Cotton Yards and Compress.

The cotton yards and compress all show a decisive increase over the receipts of this date last year. The various yards have, since Sept. 1st, received the following number of bales:

Alliance	479
Burrows & Barret	160
Renro & Muckleroy	310
Taylor	460
Sanders	393

Total 1802

The compress has handled 1500 bales, 750 of which was in transit. The 750 added to the yard number makes a total of 2252 bales.

Twelve cars containing 300 bales were received at the compress this morning from Alto, Rusk, Lufkin, Timpson, Tenaha and Joaquin.

Got His Money Promptly.

Mr. F. P. West, whose wife, Mrs. Nancy E. West, died on the 17 inst., and who was a member of the Nacogdoches Brotherhood Association, presented her certificate of membership, together with the certificate of his family physician this morning, and was promptly paid $258, the amount she was entitled to, there being 258 members of the association whose certificates had been approved at the time of her death. The association is rapidly increasing and the next beneficiary will receive a considerably large amount.

Row in the Quarter.

A negro who goes by the name of Colonel Benjamin made things lively on Mound street Monday night by beating and abusing his wife. Neighbors interfered, run Benjamin off the premises and came to town to report the matter to authorities. While they were away Benjamin returned, seized his wife, dragged her out doors, threw her to the ground and stamped her in the face, putting her eyes out. He then escaped and has not been captured.

DISTRICT COURT

Convened This Morning.—Interesting Charge to Grand Jury.

Saturday's Daily.

District court convened this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Davis on the bench.

The following named gentlemen, representing every locality in the county, were impaneled as grand jurors:

P. M. Sanders, foreman; J. G. Orton, P. L. Cook, L. H. Lyles, H. C. Rich, J. H. Haltom, Jr., C. B. Patton, Jeff Perry, J. V. Bone, J. V. Birdwell, John Noel Roberts, Newt Grimes, Door bailiff, W. D. Christian, riding bailiffs, Herbert Hart, John T. Morgan, Ike Skillern, Finis Watkins, John Balch and Dave Burrows.

Judge Davis delivered an able and interesting charge to the grand jurors, saying, among other things, that "every violator of law in this county should be indicted without regard to influence, fear or favor. All men are equal before the law and all should be treated alike in the courts of the country. This is the only way to preserve law and order. Make people hesitate to violate the law and the courts will have less to do. The menace of the peace and safety of this country is the pistol toter and I cannot be too strong in my recommendation to this honorable body that they hunt said violator down and give him the full penalty thereon prescribed. It has become a common thing for men, regardless of the lives and liberty of their fellow citizens, to go to church and other places of public meeting armed with deadly weapons, for the purpose of shooting someone for an alleged offense and thereby endangering the lives of innocent people. The practice should be stopped, and at once, and public sentiment expects the courts to do it, and a fine of $200 and imprisonment in the county jail is the best way to make an end of it. You are also required to inquire into violations of the local option law in this county. People who have voted such law into existence are entitled to have it enforced."

Pettit jury for the week: W. U. Perkins, H. T. Burk, K. C. Branch, J. B. Dorsey, T. B. Hardeeman, Ed Skillern, Sam Smith, E. B. Jacobs, J. V. Russell, M. T. Peterson, Melvin Matthews, Thomas Spurgeon, Walter Strickland, J. F. Bigham, H. T. Parker, W. G. King, E. B. Fisher, Charley Thomas, H. L. Jopling, J. M. Williamson, A. T. Stalling, G. A. Houston, Giles Smith, Jno. W. Stoker, Mack Gillis, Will Barr, Jolly Falkner, W. L. Skeeters, I. J. Rogers, Robt. Skillern, Jesse Millard, Andy Thompson, Jim Burrows, J. M. Self, John S. Rose, Jno. D. Selman.

The non jury docket was called and trial days set.

The criminal docket was taken up this afternoon, and the case of the State vs. Jake Brown, charged with murder is now on trial.

Tuesday's Daily.

Elbert Crawford, charged with aggravated assault was tried and fined $25 yesterday afternoon.

Jake Brown, charged with murder, was tried and given two years in the pen. Brown killed Alex McCaney another negro, at Garrison, in May 1901. He was tried and given 15 years in the pen. The case was appealed and reversed, with the result as given above.

The regular jury was excused this morning till one o'clock this evening. The civil docket was then taken up and the case of Louisa A. Jemison vs. Duncan Spradley called. It is now on trial. The following cases have been set: Corine Fields vs. T. & N. O. Ry. Co., Thursday. The grand jury is getting down to business and all the riding bailiffs are rustling in the county.

Judge Chester, of Beaumont, is attending court.

W. M. Imboden says he will move to Nacogdoches as soon as he can get a suitable house.

Mr. W. G. Barron, to whom was awarded the contract for repairing the jail has suspended work on account of material being delayed some where in transit. Mr. Barron says the work will be finished by November the 1st if the material arrives in time.

Judge Davis was at the courthouse early this morning and had a few minutes to spare, which a Sentinel reporter took advantage of and proceeded to interview the judge on the pistol toting question, by first remarking that the public takes it that he meant all he said in his charge to the grand jury, to which Judge Davis answered: "Yes, indeed; I said it in dead earnest, and it the juries will only do their duty the evil will be brought to a speedy close."

Reporter: "Do you not think that some other drastic means should be employed, supplementary to your suggestion that a fine of $200 and imprisonment be imposed?"

"Yes; I am of the opinion that every person who sells pistols or keeps the same for sale should be required to pay a special occupation tax of $500. I also think that each and every person who repairs or offers to repair a pistol should pay a tax of $500. I have encouraged and advocated this idea in every county in my district, because I believe it is the only way to stop the trouble. I am very glad to note that The Sentinel is devoting considerable space to editorial comment upon this subject."

CRIMINAL DOCKET.

State vs Louis Caver, set for Oct. 2nd.

State vs Jim Fears, murder, set for Oct. 3rd.

State vs W. D. C. Gillen, assault to murder, set for Sept. 29.

State vs Mollie Anderson, murder, (3 cases,) set for Sept. 26th.

State vs Penn Russell, theft, set for Sept. 26th.

State vs Shiloh Lampkins, assault to murder, set for first Monday in October.

State vs Bill Tanner and Tom Hyde, murder, set for Monday of the third week.

He was overhauled, however, brought back and placed in the calaboose. Sheriff Heathcock, of Wilson county came in this morning and carried Martin back to Floresville to answer the indictment there pending.

Arrested at Garrison.

Monday's Daily.

A man answering to the name of Jim Martin was arrested at Garrison yesterday by officers, Thacker and Hart, on an alleged charge of rape committed near Floresville, Wilson county, recently. He was brought here this morning and placed in the calaboose for safe keeping. The sheriff of Wilson county wired that he will be here tonight after Martin.

In a private letter to Judge Middlebrook, of this city, Sam Dixon, the well known railroad man, says that the party composing the Farmers Institute will probably reach Nacogdoches tomorrow. They will hold a session of the Institute here on Friday, and on the day following will hold a session at Timpson. Distinguished gentleman in the scientific agriculture of Texas, including Prof. Connell, of the A. and M. College, will be present at the meeting here and deliver addresses on practical farming, and it is greatly desired that there shall be a good audience of representative farmers to hear them. ## The Weekly Sentinel

HALTOM & HALTOM, Publishers,
R. W. HALTOM, Editor

THE County Judges' Association of Texas is called to meet in annual convention at San Antonio, Sept. 26-27, when some very important topics will be discussed.

THE Gregg County News, published at Longview, with S. F. Cook as editor and proprietor, is a new Texas weekly that looks well, reads well, and will doubtless do well.

THE last issue of Farm and Ranch makes a center shot when it says that "there is no better evidence required to convict a farmer of incompetence than a farm of declining fertility."

IN his coming tour of the West, President Roosevelt will take along a throat specialist to dose that overworked organ and keep it in good repair. A muzzle would come cheaper.

WHEN boll weevils and drought and low prices do their worst, the farmer who has a turnip patch to fall back on can still feel that there are some green spots in the desert of life.

STRATTON, the poor carpenter of a few years ago, who stumbled on the first gold at Cripple Creek, made millions and was the envy of poor devils all over the world, laid down and died the other day of some plain, common, every day disease, just as he was in good shape to enjoy his money. The irony of fate!

UP in Massachusetts they have what they call a democratic party, but it takes no stock in the Kansas City platform. At the State convention in Boston, last Wednesday, that platform was ignominiously kicked out, and George Fred Williams, its sturdy defender, came near suffering the same fate. Bimetallism don't go in New England with either party.

THERE is a big row on in the republican party and one of its leading national figures, Speaker Henderson of the House, has voluntarily stepped down and out. He has declined the renomination for congress offered him by his district in Iowa, and all because his constituents want tariff reform and he can't see it that way. The party bosses are dazed by the unexpected sensation and have nothing to say.

UP at the Northwestern University, a large and noted female institution of learning near Chicago, they have rigidly drawn the color line this session, and a girl from Texas, so slightly colored that the difference could hardly be told, was turned away when she sought admission to the school. As the negroes increase in numbers at the North and their racial characteristics become obtrusive, it is inevitable that, as a rule, they will be forced into the same social relation to the superior race that obtains in the South.

A SON OF NACOGDOCHES.

The glad news comes by cable from London that Col. Thomas P. Ochiltree, world-renowned raconteur and bon vivant, whose youthful gambols under the grand old oaks of Nacogdoches are among the most cherished traditions of our city, has tired of the company of mere kings and dukes and haughty old world aristocrats, and is about to return to his native land. In the absence of details the presumption is that the Colonel will, after reaching our shores, take his bacon and greens with true democratic simplicity at the Waldorf Astoria, as in the good old days before the splendors of royalty lured him abroad, and thus manifest to the world the completeness of his conversion and his sincere desire to become once more a plain, untitled American colonel of Texas birth and breeding. Nacogdoches has perhaps produced greater men than Colonel Ochiltree, but none more versatile, picturesque and widely traveled, and as the confidential friend of Presidents, Plutocrats and Princes he has loomed large in a reflected light that kept him always in the public eye and made him the envy of thousands less fortunate in their company. The Colonel was never ashamed of his birth-place, and doubtless on more than one occasion he has mentioned Nacogdoches in some august kingly or ducal presence, as they lolled and smoked and cracked their jokes and walnuts in stately, storied halls rich in tapestries and memories; and while we have never been able to collect any authentic data proving that there has been any influx of capital or immigration to our city on this account, still, there is satisfaction in the thought that the name of Nacogdoches has been mentioned in a familiar, offhand way in the presence of sovereigns and potentates beyond the sea. Colonel Ochiltree should now round out his remarkable career by returning to the scenes of his happy, careless, red-headed and freckled-faced boyhood on the banks of the limpid Banita which is constantly murmuring in our ears that "men may come and men may go, but I flow on forever," and so give a new emphasis to the famous lines:

"Mid pleasures and palaces tho' I may roam,
Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

THE great coal strike bids sudden defiance to compromise, arbitration or any other influence, and seems to have settled down as one of the permanent institutions of the country. It has apparently passed into the petrified stage, and in its inertia and stolidity is a curious study for strike students. Here amid the vast forests of East Texas, where wood is cheap and taken on subscription in every print shop, we can look on this big industrial crisis without the painful interest of those vitally interested but it is a very serious matter, with winter near at hand, for people living in a climate where they need fires nearly every hour in the twenty-four, four or five months in the year.

AT Mineola last Wednesday Judge Gordon Russell was nominated by the convention to fill out the unexpired term of the late Congressman DeGraffenreid. He was already the nominee to succeed Mr. DeGraffenreid for the next term.

THE Texas tomato is a magnificent evolution from the neglected and despised little scrub of a generation ago. Its possibilities were recognized by a few wise people, and "breeding up" did the rest. "What fools these mortals be" that they can't take such an obvious hint from nature and breed up the short stock of the human race by processes equally certain, even if more elaborate.

THE almighty American dollar doesn't absolutely control the world just yet. John W. Gates, the vulgar, loud-mouthed, blasphemous, swaggering American millionaire gambler, was refused admittance to a select London hotel the other day simply because he wasn't a gentleman. Not a hotel in America would have done such a thing. After all, the English do some things better than we do.

SAM LANHAM must now stop fooling round with picnics and barbecues and get right down to business, for Burkett, of Palestine, is on his trail, reaching for his scalp, and full of a wild and desperate purpose to be the next governor of Texas, starting in where Edmund J. Davis left off thirty years ago. Mr. Burkett's intentions are honorable, but he will be suspected of wheels in his head if he takes himself seriously as a competitor of Lanham for the executive job at Austin.

THE Texas republicans are evidently in dead earnest about reorganizing their party in this State and capturing a congressman or two, if possible. They already have out several candidates for congress in the western part of Texas, and now they have called a congressional convention to meet at Crockett, in Houston county, Sept. 30th, to nominate a candidate for the Seventh congressional district, which includes Galveston. They haven't a ghost of a chance to carry the district, and if they can't make a better showing than Jones did against Burgess in the Galveston district two years ago, the campaign won't even be interesting.

FOR some mysterious reason, not clear to the average citizen, even after they have elaborated their views in labored printed arguments, a few democrats are bobbing up here and there and registering their protest against the proposed poll tax amendment to the constitution of Texas. The right to vote is not inherent nor God-given, and the man who refuses to pay a paltry poll tax as his contribution to the expenses of the government that protects him, can be safely omitted as a voter without danger to the stability of our institutions. Such a man ought to be run out of business as a sovereign, and the people of Texas intend to do it next November.

BEAUMONT STREET CROWDS.

THE Beaumont Journal justly exults in the splendid growth of its city and in proof thereof says: "A Galveston man standing on the corner of Pearl and Crockett streets, remarked, 'You can see more people pass here in an hour than you will see in Galveston in a week.'" This puts us in a reminiscent mood. Twenty years ago, when all North, Central and West Texas was on a great boom and Fort Worth thought itself a revised and improved pocket edition of Chicago, the old Fort Worth Gazette, then the boss chancery of the Texas press, bragged about its town in a manner most exasperating to Dallas, Waco, Houston and other outlying villages, (although as a matter of fact none of them could outlie Fort Worth). Jim Britton, wealthy railroad builder and old Texan of high repute, was State engineer-then, an office since abolished, and his duties carried him all over the Texas railroad system. One day he remarked in the hearing of a Gazette reporter that more people got on and off the trains at Fort Worth than any where else in Texas. Next day the Gazette, in a glow of triumph, featured this remark and kept it up for months, with every variety of display, rubbing it into rival towns without mercy. But times change, and towns as well as men, with them. The Gazette is dead and so is Jim Britton, and the meek and much-crowded over Dallas, to say nothing of Houston, has long since left Fort Worth behind in the race for wealth and population. This reminiscence is only pertinent as suggesting to Bro. McGary that crowds thronging the streets under exceptional boom conditions when the transient is abroad, form no safe basis for invidious comparison between cities. Galveston is a grand old town, who does things in her own way and picks herself up, a disfigured, bleeding remnant, after a tropic hurricane, and becomes handsomer and stronger than ever. Beaumont is a brilliant youngster, (a trifle greasy) who sets fire to Spindle Top, scares a hundred thousand stockholders out of their wits, works the advertisement for all it is worth, puts out the fire, and calmly resumes business with a "never-touched-me" expression on her face as though gushers in flames were a part of her regular program. The Journal is her prophet and champion, young, ardent, able and virile, and may it live a thousand years, with a growing Beaumont to back it every year in the thousand! But put not your trust in street crowds, Sammy, as a basis of population and prosperity, for they disappear in a night, and no man knoweth whence they came or whither they goeth.

IT is given out as a cold fact in the last issue of the Financial Record, a high class Wall street publication, that within twelve months the Rock Island will be running trains into Galveston over its own track.

THE best feature of the republican state platform, adopted the other day at Fort Worth, was the plank demanding a more just and rational libel law in Texas. Our newspapers could largely increase their usefulness, along with their fearlessness and sense of independence, if the Texas libel law didn't put such absurdly unjust restraints upon them.

THE preacher in politics opened his mouth and put his foot in it—as usual, last Sunday at Oyster Bay, when Bro. Somebody preached a McKinley memorial sermon, listened to by President Roosevelt, and gave the latter so much impertinent political advice mixed with great gobs of extravagant praise, that Teddy choked on it and colored with shame and rage.

OLD Russell Sage says he expects to live to see Texas one of the greatest states in the Union. As Uncle Russ is nearing ninety and never gets out of New York, he evidently believes in the immortality of the soul and expects to come to Texas when he dies. Good scheme, too. Uncle Russ has more enlightened ideas about a comfortable home in the hereafter than Phil Sheridan had.

EDDIE GREEN is now the proud director-general of the republican congressional campaigns in Texas, and under the inspiration of Teddy's stern, martial eye, fixed on him from him from afar, he hopes to pull through a candidate or two and lay them at his master's feet as trophies of his Napoleonic genius in Texas politics. It would indeed take a very Napoleon to break the democratic front or turn its flank in this State, and Eddie is no Napoleon.

THERE is prospect for Uncle Sam to get into another West Indian scrap and acquire some more undesirable territory along with a million or so free niggers of the worst possible type. It is given out from Washington that the President will inform the warring negro factions now devastating Hayti with their bloody, cut-throat scraps and offending the decency of the civilized world, that if they don't subside and behave themselves he will intervene with a few war-ships and soldiers and annex the Island. God forbid! but what a paradise for carpet-baggers and promoters it would be!

ACCORDING to the Orange Tribune, San Antonio is the metropolis of Texas, a statement jeered as a poor joke by the Houston Post, with Galveston and Dallas yet to hear from. Santone is the metropolis only in the sense of having the largest population of any Texas city, but in the better definition of the word, which includes other elements as well as numbers—commerce, capital and enterprise, for instance, our huge thinly settled commonwealth, still in a formative state, has no true metropolis, with Houston perhaps in the lead for the honor when the time comes to award it.

A THRIVING LITTLE VILLAGE.

Omen, The Seat of The Summer Hill Select School.

It has been the pleasure of this writer to visit Arp and Omen during the past week; the former famous for the immense fruit and truck industry of Smith county, which found its incipency there, and the latter noted as the home of the Summer Hill Select School, one of the foremost institutions of learning in East Texas.

Omen is situated in the midst of one of the most picturesque sections of Smith county, as well as in the heart of one of the leading fruit and truck growing districts of East Texas, and with Arp, its near neighbor and auxiliary, numbers some fifteen hundred or two thousand inhabitants.

The country is thickly settled with an intelligent, thrifty class of farmers, and the people are enjoying a state of prosperity closely akin to luxury. Corn, cotton, fruit and truck farming are the avocations, the fruit and truck industry predominating, and the "plain farmers" are laying up money faster than nine-tenths of the people engaged in other avenues of trade throughout this country.

Omen has five or six stores of general merchandise, the largest among them being that of our former townsman, Capt. H. C. Hale, the firm being styled Hale & Hamilton. They carry an immense stock and have a big establishment and a fine trade. There is a postoffice, telephone exchange, long distance station, several fine physicians and several hundred scientific farmers who live "in town" to be convenient to the school. The school is the center of attraction and the chief inducement to settlers. Homes there are in great demand and lands are dear, running as high as one hundred dollars an acre, with improvements. The scenery around is fascinating, and the altitude high and healthful. The people are friendly and sociable and always have the hand of welcome extended to those who come among them with pure motives.

The school has been the main factor in building up Omen and the surrounding country, and in turn the people have cooperated in building up a great school, and as a result the school and country have prospered together and both have become great. The school is sustained largely by local patronage, and much being expected, nothing short of the very best is tolerated by the community, hence the school is maintained on the very highest plane of educational institutions.

Many boys and girls go to Omen every year from different sections of the state to attend Summer Hill Select School, Nacogdoches county furnishing a full quota.

We have closed our credit business for the season and are selling for spot cash, and being determined to reduce our stock we are offering bargains in all lines.

Our Peach Orchards.

Visitors to the nurseries of Prof. F. W. Mally at Garrison report themselves as delighted with what they see of the fine supply of young trees now growing for planting in our county and other points along the line of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. The latter part of the season has been very favorable for the growth of June Buds and they are growing at a fine rate. While in the city recently the Professor stated that he was not pushing sales much just now owing to the fact that prices are advancing.

Letters either to Houston or Garrison will receive prompt attention.

A HEALTH POLICY

The system is, from natural causes, debilitated or run-down both in the spring and fall. The seasons' changes are always a tax on the human organism. The blood becomes impure in the spring, and vitality lags in the fall. A little care, a little assistance, and nature will do the rest, as it is always trying to maintain health. Frequently the weakest organ will show the most disorder, and this often leads to wrong treatment.

For the debilitated conditions of spring or fall, or any other time, for that matter, the right thing to do is, to build up the whole system. It is not your stomach, or liver, or nerves alone that cause the trouble; you are weakened all over and must have renewed strength and vitality. These you cannot get so quickly or surely or safely as by using

Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC

When you use Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic you are helping to renew the vigor of every fiber of your body. You are cleansing and enriching your blood; you are strengthening your stomach and increasing the digestive fluids; you are building up and renewing the activity of your kidneys and liver; and you are feeding and revitalizing your nervous system. You cannot do this without getting well, and you cannot take Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic without doing it.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 26, 1891.
The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., Dayton, O.

THE president of the Texas Cotton Growers' Protective Association, Col. E. S. Peters, states with confidence that middling cotton will sell for ten cents and more before another crop is placed on the market, provided the farmers will use good judgment and market the crop slowly.

THE Houston Post defends slang, but takes care to never perpetrate it in the irreproachable leaders it prints for the delight and instruction of its discriminating readers. And this reminds us to say that those same leaders are equal to the best in the journalism of this country, North or South.

JOHN H. KIRBY announces positively through a card in the Houston Post that he doesn't own the Austin Statesman nor any part of it, nor the Houston Chronicle in whole or in part, nor any interest in the Beaumont or Orange papers. It made us proud to think of Bro. Kirby as "one of us," and we give him up reluctantly.

LAST Friday night in Birmingham, Ala., during the session of the National Negro Baptist Convention, in the colored Baptist church there, two negroes got into a fight about a seat, somebody yelled fire, and the vast audience of men and women packed in the building to hear Booker Washington's address, made a rush like stampeded cattle for the outlets, and 115 of them were crushed and suffocated to death.

SPORADIC "moral waves" are not popular with the Beaumont Journal, which doesn't believe in them a little bit and says with reason that "a good, sound, enlightened public opinion is better than all the moral waves in the world." But such waves have their good uses and are responsible for more than a few genuine reforms, both in the individual and the community. Do you want to put Sam Jones and Abe Mulkey out of business altogether?

THERE is no negro representative in congress now and will probably not be again, at least during this generation, but up in a Maryland district there is a colored preacher, Rev. Henry Newman, duly nominated by his race and trying hard to break into the lower house in Washington. His platform, which is as follows, would bankrupt the treasury, and give us a piebald, jim-crow government in the same class with the South American republics: "A pension for every ex-slave; proper treatment of the colored voter; division of state and federal offices with colored men and women; repeal of the civil service laws; reform of the tariff; abolition of trusts; suppression of lynching, and the upholding of the manhood and womanhood of the colored race." Good enough in some things, but totally bad in others.

THE acute stage in Tyler journalism seems to be near at hand. "Thrice is he armed who hath his quarrel just."

BELL county has organized a little press association of her own, with all the county papers as members. Such a body ought to do some good in the way of maintaining decent rates for advertising and job work, but its size doesn't promise much for extensive annual junkets of the dead-head variety.

BEAUMONT easily leads as an oil producer, but Corsicana modestly calls our attention to the fact that she hasn't retired from business and still has a little matter of 584 producing wells, with more to come. And old Nacogdoches is liable to enter the field any day as a swift producer. Beaumont is only a part of the "whole thing."

THE republican nominee for governor of Texas, Burkett, of Palestine, is already coming in for the pains and penalties attached to the job of office-seeking when there's opposition. The Kountze News gives him a warm roast of a strictly personal character, well calculated to abraid the feelings of a sensitive young novice, like Burkett, in the rough game of politics.

HERE is the way they do it in that part of our great piebald republic where they don't draw the color line. It comes from Bellaire, Ohio, under date of Sept. 18th.

This city is indignant over the action of J. D. Defenbaugh, principal of the fifth ward school, in forcing white pupils to kiss negro pupils.

Bro. Defenbaugh didn't intend to do anything immoral. He is simply a crank on the negro question who has emancipated himself from common sense and decency. There are others.

AT the late meeting of the executive committee of State Farmers' Institutes it was ordered that institutes be held in many places in Texas this fall, including Nacogdoches. The institute will be held here two days, September 26-27, and every farmer in the county is cordially invited to be present and take part in the proceedings. In fact, the public generally is invited to attend the sessions, which will be open and devoted to practical discussion of the varied farming, stock, fruit and truck growing interests of the county. The farmer who treats these institutes with indifference makes a big mistake. The most successful farmers in Texas are the men who organize them and attend them, and these men, who are practical students of farming questions and constantly experimenting with various soils and crops, have valuable ideas to present at these institutes which other farmers should be glad to listen to. The coming institute in Nacogdoches should be made a big success in point of attendance and interest, and our farmers should turn out in large numbers to meet the visiting lecturers and other speakers.

The Sentinel office is in mourning. "Bill, the lizard"—he of the three tails has disappeared. Bill was brought to the office in a pickle bottle, some weeks ago and was mentioned in the paper, owing to his superiority over other lizards in the number of caudal appendages he possessed. On being released, he showed his intelligence by electing to stay round the Sentinel office where he lived contentedly until one fatal day, when in the absence of the snake editor, the rest of the misguided force decided Bill was thirsty, and tried to give him a drink. The way they proceeded was to pour a dipper of water over him in the hope that some would get in his mouth. Bill has not been seen since. The snake editor said lizards did not drink water any more than a rabbit, and that we hurt his feelings. Any way he left—Bill did, and any one seeing a lizard with three tails and an intelligent expression of countenance, answering to the name of Bill, will please return to the Sentinel office and that lizard will be treated like a Kentucky Colonel in future.

Eddie.

How sad it is to think of the awful tragedy that occurred at Attoyac late Saturday afternoon, Aug. 30th.

Eddie Blackshear, one of Black Jack's brightest youths, was shot and almost instantly killed by Charley Roberts. He died Wednesday evening, Sept. 3rd.

So often have we read of such tragedies happening all over the world, but never did we think anything of the kind would come home to us; especially in the manner in which Eddie was taken away from his parents—so unexpectedly.

So many voices have I heard say, "I can't realize Eddie's death; it seems as if he has gone off somewhere for a few days," as he has often done.

Yes, Eddie is gone never to return to fill that vacant place in the home where his dear parents, brother and little sisters will miss him so much. Not only do the family miss him, but he is missed by everybody.

While his wounds were fatal and his sufferings so great, still he never gave up hope until the very last. They told him he could not live; that he was going to die. He asked if the doctor couldn't save him just one more mile. They told them they had done all they could, that he was dying. He turned and said to his brother Willie, "I am going to see mamma."

What a great consolation it is to know his life was spared long enough to tell them he was prepared to die.

Eddie only lacked three days living to celebrate his 18th birthday.

May this sad occurrence be a warning to one and all, and may troubles be kept down in future instead of people standing by and looking at men and boys kill each other. It is not only a sad shock to the family, but a severe blow to Black Jack.

Dr. Blackshear and family have the sympathy of the people in their sad bereavement.

May we all live a Christian life, and when we die be prepared to meet Eddie in Heaven. A FRIEND.

Every good man has his face set against the intemperate use of whiskey; every thinking man knows it shortens life. Every man knows that there is nothing to be said seriously in its favor. That is not the point. Nor is the question, "does prohibition prohibit?" for every grown person of normal intelligence knows that it does not. Sin is not so easily legislated out of existence. If voting against evil disposed of it the whole black calendar of crime would be swept away and poor sin-cursed humanity emerge as stainless as the light of heaven. The question is, can the evil be better fought in the open, or hidden? Is it more effectively controlled when seen or when unseen? It is a question on which good men and women hold the most widely divergent opinions.

These are questions asked us daily. These questions we cannot answer. We, however, would like to impress on your mind a few facts that we do know and about which we are positively sure we are correct, to-wit:

That when you do sell your cotton you should always see our buyer, as we always pay the highest market price and pay it in the omnipotent spot cash.

That when you have made calculations how much money you can spend for fall and winter supplies---whether dry goods or clothing, shoes or hats, groceries or hardware, cook stove or shot gun, a paper of needles or a sewing machine, whether 'tis a five cent purchase or a $100 bill---you want to remember this fact: Do not invest this cash until you have examined closely and priced thoroughly through

Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor-Scientist that Cures Every Known Ailment.

Wonderful Cures are Effected that Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived

The Remedy is Free to all who Send Name and Address.

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realm of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 3256 Baltes building, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely

DR. JAMES WILLIAM KIDD, discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out verily strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder trouble disappears as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent free by return mail.

Just Eucaline, nothing else.

We desire to get in communication with the heirs of Pedro Robleau, who resided in Nacogdoches in an early day. He had a son by the same name. Any clue that may lead to their location will be of advantage. Address Editor Sentinel, Nacogdoches Texas.

J. H. Summers writes from Sherman and says the crops from Houston to Plano are a total failure. From Plano to Denison, wheat and oats are fair but corn is short. East and northeast corn is better; cotton is short. From Houston to Sherman fully half the crops are gathered. The hot weather and boll weevil have destroyed the cotton in most sections, and he finds, as he did last year, that no part of the state has better crops than Nacogdoches county, and no where with general conditions nearly so good. "I have not seen business so dull in three years," says Mr. Summers. Frost reported around Sherman Saturday. A cold wave passed over, but no rain.

LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of bowel troubles. I have given up castor oil and give my baby nothing but Laxakola, and find it cheaper and a great deal better. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Union and Purchase Co., Lowell, Mass.

Enclosed please find 50 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully when he had a touch of it. I did not know what it was to do my eyes day or night. I gave him a few drops of Laxakola and it relieved him. I gave it to him a few times, and it worked like a charm, and he now rests pretty fair all night. He is a great deal better looking baby since I gave him Laxakola, and I think if all mothers knew how good it was, they would give nothing else to their sick babies. Mrs. MARY DALEY, 37 First St., South Boston, Mass.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues & any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send For It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Perkins Bros.
