the means of transportation are limited. Thousands are still to be cared for here. We appeal to you for immediate aid.

WALTER C. JONES,
Mayor.

Appeal From Alvin.

Alvin, Texas, September 10.—As a result of Saturday's hurricane the Alvin country is absolutely devastated. In this community alone full 2000 people left homeless and are without means of support. All business houses are wrecked and there is not enough feedstuff in the county to last ten days. Quick assistance is necessary to prevent actual starvation. Any contributions made to the mayor will be properly distributed.

S. N. M. King,
Acting Mayor and Chairman Relief Committee.

L. F. Fishback, Secretary.

Tents and Rations.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Orders have been issued by the war department for the immediate shipment to Galveston of 855 tents and 50,000 rations. These stores and supplies are divided between St. Louis and San Antonio and probably will be delivered tonight or tomorrow. This represents about all such supplies as the government has on hand at the places, but it could be duplicated in a day.

Heroic Newspaper Men.

The newspaper men rarely fail to meet great emergencies or trying situations with courage and devotion to their work and loyalty to the public bordering on the heroic. Sunday last at the risk of their lives, in a small boat, Mr. Richard Spillane, a Galveston newspaper man, and Mr. Tom South, The Post's Galveston correspondent, crossed the bay while it was yet tempestuous and succeeded in making their way to Houston, the one to place Galveston's appeal before the country and the other to serve his paper. This is the kind of stuff heroes are made of. The Post desires to recognize, also, its special obligations to Mr. Harry Warner, the faithful night editor, and to Foreman Eberle and his efficient assistants, including pressmen and stereotypers, for the manner in which they succeeded in getting the Sunday paper to press while the Post's mechanical department was virtually inundated, owing to the unroofing of the building and the other inconveniences from the storm. The Post force have tirelessly and loyally stood to their duties during this unprecedented experience and the Post is proud of them. No class of men ever rise to the occasion with more enthusiasm intelligence and endurance than trained newspaper men, and the Post feels that no force can surpass its own able staff.—Houston Post.

Leon Sonfield and family arrived this morning from Galveston, after passing through a most thrilling and horrible experience in the storm stricken city. Mr. Sonfield says that it is impossible to exaggerate the horrible devastation and death that swept over the island. The house in which Mr. Sonfield lived was completely swept away, but by good fortune they had secured a hack and had gone to the Tremont hotel just a few minutes before the house went down. He recounts an awful experience of the great throng of people that had sought safety in the hotel. Just think of the terrible ordeal of thousands of people being huddled together in the halls and corridors of the hotel in utter darkness for 12 hours, or the horrors of those floating on rafts, doors, or anything that would float. Then the terrible vision that met the eye after the storm had subsided and the water receded. Dead bodies of human beings, wrecks and ruins of buildings, living people, many of them absolutely nude, some of them unconscious, picked up by the relief corps in every part of the island. Mr. Sonfield related a number of incidents that came under his personal observation that would almost make one's blood curdle or the hair stand on end, and to tell it all would make a book of a thousand pages.

Forest Cruse and wife and little boy came in from Galveston this morning. Forest tells a most harrowing tale of his experience during the storm. His home was swept away from over him but his forethought saved him and his family. Realizing their great danger, he had provided a raft with a large door, to which he had tacked loops of ropes to which they could hold to keep from being thrown off the raft. Upon this float himself and wife and child clung from 6 o'clock in the evening until next morning at 3 o'clock. After tossing about on the sea for nine hours they finally landed against the great mass of driftwood and debris that had collected to the height of fifteen feet about the center of the city. Here they remained, protecting themselves as best they could from the flying and floating timbers until the storm subsided. Forest tells an awful tale of his experience, and like all others it would be utterly impossible to tell it all or over draw the picture. He will be at the opera house tonight with Bro. Sonfield, where they will tell as much of the terrible story as will be possible for them to relate in one evening.

The regular package of the Houston Post failed to come this morning and the town is without reading matter to-day except those who get the Post by mail. The Galveston News has not been printed for several days.

Louis Durst, who was attending Galveston Business College, and who was thought to have been lost in the flood of Saturday night, has been heard from and is safe.

Mr. John Schmidt and daughter Miss Louise, returned home this morning. Miss Schmidt recites a thrilling experience during the terrible storm at Galveston.

A letter has been received from Dave Greer, of Appleby who was at Galveston during the storm, informing his people that he is safe and will be at home as soon as he can get here.

The stories from Galveston grow in gressiveness. Great confusion necessarily has followed the storm and not until the military take charge today is there likelihood of order being brought out of the chaos. No arrangement had been made up to last evening to get the supplies forward from this city Monday, across the bay from the mainland. The Galveston committees appear to have neglected the important item of establishing communication with Texas City. The main idea seems to be to get rid of the dead as soon as possible and repress looting. The military companies have gone none too soon and we hope to hear today that General McKibbin and General

A card was received from Mrs. Mayfield by Mrs. K. P. Branch this morning stating that they were safe and comfortably situated, or at least as much so as it is possible to be on Galveston island now. They were rescued from St. Mary's Infirmary by being carried four hundred yards by men to a point that could be reached by hacks, and from thence were conveyed to Dr. Lee's residence in surreys. The doctor has not sufficiently recovered from his recent operation for it to be safe to remove him. He is still having fever. Col. Fairris, who remained in Houston until he could hear from them returned to his home at Alto last night.

Robert Hall has returned from Houston. He did not go to Galveston. Oscar Hall is still in Houston, and this morning wired the folks here that he had every reason to believe that Mrs. Brown is safe. Only two telephone men missing, according to a statement of the general manager, and neither of them being named Brown. Further than this they have no information concerning Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Mr. Kuhne, the cotton buyer, who has bought cotton in Nacogdoches during the past season, has been due here several days, and as he was in Galveston when the storm struck that city some alarm is occasioned over his delay. Nothing has been heard from him and it is feared that he may be among the dead that have not yet been found.

Georgetown, Tex., Aug. 26.—Judge Geo. W. Glasscock, ex-state senator, former populist nominee for congress, and justice of the supreme court, will address the Bryan and Stevenson Democratic club at the district court room tomorrow night. Judge is supporting the democratic nominees.

The above was clipped from the Austin Statesman. Judge Glasscock was one of our purest and ablest men of the populist party. It is therefore not strange that he has abandoned the sinking ship and aligned himself with the only people's party that is capable of benefitting the people.—Comanche Chief.

President Lee J. Roundtree of the Bryan and Stevenson Democratic club has appointed the following executive committee, President Roundtree being chairman of the committee by a vote of the club: Hon. Dan S. Chessher, W. W. Nelms, T. C. Denver, W. F. Casey.

Scurry have got matters systematized. The sightseers and hoodlums will either be put to work or run out of the city, as they should be. It was a mistake to promiscuously issue passes to Texas City or Virginia Point to the idle and curious, as was done here Monday. Only men who will pull off their coats and do hard and disagreeable work are wanted in Galveston. In the meantime the list of the dead on the island becomes more and more imposing, and without waiting for identification the bodies are being consigned to the gulf as rapidly as conditions will permit.—Houston Post.

EDITOR SENTINEL:
The Post correspondent in conversation with sheriff Jno. B. He complimented them very highly for their gentlemanly conduct and soldierly bearing.

same in every line and word. It is in deed and in truth a home industry, of which every right thinking citizen should be proud and to which every one should feel sufficiently committed to make him active in exerting his personal influence to disseminating the facts abroad through the country until the doctrine and a wide-spread knowledge thereof is rooted and grounded in the minds of our worthy farmers and planters. Read it, think about it, treasure it up among the living truths which can not die or fade away; and in those same vital facts is the pure cream of prosperity. An Excellent Teacher.
Prof. H. L. Goerner, a graduate of Baylor, and ex-student of the State University, passed through the city yesterday morning from Waco to Nacogdoches where he has been elected superintendent of the city schools for the coming year.

The department of education has issued Prof. Goerner a state life teacher's certificate on his graduation at Baylor University. He is a young man, but an excellent teacher as is evidenced by the issuance of the life certificate, and he is rapidly advancing in his profession.—Austin Tribune.

Died At Appleby.

W. S. Melton a well known citizen of Appleby, died at his home near that place yesterday. He was an uncle of H. T. Melton, operator at the depot in this city. Mr. Melton was a prominent citizen quite well known throughout the county and his death is lamented by all who knew him.

George Washington the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. N. Gilbert, had the misfortune to get an arm broken yesterday evening. His elder brother, Carlisle, placed him on the back of a calf that he thought to be gentle, when the calf threw him off with the above result. His arm was broken just above the wrist. Dr. Nelson dressed the wound and Master George is doing well today.
