FOUND GUILTY

GIVEN DEATH SEN-TENCE.--PRISONER
ASKED FOR IM-MEDIATE EX-ECUTION.

Friday's Daily.

Today has been one of unparalleled excitement in Nacogdoches and it has witnessed perhaps the most wonderful legal trial for a capital offense ever had in Texas or any other State in Union. It was learned last night by phone from Rusk that a special train would leave there at 3:30 this morning for Nacogdoches with the negro murderer of the Hicks family, Buchanan, accompanied by Sheriff Spradley and his deputies, Sheriff
Reagan of Rusk, Deputy Matthews of San Augustine and the following companies of State troops: Chilton Guards
of Tyler; Rudd Rifles, of Marshall; Burkett Guards, of Palestine; Henderson Rifles, of Henderson; Iron Guards of Rusk, with Major Raines of Marshall in command. The train arrived here at 7:30 this morning and there was a vast crowd at the depot to meet it, but as a precaution it was stopped some distance below

the compass, where the troops, surrounding the mur-derer, marched with him to the court house where preparation for instant trial, according to law, had been made.
Judge Davis convened district court, the jury was empaneled, and the prisoner arraigned and called on to plead to the indictment which had been read to him. He was calmly smoking a cigarette and smiling at the proceedings. He pleaded guilty in two cases, one for the murder of Duncan Hicks and one for the murder of his daughter. The judge delivered his charge to the jury, which retired and in three minutes returned a verdict of guilty as charged. He was then sentenced to death and had the decency left in him to waive the thirty days allowed by the law and ask the court house. There was talk of postponing the hour of execution, and there were divided counsels on the subject.

The crowd assembled and dispersed according to the strength of the orator's voice.
At last it was ordered, considering the temper of the people, to have the execution
by noon.

The fate of the monster was at hand.

Willing hands had been erecting a gallows on the square. It was a rude affair court house, and sheriff Spradley, with the death warrant in his hands, told them that there was no trick for delay and the murderer should surely be executed.

A vast audience, determined and resolute, was on the square at 11 o'clock, and there were many ladies on the ver-andas of the stores to see that justice was done to the fiend.

About noon he was brought out from the court house, heavily guarded by soldiers, with Sheriff Spradley escorting him words which indicated feelings not to be expressed in human language.

John Garrison made a talk from the gallows, of which we could not catch the words, and then the doomed wretch ascended the crude ladder under escort of Sheriff Spradley and stepped on the trap door, which was his vestibule to hell, Josh Henson quickly bound him, hand and foot and adjusted the rope around his neck and then he was asked to say what he wanted to. He got on his knees, and beast that he was, congratulated himself that he had so many friends among the white people. He was an idiot, a savage, and had the nerve that was left out of a human being.

The moment he finished his senseless and brutish talk, Sheriff Spradley cut the rope, the trap door fell, and the wretch was dangling, choking to death, as the fall failed to break his neck.

Shouts and jeers resounded on all sides from the thousands of spectators, and there was wild, fierce joy among all those people that the fiend was in his last agony and could no more ravish the daughters of Nacogdoches and murder their parents.

The body of the brute hung from the rope, writhing, twisting and whirling around, and in a few minutes it hung like a dog, with several doctors feeling the pulse to make sure that life was extinct.

When it was certain that he was dead the people called for the vile body in order that they might burn it, but John Garrison made a talk urging that the people had a right to see the dead body of the wretch hanging by a rope.

This was sufficient for a few minutes, but the rage of the people was too strong and presently the body was cut down and laid on the ground where it was looked at until there was a cry to hang it up again, until sundown, so that the people from the country could look at it. This was done and at this writing the body is hanging there—a terrible but salutary evidence that the people of Texas will protect their women and the safety of their homes.

There have been innumerable incidents during this exciting day, which we haven't time to describe, but it is enough to say that the supreme authority of the laws of Texas has been well vindicated. Sheriff Spradley has done his duty faithfully under many difficulties, the State troops have responded nobly to the call of the governor to preserve law and order, and the vilest fiend that ever lived in Texas has been well hung and we will be troubled with him no more.

The majesty of the sacred law of Texas has been vindicated; a lesson has been taught to all our people in the matter of law and order, and an enemy of the human race has gone to his doom.

Negroes were scarce on the streets today, but law-abiding negroes have nothing to fear.

About 4 o'clock the body of the brute was cut down and removed to the rear of the court-house.

The jury that convicted
Buchanan, was as follows:

John Rusk, R. W. Murphey, O. L. Hall, J. W. Derrick, I. C. Skillern, Ed Delamar, Toll Grimes, J. F.
Bigham, Turner King, Rob
Blackwell, Frank Richardson,
J. F. Shaw, R. W. Murphey
was foreman of the jury.

TUESDAY'S LOCALS.

Mr. J. J. Coleman, of Linn Flat, is in the city today.

Mrs. J. J. Lyles is quite sick with fever on Irion Hill. Born Oct. 20th to Mr. and Mrs. John Burford, a daughter.

The streets of Nacogdoches presented a lively appearance this morning.

The Misses Latham, of Mahl, were pleasant callers at The Sentinel office today.

Mr. L. R. Heflin, of Aiken, Shelby Co., was a caller at The Sentinel office this morning.

Will Wilburne was adjudged guilty of aggravated assault and was fined $25 and costs.

Mr. Robt Brewer, of Looneyville, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office this morning.

A. E. Alexander, a grandson of the late Dr. Griffith, and a very promising young man, died at Terrell a few days ago.

Among other things, this country raises pea nuts, at least half a dozen wagon loads of vines have been brought in today and yesterday.

Dr. W. S. Mayfield, of Longview, a brother of Dr. J. E. Mayfield, of this city, had the misfortune to fall from a moving train a few days ago. He was considerably bruised up but not seriously hurt.

Nacogdoches is looking its prettiest just now, with all the fall roses in full bloom. Our town could well be called a city of roses, there is hardly a yard that does not have a few bushes, and many homes are noted for the extent and beauty of the rose garden.

D. P. Rook slipped off to San Augustine last week and married Miss Marien Murphey, a most excellent young lady, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Murphey. He didn't let anybody know a thing about it and he was back in Nacogdoches with his bride several days before The Sentinel found out a word about it. Late as it is, we extend congratulations.

A lovelier autumn day never shone upon our town than today, in honor of our guests. The rain had washed the dust off trees and shrubbery, and made driving a delight. If we could have kept the travelers from the north a day or two, and driven them through the country, they would all move back and settle here in a body. As it is, short as the stay with us was, they all seemed to be favorably impressed, and expressed themselves as delighted with the town and its prospects.

Peach Seed Wanted.

Any one having peach seed gathered, or who can gather good seed will be well paid for them in cash or in exchange for trees if they will apply to me and state the number they have or can get together. Remember also that I still have a full line of peaches, apples, pear, plum and fig trees of the leading varieties adapted to this section and will be glad to have your orders while they yet last. Ladies do not forget the rose garden this fall. I have a specially selected list which is best adapted to East Texas conditions and the plants are stocky out door grown and will be sure to give the best results. Rush the matter of peach seed as it will be too late to use them soon. Apply to me at Garrison, Texas.

Fred W. Mally.

Our Peach Orchards.

Visitors to the nurseries of Prof. F. W. Mally at Garrison report themselves as delighted with what they see of the fine supply of young trees now growing for planting in our county and other points along the line of the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. The later part of the season has been very favorable for the growth of June Buds and they are growing at a fine rate. While in the city recently the Professor stated that he was not pushing sales much just now owing to the fact that prices are advancing.

Letters either to Houston or Garrison will receive prompt attention.

Mr. G. R. Whitton, who is connected with the Jean's mill near Nacogdoches, is the proud possessor of a relic of the revolutionary war. It is a gold watch which was the property of Paul Jones and was worn by that illustrious person during the struggle with the "mother country." The watch has the picture of Paul Jones engraven on the front of the case and that of his home on the back. It is a good time keeper yet, not withstanding its old age, the works being on old Spanish movement.

The Excurisonists have arrived and departed. The show carried off the carrier boys last week, but today it was the entire staff of editors reporters and printers that struck and absolutely refused to put pencil to paper until the guests had departed. Nacogdoches doesn't receive every day in the year, and it looked as though every man in town took the morning off and devoted himself to entertaining the city guests.

Oscar Matthews returned from Hot Springs yesterday. He did not improve as much as he expected, having an attack of fever while there, and returned sooner than he intended.

Hallow'e'en

The members of the Cemetery association are to have a call meeting Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to perfect arrangements for the Hallow'e'en party. Of course all the members of the association are expected to be on hand, and all the young ladies who are interested in parties and good times and want to glance into the future and read their fate, are especially invited to meet with the members at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Peevey on Saturday.

Excursion Rates.

The H. E. & W. T. and T. & N. O. Rys. will put on excursion rates for the following occasions:

For the meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy at New Orleans, Nov. 12th to 15th, one fare ($12) for the round trip. Tickets on sale Nov. 10th and 11th, good returning Nov. 18th.

On account of Ringling Bros. Circus, the T. & N. O. will sell round trip to Beaumont Nov. 7th at $1.50. Train leaves Nacogdoches 5 a. m. and arrives at Beaumont 11 a. m.; returning leaves Beaumont 6:30 p. m. Tickets good on this train only.

On account of the International Fair at San Antonio, will sell round trip tickets from Nacogdoches Oct. 17th, good until Oct. 30th for $11.40, and on Oct. 25th will have special excursion rate of $5.50, limited returning to Oct. 28th.

M. J. Dooley,
Local agent.

The Woodmen Circle met last night in regular convention and after the regular routine business was transacted and the grove "closed in due form," several suspicious packages were brought in and a spread of cake and cream was the "order of business" for quite a while. The membership is growing rapidly and ere long the circle in point of social features and membership will be one of the best societies in Nacogdoches.

Always in the Band Wagon

The immortal "Mr. Dooley" says that the newspapers "comfort the afflicted, and afflict the comfortable," which may be true. The newspapers stand for progression, development, progress, and there are lots of comfortable people who don't want to be bothered, and to whom it is an absolute affliction to be requested to "hustle." But these are perilous times. In the words of "White Queen"—It takes all the running we can do to stay in the same place, and if we want to get any where else, we have to run a great deal faster. It is dangerous to sit down and be comfortable because if we do, the band wagon will run over us.

The Sentinel's ambition is to see Nacogdoches always in the band wagon, and we are going to continue talking fire protection, more rail roads, larger city limits, cleaner town and better lighted streets, at the risk of "afflicting the comfortable" until some or all of these necessary improvements are achieved.

TUCKER, ZEVE & CO.

N. Payne, of Appleby, is in the city.

Tom Bently, of Swift, is in town today.

W. T. Whitton, of Melrose, was here today.

Henry Satterwhite, of Linn Flat, is in the city.

Mr. Fritz Hoya is seriously sick at his home on South La Nana street.

Dr. W. I. M. Smith and wife returned from Houston yesterday where they spent a day or two.

A. H. R. Fullerton, representing John V. Farwell Co., of Chicago, is in town in the interest of his firm.

Cotton and seed are both down today. Cotton is selling close down to eight cents a pound and seed are bringing only fifteen dollars a ton.

Mrs. Jacob Schmidt and her little son Hans, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, left for their home in Belleville, Ill., this morning.

There is to be a conference at the Baptist church tonight. There is especial business to be attended to and all members are requested to be present.

Mrs. T. J. Carraway has reached Lutkin on her return from Coleman, and after spending a few days with relatives there will be in Nacogdoches again.

The Nacogdoches Baptist Association meets with Trinity church next Saturday at 10 o'clock a. m. There will be a big day out there next Sunday.

The little son of Huse Gunning is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Marvin Windham, Esq., is very sick with typhoid fever at his father's home two miles out on North street.

J. L. McBride, of Woden, spent today in the city on business. He "held up" The Sentinel man while he was on the streets "taking notes" and "forced" him to take a dollar.

District court has nearly run out of business again. The grand jury has adjourned, and if the jury wasn't hung up on the Porter Slay case there would not be anything on hand today at all.

There were a large number of wagons from the eastern part of the county, and some from San Augustine county, in town today. They all brought cotton and returned loaded with goods and farm supplies.

There is too much time wasted over dirigible balloons, and other un-needed inventions. The crying need of the hour is for machinery that will consume it's own noise, and self washing dishes. A fortune awaits the invention of either.

If the Attoyac will get down to a fording proposition, and stay there, Nacogdoches may hope to continue to do some business with San Augustine county. It isn't risking much to say that Nacogdoches would lose every dollar of that trade before she would go down in her "jeans" and dig up the money with which to build a public free bridge.

Miss Mary Ruffs entertained her friends with a social last night. Flash light kodak pictures were taken of groups of the guests. Whether the pictures are a success or not, the party was, and a kodak party was decreed the best mode yet of spending a social evening. About ten couples were present.

The excursionists yesterday all carried away with them a piece of the extempore gallows on which the execution took place last Friday. They were anxious to secure the souvenirs, because they thought the swift legal justice done marked a new era. They were unanimous in their approval of the magnificent self control of the people of Nacogdoches.

The evening of Oct. 31st has been for centuries the one day on which one can with absolute certainty not only read one's fortune but find it good, for all the beneficent spirits are abroad that night helping poor helpless mortals. A Halloween party can only happen once in a year, and girls who are not so unfortunate as to have no romance in their hearts, will undoubtedly attend the one given by Cemetery association. There will also be good times and a delightful program for the married people and a large attendance will be very much appreciated by the society.

A stranger in town suffering with an inflamed eye asked for the best drugstore, and was sent to Perkins Bros. They supplied him with a bottle of John R. Dickey's Old Reliable Eye Water.

Mr. S. T. DeMilt spent yesterday in the city, leaving this morning for Beaumont. Mr. DeMilt was the first depot agent stationed in the city when the trains first ran into Nacogdoches. He was extremely popular and has never been forgotten, his old friends being delighted to see him once more. He is now with the Mallory steam ship line and makes his home in Galveston.

On investigation we find that about one in every five farmers in the county has a few bee gums, and that a good percentage of them sell honey at times. We also find that Nacogdoches market is supplied in great part, with Uvalde honey at a high price or from the North at an equally high price, and not as good, while the market is practically unsupplied. With the slightest co-operation among the farmers here this would cease, and on the contrary a profitable source of revenue would be developed. This county could easily become as great a honey centre as Uvalde, but this is possible only by co-operation. We would suggest that those desirous of developing this great source of profit, accept Prof. F. W. Mally's invitation to communicate with him at Garrison, Texas.

Pretty Tough to Scratch

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Perkins Bros.

Tie Makers Wanted.

Also wood choppers and laborers, or contractors, to cut and clear about two hundred acres of land, work to begin as soon as possible. One hundred acres lie at Fitzie Hill and the rest at Garrison, Texas. Write me at Garrison, Texas.

Bilious Colic.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. For sale by Perkins Bros.

She was the step mother of Mrs. Amelia Muller and an aunt by marriage of Mrs. Jno. Schmidt. Mrs. Voigt was twice married, her first husband being Capt. H. C. Hancock, a popular officer in the Confederate army and a leading citizen in the early days of Nacogdoches, and who sacrificed his life in the "Lost Cause."

Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. A large crowd of Lutkin people came up yesterday afternoon to see the hanging, but they arrived too late and were very much disappointed. They returned on the South bound passenger train this morning after having a jolly time — most of them.

A vast crowd of people came in from all parts of the county yesterday afternoon hoping to get here in time to see the negro, Jim Buchanan hang, but arrived after it was all over. They had the satisfaction of knowing that he was a very dead negro and would never more disturb the peace and dignity of the State, or any body else.

The people of Nacogdoches are getting very tired of so much shooting, marauding and lawlessness at night, and the first thing some body knows there will be a vigilance committee organized to help keep the peace. Order must be bad. It is getting so country people are afraid afraid to come in town and go to the wagon yard after dark for fear of getting shot. A row is almost a nightly occurrence and the town is getting an undeserved hard name because of a small tough element that could be easily controlled, and will be, for the patience of Nacogdoches is nearly at an end.

While it is admitted by every one that no punishment could have been too severe for the negro executed yesterday, there is no citizen of Texas and especially old Nacogdoches who does not feel proud at the orderly manner in which the law was carried out.

We neglected to mention the eclipse of the moon night before last. Having so many other things to remember, we sometimes let the almanac department get behind. As an eclipse, it was a perfect success, being total, but the un-earthly hour at which it was held prevented as many from watching it as otherwise would. We would suggest to the almanac makers that 11:30 p m is no time to give a successful performance, and that eclipses of the moon should be held hereafter at 8 or 9 o'clock in the evening.

Yesterday was a great day in the annals of Nacogdoches, and is an example to all the South. We tried, convicted, sentenced and executed a negro murderer and rape fiend in the space of about six hours and the law was scrupulously obeyed from start to finish. No people ever had stronger provocation to sweep the law aside and deal summary justice by the most savage methods to a fiend in human shape, but the laws of Texas were respected and obeyed and that nigger is just as dead as though he had been burnt at the stake by a lawless mob. It was a great day for Nacogdoches, for justice and for law.

Resolutions of Colored Citizens.

At the meeting of the colored citizens of Nacogdoches, Thursday night, reported at length in The Sentinel yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, it is commonly said that all negroes are alike and that they sympathize with criminals of their color, no matter what the gravity of the offense is; and whereas it is a fact that we have some members of our race who are so depraved that they would not hesitate to commit the vilest crime; and there is an element among us who try to live for right, give right counsel, and to stand for a pure and law-abiding citizenship; and whereas we believe the Southern white man is our friend, the South is our home, and here we must work out our destiny, we are not unmindful of the fact that the majority of Southern whites are kindly disposed toward us, and it being our desire to cultivate this friendly feeling and to have them justly understand us, be it

Resolved—That whereas a most diabolic crime has been committed by the negro brute, Jim Buchanan, upon the family of Mr. Hicks, we condemn this and all such crimes in the strongest terms and hope that he will be brought swiftly to the death he so much merits.

Resolved—That we as a body pledge ourselves to labor with untiring efforts to secure more co-operation and interest to our churches, Sabbath schools and public schools on the part of the careless, shiftless and imprudent element, believing this to be a material gospel method of dealing with and meeting the conditions as they present themselves."

A HEALTH POLICY
The system is, from natural causes, debilitated or run-down both in the spring and fall. The seasons' changes are always a tax on the human organism. The blood becomes impure in the spring, and vitality lags in the fall. A little care, a little assistance, and nature will do the rest, as it is always trying to maintain health. Frequently the weakest organ will show the most disorder, and this often leads to wrong treatment. For the debilitated conditions of spring or fall, or any other time, for that matter, the right thing to do is to build up the whole system. It is not your stomach, or liver, or nerves alone that cause the trouble; you are weakened all over and must have renewed strength and vitality. These you cannot get so quickly or surely or safely as by using
Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC
When you use Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic you are helping to renew the vigor of every fiber of your body. You are cleansing and enriching your blood; you are strengthening your stomach and increasing the digestive fluids; you are building up and renewing the activity of your kidneys and liver; and you are feeding and revitalizing your nervous system. You cannot do this without getting well, and you cannot take Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic without doing it.
CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 26, 1901.
The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., Dayton, O.
GENTLEMEN:—I unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, as I firmly believe it is the best tonic on the market to-day. Every spring and fall my system seems to be in need of a tonic, and for the past three years I have taken a bottle of your tonic twice a year.

Bee-keepers, Attention!

The undersigned is anxious to hear from all the bee-keepers among the readers of this valuable weekly in order that we may all work together for the upbuilding of an industry which is a source of revenue to us constantly at very small expense. Let us organize and work together for a common purpose. Our native honey plants are practically unlimited and the amount of honey to be made in our territory is only limited by our experience and management. I shall be glad to serve as much as possible for the upbuilding of this important work, and having organized the Apiary at the A. & M. College before taking up my headquarters in Garrison, I hope I may be able to instruct and find many who desire to be instructed in up-to-date bee-keeping. I shall be glad to have bee keepers write me at Garrison, Texas. Yours for success,

We have just learned an interesting fact about this Nacogdoches oil. If a sap plank be painted with the Oil City Oil it will last forever and one day over, but a heart plank will not absorb the oil. Our informant is so certain of his statement that if it does not last the one day over he will refund the price of the oil. But, seriously, oil stained planks have laid around on the ground and in all sorts of weather for six or eight years without showing the slightest sign of decay.

MOTHERS

TESTIFY TO THE BENEFITS THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF

LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, was very much pleased with it, and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my boy in case of bowel troubles. I have given up laxative and give my baby nothing but Laxakola, and find it cheaper and a great deal better. I got it from C. H. & H. A. Union and Purchase Bks., Nacogdoches, Texas.

Enclosed please find 50 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, as it helped my baby wonderfully.

Mrs. JOHN PARNACE, Dauphin Co., Pa. Union Deposit.

I wish to thank you very much for the good Laxakola has done my little niece, Marion Lurline Bass. She is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you would call a natural movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid of convulsions, it hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries off the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It may Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send For It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

THE Texas Mule is kicking at the proposed poll-tax amendment, but its range-finder seems to be out of order.

WHAT with the circus, the execution, the excursion and the mammoth special edition of The Sentinel, Nacogdoches hasn't lacked for excitement for some days past.

THE striking miners in Pennsylvania have accepted the proposition to arbitrate their trouble with the coal barons, and will go to work tomorrow pending the result of the arbitration.

THE antis, over in Smith county, seem to have exhausted their last legal resource, the injunction they sought having been refused, and on the 31st of this month every saloon in that county must go out of business.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY will arrive in Texas next week and will visit the leading cities of the State except Nacogdoches and Houston. Consequently he will get an inadequate idea of the development of Grand Old Texas.

THE two negro murderers and rape fiends down at Hempstead have confessed their crime and are anxious to waive trial and be hanged at once. "Gone to meet Jim Buchanan" will probably be the next news we get from them.

THE Texas pistol-toters got in their work in great shape near Groesbeck, Monday afternoon, when four men who couldn't agree on a question of disputed land rights, pulled their ready guns and went at it. Three of them were killed in short order, and the survivor went to town and surrendered.

THE celebrated ex-bandit of Missouri, Jim Younger, who has been in the Minnesota penitentiary for twenty years for murder and bank robbery until he was paroled out last year but not permitted to leave the State, committed suicide in St. Paul, Sunday. He was despondent over a hopeless love affair.

"People must be amused, Squire," said the old showman to Mr. Gradgrind, the stern apostle of facts and figures. It was the terse and homely statement of a great truth; hence we are glad, unfeignedly glad, that there's a circus headed this way and due to arrive tomorrow.

THUS far we have seen but one expression of condemnation in any newspaper—and that a highly qualified one—of the swift and effective administration of justice on the public square of Nacogdoches last Friday. That execution was a legal one, with some of the technical trimmings omitted because the defendant waived them; and one of its most admirable and significant features was the clear proof it furnished that the law can get a move on itself when it has to.

AUNT Carrie Nation has dropped down to Texas again in her morbid search for notoriety, and Wednesday night she made the rounds of the Austin saloons on one of her slangwhanging lecture tours. Entering one saloon and beginning to abuse the bartender, the old lady was surprised to find herself very roughly grabbed by that gent and put out of the house just as though she wore pants.

THERE is but one solution of the problems that confront us on all sides. "We must educate; we must educate, or we are lost." And we must educate the heart as well as the head. With our population growing so rapidly and the frictions of life increasing correspondingly, we can reach through education alone that just recognition of relative rights without which life will become intolerable.

OUR colored citizens did a wise and timely thing in holding the meeting they did the other night and adopting the resolutions denouncing Buchanan and the other criminals of their race. Down in Hempstead the negroes have just taken a similar step, moved thereto by a recent shocking murder; and if the negroes of the State and the South generally would follow these examples, and not only resolute, but heartily cooperate with the whites in bringing the criminals of their race to justice, one of the most menacing features of the negro problem would disappear.

The Houston Post wants to know if our officers are taking care of the gun-toters in Nacogdoches. A hard question; but one thing is certain and that is that two citizens from the country this morning said to a Sentinel man that the country people were getting afraid to come into Nacogdoches, as they didn't know what moment they might be shot to death on the streets by stray bullets. One citizen said this morning: "I am sick and tired of this gun play in Nacogdoches, such as we had last night. A man can't tell when his life is safe." And so it goes. The people of Nacogdoches are getting very tired of the pistol-toter and the gun-shooter—and they don't intend to stand it much longer.

THE end of the coal strike is in sight. The coal barons and strikers have agreed to arbitration, President Roosevelt to appoint a commission representative of both capital and labor to do the arbitrating. Meanwhile the miners are to resume work at once and not wait until the commission decides the issue. The President has appointed the following as members of the commission: Gen. John M. Wilson, retired officer of the army; E. W. Parker, of Washington, expert mining engineer, Hon. George Gray, of Delaware, United States judge; E. E. Clark, Iowa, Grand Chief of the Order of Railway Conductors; Thomas Watkins, Pennsylvania, practical coal miner; Bishop John Spaulding, Illinois, and Hon. Carroll D. Wright as recorder of the commission.

"THAT was a 'hurry-up' job at Nacogdoches," says the Tyler Courier, referring to the recent hanging in this city. And it was also a broad hint to the courts of Texas in general to dispense with some of their delays and hurry up in the administration of criminal justice.

THE special edition of the Houston Chronicle on its first anniversary was a mammoth and magnificent paper of fifty-six pages, and was probably never surpassed by any special edition of a Southern newspaper. The Chronicle is a young giant and has quickly leaped into the front rank of Southern journalism.

IN another paragraph in this issue we predicted that the next news from the two negro murderers and rape fiends at Hempstead would be that they had gone to meet Jim Buchanan. The paragraph was hardly in type before the news was received that they had. They were tried, convicted and sentenced to death, but the hungry mob wouldn't wait for the sheriff. Breaking through the line of deputies, they seized the guilty wretches and hung them to a telephone pole. The Nacogdoches plan didn't fully work down there.

THE editor of The Sentinel has received a letter from his old friend, Wm. A. Fields, now of Bronson, in Hemphill county, on the Santa Fe extension, stating that on November 6th he will begin the publication of the Bronson Bulletin. He wants an exchange with The Sentinel and will certainly get it. Years ago Mr. Fields was the editor of the Hillsboro Mirror, one of the strong country papers of the State. He is an accomplished newspaper man, and he will make the Bulletin an effective agent for the prosperity of Bronson if the people there will give him the support he deserves.

HERE are two emphatic opinions, without circumlocution as to the legality of the recent execution in this city:

Was Jim Buchanan legally executed? That is the question now being raised by a few of Buchanan's friends. Sooth to say, there are a few of these yet out of hell. Yes, we are sorry to say that the festering libel on the human form was legally hung. "'Tis true 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true.'"—Orange Tribune.

They are now discussing the legality of murderer Buchanan's hanging. What difference does it make whether it was legal or not? The man is dead. If he had been lynched it wouldn't have been legal, but it would have been eminently satisfactory just the same. In his case it is much better that it was not legal, for had it been it would have cost a great deal more than it did, and it is scarcely wisdom to spend another cent in newspaper space, printers' ink or time talking about it. Let us try and forget it just as soon as we can.—Beaumont Journal.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY has more staying power about him as an ovation-inspirer than any public man of recent times. In every part of the Union he has visited since the celebrated court of inquiry he has been received more as a great conqueror fresh from victory than as a private citizen, and now many months after the verdict of that court, we are enthusing over him here in Texas as though he were our idol and had just rendered us some splendid public service that fired the popular imagination. The secret of it all, we suspect, is not in the personality of the Admiral himself, fine as that personality is, but rather in the glorious love of justice inherent in the American heart and which revolted at the studied effort of the majority of the court of inquiry to do Admiral Schley a most cruel injustice. This revolt could take no more impressive form than the wonderful ovations to the brave old sailor all over the country. Hence these Texas roars of welcome.

IN the Houston Post of yesterday was a strongly written leader on the recent execution of the negro murderer and rape fiend, Buchanan, in this city, and we reproduce its concluding paragraph, as follows:

In a sense the execution was a victory of the law over the mob, but it was only half a victory. It is an encouragement to officers to proceed according to oath and it is evidence that the preaching against mob violence has not been wholly without effect. But the preaching must continue and hot-headed people must be condemned, for as a rule of action the Nacogdoches hanging is a dangerous precedent.

It is quite possible when one is remote from the emergency and gets the facts by wire later on, to sit down with cool blood and clear head and in a calmly academic way build an elaborate and perfect theory of just how the thing should have been done. But here in Nacogdoches we were confronted by a condition, not a theory, and we shall maintain to the last that when a murderer has been lawfully indicted, then arraigned, tried and found guilty by a lawful jury, sentenced by a lawful judge, and executed by a lawful sheriff, there has been a compliance with the forms of law, sufficient in itself under the circumstances, and not obnoxious to the criticism that any injustice had been done to this particular murderer. He waived his right to the thirty days' delay, wanted no appeal and was anxious for a speedy death, which he got. The precedent may be "dangerous" to the system of legal procedure under which murderers are continually escaping their deserts, in Houston as well as elsewhere, but in its operation here in Nacogdoches it seemed to us to have some of the well defined features of a much needed reform in the administration of criminal justice, for which good people everywhere have been hoping and praying for many years. Future members of the legislature who desire to help on this reform, would do well to carefully study the Nacogdoches episode and get its true meaning.

THE GINZ-SCHMIDT WEDDING.

One of the Most Brilliant Marriages Ever Witnessed in Nacogdoches. Thursday's Daily.

Never, perhaps, in Nacogdoches has a more elegant wedding taken place than did last night, when at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, the eldest daughter of the house, Miss Alice, left its portals a happy, joyous bride. The petted darling of parents able to gratify her every wish, the trousseau was all one can imagine of dainty elegance and beauty, the dresses being superb creations of Fifth Avenue modistes. For weeks before the event, presents had been pouring in upon the fortunate bride-elect, until the parlors resembled Aladdin's Palace. Cut glass, silver jewels, art vases, (one especially lovely vase of purple tinted bronze representing Bacchus and coming from New York, made every one pause and admire the perfect art and design,) point lace, Brazilian point, lovely embroidery, and drawn work that looked as though Arachnae herself had helped to weave it. Bijouterie and bric-a-brac were heaped on every side until the eye wearied of the very beauty. Even a partial list of the presents is impossible, as everything that fancy could suggest and art could supply was present in picturesque and prodigal confusion to attest the love and friendship felt by their immense circle of relatives, friends and acquaintances for the bride and groom.

The wedding was beautiful and arranged most effectively. Into the parlor, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, charmingly rendered by Miss Helen Mims, through the wide folding doors came first, Misses Emma Schmidt and Genevieve Jones with white ribbons, the other ends of which were held by Herbert Schmidt and his cousin, Otto Schmidt. The ribbons formed a silken aisle down which passed the mother and relatives of the bride, followed by Father Drees, who took his position in the bay-window transformed by ferns and palms and flowers into a marriage altar. Then appeared the groom, Mr. Walter Ginz, escorted by his best man, Mr. Charles Kanzler, who came from Bellville, Illinois, to be present at the wedding of his friend, Miss Louise Schmidt, the maid of honor and only attendant, followed, dressed in white organdie and carrying pink roses. And next, the bride elect, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. John Schmidt. She resembled one of Tennyson's maidens, "clothed in white samite, mystic, wonderful." Her wedding dress was white crepe de chine, with train of chiffon ruffles trimmed with lace medallions, and elaborate open work insertion. It was a poem in silk and lace; a dream of what a bridal robe should express and be; but the sweetest poem of all was the bride's fair, happy face blushing through the shimmering veil.

Mr. Ginz advanced, and receiving his fiancée from her father, they stood together under the white wedding bell which was a tribute of love from the young ladies working in Mr. Schmidt's store and was made by them. While the music of the Flower song, subdued by Miss Helen's skillful fingers to a soft, musical murmur, floated in the air, the beautiful Catholic marriage service, performed by Father Drees, made Mr. Walter Ginz and Miss Alice Schmidt one forever, and they turned to receive the congratulations of their friends.

The bride's bouquet was composed of rare white exotics, the gift of the groom. The colors in the parlors were white and green, and in the dining room green and pink.

Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations, refreshments were handed around, and the bride's cake, a triumph of the caterer's art, was cut. The charmed circlet that indicates the next bride fell to the lot of Miss Katie Mellinger, of Houston; the silver dime to Miss Ettie Lou Cox, and the thimble to Miss Helen Mims. As train time drew near the bride donned a traveling dress of dark blue cloth slashed with black panne velvet, and amid showers of rice and numberless good wishes the newly married couple took the midnight train for their home in Bellville, Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Ginz will stop at one or two points before reaching Bellville and will begin keeping house immediately on their arrival home. Mr. Ginz belongs to a prominent family in Illinois. He is a wealthy citizen of Bellville, being associated with his father in the ownership of a large pickle and vinegar factory.

The car in which the couple left looked as though it had encountered a snow storm, so heavy was the shower of rice on the bride and groom. Mrs. Ginz threw the bridal bouquet out of the car window in accordance with the old custom. Miss Genevieve Jones caught it, and so is to be the next bride, according to the pretty legend attached to the custom.

More than one hundred guests were present at the wedding, and it was indeed a brilliant company of ladies and gentlemen thronging the parlors of the beautiful home to witness the marriage of the sweet daughter of an honored family to the man of her choice. Mr. John Schmidt, the father of the bride, is one of the great merchants of East Texas, who made his career since early manhood here in Nacogdoches, and his name is synonymous with personal and commercial integrity and public spirit. The Sentinel joins with a host of friends in tendering congratulations on the happy event.

The cotton receipts of Nacogdoches for the present season to date are largely in excess of the same date last season. At Sanders' yard the receipts are more than 250 bales ahead of this date last year, and it is presumed that there is a like increase in all the other yards. It is estimated that Nacogdoches will handle twenty-five thousand bales this season.

COLORED CITIZENS MASS MEETING.

Ringling Resolutions Denouncing Crime And Lawlessness.

Friday's Daily.

Pursuant to a formal call, as published through The Sentinel yesterday, some forty or for fifty of the leading law-abiding colored citizens of this community met at the Colored Methodist church last night for the purpose of giving expression against all manner of lawlessness and crime, especially with reference to the horrible fate of the Hicks family at the hands of one of their race. There was an earnestness and sincerity depicted upon the features of each individual present that showed that they felt the importance and solemnity of the occasion, and a determination that could not but interest the onlooker. The meeting was opened by Presiding Elder A. H. Hughes, who made a sensible, logical and pointed fifteen minutes talk, which, it was plainly to be seen, deeply impressed his hearers. He deprecated the fact that the negro as a race stood in disrepute because of the acts of a few brutes like Jim Buchanan; that there was a lack of understanding between the white and black races that seems to drift them further apart as time rolls on; that these conditions were made so by the prejudices of the ignorant elements and the indifference of the enlightened classes. He urged his hearers to be firm and determined in the move about to be inaugurated and not only denounce the crime of Jim Buchanan, but all crime, no matter where nor by whom committed, and to show to the world that it was their sincere desire to uphold the law.

Rev. Hughes was elected chairman and Prof. T. C. Ayers was elected secretary. In the discussion which followed, a number of appropriate and some very excellent speeches were made, everyone present being given an opportunity to express himself. All strove for the same end—the desire to stamp indelibly the condemnation by all law-abiding colored citizens the heinous crime of the damnable wretch Buchanan, and the disapproval of crime and lawlessness in all its phases.

The only whites present were Dr. Mayfield, Jno. S. Doughtie, A. F. Henning, R. W. Haltom and Henry Carraway, all representatives of the press. The whites present were asked to speak, each responding briefly in encouragement of the move.

THE MOLING EXCURSION.

One Hundred and Thirty-Two Distinguished Visitors from Ohio.

Tuesday's Daily.

The Moling excursion arrived about mid night last night. They were "laid out" down the road somewhere on account of the ditching of a freight train and were four hours late on their arrival at Nacogdoches.

There were 132 men in the party, and a finer looking set of men never visited this city. There are a number of ladies in the company.

The excursionists have their own sleepers and boarding cars and live on the train, never leaving it except to explore the vicinity in which they stop. The train consists of nine coaches.

The party was accompanied from Houston to Nacogdoches by Col. S. F. B. Morse, W. H. Taylor, Wm. Doherty and Sam Dixon, railroad officials, and Profs. Mally and Attwater, also by our townsmen, E. A. Blount and Jno. S. Doughtie, who went down to Houston to meet them.

The official reporter of the excursion is Mr. H. M. Evans, of West Liberty, Ohio, who will publish a book from sketches taken on the trip. He fell into the hands of the editor of The Sentinel, and of course we showed him the best we had, and he expressed himself delighted with our town, the country around, and especially the beautiful scenery.

A large number of our citizens turned out with their private conveyances and nearly all the excursionists were given a two hours' drive over the town and the immediate vicinity.

Many of the excursionists, including Col. Morse and the other escorts, were callers at The Sentinel office, and we almost felt flattered with the universal expressions of delight with our city.

The train bearing the excursion party left for Beaumont at 10:30 this morning, the private car of Col. Morse and his party remaining until this afternoon, when they returned to Houston.

These people are not out on business and no "shop talk," or propositions from local real estate men are considered, or even tolerated. They are simply out to look and see for themselves. They have toured all over Texas, and a great portion of the South, having left their homes in Ohio three weeks ago.

Of course our city feels honored by this visit from so distinguished a body of men.

Belled Cow that Haunts Mound Street.

In many places weird denizens of the night wander, tokening distress and death to those who meet them. Washington has a ghostly Chinaman who wanders round the square on which used to stand the Chinese legation, with his queue wound tightly round his neck just as he was strangled with it in the legation years ago. In England there is many a story of phantom figures it is death to meet. But Nacogdoches boasts a belled cow that haunts Mound street from 3 o'clock till daylight, and must be a spectre or she would some time land in the pound. It is not a sign of death to meet her, though men have sworn it,—sworn it while the light burned dim and the air turned blue, while they waited for the light of day so they could see to shoot. "But when the day dawned, where was she?" But oh! it is a sign of cruel distress. The inhabitants of bovine haunted Mound street are getting wan and hollow-eyed, losing so much sleep, and to quote George Ade "Little children moan in their trundle beds." They want this demon cow exorcised and offer the princely reward of 5 cts for the cow, and 10 cts for the bell. The man who restores the night to it's hushed calm so necessary to repose, by silencing that bell, can ask what he will of Mound street, it will be granted.

They Say

That the entertainment on the 31st given by the cemetery association must not be forgotten.

That everyone must remember that there will be 500 excursionists in Nacogdoches on next Thursday, and be ready to welcome them.

That train loads of prospective citizens stopping in our town augurs well for our future if we can please them.

That there will be a few other people in town day after tomorrow.

That for the last two or three days there has been very little doing socially.

Laugh and the World

Laughs with you, have chills and you chill alone. Cheatham's Laxative Chill Tablets cures, gives an appetite and strength. Most convenient chill tonic on earth. Can carry in the vest pocket.

Messes Jim Barnett, and W. R. Newman, of Etoile, are in the city today trading.

The "Atchison Globe" says that the girls are cutting the skirts off their mother hubbards, and wearing what is left for their fall wraps. The Atchison Globe man is evidently not aware that the "mother Hubbard" is a thing of the past, entirely superseded by the "empire." He equally evidently does not approve of the new wraps, but he is possibly trying to get out of buying a winter wrap for his wife.
