Bilious Colic.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. Center had a disastrous fire Sunday night that affected Nacogdoches very nearly, the property destroyed being the new drug store of Whitmore & Stripling; loss $3500.00; insurance $1500.00. The drug store of J. W. Rogers was burned also; loss $4500; insurance $2,000; saddle shop, stock saved, loss unknown. This fire leaves Center without drug store or drugs for the time. The firm of Whitmore & Stripling had just gotten in their new goods and intended moving into their new building where they would have escaped the fire. The new building had one side cracked by the fire and will have to be repaired. Mr. Rafe Stripling, the junior partner of the firm, is one of the rising young business men of Nacogdoches, and his friends all sympathize with him in his misfortune. He is undaunted, however. The fire only causes a delay in opening the store until the new building can be repaired and new goods ordered. Mr. L. E. Whitmore was in town yesterday and carried back a lot of drugs to relieve the famine.

A MOST DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY.

An Innocent and Disinterested Citizen
Sacrificed to a Bloody Feud.

Tuesday's Daily.

A bloody chapter in a very bitter feud was enacted in this city yesterday evening about 6:30 o'clock. For years past intense ill feeling has existed between the Roquemores on one side and the Crains on the other. One or two shooting scrapes have taken place and others narrowly averted since the trouble first began, and Dick Crain for the second time now lies wounded at the hands of his adversaries.

Yesterday afternoon, Dick Crain came down town with his shotgun and spent some time on the streets and was returning home when he encountered Frank Roquemore at the corner near Slay Bros' saloon, who came out of Ogg's livery stable also armed with a shotgun. Several shots were fired from both sides, it is said, resulting in the shooting of Dick Crain and the accidental killing of George W. Clevenger, who was walking along the sidewalk in front of Lucas & Burk's on the opposite side of the street—an entirely disinterested party. Mr. Clevenger received five buckshot in his left side and expired in a very few minutes. Dick Crain was shot in the mouth and through the fleshy part of one arm, neither wound being dangerous. There was one shot fired from the interior of Slay Brothers' saloon, making a hole through the door, which was open, and a plate glass front window at the same time. Five or six buckshot went through the glass front of Lucas & Burk's store. Some ladies who were just in front of Clevenger narrowly escaped.

The death of George Clevenger is sincerely regretted by every one, and there is a universal feeling of indignation against the reckless gunplay and the attempt to settle feudal troubles on crowded streets, and the officers are severely censured for not preventing the tragedy of yesterday, which was not unexpected to anybody who had eyes to see with and ears to hear with.

Two complaints have been filed against Frank Roquemore, one for murder and one for assault to murder, and he was arrested this morning and placed under a $1,000 bond for his appearance at examining trial, which was set for tomorrow.

Complaints were also lodged against Dick Crain for assault to murder, and Carl Butler and Horace Boger as accessories. Butler and Boger are in the lock-up awaiting examining trial. Crain has not been arrested, owing to his condition.

Mr. Clevenger was buried

this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the city cemetery. He leaves a large family to mourn his tragic death. He was past fifty years of age and was a good citizen, a successful and well to do farmer, who had recently purchased an elegant home in this city and had moved here from the Eden community for the purpose of educating his children.

Fruit and Truck Growers' Association.

The regular meeting of the Nacogdoches County Fruit and Truck Growers' Association was held in this city last Saturday at the court house, and was called to order by the president, T. E. Burgess. On motion duly seconded, John S. Doughtie was elected a member of the Association. A resolution was passed requesting the newspapers to publish the invitation of the Association to all truck growers to be present at the next meeting and let the Association know what and how much truck they were going to plant. The next regular meeting of the Association will be held on October 4th, when the election of officers will take place.

Mr. W. Y. Garrison, the well known druggist of Garrison, and Col. B. S. Wettermark, of this city, have established a banking house in Garrison, known as the Bank of Garrison, and Clyde Parrish, book-keeper in the Wettermark bank here, has gone up to remain a few days and help start off the new bank in good shape. The firm is a very strong one. Col. Wettermark is one of the most sagacious and enterprising business men and successful bankers in East Texas and his bank in this city has high rank among the solid financial institutions of the State. Mr. Garrison is a success in whatever he undertakes, and his energy and enterprise are irrepressible. The new bank commands confidence from the start and has a bright future before it.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

There are but few couples who celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary who have the pleasure of presenting to their friends both father and mother. This is a privilege I feel very thankful for. I wish to say that my father was also present at our reception. While circumstances prevented him from attending in the afternoon, he was present at night and remained throughout the entire evening. Mesdames Wm. Crouch and C. W. Butt also assisted me in receiving my friends.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Whereas, on Sunday, Aug. 17th, 1902, at 9 o'clock, a. m., it pleased the Grand Master of the Universe to call our beloved brother, J. D. Martin, from labor in the terrestrial Lodge here to refreshments in the celestial Lodge above; and whereas, our said brother had labored so long and so faithfully as a Mason and a brother here among us, having been a member of old Ochiltree Lodge at Melrose and one of the charter members and chief founders of Martinsville Lodge No. 678; and whereas, Dr. J. D. Martin was so thoroughly identified with every interest of the people of this section, having resided at Martinsville continuously since 1850 and served the people as physician, manufacturer, farmer, merchant, miller and ginmer; having been with us in prosperity and adversity, shared with us our joys and sorrows; having been at the birth of many of us and our children, he has also followed many to their graves, and now goes to his own grave leaving a host of relatives, friends and neighbors to mourn his loss;

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. J. D. Martin the town of Martinsville has lost its founder and most zealous patron, Masonry one of its most ardent advocates, Martinsville Lodge one of its most valued members, the county and community one of their best citizens; and

Resolved further, That while we do sincerely deplore the loss of so good a man and member, we realize that nothing of earth can be permanent, that he had remained with us as long as we could reasonably expect; that his life work here was finished and done well; that he has received the welcome plaudit, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord," and that our loss is his eternal gain.

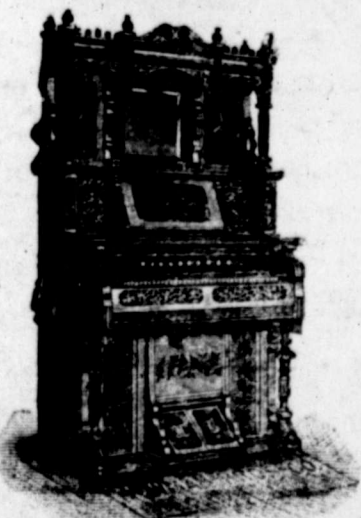

Resolved, That our members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days; that the county papers be requested to publish these resolutions and that the family of our deceased brother be furnished with a copy.

Two villages destroyed and 1600 lives lost is the latest news from that reawakened devil, Mont Pelee.

TOM BOWERS' Texas Mule is a year old, and Tom has issued a proclamation to the people of Texas congratulating them on the fact.

Toy pistols on Christmas trees are too often the villainous little germs which develop later on into the real articles in the hip pockets of the heroic pistol toter.

COL. LANHAM, the next governor of Texas, says that he is heartily in favor of the poll tax amendment. And so is everybody except the fellow who has contracted the habit of dodging his poll tax.

THE prohibitionists have nominated a candidate for governor of Texas, George W. Carroll, of Beaumont, but Sam Lanham is losing no sleep on that account. Voting whiskey out in special county elections and voting in a prohibition governor are two very different propositions.

AFTER publishing a country newspaper for fifty years in Texas Editor Rankin, of the Brenham Banner, retires to take a well earned rest during the remainder of his days. He deserves a green old age and the best pasturage, and he should employ some of his leisure in writing his reminiscences of half a century in Texas journalism.

THERE are fifty-eight divorce cases docketed in this county, to be called at the approaching term of the district court. This shows an awful amount of connubial infelicity in a conservative old county, and would do credit to the established divorce centers of the country. It is very probable that negroes are the parties to a majority of these cases, for that happy-go-lucky race is as quick to pull out of matrimony as to pull in.

THE genial and brilliant editor of the Courier-Journal, Henry Watterson, is personally liked by all men of all parties except Grover Cleveland, and there will be general sympathy for him in his sorrow and humiliation over the disgrace of his son, a young army lieutenant, who has just been cashiered for some reason not stated in the dispatches. Henry Watterson would doubtless have preferred death for his boy to such a fate.

At last we have an avowed candidate for the next democratic nomination for president. Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, is the man, and as he has just won out in the democratic state convention and is the unchallenged boss of Ohio democracy, his chances ought to be good. He is a strong man, rich, honest, large-minded and enthusiastic in all he undertakes, and he can come as near carrying Ohio as any democrat in the states.

NACOGDOCHES BROTHERHOOD ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the board of officers and directors of the Nacogdoches Brotherhood Association, held in the office of H. L. Turner, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 4th, the association was reorganized by accepting the resignation of Jno. L. English as Secretary and Manager and electing Giles M. Haltom as his successor. The board is now composed of Dr. W. H. Campbell, president and medical adviser; B. S. Wettermark, treasurer; Giles M. Haltom, secretary and manager; F. H. Tucker, H. L. Turner and R. W. Haltom, directors. The secretary and manager is required to make a good bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful discharge of his duty. The office of the association will hereafter be in The Sentinel building, Church street, next door to Commercial National Bank, where the secretary and manager may be seen at any time by those seeking information concerning the association. At present there are 271 members. The association was organized a year ago and so far not a death has occurred among the members, consequently no assessment has been necessary. The annual dues of $2 is all the expense incurred to members so far. Of course with a membership of a thousand, which is the limit, the risk would be proportionately greater, but in this healthy locality the death rate will always be light.

This is a home organization which enables its members by cooperation to carry cheap and safe home insurance. It is simply a club limited to 1000 members organized together to carry their own insurance. Each member obligates himself to pay $1 upon the death of a member of the club, and $2 a year to cover expenses. In case of death the beneficiary gets as many dollars as there are members in the club. This money is collected in advance, and is always in bank ready to meet the first death claim. Upon the death of a member another dollar is collected immediately and deposited in bank to meet the next claim, and so on. Dues are payable annually in advance. Persons from 15 to 55 years of age, male or female, of sound health and mind and of good moral character are eligible to membership. All applications are passed upon by a competent physician, though no examinations are made unless considered necessary.

Do you want anything better fairer, cheaper and surer than this? You will never find it.

FIVE people in various parts of Texas committed suicide last Tuesday. Doubtless they went out of life as prisoners who thought they were breaking jail, but possibly it was a jump into a less desirable state of consciousness that that they left behind. Suicide is desperate gambling, considered from any point of view, and it is better to be on the safe side and stay here where we are better acquainted, until we are compelled to go.

DISGUSTED with the shortcomings of the city council, the Houston Post declares that the idea of municipal government by commission is rapidly growing in Texas. And we add that the commission idea need not be confined to municipal government. There are notorious shortcomings in the administration of our criminal laws that may require the commission remedy sooner or later.

THE whole country is glad to know that President Roosevelt escaped serious injury in the collision of his trolley-coach with an electric car near Pittsfield, Mass., on Wednesday last. But it was a fearfully close call. The coach was smashed to pieces, the horses killed, the driver badly hurt, Secret Service Agent Craig killed, and the President himself painfully injured about the face. Had he been killed the country would have been face to face with a crisis never contemplated by the constitution, for there would have been no vice-president to succeed him.

ALL the conditions seem unusually favorable this year for a good price for cotton if only our farmers will not rush it on the market. Such a thorough expert as Theodore Price estimates that it will take 11,250,000 bales of American cotton to meet the world's demand during the coming year, and it is everywhere conceded that the present crop will be a very short one, probably not more than 9,500,000 bales. This means a very large shortage that will certainly put the price up and keep it up during the entire season if the crop is marketed gradually. The outlook is cheering for our cotton farmers.

THE President has finished his stumping tour through New England and will give his voice a much needed rest. He has added nothing to his fame by the tour and has talked more kindergarten platitudes and sloppy heroics than any President of the United States ever talked before while swinging 'round the circle. Barring his indecisive discussion of the trust question, in which he came out at the same hole he entered, his speeches lacked virility and he seemed to think that he was on a quasi Sunday school mission for the instruction of the young. Mr. Roosevelt's mouth is the weak point in his armor. He talks too much.

THE SENTINEL calls the attention of our county commissioners to the fact that there is not now a bridge left across the Attoyac river by which the trade of San Augustine county can reach this city. This condition of affairs is working serious injury to our merchants both in the loss of a large and profitable trade and their inability to collect on debts due from customers across the river, who can't get here with their cotton. The commissioners should not hesitate about the matter. The authority is with them, and it is their clear duty to have the bridges rebuilt at once. The present state of affairs is hurting badly.

IF Texas convicts under the lease system are treated with the inhuman cruelty charged by the recent report of the investigating committee the system should be abolished by the next legislature. The convict has no friends at court and his prison life may be a very hell all unsuspected by the public, and it is the duty of any civilized State to see that the helpless wretch is treated with reasonable humanity in his helplessness.

In a communication to his home paper, Judge Wood, of Leon county, gives some interesting figures concerning the proposed poll tax amendment to the constitution of Texas. They are highly suggestive and ought to carry the amendment with a rush. It is estimated that there are 179,000 poll tax dodgers in the state every year. It costs the state and counties $8,950 to assess these dodgers who never pay a cent of the assessment. The poll tax goes to the school fund, hence the dodgers deprive that most important fund for the education of the children of Texas of the large sum of $179,000. The proposition now is to disfranchise these fellows unless they pay the petty poll tax of one dollar assessed against each of them, and since they refuse to pay a cent to the support of the government whose protection and other benefits they enjoy, deprive them of all voice in that government by canceling their right to vote. The proposition is obviously fair and just and should have been made part of our organic law long years ago.

OVER in South Louisiana, where they have a good country, but not so good as East Texas because not capable of such diversified production, many hundreds of immigrants of the best class are going in from the Northwestern states and rapidly developing that section into a beautiful, productive land of well cultivated farms and thrifty towns and villages. A stream of such immigration is trickling in, and we need some of it, a good deal of it, badly enough to encourage it to come in this direction. Much the larger part of East Texas is an unsettled wilderness, rich in many forms of native wealth, and we want settlers by thousands, tens of thousands, to develop this wealth and make it count in the prosperity of the country. It is imperative that we should have more farmers here in Nacogdoches county, where only a small per cent of the available farming land is in cultivation. Our city during the past few years has grown much more rapidly than its tributary country, and unless something is done to restore the lost proportion, there must be a serious falling off in trade as a result. Immigration is the best if not the only remedy, and as whole train loads of farmers from Illinois and other states in that section are coming to the Southwest this fall and winter to invest and settle if they are suited, strong efforts should be made to bring them to this part of the state and get a fair share of them located here.

WE are notified by a circular letter from President Ousley of the Texas Press Association that September 27 will be "Texas World's Fair Commission and Texas Press Day" at the Dallas State Fair, and our presence is requested to help carry out a delightful program. We join with Bro. Ousley in his courteous wish that we may be there "and take in the whole show."

IN its reply to our article denying that there was any eary danger of an overproduction of tomatoes, the Jacksonville Banner begs the question and can only say that the Sentinel is being misled by some railroad statistician, who is working in the interest of and to that end is disposed to stimulate overproduction. A far-fetched conclusion, with no basis in fact. It seems to us that the very obvious desire of the Banner is to magnify the trucking interests of the Jacksonville belt by discouraging those interests in other sections. We observe that it has nothing to say about the danger of overproduction in its own neighborhood, where, if there is such danger, it must surely exist, for right there and thereabout the production is probably the heaviest in the State. We are proud of the splendid development of the Jacksonville country and we want it to keep right on, with the Banner as its prophet and champion, but that section is not "the whole thing," and the Banner can better serve its own ends by broadening its views and encouraging a general development of the trucking interest.

There is no use in a Texas girl living to be an old maid, according to the last census. There are at present in the State 387,084 boys, or enough to furnish every girl a husband, and then a surplus of 14,667 will be left for girls from other states.—Palestine Herald.

These figures look cheering, but like figures in many other cases they are misleading. There is such a large percentage of the unmarried male population unavailable for matrimonial purposes because of all-round worthlessness, disinclination to marriage, poverty, disease and other causes, that we really need a vastly greater male surplus than the above figures indicate in order that every Texas girl may be sure of a husband. Texas, of course, produces the finest women in the world, and there is in consequence a considerable and increasing demand for our incomparable maidens as wives for the citizens of other states, in addition to the supply required for the home market. But even with this advantage there seems to be a growing deficit on the male side of the marriage balance sheet, and unless some other solution offers, we must conclude that the charming bachelor maid, with her high purpose, her independence, her infectious enthusiasm, her undiminished womanliness, her character, culture and energy, has come to stay as a definite factor to be reckoned with in the readjustments of modern life. And that is an immeasurably better destiny than the wifedom into which vast numbers of good women are inveigled every year by weak, unworthy men.

Will It Pay.

Will it pay to go month after month—your leisure time doing nothing and squandering money, that, properly invested, would fit you for life?

Will it pay you to attempt a business letter only to commence improperly, misspell, blunder and fail?

Will it pay you to remain ignorant of how to write notes and endorse them?

Will it pay to remain ignorant of contracts? How to draw them? How and what is liable? Your rights under them? Will it pay you to continue to write an illegible hand? To continue to be slow and inaccurate in arithmetic?

Will it pay you to remain ignorant of bookkeeping, business training and shorthand when you know you will need them continuously throughout life?

Will it pay to work for starvation wages when by getting a thorough business education you may demand a handsome salary?

Will it pay to depend on your hands for a living when you can easily train your head to make five times as much?

Will it pay to attempt to do business until you are educated for business? Your answer to the above questions must necessarily be "No." So why not enter the Tyler College? County Attorney Beeman Strong was up from Nacogdoches last Saturday. Mr. Strong since his induction in his office has succeeded in breaking up the unlawful selling of whiskey at this place. It has been demonstrated clearly that when an officer receives the cooperation of the people they rarely fail to stop law breaking. A majority of our people feel very kindly towards Mr. Strong for the earnest effort he is making as an officer to rid our town of the rum demon.—Garrison Signal.

A private letter from an intelligent gentleman in Longview to another in this city gives an account of the big funeral services of Congressman DeGraffenreid, the big attendance of people, the big speeches by big guns, and says "Tardy beat them all as usual," referring to our Rev. W. T. Tardy, who has always been most intimately associated with Mr. DeGraffenreid and whose families were equally intimate. Mr. Tardy attended the big funeral and controlled the entire ceremonies at the special request of the stricken widow.

She is a most charming young lady and highly accomplished. The groom, Mr. Wright is a citizen of Little Rock, Ark., where he holds a responsible position as traveling auditor for the Missouri Pacific Ry. BITTEN BY A DOG.

Will Reid Attacked By a Dog Showing Symptoms of Hydrophobia.

Saturday's Daily.

Last night shortly after 9 o'clock, W. G. Reid, who was returning home from the K. of P. Lodge, was attacked by a dog which it is believed had rabies, near the crossing of Pillar and North streets. Mr. Reid was bitten through the left hand which was badly lacerated. It was in a dark place and he did not see the dog until after it bit him and rushed on to where the electric light shown on it. Mr. Reid is deputy city marshal and was armed and on the lookout for suspicious dogs. He shot at the dog several times and chased him some distance, across the public square and down East Pillar street, others joining in the chase, but they did not succeed in killing the dog. It is said the dog belongs to Mr. Houston, the marketman.

Mr. Reid left on the first train for St. Louis to undergo treatment in the Pasteur Institute.

Silver Wedding.

Saturday's Daily.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Matthews celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day in elegant style yesterday. The guests, after leaving their cards with the youngest daughter of the house, little Helena, assisted by Tannie Stinson, who presided in the hall, were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Matthews and their handsome son, Oscar, and ushered into the parlor. Swung in the bay window was a large heart outlined with pink chrysanthemums, the gauze center containing the monogram letters, "P. M." and the two dates, "1877-1902." On tables were displayed the many handsome presents that attested the popularity of the host and hostess. The ladies who assisted Mrs. Matthews in this room, so beautifully decorated in pink and green, were Mesdames John T. Garrison, R. C. Shindler, June Harris, and Mrs. W. D. Peevey, who was guest of honor.

The dining room was in white and silver, a wedding bell of white poppies hung over the dining table, and Mesdames E. M. Dotson and W. S. Beeson, assisted by Zireta Matthews, Mamie L. and Mintie Blount and Salome Reddick in the afternoon, and by Mag and Elise Harris, Bernice Mims, Daisy Bowers and Lillie Davidson at night, served delicious cream and cake with silver bonbons that tasted as lovely as they looked.

In the next room Mrs. Greard presided with charming grace and, aided by Miss Mamie L. Blount, pinned on each favored guest as a souvenir of the occasion, a sterling silver stick pin, after which the punch room was fouded, where Mrs. B. S. Wettermark and Miss Lillian Greard presided at the punch bowl. The ladies receiving in this room were Mesdames C. D. Stinson, Robert Lindsey, and F. C. Ford. Beautiful singing was furnished by Mrs. Dooley, Mrs. W. Perry and Miss Greard, and cake walking by Elise and Maggie Harris added to the pleasure.

The entire house was elaborately decorated; crowds thronged the parlors during the reception hours and tendered their congratulations to host and hostess, wishing that they might celebrate their golden wedding as happily and the same guests all be there again. The string band discoursed sweet music during the evening hours, and the wedding day closed with the Virginia reel danced by all present. Lack of space absolutely forbids a list of the presents received.

AFTER GREEN GOODS MEN.

Thursday's Daily.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Eason On Track of Shovers of the Queer.

For some weeks past counterfeit ten dollar bills have been coming to light now and then rather mysteriously in Nacogdoches and vicinity, several of them falling into the hands of the local officers. One was passed on Simon Mintz, another on Houston & Richardson's meat market, and several others have shown up in the vicinity it is alleged. This morning Deputy U. S. Marshal Eason came down from Tyler and arrested Isaac Messic and Will Lloyd, two young men that have heretofore borne good repute, and placed them in jail on a charge of passing counterfeit money. They will be taken to Tyler tonight for preliminary trial before the Federal court. Quite a number of citizens, including the sheriff and city marshal, and Eugene Blount, cashier of the Commercial National Bank, have been summoned and will have to go along as witnesses.

It is estimated that there is probably a thousand dollars of these bills in circulation in the county and people are warned to look out for them.

It is also believed that there are several persons implicated in passing these counterfeit bills, and the officers are making a diligent effort to ferret the matter and bring the guilty parties to justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Green have taken rooms at Mrs. August Rusche's.

Not Doomed For Life.

"I was treated for three years by good doctors," writes W. A. Greer, McConnellsville, O., "for piles and fistula, but, when all failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me in two weeks." Cures burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, eruptions, salt rheum, piles or no pay. 25c at Stripling, Hazelwood & Co. drug store.

Lloyd Bowers, Sr., has engaged two large front rooms up stairs in the new Schmidt & Blount building on Pillar street, where he will have a splendidly arranged cotton office.

Houston, Texas, Dec. 4, 1901.

"My father has used your medicine since the War, and when I married in December, 1892, I commenced housekeeping with one bottle of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, one bottle of his Little Laxative Pills, and two boxes of his Little Liver Pills. United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Of the eighty members enrolled on the secretary's book of the U. D. C., ten is a quorum. This is considered a small number for so large a membership, but only seven members attended the meeting yesterday; consequently such important business as the election of a new president had to be postponed till another meeting. Without a meeting, and necessary transaction of business, this society will lose its charter. In the absence of secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Snajdler was again asked to "write up," as well as to "receive" and take care of dues until something definite can be done in regard to the vacant offices. All members in arrears will please take notice and send in dues as soon as convenient, as the Chapter wishes to perform some very laudable work; i. e. the placing of headstones at the unmarked graves of Confederate soldiers—the graves of those soldiers who have no relatives or friends from whom such attention could be expected. We would suggest to the friends of those whose graves are unmarked that now would be a good time to pay this little tribute of memory, and by joining in with the Daughters the expense will be lessened, and a uniform design could be used for the graves of all who have joined the silent ranks. Unless a special meeting is called for, the next meeting will be held on the first Wednesday of October, which is the first day. Further notice of the meeting will be given as a reminder. Any one wishing to know about the stones for graves will call on Mrs. R. C. Shindler, chairman of committee, who will furnish necessary information in regard to prices, sizes, lettering, etc.

LIVINGSTON is not only to be rebuilt with brick, but the plucky little town is going to incorporate also and have a city government.

HOUSTON is either the best or the worst governed city in Texas according to the particular Houston paper you happen to be reading.

WEST TEXAS has a bonanza in alfalfa hay. One farmer out there has 2,000 acres in alfalfa. He sells it for $18 a ton, and has already cut five crops this season.

THE contract for building the Galveston sea wall has been let to J. M. O'Rourke & Co., of Denver, and it is to be completed within the next fifteen months.

AFTER many weeks of a "hung" convention, the democrats of the Twelfth congressional district have succeeded in nominating a candidate for congress—Hon. O. M. Gillespie, of Tarrant county.

IN the elections held last Saturday in Denton and Tarrant counties on the prohibition issue both counties went "dry" by good majorities. To offset this the antis won in both Navarro and Montgomery counties.

THE enterprising merchants of Nacogdoches are now helping us to edit The Sentinel with the sagacity of up-to-date business men, and their assistance is cordially appreciated. Such associate editors are always welcome at these headquarters.

LET it be distinctly understood that we are the personal, political and professional friend of Bro. T. H. Jones, the wise and philosophic editor of the Texas News, published down at Kountze. Bro. Jones is 6 feet 3 inches high and weighs 230 pounds.

Keeping after the gun-toters seems to be having its effect. Very few killings these days.—Houston Post.

THE news columns of the issue of the Post from which the above was taken do not sustain the statement. Gun-toters are beyond the reach of any corrective influence short of the law sternly executed in every instance by officers without fear or favor.

THE republican state convention is in session at Fort Worth, and they have an elegant row on hand between Lyon, Green, Achison, Burkitt and a few others, each of whom wants to be chairman of the state committee. Neither the convention nor its issues has any very thrilling interest for the people of Texas, considering the size and brutality of our unblushing democratic majority, but being as how Eddie Green owns a railroad, to say nothing of the old lady and her $40,000,000 up in New York, it is altogether probable that he will walk off with the state chairmanship and anything else the convention has that he may happen to want.

THE first issue of the Age Democrat, the new republican weekly of Houston, with Mr. James C. Stanley at the helm, has reached this office. It announces itself as a "conservative republican weekly."

COLLIER'S WEEKLY has heard from Texas and now explains that it was only slandering the State in a genial, Pickwickian sense, and it thought Texas could take a joke, and 'pon honor it was only funning, etc. On this showing, which argues penitence if not innocence, Collier's Weekly will be permitted to live and do business in Texas, but don't let it occur again.

THE most important work of the late meeting of the East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers' Association, at Athens, was the adoption of a resolution to establish a fruit and truck exchange at some point to be selected, by a joint committee, whose duties are prescribed as follows:

"The duties of this committee shall be to establish a central bureau of information and distribution at such place as they may deem best; to make arrangements for the marketing of such fruit and truck as may be placed in their hands in the manner that may seem to them best and most economical; to handle any other business connected with the management of this exchange."

THE following from the last issue of Mr. Bryan's Commoner, entitled, "Go sin no more," deserves a wide reproduction and is an eloquent and deserved rebuke to the mean, unmanly spirit so widely prevalent, that would wantonly add to the agony of a poor sinner who had made an unlucky slip from grace and drive him to deeper despair, by casting stones at him in his shame instead of offering him a helping hand:

Rev. Sam Small, for many years an eloquent evangelist and an able writer and speaker on public questions, recently yielded to temptation and became intoxicated. He is not the only one who has made that mistake, but the fact that he had for years been a tototaller and had won distinction as a minister of the gospel has made him the target for cruel jests and the victim of malicious criticism. It is a sad commentary on human nature that those who themselves make no effort to set a good example are often prone to exult over the fall of one who is striving to follow a high ideal. For two decades Mr. Small led an exemplary life and rendered valuable service to his fellows and this service remains to his credit; if in an unguarded moment he has been overmastered by an appetite once strong, but long suppressed, let us be grateful for the good he has done, charitable toward his recent lapse and hopeful that he may yet have a long career of usefulness before him. If none but the innocent were in the habit of casting stones at the accused it would be easier for the guilty to hear and heed the admonition, "Go sin no more," which for nearly two thousand years has been both a correction and an inspiration to the erring.

EDITOR FORD, of the Times, tells all about it in the following graphic description, which is good enough to be reproduced:

We were racing like a steam engine yesterday, trying to get the paper out before 5 o'clock. With more than half the matter up and a handful of copy, but there's no knowing the trials that await us, and no accounting for the mischief that innocent little hands will do. A baby's song and the steady click of the type were the only sounds to be heard in the office, when there came a crash, a regular nerve-shaker. Master Richard, in trying to climb up, seeking new worlds to conquer, had pulled a case of nonpareil from the stand and it came down bottom up—and under it, also bottom up, was the half column of burgeois for the paper. A pretty mess, surely! A week's work for the "devil" and his little helpers. We took the stuff up in a tobacco box, reset the copy and got out on time, without loss of temper.

The Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews: Sweet Home, Aug. 30.—Your card announcing your "Silver Wedding" brought forth a flood of tender memories and the "sweet long ago," rose in happy visions before me, when youth and health and hope ran high, and the world, with its vista of beautiful dreams, lay all before us. And I thought, too, of the many who have already "crossed the river," who were with us then.

As I lay sleepless in the "stilly night," watching the stars, old songs, dear faces and many happy incidents of "Auld Lang Syne" passed in review before me and suggested the lines I send to you with my best love and best wishes.

Yours most sincerely,
FANNIE L. SIMPSON.

The years have come, the years have gone,
Till fifty years are cleft in twain,
Since then we met in youth's fair dawn
At Hymen's altar; and once again
We meet—who meet? The merry band
That gathered then are not all here.
The smiling lips, the welcome hand
Of some have passed this mundane sphere.

The hearts that thrilled, the eyes that shone,
The cheeks that glowed with buoyant health,
The forms we loved as just "our own,"
Old Time has stamped with noiseless stealth,
Time, like the tide that waits for none,
Has ebbed and flowed, impressed on all
The lines of care, escaped not one—
Into each life some grief will fall.

"There is a Reaper"—you know the rest,
Whose "sickle keen" comes round at last,
But pause and think how very blest
You two have been, as years have passed:
They've come in nearly every home,
Afflictions sad, and fierce despair
Into thine own no shadows thrown,
For death has made no inroads there.

The wishes kind, the gentle kiss,
The parents' prayer, "God bless you both!"
Were not in vain, and wedded bliss
Has crowned your life—the sacred oath,
Sustained amid life's trying hours,
Was strengthened by that Power above;
And now your path is strewn with flowers
Of friendship and of filial love.

The summer glow of life is over,
And left behind no vague regrets;
May the mellowing light of autumn cover
The years to come, nor ever let
Sorrow blight, but only ripen
The golden sheaves in youth you've sown;
May the burden and the cares still lighten
Till winter's twilight calls you home.

By work and faith in days gone by
You've conquered and have prospered, too;
The clouds that flecked your youth's bright sky
Have melted in cerulean blue,
May joy yield an ever-biding spring,
While sweet contentment with you dwells,
While friends congratulations sing
In sweeter tones than silver bells.

LETTER FROM W. N. BAILEY.

Makes Some Explanations Against Reports Concerning Him.

Editor Sentinel:

San Antonio, Sept. 6.—Please allow me space in your columns to explain a few things to my friends in and around Nacogdoches. I left Nacogdoches on account of my health, as I was advised to do by the doctors. I first went to Dalhart, then to Denver, Col., then to Salt Lake City, then to Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Riverside, Cal. Then I made my way to San Antonio, stopping at several other places as I came here. I never heard a word from home from the time I left until during my first week in San Antonio, and the first thing I heard was that I had stolen a woman and left the town, which is every word a black lie, though it didn't shock me very much, as I haven't been accused of anything else in Nacogdoches during the past five years. So I don't care what people say about me in that line. But here comes another report from Nacogdoches in the daily papers that two men were arrested in Nacogdoches for making counterfeit money and that I was under arrest here for the same thing. This is running the thing too far. In the first place, I have not been arrested, or even dreamed of such a thing, and as for making or passing counterfeit money, I will give any man a thousand dollars that can prove that I ever passed or tried to pass a counterfeit bill on him. It is something I know nothing about except that when me and Collins were in the saloon business some one got off two bills on us, and neither one of us knew anything about it until the bank returned them to us and told us they were counterfeit. So we had it sent off to make sure and it was returned as no good. And that is all I know about the money business, though I would not be surprised to be arrested at almost any old time on that charge or anything else that has happened in Nacogdoches during the past five years. I feel sorry for the poor fellow who will have to bear all the gossip of the city after I am gone, and will also feel sorrier for the poor old gray headed men, and some younger ones, if they can't find some one else to put off their devilment on as they have me. But that part of it is all over now, and I think I still have a whole lot of friends in Nacogdoches. My family are in Nacogdoches and I would like to be there myself, but on account of my health I can't live there. I expect to move to San Antonio just as soon as I get a little stronger, as I find this is the only place I can live. If any one wants to see me I can be found at the Menger Hotel, where I stay during the middle of the day. In the morning and evening I am out of town trying to pump myself full of fresh air.

I know of nothing else I can say as an explanation against these charges. If any man in Nacogdoches knows of me ever violating the laws of the state or the city let him jump out in person and make his charge. I am awful weak, but I can face any man or set of men who will say I am anything else but a law abiding man. I have lost everything. I ever made right in Nacogdoches simply because I did not want to get in the courts. You know where to find me when you want me.

Yours, respectfully,
W. N. BAILEY.

The preliminary trial of Frank Roquemore, Horace Boger and Carl Butler, arrested in connection with the killing of George Clevenger, has been postponed until Saturday because of the absence of County Attorney Strong, who is in Lawsonville. After Examining.

I find that the cheapest goods in this town are at the Southwest Corner of the Public Square. John P. Davidson is selling them. Besides, his stock is complete in all lines. Groceries, Hay, Bran and Grain. Dry Goods, Yankee Notions, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shoes of the right kind and prices; Crockery, Glassware. Oh, how cheap! No wonder the people are rushing over to that corner. The old man must be selling at cost, as I notice his prices are for cash and he is taking in the shekles.

H. C. Fuller, formerly with the Plaindealer, has given up literary work and is now with Davis Bros., as salesman in their dry goods establishment.

The W. C. T. U.'s Latest.

A new departure is proposed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Indiana. That body has resolved to present a memorial to the national convention to be held in Washington, D. C., to create a new department to enforce and maintain purity of liquors, and that congress be petitioned to pass a law that only pure whiskies be sold at saloons instead of adulterated liquors. By the enactment of such a law, the W. C. T. U. concludes that the profits would be reduced and saloons would be forced to quit business.

Meaning of Odd Names.

The following gives the meaning of the names of the principal Highland clans in Scotland: McIntosh, the son of the First; McDonald, the son of Brown Eyes; McDugall, the son of Black Eyes; McOnnechy or Duncan, the son of Brown Head; McGregor, the son of a Great Man; McCulthbert, the son of the Arch Druid; McKay, the son of the Prophet; McTaggart, the son of the Priest; McCleod, the son of the Wounder; McLean, the son of the Friendly One; McIntyre, the son of the Carpenter; Campbell, Crooked Mouth; Cameron, Crooked Nose; Stewart, High Stay or Support.

For Another National Park.

Katherine Louise Smith tells in the Outing of the need—and the opportunity—for a new national park in North Central Minnesota. There stands today a piece of ancient forested America (in fact, the only great northern pine forest between the Rocky mountains and the Atlantic ocean) which it is possible still to save from destruction. Within the limits of the Chippewa Indian reservation, along the Loech Cass land Winnebagoish lakes, there are, as if ready and waiting for this purpose, 611,592 acres of land and 218,270 acres of water surface. It is the land of the original Dakota and Ojibwas—the cradle of Northwestern story and tradition.

Big Price for Books.

Wordsworth's "An Evening Walk," original edition of 1793, brought $120 at a recent London book sale. His "Descriptive Sketches in Verse," 1793, brought $330, and "Poems," 1803, in two volumes, $110. Coleridge's "Poems," Bristol, 1797, was sold for $70; Walter Savage Landor's "Simoniades," Bath, 1807, for $95, and Gray's "Odes," from Horace Walpole's Strawberry Hill Press, 1757, $200.

Used Corpse in Revival Service.

A remarkable burial service was held at the Separate Baptist church of Kokomo, Ind., the other night over the body of young Claude Galimore. In connection with a revival service, penitents were asked to bow at the chancel rail about the burial casket. The body of the young man was used as a leverage to persuade sinners to seek salvation. It was kept in the church all night, and was conspicuous throughout the all-night service.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Perkins Bros.

As the cotton season has opened up, Mr. E. E. Baldwin has severed his connection with the ice factory and is devoting his entire time to the compress.

Phil Sanders has returned to College Station to attend another session of the A. & M. College. Several other young men will go from Nacogdoches within the next few days.

Dr. Geo. H. Turner, from Mt. Enterprise, who has recently graduated in medical science, has located in Nacogdoches for the practice of his profession. He will have offices with Perkins Bros.

Ed Blackshear, the young man who was shot at Black Jack last Saturday by Charley Roberts, died yesterday evening from his wound. He will be buried today and Rev. S. F. Baucom has gone out to conduct the burial services.

The Matthews cotton yard was opened today by Bob Burrows and Jim Barret and will be under the management of Mr. Barret, who is an experienced cotton weigher. Mr. Barret was engaged in the cotton weighing business here some years ago and is well known throughout the county, and will, no doubt, receive a good share of this season's cotton yard business.

In the account of the accident to Mr. Nobles at the ice factory, in yesterday's issue, it was erroneously stated that the packing from the pipe struck him in the eye. It was a stream of ammonia that did the damage, painfully burning his eye. Mr. Nobles would have been glad to exchange the ammonia for the packing.

F. P. Brewer, A. Chesnut and C. A. Hodges have formed a partnership in the law practice, and there is every reason to know that this union means success, and we bespeak success for them. They have moved in the office up stairs over Cason, Richardson & Co. Each of the firm is too well known to say more.

Eugene Doughtie has gone to Tuscaloosa, Ala., to visit his brother, Cullen Doughtie, and from there he will return to Jackson, Miss., and enter college. His brother, Jack Doughtie, is in a big furniture business there and will look after Eugene. He will be greatly missed here, especially by the Houston Post patrons. He is a good boy and always ahead.

A mad dog yesterday afternoon took in every street in town and bit nearly every dog before it was finally killed. It was first heard of on Pillar street, where it bit every dog it passed; then on Main and Mound streets, finally coming down North street, all the way biting everything it saw until it was shot in front of Mr. Lawrence Taylor's residence. It is reported that the dog bit a child, but this report cannot be verified. Some say the dog was not mad. We are not prepared to give an opinion. All of our study of mad dogs has been from a great and increasing distance, but from all we hear the dog seems to have been undoubtedly the victim of hydrophobia and has left an awful score behind. All the cur dogs bitten should be killed at once. The owners of the fine dogs bitten have them chained up, and they will be watched till any possible danger is past.

Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for the wonderful work in liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cts. Satisfaction is guaranteed by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Doc Watson, the deputy marshal, killed a dog last night that was thought to be mad and that had bitten several other dogs. The only safe plan now seems to be to kill every stray dog in the city and watch the fine ones closely until the hot weather is over.

Master Denver Chesnut, who has been doing good work as a compositor on THE SENTINEL office for more than a year past, left today for his home in Lufkin, where he will go to school after a few weeks' visit to relatives in Erath county. Deaver is a fine, bright, gentlemanly youth and The Sentinel parts from him with regrets.

Miss Louwillie Dotson has just returned from a month's visit to Temple, Belton and other points. She talks most interestingly of the condition of crops in that section of the country, for like all Texas girls she knows a crop when she sees it. She says the cotton there is doing well, and that just as she left they had a fine rain.

D. C. Mast, county commissioner from the eastern portion of the county, was in the city this morning and expressed himself as being very much interested in repairing the bridges across the Attoyac. What we are very much interested in right now is getting the leak stopped before the barrel runs dry. We are losing trade every day on account of those broken bridges.

W. C. Alders, of Woden, was a friendly caller at The Sentinel office this morning. He is assisting Mr. Geo. A. Watkins, who is sinking an oil well six miles southwest from Chireno, on or near the old Moton place. He reports that so far the indications are very encouraging. He says Mr. McKnight is progressing with his well near Chireno, and that Mr. Graham is still operating near Denning in San Augustine county.

E. L. Ruark, of Mt. Enterprise, was in the city yesterday and last night on a business trip. He is a prominent farmer, ginner and merchant of Rusk county, and does his marketing and trading in Nacogdoches. He has scores of friends here.

The Lufkin "Trib" band passed up the road last night in a special car, on an excursion to Milwaukee, Wis., with the Beaumont Hoo-Hoos. Conrad Rusche is a member of the band and joined them at Nacogdoches as they went through.

W. G. Barron moved the big iron safe of W. T. Wilson yesterday from his former office in the Cox building to his new quarters in the Hazle building. The safe had to be moved down one flight of stairs and up another by a tortuous route, and it took a whole day and several stout negroes and block and tackle to complete the job.

Messrs. Eugene Blount, A. J. and J. M. Spradley, Julius Eikel, and others who went to Tyler as witnesses in the case against Ike Messic and Will Lloyd, charged with passing counterfeit money, have returned. The defendants waved examination and their bonds were fixed at one thousand dollars, which they made with little difficulty.

Ed Fort, one of the mechanics who has been working on the Perkins building, left last night for Shreveport, accompanied by his wife and baby. Mr. Fort is the last of the crew, except the foreman, who will remain but a few days more to look after the little finishing touches needed here and there to complete the job.

Guy Blount was in The Sentinel office this morning with a number of beautiful kodak views taken by himself, from scenes on his trip to the North. He took forty-eight snap-shots, many of them from moving trains, and only spoiled eight plates. The views include Canada, Niagara, the St. Lawrence, bridges and animals at the zoo. He took everything he saw and has a valuable collection of photographs as a result.

You can't tell about cotton. Today there were on exhibition at Seale & Donegan's and Tucker, Zeve & Co's. two specimens of cotton stalks, representing the two extremes. One stalk was eight or nine feet high, scant of branches, and had only fifteen matured bolls. The other was four or five feet tall, heavily branched and had more than a hundred matured bolls on it. Both grew upon fine soil, but, of course, under different conditions. There is no telling what the cotton crop will do until after it is gathered.

Amending Article 6, Section 2 of the constitution of the State of Texas requiring all persons subject to a poll tax to have paid a poll tax and to hold a receipt for same before they offer to vote at any election in this state, and fixing the time of payment of said tax.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 6, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec 2. Every male person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector and every male person of foreign birth subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who not less than six months before any election at which he offers to vote, shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the Federal Naturalization Laws, and shall have resided in this State one year next preceding such election and the last six months in the county in which he offers to vote, shall also be deemed a qualified elector; and all electors shall vote in the election precinct of their residences; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before he offers to vote at any election in this state and hold a receipt showing his poll tax paid before the first day of February next preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths, that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election, and this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation.

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of Texas at the next general election.

In Memoriam.

At a called meeting of Apple Camp, No. 1219, W. O. W., held Sept. 1st, 1902, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased the great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst our brother, S. B. Crawford; and

Whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had; therefore be it

Resolved, by Apple Camp, No. 1219, of Perfected Woodcraft, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of S. B. Crawford this Camp laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to proffer a hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an active member of this society whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a friend who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Camp be extended to his family in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Camp, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family, to each of the newspapers of Nacogdoches, and to the Sovereign Visitor.

MOTHERS

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF

LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of his troubles. I have given my Castoria and give my baby nothing but Laxakola, and find it cheaper and a great deal better. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Laxakola, Inc. Union and Purchase Sts., New Bedford, Mass.

Enclosed please find 50 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully. Mrs. JOHN FARNACHT, Union Depot, Dauphin Co. Pa.

I wish to thank you very much for the good Laxakola has done my little niece, Marion Lathrop Jones. She is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you would call a natural movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid of convulsions, it hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

She is awful pleased to think it doesn't hurt her so much, and she will take Laxakola without a fuss. We are pleased to think it helped her so much. Mrs. ORA MORFITT, Graham, N. H.

My baby is four months old and is teething. He was sick and I tried a good many things, but nothing seemed to relieve him. I had a doctor, who said it was inflammation of the bowels, and that I would never get him through, perhaps, if he were under his care. When I saw he was getting worse I stopped giving him his medicine, as he could keep no food on his stomach. He was troubled with colic very much, and used to scream when he had a touch of it. I did not know what it was to do my eyes day or night. I gave him a few drops of Laxakola and it relieved him. I gave it to him a few times and it worked like a charm, and he now rests pretty fair all night. He is a great deal better looking baby since I gave him Laxakola, and I think if all mothers knew how good it was, they would give nothing else to their sick babies. Mrs. MARY DAVIS, 107 First St., South Boston, Mass.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send For It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

For Sale by All Druggists and etc. or we will express to you all charges prepaid, a large quantity of LAXAKOLA. Address THE LAXAKOLA CO., New York, N. Y.

A tremendous crowd attended the North church meeting yesterday and the tent was filled to its utmost capacity, numbers not being able to get in at all. Three joined the church last night, making fifteen accessions up to date, and the interest is growing all the time. Gaddy is making a great success of the meeting, which will continue all through this week, possibly longer.

The Hollow Log saloon is now fully installed in its new quarters in the Cox building, corner East Main and the square and Jim Buchanan wears a placid smile, both because the heavy job of moving is safely over with, and the saloon looks so elegant and inviting in its new location. And, truth to tell, with the new papering and painting and handsome fixtures, the saloon looks like a parlor and is probably not surpassed in East Texas. Perfect good taste has governed in preparing the new quarters, and the Hollow Log now lacks for nothing as an elegant and up-to-date resort for standard liquid refreshments. The spacious billiard and pool room just in rear of the saloon proper, with brand new tables of the latest pattern, is a specially attractive feature to lovers of pool and billiards. A beautiful little barber shop adjoining the saloon, with K. E. Mims and his partner, Mr. Truitt, in charge, is a new feature of the corner, and an elegant little shop it is, run in the best style and sure to be popular.

Learning to Say "Rose-a-velt."

When President Roosevelt went to Washington as president, it seems there was still some doubt in social and diplomatic circles as to the correct pronunciation of his name. It was pronounced in the various circles as if spelled Roosevelt—Ruse-velt and Rusvelt. Then came from the White House a semi-official intimation that the correct pronunciation was as if the name were spelled Rose-a-velt, and now all Washington is trying hard to acquire the sound of o broad and hard, and say Rose-a-velt instead of Ruse-e-velt.

Quietest Spot in London.

"It is curious," says The London Chronicle, "how St. Paul's, although the first cathedral church in England that was built actually for the observance of the Anglican ritual, manages nevertheless to retain something of a foreign and a Catholic nature in the way it offers shelter to the tired passer-by. Apart from the restless groups of sight-seers, there are always plenty of people there who have gone in solely for the sake of its wonderful peace and quiet. They have found neither, by the way, in old St. Paul's is the quietest spot in the noisiest city in the world."

The Only Negro Mayor.

Isaiah T. Montgomery, of Mound Bayou, Miss., is the only colored mayor in the United States. He is the wealthiest man in the city named, and, indeed, owns nearly the whole place. At a convention he gained prominence because of the clearness of his views on the negro question. Montgomery was born a slave on the plantation of Jefferson Davis.

Voice Audible 18 Miles.

Eighteen miles is said to be the longest distance on record at which a man's voice has been heard. This occurred in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, where one man shouted the name "Bob" at one end his voice was plainly heard at the other end, which is eighteen miles away. Dr. Young records that at Gibraltar the human voice has been heard at a distance of ten miles.
