WINS PRIZE.

Local Firm Honored Among Leaders in Great National Contest

One of the leaders in the great National contest of Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets agents this year is Crain Furniture Co.

The contest was the greatest in the history of the Hoosier Company. Forty five hundred dealers took part in towns of every size and condition. More than a million dollars worth of the famous Hoosier step svers were sold.

In writing Crain Furniture Co., the Hoosier Company said, "It is a great pleasure indeed to send you this check which you won in the Hoosier prize a contest during the spring. The money represented by this check is only a portion of the real advantage we feel that the prize contest has won for you. It is no small thing to stand among the winners of one of the hardest fought prize contests ever held in this country."

Although the Crain Furniture Co. modestly maintains that the Hoosier sells itself, because of its wonderful convenience and low price, every one will join us in congratulating them on the successful efforts which have won this honor for them and Nacogdoches.

Capt. I. L. Sturdevant, Chief, City.

Dear Sir:

At Spanish Bluff Monday noon I received word that our warehouses A and C had been destroyed by fire.

I started home at once with a great deal of anxiety and concern, devoted my entire thoughts during the trip to rebuilding. When I reached W. H. Johnson's store I had completed in my mind plans for new houses with concrete floors and foundations. There I learned that "C" was burned and "A" only slightly damaged.

My relief can be better imagined than described. However, I could not bring myself to a full realization of our good fortune until I drove to the warehouses and saw the real situation.

Do not think any human agency save that of the Nacogdoches Fire Department could have saved this building under the circumstances, and as a slight token of appreciation of the W. T. Wilson Grain Co., for the Nacogdoches Firemen I beg you to accept the enclosed check for $50.00 with our grateful thanks, regretting only that we do not feel able to make it $500 instead of $50, as we feel that the larger sum would not be a cent more than the superb, ever efficient and ably commanded fire department of Nacogdoches deserves.

Yours truly,

W. T. Wilson.

Nacogdoches 7-26-15.

In reply to the above, and in behalf of the Fire Company I sincerely thank our loyal friend for such generous and tangible appreciation shown through his kind words, cheer our hearts most. We are delighted to have given such a good account of ourselves.

To Blount's Ranch

The Sentinel editor was favored last Sunday morning by S. W. Blount and Percy Blount, accompanied by J. F. Floyd with an auto ride out to Guy Blount's fine Ranch, which is located about eight or nine miles southwest of Nacogdoches at the junction of the Moral and Alazan creeks.

This is a fine ranch and is quite interesting for several reasons. It has been written up and described heretofore, and therefore this need not be repeated.

The fine crops of corn and cotton and other produce now growing there are worthy of mention. The ranch is comparatively new in every way. The big lake, containing nearly 100 acres of space, was formerly a marsh, and the adjacent fertile lands of thousands of acres were recently a wilderness. But now the scenes are changed to progress. One of the evidences of this progress is the two large silos recently constructed. Another is the use of a water ram operated by waste water from the lake, filling a large elevated tank used for a variety of purposes. Somebody said he had power enough to generate electric power for both Nacogdoches and Lutkin.

Fern Lake, was visited on this jaunt, and is itself quite a huge preserve. It is six miles out on the old Procella road, and is a favorite resort for our town people.

The New Water Reservoir.

The Sentinel man was taken out by Mayor Matthews and Water Commissioner, Holt, Tuesday, to see the new reservoir for city water, which is now being finished up. The outlook now for satisfactory drinking water is as good as could be wished. The spring has a free flow, which has been carefully measured. The elevation is about twenty-five feet higher than the old reservoir or lake, yet the old dam and the new one are only about 50 yards apart. The pipes from the two lakes unite near the lakes, and will be so arranged as to use either or both waters. The new pond is within steep deep banks of clean white sand. The spring is in the same sand, and there is no mud or color about it. The water is soft and cold.

In the dam work four double team scrapers are used, and the clean sandy soil is brought from both ways, very short hauls, each team bringing a load coming and going. It will only be a few days till this water will be in our homes.

A negro boy, 20 years old, son of Walter Childress, was accidentally drowned at Caro yesterday.

We want you to see the Exceptional Values that we are offering in High-Grade Buggies, Surreys and etc. If you want to buy a Buggy then you owe it to yourself to see our big stock before you trade with anyone. Will Ross, aged about 30 years, employed as an extra brakeman by the Nacogdoches Logging Company, was run over and killed by a switch engine at Dunham, a small place located on the Nacogdoches & Southeastern Railroad, about 11 o'clock Monday morning.

The cause of the accident could not be learned. He was an man well liked by all who know him. An extra train was run to Nacogdoches to take a coffin for him Monday afternoon.

He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his death.

Little Child Dead.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ford of Helmic, Trinity county, died Sunday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lovett. The parents are nephew and niece of Mr. Lovett, and were here on a visit, when the child got sick and never got better. It was buried at North Church Monday.

Mrs. Lovett requests the Sentinel to express the heartfelt gratitude of the bereaved parents and relatives for kindly help and sympathy. Nothing was lacking in that way.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met, for their monthly social meeting at the home of Mrs. Oscar Baxter, Monday, at 5 o'clock. About fifty members and guests were present.

The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. J. W. Thomas followed by prayer by Mrs. R. R. Wilson.

Mrs. Langston King was leader for the programme.

Subject "Christian Stewardship"--Mrs. Hollis Mast very ably assisted Mrs. King on this subject. Musical numbers interspersed the programme, making an afternoon of pleasure for all who attended. Roll call by the treasurer was interesting as each member gives her "free-will" offering with also a news item on the subject.

After the programme was finished, delicious refreshments were served.

Mesdames Ford Hale and Goldsberry assisted Mrs. Baxter in entertaining.

W. T. Caver Stricken

A telephone message from Rusk, Tuesday, reported that W. T. Caver, of that town, was stricken with paralysis, and was not expected to recover. Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Burk are relatives and went over there. Mr. Caver was a prominent and well known business man of this county and lived at Linnflat, in the long ago, and he has relatives and many friends in this county who will be interested in this news.

Acquitted of Murder

Mr. Ogden, who has been on trial in the District court at San Augustine county, for the past four or five days, charged with the murder of Dr. Cavanaugh some four or five months ago, was acquitted at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning by a jury there. Much interest has been manifested in this trial, as both parties were very prominent in that county.

Diamond Vocabulary

Baseball fans used to talk about the same language as the payers, says a southern writer. But it's different now.

Whether they did it just to be different or just to amuse themselves the present generation as ball players, including many young gents from our most famous institutions of pure English, have invented a new line of lingo by which they converse among themselves.

Here's the key to a few of the terms now used by all of our best players:

Deceiver—A pitcher.
Monkey suits—Baseball uniforms.

Uniform—Civilian clothes,
Dogs—Feet.

Sneaks—Soft-soled shoes.
Wolves—Knocking fans.

Orchard—Ball Park.
Glue—Money.

Him or He—The manager of the club.

Agate—Regulation baseball.

Ducat—A pass to the game.
Bludgeon—A bat.

Work—The act of playing ball.

Geyser—A spitball pitcher.
Stuff—The curves a pitcher puts on the ball.

Sullivans—Upper berths.
Also tourist sleepers which have cane seats.

Groceries—Meals. Also used to denote prizes offered by merchants for early season feats.

Next time you hold converse with a ball player, dear reader, have this little pocket dictionary handy and consult it if said player's talk baffles you.—Ex.

Warsaw Danger

The German armies are doing everything possible in a most terrific assault, on Warsaw. The battle there is beyond all calculation. The Russians are about to be driven out. The following dispatch points the story:

Berlin, July 22.—Before evacuating Windau, the Russians fired the city, the harbor and dock works, according to advices received at Libau. The greater part of the city is said to have been destroyed. Russian troops also are reported to have fired villages and farmhouses in other parts of Courland, in accordance with the provisions of a recent army order.

Washington, July 22.—The American consul at Warsaw cabled the state department today that the Belgian consul had left Warsaw and that the American consulate had taken charge of the affairs of both Belgium and Serbia there.

Houston City is glorifying herself over a big line of big steamships about to begin regular runs between there and New York. This puts Houston on the mercantile map with a golden sign. And don't forget, Houston is in Texas, and Texas is the biggest star in Uncle Sam's galaxy.

No man should try to run an auto unless he has horse sense.

If He Sells Player He Gets $2,000; Can Lose Him for $750

To sell a player for $2000 or more or to try to hold him and lose him in the draft for $750!

That's the problem that confronts a Texas league club owner. Baseball has become a business and of course the problem must be solved in a business-like manner.

Major league teams send out scouts to the Texas league every summer, and if a man has much ability the chances are that he will be drafted.

It costs more than $750 to bring a youngster like Brady down here from Ohio and develop him. It's a ten-to-one shot that he'll be drafted if he's not sold.

Along comes a big league scout and offers Gardner $2,500 for Brady. If he doesn't sell him he'll be drafted in August and Gardner will get but $750 for him.

That $1750 difference will help offset some of the small crowds.

With Brady out of the way the same thing applies to the player who may be regarded as the next most valuable man for major league training.

So it's simply a case of selling if the offer is good at a high price or hold and lose the player for a low price.—Dallas Journal.

When A Man Marries

His bachelor friends are about equally divided, in thinking that he is a nut or a mighty fortunate gink.

His wife's relatives plan to visit them during the county fair or the automobile show.

His own relatives plan to give his wife a good talking to if she proves to be extravagant.

His neighbors hope that he will prove to be a good hand at bridge and that his wife will throw as many teas as the rest of them.

His boss wonders how he can do it on the salary he is getting, but does not increase it.

His wife wonders why it is that a little house takes so much time to look after.

While a man himself is so excited all the time that he nearly loses his job—and doesn't realize it.—Indianapolis Star.

Faith Cure

Thos. Die, a believer in the Apostolic faith, died here this week. Mr. Die was brought to Trinity from his home near Livingston last Friday, suffering with a ruptured blood vessel, and being a believer in the power of prayers as a balm for all bodily ailments, Die refused to have a physician, and his death is attributed to the want of medical attention. Die was a fine specimen of health, about 35 years old and unmarried. His body was prepared for burial by Undertaker J. T. Renfro and shipped to Livingston. The Apostolic band is holding a meeting in the woods near Mr. I. O. Stanford's home. It is reported there are several other followers of the Apostolic faith sick in the camp and unless they receive medical attention more deaths are liable to follow.—Trinity Tribune.

The Dizzy Daughter.

Mary Jane, you dizzy daisy, what a mess you always make; Are you careless or just lazy? Is your intellect a fake? All your traps, you heedless critter, I see strewn around the floors. Ma will come and clean the litter, when she's done her others chores. Always counting on another to do things you ought to do, always waiting for your mother to come tolling after you! Ma will all this mess abolish, when she's dusted forty chairs, when she's put a coat of polish on the furniture upstairs; when she's cleaned and scaled some fishes, when she's pared a pail of spuds, when she's washed the dinner dishes, when she's patched a heap of duds, when she's so doggedd weary that her workworn soul is frayed, she'll come toiling round you, dearie, cleaning up the muss you've made. Mary Jane, your mother's older than she was when she was young; she has stitches in her shoulder, and the asthma in her lung; every step she takes is harder than the step she took before, as she wanders from the larder to the well or henhouse door. Some sad day we shall have laid her to her rest, her labors through; while she's with us you should aid her, not make work for her to do.—Walt Mason.

From The Jacksonville Progress

The senior editor has fared remarkably well this week. One day he visited a twenty-acre watermelon patch and helped himself to the finest one to be found, the owner furnishing a wagon to haul it to town. Another day he wended his way to a forty-acre orchard of Elberta peach trees where he loaded up on nice juicy peaches and then filled two baskets for future use and came home feeling like after all this is a good world and full of the best people ever. Ain't it nice to be an editor and be remembered by the big hearted people who perhaps have some idea of what the trials are that an editor has to overcome.

It is Governor Ferguson's opinion, one may infer from his speech at the opening of rural week at the university, that in order to acquire the ballot the women of Texas have but to say that they want it. At least, the governor, for one, is willing to "give" them the ballot if they put in a bid for it. That, coupled with his observation that "it a woman wants more power, the only thing to do is to give it to her, for she'll get it anyway," should be accepted by the Texas suffragettes as their cue to move to the center of the stage of action with as large a chorus as they can amass.—Ex.

In the European war the German armies generally take the cake, or take any thing else that they go after. But Warsaw is not dead easy, and the Germans may have more trouble there. They are fighting desperately and it is not over yet.

Tired Business Man.

The business man is tired, with tears his eyes are dim; the rest he's long desired is still sidestepping him. His weariness has grown to be a public wheeze. Griet marks him for its own, and will not give him ease. For all hat-passers beg a chance to run him down, and dettly pull his leg for kopeck, yen and crown, Is there a scheme on deck to paint the railway tracks? The merchant's shapely neck is first to feel the ax. Is there a kindly plan to send the poor some ducks? The weary business man must cough up seven bucks. Is there a project big, to gild the village pump? The business man must dig his savings in a lump. For every cheerful take devised by Jack and Jill, the business man must take some roubles from his till. The hoboes in the jail must have a Christmas tree; oh, merchant, hand the kale—be generous and free! A widow needs a pup, to keep the tramps away; oh, merchant, loosen up, be liberal today! A good electric fan the county poorhouse needs; oh, sad-eyed business man, shell out a dozen seeds! The business man must fall for every such demand, his back against the wall, his checkbook in his hand!—Walt Mason.

Guard to Hold Camp.

Austin, Tex., July 20.—Official announcement of the annual encampment of the Texas National Guard will be made within the next few days. Adjutant General Henry Hutchings and Colonel James T. Stockton, assistant quartermaster general have been in conference with officials at Fort Sam Houston relative to the encampment. An effort is to be made to secure the attendance of several officers of the regular army in order that a school of instruction may be conducted.

Dallas will probably be selected for the encampment, which will open August 19 and continue for ten days. The Second, Third and Fourth Texas infantry regiments will participate. There will be approximately 2500 officers and men in camp.

Although not determined definitely as to the place of the encampment, Fort Worth and Corpus Christi two other bidders are not expected to land the encampment.

New Sweet Potatoes of New Variety

Lee T. Murphey brought to the Sentinel two samples of new sweet potatoes which he says are the only ones of the species in the State. He calls them Porto Rico Yams. They have pink skins and yellow meat. He says the slips were set of one variety May 3, and of the other sample May 28. Both are large enough for use, one grown in 54 days, and the other in 79 days. They may prove to have great merit. Mr. Geo. T. McNess, please tell us about it.

89 Years Old Today.

Uncle Tom Summers was born 16 miles north of Huntsville, Ala., July 23, 1824. This makes him 89 years old today. He has lived in Nacogdoches county, Texas, nearly 64 years, and has been a member of the Baptist church 63 years, and is glad to be a Baptist. He doesn't know of any older person than himself in this county. If there is one the Sentinel would like to know it. Uncle Tom says this will be his last anniversary, but we hope not.

Palacios

The Sentinel editor has a personal letter from a friend, a letter that has the marks of being written and mailed at Palacios, not distinct. It says, "Come, Come, Come. The water is fine, the breeze is fine, the preaching and teaching finest! Dear, dear! How much you do miss by not being a Baptist."

Well, why in the wherefore didn't they tell us in time? Is it too late now? Can we yet believe? Where and on what delightful shore is Palacios and what is it all about and what is it for?

The name is Spanish and means palaces, but—well, is there any fish pond or honey tree and such things there for ordinary flesh and blood, not all windy?

Gained Four Days Out of Nine

Over in Oklahoma one of the business concerns using a great many wagons had been considering the question of axle grease.

Apparently no conclusion could be reached from the statements of competitive sellers of the products, so the company decided to make a test.

Two NEW wagons which had just been delivered to the company were selected for the test. To one wagon a competitive grease was applied on both front and rear wheels, Texaco grease being used on the other.

They were set to work. In five days the competitive grease was done, the spindles got hot and a new application was required.

IN NINE DAYS TEXACO GREASE WAS STILL GOOD, SPINDLES IN PERFECT CONDITION READY FOR ONE MORE DAY.

Texaco service on wagons is like Texaco service on anything else, ready to give unusual value to the man who uses it.

Take advantage of Texaco quality by buying the Red-Star-Green-T oils. Made in Texas.

Treadaway Was Not Killed.

The Sentinel reported a serious accident a week ago in which twelve men on a motor car were thrown down off a tressel and the car fell on them. Only one man was killed named Davis, whose father lived in the Woden vicinity, and only two of the twelve men were able to get out from under the car. Nine were pinned down, and one of the nine was Treadaway. All were hurt, some of them badly. It happened in this county, on the A. & N.R. by a hog on the track. They had been to a base ball game in Lutkin.

Fitting.

Our Fire Company
We were at the fire last night, almost from its origin, and witnessed the fine work accomplished by our fire company. We unhesitatingly say that we believe as fine work was accomplished as could have been done by any bunch of fire fighters anywhere. The boys deserve all praise and support of the entire community. The town of Nacogdoches should get together and devise ways and means of giving our fire company every support and encouragement possible, they do not need "boquets" but every device for fighting fire and be supplied with all necessary fire fighting devices, at once.

Gentlemen:—

Let me add to my letter of the 25rd, instant, that I am back from Palestine, and I find in my mail many complimentary reports of the Sentinel's splendid writeup of the meeting held there, and they are coming from all sections of the district, and several from Houston.

With best wishes, I am,
Yours very respectfully,

The Sentinel is pleased to receive such expressions, and would add that the meeting referred to was an aid to the Farmer's Short Course which followed it up and was so highly successful.

An exchange says, as to equal suffrage, "The women" who are clamorous for it are comparatively few. Instead of saying, as the papers and politicians say, "the women," it would be more accurate to say some women, or at most, many women. The fact is "the women," or a majority of them, do not take any interest in the matter.

Equal suffrage in Texas could hardly improve conditions if existing laws were to remain unchanged. It is by placing themselves in a position to propose changes in some of those laws that the Texas suffragettes could give the women of this state power commensurate with their present economic status.—Ex.

Suffering and Sunshine.

I find it hard to sing and dance, when up and down my jaws there prance those jumping aches which rend the nerves, and spoil the temper with their curves. And yet the other plan won't do; I've walked the floor the long night through, I've cussed a blue and blooming streak, while holding hot cloths to my cheek, I've used the language of despair, I've howled and yowled and pawed the air, and kept the neighborhood awake, and none of that relieved the ache. So why not smile and dance and sing? There's nothing in the other thing; when once again those aches begin, I'll gird my loins and push a grin three times around my face and back, and hold it there till jawbones crack. Then folks will say, "How brave he is! He beats that Spartan youth, gee whiz!" But when I yell, those people say, "He ought to take his face away; he keeps the neighborhood on thons, because his blamed old teeth have corns; he queers our days and spoils our nights, with no respect for human rights!" The man who bravely bears his ills, and smiles while swallowing his pills, gets admiration without end, while he who groans can't find a friend.—Walt Mason.

With the final note to Berlin the United States has closed its side of the case. With the exception of further negotiations to clear up details concerning the destruction of the Lusitania and the American lives thereon—matter upon which the two governments are irreconcilably at a variance—there is nothing more to be said. The next development of importance will take place when a war vessel of the German government destroys another unarmed merchant ship without adequate warning upon which Americans have taken passage. Feeling throughout the United States is in a very dangerous mood with reference to such wanton and unwarranted slaughter, and a repetition of the lawless act will bring matters to a sharp focus. Nothing less than intervention of some sort in the war against Germany, whether by armed or financial support of the allies would satisfy the American people.—Galveston Tribune.

In spite of President Wilson's declarations that the United States should never be turned into an armed camp, and that we should be too proud to fight, it is evident that he has been giving the subject of national defense thoughtful consideration. It is understood he will propose, in his message to congress, a program calling for the proper military training of citizens in every way consistent with American traditions and national policy. As to the navy—our chief arm of defense—it is said he particularly wishes the navy to stand upon equality with the most efficient and serviceable fighting sea force maintained by any power. Some form of universal military training, and naval expansion to match the strength of the leading sea power, are the only guarantees upon which the integrity of the American nation can be maintained.—Galveston Tribune.

Negro Prisoners Can Not Ride in Coaches With Whites

New Orleans, La., July 27.—Sheriffs throughout Louisiana can not ride negro prisoners in white coaches. Judge John B. Fischer decided this today in the first city criminal court, holding that the rules governing the conduct of railroads as laid down by the railroad commission were supreme and that no enactment of the legislature could efface them.

The case was brought to trial on the complaint of Deputy Sheriff William L. Erwin of Plaquemine, La. who charged that Conductor M. A. Smith of the Texas & Pacific railroad forced him to move from the white coach with a negro prisoner. Judge Fischer's interpretation brings about a peculiar situation since the law gives negro nurses right to ride with white children in train.

Germany has destroyed another big ship of the United States. This is the fourth and its name is Leelanaw.

The fact that the Leelanaw carried a cargo of flax, declared absolute contraband by Germany on April 18, does not alter the view of the United States government that the contraband might have been removed and the vessel spared. Under the general rules of international law the destruction of a neutral vessel carrying contraband was not admitted until the famous Knight Commander in the Russo-Japanese war.

East Texas Men

In the Southern Industrial and Commercial Review for July appear the two following items:

Hearne McKnight, a native Shelby county boy, between twenty and thirty years of age, is general attorney for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway in Texas. He was born and reared at Center, and his parents were born and reared near Melrose, in Nacogdoches county, on a farm. It is stated on good authority that young McKnight is one of the best posted railroad attorneys in the Southwest and is continually winning new laurels.

One of the leading attorneys for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway in Missouri, with headquarters in St. Louis is Eugene Z. Mast, a native of Nacogdoches county, born and reared at Melrose. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Mast who now live at Nacogdoches. He went to the common schools at Melrose, attended the Sam Houston Normal and graduated in the law department of the State University at Austin. He is self-made in every sense of the word and is destined to write his name high in the legal profession.

Can Control the Movement of Vessel From His Front Porch.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., son of the well known mining engineer, has perfected a wireless apparatus by which he can control the movements of a small boat twenty miles at sea from his front porch on the ocean shore at Gloucester, Mass. He has made experiments with this boat in order to learn to control a torpedo to be sent against a hostile battleship, and now he has so nearly succeeded that army officers who have made an investigation think he has provided a means for defense which would make it impossible for a foreign battleship to get anywhere near striking distance of the United States.—Exchange.

A Bonded Warehouse

Teel & Hanks are making arrangements to establish a bonded warehouse here. They have made water connection in order to get protection against fire. They will build a warehouse to accommodate 4,000 bales, which should be ample for the coming season, but if more room is needed it will be furnished. No permit has yet been taken out, but Mr. Hanks tells us their plans are to operate it under the state law if nothing unforeseen happens. We were sure they would do this when they realized the situation.—San Augustine Tribune.

From Social

Dear Sentinel:

In my last letter I told you how busy we all were, or had been canning peaches, tomatoes and other good things to eat that we might be ready for the meeting.

The Seventh Day Adventists came first, pitched their tents on the square, and stayed fifteen days. Their sermons were very much enjoyed by the congregations, but no accessions to the church.

On the 8th of July, Brother Ray, pastor of the Baptist church at this place, assisted by Brother "Kelly, pastor of the Baptist church at Center, commenced their meeting here. It lasted twelve days. Great interest was manifested, a number of professions but only three accessions by baptism.

Mrs. Will Cariker of Beaumont, was visiting relatives and attending the meeting. She asked for her church letter to carry to her present home, which was granted.

Rev. Wiley McCall, of Cro, is holding a meeting at Myrtle Springs since Sunday. Quite a crowd go to church from here every day.

On Aug. 4th, Bro. Florence Pastor of the Methodist church will begin his meeting. The peaches and tomatoes are gone. Guess we can attend church every service, unless we can find some other excuse.

The Pellagra patients of this place, under treatment of Dr. W. J. McCrary, Specialists of Carbon Hill, Ala. are improving.

We are needing rain very much. Correspondent.

Nom de plumes only, such as Reader, Correspondent, Reporter, etc., may be signed in the paper, but the real name of the writer must appear with each letter, and corrections or changes may also be expected.

The official marking of this old road is to be done soon.

On Proper Marketing of Cotton

cotton, said in part:

"We should not only build warehouses, but we should encourage the farmers to put their cotton in them. This must be done by the bankers and business men of the state and it is up to them to get busy. Every business man in Texas knows that it is wrong to force cotton to sell in September and that it is wrong to cause it to be thrown on the market at any time in amounts larger than the market demands, yet this thing has been going on in this country ever since cotton has been a factor in the crops of the South. Cotton is the very backbone of this country. When the cotton crop is off and the price bad the whole state suffers. When cotton is thrown on the market in a lump the price is forced down and Texas is hurt just as badly as though the price were down owing to bad staple of an off year crop. But business men have overlooked this important factor in the handling of the cotton crop.

We must build warehouses all over Texas this summer and when the crop is baled it can be stored in good fire and storm proof structures, making a receipt for a bale of cotton as good collateral as the best bank note in the Federal Reserve Bank.

The bankers of Texas can finance the Texas cotton crop and I believe they will demonstrate this fact this fall. We have the money to carry the farmers over. The thing is that the farmer and the banker must get together. It is a mistake to wait until the cotton is picked and then start to bring about conditions for its financing.

The planter must learn that it is to his interest to take proper care of his cotton and that this care can be had only through warehousing. The warehouse receipts will mean ready cash. Look what was done last fall and the start was a late one. The price of cotton was raised in spite of the influences to hold it down. I do not contend that cotton should bring an abnormal price, but I do believe that it should bring a price that will give the farmer a good return on his investment. This can be done by feeding it to the market as the mills call for it."

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSING, Box 8, Alyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

The Grouchy Merchant.

The grouchy employer whose head's always sore, is sure the destroyer of peace in his store. "I'll pay out good wages, the best in town, and always," he rages, "my salesmen fall down. They come recommended as men hard to beat, but ere a month's ended they're dead on their feet." With rantings and railings he eases his mind, but to his own failings he's stupidly blind. He always is growling and roasting the clerks; his gloom and his scowling affect the whole works. No clerks can keep humping, with bows, smiles and becks, if some one is jumping all day on their necks. "It's no use to hustle and play a good game," they say. "the old cuss'll be mad just the same." Grown weary of nagging, they fret and they sulk, their spirits are sagging, they've griet in the bulk. The dealer and seller should look for a chance to boost the young feller who's keen to advance. The merchant is silly who rants by the year; his store has a chilly and dread atmosphere. His men are all wishing he'd cross the divide, so they could go fishing and let their jobs slide.—Walt Mason.

Leo M. Frank, whose throat was so severely cut by a crazy fellow convict in the Georgia penitentiary last Saturday night, was about the same Thursday. His chances are improving.

If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic on my guarantee.

King Albert of Belgium May Become Father of First United States of Europe.

San Francisco, July 21.—Albert, king of the Belgians, making his rounds with Washington newspaper men when a prince, caught a spirit of democracy that may yet affect nations. Joe Mitchell Chappel, magazine editor of Boston, said tonight in an address on "The Joy and Value of Making Acquaintances," at the annual banquet of the International Association of Rotary clubs.

Chappell introduced Prince Albert to the late President McKinley, "and as the tall, blue-eyed boy looked into his gentle face there was revealed the joy of an acquaintance," he said.

"At Mount Vernon they stood at the tomb of Washington and he said 'what a great thing it is to be the father of this country.'

"When the guns sounded at Liege and flashed to the world the news of invasion and destruction the young prince issued a proclamation in phraseology that has never been used by kings, ancient or modern. It began, 'My fellow citizens.'

"The impact with democracy had ripened into action and on the banks of the river Yser today stands the solitary figure of the king, who I believe, will be ready to hand back his scepter to the people and become the father of the first new republic in the United States of Europe."

John Reid Dead.

John Reid, who has always lived over the Carisso in the Shady Grove vicinity, was taken sick Friday night, and died the next day Saturday afternoon. He was buried at Shady Grove Sunday. He was a son of Alex. Reid dec. and leaves a brother, Aleck and several children and other relatives. He was born in this county about 55 years ago. He was a good citizen and was well liked.

Some people are always saying "There ought to be something done about it," but they never do anything themselves.

From The Short Course Team

Previous to its departure from Nacogdoches, the Short Course Team from the extension department of the A. & M. College held a meeting in the parlor of the Redland Hotel, at which meeting the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas the meeting just closed has, in our judgment been one of the very best and most profitable ever held in the State of Texas;

And whereas we have received from the citizens of the city of Nacogdoches, and the farmers of Nacogdoches county, so many acts of kindness and consideration, we desire to try to express some little part of our appreciation.

Nature was lavish in her gifts to Nacogdoches, including the hearts of her people. We hope to visit you again

Third Attack On Farmer's Home Made.

Corpus Christi, Tex., July 22.—The third attack within forty-eight hours has been made on the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Herold, an aged Bohemian couple, living on a farm five miles from this city. The last attack resulted in the wounding of Jaro Herold, a grandson, aged 18, by one of three men who took part in the last attack. Both the Herolds and their assailants opened fire. Young Herold was wounded in the arm by a shot which broke the bones.

The police say they will probably make arrests within a few hours.

Criticism need not be unfavorable, even if it generally is. To criticize is to examine with reference to an established standard, so that the word can be used in connection with a favorable judgment, as in the sentence: "The dramatic editor, having had supper with the star the night before, wrote a favorable criticism of the play."

Murder vs. Theft.

Ex-Governor Colquitt's letter to K. P. Branch of Nacogdoches, was given publicity by the Texas press recently, might be taken as good evidence that to "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel" has not yet become one of the lost arts. The former chief executive says, at the outset, that he has "no quarrel personally with President Wilson." But it there is any one thing in Mr. Wilson's official record that meets with Mr. Colquitt's approval, it does not appear in his letter, the purport of which is to show that the nation's chief executive betrayed a woeful lack of the sense of moral discrimination when he turned aside from the dispute with Great Britain over neutral shipping, in order to make demands of Germany regarding neutral lives.

Though Mr. Colquitt did not put the proposition in such frank terms, those who read his letter must have reduced the situation to a matter of property versus life. Nor can the people have patience with the following excerpt from Mr. Branch's letter to Mr. Colquitt, with the sentiment of which the ex-governor, by including it in his open letter, seems to agree:

"If Mr. Wilson would pay less attention to the way our very rich travel to the allies' land, and call Congress together and get the power given to him to put an embargo on everything and then put it up to the allies that if they don't allow our cotton to go anywhere under the sun in anybody's ship, then we will put an embargo on stuff to them, then I think they would come across. The southern states gave Mr. Wilson his nomination and the northern states elected him, and it looks like he is trying to enrich the rich of the north, smash Germany and bankrupt the south."

Ordinarily such expressions as the foregoing would be unworthy of comment. They demand notice only by reason of the fact that they seem to have the approval of a man who has held many positions of public trust in Texas and who is a prospective candidate for the United States Senate.

Mr. Colquitt not only agrees with such sentiments, but carries the same thoughts to greater lengths. "Our government," he wrote, "in enforcing our rights, and protecting our neutral rights, should not show favoritism toward one of these nations and bitterness toward the other." He referred to the action of the president in holding in abeyance the demands upon Great Britain for reparation for losses suffered by American shipping, and in pushing this country's case against Germany for loss of American lives due to Germany's methods of submarine warfare.

That this country's grievance against Great Britain is just, and will eventually be satisfied, Americans have no doubt. But it is a perverted sense of proportion that makes piracy of property a more serious offense than slaughter of human beings. It says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

makes no difference that many of the Americans who lost their lives on the Lusitania were of the "very rich." They were still American citizens.

Great Britain's policy has been one of seizure only. Germany's has been one of destruction, not only of American property, but of American lives as well. Whereas Great Britain has sunk no American ships, has taken no American lives, has destroyed no American property, Germany has taken about 150 American lives, torpedoed American ships, destroyed several million dollars' worth of American property and now refuses to give any assurance that she will not practice such wholesale destruction in the future. The two offenses can not be compared except for purposes of distortion.—San Antonio Light.

An Angel of Mercy.

Miss Furlow, of Houston, the lady who took the little Whittemore children to the Orphan's home, or some such refuge, came here last Friday and carried the three little Massey girls away to place them in homes. They leave a mother here. The Charity Association has been taking care of them. Their ages are from three to eight years. Doesn't it look hard? The cruel European war is the cause of other such instances daily, by the thousand.

The Sentinel Force wishes to thank Mr. Joel Burrows for the big juicy watermelon he presented to them Saturday. It was one of the finest variety, and was enjoyed very much by all. Mr. Burrows is one of Nacogdoches' progressive farmers, who appreciates his home paper and one who knows how to raise melons. It tipped the scales at 36 lbs.

Mrs. Alva Loden, who is leaving today, Friday, for Vinita, Okla. will visit at Jacksonville and Ft. Worth, as she goes to Oklahoma. Her departure will cause a tinge of sadness to her many friends here, and especially those in the Sentinel office where she served as reporter and accountant. She will be greatly missed here in many ways and by many people with whom she was pleasantly associated in both social and business relations, and by whom she is highly esteemed.

It has been said that a soft answer turneth away wrath, but occasionally a soft answer starts a matrimonial engagement that ends in war.

The Sentinel is Proud of this Advertisement.

In another column of the Sentinel you can find a remarkable advertisement. It is the old stand-by Tom Padgitt Saddlery business. The company writes us to change the figures so as to read 48 years instead of 46 years as the period of their business life. But more remarkable than this, and more gratifying to the Sentinel is the fact that the Tom Padgitt Company has carried an ad with the Haltom papers in Nacogdoches uninterruptedly for more than 40 years.

The name of Tom Padgitt is about as well known in Nacogdoches, yea, in all Texas, as the name of Sam Houston. Every old Texan is familiar with his advertising picture of a Texas cowboy on a Texas broncho, posing in great shape with lasso and other paraphernalia manufactured by Tom Padgitt, tempting for any small boy to become a Texas cowboy. And think of a cowboy 40 years ago, or a Tom Padgitt drummer, and then think where and what is today. Passing away, passing away.

Hardy Dially is here on a visit and made the Sentinel a friendly call. It has been many years since he lived here but he is the same old happy, jolly, Hardy Dially, and he doesn't appear much older. He says he has had big jobs ever since he left here, extending into California and Louisiana, and taking in Texas and Oklahoma. Agriculture is his hobby, and he says East Texas is the best place on earth for the Concord grape, the greatest of all money making products.

The Baptist church was well filled with people, Tuesday night, to hear the lecture on Africa, by Rev. Mr. Lockett a missionary who has been there. The lecture was high-toned and very interesting.

Will Pearson found most of his lost money advertised in the Sentinel. It was returned by R. L. Collins of Appleby who says that he did not find all of it.

The Short Course certainly amazed the attendants. It taught lessons that are needed. The ladies who talked eggs, and showed cooking won out. And the other fellers were good seconds.
