MELROSE LETTER.

Interesting Local Topics Gathered by Our Regular Correspondent.

Melrose, Aug. 12.—Our little burg has its share of sickness at present. Mrs. Ella Swift and Mrs. Austin Muckroy are both down with fever.

Mr. Lewis Teutsch's daughter is very low, with two more cases in the family.

Mrs. Mattie Mast is in Nacogdoches at her son's helping to nurse his sick baby.

The meeting closed at Simpson's camp ground last Friday with no visible results. We passed a pleasant week attending the meeting and associating with those big-hearted people down there that keep their doors open to all Christians and also their tables well filled with something good to eat.

Bro. Burk with Bro. Weeks and Bro. Jim Wilson will preach to the Fairview people this week. We trust that good results will follow.

The prospects of our country are on the down grade and it behooves us to stop and think why it is that the good

Lord is oppressing us, and we readily come to this conclusion: The desecration of the Sabbath day brings a curse on our land, the carelessness and indifference of our Christian people in the neglect of their duties and the example of their ungodly lives before the young people, shows us in a moment where the trouble is. God has promised that if we serve him he will fill our barns and store houses.

It was a pleasure for us to read in our county paper a short while ago that our editor was against Sunday base ball playing. Every word spoken for the right will help someone in doing right themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brewer from Appleby, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Grimes at this place.

The new saw mill run by the Mangham Bros. is in working order now. They ginned a new bale of cotton yesterday for Mr. Will Mangham.

Real interesting news is almost as scarce as money.

AN ALL ROUND SCOUNDREL

McKey, Alias Orr, Langushes Behind the Bar on a Serious Charge.

Friday's Daily. A stranger, who has been in the city but a few days, first giving his name as J. D. McKey, was arrested and jailed last night by Sheriff Spradley on a charge of criminally assaulting the little 5-year old girl of Mrs. Cubbins. It seems that the scoundrel, after a number of vain efforts, finally tolled the child to the cemetery, where he attempted to carry out a most damnable purpose. The child reported the matter to her mother immediately upon her return to the restaurant, and yesterday evening Sheriff Spradley was apprised of the affair and immediately took steps to investigate.

The first move was to arrest McKey, who has since stated that his name was not McKey, but J. C. Orr, and that his home was in Morgan county, Alabama, where he claims to have a wife and three children, but that he has not been home in over two years. After Orr was arrested a watch belonging to Mr. Crutchfield was found among his effects, which it is alleged he had stolen.

Sheriff Spradley has been pushing an investigation today and he is fully convinced that every word the little child says about the affair is true. She took him over the route they went in going to and from the cemetery and showed the spot where she was assaulted, where tracks were found to prove the truth of her statement.

There is some suppressed excitement in evidence today and it will be with a strong effort if the indignation of the people is kept under control.

Orr claims that he has been very drunk for several days and that he has no recollection of mistreating the child in any manner. His word, however, goes for very little, as he is evidently a hardened criminal and a professional scoundrel. For several days he has been working the town and country, pretending to be taking orders for everything from a paper of pins to a piano. His scheme is to take the order at a ridiculously low price, with a ridiculously low payment down when the order is signed. He sold several organs, stoves, sewing machines, etc., in this way, collecting in advance from twenty-five cents to two dollars—just what he could get. Of course he nor the article sold, would ever have been heard of again, and in this way he seemed to be driving a fairly good business.

KILLED SLAYER OF HIS FATHER

After Thirteen Years Sandy Murphey Gets Revenge.

Yesterday, THE SENTINEL mentioned briefly the killing of the negro, George Burk, by Sandy Murphey. Those few words contained about all there is to tell. The young man came up from San Augustine Thursday on a trading trip. He was doing some trading in J. M. Weeks' grocery store when the negro passed by and turned across the street and entered Richardson & Eichel's store. Murphey heard the negro's name called and followed him in the store, asked him if his name was George Burk, and receiving an answer in the affirmative drew a .45 Colt's pistol and shot him in the breast very near the heart. The negro sank to the floor and died within a few minutes. Murphey gave himself up and was first placed under $1000 bond for assault to murder, but was rearrested on a charge of murder and his bond was fixed at $1500, which he promptly gave.

The killing of Burk is the sequel to a killing which took place over thirteen years ago in San Augustine county, when the negro killed Tom Murphey, father of the young man who slew Burk, with a fence rail. It is said that Murphey was very drunk when the negro struck him with the rail. He lived some five or six hours after he was struck by the negro, and it is said exacted a promise from his little boys, the oldest being about nine years of age, to kill Burk when they got old enough. Burk was tried before a jury in San Augustine and was acquitted, and subsequently moved to Nacogdoches where he has lived ever since. The Murphey boys probably never saw him in their lives and did not know him. If they ever saw him before yesterday they are not aware of it.

Murphy is well connected and stands well among the people who know him. He has relatives in Nacogdoches. He is a hard working young man, sober and quiet in his habits and there is no part of the rowdy about him. He is simply made up of that built dog determination which led him to execute a deed which he felt it a duty to do. He has the sympathy of many friends in his trouble, and when his bond was ready yesterday scores of the most substantial men of Nacogdoches volunteered their signatures.

NEGRO IN A WELL

Taylor Johnson Found Dead In Will Taylor's Cotton Yard.

The body of Taylor Johnson, a well known negro vagrant, was discovered in a well in Will Taylor's cotton yard about 11 o'clock today. He was drawn out at once and it seemed evident that he had been in the well several days. He was seen sleeping on top of the well last Tuesday morning, and his folks say he has not been at home since Monday night, and it is presumed that he fell in the well while asleep Tuesday. He was most always drunk, so some of the negroes say and had a habit of sleeping on wells that were covered over on top. The well in which he was found is an unusually large one and had four twelve inch planks around the top of the curbing and a large opening in the middle. It is very probable that the theory that he went to sleep and fell in is correct. There were no evidences of foul play visible on his body.

NACOGDOCHES' FIRST BALE

Raised in San Augustine County by Mr. James Everett.

Monday's Daily. The first bale of new cotton received in Nacogdoches for the season of 1902-3, was brought up this morning from San Augustine county and was raised by James Everett. The bale weighed 485 pounds and sold at auction by Capt. Jno S. Doughtie and knocked down to Tucker, Zeve & Co. at 9 cents a pound. The seed were sold to Allan Seale for the Nacogdoches Oil Mill at the rate of $20.00 netting $9.50. The cotton brought $13.15. There was a premium of $21.75 made up by subscription, the list being circulated by Arch McKnight, which went to the producer, making the cotton, the seed and the premium net Mr. Everett the snug sum of $73.90.

The first bale this year is two days ahead of the first bale last year, which was brought in from Melrose on Tuesday, August 13th, by W. L. McBride and Sam Moses, and sold for 8 3/4 cents. The first bale two years ago was brought in by J. W. Byrd on Aug. 16th.

SOME "STRENUOUS" TALK.

In the last issue of the Farm and Ranch Dr. V. P. Armstrong, of Dallas, almost fiercely denounces the strenuous life advocated by Roosevelt and says that any such incessant strain upon the nervous system must necessarily end in the degeneracy of life all along the line. He cites the prize-fighters, ball players, oarsmen and other athletes, who rarely live beyond forty in proof of his assertion.

This is all well enough and we believe the Doctor is wise in what he says but the question is, how can we escape from this influence which dominates the modern world? Roosevelt's talk about "the strenuous life" can be safely dismissed as the gush of an enthusiast who had a silver spoon in his mouth at the start; has comparative youth yet on his side, and is in the enjoyment of perfect health and strength. But these are exceptional conditions and prove nothing beyond the case of Mr. Roosevelt himself.

The real trouble is in the mad and universal worship of money; the fierce competitions in every form of human energy; the rapid growth in population; the disappearance of healthy primitive conditions under the stimulus of the "boom" era; the immense increase in mechanical devices which save labor, but develop new wants and create new discontents; the loss of faith in the supernatural and the weakening of religious convictions; the destruction of old ideals and the absence of new ones worth the name, and the resulting, unrest, infidelity and despair lurking in the blood of this new modern life.

All these forces combined, and more too, are driving the nation to the pace that kills; are fixing our temperature at white heat; and whether we will or no, rich and poor, young and old, strong and weak, are rushed like cattle down the "strenuous" chute, and when or where or what we will come out the Lord only knows. But the reaction is sure to come—after some stupendous calamity, perhaps, or a long period of national dry rot, following the present unnatural tension—and when it does, happiness and contentment and moderation and faith in God and man and old fashioned love and friendship will be living forces in the world once more.

The HOUSTON POST thinks it has discovered the reason why it is almost impossible to convict murderers in Texas—that is, murderers with enough means to pay lawyers and enough social consequence to have influential friends. The reason as seen by the Post is "the overlarge array of counsel for the defense in almost every important criminal case" and "the bad quality of the juries drawn from communities of good character." This is only partly true, it seems to us. No matter how many lawyers there may be for the defense, not all of them combined, with all their learning and ingenuity, can make "the worse appear the better part" nor change the just bearing of a fact in evidence if there are twelve, honest, fairly educated men of good common sense in the jury box, who love justice with all their souls and hate crime as they do its father, the Devil. Nineteen times out of twenty when justice miscarries in Texas murder trials it is because of mental and moral weakness in the jury. Elevate the standard of civic manhood on the juries and Texas murderers will get their deserts.

All life is a long drawn question between a crop and a crop. Positively the only producer in the world is the farmer and his side partner, the stock man. The rest of mankind from Pierpont Morgan down to an editor, are consumers merely. The crops keep the balance marvelously, and Texas will not starve because the floods have wrecked thousands of acres that had fair promise of good harvests. The trouble is that the producer is rarely a rich man. His crop is what he lives upon and supplies the other necessities of life with the surplus, and what is it to him that other parts of Texas, Kansas or Russia are keeping the world's food balanced, when his all is under water, and the problem of how to live till the next season is facing him? To him it is a condition, not a theory confronting him, and the blow falls heavily even with the marvelous recuperative facility of Texas and Texans.

THE thriving little city of Alvin, between Houston and Galveston, was the scene of a disastrous fire yesterday morning before daylight. Nearly the entire business part of the city was destroyed and the loss was about $100,000, with insurance at much less than half. Alvin was nearly wiped out by the Galveston storm, but was well on her feet again only to be knocked out by fire. The town has a very fine class of citizens and is sure to come again without much delay.

By proclamation of Gov. Sayers, Sept. 1st has been designated as Labor Day in Texas.

EDDIE GREEN, former chairman of the Republican state executive committee in Texas, got home from a fishing trip the other day and told a Dallas News reporter that "from a Republican standpoint he regarded everything in Texas as favorable and the outlook quite promising." Quite promising, indeed, Eddie, of the usual brutal Democratic majority.

KING EDWARD will be crowned Saturday if he has strength enough to go through the ceremony. Even if the great function is "pulled off" successfully it will be a pathetic and sorry affair compared with what was first intended. The absence of Whitelaw Reid and his ambassadorial legs in court dress will of itself be sufficient to make the show a comparative failure.

RURAL free delivery is making its slow but sure way all over the well settled parts of Texas. The system has come to stay and will materially help on "the growing smallness of the world."

THE late encampment of State troops at Austin revealed the fact that the Texas Volunteer Guard is in a robust condition, and the military spirit among our young men shows no signs of decadence. This is as it should be. We are not done with wars and other forms of perilous emergency in this world yet, and it is being often demonstrated in Texas and other states that a good company of State troops quickly available is a most useful agent of law and order.

THE indications are that Texas will soon be the only Southern state, with the possible exception of Louisiana, in which there will be any railroad competition left. East of the Mississippi, the Southern railway is slowly absorbing all the others. It is now the talk that the Illinois Central and the St. Louis and San Francisco will both be merged in this system. J. Pierp. Morgan is, of course, at the bottom of it. In Texas we are apparently safe for a long time to come.

THE two hundred and forty four grand children and seven hundred and forty five great grand children of Brigham Young want to have a family reunion as soon as they can get an auditorium large enough to hold them all at once.

OLD Russel Sage, the multi-millionaire miser of Wall street, celebrated the eighty-seventh anniversary of his birthday a few days ago, but the celebration didn't cost him a cent. He skinned the usual number of suckers in the Wall street game, took his old reliable fifteen cent lunch and "set 'em up" to nobody. Uncle Russ is a daisy, but he doesn't show up well as a "grand old man."

CONCERNING the prospect for the location of a tobacco station in Nacogdoches as the result of Mr. Shefner's recent visit here with Col. Morse, Mr. Dixon and others, the Houston Chronicle says:

The party traveled in Col. Morse's private car, going first to Nacogdoches. Mr. Shefner holds that the soil around Nacogdoches, and all over East and South Texas for that matter, is better adapted to the raising of fine tobacco than many Kentucky and Virginia sections, and will shortly return to Nacogdoches for the purpose of taking steps looking to establishing a government tobacco station.

Under expert supervision, without cost, which the government proposes to do and is doing at all its government tobacco stations, Nacogdoches bids fair to become the center of another important agricultural pursuit which will redound to the benefit of not only that section but the entire state as well. If the cultivation of tobacco reaches that point of development which Col. S. F. B. Morse expects and is looking for, the entire state will have added to its agricultural resources an industry for which many states are noted solely.

Mr. John Power, of Rose Lake nurseries, paid THE SENTINEL office a call this morning, bringing with him a box of beautiful roses and jessamines. The flowers brought a breath of fragrant air into the office. Looking at them we see, not only their pink and white and crimson loveliness, but the beauty of their country home, and Rose Lake, dimpling in the summer sun. Their fragrance makes the heat seem more endurable, and Mr. Power has the thanks of the entire office.

The contract has been let for the rebuilding of the one-story buildings in the burnt district to Messrs. Austin & Herrin. Two of them are the property of Mrs. Russell, formerly Mrs. Dorman, and the other belongs to Mr. Monroe Davis. The new buildings will be more substantial than the ones that were destroyed by fire. Mr. Blount has not yet let the contract for the two story building on the corner.

Keep a lookout for counterfeit money! Sheriff Spradley has been put in possession of some very coarsely executed counterfeit ten dollar bills recently passed here and he is trying to locate the guilty parties. He has reason to believe that quite a number of these bills are in circulation in this section and thinks the plate from which they were executed is in Nacogdoches. The counterfeit is so clumsy and obvious that business men are in little danger of being taken in by it, but editors and others not accustomed to handling bills of such large denomination cannot be too careful.

Supposed to Be Running Yet.

Yesterday afternoon a coffin for a negro who had died in the country a few miles from town, was sent out by Lucas & Burk, but as it proved to be too short it was brought back, and reaching here at night after the store had closed, it was temporarily deposited in the postoffice. Charley Shindler and Josh Henson were informed of the presence in the postoffice of the grewsome symbol of our mortality and determined to extract some humor from the situation. So they went in the postoffice, elevated the coffin on end, Charley hid behind it and Josh went out to hunt up a darkey—any darkey would do in a case like that. Nearby he found a gaping colored youth waiting for something to turn up to improve his fortunes and he was informed by Josh that a man in the postoffice desired to see him. Suspecting no evil the darkey hurried to the postoffice and as he passed through the front door his startled eyes caught the sinister outlines of the "wooden overcoat" erect, awful and apparently waiting to keep an appointment with him in the deserted office. At the same moment Charley Shindler, well concealed behind, shoved the coffin forward as though it were a thing of evil life determined to trap that nigger and hurry him to a midnight graveyard, and as the full horror of the situation burst upon the victim he let out a far-reaching, high-pitched yell, wheeled about and rushed out into the darkness with a speed which only the worst form of terror can impart to human legs. Those who witnessed the flight of the horror-stricken fellow can find no comparison for the incredible swiftness with which he shook the dust of Nacogdoches from his hoofs and disappeared in the darkness.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
 Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by Perkins Bros.

A constant supply of blood-making material or their systems break down under the constant drain. The very moment there is lack of blood, or when the blood is impoverished, the signal appears upon the face in sallowness or pallor. The remedy needed is Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic. Nothing else meets this particular condition so well. Use of it has made hundreds of thousands of women look younger and made them feel even younger than they looked. The following is one of thousands of similar endorsements that we have received:

Houston, Texas, Dec. 4, 1901.
 "My father has used your medicine since the War, and when I married in December, 1872, I commenced housekeeping with one bottle of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, one bottle of his Wild Cherry Bitters, and two boxes of his Little Liver Pills. I am now nearly sixty-two years of age. Looking backward I feel attached to the old medicines and would not change them for any of the new ones made."

A New State of "Grand Old Texas."

Commercial fruit and vegetable growing is making a new State of "Grand Old Texas" and filling the pockets of our people with hard cash.

There is no country on the globe capable of sustaining greater animal life than that portion of Texas known as Central East Texas. The H. E. & W. T. Ry. traverses this section. All along its territory commercial orchards are being planted and large acreage grown in vegetables. During this season nearly a hundred cars of tomatoes were shipped over this road to outside markets beside the many thousand crates shipped by express. In many instances the grower, received as much as $200.00 per acre for their crop. The facilities for handling the output of the orchard and garden are unsurpassed. The lands along the H. E. & W. T. Ry. are low in price and can be secured on terms most favorable to the home builder. The country is well drained, well watered and healthful and is being rapidly settled up by a thrifty and progressive population from every section of the country. If you desire to secure a home for your loved ones where all the cereal crops are grown, where fruits and vegetables flourish and stock of all kinds thrives, do not fail to write for full information to Sam H. Dixon, Passenger and Immigration Agent of the H. E. & W. T. Ry., Houston, Texas.

Dissolution Notice.

Meeting closed at old Smyrna church last Thursday night. Four accessions and church much revived and taking on new interest. A heavy rain fell in that community Thursday evening, washing the roads considerably.

J. C. Fondren.

THE populist county convention met in this city Saturday and ratified the work of their primaries by nominating the ticket selected by the voters as published heretofore in THE SENTINEL. It is practically the same old ticket, so familiar to the people, Geo. F. Fuller, Esq., being the only new convert.

HOUSTON county, having voted out saloons by a decisive majority, Col. D. A. Nunn and other prominent citizens are now addressing elaborate communications to the public urging that the new prohibition be compelled to prohibit. Sometimes it does and very frequently it doesn't. Prohibition by law is a very balky horse.

THE encampment of State colored troops at Houston this year was a success and the excellent discipline and good conduct of the soldiers shows that such troops under command of capable white officers can make a valuable factor in the volunteer State Guard. But the white officers are indispensable for more reasons than one.

WE needn't bother about fears of over production in the tomato business. The Northern appetite for the Texas tomato is too vast to be measured, and a gentleman who has statistics on the subject to back up his statement informs THE SENTINEL that the entire crop of tomatoes raised in Texas this year would give all the people of Chicago about one meal.

GALVESTON has robbed New Orleans of the Southern Pacific line of steamers and last Friday was a gala day in the Island City, when the first steamer of the line came into port. In common with all Texas, we are always glad to note new elements of prosperity for the chief seaport of the State, and especially at this time when the city is just fairly out of the shadow of one of the world's greatest tragedies.

WE trust that "Sin-Killer" Griffin, now working the Northern circuit as a soul savor of the strenuous type, will not be accepted as a perfectly representative Texas evangelist. Sin-Killer doubtless has his merits and is especially strong on collections, but baptizing white girls, as he claims to be doing up North, is a feature of his evangelistic work always omitted from his Texas program.

KING EDWARD got his crown on all right Saturday according to program and the English people had a pageant which delighted their loyal hearts. Our own Whitelaw Reid was there, but merely in an unofficial way as a friend of the family, and hence his much advertised ambassadorial legs in all the glory of velvet shorts and silk stockings will be reluctantly left out of the historical picture of the great event.

LINDSEY & HARRIS,

Immigration Agents Southern Pacific Ry. Second Floor Hazel Building Nacogdoches, Texas. Real Estate Agents.

THE TEXAS MULE isn't satisfied to quote scripture by printing an occasional verse to point a moral or adorn a tale, but publishes a full chapter each week from the Bible. A very good scheme to popularize Bible reading, with the additional advantage that every issue of the Mule is sure to have something good in it.

SAN AUGUSTINE VISITOR, ahoy! The first bale of San Augustine county cotton for the season reached the market this morning, and we call the attention of the esteemed Visitor to the fact that that market was Nacogdoches. And yet, if our memory serves us right the Kirby road was going to play smash right away with Nacogdoches as a market for San Augustine cotton.

The last issue of the Review of Reviews contained a very good picture of Senator Joe Bailey, who would have probably enjoyed its inspection more than he did but for the hot "roast" accompanying the picture, inspired by that little Beveridge incident. The Review says in substance that it will take several years of very decorous senatorial behavior on the part of Mr. Bailey to live down the effects of that "scrap" and get reinstated in the good graces of the American people. As long as he is solid with the Texas democracy Joe doesn't worry about the good graces of the outside precincts.

That foxy old party, Mark Hanna, may not have the presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet and may be sincere in his support of Roosevelt for the renomination; but his frequent public talks at labor gatherings here of late in which with almost theatrical impressiveness and with his hand on his heart, he consecrates the remaining years of his humble life to the promotion of the best interests of the working men, are strongly suggestive to worldly minded people of something besides benevolence and philanthropy on the part of the Ohio Senator. Teddy would doubtless feel more comfortable if Mark would cease posing as the angel of the working classes and confine himself to strictly republican party platitudes.

MANY of the Texas papers are calling attention to the fact that municipal judges in some of the cities of the State are showing a decidedly unjust partiality in the way they enforce the law against carrying pistols. They will fine a negro one hundred dollars for the offense and an equally guilty white man one dollar. Such discrimination is a distinct incentive to crime on the part of such judges, and the full weight of indignant public sentiment should be directed against them. With a thousand years of civilization behind him the white man has even less excuse for violating the laws of his country than the negro that recently emerged from barbarism. It is perfectly right and just to give the black pistol toter the full penalty of the law for his offense, but the color of his skin should not save the equally guilty white man.

THE town of Timpson has ceased to exist and is now the city of Timpson, with mayor, city dads and all the other regulation trimmings.

IN THE East Texas exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair the Elberta peach and the Nacogdoches tomato will be dazzling crown jewels to challenge the admiration of all mankind, and a brace of immigration agents too persuasive to be resisted.

THE personnel of the United States Senate has suffered a serious loss in the death of Senator McMillan, of Michigan, who died Sunday very suddenly of heart disease at his summer home in Massachusetts. He was one of the millionaire senators, and a man of much strength of character.

LAST Saturday night at Columbia, Brazoria county, the county attorney, Ed. C. Smith, was killed by a gang of negro desperadoes, and Deputy Sheriff Willis wounded, while they were attempting to arrest two of the negroes. The latter escaped and the whites in large numbers are after them.

THE Landon Hotel at San Angelo was entirely destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock Sunday morning and seven women and children, whose remains have been identified, were burned to death. Several other guests of the hotel are unaccounted for. The fire raged until half a score of buildings had been destroyed and the entire business portion of the city came near going up in smoke.

THE great annual guessing match over the size of the Texas cotton crop is now on. Our own guess is that it will not be so large as it might have been under more favorable conditions, nor yet so small as it certainly would have been had conditions been less favorable than they were. We are prepared to gamble on the accuracy of this prognosis, seen' as how Capt. Jack Bumsby give us the tip.

The protracted meeting is still going on at Fairview.

Dr. H. A. Hardeman, of Melrose was in the city today.

The little 5 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Knight, of Chireno, died on the 4th inst. Mr. Knight was in Nacogdoches when his baby was taken suddenly ill and was telephoned for, arriving home only a short time before the child died. The loss of their little one was a severe blow to the bereaved parents, this being their only child, and they have the sympathy of all acquaintances.

Sheriff Spradley has a letter making inquiry for one R. L. Keagan, who now lives at some place in one of the old states. It seems that he has recently married there, and it has been discovered that he has a wife and children in Nacogdoches county, and that he makes it a business of getting married everywhere he goes. He will probably be brought back here on a charge of bigamy, if he is not caught up at some other place first.

FRIDAY'S LOCALS

J. P. Bruton, of Douglass, was here to day on a business trip.

E. C. Kirg, of Garrison, was in the city last night.

R. F. Garrison, Coke Garrison, Otis Joplin, Frank Garrison, John Hearne, C. M. Rhodes, Capt. Jim Garrison, Moss Adams, Gus Irwin, Geo. Rainbolt, Rho Garrison, Miss Iva Ross and Miss Lola McMichael, of Garrison, came down this afternoon to see the ball game between the Garrison team and the M. Born's.

Miss Mary Stubbleheld, of Chireno, who has been visiting in Logansport, has returned, and is now the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. J. Curl, of this city.

Messrs. John and Albert Cronkrite, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. T. J. Curl, have returned to their home in Chireno.

Messrs. William Doherty, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. and Sam H. Dixon, Passenger and Immigration Agent of the same road, were pleasant visitors at THE SENTINEL office this morning. They came down from a trip along the line north of Nacogdoches and were as usual enthusiastic and interesting talkers about the great trucking and fruit growing interests now developing so rapidly along the H. E. & W. T. road. They infect others with their enthusiasm, their cold facts and their clear reasoning on the subject, and their persistent labors in the great cause are undoubtedly accomplishing much good for the best interests of East Texas. THE SENTINEL can always be counted on as their earnest ally in the work.

The friends of Mr. Baker Gilliken are glad to know that he is improving after 6 months of sickness that has kept him confined to his room. He has not been able to come to town this year.

W. A. Graham, of Etoile, is in the city.

Miss Ella Rushing, a most estimable young lady, died at Alazan Monday, and was buried yesterday at Gravel Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. L. E. Booker, of Ennis, who has invested in property a short distance from town and will engage in truck farming, paid THE SENTINEL office a pleasant call this morning. Mrs. Booker is much interested in the subject of good roads. She says that if the commissioners court will bear part of the expense, she is satisfied that the people will willingly bear their share. Everyone she has spoken to has expressed himself in favor of the move for better roads. This is a matter that should have been taken up long ago. Not only will the saving be to the farmer by having first-class roads, but the indirect good it will do by inducing immigration will be simply incalculable.

Mrs. Rusk, of Rusk community, was in the city today shopping.

Died.

On Sunday, August 10th, at 9 o'clock, p. m., Willie Bryan, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mast. The funeral will take place at 5:30 this afternoon. The little sufferer was only five months and thirteen days old. After a long and painful illness he passed quietly away from earth and back to eternal light. It is useless to attempt words of comfort, but the parents have the sympathy of all in their deep bereavement.

MONDAY'S LOCALS.

H. T. Parker, the Garrison photographer, was in the city to-day.

Matt Muekleroy, is overseer of the road district on North street, beginning from the corporation limit, and he has just given his section a complete working, putting it in excellent condition.

We cannot remember when the Melrose road, between Nacogdoches and Fairview, was ever rougher than it is now. It is terribly in need of repair. The hill this side of Tom Burrows' is almost impassable.

There will be several bales of new cotton in Nacogdoches this week, but we did fool around and let San Augustine get in with the first bale.

The people are talking about that big tent meeting of Bro. Gaddy at North church on the fifth Sunday. It will draw a large crowd from far and near.

There is a protracted meeting at North church this week which all are invited to attend.

C. E. Olson of Mahl, spent Sunday in the city.

One trouble with the public roads of Nacogdoches county is that the full term of work has been put in by the road hands and nobody is willing to put in any more work than the law compels him to do. Hence the overseer must keep them in repair at his own expense for the remainder of the term, or leave them unworked until the new annual term sets in.

If the cotton crop of the section of country between Nacogdoches and the Carizo creek may be taken as an index to the entire county, the prediction that Nacogdoches county will make a big cotton crop this year will certainly prove true. The corn crop, however, is very poor.

A two days' protracted meeting closed at Fairview last night. Dr. Terrell preached yesterday and Presiding Elder Weeks preached last night. There was a large crowd in attendance yesterday, and they had a big basket dinner on the ground.

Rev. William T. Tardy of the Baptist church, tendered his resignation as pastor yesterday, the resignation to be in effect not earlier than Sept. 1st nor later than the last of November. This comes as a very disagreeable surprise to Mr. Tardy's friends here, as he is one of the most highly thought of ministers in the city and all are sorry to know that he has decided to accept another call.

H. V. Fall of Chireno, is in the city today.

H. Sealbach, of Garrison, was in the city to-day on a trading trip.

W. R. Mast, of Melrose, this morning carried out a complete gin outfit to be put in his new gin two miles south of Melrose.

Jack Lock and Lawrence Love, of Etoile, were in the city yesterday on business with the commissioners' court. They returned home last night. Mr. Lock was a caller at this office while here and said that the people of his section are still making an effort to get a public road and a post office.

County commissioners court convened yesterday for the regular August term. They will be in session several days.

The second bale of new cotton was brought in yesterday from Martinsville by J. H. Muekleroy, only a few hours behind the first bale. The third was brought in late in the afternoon by a colored man. Four new bales came in to-day, making in all seven bales of new cotton received in Nacogdoches.

Jeff Parish, of Woden, is in town this morning with a new bale of cotton. Mr. Tart, of Attoyac, also brought one in. San Augustine only beat Nacogdoches 24 hours, and the cotton was sold in Nacogdoches anyhow. The new cotton will begin to come in fast now, and the cotton season will be on before we realize it.

Remember what is left of the 16 barrels of White Gobbler and White Lily flour, is still for sale at $4.00 per barrel. Baucom & Son.

THE LUFKIN TRIBUNE says that "the pops of Nacogdoches county have put out a ticket to be slaughtered by the democrats in November. Why man, don't you want an independent ticket?"

It is impossible for his most ardent friends to make a hero of "Helloaring" Jake Smith, just brought home from the Philippines in disgrace, but they are doing what they can to pose him as a martyr. Jake "has a kick coming" against Senator Culberson, who led in the work of exposing the Philippine cruelties.

Nacogdoches county held an independent-populist primary last Saturday. As this peculiar set of people have an absolute horror for a party nominee, their action Saturday was very much out of order, but will give impetus to the Democrats, for they are made of the "staying quality," with the "quantity" sufficiently able to cope with that very much divided and disgruntled combination.—Timpson Bulletin

EDITOR PADON, of the Timpson Bulletin, was in the hub of East Texas a few days ago, and went home and printed the following about us: "The Bulletin editor paid our thriving sister city, Nacogdoches, a business visit Saturday. The place was almost a solid mass of humanity. It was remarked that rain had fallen the day previous, and that the ruralites were there to inform the newspaper men about it. It was also the day of the independent primary election, a nuisance Shelby county is not bothered with. The merchants were all busy, and the brick masons were putting the finishing touches to several new bricks. We were met with a royal reception by the press brethren of Nacogdoches, whose latch strings are always found hanging on the outside.

It is a democratic platform promise to utilize the short term convicts in the Texas penitentiaries on the public roads, and the best statesmanship in the next Legislature cannot be put to better use than in the enactment of a new road law providing for the working of convicts on the county roads under a scientific system of road-making. Other States are doing it, notably North Carolina, and the success of the plan has been unqualified. The present old-fashioned system of road working in this State, which never yet made a good road out of a bad one, is a survival of ancient days and is absurdly out of place in this thorough-going age. Having outlived its usefulness it should be dispensed with and an efficient system adopted in its stead with the least possible delay. The use of convicts under a scientific plan of road-making will work a much needed reform in Texas if we may judge by the result in other States.

BUT ONE THING LACKING.

North street in Nacogdoches is the loveliest residence thoroughfare to be found in any of the smaller cities of Texas. It has charms that individualize it and put it in a class by itself, and both nature and art have done so much for it that the people are justly proud of it and the visiting stranger is rarely permitted to get away until he has been given an opportunity to inspect its two miles of diversified beauty. Not the least among its picturesque effects is the old red roadway itself stretching away to the north until lost in green perspective, and while it is dear to the old timer and hallowed by historic associations it must be confessed that it is the one feature of the street that is away behind the times. Its deep red sand is good to look upon as a pleasing effect in colors, and for funeral processions and other solemn pageants where haste is indecorous and undesirable no material could be better adapted. But North street, with all its wealth and beauty and charm and grace and pretty girls and lovely homes and handsome turnouts can never be distinctly stylish nor perfectly up to date until it has been paved. And why not? The cost would not be excessive and the advantages so obvious that property owners along the street could foot the bill themselves and find the investment largely profitable in the enhanced value of their property. There are many small cities in the South neither so large nor wealthy as Nacogdoches where the leading residence streets are paved in modern style and the cost has been cheerfully met for the sake of the improved appearance, the vast increase in comfort and the enhanced value of property along such streets. Pave North street!—not necessarily before the next issue of THE SENTINEL appears, but within the next two or three years.

If Attorney-General Knox will attack the trusts with the same fierce vigor and courage with which he "lit into" a drunken rowdy in an Atlantic City restaurant the other night he might change the general opinion of his countrymen that the republican war on trusts is humbuggery, pure and simple.

That brilliant young thoroughbred, the Houston Chronicle, is not to have the afternoon field alone in that city, it seems. A new evening paper, has just been started there. Under the spur of competition, real or fancied, there is no telling how excellent the Chronicle will become.

COL. LEROY TRICE, the general manager of the I. & G. N. railroad in this State, has been appointed lieutenant-colonel and aid-de-camp on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Texas Volunteer Guard. An excellent appointment. Col. Trice's road doesn't run through our bailiwick, and we are not on his free pass list, but he is one of those "way up" men who would honor any position quite as much as it would honor him.

STRANGLING A NEW INDUSTRY.

The fair and rational adjustment of the East Texas truck and fruit raiser to the consumer in the northern market is demanded by every consideration of right and justice and enlightened self interest. If this splendid young industry of fruit and truck growing is to be trapped and enslaved right at the start by the arts of the middleman or commission merchant standing between it and the consumer so that the lion's share of the profits shall be diverted from the producer and manipulated into the pocket of the middleman, this new source of wealth will shrivel to lean proportions. The problem is a very real one, and it must be settled and settled right unless the industry is to receive a disastrous setback. With its right settlement we will have here in the country tributary to Nacogdoches for all time to come a profitable industry capable of indefinite expansion where benefits will inure directly and indirectly to all classes of our citizens. But it should be sternly insisted on as a matter of the plainest justice that the people who produce all these kindly fruits of the earth for the delectation of their fellow mortals shall have the largest share of the profits for their rewards. It is a clean and healthy and beautiful business, this growing of truck and fruit for the millions of mouths in northern cities watering for the incomparable tomatoes and peaches of East Texas, but unless it shall also be a profitable business to the grower it will die ingloriously in its infancy, strangled to death by the rapacious interest that stands between producer and consumer. The man who will precisely locate this evil, already beginning to sap the vitality of an infant industry full of brilliant promise, and as precisely prescribe a remedy sure to cure it, will be hailed as the greatest of benefactors.

A DISPATCH from Lexington, Kentucky, says that our Senator Bailey can be seen at the race track near that city every day perched on a high seat watching his trainer speed his blooded horses. May it not also be possible that the Senator has a pair of field glasses and from his coign of vantage is closely scanning the Indiana frontier to detect any threatening movements on the part of Beveridge?

THERE was probably no good to inter with the late Mr. Tracy's bones and the evil he did will live after him in innumerable detective stories to throw the glamour of heroism over his vile career, and thrill the "kids" of America with a bad ambition to go and do likewise.

ADOPTING AMERICAN IDEAS.

A letter has been received at Washington from Walter T. Griffin, United States commercial agent at Limoges, treating of the demand in France for American horses. He says; "American horses are in demand in France. The French army purchases annually a large number of these animals, and on the farms they are gradually displacing cattle for draft purposes. For many years the soil has been cultivated almost entirely with the aid of cows and oxen, but for this work the superiority of the horse is fully acknowledged. The introduction into France of American agricultural machinery—such as mowers, reapers, drills, rakes, etc.—has also led to the use of horses in greater numbers than ever before. This exodus of laborers from the farms to the cities is still another explanation of the increased demand for draft animals. This exodus is also responsible for the increasing use of farm machinery. The scythe is giving place to the mower, the old-fashioned method of sowing to the modern drill, and these machines are worked best by horses. A leading agriculturalist stated recently that the demand for agricultural machinery to replace hand labor on the French farms will be greater this year than ever before."

THE stupendous amount of juvenile vitality in Nacogdoches now going in an unbroken current into base ball, opens an inviting field for speculation as to what all this great quantity of force could accomplish along more productive lines if carefully caught, properly stored and scientifically directed. It is pleasant to know that there is so much surplus youthful energy in our city, and the man who bewails it as a sinful waste should take comfort in the thought that a surplus of any good thing is better than a shortage.

OUR warrior president is coming in for a deserved "skinning" because in his recent address to the West Point cadets he told them that they should not only be willing to fight at all times but should be anxious to do so. A false and shallow view of a soldier's duty in this enlightened age and country! Our observation has been that the really brave men either in war or peace are not the bully boys who are always hankering for a fight—they are merely willing to do so when the proper time comes. The fierce heroes anxious for blood and battle generally get their thirst for gore appeased much quicker than their words would imply.

Watermelons are getting scarce, though occasionally a load of nice ones is brought in.

A. J. Cottingham went to Washington County, Ark., to see his sister, and while there was taken with flux (dysentery) and was very bad off. He decided to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effected, that he wrote the manufacturers a letter in praise of their medicine. Mr. Cottingham resides at Lockland, Ark. This remedy is for sale by Perkins Bros.

MOTHERS

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR

SICK BABIES

HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF

LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in relieving his troubles. I have given up the idea of giving my baby anything but Laxakola. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Mason and Parlane, who are in Dallas, Texas.

My baby is four months old and is teething. He was sick and I tried a good many things, but he would not get better. I had a doctor, who said he was inflammation of the bowels, and that I would never get him through teething, if he were not to come. I then saw he was getting better, and I gave him Laxakola. He was as healthy as a horse, and I was so glad to see him so well, that I gave him Laxakola again. He was so well, that I gave him Laxakola again. He was so well, that I gave him Laxakola again.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send For It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

For Sale by

All druggists 25c and 50c. We will express to all parts of the world, all charges prepaid, a large bottle of LAXAKOLA. Address THE LAXAKOLA CO., N. Y.

SATURDAY'S LOCALS

J. W. Durrett, of Chireno, was in the city today.

M. C. Hutchinson, of Linn Flat, was in the city today.

Rev. S. F. Baucom left for Cold Springs this morning, where he will remain all this week, conducting a meeting.

Henry Gatlin, of Mt. Enterprise, was here last night on a business trip as well as to visit to his son, A. G. Gatlin.

The little child of Mrs. Brockson, who lives on Fredonia hill, died Thursday and was buried yesterday. Mrs. Brockson is in needy circumstances, but, be it said to the credit of Nacogdoches, assistance came promptly to her aid when her condition was discovered. She was living at Garrison when the recent storm struck that town and blew her house down, at which time her husband disappeared and has not since returned. She is now living with her husband's people, but they are all unfortunate and are unable to render her very much assistance.

Little "Son" Rulfs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rulfs, was bitten by a snake this morning while playing in the weeds with some other little boys. The timely summoning of a physician prevented any serious result from the effects of the bite.

Mrs. Ben Brooks and children passed through the city yesterday evening on their way to their home in Rich Hill, Mo. They have been visiting in San Augustine for the past few weeks.

To Our Friends and Patrons.

Our Mr. Vondersmith is now in New York. He will also visit all other eastern and northern markets, buying a complete line of fall and winter goods, which will arrive in ample time for these seasons and which we will be able to place before you at prices and qualities unsurpassed by any one. We will buy your cotton, wool and hides, cash or trade.

We have just remodeled our store and will carry a larger and more complete stock than heretofore. Please give us a call.

Manchacca's Kick.

EDITOR SENTINEL:
Please allow me space in your columns in answer to the slanderous assertion of the Plaindealer that the Mexican voters are bought by democratic leaders, especially with whiskey. I say it is false and the Plaindealer is not making friends by its slanderous insinuations. The Mexicans of Nacogdoches county have sufficient independence to resent such insults and they usually vote as they please.

Yours, truly,
J. A. MANCHACCA.

Died at Swift.

Mrs. Mary D. Orum died July 30th, at the home of her son, Prof. Orum, after several years of ill health; but Mrs. Orum bore her suffering with the greatest of fortitude. She was a kind and affectionate wife and mother, loved by friends and relatives, and an ever true and devoted member of the Baptist church. Mrs. Orum was the wife of Jno. Orum, who died a few months ago, and now the aged couple are sleeping their peaceful slumber to awake in Jesus, in the cemetery at Bethel. The family are left with the small number of three, Ocea, William and John. The broken hearted boys mourn the loss of their dear old parents. But look up, dear boys, you have their noble and pure ways to imitate, and there is a day coming soon when we will all be gathered home to part no more.
A FRIEND.

All Were Saved.

"For years I have suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and 1.00. Trial bottle free at Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Died at Swift.

Aunt Tildy Harrell, wife of Uncle Hardy Harrell, died at their home at Swift Monday and was buried yesterday in the Cross Roads cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Mr. J. B. Rushing, and were attended by one of the largest crowds ever seen at that place. Aunt Tildy was 70 years old and was a highly honored lady, whose death is regretted by all.

Cured His Cancer.

ED. SENTINEL:
Nat, Aug. 11.—I have been suffering with a cancer for about six months. It was on the upper part of my jaw next to my ear, and when it came out by the careful and skillful treatment of W. R. Sparks and his medical aid as a cancer doctor, it took a small portion of my left ear. He commenced treating it the 16th of June and only took 34 days to remove the cancer from my face and the place is now nearly healed up. I think there is a good deal of bulldog about me yet. As for W. R. Sparks, he can and will do just what he says he will with a cancer. Mine was a little larger than a silver dollar. I think I stood the operation well considering that I am 84 years of age.
Yours, truly,
JOHN BREWER.

Jesse P. Bruton, of Douglass, was married Sunday to Mrs. Charley Chambers, the ceremony being performed by Judge V. E. Middlebrook. The wedding was a quiet affair and only a few friends and relatives were present. Mr. Bruton has scores of friends in Nacogdoches who congratulate him upon his good fortune.

J. C. Orr, the white man charged with criminal assault on little Edna Cubbins one day last week, had a preliminary examination before Squire Peevey yesterday and was remanded to jail without bail.

Mr. L. L. Legg, an old and highly respected citizen of the county, whose home is at Eden, four miles from Douglass, has put us under obligations for some fine specimens of apples raised in his orchard, very large and of excellent flavor.

J. O. Martin, of Martinsville, was in the city yesterday. He has just completed the bridge across the Attoyac on the Center road. The bridges across Terrapin creek and at foot of Jordan hill have also been rebuilt and our San Augustine and Shelby county friends can still bring their cotton to Nacogdoches.

Capt. Henry Lewis, of San Augustine county, was in the city again yesterday.

Mrs. W. B. Crow, of Etoile, is in the city laying in a supply of merchandise.

BLACK JACK LETTER.

Weekly Budget of News From the East End.

Attoyac, Aug. 11.—The Methodist protracted meeting closed last Thursday night with one member reclaimed. Rev. Monroe James, of Nacogdoches, assisted Bro. Perry in the meeting. They did some fine preaching, and were greeted with large congregations at each service.

J. M. Fuller is having the front of his store remodeled, which will add a great deal to its looks.

Miss Alice Rhodes, of Martinsville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carrie Balch.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Green were made happy over the advent of a girl on the fifth instant.

Several of the young people of Chireno attended the meeting here last week.

Mr. Willie Hodges and sister, Miss Rubie, after spending a few days at home, returned last Friday to the banks of the river, where they have two more singing schools to teach.

Mr. H. H. Hargis and family are happily domiciled in their new house, having rebuilt on the same spot where stood his former residence that was blown down by the storm.

Mr. Mat Bentley is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. J. F. Pleasant visited Center last week, taking her little grandson, John Hall Barrett, home. She was accompanied home by her two little grand daughters, Winfrey and Neata Leak, who will spend several days visiting here.

A musical entertainment given at Mr. Moore's last Saturday night was highly enjoyed by those present.

Mr. R. A. Hall and his daughters, of Nacogdoches, are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Pleasants, meanwhile Miss Marie is visiting relatives at Chireno.

Cotton is opening very fast and the pickers are gathering up their baskets and sacks, making ready to meet "general white."

The hog law now pending is causing much disturbance among some of our farmers, as there is such a fine mast for the hogs to be deprived of, if the law becomes effective. Our farmers should all unite against such a law, if not, our meat will soon be coming from some northern city.

The road hands being supplied with a scraper, etc., have put the roads in pretty fair condition. One consolation we have if Nacogdoches does lose her San Augustine trade, that our roads will get a little rest.

We hope to be able to report soon the date of our picnic, which was postponed on the 4th, ult.

Miss Helen Rusk, of the Rusk community, was in the city on a shopping trip today.
