Fair Association Meeting of the East Texas Fair Association

A splendid representation of the stockholders were present at the meeting last night and after going over the affairs and general condition of the Association it was decided that while it was rather late to undertake to get up a big four days fair it was decided to look the situation over and see if a two days exhibit of farm, garden, poultry, cattle, horses and hogs could be had.

T. E. Burgess was elected president of the Association with T. E. Baker, vice-president and Jas. D. Greer, secretary and treasurer. The balance of the board of directors is left with these gentlemen to select as is also the number to constitute the board of directors.

On account of having no fair last year there is a great

WAGONS

Do you want to own an "Owensboro?"

They are best, because--

The wheels are made of the very best grade whiteoak timber with extra deep felloes. "A" select and second growth spokes; extra large whiteoak hubs. Each wheel is saturated with linseed oil before being painted.

The gears are made from strictly clear whiteoak and nothing but up-land second growth hickory is used for axles, single-trees, double trees and neck-yokes. All parts extra large and well proportioned.

The ironing on the "Owensboro" you will find heavier and better than on any other wagon. The tires are bolted and set hot under hydraulic pressure.

These are just a few reasons why the "Owensboro" wagon is the best wagon for you to own. We are anxious to show you the wagon ITSELF.

Will you come in and look at it?

need of repairs to the fences, buildings and grand stand whether a fair is held this year or not and to do this and pay rent for the past year it will require an expenditure of about $300.00. It was decided to try to raise this money by small donation from stockholders and friends of the Fair Association and put things in shape for the greatest fair ever held in East Texas for next year.

Every stockholder is expected to meet on the fair grounds at a date to be announced by the committee selected for making the arrangements for the meeting and go over the grounds, inspect the buildings grand stand, stables and sheds and see just what the association owns and what should be done with it. Hollis Mast, Eugene Blount and Luther Swift are the committee to arrange this meeting and fix the date. Watch for the date and don't fail to be there.

Hardy Burt, son of Joe Burt, living in the Libby neighborhood about 18 miles northeast of town, was found dead at his well last Saturday. It was supposed that he was drawing water for his live stock and had heart failure. The Burts are excellent people. Hardy's wife died about two months ago, and he had been staying at his father's and going back and forth to his own home near to attend to affairs.

Rio Grande Troubles

Washington, Sept. 14.—Major General Funston, reporting to the war department on yesterday's fighting near San Maris, in which Private Anthony Kraft, Twelfth Cavalry, was killed; Sergeant Walsh shot in the leg, and Trumpeter H. T. Forney dangerously wounded in the abdomen, said that several cavalry detachments which closed in from the military raids, were in pursuit of the bandits. General Funston also stated that he had had furnished support for civil officers, who have been searching houses along the Rio Grande, seizing arms and suspicious characters.

State department advices say that an American named Lesteridge, an agent for the Madero Lumber Company, was seized and held in the mountains near Casas Grandes by brigands, who demanded $80,000 ransom. When offered 13,000 pesos as ransom, the report says, the Mexicans burned the amount in a bonfire.

Texan Missing

Denver, Sept. 14.—United States foresters are searching the mountains in the Estes Park region for Thornton R. Sampson, professor of church history in the Texas Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Austin. He went to Estes Park August 11 and has been missing about two weeks. Mrs. Sampson, remained in Denver where her husband went to Estes Park, appealed to the forestry officials.

Cotton Moves Upward.

Spot cotton moved upward for a gain of 50 cents per bale Tuesday, sending middling quotations to 10:35 and giving a value of $51.75 per average bale of 500 pounds.

The market has been moving steadily upward since the season opened with a ready demand for every bale offered. The bullishness of the market in the face of adverse international conditions is one of the great surprises of the trade and shows the innate strength of the staple.

Crop reports from various points in Texas are unfavorable, showing much deterioration during the past two weeks, and also the appearance of the army worm in numerous places.—Houston Chronicle.

Bailey Returns to Gainesville.

Gainesville, Texas Sept. 14.—Former Senator J. W. Bailey arrived at his home here this morning and will remain to attend a reception to be given in his home tomorrow night by his local friends and neighbors. He will deliver an address at the function.

Texas notables from various parts of the state have sent word they will attend.

Julius Eichel has returned from the northern markets, where he has been buying stocks of merchandise for his business. He claims to have had good luck in his purchases and that he will soon have new goods at lower prices.

Scores of men worked all night rescuing people from housetops and trees. Hundreds of refugees are today quartered in churches, public halls and the police station.

Mayor Varner estimated that 600 persons were rescued last night. Train service entering Iola is at a standstill.

Anniversary, Sept. 12, 1861

The year 1861 was perhaps the most sensational period ever experienced in the town of Nacogdoches. This can truthfully be said of almost all towns of that day in the United States. The civil war began then, and it swept the land like a hurricane. People were all wild with excitement, it not with distress. The youth and flower of the land went to the war, and inspired by what they thought was a holy cause.

Among the several splendid military companies organized and entering the Confederate army from this county there was none of higher blood and finer class than the Raguet's Company, as it was usually called.

Captain Henry W. Raguet, who raised and led this company, was a prosperous, leading and popular young merchant, of a leading family from Cincinnati, Ohio, and his charming young wife was a daughter of the noted Dr. Jas. H. Starr from New York.

Raguet's company became Co. H. in Riley's regiment, 4th Texas Cavalry in Sibley's brigade and they marched from here via San Antonio and El Paso to Santa Fe, New Mexico. They did some daring deeds in battle on this long and difficult campaign.

They left here, Sept. 12, 1861, 54 years ago. They composed the pick of the land in personality and were correspondingly equipped. They rode the finest horses and they were game gallant and flashy. To show their pretentious style and class, it is only necessary to name a few of them. Tom Ochiltree, Jesse Lee, Giles Crain, Frank Starr, Bill Harris, Ben Rusk, Albert Nelson, Dick Orton, Tom Hill, Marion Rainbolt, John Docherty, Bennett Allen, John Norvell, Josh Millard, Charley Raguet and many others like these.

They departed with a grand display, but there were many tearful eyes that looked upon it. The company was presented with a flag by a most popular young lady who spoke from the porch at the old Hart hotel, and a response was made by Prof. Alexander from the saddle as he sat in ranks. He finally became Captain and Raguet Major and the latter was killed at the battle of Glorietta.

Where now are all those men? Only four are known to be living today namely, John Johnson of this county, Marlon Rainbolt and John Norvell of Rusk county, and Bennett Allen, out west.

It is hard to refrain from saying much more along these lines. But it would exceed the purposes of the present occasion.

That company gloried in its bravery, and patriotism. It performed many daring feats that are worth relating. In its career it became a part of the noted Hardeman's regiment in Green's brigade. It was never known to fail in duty or daring.

A colored blacksmith named Sylvester fell dead at his home in the northern part of town Wednesday. He had been sick for some months.

The Three Blind Men and the Elephant

They were taken to "see" the elephant. The first one touched the trunk and said that the elephant was like a snake. The second one grasped a leg and said, "How like a tree!" The third passed his hand along the side of the huge beast and said, "Just like a wall." As is frequently the case, they didn't combine their knowledge.

Take three engineers and their lubricating problems. One has achieved perfect valve lubrication. Another has reduced wear and trouble on his guides. The third knows how to make gears last longer.

The combined knowledge of the three would increase the value of each one to himself, and to his employer. How can they exchange experiences?

By getting in touch with an organization which has worked out thousands of these lubricating problems. Such an organization is back of Texaco Lubricants. Unlimited experience in all parts of the country, plus the means for giving you the benefit of that experience, enables us to solve your particular lubricating problems.

On this basis we have built up an extensive, growing business in all classes of lubricants.

The engineers who have benefited by our service cover the country, and embrace every industry—yours included.

Will Insist on Courtesy

Complaints frequently are made by patrons that they are not accorded a proper degree of courtesy and attention by representative of the railroads whose duties bring them into direct touch with the public. While it may be true that some of these patrons fail to take into consideration the many vexing things which confront the railroad representatives, and the same time impossibility of fully satisfying the patron, there is unfortunately sufficient reason at times for complaint.

The life of a ticket agent, baggage agent or conductor, is not always pleasant. The man who complains is but one of a thousand met and taken care of by the railroad man, who is, after all, but a man much like his fellows, and subject to the vagaries of a not always philosophic mind. The true test, however, comes in the crisis, and the agent cannot lose either his own or the company's respect if he meet the contingency, sinking his individual desires or feelings for the company's interest.

Again, the management is compelled to insist upon the attention and courtesy the patrons demand and which he has a right to require. Courtesy, politeness and a disposition to serve must be one of the requisites of the representative no matter what be his position in the service. There is no room for the grouch or sloven, and in this the management will insist. The people pay the freight and we sell the transportation. To sell it quickly and on an increasing basis we must have an efficient sales department, and courtesy and politeness is part of the agent's stock in trade. — Bulletin, Sunset Central Lines.

Offenders Not Welcome

Washington, Sept.—A general campaign against all German and Austrian agents who can be convicted of participation to cripple American industries has been decided on by the United States Government. The whole country will be combed for such offenders.

The State Department plans to dispose of, through recall demands, all offending diplomatic and consular representatives. Each of these is believed to have had several agents working under him, and the intention is for the Justice Department to prosecute that class criminally.

No clash is desired by either just now.

Fall Plowing.

Within the next few weeks every farmer who wishes to maintain the fertility of the soil, should begin plowing under the refuse of the past seasons crops. During this month and the first part of October most of the corn crop and all of the forage crops of the county will have been harvested. Between cotton picking times it will pay to use the farm labor in plowing under the corn stalks and stubble left from the forage crops.

This is the time of the year to plow your land deep, so that it can store up the fall and winter rains and hasten the decomposition of the vegetable matter plowed under. The depth of the top soil on a farm is what the farmer makes it. Shallow plowing means little top soil, and when heavy rains set in this shallow plowed soil is liable to wash away, whereas if plowed from eight to ten inches deep it will take up and absorb the water that will fall upon it. Deep plowed soil will not need as much commercial fertilizer as shallow plowed soil, for the reason that nearly all soils contain sufficient plant food to produce normal crops, but this food is not available until it comes in contact with moisture, air and heat. Therefore by deep fall plowing, you not only add humus to the soil by plowing under the refuse of your crops but you also bring into an available form this plant food which nature has stored up for your use.

You need never be afraid of plowing up some of the clay subsoil at this time of the year, for by the time planting time comes around this soil will become weathered and otherwise dead soil will become alive by the action of the elements during the winter months.

After plowing in the fall the land should always be seeded to small grain either oats or rye. These crops will give you a better winter pasture for the stock, than dry corn and cotton stalks, which is the principal source of feed for most East Texas cattle during the winter months. These crops will also keep the soil from washing and in the spring they can be plowed under as green manure crops, or part of them can be left to mature grain, and after the grain is harvested, they should be planted in either cowpeas or peanuts. The principal reason that our corn and cotton crops in Nacogdoches County burn up during the dry weather, we have each year either in June or July, is because the land is not plowed deep enough, and the crops have not soil enough in which to send their roots. Deep plowing in the fall of the year will change these conditions. This year the Experiment Station made 35 bushels of corn on land plowed 10 inches deep in the fall without any commercial fertilizer at all while on another piece of land plowed shallow only 15 bushels was produced. This experiment was planted with the same corn on the same day and received the same cultivation. 20 bushels of corn extra in favor of deep fall plowing and in this case cowpea stubble was plowed under in the fall meant a great gain. What the Station has done can be done by every farmer in the county. Try a quarter of an acre this fall and compare it for your self with the balance of your crop when you harvest it next year and I am sure you will be convinced that those book farmers on the Experiment Station, which some of our 40 year experienced mortgaged ridden farmers seem to despise, have told the truth about fall plowing. A good motto for every farmer to have hung where he can see it every day is: Plow deep in the fall, cultivate often and shallow during the spring and summer and you will have crops to sell in the winter.

Waco Druggists Under Arrest.
Waco, Texas, Sept. 11.—This afternoon, Dr. J. S. Barnes and W. G. Thomason, druggists here, were arrested by federal officers as a result of an investigation made by internal revenue agents. The Newspaper
The newspaper works day in and day out for its town and community. It never sleeps. The clouds never grow too dark for the newspaper to keep up the flag of optimism, seeking to give encouragement to all classes. But especially is the newspaper invaluable to the town. They labor incessantly for its every industry, stores, manufacturing plants, streets, municipal developments, in fact every phase of the town life which promises to better conditions and advance the cause of its people. But in the face of this the citizens, especially among the business men, appear to care little or nothing for its prosperity, its progress and development. It is wrong. The business men and citizens have every reason to promote the newspaper's interests, especially in view of the fact that the newspapers furnish the real sensible and successful methods of publicity and each business man surely should need to use it. The citizens should renew their vision when they find that they are forgetting their greatest benefactor.—Greenville Banner.

Arson Torches

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—Insurance agents, human "torches" and unnamed "prominent" business men comprise the personnel of an arson syndicate uncovered by the police here last night. These incendiaries, the police say, are responsible for most of the big fires which have baffled fire and police departments here for five years and the profits of the arsons syndicate the police say, ran into millions of dollars.

So far one insurance agent and four "torches" have been arrested, the latter being trapped yesterday as they were about to carry four barrels of gasoline into the Christen Bellows company's plant which they had made arrangements to burn, the owners having agreed to the plan at the direction of the police. Arrest of the men "higher up" is expected as soon as the evidence can be presented to a grand jury which probably will be within the next few days. These bigger men, the police say, are under surveillance and cannot escape.

Herbert O. Baker, the insurance agent arrested last by a detective who under a pseudonym has been his almost constant companion during the last few months, today was released on bond as were also the four "torches". Baker is the son of a wealthy and prominent realty dealer. According to City Detective Bart Keane, whose investigations led to the arrest, Baker has confessed and has implicated many others.

The Pittsburg Leader shatters a popular belief in regard to the fortune of Harry Thaw. "For nine years Harry Thaw was cut off from all of the ordinary points of contact with the world," says the Leader, and yet, even in Matteawan as an irresponsible, he managed to make his earnings reach a total that many a manager of a steel plant in Pittsburg couldn't earn. And we have all been wasting sympathy on Harry because we had been told that the lawyers got all of his money.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Old Texas
Tyler, Texas, Sept. 14.—The funeral of E. Albertson, aged 70, who died here Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, Rev. He was a native of Norway, and last summer visited his native land for the first time since he left it in early fifties. He served four years in the Confederate army. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters.

PERUNA THE RELIABLE FAMILY REMEDY

Can Grow Colored Cotton

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 14.—Remarkable results seem about to be achieved by A. W. Brabham of Olar, S. C., who has succeeded in producing cotton which ranges in color from white to deep olive green. The planter is positive that black cotton, sought for ages by spinners and manufacturers, is about to become a reality.

Brabham has sent samples of his colored cottons to Savannah, where they have been placed on exhibition in the cotton exchange.

The seeds used by Brabham were of Egyptian staple. He has practiced seed selection extensively, and in four years has secured in regular order from the Egyptian seed a cream, tan, yellow, green, light brown, olive green and bronze.

The samples sent to Savannah by Brabham are not to be confused with tinges in cotton which might be the result of exposure or weather conditions. Neither is there any suspicion that dyes have been used.

Brabham declares that the spinners and manufacturers eventually will be enabled to secure cotton in the raw or unmanufactured state in any desired shade or color. As a result, it is expected that the dye manufacturers of Germany will lose millions.

KNOW THY STATE

THE PROPER SILO FOR TEXAS USE.
By H. G. Harvey.

It is of vital importance that every farm in Texas be equipped with a silo but it is equally important that the proper materials be used in its construction. Approximately 57 varieties of silos have been given a fair trial by the farmers of Texas in their diligent effort to systematize agriculture in this state and in some instances our farmers have paid dearly for their experience. A silo not adapted to the climatic and other natural conditions which exist in Texas is worse than no silo at all and the farmers of this state who contemplate erecting silos should study carefully their construction and adaptability to Texas conditions and select the kind best suited to their needs.

Some of the leading silo authorities of this state have been requested to state their views as to the best and most serviceable silo for Texas use and their opinions will appear in this paper from time to time. When asked to address the farmers of Texas on the subject of silos as a silo material, Mr. H. G. Harvey of the Texas Kalamazoo Silo Company, of Fort Worth, which has constructed all kinds of silos in every Texas locality, said in part:

"I consider the Tile Silo the only proper silo for Texas use. For absolute permanency and best results we recommend only silos made of Texas tile for successful operation in this state and our approval is based upon 41 years of testing and investigation.

The Tile Silo possesses every feature of every other silo without one drawback. Its peculiar construction affords a double air space and perfectly takes care of all atmospheric and temperature changes that come suddenly and unexpectedly in Texas.

The Tile Silo will withstand all internal strain with a good margin of safety besides and provides a construction that is frost and fire proof. It never requires any paint. The hoops never require tightening. It needs no anchoring against the wind. Its weight is sufficient to hold it and the surface is so smooth that there isn't the slightest toe-hold for the wind. It will practically never deteriorate in quality and it is absolutely indestructible. The Tile Silo is the most practical one for the Texas farmer to consider. It is the best material for silo construction for Texas conditions, Texas climate and Texas needs.

Because of the peculiar conditions in this state the Tile Silo is absolutely adapted to successful operation in Texas. Constructions that are marvelously successful in other parts of the country may fail utterly in Texas due to climatic conditions unfavorable to the habits of the material of which they are built. We did not solve the silo question in Texas until we began constructing a Tile Silo made from Texas clay."

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Henry N. Pope

New President of the Farmers' Union.

The farmers of today are divided into two classes—the old and the new. The old farmer represents the ancient regime—a regime that has passed into history. The new farmer is the modern business agriculturist and combined with his knowledge of raising the products of the soil is an understanding of the marketing end of agriculture, as well. The new farmer is the worthy son of a noble sire; he is the modern embodiment of the old farmer's progressiveness. To the stock of information which has been handed down to him from generations past on production, he has added a knowledge of disposing of these products in a practical and business-like manner. And where his forefathers lived "to themselves alone", he has learned the lesson of co-operation not only with his brothers who till the soil, but with all lines of industry whose interests are identical with his own.

It is to this new type of farmer that the new president of the Texas Farmers' Union belongs. In selecting Henry N. Pope as the official head of their organization the farmers of Texas have chosen a man whose policies are in keeping with progressive methods and whose far-sighted wisdom will lead the Union safely over the shoals which beset every association which numbers among its membership men of different minds and varied opinions. Mr. Pope has been the state lecturer and organizer of the Texas Union for several years and in this capacity has met and solved many problems connected with the organization which comprises practically the entire agricultural population of Texas.

It is the opinion of President Pope that it needs no prophet's eye to see the vast change for the better in rural life and conditions that is now in progress. A thorough student of economic conditions, he believes that the evolution of farming methods will steadily continue until the farming interests of the state and nation are placed on a firm financial basis and agriculture takes its rightful place as the foundation upon which all other industries are built.

President Pope invites the continued co-operation of the business interests of the state in helping to solve the problems of the farmer and is especially grateful for the assistance and encouragement being extended by the bankers and business men in trying to finance and market the future cotton crops of Texas. He will endeavor during his administration of the affairs of the Farmers' Union to bring about a closer understanding between the men who follow the plow and the men who direct the financial affairs of the state, hoping that when his tenure of office shall have expired, he may retire with the assurance that the gap of misunderstanding which has so long existed between the farming and allied industries may be bridged over in such a manner as will bring progress and prosperity to the entire citizenship of Texas.

CATTLE SHOW AT THE STATE FAIR.

With liberal premiums offered and splendid accommodations guaranteed, interest is growing in regard to the cattle exhibit at the Louisiana State Fair, November 3 to 8 inclusive. It is not possible at this time to tell the number of head that will be shown, but the prospects are very promising, indicating a record-breaking show.

The inquiries convince the management that many of the leading stock breeders of the country will be represented, and that Louisiana breeders will also be on hand in larger number than ever before. There will be many general and special premiums, and classes in which all the exhibitors may compete. The livestock industry in Louisiana the past few years has grown in popularity in Louisiana, and a great deal of the interest necessary to bring about this development has been created at State Fair exhibits and contests. The one this year is expected to prove as helpful as, if not more helpful, than the exhibit at the preceding fairs.

There will be $3,500 in general prizes for cattle. It will be divided among the breeds as follows: Short Horn, Herefords, Red Polled, Polled Durhams, Aberdeen Angus, Jerseys, Louisiana Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins.

C. H. Staples, Louisiana State University, will again be superintendent, while E. M. Hall, Carthage, Mo., will be judge of beef breeds, and H. G. Van Pelt of Waterloo, Iowa, will again judge the dairy breeds.

Catalogue and premium list will be furnished upon application to Louis N. Brueggerhoff, secretary of the Louisiana State Fair Association, Shreveport, La.

It is also desired that prospective exhibitors keep in mind that this parish (Caddo) will be free of the tax, and all cattle from free districts may come without any apprehension; also, there will be a special place for cattle from quarantined sections.

REST ROOMS ARE FURNISHED WOMEN.

For the convenience and comfort of women and children attending the Louisiana State Fair, a number of rest rooms and comfort stations have been located on the grounds and in different buildings. There will be signs designating these places, which have been conveniently located.

Members of women's clubs of Shreveport will have general charge of the rest rooms and every possible courtesy will be shown visitors. There will also be competent nurses and attendants present, and prompt and proper service may be had at all times during the fair.

For catalogue and premium list of the fair, or for other information, write to Secretary Louis N. Brueggerhoff, Shreveport. The fair opens November 3, running through November 8.

UNIVERSITY WILL MAKE AN EXHIBIT.

Visitors to the Louisiana State Fair, November 3-8 inclusive, will be given the pleasure of seeing many exhibits from the class rooms, work shops, experiment farms and other branches of the Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College, Baton Rouge. The exhibit, which will touch the work of the various departments of the big institution, will be placed in the General Exposition Building.

The exhibit will be prepared under direction of Col. T. D. Boyd, the president, and Dr. W. R. Dodson, the dean and director of the experiment stations. A corps of willing assistants will co-operate. In almost every department of the fair there will be representation from the university, which fully values the fair.

For catalogue and other information write to Secretary L. N. Brueggerhoff, Shreveport. Dates of fair, November 3 to 8.

EXPERIMENT FARMS OF RURAL SCHOOLS.

If you wish to know what the agricultural high schools of Louisiana are doing, visit their booths at the State Fair at Shreveport, November 3-8, in the agricultural building. In these booths there will be collections of specimens from their experiment farms. The exhibits will demonstrate that these schools are teaching the boys and girls of Louisiana valuable lessons in scientific methods of farming.

Prizes aggregating $350 in cash have been offered for the schools making the most creditable displays. There are about fifty of the schools and all are urged to take part.

F. L. Guilbeau of Baton Rouge, will be superintendent of this department. For catalogue and premium lists apply to Louis N. Brueggerhoff, secretary, Shreveport.

MODEL DAIRY WILL BE FAIR FEATURE.

A model dairy will be among the interesting attractions at the Louisiana State Fair, November 3 to 8 inclusive. It will be an exhibit through which splendid lessons will be taught. The main object is to teach the people how profitable it is to conduct a modern dairy, whether in the home or for the market. The model dairy will demonstrate the saving in time, labor and expense over the old methods of churning, milking, etc.

This attraction will be seen in the cattle division, and will be in charge of C. H. Staples, Baton Rouge, as superintendent.

For catalogue and other information apply to Secretary L. N. Brueggerhoff, Shreveport.

School Pictures Last Night At Ideal Theatre.

In connection with the regular picture show at the Ideal Theatre last night there was added to the program an educational show for the special benefit of the Nacogdoches county Teachers Institute, which is in session at the High School Auditorium.

This addition consisted of about 75 slides or scenes up on the canvass, showing school buildings and their various hygienic features and the management of children to advance their physical comfort as well as their mental training. As the pictures were shown, they were explained by Miss Stoltz of the University of Texas. The teachers were all there and they are loud in their praises of the show, while the other people say as much. Everybody enjoyed it. The Ideal Theatre is entitled to much gratitude and will continue to render good shows on schedule time.

So far this year we have had thirty per cent more bona-fide calls for graduates than we have had students to take up the study of the telegraphy. Just as surely as a young man will complete our course of telegraphy and station, just so surely will he be placed in a good position. H. H. Greer Bitten.

The following clip from the Center Champion refers to a former citizen of this county:

Information was received here Friday by relatives that Mr. H. H. Greer of Teneha had been bitten by a Water Moccasin that afternoon, and was in a serious condition and at one time his life was despaired of, but he began getting better Monday and it is now thought that he is now out of danger. Mrs. Claude Gibson went to Teneha Friday night to be with her uncle and Lovic Wilson and Mrs. Brewer went up Sunday morning. Mr. Greer was mowing grass and reached his hand down to clean out some accumulated trash and the snake struck him just above the wrist, hanging its fangs so deep that it is said he had to shake it loose. Mr. Greer has many friends here and elsewhere in the county who will be glad to know that he is recovering and who were very solicitous about his condition.

They belong to a fraternity that spurns mercenary motives, and stands for the good of humanity, regardless of self. Two doctors tested the theory that nothing but mosquitoes can transmit yellow fever, by shutting themselves in a screened enclosure and permitting an infected mosquito to bite them. They both died. No one else had the disease. They laid down their lives for humanity. All honor to the profession.

Fire Insurance

In a letter from Fred Wilson, special fire insurance inspector, who was here recently he says:

"Within the past three or four months many suspicious fires have occurred in your city, and apparently but little if any, efficient effort has been made to trace the cause, or source of their origin, and from observation, indications are not promising but that a like inefficiency in investigating such fires, will continue.

The state fire insurance commission has credited the city of Nacogdoches by a reduction in its key rate, for the appointment of paid city fire marshal, and the embodying in its local ordinances, that of the Departments Advisory ordinances in which fully set forth the duties of a city fire marshal."

State Aid to Rural Schools

Austin, Sept. 12.—In the future the state board of education will restrict state aid to country high schools to those schools that want the money for the establishment of departments of agriculture, manual training and domestic science. This change of policy was adopted at the regular monthly meeting of the board held Friday afternoon. For the past several years the legislature has been making an appropriation to aid these schools in not only establishing, but in maintaining departments of agriculture, manual training and domestic science, but now such assistance will be confined to those instances where it is planned to establish these departments.

There is now approximately $50,000 available for extending such aid, but no distribution of the fund was made at this meeting. It was also decided, at the recommendation of Governor Ferguson, to give preference to those high schools in the smaller communities that have not heretofore received state aid.

No action was taken by the board on a number of applications from common school districts for aid under the provisions of the governor's $1,000,000 rural school law, action being deferred until the October meeting. The board purchased no new bonds having only $20,000 available and that sum was applied to the payment of bonds already purchased.

Bull Weevils

College Station, Texas, Sept. 11.—From the best information obtainable there is in the region of Central Texas, especially in the Brazos valley and all cotton contiguous thereto, as heavy an infestation of bull weevil as was ever known in the state. In true Rooseveltian style, the Rough Rider commander injected emphatic declarations into his speech. Here are a few which aroused great cheers:

"The song, 'I didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier', should be sung with its companion piece, 'I didn't Raise my Girl to be a Mother.'"

"Do not put me into any job where say that if the work is to be done I will do it and then expect me not to do it."

"If there were a war, I and my four sons would go to it. I do not want war, and I would avoid it by every honorable means, and one of those honorable means is by making it evident that it is not very healthy for the other fellow."

Help Your Child Like School.

School days have come. Are the children ready? That's more important.

Will you see that your child loves to go to school? If he does not will you try to inspire him with love for it? Be certain that he goes with "shining morning face" instead of dragging, unwilling feet. It is easy.

Get acquainted with his teacher. Learn who are his companions. Take an interest both in his studies and his amusements.

Keep ever before him the greater efficiency of the man with an education. Point out to him the delight of knowing things.

Emphasize the idea of "work while you work and play while you play," for wise playing is just as important to a child as his work. For it will develop him physically while teaching countless lessons that come only from human contact.

Impress upon your child that he is a reasonable human being and that he should be above playing mean tricks on teachers and playmates. Put him upon his honor and you will find the more you do the more he will have a sense of honor on which you may rely.—Ex.

Remedies for the turnip bug, louse or whatever you choose to call it, are numerous. One is strong soap suds. Another remedy is kerosene emulsion, made by mixing the oil with soapsuds. Another is powdered borax to be dusted over the plants. The liquid remedies are to be sprinkled over the plants. All should be applied to the under side of the leaves on the plant. This is not easy, but by the use of a brush broom the leaves may be pushed over as the remedy is applied.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

- HODGSON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgson, Me.
- SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.
- HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.
- DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
- CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine which will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. CARRANZA GAINING.

Carranza declines to allow foreigners to dictate his policies. He claims to have the people on his side, or rather that he is on the good people's side. His forces have taken the important city of Saltillo, and are now besieging Torreon.

Joe Bailey in Dallas

"It I had my way, I should never hold public office again," said former United States Senator J. W. Bailey this morning. He spent a few hours at the Oriental Hotel, leaving at 10:30 for Fort Worth.

He was replying to the question whether he would become a candidate for the Senate in 1916 or in 1918. He has been represented as saying that he might enter the race against Morris Sheppard in 1918.

Mr. Bailey will go to South Texas from Ft. Worth to visit intimate friends at Runge and other points. He said he expected to be called to Washington at any time although he intends to fulfill some of his visiting promises, "if we lose all the clients we got." He was invited by Edgar L. Pike to ride in the S. M. U. pageant parade, but he was forced to decline owing to a pressing engagement in Fort Worth.

Bison Herd Increased

Ten calves have been added to the Government's herd of buffalo on the Wichita National Forest in Oklahoma, which is also a Federal game preserve. The herd now comprises 62 specimens of the almost extinct bison and is in good condition, the supervisor reports.

Eight of the calves are females, and bring the number of heifers and cows up to 30. The bulls number 32 and have been placed in a separate pasture.—Ex

That Offensive Note

The Austria-Hungary official note was designed to incite strike in the United States factories that make war armaments:

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson's request to Austria to recall her ambassador, Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, has brought about a situation which contains possibilities of extending to other diplomats of the Germanic allies.

Dr. Duma used James F. J. Archibald, an American, bearing an American passport, as a messenger to carry a communication to the Vienna foreign office. Although it has not been called officially to the attention of this government, the state department understands unofficially that Archibald also carried a communication for Captain von Papen, military attache of the German embassy. Secretary Lansing said today that the American government considers the sending of any communication in the manner which Dr. Duma used an abuse of an American passport.

While all officials refused to discuss the situation further, it is known that the activities of Consul General von Nuber of Austria as well as those of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, are again being reviewed by the state department.

Captain von Papen's letter, which was a private communication to his wife, is now on its way to the state department from London. Officials said the fact that it was a private and not an official communication did not alter the case any. It is understood that the writer made slighting references to American officials.

Another document for which officials are waiting is an enclosure in Dr. Dumba's letter which referred to negotiations between Consul General von Nuber and the editor of a foreign language newspaper concerning bringing about strikes in the Bethlehem works and other war munitions factories.

It was made plain, however, that while the state department for sometime has been fully advised of the activities of Count von Bernstorff, he was not involved to the extent of being in the same position as Dr. Dumba.

Woman Runs City

Resolution of Respect.

we your committee appointed for the purpose of drafting resolutions in honor of our recently departed and deeply lamented brother, R. O. Watkins, of this Bar, beg leave to submit the following:

Robert Oscar Watkins was born in a country home among the red hills and oak and pine trees of East Texas in historic and yet virile old Nacogdoches county on the 26th day of November, 1876. He came from parentage whose practical common sense, energy, thrift, Presbyterian faith, and honorable place in the midst of the people combined to endow their bright boy with industry, ambition and high character in an unusually liberal measure, and to start him in life with such a personality as gave promise of success, notwithstanding some adverse circumstances.

He first attended the common country schools of the neighborhood of his father's home and the not very distant town of Garrison, where his quickness as a student and cordiality as a friend made him popular as a school boy and gave token of the success which was to follow.

He first came to Cherokee county as a student at Rusk Academy about 1894 where he met Miss Fay Willson, the daughter of Judge Sam P. Willson, to whom he was, after spending several years in his educational and professional training, happily married in 1898. In love, in honor and in success they walked together for seventeen brief years, during which his friends took unfeigned pride in him and the success which he won.

For several years he was associated with Judge Sam P. Willson and Judge John C. Box in the law practice, and thereafter practiced alone. His firm enjoyed a good practice and he did his full share in building and taking care of the business. When practicing alone he continued to win, hold and efficiently serve a good and increasing clientage. From soon after his admission to the bar in 1897 his path led upward unflinchingly, until when his sudden departure came on the 18th day of August, 1915, at the youthful age of 38, he had already attained eminence, and his friends expected that pre-eminence would soon be his. As a lawyer he was methodical, diligent, thorough, careful and, of course, safe and successful.

In a business way he developed into a business man of recognized influence and ability. As a citizen he took an active interest in all public concerns and held a place in his community, county and state which was an honor to him and gratifying to his friends.

In the midst of his home and family circle his virtues shown resplendently to the comfort and joy of his loved ones. To Mrs. Watkins he was attentively and tenderly gallant and devotedly attached. To his two little daughters, one of whom died when a small child, he was exceedingly fond. The comfort and welfare of his family was his care and their pleasure was his joy. All of his many qualities cannot be enumerated without the appearance of extravagance. He escaped from more of the human frailties than do most of his fellows.

Therefore, be it resolved:

1. That the foregoing brief and conservative statement of his virtues as a man, a citizen and a lawyer be adopted and declared to represent only imperfectly some of the many things which can truly and worthily be said in honor of the memory of our departed brother.

2. That we, his brethren at the bar, and observers and companions and friends of his work-a-day life sincerely and deeply mourn the apparently untimely end of his cordial, useful, honorable and successful life.

3. That the bar has lost an able and growing lawyer whose future was as full of hope as his past was honorable attainment.

4. That his city, his county, and his state has suffered the serious loss of a brilliant, worthy and patriotic citizen and above all, his home and dear ones have lost the tender love and the constant, solicitous attention of a manly, cheery, helpful love of a devoted young husband and father.

5. That these resolutions be presented to the County and District Courts for entry into their minutes, and copies be furnished to the family of the departed and to the press for publication.

Fraternally submitted,

James I. Perkins, Chmn.
John C. Box,
Frank B. Guinn,

Something Doing

Have you observed that this old town is in a hum? Have you thought of what is doing here this week?

First, the regular fall term of the district court is in session, and with it come officers jurors, witnesses, attorneys, parties to suits, and idlers and busy bodies of all sorts. The grand jury found 34 bills the first week and may find many more if they look closely. These "true bills" may be untrue when considered, but they are at least "true" in name, if not in fact.

Then again, we have two operating first class picture shows that never wane or slow up. There is also a side show under the hill, the noisy tent show with its noisy music, and pretentious brass band on the streets.

But the biggest of all affairs in town, is the Nacogdoches county teachers Institute attended by about 200 fine looking teachers from all sections of the county. And they are here for business for efficiency in their great work of teaching the young idea how to shoot.

But what shall we say of the W. O. W. entertainment at the court house Tuesday night? Too much could hardly be said, and to prove this we may say that the court room could not seat the crowd that came. And it was good to be there, even in the jam.

And to give variety to all of these what-nots we dump in diversions of a society class and finish up at the week end with Saturday country crowds and just whatever turns up. And still we hear talk of dull times.

From Cave Springs.

Health of our community is good at present.

A crowd of boys have gone west for cotton picking. We all wish them much success.

W. O. W. Entertained

Last night, Tuesday, there was a splendid entertainment given in the district court room to the Woodmen of the World and their families and to invited guests, by the losing side in an attendance contest.

Invitations were extended to the teachers who are attending the Institute at the college, and so there was an unusually large assemblage of people present. The court room was jammed to the limit.

All who went were delighted. A regular program was carried out, according to previous announcement; Audley Harris acted as master of ceremonies with the tact of one older in the work.

There was only one change in the numbers, as billed, and that was that S. M. Adams could not fill his place as speaker on account of the serious illness of his wife, who is in a local hospital here, and Prof. A. E. Day acted as substitute. The speaking was highly entertaining from start to finish, and the audience manifested their delight by lavish applause.

Refreshments were abundantly served. At 11 o'clock every body was gone away, and all were discussing the grand occasion in complimentary words.
