The Christian Meeting.

The protracted meeting held at the Main Street Presbyterian church by Rev. Dr. D. A. Leak last week and the week preceeding ended with a baptising of two converts at the Baptist church last Sunday, and two meetings the same day, morning and night at the Ideal Theater, both meetings having a crowded house, even to overflowing.

A Sunday school was organized by the Christian church, and a regular church organization is under way. Rev. Weaver of Timpson is to hold services here every second Sunday in month.

Home Mission Social Meeting.

Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. L. Sturdevant Mesdames Sturdevant, Ben Wilson and Beeman Strong was the trio hostess for the Methodist Home Mission monthly social meeting.

There were as many or more than 60 present, this being Mrs. McKenney's last meeting with them. All members who possibly could attended for a last good bye.

The "Negro Problem" absorbed the attention during the lesson session and the entertainment program was opened with a Bible quiz. This was very helpful being a kind of review and the manner in which it was carried out gave excuse for a good time. Sides were chosen and the questions were given and answered like an old time spelling match which has always been known to be the most mirth provoking of entertainments. Mrs. Cason appointed the nominating committees to select prospective members for next years office.

The business being disposed of an elaborate course of pressed chicken salted peanuts olives, sandwiches, saltine flakes and coffee was served.

From Melrose

Editor Sentinel:

We are having a nice rain which was badly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and sister from Dallas are on a visit to their mother Mrs. Martin.

Dorothy Hardeman, Cullis Wilson, Fred Buckner, Jewel Whitehead, and Jessie Stallidgs. from the Nacogdoches school came home Saturday returning Sunday evening.

Our minds this morning are on the coming Thanksgiving day. The first one was no formal affair as we now have. Governor William Bradford, of Plymouth, in 1621, meant what he said unto the colonists "Ye shall gather and hold thanksgiving unto the Lord." So he sent four men to gather game and they brought in wild turkey meat and venison for the feast. Priscilla Mullins who played such havoc with the heart of Miles Standish, was the chief cook, and well did she perform her work. Ordinary work was suspended that day while special services of praise and thanksgiving were held. That sacred day produced such an impression that the custom has been handed down thru the intervening generations to us. Let that spirit of tender affection go out from son's and daughters to fathers and mothers and loved ones. Speak a word of kindness to the restless youth. Touch with a gentle hand the silver locks of age, those that can—give tokens of love with presents to the desiring faithful ones, and especially to Gods Own servants and his blessings will follow you. L. W.

Martin Gonzales, died last night at his home about six miles southwest of town. He leaves a family, who are descendants of the José Montes family. They are good Mexican people, and pioneer settlers of this county. He was about 55 years old.

Wade Wolters Went A Fishing.

In order to keep up with all parts of the line; not the fighting line in Europe, but the fishing line and its meanders and incidents down on the Angaleen river, angler river, the Sentinel keeps in touch with Wade Wolters. He wades waters, and brings out the fishes. He took John Crawford along this time. He always takes some miserable man out of his misery. And Wade delivers all the goods himself. The other fellow just looks on in amazement till grub time. Then he counts in. The number of fish they caught this time, down at Poe, and the kinds, and who got a share is too much to tell.

The hardware store of Tucker Sitton was burglarized one night last week, and twenty eight pocket knives were taken. Deputy city Marshal, C. M. Walters, got busy and in 48 hours returned all of the knives. He found them in possession of two small white boys. Names are withheld for obvious reasons. How to reform, or in the first place, how to train boys, is no easy problem.

Meeting At Mrs. Cunningham's.

The prayer service of Saturday afternoon was the closing one of the series of services which the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church held each day during the week. Miss Mollie Thomas was the able leader, and she, assisted by several of the ladies, carried out an interesting program bearing on the topic—"Mission Schools."

As a fitting close to this very successful "Home Mission Week" came the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society. The ladies met with Mrs. Cunningham Monday afternoon in their social meeting. The president, Mrs. Haltom, led the devotional exercises which were followed by a very enjoyable program.

Then, came the pleasant social hour. Cards were passed, and each lady was asked to write some blessing she had received during the week of prayer. These were collected and read. The hostess served a lovely two course menu, which was significant of Thanksgiving. A little card on each plate bearing a "thank offering" was especially effective. Thus closed a most delightful meeting. Reporter.

That so-called colored doctor over the creek towards the Frost-Johnson mill still flourishes with a prodigious patronage, coming from divers localities, some coming many miles. He uses no medicines and but little manual agencies, only a species of hoke-us-poke-us.

The War

In Mexico, the United States has withdrawn the troops and Gen. Funston. The infantry has sailed for Texas City, and the marines to other stations.

The Carranza army under Gen. Aguilar entered Vera Cruz.

There is great uneasiness as to the future. Gen. Villa is besieging Guadalajara on his way to the City of Mexico. The opposing forces to Carranza are resisting by strategy more than by battle. Gen. Blanco has taken charge of the city for temporary protection of the people.

As to Europe the magnitude of the armies and battles baffles ordinary description. The armies at all points are fighting furiously. Advances and retreats occur in various sections of the long lines of battle, but the general shape of things is not materially changed. Victories are not of a type to give decisive results, even at limited points. After all, the great war rages in a most destructive manner comparable to a great tornado or hurricane.

Just Simply a Plain Democrat.

We are glad Jeff: McLemore was elected to Congress. It is so refreshing now and then to have a Democrat put forward who has no trill; and tubelows to his name but is just simply a plain Democrat. And Jeff: will be found on the firing line at Washington, too. Mark the prediction.—Hamilton Herald.

To Honor Mrs. Ellen Wilson.

Nation-wide appeal to the women of the country to help build a fitting memorial in the National capital to the deceased wife of the President has been made by Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, chairman of the District of Columbia section of the National Civic Federation, says the Washington Evening Star.

The dying wish of Mrs. Wilson, that the "allev bill" she had favored should be passed by Congress has suggested the nature of this memorial. It is to take the form of an entire city square of model dwelling houses, to be rented at the lowest possible rates to those who had formerly been living in the alleys of Washington. In this block are to be located a municipal wash-house, a day home, where children may be cared for while their parents are at work, and other social and housing reform features in which Mrs. Wilson was deeply interested.

This square of model dwellings is to be known as "the Ellen Wilson Memorial Homes." It is expected that the project will cost about $200,000. The plan as outlined has the most cordial approbation of President Wilson.

An extensive organized move is on foot to acquire contributions for this beautiful and worthy work.

Our Town Is Improving.

There are quite a lot of substantial improvements going on in our town that are probably not observed by many of the residents.

Just south of the ice plant on the H. E. & W. P. Ry., the Nacogdoches Elevators Co., has just completed its large warehouse, and is filling it with all kinds of feed stuffs. The excavation for the elevator is being made, and there is material on the ground to complete this structure.

Just north of the buildings of the Nacogdoches Grocery Co. which are on the same rail road just north of the passenger depot, there is a large warehouse almost completed, for storage purposes in general, including cotton. With capacity for 4500 bales of cotton.

Just north of the court house, in the first block on North street, there is nearly completed a large brick building to be used as a garage. This is to be equipped with all up to date conveniences.

All of these buildings are financed by local capital, and will be operated by our own people, chiefly by young men born and raised here.

The colored Baptist people are erecting a fine church on Lanana street next block north of Oak Grove cemetery, to cost when completed about $6000.

Quite a member of new dwellings have recently been built and several others are to be built right away. There are also some improvements planned on other business houses.

Over the Banita creek beyond the bridge on South North street, this street is receiving a nice dressing under the supervision of the indomitable Pat Murphy. It will be an ornament.

Thousands of dollars are being turned loose to laborers who are employed in these enterprises, and later on much money will be used for employees who are to operate them.

We need not say "Hot time in the old town tonight," but who can say that our town is going to the bowwows.

And with the general financial improvements throughout the United States under the guidance of our most able national administration, and the confidence so universally expressed by the men of brains and cash who are worthy of confidence, surely we are prompted to be optimistic as to future conditions. The country will be prosperous, cotton will bring normal prices, and old Nacogdoches is doing very well thank you. Come and abide with us.

England's hero, Field Marshal Roberts, whom Emperor Wilhelm once described as Europe's greatest soldier, did not fall in action, but he died in the field and in line of duty at the age of 82. He had borne every honor a British soldier covets and died serving his country.

An Old Story

The winter's approaching, the sleet and the storm will soon be encroaching on latitudes warm. The snowflakes are leaking from clouds that are gray, the winds will come shrieking from Hudson's cheap bay. Then peace to the worker who toiled in the heat, and woe to the shirker who loated in the street! The man who kept toiling in June and July, has cabbage for boiling, and chicken to fry; with grub in his larder, the storm he may dare: "Dad bust you, blow harder—its little I care!" With coal in the cellar, he says to the storm, "Get busy, old feller—I'm comfy and warm!" But what of the neighbor who's not a live wire, who looks on all labor as punishment dire! He loafs through the summer when farmer and clerk, and painter and plumber are doing their work. He sits in the shadow and dreams by the day of some Eldorado where loafing will pay. And then when the winter is doing its chore, he goes like a sprinter from door unto door, assistance beseeching—some prunes for a pie; "My children," he's screeching, "all threaten to die!" The generous toiler, the kindest of men, takes out from his boiler the wing of a hen; "Give that to the kiddies," he says, "and by heck, I'll kill some more biddies to keep them on deck!"

—Walt Mason.

Good Talks

Col. R. T. Milner and Hon. S. M. King went to Garrison and Appleby yesterday where Col. Milner made addresses to farmers and business men regarding the reduction in the 1915 acreage and slowly marketing the 1914 crop. One of Col. Milner's points in reference to the marketing of this year's crop is to do it slowly and in small quantities, just as the spinners demand the crop. He contends that if this is properly done it will have a great effect on the price paid and all in favor of the grower of the crop. The spinners can not use the crop in less than a year, and if it is a year before the crop is marketed and the acreage for the 1915 crop is cut half the price will be compelled to advance to a profitable one for the producer.

Garrison and Appleby both turned out in a most satisfactory manner to bear Col. Milner's address. All the stores, banks, offices, etc., were closed and all the farmers who happened to be in the towns turned out to hear him.

This morning Col. Milner visited the Central schools and of course was at home in his address to the pupils. There are few men in the State who understand girls and boys as Col. Milner does, and it is here that he gets the greatest pleasure from his life's work. His subject, "Cleanliness is Godliness," was well and most happily presented and held the pupils at close attention throughout his entire address. Such talks from such men will go with our girls and boys as an inspiration throughout their entire lives.

Bats as Mosquito Enemies.

Out in Texas it has been discovered that the common bat, that never has enjoyed any great degree of popularity is a relentless foe of mosquitoes and, therefore, an important agent for the extirpation of malaria.

Experiments made in San Antonio have proven the value of the bat so conclusively that the Texas Legislature has declared a perpetual closed season on bats. A law has been enacted which makes it a penal offense to destroy one of the creatures and the once general practice of shooting bats has ceased—at least in those regions where malaria is abundant.

Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell, a San Antonio physician, is principally responsible for the changed attitude of Texas with regard to the bat family. After satisfying himself thoroughly as to the usefulness of bats Dr. Campbell began encouraging their propagation by the construction of bat nests. Ordinarily the bats live in caves and are thus a prey to wild animals. The nests are built above ground. They are constructed with especial care to protect the bats from the elements and from their animal enemies. They are then sprayed with a chemical preparation which gives off an odor similar to the natural odor of the bat. When this is done colonies of bats are quickly attracted.

The roosts have been erected in the worst malarial regions around San Antonio and it is claimed that with the increase of the bats there has been a perceptible decrease in the number of mosquitoes and also in the amount of sickness as a result of malarial diseases.

There may be better ways of eradicating malaria than by the propagation of bats, but in localities where mosquito breeding conditions exist and cannot be abated the assistance of the bat should be welcome. Bats are not beautiful to look upon and are rather generally despised by the human family. As exterminators of mosquitoes they deserve consideration and should grow in public esteem.

Pity the Distressed Belgians.

Appeals are being sent out to the world through the press by charitable organizations in behalf of the suffering, starving, dying Belgians. The case is extreme in point of degree of suffering and in extent as to numbers. It cannot be exaggerated.

"Today hundreds of thousands of Belgians are homeless and penniless refugees. Thousands of civilians have met a miserable death.

"The whole apparatus of economic life in field or factory or office has been wrecked and ruined so that the future of Belgium is beyond prophecy."

The tale is too bad to relate and these people are innocent victims. Contributions are being asked and given for relief.

GIVES MIDNIGHT ALARM

Farmer Stout was awakened from a sound sleep by the ringing of his telephone bell. The barn of his neighbor, three miles down the turnpike, had been broken into and a driving horse stolen.

The horse thieves were headed toward the Stout farm. Calling his hands he armed his forces, lined them upon the turnpike, captured the thieves and held them until the arrival of the Sheriff.

Gambling in Future

One of the developments of the week in the cotton market has been the failure of future gambling to raise the price of cotton as had been promised by the advocates of future gambling. Following the opening of the cotton exchanges the price of spot cotton declined about a cent a pound and the future market disclosed totally unlooked for weakness. The result has been that not only those who have heretofore been unbelievers in the efficacy of future gambling to maintain prices are confirmed in their belief, while many advocates of the future market have been converted into opponents and there is likely to be a general demand for the confinement of cotton trading on the exchanges to spot dealing.

The opening of the cotton exchanges was under the most favorable conditions and there was reason to believe that prices would be established on a basis of about 8 cents for spot cotton. The successful consummation of the cotton pool, which will take the distressed cotton off the market, the opening of the reserve banks, which will make available a large amount of money for moving the crops, the increase in both foreign and domestic demand for cotton and the generally improved financial and trade conditions throughout the country, all pointed to a steady improvement in the cotton market. It was predicted that futures would be a powerful factor in raising and steadying prices. The result has been quite the contrary. Prices have been lowered by future trading and the demand has been hurt.

There may be arguments that will explain satisfactorily the failure of resumption of gambling in futures to improve conditions, but it will take some powerful logic to explain away the drop of a cent a pound in cotton. Gambling in futures may survive the shock, but all the burden of the proof is now clearly on the advocates of gambling in futures.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas in the providence of Almighty God, our beloved brother, E. A. Blount, has been removed by death from the busy walks of life to that "bourn from whence no traveler returns;" and

Whereas his death has taken from us one of the states' most progressive and successful leaders in large business affairs, one of her most patriotic and honored citizens, one of the truest and most beloved members of our order, and one whose every heart beat was in the interest of the right; Therefore be it resolved:

First. That our departed brother, by his splendid example of Christian manhood and by the exercise of those intellectual and moral qualities of which he was so richly endowed has so enshrined himself in the hearts and memories of the many who knew him and loved him, that his many noble acts and deeds will continue to live in the hearts of men, and to influence and inspire them to a nobler and better life.

Second. We realize that in his death our State, County, and City, has lost one of their leading and most honorable citizens—one whose splendid intellectual ability and purity of heart made him the acknowledged leader in every sphere of life. He has by his splendid life and character and his influence socially, intellectually and religiously, contributed largely to making the world better.

Third. That our State, County and community has lost one of their most distinguished and patriotic citizens, our lodge one of its truest and most valuable members; his home a true and loving husband and father.

Fourth. That a copy of these resolutions be recorded upon our minutes, a copy be presented to the bereaved family, and a copy given to the local press for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
Thos. E. Baker.

John G. McKay is State Secretary.

Temple, Tex., Nov. 18.—Governor-elect Ferguson today announced that the appointment of secretary of state under his administration had been tendered to John G. McKay and accepted. Mr. Ferguson will visit Freeport next Tuesday and from there will proceed to Houston, when he will take trips to the penitentiary farms in Fort Bend and Brazoria counties.

John Grossman and his son, of Houston, were out bird hunting near Crosby. The father was climbing through a barbed wire fence with his gun which was thereby discharged. The son was badly wounded and was carried to the St. Joseph Infirmary.

HAVE YOU A CHILD?

Many women long for children, but because of some curable physical derangement are deprived of this greatest of all happiness. The women whose names follow were restored to normal health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write and ask them about it.

"I took your Compound and have a fine, strong baby." — Mrs. JOHN MITCHELL, Massena, N. Y.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine for expectant mothers." — Mrs. A. M. MYERS, Gordonville, Mo.

"I highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before child-birth, it has done so much for me." — Mrs. E. M. DOERR, R. R. 1, Conshohocken, Pa.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build up my system and have the dearest baby girl in the world." — Mrs. MOSE BLAKELEY, Imperial, Pa.

"I praise the Compound whenever I have a chance. It did so much for me before my little girl was born." — Mrs. E. W. SANDELL, Rowlesburg, W. Va.

"I took your Compound before baby was born and feel I owe my life to it." — Mrs. WENDE TILLS, Winter Haven, Florida.

Palms:—Browning at the tips usually comes from trouble at the roots. First, overwatering; second, worms on the roots; third, lack of plant food. The first is the trouble in nearly every case. The worms that give the trouble is not the ordinary earth worm, but a little white harmless looking creature that emerges into the air as a small fly. Dissolve a piece of quick lime as big as a tea cup in three gallons of water. After it is through sputtering and the milky mixture has cleared, pour off the clear part and soak your soil with it. Do not dilute, for the soaking should be thorough. To provide plant food, stir small quantities of bone meal and wood ashes into the surface or in place of ordinary water occasionally use manure water or ammonia water (a teaspoonful of ammonia to a quart of water). Trim off the brown tips, as they will never recover. If the leaves turn yellow, look for scale on the under side and be sure you are not overwatering. Wash the scale off or spray with kerosene emulsion or whale-oil soap, or some nicotine preparation.

A WARNING TO MANY Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys. The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength. When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs. An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy. If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, writes to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bringhamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post. Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c. and $1.00.

War Revenue Taxes.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 21.—Collector of Internal Revenue A. S. Walker today called attention to the requirements of the recently enacted Emergency Revenue Law, commonly called the War Revenue Act.

Beginning with the month of November, special taxes are imposed on the following occupations: Dealers in tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, snuff, etc. (when annual sales exceed $200), bankers, brokers of all kinds, commission merchants, theater proprietors, circus proprietors, and proprietors of bowling alleys, pool and billiard rooms.

To avoid 50 per cent penalty, these must be paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue before the close of business on November 30th. The first tax period is that from Nov. 1st, 1914 to June 30th 1915 and the tax to be paid at this time 2/3 of the tax for a full year. The tax to be paid by dealers in tobacco, cigars, etc., is $3.20 for the remaining eight months of the fiscal year.

All persons liable to the above special taxes should immediately write the Collector at Austin for blank application, Form 114, and after this form has been received it should be properly executed and forwarded to the Collector by return mail, accompanied by Austin exchange or postal money order for the amount of the tax. If application blank is not received promptly, remittance to cover the tax should be mailed to reach the Collector before the close of business on November 30th. The 50 per cent penalty will apply to all remittances received after that date.

Banker's returns will be made in duplicate on Form 457. The tax should be remitted at the time of filing report, which must be rendered during November.

All perfumes, cosmetics, etc. and chewing gum sold at retail after November 30th must have the proper revenue stamp attached. A stamp tax is also imposed on notes, deeds, bonds, insurance policies (not including life insurance), powers of attorney, and other documents on and after December 1st.

Supplies of stamps to be attached to documents and articles may be obtained from the Collector at Austin or from the deputy collectors at El Paso and Dallas. Orders for documentary stamps should be made on Form 427, and on form 427-A for perfumery, cosmetics, chewing gum, etc.

A copy of the law giving schedule of documents and articles taxed will be furnished on request.

Goes To Aquilla

The News notes with gratification the appointment of L. L. Evans to the pastorate of Aquilla in the Waco district by the M. E. Conference in session at Hillsboro this week. This is our Lysander, who a few short years ago became imbued with the praiseworthy desire to fit himself for the preaching of the gospel, and by close application and study attained his wish to the end that he is now placed in charge of a pastorate in a good town. His friends in Lutkin, where he was virtually raised, can extend congratulations to his charge, and are confident that he will make them an excellent pastor in every way.

A Notable Wedding.

The Press Journal of Rusk, Cherokee Co. Texas, has an erudite and elaborate write up of the wedding of Miss Myrta Perkins to Mr. James Kerr, which occurred in Rusk on the 14th inst, at the home of the brides parents, Judge and Mrs. Jas. I. Perkins. This young couple both belong to families of note in this state, from the view point of their being leading pioneers of Texas and prominent from then till now as important agents in a public sense.

The wedding was attended by a number of friends and relatives of the Perkins family from this section. Judge Perkins has many friends here, and the bride's mother who was a daughter of Judge Bennett Blake, a most honored pioneer resident of this county, has relatives and friends here. The bride herself is well and favorably known here and a frequent visitor. These families are homelocks here, and all being sympathic, our people feel a fraternal interest in them. The formalities and ceremonies that were invoked in this wedding were unusually impressive and of a superior type and splendor.

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism

Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

An Illinois paper, says the Waco Times-Herald, declares that Count Zeppelin, the inventor of the great dirigible airships which have so frightened the English, served in the Confederate army during the civil war. It is authority for the statement that he enlisted in the southern army and fought until the close of the war.

Count Zeppelin's experiments with airships date from the end of his experiences on United States battlefields. It was here that he conceived his idea of military balloons and although 43 years old at the time, he began to invent schemes for sailing in the air.

The emperor of Germany appointed a commission of military and scientific experts, which promptly and officially "turned down" his plans as visionary. "Such a balloon," declared one of the technical professors, "can never attain the necessary speed of 39 feet a second." Zeppelin went ahead with indomitable energy, optimism and humor, spending all his fortune, and then making use of a large legacy which fell to him at the right moment. On July 2, 1900, his first ship made an ascent of 18 minutes. This craft was hardly successful and brought ridicule rather than recognition. When his friends were about gone the count sent out in 1903 an "urgent appeal," explaining that his labors would be forever wasted unless help was given at once.

A lottery brought funds for a new ship, which was soon wrecked. This seemed to end the matter, but Zeppelin immediately built a third ship out of his last funds: this had a decided, but brief, success before it, too was destroyed. Then the German people as a whole sprang to his aid and made him a splendid present of over $1,500,000.

The confidence of his fatherland apparently has not been misplaced and the count has made his war machine one of the most dreaded forces of modern warfare.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

"Last winter when my little boy had croup I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I honestly believe it saved his life," writes Mrs. J. B. Cook, Indiana, Pa. "It cut the phlegm and relieved his coughing spells. I am most grateful for what this remedy has done for him." For sale by all dealers.

Not True.

The following is clipped from State Topics, a Houston Journal, being part of what some notable M. D.'s and reformers have said. It is very far from the real facts.

The drug habit most frequently arises from using the dope to relieve physical suffering, and after it is established also and the physical necessity demands the dope, not the whim nor the thirst for the drug. Few, very few, use it from choice. It becomes an unavoidable necessity.

Here follows the clip: "The drug-users themselves are practically a unit in declaring that they begantaking the drug because it was more easily obtained than their accustomed beverages. In considering the value of such statements we must, of course, make allowance for the characteristic untruthfulness of the drug habitue. But it is inconceivable that they should all hit upon the statement without the existence of a ground-work of truth for their assertions. It is improbable, also, that physicians and officials, should have reached the same conclusion without adequate reason for their belief.

Despondency Due To Indigestion

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

Best Cough Medicine for Children

"Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburgh one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. That Pension Grant.

It will be fifty years on April 9 next since the war closed, yet the United States is paying more money out for pensions than was paid 25 years ago, and as fast as the ex-federal soldiers die off some new scheme is devised and the law is let out a lap or two more and made to reach those who were not born when the war closed. Then again, thousands take pensions who have no need for them at all. Senator Williams of Mississippi stated recently in the Senate that he served with a man in the House who got $5000 a year as congressman and who had a fortune of a million and a half dollars, yet drew the largest pension paid by the government.—Houston Chronicle.

What Would You Do?

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a sore cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all dealers.

Late War News

Berlin, Nov. 24.—(By wireless to London).—An official communication given out today by the German headquarters staff says:

"British warships again appeared off the Belgian coast yesterday and bombarded Lombaertzyde and Zeebrugge. Our troops suffered but slight damage from this bombardment, but a number of Belgian villagers were killed and injured. Otherwise no actual changes have occurred in the west.

New York, Nov. 24.—Per Ostberg, special messenger of the king of Sweden, reached New York today on the steamship Hellig Olav from Christiania bearing a message from King Gustav to the Swedish embassy at Washington which he said was too important to trust either to the mails or the cables. He left at once for Washington.

Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—Via London.—The Handelsblad learns that the Germans are still insisting that Antwerp pay a levy of $10,000,000. Deputy Burgomaster Franck has refused until he is assured that the Germans will make no more requisitions for supplies. The situation has reached a deadlock and is strained.

Paris, Nov. 24.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Petrograd, says:

"Advices received here from Libau are that the Germans have opened a second bombardment on the city, especially directed against the most populous quarters. A great many women and a number of children were killed.

London, Nov. 24.—A correspondent of the Times in Flanders says the Germans are placing in shape a large number of armed motor boats for use on the Belgian canal.

History of Thanksgiving

Next Thursday will be the 293d occurrence of Thanksgiving Day, for the first celebration was made in 1621, the second year of the Pilgrims' residence in America. While observance of the day for many years was not general throughout the nation, the New Englanders faithfully set apart the day each year, so that Thanksgiving has earned the reputation of being the oldest and most honored American holiday.

The first national proclamation of a Thanksgiving Day was written by George Washington, who designated Feb. 19, 1795, to be devoted to thanksgiving for national peace.

The first Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed by Governor Bradford, of the Massachusetts colony, in 1621. The Pilgrims had arrived from England in the Mayflower the preceding year, on Nov. 21, landing on Plymouth Rock shortly afterward.

Medical Fraud Exposed

Now comes word from Vermont that the United States government has successfully prosecuted E. L. Moses of Buffalo, N. Y., general manager of the Oxyphthor concern. The trial, which was held in Rutland, Vermont, lasted over a week, and on Nov. 7, 1914, Moses was found guilty of using the mails to defraud. The scheme has been a profitable one. At the trial it was brought out that the Oxyphthor costs $1.23; it sold for $35. Aside from the element of suggestion inseparable from the use of a mysterious, expensive-looking device, purchasers of the Oxyphthor could have obtained just as valuable curative effects from an empty tomato tin with a string tied to it. As a therapeutic agent, according to The Journal of the American Medical Association, the Oxyphthor belongs in the same class as the left hind foot of a rabbit caught in a graveyard in the dark of the moon. Yet at the trial the exploiters of the Oxyphthor were able to produce witnesses to testify to the curative value of their gas-pipe—and a few of the witnesses called themselves doctors! This exhibition of credulity—or, in the case of physicians, worse—is but another proof of the inherent worthlessness of testimonials. Imposing and convincing testimony would have been forthcoming long ago to prove the therapeutic efficiency of the rabbit's foot if some one had an exclusive proprietary interest in the sale of rabbit's feet.

Cattle Foot and Mouth Disease.

The disease, in short, is dangerous because of the loss that it occasions to property, and not because of its effects upon the health of mankind. At present all infected herds are being slaughtered as soon as they are discovered, the carcasses buried, and the premises thoroughly disinfected. Until all danger of infection has been removed in this way, the local authorities quarantine the milk.

Those who wish additional precautions are recommended to use pasteurized milk, but as has already been said, this recommendation holds true whether or not there is any fear of the foot-and-mouth disease.

The great forest fires in Arkansas were doing havoc that can scarcely be imagined. They were about to spread into Louisiana, and they were threatening several towns of importance. Even Little Rock was in the smoke. But at last the rains fell and checked the progress of the fires. The extent of destruction of timber and property was very great, nevertheless.

NURSES IN THE WAR

What the Women are Doing

The women of the Red Cross are nursing, cheering and comforting the wounded or dying. The women of Europe not only wrap bandages and scrape lint, but they tend the farms, dig coal, carry burdens and do the work of the men now under arms. Every male fighter, however brawny and heroic, was born of woman; the high courage and hardihood that are a nation's strength are inherited from the mother.

Young mothers who preserve the charms of face and figure in spite of an increasing family and the care of growing children are always to be envied. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It practically does away with the pains of maternity. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her, and enjoy the hourly happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

Thousands of women who are now blessed with robust health cannot understand why thousands of other women when they can obtain for a trifling sum Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will surely and quickly banish all pain, distress and misery and restore the womanly functions to perfect health.

A Burglary

County Tax Collector Geo. F. Rainbolt, is short this morning about $35.00 which was taken from his office safe last night by burglary. The window of the office was prized up for entrance, making quite a small opening. The outside door of the safe had been closed, but the combination not turned on. The inside door was locked by key, and has no combination. This door was jammed or rammed in by outside force, and this gave access to the cash that was taken.

An Old Brick Dwelling.

Out on the old Tyler road, just half way to old Linnflat, that is to say, seven and three fourth miles north west of Nacogdoches, there stands an ancient looking brick dwelling house on the top of a big red hill. This is the first brick dwelling ever built in the county and the only one until modern times. It was built by R. W. McLain, the father of W. R. McLain (Bob) who lives in town, and R. W. McLain (Walt) who lives in the Mahl neighborhood. It was begun in 1860 and ended in 1861 not finished completely.

McLain was a man of means, and the owner of a number of slaves. This was, at the time, a leading agricultural section of the county, where slaves were numerous and rivalry among planters prevailed. The red lands are fertile yet, and are thickly populated. The old fields are notable.

None of these planters had a brick house. In fact, the scarcity of saw mills and building materials of all kinds caused the average man to live in an ordinary big log house.

McLain surmounted all these obstacles by using ingenuity and perseverance. He manufactured all the brick on his own red land near the building site. There was no lime or cement nearer than a hundred miles, at Shreveport. So he burnt hickory and black jack logs from his own land near, and made strong ashes to use instead of lime, and he burnt pine knots and made tar to mix with hog hair and ashes for cement. People said it would all crumble and tumble down. But it is there today over half a century old, and no lime or cement in it. The mortar or mixture substituted may be seen now. Architecture and modern conveniences were not then in vogue, as now, but the house has a basement which was then called a cellar. The building is all in a fair state of preservation, and is occupied by the family of T. D. White, deceased, who are the present owners.

The big road runs in front of the house, where McLain turned it for his own convenience, over opposition of some of his neighbors, who wanted it to avoid the big hill and take a more direct course.

This was the third brick house in the county. The other two were first, the Orton brick, which stood about where the express office now is, built about 1855, second, the court house about 1857. These are gone, but the McLain country house is apt to be there many years to come.

The Mexico Muddle.

Mexico grows worse and worse in the war situation. Gen. Carranza, the first chief of the constitutionalists, after expelling Huerta, the usurper, and taking over the government, has been displaced or has vacated and is adopting Vera Cruz as his head quarters since the U. S. troops were withdrawn. Meantime Gen. Villa, who had been placed in military leadership by an unpopular convention, which had also placed Gen. Gutierrez in the presidency, marched his formidable army towards the city of Mexico, and is about to enter it. But Gen. Zapata, the noted rebel leader, who has an army of some strength, was nearer and has got there first. He will probably not oppose Villa's entry, but join forces with him. Gen. Blanco has vacated his occupation of the city, which he was trying to protect. Now, Villa and Zapata will be in possession under provisional president Gutierrez, if they don't quarrel and fight, and Carranza will scot around and bluff, or fight, but it looks like he will be forced to quit and leave the land, as did Huerta and his predecessors.

Then Villa and his rule, or his rulers, will have free sway till some other upheaval occurs, as it probably will occur. But when will peace prevail with law and order and permanent popular government, is unanswerable.

From Lone Star

Our school is progressing nicely. It began the 19th of October, and we now have thirty pupils enrolled. Most all the farmers are through picking cotton, and our school will enlarge now with better attendance too. We are delighted with our teacher, Mr. C. C. Denman who is very generous and patient with us.

We had these to appear with their names on the honor roll last month: Seventh grade, Fieldon Myers, Primer class, Robbie and Bessie McAnnally. We hope to have more next month, for the pupils seem to be getting more interested in their work each day.

We have a school building, that is the pride of our community, and we ask the parents and patrons to visit our school and see the work going on. We are all seeking for an education and that should be the desire of every boy and girl.

Famous Scientist Talks to Spirits

London, Nov. 23, 8:40 p. m. Sir Oliver Lodge, president of the Society for Psychological Research, in a lecture today in Browning Hall, Watworth, made a striking declaration of his spiritual faith, expressing his absolute conviction in the future existence and stating that he had conversed with friends who had passed away.

"I say this," said Sir Oliver, "on definite scientific grounds. I say it because I know that certain friends of mine still exist, because I have talked to them. Communication is possible, but one must obey the laws to find out the conditions. I do not say it is easy, but I say it is possible."

"I tell you, that these people still take an interest in the things that are going on; that they still help us to know more about things than we do and that they are able from time to time to communicate with us."

Texas Will Aid Suffering Belgians

Austin, Texas, Nov. 25.—

Texas is going to render financial assistance to the suffering Belgians, and Governor O. B. Colquitt has appointed a committee of eleven prominent Texans to raise a fund to be sent to the inhabitants of that war-ridden country. Each member of the committee, as well as every newspaper in Texas has been authorized to collect this fund. The first act of the committee was to issue the following appeal to the public:

"As the need for funds for the suffering Belgians is very urgent, we take this means of calling the matter to the attention of the people of Texas, and ask that they make as liberal donations as possible for the relief of these people, sending same to anyone of the members of this committee or to the local newspaper. We need not attempt to impress upon the people the necessity for help, as all the world knows how these people have been suffering from the ravages of a war in which they have had no interest; we therefore urge upon every patriotic Texan to make his contribution as liberal and as promptly as possible."

Contributions may be mailed to any of the following committeemen: Paul Waples, Fort Worth; W. W. Seeley, Waco; George B. Taliaferro, San Antonio; W. B. Scott, Houston; John Seeley, Galveston; H. M. Garwood, Houston; Royal A. Ferris, Dallas; O. E. Dunlap, Waxahachie; C. E. Kelly, El Paso; Gen. W. R. Hamby, Austin and Mrs. T. S. Maxey, Austin.

Plant A Tree

Whether it be a fruit tree, an ornamental tree or a timber tree, the time devoted to planting it is well and worthily spent. Within the last two decades the whole country has awakened to the importance of the forestry question. All states should be interested in preserving the remnants of our goodly forest heritage, and in passing on to future generations a land beautiful and glorified by its wealth of trees.

It requires years for nature to build a perfect tree, and it requires only a few moments for man to destroy nature's work. The time has come when nature must be assisted in the beneficent task of reforestation.

COTTON

Don't sell your cotton at present prices. You can realize more money by shipping your cotton to us where it will be properly stored and insured against loss by fire and you can hold for higher price. If you need money to pay off some of your obligations take out Bill Lading and draw on us for as much as you need not to exceed $20.00 bale. We have warehouse space for 20,000 bales cotton and until this number is reached we extend to you a helping hand.

We make a customary charge of $1.00 bale commission which includes weighing, classing, selling charges and one month's free storage and insurance. After first month fifteen cents per month storage and insurance as current rates which is now ten cents a bale month.

BLOCKADED

If your back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

You should help the kidneys with their work.

A. G. Gatlin, Cox St., Nacogdoches, says: "Whenever I stooped, a cat-like growl in my back. I felt weak and had pains across my joints and kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Swift Bros. & Smith's Drug Store, promptly relieved me and my back grew strong. I haven't had to use any kidney medicine since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Gatlin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Judge J. F. Perritte reports a marriage at his home last night at 7 o'clock of Mr. Jack Tubbe Jr. and Miss Ada Tilkinson. They are from the vicinity of Poe, or Tubbes mill, and belong to good families, and the Judge took pleasure in happily uniting them.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit fills the system with impurities. Herbine is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in fine vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by all dealers.

John W. Haslett of the Mahl vicinity made the Sentinel a pleasant call this morning. He says he learned better than to plant cotton long ago, even while the price was good and his land would make more than a bale to the acre. Peanuts are his long suit. He beats the county on that crop, and can do so again.

The Magic Washing Stick
I am perfectly delighted with the magic Washing Stick. It makes the clothes so pretty and white and it saves time and labor. I would give it for nothing I have ever used. I can recommend it highly as a labor saver as you don't have to rub the clothes at all, writes Mrs. M. A. Graham, Dustin Okla. Guaranteed to contain no lye, acid, alkali or any injurious ingredient. A truly wonderful article. Three Magic Washing Sticks for 25c. Sold by Grocers and Druggists or sent by mail. A. B. Richards Medicine Co., Sherman, Tex.

Shoots Farmer When Talking.

Crockett, Texas, Nov. 21.—J. B. Stanton was shot and painfully wounded this morning while seated in his buggy in conversation with a friend. The bullet penetrated the scalp back of the right ear and ranged upward two or three inches before making its exit. Craw Gary surrendered to the officers and was placed in jail.

Women Suffer Terribly from Kidney Trouble.

Around on her feet all day—no wonder a woman has backache, headache, stiff swollen joints, weariness, poor sleep and kidney trouble. Foley's Kidney Pills give quick relief for these troubles. They strengthen the kidneys—take away the aches, pain and weariness. Make life worth living again. Try Foley's Kidney Pills and see how much better you feel. Swift Bros. & Smith.

Hack! Hack! Hack!

With raw tickling throat, tight chest, sore lungs, you need Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and quickly. The first dose helps, it leaves a soothing, healing coating as it glides down your throat, you feel better at once. Every user is a friend. Swift Bros. & Smith.

A Successful Farmer.

Mr. R. S. Jordan of Nacogdoches is not bothering about the price of cotton nor about the opening or closing of the cotton exchanges. He is a farmer who had the good sense to raise hogs and cattle rather than cotton. Last week he shipped his eighteenth car of hogs to Fort Worth and received the highest market price for them. In addition he recently sold four cows, receiving $1,000, or an average of $250, for them. It does not require a knowledge of higher mathematics to determine who came out ahead, Mr. Jordan of his farm neighbor who stuck to cotton. With such examples as this before them it is surprising to see the vast majority of Texas farmers adhering to the one-crop idea. If cotton must be raised, raise it, but do so intelligently and raise something else that will be either an addition to the money crop or a guard against loss when cotton goes below the cost of production.

Stop coughing! you rack the lungs and worry the body. Ballard's Horehound Syrup checks irritation, heals the lungs and restores comfortable breathing. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all dealers.

D. D. C. Will Meet At Frisco In 1915

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 14.—San Francisco was selected as the 1915 meeting place of the United Daughters of the Confederacy just before adjourning today. Nashville and Louisville lost by a close vote. Before adjournment Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon, president of the Georgia division, made a motion that the thanks of the convention be extended to Sam Venable of Atlanta, for the gift of stone mountain, for the monument to General Robert E. Lee, and that Colonel John Temple Graves and the Hears newspapers be personally thanked for so ably presenting the propositions. The motion was unanimously adopted. The date of the next convention will be decided later.

Joe Arthur Deau

Joe the 12 year old son of Mrs. Matilda Arthur died about eight o'clock p. m. yesterday at Tucker's Hospital. The little fellow was stricken with appendicitis about two weeks ago. He was brought here and operated on Thursday. The remains will be laid to rest at Shady Grove, their home, today.

The papers are full of gun accidents, happening in one way, some in another. The hunting season is a large factor in this work. The papers give lectures of caution, but the gunner does not read it or heed it. A boy with a gun is in his glory. You can't teach him or reach him. But he should be drilled in the manual of arms, at home and at school.

Greenville—The adaptability of Sudan Grass in this section has been proved through experiments carried on at the local Chamber of Commerce Experimental farm, situated near here. Several acres of land was devoted to this product this year and the yield averaged 500 pounds of seed and eight tons of hay per acre. Fifty acres will be planted to this seed next season.

Tropical Plants.

Washington, D. C. Nov. 19.—With a little care, a number of tropical plants may be grown indoors, and during the winter they are a particularly attractive addition to a bay window or conservatory garden. Various kinds of palms, rubber plants, oleanders, aspidistras, and cacti are easily kept in good condition indoors if given the proper attention and not permitted to be exposed to frost, according to the Department of Agriculture's horticulturists.

Palms:—Palms are much used for interior decorations where there is no direct sunlight. Regular watering is essential, with especial care not to overwater. It is better with most palms to keep them a little dry than too wet. Where a pot is in a jardiniere especial care must be exercised not to have them too wet.

Palms:—While small, wash the foliage occasionally with soap suds made from a good soap. Immediately follow with a thorough rinsing. When too large for this spray the tops frequently with clear water.

Oleanders may be treated more or less as are palms.

Aspidistras are most ornamental. They should be kept rather drier than palms and rubber plants.

Rubber Plants:—Rubber plants are especially satisfactory to grow where there is a good light without direct sunlight. Water often enough to keep the soil moist, but do not under any circumstances permit water to stand about the roots nor allow it to become "bone dry." A potted plant set in a jardiniere needs especial care not to overwater.

Rubber Plants:—Wash the foliage frequently with soap suds made from good soap. Rinse thoroughly at once.

Rubber Plants:—Repeat occasionally as the pots become full of roots. Feed once in two to four weeks with dilute nitrate of soda (a heaping teaspoonful dissolved in water) or ammonia water or manure water as described for the palm or some prepared plant food.

Cacti require rather dry sandy soil.

Miss Era Pettey, whose mother, Mrs. J. W. Pettey, was severely burned, as was reported in yesterday's Sentinel, phoned the Sentinel this morning that her mother is doing fairly well. The burns were on one side almost from foot to head. Miss Era explains that her mother is a helpless invalid, and when the fire caught her clothing she was lying on the floor in her sleeping robe, and was hardly able to call. Miss Era ran to her and threw over her some of the bed cover and then put the fire out before helpers could arrive, and got her hands burned slightly.

Future Gambling Arouses the Ire of Timpson Club.

Timpson, Texas, Nov. 19.—The following message has been sent to Secretary McAdoo by the Timpson Commercial club:

"The opening of different cotton exchanges allowing unrestricted gambling in futures has demoralized spot market for cotton. We protest against continuance of any gambling game which causes our money crop to have to be sacrificed. Hope you will do what you can to stop this outright slaughter of the south.

Takes Care of Nuns.

Washington, Nov. 19.—General Funston late today telegraphed Secretary Garrison that he would arrange to bring Mexican priests and nuns now at Vera Cruz to the United States by a government vessel. He said he previously had been informed by the priest in charge of the refugees at Vera Cruz that they would be taken out of Mexico under church auspices. President Kelley of the Catholic Church Extension society, Chicago, was informed of General Funston's latest message.

Getting His Goat.

Many years ago a man in Aurora, Illinois, owned a valuable race horse and a goat. The horse would not try to win a race unless the goat was somewhere close around. One day the horse failed to win a race, and when the owner was asked for an explanation, he said: "Somebody got my goat," and thus was coined an expression that will not down.—Gainesville Register.

The Sentinel often receives letters or items written for publication that have nobody's name to them. This gives no answer to the question who said so. We don't want to give the writer away, or tell who said so, unless compelled to do it, or requested to do so by the writer. Again we insist on knowing the author, so as to not get cornered. But we are glad to get items in the legitimate way.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

Meat For Europe.

Fort Worth, Tex. Nov. 20.—Four carloads of fresh beef have just been loaded here by a local packing plant and sent on its way to England where it will be used to feed the soldiers of that country. The product is valued at $10,000 and is the second order received by the local concern from a belligerent nation during the last two months.

Automobile accidents and fatalities are reported in all the papers, day after day.

Such things will never cease, but they should be condemned and discussed persistently as a check upon reckless drivers. Such drivers are thoughtless and venturesome from ignorance. They do not read a paper, and still they like to show out, and they think themselves smart. There was one of that style driving on our streets here yesterday, a visitor, so reported.

The Beaumont Fair

Among the many interesting stunts that are pulled off as side attractions, is that of the noted flying man, DeLoyd Thompson. They are almost incredible. Just think of a man flying around up among the clouds seemingly with more ease and skill than is usual with the familiar turkey buzzard. The buzzard can not fly with his back down, nor turn over and over end ways and side ways. But Thompson did, and the thousands of observers were amazed, and shocked at the sight of it.

Ladies Aid Society

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church met with Mrs. Doolittle Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

There were 20 present. It was the second meeting we have had. Mrs. Sharp of Lutkin was leader for the program. Mrs. Sharp is president of the Ladies Aid in Lutkin and was able to give us some good suggestions as we are all inexperienced.
