Texas Farmers' Congress.
The Texas Farmers' Congress will hold its regular annual meeting at College Station, July 23, 24, 25. This meeting brings together representatives of the various organizations of the agricultural interests of the state. The separate societies hold their own meetings in sections and discuss matters relating to their several lines of work. Then general meetings are held, bringing together the entire membership of the Congress, and in these matters of general interest are discussed. The exchange of ideas thus made possible is a strong force in the movement for more scientific methods of agriculture.

THE GARRISON FAMILY.

Two Hundred and Twenty-Nine Descendants Hold Reunion.

The following appeared in the Fort Worth Record of July 11, and will be read with interest by a large number of Nacogdoches county people:

"Two hundred and twenty-nine descendants of George M. and M. A. Garrison, 95 per cent Methodists, all Democrats and all for Joe Bailey as speakers enthusiastically said, met near Garrison today in their first annual reunion. The reunion was held in Golondrino grove just within the borders of Rusk county where the first Garrison settled when he came to Texas in 1844 from Georgia.

"George King of Nacogdoches, a grandson of George M. Garrison, said that his brother, S. M. King, made a violent fight in the house of representatives for Senator Bailey not alone because Joe Bailey was a good Democrat and an able statesman and an honest man, but because he knew that all of the Garrison family was for Joe Bailey. His and other references to Senator Bailey were received with great enthusiasm.

"S. B. Garrison of Garrison, a cousin of J. H. Garrison, for whom this city was named, said not only were all the Garrisons who could vote now strongly for Bailey but that they were raising more Democrats to vote for that great man when he is a candidate again.

"Z. B. Garrison, youngest son of George M. Garrison, also spoke and he and the others lauded in the highest terms his father, referring to his noble character and the good that he had done.

"The day was an ideal one, the members of the family brought baskets and besides there was a barbecue, the lunch was spread on the ground in an old fashioned way and a most delightful time was had by old and young.

"The reunion was so successful that it was decided to have the reunions annually July 10 of each year.

"J. H. Garrison, 71 years of age, the eldest son of George M. Garrison, was the oldest person on the ground, while John Henry Farris, named today and born since the first announcement of the reunion was made four weeks ago, was the youngest.

"Nearly all of the nine living children of the first Garrison who came to Texas, and children were present."

Henry Bowden, a well to do young farmer residing six miles north of the city, on the Logansport road, brought to The Sentinel office today a large red beet that weighed three and a quarter pounds. There are beets that weigh more, but this is the largest beet that has reached this office this season.

COUNTY LOG ROLLERS.

New Officers and an Executive Council Elected.

The annual meeting of the Nacogdoches County Woodmen Log Rollers Association was held in the hall of Liberty Elm camp, in the city of Nacogdoches, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, with a good number of the camps of the county represented and President W. E. Thomason presiding.

In calling the association to order President Thomason made an interesting talk, reviewing the work of the association and the growth of the order in Nacogdoches county during the past twelve months.

At the time of the organization of the Nacogdoches County Log Rollers Association a little more than one year ago, said he, there were sixteen camps in the county, representing a membership of less than 800. Since then a few of those camps have gone defunct or merged with others, but new camps have been instituted until now there are 20 camps in the county with a combined membership of 1000. Most of these camps he reported to be in a flourishing and prosperous condition. A majority of the camps in the county have been organized since 1903, and during these four years there have been only sixteen deaths among the entire membership.

Sovereigns G. B. Layton, B. F. Creel and R. H. Blackwell were appointed a committee on credentials, and the following delegates were reported present:

Liberty Elm Camp No. 210—Will T. Hawkins, Rev. J. M. Robinson, G. B. Layton, W. E. Thomason, A. Y. Donegan, W. C. Chadwick, C. D. Power, D. A. Walling, W. F. Summers.

The association then went into the election of officers with the following result:

R. H. Blackwell of Melrose, president; W. F. Summers of Nacogdoches, vice president; Will T. Hawkins of Nacogdoches, secretary; A. A. Biggs of Caro, treasurer; B. L. Jopling of Garrison, sergeant at arms; B. F. Creel of Cushing, door keeper.

The following were elected as the executive council:

W. E. Thomason, Nacogdoches; J. A. Odell, Caro; J. E. Teutsch, Chireno; John Weatherly, Appleby; A. A. Wortham, Cushing; J. G. Boling, Garrison; Frank Smith, Woden.

President Thomason, before retiring from office, appointed Will T. Hawkins, W. F. Summers and G. B. Layton as an auditing committee to audit the books of the outgoing officers, and the association adjourned.

After the adjournment of the Nacogdoches County Log Rollers association, a meeting was held for the purpose of taking steps to organize an East Texas association.

Sovereign J. E. Sharp of Lutkin was called to the chair and the following counties were represented: Angelina, Cherokee, Nacogdoches and Rusk.

The chair was authorized to appoint a committee of five, with himself as chairman, to take the matter up with the local camps in all the counties in East Texas, and to call a convention at an early date as practicable to organize an East Texas Woodmen Log Rollers Association. The chair appointed Lee E. Stout of Cherokee county, C. H. Fuller of Angelina, W. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches, and G. W. Hines of Rusk county as the committee.

Lee Stout was elected secretary of the committee, and the committee adjourned to meet at Lutkin on the second Saturday night in August.

To settle that question the inquirer will have to depend largely upon prima facie evidence.

PLEGGED TO HELP.

During his late visit to Nacogdoches Congressman Morris Sheppard pledged his earnest support of a bill providing for a federal postoffice building in Nacogdoches. Mr. Sheppard is a member of the committee on public buildings and grounds, and no member of that committee weilds more influence than the brilliant young congressman from the first district of Texas.

Mr. Sheppard visited the Nacogdoches postoffice and was greatly surprised that a more vigorous complaint had not been made by the patrons of the office and especially by Postmaster Cooper.

THE Palestine Herald makes this comment upon the effect of the Baskin-McGregor liquor law in that city: "The police force had just as well lay off for twenty days. ANOTHER ANANIAS.

A recent special from Austin says:

"The following members of the legislature are in town today: King of Nacogdoches, Bartlett of Falls, Wade of Johnson, Mobley of Henderson, McInerney of Galveston, Savage of Bell, Blanton of Cooke and Senator Branchfield. Most of them are talking a special session of the legislature for the purpose of correcting the poll tax provision of the election law since its annulment by the court of criminal appeals. They say that the state will be deprived of over $1,000,000 in revenue, both for general and school purposes, by the court decision, and that it should be corrected at once."

Mr. King authorizes The Sentinel to state that he made no mention of a special session of the legislature to any one while at Austin. And to say that an amendment to the poll tax law is necessary to save a loss of $1,000,000 to the state is a blatant exposition of pea green ignorance. The courts have rendered no decision that will tend to reduce the amount of revenue derived from the general election law one iota. On the other hand the decision of the court of criminal appeals will tend more to increase the state's revenue than to decrease it. Mr. King states that absolutely no necessity for an extra session exists.

A TELEGRAM received at the Houston cotton grading school Wednesday from private sources at Ballinger said in substance: "Cotton crop here a total failure. There are thousands of acres that will not produce a stalk of cotton. No rain since last February, and people are moving out of the country." The territory referred to in the telegram is said to be probably 50 miles square.—Timpson Times.

Ballinger is the county seat of Rannels county, and in the midst of one of the alleged Eldoradoes of Western Texas. If you want to make a living one year after another stay in East Texas. Crops here are never a complete failure.

AN aged man was planting an apple tree, and was accosted by a stranger, who said: "Why do you plant trees, when you cannot possibly live long enough to eat the fruit of them?" The old man raised himself and leaning on his shovel, said: "Some one planted trees before I was born and I have eaten the fruit. I now plant for others that the memorial of gratitude may exist when I am dead and gone." How like the inquisitorial moss-back at the apple tree are some men of today. They are opposed to voting a tax for needed public improvements because their posterity or a future generation will have it to pay. They forget that their fathers faced shot and shell and endured innumerable hardships that they might possess this land and enjoy the pleasures and privileges of freemen. How prone we are to show ingratitude to those who are responsible for our well being.

Schnapps Tobacco is Made ENTIRELY from Flue Cured Tobacco Grown in the Piedmont Country. The Imitation Brands Have Schnapps Quality Only On the Outside Of the Plug

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps tobacco. The outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured the same as Schnapps, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco. One chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco. The color, size and shape of the tags, plugs and packages of certain imitation brands of tobacco have been made so much like Schnapps that they have often been accepted by buyers under the belief that they were getting Schnapps. Sufficient proof has been secured to establish the fact that certain brands are infringements and in violation of the trade mark laws, yet the trade will continue to be imposed upon by these infringers until the suit already entered and now pending to protect Schnapps is decided. A great many of these imitations are claimed to be "just as good" as Schnapps, but there is only one genuine Schnapps. Be sure the letters on the tag, and stamped on the plug under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S and then you have it—the most wholesome tobacco produced, with just enough sweetening to preserve the mild, juicy, stimulating quality of the leaf tobacco. Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers.

If the tobacco you are chewing don't satisfy you more than the mere habit of expectorating, stop fooling yourself and chew Schnapps tobacco. Schnapps is like the tobacco chewers formerly bought costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound, in 5c. cuts, strictly 10c. and 15c. plugs.

Burke's Weevil Remedy.

We observe from The Nacogdoches Sentinel that H. C. Burke, who resides at that place has discovered a remedy to destroy Boll Weevils. So confident is Mr. Burke in his new discovery, here is the way he hands it to The Sentinel editor to consider:

"Now, Mr. Editor, please allow me to submit the above to you for your careful consideration, and as the Holy and Righteous Truth, and if you think it worth the room it will take up in your paper, you can print it, as I would like for all to know that there is a remedy for the boll weevil that will kill him out right." If the remedy proves a success, it will develop one of the greatest discoveries known.—Rusk Press-Journal.

THE following contains a good lesson and is worth reproducing. The author is unknown: "Man born of woman is of few days upon earth and full of colics, catnip tea and soothing syrup. Then he grows in spite of these things, and is full of watermelons, peaches, roasting ears, green apples and stomach ache. If he outlives these then he is full of self-conceit, fool notions, big ideas and sometimes bust head liquor. If he don't get his head busted at this stage of the game, he is then full of rheumatism, tooth ache, gout and the holes made by the sucker baits he has swallowed and the cares of middle age.

TO ENFORCE SANITATION.

Important Proclamation by the State Health Officer.

The following proclamation just issued by the State health officer, is of vast importance to many citizens of Nacogdoches county:

To All Owners, Managers, Foremen or Agents in Charge of any Lumbering Camp, Railroad Construction Camp, Boarding Car, Pleasure Camp or Resort, or So-called Open Air Health Resort:

In view of the fact that my attention has been repeatedly called to the general unsanitary condition of railway camps, lumbering camps and health resorts, and at present there is no adequate provision made in these matters to protect the health either of the laborers or others in said camps, or of the neighboring communities, and by the authority vested in me as state health officer of the state of Texas, I hereby ordain and proclaim the following regulation, to-wit:

First—The owner, manager agent or foreman of any lumbering camp, mining camp, saw mill camp, railroad boarding cars or construction camp, pleasure camp or resort, or so-called open-air health resort, or other industry requiring the establishment of a camp, shall be responsible for the proper execution and enforcement of any regulation herein contained or of any clause of any health regulation governing in any case or circumstance.

Second—Any house, boarding car, tent or dwelling occupied by the employes engaged in any industry shall contain at least 300 cubic feet of air space for each occupant thereof. In order to accommodate fifty men therefore, a building should be fifty feet long, thirty feet broad, and ten feet high. It shall be further provided with such ventilation as herein-after described and mentioned. The floor of every dwelling shall be constructed of boards or planks, or other material equally suitable for the purpose, raised on supports at least one foot from the ground, and so made that it shall be tight. Every such dwelling other than a temporary tent, not exceeding ten by fifteen feet, shall be supplied with adequate lighting; and in all wooden or iron structures, the windows must be so constructed that they can be readily opened.

Third—Proper ventilation shall always be provided, and a suitable number of openings, windows or doors, shall be supplied in such manner that 3000 cubic feet of air per hour shall be available for each occupant of each dwelling.

Fourth—Every camp shall be supplied with a building or tent properly constructed and set apart as a kitchen, and having a dining room or eating room in connection therewith, with proper conveniences for the cleanliness of the employes.

Fifth—Proper buckets should always be kept on hand, in which all refuse must at least once daily be removed to a safe distance from the kitchen and so deposited as not to create a nuisance or contaminate the drinking water.

Sixth—Latrines, or earth or other closets located not less than 125 feet distant from the nearest dwelling or kitchen, shall be constructed at every camp or resort, and must be located and maintained in a sanitary condition satisfactory to the authorized health officer, especial care being taken that the contents thereof or drainage therefrom shall enter no stream, lake or pond, whose waters are or may be used for drinking purposes.

Seventh—The stables in connection with any camp or resort must be so located as not to contaminate the water supply of the camp or of any neighboring community, and must not be less than 125 feet distant from any dwelling or kitchen. In large camps, this distance may be increased if thought necessary by the authorized health officer.

Eighth—The locations of the buildings of any camp shall be made with a due regard for its healthfulness, and any camp located without the previous approval of the authorized health officer must be moved to a proper location if afterwards the site is found to be undrained, unhealthy, or wanting in any adequate or wholesome water supply; and any camp or dwelling, if proved to be unsanitary or unhealthy, shall have instituted such drainage or have introduced such water supply, as is satisfactory to the authorized health officer.

Ninth—Should any disease of any contagious nature break out, a hospital building or tent must be located by the physician in charge of the patient, in a position satisfactory to the county health officer, or any officer authorized by the state health officer to inspect the said camp or resort.

Tenth—In case of an epidemic of smallpox or other infectious disease, or in case the county or state health officer, owing to the threatened epidemic, deems it expedient, the owner, manager, foreman or other person in charge of any camp above designated and mentioned, shall require a certificate of recent successful vaccination of each employe when he is engaged by the company or its agent; and where evidence is not forthcoming, it shall be the duty of said agent, owner manager or foreman, before employing any person, to obtain such evidence of such vaccination.

Eleventh—Should any suspected communicable disease break out in any camp or resort, the owner, foreman, employer or agent in charge of the camp or resort, shall immediately notify the state health officer of such outbreak; and the owner, foreman, employer or his agent in charge of said camp or resort, shall be responsible for any neglect in notifying the state health officer.

Twelfth—It shall be the duty of said foreman, owner, employer or agent in charge of said camps or resorts and boarding cars, at regular intervals, to so treat the inside walls and ceilings of said boarding cars and camp houses with whitewash, or other equally good disinfectant; the floors thereof must be scoured with concentrated lye or other good disinfectant at such intervals that the said cars or dwellings shall be constantly in a sanitary condition.

Thirteenth—The owner, foreman, or other person in charge of aforesaid camp, resorts or boarding cars, when abandoning, breaking up or moving same, is hereby required to fill in all latrines, cess-pools, or other excavations, whether containing liquid or solid refuse, and otherwise place the premises so occupied in proper sanitary condition.

Fourteenth—All city and county health officers are hereby authorized to see that the above regulations are enforced in their respective cities or counties.

State Health Officer.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. GIRL BURNED TO DEATH.

Attempted to Light the Fire With Coal Oil.

Roberta Miers, a 12-year-old colored girl, employed at the home of W. J. Chancellor at Trawick, was burned to death yesterday.

The girl was attempting to light the fire in the kitchen stove, preparatory to cooking the noon meal, when the terrible accident occurred. She was pouring oil on the smouldering embers from a one-gallon can when the oil ignited and the can exploded.

In an instant the clothing of the unfortunate girl was in flames, and before assistance could reach her she was almost denuded and the flesh on her body was almost cooked. She lived until last night when she died in horrible agony.

The stove was practically demolished by the explosion of the oil, and the house was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished before serious damage was done.

Mr. Chancellor was at his store, some distance from his home, when the accident occurred, but Mr. Wm. Smith happened to be passing at the time and saved the house from being burned.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of George W. Rector, who was born in Georgia the 7th day of December, 1822. He came to Texas when 17 years of age, and in 1850 he married Miss Nancy C. Atkinson. He leaves a wife and three children—Tom Rector, Mrs. A. T. Stallings and Mrs. Tim Burrows of this city—a host of grand children and one great grand child. Deceased was nearly 85 years of age when he died.

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wake to weep."
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in that home,
Which never can be filled.
'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has found the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words
"Must we forever part?"
Dearest loved one, we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace;
But thy memory will be cherished,
Till we see thy heavenly face.

Will M. Rector,
A little grand child.

BIG PROPERTY DEALS.

Several Important Deals Consummated the Past few Days.

There has been consummated within the past few days some important real estate deals in Nacogdoches.

As was announced a few days ago, S. L. Miller, the well known grocery merchant, has bought the J. J. Lilly place on North street, for which a handsome price was paid.

This week Rev. J. M. Robinson and wife closed a deal for the beautiful home of Mrs. H. Perkins, also on North street and just south of the Lilly property. This lovely home site includes eight acres of land, and is one of the most modern and commodious residences in the city.

Another deal of importance was the purchase of the brick business house of Mr. J. J. Lilly, located near the corner of Main and North streets, by Mr. J. P. Jenkins. This building is now occupied by Walling's grocery store, and is a very valuable piece of business property.

There are other large deals in contemplation, and dealers say the real-estate market in Nacogdoches is on the verge of a lively but substantial boom.

Do you really enjoy what you eat? Does your food taste good? Or do you have a heavy, dull feeling after meals, sour stomach, belching gas on the stomach, bad breath, indigestion and dyspepsia? If so, you should take a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol will nourish and strengthen your digestive organs and furnish the natural digestive juices for your stomach. It will make you well. It will make your food do you good. Turn your food into good rich blood. Kodol digests what you eat. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. dw

Grave Yard Working.

Died This Morning.

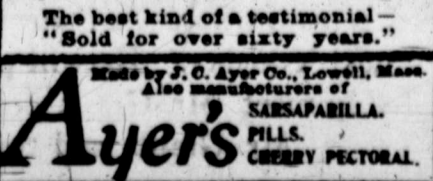

Weldon, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jones, died at their home two miles north of the city this morning of diphtheria.

The little fellow had been suffering for several days, and though all was done that could be done to relieve him, the case was a hopeless one, and his death was unavoidable, though it is a great shock to the devoted parents.

The Sentinel with their numerous other friends extends deepest sympathy.

Woodmen Unveiling.

Vim Camp No. 1786, Woodmen of the World, located at Cleveenger, unveiled the monument of the late Sovereign Charles Roby Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Sovereigns W. F. Summers, W. E. Thomason, J. G. DeLamar and Will T. Hawkins of Liberty Elm Camp went down and conducted the unveiling ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the exercises at the grave the Woodmen and the large crowd of spectators repaired to the church house where Sovereign Thomason delivered an eloquent oration on the life and character of the deceased sovereign.

Another Fish Story.

Another remarkable fish story comes to The Sentinel office today. While fishing on Angelina river Saturday Mr. W. H. Wood of this city caught a large owl on a fish hook. Mr. Wood had set out some hooks in the river the night before, but for some cause left one hook out of the water. The hook was attached to a pole, one end of which was sticking securely into the bank.

When he went to his hooks Saturday morning Mr. Woods was astonished to see a large owl fluttering fearlessly trying to extricate itself from the hook that held it a prisoner.

It is supposed that the owl was flying by when the unobserved fish hook caught him in the wing

MORRIS SHEPPARD'S SPEECH

An Eloquent Portrayal of the Beauties of Woodcraft.

The following is a synopsis of the address delivered by Hon. Morris Sheppard at the Woodmen Log Roiling in Nacogdoches July 10. Mr. Sheppard said:

Ladies, Gentlemen and Fellow Sovereigns:

There is something Holy in a gathering of the people like this to celebrate the progress of a great humanitarian movement. The very air seems magnetized with sympathy, both human and Divine. A collective judgment, a collective voice, the collective action of the people for co-operation, the significance is almost supernatural. People as a whole possess heroism, not of earth, and the Spirit of God moves in their aspirations, and ambitions dwell over the multitudes. We have faith in the ultimate triumph of justice; in the survival of right, in the permanence of truth; in the chastisement of all oppression, of all wrong, and in the purity and integrity of the masses. When the people assemble as on an occasion of this kind to celebrate the progress of a great organization, there is hardly a man whose soul would not burn with enthusiasm. If he doesn't there is something wrong with his anatomy. He would be like the little boy who took his first lesson in anatomy. His teacher says, now, Johnnie, I am going to learn you the various senses of the body: With your hands you feel; with your ears you hear; with your eyes you see; with your feet you run, and with your nose you smell. The little boy said to the teacher: Well, if this is so, I have been made wrong. What is the matter with you, Johnnie? she said. He said, sometimes my nose runs and my feet smell. And my friends with that enthusiasm we enter into the spirit of this occasion. We have met under the standard of an organization whose purposes are for the improvement of material conditions. The people have engaged in no more fraternal or beneficial an organization, none that embodies more successfully the principles of fraternal insurance than the Woodmen of the World, the organization which has inspired and which today conducts this celebration. The Woodmen of the World is growing so fast that nothing like it has ever been seen. It makes automobiles look like ox wagons. The Woodmen are everywhere. There is no air beneath the flag they do not breathe. They are in every state in the American Union. They are from the Atlantic to the Pacific. They have even got to congress, but none of the latter are in jail yet. And that reminds me when I came from congress the other day, I noticed a member of a fraternal order and a Woodman sitting in the car just ahead of me. The member who was a Woodman, said, my friend, you look sick and tired. What is the matter with you? Well he said, my friend, to tell you the truth, I am sick and tired of seeing so many Woodmen of the World. I see them everywhere. I am going to Kentucky, and from there to Arkansas, and from there to Texas, and from there to Heaven or Hell, I don't care which, if only I can go where there are no Woodmen of the World. My friend, the Woodman said, you need not go to Kentucky for you will find ten thousand members there. You need not go to Arkansas for you will find twenty thousand Woodmen there, including Jeff Davis, and he is equal to twenty thousand more. You need not go to Texas for there are 115,000 Woodmen there. You need not go to Heaven for the departed spirits of thousands of Woodmen are there, but you can go to Hell for there is not a single Woodman there to deter your progress.

It is all well enough to say this order or that order equals the Woodmen but when you come to going into details you begin to feel like the fellow that had to write a piece of poetry about the Mammoth cave. There was a hotel at the Mammoth cave called the poetry hotel and the rule of that hotel was that every person had to write a verse of poetry giving his views of the Mammoth cave. This fellow went up to pay his bill and was informed that he would have to write a verse of poetry. He thought he could not do it. He finally took up a pen and directly he wrote the following:

Mammoth Cave, what a hammer, Hot in winter, cold in summer; Great Jehovah what a wonder, Andrew Jackson, hell and thunder.

The Woodmen of the World is a typical fraternal organization and its chief purpose is the distribution of life insurance on the fraternal, self governing plan. It is one of over 200 societies of a similar nature which represent the fraternal system of life insurance. The fraternal system is to be distinguished from the old line system represented by about one hundred companies, the majority of which are mutual in form and form only, and the remaining, stock corporations. Between the fraternal orders and the old line companies, partaking of the characteristics of both but identical with neither, is the assessment orders, of which there are about 100 in operation today, and many people place the assessment organization in the same class as the fraternal organization. The assessment association of today is hardly a factor in the insurance situation, the field being divided between the fraternal orders and the old line companies. The total disbursements of the assessment associations of 1805 was about eight millions of dollars. The total insurance in force at the end of that year about 527 millions and a membership of 506,000. The total assets of the old line companies in 1905 was about 411 millions, with insurance in force at the end of the year approximating thirteen and one half billions, with a combined membership slightly exceeding 5,600,000. The total assets of fraternal orders in 1905 was about eighty-five millions. Total insurance in force at the end of the year approximating eight and three quarter billions, with a combined membership slightly exceeding 6,000,000. It is difficult for the mind to grasp the volume of the insurance business in the United States. That there are over twenty-five billions of life insurance in the United States today and that over twelve million American citizens are insured. As it is twelve million men had deposited in an immense savings bank in the aggregate sufficiently large to purchase under the insurance system for the protection of their homes and families, a sum equal to one-fifth of the total wealth of the United States. These twelve million men have erected a bulwark of gold against the uncertainty of the future. They are doing more for this republic than all the congresses and all the courts and all the legislatures of the ages or all the governors and all the presidents.

SKIN DISEASES HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth and free from blemishes, but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These humors get into the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to keep it soft and pliable, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a hard, leathery appearance. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black heads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin trouble is Salt Rheum; its favorite point of attack is the scalp, sometimes causing baldness. Poison Oak and Ivy are also disagreeable types of skin disease. The humor producing the trouble lies dormant in the blood, through the winter to break out and torment the sufferer with the return of Spring. The best treatment for skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids in humors of the blood.
