Truck Growers Meeting.

Nacogdoches, Texas, Jan. 5, 1903. The Truck Growers held their regular meeting Saturday Jan. 3rd, with a fair attendance. Committee on fertilizer selected the Meridian fertilizer for tomatoes and potatoes, and made arrangements with Mr. Huntley to handle same for the growers, at a profit of 5 per cent, it taken from car or 10 per cent after it has been stored in warehouse. Mr. Huntley is authorized to order at once 1 car Minnesota Triumph seed, also 1 car fertilizer.

Committee on the participation of Fruit and Truck Growers was voted that 10 shares of same, and the secretary was instructed to remit 25 per cent of the amount to Sam H. Dixon Treas. of the Exchange. Secretary was also instructed to inform members of the Appleby Association upon their request, that they will be allowed all the privileges of our Association by applying for membership. Mr. Edler informed us that four expert U. S. soil surveyors will be here in a few weeks and that any one may have his soil analyzed without expense. It is to be hoped that every Truck Grower will take advantage of this golden opportunity to see just what his land needs to grow whatever he chooses.

Central East Texas Association meets at Lutkin Jan. 16th and 17, and every member that can possibly attend is urged to do so. These meetings are very interesting as well as instructive.

CLOSED FOR LIQUIDATION

The Wettermark Bank Suspends For Adjustment of Its Affairs.

From Monday's Daily

Like a clap of thunder from a clear sky, the bank of A. Wettermark & Son, of this city, closed its doors to business this morning. In the excitement which followed people gathered in knots in front of the bank building to gaze at the following notice, which was posted upon the closed door.

"This bank is closed for liquidation. A statement of its affairs is now being prepared and when finished each creditor will be furnished with a statement. Local creditors are requested to meet J. C. Harris at the office of Brunen, Matthews, Harris & Breeson at 9 o'clock this morning, Jan. 5th, 1903."

Promptly at 9 o'clock a large crowd of local depositors met with Mr. Harris as requested, all eager to know the real condition of the bank's affairs. After a full discussion of the situation, confidence in the bank's ability to ultimately meet in full all its obligations was so far restored that the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Nacogdoches, Texas, Jan. 5th, 1903. Resolved, by the local creditors of A. Wettermark & Son, here present, That, while we regret and deplore the misfortune which has overtaken this business, yet we have confidence in the plan of settling its affairs, as suggested by Mr. Harris, with our present idea of the status of same."

The following telegram from Col. A. Wettermark, of Henderson, was received by J. C. Harris, Esq., and posted up at noon today.

"I have been forced to suspend on account of conditions at Nacogdoches. As soon as the assets and liabilities of both Nacogdoches and Henderson can be ascertained a meeting of all the creditors will be called and the matter submitted to them. No assignment, deed of trust or petition in bankruptcy has been filed because I wished to save all expenses possible for the benefit of creditors. Mr. June C. Harris is in charge at Nacogdoches, and Mr. E. B. Alford at Henderson. Signed with regret,

A. Wettermark.

The entire community greatly deplores the misfortune of that day, but for the Wettermark bank. The misfortune of that day is a great one, and it is a great one for the community. The Wettermark bank was a great one, and it is a great one for the community. The Wettermark bank was a great one, and it is a great one for the community.

ty is proverbial. His big heartedness is beyond question. He has never been counted short in any way, and now his friends contend in his integrity and ability to extricate himself. His creditors all have faith in his father too, and so they will stand by these noble men to the end, trusting in their paying dollar for dollar. This expression is heard on every side. Any effort to jump on the assets of these two banks either or both here and at Henderson, by any creditor will be loudly condemned. The creditors here are united as friends of the Wettermarks and of themselves, to support, and not to depress. These banks are merely suspended.

The Wettermark Bank Muddle.

From Tuesday's Daily

The outlook concerning the affairs of the Wettermark bank has a gloomier appearance today, and many who spoke kindly of Col. Wettermark yesterday, expressing confidence in him, have changed their verdict today. Nothing is known as to his whereabouts, and it appears that the bank's affairs grow muddier as investigation progresses. Nothing authentic, however, has yet been given out. The following bulletin was posted in front of the bank today.

"To local creditors. I am working, with three clerks, in the preparation of the statement of the condition of A. Wettermark & Son. This work for obvious reasons, will consume several days. Until this is done, no other matter will be considered. I shall at all times endeavor to give an audience to inquiring creditors and extend perfect courtesy to each. After the statement from both banks have been completed a meeting of all creditors will be called and permanent plans effected. Until then so long as I have control of the Nacogdoches bank, not one entry will be made in conditions existing at the time the doors were closed but all things will remain just as I found them, except that all papers sent the bank for collection will be returned to the owners, so that their honor and persuasion will effect their plans. Respectfully,

June C. Harris.

It is stated that the following names have been shown to the Henderson bank as having been thrown up in his hands in liquidation of the possibility of any saving the tangle and having signed the job. It is simply waiting for the day when the Henderson bank will be able to pay its debts.

The Bank Muddle.

No new developments in the Wettermark bank muddle have transpired today, which we are permitted to publish. A creditors' meeting was held at the court house this afternoon, and it was decided to turn the matter over to the federal court. The affairs of the bank could hardly be worse than we are already assured them to be. It is rumored that conditions at Henderson are fully as bad as they are at Nacogdoches, and that Col. A. Wettermark, the head of all the Wettermark bank, is utterly crushed and ruined and is prostrate with grief and sickness. The people of Henderson are even more excited than they are here, and it is said that Mr. Alford, the receiver of the Henderson bank, has thrown up his hands in despair of the possibility of any saving the tangle and having signed the job. It is simply waiting for the day when the Henderson bank will be able to pay its debts.

The announcement from Rome that the blockade of the Venezuelan coast by the allies will continue throughout the entire session of The Hague tribunal, sitting to adjudicate the Venezuelan trouble, may have a tendency to hurry all interested to get their petitions before the tribunal. It is reported that there is only flour enough to last forty days and coal to last three months.

The plucky woman of Birmingham, Ala., who, in a duel with shot guns with a desperate negro convict, killed the negro, is entitled to great praise, and the incident is illustrative of the importance of women learning to shoot. The negro, thinking all had left home, entered the house of Mrs. Lane for the purpose of robbery. Mrs. Lane caught him in the act and the negro threatened to kill her. The lady became alarmed and went to her father's house. The negro followed her with a gun, and just as she entered the door he fired at her but missed. Mrs. Lane picked up a shotgun sitting inside the door and returned the fire with deadly effect. If there were more of this kind of women, there would doubtlessly be less lynchings in the South, though there would probably be more dead "niggers."

NEW YEAR'S REFLECTIONS

"Gather ye sunshine while ye may, Old Time is still a humming. And in tomorrow's mail, maybe All last year's bills are coming."

The Chinese, as we all know, have a heathen and absurd habit of paying all their indebtedness on their New Year's day, selling everything they possess, ever themselves, if necessary, and cheerfully committing suicide if they cannot make assets and liabilities balance. This is a first-rate rule—for the other fellow—and reminds us of a story we once read. There were two Chinese merchants living on opposite sides of the street, one a vendor of almanacs and the other of pickled olives. As New Year's drew near the seller of olives was observed to be very despondent, and told his wife, on inquiry, that there was no possibility of paying his debts and he would have to kill himself. She told him not to despair, and going into the house brought out an immense jar of pickled olives. Every morning as her husband went forth to sell his wares she took a handful that he did not miss and saved them. As olives improve by keeping, the fortunate merchant was able to sell them for more than enough to free himself from debt and praised all the Chinese gods for blessing him with such a wise wife. The almanac maker's wife heard the story. The next year her husband was so financially embarrassed that he saw no way to extricate himself with honor, save death, when his wife came proudly from the house bearing a large stack of last year's almanacs, and said, "See, I have been as wise as our neighbor's wife when you praised so highly. Every morning I took one or two almanacs and put them away; you never missed them, and now you can sell them and get out of debt." The horrified husband uttered the Chinese equivalent for, "Now, wouldn't that kill you," and promptly fell on his sword. This touching Chinese fable teaches us that you can't always tell, that imitations are dangerous, that it is a mistake to take New Year's too seriously and that a good wife is a valuable asset. All of which are pertinent and timely reflections at this season of the year.

The Texas State Teachers' Association has closed its annual session at Austin. Among several resolutions passed is one urging that the State school tax be raised to the constitutional limit of 20 cents on the hundred dollars for the maintenance of local schools. It also favors that the English Bible be read and studied as a literary work of the highest art and insists that our State Superintendent receive the loyal and the zealous support of all the teachers of Texas in his arduous work of carrying into effect such measure as will advance the educational interest of the commonwealth.

That Angelina Orchard company, out east of Lufkin is now a thorn in the side of the Nacogdoches Sentinel, and it too, has threatened the Tribune. But the fact still remains that it is an Angelina enterprise and has no connection with Nacogdoches.—Lufkin Tribune.

Nary a thorn. The Angelina Orchard Company is as close to Nacogdoches as it is to Lufkin, and the only difference in its being a Nacogdoches and a Lufkin institution is that it pays taxes in Angelina county.

The Houston Chronicle of Dec. 20th, last contains an article on The Old Church, one sentence only of which we have room to quote, as follows: "One of the sweetest and most deeply and intensely and vividly poetic passages in all Shakespeare is that description told by a disreputable old woman, of the end of the many vicious days and riotous nights of gay and world-worn old Jack Falstaff—"he babbled of green fields"—the green fields of his younger days before he knew of wine, women and song and dice and trickery which sound so jolly and funny when told of and are so sordid and shabby and shameful when they are intimately known." The writer of the above needs no defense as to his literary style.

A WRITER in the Fort Worth Texas Farm Journal admonishes girls to stay in the country, asserting that "girls in the country are crowding into town and but few of them succeed in their aspirations." The same admonition might be applied with equal seriousness and earnestness to country boys. Boys from the country are also crowding into the towns, and but few of them succeed. They more frequently develop into "cheap men" and drift into a channel of shiftlessness that ultimately brings them far below the dignity of a "farm hand," which they so much abhor. It is the farming class now that is on top, and it only needs a little more appreciation of his real importance to make the country boy contented to stay in the country and build his aspirations upon successful agricultural pursuits. It beats a job as cheap clerk at a grand discount.

DECLINE CO-OPERATION

Some two or three months ago the people living on the south and west side of the Banita creek held a mass meeting to discuss the question of levying, or taking some steps for protection against overflows, which have become so frequent and so disastrous since the T. & N. O. Ry. Co. built the embankment on the northeast side of the creek. At this meeting it was thought that the H. E. & W. T. Ry. Co. was also a sufferer from these floods and might be induced to co operate in the plan of building a levy extending from the freight depot as far down the creek as might be necessary. To this end, June C. Harris, Esq., was requested to correspond with the H. E. & W. T. Ry. company and ascertain what assistance, if any, the company would render, and urge them to furnish an engineer to make a survey of the premises. After writing several letters, at long intervals, Mr. Harris finally received the following answer:

Houston, Dec. 29, '02. Mr. June C. Harris, Nacogdoches, Tex.

Dear Sir: With further reference to your letters of Oct. 10th and Nov. 11th, concerning contemplated improvement west of Banita Bayou, in which you ask the co-operation of the H. E. & W. T., and use of engineer in the matter, I wish to advise that our engineering corps is busily engaged on very important work at present and we have no one available to get up the data. We are contemplating, however, making certain improvements between Banita Junction and Nacogdoches and I would suggest that after you have completed your investigation and survey, that you bring the matter to the attention of Mr. A. V. Kellogg, Engineer Maintenance of Way of our line, who will consider your plans, and if it is found advisable it is possible we can come to some agreement in the matter of expense, provided, of course, your proposition is a reasonable one.

Yours truly, D. S. Gallaher, S. T. The above letter can only be taken as a refusal to co-operate with us in the matter, so we may as well decide to drop the subject entirely, or prepare to protect the H. E. & W. T. Ry. property at our expense.

AS TO LITERARY MERIT.

It seems to be the fashion among literary critics to decry newspaper writing. One magazine of recent date remarks that "one might as well look for literary art in the columns of a newspaper, etc." while a recent criticism of style in a Munsey Magazine runs thus: "Style seems to have departed from the race of writers, and its place taken by gabble worse than that of space men. Or has the newspaper so effected contemporary taste that we no longer care for anything but headlines and full faced facts." Attacks similar to this are so common among a certain class of magazine writers that we cannot refrain from answering, though the sentence quoted is both "gabble" and the most flagrant

ing. News is a daily is a common error. ing and the writing are out of place. But the editorial pages of modern dailies stand the sternest test of literary criticism as to both style and force. Using the city dailies as an illustration is hardly fair, our critic would say, because they can afford to pay able writers. The answer to this is to point to the men of genius that have risen from the ranks of obscure newspaper men. Bret Harte, until the "Luck of Roaring Camp" made the fame of the newspaper that was half afraid to print it, was editor and part owner of a local sheet. Eugene Field won his way to the hearts of the American people editing his own paper, What is the use of going further? Nearly every American author of note has been on a newspaper staff, and in any of the "country sheets" one frequently sees from unknown pens articles that in a metropolitan publication would be copied and recopied for their intrinsic merit. From the ranks of the country dailies and weeklies come the best writers, and none need fear that their taste will be vitiated by careful perusal of the daily paper. It is more likely to be injured by "Literary Criticisms" as edited by the higher lights in the periodicals of the day.

He Fixed Him.

From Thursday's Daily:

A drunken peddler went to the home of Mr. W. H. Williams on East Main street yesterday and took possession of the place. He entered the house uninvited and while all the family were out, and when Mrs. Williams came in he informed her that he wanted a cup of coffee. He was told that there was no coffee prepared and asked to leave the premises. He refused, and after failing in every effort to urge the intruder to leave the house, Mrs. Williams telephoned to her husband who is employed at the store of Tucker, Zeve & Co. Mr. Williams hastened to see what the trouble was, and it is scarcely necessary to say that when he got through with the peddler the latter was in sad need of repairs.

Watch Party.
 From Thursday's Daily:

The Sorrowfully true lines of Burns, "The best laid plans of mice and men, Gang oft agley," were strikingly exemplified last night, when the weather in a most heartless manner interfered with one of the prettiest entertainments ever given in Nacogdoches. Those who could attend enjoyed an evening that will be remembered, but only the nearer guests could brave the inclinations. Mrs. Luke Dotson's residence is peculiarly well fitted for receiving a large crowd, having four rooms connected with folding doors. Each of the rooms were decorated with holly, bamboo and palms, a big bunch of mistletoe hung in each door and every room prettier than the last, till the dining room, a jewel in white and green, flashed on the visitor's vision, and he was well content to remain where was such a feast for both the outer and inner man. All the arrangements were broken by so many of the house party even, not being able to come. Mrs. Luke Dotson, Mrs. Chas. Perkins, Mrs. B. K. Smith, Mrs. E. M. Dotson and Mrs. R. O. Woodall were the reception committee, and the music for the evening was furnished by the talented fingers of Miss Frankie Rettig. An elaborate musical program was planned by Mrs. Lindsey but had to be abandoned. The reception, the music, the refreshments and the warm hospitality of the hostess made the evening perfect for those present, and never was the New Year more happily ushered in, than for those who attended the Watch Party given by the lovely ladies of the Baptist Church.

MOTHERS TESTIFY TO THE BENEFIT THEIR SICK BABIES HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE USE OF LAXAKOLA

Having received your sample of Laxakola, I was very much pleased with it and have purchased a bottle for my baby. The Laxakola did wonders for my baby in case of bowel troubles. I have given up opium and give my baby nothing but Laxakola, and find it cheaper and a great relief. I got it from C. H. & B. A. Union Depot, Union and Purchase Sts., Bedford, Mass.

Mrs. CLARENCE CANNON, Smith Mills, Mass.
 Enclosed please find 5 cents in stamps for a bottle of Laxakola. I used your sample bottle and it did all you claim for it, and helped my baby wonderfully.
 Mrs. JOHN FARNACHER, Union Depot, Danbury Co., Pa.

I wish to thank you very much for the Laxakola you have sent me. My little one, Marion Lorraine Ross, she is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you would call a normal movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid of convulsions, it hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened.

She is awful pleased to think it does her just what she needs, and she will take Laxakola as long as she lives. We are pleased to think it helped her so much.
 Mrs. ORA MOWBRAY, Cochran, N. H.
 My baby is four months old and is teething. He was sick and I tried a great many things but nothing seemed to relieve him. I had a doctor who said it was inflammation of the bowels, and that I would never tell him through, because if he were under his care. When I saw he was getting worse I stopped giving him his medicine. So he could keep me from being troubled. He was troubled with colic very much, and used to scream when he had a touch of it. I did not know what it was to do my eyes day or night. I gave him a few drops of Laxakola and he seemed better. I gave it to him a few times, and it worked like a charm, and he now eats pretty fair at night. It is a great relief to have my baby since I gave him Laxakola, and I think if all mothers knew how good it was, they would give nothing else to their sick babies.
 Mrs. MARY DALEY, 277 First St., South Boston, Mass.

LAXAKOLA is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties, which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongues, and any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, it is invaluable.

Try it Today. Send for a Free Sample. It May Save your Baby's Life or Prevent a Long and Serious Illness. It Costs Nothing; Send for It and mention Your Druggist's Name.

For Sale by ALL DRUGGISTS
 All druggists 25c and 50c, or will express on receipt of 50c all charges prepaid, a large bottle of LAXAKOLA. Address THE LAXAKOLA CO., 45 Vesey St., N.Y.

CASTRO seems undaunted by his troubles and difficulties, and declares that he has not the slightest intention of resigning the presidency of the Venezuelan Republic.

It is said that The Commoner, W. J. Bryan's paper, has 140,000 paid up subscribers. The Commoner has been a money-making institution from the start, and has already made Mr. Bryan rich.

GOVERNOR-ELECT LANHAM has his message to the Texas legislature prepared, and is now ready for the inaugural. He will retain his seat in congress up to the date of his inauguration as governor of Texas.

THE failure of Wettermark's bank is a sad calamity to Nacogdoches. Hundreds of our prosperous people are now painfully depressed and it will take years to recover from the shock. Aside from the actual losses of individuals, the blow has had a demoralizing effect upon the community at large. The same conditions exist at Henderson.

TIMPSON has been "cast into outer darkness," and there is much "wailing," etc. Her light company got tired of losing $80.00 a month on running expenses, to say nothing of the wear and tear on a $6,500 investment, and quit. The company's failure to make a success of the enterprise is probably due to the cheap rate for its service, which was about one-half the Nacogdoches rate. The Nacogdoches Light Company claim they are not making too much money.

THE Livingston Local seems to be skeptical about the Tyler Ghost, and insinuates that ghosts should not appear in prohibition towns. Whether the editor of the Local objects on the ground that spirits in a prohibition town is a violation of the law, or whether he thinks ghosts a result of indulgence in patent liquors, is not clear, but we think Tyler should be allowed to possess his perturbed spirit in peace without the jeers of unbelievers who never saw a "ghost" walk.

HARDIN county has sustained another irreparable loss in the death of her valiant and efficient county judge—Hon. John P. Work. This is her third severe loss from among her foremost citizens, including two county officials, within the past few weeks. The death of Mr. T. H. Jones, the brilliant editor of the county paper, the Kountze News, followed closely by County Clerk Collins, who in turn is followed by County Judge Work, is a blow to Kountze and Hardin county which is severely felt.

It is possible that the policy may yet wield a strong influence in the "elevation" of the Southern negro. He is placing a volcano under their feet and increasing its fury at every movement he makes. There would be no negro problem if such men as Roosevelt had never been born.

EDITOR BRYAN, of the Commoner, and Editor Holland, of the Texas Farm and Ranch, both dropped down on Houston yesterday. The meeting of those two great agriculturists in Houston at this time was merely coincidental. Nevertheless the Magnolia city felt honored by their presence and treated them accordingly.

THE Texas Afternoon Press association held a special meeting in Beaumont yesterday to devise means for improving the news service and extending the influence of the afternoon press. It is to be hoped that the association did not get stuck in the mud, as the people there doubtless feared would have been the fate of the East Texas Press association had its mid-winter session been held according to schedule.

THE Center Daily Champion is a new bark on the sea of journalism. It "driv up" to The Sentinel office this morning unheralded, and entirely unexpected, but we gave it a hearty welcome all the same. It is edited by the invincible John McLendon, is rather small in dimensions but big in talk, and is neatly printed. Now, if John will only stick to water, we predict smooth sailing for his new "bark."

"Our Tomato Industry" is the caption of a lengthy editorial in the Indianapolis (Ind.) Sentinel, and neither Angelina or Nacogdoches county, Tex., is embodied in the tabulated statement of tomato producing sections. The Nacogdoches Sentinel and Lufkin Tribune will please make note and take the steps necessary to educate The Sentinel truck farm editor.—Beaumont Journal.

We have already threatened to cut The Sentinel off the exchange list. Our efforts to "educate" that paper upon the agricultural importance of Nacogdoches county has been a failure.

WE hold to the opinion that there is more sentiment than good reason in this hue and cry about "Protecting the Birds." We were a boy once and on a farm, where the birds played more havoc than ever insects did. We have a dozen fruit trees now, and something less than a million sparrows on the place. The worms get in the peaches just the same as they ever did, and we can't get a good sound ripe peach in the whole season for the peskey sparrows. There's nothing in it, except in the proposition to protect birds that are classed as game. We wouldn't kill a bird without good cause, but we are not carried away with the idea of prohibiting their slaughter entirely under heavy penalty.

Houston show next are already being Houston, Pa. very creditable edition. contains many original and spicy anecdotes, puns and jokes upon the faculty and students of the school, written with a style of ease and elegance.

The "Sigma Mu" Greek letter Society of which Dr. E. A. Blount, formerly of Nacogdoches, is an honored member, met the first of the year in Philadelphia for the annual national meeting and Dr. Blount was invited to be Poet Laureate for the occasion. It was a great and deserved compliment though Dr. Blount was obliged to decline the honor on account of business reasons which prevented his attending. Some years ago when the same society met at St. Louis, Dr. Blount was the poet, and his poem was pronounced by critics to be one of the finest ever written for an occasion of the kind. It is a source of pride to all Dr. Blount's friends, that the "Sigma Mu" Society that numbers among its members the most brilliant geniuses of the day, should a second time seek to bestow this mark of their appreciation on our Southern poet.

THE closing of the post-office at Indianola, Miss., because the people objected to the reappointment of a negro woman as postmaster, has brought forth a great deal of severe criticism upon President Roosevelt, even from Northern republicans in congress. Our famous president is about to become infamous by his negro-loving proclivities and his disrespect to the white people of the South. The postoffice at Indianola has been presided over by a negress for more than three years, which has been tolerated under her promise to resign, her resignation to take effect Jan. 1st, 1903. The people only demand that she fulfill her promise, while the President seems determined that she continue to administer the affairs of the office, and in order to force submission to the negress' administration has discontinued the office, and mail for Indianola, a town of 1,000 inhabitants, has been ordered sent to Greenville, twenty-five miles away, notwithstanding there are six postoffices between Indianola and Greenville. Words cannot be printed to express the feelings and indignation of the patrons of Indianola postoffice toward President Roosevelt.

THE regular monthly meeting of the city council was held at the mayor's office last night. Aside from the routine proceedings, on motion of Alderman Dr. F. C. Ford, Dr. A. A. Nelson was elected city health officer. There is now a real health officer for the people to criticize. For nearly a year they have been cussing an imaginary health officer, much as the city has had such officer since the first of April, 1902. And now, in this connection, the especially the roasters, reminded that there is an expense requiring each citizen who knows of the existence of any contagious disease to report it promptly to the health officer. It would be better to discharge this duty as good citizens than to spend so much time abusing the officer who may be ignorant of the existence of a case that is causing someone a great deal of worry. Smallpox and scarlet fever have existed here for two years, but it only becomes epidemic at intervals. This, no doubt, could be avoided if the people would discharge their duty as promptly as they expect the health officer to do his.

WE recommend to all the members of the Fruit and Truck Growers Association in the county, the careful reading of Prof. F. W. Mally's communication in yesterday's Sentinel and also that they heed the suggestions made. In some branches of business man can stand alone, ruling the world by force of capital and an imperious will, but in enterprises where the producers deal directly with the market, unless all stand together, work together and think together, they are only weaving ropes of sand and their work will end in the weariness of unaccomplishing effort. The future of the fruit and truck business in Eastern Texas is almost limitless. It practically offers a competence to those who enter it intelligently; but it demands co-operation, or the profits slip through the fingers like the sifted sand. So far the result has been beyond the most sanguine expectation, but it will not do to rest on this achieved success and neglect the meetings which have been fundamental in creating it. Further, the reports, especially as to acreage, should be carefully prepared. The time is short for this sort of work to be done. The meeting at Lufkin will be of the greatest importance, and if Nacogdoches county is to keep the lead she has taken she must be there.

THE new 'Seton-Thompson' school of fiction is getting idiotic. Useless slaughter of animals is a relic of barbarism, but at the same time, to weep over a shot deer as we calmly eat beef steak for breakfast is at least inconsistent. Because a yearling is not as pretty as a dark-eyed monarch of the forest, it does not follow that it does not cling to life as closely. We howl till the air resounds because ladies put birds in their hats, but a chicken is as much a bird as a sea-gull, and we are not out defending their lives, nor do we go gloveless or barefoot on account of innocent kid and calf. We cry ourselves to sleep over the fate of "Lobo, the king of the Currumpaw pack," (he was one of Seton Thompson's wolves,) but we don't care at all for the nine thousand or so cattle he slew during his reign. The fact is, common sense and natural humanity are required in every question in life, and nowhere more than in dealing with animals. A celebrated writer puts these words into the mouth of one of his characters: "All animals either dies or is killed, but them as kills 'em must do it merciful." To kill pretty, innocent creatures of the woods to gratify vanity or for the sheer love of slaying is brutal; too much cannot be said against it; but to defend pumas, as a recent imitator of Seton Thompson has done, and inveigh against killing them, is enough to make the person that asked it first ask again, "Whither are we drifting?" We will have sentimentalists next defending the boll weevil, picturing its loneliness when its family are all killed off and remarking of it, as in the puma story, "Its little heart was desolate," [ears and slow music,] "as its little limbs stiffened into death, the victim of man's cruelty."

C. E. T. Association.

To the Secretaries and Officers of Local Associations—Greeting:

The Central East Texas Fruit and Truck Growers Association is called to hold its quarterly meeting at Lufkin, Friday and Saturday, January 16th and 17th, 1903. The program will be published in a few days and special rates announced.

At the opening of the truck season for 1903 this is a most important meeting, and your association can not afford to be without a full representation. The fruit exchange, acreage and market questions will be fully discussed, and important action taken. Hence do not fail to have a full delegation appointed and sent to this meeting. In addition, every member who possibly can should attend independently.

The October meeting of the association passed a resolution that each secretary of a local association should (1) prepare a carefully revised list of the membership in good standing; (2) report on the proposed acreage in respective crops. This is exceedingly important, and it is again urged that local secretaries prepare these reports carefully and without further delay. To date only two or three have complied with the request embodied in the resolution. There must be more prompt action by local officers in matters of this kind if our work is to be crowned with success. Your acting secretary therefore repeats his earnest appeal for closer and more perfect organization, and full and complete reports as indicated.

Send all reports and credentials to the acting secretary at Garrison, Texas, in advance of the meeting, in order that all details may be arranged and the work of the Lufkin meeting made most profitable and successful, and transacted with facility and business like methods.

With a closing plea for prompt and careful reports, a thorough preparation and a full attendance at the Lufkin meeting.

I remain yours for success,
Fred W. Mally,
Acting Secretary.
Garrison, Texas.

The Sunny South shoot at Brenham will be a big affair.

Miss Ethel Fuller, who has been visiting her father and sisters of this place, returned to her school at Mt. Moriah last Sunday morning.

Mr. Whitton, who has been spending Christmas with his folks of this place has returned to his school at Trinity.

We had a very nice little Christmas tree here on the night of Dec. 24th. There was a very large crowd out, and all seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

The young folks of this place were entertained Christmas week by several socials. On Tuesday night there was a social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cade, and on Thursday night there was a dance at Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cade's; and Friday night at Dr. T. G. Fuller's, also at Mr. and Mrs. Whitton's Saturday night.

School began after Xmas. We have a very good school here. The teachers are Prof. L. B. Tindall and Miss Annie Skillern.

The young folks were entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tindall Friday night by a nice social.

Mr. Lee Martin, who has been attending school at this place and stood the examination before the board in Dec., left for Linn Flat Wednesday morning.

Mr. Billie Caithen and his brother are preparing to move to Center.

Mr. W. F. Martin, who came home from Austin and spent Xmas with his parents and went to Jasper and Newton counties on some business, returned yesterday. He got into the Ayris Bayou and got hung up among some logs and had to get out in water up to his chin to get the team loose; but he got out safe with the exception of losing his coat.

Miss Lillie Speights, who has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. W. R. Blacksher of this place, left for Logansport yesterday to take up her school.

Melon Blight.

This may be prevented by thoroughly mixing a small handful of salt with the first shovel of manure that is put in the bottom of the hill. Care must be taken not to leave salt near enough to the surface to come in contact with the seed. This remedy has been repeatedly tested in this section and I have yet to hear of the first vine blighting over the salt, while those in the next row, which were not salted, but otherwise treated just the same, nearly all blighted and died. It is also said that a light surface dressing of salt will prevent and cure pear blight, but I have not seen this tested.—Exchange.

THE fruit and truck growers of Nacogdoches county are laying plans for operations on a larger scale and greater success for this year than that of last year. They will profit greatly by their experience of last year.

The announcement of a discovery that will surely lead to a cure for consumption is made by editor O. W. Cheney, of Chorubusco, N. Y., in his "State," he writes, "Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for Coughs, Colds and Grip. It's invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread Pneumonia or Consumption. Its relief is instant and cure certain." Stripling, Hazlewood & Co. guarantee every 50c and $1.00 bottle, and give trial bottle free.

To my patrons and friends:

In another column of this paper you will find notice of the dissolution of the old mercantile firm of Mayer & Schmidt, which has been conducted by myself and partner, Mr. Abe Mayer, for the past 25 years. A stock company has been organized by myself, Mr. Mayer, J. G. Smith, R. C. Monk, Jno. J. Baker and others of our employees, and a charter applied for under the firm name of Mayer & Schmidt, and it is the intention of the new firm to conduct a similar business to that of the old firm, and the same policies and business methods will be employed in the future as in the past. The directors of the new firm will be the above named five (5) parties, and the officers will be, John Schmidt, president; J. G. Smith, vice-president and manager; R. C. Monk, secretary and treasurer.

In retiring from the active management of the firm's business, I wish to thank each and every one who has in any manner aided in the success of our firm in the past. I feel deeply grateful and strongly attached to our old friends and patrons. While I will turn the greater part of my attention to other affairs, I hope to live among the good people of Nacogdoches and be as much identified with them and their interest, in the future as in the past. I ask of you the same kind treatment and liberal patronage for the new firm and its management that you have always accorded the old firm.

Sincerely yours,
John Schmidt.

"Said Pasha" was rendered by the Olympia Opera Co. on Saturday night to one of the largest audiences ever in the opera house. Every seat was taken and the venture of bringing one of the best troupes in the south, to as small a city as Nacogdoches was triumphantly successful. It is unnecessary to praise the performers, or the costumes. The singing and acting was perfect, the costumes gorgeous, the comedians fine, and the chorus one of the best features. As that was promised, all that was expected, was fulfilled, and we have Messrs. Calloway and Wells to thank for bringing to our city a company which before we have always been at the expense of going to a neighboring city to see.

Bad printing is to your advertising what defective, indistinct, enumeration is to an orator. You owe it to yourself to say the best that you have, and to say it the best you can.

Card Party. From Thursday's Daily: Mrs. J. N. Jackson gave an afternoon card party yesterday in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. R. Carr, who is visiting from Shreveport. Mrs. Jackson's lovely parlors were darkened and the decorations of holly, wreathed vines, and Christmas Mistletoe much enhanced by the flashing lights. The game was progressive Euchre. Mrs. Roland Jones winning both the first prize; a Morocco bound copy of "Lolla Rookh;" and the lone hand prize, a picture of "Marguerite." Both were cut for, as Mrs. John Garrison, and Mrs. F. C. Ford won an equal number. Mrs. Jones gracefully presented the first prize to Mrs. Carr, as a memento of the occasion and a souvenir of Nacogdoches. The Consolation prize a bisque statuette, cut for by all, fell to the lot of Mrs. Henry Garrison. After the cards were laid aside a pleasant time was spent, discussing the points of the games, and enjoying the elegantly prepared and served refreshments, a charming climax to a charming afternoon.

Good Health

and your health must suffer. The body to lose vitality, and the fire under the boiler to run down. From impure blood is but a step, and impure blood is mother to a large percentage of human ills. Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic is an antidote for both poor and impure blood, for it is both a builder and purifier—a food and a medicine. It is the best combination of the kind known to medical science, and its success for nearly half a century has led to its endorsement by thousands of medical men who have been unable to find a substitute.

Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic

will insure you against the many evils resulting from impure blood. Scrofula, pimples, blotches, kidney disorders, rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, female weakness, anemia, chlorosis, etc., are a few of them; but the greatest evil, the greatest danger, is the general weakening of the whole system, which affords an opening for every passing disease.

The following is only one of the thousands of testimonials we have received:

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10, 1901. "I commenced using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic when prostrate from a severe attack of rheumatism. After using three bottles all traces of this disease were completely eradicated from my system, and my general health was restored. As a blood purifier Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic has no equal, and I most sincerely recommend it to all persons suffering from indigestion, fatigue, rheumatism, and the many weakened conditions of the system produced by impoverished blood." Margaret F. Yeazel, No. 640 Second Ave.

"It is never too late to begin a new life.
Though all things seem to be in vain,
For look! how the New Year is gilding
The world, was loosed from the old world."

Then let us resolve and never
That our lives will amend, and never
As the years in their cycle around us revolve
We'll endeavor to cherish impulses divine.

With honest intentions of a heart full of grace
Our efforts will merit the reward we would ask.

We could look the world with a smile in the face
And consider our endeavor a true loving task.

Oh! we will all be better if we work by desire
And resolve to abstain from weakness of heart.

If the soul is upheld in its pure empire
And never allowed from its willingness to part.

Then hold up your hands and remember the part
Your conscience would play in this old world of ours

If left to the instincts that fill the true heart
For a life to be lived with earnest will powers.

And never let flag the study of the learning
That guides and inspires the souls of the true.

That fills the fond heart with purity's yearning.
And the sweetest success will fall upon you.

The Old Year has gone with its tears and its smile.

The New Year has come with its hopes that inspire.

The fond hopes of all that the future beguile
With its grace from resolves that the heart fills entire.

Farewell to the Old Year, give welcome to the New.

Let fall all the wrongs of the past from your life.

Resolve that the New Year shall hold your heart true.

To its new resolutions whatever its strife.

A Story Worth Telling

We never tire of telling the story of Uneeda Biscuit. We do not believe that lovers of good, wholesome food ever tire reading it.

Uneeda Biscuit are the result of two ideas. That soda crackers could be made better than they had ever been made before. That it was possible to convey them to the home fresh, crisp and clean.

The importance of the soda cracker as an article of daily consumption, made this worthy of extraordinary effort. True, many people laughed at the idea of so much thought—time—labor—capital, being devoted to a soda cracker. But the greatest industries of the greatest country in the world have been developed from smaller things than a soda cracker, and so it seemed worth while to make the best soda cracker that could be made and to place it on the table as good as it had been made.

To do the first required the selection of the best materials, of the best equipment, the highest skill. To do the second upset all traditions. The oldest bakers said there was no way to keep a soda cracker good.

That no one expected it any way. That people were satisfied to eat them stale, as they had been in the habit of doing. And so it fell to the lot of younger minds to do this unheard of thing—to keep a soda cracker good until eaten.

The result was the creation of the In-er-seal Package with red and white seal. An invention that kept out the air, moisture, dust germs, that first retained the natural flavor of the biscuit, keeping it crisp and fresh until it reached the table, and so Uneeda Biscuit became a reality. The little thing that seemed hardly worth while became a great thing that seemed hardly possible.

To-day over 300,000,000 packages have been consumed by the thoughtful people of this country and the demand is ever increasing.

That is the story of Uneeda Biscuit. Some day we will tell it over again for the benefit of those who are still "satisfied" with the stale and broken crackers that come in a paper bag, when they can get Uneeda Biscuit whole, fresh, and clean.

The New Year Reception.

From Friday's Daily:

"The Old Year went out in tears,
And the same way came in the New.
The one holding many joys and fears,
The other bidding us our hopes renew."

The constant down-pouring of rain seemed to predict disappointment to the many who had looked forward to the New Year's reception at Mrs. Jno. Garrison, but notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large number of ladies and gentlemen called from 4 to 6. The instant you entered this hospitable home, you ceased to think of rain and mud, for the good cheer prevailing within, the beauty of the home, the lovely women receiving, was enough to make the heart of man glad. The home was indeed lovely with soft lights and artistic furnishings. The dining room was especially beautiful, in pink and whites; in here was served a salad course and coffee, by Misses Daisy Bowers, Lillie Davidson, Mamie and Mintie Blount, Zirleta Matthews, and Paula Garrison. From here the guests were conducted into the tea room, where they were served with tea and sandwiches; but the next room was where they lingered longest, and went oftenest, the most delightful fruit punch was here served. There were many pretty gowns worn, but the dress of the hostess, a lovely white with real point lace trimmings was especially admired. The ladies who assisted Mrs. Garrison in receiving, were the ladies of the C. C. Club, and close neighbors. Mrs. Garrison is noted for her charming "At Homes," and this was no exception to the rule.

A Guest.

Mr. Henson, of Alazan was in the city today and paid the Sentinel office a short call. He reports the roads as fearful. The same report comes from all over the county and is a serious draw back to our prosperity. Died, Tuesday January 6th 1903, Lem Austin, aged 18 years. Mr. Austin was the oldest son of Mr. H. L. Austin, of this city. He had been in very bad health for some time, and while his death was not unexpected, it was none the less a shock to the family and friends. He was a young man of exemplary character, liked by all who knew him, and had held a responsible position with Mayer & Schmidt enjoying the confidence of his employers, until increasing ill health forced him to resign. The funeral took place this afternoon at the City cemetery.

This morning at 3:20 o'clock Ira Link, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Council, breathed his last. All that loving hearts and hands could do to keep the little one with those who loved him so, was done, but all was of no avail, and all friends can offer now is sympathy for their present sorrow, and the sure and certain hope that the parting is only temporary. The funeral took place in the City Cemetery this afternoon at four o'clock, amid a large concourse of the sympathizing friends of the grief stricken parents.

A Domino Party.

The dancing set of the city planned to suprise Miss Genevieve Jones last night by a masked party. The crowd clad in dominoes and closely masked, met at the residence of Mrs. F. C. Ford, and went in a body to Mrs. Roland Jones residence. Mrs. Jones was in the plot but the surprise was so complete for Miss Genevieve that she came near fainting when she went to the door to greet what she supposed was her escort to a neighbors house, and met about forty dominoed figures with their strange impassive faces. After the first minute of startled surprise was over Miss Genevieve entered fully into the spirit of the frolicsome evening, and donning the domino her mother had prepared for her, joined the unknown guests. The fair women and brave men being all clad alike, there was great merriment as the dancing went on, and never was dancing more enjoyed even in this gay little city. About eleven o'clock masks and dominoes were thrown aside, mistaken identities adjusted, and the guests were revealed in beautiful evening costumes and irreproachable dress suits. Two short interludes, during which Mrs. F. C. Ford and Miss Genevieve Jones sang, were much enjoyed; and when time that only speeds faster when begged to stay his flying feet brought the hour for departure, the surprise dance was voted the crowning gem in the joy-jeweled days of the Christmas season.

Often Disagree With Us

Because we overeat of them. Indigestion follows. But there's a way to escape such consequences. A dose of a good digestant like Kodol will relieve you at once. Your stomach is simply too weak to digest what you eat. That's all indigestion is. Kodol digests the food without the stomach's aid. Thus the stomach rests while the body is strengthened by wholesome food. Dieting is unnecessary. Kodol digests any kind of good food. Strengthens and invigorates.
