Mexico is Mazed.

Below we give extracts from telegraphic news, that are self-explanatory. The situation is still a muddle and dangerous to meddle with.

Carranza's Talk.

"From this," Gen. Carranza cabled, "you will see the Constitutional government controls the greater part of the country. It only expects that its course may not be interrupted so that it may accomplish a definite work of peace and reconstruction of the republic."

Official advices to the United States said Gen. Carranza was expecting to move the seat of government from Vera Cruz to Mexico City in August. Some sort of a request for recognition is expected to follow. Further advices said Gen. Villa was retreating north, abandoning Torreon and establishing headquarters at Chihuahua.

Villa's Sentiments.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 2.—"The American government can go to hell," declared Gen. Francisco Villa, addressing a gathering of foreign merchants at Chihuahua City Saturday.

Shortly afterward he contin-

5000 Homes Burned

In the great old city of Constantinople, Turkey, which is now the object of a prodigious marine attack or siege of the great forts on the Dardanelles straits which guard the water way to Constantinople, 5000 homes were recently burned. The city was already demoralized, and now the situation begins to remind us of the battle of Armagaddon.

"Murdered by the Governor."

The above label was attached to the coffin of Charles Becker the man electrocuted in New York. Mrs. Becker was persuaded to permit its removal, because it was criminal libel. It Becker was "murdered" it was done by the verdict of a jury of his own people. Capital punishment is always hard.

ated a number of their stores. Forty-two Mexican merchants were jailed after the conference held Saturday for the purpose of raising a forced loan. Six were executed. Such was the substance of reports brought here today by foreign merchants.

Ends His Life

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 1.—John Haggard, 42 years old, an American, formerly wealthy mine operator at La Esperanzas, Coahuila, Mexico, shot and killed himself today in the presence of a crowd of picnickers on the Medina river, sixteen miles from here.

At the outbreak of the revolution in Mexico two years ago, Haggard was reported to be worth half a million. But frequent demands from the different military factions resulted in practical confiscation of his mining property. He sent his wife and daughter here a year ago and recently came here to await developments in Mexico, where he had resided twenty years.

Despondent over his losses and suffering a nervous breakdown is the cause given for the rash act in a note he scribbled just before his death.

Jesse Bruton, Jr. of Oklahoma, was in town Monday, on his way to Dr. Charley Chamber's, to take his children home. They have been living with Dr. Chambers several years. Jess is married again and has a home for the children now.

Three Suspects in Grimes Case.

Temple, Texas (Via Smithville), Aug. 1 (2:15 A.M.)—according to the latest reports received here the two negro prisoners and one white man charges as accomplices in the Grimes murder, are now in the hand of the sheriff and his deputies. A mob is searching for the prisoners, they can get no satisfaction from the officers who says the prisoners are secluded. It is thought that if the trio is found they will meet the same fate as did Stanley on Friday night.

Pan American Doctrine.

Washington, D. C., August 4.—A Pan American Doctrine to supersede the Monroe Doctrine, which, if accepted, would form an offensive and defensive alliance between the United States and every republic of South and Central America, and between these republics, will be advocated at the Conference on National Defense, to be held in Washington, October 4-7, under auspices of the National Defense League, immediately following the Grand Army of the Republic Encampment.

Horse Ran Away.

A panicked horse with a piece of a shaft hanging behind him ran through the public square today. Some one said the horse belonged to Weeks & Weaver.

Two peace officers in his right of way gave room for the horse to pass and then squalled out "woe, feeling 'weekly' while the horse 'weavered' on.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Nacogdoches Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Nacogdoches readers.

J. D. Roberts, farmer, 120 Bailey Ave., Nacogdoches, says: "Kidney trouble had annoyed me for six years. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, causing me to get up so often at night that my rest was broken. They were also highly colored and contained sediment. My back pained when I stooped or lifted and when I got up mornings, I was stiff and lame across my kidneys and found it different to move quickly. I took five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and my back was rid of the pain and my kidneys became normal."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Roberts had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Preparedness

The San Antonio Light has a strong and lengthy editorial favoring the doctrine of being prepared to resist any attack by an enemy, using the heading "A Public Duty," from which we extract the following.

The United States is not prepared to defend the country against an enemy. It should be.

That we have no enemy at this moment is not of importance as bearing upon the case. Belgium had no enemy one year ago today, but eleven months ago today Belgium was overrun. China had no enemy on January first, but in May China, being unprepared to defend herself, practically surrendered her independence.

Not months but years are required to place a country in position to defend its territory and its ideals. There is no time to prepare for defense after an enemy has decided upon war. Though a million men were to rush to the colors "between sunrise and sunset," it would be months before those men would be more than an undisciplined mob, and still more months before they would have arms and ammunition with which to repel an invasion.

The man who cannot learn lessons from the experiences of other men is a fool. The nation which cannot learn lessons from the experiences of other nations must be a collection of simpletons.

An organization, nationwide, has been formed to unite all manner of Americans in a demand for preparedness against war. It is called the National Security League. At its head are leading Americans, thinking Americans, patriotic Americans. Some of them are Democrats, some of them are Republicans, some of them are Progressives. There is no politics in the movement; only patriotism.

They do not want war, either now or ever. They want peace. They are wise enough to see that the way to secure peace is not to tempt militaristic nations too greatly. Their motto is "not one cent for aggression, but billions for defense."

The legal execution of Charles Becker at the state prison at Sing-Sing N. Y. was a great sensation in that state and in other states and lands. His wealth and his official position bring him into prominent notice. The history of his crime and big trial need not be recited here. He was chief of police and was convicted of framing up the murder of a noted citizen by the police force. He insisted to the last that he was wholly innocent.

It is rather early for candidates to come out for county offices, but the Sentinel is ready to announce them now. One or more has already been canvassing. And there's no harm in it.

Wait For The Facts.

The United States has informed Germany that "repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights (of neutrals) must be regarded by the government of the United States when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly."

A German submarine has torpedoed an American ship, the Leelanaw. The boat was proceeding from Archangel, a Russian port, to a port in England with a cargo of flax which has been declared conditional contraband. The case seems to parallel with that of the Frye over which there has been correspondence between the United States and Germany.

All of the facts in the case are not yet available and it is too early for President Wilson to decide upon his course of action.

The last note of the United States had been in the possession of the German government only two days when the Leelanaw was sunk. It may not have been possible for the German government, even with the best of intentions to warn the commanders of its submarines within that time.

It, however, Germany has deliberately attacked and sunk an American ship after being informed that such an action would be regarded as deliberately unfriendly, the situation is as grave as it well can be.

The case is one in which the facts must determine the policy of this country, and until the facts have been determined the country must remain patient.—San Antonio Light.

Got Caught

Parsons Kansas, July 29.—L. O. Carroll, age 19, John Kalamzi, 16 and Samuel Debner, 20 were arrested here late this afternoon with $9270 in gold and currency in a battered suitcase. Carroll who was bookkeeper for the State Bank of Anhuac, Chambers county, Texas, has confessed, according to police officials that the three robbed the bank of $64,60 last Saturday night. Carroll says he will plead guilty. Two others refuse to talk. Local authorities have communicated with Anhuac officers and an officer is understood to be on the way for the prisoners.

Carroll says he knows W. R. Sherman, sheriff at Anahuac, and he will be glad to return with him; he should be the man who comes.

Huerta.

An El Paso dispatch says: "General Victoriano Huerta, awaiting trial here on charges of violating American neutrality, today sent a message to Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court complaining that his home here had been "violated by agents of American justice without scruple," and demanding guarantees for his family."

Huerta and his family should have decent treatment, but he did not so treat Madero nor his followers.

He promised Mrs. Madero that he would protect her husband, and at once had him murdered.

Found in Nueces.

Corpus Christi, Texas, July 28.—Rangers and deputies of Jim Wells county captured yesterday near Agua Dulce, Nueces county, four men who are alleged to have escaped from Henderson county jail at Athens on July 8.

The men gave their names as J. P. Burns and three sons, who were said to have been confined there. One was under five-year sentence for murder, two indicated for murder and one under $500 bond for, bootlegging. They are now being held in Jim Wells county jail pending arrival of authorities from Athens.

The tyrannical president of the little republic of Haiti, whose name was Vilbrum Guillaume, executed 160 political prisoners. An infuriated mob got his goat. They killed him and took over his capitol in Port au Prince.

Jack Johnson has issued a challenge to Jess Willard to fight it over. Willard spurned it, saying that he will not fight a negro in the ring.

Reckless Driving

Nacogdoches, Texas,
July 29, 1915

Editor Sentinel: Its all over now and my nerves are settled, but last night about 9:30 I thought that I might possibly draw or have the legal heirs draw my insurance. Talk about wars and rumors of wars there nothing comparable to the experience of facing squarely an automobile, coming right in front of your horse and vehicle at full tilt. I am not angry with any one for I don't know positively who it was that was driving the car but I'm writing this in the hope that it may be the means of causing drivers of cars to be more careful.

I was driving south on North street and about opposite Mrs. C. D. Stinson's home I saw coming facing me, an automobile. I was driving on the right side of the street, consequently the car was on the wrong side and evidently the driver was not paying any attention to where he was driving, doubtless doing as I have frequently seen drivers do, that is look around and talk to some one behind them in the seat in the rear of the car. The car ran up within at least ten feet of us before they began to change their course, and just barely missed us. This leads me to say that there are too many practices among those who are driving cars, that are altogether inexcusable.

The practice of looking back and engaging in conversation with some one on a seat just behind the driver. There is the turning of corners at a high rate of speed, a thing fraught with extreme danger, also driving on main thoroughfares at a reckless speed. We have, on several occasions seen cars pass on street crossings, where traffic was constant, running at not less than 25 to 30 miles per hour. All of these things are wrong and the practice continued in, is going to result in some disaster that will shock the entire community, causing the untimely death of some one or more persons.

I surely hope that the mere mentioning of these facts will have the effect of causing the thoughtless driver to consider the danger he is subjecting other people to as well as himself and if there is no heed given, then the officers should proceed to enforce the laws governing such. With no ill feeling toward any, but only hoping to help save some one from serious trouble in an accident such as might have happened to me last night.

I am yours truly,
R. C. Monk.

From the dispatches from Mexico it appears that the military faction called Constitutionalists, headed by General Carranza, are getting the best of it. But General Villa's army denies this. The sufferings for food in the city of Mexico, and at other places are awful. President Wilson is trying to bring about an end to all this, but the warring factions fight on.

Gouveneur Morris— "Father of the Penny"

AMONG all the framers of the Constitution of the United States none were more adept at constructive statesmanship than the "father of the American decimal system" and originator of the copper cent. The finish, style and arrangement of the Constitution fairly belong to the brilliant and eloquent Morris. From his youth to the hour of his death he was a devoted and dauntless worker for American progress. His unrivaled ability as an orator was known throughout Europe, and his funeral orations on Washington, Clinton and Hamilton are treasured American classics.

Generous. He loved society, and his hospitality was famous. All his life he drank the creative brews of malt and hops, and who will dare say that it weakened his will power or detracted from his success, his fame, his glory and his might? It was upon the tenets of the Constitution of the U. S. A. that Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago founded their great institution. During these 58 years they have daily brewed from the finest barley and hops beaus famous for being alive with natural force and nutriment. Their great brand BUDWEISER, because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sale of any other bottled beer by millions of bottles. BUDWEISER'S popularity grows daily, and 7500 people are daily employed to keep pace with the public demand.

One of First Girls Married in Waco

Mrs. Margaret Harris, 82 years old, who died at Dallas Thursday night, will be buried here, her old home this afternoon.

Mrs. Harris was the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. S. P. Ross, and came to Texas with her parents in 1839. They located first at Cameron, moving to Waco in 1849 and being the first white family here. In March, 1850, Mrs. Harris and her sister were married at a double wedding, the ceremony being the first ever performed in Waco. The sister married George Barnard and still another sister was the late wife of Tom Padgitt. Mrs. Harris was a sister of Governor Sul Ross.

Mexico.

Late dispatches from Mexico report a hot battle raging between the forces of Villa and those of Carranza, in the Monterey country, and that the latter claim the victory. There were about 2000 men on each side. Of course both will claim victory, as they usually do. "Let Mexico kill her own snakes," or else invite help. Those factions will get enough of it, if let alone, but if they are bothered by an uninvited intervenor they will shoot him from every side.

A Mad Word.

If I go forth and shoot a guy whose cows have spoiled my field of rye, to prison I must wend; they will not let me be at large; they'll try me on a murder charge, and hang me in the end. No sympathy shall I receive; no mourner at my grave will grieve, or weep some briny juice; they'll say, "He is a callous brute, who would a fellow mortal shoot for such a slim excuse!" But if my rusty sword I swing, and whoop for some bewhiskered king, I can't commit a crime; the more I butcher, maim and slay, the more the folks around will say, "His actions are sublime!" I do not need a thin excuse to cook the other fellow's goose; I shoot him down on sight; I plug some white faced, beardless lad, I rob some children of their dad, and all I do is right. It's murder if you guard your own; but if you guard a threatened throne, it loyalty becomes; so when you go a gent to wing, be sure to holler for a king, and beat a few bass drums.—Walt Mason

New Ginners' Law

The last legislature passed a new law regulating the co-operation of gins in this state, and inasmuch as it will be in effect during the coming season, we give below an outline of its provisions which will prove of interest to every cotton grower:

Every gin must be licensed, and every ginner is required to give a bond. The Warehouse and Marketing Department at Austin will furnish to any one interested the necessary applications forms for license and bond, together with a circular explaining in detail the provisions of the new law. License fee is $1 for each gin, and the amount of bond required for gins not previously operated is $500; for gins in business last year it will be based upon the number of bales ginned, with a maximum of $2500. Conditions of the bond are: that the ginner will take from each bale ginned three fair, true and correct samples of not more than one third of a pound each; that each bale will be carefully ginned, and no foreign matter or substance will be placed therein, and no water or anything to increase the weight will be added while the bale is in his possession; also that all dirt will be separated from the seed of any cotton he may gin.

The samples taken by the ginner shall be placed in approved containers, which are sealed, that they can only be opened by cutting. On the containers will be printed a certificate showing that the sample is a true, correct and fair one, and no fraud was practiced in taking same; that no foreign substance has been added to increase the weight; it shall also state the name and address of the grower of the cotton, and of the person owning the land where same was grown; the number of the gin and the number of bale on the ginner's books; name and address of the person for whom it was ginned; and weight of bale at gin.

Two of the samples taken by the ginner are to be delivered to the owner of the cotton, and one to be retained by him. Ginners will buy the containers for the samples and they may be had at a cost of from one-half cent to two and one-half cents each.

There is a provision in the law requiring bales to be completely covered with bagging but the department announces that this provision will be liberally construed for the coming season, which means that this provision will not be insisted on for the present.

Every gin will be numbered, and the bale must show this number, and also this number of the bale. The form of marketing will be "B. No." (giving gin number of bale), and "B. G. No." (baled gin number.)

The new law may cause some little confusion at first, but the people will soon become familiar with its provisions, and it is to be hoped they will like it. At any rate the law is now in effect and must be complied with. After it has been given a trial, if it

Wassahatch, Texas, says: "I was in very bad health, could not get any relief. Through the advice of a friend I tried Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and began to mend. Can say I am now sound and well, and will always praise your medicines. Advise young mothers and women who are in bad health to use 'Favorite Prescription.' Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness."

Jury Finds Liquor Law Too Severe. Clarksburg, W. Va., July 31.—On the ground that it would be "cruel and unusual punishment," in the meaning of the national constitution, to fine a man $100 and put him in jail for two months for carrying whisky in his pockets a jury in a magistrate's court here acquitted Andrew Tillman of the charge. The charge was made to test the law and this was the third jury which had expressed that opinion. Under the provisions of the state prohibition law the act is made an offense and incurs the same penalties as for other liquor law violations.

From Sacul

Dear Sentinel: You have a good correspondent from Sacul but as she was not present I will tell you about it.

On July 28th the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. McKnight was thrown open to a few of their friends, all of whom enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent, throughout the entire day.

Mr. and Mrs. McKnight are among the very best families of Sacul, and they understand how to entertain in the good old fashion way. About 11:30 the guests were invited into the dining room, where we found the table just swagging in the middle with good things, such a spread we seldom ever see, and all enjoyed themselves to the very utmost.

Those present were: Mrs. Lula Bowling, Mrs. M. A. Spear, Mrs. Ann Nobles, Mrs. S. M. Clifton, Miss Hattie Bogan, Miss Kate Williams, Mrs. J. W. Burk.

This spread, or feast rather, was given in honor of Miss Trixie McKnight's birthday.

The afternoon was spent in pleasant chat and eating watermelons. But by and by the hour arrived for our departure and all went away, feeling sure that it was good to be there, and wishing Miss Trixie many more happy birthdays.

The health of Sacul is not good at present. We are needing rain very bad.

Mrs. S. M. Clifton is visiting friends in Sacul.

Mrs. Trawick has returned from Jacksonville where she has been attending the Summer Normal.

Brother Florance will begin his protracted meeting August 4th. We are wishing for a good revival.

For fear of the waste basket, I will close.

Constitutional Convention. The proposed amendments to the constitution were all voted down. Some voters opposed them because a new constitution is needed. Others because they did not understand the issues.

Now comes up the question of a constitutional convention to revise and renew the present constitution on account of its defects, and these defects are said to be numerous, some of them by blunders, some by schemers, some because out of date or behind the times and other various objections.

The question of a new constitution, which requires a constitutional convention, is a most important question, and one that would have to be closely and deliberately studied in order to be properly discussed.

The present constitution is about half a century old and was constructed to suit the times. It is antiquated, and needs reformation.

M. A. Burnaman of Appleby was in the city Saturday. He says it is very dry out where he lives.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building- tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowser, Bloomfield, N. J.

Silos

R. S. Jordan has completed his new silo, on his Banita Farm, in the northern part of the city. And he will be glad to show it to any one who may wish to inspect it. There are only three, or possibly four, silos in this vicinity. The day is near when there will be many, because they are valuable for feed purposes, beyond the ordinary, and farmers are learning it. Progressive men, like Bob Jordan, are worth their weight in gold to the public.

Cow Hides Wanted.

Hides are in good demand and are bringing good prices, and it is worth while to handle them right. In skinning try not to cut or score the hide. Spread it out, flesh side up, and give it a heavy shower of salt. This is absolutely necessary at this time of the year. Fold it up and put it in a sack. Write your full name and address on two tags. Put one inside of the sack, and one outside. Ship by express to A. Golenternek & Co., Tyler, Texas.

Until further notice we will pay 18 cents per pound for hides handled according to the above instructions. We remit the same day that we receive the shipment and we also furnish shipping tags. Horse hides bring from $1.50 to $3.00 each, according to the size. We also handle wool.
