Damage on The Morale.

A. L. Cordova, who lives six and a half miles south from here, on the Spanish Bluff road, was in the city this afternoon, having come over to learn what damage had been done by the wind and rain storm. He stated that a terrific wind visited their section this morning about day break, and with the rain, did a deal of damage. Travel is impossible by vehicle this morning, more than three or four miles from town, on account of fallen trees. The storm cut a path through timber, blowing down big trees, that looked almost immovable. Crops are damaged by wind and rain, especially corn, which is flat, and lots of it broken off. He states that the farmers in his section are all more or less damaged, and what yesterday looked like splendid prospects, are today gone. Corn suffered the most, and a half crop would be appreciated now. Cotton is damaged by the rain, but has a chance to come out. The Morale is higher than it has been this year, and was still rising when he crossed. The Spanish Bluff folks have had considerable more rain than any others in the county, a regular waterspout having fallen there a few weeks ago, when the hail came.

Storm at Mill.

During the storm early this morning the blow pipe running from the planer to the fuel room at Hayward Mill was blown down, causing about $600.00 damages. The planer will be shut down until the pipe is replaced which will be about eight or ten days.

Additional Storm News.

Reports received today from the county in reference to yesterday's blow and rain state that considerable damage resulted to some of the farmers. A number of big tobacco barns were blown down, some completely demolished. Jim Halton, Nat Sisco and W. H. King are among the men who suffered by having their tobacco barns damaged. Mr. Sisco's is said to have been one of the largest and the most modern in this section. Alton Smith had a shed demolished, covering a couple of head of stock, and injuring a fine mule. Henry Hoya's barn was blown down and several head of stock pinioned, requiring about three hours to saw them out. No serious damage to the stock is reported. At Appleby a good rain and some hail fell, but the wind was not very high. In the Redfield section no damage was done. The biggest damage to crops was evidently in the Moral creek section where the blow was terrific, and where much corn was broken off. The cotton is said to be all right.

INTERESTING U. C. V. MEETING.

Camp Raquet, No. 620, Elects Delegates to Memphis Reunion, And Endorses Houston's Candidacy—Petition to Governor Campbell.

The best and largest attended meeting for some time of the United Confederate Veterans was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, at the Court House. The matter of electing delegates to the Memphis convention, June 8, 9, and 10, was first discussed. Just who will be the two delegates and four alternates is yet not known, but as a number of the old soldiers are planning to attend the gathering, these representatives can easily be gotten. A committee was appointed to confer with the Daughters of the Confederacy relative to the program for next Thursday, June 3, when the Crosses of Honor will be presented. The ladies have selected E. H. Blount as their spokesman and the veterans elected Judge E. B. Lewis to respond. The veterans passed a formal resolution requesting Governor Campbell to appoint a Confederate Veteran to the newly created office of Commissioner of Pensions. A re-

RAIN AND WIND STORM.

City and Vicinity Visited By Terrible Blow. Accompanied By Heavy Down Pour Considerable Damage is Reported.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Nacogdoches city and the immediate surrounding vicinities was visited this morning by a small cyclone, supposedly from the damage done, and accompanying it was a down pour of nearly two inches of rain. The first cloud came up about three or four o'clock, some rain falling then, and a light northwest wind blowing. No damage resulted from that however, but after five o'clock another cloud seemed to form in the northwest, at the same time one gathering in the southwest. Many people experienced the unusual occurrence of the wind blowing from two directions at the same time. A few minutes later the two clouds met northwest from the city, and in a very short time swept down through the business portion, tearing up trees, uprooting some, blowing down fences, out houses, sign boards, and frightening folks who witnessed it, many thinking Nacogdoches was going to be

Mr. Olsen Here.

Otto Olsen came in yesterday afternoon, and today he and George T. McNess went in the country to look over tobacco crops and the prospects. They will return tonight, and Mr. Olsen will be in the city tomorrow. He stated that Mr. Hinson will likely be here the latter part of the week, having been delayed at Palestine. Mr. Hinson left that city yesterday afternoon for College Station.

dealt a similar fate to western towns cyclone struck. The path of the storm was hardly more than a hundred yards in width, and must have merely skimmed along, rising and dipping, as not all in the direct path was damaged. As far as can be learned no great damage was done, particularly parties, though many are damaged from ten to a hundred dollars by having property destroyed or partly so. The wind first did its work on the Harris Heights, a number of fences, sheds, etc. being torn down. Further toward town many more fences and great lot of trees suffered, some of them being broken off and others uprooted. A Zeve had seven or eight blown down in his yard. Mrs. Wade lost several shade trees; quite a number on the Hoya lot went down; and on Mound and Lananna streets it is said that a regular block ade existed for some time. The gallery on the Cox building, corner Main street, was completely wrecked, and the awnings of several build-

You Make a Great Mistake

In trying to farm successfully without the use of

Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer

It is not too late yet to use some on your late cotton. In fact every acre of cotton yet to be planted should be fertilized, thus making a largely increased yield and causing crop to mature early.

Hundreds of good farmers will tell you that it pays to use Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer. They have tried it and know.

Your corn crop yield can be doubled by use of fertilizer just as the stalk bunches for tassel. This is when the stalk needs support to form a good heavy ear.

Try a few acres this way and be convinced. We know that it is for your good.

HALTOM & HALTOM, Proprietors.
GILES M. HALTOM, Manager.

THE fair,—don't forget it. Thursday is the date for the meeting.

AN acre well tilled is worth ten acres poorly cultivated. Try it one year and see for yourself.

BEAUMONT is to have deep water, but it won't compare with the water of Lake Charles;—still the two kinds mixed might taste all right.

THE rains have been worth thousands of dollars to the people of Nacogdoches county and prospects for bumper crops were never better. It's a great county,—but don't forget the fair.

How about that open meeting for the teachers? Ought to be,—and this week too. Start the ball rolling and show the visitors that this is a live, appreciative city. Name the date and place.

DESPITE Patten's assertion that he has no corner on wheat, that commodity continues to climb, and has already reached the $1.50 per bushel round. The only way to whip him is to raise a living at home.

NACOGDOCHES could get one of the state experiment stations if the people would go after it. Organization, determination, concert of action, and some good, hard work can accomplish lots of things. The fair, for instance.

CENTER people are also talking a creamery, as well as a cannery. Those two institutions will come in real nicely for the splendid little townery and here's hoping she will winnery. It's a good thing—the fair.

A WEST Texas correspondent writes that "we have had a glorious rain and the bridges have all been washed away." Evidently the rain was glorious because the bridges are gone and the folks can't get back to most excellent old East Texas.

NACOGDOCHES has a water wagon at last. Lots of people have been riding that ancient vehicle for some time, but the fact hasn't kept the dust down. The new wagon will allay the nuisance and be worth a sum of money to the merchants.

PROSPECTS in Nacogdoches county are the finest ever, according to the report of parties who have been in the country the past few days. Nacogdoches county is powerfully good anytime, and right now it looks better than common. Boost for the best place under the sun and push the fair along.

THE man who owns a little farm, all paid for, and is improving it and enriching the soils while it is yielding a living, is the richest fellow in East Texas. He may not be the wealthiest from the standpoint of money and lands and other properties, but he is easily the most independent,—and independence is richness.

THE creamery business in Texas is a feature worth while,—viewed from a distance. Nacogdoches county folks ought to get closer to the proposition by establishing one at home. Creameries pay too,—a fact not to be overlooked.

THE candidates for governor have a way of writing to their "intimate" friends announcing that they will "in all probability" aspire to the gubernatorial chair. "If the people desire." Great is the political game in Texas, and so solicitous are the men who have ambitions.

THE East Texas editors have fallen in line for an East Texas Press Association, and it forecasts as if such an organization will be perfected during this summer. There are at least one hundred of the craft in East Texas, that should take out membership besides those of other sections. Much good can be accomplished by a Press Association.

"FARMER" Gus Shaw has announced that he is in the case for governor, and has already begun to erect political fences. Judge Poindexter of Cleburne is a candidate, Cone Johnson has declared, R. V. Davidson is sparring, etc., et al have eyes Austinward, and goodness knows what things and who are playing hide and seek behind closed doors. Any way there is every promise of something doing politically next year.

THIS from the Timpson Times is a gem of logic with its reasoning verified every day: "Give a man a pencil and paper and he will soon tell what he is and what he knows, although he may not write a line concerning himself." And were it not for the charity of the editor who "dresses up" his communication many people would be estimated for their true worth.

THE fair proposition is the best thing that has offered for sometime, and not one citizen should fail to be on hand at the meetings, to hear and to take part. Already several business men have signified their intention of becoming active and taking stock. It is a splendid move. The farmers want a fair and the merchants want a fair. Both should get into the movement strong. It will prove a great thing for this county and section.

A WORD to you sonny—you little twelve or thirteen-year old boy who is smoking cigarettes on the sly. What do you want to be when you grow up—a stalwart, healthy, vigorous, broad-shouldered man, or a little, puny, measley, no 'count weakminded dude? If you want to be a man, strong like a man, with hair on your face, brains in your head and muscles in your limbs, you just let those cigarettes alone. If you want to be a thing pitied by your folks, despised by the girls, and held in contempt by their fellows, keep right on smoking and end your days in the insane asylum.—Venus Times.

WHEAT IN EAST TEXAS.

The San Augustine Tribune is advocating the growing of wheat in East Texas, citing the fact that wheat has been grown in the section in the past, but the people had gotten out of the habit. That is one trouble in East Texas. It was away back in generations past that East Texas grew its own living, but too many of the younger generations seem to have gotten out of the habit, or what is probably nearer the truth, never acquired it.

There is undoubtedly much land in East Texas upon which wheat could be grown with a minimum of labor and expense, and it would net a fair return.

While the land might be considered more valuable for other crops, like tobacco, peanuts, broom corn, etc., yet much of it is not of no value now whatever because it is not utilized for crops, and to plant it to wheat would give a clear profit and would help

Let us take time for the good-bye kiss. We shall go to the day's work with a sweeter spirit for it. Let us take time to speak kind words to those we love. By and by when they can no longer hear us, our foolishness will seem more wise than our best wisdom. Let us take time to be pleasant. Let us take time to get acquainted with our families. The wealth you are accumulating may be a doubtful blessing to the son who is a stranger to you. REDUCED FARES JUNE 1ST.

All Railroads Recognize Nacogdoches as Health and Pleasure Resort—Teachers Should Be Welcomed.

June C. Harris, of the firm of Lindsey and Harris, proprietors of the Aqua Vitae Park, stated Saturday that all railroads in the United States would put on sale tomorrow, June 1st, tickets to Nacogdoches for one and one-third fare, round trip, good for sixty days. This is what is termed summer resort rates, and applies to only established places of the kind, like Hot Springs, Lick Springs, Mineral Wells, Marlin and other resorts. This concession for Nacogdoches has only been secured after persistent efforts by the management of the wells and Park, and speaks volumes for the enterprise and activity in endeavoring to make this city a popular place for people in search of health or pleasure. The railroad people have entered into the matter with a great deal of zeal however, and have signified their intentions of doing all possible to make Nacogdoches the leading resort of this section and one of the best in the South. Everything is here for that but amusements, and they must come or the railroads will not supply the people,—and the people won't come. In reference to this it might be stated that Mr. Harris expressed a delight at the outlook for this city, and believes that the citizens of Nacogdoches are already beginning to realize the importance of amusements, recreation, and the other contingents necessary for the success of a health and pleasure resort, and are going to get busy. There needs to be considerable activity right now, and some one or several of the folks should get their heads together and for the purpose of providing more things in the amusement line. Among other things there should be an orchestra, regularly employed to give concerts, day and night, at some place in the city. At the College Campus, say an afternoon or night, on the city square at another time, at the Park occasionally, and at any other points where thought convenient and pleasing. This same orchestra could, and should, meet all afternoon trains and dispense music,—as is done at other resorts. It was stated in reference to this, that if the city fails to take an interest in the matter, and fails to provide recreation for the visitors, the railroads will soon consider the feature unprofitable, and would take Nacogdoches off the resort list. Mr. Harris expressed the opinion that this city has an opportunity to double in population in the next five years, if the people will take advantage of it, and co-operate in things looking to a "popular place".

"Another matter that Nacogdoches folks should take up is an open meeting for the teachers who are here attending the Summer Normal", said Mr. Harris. "These people should be welcomed by the citizens and should be recognized in a way that will be both pleasing and beneficial. The teachers who are here, may prove either advertisers or knockers, to be right plain, and it is up to Nacogdoches to say which. My idea is that an open meeting should be held some time during the week, with music and a brief program. At least something should be done to show recognition of the teachers. Of course Nacogdoches is glad to have them, and bids them welcome, but that does not take the place of a real, genuine, meeting and some talking and entertainment."

School Money Depository.

Bids were opened by the School Board Saturday, from the banks for handling school money for the current year. The successful bidder was the Farmers and Merchants bank, offering 4 per cent. Stone Fort bid 8-1-10 and Commercial 8-8-10 per cent. The amount of money will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Capt. T. W. Blount returned Tuesday from a visit of several days with relatives at Nacogdoches. He drove through the country in a single buggy and reports the roads in splendid condition with the exception of the several rocky hills in this county. With these hills improved the road could be classed as one of the very best in the State, and fit for an automobile pike.—San Augustine Tribune.

Texas to raise its own food-stuffs. It is a fact that the big flour mills of which Texas boasts, which were built with the expectation that Texans would raise wheat, have to depend upon the wheat farms of Kansas for their supply of the cereal, and that only recently this Kansas wheat was brought in New York, at a valuation raised by the added transportation charges from Kansas to New York, and brought to Texas by water by the way of Galveston.—Beaumont Enterprise.

MEN who build sidewalks are men who build towns, and cities that have street crossings are cities that progress. Nacogdoches has reached that stage in her career where these two things are absolutely necessary, and the enterprising folks would do well to get in action. Sidewalks and street crossings are seemingly small matters to some folks, and are passed by with out thought, but the addition of them to Nacogdoches would please the people, and especially the ones who pay taxes.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga. — "I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and disease, and I could not stand more than a minute at a time. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured." — LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 3, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

The Richest Woman In The World.

Some time back a woman, a Mrs. Nancy Picknew died, and because she had many millions it was announced that the richest woman in the world was dead.

Not on your ostriche plume. Not on your diamond sunburst. Not on your imported gown, the grandest creation ever done by Worth. The richest woman in the world is legion. She still lives. She is here and there and every where. She has a sweet temper; she is amable; she loves her husband and her children; she never scandalizes her neighbors; she never flirts; she makes her home a heaven; she is decent; she is the richest woman in the world. All the laces, all the silks, all the satins, all the jewels and all the money ever coined would not make riches like a lovely woman with a soul. This thing of people getting the idea into their thimble full of brains that money alone will make riches—that is some more street corner talk. Wealth—that may be different, but riches in goodness and temper beat all the gold that Uncle Sam ever put his autograph on.

The richest women in the world are still living, although one of the most wealthy at the time of her demise may not now be here—but she left another wealthy, so the one living is really here the wealthiest woman in the world. Get this under your sun-bonnet, my old fashion country woman, get it there and think it over. Make your daughter understand that gold alone won't make riches—that there are other things. And when she sets the old hen and only gets a half dozen chickens where she thought she would have thirteen she may be happy. —The Yellow Jacket.

THE EAST TEXAS B. Y. P. U. Great Preparations Are Being Made For Second Annual Encampment at Jacksonville—Many Prominent Speakers.

The East Texas B. Y. P. U. Encampment will hold its second annual meeting in Jacksonville June 25th to July 5th. Every preparation is being made for the comfort and convenience of the large crowd. Mr. E. S. P'Pool corresponding secretary of the encampment says there is a general interest and enthusiasm awakened from Texarkana to the Gulf. There were present last season 5000 the first Sunday. Under the more favorable conditions this year a larger number is expected. The time is set in the midst of the fruit season for which this section is noted and the visitors will get the full benefit of the luscious fruit.

The encampment controls what is regarded by many as the most beautiful camp ground in Texas, consisting of 26 acres of meadow, woodland, hills and valley, with a beautiful lake of clear water for boating and bathing supplied by two perennial springs from the hills within easy walk from the stations of three great railroad lines, the Texas and New Orleans, the Cotton Belt, and the International and Great Northern, and is accessible by direct daylight passage from Dallas, Houston, Beaumont, Shreveport, Texarkana and intermediate points. The encampment management opens this magnificent camp ground to everybody free from gate fees, etc. Campers may bring their own equipment or may rent tents, comfortable beds, cots and all conveniences at a price as cheap as living at home. The city of Jacksonville is putting in concrete walks, crossings and street improvements, which with its already beautifully shaded streets, and yards and its central location bides fair to become the assembly city for all great east Texas gatherings. The East Texas B. Y. P. U. Encampment is permanently located here.

Some of the most noted speakers on the program are Rev. L. R. Scarborough, D. D., Waco Professor of Evangelism in the Theological Seminary; Rev. Caleb A. Ridley, pastor at Beaumont; Rev. J. H. Gambrell, D. D. Marlin; Rev. J. Frank Norris, editor Baptist Standard, Dallas; Rev. F. M. McConnell, superintendent Evangelism Texas Baptist convention, Dallas; Rev. Forrest Smith, pastor of Sherman; Rev. Harvey Beauchamp, Sunday school specialist Southern Baptist convention, Dallas; Rev. J. F. Love, D. D., superintendent Home Mission board Southern Baptist convention, Dallas; Rev. B. Mooy, Tennessee; Rev. S. J. Porter, secretary of Foreign Mission board Southern Baptist convention Richmond, Va.; Rev. Finlay F. Gibson, D. D., Ft. Smith, Arkansas; Rev. Tilman B. Johnson, D. D., Texarkana, Arkansas, et al. As guest of the Baptist of the Encampment, Rev.

Seth Ward, D. D., Bishop of the Methodist church will preach Sunday morning June 27th introduced by the Methodist pastor, W. W. Watts.

Among the laymen speakers of prominence are Mr. E. E. Lee Young People's specialist Southern Baptist convention, Dallas; J. Howard Ardrey, cashier Trinity National bank, Dallas; Mr. M. H. Wolfe, president Layman's movement, the great cotton king, Dallas; Hon. O. S. Lattimore, Fort Worth; Dr. R. B. Longmire, Jacksonville; Hon. T. B. Butler, Tyler; Dr. A. L. Montgomery and Mr. R. H. Brown the great Sunday school teacher, Tyler; Prof. J. L. Kesler, the eloquent speaker of Baylor University, Mr. L. A. Coulter, state secretary of Y. M. C. A. of Texas; Hon. Sterling P. Strong, Dallas, et al.

Music will be under the direction of Mr. J. A. Brown, the prince of song leaders of Texas, who will play his famous golden harp and other instruments, and direct the large choir and the multitude in song.

Special convention rates will be on all railroads with dates of sale June 25, 26, 27, 30, July 2, 3, 4. Jacksonville will extend a hearty welcome to all and will give the campers a taste of real Southern hospitality. Mr. E. S. P'Pool the corresponding secretary will give information, send beautiful souvenir programs to any asking for them, and will look after the general comfort of the visitors. There is promise of a good time to all who come.

A Hair Dressing

If you wish a high-class hair dressing, we are sure Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will greatly please you. It keeps the hair soft and smooth, makes it look rich and luxuriant, prevents splitting at the ends. And it keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

At the same time the new Ayer's Hair Vigor is a strong hair tonic, promoting the growth of the hair, keeping all the fissures of the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. The hair stops falling, dandruff disappears. A splendid dressing.

Capt. R. D. Chapman left today for Dallas after a two week's stay here. He came to drink Aqua-Vitae and goes away a strong enthusiastic over Nacogdoches' mineral waters.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace For The Sufferer From Kidney Troubles.

No peace for the kidney sufferer—

Pain and distress from morn to night.

Get up with a lame back.

Twinges of backache bother you all day.

Dull aching breaks your resting at night.

Urinary disorders add to your misery.

Get at the cause—cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—

Have made great cures in Nacogdoches.

Mrs. Josie Weaver, living on North Fredonia street, Nacogdoches, Texas, says:

"For a long time a friend of mine had been troubled by a pain in the back and I was sure that it was all due to a disordered condition of the kidneys. At night sleep was out of the question on account of a dull aching across the joints and kidneys. Hearing so many people speak in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and advised their use. Beneficial results were obtained from the first, and a continued use proved most satisfactory. I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers of kidney complaint. They were procured at Mast Bros. & Smith's drug store."

NEGRO SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Jasper Driver Ends Career of Tom Anderson With Load of Buck Shot—Surrenders to The Officers.

Jasper Driver last night about dusk, shot and killed Tom Johnson with a load of buck shot. Both parties are negroes and the shooting scrape occurred at or near Driver's place, about one mile north from this city, on the Tyler road. The cause of the trouble is said to have been family affairs, and in which Drivers fifteen year old daughter was involved. At present her whereabouts is not known, and it is claimed that Johnson was the cause of her leaving. Driver had known she was gone for several days but could not understand why she left, or who persuaded her to go away. When he found out that Anderson was into it, he went to the house when he came from his work in the field, and getting his shot gun loaded it with heavy charge of buckshot. Locating Anderson, Driver without a word of warning shot him dead, the load going through his back, and coming out at the side. Driver immediately came to town and related to the officers what had been done. He was placed in jail to await an examining trial, the date of which has been set for tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Driver and Anderson had been living neighbors for some five or six years, and are said to have been fast friends till the recent affair came up. Both negroes are well known in and around town. Driver being a preacher. It is said that Driver killed another negro several years ago.

Allowed $500 Bail.

The examining trial of Jasper Driver, the negro charged with the killing of Tom Anderson Thursday night, was held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock by Justice of the Peace J. F. Perritte. Several witnesses were questioned though the entire hearing did not occupy a great deal of time. Driver was allowed bail in the sum of $500, this amount being readily agreed on by the state's and defendant's attorneys.

DUPED BY SOME GYPSIES.

Lutkin Lady Buried $500 With Their $500 to Induce a Spell to Secure Treasure—Drew a Blank.

It has just come to light that a Mrs. Simms, residing near Lutkin, has been the dupe of a band of gypsies that passed through that section three months ago.

There is a legend current in this county which relates that during the Texas-Mexican war a band of refugees from Nacogdoches, en route southward, buried a quantity of gold and silver on the bank of the Angelina river, and as the gypsies claimed unusual occult power and stated that they could find any such hidden treasure, they were consulted by the old lady. But first it was demanded by the gypsy that $500 must be put up as a guarantee by both Mrs. Simms and themselves, and the $1,000 after being buried near the spot where the treasure was supposed to be, should be allowed to remain three months under penalty of destroying the "spell" if the money were molested until the band should return to find the hidden money.

When the three months had elapsed Mrs. Simms became uneasy and had her son dig up the cigar box in which the $1,000 had been buried, only to draw a blank when the molded box was opened.

The case has been put before the grand jury now in session, but nothing has been done about the matter up to this time.

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes yellow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive. The quickest and sweetest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic—well known to all as the food of strength and energy, enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 25 cents or 50 cents, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case. For example, John W. Lee, 618 S. Pennsylvania Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with jaundice, biliousness, flatulency, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Finckham, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house, against just such an emergency as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative. In order to have you or any other sufferer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, without personal expense, Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The simple test will show how pleasant it is to take, how quickly it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the sample and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is any doubt about your ailment that you do not understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 612 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

A SENTINEL reader suggests that we inquire where Lan- many and Boardwalk streets are, —and whether or not they are?

THE Belton Journal-Reporter comes this week in a greater enlarged form, and is fully illustrated. The special edition is a most excellent one and ought to result in much good for the hustling city of Belton.

THE water wagon is still here, out of service but a mighty nice ornament and will come in handy when the hot sun shines and the sands begin to drift. Don't forget the fair meeting Thursday afternoon, and do not fail to attend.

SEVERAL farmers have been to town this week on various and sundry missions—and lots of those several have talked the fair proposition. Not only have they talked it, but have signified their intention of taking stock, and cooperating. The farmers and business men of Nacogdoches county are realizing the necessity of such an institution, and are not in favor of delay-it longer. The time to act is now,—that is Thursday and Saturday, when the meetings are called to take place.

SOME of the "bigger" state daily papers are inclined to take a fallout with Governor Campbell on account of the trimmings given the appropriation bill. The charge is made along with it, that he has seriously impaired the institution of the state,—or some of them. The A. & M. college and several elementary institutions suffered at the guiding hand of Governor Tom and his blue pencil, and some of the fat places created by the Legislature are beheaded. The few papers over the state, luckily, are not the entire people, and more than likely the cutting down of two million dollars sounds good to the fellow who tills the soil.

CONSIDERABLE complaint is heard these days about folks who tramp around and over graves and knock down tombstones in the cemetery. During ball games especially are such depredations said to be carried on,—boys and men, negroes and whites, running over the ground after base balls, and regardless of where they walk or what damage is done. This should not be, and it warnings do not prove sufficient to stop such, the law ought to be called into play. Possibly it is all done without thought, and void of wrong intentions,—but, it should not be just the same. The cemetery is not a place to be run over and tramped under foot, and the stones and slabs are not to be thrown over and rolled around as if logs of timber.

BOOSTS NACOGDOCHES.

Suggests Plans For Further Progress and Predicts Great Future For Metropolis of East Texas.

J. S. Hunt, who is on the editorial staff of three papers published in Atlanta, Ga., has made his headquarters at Nacogdoches for a little more than a month while making a special study of conditions in East Texas. When seen by a representative of The Sentinel, Mr. Hunt said:

"I have visited several points in East Texas, with all of which I was well pleased, but I have found no other place that has the natural advantages and strategic importance for the making of a great commercial and manufacturing city that Nacogdoches has. If your people will pull together now, Nacogdoches may become to the Southwestern states what Atlanta is to the Southeastern. But if you delay and pull apart, other towns will step in and take away your opportunity."

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRIES.

"One great lesson that needs to be learned is for your people to patronize home industries. I have received letters from business men here, who are vitally interested in the progress of the town written on stationary printed in other towns when there are two shops right here that could have done the work just as well and just as cheaply, and the money that went to support enterprises and labor in other places would have helped laborers right here at home and come back to them in trade. And I have seen people sending laundry to other places and buying goods from a distance when they could do just as well and keep their money at home."

THE NEW PARK

"Your new park, located right in the heart of town, means more than some of you may realize. In Atlanta we see our mistake in failing to provide ample recreation parks in central locations before the city was too crowded and lands out of reach. We have several now, the largest containing one hundred and forty acres, but we have no breathing room in the heart of the city."

STREETS AND SEWERS.

"Naming streets and numbering houses preparatory to free mail delivery is a good move, and might well be followed by keeping the weeds off the side walks and vacant lots."

"As soon as sewer facilities warrant, all surface closets should be prohibited so as to protect the people from scourge of typhoid fever that sweeps over so many towns, just merging into cities."

UNEXCELLED FARMING LANDS.

"What do you think of our farming lands, Mr. Hunt?"
"In all of my travels over Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, I have never found what seemed to me to be a more desirable country than Nacogdoches county. Such a diversity of soil with plenty of good water, fire-wood and building timber is nothing short of remarkable. Nacogdoches county could easily care for a hundred thousand more population."

SETTLERS WILL COME.

"Do you think, Mr. Hunt, there is a probability of people coming here from other places?"

"Most assuredly. I have been in touch with a number of good substantial families in other states and in West Texas that, if given sufficient encouragement, will come to Nacogdoches. I am inclined to credit strongly the statement of one of your real estate agents that within twelve months one hundred good families can be brought from the crowded tenement houses of such cities as Atlanta to the free air and sunshine of Nacogdoches county, where, instead of slaving for others, they will win independence on the farm. And when you bring a man from Atlanta, you bring one who is accustomed to work and to boost the country in which he lives. Indications point to a period of unprecedented activity in real estate and business circles in the near future."

A PUBLIC LIBRARY.

"Are there any special attractions that you would suggest?"

"Yes. A free public library of well-selected books, something on the order of the Carnegie libraries, and a wide-awake Young Men's Christian Association."

THE Sentinel takes pleasure in welcoming the teachers attending the Summer Normal. The ladies and gentlemen who are here come for work, not so much for their own benefit, as to be able to benefit the children that they may teach. The three counties that have joined together for the purpose of this Summer School represent three of the best in the state,—and especially in East Texas. The three counties come together believing that "in unison there is strength," and further that better work can be done and more accomplished by the present arrangement. It is hoped that this session will prove the best that has ever been held in this section and all teachers attending, and visiting, are extended the right hand of fellowship by The Sentinel, and an invitation to visit this office at any and all times and to make this place headquarters while in Nacogdoches.

HE who laughs last, laughs best,—sometimes. Governor is now doing the smiling act, and at the same time has whittled the appropriation bill till it presents a very crippled appearance, and is working things to suit Governor Tom, and the farmers, and tax payers. His work in cutting down the appropriation some two million dollars is going to meet the approval of the majority of Texas folks.

Miss Mattie Wilson who will be remembered so pleasantly by many of her friends, and who now resides in Shreveport, is the guest of Mrs. Giles Crain and the young ladies there this week.

An Enjoyable Fare-You-Well.

Ed Barker has gone. The popular gentleman who, since the Hayward mill was erected in this city, has been amongst the people here, and a valuable employee of this immense institution, donned his traveling clothes and has bid adieu to the historical old town and her hospitable folks. In honor of the gentleman, not because he was going away, but to show, in a limited way the appreciation of him as a citizen and a man, one of those delightful feasts so tempting, and so noted in this city, was given him Friday night, at the same place, as has been given two previous ones. About thirty guests gathered round the long table, heavily laden with an abundance of appetite producers, including edibles of every known description and drinkables that cause the weary to be refreshed, and the gaily to be more so. The decorations were, as usual, the club colors with a touch here and there of the art "known only to man," but the portions that appealed to the inner human, and bring glad feelings of the "best way to reach a masculine heart" were the results of feminine fingers, so adept in the culinary art. All of the old timers were on hand, excepting possibly one, and who is quite an attractive young city gentleman, and who rarely ever fails to respond,—but sad to say,—he has decided to cast his future lot with the water wagon contingent. New ones were en masse in addition to older heads, and added pleasure to the delightful occasion and did full justice to the splendid repast. The toastmaster was at his best, and started the circuit with a pretty little introductory talk in which was a generous supply of wit, wisdom and eloquence. The ball once rolling, was no trouble to keep going, and at a late hour,—later than we'd tell,—the ammunition was still sounding as if the reserve was inexhaustible. The unfortunate fellow who had promised his better three fourths that he would be at home by nine fifty seven, forgot the earth was round, and neglected to turn old Father Time backward some, so when the faithful watch was called into play, and showed only several minutes till morning's hour would enter, things began to happen hurriedly, and but a few seconds were required to make a departure through the rear door, hat in hand,—calling sharply "bye bye"—but tarrying not. Once again the feature settled into that joyous revelry and toasts were called and warnings trumpeted. Gaily, good fellowship, and those things sometimes so cherished by male men, held forth resplendent, and another hour passed, unnoticed, save the fact that the same old clock, on the same old shelf, in the same old northwest corner of the south west room, upstairs, across the left hand street, ticked the same old tune. And the same old owl, on the same old limb, in the same old tree, at the same old place cross the lane, made the same old noise, with the same old voice, as he did faces at the same old moon. All things come to him who waits, and all occasions end whether by design or not,—and the feasting in honor of the Nacogdoches gentleman who was going to "ould Nu Yorak" reached its finale.

The guests departed reluctantly, despite the solemn truth that they had been there since early dusk, and their leaving then was with regrets often expressed, and more often felt. It was a splendid affair, a magnificent feast, and an occasion not soon to be forgotten by the hosts, and honorees, and the good fellows who were on hand, and many of whom "went to the lodge or back to the office to do some extra work"—in order to take in the feature. We make this last assertion rather reservedly, for the reason that so many of the ladies have wondered what made their husbands stay so late at the lodge.

P. S. The Nacogdoches bunch wound up by extending well wishes to the dear departed,—warning him of future similar "fortifications" and expressing the hope that "Towser" would be pleased with Nu Yorak.

Nacogdoches Wonder Well.

Capt. T. W. Blount has returned home from a visit of a few days at Nacogdoches with his relatives, and he is enthusiastic over the newly discovered mineral waters there. He brought two gallons home and invited a Tribune scribe to "take something out of a bottle" with him. The scribe was tempted—and alas! fell; it was "Aqua Vitae" that he touched to his thirsty lips—ye gods!

Really, we must believe this is a great mineral water. The analysis shows essential medicinal properties and the results already are convincing evidences of its genuine virtues. The taste, too, is somewhat convincing, yet it is not wholly bad and has no after-taste, such as we have experienced with other mineral waters.—San Augustine Tribune.

Putting Up Names And Signs.

The committee is at work this week putting up the street name plates and the house numbers. It is stated that nearly all of the name plates are in place but that the numbers are not more than one fourth up at present. The orders for signs are said to be coming in fast, however, and with in the next few days,—or couple of weeks,—all will probably be arranged.

For Twenty-Six Years

Mrs. Lamaster, of Kentucky, Suffered with Internal Catarrh and was Finally Relieved by Peruna.

MRS. W. W. LAMASTER.

SUFFERED for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so, and am thankful to say that eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Manalin entirely cured me of that trouble, and I am as well as ever."—Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAttee Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Catarrh Causes Kidney Disease. Catarrh is a frequent cause of kidney disease. The pelvis of the kidneys, as well as the tubules, is lined with mucous membrane, and is therefore subject to catarrhal congestion. Sometimes the catarrh is so slight as to cause no attention. Other times it leads up to very serious conditions.

Any remedy capable of mitigating the catarrh is a much more rational treatment than to give palliatives that only relieve the patient of one or more disagreeable symptoms.

It is claimed for Peruna that it is an internal systemic catarrh remedy, and reaches the catarrh in whatever organ it happens to be located.

"I was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels by taking Peruna. I am glad to recommend Peruna to any one."—Mrs. J. J. Cross, 558 Water St., San Antonio, Texas.

A FAIR could be a big thing for this county and section. The people of this city and the county are in earnest about the institution and want one. Are in line? If not,—fall in and push for Nacogdoches.

NASAL CATARRH

Stripling Hazelwood & Co. Sells The Great Remedy That Cures Mrs. Karberg.

Here is a very simple yet wholly sincere statement of a Michigan woman, who was cured by using Hyomei—the no cure no pay remedy for catarrh, asthma, hay fever, croup, coughs and colds.

"A bad case of catarrh was cured for me by the use of Hyomei. The trouble affected my head, nose and eyes, and was very annoying and disagreeable, and the cure, from the use of Hyomei, was very gratifying. Hyomei has from me a strong recommendation and endorsement."—Mrs. E. Karberg, 213 Kingsley street, Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov 16, 1908.

Thousands of just such letters are in existence, and thousands more would be but for the desire to avoid publicity.

If you have catarrh, bestir yourself, and drive it out of your system. Kill the germs. You can do that easily if you use Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me.)

It is a dry, antiseptic and very pleasant air, that when inhaled, quickly relieves all forms of catarrhal inflammation, stops snuffles, hawking and blowing. The price for a complete outfit, including inhaler, is only $1.00 at Stripling Hazelwood & Co.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching, and cures all stomach diseases or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

WOULD BE A NEWSPAPER MAN

Theatrical Angel Who Wanted to Break into the Reporters' Staff—Interviewing Dr. Parkhurst.

Some funny things happen in the newspaper business," said Colonel Knickerbocker last night. "Like every other profession one has to break into it gradually. There is more intelligence, a greater surfeit of education, more general practical knowledge into human nature required of the average pencil pusher than there is, perhaps, in any other business of an intellectual nature in existence. As to the rewards, the average newspaper man is the poorest paid employee in any line of business requiring a sane mind and a sane body. He is as faithful to the interests of his employer as the latter is to himself. Jealous of the reputation of the paper he works for, he will take the most desperate physical chances in order to secure what is called a scoop, that is exclusive news.

OUT IN ALL WEATHER.

"If he is a reporter, he must be out in all sorts of weather, putting self and personal comfort behind him in his search for news. The average newspaper proprietor (of course there are exceptions) uses a newspaper man like a sponge. When all the work is squeezed out of the aged scribe, unless he has been exceedingly saving in his lifetime, there is nothing for him, presuming him to be alone in the world, but the poorhouse. You cannot break into the business with an ax, you must begin at the beginning and work your way up. Probably when you have been in harness ten or perhaps twenty years you may possibly get a managing editorship with a fairly decent salary. The chances, however, are very much against you, unless you anchor in one place for years and years. The average newspaper man will not do that. He travels far and near, and unless tied down by a wife and children will wander the world over until he has seen everything that is to be seen. Then, managing editors never resign and seldom die.

GAINS ONLY EXPERIENCE.

"In these journeys the scribe is like the rolling stone. He gathers no moss, but a whole lot of experience. The latter, however, will not build a home nor buy clothes nor food. A skilled newspaper man, outside of one or two big cities, does not rank in the matter of wages with the skilled mechanic. The latter has him bested in the matter of pay by several blocks. Notwithstanding this, there is a fascination about the game that once in, keeps you there like a magnet. Go out of it, if you please, but as sure as the night follows day you will go back to it.

NO BED OF ROSES.

Many people believe a newspaper man's life is a bed of roses, and consequently are anxious to assume the mantle of editorship. The same amount of talent required in a first class newspaper man, if employed in ninety-nine out of 100 other callings would bring 1000 per cent better financial returns. This has been proven time and again. A man who can make good in newspaperdom can make good in any other calling. You have only to look at some of the presidential cabinet appointments of newspaper men in the last score of years. They always made good. Their experience was gained in the school of life and served them in good stead when they were elevated to exalted positions.

STORY OF THE "ANGEL."

"I did not start out to moralize on the lot of the newspaper man, but to tell you the story of the theatrical 'angel' in New York who thought the acme of earthly happiness and success was a newspaper reporter's job. He blew into the metropolis with some Western theatrical troupe and was the 'angel' of the group putting up the shellakas for a very bum show. He had plenty of money, dressed in the height of style and always wore a plug hat and spats, as distinguishing features of his apparel. He was a hale fellow well met, about thirty-five years old, and came from the Hoosier State, where it was said he had inherited several ore mines. He fell in with what was then called in New York a group of 'flimsy' newspaper men. The latter were men, most of them who, through booze, had lost their positions on the big dailies. As a last resort they were engaged at small salaries in a city news bureau. The latter supplied the great publications with the routine happenings in the city.

EDITOR OF THE "FLIMSY."

"The editor of the 'flimsy' concern at that time was a man who once drew a salary of $10,000 a year as city editor of one of the greatest papers in the world. Strong drink had made him lose his position, and he was glad to get $25 a week as editor of the city news bureau. The men around him were all of brilliant intellect, but they had lost out from irregular habits until they were glad to get anything to do to keep from starvation. This 'angel' felt highly honored at his association with this crowd and dined with them until he became a second Mohammed to them. Through their former associations they were able once in a while to get complimentary notices of the 'angel's' company in some of the papers, although the show was a rotten one. The victim of misplaced confidence was in the seventh heaven on these rare occasions.

WANTED TO BE A REPORTER.

"His chief ambition was to be a reporter. He haunted the 'flimsy' headquarters day and night, buying cigars and drinks for the crowd. Finally the city editor of the bureau said he would give him a chance, and the 'angel' was duly installed as a reporter. His first assignment was to interview the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst on an article the latter had sent to one of the big dailies that morning. The 'angel' started out about 7:30 p. m. and was told to be back not later than 10:30 or 11 o'clock that night. He took about a quire of paper with him and a box full of sharpened pencils. On his trip he carried a gold-headed cane, his immaculate spats and a shiny plug hat. His coat was a Prince Albert and his pantaloons were creased before and aft, a style that was then coming in vogue. Street cars were not good enough for the 'angel.' He hired a cab and was driven away from the editorial rooms. Eleven o'clock came and he did not return. The city editor of the bureau was in a sweat, as the stuff was supposed to be on its journey to the different papers by midnight at the latest. At 11:30 o'clock the rattle of a cab broke the oppressive silence, and a minute later the 'angel' bounded into the room. "Where in h—l have you been?" inquired the city editor. "To Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, where you sent me," was the reply. "Well, hurry up with your stuff," snarled the editor.

THE ANGEL'S EFFORT.

The 'angel' went to a desk, and after tearing up about a bale of paper, writing and re-writing, he finally, about 1 a. m., turned, in an effusion to the boss of the office that ended the fledgling's career as a newspaper man forever in New York. As well as I remember—because it was the talk of the newspaper world in New York for a year—it began as follows: "Ye reporter went up to ye Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's residence last evening on a special mission. Ye reporter rang the bell of ye reverend doctor's residence and a white capped domestic answered immediately or sooner. She ushered ye reporter into a marble hall hung with beautiful candelabra and inquired ye reporter's mission. Thereupon ye reporter gave ye maid his card, and sitting down on a hall chair, crossed his legs and awaited ye arrival of Dr. Parkhurst. After a short interval there fell, at first faint on the waiting scribe's auricular appendages, and then with greater distinctness, footsteps descending a marble stairway with a bronze balustrade. Heigho! In a moment or so the reverend gentleman stood before ye reporter and inquired in duicet tones in which could be detected the firmness of a resonant voice: "Did you wish to see me sir?" Ye reporter thereupon uncrossed his legs and said— "The city editor of the bureau read no further. He turned to the angel and asked:

SENT HIM BACK.

"Where in h—l did you come from?" "From Indiana," replied the astonished 'angel.' "Then get to h—l back there," bawled the irate newspaper man. Rip! rip! went the 'angel's' copy into the waste basket, and in less time than it takes to tell it, the mortified man was out of the office. He never appeared there again."

Advice is Cheap.

but listen, young friend, how about the advice of such men as Henry Ward Beecher, Horace Mann, and Hon. Wm. Pinckney White, Ex-Governor of Maryland? Henry Ward Beecher says, "Whatever occupation you may choose as your life work, the first step is to secure a practical business education; by all means attend a good business college." Horace Mann says, "Education is capital from which a profit may be derived in subsequent life; it will pay an annual income without expense for insurance, repairs, or taxes; riches have wings, a good education is a more lasting resource." Gov. White says, "It is the business knowledge obtained in the business college that is so important today; no man can succeed who is not systematic; it is a rare exception that a man who has not equipped himself with a business knowledge ever succeeds in life."

Young Friend, you are living in a business age, at business you must make your living; so why try to go through life without obtaining a thorough business training? The Business World today is holding out greater inducements to our young men and women than ever before. Young Woman, you will receive what you are prepared to earn; a special position thrown in. A business education in youth rescues many a woman from the washtub in age, and enables the widow to feed her starving children. Latin and Greek may be forgotten; the business course can be used always and everywhere; it is a treasure secure from moth and rust, a safeguard against adversity, and its culture value surpasses any other of equal length.

Do you realize that the average educated man gets a salary of $1000 a year, while the average daily laborer gets but $450? Take the difference in the earning capacity of the educated and the day laborer for 40 years, and the educated man has earned $22,000.00 more than the day laborer.

Young man, young woman, isn't this enough to put you to thinking and investigating? Write today to the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, the largest school of Bookkeeping, Business Training, Shorthand, Typewriting and Telegraphy in America, get their 188 page catalogue, read it through carefully, and the endorsements of hundreds of successful graduates, as well as those of prominent business men.

It's Everywhere.

The huts of the poor, the balls of the rich. Are neither exempt from some form of itch; Perhaps a distinction may be made in the name. But the rich and the poor must scratch just the same. Oh, why should the children of Adam endure. An affliction so dreadful, when Hunt's Cure does cure? All forms of itching. Price 50c. Guaranteed. Mrs. J. D. Goyens of Houston is visiting in the city.

Charged With Petty Theft.

Matthews Ayers, a negro, was arrested and placed in jail today, on a charge of petty theft. It is alleged that he appropriated a pair of brand new shoes belonging to another of his tribe, and said ebony hued became very indignant. The shoes stolen are the variety known as "ox blood" color and therefore highly prized by the negro.

Lintthicum dated Dec. 10, 1903, which deed is recorded in Vol. 63 on page 201 Real Estate Records of Nacogdoches County, Texas, to which deed and the record thereof reference is here now made for a more full and complete description of the said tract of land. Levied on as the property of W. H. Booth to satisfy a judgment amounting to $75.40 in favor of Jno. P. Davidson and costs of suit. Given under my hand this 1st day of June, A. D. 1909. A. J. Spradley, Sheriff.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate woman. No drugs, no alcohol enters into their composition. A much better means of preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure, refined, glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, flat breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the Golden Medical Discovery is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even its alleged stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is a specific. It is also a specific for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages from two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This though a general treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient remedy, especially those obstinate, hacking coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not so good for acute coughing from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that, but for all the obstinate chronic coughs which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

Bootleggers in Toils.

Emma Hightower, the negro woman bootlegger, is again an inmate of the county boarding house, and will likely remain such, unless she can furnish a gilt edge bond in the sum of three thousand dollars. Officers arrested her last night, and assert that there are six separate charges all for selling whiskey, and all transactions took place the past Sunday. Officers stated that they were going to break up the dives and bootlegging or fill that jail and court house full, and if present investigations that are being made, pan out right, there will be several other guests of the county before a great while. The Hightower woman has just gotten clear on one or two cases of whiskey selling.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON.

Negro Preacher Relates His Experience of the Trip— Going Through the Tunnel— The Milk Question.

"The negro preacher" has returned from a trip to Washington, where he went as a delegate to some benevolent association. It was his first out of Texas, and the strange sights witnessed and peculiar places travelled through, cut off his breath, and he is yet short winded.

"From Nacogdoches, to Washington, the capital of the nation, is a long, long ways, and a fellow who undertook to walk the distance would have to be a footsman," said Preacher. "More than that he would have to get some company or he sho' would get lost."

The trip was pretty fair and everything went well till he got into Tennessee, and went over mountains, around hills, crossed rivers, and took a plunge through the tunnel. "And that is wher the wish for home riz' up and tried to choke me to death. I sutinly did pray and kep a prayin'. When we div in that tunnel, hit sho' wuz dark, an' I held my breath two hours. Some folks said that the tunnel wuz 40 minutes long, and they mout of staid in there just 40 minutes but I most suradly wuz in that dark hole two hours. Washington is sutinly a big town; I actualy know that hit is bigger than Nacogdoches, Lutkin and Cushing put together and enough room for another small town. An' the people looked lack dey wuz always excited an' in a hurry and de is there as thick.—Lawdy but theys lots of folks in Washington. The highest houses and sho' nut sidewalks in front of all uv'em. Yelevators jis scoot up and down so fast that you have to hole yo' hat. I rid once, but I clamb them stairs after that. Yesir, I saw the President's house but de wuz so many soldiers and fellows with guns, just sitting 'round in the yard that I come way from there. Eatin' sho is high in Washington too, and jes a common, pore, sealey old rooster is worth eighty-five cents. Lawd knows what a chicken is worth. Pore folks cant afford even chicken soup, and how them folks make a livin' I can't see. Wuznt nobody at work but wuz jes goin' and buyin' and runnin' round. I never seed a cow while I wuz there an' I rid them cars evywhur. Where de gits—milk I can't understand, 'ceptin' they got goats somewher. That can stuff aint no milk,—nosir hit sho' aint.

Letter From Arkansas.

Millard, Ark., May 14, '09.

Dear Sentinel:

I have just got through reading my papers from home. Seven of them, (our mail comes once a week). I arrived here on the 5th inst., after a walk of 12 miles. Found all well and working onions and fresh potatoes which is their money crop. My granddaughters, Clyde and Bell Fall have grown a great deal and are the picture of health. This mountain (Magazine) is a great health resort for people in the summer months as it is 3000 feet above sea level. There is a nice hotel and several houses on the west end of the mountain, four miles from the depot, on the Rock Island R. R. Game is plentiful up here such as turkeys, squirrels, wild cats, wolves and plenty of the big rattle snakes. I intend to kill some of them to get their skins to bring home with me, to make belts for the girls. It is very rocky here. Some farmers have rock fences nearly all around their farms. Any amount of strawberries here all over the old fields, (like dewberries there) they are just coming in now. Apples do well here. Several large orchards with any number of small ones. The crop is light this year. There is no cotton planted on top of the mountain at all. As my letter is getting too long I will stop. I will leave here for Memphis on the 7th of June for the Confederate Reunion and hope to meet some of the Nacogdoches boys there. My health is fine. Will close with best wishes for The Sentinel.

Mr. Ammons Dead.

Melrose, Tex., May 22, '09.

—Mr. T. H. Ammons died at his residence in this place about 12 o'clock last night he had been complaining for some time but was not confined to bed more than about a week. He suffered severely from pneumonia of which disease he died. He bore his suffering with remarkable patience and was conscious to the last moment of his life. He leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters to lament his death, he was born in the State of Mississippi, November, 18, 1828 and came to this county at an early date. He enlisted in the army of the confederacy in the late unpleasantness and rendered valiant service as a soldier through the entire time of its existence. He made no outward demonstration of religion but he had right appreciation of the attributes of the character of his God and his Savior and therefore not afraid to die.

Mr. Ammons was a man of peculiar character, that he had faults it is true, but he had also many redeeming virtues, when an enemy turned to him a relenting eye he greeted it with a forgiving smile. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father, a reliable friend, a generous neighbor, a useful and worthy citizen of the community in which he lived. His bereaved family and friends have our sincere sympathy.

Goyen's Hill Washed.

Reports reached the city today to the effect that Goyen's hill is almost impassable as a result of the heavy rain this morning. The road is washed across, making a bad break and a ditch that travel can hardly pass. Tim Cooper was here today, having come from home about two miles beyond the bad place, and states that he could hardly pass, though he had a splendid team. The road damaged is about four miles from town and was put in fine repair last year by the county.

Worn Women

Women, worn and tired from overwork, need a tonic. That feeling of weakness or helplessness will not leave you of itself. You should take Wine of Cardui, that effectual remedy for the ailments and weaknesses of women. Youthful Bride and Groom.

Mr. Josiah McKee of Shelby county and Mrs. Sallie Friday of Pleasant Hill, La., were married today on the train. Rev. W. H. Hartgraves officiating. The minister, with several friends, boarded the west bound train at noon, meeting the young couple a few miles west from here where the passenger trains meet. The party then boarded the east bound train and enroute here the ceremony was performed. The groom is sixty eight years of age and the bride sixty two. This wedding makes the fourth marriage for the groom and the third for the bride.

Sometimes you may be told that there are other things just as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. That isn't so. Nothing made is as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for any ailments of the kidney or bladder, which always results in weak back, urinary disorders. A trial of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills is sufficient to convince you how good they are. Send your name to E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, for a free trial box. They are sold here by Mast Bros. & Smith.

Right here is the secret of awkwardness. It is self-consciousness. A girl who thinks about how she is going to look when she extends her hand will hold it out as stiff as a pump handle. If she is worried about the appearance of her walk she will stalk over the landscape like a wooden dummy. What a person does gracefully is done unconsciously. So if a person would learn grace she must first learn how to do things unconsciously and she can only learn to do things unconsciously by doing them often.—Fourth Estate.

Summer Normal Begins.

The initial session of the tri-county Summer normal was held this morning at the High School building, with all the faculty present, and about sixty teachers in attendance. The outlook for a very successful Normal is most excellent, and Prof. Stegall, the conductor, is gratified at the beginning. Things started off smoothly, and indications point to a good work. It is believed that at least one hundred and twenty five will attend, many more having come in this afternoon. It is stated too, that most of them here are from out of this county, but the Nacogdoches teachers will come in this week, something like seventy five strong.

Sherriff A. J. Spradley, B. F. Ammonet, Tom Hardy and Tom Stowe, returned this morning from Lufkin, where they went to attend the Habeas Corpus hearing of Tom Stowe. Judge Perkins granted the prisoner bail in the sum of $1000.

CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these outward manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all the hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored blotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases. It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence, because its first symptom is usually a little sore or pimple so insignificant that it does not excite suspicion. But the insidious poison is at work on the blood and in a short while the patient finds he is more or less affected from head to foot.

Contagious Blood Poison is too dangerous to trifle with. No time should be lost in riding the blood of this destructive poison, and in no disease is it more important to have the proper remedy. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system have brought misery and disappointment to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, usually of mineral nature, and when all symptoms had disappeared and the treatment was left off, found the virus had only been shut up in the system awaiting a favorable opportunity to return, with every symptom intensified.

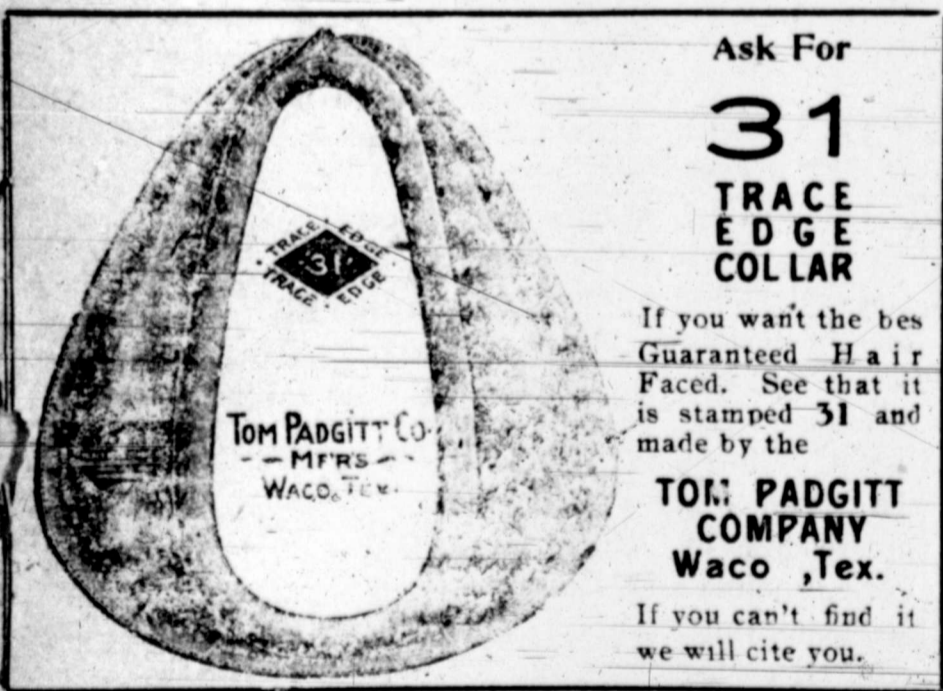

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes down into the blood and removes every particle of the poison, makes the circulation pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, all of which are healing and cleansing in their nature. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. will also drive out any lingering remains of mineral poison that may be in the blood from the former treatment. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

FORMING A NEW STATE

Special Correspondent to Los Angeles Times Says Texans Have Lost Their Pride—Dividing a Commonwealth.

W. D. Hornaday, a well known Texas newspaper man, and who is remembered by many people here, has uncovered a surprise in an article to the Los Angeles Times, and printed some months ago. He intimates that the Western portion of the big state is about to break loose and form a separate commonwealth. The people who live in the section "where Roy Bean was once all law West of the Pecos," according to the staff article, are tired of present affairs, have lost state pride, and want a government all their own. The article is as follows.

A majority of the people living in that portion of Texas situated west of the Pecos river want to be segregated from the remainder of the State. The secession movement has assumed tangible shape and the necessary steps are to be taken at the proper time to bring about a division. It is planned to either create a new State out of the segregated territory or to attach it to New Mexico. Under the terms of the act of congress by which Texas was admitted to the Union the right was given the people of the new State to divide her vast domain into as many as four States at any time they chose to do so. It is urged by the people of Western Texas that the time is now ripe to create at least one additional State out of her vast domain.

TERRITORY DESCRIBED.
"The territory is oblong in shape, and embraces about 55,000 square miles, or one-fifth the total area of Texas as it now exists. The proposed new State borders on the Rio Grande for about 400 miles. It is about 250 miles across it in one direction and 225 miles in the other direction. Should the effort that has been inaugurated to create this new State prove successful, it is probable that Alpine will be made its capital. It is a thriving town, situated near the center of the territory involved in the movement, and is surrounded with the natural advantages and resources necessary to make it a great city, it is claimed. The city of El Paso is situated in the extreme western corner. It is a town of more than 50,000 population, and is growing rapidly. The secession or segregation movement has a strong following there; in fact, it is said to have the solid support of the business men and citizens generally of the place. Joseph M. Sweeney, mayor of El Paso, is one of the active leaders in the movement.

NOTHING IN COMMON.
"That portion of Texas has nothing in common with the remainder of the State as it now exists, either in resources or business transactions. It is 700 miles from El Paso to Austin, the capital of Texas. Los Angeles is nearly as close to El Paso as Austin. The territory west of the Pecos river is so far removed from the more populous parts of Texas that there is no bond of sympathy between the people of the proposed new State and those living in the other settled portions. It is claimed that adverse legislation has greatly retarded the development of the natural resources of the trans-Pecos region. Laws inimical to this territory have been passed in the face of the opposition of the people here whom the legislation directly affected. The territory west of the Pecos is rich in minerals, but it is impossible to develop those hidden riches on account of the oppressive mining law enacted by the legislature. The population of the trans-Pecos region is made up largely of people from Northern and Western States. The proposed new State belongs to the southwest geographically and sympathetically. Bordering on Mexico for several hundred miles, its people have a most friendly feeling for the neighboring republic. The stringent and unduly harsh quarantines which are imposed against Mexico, by the state health department at Austin have seriously interfered with business and traffic through the El Paso gateway. It is claimed that quarantine restrictions against Mexico are not needed in this high altitude, and the business interests of El Paso and the whole trans-Pecos region should not be made to suffer in this manner.

MUCH PUBLIC LAND.
"There are more public lands in the trans-Pecos territory than in all of the remainder of the State put together. These lands are now being taken up and developed very slowly on account of the alleged harassing and burdensome tactics pursued by the State department against the new settlers. Millions of acres of land are available in the Alpine section for farming. It has been demonstrated that as a fruit-growing region, particularly for apples and peaches, it has no equal in the country. The altitude of the trans-Pecos territory ranges from 3,500 feet to 8,500 feet. It is a region of low mountains and rich valleys.

"It is asserted by the leaders of the movement that if their plans succeed the territory involved will have a population of more than 1,000,000 within five years from the time the State is created. The richest silver mine in the United States is situated at Shafter, in the lower part of the new territory. This is a fact not generally known. The mine is owned by California people, and has been producing silver at the rate of about $35,000 a month for the last quarter of a century. The famous quicksilver mines of the Terlingua district are also situated in the trans-Pecos region.

FEDERAL DAM PROJECT.
"The upper part of the Rio Grande valley is soon to be brought into a high state of development by means of the great Eagle dam irrigation project which the Federal government is carrying out. This enterprise, when finished, will add several millions of dollars of taxable values to the territory involved in the segregation proposition. Big tracts are already being irrigated in the valleys of the Pecos river and Toyah creek. It is claimed that by building dams in the gorges of the mountains enormous water storage reservoir can be created and vast tracts of land reclaimed.

LOSS OF STATE PRIDE.
"The patriotic and state pride sentiment which has held the State of Texas intact up to this time no longer exists among the people of the trans-Pecos territory. They say that their rights and best interests have been abused and trampled upon by the overwhelming majority of uninformed and unsympathetic members of the legislature from other parts of the State, and that as a matter of self protection the trans-Pecos region must be segregated and made into a State of its own. The fact that congressional sanction is not necessary makes the promoters of the movement very hopeful that they will succeed.

"The territory is already provided with three trunk lines of railway—the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and the Texas and Pacific, which belongs to the Gould system. The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient is surveyed to run across the proposed new State by way of Alpine. "Very little of the trade of trans-Pecos region now goes to other cities and towns of Texas. The markets of Los Angeles, Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago are largely patronized by the people of the isolated territory. El Paso has become a great commercial center, and supplies the needs in those lines for most of the tributary territory."

Col. Jno. B. Reagan left Thursday for Austin after an extended visit to his son, Dr. J. H. Reagan.

J. E. Fuller is in the city attending the Normal and is the guest of his brother-in-law, Chas. Richardson.

Keith Simpson returned today from Huntsville where he has been attending the Sam Houston Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thomason have returned to Center after a weeks visit to relatives here.

Lots of Phones Damaged.
Manager D. B. Herring stated this morning that the storm put about two hundred and twenty phones out of commission, but that he was busy with several crews and hopes to have at least the bigger part in working shape by night. This is the third time recently that the plant has been damaged by winds and lightning, and all within a few days. The first put fifty five out, the second one hundred and seven, and this morning's two hundred and twenty.

Of Interest Farmers and Mechanics.
Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. w

Fairview Debating Society.
Fairview school house was filled to overflowing Saturday night at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Literary and Debating Society.

President Alton G. Smith delivered a strong address on "The Battle of the Pens" that was well-received by the audience. Another fine talk was made by Rev. Mr. Cartledge, of Nacogdoches.

The boys and girls who were on the program for recitations acquitted themselves most creditably, showing a marked improvement since the beginning of the society.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolved, That Grant Was a Greater General than Lee." Messrs. Joe Allen and Porter Stokes championed the affirmative and Richard White and Cecil Gaston the negative. The negative won. Robert Coats and Richard White were elected delegates to the county meeting at Shady Grove next Saturday night.

The subject for debate Saturday night week will be, "Resolved, That Women Should Have the Right to Vote." Every body invited to attend.

W. E. Odum was here today from Lutkin.

YOUR DEPOSITS

Are not Guaranteed until after January first, 1910.--Read the following:

Nacogdoches, Tex., May 28, 1909
Hon. Thos. B. Love, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, Austin, Texas.

You are quoted here as saying the Guaranty of Bank Deposits Law becomes effective ninety days after passage. Is it not a fact the law does not become operative till January 1st, 1910.

Commercial National Bank.
Austin, Texas, June 1, 1909.
Commercial National Bank,
Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Sirs:

I have your letter of 28th inst. and in reply beg to say: That the message sent you by Chief Clerk Johnson seems to me to have been a direct answer to your message, for the reason that he stated that the first assessment under the new law would be made on January 1, 1910. You can very readily see that deposits would not be guaranteed until the first assessment was made and collected. No deposits are protected until after the 1st day of January, 1910. I am,

Yours very truly
THOS. B. LOVE,
Commissioner.

Women Who Are Enved.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvet skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them 50c at Stripling, Haselwood & Co. w

Mrs. D. H. Barnett continues to improve to the great relief and delight of her many friends. It is hoped her feet will soon be firmly set on the road to recovery.

Sore Nipples.
Any mother who has had experience with this distressing ailment will be pleased to know that a cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results. For sale by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. w

Mrs. A. B. Ireson returned the latter part of the week from a pleasant visit to relatives and friends in Jacksonville, Troupe, and other points.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies; and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Burbank's Thornless Cactus
The new Fruit and Fodder plant has more interest than anything ever before produced by Luther Burbank, who expects the cactus industry to rival that of the orange in importance. Perfected and improved fruiting varieties controlled by the Thornless Cactus Farming Co. of Los Angeles. One hundred tons of tender to the acre is possible under favorable conditions. This may be greatly exceeded. As high as one hundred tons of fruit to the acre is not an impossible crop. When grown as a perennial the Burbank cactus makes an astonishing reproduction. Grown as an annual (where the winters are colder than 25 above zero) the plant is an experiment, but many good judges believe it may successfully be grown in the same manner as Irish potatoes. Write at once for illustrated prospectus, blank and cultural instructions to THE THORNTLESS CACTUS FARMING CO., Los Angeles, Cal.
