Petition for School Bond Election.

A petition was being circulated and rapidly signed Monday and Tuesday for an election to be ordered to decide upon the issuing of school bonds for $60,000 in the city.

It is well known that the present capacity of school buildings is greatly short of the needs of the schools.

When the present buildings were erected the total scholastic population, white and colored, was 525 scholars. At present the number is above 1600, being over three times as great as it was then. The class rooms and the general space is distressfully cramped.

So, the purpose of the bonds is to raise money to erect more school buildings, and this can only be done by an election favoring the bond issue.

The present rate of taxation upon the tax payers, which is 50c on the hundred dollars. will not be increased by this action. The excess above the needs already existing will meet the demands of the new issue. The outstanding bonds voted before was $40,000, but only $36,500 was issued, and this amount has been paid or reduced to $14,000. So, the taxes now exceed the necessities for the old bonds, which require only about 4 per cent per annum paid, which is only a part of the present 16 2-3 on the $100. So, to repeat all this there will be no increase of our rate of taxation, but the bonds must be voted in order to use the money, and this is a real necessity for the school buildings.

If properly understood the question can not be opposed by any good reason. By all means, let us vote for the bonds.

How to Treat Stock

Deal kindly with your animals during the hot season is the advice of animal husbandry and dairy husbandry workers at the A. and M. College. "A fat beet steer, a fat hog, or any other animal in good condition can be ruined very quickly by abuse or rough treatment in the hot weather", says J. C. Burns, of the Animal Husbandry Department. "At no time should dairy cows be beaten or jerked around. The production of milk depends to a great extent on the treatment of your cow. A good dairy cow needs gentle treatment. They are highly sensitive, and a whipping or kicking will make them hold back their milk for a week, sometimes."

House Burned Down.

Last night, Monday, about 9:30 a fire was discovered in one of Bob Jordan's houses on his present home premises. It was the house in which his father-in-law, the late Geo. W. Partin had lived, next door north of Jordan's, on North street. It was being used for dairy purposes by Mr. Jordan. His son, Robert, slept in a front room, and he discovered the fire when he was going to retire. The back part of the house was ready to tumble down. The house was entirely destroyed, and also some canned goods, and miscellaneous household stuff.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. No fire had been used in the house that day, and no internal cause can be thought of.

The fact that several similar fires have recently occurred in town, similar in hours of happening and in being unoccupied and isolated buildings, causes a suspicion of incendiarism, of a peculiar type, mischievous but not thievish.

Mrs. S. W. Holbrook died Sunday at 6 a. m. at her home near Mahl, and was buried Monday at Trawick. She had been in bad health for some time. She was 49 years old, and leaves a husband and eight children, four sons and four daughters.

She was one of the old residents, and was highly esteemed by all acquaintances. Her husband is a brother of our townsman, Mr. Henry Holbrook. Peace be unto her, and condoleuce to her relatives.

The Record in Nacogdoches is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ills and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Nacogdoches citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. H. Morris, 221 Taylor Ave., Nacogdoches, says: "My back ached at night and in the morning I was stiff and lame. I tired easily and felt languid. Doan's Kidney Pills, that I got at Swift Bros. & Smith's Drug Store, cured me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy---get Doan's Kidney Pills---the same that Mrs. Morris had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo N. Y.

Fly Traps.

To the end that the fly may be widely "swatted" in the country homes plans for home made fly traps are being distributed by the A. and M. College. Miss Bernice Carter, State Agent in Charge of Home Demonstration Work, is urging the country women to make two or three of these fly traps and place them around the home. Flies mean disease. Write Miss Carter for instructions as to how to make these traps.

GILLES M. HALTON, Manager.

To Those Interested in Nacogdoches Schools.

It is hardly necessary for anyone to sing praises of our City Schools, for it is now generally known, throughout all East Texas that Nacogdoches has the very best between Shreveport and Houston, Dallas and Beaumont, and its onward march, progress and improvement now fairly indicates that it may excel either of the above except in mere numbers.

This is brought about by the keen and watchful foresight of the superintendent, assisted by the excellent Corps of teachers, interested parents and willingness of its Trustees, all of which is essential to make a poor school good, and a good school better.

Among the recent improvements and additions are the all important department known as the domestic science, art and manual training, each of which being a necessary adjunct to the modern, up to date, first class twentieth century school.

To illustrate the keen interest manifested in the upbuilding of these departments one of your trustees, Judge Middlebrook, whose place as such, was made vacant, by reason of his appointment to the important and honorable position of one of the Judges of the new Court of Civil Appeals, recently presented to Nacogdoches Independent School, six sewing machines with necessary connections to fit up this department ready for the students.

It is a pleasure to state that the trustees accepted them for the school with much gratitude, and with a vote of thanks on behalf of our entire community, which makes possible for your girls to learn that very important part of an education which has been so long neglected, mainly for the want of funds, and which by the kindness, and generosity of that big hearted retiring trustee to whom the trustees feel grateful, and both parent and student should ever be thankful and always remember with a deep sense of appreciation that he lived among us, and who served so faithfully as one of your trustees, devoting not only his time, energy, skill, experience and ability but contributing his substance to its progress and prosperity.

Dope by order of the Board of Trustees.
C. A. Hodges,
Secretary.

Ex-President Roosevelt takes quite a different view of the matter of duty of the president in the Lusitania catastrophe. Roosevelt wants a heated, rushing action, anything to differ with president Wilson. But Taft agrees with Wilson and upholds and applauds his deliberate firm course of conservation. The Texas legislature emphatically endorsed president Wilson. Good for them. But let it be known, we have a man in Washington, and he has back-

The East Texas Normal.

The legislature will probably pass the law making the Attorney General and certain other officials the board for the location of the East Texas Normal school and two other normals. Among the many towns that want this, normal besides Nacogdoches, is Jacksonville, and she is red hot. One of her boosters puts it thus:

Show your enthusiasm by talking it to your friends and neighbors. Talk it in your clubs and in the pulpit. The State neither needs nor asks for any money. It wants your co-operation, good will and moral support. Altogether, push.

Now, let Nacogdoches awake and get busy.

1 She has decidedly the best of the arguments on merit.

2 She is the geographical center of East Texas.

3 She has the facilities of transportation and accessibility, being located on railroads at the half way point, between Beaumont and Dallas, and between Houston and Shreveport.

4 Nacogdoches leads in historic interest, in early Texas romance and in literature, in scholastic advancement, and in picturesque scenery.

5 Nacogdoches was the original Texas, and is the real and logical capital of East Texas.

6 There can be no question as to Nacogdoches being the leading candidate, if voted upon by East Texas, because no objection can be found, and merit is undisputed.

7 Nacogdoches is the real choice and preference of the majority of all concerned and her selection will be generally satisfactory.

The war in Europe seems to grow greater. It is not only stupendous, it is in, every way, baffling to human understanding. Think of lines of battle hundreds of miles long, crowded with human murderers with every possible weapon—and the great, destruction of life and property, the riot of carnage, blood-shed and heart sufferings. It reminds us of pandemonium. And all for what end, for what good, for what glory or gratification. Words fail us.

Dallas has at least one citizen—we hope there are many others—who has placed the public weal above his own financial gain. He is Elmer L. Scott who turned down a really large salary with a business concern in order to serve his city as chairman of the Public Welfare board at a salary of $2000. And he is setting out to equip himself for that task more fully by visiting other cities that are engaged in public welfare work, and that at his own expense. Dallas and every other city needs more citizens of that type.—Waco News.

School Board Meeting.

The school board met in busy session Thursday morning and following is some of the business taken care of by this valuable body of men:

The session barely suspended in time for the noon hour so many were the demands on their attention.

The foremost duty disposed of was the election of teachers for 1915-16 term.

North Church—Mrs. W. E. Thomason, Principal, Miss Annie Belle Ferguson, Assistant.

West End—F. A. Beall, Principal, Mrs. N. H. Leman, Miss Elizabeth Floyd, Assistant.

Central School—Primary Department, Miss Zillah Langley, Principal, Mrs. F. P. Marshall, Miss Hattie Loden, Miss Floy Lewis, Miss Tannie Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall, Miss Anna Henderson.

High School Department—Earl Huffor, Principal, Miss Louise Perkins, Miss Viridian Barham, Miss Christine Hammock, Miss Ada Day and teacher in mathematics, to take Prof. Eastman's place, not yet decided.

Science and Arts—Miss Pauline Powell, Miss Hulda Wild, Carl Zimmerman.

Colored School—E. J. Campbell, Ellen Kelly, Emiline Carpenter, Minnie Scott, Oma McNeil.

The faculty remains the same, with the exception of Prof. H. P. Eastman and Mrs. W. G. Ratcliff and three additional exceptions, Miss Anna Henderson, Miss Ada Day and another not decided yet.

The election of other colored teachers was omitted until an Industrial Art graduate either the Prairie View Normal, Texas or the Booker T. Washington school in Tuskegee, Ala. can be secured. Efforts are now being spent to secure F. L. Blackshear, colored Principal of Prairie View Normal.

The board concluded to try for the election of a $60,000 bond issue, the necessary papers now being in circulation. The bonds perfected, the division will benefit the Central School with a new building modern in every instance with steam heating plant connected with all both new and old. A brick building will be erected at North Church school. Repairs will be made at West End. Repairs on the present buildings, or the building of a High School for the colored population. E. D. Smith, Geo. Meisenheimer and R. F. Davis were a committee appointed to look into the matter concerning a suitable location for colored High School building. Another plausible move was the committee of Jno. Schmidt and C. A. Hodges whose business it will be to see the C. C. Club with reference to donating the Stone Fort for a Domestic Science and Arts building.

The demand of our schools is growing so fast the play ground space will have to be partly used now for more, larger and new buildings to accommodate the increase. Should the bond issue carry Nacogdoches will only be sustaining her former reputation for the best public school in the state.

The board also has before its body the idea to put 7th grade in the High School making a more equal division.

They met again Friday at which this and other matters were probably settled.

Another fire occurred Wednesday afternoon near town. It was a house recently purchased by Moss Adams, on the Spanish Bluff road a mile or more southwest of town. The house was originally built by George H. Muckle-roy, and it was occupied by a family that had recently moved into it. The lady had been ironing at the fireplace, and the fire had probably caught in this way. When the fire was discovered the room was filled with smoke and the baby was in the room. The mother rushed into the smoke and rescued the babe. The building was insured.

The Beaumont Enterprise says: For the fourth time within two months, an attempt was made last night about 7 o'clock to set fire to the Postal Telegraph company's offices in the V. Wiess Annex building. Pieces of cloth were found between a hole burned through the wall between the Postal and the Western Union companies. Fire had evidently been touched to the rags from the outside of the building, as J. M. Stallings Postal Telegraph manager, says part of the plaster had fallen off the building at that point.

Roosevelt would raise a rough house. He is quoted thus: "Without 24 hours delay this country should, and could take effective action that by declaring in view of Germany's murderous offenses against the rights of neutrals, all commerce with Germany shall be forthwith forbidden and all commerce of every kind permitted and encouraged with France, England and the rest of the civilized world."

Depend on the President.

Philadelphia, May 11.—Former President William H. Taft urged patience and calmness in the present international situation and called on the citizens of the country to stand by President Wilson, in an address at the Union league here tonight.

Referring to the sinking of the Lusitania, Professor Taft said the "inhumanity of the circumstances in the case presses us on, but in the heat even just indignation is not the time to act, when action involves such momentous consequences and means untold loss of life and treasure."

"There are things worse than war," Mr. Taft declared, "but delay due to calm deliberations can not change the situation or minimize the effect of what we finally conclude to do. With the present condition of the war in Europe, our action, if it is to be extreme, will not lose efficacy by giving time to the people, whose right it is to know what they are facing."

The president, he said, was acting like Washington, Lincoln and McKinley in trying to avoid war. In the present situation, it was imperative that he know the opinion of the country.

"The task of the president is a heavy one," he continued. "He is acting for the whole country. He is anxious to find a way out of the present difficulty without war."

"Votes for Women"

The big convention in Galveston now being held by the Equal Suffrage Women, is attracting much note. The front page of the Galveston Tribune, a paper of high rank is glaringly decorated with the "Votes For Women" motto, in large golden letters, in the form of a banner, overshadowing the other matters. The Tribune may or may not favor votes for women, but nevertheless the move has great and growing weight.

The Sentinel is doing like many of the great papers are doing which is trying to be neutral, and give the suffragette news as best it can.

Governor Ferguson has been quoted as saying that he would not object to women voting, if they want to vote, but he does not see why they should want to vote. Ordinary gallantry would gratify any request from a lady, if possible.

There is a great lot of nonsense written and said about it. As usual, those who really know the least about it often say the most. And silence is often the best policy for others.

No body can deny the good intentions of good women. Those who oppose equal suffrage both men and women, do not mean to deny "women's rights," in the proper sense. A man is willing to lift his hat and give his seat to a lady, but he does not lose sight of the fact that he is her protector, and can stand where she can not.

One of the questions as to the votes question is, how many women really do want to vote, and what class of women.

The issue has an almost endless list of problems.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

"TIZ" for puffed-up, burning, aching, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?
"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture!

The Amputation.

Representative Anthony, advocating increased armaments at a luncheon in Washington, said:

"I firmly believe that the opponents of armaments understand present-day conditions as little as the Hackney lad understood war."

"In Mare street, Hackney, a lad said:

"'Have ye heard about Jim. He's been wounded by the Germans. Ain't it terrible?'"

"'How's he been wounded?'" asked a girl.

"'It seems,' said the Hackney lad sadly, 'that the Germans have cut off his retreat.'"

W. E. Fowler and Will Kemp, colored, who was arrested at Talty last fall charged with burning the barns of Jno. Slone and Joe Adams Jr., was each given 5 years in the penitentiary. The arrest and conviction of these two negroes is due strictly to the official skill of our constable, Dock Watson who used his efforts to bring the guilty parties to justice, and as a result the negroes were convicted and given five years in prison for the offense.—Crandal Star.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES INTENSE SUFFERING

Sixteen years ago I was taken sick with Kidney trouble and suffered terribly for three months. I did not work during this time and was mostly confined to the bed. After using other remedies I finally tried a bottle of Swamp-Root. I immediately began to feel better, and after using seven fifty-cent bottles, was entirely cured and have had no Kidney trouble since. I can truly say that I owe my good health to Swamp-Root. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other people afflicted as I was with the hope of bringing to their attention this most wonderful remedy.

Yours very truly,

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

© Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

One of the speakers at the court house yesterday referred to the thoughtlessness of customers sending off for products that could be bought here. He specified ice cream and dairy products. There are two ice cream factories in this town that make as fine cream as is made any where. Yet dealers send away to other cities for cream to serve to consumers who are friends of the home factories. The Nacogdoches Ice Cream Factory runs an ad in the Sentinel and has pure fine cream. Always call for home products first.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by all dealers. dw

City Marshal Woodland captured an escaped county convict Thursday night. He was from Polk county, and was taken back Friday night by officials from Livingston. He is a negro called Sonny Noble.

Chamberlain's Liniment

This preparation is intended especially for rheumatism, lame back, sprains and like ailments. It is a favorite with people who are well acquainted with its splendid qualities. Mrs. Charles Tanner, Wash-bash, Ind., says of it, "I have found Chamberlain's Liniment the best thing for lame back and sprains I have ever used. It works like a charm, relieves pain and soreness. It has been used by others of my family as well as myself for upwards of twenty years." 25 and 50 cent bottles. For sale by all dealers. dw

Tom Ball was in Austin this week. He did not butt in on the legislature, nor did he call on Governor Ferguson. He had no business with the Governor. He said if he had business in the office he would call.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and drowsiness, caused by a badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She says, "I found them pleasant to take also mild and effective. In a few weeks' time I was restored to my former good health." For Sale by all dealers. dw

The Speaking.

There was quite a gratifying respect shown the three gentlemen who came to our city Friday, as had been announced in advance. These three gentlemen are H. M. Mayo, Industrial Agent of the Sunset Central Lines; Adolph Boldt, of the Houston Chamber of Commerce; and Tom Richardson of Portland, Oregon. Such men as these were the men who put the port in Portland, and the ton in Houston, and this special visit was designed to put the do in Nacogdoches. This not only is a big to do but also a do things big.

These gentlemen were met at the train by a number of our leading and most enterprising business men with automobiles, and taken to the college where they addressed a large assembly of people and scholars at 3 p. m. They were then taken for a drive about town, and on return were shown respectful attention till 6:15 p. m. when they were met in the district court room by another large audience of ladies and gentlemen, who enjoyed listening to their addresses. They were loudly complimentary to Nacogdoches, and in turn were duly complimented.

They remained overnight in our city and left this morning for Lutkin in a automobile.

The trend of their talks was co-operation and organization for public good. They suggested plans to carry out these purposes, and to push things along. They dwelt upon our fine location and the natural advantages of East Texas generally. Mr. Mayo compared the yield of various products of East Texas with that of other sections, and showed the superiority of East Texas, and the fine outlook for her future. Their visit was mutually pleasant and profitable.

In concluding, Mr. Richardson urged that our town send delegates to the meeting set for June 4 in Houston.

A resolution was passed endorsing the move, and several gentlemen present expressed an intention of attending the big Houston meeting.

County Judge W. H. Ward of Houston is whooping up a Convention to be held there June 3, the day preceding. This is for "Drainage and Good Roads." It fits the other meeting in date and in purpose.

World Court Congress.

A movement is formally launched, which advocates claim is the greatest advance yet taken toward lasting peace against the world powers.

Prominent men from all over the country, including Wm. H. Tatt, Alton B. Parker and Henry Clewes, were present.

The congress plan an international court of justice to be founded on an agreement to which all the great powers would be signatory. All signatory nations would submit their disputes to the court. One not so doing, would be subjected to the combined pressure of the others.

Hobby-Cooper.

New Orleans, May 15.—William P. Hobby, Lieutenant governor of Texas and publisher of The Beaumont Enterprise, and Miss Willie Cooper, daughter of former Congressman S. B. Cooper of Texas, now member of the board of general appraisers of New York, were married in the private parlor of suite 501 at the St. Charles hotel at 6 o'clock this evening. Rev. S. H. Werlein, pastor of the First Methodist church, this city, officiating.

Owing to the social prominence of the contracting parties and the statewide interest in the nuptials throughout Texas, where this interesting function has been awaited for many months, much local interest was shown and a large number of prominent Orleansians called at the St. Charles during the day to pay their respects. Governor Luther E. Hall of Louisiana was quartered in the same hotel and warmly congratulated Lieutenant Governor Hobby and his bride, having personally known the former for some time. Many prominent state people gathered here en route to Baton Rouge for the extra session of the legislature, displayed their interest in the Texas wedding.

Following the wedding, a light repast was served and the Texas party, with the exception of the bride and the groom, departed for home on the night train. Mr. and Mrs. Hobby remained at the St. Charles and will leave for Austin Sunday night.

The honeymoon will be spent in the mansion, and Mr. Hobby will be acting governor for one month while Governor J. E. Ferguson is absent.

It was the wish of both parties that the ceremony be simple. The parlor, however, was beautifully decorated with lilies and palms.

Colonel Cooper arrived Saturday morning from Beaumont, accompanied by his son S. B. Cooper Jr., and gave his daughter to be married.

The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Henderson M. Jacobay of Dardanelle, Ark. Mrs. Jacobay's two sons Cooper and Henderson were with her. She is the wife of Congressman Jacobay of the Fifth Arkansas district.

A distinguished party accompanied the lieutenant governor to New Orleans for this important event, among them being Louis J. Wortham, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and member of the Texas legislature; Edwin Hobby, brother and banker, of Dallas; Chester Bryan, R. C. Duff and Rawlins B. Colquitt, son of former Governor Colquitt, of Houston; Miss Florence Stratton, Walter J. Crawford, Bernard Deuter, R. A. Greer, C. E. Walden of Beaumont and Col. C. S. Riche, United States army.

The bride was robed in a beautiful three-piece blue taffeta suit.—Beaumont Enterprise.

SOUTHWESTERN PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY

August 12th, 1916.

Dear Sir:

Confirming conversation with you regarding use of "Crater" compound on our kiln gears, beg to say that for two years we tried to lubricate them with yours and other black oils without much success.

At that time, two years ago, you put in your "Crater" and I doubted the advisability of attempting to run the main gear any longer, but am pleased to say that the wear was stopped almost completely by the use of "Crater". These same gears are running today with promise of a long time yet. You can see the value of this, as this gear and pinion cost about $600.00 without expense and loss of time in replacing.

Our gear lubrication on kilns and coolers was reduced in cost over 50% by use of "Crater" in addition to the above benefits.

Yours truly,

The K. P. Decoration

The beautiful ceremony of decorating the graves of the Knights of Pythias in Oak Grove Cemetery took place in due form Sunday at 4 p. m.

The Sir Knights in their uniforms and in regular rank formed a procession to the Cemetery, each carrying a bouquet of choice flowers, besides their fraternal emblems.

They were preceded by a parade of sweet little girl tots guided by D. Ruffs, and each carrying a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

Near the central pavillion of the cemetery the procession halted, and standing in formal ranks, were favored with an address by Eugene H. Blount that was truly superb in every sense. The beautiful sentiments, the historic references, the poetical language and tone, the manner of delivery, and the pointed appropriateness of the speech were above criticism. The large attendance of people were held spell bound with delight and admiration.

At the close of this address the fraternity, headed by the little flower girls, went around over the cemetery and placed flowers on the graves of the following [named] deceased brothers, viz: J. T. Hoya, F. L. Ingraham, W. P. Mims, W. E. Kyser, G. R. Crain, N. G. Wade, Walker Bailey, C. D. Stinson, F. M. Cruse, R. W. Haltom, — Walling, Fred Harlacher, A. P. Loden, J. J. Hayter, E. A. Blount, J. H. Thomas, and W. S. Patton.

One thing about advertising in the Sentinel seems to be overlooked by some of its very best friends. It is this: There are five men and four ladies employed regularly in the office. Each one of these employes is a consumer. Most of them are heads of families who are consumers. And all of them are in fact public helpers. Their work is for the public for the best interests of the town and country. Therefore, advertising and other help to the Sentinel reflects favorably and reverts back to the patrons, in public benefits.

The bill to locate the three Normal schools in Texas, which has been prepared and reported, will probably be finally passed today. This makes the locating board consist of Attorney General Looney, F. W. Cook, John J. Guion, Sam Sparks and W. F. Doughty.

The Sentinel intimated yesterday that the fire at the Science and Arts building possibly happened from a smoker's match in the athletic room. This has been disproven by the fact that every part of the room and its contents were soaking wet at that time.

Murchison Case Transferred to Nacogdoches County for Trial.

At Lutkin this morning District Judge Guinn granted the motion of the defense for a change of venue from Angelina county to Nacogdoches county in the case where in Mrs. Marguerite B. Murchison stands charged with the murder of her husband. R. H. Murchison. Over 100 witnesses were examined by the court on the motion to grant a change of venue.

Another motion was granted the defense to exhume the body and remove the stomach and carry it to Galveston for an analysis of the contents.

The Sentinel editor is in receipt of a long personal letter from Henry C. Fuller of Houston, inspired by his reading in the Sentinel about the death of his life long friend Jack Roberts. He recites many of their days together, when they were both country school teachers Henry taught at Mount Moriah the original "Possum Trot" capital, and Jack taught a Cross Roads, now Switt, being only a few miles apart. And in those days it came to pass that there were "big camp meetings over yonder."

Nacogdoches 5; Timpson 1.

In the baseball game last Saturday between the boys of Nacogdoches and Timpson High Schools, the visitors won by a score of five to one. The game was played on the diamond at the school house and a large number of loyal fans turned out to witness the game. Both teams put up a splendid exhibition and several times the pitchers pulled themselves out of some very hard places. This makes the second time Nacogdoches has defeated Timpson, and it is the only team that has conquered our boys this season.

At night, the High School Glee Club of Nacogdoches gave a concert in the Pairston Opera House, and although the attendance was not as large as it should have been, those present enjoyed the entertainment very much. The program was rendered in a very pleasing manner, and not only upon the members, but upon the town and school which they represented.—Timpson Times.

Gen. Arrieta, one of Carranza's commanders claims to have defeated Villa's army, says he will push his march further.

MATTY'S DECISION

By H. M. EGBERT

Novelized from the Motion Picture Drama of the Same Name Produced by the Universal Film Mfg. Company

(Copyright.)

Matty yawned and sat up in bed, looked at the clock, lay down, turned over, and was asleep again almost immediately.

It was hard work waking up, and one appreciated that extra hour of morning slumber when the season was over, and the last game played, and training for the next summer a matter of the distant future.

In the adjoining room Eddie awoke, yawned, turned over, and slept.

His lips moved. He muttered incoherently. He was living over again the feverish delights of his last game. Matty and he had played on the same side. He was calling Matty.

The sound of his name aroused Matty for the second time. He opened his eyes, looked at the clock, heard his name spoken a second time, and jumped out of bed. He opened the door. Eddie lay on his back, snoring. A moment later a well-aimed slipper struck Eddie on the shoulder.

Matty was back in bed before Eddie realized that the blow came from his friend. And Matty had actually fallen asleep again.

One of Eddie's slippers struck him on the head. He sprang up, armed with his pillow. The two friends fought themselves awake.

Eddie ran back into his room and locked the door. He took a ball from a table. It was a historic ball, and Eddie prized it, but it was not too historic to average a pillow across the face. He opened the door and plugged Matty upon the back of the head.

Matty seized the ball and aimed it at Eddie. It missed him. It flew through the open window into the street. It struck a pretty girl who was passing.

The pretty girl, Nell Grant, started indignantly. Nobody had ever thrown anything at her before. She saw the ball and the open window—also a policeman at the corner. She went to him hurriedly.

"Officer, arrest that ball!" she cried angrily.

The policeman stared.

"I don't know as I can arrest a ball, miss," he said, scratching his head. "What's it done—a misdemeanor?"

"Somebody threw that ball at me through that window, officer."

"Now that's a different matter, miss," said the policeman, making for the door of the Athletic club.

II.

Matty and Eddie saw the policeman's maneuver. They retired to their rooms and feigned sleep beneath the bedclothes. Matty was snoring soundly when the policeman entered. He stood by the bedside, scratching his head again. Then he saw the sleeves of a coat under Matty's pajamas.

"Come out of that!" said the policeman.

He yanked Matty out of bed and accosted him sternly.

"You threw a ball at a young lady," he said. "She's waiting downstairs. You'd better make it right with her, or I'll have to put you under arrest."

"What sort of young lady?" asked Matty dolefully.

"Pretty as a picture," admitted the cop.

"I'm on," said Matty. "Say, don't tell my friend in the next room. Let him go on sleeping. It's the early bird gets—I mean, lead the way, policeman!"

Eddie had, however, gathered that Matty had gone a willing captive. He had also heard enough of the policeman's words to lead him to take a different view of his situation. Five minutes later he was dressed and entering the room below.

Beside the door stood the policeman, smiling to himself happily. On two chairs, drawn close together, were Matty and Nell Grant. Nell's father was a baseball fan, when his gouty toe permitted it, and Nell, who had inherited her father's tastes, was soliciting the ball as a souvenir. She had never had the honor of being struck by a historic ball before.

"Let me present my friend, Mr. Eddie Williams," said Matty, a little grudgingly.

The policeman did not want to interrupt a tete-a-tete, even of three, but he had his duty to perform. He could not linger to act as chaperon. He rose to his feet. The three took the hint reluctantly.

"I hope you will both come and see us," said Nell, as she wished the boys good-by. "My father will be crazy to talk over baseball with you. And you know he can't leave the house on account of his gout. It will be a real kindness to him."

III.

The trouble with John Grant was that he thought the boys visited the house on his account and not because he had a pretty daughter. Some elderly gentlemen are constituted in that way. Sometimes, however, they have a shrewder knowledge of what is happening than they admit.

Eddie made a false play. He conceived the scheme of interesting papa. Papa swallowed the bait, hook and all, and Eddie found himself describing the thrilling moments of play while from the adjoining room came the strains of music.

Once, when the door was open, Eddie caught sight of Matty's reflection in the mirror. He was leaning over the piano, at which Nell sat, and their heads were very close together.

Whether or not papa had some real sporting instinct in him has never been authoritatively made known, but it is certain that at that moment he emitted a yell which might have been heard the length of the block.

Nell and Matty rushed in, to find him dancing upon one foot and holding the gouty toe.

"Papa! Papa, dear!" cried Nell. "C-o-n-found it!" gasped John Grant. "I stepped on my bad toe with my good one."

And in the ensuing turmoil, in the rebandaging and hugging (which in itself made Eddie and Matty crazy with jealousy of papa) the near-episode by the piano passed out of Matty's mind.

In fact, later he came to think there was nothing in it at all, for Nell began to show him unwonted kindness. It seemed to be Eddie's turn to oust Matty, and he became elated, though the friendship between the two had cooled decidedly since their rivalry began.

The girl could not but know of the young men's feeling toward her. John Grant knew. He wanted to know more. He wanted to know which his daughter preferred. Clean, manly, frank, each of the boys had won his heart.

"I'm hanged if I can see a particle of difference between 'em, Nell," he said.

"Neither can I, father," answered the girl, half laughing and half sobbing.

Something in her tone made the old man start and look at her keenly.

"They've asked you to marry them—both of them, the scoundrels!" he roared.

"Yes, father," said Nell, crying in earnest now.

"But you can't have them both, Nell. What are you going to do? Why—I've got an idea. Let's get up a local ball game and put them on opposite sides, and the one that wins gets you."

"Father, what do you suppose—?"

"What do you mean, daughter? Haven't you any sporting blood in you at all? Are you the daughter of John Grant who umpired—yes, umpired, madam, that classic game between the leagues only three years ago, before this confounded toe of mine—"

The old gentleman was growing indignant. From anger he changed to purple. At least, he began to grow purple. And the doctor had said that he was not to be allowed to turn purple, because the gout might go to his heart.

"All right, father," cried Nell, flinging her arms around his neck. "I'll do it."

"You're a good girl," said Grant. "You're a real sport. One of the boys is going to make a home run with you, and he deserves it."

IV.

Had Eddie made a home run? That was the question that set the crowd upon the bleachers crazy, for on that depended the issue of the game.

John Grant had left his seat and, toe in hand, was hopping up and down furiously, shaking his fist—the uncoupled one—and shouting opprobrious terms at the unhappy umpire, who, surrounded by a group of players, had not yet given his decision.

"He touched the base! I saw him!" yelled Grant.

The fact that this would give Eddie the game did not occur to him. John Grant was a true sport, and he meant Eddie to score his run, because he knew that he had touched.

Up to the last minute of the game Nell had not known whether she preferred Eddie or Matty. And she did not know now. She waited trembling for the umpire's decision. What a tremendous destiny was at stake! She was to become the wife of the winner—of Eddie, if he had touched the bag, of Matty if he had not. And the decision lay with the man who stood like a solitary sentinel amid that howling mob.

The umpire was the local baker. She had seen him pass the house every day of her life. What irony, that in his hands the decision should lie!

And she did not know whether she preferred Matty or Eddie. That was the crowning irony. She did not know. She looked at her father, who, having accidentally dropped his gouty toe, was hopping up and down in front of the stand, still howling and still more indignant. He was becoming purple.

"Father!" she cried, laying her hand upon his sleeve.

"He touched, he touched!" yelled Grant. "I saw him. Dang the fellow, why don't he give his decision?"

The bleachers were in a frenzy. Matty and Eddie alone seemed calm. Nell stole a glance at them. They were spectators at a drama in which they were also players. And Nell? Neither of the boys looked at her.

And she did not know which she preferred.

The umpire was speaking. The uproar died away. All bent toward him to hear his verdict.

"Yes, he did touch the base," announced the umpire.

A yell that rent the skies! John Grant, beaming and no longer purple, Matty, shaking hands with Nell like a man, and Eddie tactfully keeping away. Eddie had won.

And Nell knew now. She loved Matty, and had always loved him, and Eddie had never meant anything to her at all.

V.

Matty had come to say good-by. John Grant had betaken himself to his private room. His gout was much better, and he was eager to shake hands with the winner, but some instinct told him it was not going to be quite such plain sailing as he had imagined. Women were skittish people, and he was better out of the way during the love-making.

Matty had shaken hands and said good-by. They were standing at the door together when Eddie entered the room adjoining.

Eddie had not meant to meet Matty there. He had tried to arrange to give Matty time to leave. Perhaps he had miscalculated, and Matty's leave-taking took longer than Eddie had expected. Or perhaps Eddie could not wait.

He saw the parting. Nell's face was uplifted bravely, and she kept her lips from trembling. But the look on her face—and Matty's. Eddie had known Matty would look like that. But Nell!

It was a revelation. For a moment a cloud of anger convulsed his face. So Matty had not played fair! But Matty was playing fair. He was a good sport. He was going now. He was turning away. And nothing had been said.

Eddie gulped, and suddenly he found himself in the street. Then, with a resolution born out of that moment's anguish, he went to the club and wrote a letter to Matty.

VI.

The umpire gave his decision, but I have given mine. Good luck to you, old man, and don't forget I want to be best man at the wedding. Your old pal, Eddie."

Matty stared at the paper without understanding for a long time. He had come home, heartbroken and dispirited. He had kept himself together during that farewell, but now, when he was alone, the thought of life without Nell, the memory of Nell's look at the last haunted him.

Nell loved him. And he must go away. Eddie must never know. Nell would not let him know.

That was the juncture at which he picked up the envelope addressed to himself in Eddie's writing and tore it open.

And now he understood. Eddie had done this! Eddie, his old friend, his best friend. . . . It could not be. But it must be. Not for himself, but because Nell loved him.

His hand went out to the telephone.

"Nell! Listen! I—"

"Eddie said that? Wrote that? Why, Matty—"

"But do you, Nell? You do? Listen, I love you and . . . I'm coming round to tell you so before you've got the receiver up."

The Fire

Wednesday night near 9 o'clock fire was discovered in the annex building on the High School campus, and it was under such headway that it was uncontrollable. The building and all of its contents except the pianos were destroyed.

There were various valuable paraphernalia in this house, such as chemical apparatus, athletic outfits, domestic science, and culinary articles, manual training tools, many books and miscellaneous articles connected with the school. The building was a large two story edifice, erected in 1887. It was originally a part of the large old dormitory. It was used also as a music room.

The fire was first discovered on the lower floor in the northwest corner of the building in the room where the athletics keep their equipments. The origin is a mystery. The most prominent theory is the ever ready cigarette which is so useful with the athletics, and the ball players. But it happened just like the unloaded gun accidents. They always did, and always will happen.

There was insurance with the Dorsey agency for $2500.

Dr. Brooks, who is president of Baylor university at Waco, Texas, urged that the delegates on returning to their homes, put into concrete form the health lessons they learned during the convention, and that each delegate become a leader in his section in a gigantic health crusade. Dr. Brooks also took occasion to declare himself in favor of woman suffrage.

Mr. Ihlder declared "there is not a city in Texas with over 10,000 population that can afford not to look into the matter of housing." The speaker declared much disease was due to sanitary surroundings in the homes. Several speakers dwelt on topics of health.

Whole Family Dependent.

Mr. E. Williams, Hamilton Ohio, writes: "Our whole family depend on Pine-Tar-Honey." Maybe someone in your family has a severe Cold—perhaps it is the baby. The original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is an ever ready household remedy—it gives immediate relief. Pine-Tar-Honey penetrates the linings of the Throat and Lungs, destroys the Germs, and allows Nature to act. At your Druggist, 25c. 3

Caught The Belled Buzzard

F. E. Buxton reports the capture of the belled buzzard yesterday evening late, near the water tank, by young Gilson. The buzzard had become entangled in some brush, and was almost exhausted. The bell was attached to one leg by a cotton string of ordinary domestic. The bell is an ordinary cow bell of a medium size, and is inscribed May 11, 1911. Mr. Buxton, who saw it, says he doesn't think it had been worn that long, just four years. Gilson released the buzzard and retains the bell.

Man Takes His Own Medicine is an Optimist.

He has absolute faith in medicine—he knows when he takes it for certain ailments he gets relief. People who take Dr. King's New Discovery for an irritating Cold are optimists—they know this cough remedy will penetrate the lining of the throat, kill the germs, and open the way for nature to act. You can't destroy a Cold by superficial treatment—you must go to the cause of the trouble. Be an optimist. Get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today. 3

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tonic" is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bowels. Calomel, when it comes into contact with our bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight on my guarantee.

Dr. B. M. Harrison, of Appleby, happened to quite a serious accident last Saturday night.

He walked off of a gallery or porch five feet high, by missing the steps in the dark. In falling his head struck the corner of the steps. It knocked him senseless, and he remained in a dazed condition till Sunday. He is reported to be doing well now. Dr. Nelson went to his immediate assistance.

Whooping Cough

"About a year ago my three boys had whooping cough and I found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only one that would relieve their coughing and whooping spells. I continued this treatment and was surprised to find that it cured the disease in a very short time," writes Mrs. Archie Dalrymple, Crooksville, Ohio. For Sale by all dealers. dw

S. H. Davis, of the Trawick neighborhood, was in town Saturday, and called on the Sentinel. He lived up there before the woods were burnt.

For a Torpid Liver

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets off and on for the past six years whenever my liver shows signs of being in a disordered condition. They have always acted quickly and given me the desired relief," writes Mrs. F. H. Trubshaw, Springville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. dw

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; unless cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 7c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

How can you guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

SYMPTOMS

Slight Symptoms Sometimes Presage Serious Results.

Do you feel tired, have you a sallow complexion, constipation, headache, bad breath, sleeplessness or circles around your eyes? If so, you are undoubtedly suffering from some liver complaint.

Perhaps you don't feel very badly now, but delay is dangerous. To allow your liver to continue out of order, is to invite a serious chronic illness.

Whenever you have the slightest symptoms of liver trouble, stop it immediately. You can do it harmlessly and mildly by taking LIV-VER-LAX, the natural vegetable compound that is replacing calomel everywhere. It has all the effectiveness, not the effect of calomel. Insist on getting the original LIV-VER-LAX, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by Stripling Haselwood & Co.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. RICKRODE, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Roosevelt and Taft Differ

The Galveston Tribune well says this: Roosevelt takes sharp and critical issue with the President of the United States. Taft declares the President of the United States is acting with the wise and firm deliberation of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley in trying to avoid war. The former tells Wilson what he ought to do; the latter advises the country to support Wilson in any course he may see fit to pursue. Roosevelt thinks the United States should forbid all commerce with Germany, and encourage commerce of every kind with England, France and Russia. Inasmuch as commerce with Germany is absolutely shut off, while commerce with Russia, France and England is going on in ever-increasing volume, such action would accomplish utterly nothing. The contrast between the personalities of the two ex-presidents is brought vividly into relief by their different views.

Second Sapp Hearing Set for Thursday

Next Thursday E. E. and Louis Sapp, charged with the murder of Richard Watts and Frank Havard, will begin again their fight for liberty on bond pending their trial. This hearing was set for Monday and postponed to Thursday. Last week they were refused bond in the Watts case after Judge J. Llewellyn, sitting in the place of Judge L. B. Hightower on the Ninth district court bench, had listened for five days to evidence and argument in this now famous case.

London Paper Praises Wilson

London, May 11.—The Evening Star, which represents the views of the British Government, in an editorial discussion of President Wilson's Philadelphia speech, praises its calmness and moderation. "As we look over Europe's stormy sea of blood, we can not blame the United States for nailing its flag to the mast of peace," the Star says. "It is not cowardice; it is courage. President Wilson has taken a lofty moral attitude and it would be wrong to ascribe it to domestic expediency or corruption.

"America is her own best judge of what affects her honor and of her own moral responsibility. Whatever she does or does not do, we know that America's soul is with the allies in their defense of law, liberty and humanity. The allies value America's moral support more than any help it could give them if it went to war with Germany."

MRS. R. H. MURCHISON ON TRIAL AT LUTKIN.

More Than 300 Witnesses and 125 Veniremen Will Be on Hand When Court Opens Today.

Lutkin, Texas, May 11.—More than 300 witnesses and 125 special veniremen will be in Lutkin tomorrow to attend the trial of Mrs. R. H. Murchison, beautiful young Red Cross nurse, charged with slaying her husband, R. H. Murchison, local agent for the Wells Fargo Company Express, a prominent Elk and Mason, who was killed at his home here on April 14.

Following the tragedy his wife was placed under arrest. At her examining trial Mrs. Murchison was refused bail, pending action by the grand jury. The grand jury reconvened in extraordinary session and returned a bill charging murder. Subsequently the nurse was released when she furnished bond in the sum of $5000.

Mrs. Murchison is represented by Senator S. M. King, Judge Thompson and Representative Fairchild. A warmly contested legal battle is expected. No more sensational case ever has been tried in this county. Indications are that hundreds of persons from the surrounding territory will be in attendance.

Before her marriage, the fair defendant was a nurse at Galveston. Murchison then was working for an express company at Houston. Three years ago he and the nurse were married at Galveston.

Murchison was transferred to Lutkin some time ago. Soon after the move was made he was found dead, with a pistol wound in his body.

Mrs. Murchison has declined to make any statement and her attorneys refuse to divulge the defense to be offered.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Mrs. Florence Carman has been acquitted of the charge of the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey. There is only one question to be settled in this case as in all others of its kind and that is between Mrs. Carman and her God. If a man has a right to shoot down another in defense of the sanctity (?) of his home, a woman has a right to thus avenge herself of an outraged love. Neither the faithless man nor faithless woman is worth jeopardizing the soul for, and why not turn them loose and let them go to fall in the pit dug by their own hands.

COLEY'S URINO-LAXATIVE

The Polite Man

When Wigglewax is on the street, a charming smile adorns his face; to every dame he haps to meet, he bows with courtly, old world grace. His seat, when in a car, to any girl he'll sweetly yield, and women praise him near and far, and say he is a Chesterfield. Throughout the town, from west to east, the man for chivalry is tamed. "The Bayards are not all deceived," the women say when he is named. At home this Bayard isn't thus; his eye is fierce, his face is sour; he looks around for things to cuss, and jaws the women by the hour. His daughters tremble at his frown, and wonder why he's such a bear; his wife would like to jump the town, and hide herself most anywhere. But if a visitor drops in, his manner changes with a jerk, he wears his false and shallow grin, and bows like some jim-twisted Turk. Then for his daughters and his wife, he wears his smile and serene fat and callers say, "No sordid strife can enter such a home as that!" A million frauds like Wigglewax are smirking on the streets today, and when at eve they seek their shacks, they'll beet and grouch the old stale way.—Walt Mason.

Apffel-Gilbert

A quiet home wedding took place in our city, Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the residence of John N. Gilbert on Pilar street. Mr. Fred Apffel, of Houston, and Miss Virgie Gilbert, of this city were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. H.C. Willis officiating.

This wedding was wholly informal, though its coming had been known to the families and was announced Wednesday in the Sentinel. A few relatives and interested friends were present. The best man was Mr. Frank Lockhart, of Lutkin, and Miss Mary Odell was bridesmaid.

The home was made festive with a profusion of floral decorations and lent a pretty back ground for the wedding party. The bride wore a white dress of pure loveliness for the ceremony and a most becoming suit of blue with accessories for travel.

Miss Virgie is one of Nacogdoches sweetest young girls and is loved by all who knew her. She is the daughter of our townsman and native born citizen, Jno. N. Gilbert who is well thought of by all.

Mr. Apffel is a valued employee of the Schaefer Photo Supply Co. of Houston, having been with this company the past eight years.

Quite a number of the wedding party were at the station to say last "Good Byes." Of this number, Miss Ila Foxworth caught the brides bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Apffel left for Houston, where on Washington Ave at 2008 they will be at home to their friends.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

How Came Douglass?

When was Douglass started? Who started the town, and who named it? The Sentinel wants to publish the facts, and requests the information, but the chances are that no answer can be found.

Has any one ever heard? It has been said that there was a lawyer at Nacogdoches in an early day, whose name was Douglass, Kelsey H. Douglass, and that the town was named for him.

The original Dursts who lived near Linwood crossing on the Angelina river, and at the Durst crossing and owned much land around there may have named Douglass.

Accident at Mayotown.

Tuesday about 6 p. m. a negro brakeman called Will, who works on the company's log train, made a miss in boarding the engine from the front while it was moving, and fell on the track. The wheels passed over one of his legs and one arm, close up to his body, and mashed them horribly. Dr. Blackwell being temporarily the Company's physician while the regular physician, Dr. Evans, is here as a patient in a hospital, responded to the call, and went up in his automobile, and spent nearly all the night in attendance on the unfortunate man. He can not tell how the case will terminate yet, but he thinks the leg will have to be amputated at the hip joint, and the arm may be saved. The severity and extent of injury make the prognosis grave, that is to say, the chances are against the unfortunate man. At the latest he was bearing up well and asked for a cigarette.

Later—The negro man died about 1 a. m. Wednesday.

Fine Horse Died.

Tom Summers fine surry horse, Mac, died Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Summers rode him off early in the afternoon and he seemed in his regular good condition, but he died before he could return with him. Mr. Summers lost a mule last week in this manner and seemingly from the same cause.

"What's in a name?" The word "bitters" does not always indicate something harsh and disagreeable. Prickly Ash Bitters is proof of this. It cleanses, strengthens and regulates the system thoroughly, yet it is pleasant so the most delicate stomach will not object to it. Stripling, Haselwood & Co., Special Agents

Splendid Medicine Stomach Trouble

I Suffered for Several Years Peruna Restored My Health

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, No. 124 Twelfth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I took it for several months and at the end of that time found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Over Ten Years Ago.

"I would not be without Peruna. Although it was over ten years ago that I first gave you my testimonial, I am of the same opinion as when I wrote it, and give you the privilege to use it as you see fit. I still use Peruna when I think it necessary. I am recommending it to my neighbors whenever a chance occurs."
