FEEDING A MILLION MOUTHS.

THERE are a million little mouths in your skin ready to absorb whatever you put into them. What kind of soap do you feed them? We seldom record with the powers of absorption exercised by the pores of the skin, and yet it is possible for these little mouths to take in four quarts of water in twenty-four hours. No wonder impure toilet and bath soaps are so apt to produce skin diseases.

You can trust the Soaps we sell you. We handle none but worthy brands, and by buying in quantities we are able to make low prices on them.

TEXAS MILITARY MATTERS.

Check Received for The Payment of Volunteers.

Austin, Texas, July 15.—The governor this morning received a check for $10,769.34 from the United States Treasury department, on account of money paid out by the state to the First Texas cavalry regiment of militia, which was organized in the Spanish-American war.

A large force of men and a dozen teams and wagons began the work to-day of conveying tents and other camp equipage from the capitol building to Camp Mabry for the encampment, which opens Friday. The tents will all be up by Thursday, and everything will be in readiness for the soldier boys when they arrive. The following telegram was received by Chief of Police J. M. Spradley:

Parsons, Kan., July 15.—To Chief of Police or Mayor, Nacogdoches, Tex.

Remains of party supposed to be Joe Haltom or Hallom was found along side track of M. K. & T. Ry. near Welch, I. T., July 7th. I understand his father lives in your town. Can you locate.

GREAT STRUGGLE ON.

Employees of Steel Company Generally Obey Strike Order.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 15.—The strike of the members of the Amalgamated association employed in the tin plate, sheet steel and hoop mills, ended Saturday night, was observed in the Pittsburg district this morning. This strike bears a resemblance to the historical Homestead strike in 1892 in that it is not the question of wages, but the recognition of the Amalgamated association. The association insists upon the unionization of all plants of the three companies in question. The manufacturers refuse to grant this demand and say their individual contracts with workmen which compose the force at a number of plants must stand.

Honorably Disbanded.

The Stone Fort Rifles have been disbanded by request and the officers and men have been honorably discharged. Very little interest has been manifested in the company. It was one of the oldest organizations of its kind in the state, but it takes money and influence to run a military company and to succeed the captain must have both the financial and moral support of the members. I could not get the help I needed so with the vote of the members who could see that the affairs of the company were just about up, we requested Gen. Scurry to disband as before the encampment which he has done in regular order and has left arms and equipments with us to organize another company after the encampment, but military interests are at such a low ebb just now that I shall return arms and equipments to the army at Austin unless there is any set of men who wish to organize another company, and in event they do I will in regular order transfer to them all arms and equipments now in my possession.

J. W. HESON.

Late Capt. Stone Fort Rifles.

Best in Town.

Messrs R. C. Shindler & Son have the best lighted store in town after night fall. The new engine and electric dynamo recently put in enables them to light their establishment in such a manner as to make it, beyond all question of a doubt, the best lighted house in the city.

The dynamo furnishes power to run the new fans, (mention of which was made in these columns a few days back) and lights and desk fans. This firm has solved the problem of being prepared for any emergency on dark days; all that has to be done is to turn the switch and 40 lights are turned on.

There has been a number of changes made in the interior arrangement of the store, one of which is having the office moved to the center of the building.

A Daylight Ride.

TO THE SENTINEL:

A daylight ride on the H. E. & W. T. Ry. between Nacogdoches and Tenaha reveals a wonderful improvement to one who has not viewed that section of country for more than two years. With the exception of a small scope of country near Appleby, where hail did fearful damage recently, the crops look fine. Better prospects are seldom seen at this time of year. A fine rain fell this afternoon, extending from Appleby to Tenaha. Scarcely any rain fell on the Louisiana side of the Sabine. People who boarded the train at Keachi say the drought has ruined the crops in that section, and no amount of rain could produce more than half crops.

There seems to be a regular building boom all along the line. Several new residences, some of them very pretty ones have recently been built at Appleby, notably among them being a nice two-story hotel just completed and being run by Slade Baker.

A "hot box" caused the train to be an hour or more late and dark came on at Tenaha, and I could not see the country between Tenaha and Shreveport, but I am informed that the same noticeable improvement prevails all the way.

There seems to be a great deal of traveling over the H. E. & W. T. row. The coach on the local was crowded all the way through.

Shreveport tracks up immensely by electric lights, and the improvements in her streets makes it pleasant to ride through them in the cooling breezes that follow a cooling shower.

I leave here over the "Katy" at 5:30 to-morrow morning, via Greenville, where I am informed, I will have several hours layover. Will write again from that point.

Twenty-five of the faithful were able to follow the hunt on the 15th sun, and assembly at the Wigwam on the sleep of the same sun. Two pale faces were captured by the scouts and dragged, terror stricken before the Sachem, where they were ordered to pass through the trying ordeal of the scalp dance. Reports state they are able to attend to business today, which is a surprise to many.

THE CUBAN DEBT.

Bonds Outstanding Are Said to Amount to Only $122,400.

New York, N. Y., July 15.—Independent Cuba will begin business, says a Washington dispatch to the Herald, with a bonded indebtedness of only $122,400, resulting from the clause in the new constitution pledging the Cuban republic to the payment of the bonds issued by authority of the revolutionary government during the war with Spain.

There has been considerable doubt as to the amount of this indebtedness, but unless some of the bonds were issued just before or since the intervention of the United States the figures are correct. Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan has just made public a letter which he received from Senor Guerra, treasurer of the revolutionary government, just before the beginning of the war between the United States and Spain, which has never been communicated to anyone except the members of the foreign affairs committee of the house of representatives. In this letter the Senor Guerra says that the revolutionary government issued a total of printed bonds amounting to $3,745,500 and that the total of the bonds disposed of was $122,400, leaving bonds to the amount of $3,623,200 in his possession as treasurer.

There will be a public working on the grave yard at North Church, July 25th, everybody invited. This grave yard sadly needs attention. Many graves have fallen in and others trodden over and lost to view. Ladies are also invited to come.

LOOTED A BANK.

Six or Seven Robbers Blow Up An Ohio Concern.

Columbus, O., July 16.—A gang of six or seven robbers wrecked Treasurer & Ashbrook's bank at Alexandria, Licking county, about 1 o'clock this morning. The strong box resisted their efforts and they overlooked a package of $1500 in the outer vault, which they blew almost to pieces. The noise aroused Cashier Baxton and others who reside near the bank and they hastened to the scene. Although citizens responded promptly the robbers remained in the bank for an hour longer, during which time they made repeated attempts to force the strong box, meanwhile keeping up an exchange of shots with the villagers. Finally the bandits fled in two rigs which had been previously stolen. The sheriff and posse are now in pursuit.

CARNEGIE says he will continue to use his millions for charitable and philanthropic purposes.

THE carpenters and bricklayers of Shreveport are having trouble with contractors and a strike is on as a consequence.

THE boll weevil is gradually approaching this section of Texas. Farmers should begin to get information as to how to fight them.

HOUSE carpentering is being delayed on account of scarcity of brick layers in Nacogdoches. Nobody to build foundations, chimneys, etc.

AN anti-cigarette convention was held in Buffalo, N. Y. a few days ago. Haven't heard of the decreased sale of the vile things yet.

THE bill passed at the regular session of the legislature creating a more efficient road system for Nacogdoches county, became effective last Monday.

THE announcement that white stockings have come in fashion among the ladies again have put the men to praying for rain. They want to know if it is so.

HUNTSVILLE has two model weekly papers in the Item and the Post. They seem to be appreciated judging from the number of handsome advertisements that grace their pages.

THE board of pardons of Minnesota have released the Youngers on parole. The Younger boys have served twenty-five years already for complicity in the robbery and murder at the time of the raid of the Northfield bank.

THE Huntsville Item clips from THE SENTINEL and credits THE CHRONICLE. The Item is hereby informed that there is no Chronicle here; in fact THE SENTINEL is about the "onliest" newspaper in Nacogdoches.

THE money offered by Andrew Carnegie to Houston for a public library under certain conditions has been placed in the bank to the credit of the library association. Bids will be called for at once for the erection of the building.

SEVERAL prominent Texas newspaper men have past over the "great divide" with in the past few months. The last to lay aside his pen for permanent peace and rest was Brother L. D. Lillard, of the Fairfield Recorder, who died on the 4th instant.

It will do you good to read the railroad article in this paper, copied from the New Orleans Picayune. Nacogdoches is going to be a great railroad center yet. It will not be always about it, either, if signs count for anything.

A $25.00 PRIZE.

The Houston, East and West Texas Railway company has put up a prize of twenty-five dollars in cash for the county along its line that makes the best exhibit at the Farmers' Congress to be held at College Station July 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th. The committee to award this premium will be selected by the Farmers' Congress and Horticultural Society.

It is to be hoped that the farmers of Nacogdoches county will take some interest in an effort to have this county fitly represented. Last year Nacogdoches county won the prize, mainly through the efforts of the railroad company themselves. They actually had to hire a man and pay him by the day to look around and gather up specimens of fruit, melons, garden truck, etc. Let us do better this time. Farmers are requested to bring samples of their best farm, garden and orchard productions. The money that was awarded last year will be used toward boxing, preserving and shipping such exhibits as we may be able to get up. Garrison took an active part last year and if it had not been for her help Nacogdoches county would have failed to win the prize. Let Garrison and Nacogdoches cooperate again this year and we will win sure. Every person who can contribute anything toward this exhibit will confer a favor and assist in a good cause by delivering such specimens as they may be able to contribute to Mr. H. S. Edler, who will take the necessary steps for preserving, shipping, etc.

A. W. RILEY, a veteran Texas newspaper man, died in Van Zandt county a few days ago. He was the father of Jud Riley, editor of the Grand Saline Sun.

THE Timpson Times thinks the burning of the Timpson school house will prove a blessing in disguise. If that's so, let us pray that a blessing will fall upon the eyesores called school houses in Nacogdoches.

"Why don't you have more to say about politics?" asks a friend. Because this is an off year and in the language of General Grant "let's have peace." The people will get enough of politics next year, so in the meantime we ought to smile and look pleasant.—Winnsboro Wide Awake.

Politics is kept alive by the anti-Bryan papers, who are having nightmares in anticipation of Bryan's nomination for a third time.

THERE has apparently been mismanagement of the affairs of the Endowment Rank, K. of P. The supreme lodge is now in session at Chicago and a full and thorough investigation will be made. Ex-President Hinsey has resigned as one the members of the board of control, but has failed to explain satisfactorily the cause of the present condition of the rank. The outcome of the investigation is looked forward to with the keenest interest on the part of the members of the Endowment Rank.

Cherokee county will soon be a veritable fruit and vegetable garden. This policy will in a short time make the cotton crop a surplus one. Then the crop will be made on a cash basis and the money will largely jingle in the farmers' pocket rather than on credit books of merchandise.—Industrial Press.

A chicken was sold by a West Market street dealer yesterday that had more in its gizzard than was bargained for. When the chicken was cleaned among the contents of its gizzard was found a small, well cut diamond, worth perhaps $25. Where the chicken got the diamond is somewhat of a question.—Galveston Tribune.

THE State democratic convention of Ohio met in Columbus on the 10th and put out the following ticket: Governor, James Kilborne; lieutenant governor, Anthony Howells; judge supreme court, Joseph Hidy; clerk, Harry R. Young; attorney general, M. B. McCarty; treasurer, R. P. Alshire; member of public work, J. B. Holtman.

BRYAN has repeatedly asserted that he would not under any consideration accept the nomination for a third time as candidate for president, yet some of the newspapers continue to indulge in an endless amount of worry over such a possibility. They may rely on the wisdom of Bryan and the democracy for doing the proper thing in making nominations for 1904.

THE Beaumont Herald is spreading it on thick and fast. It has enlisted several big capitalists in the ranks of the Herald Publishing company and has let the contract for a six-story building for the Herald's home. Speaking of the new building the Herald says: "This building will be modern in every respect—electric lighted, steam heated, and with patent cooling ventilator drafts, fire escapes, etc. Its elevators will be electric, of the fastest make and provided with perfect safety devices. Offices will be arranged to suit convenience of tenants, either in single, double or more rooms together. The architect's floor plans are now ready for inspection."

THE SENTINEL says the Plaindealer acted wisely in securing the services of Mr. Henry Fuller on its staff and adds that he learned reporting at the Sentinel office. We feel deeply grateful to our contemporary for the left-handed compliment. We would be a lot more grateful to know what particular individual on the Sentinel force is capable of giving instructions in news-gathering? He must be on a vacation now, since the last issue of the Plaindealer contained about twice as much news of local importance as the six preceding issues of the Daily Growl. As we have said before, to saints and sinners alike, now is the time to subscribe.—Plaindealer.

A SERMON TO BOYS.

The following written by "A Friend to Boys," is copied from the Henderson Times and is wholesome food for thought for every boy in the land. Would that the boys could see and appreciate their opportunities. We see them every day idling away their time, winding their way along life's rugged path aimlessly and indifferently. To this class especially we commend the words which follow:

I am merchandising in a small way. Not long since I was in need of a man to take charge of some important duties and addressed a letter to a friend in a city, asking that he suggest the name of one who would meet my requirements. Among other things, I requested that he name one who could take charge of the stock; who could decorate the store, and who could keep a stock neat and clean; one who did not drink or gamble, and who was honest, zealous and industrious—points it seems to me, not difficult to combine. The reply which I received from this man whose business interests reach into the millions, was as follows:

"I have a position open at three thousand dollars per annum for the man who will meet the requirements as expressed in your letter. There are some men as described, but they are very scarce, and as a rule, such men do not have to work for wages any more than you have. I meet men every day who claim they can fill such a position, but my experience has been that you have to get these men green from the country and train them up to your method of doing business."

And still you hear it said there are no opportunities for the boy who will try. Three thousand dollars a year, for a competent honest worker—for a man who knows how! There are to-day standing open, to be filled by such men, thousands of positions—ripe fruit waiting to be plucked. There are thousands of bright young men who could partake of the sweetness of this coveted fruit, if they would only prepare themselves by persistent, hard labor for the higher positions. Ambition backed by integrity, and the power to will, are just as sure to drop the dusting brush and broom from a boy's hands as light follows darkness. This great financier—this man of millions,—came twenty-five years ago green from the country with no capital save a strong constitution, an honest heart, full of ambition, and brain, just like that of the average country boy—and he directs me to the country for green timber, from which to build my business man.

There are boys in every small town and on the farm, who do not appreciate their opportunities—who do not realize that all rests with them, as to whether they rise or fall;—who go about their less pleasant duties (it at all) with an air of carelessness painful to see—who try to do no more than they are paid for, and who are sure of never getting paid for more than they do.

Boys, elevate your ideas, get it into your heads that you are working with the material from which men are made, awaken to the possibilities of your present position, resolve to rise—will to be such a man as I have here described, put your shoulder to the wheel—Work and Will—that's the team which draws every successful man up the long hill of usefulness—in the mercantile establishment, in the professional field, and in all other walks of life. Who'll be the boy or boys in this town to take advantage of the opportunities for advancement that lie all around?

Who'll be the ambitious boy on the farm to set his standard high—whose ambition will lead him to try and try again, in the face of disappointment. Opportunity does not come, boys; you must make it. Learn to will—learn to work; be ambitious, be honest, be sincere, and the battle is yours.

THERE seems to be unusual prosperity and activity among the local lodges. The Masons are adding rapidly to their membership, fifteen new members have been elected to membership in the Knights of Pythias during the past six weeks, the Woodmen of the World are flourishing, and a Tribe of Red Men has just been organized with forty-one members. Verily Nacogdoches is becoming a great lodge town.

THE Literary Bureau of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. speaks the truth concerning the question of land value in connection with the oil excitement that has taken possession of Texas. It says: "The present excitement attending the exploitation of the oil areas in various portions of this State has forced land sky-high, and in the majority of the instances without reason. There is a serious menace to the agricultural progress of the affected sections in this condition. Land that is possible to the farmer becomes impossible when viewed in the light of 'oil prospects,' and there is a decided possibility of anticipations failing to realize, at the expense, too, of settlers having been forced to other markets. Already land in the rice sections has felt seriously the rise in unreliable values and progress materially hindered. Oil is a big thing, and it is hoped there will be found sufficient to place the State of Texas upon a high pinnacle of prosperity, but agricultural interests are the more valuable to both individual and commonwealth, and they must not be militated against because oil has been discovered. Other minerals will also come to light in proper time and the combination, if not injured by ill advised speculation will redound to the profit of all concerned."

THE NEGRO POPULATION.

Reports from the census department at Washington say that the predictions based on the census of 1890 that the negro population of the United would gradually decrease in proportion to the total population are not borne out by the statistics of the present census.

The negro population in the United States in 1890 was 11.93 per cent of the total, a decrease from 13.12 per cent in 1880. This year the percentage will be somewhat less than 11, though until the compilation of statistics has been more nearly completed, it will be impossible to give exact figures.

In some of the Southern States the negro population is increasing faster in proportion than the white. In the border States there seems to be a little falling off, and in the Northern States, to which the European immigration flows strongest, the white population is increasing more rapidly, though this does not hold good in some special localities, such as cities in which negro servants, especially in hotels, are rapidly displacing white men and women.

The Boll Weevil.

Editor SENTINEL:

In your weekly of the 10th, I note that you publish a short article upon some "Mischievous Bugs" of cotton depre-dating in a neighboring county. From the description of the injury to the squares, I judge that the dreaded boll weevil, which has ruined so many crops in South and Central Texas, has made its appearance in the locality in question. It will therefore behoove the cotton growers of Nacogdoches county to make a careful study of the insect ravages on their cotton. Especially should they be alarmed if they find any small white grub like worms in the fallen squares. This can easily be determined by gathering up several hundred squares at random over the field and then cutting them open to ascertain what may be found on the inside. Shall be glad to hear from the planters of this county and send them my official reports upon ways and means of fighting and overcoming the boll weevil of cotton. The people should be forewarned and educated beforehand how to make a successful fight and when to make it. Ways and Means are now well known and have demonstrated their efficiency in hundreds of cases this year. Hence the cotton planters of Nacogdoches county should get these reports and study the pests in advance of its coming. Shall be pleased to be at your commands. Yours for success,

I hope, therefore, that the farmers of your vicinity will take an active interest, and show the people of Texas and other states that East Texas can produce agricultural and horticultural products unequalled by any state in the union. The committee to award this premium will be selected by the Farmers' Congress and Horticultural society. Express companies will haul these exhibits free of charge.

The Weekly Sentinel.

HALTOM & HARRIS, Publisher
R. W. HALTOM, Editor.

THOUSANDS of people are at El Reno, Okla. waiting to receive Indian lands for homesteads.

The strike against the steel trust will work quite a hardship upon the laborers, as well as others in the milling districts.

The rubbish and filth that accumulates in the alleys and out of the way places in Nacogdoches is not conducive of good health.

A good application of the rake and shovel on some of the alleys of Nacogdoches would work wonders in the way of health. Of course a little lime should be used.

The "hot wave" continues in the North and Northwest, and as a consequence the corn crop is in a manner destroyed. This will entail quite a hardship upon the people in that section.

If the farmers and truck growers will make a little effort and get up a nice exhibit Nacogdoches county will win the H. E. & W. T. prize at the meeting of the Farmers Congress at College Station.

The Western corn crop now appears to be a failure on account of the protracted drouth, and, if it is, the price of corn and meat will be materially advanced. Corn this fall should be carefully stored and not given away as in former years.

Ohio politicians are kicking up a deuce of a mess. Because the recent democratic convention did not adopt measures to their liking, ten of the disgruntled met in Cleveland and bolted, and have called a convention to be held in Columbus, July 31.

EDITOR HALTOM is making a very interesting daily of the Nacogdoches Sentinel.—Tyler Courier.

Indeed he is. The Sentinel is a live, up-to-date paper, and would reflect credit upon a town several times larger than the one in which it is published.—Houston Herald.

Many thanks, brothers, for your boquets.

THE PASTE POT IN JOURNALISM.

It may perhaps strike the casual reader that it is rather late in the day to call the attention of the journalists of Texas and of the world to the amount of their indebtedness to the paste pot. Even as faith without works is dead, so are brains without paste aberrant.

Every newspaper writer who has attained to that fame which is coincident to great riches may make his acknowledgements to the paste pot. He writes something for his paper; it catches the eye of some paste pot editor and goes into another paper, until behold, the hack writer awakes some morning to find his name pasted upon the heaven-kissing hills of undying fame, and wherever newspaper paste puts a man, there he stays! Too long! far too long! has the pessimistic cockroach in his midnight meanderings been the only one to become stuck upon you. A man may wield a very large paint brush and still not be an artist, but the artist who wields the paste brush in a newspaper office is the sole arbiter of a newspaper writer's destiny!

Behold the poor, neglected object sitting there, to do your will uncomplainingly and well. Does it serve you any the less effectively because a few flies, a cockroach and perchance the clammy, clay-cold corpse of a forlorn mouse are enshrined in its depths? We believe not; it may be the end of all things earthly for them, but it is the beginning of all things heavenly for you. If the paste pot gets stuck on your penciled meanderings it means more salary; constantly growing as the reputation of the paste pot grows. It means offers from larger papers than the one which at present pays that salary. Oh, my dear friends, woo the paste pot; in its opaque depth lurk germs of European journeyings.

Verily when we have attained to the ultima thule of journalism we shall have for a coat of arms a paste pot quiescent against an inky background, surmounted by two little devils and a pastebrush rampant.—Houston Post.

HAVE interested parties forgotten the cotton mill project? Better talk the matter up. It would be the making of a great town of Nacogdoches if a few factories were located here. Plenty of wood and water for fuel, besides coal mines are within a stone's throw.

The steel trust feels confident that the union workers have no show of winning in the strike which has just been ordered against several of the big mills.

FOSTER, whose forecasts of the weather have been tolerable accurate in the past, says that "the drouth in the great central valley will break within three days."

The advance guard of prosperity has reached Nacogdoches, and unless we get a move on ourselves the band wagon will run over some of our "poke easy people."

SEVENTY-FOUR THOUSAND men are idle in Pennsylvania as a result of the Amalgamated Association's strike against the steel trust, and unless the trust accedes to the demands of the association, thousands of other members of the organization will be called out in a few days.

Texas Tales Tensely Told.

Every gambling house in Corpus Christi has been closed.

Three oil companies filed application for charters yesterday.

Tents are being pitched at Camp Mabry for the coming encampment of the state volunteer guard.

The 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Winesat of Denison was burned to death yesterday.

A 2-year old child of Mrs. W. B. Anthony of Corsicana had its brains kicked out by a colt. It will die.

The body of Engineer Cunningham, who was drowned near Eagle Pass day before yesterday, has been recovered.

In a shooting scrape in San Antonio, Trinidad S. Coy was shot and killed. Chas. W. Grandberry has been arrested.

A persistent report is circulated in Beaumont that the Guffey well at Big Hill has been brought in. The well is closely guarded and no one can get near it to get any information.

"AS YOU LIKE IT."

Strange how aristocratic a little filthy lucre will make some people.

There is no day like today for turning over the new leaf. Try it and see.

Extravagance has shipwrecked thousands of young American lives.

The confidence of your employer is worth more than gold; don't abuse it.

To appear to be what one is ready not is the greatest curse to the human race.

While the ice man is being abused on all sides, it is a noticeable fact that he "saves ice and says nothing."

The hanger on around joints and places of ill repute need not expect to secure honorable and profitable employment.

To be the master of some trade or profession, and at the same time be punctual and sober, is many times better than riches.

When a poor fellow starts down the hill of misfortune don't push him along faster to ruin. Remember "There may come a time some day."

The snares of vice and corruption await the young man on every corner. Don't take the first step—that's the one you should keep a sharp look out for.

While waiting for something to turn up, take a hitch in your "galluses" and look for something to do. Remember the "idle mind is the devil's work shop."

There is room at the top for all, but the top is only reached step at a time. The chances for the sober and studious young man today is as good, if not better, as it ever was.

Looking for something better has been the cause of many clerks and artisans remaining at the bottom of the ladder of fame. When you have a good position and pleasant surroundings, stay with it. your reward may be a little slow in coming, but it's as sure to come as it is "that night follows day."

True "clothes don't make the man," yet from the break neck speed which some people are traveling to keep up with the fickle whim of fashion's decree, the unsuspecting is liable to think otherwise.

The credit business has gotten many a poor man in the middle of a bad fix. Having things "charged" is merely a habit, and if you'll strive to get out of debt and pay cash as you go, you'll have friends, and also a bank account.

About the only soft job that is open now to the young man who parts his hair in the middle of his head, is mashing boiled potatoes in a chop house. All the other "soft snaps" have been taken. Positions requiring pluck and energy are open to all.

BLEFELLOW.

When the Younger brothers received notice of their pardon, Cole said to the warden and newspaper correspondents: "I need not tell you that we are both very happy. That we appear cool and calm under the circumstances need not be wondered at, for twenty-five years imprisonment is apt to destroy the ordinary feelings that move men. We have no plans for the future, and from now on our course will depend, and we must depend, on our good friends. Our gratitude to the good people of Minnesota knows no bounds. It was they who did all for us. Our friends in Missouri tried to aid us, but I understand that the board paid no heed to influences from that quarter. Again, thanks to the good people of Minnesota and may God bless them. We will strive to prove worthy of the confidence placed in us, as we have during the long, trying years of our imprisonment. We expect to be like ten-year-old boys when we see the world again, for all has changed since we saw it last. In those times there were no cars drawn without horses, and no telephones. These and many other changes will be strange to us."

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW.

And now Congressman Cooper has gone and done it. A few years ago he was holding up the combines and corporations with millions of capital stock as a menace to the liberties of the people. He was an ardent disciple of that school which taught that no man ever honestly accumulated a million dollars. He was a valiant and fireless octopus hunter, and he was "dead ag'in" all sorts of combines and corporations with their millions of dollars. Now all is changed. Congressman Cooper is a director in one of the biggest oil corporations in Texas, and the second biggest, it is claimed, in the world, and, what's more, this corporation with its $30,000,000 capital, boldly asserts it proposes to control the oil business in Texas, and to that end it will gobble up 1,000,000 acres of oil land in Beaumont, Corsicana, Nacogdoches and other parts of the state. It will be the great oil octopus of the great southwest, and away out here it will pose as the enemy of the great oil octopus of the east, known to us and the world as the Standard Oil company. Away out here in the southwest, with its tentacles around everything and everybody, it will maintain an even and easy equilibrium with its brother octopus of the east, and prevent the earth from tilting up. And there is Joe Eagle, another aforetime irrepressible octopus hunter, who made the atmosphere lurid down in the "fust deestrick" a few years ago denouncing the octopus and incidentally trying to down Thomas H. Ball, the democratic nominee for congress. He is a childlike and bland associate of Congressman Cooper in the great $30,000,000 oil combine.—Austin Tribune.

A hunting party near San Antonio got caught in a sudden rise of the Gaudalupe river and spent 12 hours in the trees before the water subsided enough for them to come down. Their horses, guns and camp equipment were lost.

Four blocks of business houses at Enid, O. T., burned yesterday. Loss about $100,000.

To Trace Stolen Cotton.

The following is the law passed by the last legislature in regard to ginners keeping a record of all cotton they gin. The law is now in effect.

An act to facilitate the tracing of stolen or illegally disposed of cotton.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter every person, firm, corporation or association of persons owning, controlling or operating a public cotton gin in this state, shall keep or caused to be kept a public record of all cotton brought to them for ginning and packing. Such record shall correctly show the amount of cotton received, date of its receipt, by whom brought to the gin, and the name or names of the party or parties claiming to own the same.

SEC. 2. That said ginner after ginning and packing said cotton shall place or caused to be placed on each bale of cotton the initials of the party or parties claiming to own said cotton, under which he shall place some private ginners mark, all of which shall be put upon record in the book before mentioned.

SEC. 3. That hereafter every person, firm corporation or association of persons who shall buy cotton in this state, shall not change alter or deface the marks and brands on such cotton.

SEC. 4. That any person, firm, corporation or association of persons failing or neglecting to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine in any sum not more than twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 5. The fact that there is no statute providing for the tracing and identification of stolen or illegally disposed of cotton, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity, that the constitutional rule requiring bill to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Alazan News.

Dry and hot weather in this corner of the moral vineyard, but corn has "done its do," and as cotton is a sun plant we hope that the fleecy staple will come in alright to buy shoes for the old woman and babies, and calico for next winter, or at least pay for what they have already used.

The big protracted meeting at Alazan will commence on Friday night before the second Sunday in August.

Alazan has at last secured a post office through the untiring efforts of Prof. Miles, who is teaching here, and by the way has a splendid school, and the pupils are taking a great interest in their studies.

Our post master is John Rogers and Letcher Smith deputy.

Alazan has one store, post office, saw mill, gin, and mill for grinding etc. A good school with a scholastic enrollment of 50, with 15 overs and unders, making 65. Alazan community will build a new church house, and a new up-to-date school house in the near future. She has a physician, and needs a good drug store.

Lumber is on the ground to begin the erection of a large store house to be used by Mr. John Rogers and his partner, who we understand contemplate putting in a $2000 stock of general supplies, to begin with. Stock to be increased as occasion may demand. We hear that a third store house is also going up to be used as a drug store.

ARKANSAW, JIM.

Eden Sitings.

July 15.—We are still enjoying the pleasures of dry weather, fishing and hunting.

Quite a number from around here went to church at Alazan yesterday. They report a large crowd and good services.

Misses Cynthia Rich and Elzora Tyndell, and Mrs. Mack Smith, who have been sick, are better.

Mr. Smith has just returned from a visit to Magnolia, Ark. He reports a nice trip.

Mr. Rich says the pastures will be ruined by the grass worms, as they are already bad.

Mr. Lawrence Jones is playing the part of "hearts" in Alazan community. We like to see him having a good time, for that's the way we used to do.

Everybody is invited to attend church next Sunday.

Ginners Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the ginners of Nacogdoches county at the court house on July 20, 1901. All ginners requested to be present.

S. Hirsh is in Huntington today on a business trip.

Notice, Stock Raisers.

J. W. JOHNSON.

What He May Do.

The Texas farmer may not own an oil derrick, but he can raise more cotton per acre than any other man on the globe.

He may not sell Northern Pacific stock at $1000 per share, but he can raise a few Herefords or Shorthorns and each calf will bring him from $100 to $300.

He may not own a silver mine, but he can plant an acre of artichokes and raise fifty hogs that will do their own digging and sell in the market at 4 or 5 cents a pound.

He can have a variety of plums, pears, berries and grapes.

He can raise vegetables, that equal those of any other section and have them on his table all the year round.

On a single acre he can raise from 200 to 300 bushels of sweet potatoes, and on a little patch he can raise enough rice to feed a Chinese colony.

He can raise tobacco equal to the best Cuban product.

From an acre he can make 200 gallons of syrup of the finest grade.

He can plant a field in wheat and gather from fifteen to twenty bushels of wheat per acre, besides getting enough grazing for his stock to pay for the seed and all the labor of sowing and harvesting.

He can plant pecan trees in his fence corners and can have an income of $10 to $12 a year from each tree.

He can raise sheep that will increase 100 per cent over each year, or Angora goats that will clean up his brush land and yield several pounds of mohair worth 25 to 30 cents a pound.

He can place a few "bee gums" in his orchard and have all the honey he wants and to sell.

He can breed horses that will come up to the Kentucky standard.

He may not have an automobile, but he can do most of his work while riding on a sulky plow under the shade of an umbrella.

He can raise poultry of every kind, from pigeons to peacocks.

His daughter can make better batter than ever came from Elgin, and his boys can breed Belgian hares enough to stock a mammoth rabbitry.

The Texas farmer can be the most independent and easy-going money-maker and best citizen on earth.

Or he can put in most of his time loafing around town, whittling boxes and swearing that the county has gone to the "demnition bow-wows" through Mark Hanna and the trusts, while the cows tear down the fences and the crab grass chokes the cotton crop. Not even a free negro was ever more shiftless than a Texas farmer when he really wants to be. But luckily for Texas most of them are not that way.—From Texas Stock Journal.

Died.

Yesterday, July 16, at Lutkin, Mr. C. A. Smith. The remains were shipped to this city last night and were entered in the city cemetery this morning at 9:30.

The deceased was the father of our brother townsman, T. J. Smith, from whose residence the funeral was conducted with Masonic honors by the lodge of Lufkin and Milam lodge No. 2 of this city. C. B. Stegall, W. H. Everett, W. A. Abney and B. Krantz, were guards of honor from the Lufkin lodge.

THE SENTINEL extends condolence to the bereaved in this their sad hour of affliction.

Ball Game.

Friday afternoon the heavy weights and feather weights will cross willows on the college campus, and that the game will be a lively one, there can be no doubt. There will be a small admission charged and the entire receipts will be turned over to the cemetery association. Let everybody turn out Friday to see this game of ball.

Shot and Killed.

News was received in this city this morning that John Cottingham, a prominent citizen of Wells, Cherokee county, was shot and instantly killed. Particulars at this writing cannot be obtained concerning the shooting, other than that Cottingham was instantly killed. The deed leaves a family.

The Ginners Meeting.

Don't forget that Saturday afternoon that all ginners in the county are invited to meet at the court house at 2 o'clock. A big meeting is looked forward to, as matters of importance will come up before the meeting.

Stayed.

From my place near Rockland, one black mare, mule, branded on left hip and shoulder O. and P. stood over toward her return or information to her recovery.

R. M. GORMAN, Rockland, Texas.

Sunday, at Melrose, Mr. Richard Hall and Miss Lillie Burr were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock. Rev. J. N. Wilson officiating. The ceremony joins the young couple's numerous friends in wishing them much happiness.

Students in the City of Mexico have issued a manifesto against the Roman Catholic church. It calls upon Mexicans to rise and smite the church, and asks the government to confiscate church property and use the money for the public debt.

But She Won the Bet.

A young lady in Representative Lacy's Iowa district was playing the well known game with of the congregation in letting the lady the other day. There is always a hard fight in the election, and the Democrats have been up to election day, and even to election night the very time when the vote is announced. Generally in years gone by there has been considerable betting. This time most of the money was laid on my majority, a favorite figure being about 200. The young lady referred to had been about headquarters, where she had some knowledge of what was going on. She made an even wager that my majority would be 2,500. It went like a profligate stage, but she won it. I had 3,744 votes to my opponent, the late majority I had had provided was 1,411.

The Nacogdoches snuff boxes. That snuff boxes rarely change hands by the two old-fashioned snuff boxes in that chamber. They are as carefully filled and used as the days when it was the fashion to "snuff." Few of the present generation use the boxes, though occasionally one of the older Southern members will go up, take a "pinch," and really snuff the sneeze. Senators Bate of Tennessee and Pettus of Alabama, the oldest men in the senate, sometimes visit the snuff boxes. The boxes are of incured redwood and are fastened to the wall on each side of the presiding officer's chair.

The Force of Habit.

"Habit is a great factor in routine life, and, perhaps in no other form does it attack us so visibly as in eating," said a former newspaper man yesterday. "For fifteen years I worked on a morning paper. A year ago I gave up my position to go into a mercantile business, and since then, although I have used every effort, I have not been able to accustom myself to the change in my method of living. It isn't the hours so much as it is the appetite. When a man gets up at dawn for fifteen years, and goes to bed anywhere from 7:15 to 8:15 in the morning, one might naturally think that it would be hard for him to give up accustomed to getting up at 7 and going to bed at 11 and 12. So you see, habit can get used to that sort of thing, then you can bring your appetite to a realization of the change. My best meal, and the only one I really enjoy, is late at night. This, I admit, is merely habit. I can seldom eat a good breakfast and then a poor lunch, also. At breakfast when I am supposed to have a little appetite. But when I should think of going to bed I am awfully hungry. On the other hand, if I can get up in the morning and eat a good breakfast I'm all right for the rest of the day. Guess, isn't it?"

Outside of His Jurisdiction.

When the new University of Chicago, a few years ago, was drawing up Eastern college regulations for its staff, one of the men whom it obtained was W. G. Hale, professor of Latin at Cornell. Professor Hale's family packed up their household goods and prepared to migrate. The 5-year-old daughter of the house was in tears at parting from her playmates and seemed to feel that the foundation of everything was being shaken. When it came to the family's last night in its dismantled home, she knelt at her little bed to say her prayers. When she came to the "Amen" she uttered a fervent "Good-by." "Why do you say good-by?" her mother asked, in surprise. "Why, mamma," was the reply, "of course God knows that we are going to Chicago to-morrow."

New Drug Store at Timpson.

A. C. Vinson returned Wednesday morning from his trip to St. Louis, where he purchased a full line of drugs to open a new drug store in Timpson. He bought the handsomest counters and fixtures in East Texas—counters all plate glass from the floor up with marble base board, and other fixtures to correspond. He has leased the Bryan building, next door to Shipp's.—Timpson Times.

Who's Right?

Editor SENTINEL:

The Nacogdoches base ball team went to Beaumont and played two games. The score was 25 to 5, and 9 to 0 in favor of Beaumont. I insist the last was a worse defeat than the first. Some of my young lady friends insist that I am wrong and 25 to 5 is a worse game than 9 to 0. Authentically stated it is, as 25 is to 5 so is 9 to 0 what the Nacogdoches team ought to have made in the last game and did not. I am an enthusiast but not an expert, and come to you to decide for me.

GEO. F. INGRAHAM.

Louis Council has resigned his position at I. L. Sturdevants cotton yard, and has gone to Houston for a few weeks visit. He will probably locate in Houston.

Joe Menefee is spending a few weeks in West Texas, out about Kerrville with his sister, for the benefit of the health of both of them. He will be home again in about 10 days.—Lufkin Tribune.

Mr. D. C. Turner, of Martinsville, was in the city yesterday on a business trip. He called at this office while here and reported everything quiet and promising in the Martinsville community. Corn is doing well and cotton prospects good. He says a little more rain would do good.

Miss Pearle Wood, left last night, to spend the remainder of the summer with friends and relatives in Dallas and West Texas. She will not return this year, but will enter Georgetown University in September.

The tent meeting that was to have begun last Sunday at Appleby was postponed on account of the hail putting farmers so far behind with their work. There is talk also of putting off the Baptist protracted meeting to begin tomorrow at Bethel, for the same reason.

Gid Crain, a respectable darkey and a former citizen of Nacogdoches, and who lived many years with Capt. M. Mast, of Melrose, is in the city. Gid has strayed off until he is now located at Port Arthur where he is doing well, to all appearances. Gid was always humble and polite to white folks, among whom he has many friends.

Sam H. Dixon, immigration agent of the H. E. & W. T. railroad, is now making a trip over the road in the effort to stir up an interest in the counties along its line in view of having East Texas properly represented at the Farmers Congress. Last year very little interest was taken, and with very little effort Nacogdoches county won the prize of $25.00 offered for the best exhibit by the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. Greater interest is manifest this year in every county in East Texas, and Nacogdoches will have to do better than we did last year if we win.

Seale-Richardson.

When God created man and gave him this beautiful world, He saw: "Without the smile of partial beauty won, Of what were man—a world without a sun." He then made woman to be a companion for him.

The consummation of the old, old story, ever new of lovely woman wooed and won, had its enactment Wednesday, July 10th, at 3 o'clock p. m., at the residence of the bride's mother, when Mr. Allan Seale and Miss Elizabeth Richardson, were made man and wife.

The numerous relatives, and a few friends, filled the beautifully decorated parlors, when the soft low notes of the bridal chorus floated out from the skilled touch of Mrs. Deveraux, of Jacksonville. As the triumphal notes swelled forth, the bride leaning on the arm of the groom entered, and surrounded by ferns and palms, Rev. W. W. Watts in a few impressive words made their destiny one.

Goodbyes were said and amid showers of rice they were whirled away to take the train for Colorado and points north.

The bride was appropriately gowned in a castor broadcloth traveling suit with hat to match, which so well suited her queenly beauty.

Refreshing punch was served by Misses Garrison and Perkins, while congratulations were offered, and the many handsome present, admired.

The sterling worth of Mr. Seale, who is one of our most substantial merchants, and the beauty and amiability of his charming bride need no eulogy, having been reared among this people, none know but to love.

May the sunshine of happiness chase all shadows from their path, and should sorrow touch their hearts, it will be but briefly, and for it may there come a consolation sweet and lasting. As moment is added to moment and year to year, and each to each dearer, may the blending of their lives be as bright and beautiful as that of two clouds at morning tinged with the rising sun, which in the dawn, while floating on, have mingled into one.

L. D. SMITH.

Nacogdoches vs. Tenaha.

The game of baseball yesterday between Nacogdoches and Tenaha resulted in favor of Nacogdoches by a score of 27 to 0, Tenaha throwing up the game in the 7th inning.

Mrs. E. E. Baldwin will leave to-night for Fairfield, Ill., to visit her parents and friends of her girlhood. She has been sick several weeks and thinks the trip will benefit her health.

Prof. G. I. Watkins was in the city this week. He has been elected superintendent of the schools of Nacogdoches, a worthy compliment to one of the leading educators of East Texas.—Henderson Times.

Two Pages were advanced to the Rank of Esquire last night by the K. of P. lodge. The lodge is working hard now. There are seven more Pages yet to be finished up and several applications for membership to be acted upon.

Prof. G. I. Watkins returned yesterday from a visit to Henderson. He says new life seems to have been infused into Henderson of late, and there is more life and hustle up there than has been heretofore. It is dry up about Henderson, he says.

R. C. Shindler & Son started off their electric fans this morning. They make their own electricity, including electric light. The little plant is run by a five horse power gas engine and a handsome little motor. For enterprise and public spirit this firm is one of the foremost of East Texas.

Homer Dotson came up from Attoyac last night to spend a few days in the city. He says there will be the biggest picnic at Black Jack soon ever given in Nacogdoches county, and a special invitation is extended THE SENTINEL to be present.

Nacogdoches has added another postoffice to her list. The latest is Alazan, with John Noel Rogers as postmaster. The new postoffice will add to the convenience of the people half way between Nacogdoches and Douglass and will be hailed with delight by the people out there.

Prof. F. W. Malley, of Hewlen, Texas, is in the city today. He has been to Garrison looking after his nursery there. Prof. M. McCollum, of Bethany, Mo., is with him. Prof. McCollum is a practical and experienced canning factory man and is looking at this country with a view to establishing a plant somewhere along the line of the H. E. & W. T. railroad in this vicinity. Nacogdoches should offer him some inducement to locate here. It is unnecessary for us to dwell upon the benefits such an establishment would be to Nacogdoches.

Major Carraway Dead.

Major Carraway died at his home on North street last night at 1 o'clock. He had been in feeble health many years and for several months past had been practically confined to his room. He was forced to retire from business several months ago on account of his health.

Major Carraway was one of the most prominent among newspaper men of Texas and for years had been recognized as the "Nestor" of East Texas journalism. He edited and published the Jasper News-Boy a number of years before he came to Nacogdoches. He entered the newspaper business here in 1887 since which time, up to April last he edited the Star-News—later News-Chronicle. He belonged to Texas Lodge No. 1 K. of P. of Houston, though for several years past had not affiliated with that order, and was a 32nd degree Mason. He leaves a widow, two sons and five daughters to mourn his death.

Joe Haltom Dead.

The following telegram was received last night, which confirms the belief that the young man killed by a train at Bluejacket, Indian Territory, was Joe Haltom:

Bluejacket, I. T., July 12—To R. W. Haltom, Nacogdoches:—Joe killed. Buried on right of way. What do? Wire Vinita.

GILES M. HALTOM.

No particulars have been received, as there has not been time to get communication by letter.

A Small Cyclone.

A storm struck the Jim Stone community, about six miles west of Nacogdoches, yesterday evening, doing considerable damage. Several negro houses were blown down or unroofed and considerable damage was done to crops. There are no fatalities reported.

G. R. B. AND N.

One of the Promoters Talks of the New Road.

"It is a certainty. The contracts are all signed, the capital all secured, and the articles of incorporation are now being prepared under the supervision of ex-Attorney General Griggs, and will be filed within the next ten days. The route is all mapped out, the connections secured, and people along the line have encouraged the scheme to the necessary extent. Work will begin in the next month, and the Gulf Rice Belt and Northern Railroad will become a reality."

The speaker was Will A. Aarons, a prominent real estate man, who has been operating in Lake Charles for some time, and has been promoting the railroad scheme in question for the last six months. Oil booms have come in and interfered with his plan for a little time, but their influence was only temporary, and in the midst of an oil deal of large proportions he was called away to New York, Chicago and other points in the north, to complete the arrangements for his pet scheme, the new railroad that is to take such a large part in the development of the South, and particularly Louisiana. He has just returned from his trip, and announced last night, at the Commercial that all the preliminaries had been completed for the new road.

"The southern terminus of the road," said he, "will be at Vermillion bay, on the gulf. Thence it will run through Abbeville and Crowley, crossing the Kansas City Southern at Leesville, and connecting with the Santa Fe and New Mexico at Nacogdoches, Texas.

"Ex-United States Attorney General Griggs and J. W. Orr, of Campaign, Ill., with some of the most substantial capitalists of New York, are behind the deal, and the whole plan has been fully worked out. The actual work of surveying and construction will commence at once. The New York capitalists have unlimited resources, and they will, no doubt, extend the line so as to make it a great trunk line for the northwest on the west side of the Mississippi.

"I have just returned from New York, where I have been arranging the preliminaries. I was accompanied there by the Western promoters and they will be here in the next ten days to take the matter in their own hands and put it through.

"The road will be built with New York capital and will not be in any combine. The parties who are at the head of the capital end of it are well able to carry out their plans, even if they should include a road across the continent. They will operate the road independently, and so far as I can see, they intend making a great system.

"They are now building a road in Northern Arkansas, and have, through me, secured an option on the Louisiana and Northwest railroad, which is already in operation from Magrolia, Ark., through Homer and Gibbsland to Bienville, La.

"This road has, by its charter, a right to enter New Orleans, and it will not be at all surprising if the connection, when made, with the new road to be built from Vermillion, shall enter New Orleans, coming in from a point some twelve miles south of the Southern Pacific. Of course, there are many contingencies to be considered as to the terminus, and many arrangements to be made, so that the plans of the parties cannot be discussed in detail in that respect. I can say that a number of connecting lines have been projected, and some of them will no doubt, be built.

"The possibilities of the road can not be reckoned. It will tap the richest rice section of the world, pass through the greatest cotton belt in the country, and open up the finest body of long leaf pine timber in the whole United States. What it will do for the development of the state of Louisiana is incalculable.

"It has been apparent for a long time that a great trunk line from north to south on the west side of the Mississippi was one of the railroad possibilities of the near future, and that such a trunk line could occupy a position in the territory opened similar to that occupied in the east by the Illinois Central. I think this is the intention of the gentlemen who have taken up the scheme, and they have the confidence and capital necessary to carry it through.

Mr. Orr and Attorney General Griggs will be down here in a few days with some of the New York parties to file the necessary papers and get to work."—New Orleans Picayune.

Eden Etchings.

Eden, July 10, 1901.—As we are seldom mentioned in your columns, I will send you a few dots.

Eden is a very prosperous community, but owing to the dry weather which is making the corn twist and the cotton wither, the farmers have most all taken the sun grins.

The school is progressing nicely under the skillful management of Prof. L. W. Raney, who tries to sympathize with the farmers and gets a smile on his face from ear to ear.

From some unknown reason Rev. Hutson failed to be at his appointment last Sunday. We hope he will be here to hold his meeting the first Sunday in August.

Cyntha, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rich had a chill yesterday, though the health of the community is good.

We still haven't forgot the 4th of July and Judge's speech yet. Mr. Payne says, "he wishes there would be a fourth of July once a month.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Strange Young Man Crushed Under The Wheels at Blue Jacket, I. T.

The following correspondence explains itself:

Bluejacket, I. T., July 9.—To Post Master, Nacogdoches:—A young man giving his name as Joe Hatton, of your town, was killed by a train or some other unknown way on night of July 7th at this station. He was about 5 feet 6 inches tall as near as could be estimated in his mutilated condition, was about twenty years of age. He was well dressed and showed signs of having seen better days. Please give us any information possible.

F. S. HAGERTY.

Nacogdoches, July 11.—To Giles M. Haltom, Vinita, I. T.:—Think Joe was killed by train at Bluejacket Saturday. Investigate. Wire.

R. W. HALTOM.

Vinita, I. T., July 11, 10:5 p. m.—To R. W. Haltom, Nacogdoches:—Investigation seems to confirm. Will go.

GILES M. HALTOM.

From the above correspondence it seems quite sure that the unfortunate young man is Joe Haltom, who left here last December, and was last heard from in Dallas county about three months ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haltom sr. and a brother to the Editor of THE SENTINEL. A photograph has been forwarded, a thorough investigation is being made, and we will know in a few days the certainty or uncertainty of our suspicions that it is Joe Haltom.

Having a Gay Time.

A letter from Eph Muckelroy, formerly of THE SENTINEL, says:

"I am now away down in the swamps on John Henry Kirby's railroad, having a gay time, eating three meals a day and sleeping nearly all night. Lots of fine fishing grounds here. Catch trout twelve inches long. Plenty of deer and squirrels. There is a disease that is called 'sharbone' that is killing deer and cattle. It is common to find their dead carcasses out in the woods.

I came through Jasper and saw the little town that was newly burned up a short time ago. There are not more than half a dozen stores left. The people of Jasper expect to have a passenger train in about thirty days.

"I have been here ever since the Fourth. Crops down here were nearly burned up before the rains began and prospects for corn are very poor.

"Jasper is ahead of Nacogdoches when it comes to the school building and court house. A town clock graces a fine court house and they have a splendid school building."

Mr. Petty's residence is situated on a high hill overlooking the valley on the west below, covering thousands of acres of land, and away in the distance Flower mountain, and still further away the mountains in Cherokee and Rusk counties loom up making a perfect background and a magnificent picture. On the east side of the dwelling, Appleby six miles away is in view and the hills beyond make another picture of beauty. Take a field glass along, and 25 miles away, cattle can be seen browsing upon a hundred hills.
