In time of war, the greatest' effort is always made toward cutting off the enemy's base of supplies. It is the wellnourished people who fight the strongest and live the longest and contribute most to human progress. Is your stomach doing its duty-does it convert food into good blood and tissue?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been so successtul in the treatment of Indigestion, that thousands of former sufferers owe their good health of today to its wondertul power, and tes imonials prove it.

Another year has passed since my letter to the Sentinel on last Christmas night and I am thankful that the same three are around our fireside. One of our dear children have gone to live with God. Six have gone out from this home to battle, not with Europe, but a greater cause, life with its responsibilities, trials, pleasures and hopes, I trust they have gone well equipped for the battle.

Memory carries me back to the sweet recollections of those by gone days when they were all here with us. Grass has covered all the paths, and only weary feet tramp them now, but after a while we will wark on golden streets, Here and there we find an old triend but they too are passing away.

Turning again, I look lovingly into my own childhood days, and from my home I see the old, schoolhouse playground where so many of us played upon the green. fitty years ago. I strolled up the branch to find the spring under, the oak, and only the old stump stands as a monu-

My Dear Bill

T'S awfully good of you to write me about that company in your town wanting a good man of my trade. But honestly, Bill, I don't want the job. Of course they want good men for prohibition has driven all the competent men out of the town.

There isn't a beer saloon in the place. You work and sleep-that's your daily programme. May suit you, Bill, but I like to get out and talk things over with the boys once in a while. I want some place to go after a hard day's work where I can get a glass of beer if I want one.

I know you can get a drink down there when you feel like it. But that isn't the point. The saloon is my elub. You sneak into the back door of sneak into the nack door of some blind pig or speak-easy and pay good money for stuff not fit to drink. No sneaking for mine, Bill. My Dear Bill

T'S awfully good of you to write me about that company in your town wanting a good man of my trade. But honestly, Bill, I don't want the job. Of course they want good men for prohibition has driven all the competent men out of the town.

There isn't a heer saloon in the place. You work and sleep that's your daily programme. May suit you, Bill, but I like to get out and talk things over with the boys once in a while. I want some place to go after a hard day's work where I can get a glass of beer if I want one.

I know you can get a drink down there when you feel like it. But that isn't the point. The saloon is my club. You sneak into the back door of some blind pig or speak-casy and pay good money for stuff not fit to drink. No sneaking for mine, Bill. I'm a Temperance mana real temperance man. That's why I'm going to stay right here where I can drink beer moder-ately and above board.

Those speak-easies get you, Bill, sooner or later. They've made drunkards of a lot of good men right in your township. I'd rather stay where my personal liberty isn't interfered with. Thanks for your interest in me. Yours truly, JOHN. Advertisement PROTISIONS FOR THE ARMY IN THE Importance of Keeping Body Nour shed

To My Customers and the Public

I want to begin this announcement by first extending to those who have given me their patronage my sincere thanks for their support since I have begun business here.

I am compelled from actual conditions to change my system of business on January 1st to a cash basis. I am bound to close my books today and as a matter of self-protection, and in order to keep what capital I have and be able to operate during this stringent period in our finance and trade, I must sell for cash, and for cash only. My capital is necessarily limited and hence I am not able to carry accounts. I wish that I could. I have no lack of confidence in the public. On the contrary I believe that the majority of our people would pay if they could, and their failure to do so has grown out of the conditions which make it so hard for people to command money at any business. Nevertheless, the result is the same. The incoming year, we trust, will bring some changes for the better in the business outlook, and I want to be able to hold my own and to establish a business that will be a success for myself/and when so established enable me to extend continued courtesies and favors to the trade.

In changing to a cash basis, I have this much to promise to the public who give me their patronage: I will be able to cut my operating expenses to about one-halt of what they are at the present time. This one economy will enable me to materially reduce prices, especially on some lines of goods carried by an up-to-date drug store. I expect to sell for less, and by buying for cash, I can do this, and I will sell for from ten per cent on some lines to twenty per cent less on others than I possibly could if I were incurring the constant losses that occur in a credit business.

I wish I were able to carry accounts for good customers thirty days or even twelve months, but I am not and I know it. After January 1st I shall keep no books. I shall strive to keep an up-to-date stock and I hope with property courtesy to merit a continued trade. I will always keep a first-class pharmacist and our prescription department will receive careful attention. With that and a first-class Fountain, a well selected line of drugs, stationery and sundries, we can take care of your wants and at the same time save you money.
