BRAVE LITTLE WOMAN.

A Nervey Texas Girl Arrested in Washington.

Spokane, Wash., July 22.—After having tramped more than 100 miles, attired in man's garments, arrested at Walla Walla, south of here, and detained in jail two weeks on a technical charge of masquerading, Mrs. George Earl, who was Nora Clay, daughter of a former cattle-grower near Fort Worth, Texas, joined her husband in Spokane today after a separation of six weeks.

They eloped three years ago, because the bride's father threatened to place her in a convent. She was then 16 years of age, and had a reputation throughout the panhandle as a "bronco-buster."

Mrs. Earl is of medium height, slender and comely, a typical Texan, and speaks with an air of refinement. George Earl has found employment in a local hotel, where Mrs. Joseph A. White has given the girl-wife a home.

From Mt. Moriah.

Stoker, July 22.—The health of our community is very good at this writing.

H. J. Cooper and Wyatt Chestnut of Attoyac are visiting relatives at this place.

The young people enjoyed a singing last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chandler.

The protracted meeting at this place will begin on Saturday before the third Sunday in August, and will be conducted by Rev. W. L. Heflin. Everybody invited to attend.

The Producer's Oil company people left today on a visit to relatives. Will return in ten days.

Mrs. Robert Jordan is in receipt of a letter from Miss Lillie Davidson, who is on a pleasure trip to northern and eastern cities in company with a party of friends. Miss Lillie was at Detroit, Michigan when she wrote, and stated that she had just returned from a trip into Canada, and was having a delightful time.

INSPECTING TOBACCO FIELD.

Prominent Government Officials Were Here Today.

L. S. Williams, official photographer for the bureau of plant industry, J. D. Shamel, chief breeder of tobacco seed, Geo. T. McNess, chief tobacco expert of the United States, and Walter Hinson, expert in charge of tobacco demonstration work in Texas, were here today, and in company with Otto Olson and L. Weinberg, local government experts, made an official inspection of the tobacco fields in Nacogdoches county.

The gentlemen were very much pleased with the condition of the crop, and were lavish in their praise of the excellent manner in which Messrs. Olson, Weinberg and Hinson have conducted the tobacco growing industry in Nacogdoches county.

Mr. Williams took a number of photographs of the tobacco fields, showing the weed in its different stages, from the growing plant and harvesting scenes to the cured leaf ready for packing.

They were very much surprised to find the crop looking so well, and were gratified to learn that six new warehouses have been erected in this county for the accommodation of this season's crop.

The visiting officials left this afternoon for Alabama and Florida to inspect the tobacco fields in those states.

Hayward Mill Changes.

There have been some important changes made in the managerial force at Hayward mill recently. Mr. Charles E. Wyman, who has been manager of the mill for some time, has resigned and he left a few days ago for Canada. He is succeeded by his brother, Oran F. Wyman, late of Eagle Mills, Ark., who, by the way, is a very capable man, having spent most of his life in running saw mills.

Mr. Allan Seale has also been selected as manager of the mill commissary, succeeding Mr. Forest Reagan, who resigned.

Protracted Meeting.
Rev. G. W. C. Self will begin a protracted meeting at Friendship, continuing several days, then running one at Rock Springs. Friendship meeting begins Sunday, the 28th, and Rock Springs the second Sunday in August. He will be assisted by Rev. J. M. Robinson of Nacogdoches.

All are invited to attend these services.

THAT CONCATENATION.

Class of Thirty Took Degree of Playful Kitten.

The concatenation of the great Hoo-Hoo tribe was pulled off Saturday night in great shape, and it was an eye opener both to the young felines, whose eyes had not yet been opened to the mysteries of the cult and to the large number of spectators who viewed the wonderful pageant from a safe distance.

The street parade and torch light procession was the feature of the concatenation, that is so far as the disinterested looker on was concerned.

Led by Guy Blount in his auto-car, followed closely by the famous Hoo-Hoo band, and the thirty blind kittens escorted by twice as many old cats each bearing a flaming torch, the procession formed in front of the Redlands hotel and marched up Main street, around the public square, and down Eredonia street to the Odd Fellows hall, where the young felines went through the shutes that tested their nine lives to the limit.

In the parade the kittens were chained together to prevent their escape from the harrowing and hair-raising ceremonies which awaited them at the hall.

Col. J. J. Hayter was given the place of honor at the front end of the line of kittens, and Bob Burrows brought up the rear.

All the kits in line were blindfolded and dark was the path they trod, while on either side merciless monsters with huge goading instruments pricked them in the side and legs and the monotonous cry was heard for many blocks, "Step high, step high!" and the poor little kittens almost strangled themselves as they marched to their doom. They reminded one of blind horses walking in high rye.

Up and down the full length of the parade the old Black Cats strutted, each wearing a long black robe with the trade mark of the order peculiarly embossed and symbolic of the midnight yowler, and carrying in his hand a torch from the end of which burned a vivid red light, which cast glows upon the scene as if from the flames of the bottomless pit in bas-relief along the line of straggling victims that trod their weary way to the castle of torture.

No mortal knows, outside of those who are initiated into the secrets of this clan, what suffering met and what great sorrows kissed these kits before their eyes were opened.

Immediately after the initiation of the kittens was completed, the Hoo-Hoos repaired to the Redlands hotel, where a sumptuous feast was spread for them. There were about 100 lumbermen, with a few guests, gathered around the festal board, and continual merriment was kept up till the wee-small hours of the morning.

The committee on arrangements, and to whom thanks of the visitors was extended for the success of the concatenation, were W. F. Summers, T. E. Baker and George Turney.

The concatenation was conducted by R. M. Morris of Texarkana, vice general manager for East Texas, assisted by J. S. Bonner of Houston, past junior Hoo-Hoo.

Altogether the evening and the morning were delightfully spent by the visitors, and the Hoo-Hoo broke camp singing the praises of Nacogdoches hospitality and the splendid entertainment given them while in the city.

The general verdict was, the next concatenation will be held at Garrison, since Will and Frank Garrison, Ed Weatherly and Gus Simpson have decreed that it should be so.

Meeting at North Church.

The Sentinel is in receipt of the following note, which is self-explanatory:

The farmer who plants for a fall crop of potatoes will be on easy street while others are lounging in poverty alley.

This is the day to resolve how you are going to vote on the bond issue. If you are satisfied with the old make-shift for a court house you do not deserve a better one.

Cigar dealers who want to comply with the anti-trust law and evade the penitentiary would do well to handle Nacogdoches cigars. They are not trust made goods.

The inference that the Austin Statesman is edited by a pumpkin head is erroneous and unfounded. The esteemed editor is merely a lover of pumpkin; though we must admit that he is "some pumpkin" himself.

Some say they are not in favor of a bond issue now for a new court house, but they might vote for such a measure later on. They should remember that the road of by and by leads to the town of never.

Jesse Grant, the son of a great American general and former president of the United States, declares that W. J. Bryan is dead politically. This would indicate that the gentleman is more than a tentative candidate.

The statement is now made by his son that U. S. Grant, who led the Federal forces to victory in the "war of the rebellion," and who was twice elected president of the United States as the nominee of the republican party, was himself a democrat and never voted the republican ticket. Politics makes strange bed fellows.

There are tax payers in Nacogdoches county who say they have lived many years without an adequate and commodious court house and they can continue to do so. Besides, their fathers before them did the same. This proves true the old adage, "Live with the lame and you will limp." People can live in a hovel until they would scorn a palace.

At the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lucaskow at Mrs. Treverton, Texas, the sale of kisses netted $385 which was used to purchase household a stiff upper lip and who furniture for the bride and talks in a cheerful tone light-groom. Immediately after ens the load others are carry-the wedding ceremony one of ing; he is the man who the guests suggested that the brides over misfortune and bride and groom retail their who deserves and will reap a kisses at $1.00 each and it was rich harvest in the end. Who wouldn't like to Look cheerful and fresh, even if you have to paint to do so.

AFTER deliberating over the matter for twenty-four hours, The Sentinel has decided to refer Judge Ingraham to the Attorney-general's department at Austin for an answer to his interrogatories propounded yesterday. The Sentinel editor is neither a lawyer nor the son of a lawyer.

FRANKLIN said upon one occasion, "If all but myself were blind I should want neither fine clothes, fine houses nor fine furniture." No man liveth to himself. Personal pride ought to suggest a new court house and jail even if there were no necessity for such improvements.

With a full crop of white blackberries, seedless watermelons, strawless strawberries, odorless onions and vineless yams, no wonder that Texas looked so good to that young Greek that he broke both legs trying to climb around the immigrant inspector's guard house at Eagle Pass to get into the state.

BACON says that "a man's nature runs either to herbs or weeds. Therefore let him seasonably water the one and destroy the other." Nacogdoches is heeding this advice of Lord Bacon. Our new water works system will soon be in position to water the herbs and the Civic League is destroying the weeds.

DEATH of fish in Buffalo bayou near Houston is regarded as a phenomenon, so the Chronicle says. The phenomenon, however, is how fish manage to live at all in the waters of that turbid stream.—Beaumont Journal.

If there is any phenomenon connected with the waters of Buffalo bayou the Journal editor ought to be acquainted with it. He was reared on those waters.

THE Sentinel says, "Nacogdoches will break all previous building records this year." Nacogdoches is destined to become one of the leading business centers of East Texas.—Hemphill Leader.

Thanks for that, but Nacogdoches is already the leading business center of East Texas, and the largest and best, city between Beaumont and Dallas, or Houston and Shreveport.

THE Tyler Courier gives this splendid advice: "Don't mention your hard luck, please, for it may be that the person to whom you address yourself is already loaded with all he can carry. The man or the farmer who makes no complaint and who carries used to purchase household a stiff upper lip and who furniture for the bride and talks in a cheerful tone light-groom. Immediately after ens the load others are carry-the wedding ceremony one of ing; he is the man who the guests suggested that the brides over misfortune and bride and groom retail their who deserves and will reap a kisses at $1.00 each and it was rich harvest in the end. Who wouldn't like to Look cheerful and fresh, even if you have to paint to do so."

A BIG CORN CROP.

The Current Issue, in discussing the reported acreage of the cotton and corn crops, makes this timely comment:

"Cotton acreage is discussed each year and the public knows approximately what size the crop will be with average conditions in other respects, but few ever think of the corn acreage and its astounding proportions. This year's planting of corn is estimated at nearly a hundred million acres, or over three times the cotton acreage and far in excess of any one crop in the world's history. The increase of this year over last is placed at 1,361,000 acres. Such increase is largely in the South, Texas showing 7 per cent increase while Kansas shows 4 per cent, Iowa 1 per cent and Nebraska 2 per cent. There is an indication in this that Texas is going to quit buying corn so largely in the North. Texas is as truly a corn State as it is a cotton State and the area devoted to corn can be increased 20 per cent next year over this without any invasion of a healthy cotton situation.

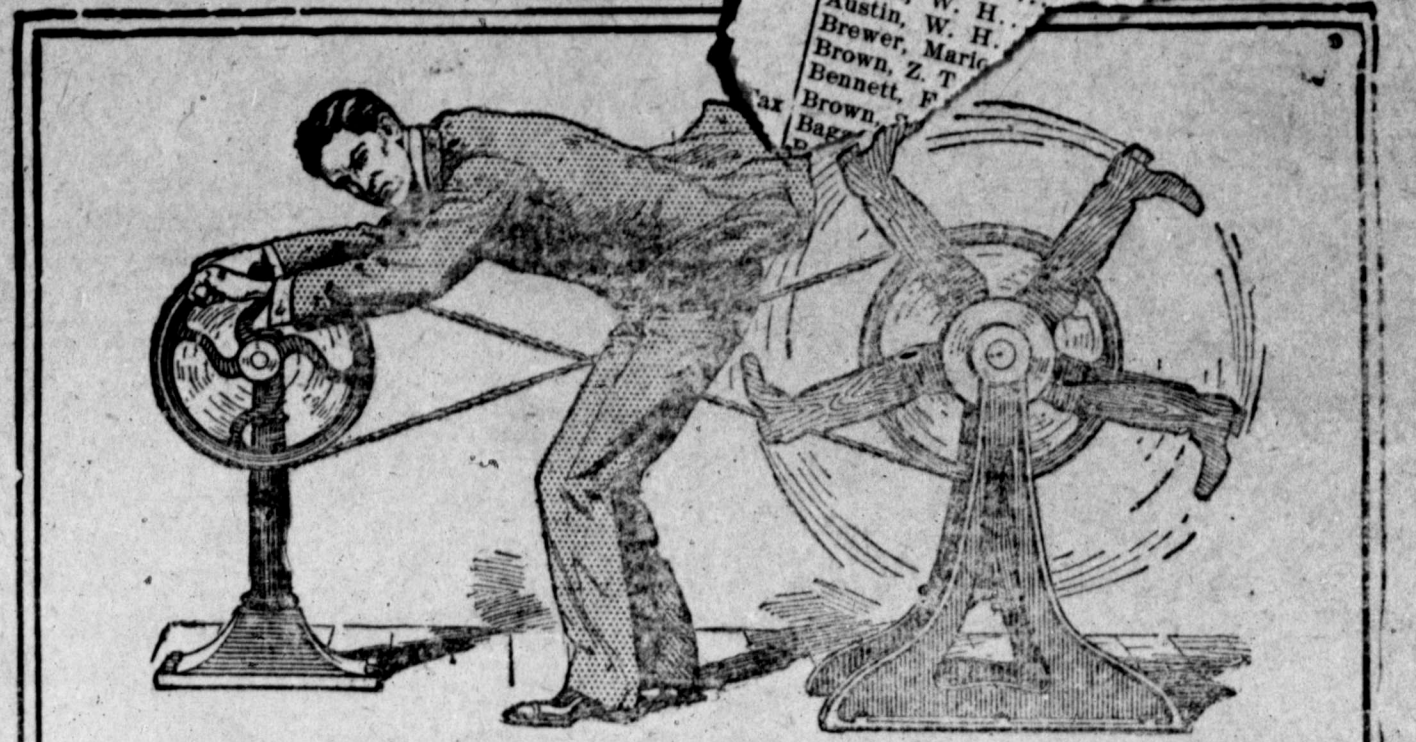

Hence the South, and especially Texas with its vast and developing domain, has the advantage of the surplus corn States that can't produce cotton. This advantage need not be used for industrial war, but for economical independence and to hold the surplus corn people down to fair averages in price. With Texas properly distributing its different crops there would be no occasion for 70-cent corn and there would be no such corn rushes as occurred last winter. High prices benefit a few Texas farmers who have a surplus to sell, but plenty of corn, even with low prices, means a full meal barrel, plenty of feed and a chance at the market with fat hogs and fat cattle. The corn acreage of next year will perhaps be a round hundred million acres. Of this Texas should have something near her due proportion."

JUDGE R. A. Pleasants of Cuero has been named by Governor Campbell to be chief justice of the Galveston court of civil appeals, vice Chief Justice W. H. Gill resigned. Judge S. A. McMeans of Palestine, a former law partner of the governor, was named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation and promotion.

THE wastefulness of America is forcefully illustrated in a news item which tells of a trainload of empty barrels, numbering in all 12,800 barrels. There were ten hoops on each barrel, which represented no less than 64,000 living hickory trees.—Beaumont Enterprise.

The only waste of timber in that trainload of barrels was that which dropped from the boring of the bung holes. According to Webster a telephone is an instrument for conveying articulate speech. Evidently Webster never went up against a San Antonio telephone.—San Antonio Light.

According to history there were no telephones in Webster's time.

This man bought a supply of tobacco without acquainting himself with the distinctive taste of SCHNAPPS Tobacco, which has the cheering qualities that gratify his desire to chew, and at less expense than cheap tobacco.

SCHNAPPS has been advertised in this paper so that every chewer has had an opportunity to get acquainted with the facts and know that drugs are not used to produce the cheering quality found in the famous Piedmont country flue-cured tobacco, and that SCHNAPPS is what he ought to chew. Still there are chewers who accept other and cheaper tobaccos that do not give the same pleasure.

Some day they'll get a taste of the real Schnapps—they'll realize what enjoyment they've missed by not getting SCHNAPPS long ago—then they'll feel like kicking themselves.

SCHNAPPS is sold everywhere in 5 cent cuts, and 10 and 15 cent plugs. Be sure you get the genuine.

No Tax on Brains.

Some members of the thirtieth legislature tried their best to pass a law taxing the newspapers and periodicals. Such a law, if passed, would naturally have come under the head of "intangible assets." I have been told that one little squash-headed representative, whose whole works would not have made the fly wheel in the mental machinery of a road lizard, grew exceedingly eloquent in his effort to tax the newspaper, and among other things said: "Look at K. Lamity's Harpoon, for instance. There's a fellow who has a circulation of 50,000 copies, makes not less than $20,000 per year, pays tax on a desk and lead pencils, and has the gall to brag about it." The trouble is you can tax property, but not brains. Just because the gentleman was dead safe on escaping all taxation on either proposition was no reason why he should have been so washish about it. I wish I knew his name. I would publish it to a certainty.—Kalamity's Harpoon.

The judges of the new court of appeals have been appointed by Gov. Campbell. They are Judge S. P. Wilson of Jacksonville, chief justice; Judge R. B. Levy of Longview and Judge Wm. F. Hodges of Paris, associate justices. Everybody in East Texas knows Judge Wilson as one of the most eminent jurists and ablest lawyers in the state, and Judge Levy has gained a statewide reputation as judge of the fourth judicial district, but Mr. Hodges is practically unknown as a lawyer. He has twice served Lamar county in the legislature, and has also been county judge of that county, but few of his most intimate acquaintances ever thought of him in connection with an important judgeship.

A STATISTICIAN says that the women of the present day are two inches taller than were the women of fifty years ago. The dear creatures come high, but we must have them.—Sulphur Springs Gazette.

The Sentinel editor has never taken the trouble to measure the height of the dear women, but we have always observed that the men have to look up to them.

To Get Started.

Some of the young men and women of good ability, good character, honest and energetic, desire to get a foothold in the business world, but cannot do so, because they are not prepared to do the work the business world demands—keep books, do stenographic work, write a good rapid hand, figure quickly and accurately, fill out notes, checks, mortgages, etc. A few months time and a small outlay of money with the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, will give you the key to the business world.

THE Bonham News says: "Many of our farmers are picking up the squares and blooms as they fall from the cotton plant and are burning them to destroy the weevil. They will also use the brush on their cultivators and plow every week during the summer. By this method they expect to make cotton this year." The farmer who sits around, stands around or walks around, and does not make an effort to destroy the boll weevil, need not be surprised if his industrious neighbor makes cotton and he don't.

IN 1870 James A. Garfield, in a speech in the lower house of congress, made this declaration in regard to the tariff: "That these (tariff) acts were made necessary by the war, few will venture to deny. It is also undeniable that heavy internal taxes imposed upon the manufacturing industries neutralized the effect of protective duties and made an increase of the tariff necessary as a measure of compensating protection. The heaviest burdens of internal taxes have been removed. I am for a protection which leads to ultimate free trade." This was thirty-seven years ago. Instead of the gradual reduction of the tariff from war rates, however, the trusts and manufacturing interests have obtained constantly increasing

THE Palestine Herald has entered upon its sixth year of existence. The Herald has been a success from its inception, and it is getting better all the while.

THE Tyler Courier announces that, beginning the first of August, the paper will inaugurate press telegraph service, and that other important features will be added. The Courier is already vastly improved since its consolidation with the Times, but we regret that the editor is so stuck up that he will not exchange his daily for The Daily Sentinel.

WHEN a new comer goes to knocking his own town it is time for him to move again. No man can succeed in any community unless he believes in it and its enterprises. His claim that he has become identified with a town is discredited when he goes to knocking, and he had as well move on. We would not give a pinch of snuff for a cornfield full of knockers unless we could put them on the block where they are not known.—Abilene Reporter.

But it is the old citizen of the town that does the most hurt by knocking. In fact he generally furnishes the hammer for the new comer to knock with.

"THE man who first put fire to domestic uses may have been great in his day, but the man who invented the ice machine is the one who is getting the acclaim just now," says the Beaumont Enterprise. And by the way, the man who invented the present process of artificial ice making is still living, or was a year or two ago, and as he is one of best known men in the country, we presume he is still in the land. Prof. Lowe, who was honored by having Mount Lowe, near Los Angeles, Cal., named for him, is the inventor, and thousands should rise up and call him blessed.—Abilene Reporter.

Prof. Lowe may be the inventor of the first machine for making artificial ice, but he was not the first to discover nor to invent the theory for making it. History alleges that the Pilgrims, while on that long, hot march across the desert, would dig holes in the sand and bury their water vessels in salt to cool the water.

FIDDLING FOR TEXAS.

President Kirby of Texas Five Million Club.

Houston, July 22.—Fiddling for Texas! Not any of your fancy violin acrobats in the second and third positions, but just plain fiddling on a plain old fiddle.

That is what President John H. Kirby of the Texas Five Million club is going to do on the excursion which leaves here on the night of August 14 for the El Paso meeting.

President Kirby will carry with him on this occasion Captain James Lawlor's famous fiddle, and according to the plans will literally fiddle his way into the border city of Texas.

The fiddle in question is an old and extremely valuable instrument, with a round, mellow tone, calculated to bring the listener right up out of his seat whenever the bow is drawn across the strings, and under Mr. Kirby's master fiddling touch, with all sorts of jigs and breakdowns reverberating through the train, the Texas Five Million club party should be very happy and merry, indeed.

Captain Lawlor said before his recent departure for St. Louis that he wouldn't trust everyone with the fiddle, because the temptation not to return it to its rightful owner might prove too strong; but having known John H. Kirby for many years he feels reasonably sure that the instrument will be in safe keeping during its long pilgrimage into the boundless west.

Mr. Kirby's artistic temperament first became apparent many years ago when as a boy he used to look with admiration upon the fiddlers at the dances held up in the old piney woods of East Texas. From that moment he felt an uncontrollable desire to be the happy possessor of a fiddle, and some time later, his desire being gratified, he set himself the task of learning "Dixie," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Old Black Joe," "The Irish Washerwoman" and other artistic and patriotic airs.

On the 9th of June, 1906, Mr. Kirby hid himself with his fiddle to the Old Fiddlers' convention at Center, Texas. After a serious bout with other musicians, whom he led a merry chase, he gathered in the second prize, which proved to be a red yearling heifer.

On that occasion tunes ran off of the Kirby bow like water out of a flume, giving the entire audience a frantic desire to "shake its feet." Reels, jigs, breakdowns, everything in the Kirby repertoire, was trotted out in an effort to land first prize, which finally went to Jordan Resinger, himself a fiddler of rare merit.

Another Ananias.

The Baltimore News is responsible for this lie:

At Clairemont, Texas, there is a wonder in the person of Mr. Henry H. Bourne, who is 90 years of age, but who is reported to look not over 45. This youthful semblance, it is alleged, being due to the use of a remarkable brand of clay found in that vicinity. In fact, this wonderful rejuvenating clay, according to the beneficiary thereof, is to be found only on a ranch owned by him in the neighborhood of Clairemont, and that is an isolated spot, the exact locality of which he has refused to divulge.

If the neighbors of Mr. Bourne are to be believed, ten years ago he looked his age, which was then 80 years; but all at once he began to grow younger in appearance, and now would be taken to be a man of 45. To make the narrative more marvelous, Bourne is growing younger every day; and should the process be kept up, it is only a question of time when he will shrink to the proportions of a boy in knickerbockers, if not to those of a babe in swaddling clothes.

Neighbors have seen samples of this clay, and have seen Mr. Bourne eat it in large quantities; but he will not give any of it away, saying the supply is limited, and, as he wants to prolong his life to 400 years, he cannot afford to squander the precious substance. This is, indeed, a most amazing story, and it shows conclusively that all the Texas liars are not yet dead.

Drilling An Artesian Well.

The Nacogdoches Ice and Cold Storage company is having an artesian well drilled at the ice factory. Mr. Frank Michaux, who had charge of the work of drilling a test well for the Texas Oil company at Oil City, has been engaged to sink this well. He has completed the derrick and will begin drilling this afternoon or tomorrow. This will be a great saving to the company as they now have to buy all water used in the manufacture of their ice from the city, and it will also enable the company to make their ice from pure artesian water.

Seven Thousand Notaries.

The secretary of state's department has nearly completed the task of issuing commissions to the notaries public who were appointed during the last session of the legislature. When the task has been completed it will be found that there will have been issued approximately 7000 commissions, which represents that number of notaries in the state, and which will be an increase of over 1000 from the number appointed two years ago.

Dallas county leads in the number of notaries public in the state, there having been 623 commissions issued for that county, while Tarrant county comes next with 414, while Harris county has 406 and Bexar county has 367. The number from Travis county is 340.—Austin Statesman.

Mr. Gus Nelson has accepted a position with the Weeks Drug company as bookkeeper. Mr. Nelson is not only a very capable man, a thorough accountant and an experienced druggist, but he is quite popular and will prove a valuable acquisition to this excellent firm.

SWEEPING IN EFFECT.

State Health Officer's Order Includes all Public Buildings.

The announcement comes from an authoritative source that within the next several days State Health Officer Brumby will issue in circular form rules and regulations for the sanitation and disinfection of public buildings of the state.

Dr. Brumby asked for an opinion from the attorney general as to what might be a public building and he says that it has been received and is sweeping in its effect.

Now, the health officer will begin a state wide campaign in the interest of better sanitation of public buildings and with the law behind him he will see that such buildings as hotels, boarding houses and the like are screened and that office buildings are disinfected and put in good sanitary condition.

Dr. Brumby has just returned from a trip through South Texas and to the state penitentiaries which he says he found in exceptionally sanitary condition.

Among other places which will be requested to put in screens will be police stations, jails, boarding houses, hotels, and the state institutions. Some little trouble will doubtless be experienced when some of these places are asked to screen their premises but since it has become known that mosquitoes and flies carry the germs of disease it is believed that a more ready compliance with the request for screens will be made. "We won't ask the owners of office buildings to screen," says Dr. Brumby, "but we will expect them to disinfect their buildings by means of sprinkling the floor with the disinfectant before sweeping, and the like." Dr. Brumby didn't ask for an opinion from the attorney general as to whether or not he could compel such places as mentioned to put in screens but believes that it can be done by reason of the discovery of the mosquito theory of spreading disease. However, it is not believed that such places will hold out against the welfare of the state and refuse the health officer's request as the mosquitoes and flies are a menace to the guests of hotels, prisoners in the jails and the inmates of the state institutions.

The welfare of the state in general is considered and a general good sanitary condition is necessary to prevent the entrance of infectious diseases or the spread of same should they get a foothold within the state.

Rich Without Money

Many a man is rich without money. Thousands of them with nothing in their pockets and thousands without even a pocket are rich. A man born with a good sound constitution, a good stomach, a good heart and good limbs and a pretty good headpiece is rich. Good bones are better than gold, tough muscles than silver, and nerves that flash fire and carry energy to every function, are better than houses and land. It is better than landed estate to have had the right kind of a father and mother. Good breeds and bad breeds exist among men as really as among cattle and horses. Education may do much to check evil tendencies, or to develop good ones, but it is a good thing to inherit the right proportion or faculties to start with. That man is rich who has a flavor of wit and fun in his composition. The hardest thing to get along with in this life is a man's own self. A cross, selfish fellow, a desponding and complaining fellow, a timid and care-burdened man, these are all born deformed on the inside. Their feet may not limp, but their thoughts do. A man of fortune on the brink of the grave would gladly part with every dollar to obtain a longer lease on life.—Exchange.

Beware of Envy.

Beware of envy, for it hatches a brood of evil thoughts and fires the brain. Do not brood over fancied wrongs or, as for that matter, real. Let not the sun go down on your wrath. Wrongs brooded over assume proportions beyond their worth. Soon a spirit of revenge will take possession of the soul and will overmaster the will. Ambition has made unnumbered graves. We refer not alone to the mounds that mark a soldier's resting place, but it has engendered many private feuds. He who would sit upon a throne has murdered babies and innocent women. Ambition has mixed deadly poisons, has whetted the dagger and sharpened the sword. Ambition has made a Lady Mebeth plot for a throne and a Mebeth to murder his rival.—Merkel Mail.

The Kansas City Packer asserts that "Texas is shifting from a shipper to a receiver of potatoes." If that be true, it is a condition for which only the farmers and truckers of Texas are responsible. There is absolutely no excuse for Texas people to cease to be shippers of potatoes, or any other staple article of produce.

THEY MUST REGISTER.

Autoists are Slow in Complying With the New Law.

From what can be learned comparatively few automobile billists are complying with the new law passed by the thirtieth legislature, which became effective July 12, requiring the owner of such autos to register his name and the number of his machine with the county clerk of the county in which he resides.

Unless the owners of motor cars and autos comply with the provisions of this act within a reasonable time, it is learned that it is the intention of the county clerks over the state to present the names of the owners of such machines to the grand jury of their respective counties for further action. This was discussed at the recent state convention of the county clerks held at San Antonio.

The fact that as a general proposition the grand juries over the state are composed to a large extent with farmers, the autoists will have a hard time, as the farmers as a rule have a decided antipathy to these machines. The new law provides that the registration fee shall be 50 cents for each machine registered.

The act also provides that the figures shall not be less than six inches in height and shall be placed in a conspicuous place on the machine, and the driver of such motor vehicle shall not run his machine at a greater speed than eighteen miles an hour in the country, and in cities and villages the speed shall not exceed eight miles an hour, and racing of autos is positively prohibited in county or in the city.

The Growth of the South.

Referring to an article in a recent issue of the World's Work, in which the statement appears that "from 1900 to 1950 the south will be the land of opportunity," and the further statement that "as our epic of the Nineteenth century was the winning of the west, so our epic of the Twentieth century will be the development of the south," the Baltimore Sun makes this appropriate comment: "The south's development has been proceeding steadily for more than a decade. Its great stores of coal and iron have scarcely been touched as yet, although the production has reached a creditable figure and is constantly expanding. The cotton manufacturing industry of the United States will in time be practically centered in the south. The production of raw cotton will also increase as the demand grows and the market price affords the planter a reasonable profit. Nearly every southern state has water power suitable for manufacturing purposes. The forests of the south are of great value—comprising hard woods, pine and cypress. With the increase in transportation facilities and the constant inflow of capital and enterprise from the north and west to supplement home capital and activity the south will make rapid progress on all lines and become in time one of the most prosperous sections of the country industrially. Its industrial expansion is retarded now only by the lack of labor, and in good season labor must find its way to so inviting a field. Statesman.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

Explanation of the Measures to be Voted on August 6.

On Tuesday, August 6, the qualified voters of Texas will be given an opportunity to vote on six amendments to the State Constitution. The only method by which the constitution of the state can be amended is by vote of the people, hence it is important that they should know something of the changes proposed in order to be able to vote intelligently. For their guidance the following brief explanation of each of the amendments is here given:

PRINTING AMENDMENT.

Under the Constitution as it is at present the state must contract with the lowest bidder for all of its printing, blank books, binding, stationary, fuel, etc. The proposed amendment provides that these may be purchased as provided by law thus leaving it possible to make the most satisfactory arrangements to be had and putting the State on an independent basis so far as its printing, etc., goes without constitutional restrictions.

HOME FOR CONFEDERATE WIDOWS.

This is an amendment that will enable the State to provide a home for the "wives, widows and women who aided in the Confederacy." The amount to be appropriated for the maintenance of the home for both men and women will be limited to $150,000. The limit for the soldiers' home at present is $100,000. The Legislature may make arrangements for husband and wife to remain together. No other change is made in this section than to merely provide for the women, as the amendment adopted in November, 1898, made provisions only for the soldiers.

GOOD ROADS AMENDMENTS.

The Constitution at present provides that bonds may be issued by a vote of the people for the purpose of macadamized or graveled roads or turnpikes, or in aid thereof, in precincts of a county, but such bonds cannot be issued for the general improvement of the roads in precincts such as grading, etc. The proposed amendment if adopted will make it possible for a precinct to issue bonds of that precinct, upon a vote of the resident property tax payers, and use the proceeds on the roads of that particular locality. The tax can never exceed thirty cents on the $100 valuation of property. If adopted this provision will become self-enacting and will require no act of the Legislature to put it in force.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

This proposed amendment provides for the establishment of the office of Commissioner of Agriculture of the State. The commissioner may be appointed by the Governor or elected by the people as the Legislature may decide and it shall also include a bureau of labor.

IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS.

An amendment proposed to the constitution is fully explained by this paragraph:

"In addition to the foregoing, cities of more than 5,000 inhabitants may lay out within their corporate limits, improvement districts in which they, by and with the consent of a majority of the tax payers owning real estate therein, may build sidewalks and charge the cost thereof against the abutting property, and may build sewers and pave streets and charge one-third of the cost thereof against the abutting property on either side of the streets upon which such improvements are made in such district and the amount charged against all such abutting property shall be deemed and held to be a tax against and a lien upon said abutting property, and the legislature is required to enact laws prescribing the means for ascertaining the amount properly chargeable against each parcel or abutting property, and providing for the enforcement of its collection."

Heretofore it has been impossible for cities and towns not having special charters to force the building of sidewalks as the city government could not build them and make the tax to pay for same a lien against the property.

PAY OF LEGISLATORS.

At present the members of the Legislature receive $5 per day for the first sixty days of a regular session and $2 per day each day after, with $5 per day for all call sessions. In addition to the per diem, mileage at the rate of 20 cents per mile each way is allowed in going to and returning from the seat of government. The proposed amendment makes the salary of the members $1,000 for each year in which a regular session of the legislature is held and $5 per day for called sessions held the second year, and the mileage is reduced from twenty cents a mile to three cents.

RESUME THE SALE.

Clergy Permits and Excess Baggage Books Not Against Law.

After withdrawing the sale of clergymen's half rate permits for four days, the San Antonio and Aransas Pass and other Texas roads which followed that road's initiative have ordered that they be sold again under the same condition as before. At the same time the sale of excess baggage books, discontinued nearly a week ago, has been resumed at the same rate. No explanation of the reasons governing the different orders has been forthcoming, except that it was believed clergy permits in the state and excess baggage books were against the anti-pass law, and pending a ruling on the matter they were discontinued.

That clergy half rate permits are not in violation of the law is proven by that section of it which expressly authorizes a half rate for ministers who make their living by preaching. It is understood that some semi-clerical persons are using the half rate permit when they are not entitled to it under the law, and it is said that steps will be taken to make them stop. The excess baggage books have always been issued, but they came up as a question of discrimination and had to be ruled on before their sale was continued.

Pleasant Lawn Party.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the lawn party given by Miss Joe Weaver last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver on Irion hill.

The beautiful lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and one of the most attractive of the decorations was an improvised spring, surrounded by sweet gum and pine boughs, where ice water was served from an old fashioned gourd.

Miss Blanche Cunningham was the honoree of the occasion and she assisted the hostess in entertaining the guests.

Refreshments were served, consisting of angel cake and punch, little Miss Nadine Weaver gracefully serving the punch. Forty-two and other games were engaged in.

UNCLAIMED SCRIPT.

List of Those Who Have Money in Clerk's Office.

There is a considerable amount of unclaimed for script in the office of the county clerk, and much of it has been there for several years. No doubt those for whom it was issued have forgotten they ever had anything coming to them, and for the information of all concerned County Clerk Spears has furnished The Sentinel the following list for publication.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by Kleas & Mast. dw

Short Sighted Selfishness.

An aged man was planting an apple tree and was accosted by a stranger, who said: "Why do you plant trees when you cannot possibly live long enough to eat the fruit of them? The old man raised himself, and leaning on his shovel said: "Someone planted trees before I was born and have eaten the fruit. I now plant for others that the memorial of gratitude may exist when I am dead gone." How like the inquisitorial mossback at the apple tree are some men today. They are opposed to voting a tax for needed public improvements because their posterity or a future generation will have it to pay. They forget that their fathers faced shot and shell and endured innumerable hardships that they might possess this land and enjoy the privileges and pleasures of freemen. How prone we are to show ingratitude to those who are responsible for our well being. —Nacogdoches Sentinel.

The short sighted selfishness of some people of today will cause their posterity to rise up and call them hard names. If each generation were to live only for itself alone, we would still be a band of savages. People should get away from that sort of thing. It requires the constant and concerted effort of a considerable number of persons to keep the race from returning to the primitive ways anyhow, and every man should be careful that he does not begin to hang back in the tracks of the harness of progress. Some men seem to be content to depend upon their tombstone to perpetuate their good deeds when they should know that the tombstone is very apt to lie about it. —Fort Worth Record.

Bad Burn Quickly Healed.

PERSONAL ACCIDENT.

Haltom Has a Leg Broken in Run Away.

From Saturday's Daily: Fayette Haltom, son of Mr. John J. Haltom, had the misfortune to get one of his legs broken this afternoon.

He was coming into town with a load of lumber, and while descending Orton hill just east of LaNana creek the team became frightened and ran away.

They ran some distance down the hill till the wagon struck a telephone post, wrecking the wagon and lumber and breaking the young man's leg.

He was brought to town and given proper medical attention, and at this time he is doing very well.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

Health Is the First Essential Toward Making a Woman Attractive.

MISS HULDA KUGLER

MISS ELIZABETH WYNN

There is a beauty and attractiveness in health which is far greater than mere regularity of feature.

A sickly, irritable, and complaining woman always carries a cloud of depression with her; she is not only unhappy herself but is a dampener to all joy and happiness when with her family and friends.

It is the bright, healthy, vivacious woman who always charms and carries sunshine wherever she goes.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging and that everything tires her; if her feminine system fails to perform its allotted duties, there is nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, headache, bearing-down pains, and irregularities, causing constant misery and melancholia, she should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from active roots and herbs will dispel all these troubles. By correcting the cause of the trouble it cures where other treatment may have failed.

Miss Elizabeth Wynn, of No. 205 8th Avenue, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "For months I suffered with dreadful headaches, pain in the back and severe hemorrhages. I was weak and out of sorts all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me when all other medicine had failed. It seemed to be just what I needed and quickly restored my health."

The Almighty Dollar.

At Weatherly, Texas, on July 4, Congressman Cooper made a speech in which he said that the love of the almighty dollar was fast taking the place of the love of the country in the hearts of his generation. Yes, and Mr. Cooper might have added that it is taking the place of the love of God, the love of home, the love of right and justice and of nearly everything else that is for the better of the moral and social advancement of mankind.—Hemphill Leader.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c. bottle. Sold by Kleas & Mast, w

TOBACCO INDUSTRY.

The following letters are self-explanatory and will prove of interest to many people in Nacogdoches County: Dear Sentinel.

San Angelo, Texas, July 16.—I herewith enclose for publication a self-explanatory letter, answering an earnest plea that I made for continuation of the experimental work in tobacco growing. I am glad of this work being carried on further. I am more enthusiastic as to success than ever, and also as to benefit to the agricultural interests. There are many things to learn about it yet. With best wishes,
Yours truly,
J. E. Mayfield.

Dr. J. E. Mayfield, Nacogdoches, Texas, My dear Sir: United States, Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, Washington, D. C., July 8.—I am in receipt of your letter of June 27 relative to the continuation of the tobacco work in Texas.

The transfer of the work from the Bureau of Soils to this Bureau will not interfere with the work in progress. In fact, the intention is to go more extensively into the development of superior strains of tobacco especially adapted to Texas conditions. We are, of course, very much interested in the diversification of crops, and, as you suggest, tobacco is one of the important crops which may be grown in connection with cotton.

We are glad to know of your interest in the work and can assure you that we shall leave no stone unturned to extend and develop the good work which has been started by the Bureau of Soils.

Very truly yours,
B. T. Galloway,
Chief of Bureau.

Best of All.

R. J. Mayher, No. 406 South Clark St., Chicago, writes as follows:

"I have kept and used your Hunt's Lightning Oil for the last ten years in my family. It is the only kind to have and the best of all."
—It cures cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, aches, pains, stings and bites. It kills chiggers, too.

Mr. C. Blankenship, a well to do farmer from Attoyac country, is in the city attending county court. Mr. Blankenship states that crop prospects are very good in his community. Corn will make an average crop and cotton is doing nicely, though there are some boll weevils.

Mrs. J. A. Drewry and daughters, Misses Kathlene and Clyde, are visiting this week in Linn Flat.

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

CHARLEY SLAY KILLED.

Three Complaints for Murder, Two Released on Bond.

From Thursday's Daily: A deplorable tragedy was enacted at the house of Octavia Sanders, a notorious colored woman, in the north-eastern portion of the city on the Logansport road, last night.

As the result Charley Slay is dead and three people are charged with murder.

The particulars of the killing as gleaned from some of the occupants of the house at the time, are as follows:

Octavia Sanders, at whose house the tragedy occurred, said that between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock, Charley Slay came to her house and knocked on the back door. She asked who it was, but got no answer. He then went to the well, drew a bucket of water and walked around to the front door and knocked again. She refused to open the door, and he went to the back door again and kicked on it three times, and then pushed the door open and entered the house. She told him, she said, not to come in, and if he did she would kill him. As Slay got inside the door she fired one shot from her pistol, the ball, she said, going through the screen door. Charley then advanced toward the door leading into the other room, in which were Kate Benton, another colored woman, Frank McCade, and Alf Edington. Just as Charley threw up his hands a pistol fired from behind her, and he fell to the floor, and as he did so exclaimed, "O he's killed me." All immediately left the room but her, and she held Charley's head in her hands till he died.

He lived only a few moments after being shot, the ball entering just below the armpit on the right side and passing through the heart, lodged just under the skin on the left side.

As soon as she saw that Charley was dead, Octavia states that she came to town and surrendered to Sheriff Blackburn, telling him that she had killed Charley Slay in her house.

Sheriff Blackburn notified Night Officer Mack James, and after putting Octavia in jail they went to the scene of the tragedy.

The body of the dead man was brought to the rooms of his brother, Oscar Slay, in the Davidson building, where it remained until this afternoon when it was carried to Appleby for burial beside his dead mother.

This morning Sheriff Blackburn went to Hayward mill and brought in Edington and McCade, and after investigation complaint was filed against each of them and Octavia Sanders, charging them with murder. At noon today Edington and McCade waived examination before County Judge C. D. Mims, who fixed each of their bonds at $2000, which they readily gave. They have retained Attorneys King & King to defend them.

Edington and McCade refused to make any statement whatever.

Octavia Sanders is still in jail.

CHILDREN'S RATE.

Anti-Pass Law Does Not Affect Half Fare.

Referring to a dispatch emanating from Austin, and stating that the railroads, under one interpretation of the anti-pass law, could not grant half rates to children, as has been done for years, Mr. Joseph Hellen, general passenger agent of the Texas and New Orleans railroad, this morning showed that the half fare rate for children was an established legal rate, and as such was not subject to the anti-pass law provisions.

Going back to the history of the half fare for children, Mr. Hellen said that the railroad commission years ago decided that children between 5 and 12 years of age should not be charged but half the adult rate. This was in the form of an order of the commission, and hence became a legal and statutory rate for children. Every road has complied with it since its promulgation, and there has never been any question but what it was a legal rate, just as is 3 cents per mile for adults.

Mr. Hellen called attention to those portions of the recent anti-pass law which make a uniform rate imperative. Section 1 of the law reads that no one shall "use a pass, frank or substitute for pay instead of the regular fare or rate of transportation." The "regular fare or rate for transportation" for children is one-half the adult rate.

Again, the anti pass law says that the railroads shall not charge a "greater or less rate than is charged to all persons under the same conditions." All persons between the ages of 5 and 12 may avail themselves of the half-rate privileges, and thus the same rate is charged to all persons under the same condition.

Farther down the law says that the same rate shall be charged to all parties for similar service. The charging of a half rate to children between the ages mentioned is giving a similar service to all in that class, and, consequently, is legal, even if the original order of the railroad commission should be made void.—Houston Chronicle.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change: ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the check of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form witness the fact in renewed complexion. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments. Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

WEEVIL REMEDY.

Methods of Warfare Against the Pests.

In a recent circular issued to cotton farmers, Dr. Knapp, the government expert, outlines the following method of warfare against the boll weevil:

You should pick up and destroy all infested forms. This is best done in the early morning. Later, during the heat of the day, brush the weevils and infested forms off by brushing the cotton with a pine top, striking across the row so as to knock as many forms and weevils as possible into the middles. This knocks both forms and weevils into the hot, dry sand and many mature weevils perish, if the sand is finely pulverized and free from trash.

Plowing the weevils or infested forms under the soil will not destroy them, unless they are covered very shallow, as the moisture in the soil prevents this, and they will work out of a depth of four inches.

In connection with these cautions should go thorough cultivation. The soil should be kept finely pulverized and shallow cultivation should be practiced at least once a week. This cultivation should be kept up just as long as possible. It should extend well into August at least, even at the risk of injuring some cotton. Picking the squares and the brushing should also be practiced at least once a week and kept up as long as possible.

Dry, hot weather is the greatest enemy of the weevil, and at the same time is the condition best suited to the most rapid development of the plant, provided a dust mulch is maintained so as to prevent the escape of moisture.

That these methods will win has been proven thousands of times. We give one instance from last year's experience: A field of 15 acres, plowed eight times and hand-picked, produced 11 bales of cotton at $50, equal $600. Another of 90 acres, plowed three times, produced 15 bales, equal $750. The first produced $40.15 worth of cotton per acre, while the latter netted only $8.33. The man who plowed eight times received compensation at the rate of $5.73 per plowing. The other received only $2.77 per plowing.

You can make cotton. As said above, it remains with the individual. If the people will make the fight they will win.

The chief is under obligations to his old friend, Muck Casper, for a fine water melon left on his front gallery this week. It was sweet and juicy and was eaten with relish and a kindly thought of the esteemed donor.

H. T. Crain and Joe Woolseifer left this afternoon over the T. & N. O. for St. Louis, Mo., and Evansville, Ind., to buy a stock of furniture for the Burk-Crain Furniture company. They will be gone about three weeks.

A VALUABLE INDUSTRY.

What One Small Canning Factory Has Done.

From the Denison Gazetteer.

Editor W. T. Gass, of the Fannin County Democrat, called at the Gazetteer office and presented the editor with a case of Ravenna brand plums, put up at Ravenna, a little town of only 600 people, east of Denison twenty miles. The plant has been in operation only one month and the astonishing output is as follows: 60,000 cans blackberries; 25,000 cans plums; 40,000 cans peaches; 15,000 cans beans.

Waples-Platter wholesale grocery house of this city, has placed an order for six car loads. Fort Worth and Dallas have also placed large orders. There is no trouble at all disposing of the products. The plant gives employment to about forty people. They expect to operate until the holidays.

Their prices are: $1.50 per 100 pounds for beans; good peaches, 50 cents per bushel; blackberries, 15 cents per gallon; plums, 50 cents per 100 pounds. They will also be able to handle okra, pumpkins, sweet potatoes, etc., in season, and later will can large quantities of hominy.

Editor Gass tells the whole truth in the following editorial in connection with the Ravenna canning industry:

"Every farmer should avail himself of this opportunity to sell all of his surplus products and at the same time turn in to cash fruit and vegetables that have heretofore rotted on his hands or been fed to his hogs. It also builds up a permanent home market. Patronize and build up home industries and keep your money at home—it will come back to you again."

UNWRITTEN HISTORY.

Uncle of James Whitcomb Riley Talks of Wilkes Booth.

Dr. J. S. Riley, an aged uncle of the Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, is a well preserved man, though 92 years old. He takes an active interest in the events of the day, and he sheds much light on the past, especially the assassination of Lincoln. Dr. Riley holds that Wilkes Booth was not a Secession fanatic as history tells us. He says, however, that Booth used the fanaticism of others in his attempt to carry out his plot to put Stanton and Seward to death at the same time he assassinated Lincoln. Lincoln had promised Booth that he would interpose his pardoning power and save his boyhood friend and college chum Capt. John Y. Bell. Bell was under sentence to hang for the part he had played in an expedition got ten up for the purpose of releasing 700 Confederate officers confined in a prison on Johnson Island near Sandusky, Ohio. Stanton and Seward persuaded Lincoln to break his promise and let Capt. Bell hang.

When Booth heard of the hanging of his friend and that Stanton and Seward were responsible for Lincoln's breaking his pledge, he fell into a rage and swore that he would kill the president and that his two secretaries should die with him.

Special Notice

Other "chill remedies" have sprung up, flourished for a brief season, then passed away—even from memory— but for twenty long years Cheatham's Chill Tonic has been in the field of action. The reason is simple. It has merit. It actually cures chills and fevers while the majority of others merely promises to. One bottle guaranteed to cure any one case.

BAD BLOOD THE SOURCE OF ALL DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength. When this life stream is flowing through the system in a state of purity and richness we are assured of perfect and uninterrupted health; because pure blood is nature's safe-guard against disease. When, however, the body is fed on weak, impure or polluted blood, the system is deprived of its strength, disease germs collect, and this trouble is manifested in various ways. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains. These impurities and poisons find their way into the blood in various ways. Often a sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the venous and biliary waste, leaves the refuse and waste matters to sour and form uric and other acids, which are taken up by the blood and distributed throughout the circulation. Coming in contact with contagious diseases is another cause for the poisoning of the blood, and also the germs and microbes of Malaria enter our lungs, and when they get into the blood in sufficient quantity it becomes a carrier of disease to all parts of the body. Some are so unfortunate as to inherit bad blood, perhaps the result of some old constitutional disease of one of their ancestors, and they are constantly annoyed and troubled with it. Bad blood is the source of all disease, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and purified the body is sure to suffer in some way. For blood troubles of any character S. S. S. is the best remedy ever discovered. It goes down into the circulation and removes any and all poisons, supplies the healthful properties it needs, and completely and permanently cures blood diseases of every kind. The action of S. S. S. is so thorough that hereditary taints are removed and weak, diseased blood made strong and healthy so that disease cannot remain. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and does not leave the slightest trace of the trouble for future outbreaks. The whole volume of blood is renewed and cleansed after a course of S. S. S.—It is also nature's greatest tonic, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely harmless to any part of the system. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

Marshal and Fire Chief Hot After Property Owners.

City Marshal Matthews and Fire Chief DeMouche made a tour of the fire district yesterday, and as the law requires made inspection of all flues and buildings. What they discovered and the condition in which the flues are in will be submitted in a report to the city council at its next meeting. It is stated by them, however, that they did not find everything in order.

As Mr. DeMouche puts it, somebody is going to have to appear before the city recorder if they do not begin at once to comply with the law.

In many instances, he states, they found piles of trash, paper, rubbish and other combustible material in too close proximity to buildings, and only a lighted match or a burning cigar stump or a cigarette is necessary to start a disastrous conflagration.

This is in violation of Article 154 of the city ordinances, which reads as follows:

Art. 154. If any person within this city shall throw, leave, place or deposit, or shall suffer his or her servant, or child, or employe, to throw, leave, place or deposit, any putrid or unsound meats, fish, hides, offal or filth of any kind, paper, straw, or wood of any kind, or decayed vegetables, or fruits, or melons of any kind, or grass, leaves, weeds, brush, or yard sweepings, or manure of any kind, or glass, nails, metal or earthen ware, or any kind of refuse matter, in any square, street, alley, or any public place in this city, he shall be fined not less than two nor more than ten dollars.

Efforts have been made repeatedly to persuade the citizens of Nacogdoches to comply with this ordinance, but with stoic indifference many of them have continued to ignore it.

There are only two common causes for fires—carelessness and the incendiary's torch, and in either case somebody is to blame. When a property owner negligently and knowingly permits a fire trap to remain even for one day in too close proximity to his building, he need not be surprised to wake up some fine morning to find his house in ashes, and perhaps the house of his neighbor.

There is also danger of his insurance policy being canceled.

Don't put too much confidence in the ability of the fire fighters to save your property from destruction, but get busy at once and clean up.

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman, who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Sour Stomach

I tried nearly every so-called kidney remedy that came to my notice, but with no success until after reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured them at Kleas & Mast's drug store. The first box relieved me to such an extent that I had confidence in their value. After using two more boxes the severe pains in my back ceased to annoy me. To my knowledge I can state that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy of the kind, and it is a genuine pleasure for me to recommend them to anyone."

From The Confederate Home.

District Clerk R. W. Murphy is in receipt of a letter from Mr. F. M. Sloan, who recently went to the confederate home at Austin. Mr. Sloan writes quite interestingly of his treatment at the home and the many conveniences and privileges of the inmates.

He says:

"The home is much better than I expected. We have every comfort we need—good board, good beds, good brick buildings—everything we need. We have laundry to wash our clothes, we get tobacco once a week, have a bath house, a fine library with all kinds of books and newspapers to read, have a post-office in the headquarters building, and we have nothing to do but eat and sleep."

Mr. Sloan is anxious to have all his old friends write to him.

Do you really enjoy what you eat? Does your food taste good? Or do you have a heavy, dull feeling after meals, sour stomach, belching gas on the stomach, bad breath, indigestion and dyspepsia? If so, you should take a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol will nourish and strengthen your digestive organs and furnish the natural digestive juices for your stomach. It will make you well. It will make your food do you good. Turn your food into good rich blood. Kodol digests what you eat. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. dw

WILLIAM A. WALLING.

Died From the Effects of Injuries at Cleveland.

From Monday's Daily:

Mr. William A. Walling, vice president of the Walling Lumber company, died at his home in Cleveland, Texas, Sunday from the effects of injuries received Friday at the company's mill at that place.

Mr. Walling was working around the skidway at the mill when a log got loose from the men handling it, rolling onto and crushing one of Mr. Walling's legs. The injured limb was amputated between the knee and hip, but Mr. Walling could not survive the shock, and he died Sunday.

Deceased was born in Taylor county, Georgia, near the city of Macon, May 21, 1840, and was therefore past 67 years of age at the time of his death.

He leaves a wife and ten children, seven sons and three daughters, to mourn his death. Two of his sons, D. A. and E. F. Walling, reside in Nacogdoches. The remains were brought here today and will be interred in the City cemetery this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence of D. A. Walling on North Fredonia street, Rev. A. J. Miller, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

From Appleby.

Appleby, July 22.—There is some sickness in our community. Mrs. McCall has gone to Marlin for her health. She has been right poorly for some time, and it is hoped that the trip will benefit her.

The Old Harpers sang at the school house yesterday, and all seemed to enjoy themselves. While the old folks enjoyed the singing, the young folks enjoyed themselves talking.

Mr. Will Skeeters was able to go visiting yesterday. Guess he will soon be at his post again.

Our school will be under the management of Prof. Tindall for the next term. Prof. Hale will teach at Douglass. We regret very much to give him up, but our loss is Douglass' gain. They have wisely chosen their teacher.

George Adams, one of the neighbor boys, will assist in the school at Garrison. Think they will be pleased with him.

Lee Langley will be at home in two weeks. He is attending the summer normal at Huntsville.

It is getting dry again and a good rain would be of great benefit.

Symptoms. Sour stomach, nasty taste in mouth, sick headache, sallow complexion, the world your enemy.

Cause. Constipation, inactive liver, overflow of bile into the system.

Moral Training For Business Life.

The Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, is the only commercial school in the South or West that begins the day's work with regular morning exercises, where the moral training of the students is cared for. Many students have been heard to remark when completing their course that if they had received nothing except the advice and inspiration received at the morning exercises, they would have been well paid for attending this school.

Moral training is the balance wheel of business success. Parents should consider this when seeking a school for their sons and daughters to attend.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Kleas & Mast. dw

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala.

There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by Kleas & Mast. dw

Now on North Street.

The work of installing the new water works plant is progressing nicely. Engineer Brockman and Superintendent Shindler have the main laid on South Fredonia street from the southeast corner of the square to the T. & N. O. railroad, and across to Church street, and they have a force of fifty hands putting down the six inch main on South North street.

It is the intention to start to work on the power house within the next few days. The boilers and pumps have been shipped from the factory.

Long Live the King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the proven remedy. Guaranteed by Kleas & Mast. dw
