"Decision Day" Exercises.

Yesterday was a "red letter day" in the history of the Methodist Church of this city. Special preparations were made for "Decision Day" in the Sunday School, in consequence of which 11 scholars were baptized and received in the membership of the church while a number of others decided upon a Christian life. But the results of the day were more far reaching, as 13 men and women also were received into membership by letter and on profession of faith during the day making a total of 25. But even this does not cover the results as the pastor holds back the names of 10 more men and women to be announced later as they were not present yesterday.

Jas. H. Haltom Sr. and wife are spending a few days in town. This morning he dropped in to chat the Sentinel folks, who are his relatives and friends, and he said that in coming to town he met with his old friend L. S. Taylor. They had not met in several years, and so they had a friendly exchange of words. Taylor asked him if he had forgotten the time when he, Taylor, was taken with cramps while swimming away out in White River, Ark. during the war, and had to call loudly for help and Haltom swam out to him and rescued him. He said he would have drowned, then and there in sight of hundreds of comrades who did not come to help him, though he was a fine swimmer. Haltom remembered it well and so the two recited their association of old, and thought over the past.

Mr. W. U. Perkins manager of the oil mill informs the Sentinel that, as soon as the fire insurance adjusters are satisfied the mill will be rebuilt and will at once resume operating. This may require as much as thirty days.

Largest Library in The South.

There have been more books added to the library of the University of Texas during the past two years than were contained the library 12 or 15 years ago. By binding, gitt, and purchase the library has gained in the last two years above 22,000 volumes. During this period, 363,832 books were circulated, and about 13,000 books were cataloged. The library now holds above 100,000 volumes, which is the largest library in the South. Increased service has made the employment of six more assistants necessary this year.

The infant baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Linthicum died at their home in Martinsville last Saturday and was buried at Appleby Sunday afternoon. Mrs. J. M. Spradley was called there Saturday on account of the illness of the child. Mr. Linthicum and Mrs. Spradley are brother and sister.

The Methodist Church.

"The Call to Sacrifice and Service" will be the theme of the morning message on Sunday at 11 o'clock, when the pastor, S. S. McKenney will preach the anniversary sermon to the Woman's Missionary Society.

"The Expulsive Power of a Greater Affection" will be the subject of an evangelistic sermon at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Strangers are welcome, and the public is cordially invited to each service of the day. The house will be comfortably heated or ventilated to suit weather conditions.

Miss Christabel Patton returned to A. C. I. in Jacksonville this afternoon. Miss Christabel came home on a short visit on account of the illness and operation of her mother, Mrs. C. B. Patton. Mrs. Patton is in a local sanitarium here. She is getting along nicely.

The Fire this Morning.

From Monday's Daily: This morning at 5:30 o'clock, fire was discovered in the hull house of the Nacogdoches Oil Mill and rapidly spread to the seed house. Both buildings were a total loss.

The heroic work of the Fire Company ably assisted by citizens confined the fire to these two buildings.

The delay in turning in the alarm and low water pressure made the fight a bitter one and for awhile it looked as if the Oil Mill office and the W. T. Wilson Grain Co.'s two large ware houses, together with all other property on west side of rail road would be lost, but desperate fighting and shifting of the wind saved the day.

Fire Chief Sturdevant had on a pair of rubber boots (with out sox) and got into a "Tolerably hot place," here the rubber boots went back on him and blistered both feet right badly and in this connection he wishes to thank Rho Cox and Sam Hayter who kidly divided shoes and sox with him.

The loss is estimated at perhaps more than $15,000.00 mostly covered by insurance.

The machinery of the mill was not seriously injured. There were about 5000 tons of seed destroyed which had cost over $15.00 a ton.

It is expected the mill will be re-built at once.

Fire Marshall's Report.

The fire was discovered at 5:30 a. m. in the hull house about 10 feet from the floor in the center of the building. Cause of origin is unknown.

Pat Murphy,
Fire Marshall.

Report Of Buy-A-Bale Club.

The number of bales sold is 78. The number of purchasers is 69.

We feel some what disappointed at the indifference shown in so worthy a cause. However we are glad that the number is not less.

The merchants helped this cause by giving 10c for cotton on accounts.

How many bales have been placed in this way. I have no way of knowing therefore can not give the number of bales so purchased.

Respectfully,

R. W. Murphey,
Secretary of Buy-a-Bale Club.

More Burglaries.

On the same night the Catholic church was entered by burglars the Episcopal church was also entered.

A new bottle of sacrament wine, with only a small quantity used from it, was and some other small articles are missing.

It is thought the truants had been playing cards, as a playing card was found in the church.

New "First Lady."

The white house has a new mistress

Miss Margaret Wilson has laid down her editorial pen, cancelled her lecture engagements, abandoned her cherished philanthropic mission and the "friend of the slum-dweller," the patron of many working girls' clubs has taken her position as first lady of the land, and social mentor of the nation.

As the president's eldest daughter she succeeds to the position recently vacated by the death of her mother, Mrs. Helen Axson Wilson.

Miss Wilson's tastes being intellectual and artistic rather than social, she has had small share in the social life of Washington, preferring to devote her time to the study of music, to lecturing in the interests of social equity, and to promoting interests in social center work.

Miss Wilson, who is considerably less than 30 years old, is the third unmarried woman and the second very young woman to preside at the white house. During the Cleveland administration the president's sister, Miss Rose Cleveland, was white house hostess until she was succeeded by the president's bride, Francis Folsom Cleveland, and Miss Helen Taft, while still a school girl, took her mother's place during the latter's illness, as "first lady" and received with her father at state functions in Washington.

Burglars in Catholic Priest's Room.

Monday evening about eight o'clock as Father Casserly on entering his room after supper some one hit him a sounding blow on the jaw which stunted him sufficiently for the person and his accomplice to make their escape.

One of them went west out the front way and over the fence and the other broke through the screen in the window going east out the back way. It being dark and the priest being taken so by surprise he was unable to tell whether they were white or colored.

The priest's trunk was pruned open and rumaged through and a little square tin box in which there was some private papers was broken open and left in the aisle of the church. Nothing was missed up to a late hour this morning.

It is thought the parties must have entered through Mrs. Muller's lot this being a very dark way and her gates that had been tied the night before were untied and left open.

The priest was not badly hurt and he called for help immediately but the house breakers had fast made their escape.

Appleby Camp No. 1219 will unveil the monument of Sov. Bunyon Greer at North Church on Sunday, November 1, at 2:30 p. m. All camps are invited to attend and assist in this unveiling.

Fraternally,

W. D. Burrows, Consul
Commander,
J. P. Coon, Clerk.

Novel Bright and Miss Dovie Mae Bailey were married at the Methodist parsonage last night at 7:15 o'clock. Rev. S. S. McKenney officiating. The young people are well known here. Mr. Bright is the son of O. A. Bright and is a popular grocery merchant of this city. Miss Bailey is the sweet young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lin Bailey. Mr. and Mrs. Bright will make their home here. The Sentinel extends congratulations to the happy pair.

To country correspondent:

You must get your letters to the Sentinel on or before Tuesday, to be in time for the Weekly Sentinel, which is published on Thursdays. Another point should be noted, viz: write facts only, and do not moralize about events of a personal kind. For instance, do not wish them a long and happy life, nor tell how glad we are to have them with us, nor that our preacher or teacher our church or school, is superior, and other mere windy platitudes. And don't be lengthy. Two pages will hold more than the average writer tells. Several letters came in this morning, Thursday, too lengthy and too late for use as desired by the writers, and fuller of words and wishes than of news or facts. But the Sentinel is glad to get them, and to use all that are practicable.

Be sure and go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 3.
