SUCCESSOR TO OLD STONE FORT.

Beautiful Office Building On the Site of Famous Old Structure.

The Old Stone Fort on Nacogdoches, with its historic memories, legends, traditions and actions, is dead and gone forever, and its successor, the beautiful office building erected by Perkins Bros., of this city, has come to stay as a representative of the new and larger era in which we live. We dare not say anything to disparage or question the ancient glory of the Old Stone Fort and the wealth of its history and undoubted contribution to the city, but its venerable walls, that we lean upon our heads the wealth of an aged people who departed peacefully and bravely, and who were the first to plant the flag of the Republic on this soil, and who have been told in those same walls, could they have found voice to tell what they had seen and heard. But we live in a prosaic age, in which imagination counts for less than facts, and it is simple truth to say that the Fort was an architectural blot on the horizon, an ugly protuberance thrusting its ugliness continually in the face of the town, a survivor of primitive conditions painfully out of place in modern Nacogdoches, and its most devoted, and super-sentimental friends, deep down in their heart of hearts, were glad to welcome the enterprise that decreed its doom.

For years past among our foremost and most progressive citizens have been Perkins Brothers, so well known not only in their capacity as proprietors of a leading drug store, but in all other matters concerning the best interests of Nacogdoches. Personally, and as a firm their names are synonymous with integrity, through business operations and sagacious enterprise. These clear-sighted gentlemen, alive to their own and the public interest, realized more than a year ago that one of the conspicuous needs of our greater Nacogdoches was an up-to-date office building thoroughly equipped with all modern facilities, and they determined that there should be such a building here. They are shrewd, hard-headed, practical business men, with "no nonsense about them," as the English say, and they saw that the Old Stone Fort corner was the most available spot in Nacogdoches for such a building. They purchased the property, had the ancient pile torn down, and let the contract for the erection of a structure which might not have so much sentiment and history as the old, but would have a great deal more convenience and practical utility.

The new building is now about ready for occupancy, and as its completion is something like an epochal event in the history of Nacogdoches, marking the passing away of one of the oldest and most historic structures in Texas, and the substitution of a more improved modern building of the best quality, the Sentinel feels that it owes a more or less elaborate description.

The new block is two stories high, light gray in color, made of St. Louis pressed brick and Bedford stone, and presents to the eye a clean and pleasing combination of elegance, simplicity and solidity combined. Mr. M. R. Stewart, architect, the well known Fort Worth architect, prepared the design and he has achieved a triumph for the building in its exterior aspect, not only by simple lines, but by the common place and ordinary artistic sense of the two-story brick business block.

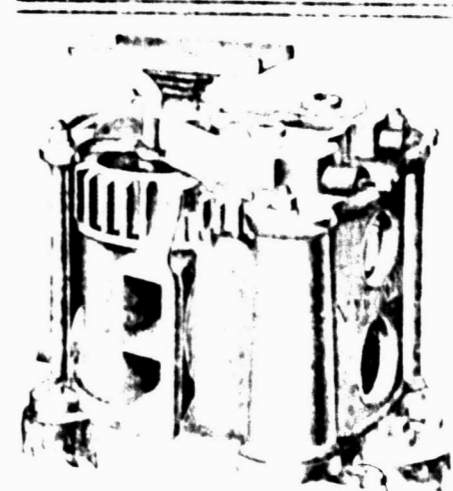

The Sentinel reporter assigned to write up this building is a little short in his architectural vocabulary, and is most at home with literary compositions, and he knows good architecture, and he doesn't hesitate to say that this new building of the Perkins Bros. may stand challenge comparison in every desirable respect with any business structure of like size in Texas or other State.

The contractor, Mr. J. C. Buchanan, has done his work so well that no flaw can be found in the details, no suspicion of shoddy, and after The Sentinel reporter had finished a thorough inspection of the building, he pronounced a lot and concluded that in its solidity, its convenience and cleanliness, its close adherence to perfection of detail, its quiet elegance, and all round completeness, all that makes an up-to-date, modern building it was a night, a good example to all of a kind, we couldn't do better than draw a moral lesson from it and imitate it as a example of their own, and conscientious attention to the smallest detail that makes up a complete whole.

But to the details, beginning with the second story. A very handsome stone cornice reaches the second story with hand rail of polished oak on both sides, and this stone cornice opens on a cheerful and spacious main hallway with a large skylight above through which a perfect light flows. This hallway is 27 feet wide at the front, running back 12 feet and there is a peculiar attraction about it, with its ample space, and seclusion from outside noise, which the visitor feel at once. To the front, right and left, are divided by convenient side hallways, and the rooms, twenty-two in number, and these are on a level with the main floor, and some of them are very large and comfortable. They are trimmed with oak paneling and the walls are of a light color, and every room is plastered, an unusual feature, and the wall paper is of a high quality, and the floor is of a high quality, and the ceiling is of a high quality.

The new building is now about ready for occupancy, and as its completion is something like an epochal event in the history of Nacogdoches, marking the passing away of one of the oldest and most historic structures in Texas, and the substitution of a more improved modern building of the best quality, the Sentinel feels that it owes a more or less elaborate description.

NACOGDOCHES PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

They Start Off Under the Star of Bright Promise.

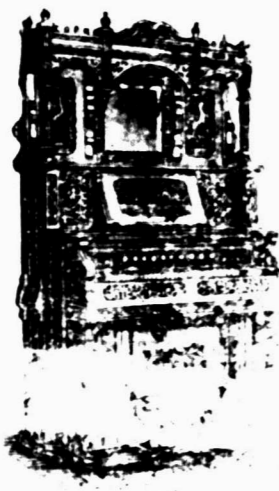

Tuesday's Daily.

The public schools of Nacogdoches started off in a most satisfactory manner yesterday. Nacogdoches University enrolled two hundred and twenty-five pupils, against two hundred and fifteen last year. This is not enough of an increase, but the school opened two weeks earlier this year than last and the drought had not broken nor the intense summer heat moderated yesterday morning. By the end of the week the number enrolled will be materially added to. In West Nacogdoches Institute the same reasons were responsible for only forty being enrolled. The real cause for congratulation lies in the tone of the schools this year, and of the people toward the schools. Prof. Davis has proven himself a most efficient superintendent and the pamphlets published by him about the public schools of Nacogdoches shows how well organized the work is, and what a good prospect there is there fore of good work being done in all grades. The children themselves are beginning school in a different spirit. The knowledge that they are soon to have new buildings has encouraged them, and altogether there is a bright, energetic, hopeful outlook that has been absent before. The columns of THE SENTINEL are always open for matter pertaining to the educational system of our home city and it will always be glad to lend a helping hand to the furtherance of our school interests; for truly he spoke well who said, "The true wealth of a community lies not in the gold and silver, but in the children, and it is the schools where these childish minds are moulded into useful citizens."

Mr. and Mrs. Frost Thorn and family are guests of Mrs. John Schmidt for a few days. They will move the last of the week to the house opposite Mr. D. K. Cason's on College street where they will keep house. Mr. and Mrs. Thorn are acquisitions to Nacogdoches' society and we are glad to welcome them among us.

HALTOM & HALTOM, PUBLISHERS

R. W. HALTOM, EDITOR.

THEY are finding more dead people, come to their death by violent means in the Neches at Beaumont.

SHREVEPORT seems to be a close second for Houston in the sport of man-killing by the pistol toters.

PRAYERS for rain in Texas some weeks ago availed much, probably too much, but if we could have carried over some of the surplus to this time it would come in mighty handy.

PRIVATE advices received in Nacogdoches this morning assert that Smith and Van Zandt counties went for prohibition in the elections held yesterday in those counties to decide that issue.

If the pistol toters would learn how to read and then peruse the newspapers to catch up with current opinion, they would get an estimate of themselves, formed by their civilized neighbors, that might go to the quick and help them to reform.

THE state health officer, Dr. Tabor, went to Timpson one day this week, inspected it thoroughly and said it was one of the cleanest towns in the state. Bet him something handsome he won't dare come here and say as much about Nacogdoches. Up to you, Doctor.

THE fate of Livingston should warn our citizens that a Nacogdoches fire department should be promptly organized and put on an effective footing. It's poor business to be toiling and saving half a life-time to get the money to build a business block to be destroyed in a few hours by fire.

A PRIVATE dispatch from Washington says that Congressman DeGraffenreid, this State, died suddenly in that city yesterday, of heart failure. The death of so prominent and popular a man in the early prime of his life will be widely regretted in Texas, where he has a large and devoted personal following.

BEAUMONT is agitated over the grewsome mystery surrounding the death of Miss Vogel, a beautiful and wealthy young Galveston lady found dead in her room in a Beaumont hotel under circumstances which suggest suicide or murder. The young lady was a Texas newspaper woman of rare charm and culture and her death is widely deplored.

THE tomato and fruit industry is being established in Texas to help cure the evils resulting from the overproduction of cotton, but just as we begin to apply the remedy is a little too early to raise the cry of overproduction in the new lines. Our occasional fields of tomatoes and widely scattered commercial orchards indicate a very clear case of underproduction rather than the opposite.

NO DANGER OF IT YET.

We cheerfully admit that the Jacksonville Banner is both an alert and an expert representative of infant fruit and vegetable industries of East Texas, and because it is expert we have no disposition to dispute it figures as to the exact size of the recent tomato crop of East Texas. But conclusions are quite another matter, and as the Banner criticizes, or rather questions our proposition that "we need n't bother about fears of overproduction in the tomato business" we take occasion to reassert the proposition as being sound and correct. One of the most careful and best informed students of the tomato business in East Texas was our authority for the statement concerning the Chicago appetite for Texas tomatoes and we seriously suspect that he knew what he was talking about. But we do not need his authority or backing for our contention that the tomato industry in East Texas is in no immediate danger of being overdone. Why, man, that industry, about which we have all been blowing and bragging and doing our best to stimulate for a year and more past; which we have settled upon as one of the permanent sources of our prosperity, is literally in its infancy, as yet. Our truckers have just made a good start and they are hardly in the race, with their energies aroused and their hopes high, when you rebuke THE SENTINEL for its enthusiasm in their behalf and confront us with the figures of the first year's crop to prove that we must go slow before we are more than well started, lest we glut the market with our products. The same cry was raised in California years ago when the fruit industries of that state were in their infancy, and there seemed good basis for it. Every available market was glutted and prices did not pay for transportation. But the California fruit growers had faith and courage and were steadily growing in expert knowledge, and, feeling sure that the world wanted their delicious fruits in increasing quantities and intended to have them, they went right ahead with the business, enlarging their orchards and vineyards and planting new ones. The result is that California leads the world today in her special lines of fruit, and while the business, like any other, has its mutations and there is overproduction at times, nevertheless it is generally profitable and is one of the great fixed industries of the coast, worth more than all her gold mines combined. Had the counsels of the timid and the overcautious prevailed when the cry of overproduction was raised, the present magnificent development would never have been reached and California would not have been the vast, fruitful land of wealth and beauty that it is. And what is true of California in this respect is true of every part of the Union where trucking and fruit raising have been firmly established and built up to large proportions. The cry of over production has been more a scarecrow than a real menace and where brave counsels have prevailed low prices have been philorophically accepted as being at times an inevitable feature of the situation, and the industry has moved right along to still larger development. Texas tomatoes are not necessarily the luxury of the Northern rich. With larger production and the readjustment of freight rates sure to follow, the laboring classes of the great Northern cities can eat them as well as the rich; and let us not forget that we have a steadily increasing home market and that our own people can be made large and profitable customers. We repeat that we do not dispute the figures of the Banner as to the crop just marketed, but we know with the certainty fixed by many precedents that it would be disastrous conservatism to discourage our new born trucking industry and shrivel it in its infancy by the cry of over production.

In Mr. Roosevelt's stumping tour through New England he seems to make it a point in his speeches to exalt the military and man killing features of the government and to find his true model of a hero in the soldier rather than the civilian. He is constantly talking in the heroic strain of wars and battles as though he were a great military power, with a dangerous neighbor that needed watching, and it was necessary for us to cultivate the martial spirit. This is not because our president is naturally blood thirsty and is preparing to plunge us into war, but rather because of his comparative youth, strenuousness, abundant physical courage and muscle, imagination fired by overmuch reading of wars and warriors, and the brief taste of battle he got in the little fight with the Spaniards on San Juan Hill. If he had but graduated as a soldier from Gettysburg and the Wilderness instead of Santiago, he would have had his fill of fighting and found more peaceful themes to discuss. It is really not good for the youth of the country that the President of the United States should be so constantly emphasizing and glorifying the soldier and his prowess in his public speeches. Soldiers in their last analysis, are but a necessary evil.

THROUGH his Texas Farmer Col. Bill Shaw is urging Senator Bailey to punch the head or otherwise maltreat the person of Solicitor General Penfield, who has been saying some hard things about our senator for reasons growing out of the Beveridge choking incident. The colonel says that the people of Texas confidently expect the senator to do something of this kind. Not so, and the advice is bad. Let the incident drop. Bailey got all of the doubtful glory to be had out of the Beveridge affair, and if Penfield wants to scrap let him take the initiative. Senatorial dignity should surely count for something

ALMOST the entire business section of the flourishing town of Livingston, the county seat of Polk county, was destroyed by fire, which broke out about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Fortunately only one residence was burned. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. The insurance covers but a small part of the loss.

It is now vigorously denied by his friends that Mr. Scott, the republican candidate for congress from the Fifteenth district, indulged in any "bloody shirt" talk during his opening speech a few days ago. We are glad to hear it and willing to believe it, for it is not pleasant to think that any candidate for congress in Texas of any party could be such a stupid bigot as to make himself gratuitously offensive along civil war or sectional lines.

WE reproduce the following from the Sulphur Springs Gazette and specially commend it to the careful and appreciative reading of the boys and young men of Nacogdoches:

A few evenings ago we saw a young friend at the livery stable hiring a rig for a drive. We jocularly remarked: "Going to be kind to your sweetheart?" and the young fellow replied somewhat bashfully: "Yes sir." Later we saw him with his mother in the buggy. They were in front of a soda fountain. The young man called to us, and when we had spoken to his mother, the young fellow remarked: "This is the sweetheart I told you I was going to take for a drive," and he looked as proud as a king. The mother's eyes suddenly became moist, and the editor's heart was too full of emotions for speech. With a "God bless them both" in our heart we turned away and left them, the mother proud of her boy lover, and the son as happy in the love of his mother as ever he will be in the paradise of God. Such love can never die.

How some of our great men can dodge a dangerous issue loaded to shoot most any old way! J. Pierpont Morgan, mightiest of moderns, got home the other day from Europe, and his advice was instantly besought about how to settle the monster coal strike. "See my partner, Mr. Perkins," was his quick and easy way out of the difficulty. Chauncey Depew, the radiant statesman of all-round wisdom, also returned the other day from Europe, and his valuable contribution to the solution of the strike problem was, "I think it ought to be settled." And the great Bishop Potter, who by no means confines himself to the cure of souls, but in an incidental way as he goes along, throws his flash light on mere governmental and economic riddles and solves them en passant—he too fetched himself, fat and happy, back from Europe, and when told that the strike was still on, promptly handed out this powerful thought to the country: "Ah, too bad, too bad! It should be settled by all means." Since these three great and good brothers have thus clearly pointed out the way there remains no further excuse for the continuance of the strike.

REPUBLICAN newspapers are scarce in Texas, so scarce, in fact, that we could stand a few more without serious menace to our well established, brutal democratic majority. Mr. James C. Stanley proposes to soon issue in Houston a weekly republican paper, and there are probably enough new settlers of his way of thinking in that part of the State to support him in the enterprise and make the venture permanent.

SATURDAY'S LOCALS

Mr. J. P. Sutphen, of Abilene, is in the city, called here by the illness of his sister, Mrs. Jno. P. Davidson. Mr. Sutphen is an old resident of Nacogdoches, being a prominent merchant here some years ago. His friends are glad to greet him, but regret the cause of his visit.

Mrs. J. L. Day, accompanied by her little sister, Miss Clydie, went to Nacogdoches Saturday to visit their mother. —San Augustine Visitor.

It will be but a few days until the Blount and Schmidt building adjoining the Perkins block on Fredonia street will be complete, and when the rubbish is all cleared away things will look wonderfully improved in that vicinity.

Yesterday afternoon commencing at 6 o'clock there was a mighty pleasant time had by those present by invitation at Hardy Dial's elegant new saloon. The occasion was an appetizing spread by Mr. Dial, washed down by the foaming, ice cold contents of a keg of beer donated by Mr. John Schmidt to the carpenters on the new Schmidt-Blount building. In addition to the mechanics, there were a number of other invited guests and there was not a flaw in the execution of the hospitable program. THE SENTINEL had an adequate representative present and he knows whereof he speaks.

J. M. Greer has secured a position with H. A. Huntley to commence Sept. 1st, when Mr. Huntley will open his big grocery establishment on East Main street.

Pastor Tardy leaves Sunday afternoon for Lufkin where he will open his evangelistic campaign.

Miss Virgie Gaddy is in Nacogdoches visiting friends. She will assist in the singing during the meeting at North church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Whitaker are home again, after a general trip over the western part of the state, including Mineral Wells and Haskill.

The pony that used to belong to Miss Zirlera Matthews was raffled off yesterday and was won by Miss Deedie Ray. Frank Robbins bought five chances at the pony and put the names of five girls on the card and, Deedie being one of the five it fell to her good fortune to win. She is very proud of her pony and is very appreciative of the kindness of Mr. Robbins.

I want to trade a good young pony and Moon Bros. buggy for a large gentle horse. d1w2 W. H. Harris.

Card of Thanks.

EDITOR SENTINEL: It is very kind of you to give me such a send-off as you did in the matter of the C. P. Church in your yesterday's paper, and also of the party, whoever it may be, that gave you the information.

I wish to say that we have nearly enough absolutely good subscriptions to repay me for all I am out over my own subscription, not counting several of our good citizens that have told me they would help us, but who have not said what amount yet; and also two or three told me when we ran up to the place that we had a debt resting on the church to come back and see them again. I feel sure that it is only a short time until there will be nothing due any one on the church.

I wish also to state that the people of Nacogdoches, at large are the most generous people in the world. Nearly every man, and the young men and boys are also included, of the city have helped us. It is no trouble to push a public enterprise to success in Nacogdoches; it is only a matter of a little work well done. You should have thrown those bouquets in yesterday's issue at the whole town.

Allow me, in the name of our Church, to extend our sincere thanks to all who have so generously and willingly helped us, and we assure the people of our town and some few outside the town who have aided us, that these acts of kindness shall not be forgotten.

Very truly and gratefully,
Yours,
V. E. MIDDLEBROOK.

THE SENTINEL deeply regrets to hear that Mrs. Jno. P. Davidson of this city is very seriously ill and has been for some days past. Mrs. Davidson was prostrated by the death of her beloved friend, Mrs. Geo. F. Ingraham, and that combined with other causes, has brought her to her present critical condition. Last night about 1 o'clock the alarm of fire was given, and after the protracted drouth a more terrifying sound could hardly be imagined. It proved to be only a chimney on fire in the residence of Mr. Watson, and had been extinguished almost immediately. The alarm gave every body heart failure however for the water works problem has never been solved. That ten inch main through town and hydrants would be soothing to think of, when the cry of fire rings through the town that now is absolutely unprotected. Some night will bring disaster to the city if we keep on tempting fate in this manner.

T. F. Bridwell has sold out his saddlery business in this city to Messrs. Hollis Mast and Mark Stroud. The new church building just completed by the Cumberland Presbyterians is one of the prettiest in our town of churches and is a lasting monument to the energy and Christianity of the small number of workers that have accomplished so much. The church was three hundred dollars in debt to the contractors, and our big hearted County Judge, V. E. Middlebrook, came to the rescue and advanced the money. The church will refund the deficit, but generous deeds like this of Judge Middlebrook, cannot be measured by the money value. His act has freed the church building of debt, and it belongs absolutely to its devoted members.

Those wanting Dental work done and in the best way will find Dr. C. C. Pierce in his office on Monday, the 1st of September, who has just completed a course in the Haskel Post Graduate in Chicago, one of the best known in existence.

There was a typographical error in yesterday's SENTINEL in regard to the price for which the jail is to be repaired. The correct amount is $970.00, and for that amount Mr. Barron is to have the jail in good repair by Nov. 1st, 1902.

From Smith Chapel.

Smith Chapel has a good meeting in progress now, held by Bro. Burk.

Bro. Lancaster, elder of the Free Methodist Church, will begin his quarterly meeting at Appleby on Friday, August 29th.

There are several sick in this community. Among them John Windsor and his son, and Vial Hutson.

At the convention Wednesday Mr. I. D. Polk, of Beaumont, in a graceful and sincere little speech, introduced a motion to thank the city of Nacogdoches for its hospitality to the visitors, and to Mr. John Schmidt for the use of the opera house. The motion was carried unanimously. The convention was characterized all the way through by the spirit of good feeling apparent. And Nacogdoches has never had more welcome guests within her gates than the distinguished gentlemen who met here on Wednesday.

R. E. Mims and H. A. Truitt are fitting up a corner of the Cox building, corner of Main and Fredonia streets, for a barber shop and will be ready to open in a few days. They are both thorough barbers and will have a neat, new and well equipped outfit, as well as a desirable location.

WHAT PEOPLE THINK.

W. H. Bowen, a prominent citizen and Deputy District Clerk of Dallas County, Tex., says: "Half a 50c bottle cured a case of Chills in my family of two months' standing. The other half of the medicine cured like case in the family of a neighbor."

Murray & Evans, druggists, Honey Grove, Texas, after handling Eucaline only 3 months, writes: "We wish to testify to the merits of your great Eucaline. We have sold 18 bottles on a guarantee without having a single bottle returned or the slightest complaint."

KIDNEY CURE.

There is no disease so insidious, so slow but sure, as kidney disease, or so wide-spread. The symptoms are so slight as to generally escape notice.

The first indications appear in the urine, with varied effects. The quantity may be increased or decreased; it is likely to be highly colored and scalding; it may be pale or thin, or thick and milky with a sediment. Later on more pronounced symptoms will be present, such as dizziness, bloating, etc., with marked bladder and urinary disorders.

Poisonous waste matter is collected by the blood from all parts of the system and carried to the kidneys, where it is separated and cast out through the urine. The kidneys deal with the blood only, deriving nourishment therefrom. Hence, if the blood is bad the kidneys are not only overworked, but underfed. How necessary is it, therefore, that the purity and vitality of the blood should be maintained. It is plain why the great blood purifier and strengthener—Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic—has been successfully used in treating kidney diseases and in preventing them. In purifying the blood the kidneys are greatly relieved, while, at the same time, new strength and vitality are given these organs. The following letter tells a very old story:

PINE KNOT, KY., June 25, 1902.

The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., Dayton, O.

GENTLEMEN: I had a severe case of typhoid fever six years ago, which left my kidneys in bad order. I have tried a number of remedies and taken treatment from doctors, but Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic has done me more good than everything else. C. CORDELL, Merchant and Mine Operator.

There are thousands of just such cases as the above that are treated without results because they are wrongly treated. Mr. Cordell's condition resulted from an exhausting fever; the kidneys, as well as the rest of the system, had been wasted by disease. No wonder Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic promptly cured, because it purified and enriched the blood, and such blood carried new strength and vitality directly to the kidneys and to all the organs.

Lost Boy.

There was quite a sensation on the east side of town about daylight this morning. Mrs. Jennie Richardson's little boy, about six or seven years old, was feverish, and his mother was giving him medicine through the night.

Some time after midnight she got up to give him medicine, but he was gone. Not finding him about the house, she called Mr. Bogard, her nearest neighbor. Soon the entire neighborhood was out with lanterns and torches, searching for the lost child; the well was dragged, but without success.

About daybreak he was found at Mrs. Dora Harriston's, having become delirious during the night and wandered up there, telling them there was no one at home and he wanted to stay all night.

The frantic mother was much relieved when her lost child was restored to her. — Timpson Times.

A. Mrs. Morgan with five orphan children came in on the north bound train yesterday morning. She was without means, and this morning made application to the county judge to get help to get back to her home near Shreveport. As she was not a citizen of our county, no help could be given from the county. Judge Middlebrook got out and in a very few minutes made up five dollars for her which is sufficient to get her to her destination. The people of Nacogdoches were never known to refuse to respond to an object of charity.

Ryan, County Commissioner for Precinct No. 1, Nacogdoches county, Texas, I hereby give notice that there has been found running at large, and strayed, the owner of which is unknown, one bay mare state about 5 or 6 years old, about 11 or 12 hands high, branded thus I on left hip, and animal left in care of J. It not legally proven away by the owner thereof within twenty days from the date hereof, the same will be advertised and said commissioner will proceed to sell the same according to law.

Dated, Nacogdoches, Texas, this 6th day of Aug, 1902. E. M. WELLS, County Clerk By D. J. Ivey, Deputy.

AND now Ellis county has joined the prohibition column and will go it "dry" in future.

ONE Mr. Burrow, of Yorktown, is the gentleman put up for congress in the Ninth district by the republicans. His late is not doubtful.

THE State convention of the republican party of North Carolina met the other day in Charlotte and there was not a negro delegate in it. Some years ago it was mostly the other way.

ORANGE is a good deal bigger town in the public eye than it is as a matter of fact, because of its excellent and irrepressible Tribune. Orange should make it a point to catch up with the Tribune in order to silence invidious comparison.

THERE'S good money in late tomatoes for the home market as well as in early tomatoes for the Northern market. In the eagerness of our truckers to get their stuff to Northern cities let them not forget that right here at home is also a large and profitable market which they would do well to look to.

PALESTINE is to have an industrial carnival and fruit show, Sept. 16-17-18, and great preparations are being made for the event. Nacogdoches set the pace and furnished the model for carnival occasions in Texas cities of the second class, and Palestine may equal but cannot hope to surpass that model.

THE untimely death of Congressman DeGraffenreid is bringing out earnest expressions of regret from all over Texas. Although defeated for renomination at the late primaries in his district, Mr. DeGraffenreid was too strong a man to have been seriously disheartened by that fact, and had he lived he would have found other avenues of usefulness and distinction.

THE contention of the San Antonio Light that the State should interfere to prevent marriages that breed crime is well enough as a purely Utopian view of the case and we all wish it might be so. But it doesn't lie in the wit of man to frame an effective statute to that end, and the world must go on in the old way, working out its greatest reform by the slow and patient processes of evolution.

Now is the summer of our discontent made glorious autumn by the abundant showers that came upon the thirsty earth yesterday afternoon and the delicious coolness following thereafter. And now also let the iridescent prose poet of the Gal.-Dal. News leap to his opportunity; uncork himself once more, and turn loose an ode, an epic, a bugle-toned pean, a gorgeous, crimson-winged, nine-tailed apostrophe to Grand Old Texas as she looks just after taking a much needed bath.

THE gruesome mystery surrounding the tragic death of Miss Vogel, in Beaumont, grows deeper. The theory of suicide has been abandoned and the coroner has brought in a verdict of murder by strangulation at the hands of unknown parties. In some of its features the tragedy resembles Edgar Poe's weird story of the Murders in the Rue Morgue.

WITH truth and pertinence the Livingston Local says:

The time will come when this section of the State will not be thought of as a cotton producing section. True, this soil produces cotton in paying quantities, but it is better adapted to truck growing. Natural development of a country forces each vicinity to produce what is best suited there, and the sooner this line is adopted the more easily is it developed.

SAM SMALL, the Georgia editor and humorist, with preaching and lecturing as a side line, should leave his thirst at home the next time he goes into another state to help out in a prohibition campaign. The other night in Vermont he inadvertently appeared in the role of a horrible example before an audience he was expected to address in behalf of prohibition. He admits that he was drunk, and doesn't charge it to vertigo, sudden indisposition or the excessive heat of the room. Sam is a sinner pure and simple, in fact as well as theory, and he has to fall from grace every now and then to illustrate his system of recovery.

THE address of Judge Reagan on Labor Day, in Palestine, shows that the venerable statesman is either away behind the times or away in advance of them in his views on the trust and labor problems. He says:

The only remedy, so far as I can see, is for the States and the Federal government to enact and enforce such laws as will make the trusts, class legislation, monopolies designed to control production and price of property and labor, and all labor organizations criminal and punishable by penalties so severe as to drive them out of existence.

As well attempt to cure original sin by legislative enactment, or solve a problem in mathematics by compromise.

WE sometimes suspect that the prodigious modern Sunday metropolitan newspaper is an incentive to pessimism first and insanity afterward. No average man can tackle it continuously through the seasons and compass its mighty field of fact, fancy, thought and speculation without having his enthusiasms impaired and becoming despondent over the thickening problems of life. The best if not the only excuse for this Sunday morning monster is that it makes bread and meat for an army of contributors and skilled workmen required to produce it. If the world shall ever go mad, as some philosopher has predicted, the modern Sunday daily will have its full share in the responsibility. Its huge proportions should be trimmed down to more reasonable dimensions.

AND that famous legislative smelling committee that was to unearth all sorts of rottenness in the administration of state affairs has finished its Titan toil and given us the result in the form of a bulky volume of nearly 500 pages which no mortal man will ever read. Nothing in it. False alarm. No rottenness to unearth. They started out with the portentous cry, "We smell a rat; we see him floating in the air; we'll nip him in the bud!" And the echo of the investigation is, "Oh, rats!"

THE State press has been steadily bombarding the Texas pistol toters for some weeks past, and it might be a good idea now to cease firing and send out searching parties to see if there are any of the unhappy creatures left. We suspect that the devastation has not been so great as it should have been—in fact we doubt if one measly, misguided pistol toter has been put hors du combat by the tremendous racket. The truth is that most of those fellows can't read and the others wont, and hence they are entirely unconscious of the awful fire to which they have been subjected. Heavy fines, chain gangs and prison stripes are the kind of ammunition to use on such cattle, and until it becomes the rule to give it to them, regardless of wealth, color or social standing, they will continue to defy decency and the laws of Texas and increase the population of our graveyards.

THAT was a noble inspiration, worthy of a brave soldier and a true patriot, which prompted General Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, to issue his official appeal to the various G. A. R. posts throughout the country to help the Confederate veterans of Alabama build a home in that state for their helpless comrades. Such a home is badly needed; the Alabama Confederates are unable to build it without assistance, which neither the people nor the legislature seem disposed to give, and learning of the emergency, the G. A. R. commander, acting purely on his own motion, issued his appeal. He seeks to accomplish a real, practical good for aged and helpless American soldiers and at the same time wipe out what remains of the foul and poisonous accretion of sectional hate left with us as the unhappy aftermath of the civil war, and it is very probable that the old boys of the G. A. R. will respond to the appeal in the same spirit which prompted it. If they do, the Union they preserved will have a higher meaning for those who once fought to destroy it.

To the Democratic Executive Committee of Nacogdoches county:

You are hereby called to meet in the city of Nacogdoches on Saturday, the 13th day of Sept., for the transaction of such business as may come before you. I would like that all members attend.

Respectfully,
W. H. CAMPBELL,
Chairman.

BLACK JACK LETTER.

Weekly Budget of News From the East End.

Attoyac, Sept. 1st.—On last Tuesday evening our community was saddened by the death of one of its oldest settlers, Mr. J. F. Pleasant. Mr. Pleasant was a successful farmer and a firm believer in the red land. Mr. Jerry Crisp, his nephew, is employed for the fall to run the gin, and see to the gathering of the crop. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved wife and sorrowing relatives and friends.

Our doctors are both kept busy now, which is a good index to the amount of sickness in our community. We are glad there are no serious cases to report.

Rev. Durham, of Geneva, was a pleasant caller in our little burg last Monday.

Taylor Perritte visited at Etoile last week, returning Friday.

Prof. McCall closed his school here last Friday and in the afternoon he treated the pupils and a few friends to ice cream, which they enjoyed very much.

Prof. McCall and wife and Miss Ettie Calhoun left for their home at Chireno last Friday evening.

Mrs. Hale, of Nacogdoches is visiting her sister, Mrs. Martha Pleasant.

J. F. Stephens made a business trip to Aken last week.

Wiley Garrett, who has just closed a school in San Augustine county, was among his friends here the past week.

Several of our young people attended the protracted meeting at Chireno last week. They report a good meeting.

Eld. B. A. Calhoun preached several interesting sermons here last week at night.

Roy Stephens, of Jacksonville, came down last Wednesday to spend several days here rounding up some business for his mother and occasionally mixing in a little pleasure. He will remain till after our picnic, which will be on the 6th of this month.

A difficulty arose late Saturday evening between Charlie Roberts and Eddie Blackshear about some ladies, resulting in Blackshear receiving a very dangerous shot through the body. The ball entered the upper portion of the right lung, ranging downward, coming out at the back to the right of the spinal column. A 45 Colt's pistol was the weapon used. Young Blackshear is the youngest son of our worthy Doctor, and has many friends here who hope to see him recover. Mr. Roberts, it is said, received several blows on the head with a pistol, necessitating a physician to make thirty-two stitches to close his wounds. Mr. Roberts has always been a peaceful, industrious young man. Consequently all regret the affair very much.

Yesterday evening while a negro was crossing the Hall bridge with a load of freight, the middle section gave way and fell about 25 or 30 feet to the water below, smashing his wagon up considerably and part of his freight floated off down the river. The negro and mules came out slightly injured. The bridge was wrecked in the recent overflow and was dangerous to cross over.

The colored people have just closed a successful meeting at Sand Hill.

THE SENTINEL subscribers here were very much disappointed last week at not receiving their paper. Hope the editor did not forget us.

We don't ask you to buy, but come and look for yourself. Dotson Bros.

Mr. Guinn, of Rusk, is in the city prospecting with a view to locating in Nacogdoches. He is a son of Col. Guinn, the well known lawyer, and he and his family would be a welcome addition to any city. Mr. Guinn is a great advocate of fruit and truck farming. He is in that business at Rusk and wants to extend his business to this place. We are certain that nowhere could one find the surroundings more favorable for fruit and truck farming profitably than right here. Not only is the soil peculiarly adapted for that purpose, but land is still cheap. Then too, the fine organization of the truck growers of Nacogdoches gives them power in the market. We will be glad to welcome Mr. Guinn among us, feeling sure that the benefit will be mutual.

Our Peach Orchards. Visitors to the nurseries of Prof. F. W. Mally at Garrison report themselves as delighted with what they see of the fine supply of young trees now growing for planting in our county and other points along the line of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. The later part of the season has been very favorable for the growth of June Buds and they are growing at a fine rate. While in the city recently the Professor stated that he was not pushing sales much just now owing to the fact that prices are advancing.

Letters either to Houston or Garrison will receive prompt attention.

Fruit and Truck Growers' Association.

The Nacogdoches Fruit and Truck Growers association met in called session at the court house Saturday, August 30th, for the purpose of electing delegates to represent the association at the East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers association which met at Athens September 2nd and 3rd.

After the reading of several communications, Messrs. Robt. Berger and John Power were elected as delegates and were instructed to use their influence for the consolidation of the associations, and to invite the next general association to meet with us at Nacogdoches.

Adjourned to meet Saturday, Sept. 5th, at 2:30 p. m.

T. E. BURGESS, Pres. J. B. POWER, Sec.

Not a Republican Delegate.

In the list of delegates from this county to the republican state convention the SENTINEL recently published the name of Mr. A. B. Martindale, the well known lumberman at Caro, his name being with the others furnished our reporter. But Mr. Martindale won't have it that way, as appears by the following letter which we gladly give space to:

EDITOR SENTINEL:

I notice in your issue of the 26th I am accredited as a delegate from this county to the republican state convention. While I consider it an honor to be associated with the other gentlemen named as delegates, yet having voted the democratic ticket all my life, I must deprive myself of that honor.

Yours truly, A. B. MARTINDALE. Caro, Tex., Aug. 31, 1902.

Interesting Local Topics Gathered by Our Regular Correspondent.

Melrose, Sept. 1st, 1902.—
Bro. Tardy gladdened our hearts by his presence in the meeting which closed here Wednesday night with 3 accessions to the church, and we trust lasting impressions were made from the good sermons he preached while here. God speed him with the message of Jesus wherever he goes.

The plague of sickness and death is all over our land and it makes us sad, for we know not what tomorrow will bring us.

Rev. Jno. Wilson and daughter, Miss Bessie, have gone to Appleby to attend the district meeting.

The Melrose boys have gotten up a lively game of base ball, which they seem to enjoy very much every Saturday evening. The young ladies honor them with their presence. They haven't any grand stand fees to pay but have to stand grandly on the ground.

Prof. Brown's school will open at this place the 1st Monday in Oct. Miss McClure, from Tennessee, will assist him. We should accept every opportunity of gaining knowledge within our reach. Our lives, as we live them, day by day, seem to us often so incomplete, so far short of what we would like them to be that we grow discouraged. But to Him who looks upon the whole structure into which each day striving is fitted, our lives may be more than we realize.

We should have a Women's Christian Temperance Union organized in our county. Since Dec. 1st, 27 counties have carried prohibition. It is stated by reliable authority that 100,000 people go down to fill drunkards graves every year. Shall it be my boy or shall it your boy? God help us to be up and doing something on this line.

After Examining,
I find that the cheapest goods in this town are at the Southwest Corner of the Public Square. John P. Davidson is selling them. Besides, his stock is complete in all lines. Groceries, Hay, Bran and Grain. Dry Goods, Yankee Notions, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shoes of the right kind and prices; Crockery, Glassware, Oh, how cheap! No wonder the people are rushing over to that corner. The old man must be selling at cost, as I notice his prices are for cash and he is taking in the sheekles.

Stray Notice.

THE South American revolution and the Texas pistol toter—but why mention the two in the same sentence? The former is comic opera; the latter tragedy.

THE Galveston authorities are already discussing the question of policing and leasing the sea wall. Meanwhile the wall itself remains a mere diagram on paper with not a stone quarried to put into it. First build your sea wall, gentleman, lest some tropic hurricane makes an unwelcome date with you, and settle these little details afterwards.

THE grand old man of Texas, John H. Reagan, is sitting for his portrait in Houston, and when completed it will be presented to the Confederate museum in Richmond, where he served as a Confederate cabinet officer. The State capitol at Austin also should be adorned with a portrait of the venerable statesman, for he is the last of our old school of great men and we cannot hope to have him much longer with us.

HAVING been good for more than a month now, General Miles, who has been asking President Roosevelt for a long time past to please let him go to the Philippines, has at last secured the presidential promise and will sail in a few weeks for the Islands. If there are any remaining problems, military or otherwise in that part of the world Miles will be sure to settle them before he gets back, and he will also be sure "to put his foot in it" if he can find the opportunity.

IF Col. Cecil Lyon, chairman of the Texas State republican committee, isn't careful he will find himself up against Roosevelt good and strong. When he got back to Texas the other day from a visit to the President he declared in an interview that all was lovely between he and Teddy and that the latter's sentiments were a "complete echo" of his own concerning the republican situation in Texas. "Complete echo" is good, but it won't be good for Cecil if Teddy hears of it.

His friends should look after Col. Bill Sterrett, of the Gal-Dal. News, heretofore supposed to be a sedate and seasoned philosopher, long past the iridescent period of his career. The hot weather, or something, has gone to his head, and every day now he is sending out through the News such rhapsodies as this: Texas is a symphony, a vast hunk of melifluous, an eternal melody of loveliness, a grand anthem of agglomerated and majestic benevolence. Texas is heaven and earth and sea and sky set to music. Grand Old Texas!

And this: The red-headed Texas girl seems to be the most gorgeous and glorious bunch of humanity to be found on the earth. She is a human sunburst. Take something for it, Colonel.

MR. COOPER'S RENOMINATION.

Yesterday THE SENTINEL gave the proceedings of the congressional convention in this city which renominated Hon. S. B. Cooper, of Beaumont, to the lower house of congress from this district. Under the primary system, which gives the delegate positive instructions as to his vote in the convention, Mr. Cooper's renomination came as a matter of course and without the excitement of a contest. Hence the proceedings were lacking in the interest and enthusiasm of the old-time convention fights when the result was uncertain, but none the less cordial and emphatic on that account was the endorsement given to a faithful and capable public servant in the renomination of our congressman yesterday.

Mr. Cooper's speech accepting the nomination was a very earnest and deeply sincere expression of his gratitude for the honor conferred upon him for the sixth time in succession, accompanied by a clear and forcible declaration of his views upon the leading issues which now divide the two great political parties of the country. We can refer to them only briefly today.

On the questions of imperialism, the trusts and the tariff he declared himself strongly, insisting for the conquered Filipinos that we should give them the benefit of our own Declaration of Independence, and when a stable government had been established in the Islands those people should be turned loose to hoe their own row in the company of nations. He denounced the hypocrisy of the republican party in its professed opposition to trusts and declared that they were dodging the issue while attempting to deceive the people by a sham prosecution of one or two out of hundreds of them. He attacked the republican robber tariff as the chief of evils, by means of which the trusts could undersell foreigners in their own markets and, being protected in the home market from outside competition, could fix prices here to suit themselves.

The speech was very effective in its modest personal reference to the speaker and his pledges to a faithful constituency to increase if possible his usefulness in their behalf, and when he concluded he was heartily applauded.

Mr. Cooper has been a steadily growing man in congress, and starting ten years ago unknown and without influence, with the lowest committee assignments, he is now one of the seventeen members of the great leading Committee of Ways and Means, a distinction eagerly coveted by every one of the more than 350 members of the House. It takes high character and proved ability in congressional service to get on that Committee and no ordinary member ever gets there. Our congressman is the right man in the right place, and has fairly earned the renewed distinction his people have conferred upon him.

WHY is it that Texas which easily leads the south in cotton production is contentedly at the tail of the procession in the building of cotton mills?

THE deadly automobile seems to have an ambition to catch up with the Texas pistol toter as a destroyer of human life. Two people killed and three injured in an automobile wreck at Long Branch, New Jersey, last Tuesday.

MR. MORGAN may lack the philosophy, as claimed by the Houston Post, but he doesn't lack the cash, and he can hire a philosopher for twenty dollars a week and his board to stay at his elbow and keep him fully supplied with any brand he may call for. Philosophy, being abstract, is cheap; cash, being concrete, comes high.

THE flourishing town of Wharton is to be congratulated upon its emergence from the grip of the mossbacks who for years past have resolutely refused to permit it to be incorporated and have held it down to village conditions. But they were defeated at last in the election Tuesday, and incorporation carried by a large majority.

THE Alabama democrats have renominated Governor Jelks for governor and again sat down hard on Joe Johnston, the ambitious Birmingham banker, who wanted the place. Johnston ought to quit for good now. He can make money too easy to be a good politician. And by the way, Jelks was a country editor before he was called to the office of governor.

BEG pardon, brotner of the Galveston Tribune, but please don't credit our paragraphs to the Nacogdoches Tribune. There is no such paper. "Tribune" is indeed an elegant name, and altogether pleasing as the lawful designation of our esteemed Galveston contemporary, but we have no claim upon it. Ours the equally useful, if less distinguished duties of THE SENTINEL.

By reference to a card in today's issue, signed by the druggists of this city, it will be seen that they have agreed to keep their drug stores closed on certain hours during Sunday. No reasonable person should object to this arrangement, by which ample opportunity is given to purchase all needed drugs, and at the same time the employees are permitted a fair share of the day of universal rest for their own purposes.

ALL the United States troops, infantry, cavalry and artillery, at Fort Sam Houston turned out in honor of the presence of Governor Sayers at the Fort the other day, by order of the colonel commanding. A handsome compliment, indeed, to an ex-Confederate veteran. And at the conclusion of the review we doubt not that the Governor of Texas recollected just what the governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina on another great occasion and said something himself of a like tenor to the gallant colonel.

THE LUFKIN TRIBUNE has passed the fifth anniversary of its career and starts out on its sixth year bright, strong and hopeful. It has the entire field to itself in Angelina county and will make the most of its fine opportunities.

THE news published in THE SENTINEL yesterday that the commissioners court had let the contract for repairing the county jail will be gladly received by all the good people of Nacogdoches county. A county jail that holds its prisoners securely is an indispensable cog in the machinery of justice and our jail has an exceedingly bad reputation in that respect. Let us hope the repairs will be of such a character that future jail deliveries in this county will be unknown.

The press of the State has taken up the question of suppressing "pistol toting" and the "short guns" will soon be among the things of the past. —Timpson Bulletin.

We should be glad to think so, but unfortunately the representative pistol toter is a gentleman who cares more about the furnishing of his hip pocket than the furnishing of his head, consequently he reads but little and is quite unconscious of the contempt and abhorrence in which his pistol habit is held by the enlightened class of the community.

THE republican primaries in Texas seem to have resulted in the re-election of Cecil Lyon as State chairman; but we don't take much interest in republican politics in this State since Dr. Grant was so unceremoniously eliminated from the situation by the presidential boot toe. Doc was nothing if not picturesque, and the flaming rhetoric of his periodic pronouncements shot athwart the political sky like meteors in the darkness, giving out a color effect for the moment that was pleasing to all and harmful to none. Doc will be heard from again. He has a grievance, and hell hath no fury like a pugnacious politician who has been unexpectedly booted out of a good job, with a sore spot left on his feelings and his fame.

IN the Fifteenth congressional district of this State, where one Mr. Scott is the republican nominee against John N. Garner, democrat, the former "cooked his goose" in his opening speech. Forgetting the latitude he was in and that the civil war ended nearly forty years ago, he made a war talk from the wrong standpoint and got "frosted" in consequence by the self-respecting Southern audience he was addressing. Served him right. A candidate for a great office in this age and country crowded with vital and pressing problems, who is so mentally barren and morally dwarfed that he has nothing better to offer an audience than the stale bancombe of the dead era of hate, in which sectional prejudice is but thinly veiled under "professional" patriotism, should be frozen out at the start, as Scott was. Grand Army politics don't cut much ice in a Texas campaign.

MONT PELEE is again in eruption, but as the fall campaigns have opened up in this country we have too many eruptions of our own to pay much attention to foreign disturbances.

WE sincerely regret to hear of the death of Mr. R. Scott DeLay, the accomplished young managing editor of the Shreveport Times, who died in Shreveport last Wednesday night. His health was wrecked by army service in the Spanish-American war.

ELEVEN prisoners escaped from the Brenham jail Tuesday night and only one was recaptured. They were confined in steel cages and the jail was considered one of the most secure in the State. It seems impossible to construct a jail that will hold the modern, up-to-date prisoner any longer than he feels like tarrying.

THAT Conroe saloon keeper made the mistake of his life the other night when he assaulted a prohibition orator with the butt end of his "gun" and swore that he and his friends should not hold a prohibition meeting in the court house. One act of ruffianism and intolerance like that might easily turn the scale in a close contest.

OUR Congressman, Mr. Cooper, said truly in his speech here Wednesday that the chief evil the democratic party had to fight and keep on fighting until it was conquered, was the shameless robber tariff laws inflicted on the country by the republican party. And the oppressive character of these laws could not have been better illustrated than by Mr. Cooper's statement of the well known fact that under them the trusts can undersell foreigners in their own markets and sell here for just what price they please because they have neither home nor foreign competition. Shame on such brutal, brazen robbery of the American people and shame on the party that permits it.

ALL honor to our H. E. & W. T. Ry. officials for the admirable and successful work they are doing in encouraging the development of the country along their line. Their intelligent and persistent labors have already been largely rewarded, but they have hardly more than passed the first stages of their work, so great is the field before them. It will not be many years before a trip over the H. E. & W. T. will be an exhilarating ride through a long succession of cultivated fields and great orchards and truck farms, punctuated with pretty villages, prosperous towns and bustling cities. And then Doherty and Dixon will feel that they have not lived and labored in vain.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

TO THE CONSTITUTION, TO BE SUBMITTED TO VOTE OF THE PEOPLE ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1902.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Amending Article 6, Section 2 of the constitution of the State of Texas requiring all persons subject to a poll tax to have paid a poll tax and to hold a receipt for same before they offer to vote at any election in this state, and fixing the time of payment of said tax.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 6, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec 2. Every male person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector and every male person of foreign birth subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who is not less than six months before any election at which he offers to vote, shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the Federal Naturalization Laws, and shall have resided in this State one year next preceding such election and the last six months in the county in which he offers to vote, shall also be deemed a qualified elector; and all electors shall vote in the election precinct of their residences; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before he offers to vote at any election in this state and hold a receipt showing his poll tax paid before the first day of February next, preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths, that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election, and this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation.

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of Texas at the next general election.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by Perkins Bros.

A Suspicious Character.

A strange negro came to Nacogdoches several days ago barefooted and ragged and dirty. He claimed that his name was Burk Harris and that he hailed from Shreveport. Sheriff Spradley was notified of his appearance in town and hunted him up today putting him through a rigid cross-questioning. He finally admitted that his name was Joshua English and that he had served a term in the penitentiary for burglary from Victoria county, and that he had escaped from the poor farm in Smith county. Mr. Spradley is of the opinion that there is a graver charge against him. He had told a negro that if he made it to Louisiana that he would be safe. He is a young, burly, black negro, with large white eyes.

The "simlin-headed" reporters are all right, only they can't always know just what it takes to please some folks. Take the trouble yourself that you expect them to take and you will come mighty near getting all you want at the hands of the local paper. And in your bigoted selfishness don't imagine that you are the only individual that is overworked in the cause of humanity and morality. You may possibly be tied to one theme and no one expects you to take up more than one burden at a time. The "simlin-headed" reporter probably has a hundred things to do to your one and is often laboring for the public good while you are asleep. It isn't a good idea to be "roasting" reporters. They are human, in spite of the hard things sometimes said about them, and they are liable to "spunk up" and say things that might make you feel bad. You know the Scripture says "beware the fury of a patient man," or words to that effect. These are simple words of advice and warning from the managing editor, and we trust they will be taken kindly.

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, we were very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of bowel troubles. I have given up trying to give my baby anything but Laxakola. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Union and Purchase Sts., Boston, Mass. Enclosed please find 5 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully. Mrs. JOHN FARNSWORTH, Union Deposit, Dauphin Co., Pa.

I wish to thank you very much for the good Laxakola has done my little niece, Marion Lurline Bass. She is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you would call a natural movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid of convulsions, it hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened. LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing! Send For It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

School has begun. The streets were crowded this morning with happy children, from the little one so proudly going to "Miss Jennie's school" to the tall graceful girls who "graduate this year," and are going to school with their attendant escorts gallantly carrying their books. Spears, Misses Lizzie Wright, Alma Garlson and Mrs. Beulah Gaston. In West Nacogdoches, Prof. G. I. Watson, and Misses Zilla Langley and Mary Elkins. ## Resolutions of Respect and Sympathy.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our dear sister and co-worker, Mrs. Geo. F. Ingraham. Therefore, be it Resolved by the Home Mission Society of the Methodist church,

1st. That we deeply deplore the loss of a member whose life was so pure, so gentle, so filled with divine love. Still we know that "God's ways are always right," and we will bow in humble submission to His will, remembering that to her, "death is swallowed up in victory."

2nd. That we come with grateful hearts to thank our Father that He has given us this beautiful life for so many years to lead us and help us in being faithful, unselfish, generous in every good word and work, in the gentle, unobtrusive way that was her own.

3rd. That we shall always feel that our lives have been made stronger for the association we have had with her and we will strive to follow in the way she led, that in the end we may again assemble as an unbroken circle where we shall all hear it said: "She hath done what she could."

4th. That we tender our love and sympathy to the sorrowing family who are so bereft and pray that they shall feel the presence of the Holy Spirit in their hearts to give the comfort which we cannot give.

5th. That copies of these resolutions be sent the family of the deceased, published in THE SENTINEL and spread upon the minutes of this society.
