BLACK JACK.

Local Happenings of Interest as Reported by The Sentinel's Special Correspondent.

Attoyac, June 1st.—Death visited the home of Mr. Tom Green Saturday at noon, robbing him of his bosom companion. Mr. Green has the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of his wife. Her remains were laid at rest in the Black Jack cemetery this afternoon.

Boy Stephens received word Thursday that his mother was sick and left for Jacksonville that day. Hope he found her improving.

Those black mustache set Prof. Bud Layton off Saturday night at the supper. There is too much shade for a natural growth, hence the imported variety.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murray of Idaho Springs, Colorado, are now at the home of Mrs. Murray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pleasant, near here. Mr. Murray will very likely locate in East Texas.

Mr. Jim Durrett and sister, Miss Veada, were among the guests from Chireno Saturday night at the supper.

Several parties from San Augustine county attended the ice cream supper Saturday night.

Jerry Crisp was on the sick list a few days last week.

There will be a tournament some time in July to take place in an old field in the bottom beyond the Pack's bridge crossing. One thousand pigeons have been ordered. Black Jack will put up stakes on her shooters. Notice will be given in due time for all who want to attend.

The ice cream supper last night was a grand success, not only financially but in the best of order. Fifty odd dollars were taken in and everybody seemed to enjoy the occasion hugely. There was a fine cake put up for sale to be given to the young lady who received the most votes for being "the prettiest girl in the house." The cake brought $17.50, Miss Erma Harper taking off the prize. The cake was cooked and decorated by that mistress of the culinary art, Miss Bettie Layton. There never was a better behaved crowd of people ever gathered at any place than there was at the school house last night. The music was just splendid. The supper was so well enjoyed that a repetition of it will be asked for ere the summer days have flown.

The building committee met Saturday night and swelled their building fund fifty odd dollars. The committee is composed of ladies, assisted by their liege lords, who rejoice in the perseverance of the "wimmin" folks. The committee now has about $75 or $80 and will raise that amount by a duplication of those mostly interested in church matters. Mr. John Martin has a good saw mill and he will give the young men and old ones too, a job cutting stocks on shares this summer for enough lumber to build the church. So the lumber matter will soon be settled.

Dissolution Notice

The firm of Brown & Ferguson is dissolved by mutual consent Emery G. (Henry) Brown having bought Mr. Ferguson's interest. All accounts due the firm are payable to Emery G. Brown, successor to the firm.

Mr. Davis, who sold the new machinery for the Nacogdoches Light plant, was here Friday and gave the plant a thorough inspection and test. He pronounces it one of the best arranged plants in Texas. This is a deserved compliment to Mr. Hubbard, who installed the machinery. It settles the question as to Mr. Hubbard's knowledge of the business in all its details.

COMPLIMENTS THE KARNIVAL.

Even Ahead of the Great Cuban Independence Celebration.

Melrose, June 3rd. The great celebration came off at Havana May 20th. The United States redeemed her promise to the world, and Havana and Santiago de Cuba were evacuated by American troops and the reins of power were handed over to President Palmer, causing the whole island to be delirious with joy. The city seemed buried beneath a forest of waving banners; flags were hoisted, grand arches were erected at the entrances, hunting decorations spread everywhere, and the city arrayed like a queen to await the coming of her lord.

Just think of our own great town of Nacogdoches coming up with Havana in the decorations at the Karnival, and excelled in one respect for the queen in her beauty was on the throne with the king, which made it complete. In all the circumstances and realities of life, man is incomplete without woman, so we think Nacogdoches ahead of Havana.

We all went to the Karnival and feel repaid on sight-seeing for our trip. The behavior and pleasant social manners of the great throng of people on that day cannot be surpassed and will long be remembered by every one.

With all compliments to the ones deserving, we must add the newspaper men who worked so faithfully.

Everything is quiet in this little burg. No news of interest, except the faithful farmers are working hard to make a living for those they love.

Dr. H. A. Hardeman, wife and babies, Bro. Burk and family have gone to Alders mill pond to try their new boat today.

There will be another party of us going out to Oil City Saturday to spend the day.

May the blessings of God follow us everywhere.

Arm Broken.

This morning about half past seven o'clock Gerrett Rulls and several other little boys were riding on J. H. Thomas' delivery wagon. As the wagon stopped in front of Mr. Rulls' house, Gerrett started to jump out, his foot caught in the trace as he stepped on the shaft and he fell heavily to the ground breaking both bones of his left arm about half way between wrist and elbow. Mr. Thomas drove to town and sent the doctor quickly as possible and the little fellow is now resting easily.

Mrs. J. P. Heath wife of the manager of the Plaza Hotel is dangerously ill.

BETTER AND BETTER.

Nacogdoches Tomatoes Class High and Bring Best Price.

Another car of tomatoes were loaded at the depot this morning and were bid on by three buyers who were present. They were classed as strictly fancy and all present admitted that they had never seen a prettier car of tomatoes leave Texas. They were sold to C. D. Hale buyer for M. O. Scoggin & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., at $1.10 per crate, netting $1,000 for the car. Mr. Hale will make Nacogdoches headquarters during the shipping season and has promised the growers the highest market price for their entire crop.

Another car will be loaded this evening and will be ready to ship out tonight.

From Linn Flat.

May 31. We had the sweetest singing of the season last Sunday at Pine Grove assisted by Messrs. McNeil and Milstead, two of the noted singers of our country.

Several of the young folks are going to attend the Harp convention at Union Springs tomorrow. They are going to hear the old folks. They had their day last Sunday.

Miss Lena Paine will teach a music class at Oak Flat. We are quite sure the people over there will be well pleased with her.

There will be lots of fruit and vegetable grown in our neighborhood in future years as there has already been several hundred trees ordered for fall planting, and the people are kinder catching on to the diversification of crops.

There will be another game of ball between our team and Oak Flat June 7th. The boys seem not to be satisfied with the way the game stood last Saturday.

W. L. Paine will be done with his right of way contract in a day or two, and will be ready for something else.

From Flower Mountain.

June 1.—Dad's corn is silking, and some of it is in roasting ear. Some of the oldest men on the Mountain say crops are as fine as they ever saw. But we need a good rain very badly.

The singing convention at Pine Grove last Sunday was a complete success, but you could not expect anything else under the management of Mr. Henry Greshaw.

Barn Burned.

R. F. White will do better than ever, his barn being six miles from town, had the misfortune to have his barn destroyed by fire Monday morning. The barn contained about three hundred bushels of corn, as well as a number of articles of machinery that were very valuable. The loss will amount to more than six hundred dollars. Mr. White has no idea how the fire originated.

C. A. Hodges received a telegram last night from Mrs. W. L. Russell formerly Mrs. Sol Dorman, stating that her husband was dying at Willis, where they have been living several months. Mr. Russell has been sick several months and they moved from here in hopes of benefiting his health.

Eucaline is the great winner.

A Cat Story.

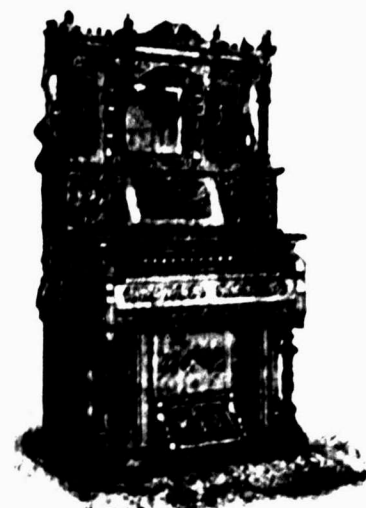

Jackson Parrott was in town today with a load of fish. He says the river is falling fast. Mr. Parrott tells a remarkable cat story. He says several days ago a stray cat came to his place and got frightened at something a snake, he thought and climbed a very tall tree to the very top, at least 100 feet from the ground, where it stayed and meowed incessantly for three days, and on yesterday morning fell to the ground perfectly dead and still.

THE EAST TEXAS TOMATO CROP.

The following information upon the East Texas tomato crop is given by Mr. C. A. Hotchkiss, chairman of the executive committee, and H. L. Hodges, president of the East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers' Association. This information is given officially in answer to a published statement in the Kansas City Packager over the signatures of J. E. McKnight and C. D. Jarratt that there is an overwhelming crop and that the available shipping facilities would not be adequate for transporting the crop to market:

ED. SENTINEL:

The undersigned, referring to a letter supposed to have been dictated by one J. M. McKnight, representing C. D. Jarratt, of Dialville, Texas. Perhaps he has referred to the status of the crop two weeks ago. The crop of tomatoes at that time and at the present is two different propositions. We desire to say for the benefit of the many people who are interested in the tomato crop that the above statement is certainly out of all question incorrect, through some information obtained by the author of the above article referred to. We have, between us, just returned last night from an exhaustive and thorough investigation of the tomato crop as we find it today.

We have visited the Trans-Continental Railroad; the Cotton Belt from Texarkana to Lutkin, also from Tyler to Corsicana; the T. & N. O. from Kauffman to Jacksonville; the I. & G. N. from Longview to Walker county, also as far west as Franklin, Robison county and from Mineola to Jacksonville. We are also in receipt of reliable information from some of the associations on the H. E. & W. T. Railroad and we do not hesitate to say that the tomato crop in Eastern Texas is cut short fully 50 per cent. The cause of this trouble is both worms and blight.

We also desire to call your attention to an article published in your valuable paper under date of May 24th, signed A. H. Thompson, Henderson, Texas; also another article from Lutkin, Texas, May 20th, some being published in your paper and signed C. A. Ricks. Many other such reports having come into the executive committee of the East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers Association, therefore we do not hesitate to send out this report that all foreign markets may be better informed as to the true situation of the tomato crop in Eastern Texas. We will furthermore state, that from all information that we have been able to obtain, the potato crop is considerably over estimated. These incorrect estimates, made by the different small associations and railroad and refrigerator companies are working a hardship upon the growers of East Texas.

and placing them in a false light with the commission merchants, who are expecting enormous shipments from East Texas, whereas, at present, with the increased acreage, will not be any greater than last season.

By comparing the estimates of the potato crop of Texas with the above estimates of the above companies and the actual shipments, the state will not ship over 1-4 of the estimates and the tomato crop is virtually in the same condition as the potato crop. Our potato market in the north was ruined by these incorrect statements and the potato growers have suffered a great loss on account of it. Parties who have heretofore rushed into print in regard to the estimates of these crops are not in a position to give an estimate, not being thoroughly posted.

We desire to place this situation properly before the markets in the north as we do not wish our crop to be butchered by unreliable reports.

We anticipate no trouble in securing cars and refrigerating service in handling the crop of East Texas. Thorough arrangements have already been made and with our distributing agents in the north, we think that the crops will be so distributed that there will be no chance for congestion at any point. We will be glad to furnish you with these reports weekly and as we have reports from 50 different associations each week and can give it to you correctly and can be relied upon as truthful and correct.

Yours truly,

H. L. HODGES,
Pres. E. T. F. & T. G. Ass'n.

The Houston Game.

Houston went wild over the ball game played there yesterday by Nacogdoches vs. Houston. It was the prettiest game ever played in that city and was finished in one hour and thirteen minutes, which broke the record. Houston made three runs in the first inning. When Partin seeing that he was not pitching in his usual form, put Wilson in the box. After that not a run was made on either side, the score standing 3 to 0.

Wilson deserves great credit for the game he pitched; Houston did not get a safe hit off him.

A number of Nacogdoches boys went down with the home team, and all say Houston was pleased with the game our boys put up.

THE KARNIVAL BALL.

The Grandest Affair Ever Pulled Off In Nacogdoches.

The Karnival Ball could not help being a success in the hands of those who had charge of it, and in every respect it was the most satisfactory entertainment ever given by public enterprise in Nacogdoches.

The Sanders building is the largest in the city and the decorations in bunting in karnival colors, transformed the large room into a Queen's Reception Hall. The music stand was in the center of the floor, where the Trib band from Lutkin played the latest dance music so skillfully that the result was almost that of the magic violin in the fairy story—that one had to dance whether he wanted to or not, impelled by the magic power of the music.

At one end of the long hall was a raised dais, four steps leading to the stand on which the Queen's throne was placed. All this was snowy white, looking as though carved in the electric light. The guests arrived by hundreds. About ten o'clock the band struck up the grand march and through the great doors entered the King and Queen, closely masked; stately and graceful they made the round of the hall. The Queen was robed in pink satin with a court train of velvet. The king wearing the royal robes of the cavalier times of England. His suit was pale fawn colored silk velvet combined with pink silk and heavily embroidered in jewels. A short cloak lined with pink and his dark, silken curls completed his costume, and royal was their appearance as they as they ascended the steps to the throne. The Queen's train was held up by two attendants in white, little Florence and Ingraham Smith. When the King and Queen were seated with the pages taking their places on each side of the throne, the attendant princes, each in turn led the maids of honor to the foot of the throne, where the ladies made a courtesy, and the princes, cap in hand, bowed till the plumed caps swept the floor and their handsome curling locks hid their princely faces; then each escorted his fair lady to a position on the step to the right of the royal couple, taking a corresponding position on the left, till when all four had taken their places they were ranged on the four steps of the dais; on one side knightly, bravery, on the other, the loveliness that "when knighthood was in flower" inspired to deeds of daring—and does today, though the heroes no longer wear doublet and hose, plumed cap and waving curls. Then, amid a breathless pause, the masks of the King and Queen were lifted and revealed, Mr. J. G. Smith and Mrs. B. S. Wettermark. When the applause had died away the K. K. Ball was formally opened. The four Maids of Honor who were Misses Mamie and Rosine Shindler, Fay Hayter and Jennie Bowers, wore white organdie over tulle. The prince costumes were made alike of velvet, heavily embroidered with short cloaks. Peyton Ingraham wore scarlet and white; Eugene Blount royal purple; Ralph Bateman dark green and pale pink, and Oscar Matthews pale blue and silver.

Many handsome costumes were seen on the dancing floor, but among the hundreds present space forbids any particular mention. A great number of guests from other cities were present. Among them Mrs. Gallaher, Mrs. Cox and Miss Hume, of Houston, who came in the car Nacogdoches; Mrs. Frost and Mrs. William C. Drew, of Houston, guests of Mrs. B. S. Wettermark; Mr. Eli Weiner, of Kelty's; and Mrs. Abram, her daughter, Flora, and son, Max, of Lutkin, all guests of Mr. L. Zeve; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Blanchette, Miss Melia Blanchette, Miss Marguerite Raye and Miss Grace Dutton, of Beaumont; Miss Mabel Walton and Miss Stella Foster, of Timpson, guests of Miss Martha Ingraham, Mrs. W. G. Todd, of Timpson, the guest of Mrs. John Garrison; Mr. McNeil Chapman, of Huntington and Mrs. Emmett Lynch, of San Augustine, who were visiting Mrs. E. A. Blount.

These are only a few of those who attended the Karnival Ball from other cities, as fully one-half of those present were visitors. The supper was served charmingly. The electric fans all through the building kept the temperature pleasant, and all who attended the Karnival Ball of 1902, unite in thinking it one of the most successful features of the successful Karnival of Commerce.

Old Fiddlers Contest.

The old fiddlers contest at the opera house Friday night was not as great a success as it was a year ago. In point of finance it was a complete failure. The old fiddlers present acquitted themselves admirably and covered themselves with glory, but the lack of a good attendance took the "ginger" out of the entertainment. But we all had some fun anyway and the 8 fiddlers present have the thanks of the Karnival committee for assisting in entertaining a portion of the vast crowd that were in our midst. The program was opened by Judge Middlebrook, (who by the way is always equal to such occasions,) with a few appropriate and well timed remarks.

The contestants came forward in the following order:

- 1st. W. R. Baker.
- 2nd. Scrap Bruce.
- 3rd. Bill Clevenger.
- 4th. S. A. Daniel.
- 5th. J. A. Flores.
- 6th. J. E. Harrell.
- 7th. W. J. Headrick.
- 8th. S. P. Sherrill.

Each contestant played three pieces of his own selection.

The judges were J. H. Halton, sr., W. H. Crouch and Mrs. Jno. B. Nelson. The capital prize—$10 in cash, was awarded Mr. Baker. Each of the other fiddlers received $2.50 in cash. There seemed to be no disappointment nor dissatisfaction over the decision of the judges, and after the contest was over the old fiddlers went into a "committee of the whole" and had a fiddling good time till a late hour.

He makes special mention of the Big Arch on the square which was designed by Mr. D. Rulf, and thinks it would be a credit to any city, and was greatly appreciated by all who saw it.

Judge Ingraham Gives His Views on the School Situation.

I quote from the Plaindealer and SENTINEL of Saturday, the 5th, that the trustees of our educational corporation by a two-thirds vote may apply the property thereof to other purposes of education than those named in the original charter as provided in Art. 712, Revised Statutes of Texas. Is that correct? Art. 712 reads: "Any such corporation may by a vote of three-fourths of the directors or if the same is owned in shares of stock by a vote of three fourths of the stockholders change the location and name of the institution and transfer the effects to where removed or may apply the property thereof to other purposes than those named in the original charter filed with the Secretary of State." Nacogdoches University has no board of directors. It is not owned in shares of stock. It has no charter filed with the Secretary of State. It was not created under this general law of corporations. I quote again from same papers: "It was once the common law rule, as announced by Blackstone and other common law writers that on the dissolution of a corporation from any cause the trustees had no further control and the property reverted to the grantors. Under that rule the title to this property today would be vested in the city of Nacogdoches. But this rule has long since been abrogated. The rule now is that the legal title remains in the trustees with the power to dispose of the same and make proper disposition of the proceeds. Article 682, Revised Statutes of Texas, vests in the trustees of a dissolved corporation power to wind up the affairs of the corporation. Now let us take a look at Art. 682; it reads: "Art. 682. Upon the dissolution of any corporation already created by or under the laws of this state, unless a receiver is appointed by some court of competent authority, the president and directors or managers of the affairs of the corporation at the time of its dissolution by whatever name they may be known in law, shall be trustees of the creditors and stockholders of such corporation with full power to settle the affairs, collect the moneys and other property among the stockholders, after paying the debts due and owing by such corporation at the time of its dissolution as far as such money and property will enable them, and for this purpose may maintain or defend any judicial proceeding." A reading of this article convinces me that no such corporation as the Nacogdoches University was in the mind of the Legislature and is a provision of law that has no application to the matter I am interested in, that is, Washington square. The Nacogdoches University never had that land only for one purpose on earth and that was to use it for the "purpose of education and none other," a pure, naked legal trust.

Blackstone was born July

10th, 1723. His commentaries upon the common law, one of the finest productions in English literature, ought to be and I suppose is read by every lawyer, and in them he announces the doctrine that upon the dissolution of corporation its lands revert to the original grantors.

The general statutes of this State about corporations, according to my recollection, began about 1871. They were elaborated in 1874; in 1879 placed in the Revised Statutes, and are in those, of 1895, and yet while these statutes were being passed and amended as the years swept past, in 1877 the Supreme court of Texas announced the settled rule to be that upon the dissolution of a corporation "its real estate reverts back to the original grantor and his heirs." So from 1700 to 1877; from Blackstone to the Supreme court, we have the rule, and it will take something stronger than quotations from a general statute with which the Nacogdoches University had nothing to do, to change my view and I still think the title to Washington Square is in the City of Nacogdoches, and I see, "3rd. That the law requires a fee simple title to lands on which public school buildings are to be erected," and that Mr. Branch states the same thing in his remarks. I have believed this at all times and I note with regret that only a part of Washington Square is to be conveyed and would suggest that the entire grounds left as enclosed be conveyed by both the city and the trustees of the Nacogdoches University to District No. 3, thus settling all questions of title, and then that we procure some other lots while lands are cheap in the district, somewhere approximately convenient for all children in the four corners of said district. This district last year had something over $1,400,000 worth of property. I believe all the property in it to-day is worth $3,000,000, that there are living in it some $3,000 people and it is steadily increasing in population. Now, are you interested in this matter? Do you think it is a good investment? I mean good enough to put your own money in? Or do you think it only a good investment to put money of others in? I think it good enough to put my own in. We have got to have lots before we can have houses. This matter is the biggest thing for the future of Nacogdoches that has struck it yet. It may not bring you back money but its effect on the future generation living in Nacogdoches is incalculable. Lets raise the money now, get these lands, build the houses at once and keep Nacogdoches in front in educational matters. I think it will take $35,000 to do this and do it as it ought to be done. If the rest of the district will furnish $34,000 I will furnish the other at once, and we need not wait for the Legislature to meet, nor for anything else to meet, but do it ourselves and do it now. It will do more lasting good than the

Nacogdoches Grocery company, that raised $75,000 in a few days

With best wishes for the advancement of the educational interest of old Nacogdoches, I remain,

Respectfully,
GEO. F. INGRAHAM.

J. R. Hartgraves, the contractor, is in the city, and he, with the school board, laid off the site for the new building this morning. The building will be erected about the center of the 10-acre block, on a lovely site. A corner stone was ordered engraved, and the contractor suggests that the 24th of June would be a good time to lay the cornerstone. It will suit him; on this date, and will not interfere with the work.—Timpson Times.

Sure Cure

Any lack of iron in the blood shows in the face. Pallor is the sign. Pallor also means much more; it means a starved nervous system, a debilitated condition of the vital organs, poor circulation and impaired digestion. The nerves, the muscles, and all the organs of your body get their energy and all the materials for their repair from the blood. Pallor shows that all these are losing vitality. Not a day should be lost in restoring the richness and purity of the blood. Get iron—get it by taking the kind of iron your blood requires. The iron in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic is the perfect kind. It goes from your stomach directly into the blood without any change. An hour after you take it, it has become part of your blood and is doing good.

Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic

builds up the nerve and muscular tissue, aids your digestion, enables you to get the good of the food you eat, and makes you well from head to foot. It is a sure cure for all afflictions resulting from impure blood, such as scrofula, pimples, blotches, kidney disorders, rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, female weakness, etc. Endorsed by eminent physicians for nearly fifty years.

The following is one of thousands of similar testimonials we have received, convincing evidence that Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic does all that is claimed for it:

The Most Common Ailment.

More people suffer from rheumatism than from any other ailment. This is wholly unnecessary too, for a cure may be effected at a very small cost. G. W. Wescott, of Meadowdale, N. Y., says: "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for some time and it has caused me much suffering. I concluded to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm and am pleased to say that it has cured me." WALTON & HALTOM, Publishers

R. W. HALTOM, Editor.

If it does not rain pretty soon some of the fine crop prospects will be seriously interfered with, especially in the red lands of Nacogdoches county.

THE colored population is making great preparations for the "Juneteenth" celebration on the 19th inst. This will be the 37th anniversary of their emancipation.

THE Plaindealer promises to publish some contemptible stuff. It will be no departure from its old habit. It has always had a fondness for handling contemptible matter.

It was noticeable that there was less drunkenness and rowdiness than usual to be seen during the Karnival. Only one man was put in the calaboose during the entire three days.

THE Southwestern Telephone company have unloaded a car of telephone poles at the Nacogdoches depot and will proceed at once with the work of erecting a long distance line into Nacogdoches.

THE East Texas Press Association will be held in Lufkin on June 20th and 21st, inst. It is hoped all the quill drivers east of the Brazos river will be there to enjoy the splendid program that enterprising city will have arranged for their entertainment.

It seems that a cross between a democrat and a populist breeds independentism. In other words a paper edited by both democrats and populists develops into an independent sheet. Well, for our part, we would prefer the people knew where "we were at."

THE Timpson Lodge Knights of Pythias will give a Pythian picnic at the Attoyac bridge on the H. E. & W. T. railroad on the 5th. Nacogdoches Knights and Rathbone Sisters are invited generally. Brother Ford, of the Timpson Times, thinks "some of our Rathbone Sisters might do good by going."

THE agent for the Trawick town lots have sold twenty-two, and are receiving a great many inquiries. Several of our business men and a good many young men are buying lots as an investment. Lots at seventy-five and a hundred dollars does look like a good proposition. The probabilities are these lots will be worth three times the money within sixty days.

THE electric display during the Karnival, provided by the committee, indicates enterprise on their part. The committee had two hundred lights put on the streets. It is universally admitted that this contributed very materially to the success of the Karnival. The Light company furnished four hundred extra lights during the Karnival. This not only demonstrates their ample capacity, but shows to outsiders as well as our own people that we have a light and fan system up to date.

EAST TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Call To Convene At Lufkin June 20th and 21st.

Pursuant to authority vested in me as chairman of the East Texas Press Association, I hereby call a meeting of the Association to convene in Lufkin on June 20th and 21st, 1902. It is earnestly desired that all members and all editors and newspaper men eligible to membership will be present.

Lufkin is preparing an excellent program and will be ready to show the visiting editors a good time.

Fraternally,

R. W. HALTOM,
Pres. E. T. P. A.

A PETITION is being circulated and numerously signed for an election upon the proposed issue of school bonds, to be held at an early date. There is little doubt that the election will carry, nearly all the largest tax payers favoring the move.

OUR country correspondents crowd us with communications on Tuesday and Wednesday, making it impossible to get them all in the weekly edition for which they are intended. We will have to ask those who have daily mail advantages to mail their contributions earlier. There are several crowded out this week.

THE SENTINEL received a telephone message from Rev. Jno. N. Wilson this morning stating most emphatically that he would not be a candidate for any office. The Plaindealer will have to look about a little more. We predict that it will have a hard time "nominating" its independent ticket, if it expects to get good men on it.

THE first car of tomatoes sold for $900 on the track in Nacogdoches. It is said that the next car will still bring a better price. This is encouraging indeed and the prospects are good for a revenue of about $75000 to the truck growers of Nacogdoches. The industry is in its infancy in Nacogdoches county, but it will be a full grown babe by this time next year.

W. N. Bailey.

Our friend Bailey writes from Dalhart, where he has taken up his abode for the benefit of his health. He says he regrets exceedingly to leave his Nacogdoches home and friends, but that he is doing well in his new home and is somewhat improving in health.

We assure Walk that Nacogdoches regrets as much to lose him as he does to go, and that he carries the best wishes for his health and prosperity of many Nacogdoches friends with him. No man has done more towards building up Nacogdoches than he has for the past five years. He is a hustler, full of energy and enterprise, and will never be idle, nor lag behind in the procession no matter where he locates. Dalhart is to be congratulated as securing him as a citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gaston have returned from a visit to Garrison.

NACOGDOCHES UNIVERSITY.

Mr. Taylor's Views Upon the Proposed School Measure.

The fact heretofore produced in this discussion places this University in the class defined by law as an "eleemosynary school," and the investigators into the legal status of same, and who champion the right of State School District No. 3 to purchase its property, ought to run down the law relating strictly to such institutions. I have said, and now repeat, it is essentially different from all other school corporations in the right of control or management, and the courts, both National and State, have preserved this difference to this time.

This University is a corporation under the laws of our State and vested with the "rights of person," one of which is to take and hold property donated for the purposes enumerated in the act of incorporation or charter, in trust, and the charter says a misnomer shall not defeat the gift and the trustees shall take according to the true wishes of the donor.

Commercialism has gone in the domain of schools as a private business enterprise, for profit, and a "stock company corporation" for school purposes, it seems, is exempt from control by the legislature, but such stockholders can by a two-thirds majority regulate and control its business affairs; a wise course, otherwise these useful business ventures might be driven from Texas in the future.

In support of the legal view that the State legislature has preserved the distinction between an eleemosynary school corporation, or stock company school corporation, I incorporate here an act of the legislature under the same denomination, "Educational corporations," as the statutes recited by the committee representing State School district No. 3, to-wit: "The directors of any such corporation whose property is held, not as stock, but upon trust, or by devise, donation, gift, or subscription, shall not contract debts beyond the means of the corporation. If they do contract debts to a larger amount they shall be held individually liable for the same after the means of the corporation are exhausted."

Mark the distinction between stock property and trust property. Our forefathers built up a trust fund and vested it in a board of trustees to administer according to their compact with the State of Texas as proclaimed in the charter, and the trustees cannot usurp prerogatives not warranted by the law or charter, that is, dissolve the corporation in favor of another corporation. One is private and the other public. (See section 20 of charter.)

It seems to me that I am warranted under the facts and law to charge you with an attempt to take private property for a public use without the consent of the owners and without just compensation and against the right of due process of law guaranteed to all persons under our bill of rights.

Respectfully,
L. S. TAYLOR.

Burglary Last Night.

A Louisiana negro named Jim Buchanan broke into Charley Byrd's place east of the La Nana last night and stole a Winchester. He might have secured other valuable articles but Charley interrupted his proceedings and chased him away. Charley called up Sheriff Spradley immediately and the dogs were put on his track and Buchanan was run down and arrested about daylight this morning. He still had the gun in his possession and confessed to the burglary. The burglar now languishes behind the bars and will make a safe run for the pen at next term of district court.

BASE BALL.

Beaumont Won Three Straights But Worked For Them A FIRST DAY.

Beaumont 3, Nacogdoches 1. Partin pitched for Nacogdoches and pitched a good game. 1st and 3rd base did some pretty work, but errors in fielding gave the victory to Beaumont.

SECOND DAY.

Nacogdoches 3, Beaumont 6.

The second day's game was celebrated for the number of men that took first on being hit by the ball. It was no put up job, for the ball struck a Beaumont batter's head with the same clear crack that is heard when bat and ball meet for a fair hit over center fields head. Instead of dropping dead, however, he seemed to enjoy it, pranced to first and scored on the strength of it. Later, the home catchers mask was struck, sending the iron against his temple. Wilson's pitching was not up to his usual form, but while the home team earned nearly all their runs, Beaumont playing a nearly errorless game. Beaumont's runs were made on errors by Nacogdoches.

THIRD DAY.

Nacogdoches, 20010111100-7
Beaumont, 01102001201-8

Greek met Greek yesterday and it was the most interesting game ever played on the Nacogdoches diamond. Beaumont tied the score in the 9th and two more innings were played before the Beaumont team won by one score.

Swartzell pitched for Nacogdoches and pitched a splendid game; his delivery is perfect. He batted well, getting three two base hits and one safe, out of six times at the bat. In the first inning Nacogdoches made 2 scores by Wilson's sacrifice. Hughes made two beautiful bunts, sacrificing himself both times, but causing the home team to score. Two double plays were made, the home one by Werner, Bennett and Hughes.

Randolph Cox made a fine running catch, and Bennett played an errorless third base. Changing short stop in the 8th proved disastrous to our side, and an error or two settled the game. When the home team plays in the field as well as it does at the bat, we will win from any team in Texas. Beaumont plays a fine game. Their team work is perfect, and that the game was so close with a team known to be the strongest in the State speaks well for Nacogdoches. The series was intensely interesting. We are going to keep on at it till we beat the banner team.

Neil Ingraham umpired the game and umpired it all right. You can't make him make a decision, he does not think fair, even for the home team of which he thinks so much.

Judge Middlebrook, Loyd Bowers, Sr., Mr. Hanna, of Shreveport, and several others are down at Shownee, on a fishing expedition.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

Much Hard Work and Considerable Expense Lavished Upon Them.

Those that won prizes during the Karnival worked hard for them. The float that won the prize for the most artistic representation belonged to Tucker, Zeve & Co. It was in the shape of a gracefully designed pedestal supporting a latticed column, the whole standing about fifteen feet high. Three thousand pink poppies were used in the decoration, the ground of the float being white.

The Perkins Bros. float ran the prize winner a close second, the judges hesitating between the two, finally awarding it to the latter because of its superior size and the large amount of labor involved in its completion. The Perkins Bros. float was a real beauty; a white surrey with arches springing from the corners that met in a column which inclosed a clock and supported a gold mortar and pestle, the whole covered with white chrysanthemums with yellow centers. The occupants, two little dark haired girls, Louise Perkins and Mamie E. Blount, wearing white picture hats and white dresses; while two little boys in white, Paul and Sam Perkins, drove.

Only two competed for the carriage prize, the winning surrey being the one mentioned in Wednesday's SENTINEL that was covered with white magnolias on a black background. The ladies in this carriage wore black lace dresses, picture hats and carried large bunches of magnolias and black parasols. The occupants were Misses Augusta Ray and Ettilou Cox and two children of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Coats.

The judges must have had hard work deciding between the many beautifully decorated buggies. The prize went to another one mentioned Wednesday in this paper, Mrs. B. F. Hardeman's buggy of pink chrysanthemums and green bearing off the prize in spite of fierce competition. The occupants were Mrs. Harde-man and Mrs. Addie Josey.

The best representation of business was that of Ireson Brothers. Another float of theirs in the parade represented their firm in 1889, with the hand power wheel and shop of undressed lumber.

Mayer & Schmidt took the honors for the best decorated store, the immense plate glass windows being marvels of the decorator's art, and the bunting outside the building being effectively arranged. From the gallery to the top of the store ropes were stretched and tri-cornered flags of pink, green and white were strung on them as ships are decorated.

The R. T. Shindler Drug Company won the second place for store decoration, the leading feature there being ropes of electric lights in the Karnival colors, burning all day as well as all night.

In the roping contest the prizes were won by Bud Lee, first, and Mr. Boyd, of Alto, second, on first day; and second day Mr. Boyd first and Will Booth second.

The little horseback riders in the parade were applauded wherever seen. Here again the judges must have had trouble deciding. Gypsy Mag, who won the prize, was a perfect picture with her tambourine, her yellow and black costume and her long, jet black hair.

All the prize winners have reason to be proud. It was no easy task to be best, where all were so good.

Karnival Notes.

Mayer & Schmidt's Karnival float was one of the prettiest in the parade. It called attention to the fifty-seven departments of the store, and had six of the prettiest little girls in town representing the six divisions. The little girls were Misses Bernice Mims, Ziretta Matthews, Lily Davidson, Lizzie Smith, Daisy Bowers and Hester Buchanan.

Geo. Weaver's float, "Off for Durst Lakes," attracted every one's attention the 2nd day of the Karnival. The seine, fish poles, tents, etc., packed in the boat, made every fisherman who saw it want to leave for Durst Lakes at once.

Among the very much noticed floats was that of Seale & Donegan. It was decorated in Karnival colors. Riding on it were Mrs. Robt. Lindsey and Misses Helen Mims, Clytie Harris, Mary Doughtie and Jennie Harris.

The Gramling float was a beautifully built little pavilion roofed with bunting. Some one probably bought it afterwards for a summer house, as it was a pretty piece of work.

The Sunflower probably was the centre of attraction, though not entered for a prize. A little darkey dressed in green had her head the center of a tremendous sunflower; the effect was ludicrous, but absurdly realistic. The wheels were big sunflowers, and the horse harness and arch above the big sunflower's head, carried out the color scheme of yellow and green perfectly. It was the design of Mrs. Baily.

Among the decorated stores most admired was R. H. Irion's grocery establishment. The entire front was covered with bunting, most effectively arranged. The genial proprietor has a way of welcoming visitors that makes his store one of the most popular in the city, and especially so during the Karnival with the many strangers in town.

The Karnival decorations in one of Campbell's Racket Store windows, consisted of dolls dressed in the Karnival colors. The window was admired by everyone who attended the K. K.

Every store that displayed the pink, green and white bunting of the Karnival, had something unique and original about the way it was arranged. There was no repetition and every store was decorated.

C. W. Butt had the Karnival colors latticed across the front of his store, making a striking decoration in combination with the National colors above it.

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Gaddy returned to Housion this morning.

A Shabby Representative.

No business house would send out a traveling man clothed like a tramp.

Yet many otherwise long-headed business men in this and surrounding cities use stationery, letterheads, billheads and printed advertising matter which discredits and misrepresents them wherever it goes.

Good printing costs no more or but little more than the poorer kinds. In our print shop we charge you just as much and sometimes a little more for the actual work, for the brains and taste and skill we use than other printers.

The actual cost, however, is less to you because we are in a position to buy paper, ink, cover stock, thread, type, cardboard and other materials used in manufacturing printing at less than most other printers.

We buy for cash in the best markets—mostly from manufacturers—and we get all the discounts that anybody gets; we get some that nobody else gets.

This means that you can get the best work at the price of the next best.

Can we not figure on any printing for you?

We don't do a thing but Print.

Morgan Says No Green.

J. Pierpont Morgan has put himself on record as a firm believer in a continuance of the tide of prosperity which has been declared by Wall street men to be upon the point of turning from flood to ebb. When asked if he thought the turn had been reached the founder of trusts said: "Such a question scarcely needs an answer, for the facts speak for themselves. The phenomenal prosperity of the country is so self-evident that you have the answer to your very hand. More: not only is the prosperity here, but all the signs, all the promises, all the indications, are that it is here for a long time to come. I have absolute faith in the future. As to recessions, as to setbacks, where is there a sign of anything discouraging? There is enough business already in hand to keep the country busy for a year to come."

For Another National Park.

Katherine Louise Smith tells in the Outing of the need—and the opportunity—for a new national park in North Central Minnesota. There stands today a piece of ancient forested America (in fact, the only great northern pine forest between the Rocky mountains and the Atlantic ocean) which it is possible still to save from destruction. Within the limits of the Chippewa Indian reservation, along the Leech Lake and Winnepigishish lakes, there are, as if ready and waiting for this purpose, 611,000 acres of land and 218,770 acres of water surface. It is the land of the original Dakotas and Ojibwas—the cradle of Northwestern story and tradition.

R. W. HALTOM, Editor.

In one respect the Nacogdoches Karnival was far ahead of some that have been held in other cities, and that is, the behavior of everyone on the street. The sidewalks were crowded with a throng of laughing, merry confetti throwing people, but no one that did not wish to join in the fun was annoyed. There was no second-hand confetti thrown and no soap caramels, (plenty of the real caramels, however.) Everyone, homefolks, visitors, Indians, and lookers on at the frolic, were in the wildest of moods but untailing courtesy was displayed, and the Karnival of Kommerce was unmarred by a single rude act.

AND now that the Karnival is over, the next thing is water works that will be some protection to the city in case of fire. As it is, Nacogdoches, with all her business advantages, her enterprise, her swift, sure growth, lies at the mercy of a defective flue, or a carelessly tossed away cigar. We cannot trust to luck any longer as we seem to have been doing. We forget that not preservation, but destruction, is the primal law of nature. The ancients recognized this, when they placed a torch in the hand of the Goddess of destruction, and the poet when he wrote, "An hour will come, who can foretell its coming?" etc. Unless we too grasp this grave fact; unless we go to work at once to protect our city against destruction we may wake up to find that "the blackness of ashes shall mark where it stood." We have had two warnings.

It is almost conceded now that John N. Wilson will be nominated for county treasurer on the Independent ticket. If nominated, it means elected. The name of Jno. N. Wilson is a household word. Wilson will make the race on his merits and fitness for the position and not on a whiskey barrel.—Plaindealer.

Who ever heard of a "nominee" on the Independent ticket? Any other nomination in Nacogdoches outside of the democratic ticket simply means the populist ticket in disguise. As to Mr. Wilson, we do not believe he could be induced to oppose the democratic ticket, no matter what encouragement might be brought to bear. There is no more show for an independent ticket than there is for the straight populist ticket, and the Plaindealer admits that a populist ticket is not in it. There is not a man on the democratic ticket who will be defeated this year in Nacogdoches county. As to merit vs whiskey barrels, we fail to see the application, unless it is intended as a reflection Mr. Ray, who has been a clerk in McKnight's saloon. Be that as it may, it must be admitted that some of the best and most efficient officers the county ever had held like positions before they were elected to office. The "main guy" of the pop-independent party was himself elected to office several times while he owned a saloon.

KARNIVAL OF KOMMERCE.

THE BIGGEST THING EVER SEEN IN NACOGDOCHES.

Fifteen Thousand People Witnessed the Last Days Festivities.

Never in the history of Nacogdoches has the old town donned such gala attire nor held within her gates such a multitude of people as we have beheld during the Karnival. No occasion has ever passed off with greater success. It was brilliant to begin with and progressed with increasing brilliancy to the close. It is now a thing of the past, but will remain green in our memories until it is eclipsed by the event of next year. We will profit by experience and will be able to blot out every defect on the next occasion, if, indeed such a thing occurred in the one just closed.

The first and second days program will have to be passed over, and we will only attempt to mention feebly the program of the last day, which was really a repetition of the two first days added to by each days' program, reaching the climax on the third—bringing in all the features of the entire three days program, excepting the Red Men's parade of the second day.

Marshal Jno. S. Doughtie.

The Red Men that were such a feature of Thursday's parade were sadly missed. They were about the most effective thing on the street the day before, and inquiries were numerous as to their whereabouts on Friday. The Red Men's costumes were perfect. Red and yellow hunting costumes, with Indian masks, and wigs. The effect was realistic and fine, as they filed past on horseback. Behind one of the chiefs sat an Indian of very small size, costumed exactly like the braves, mask and all, that told that the Red Men were not on the war path, so the paifaces felt safe.

All the floats were so good that particular mention seems unjust, but besides the prize winners, Rose Lake Nurseries, with its garden and growing fruit; the ice factory with fruit and flowers frozen in huge blocks of ice; Barron & Demory, cooking and eating going on at once with the oil burners. Galloway & Wright's dear little house, and the compress, pressing a bale of cotton attracted a good deal of attention. As for the buggies, they were all the most beautiful. Mrs. Lamar Blount's blue, Mrs. Ratcliff's red, Miss Verdian Barham's yellow and red and Miss Fay Hayters trap with Misses Ingraham and Walton were much admired.

Zirleta Mathews looked beautiful in her costume of white organdie spangled with silver, on her pretty horse, while Daisy Bowers and Bernice Mims rode splendidly, and the little princes were very attentive. The two bands in the new band wagons added so much to the effect of the parade both by their appearance and the music that it would not have been half a Karnival without them. The handsome and imposing looking marshals kept perfect order, and saw that there was nothing wrong with the procession, nothing went wrong from first to last, and the Karnival is over, without one flaw to mar its perfect success.

NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Blanchett, of Beaumont, Mr. W. H. Taylor and Mr. F. P. Meyer, of Houston, acted as judges and awarded the prizes on the second day's parade. In reaching a conclusion, the judges stated to a SENTINEL reporter that they regretted very much that there were not more prizes to award, since there were so many floats of so nearly equal merit that they found it exceedingly difficult to decide between them. They desire to make special mention of the following: Lindsey & Harris, first, in its design and execution was beautiful and deserved a prize; Perkins Bros. float held them hard before a conclusion could be reached, and as a perfect representation of their business Cason, Richardson & Co. were at the front. The Nacogdoches Ice Co. deserve credit for the the beautiful and refreshing float they contributed, and everybody who saw the parade must remember that Rose Lake Nurseries was there. We all feel grateful to these ladies and gentlemen for their services and hope to have them visit our city again, where they will always have a warm welcome. Mrs. Blanchette accompanied her husband on this, his first visit to our city and expressed herself as delighted with Nacogdoches and her people. She is a most charming and accomplished lady.

Charley Anderson, chief engineer and leverman at the Nacogdoches compress, deserves especial credit for the complete reproduction of the press in every particular and detail. Even to the miniature bale of cotton pressed by this portable compress, and as its shrill whistle announced its position in the parade the crowd went wild and made the welkins ring with three cheers for Anderson.

The worthy and efficient Superintendent of the Nacogdoches compress, E. E. Baldwin, comes in for his share of praise for having the Nacogdoches Compress and Warehouse Co. so well represented.

When it comes to managing the finances and hustling for money to carry out any enterprise, Mr. Baldwin is a whole team and he deserves especial praise for his success in the management of this very important part of the Karnival.

J. H. Thomas, one of our leading city grocers, deserves great praise for the artistic decoration of his store front, which received more compliments than any decoration in the city.

Mrs. D. S. Gallaner and Miss Humes, of Houston, and Mr. Charley Mims, an official of the T. & N. O., very reluctantly gave their consent to act as judges of the flower parade, in which the buggies and carriages were to compete for prizes. These ladies and gentleman said since it was not a baby show they might be able to render a decision that would not bring to them the ill will of every mother in Nacogdoches. They attended the K. K. Ball and returned to Houston on the noon train of the second day left behind them many expressions of praise for our little city and very hospitable people. These ladies and Mr. Morris are always welcome visitors, the gates of our city are at all times open to them.

J. B. Power, the owner and manager of the Rose Lake Nursery, was the recipient of no little praise and very deservedly so, too, for his float was a veritable Eden in itself, with the beautiful flowers, rich evergreens and trees with their branches all laden with its forbidden fruit of the choicest variety. All this too was the efforts of his own labors on his nursery farm 3 miles north from Nacogdoches, and its arrangement on the float was perfect and showed it was the work of an artist.

The four little girls in front of the Ice factory float represented the four business enterprises interested in the float. The largest little girl was the Anheuser-Bush Brewing Association, of St. Louis. The 2d, Wm. J. Lemps Brewing Company St. Louis. The 3d, the American Brewing Association of Houston. And the smallest the Nacogdoches Ice Factory. Over the children's heads were the signs of each association and over all the words "United." The four were linked together with a chain of ribbon.

The Old Fiddlers contest will be written up in Monday's Daily. Have to take this Karnival by piece meal to mention all the good things connected with it.

EARLY MORNING SHOOTING.

Doc Watson Fires Three Shots at Arch Scroggins.

Just after the train came in from Houston this morning a shooting took place in front of the Hollow Log Saloon. Doc Watson fired three shots at Arch Scroggins at close range. All three missed the mark, but one of them did some damage to the front door and a sample case of the saloon and grazed the shoulder of Billy Hughes, who was standing inside the saloon. No other harm was done.

Doc Watson states that Scroggins had threatened his life and claims to be justifiable.

Scroggins states that Watson called him out and made the assault upon him unexpectedly and to his great surprise. He denies having ever made any threats against Watson and says he thought they were friends.

MOTHERS

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of bowel troubles. I have given up castors and give my baby nothing but Laxakola, and find it cheaper and a great natural laxative. I got it from C. H. & W. A. Laxakola, Inc., Union and Purchase Sts., New Bedford, Mass.

Enclosed please find ten cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully when he had a touch of it. I did not know what it was to do my eyes day or night. I gave him a few drops of Laxakola and it relieved him. I gave it to him a few times, and it worked like a charm, and he now rests pretty fair all night. He is a great deal better looking baby since I gave him Laxakola, and I think if all mothers knew how good it was, they would give nothing else to their sick babies. Mrs. MARY DALEY, 50 First St., South Boston, Mass.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

An Eleven Inning Game.
 Nacogdoches, 1200000100—4
 Lake Charles, 00000220001—5
 The game began by both sides filling bases by errors, the Lake Charles errors being the most costly. In the 2nd Waties and Wade both made safe hits and scored. After that there was nothing doing on either side for 3 innings except some very pretty playing, both sides getting in double plays. In the 5th, Lintich made a fine running catch, capturing what really was a safe hit and catching Swatzell out. In the 6th and 7th innings errors on the home side, combined with one 2 base and three safe hits, scored two each inning for Lake Charles. In the 9th, Waties got a base on balls, two men were put out, then Bennett got a two and a half bagger, for it was nearly three, he reached 3rd base on an error, only to die there, the next batter up being caught out; but he had tied the score for Waties had come home. In the 10th Wilson did some beautiful playing as short stop, but in the 11th, Lake Charles scored and the game was over.

We may not always win, but the other side has to work. Both Ingraham and Mooney pitched a good game. Hughes could not catch for the home team and Werner took his place. He made a fine catcher, but was needed more in the field.

NOTES.

The home team had the quit experiments and do more team work, we will have one of the strongest teams in Texas.

Miss Black's Recital.

The recital last night of Miss Black's pupils in music, elocution and physical culture was very interesting. No one had to pay the entrance fee of patience. The music pupils all showed marked advancement.

Among the recitations, Aris Baldwin's comic selection took with the audience. Miss Mamie E. Blount recited "Sandalphon" with great feeling and expression, especially for one who has been taking lessons only two months. August Schmidt did splendidly with "Darius Green and his Flying Machine." Ethel Barron in "Tim's Madonna" and Herbert Schmidt both recited well. Mintie Blount told "the Story of Some Bells" in a most interesting way, carrying the audience with her, while Louise Dotson's selection, "The Burial of Moses" was creditably done. One of the most interesting features of Miss Black's musical training are the "original melodies," which the children have to write themselves. This trains them in composition, ear, and all that goes to make a well rounded musical education. In this the class last night did splendidly.

The music pupils taking part last night were: Eva Zeve, Alma Huston, Belle Zeve, Sallie T. and Frankie Summers, Aris Baldwin, Jennie Hoya, Mamie E. Blount, Ruth Barham, Louise Perkins, Zirletta Matthews, Florence Smith, Viridian Barham, Ruth Mims and Louise Dotson, some being absent.

Miss Black is a splendid teacher, using all the latest methods in the three branches she teaches. Her pupils show the result of her training.

Mr. J. W. Carriker and son, of Clayton came in last night. They are prospecting along the pineries on the T. & N. O. railroad.

Mr. Liles, of Beckville, is in the city. He is prospecting in the lumber lands along the T. & N. O. railroad.

Memorial.
To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and brethren of Milam Lodge, No. 2, A. F. & A. M., of Nacogdoches, Texas:

We your committee, appointed to draft resolution, expressive of the sentiment and feeling of the Lodge over the death of our worthy brother, W. V. Carraway, who departed this life on the 1st day of May, 1902, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, the 1st day of May, 1902 was the appointed time that our Supreme Grand Master in his infinite wisdom saw fit to call from the labors of earth and from the society of his family, his friends and brothers to eternal and more glorious refreshments on high, our worthy and esteemed brother, W. V. Carraway. Therefore be it resolved

1st. That we here express the fact that from the time we first knew our esteemed brother as a Mason, up to the date of his departure, which has been many years, his record has always been clear, just, true, and untarnished. That from the time he first entered within the sacred precincts of our order and there confessed his trust in God, and bowed in humble recognition and submission to Him as the sovereign ruler of the universe; the great light that illuminates the pathway of the good and true, [the spiritual trestle-board he ever held before him as his guide. We knew him as such while he lived with us here; we knew of him as such in his home in Dumas. And now, while we with reverence submit to the will of him who doeth all things well, we sincerely trust and hope that through our brother's abiding faith in the power given to the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, he, in answer to the summons of the Supreme Architect above, has but been passed through the outward veils of these earthly courts, and now resides with the King of kings in the courts of Heaven.

2nd. In the death of our brother, Masonry has lost a worthy member, friend and supporter, the membership the society, advice and counsel of one that was ever true to the teachings, principles and tenets of the order, the state a useful, law abiding, patriotic and good citizen.

3rd. We deeply mourn the departure of our brother and sympathize with his wife and children, relatives and friends in the sad bereavement.

4th. That the lodge room be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

5th. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the city papers for publication, and a copy under the seal of the lodge be sent by the secretary to the wife of our deceased brother.
