

The Blunt Edge

By LELAND BOYD

Even the best laid plans of men and mice go astray, so said Burns or Shakespeare. And they said it before the Fourth of July Celebration even started in Bovina or anywhere.

But the literature was fairly modern for Friday night's occasion, the Lions Fourth of July Community Celebration and Picnic. It described what happened.

Of all the beautiful plans for baseball, volleyball, pony rides, dunking board, rolling pin throw, turtle race, bubble contest, sack race, free lemonade, most of the events didn't even get started.

One event that the rain didn't stop was the firemen's water polo, and the fire truck rides for the youngsters.

There were not a lot of spectators at the water polo, but that didn't detract from the enthusiasm of the contestants. Dub Mayhew, though reputed to be a professional polo player, took a-hold of the squirting end of a hose, and showed the amateurish other fire boys how it was done. He and Pat Kunselman won about four matches straight before Dub said he was tckered out.

It was a fine show, and this event was about the only one that rain didn't postpone.

But there was plenty of water at that event without the rain.

The sad effect of the rain was that Gene Ezell didn't get to sing his "Sugartime" at 10 p. m., which C. R. Brandon had announced to be the last part of the musical program. And so there never was occasion to mix the free lemonade, Ezell says, even though there was plenty of the mixings.

RALPH IS THE MAN

Ralph Yarborough should be familiar to readers of the Bovina Blade. In times past he has been plugged and boosted in columns of the Blade, and as long as he will continue doing something for Texas and the people of Texas, he can have a few more plugs.

Not many weeks ago we mentioned the fact that most of the mail we got was from Yarborough, Lyndon Johnson, and a few of the other boys that get to send mail free.

But of late we have been getting mail from a boy that apparently has plenty of money in his own account, or in the account of his campaign headquarters. We have received a "press packet" each week for the past three weeks offering seeds and seeds of "information" about Mr. Cowboy Bill Blakley. But the packet had none of the money in it.

The most of it I can not remember, but the most striking thing about this candidate who is opposing Senator Yarborough, is that he's got considerable stock in one big insurance company, at least practically owns a major air line, and once was a cowboy. Of course, he says he wants to own a seat in the U. S. Senate, though not in those words exactly.

I don't have anything at all against Blakley's candidacy, and he might make a good seat filler in the Senate. But there are a lot of differences between a good seat filler and a good senator.

A good senator for the people of Texas ought to be favorable toward the citizen on whom the load of supporting the state rests. That's the little businessman, the family type farmer, and the fellow who generally has the little bank account.

We believe that Yarborough comes a lot closer to filling these qualifications than the big man who was a cowboy, who now has a big bank account, and who has a few hangars of big airplanes to make a big dividend for the candidate of the big people.

Yarborough's record of introducing numerous bills, supporting others and being a senator for all of the people deserves a bit of commendation—not that all the things that he has introduced has been silver lined, or that he is the best senator that we have ever had does he deserve commendation, but he does deserve a plaudit because he has DONE SOMETHING.

No so for Blakley's record, while he filled the remainder of Price Daniel's term in office. A big city newspaper report citing the congressional record said that he did not even bother to vote on a majority of the issues of the house, and probably was absent from his seat about one-fourth of the days he was supposed to have been representing the voters of Texas. It would be fair to call a man with this kind of record a DO-NOTHING SENATOR.

I am inclined to vote for a man that will do something. You can be pretty certain that as long as Yarborough is entrusted with a public office that he will be doing something, and according to the record, it will be in the interests of Texas and Texans.

Mrs. Crawford's Father Is Ill

Mrs. Roy M. Crawford's father, H. A. Browning of Quinlan, suffered a heart attack two weeks ago Monday. Mrs. Crawford and the children left a few days later to be with her father during his illness.

Crawford reported Monday evening that he had received word from his wife that Browning was improving and was up and around for short periods of time. The local lady and the children will return home this weekend.

A week prior to Mrs. Crawford's trip to Quinlan, Roy's mother, Mrs. Willie Crawford, of Greenville spent a week with the local family.

Planning To Leave?

Don't Forget to Feed Cat

by Sally Whitesides

Pleasure or pain, headache or happiness. Either alternative is going to be the outcome of each vacation that passes this summer. Each family that takes a trip by car will face any number of problems, some of which are so simply eased that their solution has been overlooked.

Several people in Bovina were asked for suggestions as to ways of making trips by car more enjoyable. A number of these are listed in the following paragraphs.

To clean and freshen those sticky fingers during a long, hot ride, a damp wash cloth certainly comes in handy. To keep the cloth damp and handy, put it in a closed fruit jar or plastic bag. One word of warning, though, be sure that a small amount of air can circulate around the cloth, as it will soon sour if sealed tight.

Keep a paper and pencil handy to jot down towns to come; highway numbers and gas purchases. Even if you aren't making the trip on a tight budget, a notation about prices and gallons will satisfy that natural curiosity as to what the trip expenses amount to.

Long hours at the wheel aren't recommended, as wrecks are sometimes caused by such. But, if you do have to make the hours count, and do drive until you are sleepy, try rubbing a small piece of ice over your eyelids and the insides of your wrists. Very cooling and definitely refreshing. Also, it helps to wash out the eyes. To do this, take along a table-spoon, which takes the place of an eye-cup very nicely.

Keep your cosmetics handy. Nothing is more refreshing than a good cleansing of your face when mid-afternoon comes along. Use a good, light-textured cleansing cream, an astringent and a moisturized finishing cream. Light make-up also helps to boost your morale when the trip begins to get long.

On the subject of grooming, be sure you are well-acquainted with your hair-do and keep it simple unless you can handle it yourself. Another thing, don't wait until your set is completely shot before going to a strange hairdresser. If she hasn't seen it done the way you like it—don't expect her to create miracles.

Eating places are a problem to say the least. Even the best looking restaurants often serve lousy food. If in doubt, be cautious. For breakfast, try buttered toast, coffee and juice; you can always reorder. Dinner and supper both can be "made out" with an assortment of salads, and hot steak, pork or roast sandwiches, as you generally get meat, potatoes, bread and a small salad with this order.

Carry your "own" water as far as possible. Even the best tasting water just doesn't satisfy thirst if it's not what you're used to. If you do get ahold of some really foul tasting water, chill it until very cold—it won't taste nearly as bad.

May sound silly, but pillows sometimes feel as comfortable under your feet as they do your head. This is especially true when the heat of the motor turns the floorboard to an inferno and you'd give anything to get your feet off of it.

If you are taking your dog along, make sure to have some sort of leash to curtail his wanderlust. Snapped to the hand support between the car seats, the leash will also prevent his jumping out at every service station or other stop.

Also, most motels welcome family dogs that are kept in check and there's not a thing wrong with wrapping table scraps in a napkin for Perp's dinner. However, the small size cans of dog food are less messy and more convenient.

Another thing, if said dog wants to crawl under the front seat, by all means, let him. It's really cooler for him there than anywhere else as the front air vents throw the breeze down in that direction.

Above all things, remember a vacation should be primarily for a rest. Drive easy—convince Pop to take his foot out of the carburetor once in a while. Stop and see the country, even if it's much like our own terrain, there's always a new type of rock to find, a different species of bird to watch, or an inviting patch of grass to nap on while the other members of the family, are working off some excess energy.

Dress comfortably. This isn't saying to wear shorts or pedal pushers. Perhaps you aren't comfortable in these clothes and don't wish to be seen even by strangers in this attire. Mainly, if you feel at home in casual sports clothes, wear them. However, if you like the feel of a nice summer weight suit and even a hat, go ahead. Just remember, though, don't expect your family to enjoy similar clothes, and it's their vacation.

Blade To Have Vacation Society Editor Two Weeks

Society editor of the Bovina Blade for the next two issues will be Mrs. Leland Boyd, who is taking the place of Mrs. Sally Whitesides during the regular society editor's vacation.

Mrs. Boyd, wife of editor Leland Boyd, says that she is looking forward to taking over the tasks, and requests that persons with reports of meetings and social events cooperate with her in obtaining the information.

More Bootleggers Caught, Tried, Fined $100 Each

Another bootlegging case, the second in two weeks, was tried in county court at Farwell Saturday.

A Latin-American and an immigrant from Mexico, both Parmer County farm laborers, pled guilty as charged. They were each fined $100 and costs by Judge A. D. Smith.

Bernade Rodriguez Alonzo, 43, and Julian Hernandez Garza, 27, the immigrant, were apprehended by Ben Moorman, Friona police chief, Friday northwest of Bovina.

According to a report from the sheriff's department, the men were coming from Grady, N. M., where the sale of alcoholic beverages is legal.

They had in their possession five cases of beer in quart bottles and one case of 12-ounce cans.

Washing clothes is often a problem for mothers on extended trips. This can be solved in any number of ways. One is to stop every few days at motels where washing and drying facilities are offered. Another novel way that is said to work is this: Take each day's soiled clothes and place in closed container that will give them plenty of room to slosh around. Fill about three-fourths full of warm, soapy water, place in car trunk and allow to jostle around all day. Seems it works fine anywhere, but in mountains and other rough country, it does a splendid job.

In packing your clothes, be sure to count only one day's service from each clean blouse or dress. Shorts, pedal pushers or trousers will usually do for two days, but blouses will wrinkle fast. When packing, count up the times you will have to wash, then pack accordingly. And remember, when going east or south, clothes don't dry as they do here—it takes hours when we could dry them here in minutes.

A travel iron, a heavy turkish towel to iron on and clothes hangers are indispensable. Even if you have to iron and pack them back into suitcases, blouses and such will dry completely much quicker if hung in the air on a hanger overnight. Folded away, they have a tendency to sour.

Start weeks ahead of time preparing for the big day. Make a list of needed clothes and designate each article such as "red nylon dress" or "white open-toed shoes." This way, you can keep track of each item that will be needed and have it all ready ahead of time.

May sound funny to read this next suggestion when it's being written by the society editor of your paper—but don't give her the plans for your trip until you return. It is an open invitation to prowlers when they can read of your absence in the paper. Be sure to call her when you get home and give her all the details of the trip and then you and she can enjoy it together. Otherwise, she might feel she's to blame if something does happen while you are away.

So your vacation is almost over; you are on your way home; make that last day's journey very slowly and easily. Really relax. Better still, come home a day ahead of time. Those two nights in your own bed, complete with no alarm clock that last morning will really be worth it. And incidentally, Pop will feel at loose ends and is more likely to do a few of those little odd jobs you've been trying to get him to do all year.

On 40th Anniversary

Bovina Couple Honored Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Charles were honored with an open house and reception in their home Sunday afternoon from 3 to 6. The occasion was the celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Guests were served green floating punch and cake by Mrs. Mark Charles and Miss Harriette Lou Charles. The table was laid with white linen and the centerpiece was of white chrysanthemums and red carnations. Draped through the floral arrangement was a wide red ribbon with gold glitter script "40th Wedding Anniversary." The four-tiered cake was white with large red roses laced around each tier. The top tier was inscribed with "40th" and clustered around the writing were miniature white doves and silver leaves. Vari-colored mints were also served.

As the fortieth anniversary is celebrated with gifts of ruby, many of the gifts that were presented to the honorees carried out the red colors, as did the decorations throughout the home.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Vernon Estes, Mark Charles, Jimmie Charles, and H. J. Charles. Mrs. Estes is the daughter of the couple and the others are daughters-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles were married July 5, 1918 in Alva, Okla. Mrs. Charles, the former Nettie Morton, was teaching school in nearby Tangier, Okla., and was boarding in the home of Wilbur's parents. Wilbur was living at home and helping his parents on their farm.

In 1926, Wilbur came to Parmer County and "broke sod and made a crop" on the place now resided on by Howard Looney. In January of the next year, Nettie arrived and they lived there until 1938, when they moved to the farm site west and north of Bovina. In the early 1950's, the couple partially retired and moved to town. They built their home on

The Bovina City Commission Monday night in regular meeting okayed by resolution by the fire insurance commission toward lowering the key rate of the city.

Pointed out to Hammonds was a city commission resolution that the report of the fire department meetings be sent to the insurance commission, and a copy sent to the city commission.

Hammonds said that this would be taken care of.

Other matters which the commission discussed included adopting an ordinance making the sale of fireworks in the Bovina city limits illegal, and also shooting fireworks.

The commissioners decided to make the offense punishable by a fine of at least $50, but before adopting the ordinance, they decided to consult with an attorney on how to make the ordinance meet requirements to be legal.

John Wilson, employee of the water and sewer department of the city, and Henry Minter discussed with the commissioners the possibility of the commission giving some kind of law enforcement authority to Wilson, so he would not be out of order when he was helping Minter, part-time deputy sheriff.

The commission requested Minter to take the matter up with Charles Lovelace, Parmer County sheriff.

Paying bills for the month was also taken care of.

Ballots, Supplies Being Prepared For Bond Vote

Ballots and supplies for the election of the city water and sewer bonds in the amounts of $15,000 and $10,000 are being readied for July 17, the day when voters will decide whether this issue will become law for the city.

Persons who will be away during the election may contact City Clerk Henry Minter for application for an absentee ballot.

The issue is to obtain money for the extension and addition to the city water and sewer systems, mainly for another city water well and for increasing the size of the water mains to meters on the northwest side of Highway 60.

More funds to extend the city's sewer lines to serve other residences and businesses is also to come from the bond election.

Although the election is for the issuance of the bonds and the levy of a tax in repayment of the bonds, the city commissioners have stated that at the present time, revenue from the water and sewer department would meet the payments, and that taxes would not be increased.

Here for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Macon are their niece and family, Mrs. Amy Jane Mason and children of Peru, Ind. The guests plan an extended visit here.

When asked for their recipe for happiness, Wilbur gave first and foremost their interest in the church. He reports that, unless it was an absolute necessity, and he calls serious illness and tragedy those sort of necessities, they have never missed morning and evening services at the church of their choice, which is the local Methodist Church.

He also says that having plenty of work to keep idle hands busy is very encouraging for a marriage and, too, the busy hands still a busy tongue. That, too, is helpful toward a genial companionship, such as he and Mrs. Charles have enjoyed throughout their forty years together.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the open house were Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Anderson and granddaughter, Terry Edwards of Farwell; Mrs. U. A. Nixon of Clovis; Rev. and Mrs. R. Luther Kirk of Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Quickel of Farwell.

Local friends and relatives signing the guest book included Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Charles and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Estes and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rhinehart, Mrs. Lady Armstrong, Leland Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Wil-

School Tax Board Meets

The hearing of the Bovina School district's tax equalization board was held Tuesday and with business still to be attended to, the hearing was continued today, it is reported.

The board was composed of Tom Caldwell, Wilbur Charles and Durward Bell.

Mrs. J. F. Foster of Farwell was released from Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona Tuesday of last week. She had been confined to the hospital about a week. She is now staying with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom, in Bovina for a week or so.

MR. AND MRS. WILBUR CHARLES

Rhinehart-Martin Vows Are Read Saturday Evening

Saturday afternoon before an altar of ivy and ferns, Miss Sandra Rhinehart became the bride of Dick Martin. The wedding took place in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Bovina and Rev. Jack Jeter, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. A. M. Martin, all of Bovina. The altar decorations featured an ivy covered archway, flanked by clusters of fern and greenery. Baskets of gladiolus stood on each side of the arch. Twin candelabras of white candles lent soft lighting to the scene. The couple knelt on a crushed satin rest.

sang "The Wedding Prayer." The maid of honor, Miss Sandra Martin, sister of the bridegroom and the bridesmaid, Miss Kay Leake, wore identical ensembles. Their dresses of pale orchid nylon eyelet over deeper orchid cotton satin, were street length. They featured fitted bodices with low, scoop necklines, trimmed with a nylon drape around the shoulders. The full gathered skirts fell from narrow waistbands and each was complemented with a white picture hat. They carried nosegays of white carnations tied with orchid streamers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rhinehart chose a dress of navy blue linen, with a short navy and white checked jacket of the same material. She wore white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Martin wore a white nylon crepe dress, softly printed with shades of green and black. Her accessories were white and black and she wore a white carnation corsage.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a beige colored suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was the center of the wedding bouquet. The couple plans to return the middle of this week and will make their home at 1006 Lipscomb Street in Amarillo. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Bovina High School and has held a number of offices throughout her high school career. He is now employed in the accounting department of the First National Bank of Amarillo.

Dorcas Circle Meets In Lloyd Battey Home

Members of the Dorcas Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lloyd C. Battey for a regular monthly meeting. Nine members and two guests were present.

Members gathered shortly before noon and had a salad luncheon. Mrs. Battey served iced tea and a dessert of chocolate cake and ice cream, topped with fresh strawberries.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Earl Richards, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. John Wilson led the group in the opening prayer and Mrs. I. W. Quickel gave the first part of the lesson. The topic was "Jesus and the Twelve Approach Jerusalem." Mrs. Richards gave the second part of the lesson, which was the concluding chapters of the book, "Christ, the Church and Race." Following the lesson, Mrs. Wilson read the minutes of the last meeting and the nominating committee gave their report.

Names submitted by them for circle officers for the coming year were read and voted on. Mrs. Richards was re-elected president; Mrs. Quickel, vice-president; Mrs. Mabel Newberry, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Pat Kunselman, reporter.

Also in the business session, the members decided to purchase a pulpit lamp for the church and Rev. and Mrs. Davis Edens were asked to order the lamp of their choice. The two guests for the day, Mrs. H. J. Charles and Mrs. Edens, joined the circle.

The meeting was concluded with the members repeating circle benediction. The next meeting will be Wednesday, August 6, in the home of Mrs. L. C. Moore.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames E. D. Barron, Quickel, Newberry, J. T. Hopingardner, Frank Wilson, John Wilson, Warren Morton, L. C. Moore, the hostess and the two guests.

There Will Be No Warning

"But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father. Take ye heed, watch and pray; for ye know not when the time is." (Mk. 13:32-33)

THINGS SHALL BE DISSOLVED, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation (clean living) and godliness (God likeness)." (2 Peter 3:10-11) What awful seriousness and sober thinking should characterize the minds of the people. Yes, the coming justice of the Eternal and Almighty God that is rapidly coming in the future cannot be overlooked by any.

As the thief comes when all seems secure and takes away the spoils; so does the day of judgment come upon the world. Just as sure as each day comes into its own, just that sure does the Eternal God promise rewards. The apostle states, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Rom. 6:23) Each person will receive the just deserts of their living. A wage of eternal punishment (Matt. 25:46) for the wicked, a crown of life for the faithful Christian.

Truly, the grace of God is the gift of His Son to save us from the wrath of God IF we believe Christ is God's last effort to save the world and IF WE OBEY HIS (CHRIST'S) COMMANDMENTS. The writer states, "And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them THAT OBEY HIM." (Heb. 5:9) Again, "In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and they OBEY NOT THE GOSPEL of our Lord Jesus Christ." (2 Thess. 1:9)

Woe to the man or woman, boy or girl that expects to fill their life with the pleasures of sin expecting to have time before death to change their ungodly ways. James states, "Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter." (James 5:5) Like the pig that is fed the glutinous diet to prepare for the market and the slaughter pen; these also are glutinous and prepare themselves for the day of unwavering retribution and wrath of Almighty God. Yes, completely unable to believe that the Lord's judgment is closer than they think.

What constitutes obedience to Christ? We must believe Christ is God's Son (Heb. 11:6); we must repent (turn from wickedness—Acts 3:19); we must confess publicly the belief that Christ is the Son of God (Acts 8:37); we must be buried in the act of baptism for the washing away of past sins (Acts 22:16, Rom. 6:3-4). After this conversion from death to life, we must begin to add virtue, knowledge, temperance (self-control), patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, and love (2 Peter 1:5-9). This must be, lest we forget we have been purged and begin again the old life of sin and folly.

I believe the greatest nerve shaking passage found in Holy Writ is, "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. SEEING THEN ALL THESE

WEATHER BRINGS GOOD, BAD NEWS TO FARMERS

Parmer County area farmers, who have been among the most fortunate on the irrigated High Plains in recent years when it comes to getting a good break from the weather, have gotten several rounds of rough treatment within the past month.

Rains beginning last Thursday and continuing through Sunday over the weekend have been beneficial to almost everyone receiving them, but along with the rains have come some of the most severe hailstorms ever experienced by the farmers.

Hardest hit in the Friday afternoon onslaught of weather, which turned on nature's own brand of July 4th fireworks, were farmers in the extreme southwestern part of Parmer County and the northwestern part of Bailey County. A very severe hailstorm there laid low sorghum-type crops and stripped cotton plants three months ahead of schedule. A swath about five miles long and three miles wide was cut east-west south of Farwell.

The severity of that storm was matched three weeks previously east and north of Friona, where farmers on over 50 sections of land in the Black-Summerfield-Lakeview communities reeled from the sight of fields hailed flat.

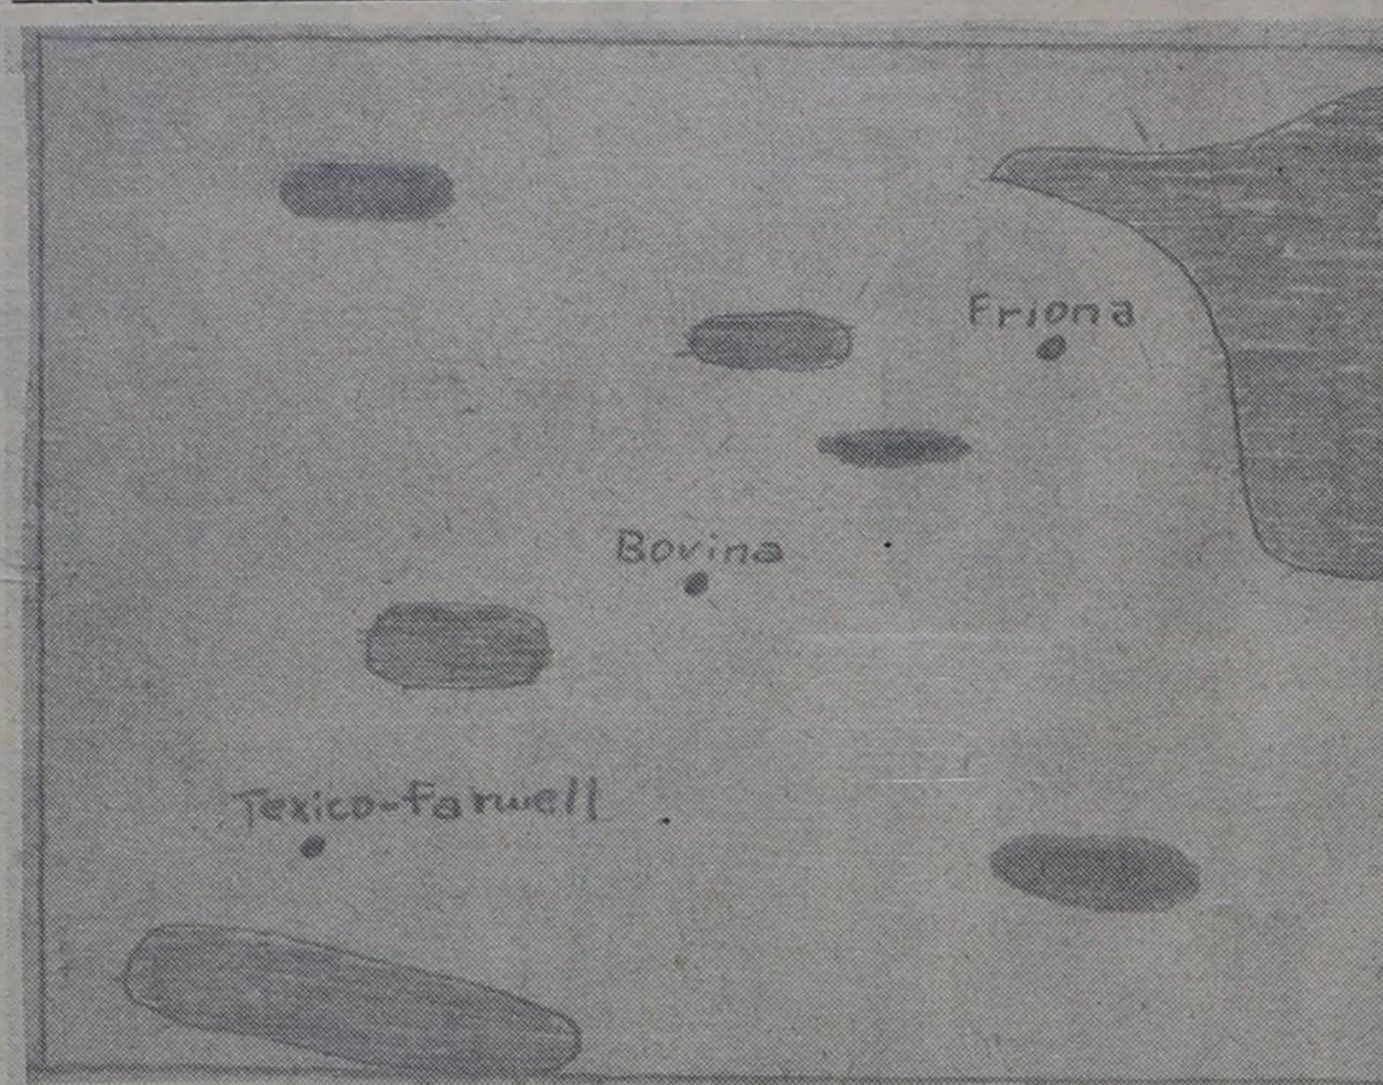

The afternoon of the 4th, storm heads hovered over other parts of the county, also, inflicting damage that was not widespread, but certainly locally severe. Keeping track of the strikes of the storm has posed a problem for Farm and Home. Almost every contact with farmers brings reports of additional areas that have received damage to a greater or lesser extent.

In cases where the cotton has felt the full brunt of the storm, the crop has been written off as a total loss. Cotton plants

«The High Plains Farm and Home»

Farm and Home makes no claims about the close accuracy of this map, but it does serve to illustrate how widespread moderate to severe hail damage has been this year. Some of the boundaries of areas indicated here may be too general; there may be some other spots that are missing from the map altogether. It is very difficult to piece together such a map from reports.

that are "stripped naked" on July 4th don't have time to rebound with foliage, squares, blooms, and bolls and give the fruit enough time to mature into quality cotton before frost. That would be too much to expect on the High Plains.

Damaged feed, on the other hand, may recover in time to make some grain, although its potentialities for significant production have been minimized considerably. Re-planting hailed-out cotton to sorghum crops is under consideration, but likely little of that catch-cropping will be done.

Ordinarily, even early maturing grain sorghums planted after July 4 do not have time to "make," and few farmers are interested in producing just bundles on irrigated farmland with its production costs.

Some are considering using some of the land thus vacated for specialty vegetable crops, but this will be a very insignificant acreage.

It is very difficult to accurately appraise the amount of damage that has resulted from the storms. Until harvests are complete and yields of hail-damaged fields can be compared with those untouched, not even a good guess is possible.

However, if the total Parmer County crop valuation is $25 million this year, the extent of the hail-hit areas suggests that it would not be too rash to conclude that the storms have represented a million-dollar loss to farmers within the past month. Perhaps the total would be even more.

Meanwhile, the moisture received from the violent weather has offset, or at least partially so, the adverse effects on crop. Rainfall has been very general, although the amounts received at local points have been variable.

Amounts reported range from about an inch in the "almost missed us" sections to over four inches in the storm centers. Averaged out, a figure of 1 1/2 inches for the typical farm would be approximately correct.

The rains have come at a timely moment. Both grain sorghum and cotton are at or near a stage where irrigations would be necessary. In fact, the dashing rains have cut silent several hundred wells that were already at work supplying the supplemental moisture necessary for maximum yields in this semi-arid region.

The wheat harvest was out of the way, so farmers welcomed the moisture practically across the board. In today's complex High Plains farming picture, it's unusual to find a time when almost everyone welcomes rain, but this could be considered one of those moments.

Crops are continuing to make good growth, and cotton appears to be ready to get a good fruit set. Were it not for the hail which has hurt a sizeable number of farmers now, crop prospects would still be considered the best since 1956—which was a record yield year for just about everything.

Elevator Goes To Hub

Parmer County elevators are a-building, and the newest one is to be at the Hub Community. Work is supposed to start this week on a 646,000-bushel unit south of the Fleming & Son Gin.

Woodrow Fleming of Friona made the announcement this week, which was a follow-up to several unofficial reports that an elevator was to be built there this year.

In business with Fleming will be W. E. Stringer of Vernon, Holland Metcalf of Chillicothe, and H. E. Wilson of Electra, all grainmen in the Red River area northeast of here.

Stringer, who has purchased a home and is moving to Friona, will be manager of the new elevator, which as yet has not been named.

The elevator will be composed of both flat and tank storage. An 80x240 steel flat-storage unit will be put up, plus four 21x56 steel cylindrical tanks to make the 646,000-bushel capacity.

Plans already call for an expansion of the first units to give the elevator a 1,000,000-bushel capacity later in the year. However, 646,000 bushels is all the men hope to get completed in time for grain sorghum harvest this year.

The elevator will be equipped with two dumps and a continuous-flow style grain dryer.

First to be constructed will be the 60-foot scales and office, and work was to begin on those units this week.

The last time they'd played ball they'd been the star player able to throw a fast or curve ball at will, able to catch a fly ball or grounder, and always quick enough to keep the opposition from stealing home. NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Rhea Farm Bureau had one of the best 4th of July get-together meetings they have ever had. One political candidate walked through a mile or two of mud to get there, they say.

Several Parmer County men are checking location of bindweed plots on State Highway rights-of-way the first part of this week. The accumulated information will be turned over to Lloyd Killough, of the department, who will see that these lots are treated, provided the farmer adjoining has treated his. Have you?

American Farm Bureau is opposing efforts being promoted to increase farmers social security benefits and taxes. The proposal being offered would require payment of 7 1/2 percent on up to $6,000 in 1975, or a payment, in addition to Federal Income Tax, of $427.50. As usual, there is also a provision for federal health "benefits" included in the proposal. Farm Bureau is continuing its opposition to proposals leading to socialized medicine, too.

We think the following subject is of vital interest to agricultural people: If anyone who reads this column has any leaning toward, or any sympathy whatever for Walter Reuther or the things he stands for regarding labor, agriculture or otherwise, we hope they will consider the last line of a letter he wrote to his brother while he (Walter) was attending a training school in Russia: "Carry on the fight for a Soviet America." He has never denied he wrote it. Yet he poses as a friend to American labor, agriculture and all other groups outside the big industrialists. Compare the plight of Russian labor and ag-

If any of you members happen to be in Waco on Tuesday, July 15, you are cordially invited to attend Open House in Texas Farm Bureau's new Headquarters, 401 Franklin Avenue. That's just across the street from where it has been. (There will be a move of Parmer County Farm Bureau's Headquarters within the next few months, too.)

Membership in PCFB, as of June 30, was 622. Have you paid your dues? Don't overlook filing for the three cents per gallon Federal Road Use Tax refund on Farm Used Fuels. Farm Bureau made this possible.

CONSIDER THIS: As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country. Proverbs 25:25

Tests indicate that laying hens perform best when the temperature ranges from 45 to 85 degrees F. Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, says poultrymen should make sure their laying houses are properly ventilated and that the supply of drinking water is adequate to meet hot weather needs. Too, when temperatures are around the 100 degree mark a fogging or sprinkler system installed in the laying house will pay dividends.

The best thing that parents can spend on their children is time, not money.

Big Question Mark by Spuds

Parmer County area potato growers, after a so-so year in 1957, are holding their breath this week, as first diggings get underway.

The biggest concentration of spuds is around Friona, where 600 acres are reaching maturity. John O'Haugherty, salesman at Friona Growers and Shippers, who keeps an eye on the all-important markets, is playing a cautious role.

"It looks like there's going to be lots of potatoes this year," he says, "and we just can't tell what it will do to the market."

He says his attitude can be summed up this way: "If I was guessing, I'd be afraid to guess."

About the only thing that O'Haugherty can be coaxed to say is that he feels that this year will be some better than last year.

Last season, High Plains potatoes sold for about $2.25 a hundred. That was a price far less than disaster standards, but it is usually felt to be too low from the producers' standpoint.

"$2.50 is a pretty good price," the salesman says, "and anything above that is a good price."

On the production side of the potato deal this year, Kenneth Neill of the shed says that it looks as if tonnage may be down, although it won't be easy to tell until digging actually gets started.

He is basing this idea on the relatively unfavorable season that growers have had. A slightly later start, a cold, wet spring, and some rough weather on mature vines in the late part of the season, have all had an adverse effect on production.

The big storm, filled with hail, that visited the eastern part of the county four weeks ago landed astraddle of the potato growing section. "About half of our 600 acres was damaged by hail," says Neill.

Digging was scheduled to begin this week. Some last-minute changes are being made at the shed, where handling procedure and equipment is being changed because of a large expansion program.

Potatoes and carrots were handled out of one shed last year. This year, the carrot equipment has been moved to a new building and the spud processing will be in a building by itself also.

Hand embroidery on the scarf and bag Kirsti Gunther, center, is showing Gale Hadley, left, and Lou Ann Hadley, right, was done by her aunt. The items are part of the native costume she brought with her from Norway on a visit sponsored by the International Farm Youth Exchange. She will leave Friday after spending the past two weeks with the John Hadley family southwest of Texico. A gray blouse, a long black skirt with similar embroidery, and a green vest laced together with a tiny metal chain complete Kirsti's costume.

speaks better English than we do."

Parents of five children, the Hadleys were surprised when Kirsti more than once expressed a preference for staying home rather than going out. "Evidently they stay at home much more than we do," says Hadley.

"We have movies, dances, and parties," says Kirsti, "but, of course, we don't drive." She rode a bicycle 10 miles to and from school each day.

Singing and playing the piano with the Hadley youngsters has been a favorite pastime of the visitor. She was already familiar with Elvis and also "Sugar-time." Music is much the same as in her country except that church music is more formal and hymns used in our services are heard only in religious meetings outside the church.

In addition to participating in the family's activities, Kirsti will give an illustrated talk on Norway at the Texico Farm Bureau meeting tonight (Thursday) and she spoke to an education class at Eastern New Mexico University Tuesday night and also on her agenda was a trip to Carlsbad Caverns Wednesday.

Kirsti has been impressed by the hospitality of the United States. "I don't think you will find that in any other country," she smiles, "People are very friendly and more informal."

Her poise, ability to discuss anything from farming to education to popular music, the merry twinkle in her blue eyes, and her ready smile make Kirsti an able ambassador for her country.

Upon her return she will share her experiences with Norwegian youth groups, rural organizations and civic clubs in an effort to further the IFYE objective of promoting world peace through understanding people. Through giving farm youth an opportunity to learn another way of life by living it, the project helps rural young people to understand the problems and attitudes of rural young people in other countries.

Farm Bureau Plans New Location

Farmer County Farm Bureau offices, now in the Galloway Implement Company Building in Friona, will soon be moved to new quarters, announces Gilbert Kaltwasser, president, this week.

The move will be made to accommodate an expansion into the present quarters by another Friona business. Details of a plan are being worked out to have Elmer Euler construct a 25x60 building a block north of the present location, and lease one-half of it to the Farm Bureau.

About 180 square feet of the Galloway Building is being used by the farm organization now. Space will be increased to about 300 square feet in the new location.

One expanded service that Farm Bureau is contemplating when moving into more adequate quarters is developing their participation in the Plains "cotton pool" which often enables farmers to sell certain grades at better prices.

Rodeo Is New Experience

by Laurie Cooper

"We have horse races and sulky races but nothing like a rodeo," smiled Kirsti Gunther of Norway when asked for her impressions of the annual July 4 rodeo at Elida.

She was astounded at the wheat yields that were considered good in this area. Average is 90 bushels per acre in her fertile home land.

She was astounded at the wheat yields that were considered good in this area. Average is 90 bushels per acre in her fertile home land.

Methods and machinery used on Norwegian farms are comparable to many of the same brands—those used here and their costs are about the same.

Kirsti was graduated from what they call high school just before coming to the U. S. It is equivalent to three years of college in our school system. She has studied English for seven years. It is a required course and so are French and German. Only a slight hesitation before words of several syllables can be noted in her speech.

Mrs. Hadley says, "She will be up Friday and she will go to Colfax County in northwestern New Mexico before going to Illinois. New Mexico is very different from the southern part of Norway where Kirsti lives. "We have mountains and trees. But I like it here," she hastened to add. Kirsti's family lives on a farm of about 100 acres near Halden.

The 19-year-old has been a member of 4-H clubs for five years. She is a junior leader and vegetable growing has been her major project. Norwegian clubs offer projects in the same areas as in the United States, but not so many are available.

Safe tires are important to your driving. Safe tires can mean the difference between an accident or an uneventful trip.

You can be certain of the above facts. But the majority of today's drivers are not aware that they can have the safety of new tires without having to pay out a hunk of cash every 25,000 or 30,000 miles.

The facts are that you can have safe tires for half the price and still drive about the same amount of mileage. Retreaded carcasses is the way to have safe tires without excessive cost.

H&R Tire Service of Clovis, N. M., puts new treads on sound carcasses with about the same method used to build new tires. All details of retreading are carefully checked. You can have your own sound tire carcasses re-capped, save money, and at the same time have perfectly safe tires.

You are invited to get further details by calling at their tire service store, at 300 E. 1st St., Clovis, N. M.

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

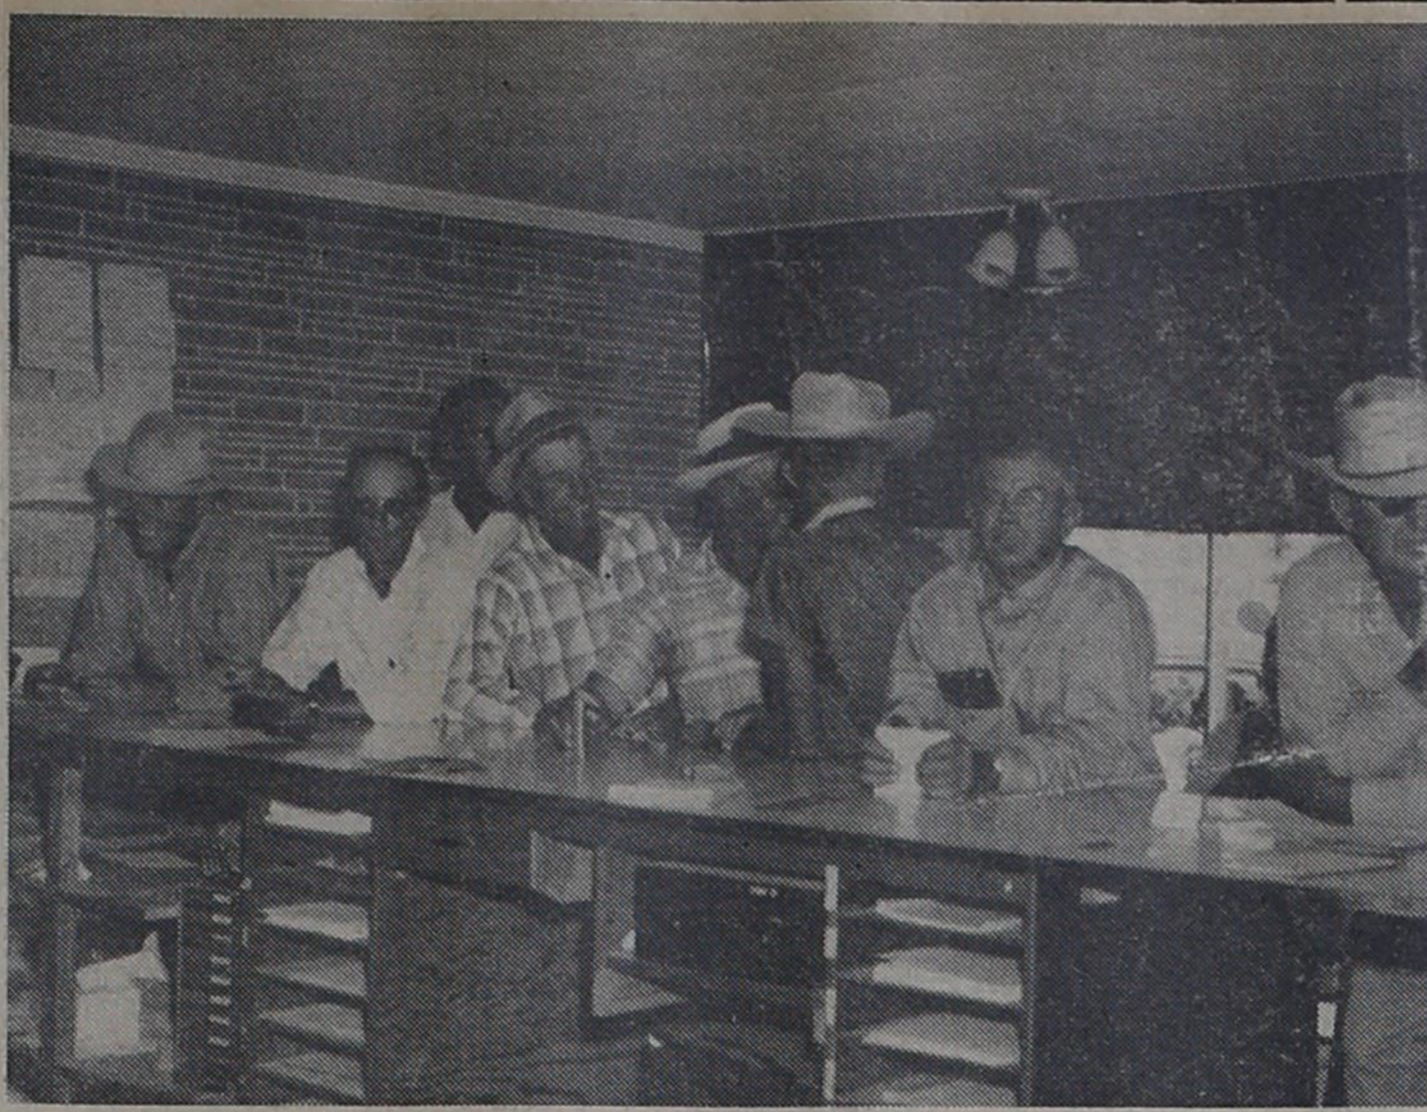

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of columns written by Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott from Ft. Collins, Colo., where she took two extension courses.)

By the time this comes out in the paper, I'll be back in Parmer County. Everything is over except one class at 11. Since we have the 4th of July for a holiday, Mrs. Janie Fletcher and I are coming home the long way. We plan to go through the Rocky Mountain National Park and spend the night at Grand Lake. Then we plan to go to Leadville and on home.

In the family financial management class we have been giving committee reports. The whole class was divided into eight groups and each group went through the process of making a family spending plan for a specific family. These families had incomes from $900 a year to $8700.

Each family situation was a little different and each committee represented 6 to 8 states, so we really had some stormy sessions in the committee meetings. It was hard for a Kentucky agent to realize how a large irrigation farm operates. I was lucky enough to work on a committee whose family was from the irrigated section in Washington. Their situation was much the same as Parmer County's except that their irrigation water does not cost quite as much as it does here. This has been really informative and enjoyable.

In rural recreation class we have had a field day. On Tuesday we toured the Colorado State 4-H Camp on Cameron Pass. They have converted an old CCC camp into a very nice 4-H camp. There are 26 counties in northern Colorado who use the camp during June and July.

Do you realize how important recreation is to your community? That is what we have been learning.

1. Recreation contributes to human happiness.
2. Recreation is vital to physical health.
3. Recreation is mental health insurance. (One half of our hospital beds are filled with mental patients.)
4. Recreation counteracts delinquency and crime.
5. Recreation areas are safety zones.
6. Recreation facilities enhance property values.
7. Municipal recreation attracts desirable industries.

All of these are the responsibility of the community. Did you know that each community needs one acre of playground or parks for each 100 persons? Parmer County falls short on this item, doesn't it? I could keep writing but will stop and go to class.

ingredients.

- CINNAMON SNAPS
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 3 tablespoons boiling water
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1 tablespoon cold water
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 - 1 cup flour
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup flour

Mix brown sugar and boiling water. Place over low flame and bring slowly to a boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Cream granulated sugar and shortening, add brown sugar syrup and dissolved soda, and beat well. Mix cinnamon, ginger and salt with 1 cup of flour and sift twice. Add to creamed mixture and blend thoroughly. Then work in 1 cup additional flour to make a stiff dough. Chill, roll thin, cut into shapes and place on buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven. If desired, these may be iced.

If you want a seven-minute icing that is different, try this recipe made with powdered sugar. Stir together 3 tablespoons hot water and 1 cup powdered sugar, then boil in a covered pan until the sugar is dissolved. Place in a small mixing bowl 1 unbeaten egg white, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, and 1/8 teaspoon salt. Add the hot syrup. Beat these ingredients at high speed until the icing is the right consistency to spread (from 3 to 4 minutes). Add 1 teaspoon vanilla while beating. Sufficient for the tops of two 9-inch layers.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A lot of garden produce is beginning to reach the proper stage for serving fresh and for canning and freezing. Anyone who is using instructions more than one year old should check with the home demonstration agent for the latest information on these two subjects.

Several new methods have been proven and are being recommended by authorities on the subject of proper food preservation. Another item which homemakers should not overlook at this time of year is the preservation of fruit. Fresh fruit will be available in large quantities at a reduced price at different times during the coming months.

If you are a new homemaker and have never tried making jellies, jams, and preserves, you have a wonderful opportunity awaiting you. It is not necessary to trust to luck when you begin the job. By adding prepared pectin you not only get a better turn out but you can easily make the desired product simply by following the instructions on the label.

Next time you want to make cookies for a party or picnic, try the following recipe. The cookies are very delicious and can be served plain or iced to suit the occasion. The recipe yields about fifty two inch cookies but if more are desired it is better to make two recipes than to double the in-
