The "Money Back" Drug Store.

Money Back if Goods are not as Represented.

We do not want to have a single dissatisfied customer. We would rather have anything happen than to have a customer go off in a huff, or trade somewhere else because of supposed ill treatment.

Probably it is because we fell this way, and are always so glad to make everything RIGHT that we have so many customers who stick to this store year after year.

Our list of such customers is steadily growing. We invite your trade, your constant exclusive trade, with the distinct understanding that every purchase will be satisfactory or we will make it so.

Bring us your watch, clock or jewelry repairing. We have a very fine workman, Mr. Baldwin. All work fully guaranteed, of course.

A TRIBUTE TO THE PRESS

Freedom of the Press Means Freedom of the People.

Alazan March, 5—Warned to work the road today, but in spite of bad weather and roads the Weekly Sentinel comes in with the good, and it deserves a more eloquent representative than this correspondent. But I feel bound to say a few words on a subject of such immediate and vital interest to every civilized man. The press needs no interpreter. It speaks for itself. Where it is free the people are free, where it is fettered the people are slaves. With us it is allowed the largest liberty, and if that liberty sometimes degenerates into license the sound public opinion generated and fostered by wholesome journalism always in the end rebukes the evil. Newspapers are the books of the million—books that he who runs may read. Of all the means for diffusion of useful knowledge, they are the most simple, direct and powerful. In our modern daily and weekly journals and magazines the useful information is crystallized. They present us with an abstract of whatever the intelligent and educated brains of the world are doing to improve its mental, moral and physical condition. Discovery, invention, everything new in art and science, everything interesting in current history or valuable in the lesson of the past is forcalized, criticized and applied through the press. One of the most important functions of the modern newspaper is that of making public whatever the public cares to enquire into or has a right to know. We are all very snug here this evening. The outside world is shut out. Nobody intrudes upon our privacy. But there may be a "cheil among ye taking notes," friendly detectives reckoning us up, and tomorrow we may appear as large as life in the morning paper. We may have to look what we have said in the face, with possibly a comment or two on the short comings of some of us. Nothing of any importance can be hidden in a corner. The "bull's eye" of the press flashes its light everywhere. Its eye, like that of the hare, sees backward forward and on either side. Its penetrating glance is unescapable. It is the silent police of society and infinitely more serviceable than all the constables in Christendom.

Only those who love the darkness rather than light have any reason to fear the public press.

Slay-Lloyd

From Monday's Daily

Yesterday at Appleby Mr. John Slay of this city and Miss Eva Lloyd of Appleby were married at the residence of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Young Lloyd, Rev. S. F. Baucum performing the ceremony. The attendants were Messrs. Oscar Slay, P. C. Meador, and Mark Marshall, and Misses, Simmons Hunt, and Weatherly. The intention was to have the marriage take place at the church, but owing to the bad weather this plan was given up at the last minute, and a pretty home wedding substituted. The Sentinel's congratulations and best wishes follow the young couple through life.

S. C. Kelley has just opened up the C. T. IMPORTANT BAR MEETING.

March Term District Court Practically Postponed.

A meeting of the members of the Bar of Nacogdoches was held yesterday in the law office of Blount & Garrison, for the purpose of ascertaining views of the Bar as to postponing the coming District Court, on account of the continued rains which render the roads almost impassable, and which if held would work a great hardship upon the farmers of the county. The meeting proceeded to organize by electing Judge Geo. F. Ingraham Chairman and Oscar Crain Secretary. After the Chairman had stated the object of the meeting there followed a general exchange of views and by unanimous vote the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved by the members of the Nacogdoches Bar, that we recommend that the Court continue the Jury Civil Docket, except any case where it is agreed to try and to pick up a jury, and that all Non jury Civil cases be continued, except where parties agree to try; but this agreement must not apply to suits on promissory notes, whether on the jury or on a jury docket where nothing but a general demand is filed as defense to the same, unless at the same time, party filing demand he states to the court, in good faith, that he has a good defense to the cause of action which he believes to be meritorious, which he does not wish to disclose.

Resolved further that the Bar recommend that the Court continue all criminal cases, except jail cases and such cases as necessary to try on account of the transient character of the witnesses.

Resolved further that nothing in the resolutions passed be construed to interfere with the organization of the Court and the assembling of the Grand Jury, and that other jurors be instructed they need not be in attendance upon the court, and that criminal docket be set for the fifth week of the term.

A committee consisting of S. W. Blount, W. M. Imboden and C. D. Mims, was appointed to communicate with District Judge Davis with reference to the above resolutions, and if same meet his sanction to notify the public through the newspapers that such course would be taken as above indicated.

Accordingly Judge Davis was communicated with by telephone and stated that he cordially acquiesced in the recommendation of the bar.

Whereupon the following card was prepared by the committee and given out for publication:

To the Public:
In view of recent unprecedented rain and the almost impassable condition of the roads, and the pressing necessities of the agricultural interests of the county, the practicing attorneys of the Nacogdoches Bar have reached an agreement with District Judge Tom C. Davis, whereby the services of the regularly drawn Petit Jurors for the entire March Term of the District Court are dispensed with, unless specially served in Special Venue cases. The Grand Jury will be regularly empaneled, and those drawn for that service will be expected to report as usual, but all Petit Jurors are excused from attendance upon the court, except as above indicated. During the fifth week of the court certain jail cases and other criminal cases agreed upon may be tried before the juries selected by the sheriff from the body of the county. All witnesses in civil cases and in criminal cases where defendants are on bail are excused from attendance on the court, unless otherwise notified. At a meeting of the Bar the undersigned were appointed as a committee to publish the proceedings for the benefit of all concerned.

Respectfully,
S. W. Blount,
C. D. Mims,
W. M. Imboden,
Committee.

Died, Saturday, March 7th, 1903, at 7 p. m. at his father's residence near this city, C. R. Rightmer, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rightmer. Mr. Rightmer was only twenty-four years old, and of splendid physique. He had been ill only two weeks with pneumonia and his death was a terrible shock to his parents and the sisters and brothers who are left to mourn his loss. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at North Church cemetery at half past three o'clock, Rev. S. F. Baucum conducting the services, and amid a large gathering of sorrowing friends, the young man was laid to rest.

The stock holders of the Timpson Compress and Storage Co., held a meeting last night and adopted measures to push the matter along. A site was purchased from Jas. B. Langhorn, four acres lying between his home and the negro church. An assessment of fifteen per cent on the capital stock was ordered, and the charter will go forward to Austin tonight. C. D. Hill will manage the business and will move here as soon as he can get a house in which to live. —Timpson Times.

W. C. McBee, a well do and scientific farmer living near Trinity church, brought several stalks of ribbon cane to town today, taken from his "seed bed," that measured ten feet in length and were nearly or quite two inches in diameter.

OUR EXPERIMENTAL STATIONS

Six Have Been Established in Southwestern Counties

Mr. H. H. Shelton, tobacco expert for the United States government, who has been in Texas for some time, part was a visitor to Houston yesterday. Mr. Shelton has made a number of experiments in the state, and very much impressed with Texas as a suitable place in which to grow tobacco.

From the complex of soil which I have analyzed from the coast country," said Mr. Shelton to a Post reporter yesterday. "I must say that it is the same high type of soil as in the Vuelta Abajo district of Cuba. The climate in that section is also well adapted to the growing of tobacco, which makes the conditions all the more advantageous to make that industry a success, and I think that it can be established on a larger scale and in a manner unequalled in any part of the United States.

There are now already established six experimental stations, consisting of one acre of land at each place, at the following points, in the coast country: Hallsboro, Onero, Nursery, Port Lavaca, Rockport and Portland, which in my opinion, will give the desired types of soil in that section. These stations would be on a much larger scale, but no tobacco has heretofore been grown there."

"From my experience in the examination of soils and other features incident to the making of experiments with tobacco growing, I am quite satisfied that the growing of tobacco would be most successful in the coast country and that this will be proven beyond doubt in the experiments to be made.

Mr. Shelton was joined here by Messrs. J. E. Latham and G. B. Jones, soil experts of the bureau of soil of the department of agriculture, and with them, Mr. Rockport brought

Sewing Machine Repairing

Mr. E. L. Garrison is still in the sewing machine business. He sells and repairs sewing machines, and has a large stock of machines on hand. He repairs all makes of machines, and with an experience of thirty years, he is a thoroughly reliable mechanic. He still travels in this business, and is authorized to take subscriptions for either The Sentinel or Pendergast in his rounds. Call on him if you need a machine, supply, or if your machine is out of repair.

Jack Dougherty, son of Capt. and Mrs. J. S. Dougherty of this city is the head of a corporation at Jackson, Tenn., incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing an extensive line of furniture. He has a stock of a thousand barrels of wood, who began his business career as an apprentice under the management of the Sentinel some ten years ago, and we feel a keen interest in his success. The company of which he is the head is incorporated for twenty thousand dollars, and has already built up a lucrative business.

H. D. Garrison has the contract to rebuild the waterworks dam, which was destroyed last year. Mr. Garrison's teams and crew are here and ready to begin work whenever the weather permits. Will Reid, the efficient superintendent of the water works system says that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and that the mill pond will be a prettier place to visit than ever, this summer.

The Weekly Sentinel

R. W. HALTOM, Editor

ARE the streets too muddy for candidates to run for alderman?

It is now asserted that Mrs. Maybrick will be released on May 1st.

They are killing so many "Bills" in the legislature that we are almost afraid to visit Austin again during this session.

There are three "fat" offices to be filled in the coming city election, for which candidates seem lacking. Here is some "snaps" for somebody.

If every farmer and trucker in East Texas had the enthusiasm of "Uncle Dick" Bonner, there would be a mighty revolution in agricultural pursuits in this end of the state.

The Shelby county democracy has been called together by County Chairman Swearingen to discuss the road question and make some resolutions for the improvement of public roads in Shelby county.

AFTER all, Cole Younger has concluded to give up his "dignity" and go into the show business. It is said that he and Frank James are organizing a "Wild West" show and will go on the road soon.

HOUSTON is having a hard time getting her charter amended so as to extend her city limits. The outsiders are objecting and are fighting the measure. It makes us think of the situation in Nacogdoches.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt has reconvened the United States Senate in extraordinary session declaring that public interest requires it, and he requires "all persons who are entitled to act as members of that body to act as nice." As "nice" as what?

THE Beaumont Journal has an eye to business. When it is about to spring a sensation on the people it announces it a day a head. That brings orders for extra copies and makes the paper sell. McGary is "in it" for the "glue" and he has made a pot full already with the Journal.

It is to be hoped that this vigorous discussion of the road question will not lag after the roads get good again. The roads are always good in the summer times and then we all become indifferent. During the summer will be the time to put the roads in condition to stand the long rainy seasons of the fall and winter.

It is announced that Ex-Gov. Hogg will make a speech in Austin during the next two weeks. He hasn't any special theme and will speak on "general principles." He will doubtless pour some hot shot into the legislature, which he thinks is failing to obey the demand of the people. He is getting warmed up over the ill fate of the Hogg amendments.

ABOUT JAMES STEPHEN HOGG.

K. Lamity Bonner, in his initial number of the "rejuvenated" Harpoon, pays the following tribute to the gentleman whose name heads this article:

"Every once in a while some real smart newspaper man thinks up a new lie to tell on James Stephen Hogg. Of all the men who have risen by their own efforts to prominence in Texas politics, Mr. Hogg has doubtless received more gratuitous advertising than any half dozen others.

I can easily account for this. To begin with, he is a man of almost unlimited good humor. A joke must be exceeding rank to elicit any retort or denial. Whatever the boys tell on "Jim Hogg" stands un-denied by this patient target.

I have seen him read interviews alleged to have emanated from him, which were entirely imaginary, and some of them were intended to seriously injure him politically. When asked about the authenticity of the alleged interview he would laugh and say: "On well, I don't remember ever saying such things, but by gads, men sometimes talk in their sleep, and I may have done so."

About the only time I remember seeing J. S. Hogg real angry, was at the Waco convention. It took a long time, and lots of it to get him steamed up, but when he finally opened up the throttle and came down the track, he stamped the whole Texas democratic convention, and soon had the excited members leaping ditches, going over stock gaps and taking to tall timber. That's exactly what he did, as every man present will testify.

Mr. Hogg is a man of the most decided likes and dislikes. He loves his friends and fights his enemies to a finish. He has been accused of all sorts of political and other faults, but no one has ever said that James Stephen went back on his friends. If some should make such an assertion, even Jim Hogg's political opponents would raise up and give it a lie.

To me there is nothing half so ridiculous as to see some little sly-like political gladiator shy his castor bean into the arena and announce that "Jim Hogg is dead, politically." It is because he wants to be. I have no idea whether or not he will ever get back in the game, but if he does, I would like to see the Texas politician that could swing around the circle as Jim Hogg's opponent, and get back home with any tail feathers left. He is today the strongest man before the people in Texas democracy, and those of his political opponents who will dare tell the truth, frankly acknowledge the fact.

There were several political straw pallets that were transformed into feather beds when Jim Hogg voluntarily quit politics. While he strolled around the grounds, things looked dark to some people, but as soon as he left the game, many cold feet suddenly warmed up, and sunshine broke through a rift in the clouds.

Jim Hogg made a success as a politician, and they said it was gall. He quit politics and was a successful lawyer, and they said it was an accident. He next tried the role of speculator and has undoubtedly made a success. The certain class of Jim Hogg's enemies who are frantically jealous of him, will probably say this last success was just "tool luck."

I have never been a hero worshipper, nor will I ever be. I admire sterling traits of mind and heart in men, irrespective of my personal likes or dislikes for them. The trusty friend, the steady, chivalrous foemen are both to be admired.

No man ever had a truer friend, or one who would dare more to serve him, than James Stephen Hogg. The people of Texas honor him, and all the villainous attacks by his enemies can never change their opinion.

As before remarked, it is exceedingly doubtful if Mr. Hogg will ever re-enter politics, but if he does, remember what I say; he will make a lot of people who have been yelping at his heels like curs at a Bengal tiger, look like a half pint bottle of whiskey at a committee caucus."

THE Fruit and Truck Growers association passed a ringing resolution favoring the appropriation of $200,000 for the Texas exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair. Every citizen who has given expression favors it, and there seems to be no opposition to it throughout the state. The thing for the legislature to do now is simply to pass the bill. Similar resolutions to that adopted by the truck growers have been passed by associations and public gatherings throughout the state.

THE Carthage Mule, which seems to still have it in for "Jim Hogg," says, "about all Hogg has of this world's goods is sunk in oil wells at Beaumont." Now, Cols, wouldn't you love to have even his Beaumont oil Wells? But you over-looked his four thousand acre farm on the Brazos and his elegant home in Austin, his farm in Travis county, and a few hundred thousand dollars worth of other "stuff" generally. We would love to be as "poor" as Jim Hogg. "Deed we would."

THE Houston Chronicle in a recent issue published a "short story" with a most pernicious moral. It was a little syndicate story, probably published by half dozen papers simultaneously about a girl telegrapher who got an accidental tip over the wire how to buy stock, took her employer's money out of the safe, invested, won out, replaced the money within twenty-four hours, and lived happily ever after. It is just some such "safe" idea as this that wrecks lives; just such an idea that sent out one of our trusted men into exile, robbed of respect, home, country, all that marks life worth living to a man, and when papers print stories exploiting into romance straight theft, they are spreading dangerous reading matter in a community.

DOUSCHKA PICKENS.

Up from the Lone Star State there came to Chicago last week a picturesque citizen of Dallas, Tex., formerly a resident of Nacogdoches, with the dramatic story of the life of Douschka Pickens at his tongue's end. This visiting Texan was former Brigadier General George F. Alford, Confederate soldier, Indian fighter, legislator and capitalist.

The above paragraph begins an article in the New York Herald that we regret that we have not the space to reprint entire. The name of Nacogdoches is interwoven with so many romances; so many famous men and women have boasted The Stone Fort City as their home, that the story of them would make not one, but many books. To quote again from the Herald:

From the time of her birth, in the palace of the Romanoffs, until her death and burial beneath the great oaks of Edgefield, S. C., Douschka Pickens had a marvelous career amid the glamour and glitter of European courts, in the war stricken cities of the Palmetto State and amid the bleak and devastated estates that had been scourged by contending armies.

Born in the imperial palace of the Russian Tsar, christened by an Empress, made the idol of a hundred diplomats, this child later touched the fuse to the artillery that boomed for four years throughout Dixie. And when war was over and the armies were disbanded she became one of the leaders who toiled to solve the perilous problems of the post-bellum days.

To tell the story of the life of Douschka Pickens it is necessary to go back to Nacogdoches, Texas, that wonderful Southern town that sent out into the world so many people of such varied interests and abilities. Within calling distance in Nacogdoches there lived years before the war an interesting company of young people. Tom Ochiltree, the red headed raconteur and bon vivant, sauntered through the streets. Adelaide McCord, who became known throughout the world as Ada Isaacs Menken, the Mazeppa, began her conquests there. It was the home of Gen. Sam Houston, the greatest of all the great Texans. There lived in the town, too, Lucy Holcomb, the most beautiful woman in the State.

And Lucy Holcomb was married to Col. Frank Pickens and was the mother of Douschka Pickens. Small wonder that Nacogdocheans are proud of their native city and her history. Her days of romance are happily past, for romance is but the glamour thrown over the hard conditions of war. Her women are beautiful and her men are brave, today, as then, but Nacogdoches has swept into the clear light of peaceful prosperity, and the storm-swept scenes and picturesque settings of life are now a dream of the night. The life of Douschka, so crowded and glorious; so full of all that life can give to a woman, ended six years ago, and the account of her death concludes: "Gray haired negroes who had been her father's slaves carried the casket in which she slept to the shade of the oaks, and there, beside the grave of her great parent, another grave was waiting. When the casket was opened at the edge of the grave those who leaned to take a last look at the dead face of the woman saw about her neck a beautiful necklace, which the Tsarita of Russia herself had hung there the day the golden haired little girl left the Romanoff Palace."

JAMES J. HILL has written an article, "How to become a millionaire." We would copy it, but think it bad for the country to have millionaires become too common.

THERE is talk of a bond issue and such things by the city government. Lets don't issue any bonds until we can incorporate the town—that is the whole town. Lets do something right now toward incorporating the town one mile from the court house each direction.

WE learn from the papers that the Boers have bought 500,000 acres of land near San Antonio, and that their representatives state that half of the able bodied Boers will be in Texas within five years. If this is true German will be, more than ever, a valuable language for Texans to know.

WE folks on the South Side will not object to having a representative on the next board of aldermen. But it is just as the rest of the town wishes. Any old thing will do us—when we have to take what we can get. We are used to having our candidate rejected and the "sore" is in the passive stage now and don't hurt much.

WE are becoming so skeptical of the yellow prints that we don't even believe that John D. Rockefeller has a stomachache trouble.—Washington Post.

While we hate to admit that the clear eyed faith of our childhood has been shattered to the extreme extent of the Post's disillusionized editor, there are moments when we doubt even the simple annuals even of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Austin, Texas, is in the throes of a butter famine; Corsicana, Texas, is in the throes of a rubber shoe famine; Mexie, Texas, is in the throes of a good sidewalk famine; Galveston, Texas, is in the throes of a battleship famine, and nearly all of Texas has just recovered from a fuel famine.—Mexia News.

And here's Houston without a throes to her name.—Houston Post.

WE always knew you couldn't throw Houston.

THE President is urging Congress to provide for the biggest navy in the shortest possible time. He thinks "the safety of the country and the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine demand it." This moves the New York World to propound questions as follows: "Who is threatening the country? Who is challenging the Monroe Doctrine? And when did the United States ever secure respect for this doctrine, as it has done several times in the last forty years, by reason of having the biggest navy?—Galveston News.

These are pertinent questions.

THE TRUCK GROWERS.

The East Texas Truck Growers association finished up its business yesterday afternoon and adjourned, each delegate taking the first train out of town going in his direction. The session as a whole was very harmonious. The most of the time yesterday was devoted to lectures and speech making and all the talks were instructive—some of them eloquent. This meeting has infused new energy and inspiration among the truck growers and orchardists especially in this immediate vicinity, and there is no estimating the good it has done. Those that were heretofore interested only because they felt that something had to be done toward diversification and they figured that matters could not be made worse, are now enthusiastic and are ready to take hold with a zeal and energy never before witnessed here. Col. Bonner's great speech yesterday afternoon and last night was soul-stirring and sank deep into the minds and hearts of his hearers. Upon the whole the occasion will prove as seed sown in good soil from which a rich harvest will be gathered.

THE Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.) has a widely applicable article on the folly of the policy formulated by the chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The policy is to "drift along quietly." The article in the Ledger concludes "For leaders to assume that the best way to achieve success is to sit down with folded hands and do nothing to secure it, is little short of mild insanity." What is true in national affairs is equally true of states, towns and individuals. If any thing is worth the having, two or more are striving for it, and the one who works hardest generally gets it. Nacogdoches has grown and improved rapidly during the past few years. Lately however, there has been a drifting tendency displayed that will work havoc with her progress if it is not checked. We can get the Baptist college yet if we do not wait too long to see what will turn up. The machine shops are a certainty if we go after them instead of waiting to see if the current of events will not lodge them like dead drift-wood at our door; and by improving the roads and putting in fire protection invite the best class of immigrants in search of homes. All this can be accomplished by wide awake concerted energy, and a good deal of hard work. For all these things others are striving. Some city will get them, and that soon, and for Nacogdoches to throw down the oars just when the tide of affairs is setting toward fortune is nothing short of what the Ledger denotes it—mild insanity.

If all the editors who don't favor Roosevelt for the nomination were to resign, nine-tenths of the papers in the country would go to the devil.—Houston Post.

And then the devil would resign.

Often Disagree With Us

Because we overeat of them. Indigestion follows. But there is a way to escape such consequences. A dose of a good digestant like Kodol will relieve you. Your stomach is simply too full to digest what you eat. That's all weak stion is. Kodol digests the food without the stomach's aid. Thus the stomach rests while the body is strengthened by wholesome food. Dieting is unnecessary. Kodol digests any kind of good food. It strengthens and invigorates.

FOUR MEN ARRESTED.

Charged With Burglarizing a Freight Car. From Friday's Daily.

Special Railroad Detective, S. H. Beard, of Dallas, and constable Doc Watson returned last night from Fitzie, where they have been investigating the burglary of a freight car that occurred at Fitzie on Feb. 16th last. They arrested two white men, Carl and Rawl Bohanan, and two negroes, Claib Burk and Sam Owens, who, it is alleged, are parties to the robbery. The officers say they have evidence that there are several other parties implicated, but that they believe that they have arrested the principals. The four men arrested were committed to jail to await an examining trial. A wreck occurred at Fitzie on February 16th and a car was ditched and left, and before it could be taken up was broken into and about two hundred dollars worth of goods were taken. Some of the goods have been recovered and, it is stated, one of the prisoners has made a confession implicating a number of persons.

The Stomach is the Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cleanses, purifies, sweetens and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach trouble. Perkins Bros.

Club Notes.

Fifteen club members and five guest assembled at the home of Mrs. E. C. Branch yesterday, answering to roll call with quotations from Bobbie Burns.

After the minutes were read, cor. secretary read several letters, among them one from Mrs. Cone Johnson in behalf of The Girls Industrial College of Texas. The Regents, of whom Mrs. Johnson is one, are petitioning the Legislature for funds to build a Dormitory for the college, which is very much needed and all the citizens over the state will be glad to have this petition granted.

Mrs. G. H. Matthews read a beautiful poem from Burns, and Mrs. Roland Jones read a very interesting paper on "Nations Flowers and Emblems."

The hostess conducted the lesson on Burns, his life and works and this ending the program, delightful salad and grape sherbet were served.

Robt. King, son of B. K. King, of Douglass, has returned from Omen where he has been at school and will enter East Texas Business College at Nacogdoches. He is now in the city selecting a boarding place and making arrangements to be ready when the school opens on the 16th inst.

Dangers of Pneumonia.

Knights of Pythias.

From Saturday's Daily:

Interest is growing in the Knights of Pythias contest. There were even fifty members in attendance last night, probably the largest casual attendance ever seen in Castle Hall, La Nana Lodge. There were 27 "Reds" and 23 "Blues" present. The score now stands Reds 110; Blues, 123 leaving the Blues still three counts in the lead. There are only four more meetings before the contest closes, and it is not likely that the attendance will fall off during that time. There will be a great banquet after the contest closes, which will be given at the expense of the side showing the smallest total attendance since Jan. 1st, 1903.

The Weekly Sentinel

R. W. HALTOM, EDITOR

The city of Orange is planning to utilize the town cow by establishing a creamery.

The house and Senate of the Texas legislature have passed a joint resolution to adjourn April 1st.

A TRUCK farmer asks the Sentinel for a remedy for exterminating cut worms. Will some one who knows please answer.

The 20th annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Texas will be held at Lampasas March 14th to 17.

The tomato crop of East Texas will be at least ten days late this spring. The continued wet season has very greatly retarded truck farming.

We failed to get a copy of the Timpson Times, containing a full report of the proceedings of the Teachers Institute which met there last Friday and Saturday.

The Mississippi river is on a terrible rampage, and the levee has broken in the vicinity of Donaldsonville La., causing great alarm, and doing irreparable damage.

There are seventy-two cotton gins in Nacogdoches county. Mr. Doughtie, who has just made a canvass of the county, says there is not over a thousand bales of cotton left in the country and at the gins.

BRYAN thinks Hill is tossing a penny to decide whether he will be a candidate against Judge Parker for the democratic nomination for President or not. Hill will be "storm tossed" if he enters the race.

A GROCERYMAN at Shreveport sued the owner of a runaway horse that smashed his peanut roaster and secured a judgment for one hundred dollars. The judge held that the owner is liable for the damage caused by his horse during a runaway.

The total amount of the general appropriation bill for the years 1903 and 1904, passed by the legislature is $7,200,907, nearly a million and a half more than the appropriation bill passed by the twenty-seventh legislature. It costs something to run the Texas government these days.

The Terrell election bill has been passed by the legislature. The bill provides that the voter must pay his own poll tax and its purposes are to prevent scheming politicians from committing outrages against the poll tax amendment.

The democrats of the U. S. Senate have honored Senator Gorman with his old position as chairman of the senatorial caucus. The position is permanent and gives the Senator prominence, which may add something to his already being a presidential possibility.

LET US IN ON IT.

The following notice has been sent out from Temple, Texas, and is published among the associated press dispatches in a number of papers:

A unique gathering is scheduled to be held at Nolanville soon. The exact date will be announced later. A call has been issued for an ox-drivers reunion, all the old-time ox-drivers in this and adjoining counties being invited to participate, and be the guest of the little village of Nolanville, which will provide free entertainment for them.

The old veterans of the trail, for whom it was a matter of ease to handle from five to seventeen oxen in a team in the days when everything in the shape of freight from cambric needles to cannons were transported by these means will be there, and the reunion is intended to last for four days. C. J. Jackson of Nolanville has been appointed corresponding secretary and will have the management of the affairs on behalf of the people of Nolanville.

Ox driving is our "long suit" and if walking is moderate we expect to show up with the credentials. We have seen Jim Shaw, Bill and Joe Clevenger, Bob McLain, Bill Meeks, Bill Crossland and John and Wylie Parmelly (but John disgraced himself by taking to mules—besides, he never could learn to play the fiddle), and several others, who said they would all go it "Boss" Haltom (that's the "old man" Haltom) would go along and keep us straight. If we can get up a crowd we'll go over to Bell county and tell those fellows how we drive oxen in the piny woods and give them a few samples of the "double pop."

The situation along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers is becoming perilous. In places the water has reached the height of six feet above the danger line, and the levees are giving away, it is reported, from one or two points above New Orleans. At New Orleans the river has risen 18 feet.

If there is anything in "cheap advertising" the Houston Post ought to be contented. Certain afternoon sheets in Houston and Beaumont are devoting especial service to the Post in that line with an untiring zeal that is certainly all their morning contemporary could desire.

EDITOR ENGLEDAW, of the Pittsburg Chronicle, is running for the office of Mayor of his city and promises to give special attention to the streets if elected. This is a good time to make the race on that proposition if the streets of Pittsburg in anywise resemble those of Nacogdoches.

W. R. MERRIAM, director of the census and former governor of Minnesota, has resigned his office to accept the presidency of the International Mercantile Agency, an incorporation organized for the purpose of rating credits in the United States and Canada. He will move to New York, which will be his headquarters. President Roosevelt has not yet named Governor Merriam's successor.

THERE is some probability that the T. & N. O. will yet adopt the original grade through Nacogdoches. A survey has recently been made and stakes have been set, and it is stated that the Rock Island deal will force the T. & N. O. to go back on its own track instead of using the track of the H. E. & W. T. for four miles as it is now doing.

A BILL has been introduced in the legislature providing for the establishment and maintenance of Pasteur Institution for the treatment of hydrophobia. The bill calls for an appropriation of five thousand dollars to start with. Hydrophobia is becoming so common in Texas, as can be learned from reading the papers that some well equipped institution of the kind would be welcomed. Whether it would be wise for the state to undertake it is another question.

EX-GOV. HOGG has indulged in some "barber shop" talk that has riled up the legislature and a great deal of time has been fooled away over the incident. Hogg's intemperate language was applied to the lobbyists, who he denounced as a free pass toting thieves, or something of the sort. He was mad because of the opposition of the lobby to his being allowed the use of the legislative hall for his speech, which it was announced several days ago he would make this week. It would appear that the present legislature is getting awfully sensitive and the members are too much given to walking around with chips on their shoulders.

THE suggestion of the Nacogdoches bar, and the prompt action of Judge Davis in virtually postponing the March term of district court was indeed timely and will prove a great relief to the farmers of Nacogdoches county. Practically nothing has yet been done toward "pitching" this year's crop, and the term will come on just at the time when the value of a days work on the farm could not be estimated. There can be juries enough picked up around town to carry on the necessary business of the court and the great bulk of the business can be continued until next term. There is much to gain and nothing will be lost by the course adopted.

ANOTHER industry has suddenly sprung up that will add to the greatness of East Texas. In the pine regions there will soon be established paper mills that will utilize every straw, splinter and shaving left of a pine tree after the saw mill is through with it. The vast and relentless encroachment upon our timber has set great minds like that of John Henry Kirby to thinking, and it has been discovered that too much is being wasted. A test has been made at Orange that proves the value of this waste as a material for making paper, and within the next few years a string of paper mills will be established in East Texas which will be classed among the greatest commercial and industrial enterprises of the South.

CHIEF of the mineral survey of the State University, Dr. W. B. Phillips has made the first bar of tin ever taken from Texas ore. The ore was found by Mr. Phillips on the lands of an El Paso banker, twelve miles from that city and six miles from a railroad. It assays richer than tin ore was ever known to assay. Dr. Phillips secured three pounds of metal from fifteen pounds of ore, or 20 per cent. The average assay of good ore is 3 per cent, so the value of this El Paso find can be easily imagined. This is the only known bed of tin ore that exists on the North America continent, and from the richness of its assay and the immense fields of it that are known to exist around El Paso, bids fair to outrival the famous fines of Wales.

At last there has been started a health fad that alike the busy and the poor man have time and money to indulge in. Heretofore the physical craze has demanded time, and money for gymnasium apparatus and suits. Golf and bicycling both demand that business be laid aside; and it looked as if all the average man could do was to worry along for a hundred years or so, and then die with the hand of science never stretched out to aid him. All this has been attended to, the new fad is to breathe. If you want a drink take a deep breath instead. If you feel the grip coming on, or see a bill collector coming, take a deep breath—and then run. If you wish transcendent beauty and the immortal youth of the gods, breathe deeply and from the diaphragm. There is more in these directions than is usually found in eternal life recipes. Breathing is so essential to health that if a man lays it aside even a few minutes it is apt to cause death; and as long as breathing is kept up regularly, a man is certain to retain his hold on life; also he can practice the new fad without interruption to his business. It is essential however to locate the diaphragm or some people will be trying to breathe as they talk,—through their hats.

Preacher Dixon is greatly disturbed because he sees in the future a war between the whites and the blacks, and which will end only when one or the other of these two races is annihilated. Preacher Dixon should have his eyes treated.—Tyler Courier.

If the "Preacher Dixon" The Courier is talking about is the author of "The Leopard's Spots," we would like to suggest that Preacher Dixon can probably see farther than the Courier man. The franchise of ignorant negroes is responsible for the greatest troubles between the races, and he should be disfranchised until he is sufficiently educated to vote intelligently and independently. Dixon's idea is not to exterminate the ignorant negro, but to disfranchise him.

GOOD reports come from the Teachers' meeting held at Timpson last week. The next meeting will take place in Nacogdoches.

The East Texas Baptist College.

Every citizen of Nacogdoches, regardless of creed, will welcome the coming of the East Texas Baptist college. The only opposition is to the use of Washington Square. Many believe that these grounds should be used only for public school purposes and that no part of them can very well be spared. The majority of the people would be willing to give a part of these grounds rather than lose the college, and would do so if a vote were taken. But as a very strong minority do not favor the proposition, the college would not accept the grounds if tendered. They do not want to engender antagonism or create friction. Wherever they locate, they want practically the unanimous endorsement, encouragement and moral support of the people. If they had less than these they would feel that they would be obtruding, and would locate the college in another town. Respectable organizations, like respectable people, will not thrust themselves where they are not wanted.

It is unfortunate that in the earnest discussion of Washington Square expressions were made which have been construed to be in opposition to the college. It was either an awkward expression or an awkward construction, making in either event an awkward situation. As a matter of fact there has not been a word written in opposition to the coming of the college. Arguments have been directed wholly to the use of Washington Square. If the same writers were to discuss the college disconnected from the public school grounds their warm words of endorsement would melt some of the ice in their former articles.

The college needs a good location in a good live town, and we can furnish both. The town needs a good college, and the two hundred thousand Baptists of Texas offer one to us. Behind it are men of capacity and character, assuring its success. It is one of the marvels of our history, that the leading town of East Texas has existed for over a hundred years without having a high institution of learning.

All are in favor of the college. Many are enthusiastic and will be greatly disappointed if it fails to come. The town will buy any piece of ground the college wants. It is to the interest of the town and college that the best location be selected. One of the places suggested is the old homestead of the illustrious Thomas J. Rusk on North street, one mile from town, and containing twenty-two acres. It is an ideal site and can be bought.

Baylor University is two miles from Waco. Southwestern University at Georgetown is a mile from the public square. The University of Texas is a mile and a half from the business part of the city. The beautiful residences on North street are thick all the way to the Rusk place, and the streets and sidewalks are as level as the floor. One mile is not far, where it is a pleasant walk or drive all the way. Besides, a majority of the people live north of Nacogdoches.

Whatever location is selected, it is to the interest of all the people, and it is their duty to extend both hands to welcome the college and to help the Baptists make it the leading institution of learning in East Texas.

The college will be supported by the great Baptist organization of Texas, by Nacogdoches and by the people of East Texas everywhere, and will belong to us, our children and our children's children forever.

E. W. Smith.

Judging of the advertising patronage of the Messenger, one would think that Grapeland was as large as Timpson or Nacogdoches. There are surely no sponges or drones in that town, and Dr. Robinson is keeping his people alive to their possibilities.—Timpson Times.

Grapeland is a town just about the size of Garrison.

The Kaliphs are stirring up things in Dallas preparatory to their great April carnival. No such display has ever been witnessed in Texas as is proposed for this occasion. Sight seekers will not miss it. One advantage Dallas has of other places is the number of people she can care for. She cared for the thousands who attended the great Confederate reunion, and yet had accommodations for thousands more than came. Come to the carnival for fun, frolic and education.—Texas Farmer.

If the T. & N. O. is running through trains by that time, we're coming.

MARCELLUS FOSTER, editor of the Houston Chronicle, is climbing high up the newspaper ladder of fame. His latest move is to become president of Gammell-Statesman Publishing Company, of Austin, which was recently organized with a capital stock of two hundred thousand dollars. This organization has established, it is said, the largest printing establishment in the Southwest, and is the outgrowth of an order passed by the Texas legislature requiring that in future all law reports and state printing be done within the State, this company having secured the contract to do the State's printing. The Austin Morning Statesman and Evening News are also published by this company.

The girls' industrial school at Denton will be ready to admit students on Sept. 23rd, 1903. All white girls of good moral character who have attained the age of sixteen years, and who have a good knowledge of the common school subjects, may enter this school. The county judge of Shelby county has the right to appoint one young lady from this county to this school and the appointment must be made before June 1st. This is an opportunity that some young lady should take advantage of, as being an appointive student one has part of their expenses paid by the State. Nacogdoches and Shelby counties also have a right to appoint another student.—Center Champion.

They gave way above the city, as often happens, doing a good deal of damage to plantations, but the city levees are as nearly as secure as the dykes of Holland. They have to be.

PRISONER SHOT.

Tom Cheney Goes up Against it at Shreveport.

Tom Cheney, one of the negroes wanted for complicity in the recent shooting bee at Cushing, was shot and fatally wounded by one of the officers at Shreveport last Monday. He had been arrested there on advices from Nacogdoches and Sheriff Spradley was to have went after him today, (Tuesday). Yesterday morning a deputy sheriff went into the cell where Cheney was confined to carry breakfast to the prisoners. Watching his chance Cheney got out of the cell and attempted to disarm the officer standing in the corridor, but he wasn't quick enough. The officer grabbed him and threw him down the stairway then pounded him with his pistol. Cheney was desperate and broke away. The officer shot at him and the bullet struck under one arm, coming out at the neck. He is perhaps fatally wounded and cannot be moved.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She writes: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Perkins Bros.

Bank Creditors at Henderson.

The creditors of the Wettermark bank met again last Saturday in the court house. The discussions were varied and sometimes vehement. The speeches of Judge H. Turner and Lawyer Arnold had a telling effect upon the large audience. Mr. Wettermark made a statement which was listened to with rapt attention and which made a deep impression upon the creditors. It was finally decided that a committee of five be appointed with power to act in all cases for the best interest of the creditors. Said committee is composed of P. D. Chapman, Web March, Nathan Marwilsky, W. E. Shadden and R. T. Milner.—H e n d e r s o n Times.

The editor of the Nacogdoches Sentinel and the sheriff of that county had a mix up one day last week. Criticism of some of the sheriffs acts by the paper was the cause of the difficulty, the sheriff being the aggressor. If the acts of a sheriff, or any other elective county official, cannot be criticized by the papers—the people's guardian—without a resort to violence on his part in retaliation, the commissioners should ask for the resignation of that county official in language too plain to be misunderstood.—A l t o News.

ORDER.

On this day came on to be heard and considered application of petitioning creditors in the above entitled cause for service of the said B. S. Wettermark by publication. It appearing to the court that on the 7th day of January, A. D., 1903, a petition was filed in said court by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., a firm composed of Sam Stripling, R. W. Haselwood and T. E. Wettermark be adjudged a bankrupt; that on the 7th day of January, 1903, a subpoena was duly and legally issued out of the clerk's office of this court at Tyler commanding the said B. S. Wettermark to personally appear before said court at Tyler, Texas, on the 16th day of January, 1903, to answer said petition; that on the day of its issue said subpoena was placed in the hands of the United States Marshal for said district, and on the 16th day of January, 1903, was returned to said court endorsed to-wit: "Received this subpoena this 7th day of January, 1903, and returned on the 16th day of January, 1903, not executed because, B. S. Wettermark could not be found in my district."

[Signed] A. J. Houston, U. S. Marshal, by Geo. W. Eason, Deputy.

TOBACCO IN CHEROKEE

Most Favorable Soil and Climatic Conditions. Says Government Expert.

L. H. Shaffer of Nacogdoches, and L. E. Lapham and J. B. Jones of Washinton, all connected with and representing the U. S. Agricultural department have been making some interesting tests and experiments in regard to tobacco culture in East Texas.

W. L. Lubbock, land and migration agent of the T. & N. O., conducted one of the above gentleman over Cherokee county last week, making observations and tests. The more mountainous portion was declared to closely resemble the famous tobacco region of Cuba, both in topography and composition of soil. Analysis shows that this soil is nearly the same as the Cuban soil where tobacco is so successfully raised, containing only a small per cent less of the essential properties.

It is thought that as fine an article can be produced here as is imported from Cuba, and the day may not be far distant when tobacco culture will be a no less paying industry than peaches, tomatoes, etc.—J a c k s o n v i l l e B a n n e r.

The Woodmen Entertainment.

From Saturday's Daily: Few lodge entertainments have ever been given in this city that brought out a larger attendance or afforded a more enjoyable occasion than that given at the Woodmen Hall last night.

The program consisted of music, speaking and refreshments. All present were permitted to seek enjoyment and pleasure without restraint, and if there were any present who failed to see a good time the disappointment was too well hidden to be discovered by the closest observer.

The entertainment was given jointly by the Woodmen of the World and the Woodmen Circle and the two societies vied with each other in the effort to make it an affair of great pleasure and profit.

Excellent music was rendered by the orchestra, lead by Mrs. Lizzie Hubbard. A short, but appropriate address of welcome was delivered by W. H. Dial Esq., who acknowledged that he was too new in Woodcraft to talk instructively upon that topic, but extended a most cordial welcome to the guests on behalf of the Camp.

Mr. Dial was followed by Rev. W. W. Watts, an old "jiner" and a Woodman of long, and varied experiences whose talk was received with applause and greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments were served consisting of salads, cakes and punch, after which the crowd dispersed with many expressions of enjoyment and delight with the evening's entertainment.

These entertainments are a most pleasing feature of the Woodmen Circle and are of frequent occurrence, though this is the first to take place on so large a scale; and they are proving a source of great benefit and profit to both orders—the W. O. W. and the Circle. Let us hope they
