VOL XI, NO. 5

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

The Bull Town Days jail, now located downtown, is a good idea.

It will, no doubt, aid greatly in selling $2 shave permits to men who don't have the ability to grow a beard to bring attention to Bovina's annual three-day celebration.

The idea, however, is difficult to explain hurriedly to a four-year-old. We tried it at our house with unfavorable results.

A few minutes after we had pointed out that people who didn't have a beard or a shaving permit would be put in the jail, said youngster volunteered as to how she didn't want to go to Bull Town Days.

"Great Scott, you poor misinformed child, why wouldn't anybody want to go to Bull Town Days?" was our questioning answer.

Her answer, was obvious, "I don't have one of those (pointing to our shave permit) and I don't want to be put in jail."

So, we backed up, took more time with the second explanation and went into more detail.

Some of the things grown people do seem pretty silly to children, we guess.

On the other hand, it is not necessarily true that men who don't have a beard or a shaving permit will be put in the jail.

Vernon Estes remains as walking, talking proof that it is possible to stay jail-free without investing $2 in a shave permit or several weeks of itchy whiskers.

He was quoted a couple of weeks ago in this department as saying he didn't think there was enough people in this little town to put him in "that jail."

As of this writing, his boast was still good. He says that five people tried unsuccessfully to put him in it a few days ago, but he slipped away.

In semi-private, Estes admits that he might have to go to the jail before the celebration is over, "but up to now I haven't."

It just could be that Estes is jail-immune. We're not entirely convinced of that, however, as you might gather from reading between the lines here.

Disappointed we were to learn of Congressman Walter Rogers' decision not to be on the general election ballot in November as a candidate to succeed himself.

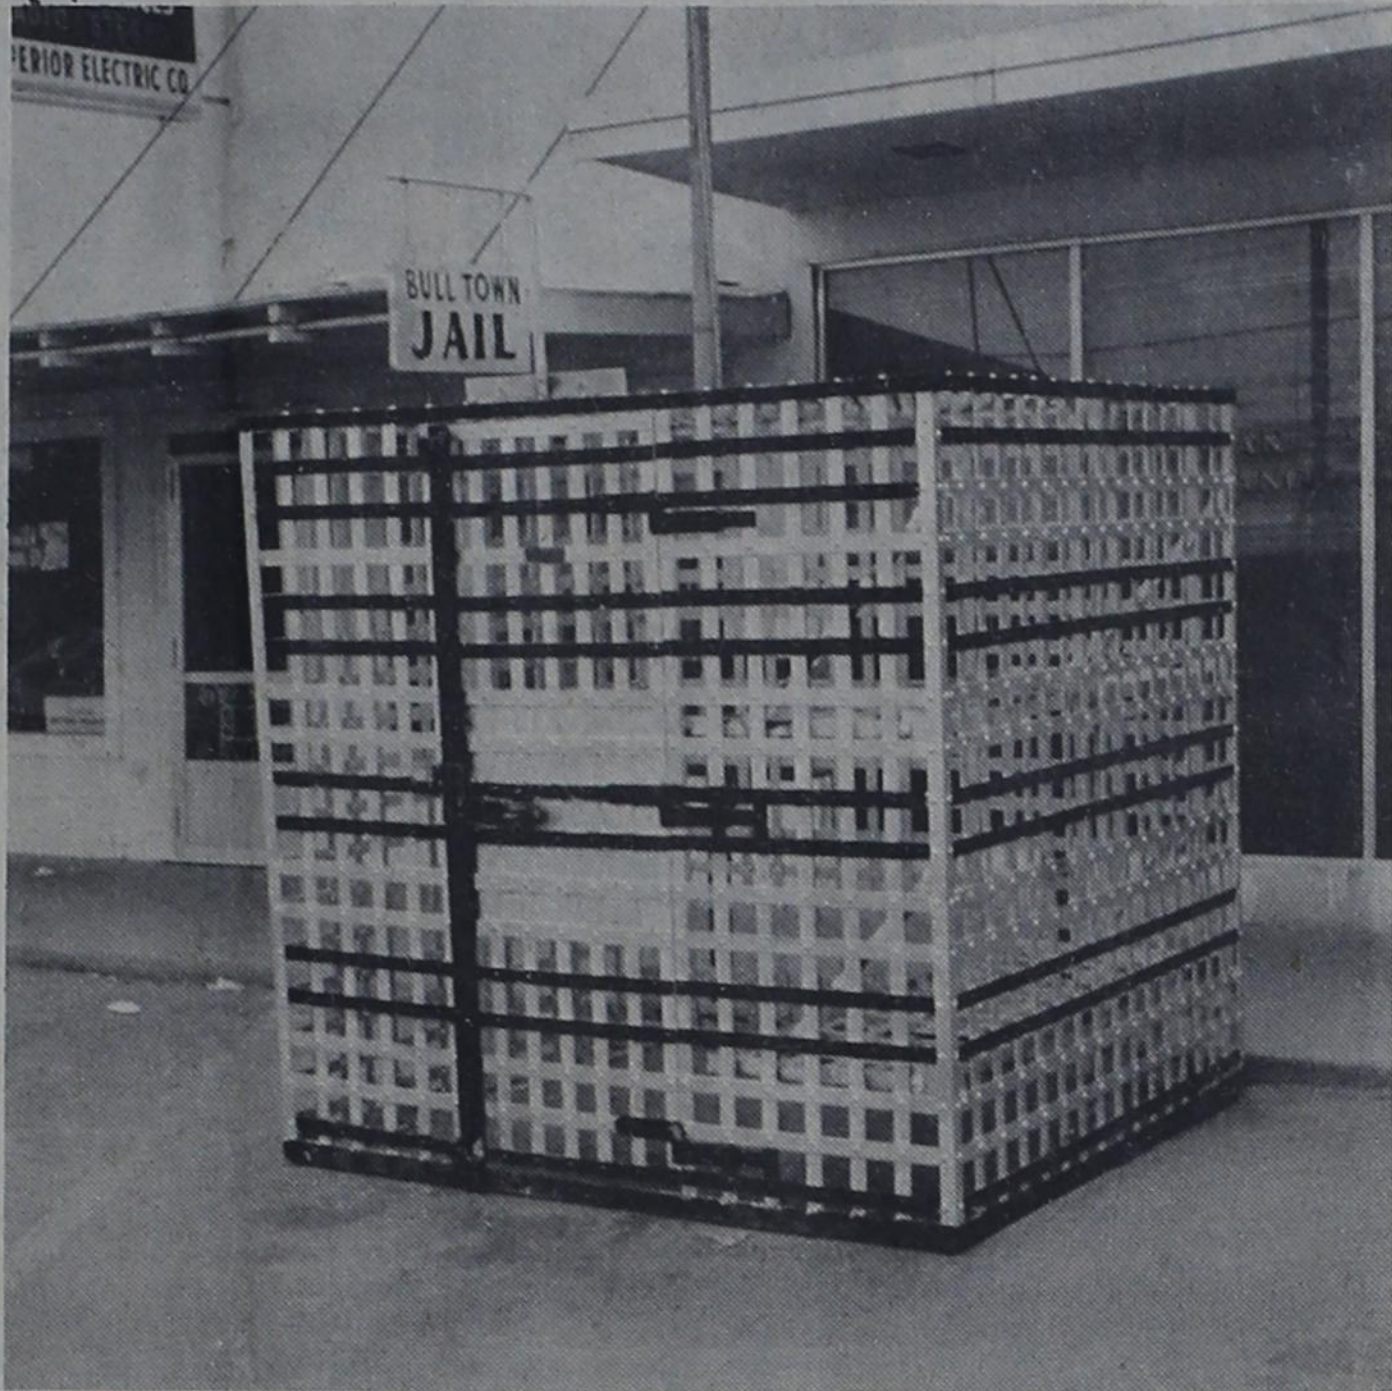

As we've said here before, Rogers is one of our favorite politicians. It will be tremendously difficult to replace him with an individual who has his ability to get along and keep the people of this district, who have such diversified interests, happy to such a degree that he can be re-elected over the years and build up worthwhile seniority in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Possibly, Rogers' withdrawal from the race will be a boost to the candidacy of his Republican opponent, who was defeated by Rogers two years ago. Certainly, this will temporarily be the case until the Demos can decide who will replace Rogers on the ballot. There is ample time, of course, between now and the November election for a good Democrat to become known across the Panhandle District. It will be impossible, though, for the candidate to gain the confidence of the people which Rogers enjoys. This can be overcome to some extent by an endorsement from Rogers.

The developments along this line between now and election time will be interesting to follow.

The lack of a national reserve of farm products grown here, wheat and milo, are causing rays of optimism to glow from ambitious-thinking farmers. They have the feeling that possibly now, at long last, the shoe will be on the other foot and our crops will have a greater demand which will make for more profit.

There's nothing better to look forward to than a bright future!

AN EMPTY THREAT -- Empty, but threatening to non-bearded men who do not have shaving permits, is Bovina's Bull Town Jail which has been placed in its Main Street location. It was cleared and painted last week by Roping Club members after being donated to the organization by Owen Patton.

J. P. Jones Will Attend Ag Workshop

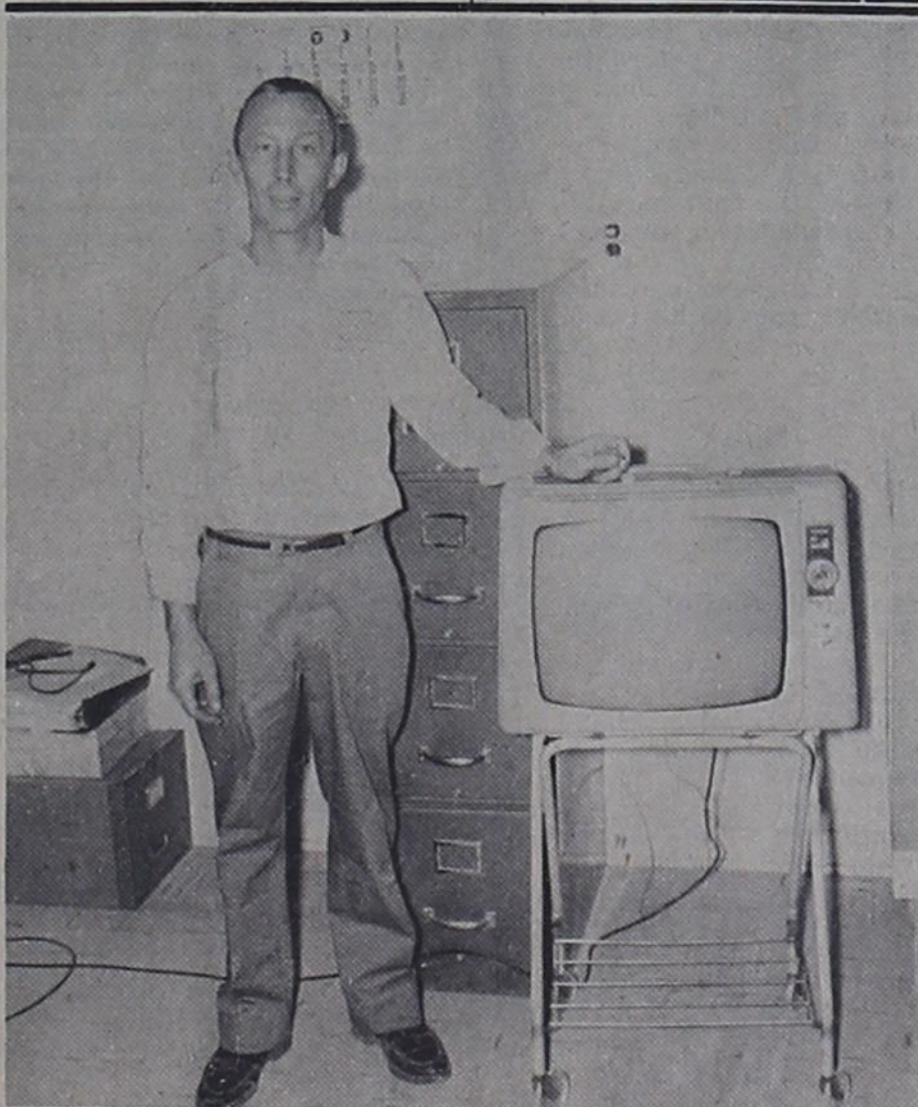

John Paul Jones, vocational agriculture teacher at Bovina High School, will participate in the In-Service Education Workshop for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at the Hotel Texas, Fort Worth, August 9-12.

Guest speaker for the opening general session on Tuesday, August 9, will be R. L. McMillon, Branch Manager, Business Men's Assurance Company of America, Abilene.

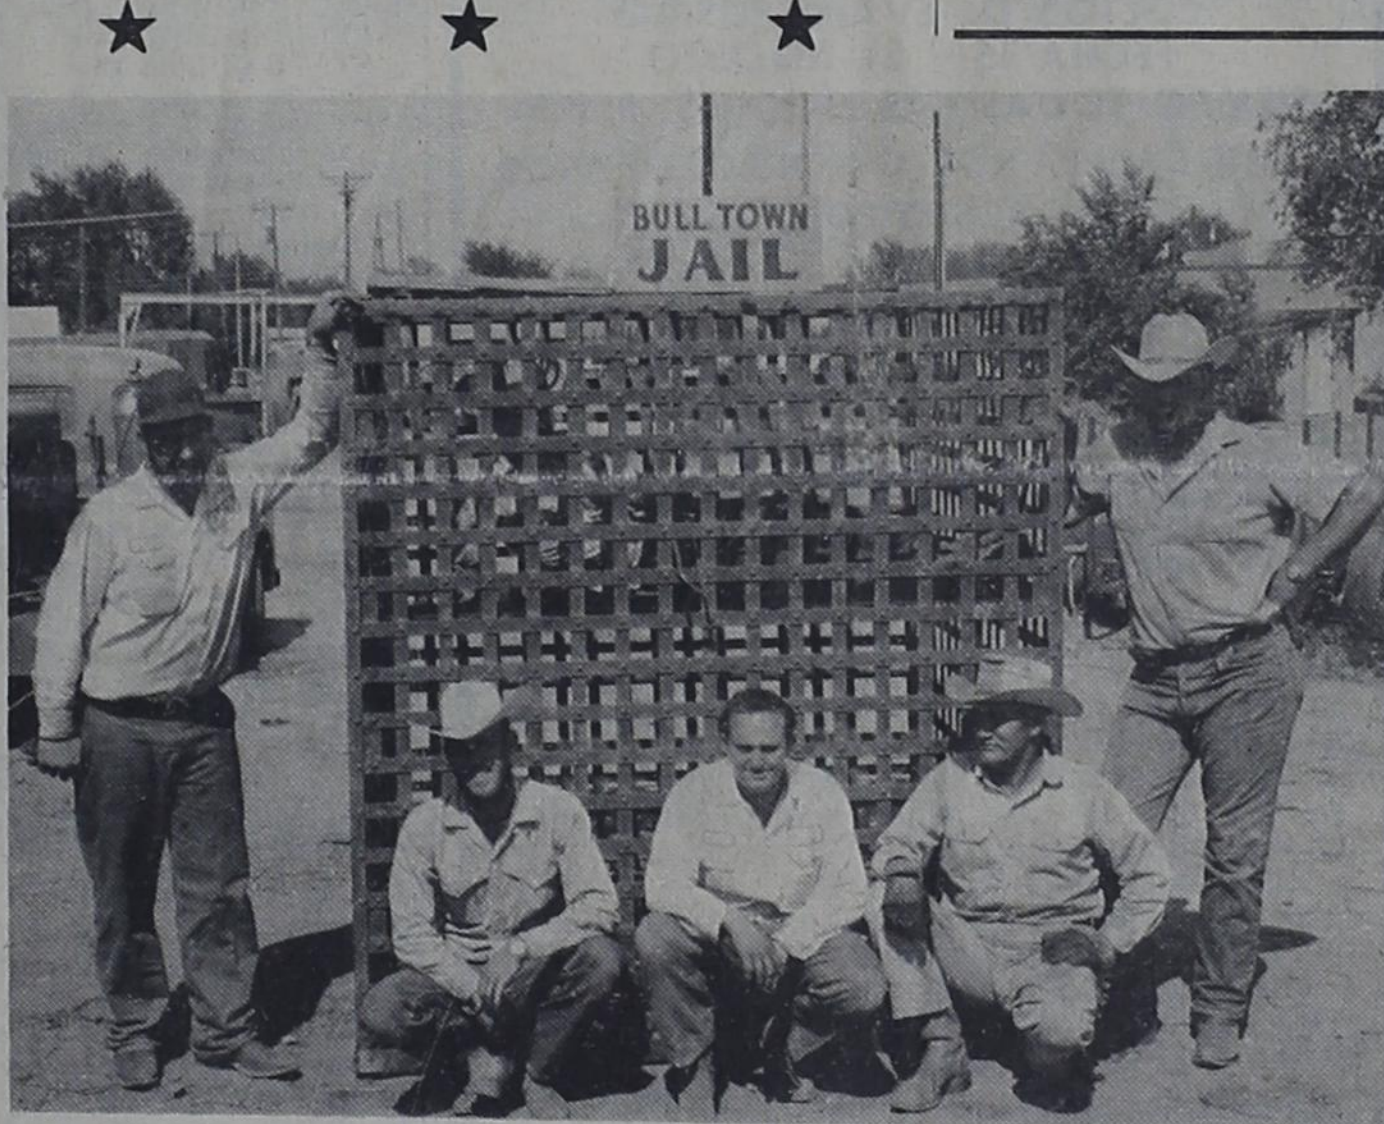

Conference workshops to be developed include Recent Trends in Swine Production, Beef Production, Developing and Conducting Agriculture Mechanics Programs, Leadership and Citizenship Training through the Texas Association of Future Farmers, Study of the Proposed Revised Lesson Plans of Farm Electrification, Young Farmer Training and Assisting First and Second Year Teachers in Developing and Conducting Local Programs of Vocational Agriculture.

Also on the agenda for the week is the annual association Awards Breakfast during which tenure awards will be presented to 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35 year teachers. Awards will also be presented to Honorary Members, Legislators, District Public Relations Chairmen, School Administrators, and Members of the Press, Radio and Television.

Approximately 1200 Vocational Agriculture Teachers are expected to attend the meeting

BULL TOWN DAYS BENEFIT -- Sonny Spurlin, president of Bovina Junior Chamber of Commerce, poses with the shining new portable television set which will be given away by the Jaycees Saturday, August 20. Jaycees are accepting $1 donations with profits going to the Bull Town Days fund. The television will be awarded at a drawing.

JAIL'S FIRST 'CUSTOMER' -- The first occupant of the Bull Town Jail was C. E. Trimble, general chairman of the three-day community celebration. He's visible behind the bars in a prone position on the top bunk of the jail. Trimble was "locked up" while Roping Club members were working on the jail last week. Assisting with the lock up and the repair work were, left to right, Larry Scott, Jon Lin Riddle, Truman Trim, Owen Patton and Bill Lookingbill.

Weather by Willie

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- Weatherman Willie Williams is out of town this week and therefore his weekly prediction is not available. But did you notice that his predicted cool front for last weekend came about? DM)

Garage Changes Location

Hall's Garage has moved to a new location on North Street in Bovina.

The business, which is an official state inspection station, is now located in the old Bovina Implement building, which was formerly occupied by C&H Irrigation Supply.

Grady Hall is operator of the business which moved last week from the Bonds Building at the intersection of North and Second Streets.

Chester Rogers, of C&H Irrigation Supply, is now associated with Bovina Auto Parts on Highway 60.

BTD Parade Needs Floats

Organizations and businesses of Parmer County are invited and welcome to have floats in Bovina's Bull Town Days parade.

The call for floats was issued this week by Bedford Caldwell, parade chairman.

The parade is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday morning, August 19.

More than 150 horses and riders are expected to be a part of the parade with several riding clubs from other towns slated to participate.

Floats with a Western theme will be appropriate for the parade but all kinds are welcome, Caldwell says.

The parade will begin on the east end of Main Street and continue west on it, turning south at Third.

Awards will be made to winners in the float competition.

Four Vacancies Now --

Sign Two Teachers; Two Others Resign

Two new teachers have been signed as members of the faculty for Bovina Schools during the past week and two have resigned, announces Superintendent Otis Spears.

Those who resigned are Mrs. Lela Goar, homemaking instructor, and Milton Grimes, teacher of a fourth grade section.

Mrs. Goar, who taught homemaking here the second semester of last school year, resigned to accept a homemaking teaching position on the junior high level in Clovis.

Grimes, who taught here the past two years, will teach next year at Texico.

Signed to teach a first grade section was Mrs. Alta McCall of Borger. Mrs. McCall has 10 years teaching experience though she has not taught during the past two years. She has a bachelors degree from East Texas State College and a masters from West Texas State University.

Named to teach junior high English and high school Spanish is Mrs. Jolene (Donaldson) Decker. She will receive her bachelors degree from Texas Tech the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Decker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Donaldson of Oklahoma Lane. She is a graduate of Farwell High School. Her mother teaches fourth grade here.

"Though we signed two new teachers, we lost two and the number of vacancies on the faculty remains at four," Spears says.

Positions presently open are high school science, homemaking, fourth grade and first grade.

All-Stars Win Portales Trophy

Little League All-Stars from the league here earned their second tournament trophy in as many weeks last weekend at Portales. The team, composed of players from Oklahoma Lane, Rhea and Bovina, placed third in the Portales meet, winning two games and losing one.

In their opening game Thursday, they blasted the Portales Blue Jays, 19-7, as Tony Foster was the winning pitcher.

Friday, in the second round game in the championship bracket, they lost a heartbreaker to the Portales Cubs, 5-7.

Mike Spears took the mound loss.

In the playoff for third place Saturday, the Parmer County boys whitewashed Dora, 14-0. Raul Aguilar of Oklahoma Lane pitched a one-hitter.

The team is entered in a similar tournament this week at Causey, N.M.

The first game will be with Morton at 7 (CST) Thursday night.

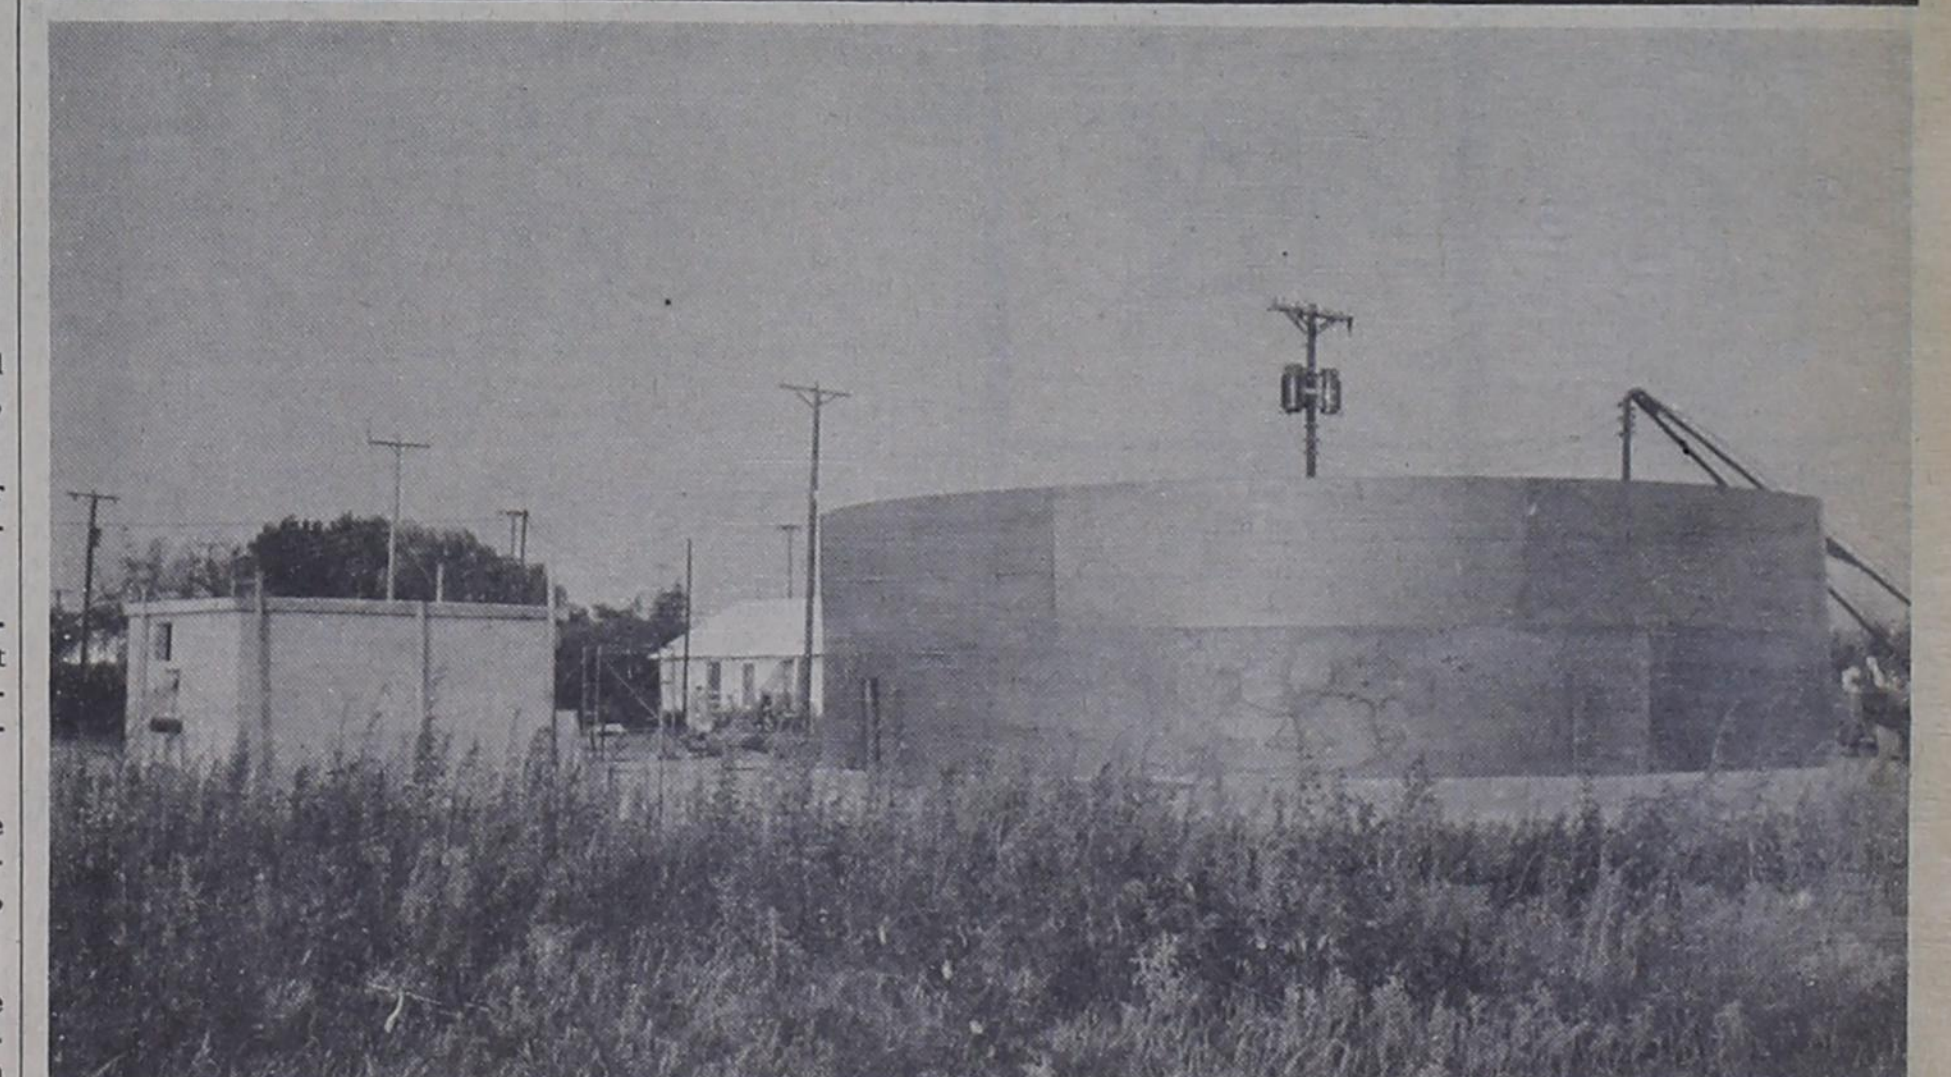

Managers of the team are Harold Carpenter and Floyd Coates of Oklahoma Lane and Wayne Spears.

Roping Club To Plains For Parade

Bovina Roping Club members are scheduled to ride in a parade tomorrow (Thursday) at Plains.

The following Thursday, August 11, the group is scheduled to ride in a parade at Morton.

WATERWORKS CONSTRUCTION -- Work on the city's water system expansion program continued to progress last week and this week as the 300,000-gallon ground storage tank, right, began to take shape. At left is a new tile building which houses a new well and pumps. The tank is located just west of Ninth Street.

FARM PRICES -- Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers on March 15 for all farm products were 272 per cent of the January 1910-December 1914 base, reports the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 6 points or 2 per cent above a month ago and 14 per cent above a year ago. The index is at the highest level since mid-August 1959, the Service said.

PROTECTING THE FLAG -- "It seems incredible to me," says Rep. Jack Edwards, (R-Ala.) that with 200,000 of our boys fighting over in Viet Nam for freedom in that country that there would be those people here in America who would tear apart the American flag. This flag is a symbol of all that we hold dear in this wonderful country of ours. And it is also amazing to me that there is no law against the desecration of the flag. I would hope that Congress will act on my bill to make it clear that we will no longer tolerate those who would destroy the very symbol of freedom in this country."

OUR HEALTH

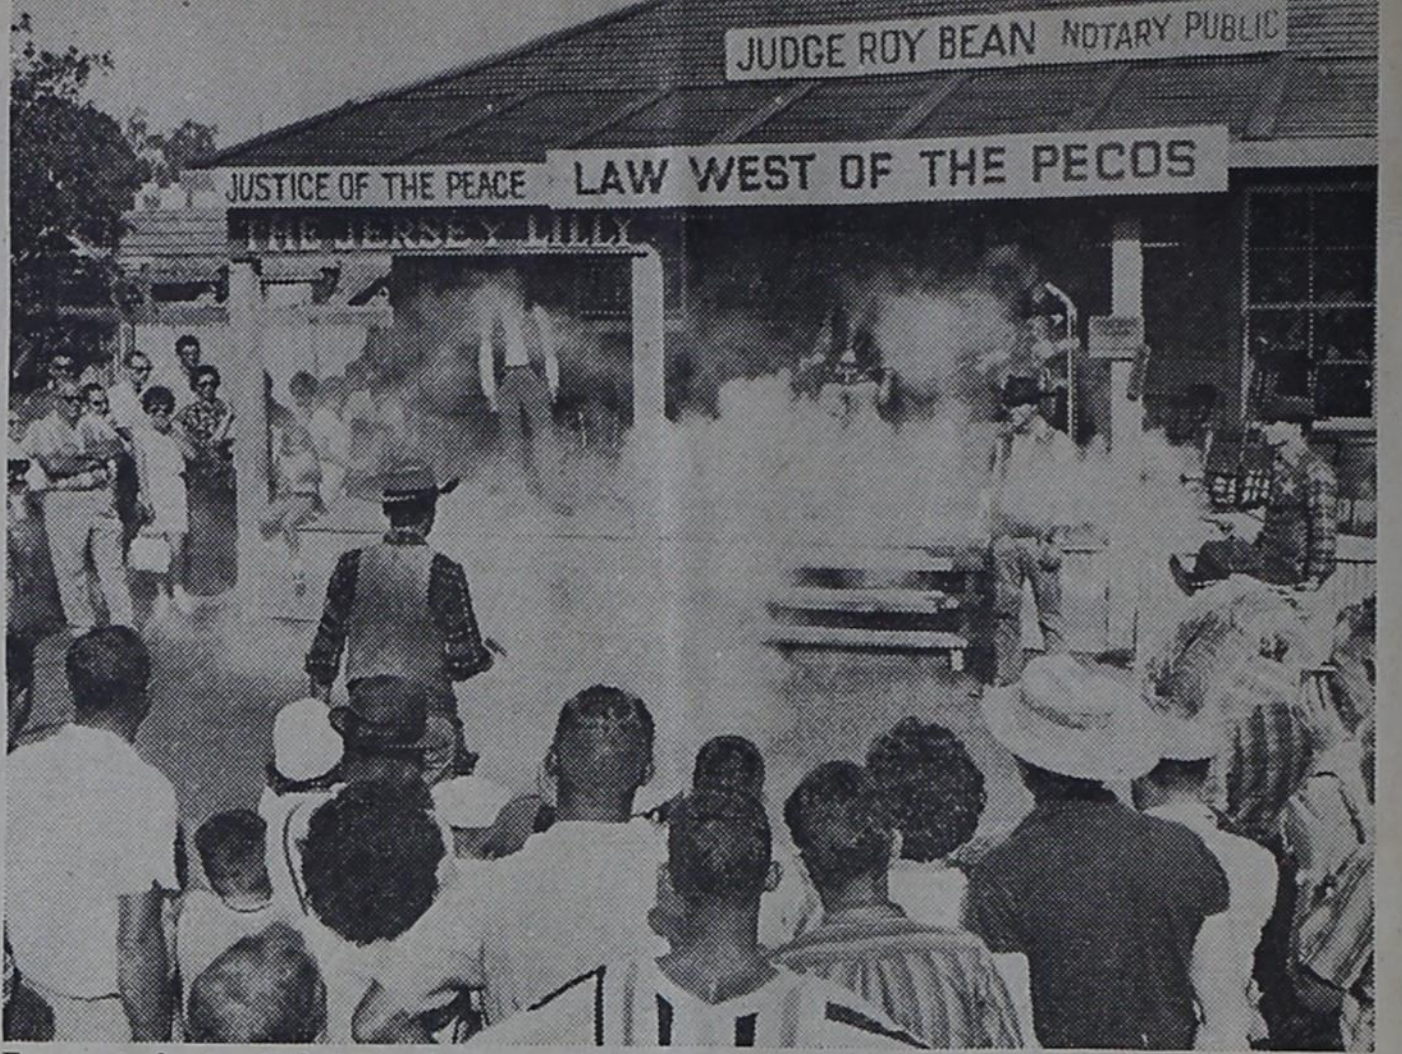

by J. M. Amberson, M.D.
Catch PD In Time!
If a stitch in time saves nine, then a dental check-up in time will surely save nine--or more--visits, and suffering from periodontal disease (disease of the gums) probably wish they had heeded Franklin's advice.

Periodontal disease is the most common adult dental difficulty; an estimated 50 percent of Americans have already lost at least one tooth via periodontal causes and there are probably over 22 million who need periodontal care at this very moment.
What are the sources of periodontal trouble? Poor oral hygiene is certainly one. The accumulation of tartar, a hard crusty deposit, is a leading irritant to gums. Food particles lodged between teeth can also create gum problems as can plaque, a sticky substance of dead gum cells and mouth bacteria. Bruxism, or the slow grinding of teeth, and a faulty bite can cause pressures that injure the tissues that surround the tooth and contribute to gum infection.

Periodontal disease generally comes in two stages: Stage one is Gingivitis, an inflammation of the gums; Stage two is Periodontitis, where the inflammation is past the gum to the bony structure underneath.
Neglect is the primary reason for periodontal tooth loss because its causes can be treated. Removal of the offending agents successfully if caught in time and the subsequent dental treatment isn't necessarily painful since modern anesthetics ease most discomfort.

For example, one topical anesthetic, a non-prescription solution called Chloraseptic is used by periodontal specialists to relieve tissue soreness. Clinical studies reveal that Chloraseptic is particularly effective in relieving surface pain in the mouth and throat due to a wide variety of minor causes.

Frequent shoot-outs between lawmen and outlaws take place around the Texas Section at Six Flags Over Texas. Here a crowd gathers in front of Judge Roy Bean's Jersey Lilly Courthouse as sheriff's deputies invoke Judge Bean's "Law West of the Pecos" on renegade fast draw gunfighters.

Know The Truth

By Lavern Stewart

If someone should tell you about a man who was devout, God fearing, liberal with his money, prayed often, and had seen an angel, would you pronounce him saved? It is possible for him to have all of this said of him, yet not be saved. There is the account of such a man in Acts chapter ten, who was so good morally that he was praised by the soldiers and servants under his supervision, yet he was not saved. This text shows why he was not saved: Acts 11:13, 14, "And he showed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, said for Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall tell these words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved." Peter says in Acts 15:7 that the saving words were the Gospel. The morally good man, Cornelius, was to be saved by his belief of an obedience to the Gospel, Salvation is through the name of Jesus, Acts 4:12, "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Peter preached this to Cornelius: Acts 10:43, "To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whatsoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins." One comes into the name of Christ when he is baptized into Him, Matt, 28:19, This "coming into the name of Christ" was the purpose for Peter's commanding them to be baptized, Acts 10:48. Notice, the angel told Cornelius that Peter would tell him "words" whereby he would be saved. These "words" include the command to be baptized; therefore he was not saved, even though he was what men call good, until he had believed and been baptized. That is what Jesus said one must do to be saved, Mark 16:16.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Section 9, Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read as follows:

The Legislature may by law provide for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of hospital districts composed of one or more counties or all or any part of one or more counties with power to issue bonds for the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of buildings and improvements and equipping same, for hospital purposes; providing for the transfer to the hospital district of the title to any land, buildings, improvements and equipment located wholly within the district which may be jointly or separately owned by any city, town or county, providing that any district so created shall assume full responsibility for providing medical and hospital care for its needy inhabitants and assume the outstanding indebtedness incurred by cities, towns and counties for hospital purposes prior to the creation of the district, if same are located wholly within its boundaries, and a pro rata portion of such indebtedness based upon the then last approved tax assessment rolls of the included cities, towns and counties if less than all the territory thereof is included within the district boundaries; providing that after its creation no other municipality or political subdivision shall have the power to levy taxes or issue bonds or other obligations for hospital purposes or for providing medical care within the boundaries of the district; providing for the levy of annual taxes at a rate not to exceed seventy-five cents (75c) on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of all taxable property within such district for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the district; bonds, the indebtedness assumed by it and its maintenance and operating expenses, providing that such district shall not be created or such tax authorized unless approved by a majority of the qualified property taxing electors thereof voting at an election called for the purpose; and providing further that the support and maintenance of the district's hospital system shall never become a charge against or obligation of the State of Texas nor shall any direct appropriation be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of any of the facilities of such district.
Provided, however, that no district shall be created except by act of the Legislature and then only after thirty (30) days' public notice to the district affected, and in no event may the Legislature provide for a district to be created without the affirmative vote of a majority of the taxing voters in the district concerned.
The Legislature may also provide for the dissolution of hospital districts provided that a process is afforded by statute for:

(1) determining the desire of a majority of the qualified voters within the district to dissolve it;
(2) disposing of or transferring the assets, if any, of the district; and
(3) satisfying the debts and bond obligations, if any, of the district, in such manner as to protect the interest of the citizens within the district, including their collective property rights in the assets and property of the district, provided, however, that any grant from federal funds, however dispensed, shall be considered an obligation to be repaid in satisfaction and provided that no election to dissolve shall be held more often than once each year. In such connection, the statute shall provide against disposal or transfer of assets of the district except for due compensation unless such assets are transferred to another governmental agency, such as a county, embracing such district and using such transferred assets in such a way as to benefit citizens formerly within the district.
Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
"FOR the constitutional amendment providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts."
"AGAINST the constitutional amendment providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts."
Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

SOUND THINKING

from Muzak International

That Mental 5:00 Shadow

It's not a beard, that shadow darkening a man's emotional countenance when the end of his work day approaches. Nor will the sharpest razor dispel it, because instead of whiskers this 5 o'clock shadow is fatigue - a nervous and physical response to stress erased only by the 5 o'clock whistle.

Of course, if it were really tiredness the whistle wouldn't cure it. But how often does a man drag out of his office or factory, only to start bouncing when he gets to the parking lot. And by the time he's reached the golf course, the bowling alley, his home or his hobby, he's the picture of vim and vigor.

Paradoxical? No, it's logical. It makes good sense. Studies of industrial employees show that the "mental 5 o'clock shadow" (and the slow-down accompanying it, to the dismay of supervisors) is completely explainable. Five o'clock fatigue is rarely due to overwork, but to boredom and monotony. Our modern technology, while giving us many benefits, has resulted in numbers of routine, tedious tasks requiring little creativity, initiative, responsibility, or personal involvement. And so the worker actually suffers from fatigue of under-work.

To offset this reaction, many of the world's most progressive companies now make the working atmosphere as pleasant as possible. Among other environmental aids, they find that scientifically programmed music is one of the most effective remedies for worker fatigue. This type of planned music masks noise, a major stress factor in fatigue; it improves the environment and morale. The scientific application of music makes the worker feel he is appreciated, and therefore more important. It can give him a "lift" when he needs it most - for example, scientifically programmed music by Muzak is timed precisely throughout the work day to soothe during tension-prone hours and to stimulate during fatigue-prone hours.

Workers themselves report that music on the job makes them feel better and work better. Muzak industrial programs provide an emotional lift for factory workers that give 5 o'clock shadow the brush.

The age-old problem of obesity is still with us. It seems that people become more weight conscious everyday. There are more ways to diet and lose weight than recipes.

One raga is this Health Spa. They have a gymnasium setup. One sees pictures in ads of people riding those bicycles that don't go anywhere and standing on a board with a shimmy belt. The thing about these devices is that one can lose momentarily but the exercise makes the participant so hungry he gains it back the next meal.

The best device we have heard of is the one that works with electrodes. This is some sort of device that you place on various parts of the body, sit down, get a box of chocolates, a book and proceed to lose weight. We have our doubts.

Swimming is supposed to be good for the figure. It builds muscles and supposedly tones up muscles that haven't been used. The only problem we have with swimming is that one time across a pool and we are ready to eat at least three hamburgers.

Still another method for dieting is taking pills. Now these work fine as they curb ones appetite but they also make the dieter so hopped up that no amount of work is sufficient to keep him busy. One pill and a housewife can have the entire house cleaned by 9 a.m., and the washing and ironing done by noon. Now even this is fine but at midnight the housewife would like to get some sleep but still feels this tremendous urge to do some work.

The fastest method to lose weight would be to become a baseball pitcher. One major league pitcher in an interview after a night game said he lost 11 pounds during that one game. Now if one needed to lose weight fast this would be very good. Forty pounds could be dropped in about four games. Wonder what the difference in softball and baseball is. None of the softballers have given us this type interview.

The only sure fire method to lose weight and keep your health is bound to be pushing away from the table.

Miss Frances Sierra is showing her Certificate of Outstanding Achievement in German to her high school instructor in the language, Mrs. Anne Corn.

Outstanding Achievement -- Frances Sierra Receives Award

Miss Frances Sierra received one of five awards presented to 160 students at the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, Kan. Miss Sierra received the Outstanding Achievement Award in German Summer Camp. She had progressed more than any other student in the language.

Miss Sierra attended the university on a scholarship arranged by Mrs. Anne Corn, local German instructor of Bovina High School.

She was also presented with a book titled, "People In Germany." Only eight books were given to outstanding students of the school.

The summer camp lasted six weeks with classes being held from 7:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. each day.

While there, Miss Sierra was in a play given by the language students titled, "Hansel and Gretel."

She noted that at first she had some difficulty understanding various instructors due to their accents. These teachers only spoke German in the classroom. No English at all was used, Miss Sierra says.

Other activities she attended on campus included concerts, dances and other camp functions.

Arrangements are being made for the students who were there this year to return next summer to the camp, according to Miss Sierra.

Plans to send students to the camp will begin early next year, according to Mrs. Corn. The German Club will try to have money-making projects in order to help send the students. Mrs. Corn and Miss Sierra wish to thank the people in Bovina for making the trip for her possible.

Getting Help From Religion

There are many people who do not get much help from religion. These people look upon religion as a negative thing consisting chiefly of a long list of "don'ts," a joy killer associated with long faces and restrictive piety. To such, the Supreme Being is as remote as the planet Jupiter and is equally as irrelevant to their daily living. In contrast to this negative religion, Jesus preached and lived a positive kind of religion. He taught people to seek fellowship with God their Father, to serve their fellowmen, to love one another, and to forgive their enemies. "Ask and it shall be given you," he said, "Seek and you shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you." Jesus was concerned about the kind of religion that dealt with everyday things such as honesty, truthfulness, purity, unselfishness, courage, and one's attitude toward other people. He called upon men to live their lives in the very presence of God.

Anyone can get help from religion who seeks it earnestly through prayer. Prayer is the line of communication between us and the power upon which our spiritual life depends. Through it we may receive patience to bear that which has to be borne, strength to face temptation, hope that will not die, the joy of a clear conscience, and the spirit of contentment. Where and how shall we pray? Thomas A. Stafford suggests:
What's a good place to make a prayer?
God hears his children everywhere.
What's the best way to make a prayer?
Just simple, heartfelt words prefer.

Have you ever seen a half-cent, two-cent or three-cent coin? They won't be turning up in your pocket change, because all have been out of circulation for many years. But at one time, these and other odd denominations were part of American coinage. notes Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis. "For the most part, odd denominations were minted to meet economic needs of the times," says Bressett, "and to relieve shortages of small change. Most of them circulated for brief periods, and all were abolished before 1900." The half-cent had the longest tenure, circulating for 64 years, from 1793-1857. It was discontinued after its purchasing power declined. Our two-cent coin was never popular, and lasted only eight years, from 1864-1872. The three-cent piece circulated for 38 years, from 1851-1889. It started out as a silver coin and eventually was made of nickel, as the price of silver rose. It, too, became unpopular, because people easily confused it with the dime. "A 20-cent coin, looking much like our quarter, was minted for two years," continues Bressett, whose firm is the nation's leading numismatic publisher. "They were originally very unpopular, but since then have become key items from the collector's standpoint. The 1876 20-cent piece made at the Carson City, Nev., mint is worth $10,000 at auction price." Odd denominations are listed, priced and described in Whitman's A Guide Book of United States Coins, regarded as the nation's most authoritative reference on current market values of U. S. coins.

Graves Member Of FHA Board

I. T. Graves, Jr., Parmer County farmer, has been named to the Farmers Home Administration county committee, according to Billy R. Boling, the agency's county supervisor. The appointment is for three years.

The purpose of the county committee is to review applications for FHA loans. Composed of three members, the committee is set up on a rotating basis with one new member appointed each year. Graves succeeds Clyde Weatherly of Friona.

Graves lives in the Friona community where he farms 480 acres. He has been active in agriculture and the community for a number of years and is well known to many Parmer County farmers and businessmen. With his knowledge of the county and farming conditions, he will be a valuable addition to the committee, Boling says.

The Farmers Home Administration extends credit accompanied by farm management assistance to 100 families of Parmer County.

The Three R's Of Summer

By Cricket B. Taylor
Summer is a time for rest, relaxation and recreation. Schools are closed and children are on a vacation from learning. Or are they? Surely learning of one kind or another goes on all of the time, even during vacation.

Summer is a good time for children to learn about work. Through real work experiences, a young person can learn; to appreciate what work means in our lives; to take responsibility for his actions-- be on time, follow directions, get along with others, take pride in his accomplishments and feel personally significant.

JOBS FOR PAY - Many teenagers have regularly paid jobs or part time jobs. Not all teenagers who want jobs are going to find them. Younger teens, those below the legal working age, are also on the lookout for ways to earn money. Some of these youngsters have imaginations and ingenuity enough to create jobs such as lawn watering service, baby sitting, or swap shop trading post, and others.

JOBS AT HOME - The first step in helping a child feel that he is a useful member of society is to make him feel that he is a useful and necessary part of the family. Responsibilities for home duties give him this sense of belonging--having a partnership in the family.

A FAMILY PLANNING SESSION will be needed to determine jobs which children will do. A rotating system for jobs often helps prevent arguments.

Forty-four departments are contained in Texas Tech's six schools. The curriculum also includes an extension service and Army and Air Force ROTC programs.

Some tasks will be done at regular times, according to schedule. A schedule posted for members of family to see and check daily is a fine idea. Some tasks may not have definite time set thus provide opportunity for children to learn to make decisions about how they will schedule their time.

In the beginning, allowing children to take household responsibilities will save little or no time for mother. But in the long run (with mother's patience and fortitude) well trained children will become competent helpers. Both they and their family will benefit. Some times adults may need to lower their standards to accept results that fit the child's ability.

PARENTS WHO DO A JOB THEMSELVES - because it's easier than training a child to do it or seeing that he does it, and parents who are afraid to burden their youngsters with home responsibilities, are missing a chance to give their children a real education for living.

Remember also that children need time during summer --
-To loaf, to think, to dream,
-To pursue their own interests and hobbies,
-To have fun with friends.

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR JR
County HD Agent

Summer 4-H Camp is over. The 4-H'ers had a wonderful time exploring the mountains, wading in the stream, hiking and having fun with friends. The adults enjoyed just loafing and eating. The men did the cooking and all the work and did the women in camp enjoy this? They did indeed. One woman was heard to say "I wish they would let us help," - because she felt bored and useless but all the others were very pleased and content to let the men reign over the "cook tent." The food was fine - no better fried chicken could be found in the kitchen of even the best cook of the female homemaker. James Mabry of Lazbuddie was the "Chef" and with such competent helper cooks as Joel White, and others, they really put out good eats.

The only other event left for 4-H'ers this summer is the County Bake Show Contest, sponsored by Grain Growers Association. This will be held August 25 at 2 p.m. in the Bovina Bank Community Room. Girls will compete for top honors for County. Bake Show products will be two-crust fruit pies and batter rolls.

USE BOILING WATER BATH FOR PICKLES - Pickles made now from garden-fresh produce promise taste treats when cold weather comes this winter.

Pick the top quality vegetables and fruits for pickles and relishes. Preserve the taste, color and texture or freshness with the best possible pickling method.

Heat process all pickle products with the boiling water bath, suggest Extension foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M University.

Pickles require heat treatment to destroy organisms that cause spoilage. Another reason is to halt the action of enzymes that may affect the flavor, texture and color. This adequate heating is best achieved by processing the filled jars of pickles in a boiling water bath.

There is always danger of spoilage organisms entering the food when it is transferred from kettle to jar, the specialists caution. This is true even when you are extremely careful, and it is the reason open-kettle canning is not recommended.

County home demonstration agents can furnish additional information on making pickles and relishes. Visit your county extension office and request a copy of the USDA bulletin "Making Pickles and Relishes at Home," Home and Gardens Bulletin No. 92.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

This will be my last news article for Parmer County folks and we would like to share a few of our own personal ideas about Parmer County Agriculture.

This area is blessed with some of the best crop growing soil. Generally speaking our water supply has been good up to now. Also insects and diseases are light in nature, especially when compared to other areas.

We all know how fast our water level is dropping, 3 to 4 feet per year. So we know our water supply is declining and getting more expensive to pump.

The water supply is the whole foundation of our present economy in this area. We know many farmers have a hard time irrigating without losing some tailwater. However, have you stopped to think how good that tailwater might look to someone in 20 years?

We believe Parmer County has some of the best farmers to be found anywhere and I challenge each of you to figure out how you can water your crops more efficiently in the future.

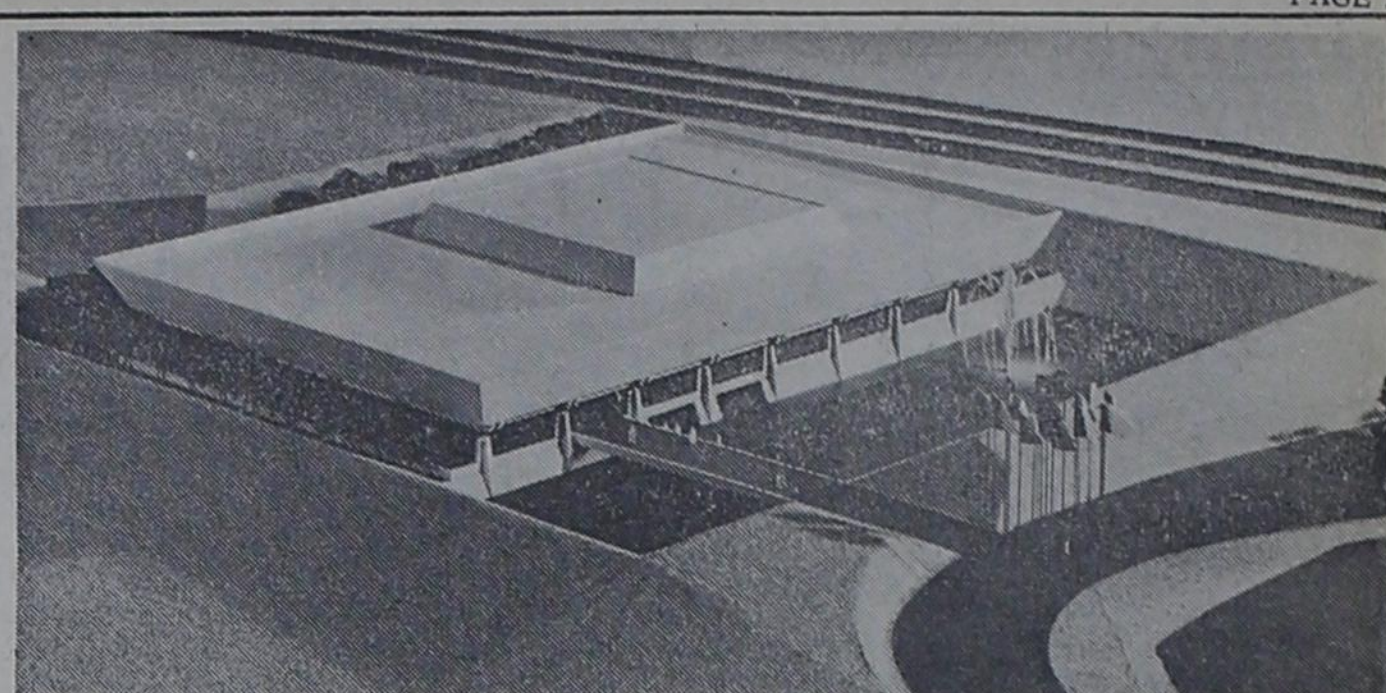

Efficiency and management go hand in hand and are the tools successful farmers will use in the future. If you don't use these two tools all day, someone will come along that can, and will take your place.

I don't see maximum yields as the answer to giving the majority of farmers the maximum net profit. Net profit is hard to calculate when all costs are considered but each farmer had better do some kind of record keeping to come up with his ideas of net profit on each crop.

Net profit per acre-inch of water needs to be considered if you care about future generations living in this area. Is it a good business practice to put on 50 acre-inches of water on a sugar beet crop or 25 acre-inches of water on a wheat crop? I am not saying it is right or wrong but if you apply that much water on a crop, are you getting a fair return for your underground water.

As I said before, our underground water is our most precious resource. What are you selling your water for? Your water is worth about $2.00 per acre-foot based on current land values. Use your own judgment but don't use up the water supply producing crops that return a small margin of profit.

In closing, I want to express my appreciation for the many kind remarks many of you have made in the past few days. We have enjoyed serving as your County Agent and hope you have learned as much from us as we have from you.

SCALE MODEL of the Institute of Texan Cultures to be on display at HemisFair 1968, shows 365-foot long, 50-foot high concrete and glass structure designed to display films, slides and photomurals depicting the cultural history of Texas, from the earliest Indians to the present society. The Institute was conceived by Gov. John Connally to be of lasting value to Texans, beginning with the opening of HemisFair, an official World's Fair, on April 6, 1968 in San Antonio, Texas.

That misfit, the nutria, seems to have met its match. Despite man's diligent efforts to eradicate this pest, it continued to thrive and multiply. But now nature seems to be getting things in hand again, at least along the Gulf Coast where the nutria are most abundant.

On a recent trip to Port Arthur, for instance, we were told we couldn't go on a nutria hunt because, believe it or not, there weren't enough nutria. Talk about a switch!

A few short years ago people were bemoaning the fact that nutria were taking over the land. Then along came Hurricane Carla and suddenly there weren't many nutria anymore. Nature had done what man couldn't do.

Actually, this rat-looking creature is a victim of poor press relations more than anything else.

"There has been a tremendous amount of erroneous information published about nutria," says Ed Holder, outdoors editor of the Port Arthur News and a student of nutria behavior. "Much of it is true. But some of it is merely propaganda, exploited by some, out to pick up a dollar."

For a long while the nutria was considered worthless. It had things to its own liking. Nobody bothered it. So it went happily on its way. It ate everything from swamp grass to the farmer's crop, including mama's flowers and garden.

Then the nutria suddenly had an imposing enemy—man. A profitable market was created for its pelt and hunters started seeking them in earnest. This is another reason why nutria populations no longer are exploding.

Nutria trappers sell the animals "on foot," or simply the dead carcasses. Buyers skin the animals, stretch and dry the pelts, and eventually the skins make their way to furriers.

There also is a market for nutria meat. It is high in protein. Meat is used primarily as a supplement in the mink's diet. This use occurs at certain times of the year, when it is needed most, such as during the mink's pregnancy.

In addition, however, nutria meat is sold in some super markets. Here, of course, there is no great demand for the meat. After all, many people claim it would be like eating an over-sized rat. But those who have tried it say nutria meat is, in fact, quite good. The flesh is lean and tastes much like rabbit.

Those who complain most about the nutria damage are the duck hunters. They claim the nutria is destroying the marshes. But Holder debunks some of this talk.

"The truth is simply that the nutria has made duck hunting more difficult, but has not appreciably hurt duck habitat," he explains. "In fact, in some areas the opening of patches in the marsh has probably helped ducks more than it has hurt them. I've seen nutria clean cane from an area and watched wild millet grow in the same area the next year, feeding thousands of ducks."

Nutria make fascinating targets for hunters. In the water, the cagey nutria can be quite elusive. Now they've become so educated that hunters go after them at night, with lights. This because in daylight they promptly dive at the first sign of danger.

Most sporting method is to hunt them with a .22 rifle. Hunters move through canals cut in the marsh, watching for the telltale head.

When a nutria swims, only a portion of the head protrudes above the surface, presenting a difficult target. A nutria is a hardy animal and can take a wallop from a .22 slug in the body without stopping. Only truly vital spots are in the head or spine.

Nutria are regarded as "slow," but Holder says this is a misnomer. On land one can move almost as fast as a rabbit. But in the water it is no great shakes of a swimmer. It dives slowly too. But it can swim under water for a great distance.

Nutria are natural enemies of dogs. Most dogs seem to go wild when they smell nutria. Labrador retrievers, carried into the marsh by their duck-hunting owners, often attack the so-called "rats." Many suffer severe injuries from the encounter.

A nutria isn't, by habit, a vicious creature. It will run from both man and beast. But when cornered it is a valiant and fast fighter, using teeth and claws to defend itself.

Most experts believe the remarkable nutria population explosion is over. It is felt that the nutria is ready to become a normal part of our animal kingdom and natural elements will probably control their numbers. When that happens, the nutria will increase and diminish in numbers in a regular cycle, just as all other forms of wildlife do.

For the much-cursed nutria, it is indeed a new and different role.

4-H Girls Make Pretty Models

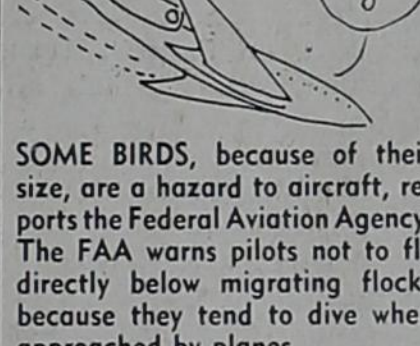

PRETTY girls abound in 4-H Clubs. Here is a pair. Carol Simonells, 14, (left) and Pamela Rey, 14, two Chicago 4-H girls who are ready to model ensembles for an audience of members and leaders. Miss Eleanor Echo, 4-H fashion stylist for Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., which has sponsored the 4-H Dress Revue program for 20 years, is checking on last minute details. Throughout the 50 states other girls are putting the finishing touches to clothes they have made and hope to model in county and state revues. Some will wear sports outfits and casual dresses, while others will glide across the stage in glamorous formal.

The girls have been learning about fabrics, patterns, accessories, care of wardrobes, and how to wear clothes attractively. They also are coached in modeling, grooming and poise.

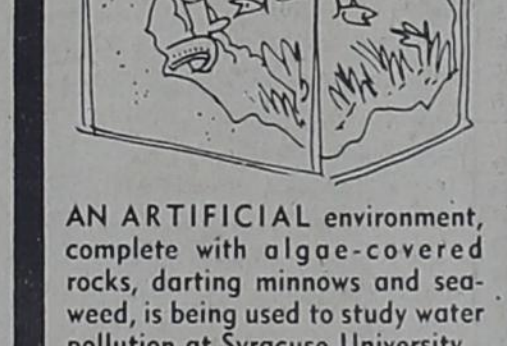

Miss Echo, a former 4-H'er, travels about the country working with local leaders and extension personnel who supervise dress revue projects. At the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago she will narrate the 20th annual dress revue featuring girls from 50 states and Puerto Rico, all winners of state honors and the congress trip provided by Simplicity.

Both Carol and Pamela are looking forward to being in the national revue a few years hence. They have just reached the minimum age requirement: over 14, and they must devote at least three years to the project.

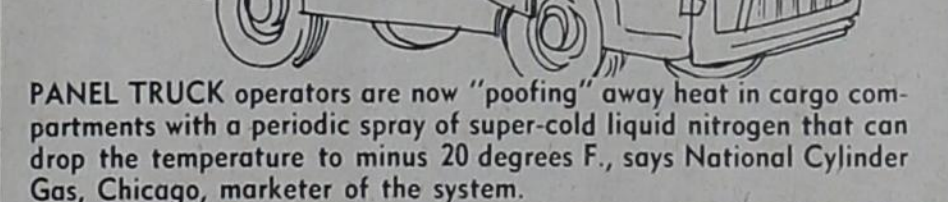

SCIENCE SKETCHES

SOME BIRDS, because of their size, are a hazard to aircraft, reports the Federal Aviation Agency. The FAA warns pilots not to fly directly below migrating flocks because they tend to dive when approached by planes.

AN ARTIFICIAL environment, complete with algae-covered rocks, darting minnows and seaweed, is being used to study water pollution at Syracuse University.

PANEL TRUCK operators are now "poofing" away heat in cargo compartments with a periodic spray of super-cold liquid nitrogen that can drop the temperature to minus 20 degrees F., says National Cylinder Gas, Chicago, marketer of the system.

4-H Dress Revue Winners

Several girls participated in the 4-H Club dress revue held recently in Bovina school auditorium.

Winning first place ribbons for making skirts were Ina Quintana, Cindy Read, Christie Trimble, Hones Mast, and Vivian Hise. Second place ribbons went to Rhonda Rhodes, Cathy Crump, Pam Wilson and Cathy Spurlin.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

"Advertising not only hangs the carrot in front of the donkey's nose but it nurtures and cultivates the carrot. Of course there are many who would prefer that the donkey be inspired by loftier motives. But practical people know that donkeys will travel farther and faster in pursuit of what they like rather than what some sociologists like. Or to put it another way, advertising spurs us to the attainment of many, though certainly not all, of the things that make life worth living. And even if it offends the sensitivities of the sensitive, it puts new products on the market and keeps the good ones there. It makes jobs and profits and pays the tab for more public enlightenment than the detractors of advertising could ever hope to provide."

SUCCESSFUL HUNTER -- Ronald Minyen, who farms northwest of Bovina, killed this wild hog on a recent hunting trip in California. The animal is a cross between a Russian boar and a domestic hog and weighed approximately 400 pounds, Minyen says. He was hunting with his brother-in-law, L. D. McVey of San Yenez, Calif., near Santa Barbara, Calif. The hog's tusks appear to be almost as long as Minyen's fingers.

Joe Dendy Hurt Friday At Ballpark

Joe Dendy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dendy, was hurt Friday night in an accident at Bovina Little League Ball Park.

Several children were throwing rocks behind the parked cars. Dendy was hit in the head with a rock and suffered a cut. He was taken to clinic where several stitches were taken.

He is reported to be in good condition.

Three Bovina Airmen Serve Hitches Together

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- The following story appeared in the July 29 issue of The Dyess Peacemaker, newspaper at Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene. It concerns three Bovina men who have spent the last four years in the air force together. They are John J. Sikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sikes, Jack D. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, and Delbert A. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hall. The men have been friends since they were in the fifth grade here. They enlisted in the air force at approximately the same time and have, oddly enough, stayed together during their four year service careers. Turner and Hall were to be discharged Friday with Sikes' discharge coming in the near future. DM)

Would you believe two airmen went through basic, technical training school and are now at Dyess together? There was even a friend just three weeks behind them. Who says there is no buddy system?

This is the case of A1C Jack D. Turner, A2C Delbert A. Hall and A1C John Sikes Jr., all from Bovina, Tex.

The airmen have been friends since they were in the fifth grade together. When it came time to serve their country, they decided to go as a group. The recruiter made promises that had no business coming true, but they did. As a matter of fact they got more breaks than the law allows.

Airman Turner and Airman Hall enlisted on July 31, 1962. It was three weeks before Airman Sykes joined because he had a broken ankle.

During their eight weeks of basic training, five at Lackland AFB, Tex., and three at Kessler AFB, Miss., they were always in the same flight. At the end of their third week at Kessler, who should pop up but Airman Sykes.

Technical training school was no exception to the rule. All three were stationed at Kessler, Airman Turner and Airman Hall for 22 weeks of basic electronics and 14 weeks of data processing school. Airman Sykes' technical training school was seven weeks shorter, so he left Kessler about a month before the others. As Airman Turner's and Airman Hall's technical training school near-ed an end, they were sure the time of separation was here.

This was not true. To the contrary, they were both sent to the same base, Dyess. It did not take long for them to realize that this was the same base that Airman Sikes had been sent to.

While at Dyess Airman Turner and Airman Hall have been attached to the 96th Strategic Aerospace Wing Headquarters Squadron, Airman Sikes was a member of the 1993rd Communications Squadron.

With the date of separation near, the airmen talked very philosophically about their four years in the Air Force. They all seemed to think it had been a worthwhile experience. They talked of the specialized training they had received and what a great advantage it will be in civilian life. They are all planning to go into electronics.

In March of 1963 Airman Sykes married the former Joyce Webb of Bovina. They now have two children: Allan Dale, 2 and John Richard, 2 months. Allan Dale is named after Airman Turner and Airman Hall.

In June of 1965 Airman Hall married the former Sherry Lomax of Abilene.

Don't get the wrong idea, Airman Turner has nothing against the opposite sex, he just likes the life of a bachelor.

Weekly Newspapers Gain Readers

Weekly newspapers in the United States experienced a 50% increase in circulation from 1953 through 1964, the latest year for which figures are available, according to the 1966 National Directory of Weekly Newspapers, published last month by American Newspaper Representatives, Inc. According to the 1955 directory, in 1953 8,400 weeklies had a total circulation of 17.3 million. The 1966 directory lists for 1964 some 8,000 weeklies (including triweeklies and semiweeklies) with combined circulation of 26 million.

FACTS ABOUT TERRAZZO

Terrazzo is a type of durable flooring made by setting chips of marble into concrete, then planning the surface to a high gloss. Terrazzo is not a copyrighted name; it is sold under many trade names. Here are some facts about this widely-used flooring that may interest you.

NON-SLIP FLOORS

Wherever pedestrian traffic is heavy -- office buildings, hospitals, schools -- non-slip terrazzo floors are being used. The warmth and beauty of terrazzo, in addition to its safety and durability factors, are further reasons for its wide acceptance wherever people gather.
