COUNTY WILL SHARE FARM LOAN BANK

No publicity has hitherto been made of the matter for the reason that those engaging in the enterprise did not want publicity until they were sure the organization could be worked out and the loans they seek would stand up. And neither at this time are we at liberty to quote the names but a group of well known Nacogdoches county farmers are complying with the conditions to participate in the new land bank which will soon be established in Houston.

To get back to the purposes and plans of the organization, and make the report more intelligent for the reader, we will state that $750,000 of the stock of the new bank is being sold to farmers and others. All not taken by Feb. 9th will be taken up by the government. This plan will be duplicated twenty times as increase in stock and business demands. The farmers receive 5 per cent par value in stock which is refunded to him when his loan is paid. The money is borrowed in from five to forty years, as desired, at one per cent above value of stock, which will be approximately six per cent interest. The local organizations must have as many as twenty members, representing a loan or not less than $20,000. Officers are elected, and the local organization becomes a sub-bank.

The Nacogdoches Farm Loan Association has been organized under the rules and regulations prescribed for these local banks, and will float a loan of about $60,000. They will get a charter from the National government with $10,000 capital stock, and be ready for business by the time the new central bank is in operation.

This plan enables the farmer to get cheap money to the value of fifty per cent of his farm for either purchase or improvement, on such long time that it will be easy to meet. If he desires to pay it out sooner, he has the opportunity to do so.

THE NEGROES MUST PAY THE PENALTY

Minden La., Jan. 30.—Chester Tyson, Mark Peters, Larkin Stewart and Anderson Heard, negroes, charged with killing five members of the family of John Nelson Reeves Christmas eve last were found guilty by a jury this morning. The verdict against Tyson and Peters was unqualified and carried with it the death penalty. Stewart and Heard were found guilty without capital punishment. They were sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

The four negroes were specifically tried for the killing of Mrs. Maud Reeves, wife of John Nelson Reeves. Immediately after their conviction they were called before the bar and sentenced, following which they were placed in automobiles and started on their way toward the state penitentiary.

All of the negroes confessed participation in the Reeves killing, but Heard and Stewart repudiated their confessions on the witness stand. Tyson and Peters repeated at the trial the statements they had previously made to the authorities.

The Webster Parish grand jury, which has not yet completed its investigation of the Reeves tragedy, is called to meet again Tuesday afternoon. Henry Waller and John Long, two white men, implicated by the four negroes, are held in jail without bail. They are not under indictment.

The Mexicans who were mixed up in the big fight a few nights ago will have their examining trial in this city next Saturday.

Mr. Hardy Standley returned from Nacogdoches today at noon, and informed a News reporter that his wife was getting along nicely. She was recently carried to a sanitarium in that city for treatment, this news of the good lady's improvement will be heard gladly by friends of the family.—Lufkin News, Saturday.

A headline says that "a rich woman would Americanize aliens." Some of them need it, alright.

Some writer timely suggests the idea that no man can watch the clock and opportunity at the same time.

Any of this East Texas land will pay for itself in a few years time in the net profits derived from a peanut crop.

The Temple Telegram is authority for the statement that "excessive heat causes colds." But what we are more interested in is as to what will cure the malady.

The merchants of Garrison announce that they will give away an automobile February 7th, rain or shine. Our post-office address is Nacogdoches, Texas.

The Garrison News finds a new virtue in Doc Lively, giving the gentleman credit for being the "most brilliant conversationalist on earth." We hope to engage a "conversation" with him at the earliest possible moment.

An explosion in the gas plant left Port Arthur without gas. An explosion in our street car system some months ago left us to walk miles and miles in the mud and rain and snow, and it looks like we're the worst off of the two.—Tyler Signal.

As our friend Lively would say, "We shall see what we shall see" about this business of the American troops being withdrawn from Mexico. They failed to accomplish the result for which they were sent, and this manifestation of weakness in an avowed purpose may react to our detriment.

Ditpatches in the big papers announce that an unsuccessful attempt has been made to take the life of King Alfonso of Spain by placing an iron beam on the track in front of the royal train, which was discovered in time to avert the disaster. "Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown."

A dispatch from Galveston announces that it now costs twenty dollars per bale to ship cotton from that port to Europe. This inequality against an American commodity comes from the monopoly of the seas now being practiced by the warring nations, and emphasizes the logic of the president's opinion that we should have freedom of any legitimate produce.

It is announced that the senate leaders have decided on a plan for working overtime, with daily sessions from 11:00 a. m. to 10 p. m. There are many farmers, newspaper men, merchants, and men of other pursuits who have long engaged in greater hours than this extremity, beginning at from seven to eight in the morning and working fully as late, year in and year out, which gives hope that the august body may survive the remaining thirty days of such "strenuous labor."

Nowadays a sweet potato may be collateral for a loan in Texas. A farmer having 100 bushels of sweet potatoes stored in a bonded curing plant of this kind being established under the supervision of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College extension department and the United States government, can borrow $25 by taking the warehouse receipt to the bank as security. "It is the first time that a Texas sweet potato has been recognized as having really commercial value in the last 10 years," said Dr. Harkey, "60 per cent of Texas sweet potatoes put up in banks never reached the markets. Out of the remaining 40 per cent only 25 per cent brought fair prices, because of bad conditions."—Henderson Times.

A few more sidewalks, please. The subject may be a little stale, but The Sentinel will never tire with it until the belt is connected. We need them for the convenience they would afford, the civic attractiveness they would bring to the city, and the free mail delivery that would be possible with them.

The news breaks over the wires that the "Queen of Alaska" is in New York, having the time of her life. In giving a biographical sketch of her, the dispatch says that "she grew up with the sledge-dogs for playmates, and learned to chop her own kindling and melt ice for dishwater and mush the trail like an Eskimo." "Daddy promised me I could see the states when I grew up, says this queen of the snows, "and here I am."

The Sentinel has enjoyed a test and the good service afforded therewith, of the new method by which the Nacogdoches Garage can weld cast iron and make broken parts of machinery as good as new. In the absence of this arrangement the broken press, of which we made mention yesterday, would have been out of commission until a new part could have been received from the factory. It is fortunate for the industrial enterprises of Nacogdoches and vicinity that we have an enterprise with these improved facilities.

The Livingston Enterprise announces the installation of a linotype machine to its already splendid printing plant, and on next Wednesday, from 4:00 to 9:00 o'clock p. m., will keep open house to its friends where all may come and view the machine in operation. At this meeting refreshments and souvenirs will be served each visitor. Editor West is one of the leading and most progressive newspaper men in East Texas, who has made a great success, both for himself and the service he has rendered to his community, and The Sentinel sincerely trusts that his newspaper enterprise may continue to grow as it so richly deserves.

H. T. Parker, a veteran photographer of East Texas, who has been making his home at Garrison the past several years, is in the city this afternoon, coming down to make settlement of taxes for himself and several neighbors. Very few men, if any, have a wider range of acquaintance than has Mr. Parker in Nacogdoches, San Augustine, and Shelby counties, and in this great acquaintance he has many warm personal friends, who will be pleased to learn that he still enjoys good health and looks as young as he did—oh, well, several years ago. In the late years he has given more attention to farming and not so much to photographic work, and has a pretty little home of his own at Garrison where he lives quietly and

UNCLEAN SPEECH AND PLAYS.

Shreveport Times. Observe and you will note that the laugh which follows an obscene jest never has the true ring of genuine merriment. The finer sensibilities revolt and put into the laugh a tone of harshness. It sounds empty, for only the animal sense is in it.

Coarse jokes may be laughed at with that loud, hollow laugh which comes from the throat only; but rest assured that anyone will be regarded less a clown and more as a man when he indulges in clean humor that makes men laugh all over, and that the heart tendrils can tie to.

But there is no other obscenity so utterly senseless as profanity. There is in this no element of humor that appeals even to the most degraded, nor does it ever express or give force to any worthy thought or action.

Nobody deems a man's word any better or his character any the stronger because constantly bolstered up by oaths. Quite the contrary.

The use of slang phrases is not so bad in itself, but, like obscene or profane speech, it unfits us for clean expression. Habitual use of obscene, profane or slang expletives soon leaves us powerless to speak strongly in good English.

Nobody worth while ever thought more of one because of unclean speech. It never made anyone think better of himself and it never will.

Some men—and some women, too, more's the pity—have attained a sort of reputation as story-tellers. They have an inexhaustible repertoire of unclean "jokes" that always command a ready and boisterous audience. It requires a talent to be a raconteur—even of obscene jests. We have heard men apologetically confess that they could not remember the salacious yarns detailed by their associates, but they have no reason to be ashamed at the refusal of their minds to harbor unwelcome guests. Clean men and women do not retain unclean and unwholesome impressions. They are not "story-tellers," because their subjective brains will not admit vileness and indecency into the select company of sweet, elevating, ennobling thoughts.

What might not be gained were accomplished "story-tellers" to devote their talent to more creditable purposes? The mind that is attuned to the risqué is unresponsive to beauty that everywhere abounds.

It is one of the alarming signs of the times that our ideals are tawdry and our sensibilities dead to the appeal of the better things of this life. The stage for several decades has been striving to elevate itself, but is prevented from so doing because its public will not permit it to reform. Actors are compelled to offer what the people will accept—game, offensive, degrading plays and putrid jests and songs have the vogue. Great artists must adapt themselves to this conditions or starve—and they would be foolish to starve if there is any way to avoid it.

We will not encourage aestheticism in our amusements. We prefer the musical comedy, with its galaxy of half-dressed women, or the burlesque, with its execrable appeal to the sensual part of our nature.

Some fifteen or twenty teams and road-grading material passed through this city this morning, going to Shelby county from Houston. Shelby county has lately set aside about one hundred thousand dollars, in deficiency warrants, which will be expended in road building, and we assume that this is a part of the force that will be engaged in

Kirstin Stump Puller

One Man — Horse Power

For nearly a quarter century the Kirstin Horse Power Stump Puller has proved its superiority on Southern stump lands. Thousands of Southern farmers have been started on the road to prosperity by a Kirstin.

It is designed for Southern work and will pull anything it tackles, be it a thick, green pine, a deeply imbedded tap root or a field of hundreds of heavy stumps. The new triple power and automatic take-up enable it to perform the heaviest work with rapidity, certainty and without strain on man, horse or machine.

The One Man Puller gets the biggest stumps, too. Horses unnecessary. Double leverage gives you a giant's power; a push on the handle means a pull of tons on the stump. Clears an acre from one anchor and clears it ready for the plow.

THE COTTON GAMBLE.

(By Clarence Ousley, Director Extension Service Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.)

That the world didn't need our cotton crop of 11,500,000 bales as badly as the world thought three months ago is shown by the fact that cotton has dropped from 20 cents to 16 cents—$20 a bale. I cannot resist the temptation to say "I told you so." When cotton reached 16 cents I said that the price became speculative and was as likely to decline as to advance. That was not prophecy; it was mere analysis of economic conditions, plain to every observing mind not cotton-mad.

This means that there is enough cotton on hand to supply the mills until the next crop comes in, and that the mills expect an increased acreage in 1917 and correspondingly lower prices. The acreage of 1916, with good weather, will make a crop of 13,000,000 to 15,000,000 bales. How much of this can the world buy in 1917-18? Shipments to Europe are smaller at this time than at the same time last year, and Europe is getting poorer every day. Ships are becoming scarcer; freight room to Liverpool the middle of January was quoted at $3, a hundred pounds; if many more ships are sunk the rate may be prohibitive by next fall.

Germany is practically doing without cotton and is making yarn out of nettles and wood pulp.

If the war continues, these conditions will grow worse; if it ends, the demand for 2,000,000 bales of cotton a year for gun powder will cease. Europe is patching its clothes and will continue to buy sparingly after peace comes because the people will be more poverty-stricken than the South was after the war between the States.

But whether there is peace or war, Europe will spend her last dollar for food and feed. It is not possible to increase meat and bread production in 1917 to such an extent as to bring prices down to the level of 1913; it is easily possible to increase cotton to an extent that will bring the price back to that level or lower.

What will it profit a farmer to raise cotton at even 20 cents with which to buy bacon at 30 cents a pound and flour at $10.00 a barrel? What will be his condition if there are only ships enough to carry wheat and war supplies?

It will require 35-cent cotton

TRIBUTE TO BRO. TAYLOR.

Through the recent death of Rev. Crum, pastor of the Methodist church at Nacogdoches, Rev. G. L. Taylor, who was stationed here for some time was transferred from Carthage to Nacogdoches to fill out the unexpired time of Mr. Crum, who was also well known here, having conducted two revival meetings and was much admired by our people. Mr. Taylor was pastor of this church two years ago and has many friends here who will be glad to know that he is so near Alto, and when the roads are better shall expect to see he and his good wife in our little city quite often.—Alto Herald.

"Print Paper Report Held up," a headline reads. The print paper users have been "held up" for more than a year now by the manufacturers, and they are dogmatically tired. Let the manufacturers be swung up a little for a change.—Bonham News.

That's the idea; but who will put the rope around their necks?—Timpson Times.

If somebody will bring the scoundrels to Nacogdoches we will furnish both the rope and the man to tie the knot.

The Shreveport Times observes: "Uncle Sam holding all the real money and Europe all the guns and ammunition, is an arrangement that doesn't work well when the police are handy." But we have a gun, and some mighty grim men in the interior. Some of the nations of Europe have tried us in the past to their detriment, you know.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passages. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, lumbago, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Many of your neighbors have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets for kidneys and backache. Druggists in town are now supplied.

From personal observation in large hospital practices, Dr. Pierce knows "Anurie" will give you speedy help if you are suffering from uric acid trouble, and to show his faith send 10c. to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, and you'll receive a large trial pkg. of "Anurie."

"Anurie" dissolves uric acid as hot water melts sugar and Dr. Pierce has thoroughly tested it in his hospital and found it 32 times more potent than lithia.

RECORD BREAKING WINTER IN EUROPE

London, Jan. 29.—The increasing cold is progressively hampering and sometimes halting movements both on land and on sea in Europe. Several Danish and Swedish harbors in the Cattegat and Baltic are getting choked with ice and there is a great quantity of ice around the skaw, reaching to a very considerable distance seaward. Some small vessels are icebound off Denmark and the Danish lightships have been withdrawn.

The Times correspondent at Roumanian headquarters, writing under date of January 24, quotes a Roumanian general as saying that operations were impossible owing to the weather. The correspondent says that Germans recently taken prisoners were wearing summer outfits and that some of them died while marching to internment camps.

A piercing frost, accompanied by wind, has now continued for many days in the British Isles. There has been an exceptional snowfall in Ireland, exceeding the record of 25 years.

A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Nacogdoches people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Wood endorsed Doan's over eleven years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

W. H. Wood, farmer, North st., Nacogdoches, says: "I was troubled by a constant, dull ache across the small of my back. The kidney secretions were scanty and too frequent in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly did me a lot of good." (Statement given April 7, 1905)

On June 4, 1915, Mr. Wood said: "I take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally as a preventive and I thus have little trouble from my kidneys."

New York, Jan. 29.—A butcher shop in which horse meat is sold exclusively has been opened in Harlem, with the sanction of the board of health, it became known tonight. A sign over the shop reads:

"Horse flesh for sale here." Round and sirloin steaks are quoted at 12 cents a pound, while inferior cuts sell as low as 6 cents a pound. Horse meat frankfurters retail at 10 cents a dozen.

1,500 REFUGEES BEHIND TROOPS

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—More than 1,500 refugees are following in the wake of the American expeditionary forces on their march out of Mexico and, according to an American cattleman, who came to the border at Columbus, N. M., today, were strung out along the communication trail for more than five miles behind the main column of General Pershing's troops.

Mormons were riding in automobiles, covered wagons, of the prairie schooner type, farm wagons and on horses and mules, according to the cattlemen. They were driving their milk cows.

They were driving their milk cows ahead of them, while behind tramped hundreds of natives, Chinese and others. Everything that could not be brought out was left behind and many settlers of the beautiful valley of the Casas Grandes river carried all their worldly possessions with them.

The main column was expected to reach Ojo Federico tonight and camp. From Ojo Federico to Tres Papelotes (three windmills) is considered the worst part of the journey to the border. There is no water in this stretch of 20 miles. Many of the refugees who are "hiking" on foot are expected to suffer on this part of the trip out.

National Guard encampments here which have been abandoned since the troops went home will be used to house the refugees until they can find homes. A large number of vacant tent houses and mess shacks at the camp of the Pennsylvania troops have been offered the Mormon leaders here.

General Pershing's column is expected to reach Laguna de Palomas by Friday and hold a general review there Sunday after the rear guard cavalry arrives from Colonia-Dublan. It is expected that Monday the entire expedition will march into Columbus from Palomas, a distance of seven miles.

Mr. J. N. Lucas, a prominent citizen of Sacul, was a visitor to the city today, coming over to look after some business interests. When seen by The Sentinel man, Mr. Lucas said that there was much activity in the hog and cattle industry in his community just now, three cars of hogs and three cars of cattle being loaded out last week. The hogs were shipped by Dr. J. N. Castleberry, one car; Wiggins & Son, one car, Dink Dawson, one car. They were billed to the Fort Worth market, and Mr. Lucas says that the majority were fattened on the mast, making them almost clear profit to the producers. Henry Millard bought the three cars of cattle, leaving a check for three thousand dollars in the community, and brought them to his ranch near this city to fatten before forwarding them to the market. Mr. Lucas says that we ought to get a picture of Mr. Millard after the fashion of the one recently published of Ford Hale.

PREACHING AT TRINITY.

The Sentinel is requested to give notice that Rev. Drewery will preach at Trinity Saturday, Feb. 3rd, at 11:00 a. m., to which the general public is invited. All members are requested to be present if possible.

Dr. M. W. P'Pool has returned from an extended visit to his family and other relatives and friends at Jackson, Miss., and has resumed his practice. He reports a most pleasant vacation and returns much refreshed, ready for all the service offered him.

PRESIDENT VETOES IMMIGRATION BILL

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson today vetoed the immigration bill passed recently by congress because of its literacy test provision.

It was the second time the president had vetoed an immigration bill because of the literacy test and for the same reason similar measures were given vetoes by Presidents Taft and Cleveland. The president's veto message to the house in which the bill originated, follows:

"I very much regret to return this bill without my signature. In most of the provisions of the bill I should be very glad to concur, but I cannot rid myself of the conviction that the literacy test constitutes a radical change in the policy of the nation which is not justified in principle.

"It is not a test of character, of quality, or of personal fitness, but would operate in most cases merely for lack of opportunity in the country from which the alien seeking admission came. The lack of opportunity to gain an education is one of the many reasons that such opportunities are sought by the immigrant to the United States, and our experience in the past has not been that the illiterate immigrant is, as such, an undesirable immigrant. Tests of quality and purpose can not be objected to on principle, but tests of opportunity may be.

Hazardous Situation.

"However, if this test be insisted upon, one of the provisions would lead to delicate and hazardous diplomatic situations. The bill exempts from operation of the literacy test all aliens who will prove to the satisfaction of the proper immigration officer or the commissioner general that they are seeking liberties not granted by the country from which they came.

"Such provision, so applied and administered, would oblige the officer concerned in effect to pass judgment on the immigration laws and what did constitute religious persecution.

"I dare say that these consequences were not in the minds of the proponents of this provision, but the provision separately and in itself renders it unwise for me to give my assent to this legislation in its present form."

When the message was read in the house it was ordered to lie upon the table until Thursday morning, and champions of the bill began laying their plans for an effort to override the veto. Chairman Burnett announced tonight that he would move for a vote Thursday. The passage lacked only four votes of the two-third majority to pass bill over the president's veto. No action was taken by the senate.

While President Taft vetoed a similar measure because of a literacy test, the senate succeeded in overriding him by more than a two-thirds majority, but the house fell short about a dozen votes.

The bill which the president vetoed today passed the house March by a vote of 308 to 87 and the senate in December by 64 to 7.

A CUTTING SCRAPE GARRISON YESTERDAY

News has been received in the city to the effect that Esq. R. E. DeLoney and John Bell, both citizens of the town, had an altercation at Garrison yesterday in which Mr. Bell received several knife wounds.

It was first reported that Mr. Bell's wounds were very serious, but later reports are to the effect that they are not so deep and dangerous as was first thought. Dr. Whiteside of Timpson was called in consultation last night, and we understand that he says Mr. Bell will soon be able to be up if no complications develop.

The Sentinel has been unable to get a report of the particulars leading up to the row with sufficient clearness to publish.

The affair is greatly regretted by the friends of both parties, and all join in the hope that the injured man may soon recover.

Gerlach Frederick and son, Grady, and Marvin Frederick, son of Lee Frederick, from the northern end of the county, were pleasant callers at the office this morning.

RESOLUTIONS.

To the Chancellor Commander and Brethren of LaNana Lodge, No. 106, K. of P.

We, your committee on resolutions of condolence on behalf of our worthy brother, Joseph Vendersmith, in the irreparable loss of his wife, Sarah Vendersmith, beg leave to report as follows:

In this sad hour of bereavement we extend to Brother Vendersmith our heartfelt sympathy, realizing that it is impossible for us to feel the pang and burden which he is undergoing; but in so far as it is possible for brethren, whose purposes and desires are one and whose hearts beat in unison, we are with him while he weeps; and mourn with him as he mourns, looking forward constantly to that great day when there shall be no more separation, no more trials and tribulations, no more weeping and mourning; looking forward to the New Jerusalem where we all hope to meet and know as we are known; until such is our destiny and privilege we would say to our brother, look up to the Giver of every perfect gift, and in whose love is lasting consolation, and through whose goodness the broken heart is healed, and find His promises sweet benediction.

District Attorney W. B. O'Quinn came in from Rusk yesterday, the term of district court for Cherokee County having adjourned last Saturday afternoon. Mr. O'Quinn is resting at home this week and getting ready for the opening of court at Nacogdoches next Monday. In Cherokee County at the term of court just finished there were a total of twenty-three criminal cases tried, out of which there were nineteen convictions, with penalties ranging from two to five years in the penitentiary. There was one hung jury or mistrial and three acquittals. That was a good record for our district attorney and one that is probably hard to equal by another similar official in Texas.—Lufkin News.

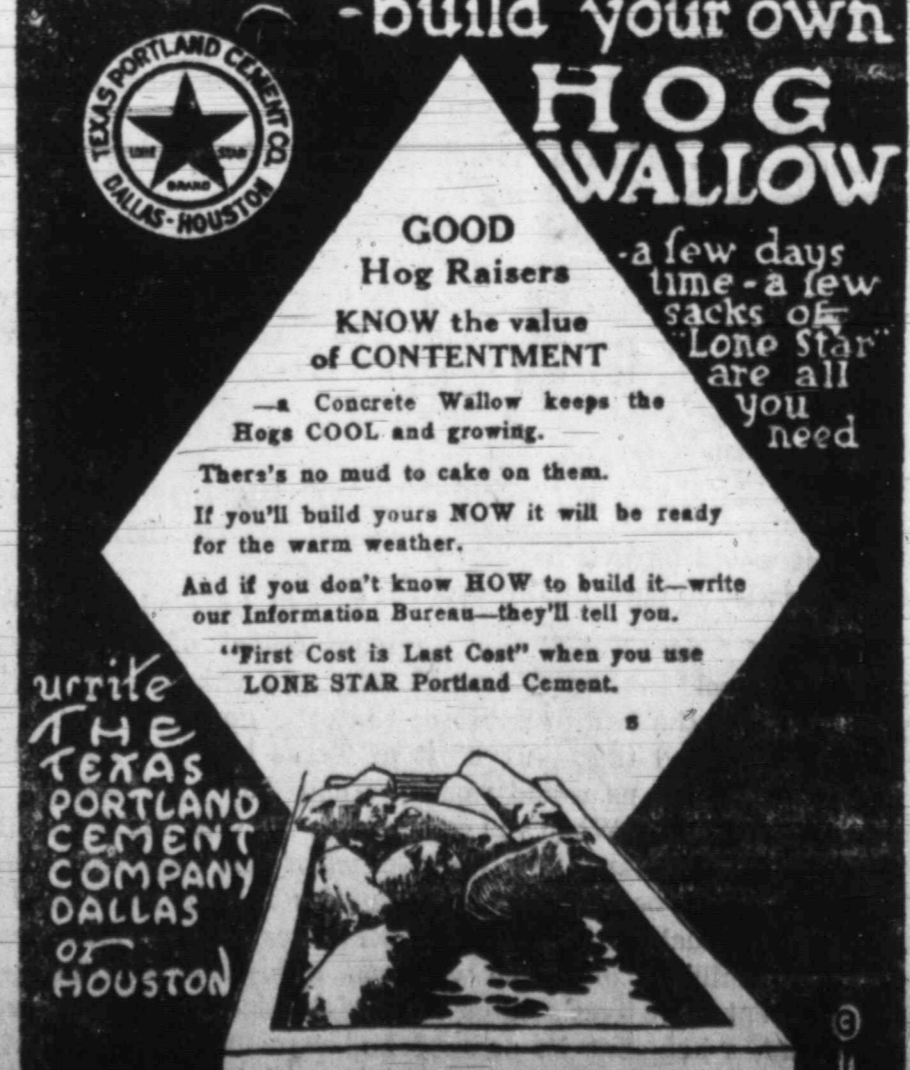

WELL KNOWN LADY WITH THE DEAD

The information is gleaned from the Tyler Courier-Times of the death of Mrs. D. A. Hill, which sad event occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Lasseter, in Tyler, a day or two ago.

Mrs. Hill taught school at Center, and later at Tenaha, for a number of years. She was a great church worker in the councils of the Methodist church, giving much of her time and means to the service, and was known to many people scattered all over East Texas. She was very old at the time of her death, and death comes to her as a sweet benediction, the end of a long life of useful labor and entry into that sweet rest laid up for such sweet characters as she.

After a series of conferences at the capitol on practically all features of his legislative program, President Wilson told his advisers yesterday that he believed action could be secured at this session on every important measure in which he is interested. In this event, congress can finish up its work in the present session, and the members can have opportunity to renew acquaintance with the homefolks.

There is one subject that doth not lose its newness and interest, and never will until knowledge shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea, and that subject is education, knowledge hunting. When tired of things common and the world seems dull and cares hang heavily upon us, let us receive inspiration and newness of life from the blessed thought that knowledge is power, and blessed is the man that seeketh wisdom. There are ten thousand ways to educate, and all education founded upon truth and righteousness is good education.—Rusk County News.

That farmer who sticks to crops of feedstuff, foodstuff and cattle will survive the panicky condition of the times through which we must pass in the re-adjustment of the world's business. He will have the commodities which the starving nations of Europe must have and will pay for, while that farmer caught with nothing but cotton must take the risk of people economizing in the matter of clothing and leaving him with the surplus. The best authorities on the subject all over the world are agreed on this matter, and it would be well for him to think twice in planning his crop.

All the gold in the world could be stored in the largest house in Temple and all that part of it that belongs to us would rattle in a match case. When you consider the thousands of years that gold has been looked upon as most valuable of the metals and the millions of people who have spent their lives seeking it, we cannot help but be amazed at the very small amount of it in existence. Just a houseful, after a century of battle for it, and after all the crimes that have been committed in its name.

THE MAN WHO SAVES.

Becomes a home owner. If you are unmarried select a good lot and pay for it on the installment plan. You will be surprised to see how quickly you can pay for it and as soon as you pay for it you can easily make arrangements to build a bungalow.

A man who has a family and is without a home is in a precarious condition. Get the home and live in it, even if it may be a little more convenient to live in hotels or boarding houses. There is really no substitute for a home.

Insure your life whether you be married or not. That is not only an excellent way to save but it is protection that even the wealthiest man needs. No good business man is without life insurance if he can get it. An insurance policy kept up is always an asset and it may, before you know it, stand between your dependents and hardships.

These are the best savings devices for the salaried man. They are safe and substantial and will lay the foundation for future success. They constitute an incentive to avoid dissipation. They stir ambition, stimulate hope and exalt the purpose of youth.

Our country is approaching fateful days. It is the young man who saves that will be the character later on, the man in whom others will find good time have power himself.

The spendthrift, the voluptuary, the artless, the indifferent, the profligate, the glutton, the indolent, can never achieve success.

Get in touch today with the savings bank, the life insurance company and the real estate man. If you haven't a family put yourself on the way and you will find the sunlight of success shining on your pathway as you march onward and upward.—Houston Post.

WALKER EDWARDS PAR- DONED.

It will be glad news to the many friends of Mr. Walker Edwards in this county to learn that the governor of the state of Texas has just issued him a pardon for the charge upon which he was convicted in the court of this county, that of the murder of Mr. Bean at Pollock some years ago. Mr. Edwards has always proven himself a model citizen of the county, and he has many friends who will rejoice with him over the outcome of his trouble. He will still remain a citizen of the county and help in its progress and development.—Lufkin News.

"HOME, SWEET HOME"

Home, Sweet Home,—Oh, Home! It is a sacred place—or was in olden days, before the people learned to chase to moving picture plays; to tango dances and such things, to skating on the floor; and now the youthful laughter rings within the Home no more. You will recall, old men and dames, the home of long ago, and you'll recall the fireside games the children used to know. The neighbors' kids would come along with your own kids to play, and merry as a bridal song the evening passed away. An evening spent away from home in olden days was rare; the children hadn't learned to roam for pleasure everywhere. But now your house is but a shell where children sleep and eat; it serves the purpose very well—their home is on the street. Their home is where the lights are bright, where ragtime music flows; their noon's the middle of the night, their friends are—Lord, who knows? The windows of your home are dark, and silence broods o'er all; you call it Home—God save the mark 'Tis but a sty or stall.—Walt Mason.

LEAVE VOTING TO TEXAS CITIZENS

Austin, Texas, Jan. 30.—Butler's resolution providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment that would deprive all but citizens of the United States of the right to vote in Texas passed the house finally this evening. The vote was 111 to 14. Canales of Brownsville fought it energetically, but the representatives from El Paso, Alpine and other points on the Rio Grande border urged its passage. They said they were tired of the conditions created by allowing ignorant Mexicans to vote on a simple declaration of intention to become citizens when they had no such intention as a matter of fact.

FIREMEN SACRIFICED TO SAVE WOMAN

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 30.—Five city firemen were injured, two of them probably fatally, Tuesday afternoon when an automobile chemical apparatus collided with the ballustrade of the Oak Cliff viaduct.

The injured are Lieutenant T. B. Chandler, both hips broken and internal injuries; Assistant Chief, F. O. Jones, internal injuries; Calvin Smithson, fireman, skull fractured and internal injuries; Roy Tubenor, jaw fractured and many bruises; A. B. Holcomb, knee sprained and leg bruised. Chandler and Smithson probably will die.

The accident occurred when Chief Jones, in order to avoid a collision with a Ford car driven by a woman, turned the big chemical engine into the curb. The machine turned over, pinning the men underneath. The woman was directly in the path of the fire fighting apparatus, near the Oak Cliff end of the viaduct. The men were responding to a fire alarm and the wagon was moving at a rapid rate.

The men were taken first to the emergency hospital in private autos. Later they were conveyed to St. Paul's sanitarium.

MEXICO'S CONSTITUTION IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Queretaro, Mexico, Jan. 29.—On the recommendation of Foreign Minister Aguilar, the constitutional assembly Tuesday withdrew for reconsideration and amendment article 33 of the new constitution.

The provision in this article requiring revision was that requiring foreigners to renounce nationality and treaty rights before they could acquire property.

The assembly planned a continuous session from 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until after midnight January 31 for the completion of its work.

The only measures remaining for consideration are the articles dealing with the expulsion of foreigners and the acquisition of land by foreigners and that providing for army reorganization, together with some minor matters.

PASSES TEXAS CO. BILL

Austin, Texas, Jan. 30.—The Texas Company bill was passed finally today by the senate by a vote of 19 to 0. The only material amendment adopted was one which provides that the company shall not violate any of the provisions of the anti-trust laws.

Debate on amendments and the bill consumed the entire morning session. Senator Hudspeth accepted a number of amendment offered by Senators McNealus and Dean, declaring that he wanted the company "hog tied and California cinched." Senator Lattimore opposed the bill generally on the ground that it transcended the general law of the state, which provides that a company may not be chartered for more than one purpose, and he declared that it made it possible for the Texas company to acquire a monopoly on the oil lands, pipe lines and refineries of the state.

Senator Dayton declared that the bill gave the company only equal rights with its two principal competitors, one of which was a joint stock corporation and the other chartered under the laws of New Jersey.

While no actual votes were cast against the bill, four of the senators present were paired with absent members. Of these Senators Lattimore and Bee would have voted against it.

CHARGES BY LAWSON ARE DENIED BY FISK

New York, Jan. 29.—Some of the most sensational charges Thomas W. Lawson made in testifying recently in the house rules committee "leak" investigation were vehemently denied today by Pliny Fisk and Archibald S. White, two widely known New York financiers, when they appeared before the congressional inquisitors.

Fisk, named by Lawson as the banker member of an alleged trio, composed of a cabinet member, Secretary McAdoo; a member of congress, known as "Senator O," and a banker, who had a joint account in Wall street, would insist that the congressional inquiry extend to all alleged "leaks" on all presidential messages generally, came Sunday night when plans were being made for resumption Monday of the hearing here.

CATTLEMEN ARE AGAINST BILL

Austin, Texas, Jan. 28.—Opposition to the compulsory tick eradication bill introduced by Denton and others in the house and favorably reported on by the committee on stock raising has developed among the cattlemen of the state.

The president, the attorney and members of the executive committee of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association were here today and went into conference with the authors of the bill and other house and senate members with a view of arriving at an understanding that would clear the way for the bill, but no definite agreement was reached. The cattlemen's objection to the bill as its reads now is that it gives the federal bureau of animal industry too much jurisdiction in the matter of providing for the enforcement of its provisions.

They want the state live stock sanitary commission to have the most say in this respect.

WARNS CARRANZA ABOUT FOREIGNERS

Washington, Jan. 24.—Concurrent with the withdrawal of General Pershing's force, an urgent appeal probably will be sent by the United States to Carranza to make every possible effort to protect foreigners in the district that has been occupied by American troops.

Fear is felt particularly for the safety of many Chinese, who have been purveyors of supplies to the Americans. It is said at the state department today that if the Chinese considered themselves in danger and chose to cross into the United States no objection would be made in spite of the act excluding them. They will not be given freedom to move at will in American territory, but will have the right of asylum so long as it appears to be dangerous for them to return to Mexico.

The administration is manifesting much interest in the continued mobilization of Villa forces at strategic points in the north and considerable speculation was aroused by a report today that the rebels had cut the railroad south of Chihuahua. Such interruption of traffic, if continued, will interfere materially, it is felt, with movement of the de facto government forces that are expected to garrison the district now held by Pershing.

Britain and France Protest.

Information reached here today that diplomatic agents of both Great Britain and France had protested formally against the seizure of the metallic reserve of the National Bank and the Bank of London and Mexico. The American government made representations some time ago, but a new inquiry as to the facts probably will be made as it is shown that many Americans were interested as stockholders or depositors.

A representative of a powerful banking house in New York said here today that the attitude taken by Carranza toward these banks has removed any remaining possibility that the de facto government might be able to borrow money in New York.

No further advices were received today regarding the fate of the two priests being held at Zacatecas on the charge of conspiracy.

LEAK INQUIRY BECOMES GENERAL

New York, Jan. 23.—Emphatic declaration by one member of the rules committee that there was a "leak" on President Wilson's recent peace note, and promise by another that he would insist that the congressional inquiry extend to all alleged "leaks" on all presidential messages generally, came Sunday night when plans were being made for resumption Monday of the hearing here.

Representative Bennett, republican, of New York, declared there was a "leak." He originally made this declaration at a private dinner Saturday night and Sunday when a "leak" developed on his speech, he issued a written statement about it. "I said there was a 'leak,'" the statement said, "that people in Wall street knew of it (the president's peace message) 48 hours before the time it was released for publication, and that I had in my pocket at the time a paper showing that some one had the foresight to sell 20,000 shares of steel while it was rising."

Mr. Bennett declined to disclose the text of the paper, but said he thought Sherman L. Whipple, counsel to the committee, has seen it, and that it soon would be given to the committee.

Representative Chipfield of Illinois, republican, who last

Cold Relief

Is usually found through the prompt administration of a mildly laxative, dispersive tonic—one that will scatter the inflammation, remove the waste, and help Nature to build up resistance.

Peruna is That Tonic.

Its action is prompt, usually very effective, and its use is without harmful effects. Every household should keep it at hand for this purpose, and every catarrhal sufferer should regularly use this reliable remedy.

The tablet form will be found very convenient. A tablet or two at the very beginning of a cold will frequently prevent its development, and these tablets may be taken regularly with beneficial results.

week criticised Mr. Whipple's conduct of the examination of a witness, announced he would demand an inquiry into "leaks" on other presidential messages. Chipfield also intimated that he would have further objections to the conduct of the inquiry if it is not confined more closely to "leak" rumors. He is opposed to investigating methods of the stock exchange.

Representative Campbell, ranking republican member of the committee, talked with Mr. Whipple Sunday and they agreed that the trail of the alleged "leak" on the peace note should be taken up soon.

COWMEN AGREE ON THE TICK BILL

Austin, Texas, Jan. 29.—James Callen, president, and Dayton Moses, counsel of the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas, held a conference yesterday afternoon with the members of the house committee on stock and stock raising relative to the proposed statewide tick eradication bill prepared by Representative Denton of Port Arthur and backed by the Young Men's Business League and other organizations in Houston. In the conference were a number of prominent cattlemen from all parts of the state, including half a dozen from South Texas. Representatives of the state live stock sanitary commission, including Mr. Callaway, counsel in the discussion of the minor details of the bill, practically all of which were agreed upon.

The bill places the work of tick eradication under the supervision of the commission. For a time it appeared as if many of the stockmen of the state would object to the bill, but it is understood that the chief objection to the measure has been removed by the agreement to permit the work to proceed along the lines as at present for a period of two years before making the provisions of the bill compulsory. On January, 1919, the live stock sanitary commission is required to make and certify to the governor a list of the counties in the state that may not have been by that time freed from ticks and released from quarantine by the state and federal authorities and the governor shall then issue a proclamation declaring a quarantine in and around such counties and the work of the eradication shall be proceeded with in such quarantine territory.

The bill has received a favorable report from the committee on stock and stock raising in the house, and with the objection on the part of the stockmen of the state removed, the measure stands a good chance to pass both houses.

MEXICANS FIRE AT SCHOONER

San Angelo, Texas, Jan. 29.—The prosecution closed its case tonight in the trial of Harry J. Spanell, of Alpine, Texas, formerly of Hazelton, Pa., charged with killing his wife last July, with the introduction of testimony of Mrs. B. F. Jenkins of El Paso, and the recalling of Mrs. J. W. Downum of Alpine. The defense announced it would conclude its testimony tomorrow, immediately after which arguments of counsel is expected to begin. The state's testimony was introduced tonight in an effort to impeach Spanell's own statements of occurrences in the Holland hotel, shortly before the killing. Spanell's trial for the alleged killing of Lieut. Col. M. C. Butler, U. S. A., is set for February 1, here, the two cases having been brought here from Brewster county on a change of venue.

Crs. Spanell and Butler were shot to death in Spanell's automobile, at Alpine, on the night of July 20, 1916.

Spanell, testifying in his own behalf, last week, said his wife had been insulted by Butler in Butler's room in the Holland hotel, at Alpine during Mrs. Butler's temporary absence. This has been denied by testimony of Mrs. Margaret Butler, wife of the dead army officer. Spanell also testified Mrs. Spanell was killed by a shot fired by Butler in an encounter between the two men following the alleged insult.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE BILL IN SENATE

Austin, Texas, Jan. 29.—Senator Lattimore created some what of a stir in the senate today when he introduced a bill to provide that women may vote in all primary elections in Texas. The bill contains only one section, which follows:
"From and after the passage of this act, and subject to the provisions of all the laws of this state as to age, residence, citizenship, payment of poll taxes, and otherwise regulating the manner and form of holding same; but especially exempt from every disqualification, direct or indirect, on account of sex, every woman in this state shall have the right to vote at primary elections held under the laws of this state."
Thus he proposes to have woman suffrage in Texas merely by statutory enactment.

EAST TEXAS IRON TO BE DEVELOPED.

Jefferson, Texas, Jan. 24.—Manufacture of iron on a big scale from the ore in the great fields of Cass and Marion counties will be started within six months, according to plans of New York capitalists interested in the project.

A big reduction plant will be built near this place. The machinery is due in six weeks. The plant is expected to cost $100,000.00.

The plant will be operated by the United States Reduction company. This concern controls a process by which gas is used in reduction. Gas will be piped from nearby fields, or can be obtained from the company's properties in this section. The use of gas is expected to reduce the cost of manufacture from $1.50 to $2.00 a ton.

The East Texas fields, which are owned by the Texas Iron and Steel company, have about 200,000,000 tons of ore in sight. A railroad runs through the center of the field, and the mining will be simple, as the ore is in such loose formation that it can be handled with steamshovels, which will deal it direct into ore cars for transportation to the reduction plant.

The ore in Cass and Marion counties is similar to that of the Messaba range near Duluth, according to engineers, and is much freer from foreign substances than the Minnesota or Michigan ores.

PROS WILL TRY ON NEXT FRIDAY

Austin, Texas, Jan. 26.—Decision to have the submission resolution made the special order for 10 o'clock next Friday morning in the house was arrived at in a caucus of between forty and fifty submissionists tonight and a motion to that effect will be made tomorrow. The question of accepting the Bagby "bone dry" amendment was discussed but no action thereon was taken. The trend of the discussion was that this amendment should not be accepted except as a last resort. It was evident from what was said that submissionists who still believe that the submission resolution passed to third reading yesterday can be passed finally, expect to accomplish what would declare the possession of liquor unlawful.

No effort was made in the house to call up the resolution providing for the submission of a statewide prohibition amendment advanced to third reading yesterday by a vote that indicated that it would not receive enough votes on final passage to give it effect in the meaning of the organic law.

DIES OBJECTS TO BIG APPROPRIATION

Washington D. C., Jan. 29.—Representatives Dies and Callaway, both ardent pacifists, who refused, at the democratic caucus Friday night to support the administration's revenue bill, intended to pay the cost of preparedness legislation, may cause party leaders trouble before the bill is passed. Eleven other democrats have already announced opposition to the bill, and it is thought others will join them, unless administration whips can lead them off. Their defection, aided by announced solid republican opposition, may result in defeat of the measure.

Dies issued a statement yesterday, pointing out that he has consistently opposed greater army and navy bills, and will therefore vote against providing money for this legislation. He said:
"The new revenue measure, according to its own terms, is a tax, to provide increased appropriations for the army and navy at this session some $200,000,000 over the appropriations made at the last session.
I am against these increases. I voted against both army and navy bills at the last session, because I thought them too large, session, and it would, therefore, be inconsistent for me to vote these new taxes, which would not be needed, except to meet the proposed military and naval increases.

"There is rapidly growing up in the country, state and nation, the most reckless and criminal extravagance. That means taxes and more taxes. I shall vote against the whole outfit."
City Marshal Woodland authorizes the statement that he will be in the race for re-election, formal announcement of which will follow at an early date. So far as The Sentinel has been able to observe, Mr. Woodland has made a good officer.

TEXANS INVITE LOCATING BOARD

Washington, Jan. 27.—Representative Young of Kaufman today presented the armor plant board with an invitation signed by the entire Texas congressional delegation urging the board to visit the East Texas ore fields when it leaves for the South soon to inspect armor plant sites. Practically every town in East Texas has made application for the $11,000,000 federal armor plant factory.
The prevailing opinion here is that a Texas site will not be chosen as the board prefers a district where pig iron smelters are already located.

Senator Sheppard today introduced a bill appropriating $150,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, and thereafter $275,000 a year until 1937 to enable the bureau of education in co-operation with the states, to conduct model rural schools for the purpose of demonstrating the status of such forms of rural school organization management.
Courses of study, and methods of teaching that may appear the most desirable or incorporate into the rural schools of the country are provided for. The measure has the support of the bureau of education.
Another bill proposed by Senator Sheppard provides $250,000 for special studies and demonstration work in rural sanitation, including personal service under the supervision of the public health service.

THE DEPARTMENT HEADS OF FROST-JOHNSON MEET

Shreveport Times.
The first of the two family meetings to be held in 1917 by the mill superintendent and commissary managers of the Frost-Johnson Lumber Company took place Friday at a dinner given by the company to its executive officers.

Discussions at the meeting were confined largely to a review of the company's business in 1916, considered as a whole and as shared between the several mills and commissaries in Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas. Plans for the 1917 campaign were also outlined and at the next meeting, to be held in July, it will be ascertained how well these plans have matured.

Those present Friday were E. A. Frost, president; F. T. Whited and G. S. Prestridge, vice presidents; R. T. Moore of Mansfield mill; W. R. McCroclin, superintendent of the Gampt mill; J. H. Adger of the Montrose plant; H. W. Whited of Nacogdoches, and F. W. Scott of Huttig; C. C. Attaway, manager of the commissary at Camp; A. C. Arnold of Mansfield, P. E. Holloway of Montrose, C. S. Williams of Nacogdoches; B. M. Lowney of Huttig, and B. P. Bateheler of Shreveport, sales agent; J. L. Keenan of Shreveport, land commissioner, and S. H. Dowell of Shreveport, assistant secretary-treasurer.

SHEPPARD PROTESTS FEDERAL SUPERVISION

Washington, Jan. 26.—Senator Sheppard had read into the record of the senate proceedings Friday the resolution passed by the Texas legislature, Friday protesting against federal control of interstate traffic of railroads, thus minimizing the powers of the State railroad commissions. He called attention to the fact that there is pending in the interstate commerce committee of the senate a bill indorsed by the Association of Railroad Commissioners designed to meet the conditions complained of by the Texas legislature.
It is Senator Sheppard's intention to reintroduce the bill in the next congress and to press it for passage, since it is manifestly impossible to secure consideration of the bill by March 4.

Mr. G. K. Clark, one of The Sentinel's valued friends from Appleby, was a pleasant caller at the office today.

AMERICAN TROOPS ARE COMING OUT

Uncle Sam's Fighting Men are Evacuating Mexico Under U. S. Orders.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Orders for the withdrawal of the troops from Mexico were officially announced today by the war department with the statement that the northward movement of General Pershing's men began early this morning with the evacuation of Colonia Dublan.

The final act in the entrance into Mexico of 12,000 American soldiers, as a result of the Villa massacre of 17 Americans at Columbus, N. M., on March 9, 1916, was written with the official announcement by the war department.

Secretary Baker issued the following announcement:

"General Pershing has been ordered to bring his troops out of Mexico. The movement is to be an immediate one and is probably already under way."

Later advices to the department said the troops had begun the evacuation of Colonia Dublan, 110 miles from the border, where they had been concentrating for the past few weeks. The last American soldiers are expected to recross the border in about a week. No official communication is at hand as to whether Villa or Carranza troops will occupy the territory left vacant by the Americans, but the belief is strong here that that bandit, who is credited with at least 8,000 well-armed men, and who is now at least four times as strong as when the American troops went across the border, will make a desperate effort to take the territory, particularly for its moral effect.

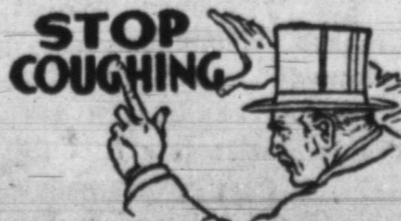

The two other phases of the Mexican problem on which interest centers now are the disposition of the 50,000 militia still on the border and the sending of Ambassador Fletcher to his post at Mexico City. Officials say that decision of the question is dependent on the turn of events in Mexico.

From the sheriff's office The Sentinel gets the information that a riot or free-for-all fight was pulled off in the Harmony community Thursday night, in which nine were engaged.

Louis Montes, Roy Steel and Tony Rodgers have been arrested, and the sheriff has warrants for six others. Montes was so badly cut up he had to be conveyed to the hospital for treatment, and others are more or less "banged" up as a result of the mele. Knives, clubs, etc., were used.

READY FOR COURT.
Upon inquiry, The Sentinel learns from District Clerk Hall and Sheriff Prince that they are ready and in good shape for the coming term of district court, which will convene in this city on the second Monday in February.

As compared with former terms, very little new business has been filed for this term, particularly in civil matters, and the court will have opportunity to clean up the old business at this time.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon R. E. Cummings, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county; if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 2nd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 2nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 2nd Monday in February, A. D. 1916, the same being the 12th day of February, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of April, A. D. 1914, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 308, wherein E. L. Cummings is Plaintiff and R. E. Cummings is Defendant, and said petition alleging on or about January 18th, 1903 Plaintiff and Defendant were legally married in Nacogdoches county, Texas, and continued to live together as man and wife until on or about the 17th day of November, 1912, when by reason of the cruel and unbearable treatment of defendant towards this plaintiff she was forced to leave defendant. That during the time plaintiff and defendant lived and cohabitated together as husband and wife, plaintiff was always kind to defendant, and in every way treated him as a wife should treat a husband, and was true in every respect to her marital vows, but notwithstanding this, defendant about twelve months before this final separation began a course of harsh and cruel treatment toward plaintiff, and on different occasions cursed and abused plaintiff. That defendant would frequently get drunk and come home in that condition and would strike and choke plaintiff and call her vile names. And defendant continued this course of treatment, growing more abusive in his manner and more cruel in his treatment, until his conduct became unbearable to this plaintiff and rendered her living with him insupportable and on or about the 17th day of November, 1912, by reason of said cruel and harsh treatment, plaintiff permanently separated from defendant.
Wherefore, plaintiff prays that citation issue to defendant and upon final hearing hereof she have judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, both general and special, as in law and equity she may be entitled to.
Herein full not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Nacogdoches, this, the 30th day of Dec., A. D. 1916.

MRS. ED. MUCKLEROY DIES SUDDENLY

From Friday's Daily.

The news came as a shock to her relatives and friends when the news spread that Mrs. E. Muckleroy was dead at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parrish, on Irion Hill. She died about eight o'clock this morning, and her remains will be laid to rest in Fairview Cemetery tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Mrs. Muckleroy is survived by her husband and six children, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parrish, three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Harris, Mrs. G. B. Engledow and Mrs. Frank Mize, and three brothers, Bob, John and Guy Parrish. She was about forty years of age, native of the vicinity of Nacogdoches where she is known by a majority of the people, with whom she has a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Muckleroy was a devoted wife and mother, and in her death the family has suffered the loss of its best friend, a loss that can never be repaired, and a grief that only time can heal. She was a good woman and a good neighbor, and many hearts have been made sad, who will enter into profound sympathy with her stricken family.

1149 MERCHANT SHIPS HAVE BEEN DESTROYED

Washington, Jan. 26.—Loss to the world's merchant shipping in 1916 through war causes exceeded the total tonnage constructed, according to estimates prepared Friday by the federal bureau of navigation. Vessels sunk were put at 1149, of 2,082,683 tonnage, and those built at 2506 of 1,899,945 tons. The net deduction was about 200,000 tons, or 1 1/2 per cent of the world total.

Great Britain led in shipbuilding, with 510 vessels of 619,000. The United States was second, with 1213 vessels of 560,000 tons.

The entire world's merchant vessel tonnage at present, according to an estimate by Lloyd is 48,683,000.

CONDITIONS

The hotels of Nacogdoches before the war were wholly different from the modern style, in architecture and in customs or regulations. One of the very earliest, most important and most eventful was known as the Hyde hotel, and it stood until about the year 1840, about where Mayer & Schmidt's store now stands. There were other hotels later on that were called the Hyde house, notably the one fronting on Hospital street near where Roland Jones' residence now stands, that was also famous. But this was more recent, and it was once operated by George Muckleroy, who lives here now.

The aforesaid pioneer Hyde hotel passed away so long ago that no living person can remember it. It was built before the day of saw mills. Uncle Sam Reid may have been an eye witness. It was built of logs cut with axes in the native woods, hewn out flat on two sides with broad axes that "hewed to the line, let the chips fall where they may." These logs were raised, by "house raising" to which the neighbors were invited, and notched into each corner place by a man who "carried up a corner."

The cracks that were open between the logs were either chinked up with mud or mortar mixed with long moss from the woods, or else were covered with long boards split and shaped to fit. Nails were "few and far between," and so the roofs of the houses were covered with boards riven with a frow, laid in courses and weighted down with poles laid on them, for lack of nails to fasten them.

Similar primitive methods and means were used in other ways of construction. Long front galleries or porches were added the full length of the building. It was one of the feats of desperado spore takers to ride his horse at full speed over these long galleries. At this hotel the length was at least fifty feet.

Attached for meal. The saw was an upright straight sash saw.

It was here that distinguished guests first took lodging, such men as Houston, Rusk, Blake, Taylor, Crockett, Milam, Austin and Travis.

Among the noted social events was that when the original I. D. Thomas, of San Augustine, got his beautiful young bride to elope with him from the upper window of this hotel. Romance and adventure was at home here.

Another ante bellum hotel, stood just back of the present Masonic stands. It was a two-story building, its walls were constructed by using split slats held together with mud and moss fit in between upright poles set about eighteen inches apart. Sawed planks could not be had in sufficient quantity. Saw mills were run by water power—overshot water wheels, having grists mills.

This old Clark hotel was operated many years by many successive parties. The name Clark was from William Clark Sr., who came from Sabine county, the ancestor of our present Clark family.

These hotels kept and rang a dinner bell which usually hung at the near corner of the front porch, and was vigorously rung for each meal call. It was also rung by arriving guests who wished to call up the manager for entertainment. When one hotel would ring for a meal the rival hotels would break in and all ring at once. This feat was usually performed by colored waiters called "boys."

Another hotel that surpassed all in dimensions, was the Simpson hotel, built in 1847. John J. Simpson was a wealthy planter from Tennessee, of Kentucky origin, where his kinsman Ulysees Simpson Grant came from. He had a plantation—eight miles east, lots of negroes, cattle, and also a saw mill. He built his hotel on the corner where Capt. Cooper has just built his "sun-beam" pavillion. It was two full stories and a cellar and a garret that had the old style dormer windows and spacious ball room. His dinner bell hung beneath a special upstairs porch, and his "boy" was an honored dies. And Simpson's pretty daughters simply capped the climax in shines.

Popular, well you should smile. And they all married the pick of the land. They became leaders as wives of Buford, Griffith, Thomas and Raguet. But after the war this hotel went down. It had run a long time and had an eventual career.

The Hart hotel came on later, but as an olden time edifice and resort it ranked high. It was the famous home of the noted Frost Thorn, who kept open doors for distinguished guests. His hospitality was a part of his winning stock in trade. He a-c-bell boy, proud of his elevation. A stable, or rather a "horserly" was an addition, and his "horser" was a big swarthy nigger. Oh, that was style, for a dandy. Dudes were called fops or dandululated wealth and distinction.

One of his distinguished guests was General Almonte, historic aide de camp of General Santa Anna. Almonte spoke good English, and was a most attractive gentleman. His influence when Santa Anna was taken prisoner at San Jacinto did much to save the life of Santa Anna.

The Mitchell hotel is almost forgotten. As an edifice it never "got there," for lack of money. It stood on the corner where the opera house now stands. It was of a style of its day, but more modern in date, about 1868. It was a spacious two-story frame house with long front galleries, both below and above. It did business for many years, and its magnitude as a structure of that day made it conspicuous.

The hotels of our city of today are mere infants in age. But their type, with their modern conveniences, as compared with the early day inn is almost fabulous. What would those guests, who never saw an oil lamp, much less an electric light or a telephone, or bathroom, an elevator, or automobile, etc., think if they were to enter a hotel here now and wait for a train? The olden time stage coach passengers who drank out of the old oaken bucket that hung in the well, would feel dazed.

SAN AUGUSTINE MARRIAGE

The San Augustine Tribune gives the following report of the marriage of the accomplished sister of Mr. Frank Sharp of this city:

"Wednesday morning at 9:45 o'clock, Mr. R. H. Smith led to the altar Miss Ella Sharp at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sharp of this city, Rev. D. A. McRae, the bride's pastor, pronouncing the ceremony that made them man and wife, in the presence of many relatives and a few friends.

"The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sharp of this city, pioneer citizens of San Augustine County, and is loved by all who know her for her sweet and friendly disposition.

The groom is a step-son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kemper of Galveston prominent citizens of that city. He is engaged in the grain business and is a young man of exemplary habits, recognized business ability and has a host of friends in that city, as well as a numerous acquaintance over the State.

"The bride wore a going away suit of Battle Ship gray, hat and shoes to match, while the groom wore conventional black.

"Quite an array of nice and valuable presents were received.

"The courtship of this happy young couple is quite interesting. It began some six months ago when the bride attended a meeting of the Eastern Star lodge in Galveston and was assigned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kemper where she met the son, Mr. R. H. Smith, and this acquaintance culminated in the happy union above mentioned."

NORTH SEA MINE LEAD PREVENT GERMAN RAIDS

Washington, Jan. 28.—Extension of the restricted area of the North Sea from commerce by the British admiralty was announced by the state department upon receipt of cable notification from Ambassador Page at London.

State and department officials also, although declining themselves without official information, said the order indicated a large extension of the British mine fields, probably for the purpose of making more difficult the escape of the German high sea fleet from its base.

The new restricted area leaves only a narrow passage for commercial vessels close to the British North Sea coast. The rest of these waters are mined practically up to the German coast. That the new move is an effort to prevent the escape of additional raiders was also admitted possible by officials.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of returning our thanks and giving assurance of our appreciation to our neighbors and friends for the help they rendered us in putting away our loved one, and for the many manifestations of sympathy bestowed upon us in our dark hours of grief.

Should similar grief ever visit any of you, may you find the same loving, tender friends, is our wish and prayer.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourer robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fashish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury. Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy because of very much lower prices offered by the English bidders.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515,000. Up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although we have expended, in wages, materials, etc., on these orders $522,851, and we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition, a literal interpretation of the contract might make us liable for penalties amounting to $274,016.

OLD TIME ENGINEER GAINED 20 POUNDS

Wouldn't Take All Money in Universe for Good Tanlac Did Him.

Everybody in Jacksonville, Fla., either knows or has heard of Engineer Chas. J. Weeks, who runs the Seaboard Air Line fast train "Fex" between Jacksonville and Tampa. Mr. Weeks bears the distinction of being the second oldest engineer in point of service with his road having been with the company for thirty-three years. He is a man of very temperate habits, few words and strong convictions. According to his own statement he has never taken a drink or used tobacco in any form. He not only has a splendid record for efficiency as a railroad man, but is held in the very highest esteem by his fellow citizens in Jacksonville.

"I've gained twenty pounds on seven bottles of Tanlac and feel as well and happy as I did when a boy," said Mr. Weeks to the Tanlac representative who had called by special invitation at his attractive residence, 2139 Lydia street, for his statement a few days ago.

"Fort twenty years I suffered with nervous indigestion of the worst sort," he continued, "and at times during the past fifteen years I didn't think I would last much longer. To tell you the truth, I finally reached the point where I didn't much care whether I lived or died.

"After eating I would have so much gas on my stomach and would get so puffed up I couldn't hardly fasten my clothes on. My food would sour and curdle, and I would have heartburn so bad I would feel like a piece of hot iron was laying in my stomach, and the pains were simply awful. To tell you the truth, I just don't know how I lived. I could eat no meats or sweets of any kind, and for days I would have to live almost entirely on bread and water. God only knows how I suffered. I just can't describe it. The pains around my heart and the palpitation were so intense I thought at times I must have heart trouble too. I couldn't find anything to relieve my troubles, although I tried hard.

"Tanlac was so highly recommended to me that I bought a bottle and cannot express in words how grateful I feel for the good it has done me. Just think of it—a few bottles of this medicine has made me feel better than I have in fifteen years—it seems almost unbelievable, but it's the plain, simple truth. I can now eat anything placed before me, and everything agrees with me perfectly, and I enjoy my sleep as much as a child, and I'm feeling just fine in every way. I feel so nimble I think I could hold a good runner a tight foot race.

"Tanlac has entirely relieved me of the things that troubled me so long and I just don't know how to express my gratitude. I wouldn't be in the same shape I was in before for all the money in the universe.

"If anybody doubts my statement you can just tell them to write me a personal letter and I'll answer it. I'll be only too glad to have the opportunity of telling them what this great medicine has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and Swift Bros. & Smith.

Mr. R. H. Fall, a prominent business man of Chireno, was an arrival to the city yesterday afternoon, coming up to receive a car of sweet potatoes he had purchased from a local citizen. He left this afternoon for a visit to different Central Texas points where he goes to dispose of these potatoes and seven car loads of East Texas ribbon cane syrup he has recently purchased. He says he hopes to come out clear on this produce, in which event he will feel repaid for the stimulus his business is receiving by handling the produce. He also hopes to arrange for permanent market for all the produce he can get while gone, in which he will engage more extensively in this line in connection with his mercantile business in future. Mr. Fall's visit and through his presence is doing a great service for the people of his section.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts off without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison from told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers. Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively rid one's feet of every kind of soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

Continue what you are and where you are and you always be if you are satisfied don't read further. The world of wage-earners is a world of hoppers, wishers, and hesitators held down by foolish doubts and empty fears. Endless thousands of bright, fine fellows, whose wish bone is where their back bone ought to be, are excusably afraid halting, timid, clinging with the drowning man, grasp to their slender teaching salaries, because they think business is a mystery and they can never learn to succeed in it.

You must be more, have more and do more in this life or you will always be seeing other men that are getting more out of life, more of this world's enjoyments and comforts than you. We can point you to hundreds of young men and women no smarter than you that are now successfully and happily engaged in a business of their own, because they attended our institution and secured a business training and prepared themselves to go into the business of office and work along with trained men and become masters of the art-of-doing-business.

Business is not a happy-go-lucky, haphazard sort of a thing. If you understand it thoroughly, you are sure to succeed. If you have never been trained for it it is left to luck and guess compare our catalogue today and a very little solicited testimonials from many of our former students were at one time teachers and are today demonstrating their success and the value of our training. Opportunity never comes to him who waits. It comes to him who goes after it with all there is in him, with a deep, burning, intense iron resolve of his inmost being. Read our catalogue carefully. Why not you be one of the 2000 that will go out of our institution this year into a good business office? Procrastination is a thief of time. Fill in the following blank and send in by return mail. It may be the turning point in your life. Teaching isn't bad for a year or two but you don't want it for a life work. You can do much better.
